DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 7.—The campaign for governor of Texas has been progressing practically all of the present year, and the fact that so little enthusiasm has been awakened among the boys at the forks of the creek is somewhat disappointing to the enthusiastic gentlemen who are seeking the honor of becoming the chief executive of the state of Texas.

Colquitt has laid it at the feet of the yeomanry with the modest injunction, "I did it with my little hatchet." This action has intensified the love of the yeomanry for Colquitt, but it has evoked a decided inclination to branch off in the wrong direction.

IMMORALITY WEAKENS ARMY, SAYS SURGEON

Head of Medical Department Says Bad Habits Cause of Many Hospital Cases

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Surgeon General R. M. O'Reilly of the army has submitted an exhaustive report on the health conditions of the army to Secretary Taft. The report says the enlisted strength of the army as shown upon the monthly sick reports was 58,749, and on returns of military secretary, 60,139, and calculations are made upon the latter figures.

The report says that by far the most important diseases affecting the efficiency of the army during the year have been those caused by immoral habits, which caused 19 per cent of all admissions. This class of disease advanced from third to first place in the number of admissions to the sick report.

"The control of these diseases," says General O'Reilly, "lies largely in the hands of the civil authorities and one of the most important steps to that end would appear to be classing them with other infectious diseases, and the requirement that they shall be reported as such and controlled by the health department."

"In the military service a similar course should be followed. As to the cause of death, pneumonia advanced to first place and tuberculosis second. There were 206 admissions for gunshot wounds, with forty-four deaths and 2,451 admissions for wounds from other causes.

"The strength of officers was 3,421 from the medical department reports and 3,815 from the military secretary. There were 2,278 admissions and twenty-seven deaths. Comparisons with foreign armies show that the highest rate of admissions is in the American army and the lowest in the Russian army.

"A very high proportion for alcoholism in the American army as compared with that of the British is partly due to the fact that in the latter service only admissions to the hospitals are counted. It is notable that while the British have less than half of the American admission rate for dysentery, their death rate is practically the same, and that while their rate of admission for malaria is about the same, their death rate is nearly three times as great.

"The figures for measles and for mumps compare very unfavorably with other armies, except the French. The comparatively high American death rate for tuberculosis is explained by the fact that in the United States army tuberculosis patients are sent to a sanatorium and retained in the service for a long period, while in other armies they are promptly discharged.

"The strength of the army in the Philippines was 29,996, and there were 2,245 admissions to the sick report and 165 deaths. The strength of the Filipino troops was 4,610, and there were 5,242 admissions and 103 deaths."

SOCIALISTIC SCHOOL GETS BIG BEQUEST Mother-in-Law of Professor George D. Heron Leaves $200,000 fund to Found Institution

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—It was announced last night on behalf of the New York section of the social democratic party that the late Mrs. E. D. Rand, mother-in-law of Professor George D. Heron, had bequeathed $200,000 to found a school for socialism. Mrs. Rand, who died recently in Florence, Italy, four years ago established the chair of Christian sociology in Iowa college, Grinnell, Iowa, which was filled by Heron. About that time he married Mrs. Rand's daughter. His views were too radical for the college, however, and he resigned. Morris Hillquist and Mrs. George D. Heron, Mrs. Rand's daughter, have been made trustees of the fund. The announcement includes this statement: "The primary design of the school is to provide for an intellectual center for the socialist movement in the United States. It is expected that a building will be provided in which there will be libraries for special research and in which specially prepared and valuable papers will be published. The plan also provides for reading and meeting rooms and systematic lecture courses on socialism, popular science and the relation of the different arts and literature to social development. The institution will be fully established by the fall of next year and its principal field of operation will be in this city.

TRAFFIC MANAGER SAYS LOSSES WERE ACTUAL

S. & S. Employee Testifies That if Rebates Were Paid, They Were Not in Form of Damages

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Figures said to have been taken from the books of Schwabacher & Sulzberger Company were used Thursday by Beth S. Cusey, traffic manager of the concern, in his testimony before Judge Betha in the rate case, to prove that if rebates were paid by western roads they could not have been paid in the form of illegal claims for loss and damages.

"According to the testimony given, the packing company received from all western roads in 1902, 1903 and 1904, on loss and damage claims a total of $37,047 on 34,123 cars shipped, or an average of $1.10 on each car. One item of $26,511.55 paid by the Chicago and Alton for loss and damage on sixteen cars of dressed meats, which the witness said had been wrecked by the company, aroused the judge. After the witness insisted that an actual wreck occurred he was asked to produce the correspondence that passed between his company and the Alton with reference to the matter and Mr. Cusey promised to have it in court today.

"That the testimony produced considerable astonishment was shown by the questions asked by the attorneys. "Is it not true, Mr. Cusey, that you pleaded guilty to an indictment charging your company with receiving rebates?" asked Mr. Leach, for the Northwestern.

"It is true I pleaded guilty to being a party to a conspiracy to extort rebates from the railroads," replied the witness. "And still you say all of these claims you have produced here and which were paid were bona fide claims for actual loss and damages?" asked the court.

"They represent actual losses and actual damages," protested the witness.

EXTENDING WIRELESS Stations Being Established in West Texas and Arizona

The American DeForest Wireless Telegraph company is installing several stations in the west at the present time. One is being put in at Albuquerque, N. M., which will be the largest one south of Denver.

Eventually stations are to be put in at Santa Fe, Las Vegas, El Paso, Texas, and several other of the larger cities in the southwest.

P. G. McPeak, representative of the company here, says that the company is making rapid progress installing stations in the middle west and east and the largest now working in the west. The system is being extended as fast as possible through Wyoming, Montana and Idaho to Portland and Seattle and the whole northwest.

The Denver station is now getting in shape to transmit messages without relay. Chicago and Kansas City. This station will be a forty-kilowatt and the largest now working. Just at this time there is little being done to push the system in Texas.

Word has been received here that First Baseman Harry Batesman of the Milwaukee club, who was stabbed in Des Moines Monday, has signed a statement refusing to prosecute Catcher Charles Dexter of the Des Moines club, who was with him at the time and Dexter has been released by the Des Moines police. It is likely, however, that the grand jury will take up the case in spite of Batesman's refusal. Batesman is getting along as well as might be expected from the nature of the injuries that he received.

CAMPAIGN SHAPING IN NINTH WARD Believed Alderman Moreland Will Consent to Stand for Re-election

Politics promise to assume a lively turn in the Ninth ward. Citizens of the ward are already considering the matter of an alderman to succeed Q. T. Moreland, who has said that he will not be a candidate again.

As a result of his record, however, strong pressure is being brought to cause him to allow his name to stand for re-election. His friends are working as hard as they can to get his consent, and they hope to present his name to the primaries in December.

In case Alderman Moreland should refuse to stand for a re-election, there have been several names mentioned as likely candidates, although nothing definite has been done in regard to any of them.

Members of the party were as follows: Judge Shred and wife, John W. Shred, W. D. Williams, Jr., J. C. Stipich, Ralph G. Over, J. W. Meek, Joe Tucker, W. D. G. G. L. J. L. Davis, W. J. OUTLOOK FOR FEEDERS

There seems to be a considerable demand for feeding cattle in Texas, men showing up on this market daily looking for good feeder stuff.

Some of the leading feeders of the state have expressed themselves as very much pleased with the outlook for the feeding business, and will operate extensively this season.

Very little feeding will be done in our portion of Kansas during the coming season, said Mr. Nation in response to an inquiry.

Advices from Austin indicate that the big dam across the Colorado river at that point may be rebuilt by Stone & Webster, owners of our interurban and street railway system.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is now on the investigation gridiron and facts are coming to light of a more exciting nature than was unearched in the case of the Equitable and New York Life.

There will be something doing in Texas of peculiar interest to the big life insurance companies when the next state legislative assembly convenes.

greater amount of profit that would have been realized if the stuff had been fed ninety days before shipment.

These are very gratifying indications, from the fact that they serve to demonstrate that matters are turning in the right direction.

It is not generally known that on Jan. 1, 1905, Texas stood first among the states of the union in the number of horses owned and that she was easily first in the number of mules.

It is evident from these figures that Texas horse and mule stock need more of those lines of blood that make for size, form and utility.

It is as necessary for Texas to improve the quality of her horses and mules as it is to improve the quality of her cattle.

It develops that the largest trusts, through campaign contributions, have been controlling the result of election.

There is a great deal of logic in the assertions of Uncle Nicodemus, for he has pretty well established the fact that Peter must have been white, even if he did not act white in the service of his Master.

It might be well for the attorney general of the state of Texas to look into the Texas lumber trust, for it is evident there is one and that its grasp on the lumber business in Texas is absolute.

The Tarrant county auditor has discovered that the law makes no provision for the county tax collector and the county superintendent to be furnished offices by the county.

Customs has fixed a great many things that do not seem warranted by the law, but Texas has some conscientious public officers who are sticking to the letter of the law.

THE OUTBURSTS OF EVERETT TRUE

AMONG EXCHANGES MILLIONS OF MISCHIEF

By HEAD ON HILL Copyright 1905 by The Newspaper Enterprise Association

Life insurance is a good thing, but when we consider the fact that the policy holders of Texas last year paid out $7,751,419 to the companies, which paid back to them only $2,117,353 we cannot help but think the "good" part is mostly in favor of the companies.

There is not a city in Texas with over 75,000 population—if an honest count would give us any way to say that. It is a fact that there is not a city of 100,000 souls, and precious few with even 150,000 that can show afternoon papers equal to those printed in Houston, Fort Worth and Dallas.

Uncle Rastus and Uncle Nicodemus were discussing the Scriptures one day and finally Uncle Rastus said: "Nicodemus, does you suppose dat any of de apostles de Lord was colored?"

CHAPTER XXXVI (Continued) "But nothing has been proved against either of the Marskes," I pointed out. "Till Janet is found I am the only witness, and I am worse than useless. The moment I stepped out into the open to prefer a charge I should be hanged out of hand. And I could not even hope for post mortem rehabilitation, for I cannot expect the man whom I must continue to call 'Doctor Barrabees' to come forward and implicate himself."

"I would not trust him an inch unless he is really likely to produce Miss Chilmark, and any proofs she may have discovered, if he is lucky enough to discover them."

"I give it up," he announced at length. "The first essential seems to be to barter the inquisitive Croal, but as to the wider issue of how to save you in the event of recapture I am all at sea. If I go with you, the escaped convict?"

"By my daughter, who told me a lot of other incredible things." "If I can convince your lordship of the truth of the other incredible things by admitting Lady Muriel's first statement I shall be fortunate," said I.

"I can only suggest," said I, "that you should submit the whole thing to Lady Muriel, and be guided by her. One woman's wit has gone far to help me already, and I am quite willing to trust that of another for this part of the tangle."

I spent the morning of the next day in waiting and listening. If anything were wanting to depress me the weather was enough to do it. By 10 o'clock it was evident that Mr. Peter Croal's meteorological prediction was to be fulfilled.

bring me news, when a sharp double tap at the window caused me to hold my breath. Carden had come in stealthier fashion last night, and it was improbable that he would relax his precautions today.

"Am I to address you as Mr. Martin or Captain Rivington?" said the premier, who was stopped over the threshold, gazing curiously around him.

"Repentance that follows detection is not the real thing." "Many a man's mind, like a garret, is filled with useless things."

"An old bachelor is fortunate in not having to pose as a model for his sister's children." "That silly young man who flirts with trouble is apt to find himself married to it sooner or later."

"It is awful hard to believe all the things you want your children to." "Once in a while two people stay married because they love each other."

"There is always some part of a woman's figure that she feels is a great credit to her." "A man has to love a girl an awful lot to think that a cold in the head is becoming to her."

"A bachelor thinks that running an automobile is very extravagant until he tries to run a family." "Very few people need to know as much as most people think they know."

noticed, if not resented by Lord Alphington. "Humph!" he muttered, taking snuff again. "All this snuff might as well be tittle-tattle. Still—" He broke off suddenly and stepped to the window where, after a minute's reflection, his attention was diverted to what he saw.

"I have been convicted of murder, my lord, but that is no reason why, being innocent, I should not endeavor to remain a gentleman. I repeat, with respect, that I should have laughed at myself in happier days, but it struck home. It made his lordship swear."

"It was a pompous speech, which I should have laughed at myself in happier days, but it struck home. It made his lordship swear." "You have put me in a fine hole, sir. Now listen to me. I cannot be mixed up in shielding an escaped convict, and I shall see to it that information of your whereabouts is only furnished to the authorities."

"My lord, I have been inquiring everywhere," he panted. "I rejoice to have found you—to put you on your guard. You do not know what a relief it is to whom you have admitted to your table and your intimacy."

"Heavens, how I exulted in that diplomatic fiction—sien that the great statesman meant to abide his promise. But there was no doubt that he had heard every word of the implicit accusation, and was merely sparing for time. Marske repeated his words with redoubled venom."

"Who is this gentleman? Why, Mr. Martin, of course, who saved Muriel's life so gallantly last week?" Lord Alphington replied calmly.

"Repentance that follows detection is not the real thing." "Many a man's mind, like a garret, is filled with useless things."

"An old bachelor is fortunate in not having to pose as a model for his sister's children." "That silly young man who flirts with trouble is apt to find himself married to it sooner or later."

He produced a gold snuff box, took a pinch and glanced out of the window. "God, how it blows," he said. "That steamer will be on the Shingles if she does not take care. Well," he added, turning his mocking gaze on me, "why don't you kill me now? You will never get a better chance?"

"I never intended to kill you, my lord," I began hotly. "If you think that—" "But he stopped me with a quick imperious gesture. 'Do not trouble to plead on that count of the indictment,' he laughed harshly. 'Whatever your character you have, but poor wit, Captain Rivington, or you would have known that I should not have come here alone and unarmed if I had credited that story. What I am concerned with is your guilt in that baser crime of which you were convicted.'"

"I am the victim of a miscarriage of justice," I replied sulkily. "And I can assure your lordship that the plot against your life was no myth, so far as the principals in the background were concerned. Whether the man who called himself Dr. Barrabees was in earnest I am not competent to judge."

ORANGE LOVERS TO HAVE GOOD WINTER

Mexican Crop Now Due and California Fruit to Follow Right After

The orange crop of Mexico is moving freely and will continue to do so for several weeks, yet. This crop is about one month earlier than the California crop, which begins to move freely about the time the Mexican oranges have been shipped. A good supply is thus assured all winter. The Mexican oranges command a ready market in the east, but large numbers of them are sold throughout the southern and western states, Texas taking a very large number of them.

The cost of shipping the Mexican orange into the United States is far greater than the original value of the fruit, but at the prices which they command on the open market in this country there is a good profit in them, even at that.

The duty on a car of oranges is usually about $20. The value of the fruit is about $300. The loading and drayage charges are yet to be added to the duty as well as the freight rate, which is pretty high, approximately $1.25 per hundred pounds. So that by the time a car of oranges from Mexico reaches a market in the United States it has cost the shipper about $500 or $600 a car.

There are generally about 300 boxes of oranges in a car and for the shipper to realize a profit on them he must get at least $2.50 per box.

One Fort Worth company is interested in growing oranges in Mexico and is preparing to ship several carloads to this city, the fruit having been sold in advance.

WEEDS DEAFACING CITY CEMETERIES

Specimens Five Feet in Height Secured by Visit Friday Afternoon

"Please close the gate! Rubbish or papers of any kind must not be left on grounds; they should be turned over to keeper, who will dispose of same."

Signs like the above are tacked at the entrance of both Oakwood and the old cemetery, which were visited by a reporter for The Telegram Friday afternoon for the purpose of ascertaining the condition of lots and graves.

Oakwood is in fairly good condition. In some places the grass has grown from eight to ten inches, but the absence of weeds from two to five feet in height was a pleasurable experience after visiting the other cemetery, across the road.

In the old cemetery, a sign was found lying within the inclosure of the first lot to the right of the entrance reading as follows:

"Notice.—All persons using city water in this cemetery without having paid for same will be subject to fine of $10.

"Fort Worth City Waterworks."

The general condition of that part of the cemetery lying to the right upon entrance is fairly good. It could easily be made better. To the left of the entrance the first few lots are in fine condition, but farther out on the left and several squares forward is to be found a condition in which some graves are not capable of recognition. Huge weeds of more than five feet in height and of abundant branches with seed were found and specimens brought to the office of The Telegram.

Upon leaving the main passage through the old cemetery one is struck by the gradual increase in the weeds growing outside the lots upon the sidewalks, while the appearance of the lots closely resembles a garden in December.

Men were noticed at work in both cemeteries. In Oakwood only one man had been secured and he began work Monday, Oct. 2. This man said that the sexton has been wanting men to cut the weeds and clear away rubbish in the small part of that cemetery which needs attention.

Of the graves in the old cemetery, there are, of course, many that are well kept. Some of these bear blooming rose bushes, flags, evergreens, with various other flowers, vines, etc., but the total number of graves in the cemetery shows a large per cent of unnoticed graves.

The sexton is not required to keep graves and lots in a fresh condition. He is not paid to do these things. Persons desiring the graves attended to must pay a certain fee per month to the sexton if they wish the work done. Various complaints have been heard and various reasons assigned as to the cause of the conditions existing, but the majority of persons asked concerning it are unwilling to fix any blame for the fact that graves and lots are in the present deplorable condition.

AMUSEMENTS

A COUNTRY LAWYER

The applause given the rendition of "A Country Lawyer" at Greenwall's opera house Friday night by the Albert Taylor company, was evidence that the presentation was a good one and pleased the audience, and that is what Mr. Taylor is striving to do in the legitimate.

"A Country Lawyer" is Mr. Taylor's version of Mark Twain's "Puddinghead Wilson," and his rendition of the piece brought out continued applause. Supporting Mr. Taylor is a very fair variety of specialties, were up to the standard, particularly the act of the Renaldos. For the matinee today "College Chums" is the bill.

The specialties were close tonight with "The Prodigal's Return."

AL H. WILSON

At Wilson, that clever singer and jolly German dialect comedian, who opens at Greenwall's opera house Tuesday night, Oct. 9, tells an excellent story on the little girl who plays the gypsy child in his now rollicking comedy, "The German Gipsy."

During his recent engagement in New York he was called in front of the curtain and presented with a handsome gold-mounted cane by a number of admirers, and when he has expressed his thanks in a suitable manner and retired to the inner recesses of the stage door, he was confronted by the little girl with a demand to show the gift he had received. Mr. Wilson held it up and said, "Here it is, a beautiful cane." The child gazed at it in contempt and blurted out, "That ain't no cane." "What is it then?" questioned Wilson. Without hesitating the little girl replied, "It's an umbrella without any clothes."

MURRAY AND MACK

On Wednesday matinee and night, Oct. 11, at Greenwall's opera house Murray and Mack, in "Around the Town," will make their appearance. They come this season with banners flying, flushed with victory. Their business along the line this season has exceeded anything in their career, and considering the fact that they have been catering to the public for fourteen consecutive seasons is something to be proud of. They have made a special effort this year to surround them-

The Two Big Sales are Still on for Saturday Selling

The big Skirt Sale was a grand success. Out of the 300 we placed on sale Friday morning there are only about 45 or 50 left. We will close them out today. The women of Fort Worth know a good thing when they see it. Out of 300 skirts, only 45 or 50 left for Saturday selling; in all sizes, and colors of gray, tan, blue and black. Your choice this evening, as long as the balance last—

Only $2.75 for a $4.75 Value

The big Umbrella Sale was the biggest sale of its kind we have ever held. We thought we had extra salespeople enough to wait on everybody promptly, but when the sale was on we found we were wrong—and we were sorry indeed that we couldn't wait on everybody as promptly as we should have done. Out of the 600 Umbrellas we placed on sale early Friday morning we have some 5 dozen left, and these will be sold Saturday. The price will remain the same as long as the 5 dozen last, and if you want a good umbrella, this will be your last chance to get one at the low price they are selling at now.

AMUSEMENTS

"LA MASCOTTE"

"La Mascotte," the popular three-act light opera, was sung at Rosen Heights Pike Friday night by the Boston Ideal Opera Company, in a way that appealed to those present. The leading voices were fully up to those of the mid-winter production of the sprightly musical piece last season in this city. Miss Florence Glover, as Bettina, the mascot, being especially well received.

Her appearance at the farm, accompanying good luck, her transfer to court and efforts to prevent her marriage that day, her efficacy as a mascot might not be lost were all followed with close interest.

The comedy end of the show was ably looked after by E. W. Collins as Rocco and Robert Burgess as Prince Lorenzo. The turkey duel in the first act was particularly well sung, Miss Glover being supported by Edmund McCrumish as Pippio.

CIRCUS COSMOPOLITAN

The Barnum & Bailey show would keep a company of census takers guessing. It is a Tower of Babel for tongues, a panorama of nations, a congress of religions, a gathering of families and clans, and it has six pay days a week.

Ten hundred and sixty-five persons are on the circus pay roll—men, women and children. They come from twenty-two different parts of the world and range in color through the whites, blacks, browns and yellows. Ten of them are Japanese, thirty are French, two are Swiss, twenty are Italians, two are Portuguese, four are Bohemians, six are Austrians, ten are Russians, fifty are German, four are Pol-

The Blood is the Life

Thus said one of the greatest physicians of modern times. If the blood is pure, then the individual is strong and healthy. If the blood is impure, then there is sickness and decay in the whole system. The kidneys are the filters of the blood, which circulates through them for that purpose, cleansing it from all impurities, worn-out matter and uric acid, collected in its journey from the heart through the system. To purify the blood, we must first be sure that the kidneys are in order. We cannot get pure water from a foul filter, neither can we get pure blood from diseased kidneys. If the kidneys are out of order, they cannot filter the impurities and uric acid from the blood, resulting in rheumatism, gout, pain in the back, urinary troubles and kindred diseases. IRVING'S BUCHU WAFERS cure rheumatism to say cured, by removing the cause. They put the kidneys in a healthy condition, enabling them to discharge the blood to the heart pure and healthful, with all uric acid, the presence of which in the blood is the cause of rheumatism and all other blood diseases, eliminated. Mr. John Knowlton's experience, which he relates in a recent letter, is just the same as many others who have written in thankfulness for their cure. Mr. Knowlton says:

"As a sufferer from chronic rheumatism for nearly twenty years, I think I may safely say that I have tried almost a hundred remedies; old women's recipes, physicians' prescriptions and patent medicines. Many of them relieved me for a time, but the first slight cold brought back the rheumatism. One day I picked up a circular of Irving's Buchu Wafers and started to read it. I was not much interested at first, but when I began to read how the kidneys were responsible for rheumatism, I began to pay attention and the common sense statements made such an impression that I immediately bought a box. Well, I took the whole box and had no rheumatism for a month, but a slight cold brought it back, but not so bad as previously. This encouraged me, and I bought six boxes. I took them all faithfully, and it is now nine months since I had a twinge of the rheumatism, so that I feel that I am really cured. After the experience that I had with other so-called remedies for rheumatism, you will understand how glad I am to be able to testify to the merits of Irving's Buchu Wafers. They certainly did all that is claimed for them in my case."

IRVING'S BUCHU WAFERS are nature's own remedy for the cure of Bright's Disease, Congestion of the Kidneys, Bladder Troubles, Dropsical Swellings, Gout, Gravel, Jaundice, Diabetes, Female Complaints and Irregularities, and are a positive cure for all Diseases and Blood Impurities, which are directly or indirectly traceable to deranged action of the Kidneys. They are pleasant to the taste, being sugar-coated, and are prepared by the Irving Drug Co., Philadelphia. Price, fifty cents. There are many imitations of the IRVING'S BUCHU WAFERS on the market, but do not be satisfied with anything but the genuine.

FACTORY CLUB TO SEEK COTTON MILL

R. E. Speer Will Report Investigation of Industry at Next Directors' Meeting

R. E. Speer, chairman of the advertising committee of the Factory Club, returned Friday from a trip through the black land and cotton belt district south of Fort Worth, where investigation was made of the cotton factories located at Itasca, Hillsboro, Corsicana and other places.

At the Corsicana mills Mr. Speer spent several hours and by courtesy of the superintendent was shown through the entire mills, from the warehouses of the fleecy staple as it came from the wagon of the producer to the "cloth room," where the various grades of finished cotton products were being baled, baled and shipped to mill purchasers and jobbing houses.

The products of the Corsicana cotton mills rank with any products of the south, as is shown by their daily shipments to St. Louis, Chicago, New York and other cities, as well as a recent shipment to China amounting to three carloads.

This mill employs nearly two hundred people and, like other cotton mills visited, is running full force, day and night, and still has orders enough ahead to run twelve months, with every mill bringing more orders.

Vice President O. M. Peters declared to Mr. Speer that the company owning and operating this mill was making money by adhering to strict business principles, and that he believed that scores of other cotton mills could be established in Texas and make money.

"Yes, I expect to be able to give the Factory Club some interesting data gathered from this visit to the cotton mills," says Mr. Speer. "We need just such a factory, or even larger, as Fort Worth's distributing facilities as well as many other advantages are unsurpassed in the state."

WICHITA VALLEY AMENDS CHARTER

Makeup of Board Indicates Control by Colorado and Southern

The amended charter of the Wichita Valley railroad has been forwarded to Austin from Fort Worth by the general attorney of that system. It provides for an extension of the road from its present terminus at Seymour to Stamford, a distance of about sixty miles, passing through the counties of Baylor, Knox, Haskell and Jones. The capital stock is placed at $200,000.

The incorporators are Morgan Jones, Noah Harding, J. G. Wilkinson, W. E. Kaufman, D. T. Egan, H. W. Fouts, George Thompson and A. C. Stripling, all of whom are of Fort Worth, except Morgan Jones, whose headquarters are at Denver.

Among the directors of the company are B. E. Yorkum, Granville M. Dodge, Edwin Hawley, Frank Trumbull and several who live in Texas.

It will be noted that several of the directors are prominent in the management of the Colorado and Southern system, which indicates that company is to co-operate in the management of the new extension of the Wichita Valley road.

The charter provides for construction of the extension east to Stamford. It was originally intended to build the Wichita Valley to Abilene, but the better now is that this will not be done. It is said that construction on the Jones road extension is to commence soon and that the line will be ready for operation in six months.

MACHINE STRIKES MAN

A. J. Oliver Slightly Injured at Front and Main Streets

An automobile driven by P. McDaniel struck A. J. Oliver at the corner of Main and Front streets, in front of the Texas and position passenger station Friday night. The man's injuries were not serious.

Asked concerning the accident, Mr. McDaniel said today: "I was driving my machine from Front street into Main, in front of the passenger station, going probably two miles an hour. In the auto, beside myself, were my father, mother and sister. Near the west curb of the corner a man backed into the machine, but was not knocked down nor run over. I had no idea that he was even bruised. The horn was blowing constantly and the machine was stopped almost instantly when the man backed into us. I cannot believe that he was injured at all."

State Inspector Declares Riverside Presents Ideal Conditions

Professor A. W. Orr, state inspector of nurseries, spent Thursday and Friday inspecting the nurseries in the vicinity of Fort Worth. According to the new law every tree that is sold must bear a certificate from the inspector.

Professor Orr expressed great surprise at the excellent condition of the Riverside soil, which he said, was as good as any in the state for the nursery business. He left Friday night for Weatherford.

the last campaign, and is encouraged thereby to again offer himself a willing sacrifice upon the altar of his country. Sparks is understood to be strongly backed by the sheriffs of the state, as he is a former president of the State Sheriffs' association.

None Announced for Attorney General

For attorney general it is believed there will be several candidates, but as yet there are but few developments. This office has been used as a stepping stone to the governorship so often of recent years that it is quite generally coveted. As those who announce for this office are looked upon as prospective gubernatorial timber, the situation is one of some delicacy and is only approached after mature deliberation. There will be no dearth of candidates, however.

Stephens to Have Opposition

Comptroller Stephens is to have opposition in the person of Travis Henderson, the farmer man of Lamar county, who believes he can turn out 38 of the present force of employees in the comptroller's office and run the establishment with a complement of six men. Henderson is a very fox and astute politician, and his ideas of reform will appeal with much force to the masses of the people, but the comptroller is one of the finest working political bureaucrats in the state, and every one of those 44 clerks can be depended upon to labor in season and out of season for the retention of their present chief. It is a hard proposition the farmer man is laying out against, but it is said he has the Farmers' Union behind him, and that is a fast growing institution and destined to cut considerable figure in Texas politics, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding.

Terrell Would Have Third Term

Land Commissioner Terrell will try to overcome democratic precedent and the unwritten law against a third term, and is doing all he can to keep himself prominently before the people. His recent controversy with the state treasurer was an instance. But Terrell has incurred the ill-will of Texas stockmen and actual settlers alike in his alleged arbitrary land policy, and these will fight the Wise county statesman to a finish. His leading opponent is C. E. Gillett, the present superintendent of public buildings and grounds, who has a wide acquaintance and is favorably known to the Texas democracy. Gilbert is a fighter and proposes to show up the inconsistencies of the Terrell land policy in glowing colors at the proper time, and is rapidly arming himself with the necessary ammunition. This fight promises to be one of the most interesting of the entire campaign.

For railroad commissioner the fight between W. D. Williams of Tarrant county and the venerable Judge Storey is attracting much attention. The personal attack made upon Judge Williams by friends of the campaign has exerted a bad effect on the Storey boom. Williams has a strong following all over the state and is doing some very effective campaign work.

The general impression among his friends is that there is nothing intangible about his prospects for election.

POST CARDS HELD BY LOCAL OFFICE

Eleven Souvenirs Taken From Mail Here as of Improper Nature

Following the recent order of the post-office department at Washington referring to postal cards of a questionable nature, as told in The Telegram during this week, quite a number of these mailing cards have been held up at the Fort Worth post-office and sent to the dead letter office.

A reporter for The Telegram was shown eleven such cards which had been taken from the mails here this morning in compliance with the order. Six were to addresses in New York and one each had been started on the trip to Augusta, Ga., Richmond, Va., Little Rock, Ark., Nashville, Tenn., and Lyons, France. A number were addressed to women.

Clerks at the postoffice here have strict orders to inspect all such matter consigned to the mails and any of objectionable character is being immediately withdrawn, to be sent to the dead letter office at Washington.

Boy Reported Lost

In a letter to the Fort Worth police department, Mrs. Mattie Williams of Lone Grove, I. T., requests that the police make efforts to locate her son, 15 years of age, who left home some time since. In the absence of any description or even the given name of the lad, the department is at a loss as to what method they should employ to locate the runaway. The letter stated that the woman is a widow and that the reports say he has been in quarantine here. No further information was given and the boy has not been found.
