PAUL ZIMMERMAN SAYS—

Hello, Neighbor

The Castro County Red Cross Roll Call—now underway, and to close Nov. 30—got a fair start the first day. About half the quota was raised in Dimmitt, and in the county Sunnyside raised 25 of the 25 assessed them before the campaign officially started. Nazareth and Jumbo both asked for additional supplies, stating they expected to go over the quota. The real danger in falling short of the quota in this county is people being so busy that they neglect to see the right party to subscribe. In Dimmitt business section a person may get his membership pin at Thompson Grocery, Shipley's Dry Goods or the Castro County News office. Each community in the county has a Roll Call chairman, and you may see your local committee to join.

Right when the Editor thinks his efforts as a quasi-public servant are not appreciated, in come three county citizens to cheer him in a practical way. Barber Eubanks, member board of Independent School District, has been in twice with large turkeys with a flavor that could not be excelled. And B. A. Fuller and Mrs. E. R. Rothwell brought in such huge turkeys the past week that they would almost rate Ripley's Believe It or Not. They were not peffy, either, but had a savory taste. We say with genuine thanksgiving, THANK YOU, NEIGHBORS!

Thanksgiving time has arrived. Although the farmers and elevators are busy now with the row crops, we would venture to say that all alike have been thankful for the sunshine during the past two weeks. Neighbors, let's not be forgetful of Thanksgiving.

State Senator Marshall Formby of Plainview, publisher of the Plainview Tribune, made an encouraging talk to the ladies and gentlemen of the Lions Club last Tuesday night. He was especially grateful for the fine dinner the Methodist women prepared as, he explained, he was a bachelor and not accustomed to good, home-cooked meals. His encouragement consisted of reminding us of the fact of the many freedoms and privileges we enjoy under the bill of rights and constitution of our state and national constitutions. And how right you are, Senator Formby. Another thing worthy of celebrating with two Thanksgivings!

Some of the merchants in this city were "taken in" when a man and woman, accompanied by an innocent local school girl, sold ads on a school program which the school authorities knew nothing about. The printer was to get the job of printing it, but did not see the man or woman. Perhaps the city council would do well to pass an ordinance to require permits for soliciting. At least the printer should always be consulted before cash is paid out.

The postoffice will be closed Thursday, but the stores may not all close. However, some stores are expected to close. No petition had been signed Tuesday. Be that as it may, Mrs. Etta Brashear announces that she will have a turkey dinner at her hotel to those who like turkey cooked the old-fashioned way—that is, turkey on Thursday, Nov. 27, and hash (we guess on Friday, Nov. 28. Anyway, she will be happy to see as many as would like to be served on that day.

Farmers have working feverishly to get in all the feed crop possible, and have been making good headway, according to the four local elevators. A few more days of sunshine will put the crops "in the bag." Hop to it, boys, while the sun shines.

Walter Griffith of Griffith Grocery announced two weeks ago he planned an opening sale after he had moved and set settled. Here he is keeping his word—with a grocery sale. Walter says he has not completed his remodeling but will have the sale just the same. He has a big door icebox in which to keep his meats now. This week

GRIFFITH'S HAS OPENING SALE IN NEW LOCATION

Walter Griffith, owner and manager of Griffith Grocery & Market in Dimmitt, is announcing his grand opening this week-end, celebrating his moving into a larger building.

Along with moving Griffith Gro. & Market is making a good many improvements about the store. A new walk-in icebox that will take of a large supply of meat.

Paint has been used to a considerable extent, and additional shelves put up. Larger supplies of groceries have been installed, Griffith states.

Griffith is giving tickets this week-end to those who visit his store, whether they purchase anything or not. He will give six baskets of groceries to the holders at drawings Saturday at 10-11-2-4-5 o'clock. In this issue Griffith's list some of the week-end specials they are offering.

DEAR SUE:

Here is a little column to appear from time to time in The News from a California resident, Allie Mae Willis, 332 Obispo, Long Beach, Calif. She is a cousin of Mrs. Goodwin Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Willis, sister of Mrs. C. L. Morris and G. L. Willis, Jr., all of Castro County. It will be good to get the viewpoint and outlook in California occasionally.

Dear Sue: This is secret so not a word to anyone—most especially our Chamber of Commerce, but regardless, we had quite a shower one day this week. So unusual for California.

Bill and I had lunch at the Brown Derby and it was just funny the way everyone was scrutinizing everyone else—all it amounted to was tourist soving tourist. Not a movie star was stirring—not even Mickey Mouse. Quite often they aren't even recognized, as they look just too human.

While transpiring down Hollywood Blvd.—where the unusual is so common its mediocre—we saw a sight that even attracted the attention of Hollywoodians. A tall girl with legs "that" long, in a pair of shorts "that" short. I couldn't keep from thinking how she resembled a clothes pin (the old-fashioned kind) with a strip of bandage wrapped around the place of separation.

Is this country getting horse-fied? It's amazing how much more something is appreciated when it takes a nice figure out of the bank book to support it. The western clothes shown at the leading department stores are just adorable. Every time I see them I promise myself to take up horse-back riding again, just to have an excuse to purchase some.

If you are here this fall do see "Fantasia". It is now in its eighth month and is as delightful as ever, and, by the way, if you will borrow Dick's "Uncle Sam Suit" you can get in for half price. The boys do need some consideration—you can't do much on $21 a month, or would you know?

The beachers were swarming this week-end. Had Hitler zoomed over and proceeded to drop his nasty firecrackers the length of them, probably two-thirds of the entire population of Southern California would have been obliterated.

Saw something at the wrestling matches the other night that I've been unable to catalog. It had the make-up of a gorilla and yet was posing as a man—650 pounds of fat, flabby hideousness. When it walked it wobbled, and a huge bag of fat hung down over the stomach and quivered disgustively. It took a brave wrestler to climb onto a small platform with something so massive. Just one fall unexpectedly with "that" landing on top and the present becomes the past.

My dear, aren't the new fall hats just too-too...even I, always fascinated by exotic millinery, was completely devastated by a few displayed.

I see where the picture "The Stars Looked Down" (that Jack and I saw previewed over a year and a half ago and then was recently shelved) is now opening both in New York and here with a tremendous success.

Well, the switchboard is calling, so until next week when we again have our weekly chat I'll be keeping my eyes open.

Your California Cousin—Anne.

WRONG TWIN!

Edgar and Edwin Ramey look and talk alike, but Edgar, better known as "Link," said "not guilty" when it came out in print he talked to the high school students about his trip to Washington.

We apologize to both gentlemen, and wish to state that it was Edwin Ramey who made the talk at high school about the trip to the nation's capitol.

Lawrence Hutz is reported to be getting along as well as can be expected. We are sure glad to hear that.

TEXAS PRIDE FEEDS SERVE ON CASTRO FARMS

Castro County Grain Co., Inc., is coming to the front in the making of their Texas Pride Feeds. As the demand for feeding livestock and raising of poultry is increasing, and the U. S. Government is asking farmers to increase production of cattle, hogs and poultry, the need for good feeds is increasing. The local grain company is striving to meet this demand in its Texas Pride Feeds.

"We have feeds of all kinds that will help you to get more production, which means more profit from your beef cattle, your milk cows and your poultry," C. O. Byrnes, manager of Castro County Grain Co., stated this week.

"If you choose to use your own home-grown grains," Byrnes states, "his aid to the public, we have the proper protein and mineral concentrates to add to these feeds grown and ground at home to mix with your grains which gives you as good a balanced feed as is made. In all America there is no better livestock and poultry country and you are entitled to get the profits to be had by using home grown feeds. It can be done and we are confident we can help you in doing so."

In the making of Texas Pride Feeds, the local grain company employs two men, Cecil DeHart and Pat Hardy in the mill and two other men, Youts and Chas. B. Byrnes, in the sale department. Custom grinding is done for farmers, and whole grain feeds and mixed feeds are sold, all being mixed under the supervision of the state.

Texas Pride Feeds are sold at the grain company yards here, and in Tulsa at the Swisher Feed & Seed Co., and at Hereford by the West Texas Feed & Seed Co. Some of Texas Pride Feeds sold are: Egg Mash, Super Egg Mash, Chick Starter Mash, Growing Mash, Broiler Ration, 40% Pig-N-Hog Supplement, Complete Hog Feed, 36% Poultry Supplement, 9% Sweet Feed, 16% Dairy Feed, Turkey Starter Mash, Turkey Growing Mash, Turkey Fattener and Finisher and Calf Med.

Post Field has been growing a little recently with the arrival of the 125th Observation Squadron, which formerly were stationed at Tulsa, Okla. However, it is rumored around here that one of the organizations will be leaving in a short time.

Work is about the only thing that remains the same—always plenty of it to do. Not that I am complaining, because I rather like my work. Last week the Commanding Officer issued orders to the effect that Leon Horton and myself should be placed on special duty because of the nature of our work in the Air Corps Station Supply Office. Of course we didn't object.

Time and train waits for no man, and so I must be calling it quits. Now let's hear from some of you fellows. Your experiences would be interesting to note by the rest of the gang. As ever—Pvt. Anthony Stoelert, U. S. Army Air Base, Post Field, Fort Sill, Okla.

Red Cross Workers, we salute you!

Ladies Night of the local Lions Club was held Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock in the basement of the Methodist Church. Some 25 Lions were present and almost as many ladies were at the affair. State Senator Marshall Formby was the principal speaker on the program, and brought "the ladies and gentlemen" to attention from their biscuit throwing with his timely discussion on the freedoms and privileges enjoyed in the U. S. A. under the Bill of Rights and the state and national constitutions. Senator Formby, also a publisher of the Plainview Tribune which he has purchased recently, now makes his home in Plainview.

Others on the program for the special Lions Club affair were Mrs. Ozro Stephens, who gave a vocal solo; Miss Dorothy Wren Simmons who gave a reading and local number accompanied by Miss Frances Ivey; and Monroe May, master of ceremonies.

Turkey dinner was provided by women of the Methodist Church, and fun of throwing biscuits (a Lions Club specialty) provided quite a fund for the Lions Club aid-to-the-eye fund for school children.

"Better Buddies"

By CARLOS REYNOLDS

Here is the type of letter we have been wanting some Buddy to write:

Dear Friends: Most of us seem to have forgotten the fact that we have one of the best columns in the paper if only we will do our part as individuals to keep this column alive. I think that it is such a column for a number of reasons. It serves to unite those who have become separated in the service of our country; it informs those at home that their boys are doing their best to make good for preservation of what this country of ours stands for; it encourages those who might be apt to grow a bit indifferent toward the defense program; and last but not least, it gives those to understand who are making this sacrifice for their country that the home folks are behind the boys in uniform and that when this emergency will have been settled to our satisfaction there will be some place for the boys to go back to and feel welcome. I think, therefore, that by all means we should keep this column alive and serving its noble purpose. Let's have some teamwork, boys.

Perhaps some of you have read recently of the new expansion in the Air Corps in almost every department. It is hoped that during the coming year there will be an increase of 10 times as many pilots as were graduated from the U. S. Army Flying Schools during this year. This is something that should interest the average young American interested in aviation.

I am now awaiting an appointment to a Flying School. A friend of mine, Pvt. Hart, left for a Flying School in California only last week. He had to wait about four months for his appointment, but I hope this period, due to the new order in training Cadets, will be somewhat shortened for me.

Work is about the only thing that remains the same—always plenty of it to do. Not that I am complaining, because I rather like my work. Last week the Commanding Officer issued orders to the effect that Leon Horton and myself should be placed on special duty because of the nature of our work in the Air Corps Station Supply Office. Of course we didn't object.

Time and train waits for no man, and so I must be calling it quits. Now let's hear from some of you fellows. Your experiences would be interesting to note by the rest of the gang. As ever—Pvt. Anthony Stoelert, U. S. Army Air Base, Post Field, Fort Sill, Okla.
