

FRENCHMAN WINS GREAT AUTO RACE

Hemery Leads in Contest for Vanderbilt Cup AMERICAN COMES THIRD Winner Covers Course of 283 Miles in Remarkable Time of 276 Minutes, 8 Seconds

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Hemery, driver of an 80-horsepower French machine, won the auto race for the Vanderbilt cup on Long Island today. His elapsed time was 4h. 36m. 8s.

Tracy, American, driving a 120-horsepower machine was third, and Lucia, Italian, was fourth. Lucia entered a protest.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The international auto race for the Vanderbilt cup started at 6 o'clock this morning on the 2 1/2 mile course. Jenatton in Robert Graves' German 120-horsepower car was first to start.

Lancia, driving an Italian car, 110-horsepower, was in the lead on the 11th lap, at 8:30 a. m. Lancia was still in the lead. Foxhall Keene, driving a German machine, 120-horsepower, was second.

Lancia in the Italian car, 110-horsepower, who got away number four, finished first round in 23:49. Foxhall Keene, in a 120-horsepower German car, completed the first circuit in 27:21. The other cars finished the round as follows: Saz, French, 90-horsepower, 24:55; Wagner, French, 80-horsepower, 24:56; Nazzaro, Italy, 110-horsepower, 25:28; Warden, Germany, 120-horsepower, 27:41; Tracy, American, 120-horsepower, 28:14; Campbell, Germany, 90-horsepower, 28:27; Dingley, American, 60-horsepower, 29:44; Cedrine, Italy, 110-horsepower, 35:26.

Lancia collided with Christie. No one was hurt. Lancia, however, was compelled to withdraw temporarily from the race. Christie's car dropped out of the race because of a broken axle.

THROUGH SEES THE START GARDEN CITY, L. I., Oct. 14.—At daybreak an immense throng had gathered to witness the start of the Vanderbilt cup.

and a good wrestler, thinks he has in Jack Harvey the best 125-pound wrestler in the country. Dr. Scudder says he is willing to give him a chance to meet any ambitious young man willing to challenge him. If a match is arranged it will take place in the athletic club connected with the church.
Fred Clarke has changed his mind; he will manage the Pirates next season.
A Russian named Dragshinoff has joined the Cornell football eleven. Now, then, if Breakarm and Gougiski would also enlist, what a team for tearing opposing lines to pieces and throwing them to the winds! Cornell would have.
O'Brien, the Exeter freshman who is trying for end at Princeton, moves too slowly to give much promise of retaining a place on the eleven.
White Hoppe has challenged Veteran George P. Slosson to a series of billiard games, but Slosson refuses to be drawn in with Schaefer, Sutton, Cune, Moringar, Vignaux or any of the leading Frenchmen, but that Hoppe must make his mark in a tournament before he is given any consideration.
A match has been arranged between Eddie Sattley of Chicago and Johnny Stone, the "soldier boy," at Milwaukee, Oct. 26. They will fight at 10 pounds.
Chicago University eleven is especially strong on offensive playing this year. The Maroon backs are considered the best all-around ground gainers that Stagg has had. DeTray, Besdick and Walker can play either an end-running game or a line-plunging game with equal effect.

Effort is being put forward by Harvard to eliminate brutality from football. Most commendable, but the finish is already assured.
The official scorer of the world's championship series was the editor of Sporting News and Sporting Life.
Ed Hill has decided to leave Notre Dame following Renaker and Paupa, who deserted the football team because they could not get along with Coach McGlew.
The showing of the Columbia eleven is a great disappointment to early season indications. The material for a good team seems to be there, but that it is not playing a game to inspire confidence among its friends is palpable.

NEW YORK GIANTS NOW HAVE 3 OUT OF 4 GAMES

Fourth of World's Championship Match Lost by Philadelphia Athletics

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Three to one is now the advantage which the New York Nationals hold over the Philadelphia Athletics in the struggle for the world's championship. The New Yorks scored their third victory yesterday, and if the local men succeed in getting the better of the visitors in today's contest, the world's championship flag will fly from the big mast in the Polo grounds.
Philadelphia, heavily handicapped by the loss of the services of the erratic pitcher, Waddell, has succumbed to the masterful work of Matthewson, twice and today he pitched a gem, giving up only one run, which was scored by his defeat at the hands of Bender last Tuesday on the same diamond.
In the fourth inning Monte Cross was so anxious to get a bouncer from Merces that he fumbled the ball and juggled it long enough to let the batter reach first safely. This was the only error recorded in the game, but it was an expensive one, as it resulted in a run, the run which won.
McGinnity and Plank were equally effective, but Plank managed to get a hit which McGinnity failed to do. The score:

COUP EFFECTED IN BUILDING RACE

Central Beats Trinity and Brazos to Crossing Point at Jewett

A railroad coup has been effected by the Houston and Texas Central at Jewett, the crossing point of the Trinity and Brazos Valley, with which road a building war has been on for several weeks.
Ever since it became known that the Trinity and Brazos Valley road was going to build from Mexia to Houston this road building contest has been between the Brazos Valley and the Houston and Texas Central. The Central's territory is being invaded by the Youkum line and every effort is being made by each to reach Houston first.
The Central has now scored one against the Brazos Valley route. It has blocked the right of way of the latter with its rails near Jewett. In order to get into Jewett the Central was compelled to cross the right of way of the latter. Both of these roads are being built south from Mexia into Houston, says the Houston Chronicle. The Brazos Valley line is a Youkum proposition and is in reality to be connecting the line between the Denver route and the Gulf.

The Houston and Texas Central assumed an antagonistic attitude as soon as the extension of the Valley road was announced for the reason that it feared the Houston and Texas Central at once announced plans to build through part of the richest section of the Valley route would traverse, thus paralleling it. Both companies began work about the same time and the race in construction has resulted.

The Central has made a little the best headway, although both have been sorely handicapped by lack of labor. The point at which the Central was to cross the Brazos Valley line to get into Jewett was a strategic one. The road that should get there first would force the other to cross it, bear the expense of said crossing and connect itself to the terms prescribed by Texas law.

The Brazos Valley route seeing it was not going to reach the point with its construction crew in advance of the Central forces sent ahead guards and stationed them at the point where the crossing would be located with the idea of holding it against its opponents until it could build to it. It was proposed in this way to force the issue in its favor.

The Central, with a force of coolies and showed no outward symptoms of perturbation. It acted with the consummate address of a field marshal in the time of action, and finally succeeded in out-waiting its rival.

Shortly after midnight, while the guards were killing at the various posts of duty, there was a rush from the brush and undergrowth in the vicinity. Out of a thicket emerged a force of workmen of the Central, with loads of material, scrapes and the like. It was a dash of a light brigade, and before the guards could realize what had happened the construction crew were in possession of the spot where the starting point of the crossing dirt, dumping and placing ties and handling rails. When the first shafts of the frosty dawn appeared the Central's crossing was in and it had won by strategy.

The decision was a victory for Arbitrators Perkins and Mangham, but was dissented to by J. H. Johnson, who made a minority report to the effect that the only way to equalize terminal disabilities was to improve terminals, which was suggested in this case.

DISSENTING OPINION FILED BY ONE OF THE THREE ARBITRATORS

The Cotton Belt won in the matter of the 22 per cent differential for hauling freight from the freight depot in this city to points in the city, a matter which other roads have questioned for some time as being just. The Cotton Belt maintained that it was entitled to a 22 per cent right from the fact that drymen charged that amount extra for the work of hauling Cotton Belt freight to the merchants in Fort Worth.

The matter has been the cause of much contention among other roads, and it was finally agreed that the question should be left to a decision of an arbitration board, and the result reached Friday is the end of the difficulty.

The decision was made by Arbitrators Perkins and Mangham, but was dissented to by J. H. Johnson, who made a minority report to the effect that the only way to equalize terminal disabilities was to improve terminals, which was suggested in this case.

REPORTS CONFLICTING

Officials of Santa Fe Mix California Route

Reports as to the building of a line from Brownwood, Texas, to Texico, on the Texas-New Orleans line, by the Santa Fe, for the purpose of shortening the distance from Galveston to the Pacific coast 350 miles, are conflicting when considered in connection with the statements purporting to have been made by the head officials of that company.

General Manager Nixon of the system in Texas gave out a public statement a few days ago to the effect that the company did not contemplate building this connection, but admitted that a charter for it had been issued. He held that there was no likelihood of anything being done toward building the connection during the next year.

On the heels of this statement comes another very much different in tone. It is made by President E. P. Ripley of Chicago, and is to the effect that the company has decided to build this new piece of road, but that it will be built in two parts, the first being from Brownwood to Texico, a distance of 275 miles. When these two are finished the Santa Fe system will have a second and shorter line to California.

It has all along been understood in Texas that the Brownwood-Texico connection was to be built at once. In fact, surveys have been made and active preliminary work begun.
The statement of President Ripley seems to indicate that the line is to be constructed without further delay.

FAST RUN PLANNED

Harriman Special to Try for Cross-Country Record

When E. H. Harriman, who has been in Japan and other oriental countries, reaches San Francisco, he is to be raced across the continent in record time. He will travel the Ogden route, and it is intended to take his express to San Francisco to Chicago in fifty hours. From there to New York he is to go in fifteen hours. From San Francisco to New York in sixty-five hours would be the greatest long distance run ever made.

Mr. Harriman is said to have set his ambitions for making this time, and his orders have come from across the sea and have set in motion all the preparations for attempting it. From Chicago to New York he will travel over the Lakes Shore and New York Central routes.

AMUSEMENTS

BLACK PATTI TROUBADOURS

The New York Herald qualifies the Greater Black Patti Troubadours as follows:
"Sisieretta Jones, better known perhaps as 'Black Patti,' is the star of a company of colored performers. Miss Jones is a singer with a large reputation and is heralded as being the greatest of her race. She has a well-cultivated soprano voice of good range, and there is much natural sweetness in her tones, particularly those of her middle and lower register. She sings a number of selections—both classical and otherwise—each being received with due appreciation and roundly applauded.

"But 'Black Patti' occupies only a small part of the program. Among the other features is a farcical comedy and a number of variety performances. The musical comedy is a laughable absurdity entitled 'Looney Dreamland.' It gives a well drawn picture of a Coney Island fest and most famous amusement resort from both interior and exterior points of view. There is a little or no plot, but this is made up for by large quantities of laughable prearrangements.

The Troubadours are announced to appear at Greenwall's opera house Monday matinee and night, Oct. 16.

"AN ARISTOCRATIC TRAMP"

There should be considerable stirring at Greenwall's opera house Tuesday matinee and night, Oct. 17, when Kilroy and Britton will be seen heading the new success, "An Aristocratic Tramp." There's a laugh every minute for the most cynical, and between the laughs there's also a chance for a goodly lot of tears. "An Aristocratic Tramp" contains a sensational automobile race and explosion and the most sensational of all train effects, together with lively singing and dancing specialties galore.

"McFADDEN'S ROW OF FLATS"

"McFadden's Row of Flats," furnished with a new outfit of scenery, costumes, music, jokes and pretty girls, will be at Greenwall's opera house Thursday matinee and night, Oct. 18. This farce comedy, written by E. W. Townsend and Glen MacDonough, was suggested by the famous pictures and sketches known as the "Yellow Kids." In the company are the well-known comedienne, Marie Henry, the Preston Sisters, May Baker, Allie Barber, Annie Miller, Marie Donoghue, Carl H. Anderson, Billy Barry, Clark Candy, the Speck, Bayless and Joe Deming. There will be many specialties introduced during the performance and the latest popular music will be heard.

BIG STREET PARADE TO PRECEDE CIRCUS

Forepaugh & Sells Brothers Show to Have Procession Over the Principal Business Streets

A street parade will precede the performance of Forepaugh & Sells' circus in this city, Oct. 26. This parade is reported to be the most stupendous and radiantly beautiful spectacle of the kind ever brought forward by a circus enterprise. More than a thousand people, including hundreds of many pedigreed horses are used. The high-stepping riding animals were born in the purple and represent an immense amount of money, as well as the finest collection to be seen anywhere at home. The parade floats, tableaux floats, musical vehicles, wild animal dens, fashionable carts, lilliputian cages—in fact, all of the wagons whatsoever are brand new, made from special designs, and lavishly decorated. Most of the cages are open. Three big herds of elephants, gayly caparisoned, and supporting thrones reflecting the regal pomp and pride of Oriental waters, companies of lurching camels, troops of mounted soldiers, military bands, clown bands, women riders modestly gowned, expert and graceful men riders, toasting students, joyous minstrels, Oriental jugglers, courtiers, ecclesiastical peacocks, dancing girls, knights, soldiers, bizarre fun-makers and a multitude of more odd, stimulating and exceptional features are tactfully woven into a processionary display over three miles long. It is the most colossal, the most beautiful and the most interesting street pageant ever seen in the entire world. This procession will start from the show grounds circus day at 10 o'clock, and move over the usual business streets.

In the circus program proper is a gathering of the most famous performers in the world. Most of the artists make their first appearance in America at this time with this show. The artists are sixty seven in all in the revolving program, and all are imported for this season with the Forepaugh & Sells Brothers Shows. Such an immense gathering of foreign gymnasts, for appearance in the same bill, is unduly the history of the circus business, and affords a continuous whirl of ever-changing and sensational surprises. Among these distinguished artists are the fourteen Wolkowsky's; the "Briar" troupe of seven Dello Carado Company; Prosper Family and Dims Troupe. The performance begins with a superb new spectacle, "Panama, or the Portals of the Sea. A thousand characters are employed in this gigantic production and the costumes are lavishly beautiful. The action of the spectacle calls for a larger space than would be possible in a hundred theaters. In the professional feature are brought into view correctly uniformed military companies representing the crack regiments of the great nations of the world. Bands playing national airs and the most beautiful female types of the world give animation and thrilling charms to the massive scenes. A fortune has been spent to make this production a mighty merging of the military men, mads and music of all nations in tribute to America's opening of the Panama canal.

EXPOSED HIS POVERTY

"I will say that I am not a millionaire, multi or any other kind, and never have been."

He is one of the finest insurance men in America all right.—Abilene Reporter.

The illustrations of John A. McCall's palatial residence and stables as printed in the Telegram, has created a great deal of comment all over the state of Texas.

It is a startling story that is daily coming to light from New York relative to the actions of these men who have succeeded in having themselves placed at the head of these big insurance concerns.

It was brought out in the investigation that the president of one of these concerns was a little bit alarmed by the illness of his wife, and very promptly promised his family physician he would make him general manager of the company if he would save her life.

Brother John Robbins says he makes it a rule to refrain from announcing his office until the year comes around for official announcements, and he has not yet really made up his mind whether or not he will become a candidate for railway commissioner.

The women suffragists are having a merry time with Grover Cleveland over his recent utterances against the idea of women voters.

THE FEEDING PROPOSITION

"If there is to be a steer fed at the Corsicana oil mills this fall and winter, I have yet to hear of it."

President Roosevelt is out in a strong declaration in favor of cleaner athletic sports, and it is a timely suggestion.

Judge Terrell says that special free session of the state legislature will be called in the fullness of time.

Attorney Hughes has declined the republican nomination for mayor of New York, and this is but additional evidence that Lawyer Hughes carries a very level head on his shoulders.

and very general complaint of the prices being charged by the oil mills for their products, the cattlemen who usually feed considerable bunches of stuff every winter at the oil mills...

Just what the effect of these conditions will be on the feeding situation in Texas ultimately is hard to foresee.

Cattle feeding in Texas has been largely dependent upon the oil mill proposition. While the corn belt states are disposed to look upon cheap corn as a precedent to successful cattle feeding, down here in Texas oil mill products very largely take the place of corn.

Texas has not been regarded as a great corn producing state, and the price of that article never gets as low in this state as it does back in the real corn belt states.

The feeding industry is yet in its infancy in Texas. Our cattlemen yet have much to learn in this matter, but they are going about it in such a manner as promises a solution in the near future.

Senator Money says the people of Mississippi do not want President Roosevelt to visit their state, as he is a man who maligns the south.

Brother John Robbins says he makes it a rule to refrain from announcing his office until the year comes around for official announcements, and he has not yet really made up his mind whether or not he will become a candidate for railway commissioner.

DR. GOODE AND MR. LLOYD

How They Entertained the Bohemian Club With a Marvellous Hypnotic Performance. (Copyright, 1896, by the Short Story Publishing Co.)

The Bohemian club was an organization of talented men in varied walks of life. Its membership was limited to a score, but upon the occasion of its monthly dinner, each member was entitled to a card of invitation for one friend.

On this particular night there was not a single vacant chair when the festivities opened. President Norris arose and, smilingly bowing to us all first and then to ward the guest upon his right, said: "Gentlemen, allow me to present to you one whose name, long since become a by-word in the scientific world, is sufficient introduction, the world-famous psychologist, who has honored us with his presence tonight, Dr. Richardson Goode, of London."

Dr. Goode began to talk on the new developments of hypnotism, that as he warmed to his subject became so intensely interesting as to rivet the entire attention of his audience and hold them spellbound.

He claimed that his was the power to so thoroughly infuse the mind of a subject with a certain idea as to make that idea become a fixed fact, and the desired result follow.

"I don't mind laying any reasonable wager against such a power, doctor," said our president.

"Very well," answered the doctor, "I am quite ready to accept your proposition."

The voice belonged to Lloyd, one of the brightest stars among the younger journalists.

"Well, doctor, for my part, I will accept Mr. Lloyd's offer, and if I lose the wager, I will present him with whatever sum you may mention." It was Norris who spoke.

"This is perfectly agreeable to me, Mr. President, and since the gentleman assumes such a risk of living fifty years in half as many minutes, I would suggest that we make the sum a large one for the sake of the beneficiary; would $100,000 be satisfactory?"

The wager was immediately agreed upon.

Holding Lloyd intently within his gaze, Dr. Goode said: "Now, my friend, you are not feeling very well, but it will not last long; you will soon gain more strength, but, at your age, you cannot hope to recover as rapidly as in your youth; let me see, how old did you say you were? Oh, yes; 70 on your last birthday, so it was. Well, that's a very old age, though your beard is not very white yet."

I sat directly opposite Lloyd, and when the doctor made this remark about the beard, I noted that the young journalist had a beard, which rather confused me, for I had always thought he wore only a mustache. As I struggled to define the change, such as one endeavors to recall an indistinct dream, I was suddenly aware of the doctor's voice saying: "You are quite bald, aren't you, Mr. Lloyd?" and saw that person put his hand up to his head.

"Yes," said the beginner at golf, telling his troubles, "the caddy was so sarcastic and impertinent I felt like cracking him over the head." "Well, why didn't you?" asked his friend. "I would have done it, but you see, I didn't know which would be the proper club to use for that purpose."—Philadelphia Press.

and Norris. "I'll let the word, rose from his chair, stepped into the library for a moment, returned, and handed him a check. Lloyd put the check in his pocket, chuckled after the manner of an old man, and in a cackling voice said, "Now I hope you will excuse me, gentlemen. I'm feeling very strong, ha ha ha! I'll have to get you to identify me in the morning, Mr. Norris." He ambled across the room, the door closed behind him.

Letters to The Telegram

Editor Telegram. Being a resident of the south side, I am very desirous that the sidewalk proposition should be carried out in some manner or other and I think that your article on Thursday in reference to the organization of clubs to pave the block around and with sidewalks is a very good one and would go a great way toward solving the difficulty.

It should not be a hard proposition to get at least one hard working man in a block who could take charge of the matter and see it through to the extent of getting a few interested and these few could interest the others.

It is a well known fact that one man with the proper amount of enthusiasm can carry almost anyone if once he gets a start. One such club would also serve as an example of what can be done to the others.

I hope that the suggestion will be taken up in some block and I feel sure that if that were done other blocks would soon fall into line. Yours truly, SOUTHWEST.

Captain S. R. Burnett returned Thursday night from his King county range where he has been entertaining Chief Quamah Parker and seventy-five of his Comanche Indians. The red men have been on his ranch for the past week and a half.

He claimed that his was the power to so thoroughly infuse the mind of a subject with a certain idea as to make that idea become a fixed fact, and the desired result follow.

"I don't mind laying any reasonable wager against such a power, doctor," said our president.

Very well, answered the doctor, I am quite ready to accept your proposition.

How 'The Other One' Surprised Her Beautiful and Talented Sisters BY S. ANNIE FROST. (Copyright, 1905, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

It was a distinctive title which was almost as much heard as Antoinette, the name inscribed upon the baptismal register. People talked of the beautiful Miss Hammond, the talented Miss Hammond and The Other One.

"HE IS ALL ALONE" ADDED THE DOCTOR.

a successful physician, who had a habit of "popping" his head all hours. One evening as Dr. Hammond returned from a hard day's round of visits he threw himself on a couch in his study and told Nettie of being called to the home of Leonard Williams, a stranger who had fallen on the ice that day and suffered a compound fracture of the shoulder.

PEOPLE TALKED ABOUT

Walter Christie, with his racing car, the Blue Flyer, was talking to a French chauffeur on the Cape May beach. "Get makes warm," said the Frenchman, wiping his brow. "You mean it is warm—not makes warm," said Mr. Christie, laughing. "Yes, the next morning at breakfast Leonard Williams was thoroughly discussed, Leonie and Lucy were still dreaming of the conquests of the previous evening, but Mrs. Hammond decided that the invalid must be their guest. The doctor gladly seconded the proposition and with his wife drove over to the hotel to give the invitation in person.

Eugene Cowley saved two women bathers from drowning last month in Lake Magnahemog. In making this rescue Mr. Cowley bruised his arm—it struck a rock as he dived in. Pointing to the bruise the other day, the actor said: "When I got these bruises I felt like a young Chicagoan named Littledale, who played with me in amateur theatricals in my early youth. "Littledale, in one of our shows, had to leap into a river in order to escape from a wild beast. "The stage was so arranged that the river was invisible. Littledale was to leap and disappear, striking a soft matress in the wings, and at the same time a rock was to be dropped into a tub of water to create a splash. "But, though the leap worked all right in rehearsal, on the night of the actual performance it went wrong. There was neither matress nor tub then. When poor Littledale jumped he fell eight feet and landed on an oaken floor with a crash loud enough to wake the dead, and there was no splashing water to drown the crash, by Jove! "The audience, expecting to hear a splash, and hearing instead the thunderous impact of Littledale's bones on the oak, set up a titter. But the heroic Littledale, equal to the occasion, silenced them. "Heavens! he shouted from below, 'the water's frozen.' "The late Rev. Elijah Kellogg, it is said, was once fiercely opposed during one of his sermons by an infidel in the town who was a leader in all opposition to religion, and took much satisfaction in discovering inconsistencies in the lives of church members and in publishing them through the neighborhood. For some reason he decided to remove to another part of the state. Meeting the pastor one day, he said: "Well, I suppose you know I am going to leave town, and I suppose you will be glad of it." "Why," rejoined the pastor, "every time a sheep gets its foot out of my fold you bark from one end of the town to the other. You are the most useful watchdog that I ever knew."—Boston Herald.

Charles J. Bonaparte, the new secretary of the navy, writes a neat and beautiful hand. A reporter, on a hot afternoon not long since, complimented Mr. Bonaparte on his chirography; and to the compliment the secretary replied: "At the seaside I once heard a little girl make a remark about her father's writing that would not have applied to mine. "The little girl was reading with her mother in the hotel office. On the table before her was an ink bottle and some clean stationery, and as she read a fly got into the ink. The fly, after a hard struggle, emerged from its black bath, and in an exhausted and dragged condition it trailed itself slowly and with great difficulty across a sheet of snowy paper. "The little girl, regarding the fly's tracks across the page, exclaimed: "Oh, mamma, look! Here is a fly that writes just like papa!"

Rev. Minot J. Savage, on being introduced to speak before a large Boston assembly a short time since, told a story about Eugene Field and vouched for its truth, because he heard Seth Low tell it. Field sat down at a table in a New York restaurant, and presently was approached by a valuable waiter, who began to rapidly enumerate the articles upon the menu—"Coffee—tea—ham—eggs—beefsteak—mutton—chop—fishballs—hash"—etc. Field looked at him with quick eye and keen visage, and said with marked deliberation: "I want none of these things. All I desire is one orange and a few kind words." "Now," observed Dr. Savage, "I don't know as I can bring to you the favor of an orange, but I feel sure I can serve you with a few kind words." "But," in chorus, "The Other One."

German of All Classes, Except Socialists and Radicals, Want More Warships BERLIN, Oct. 14.—Disclosures in France of the alleged brother officers' alliance against Germany are so thoroughly believed the powerful naval league with its 600,000 members and all its apparatus for agitation is already moving for a new naval program that shall further increase Germany's defensive resources against Great Britain's popular distrust of Great Britain naturally has swollen to great proportions and the semi-official details in London can scarcely over-come the convictions now formed that Germany had a narrow escape from war which, although she would have been victorious on land, would have resulted in her being crushed at sea, and damaged along the coast with consequent destruction to her sea commerce. The events of the last four months have silenced the opponents of the naval increase except the socialists and radicals.

AMERICAN PARDONED, BUT IS OUT $25,000 Famous Case of Louis Stern, Which Provoked International Complications, is Finally Settled in German Courts NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—A Berlin cable to the Herald says: The Augsburg Abendzeitung states that Louis Stern of the New York chamber of commerce, who was sentenced ten years ago for insulting Baron Thuenen forbidding Stern's son, Baron Klessinger to a fine of six hundred marks ($150) and two weeks' imprisonment, has now been pardoned. The bail which he deposited at that time, amounting to $16,000, has already been confiscated.

ATTEMPTS TO INCITE ITALIAN SOLDIERS Anarchist with Name Like "The Eternal City's" Hero, Gets Forty Months' Imprisonment NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—An anarchist, Domino Rossi, recently made violent speeches at Florence to some soldiers, inciting them not only to leave the army, but to shoot their officers in case they were ordered to fire on the crowd in case of rioting says a cable dispatch to the Herald from Rome. Rossi was arrested yesterday, summarily tried and sentenced to forty months' imprisonment. An anti-imperialist meeting was held here last evening in spite of the fact that the authorities had prohibited it. A police officer ordered the speeches to cease. The orator, however, disregarded his orders and rioting followed, during the course of which many people were slightly injured and twenty persons arrested. The authorities have ordered an inquiry into the matter.

CIRCUS SECURES T. P. RESERVATION

Auditorium Committee Granted Coveted Permission by Railroad Officials

The auditorium circus will be held on the Texas and Pacific reservation, a tract easily accessible from all street and railroad lines and centrally situated. Permission to hold the circus in this favored spot was secured Friday afternoon by a committee of men and women who went to Dallas and secured permission from the Texas and Pacific railway officials.

Permission to use this land was at first refused in line with the rule adopted by the company. The committee, however, had a personal interview with L. S. Thorne, vice president and general manager, and W. H. Abrams, land and tax commissioner, resulting in granting the request.

Members of the committee upon their return expressed great satisfaction at securing the central location for the performances to be given Oct. 21 and 25.

WARMER WEATHER FELT OVER TEXAS

Decided Rise in Temperature Experienced in This City—Fair and Colder Sunday

A high wind, with prevailing warmer temperature was the weather condition to which Fort Worth awoke this morning. Rain had not occurred either at Fort Worth or other portions of East Texas, north, the only moisture being very slight traces of precipitation at Sherman.

High barometric conditions prevail over areas including portions of Montana, Nevada and the Yellowstone Park, as well as the Atlantic coast between Savannah and Hatteras. The movement from the coast this morning, as indicated in the official map issued by the weather bureau, makes the indication for this evening and tomorrow colder through this part of the country.

The average temperature of Texas, as taken from reports from 22 stations reporting to the central station at Galveston, shows a range of from 56 to 82 degrees, the only places in the state where the temperature registered a higher maximum than 82 being as follows: Waco and Wharton, 88; Belle Meade, 86; Ballinger, Brenham, Corsi, J. Cuero, Houston and Luling, 84 each.

Temperature at Fort Worth registered a high of 80, a low of 68 and the wind had a velocity of 17 miles an hour this morning. Official statement of weather conditions as reported is as follows: "The cotton belt is generally clear. No rain of importance in any portion. Light to heavy frost occurred in North and South Carolina this morning. Texas is partly cloudy to clear. Temperatures about normal. No rain of importance.

"The valley of the Missouri is under low pressure conditions, causing rain this morning in the Dakotas, Iowa, Kansas and Minnesota. A thunder storm is reported as occurring at Kansas City, North Platte and Concordia. "An area of high barometer is centered over Wyoming, causing temperatures below freezing as far south as Southern Utah.

The cotton belt is generally clear. As a result of the high barometer area over the Carolina coast light to heavy frost occurred in the Carolinas this morning.

"Partly cloudy weather may be expected at Fort Worth and vicinity to night, with fair colder weather Sunday.

Forecast until 7 p. m. Sunday for Fort Worth and vicinity, issued at New Orleans, La: "East Texas (north)—Tonight, partly cloudy; colder in west portion. Sunday, fair; colder.

LOOKOUT FOR "SCABIES," AND IF ANY CONTAGIOUS SKIN DISEASE IS DETECTED THE ANIMALS ARE SUBJECT TO A PROCESS OF "FLIPPING." SHEEP ARE ALSO DIPPED WHEN THEY HAVE ANY INFECTIOUS DISEASE.

Those animals found with any contagious disease are tagged. A metal tag is placed in the ear bearing the words "U. S. Rejected," and a serial number of other marks that insure identification. The animals that have passed the examination are sent on privilege for slaughter. The rejected animals are sent at a loss to the owner. Doubtful animals are placed on probation, so to speak, and are sent along to a further inspection.

Inspectors are at all the large slaughter houses and when the post-mortem inspection is made and the record made out for the department. In all cases where the carcass is found to be diseased it is marked with a condemnation seal and all the organs that have been removed must also be marked with corresponding tags. At the close of the day's work the condemned carcasses are destroyed by tanning. That is, they are thrown into a tank that will hold about twenty-five carcasses, which is sealed at the bottom. It is then sealed at the top and the steam turned on until the carcasses are entirely reduced to fertilizer.

Retaining rooms are at all the abattoirs, and into them are thrown the condemned carcasses and they are kept in the tank. So completely is the government system of marking the product it has inspected that it is possible to identify it a year later and at any place. It can be definitely traced by the marking.

The microscopic inspection is made for trichinae in swine. Germany, France, Denmark and Austria demand this inspection on all pork sent to those countries. The percentage of carcases rejected for tuberculosis is great. Dr. Ingram says he has seen 100 rejected out of a lot of 1,500. By this system it is impossible for any head of stock to get by an inspector without a record of disease being placed on his name. At first this inspection was rebelled against by the stockmen, but they grew to see that the plan worked to their advantage. None but clean and healthy stock on their hands and they cooperate with the government in every way possible. The result has been very encouraging and tuberculosis is being decreased by this watchful precaution.

DOESN'T FEAR BLACKLEG

Three years ago, one of the speakers at a farmers' institute gave the following prescription for prevention of blackleg:

Sulphur, 10 pounds; saltpeter (nitrate of potash), 3 pounds; copperas (sulphate of iron), 6 pounds; air slaked lime, 3 pounds.

This mixture should be pulverized and well mixed with the grain feed at the rate of a dessert spoonful to each feed. At the time I began using this remedy I had twelve calves in good flesh, but badly affected with ringworm. I fed the medicine, and after a few days they were all gone. Not having pasture enough I turned eighteen head in my neighbor's pasture with his cattle. In June he lost nine calves, and he had all his calves vaccinated, but lost another five weeks afterward, but none of mine died. Since that time I have had no blackleg.

Alex. Laurie, Bronska.

BUCKING BRONCOS SCARCE

The outlaw horse of years past, the hero of bronco-bucking in the south and west, is rapidly becoming a thing of the past, and in ten years will be more scarce than the fast-moving buffalo and the old-time cowboy, according to John M. Kuykendall, who makes a specialty of collecting the wildest horses that can be procured for bucking contests.

"Ten years ago the outlaw was as plentiful as jack rabbits," said Mr. Kuykendall, "but I have been able to get only about thirty real buckers that will put up a good fight out of 50,000 horses that I rule the market on." The outlaw horse comes from the poorest blooded that roam the ranges of the west. He is a criminal among horses, just as surely as men who go wrong have had blood in their veins. His parents are in nearly every case mustangs, and the stock is the same as that which roamed the plains of the west in the early days and degenerated through uselessness.

"Nearly every horse will buck," he declared, "if you turn him loose in a pasture for several months and then try to ride him, but he will kick up only a few times and then quit. The outlaw will buck, though, after he has been ridden successfully, just as soon as another man gets on his back. It takes years to break him of the habit, and he is never safe, if he ever gets a chance he will start off bucking again and he always is dangerous.

"You rarely hear of a famous buckler now, although ten or twenty years ago every large range had several outlaw buckers, and cowboys and cowboys alike could ride as well as the old-time cowboys, and they are not degenerating. The breed of horses throughout the country is improving steadily, and this is the result of the outlaw. It will take away from the stock of the west, when their life when they go entirely, but that is going rapidly away, and horse owners will be the gainers."

ARMOUR SEES IMPROVEMENT

J. Ogden Armour, head of the Armour interests in Chicago, and president of the companies controlling the Armour-Swift-Burlington interests here, was in Kansas City this morning. He talked with the reporter for the Star this afternoon. The reporter mentioned the indictments recently returned against Mr. Armour and other packers for violations of the interstate commerce act. Mr. Armour merely shrugged his shoulders, but said nothing. Later he reverted to the subject.

"There is a change in popular sentiment," said Mr. Armour. "Formerly people and some newspapers painted us in the blackest colors and our intentions were made to the effect that we ought to be hanged. But that sort of sentiment is changing for a more reasonable view. People are finding out that we are not what they thought we were. I think we really have an important place in human affairs. I don't know that the public are quite ready to rise up and call us blessed, but I am sure that there is a gradual coming about a more reasonable attitude."—Kansas City Star.
