

LODZ SUFFERER TELLS OF RIOTS

Letter from Devastated City Received in Fort Worth

HUNDREDS LOSE PROPERTY

Wealthy Citizens Reduced to Poverty—Strike Results in Bread Famine

A letter from Lodz, Russia, received by Israel N. Mehl, 1405 Main street, this morning by the last forenoon delivery, was signed by L. Komajko, and old school mate of Mr. Mehl, and gives a graphic description of the conditions existing there.

An extract of the letter, translated into English, is in substance:

"All that have been published in the newspapers is true. In reality it is 1,000 per cent worse than their most horrible description. Every day in Lodz there are riots in the streets. The socialists on one side are fighting the capitalists on the other, the worst of it being that both these opposing factions are fighting Jewish people wherever they may be found. Jews who were formerly worth millions are now begging for bread. What little money they have left, all Jews are spending for ammunition with which to protect themselves and their families and those who are without funds are hiding in holes in the earth like rats in the night.

"In Lodz, in Warsaw and in many other places all railroads, banks, telegraph lines and newspapers have stopped business. People are frantic either with mortal fear of their lives or with a frenzy which acts on their delirious mad and makes them like packs of devouring wolves.

Bread Famine On

"There is a coal famine in Lodz. Coal is not to be had at all. Only those in power have any and but little have these. There is likewise a kerosene famine. Houses are darkened and it is as well so, for the hunters for human blood are seeking prey throughout the night and the people flee for safety into the hills. More than this and worse than all, to us who are here in the midst of this terrible experience which my words are but feeble to give expression, I desire you to know we are now to come face to face with a dreadful bread famine. The baker shops have just closed and will not open. Where we will get the bread to live upon in the coming days I cannot tell you and I do not know.

Red Flag Rules

"You can see every day in the streets of this city workmen marching through the chief streets of Lodz howling and yelling 'Down with Russia' and 'Down with the czar.' These carry a red flag and all persons who are becoming passers by in the streets, or who look upon this flag from the distance or from their own houses, are forced to bare the head to the red flag. If they do not remove the hats they are shot down at once and without warning. There are not words in me to express the horrors that are becoming so common as to be in every hour of every day. I have seen the streets running with blood of my countrymen and terror is ruling every heart in this city. It is an open secret that the government has raised up these outrages and murders. The ruling power of Russia hates the Jewish people with a hatred that no one can know unless he has felt its powerful oppression. Business is altogether paralyzed. There is no such thing as credit any more. I ask you, my friend, that if you have any compassion on myself and my wife and children, you will please to send me tickets at once that we may come to your happy country."

Mr. Mehl said that he will send the transportation to the friend as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made.

BANK PRESIDENT GUARDED

His Home Besieged Night and Day by Anxious Depositors

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 28.—At the request of Frederick Gwinner Sr., president of the insolvent Enterprise National Bank of Allegheny, special officers have been stationed on the grounds surrounding his home. Since the publication of the statement that he had paid $177,000 to poor depositors out of his private resources, his home has been besieged night and day by anxious depositors.

TURKEY CAN FIGHT

Naval Force is Able to Defend Entrance to Sea of Marmora Successfully

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—It is believed in diplomatic circles here that the recent war between Japan and Russia had no little to do with the recent attitude of the sultan toward the European powers.

It is known that Turkey watched the war with great interest. Japan and Turkey are not strangers to each other, for in recent years the two sovereigns have exchanged presents and expressions of good will. Turkish newspapers and Turkish public opinion favored the Japanese cause from the beginning of the recent war.

Naval authorities here express the opinion that the Turks, who have been trained well by the German and French officers, can defend the entrance to the sea of Marmora with good hope of success.

depositors and others in search of financial aid.

Francis J. Torrance, who is interested with W. H. Andrews in the Santa Fe Central railroad of New Mexico, makes denial of the statement that the road brought about the failure of the Enterprise bank. There was no politics in the enterprise, he says, and the success of the railway was in no wise contingent upon the admission of New Mexico into the union.

BEEF TRUST TRIAL DEC. 12.

Question of Promised Immunity Comes Up First

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—The trial of the first issues in the indictments found against the beef packers for operating in restraint of trade has been set for Dec. 12. The first matter to come before the federal jury will be the issue of fact between the government and the packers on the assertions by the latter that they were promised immunity and the denials of the packers that any such pledges were ever made. The actual trial of the packers will not commence until this matter has been disposed of.

SYNOD PASSES ON CALDWELL CASE

Sustains Report Annulling Reception Into Presbytery

HOUSTON, Texas, Nov. 28.—The Synod this morning finally voted to annul the action of the Fort Worth presbytery in admitting Rev. Wm. Caldwell of Fort Worth to the ministry. This amounts to the removal of the pastor. Two substitute reports were offered for the judicial committee report but were voted down on the statement the synod might as well enjoin a man from preaching what he believes as to attempt to force him to preach what he does not believe.

Much routine business is being transacted. The synod will likely adjourn tonight.

It is believed that the next step in the Caldwell case will be an appeal to the general assembly of the church, which meets next May, by the Fort Worth congregation.

The Elks lodge of sorrow is held in commemoration of the brothers who have died during the year and it is one of the most beautiful and impressive services held by fraternal orders. Two of the members of the Fort Worth lodge have died during the past year and it will be chiefly in their honor that the services will be held.

TO DECIDE PAVING

Important Meeting Will Be Held by Dallas Council

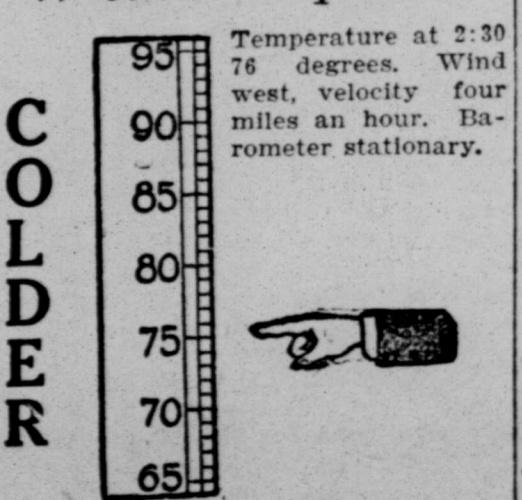

DALLAS, Texas, Nov. 28.—Representatives of several paving companies including Manager Sherman of the Barker Asphalt Company at New Orleans, have arrived here for the council meeting tonight which is expected to decide the question of paving South Ervay street and result in awarding the contract to one of the companies. This paving is the most extensive piece of street improvement ever attempted in Dallas.

HIS HORSE BALKED

Boy Thrown 20 Feet From Buggy by Force of Collision With Street Car

Alvid Norred, a boy, was thrown twenty feet out of his buggy by a Hemphill street car about 8:30 o'clock Monday night, but was not injured. The accident occurred at the intersection of Hemphill and Cactus streets. Young Norred had just driven his horse across the track, but the animal, it is said, balked and backed on the track. The car struck and badly damaged the vehicle.

Weather Spotter

Fort Worth and vicinity may expect showers tonight and fair weather Wednesday, with much colder conditions.

FLEET SEIZES CUSTOM HOUSE

Powers Take Decisive Action Against Sultan

TRUCE IS NOW IN FORCE

Porte Must Agree to the Demands Not Later Than November 30

CONSTANTINOPLE, via Sofia, Bulgaria, Nov. 28.—Detachments from the international fleet landed at Mihlene Sunday afternoon in accordance with instructions of Rear Admiral Ritter von Jedene and seized the customs and postal buildings. The governor protested but his representations were not of avail.

During the Bairam festival beginning today and ending on the evening of Nov. 30, the fleet will take no further action, but if the sultan does not utilize the interval to accede to the demands of the powers the fleet will occupy the Island of Tenedos off the coast of Asia Minor. The Porte continues its efforts to obtain modifications of the financial control scheme so as to make it more acceptable to Turkish views. Grand Vizer Ferid Pasha, report of whose dismissal is unfounded, informed M. Zinowoff, the Russian ambassador, the scheme in its present shape is too unpalatable. The grand vizer offered to agree to the establishment of four new civil agents with same function as existing agents of Austria and Russia but the ambassador declares no alteration in the demands of the powers is possible.

Tewfik Pasha, foreign minister, also tried to enlist the sympathies of the German and Italian ambassadors, but his efforts were equally futile.

Unanimity of the powers, including Germany, as to the necessity for compelling a full acceptance of the demands appears to be complete, and diplomatic circles are satisfied. The Porte before long will realize the fact that with this unanimity there is nothing to be done but to bow to the will of Europe.

SMITH JURY DISAGREES

No Verdict Rendered to Bell County District Court

Special to The Telegram. WACO, Texas, Nov. 28.—The jury in the case of Mrs. Catherine Smith of Bell county, charged with murder in the second degree in the killing of Deputy Sheriff Ike Grubbs of that county two years ago, was yesterday afternoon discharged by Judge Scott, being unable to agree. They had been out since last Friday afternoon late, and it became evident that it was useless to expect a verdict. The case against T. F. Smith will now be held over until another term of court.

COTTON GOING FAST

Gins Not Running Regularly Around Waco—Yield Was Good

Special to The Telegram. WACO, Texas, Nov. 28.—Some of the gins have shut down now, and others are running only at stated intervals, the cotton having disappeared in large measure from the fields. Probably not a gin in the county is running every day. The cotton is just about out, and the yield was rather better than had been expected.

ATTEMPT TO ROB BANK

Burglars Injure Safe and Vault at Mayhead and Escape

Special to The Telegram. DALLAS, Texas, Nov. 28.—The Dallas police department was notified at noon of an attempt to rob the National Bank of Mayhead last night. The safe and vault were injured, but the robbers got no money. The burglars then stole a horse and buggy and drove to Waxahachie, abandoning the rig. It is believed the burglars came to Dallas.

WACO JEWS CELEBRATE

Anniversary of Jewish Advent in America Is Observed

Special to The Telegram. WACO, Texas, Nov. 28.—The Jewish citizens of Waco celebrated the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the advent of the Jews in America with suitable exercises Sunday. Dr. E. Wohlberg delivered the chief address, though I. A. Goldstein and Dr. A. Suhler also spoke. The occasion was an instructive one.

RAMSEY IS SATISFIED

Will Not Contest Gould Control of Wabash—To Join No System

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Joseph Ramsey Jr., formerly president of the Wabash railroad, said yesterday that he did not think it likely that he would take any legal action in regard to the result of the recent annual meeting of the Wabash securities holders at which he failed of re-election as a director of the road. Mr. Ramsey has taken offices at 100 Broadway and is engaged in settling the affairs of the Little Kanawha syndicate. Asked whether he had any statement to make concerning his plans he said that so far as the inquiry referred to his entering the service of some other road, he did not think he would consider anything of that kind at present.

EARLY MORNING DALLAS TRAGEDY

White Man Warning Negro Woman Is Shot Down

DALLAS, Texas, Nov. 28.—The negro woman, Minnie Mitchell, and the white man, Frank Meyers, who were shot down from ambush this morning, are both in a critical condition.

There is great interest in the tragedy on account of the statement of the wounded man that he went to the negro woman's place to warn her that her life was being threatened by a negro. Meyers claims he went there on his way home from work as barkeeper, and while warning the Mitchell woman several shots rang out and he fell to the ground.

The assailant continued shooting and several bullets hit the woman. The assailant, whom Meyers claims is a negro saloonkeeper named Woods, not satisfied with shooting down the two people jumped out of the bushes in a fury and clubbed the helpless victims with his empty revolver. Then he made good his escape. Meyers is badly injured.

PERKINS TESTIFIES

Says Morgan & Co. Took Up Loans at McCall's Request

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—In explaining his testimony of last Friday, when the statement was made by the witness that $56,720 was paid to Andrew Hamilton, "the legislative insurance generalissimo," by J. P. Morgan & Co., George W. Perkins testified before the insurance investigating committee yesterday that in 1901 J. P. Morgan & Co. paid $56,720 to the Central National bank and the New York Security and Trust Company. This payment was made, he said, at the request of President McCall of the New York Life, to take up the loans to Edward E. McCall and Andrew Hamilton, which those institutions had made at the request of President McCall.

COURT FINDS NEW POWER

Has Right to Allow Counsel Fees in Suit for Divorce

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 28.—The district court of appeals has decided it has the power to grant counsel fees in a suit for divorce pending before it on appeal. The decision was made on an appeal in the divorce proceedings begun in the lower court in December, 1904, by Emma E. Lane against John H. Lane. In January, 1905, the lower court allowed alimony at $25 a month, which was paid for three months, when the defendant defaulted. Later he was adjudged in contempt and committed to the custody of the marshal until he should pay the arrears.

PARTY TREASURER TO TELL ABOUT CAMPAIGN FUNDS

Cornelius Bliss Likely to Be Called Before Committee

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Cornelius N. Bliss, treasurer of the republican national committee, is likely, it is said, to be called by the insurance investigating committee to testify regarding campaign contributions by the big companies. The investigating committee has not decided yet just when to call Mr. Bliss, but most of the members are said to feel that he should be asked to tell what moneys he received from insurance companies. Following the declaration of Senator

Flatt that these contributions were made, the committee has heard from all quarters demands that this particular question be probed to the bottom.

Mr. Bliss would make no statement last night in regard to his receiving insurance money for the campaign committee or his testifying before the investigators.

The investigators today will continue their examination of New York Life officials at the morning session. The Mutual Reserve may be taken up in the afternoon.

The committee will continue its sessions until the last Friday in December. Then it will take a recess for the opening of the legislature, after which it will return to this city and spend two or three weeks getting the report in shape for presentation about Feb. 1.

MUST KEEP SOBER

Conditional Stay Granted by New York Justice in Charges Against Recorder

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Nov. 28.—Justice Albert H. Sewall today granted an order which is probably without a precedent. On application of attorneys for Recorder Watson E. Roberts, he granted a stay, restraining the common council from hearing charges preferred against the recorder, pending an appeal on condition that the recorder remain sober until the appeal is decided by the appellate division and with the understanding that the stay will be revoked if the recorder becomes intoxicated before the case is decided by the higher court.

The appeal is taken from Justice Sewall's recent decision dismissing a writ of prohibition to restrain the common council from hearing the charges that have been raised against the recorder.

Twenty-Two Year Penalty Given in Burglary Case Preceding Russell Death

Special to The Telegram. SHERMAN, Texas, Nov. 28.—Fred Whitmore, who was recently brought here from the state penitentiary to stand trial for burglary of the store of Walter C. Jones & Brother in this city last December, which offense was followed by the murder of Sheriff William Russell of Hugo, I. T., was sentenced yesterday to serve twenty-two years in addition to the eighteen years' sentence imposed at Beaumont.

He was tried on two charges, theft and burglary, receiving ten years on the first charge and twelve in the other.

He seemed the least interested of anyone in the court room. He declined to accept sentence, saying: "I will wait a day or two. I can't stand too much at one time."

Signs of Wanton Slaughter to Be Seen on Every Hand

MASSACRES STOP SUDDENLY

Survivors, Despoiled of Property, Face Winter of Hardship

(The following is the conclusion of the graphic story told by Mr. Fleming of the horrors of the Odessa massacre as witnessed by him.—Editor.)

BY R. T. FLEMING.

Staff Correspondence of the Newspaper Enterprise Association. Special to The Telegram. ODESSA, Nov. 6.—On Saturday, Nov. 4, Odessa became calm after forty-eight hours of blood. The anti-Jew crusade quieted as suddenly as it had been called into being.

The busy street life of a great city started, shops were reopened, street cars resumed running. Workmen who had but the day before played principal parts in the death drama, returned to work, as if Jew murdering were nothing more than a holiday treat.

People came out of their homes where they had remained for two days in constant fear of falling victims to the blind fury of the mobs, casual acquaintances meeting each other in the streets gripped hands and acted as intimate friends, glad beyond expression to see each other alive. A great feeling of relief was on the city, like Army of Savages.

But in the Jewish districts there remained evidence of the awful catastrophe that had fallen on the Jews. I rode through the city and into the suburbs in a motor car, and passed through street after street of demolished shops and houses. It seemed as if the rain could not have been more complete if an invading army of savages had been let loose for a week. House after house stood with only the roof and walls remaining. Everything else, everything from stoves to garret rubbish, even the window frames, had been removed by the mobs.

In the suburbs the evidences of destruction were still more apparent. Streets were filled with debris not yet removed, and factories, breweries and wine cellars looked as if a cyclone had passed over them. One huge candy factory had been looted, and tons of candies had been carted away by the mobs. Hundreds of broken boxes of candies had been thrown into the gutters by the people, and an old watchman at the factory said even the stray dogs in the neighborhood had eaten so much of the stuff as to be made sick.

Into one of the wine cellars a company of rioters had broken the day before, and had turned the cellar into a place worse than a pigpen. The men after drinking themselves into a state of bestial intoxication, had fallen asleep on the floor, wallowing about in leaking wine and in worse. They had remained all night at the place and had wandered home some hours before I arrived with splinting headaches, which they blamed on the strong wine of the Jews.

The plight of the Jews is pitiable. The richer Jews can afford to bear their losses, but the vast majority of the sufferers are poor Jews, who have to struggle from day to day in their little shops to support themselves and their families, and they have lost everything they possessed in the world.

All their money is gone, their stock in trade has been stolen, and they are faced with starvation. The savings of years of hard toil have all disappeared. The cold weather is beginning, and the poor Jews have nowhere to turn for assistance.

Are Facing Starvation

The punishment is all the harder for them to bear because it is all so undeserved. These small shopkeeping Jews do not interfere in political agitations. They care nothing for political freedom. They take no interest in any kind of disturbances. They have all they can attend to running their business and in supporting their families. Because they belong to a race despised by the Russians, they have been compelled to forfeit, if not their lives, then everything they own in the world.

The future is none too bright. The Jews have been wrought up to a pitch of intense excitement by the massacre, and there are threats that the time is coming when they will expect an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth in the wrong done them. A funeral procession in Odessa "the day after." The leaders carrying funeral flags and old holding a card before his face, on which is a religious motto. Another carries a large picture of the czar.

Blouse Waists Made of Net, Lace and Similar Filmy Materials are Greatly in Vogue This Winter and are Always Charming and Attractive. Here is one that is eminently simple and that suits all these materials admirably well, while also it is adapted to silk and to wool, so that its possibilities are almost without limit. In the illustration, however, it is made of white Brussels net with trimming of Cluny lace, the two materials combining to a nicety. The broad shouldered effect, produced by the yoke, is exceedingly attractive and quite novel, while the arrangement of the trimming gives exceptionally becoming lines to the figure. In addition to the lace there are almost innumerable bandings that can be used if preferred.

The blouse is made over a lining, which is fitted smoothly across the shoulders, but is gathered with it at the waist line, so giving the light and fluffy effect desirable, and itself consists of the yoke and full portions. The yoke is fitted by means of shoulder seams and there is an applied box plait at the center back, beneath which the closing is made. The sleeves are full above the fitted cuffs.

The quantity of material required for the medium size is 4 yards 21, 3 1/2 yards 27 or 2 1/2 yards 44 inches wide with 2 1/2 yards of wide banding and 4 1/2 yards of narrow.
The pattern 5214 is cut in sizes for a 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40-inch bust measure.

Prisoner Gets Fine and Jail Sentence at Waxahachie
WAXAHACHIE, Texas, Nov. 28.—C. F. Hodges appeared in the county court and entered pleas of guilty to two charges of swindling. He was fined $25 in each case and given forty days in jail on the two cases. He is alleged to have swindled a farmer out of $5 last winter on a sale of soap wherein it was represented to the farmer that he would receive a buggy as a premium.

The approximate receipts were $160,000 and the expenses about $120,000.

MAY MARRY TWICE

Divorce Law Raises Complication in Second Romance of Well Known Writer
CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—Because he was unfamiliar with a new Illinois law, Jack London, the author, who has just married Miss Charmion Kittredge of Newton, Ia., may have to be married again.
The new law forbids the remarriage of divorced persons until one year after the divorce has been in full effect. London started divorce proceedings Nov. 17, 1904, but the final decree was issued on Nov. 18, 1905. The Illinois law is similar to one in California, where London obtained his divorce.

Unless the law can be interpreted differently, another ceremony in some other state will be the only way out of the embarrassing situation.
"If necessary," said the author, "I will get married in every state in the union just as fast as I can get from one to the other."

PAINFUL PERIODS

AMERICAN WOMEN FIND RELIEF

The Case of Miss Irene Crosby Is One of Thousands of Cures Made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many women realize that menstruation is the balance wheel of a woman's life, and while no woman is entirely free from periodical suffering, it is not the plan of nature that women should suffer so severely.

Miss Irene Crosby

Thousands of American women, however, have found relief from all monthly suffering by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it is the most thorough female regulator known to medical science. It cures the condition which causes so much discomfort and robs menstruation of its terrors.

Miss Irene Crosby, of 813 Charlton Street East Savannah, Ga., writes: "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a true friend to woman. It has been of great benefit to me, curing me of irregular and painful menstruation when everything else had failed, and I gladly recommend it to other suffering women."
Women who are troubled with painful or irregular menstruation, backache, bloating (or flatulence), leucorrhoea, falling, inflammation or ulceration of the uterus, ovarian troubles, that "bearing-down" feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, nervous prostration or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences, and be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and then write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for further free advice. Thousands have been cured by so doing.

AMUSEMENTS

"OVER NIAGARA FALLS"

Numerous attempts have been made by quixotically inclined people to make the descent of Niagara Falls, but all without success until Oct. 21, 1901, when the feat was successfully accomplished by Annie Edson Taylor, a Michigan schoolma'am. She had built at Bay City, Mich., a large conical shaped barrel, some five feet high. Weighting this with a huge blacksmith's anvil, she was strapped inside. The barrel was then supplied with air by a common bicycle pump, and thus equipped, the descent of the falls was successfully made. Miss Taylor suffered but slightly from her perilous feat. Her performance inspired Joseph Le Brandt, the well-known playwright, with the idea for the big mechanical effect in "Over Niagara Falls," which has since been perfected by Messrs. Rowland and Clifford. At Greenwall's Opera House tonight, Nov. 28.

RETURN OF JOSEPH DE GRASSE

The playgoers of Fort Worth, remembering pleasantly as they doubtless do, the splendid performances of "Slylock" and "Hamlet" given by this eminent young star on former visits, will read the announcement of his coming engagement in "Richelieu" at Greenwall's Opera House with genuine pleasure. No expense has been spared in the effort to make this engagement remarkable in the theatrical annals of Fort Worth. "Lady of Lyons" will be given at the matinee and "Richelieu" at night, Nov. 29.

"HUMAN HEARTS"

On Thursday (Thanksgiving) matinee and night, Nov. 30, the stage of Greenwall's Opera House will be devoted to the presentation of the popular and highly successful play, "Human Hearts," with a company of superior excellence and strength. The author of the play is an actor of wide experience and fully understands the art of playmaking from the standpoint of both the spectator and the actor. His effects are produced quickly, but none the less does he hold patent sway over the passions of his auditors.

"BABES IN TOYLAND"

There are so many very delightful incidents occurring during the action of "Babes in Toyland" that one has to see this play to properly appreciate it. It comes to Greenwall's Opera House Friday and Saturday nights with a matinee Saturday, Dec. 1 and 2. Among the stage pictures which have attracted universal attention is the scene of Alan and Jane lost in the woods. This scene shows the children diverted by their false friends, who send them into the woods, hoping that they may get into the Vale of Spiders and be destroyed. After they have wandered about for hours, Alan sees a

The prices on some of the greens at wholesale are as follows: Lettuce and beets, 40 cents a dozen bunches; mustard, radishes, onions and carrots, 25 cents a dozen bunches, former price 40 cents, and spinach, 70 cents a bushel, in place of the 90 cents of last week.

THE PRODUCTION OF BABY BEEF

Texas cattlemen are turning more or less to the production of baby beef as a solution of the problem involved in the annual curtailment of the outlets that have prevailed for surplus stock.

We are frequently asked under what conditions and circumstances it will pay to grow baby beef.

It does not pay to make baby beef out of poorly bred cattle, for the reason that in growing beef (by which we mean cattle from twelve to fifteen months old and weighing from 800 to 1,100 pounds)

To grow baby beef successfully the calves must not only be well bred, but well fed from start to finish. The feeder must not lose the calf fat.

Feeding cattle successfully is an art which is acquired only by the best farmers, and it is not well to tackle the hardest problem in the business when just learning it.

It may be true that conditions in Texas and Iowa show a very great difference, but it will be noted that the Iowa paper insists that it is best for the Iowa feeder to finish the calves of his own breeding, and insists they must be of the very best possible breeding.

will only take advantage of the opportunity that is presenting itself.

These are matters in which the producers of Texas are vitally interested, and it is gratifying to note that they are rising to the demands of the situation.

THE ISLE OF PINES

Some apprehensions have been excited on account of the action recently taken by American residents of the Isle of Pines, seeking to have that island recognized as American territory.

This island is about forty miles long and thirty miles wide, and by reason of its many natural advantages, has attracted a considerable number of Americans as residents.

A treaty was prepared some time ago between the United States and Cuba as to the ownership of the island, which turned it over to Cuba.

Certainly, the United States government has done enough for the Cuban republic to justify the claim made by the residents that they are entitled to be recognized as a part and parcel of this great American nation.

The announcement comes from Washington that the President will accept no compromise in the railway rate regulation idea, but stands firmly for a law that will conform to the demands of the people.

The final act in the treaty of peace between Japan and Russia has been consummated, and peace now reigns in the Far East to an eminent and unquestioned degree.

Another crisis has developed in Russia, and both soldiers and sailors are reported to be in open revolt.

More startling facts are being daily brought to light in the pending insurance investigation in New York, and the public continues to stand amazed at the enormity of the crimes that have been perpetrated in the name of high finance.

Tom Lawson claims to have proxies enough to control both the Equitable and New York Life Insurance Companies, and if such is the case some frenzied proceedings are clearly in prospect.

Japan has about taken full charge of Korea, but the emperor of that country is showing a very decided inclination to resist the good offices of a Japanese protectorate.

COLONEL LYONS ON THE PANHANDLE

AMONG THE EXCHANGES

The Fort Worth Spring Palace will probably be revived next spring, and that would be a good time for Sherman to open the ball with an annual fruit and flower show.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 29.

That the senate committee on interstate commerce will report a bill in accordance with the wishes of the President and his supporters is said to be assured.

At least three republicans—Cullom, Dolliver and Clapp—and four democrats—Tillman, Newlands, Carmack and Foster—are known to be in harmony and are prepared to act together in making the railroad regulation measure the majority report.

One republican, Millard of Nebraska, has not indicated to any one of his colleagues where he will line up, and his position is as yet a matter of conjecture.

The same is true of one democrat, McLaurin, Mississippi, who has declined absolutely to commit himself.

Four republicans, Chairman Elkins and Senators Aldrich, Foraker and Keane, are opposed to supporting such a bill.

This statement of the standing of the committee comes from the highest authority. In some respects it does not agree with statements that have been made heretofore.

There are thirteen members of the committee, of whom seven are listed as definitely agreed to unite in reporting a bill along the lines of measures which have been for many years advocated by so prominent a republican as Senator Cullom and so prominent a democrat as Senator Tillman.

The fact that co-operation between the republicans and democrats has been assured as a tremendous accomplishment for the advocates of legislation.

It has developed that there will be a congressional investigation of the expenditures of the canal commission. Secretary Taft is understood to court such an inquiry, so that reports concerning the management of the affairs of the canal, which he characterizes as groundless, may be silenced.

It was stated at the war department yesterday afternoon that while congress would be asked to appropriate $16,000,000 to meet the needs of the commission up to June 30 next, it is not expected that congress will appropriate this amount in a lump sum.

That the ship subsidy bill is to be brought forward early in the congressional session and pushed with vigor is admitted by advocates of the measure.

Senator Gallinger, chairman of the merchant marine commission, has called a meeting of that body for next Tuesday, when the plan of the legislative campaign will be discussed and a policy outlined.

It is believed by its advocates that the most difficult opposition they will encounter will be that of the organization leaders in getting the measure before the houses. Speaker Cannon in one body and Chairman Allison of the steering committee in the other, are regarded as dangerous opponents.

That the bill would pass if it could be forced to a roll call is strongly believed. Aside from the objections on the ground of revenue conditions, there are some wise politicians who believe that its passage would injure the republican party in the next congressional campaign.

The politicians are looking forward to that campaign with much concern. Recent election returns, and other manifestations of public opinion have given the democrats strong hopes of next year and have inspired the republicans with corresponding determination to make no serious mistakes that can be avoided.

THE DRIFT OF POLITICS

Having made their power felt in municipal elections and a few state overturnings, the people seem now disposed to give more attention to their legislatures. These bodies are the seat of great power, the hot-beds of immense evils, and the machines by which graft schemes are perfected and carried out.

No better example of the fear of the will of the people can be found than in Pennsylvania today. After having voted against good measures and helped along the bad ones, members of the legislature are coming to the front like bad boys who had resolved to be good and are the loudest shouters for reform.

It is not to the extra session that relief from obnoxious measures is alone to be secured. Many of the men who are now promising to be good are doing so because they hope to be candidates next fall. At that time the entire house and one-half of the total number of senators will be chosen.

New Jersey Legislature Lopsided
On the subject of legislatures, New Jersey just now is confronted with a peculiar problem. The legislature has only seven democrats in both houses of the assembly. There are not enough of the minority to fill the usual quota of representation on the committees.

The government of Italy is being urged to promote Italian immigration to Texas. There is room for them here if they come to till the soil and become good citizens.

There is room in Texas for good citizens from every country under the sun, and a cordial welcome. We have much waste country to develop and bring under the civilizing influence of the plow.

A perplexing question
The Rev. W. L. Hood of Bristol, R. I., caused a good deal of discussion recently with the statement that his two children, both under 10 years, had never sinned.

A Bristol churchman, in commenting on Mr. Hood's claim, said the other day with a humorous smile:

"Those two children must have consciences as clear as the conscience of an old colored man down one of our back streets."

The minister said to Uncle Romulus: "Is your mind at ease, brother?"

"Yes, sah," answered the old man. "Are you sure there's nothing troubling you?"

"No, sah," replied the minister. "You're all right. 'Dey is one fing, jes' one, sah," said Romulus.

"What is it, my brother?" the minister murmured.

"Ah kaint fo' de life o' me, make out, sah," said the old man, "how you gits yerself into dat dere vest."

MOONSHINE AND MUSINGS

People ain't apt t' bite at a good thing if it's too good.

However, in justice to Al Field, the minstrel man, it ought to be explained that he is not the man of that name connected with the Mutual Life.

"When Mr. Smithers and I went to balls and parties before we were married he was one of the best dancers in town," said Mrs. Smithers.

"Oh, it was perfectly natural for you to think that he was such a good dancer," said one of her old friends. "He probably couldn't dance a bit better than anybody else. You thought so because you loved him."

"Well, they put the lid on Indiana." "Good. Now let 'em bury it."

STILL UNSETTLED IN GENEVA
At the last meeting of the Grange, it was decided to hold meetings every Friday night.

"And you," said the old fellow with horns, a spiked tail and a red-hot spear, "you come from Philadelphia, I believe."

"I do," replied the latest arrival. "Ha! Ha! I'll give you a job as night watchman, and you'll turn in a report on the automatic detector every ten minutes. Your bed room will be right over the boiler works."

"Markly says he was one of the lambs in that stock deal and was sheared." "Humph! He hasn't any kick coming. He's lucky he wasn't skinned."

VERSES THAT RING

I WANT YOU SO
Deep in the cold and quiet grass, Never a human step to pass, Bending cedars watch to keep, All things wrapped in a silent dead, When, through the twilight shines afar, The pale face of the evening star, I whispered soft to the grasses low, "I want you so, I want you so!"

All through the slowly passing days I tread my quiet walks and ways; I have not shunned life's tender grace, I wear no sadness on my face, But when the twilight shadows fall, And peaceful quiet reigns o'er all, What wrong to breathe (since none can know) "I want you so, I want you so!"

I have not turned away my eyes From green of earth or blue of skies, And still I hear as once I heard, The splash of streams and song of bird, The way seems smooth before my feet, And still I dream life fair and sweet, Yet in the dusk these tears will flow, I want you so, I want you so.

I've whispered no other's laugh less free. No other's smile less glad to me, And I have turned with sudden fear, Lest man should mark that unshed tear, Or note the quivering that came, When careless voice spoke your name, But where no footstep passes by, Say, is it wrong to make this cry? Thank God, dear love, you cannot know, I want you so, I want you so.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS

Hustling and happiness are twins. It is a long leg that has no more pulling. Too many people pray with their fingers crossed. When a woman begins to lose her eyesight she makes an ideal chaperon.

May we remark that the museum freak who swallows fire is a light eater. At the age of 18 a boy wonders if he will ever become as ignorant as his father.

Many a man's ears would be shocked if they heard him speak a kind word to his wife. It is the woman with a new hat who never complains because the sermon is long drawn out.

Occasionally a man figures on a reserved seat in heaven because he once gave away an old coat. Many a successful man sidestepped the advertised road to wealth and sneaked in the back way.

A wife's affections that have been alienated are not worth 1 per cent of the amount her husband usually sues for. A man will squander $5 treating his friends in a saloon and then go home and scold his wife for buying the baby a pair of 98-cent shoes at a bargain sale.—Chicago News.

QUAKER REFLECTIONS

It isn't the flowing bowl that makes a good bowler. The fellow who shoots off his mouth isn't necessarily loaded. It's better to let a haberdasher collar you than a policeman.

The man who acquires a reputation is apt to ride it to death. Children travel on the half-fare until they get to the dining car. Faith without works is as futile as genius without a press agent.

It isn't wise to draw on the imagination in a game of draw poker. A woman never feels comfortable in new shoes unless they hurt her.

Like the poor, the deadhead we have always with us, although he is a thing of the passed.—Philadelphia Record.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR

It is a good law that works on election day. There isn't so much fun in being wicked as there is in having people think you are getting it that way.

A girl has an awful lot of clothes to get married and then no chance to wear them because of the babies. One nice thing about being in love is it doesn't make any difference how much of a fool you are in other ways.

You could hardly ever make a woman believe that she ought not to judge a man's business ability by the way he treats his family.—New York Press.

LITTLE TALES WELL TOLD

A VIVID QUALITY
Jerome K. Jerome, the English humorist, was talking in a New York club about good writing.

"What I like," said Mr. Jerome, "what I try for, is a picturesque and vivid quality. I want my words to set real pictures before my readers' eyes. This gift W. W. Jacobs has, and Stephen Crane, a man of genius, has it in perfection."

Mr. Jerome smiled. "A child had it, too," he said, "a child passenger of the St. Louis, the boat I crossed on."

"This child attended a little concert in the saloon one night during the voyage, and on going below afterward described the concert to his mother.

"What went on, Bobby?" his mother asked. "He, with a frown, replied: 'Oh, there was a lady screaming because she had forgot to put on her sleeves, and a hotel waiter played on the piano all the time.'"

NATURAL REMEDY

A prominent politician has a wife who has a talent for making bread, and takes great pride in having her loaves turn out well. One evening she had set the batch of dough to rise in the kitchen and was reading in the parlor, when her 6-year-old boy came running to her crying, "Mama, mama, there's a mouse jumped into your breadpan!"

The good woman sprang from her seat. "Did you take him out?" she asked frantically. "No'm, but I done just as good. I threw the cat in and she's digging after him to beat the band!"—New York Times.

SHE MADE $100 A DAY

Senator Platt, in a humorous speech, was praising woman at a dinner party. "And her business ability!" he exclaimed. "Only the other day the young wife of a young friend of mine said excitedly to her husband on his return home: 'John, I have made more money than you today!'"

"How much have you made?" he asked. "A hundred dollars," she said proudly. "Good! good!" cried the young man. "And how did you make it?"

"Well, said the young lady, 'you know my old piano that you paid only $300 for? I sold it today for $400.'" "Gracious! And what are you going to do with the money?" he asked. "Oh, there isn't any money," she said. "Eh?"

HAD FLOATING BIER

Body of Indian Girl Found Drifting in Canoe
GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Nov. 28.—A frail bark canoe, containing what was once the body of an Indian girl, has come ashore near here. Indians fishing along the shore sighted the canoe far out in the lake and were preparing to go out to it when the wind shifted and blew it ashore. The bones of the girl rested on a rich blanket, and on the wrists were heavy silver bracelets.
The Indians buried the body and expressed the belief that the body was set adrift in the canoe in compliance with some of the religious rites of the red men.

Sharp Contrast to Local High Temperatures Shown in Weather Bureau Report
The weather map this morning shows low barometer centers near St. Paul. The lines around this center showing the different readings of the barometer are packed in close together, showing unmistakable signs of a severe storm. Snow was falling this morning throughout almost the entire north central part of the country and as far south as Kansas. A wind of sixty-eight miles an hour was reported Monday at Duluth. The area of the snow region extends from Western Montana to Middle Michigan.
The first temperatures of below zero for this country were reported this morning, when Helena, Mont., recorded 8 degrees below and Havre, Mont., 3 degrees below.
At the same time the temperature at Fort Worth Monday went up to the 52-degree mark, the highest in the country, with the single exception of Abilene, where the thermometer registered 88 degrees. The minimum temperature for Fort Worth Monday was also very high, the thermometer staying above the 62-degree mark all day.
Much colder weather is predicted for tomorrow for this locality, with showers tonight.
The weather report of the joint track between Fort Worth and Whitesboro shows cloudy weather Monday afternoon until 6 o'clock. Monday night was clear and the weather this morning is cloudy to Whitesboro.
Along the main line of the Texas and Pacific railway west to Baird, Texas, this morning general cloudy weather to Baird is reported.

STOMACH TROUBLE QUICKLY CURED BY DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS

After Months of Suffering Mrs. Law Found Relief and Cure in the Tonic Treatment.
Loss of appetite, distress after eating, shortness of breath, a feeling of utter weakness—these are symptoms that are familiar to most sufferers from stomach trouble. Too often the ordinary doctor's treatment serves but to weaken the diseased organs.
The new tonic method of treating disorders of this kind does not aim to do the work of the stomach, does not demand that the food be pre-digested, but builds up the weakened organs, so that they can do the work that nature intended.
Mrs. L. O. Law, of No. 324 North street, Horton, Kansas, says: "In 1897, while we were living on a farm in this neighborhood, I became generally debilitated as the result of overwork. I had serious indigestion, lost my appetite, suffered from a sense of suffocation and from obstruction of the circulation, so that artificial means had to be used to restore it. After suffering for months without finding any relief, I tried a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills of which I had read in a newspaper. The first few boxes made me lots better, and after using the third box I felt entirely well.
"I am now in excellent health and am able not only to take care of my house but also to assist my husband in a store which he has lately taken. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cured me and I can recommend them. They are so simple, so easily taken and so prompt in their action."
Mrs. Law's case is only one of hundreds. Among your own neighbors you will find cases just as wonderful in which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have struck at the root of other diseases, anemia, rheumatism, sciatica, headaches and the sufferings of growing girls and women. Remember Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do not act on the bowels. They make new blood and restore shattered nerves. In this way they carry health and vigor to every organ and fiber of the body. They are sold by all dealers in medicine or will be sent, postpaid on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. A copy of our valuable diet book will be mailed free on request.

INTERURBAN'S STATIONS NAMED

General Manager Mapledoram Completes Task

Probably the last official act of Blake A. Mapledoram as manager of the Northern Texas Traction Company was performed Monday afternoon when he gave a name to every station on the line from Fort Worth to Oak Cliff—thirty-six in number.

Beginning today the names of all stops between the two places will be known as follows, out of Fort Worth: City Limits, Glenwood, Substation No. 1, Sycamore Creek, Sycamore Heights, College Hill, Tandy's Lake, Maulena, Sagamore Hill, Homewood, Point Breeze, West Handley, Lloyd, Handley, East Handley, Roundtop, Village Creek, Loylands, Red Bank, Elliott, Arlington, Lookout Point, Sleepy Hollow, Green Fields, Longview, Grand Prairie, Jowers, Idlewild, Mountain Creek, Blue Cut, Substation No. 2, Cockrell Hill, Britton, Cedar Hill, Hillside, High Bank and Boundary (Oak Cliff).

The names are painted in plain letters on signboards about three feet in length, and the work of putting them in place on the stations consumed all of Monday afternoon.

General Manager Mapledoram, Superintendent W. C. Phillips, J. C. Hoffman, chief engineer, with a force of linemen and mechanics, left Fort Worth soon after noon in a special car.

In the future the stations will be known and designated by their names and will not be known as Stop No. So-and-So. For the time being, however, the stop numbers will be left hanging until the traveling public becomes familiar with the new names.

Neat station buildings have been put up at most of the stops. It is the intention to build them at the rest of the stops between here and Oak Cliff. It is likely that no new stations will be established until additional service has been decided on and the line double-tracked, at least, between Fort Worth and Handley—possibly Arlington. Such a thing is not improbable, as the business of the company has grown to such proportions as to make additional stops, or stations, out of the question and maintain a fair running time between Fort Worth and Dallas.

More Trains Needed
In fact, the present schedule of hour trains on five days of the week and half-hour trains on Saturday and Sunday, may have to soon be augmented by limited trains through between Fort Worth and Dallas, so heavy is becoming the business. This may be resorted to, as the local business along the line is taxing the present facilities and interfering with the through schedule—that is, between Fort Worth and Dallas.

When this step is finally taken the company will likely put on about five limited trains in both directions, and leave the local trains to care for intermediate travel. It is claimed by the company that in this way the running time between Fort Worth and Dallas can be cut to less than one hour. Limited trains would stop only at Handley, Arlington, Grand Prairie and Oak Cliff.

While the Northern Texas Traction Company has not taken definite action on this matter it is not an improbable proposition.
Line to Be Double-Tracked
The line from Fort Worth to Handley will in order to accommodate the heavy summer travel, have to be double-tracked. This may be done during the coming year, and this question will likely be one of the first to be considered by the new manager, Mr. Elgar, who assumes charge Dec. 1. During the Mapledoram administration much excellent work has been done, not only on the city lines, but along the interurban. Miles and miles of ballast has been placed at points where the line needed better roadbed, and now considerable bridge work is to be done at once. Timbers for this are now being received at Handley. The extension to the Fort Worth Steel Works of the Hemphill line is being pushed and will soon be ready for operation. Quite a large amount of the track has already been laid, but Mr. Mapledoram says that non-arrival of steel is causing some delay. Steel mills all over the country are crowded with orders for rails and many of them are from six months to a year behind in filling orders. This fact is causing delay in construction of lines, not only in Fort Worth, but in other sections of the country.

When all these contemplated improvements are made the Northern Texas Traction Company will have the finest electric railway system in the south.

MINISTERS IN CITY

Those Returning From North Texas Conference Stop in Fort Worth. Changes Made

Many of the ministers of the North Texas Methodist conference, which adjourned at Sulphur Springs, Texas, Monday, passed through Fort Worth this morning on their way to their homes, either to again take up the regular pastoral work at their respective stations, or to prepare for moving at once to their new charges.

Rev. H. H. Vaughan, who was at Rhine, Texas, last year, was among those passing through the city on his way home to move. He will be stationed at Hendetta for the ensuing conference year. According to Rev. Mr. Vaughan, the North Texas conference has passed through one of the most prosperous years in its history, both as to growth in revival work and in financial condition of its different funds and collections.

Rev. R. Gibbs Mood was returned to Bowie station for the ensuing year. Dr. Mood is a brother to Alex M. Mood, deputy clerk of the court of civil appeals in this city, and is considered one of the leading ministers of the conference.

Among others who are on their way to charges along the Rock Island and Denton roads are George E. Holley, Fruitland circuit; J. M. Sweeton, Decatur station; George W. Whistler, Decatur circuit; Milton Crutchfield, Chico circuit; and W. A. Stuckey, Wichita Falls station.

Rev. M. L. Hamilton, who was at Oak Cliff for the past year, was returned to that station. Rev. Mr. Hamilton was formerly a resident of Montague county, having at one time previous to his entering the ministry been in the office of county clerk of his county.

DALLAS FAIR ON SUNDAY SCORED

Committee at Methodist Conference Condemns Custom

Special to The Telegram.

SULPHUR SPRINGS, Texas, Nov. 28.—The opening of the state fair in Dallas on Sunday was severely condemned by the report of the committee on Sabbath observance, which was returned yesterday. Regarding this subject the report said:

"Perhaps the most flagrant violation of the Sabbath day in our state is the opening of the fair at Dallas on Sunday. The city of Dallas compels all theaters and places of amusement to close, but the management has secured a special act of the legislature which gives them the privilege of running all side shows and theaters all day Sunday. The Sunday excursions from all parts of the state lend the last touch to this nefarious and demoralizing influence. In view of these facts, we heartily concur in the resolution passed by the Northwest Texas conference, viz: 'That a committee of three be appointed to petition the management of the Dallas state fair to close its gates on Sunday and that we assure them that if they expect the support of the Christian people they must respect the Sabbath.'"

OF INTEREST TO THE CATTLEMEN

COWBOY WINS BRIDE

BUTTE, Mont., Nov. 23.—Alfred Jordan, after waiting here for six months, has gone back to Stillwater, Texas, to claim for his wife the daughter of Colonel Thomas Irvin, one of the wealthiest cattlemen of Texas.

While young Jordan was employed on the Irvin ranch he and Minnie Irvin, the 17-year-old daughter of the colonel, fell in love. The father objected to the girl marrying Jordan or anyone else at that time.

His reputation as a handy and quick man with a gun caused suitors to keep at a distance. Not so with young Jordan. He wanted the girl, and as the girl wanted him, he was willing to take all kinds of chances.

He and the girl concocted a scheme to elope. Everything was going nicely, when the father appeared on the scene. The girl's clothes were being lowered from the window of her room at the time. Colonel Irvin captured the bundle, also the girl.

Several days ago young Jordan got a letter from Colonel Irvin telling him to come to Stillwater at once and marry Minnie Irvin. He said he was about to leave on a trip to South Africa and wanted the marriage to take place at once. Also, he promised to give the young couple a section of good land and $5,000 on which to start life.

THE SHEEP BUSINESS

"No one in the live stock business is making any money now but the sheepmen," said Colonel Malone of Miles City, Mont., "and he is justified in scanning the horizon for trouble. Cattlemen are not getting possession of a dollar. With the exception of one year, 1902, they haven't shown a balance on the right side of their books for ten years past, and as an open range proposition, their business is a goneer."

"How long will prosperity continue to dwell in sheep growing circles?"

"That's easy. Just as long as the country depends for its supply of wool and mutton on growers west of the Missouri. When the farming belt has raised a few lamb crops, look out, Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Missouri are getting in, and we all know what that means. Present prices of either wool or mutton can not last in the nature of things. When the farmer gets busy the range man needs to beware. Two years hence the sheep business will present an entirely different aspect to what it does now."

GOVERNMENT NOT INTERESTED

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—That the federal government is neither taking any interest nor wasting any energy in the case of McSwain and Cole, the young men charged with attempted blackmail of the Armours and now in the county jail, was established yesterday. The day passed with no indication that the federal authorities even considered the case important as bearing on the prosecution of the pickers.

United States District Attorney Morrison spent the day at his home in Dixon, Ill. Captain Porter of the secret service bureau, who works under direction of Mr. Morrison in the beef cases, said last night that he had received no orders to investigate the McSwain case.

It was stated last night there was no warrant for the report that the district attorney might issue a subpoena duces tecum for McSwain and Cole, in order to secure possession of the letters and other documentary evidence which are supposed to have in their possession.

COLONEL POOLE ABROAD

Colonel C. C. Poole of Alamo, Texas, the well known traveling representative of the Texas Stockman-Journal, published at Fort Worth, is down doing the fair. He feels more comfortable down here than he does when he is over at the Dallas fair. Last year he stated in his letter from San Antonio that the fair here was the best one ever held in the south and would continue to be. Dallas people were not pleased with his statement, but the colonel says he has not made any retraction as yet, and, what's more, he is not talking his paper. He was busy collecting for the latter yesterday, but he is afraid the ignorant have mistreated his dog. He was introducing his new breed, F. M. and Buck Pools of Marfa, around among the ladies yesterday as single men, but the Express has it from a very reliable source that both of them have large families at home. They were conducting themselves very becomingly, however. The colonel's wife is a widow, which to some extent accounts for his eccentric movements.—San Antonio Express.

NEW ORLEANS MARKET

J. D. Jackson of Alpine came in from Bartlett Tuesday night and will stop over a few days. He has been marketing his big steers to reasonably good advantage of late, but still has about 1,000 on hand. He has been patronizing the New Orleans market of late and says he has been getting an equivalent of 2 1/2 cents for them at home. He bought about 600 of the Kokernot steers, among others, and says they are weighing out very satisfactorily. He was figuring on feeding several hundred head, but the stock of hulls for which he had contracted at the Bartlett mill were burned up when the mill was destroyed by fire a short time ago and that he had made no further arrangements about feeding as yet.—San Antonio Express.

CATTLE FEDING IN TEXAS

Tom Poston, the brand man, tells the Live Stock World that in his opinion the feeding of cattle in Texas this winter will be quite as large or larger than a year ago. He bases his idea upon the fact that cottonseed meal and hulls are no higher and that kaffir corn, millet and various kinds of forage are much more abundant. The vanguard of the Texas feed cattle might be expected about the time letter writers are having a struggle to date their letters in the right year—along in January.—Chicago Live Stock World.

DOWN IN TEXAS

Lots of things happen down in Texas, but there is nothing more important than the production of cattle. Texas has enough cattle to keep the civilized world chewing for some time, and is capable of producing double the number if occasion required. Texas stockmen are foxy, however. They do not grow cattle exclusively for their hides, although that commodity is of more value than it used to be. Every winter there are a large number of cattle fed in Texas because Texas not only produces lots of cattle, but lots of feed as well. Whether it is always a wise thing to put them together is the question that often bothers the stockman of the big state. This year they seem to be suffering from a case of indigestion. From many sources the reports are that there will be few cattle fed in Texas because feed is too high. From other sources, fully as reliable, come statements to the effect that more cattle will be fed than usual. Under such circumstances it is difficult to arrive at any definite conclusions, but it is safe to assume that when it comes to the showdown that Texas will be there with the goods.—Chicago Live Stock World.

LAND PRICES ADVANCING

J. D. Thompson of Hereford, Texas, predicts great things for that part of the Panhandle country. Mr. Thompson is one of the old-time Texans who was a little slow to believe that open range would disappear, and instead there would be farms in the Panhandle country.

"But it has come just the same," said he, "and it has come to stay. There are any number of people coming into that neighborhood from the southern states and purchasing our lands. Four years ago I purchased 5,120 acres of land there for ranch purposes. It cost me around $1.50 an acre, which looked high at that time. But land prices have been going up very fast and now I could sell it out clean for $6 an acre. That is climbing up pretty fast."

"When it comes to farming that land is good; that is, when the people farm right. This year I raised seventy bushels of oats to the acre. In places in that neighborhood wheat made as high as thirty bushels to the acre. In many places the Indian corn made forty bushels to the acre, and the crop of rough feed was the best ever raised there."—Kansas City Daily Journal.

BULK OF CATTLE MOVED

B. V. Andrews, John O'Loughlin, L. E. Powers and B. O. Lator, prosperous young stockmen, were in yesterday with forty carloads of cattle. They are located in the Panhandle country near Hansford, Texas, one of the best grazing districts in that part of the state. According to their statement the bulk of the cattle have been moved from that section, and another month will see the last shipment made, "provided," added Mr. O'Loughlin, "the railroads will furnish the cars. The stockmen of that part of the country have been subjected to hard treatment this fall by the roads, as they have been held up for weeks at a time by the roads not furnishing cars. But we avoided this holdup by driving our cattle across the country eighty miles, where we got better accommodations, and got in on fairly good time. Heavy losses have resulted in some cases on account of the shortage of cars."—Kansas City Daily Journal.

CATTLE ARE MOVING

The following item we clip from a Kansas City daily paper stock yard comment.

The long distance that cattle have to be driven before loading and the shortage of cars at most of the railroad points is causing considerable delay in moving the cattle from the range country to the city. According to G. L. Jones of that place, who arrived here at an early hour, this morning with ten carloads belonging to White & Swearingen, a big cattle outfit. These cattle came from the ranch operated by this firm which is located in Childress county.

"There are quite a good many cattle in that country that will be moved during the next few weeks," said Mr. Jones. "They have been moving them right along, but there are still a good many back."

SOME CATTLE SHIPPED

Last Wednesday D. B. Gardner shipped from the Pitchfork ranch twenty-six carloads of cattle, twelve going to Kansas City and thirteen to Fort Worth.

Sunday from Motley county J. W. Chalk shipped two cars, O. H. Smith one car, A. C. Cooper one car, I. W. Cooper one car, J. H. Paramore two cars, J. M. Paramore five cars and Walter Ford one car, all going to Fort Worth.—Childress Post.

YOUNG FIELD DEAD

Son of Chicago's Merchant Prince Succumbs to Injury From Accidental Shooting

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—Marshall Field Jr. died at 5:30 o'clock last night at Mercy hospital.

Mr. Field, who was the only son of Marshall Field, the multi-millionaire of this city, was accidentally shot on the night of Nov. 22. He was examining a new revolver which he had purchased, when it was discharged, the bullet striking him in the right side, perforating the liver and spleen and injuring the spinal cord. He was hurried to Mercy hospital, where an operation was at once performed and the bullet removed. The physicians from the first entertained but slight hopes for recovery, although the patient for two days seemed to hold his own.

MAJESTIC THEATER'S DOORS THROWN OPEN

New Vaudeville House Program Delights Audience

LOCAL MEN PARTICIPANTS

Judge Booth, Captain Paddock and Mayor Powell Delivered Addresses

Formal opening of the Majestic Theater at Thirteenth street and Jennings avenue took place Monday night, being made a gala event by the throngs of people occupying every available seat in the entire building.

Long before the time set for the dedication ceremonies carriages began to arrive at the theater, many wishing to inspect the new building thoroughly before the performance. In this they were not disappointed, the perfect arrangement, artistic decorations and complete appointments assuring all that the promise of a theater unexcelled in the southwest had been fulfilled.

No decorations other than cut flowers and potted plants were used in the building, in order that its beauty might be perfectly seen. Beauty and taste in the decoration of the building itself were also followed in the curtains and settings, the scenery of a cupola room used early in the evening being especially attractive.

Judge Booth Presides

Exercises of the evening were opened by Judge W. R. Booth, president of the Factory Club, which was largely instrumental in securing the theater for Fort Worth. Following the ovation arranged for the occasion by Director Epstein, Judge Booth delivered a striking allegory of the southwest and Texas, in which the growth of the state and city were pictured. Judge Booth then called upon Captain B. E. Paddock, secretary of the Board of Trade.

Captain Paddock at once announced that he had reached the height of his ambition in appearing upon the stage, and at once assumed a professional air that caused much jealousy among peeping performers.

He complimented the city and the Interstate Amusement Company mutually upon the construction of the theater and paid additional compliment to the audience as the finest and most public-spirited group of people ever gathered in a building in the country. His reference to the complete despoiling of the theater and its appointments met the sanction of those present by a tribute of applause.

McGarvie Gives Welcome

H. F. McGarvie, president of the Interstate Amusement Company received a warm welcome upon presentation and after briefly thanking those present both for his reception at that time and for the reception accorded the company at the time a proposal to enter the city in a business way was made, gave a short sketch of vaudeville. He said in part:

"We are here for your inspection and a most pleasing duty is that of calling your attention to this beautiful playhouse and joining you in congratulating that worthy and enterprising citizen who spared no expense or labor in making it the most beautiful theater in all Texas. I refer to Hon. William J. Bailey."

"The Interstate Amusement Company will direct its future in connection with its circuit of high-class vaudeville theaters which reaches from San Antonio on the west to Birmingham on the east."

"Vaudeville is traced back as far as the fourteenth century and is of the origin of France, and to the quick versatility of the Frenchman has been added the daring originality of the American. It fills the almost universal longing for laughter; it is the entertainment of the whole people; every whim is satisfied. The thoughtless one and the thinker share the savor of the vaudeville wizard's wand as he conjures words of his hour of play."

"In looking over your program tonight you will find it provides for you a few moments of grand opera, the wit of a clever talker, the newest thing in startling physical feats, the latest humor in quick and spasmodic farce; a few moments with an accomplished musician in classic masterpieces, practical culture in the marvelous development of the trained animals and the wonder of liquid air."

"All these will be produced in the most refined and scientific form upon this stage from week to week—a complete change weekly during the season—and at popular prices such as have never been known to the people of Texas heretofore. In other words, you will be able to witness upon this stage the same show and at the same prices as exists in New York, Chicago and St. Louis."

"Vaudeville has become a collection of short stories of the stage. Instead of watching the finished actor unfold his art in three long chapters, this player compresses the best of his genius into fifteen or twenty minutes and then gives space to some specialist in another vein."

Mayor T. J. Powell was next called upon to extend the formal welcome of the city to the new enterprise. This, he said, he did with true feeling. Civilization and civilization, he declared, are marked as much by the steps taken in playhouses as in churches, declaring those places of lower grade have amusement places distinct from those of higher. He then sketched the history of amusements in this city, declaring that when he came to Fort Worth twenty-two years ago, the people knew none but the strolling player whose quaint garb and manners made him easily distinguishable. He then referred to the building of the present opera house, paying a tribute to the pleasure received in listening to the master actors and singers within its walls. Now he declared the city has

Would you know a safe physic?

Most pills and laxatives are not. Something more than a purgative is necessary in a good physic. There are hundreds of preparations which will make the bowels act, but very few of them will do so without great damage to the digestive organs. Canned preparations, coated pills, certain salts, and other well known and widely used remedies force the bowels to action, but at a great cost of strength to the intestinal muscles. Such preparations act unnaturally. They weaken the entire system, and the patient is left in a worse condition than if nothing had been taken.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

is not like other laxatives. It never weakens, but always strengthens. It is pleasant to take, acts gently upon the bowels, never gripes, and once the bowels are given the strength which it imparts, they are quickly restored to a permanently normal condition, fully able to voluntarily perform their functions.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is unequalled in the treatment of dyspepsia, indigestion, constipation and all stomach disorders. It is sold by all druggists at 50 cents and $1.00 a bottle.

Your money back if it doesn't satisfy.

It is supposed that someone familiar with his plans accosted him on his way home, with the purpose of robbery.

BABY COVERED WITH SORES

Would Scratch and Tear the Flesh Unless Hands Were Tied—Wasted to a Skeleton—Awful Suffering for Over a Year—Grew Worse Under Doctors—Skin Now Clear.

WOULD HAVE DIED BUT FOR CUTICURA.

"My little son, when about a year and a half old, began to have sores come out on his face. I had a physician treat him, but the sores grew worse. Then they began to come on his arms, then on other parts of his body, and then one came on his chest, worse than the others. Then I called another physician. Still he grew worse. At the end of about a year and a half of suffering, he grew so bad I had to tie his hands in cloths at night to keep him from scratching the sores and tearing the flesh.

"He got to be a mere skeleton, and was hardly able to walk. My Aunt advised me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. So great was her faith in Soap to try and a little of the Ointment. I took it home without any faith, but to please her I tried it, and it seemed to dry up the sores a little.

"I sent to the drug store and got a cake of the Soap and a box of the Ointment and followed the directions, and at the end of about two months the sores were all well. He has never had any more of any kind since.

"He is now strong and healthy, and I can sincerely say that only for your most wonderful remedies my precious child would have died from those terrible sores. I used only one cake of Soap and about three boxes of Ointment. (signed) Mrs. Egbert Sheldon, R. F. D. No. 1, Woodville, Conn., April 22, 1905."

I voted to sustain the complaint last Friday, but I cannot for the soul of me believe that this body is justified in passing such a sentence. One of the dear, good men of Houston said to me today, 'You go up there and tell the syndacism not to do that thing. It will hurt our church and I do not want to see it done.'"

The special committee's report, as stated in Monday's Telegram, was as follows:

"1. The syndacism sustains the complaint of Rev. J. V. McCall and others against the presbytery of Fort Worth, since the Rev. William Caldwell is not in accord with the standards of the Presbyterian church in the United States, by the following vote: To sustain, $5; to sustain in part, 4; not to sustain, $7; excused, 2.

"2. The effect of this decision is to annul the action of the presbytery of Fort Worth in receiving him, as well as the action by which he was installed pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Fort Worth."

New Presbytery Created

Acting on the overture of the Presbytery of Fort Worth, the synod of Texas yesterday erected the Presbytery of El Paso of the western section of Fort Worth Presbytery, the new division comprising the following counties: Knox, Shackelford, Haskell and Randall. All the other counties in the old confines of Fort Worth Presbytery shall constitute the present presbytery of Fort Worth.

The train crossed the continent in four sections, three sections arriving yesterday. The first section got away from Sacramento, Cal., at 12:30 o'clock last Monday morning. It reached the metropolis at 10:30 o'clock p. m. Saturday. The other sections were run out six hours apart, but in the great distance covered the last section fell behind and lost some time. It is due this afternoon.

Mr. Hagglin, who was present at the unloading, said the stock had arrived in splendid shape. The stud will be sold at auction.

CHIEF JUSTICE DEAD

RAILWAY WINS IN RATE CASE

Said to Show Need of More Commission Power

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 27.—Eighteen railroads carrying live stock and dressed meats to Chicago won in the decision of Judge Bethes in the United States court a victory over the interstate commerce commission and the Chicago live stock exchange, which have long been contending for as favorable rates for live stock shippers as are granted to the big packers at Chicago and the western river markets.

Judge Bethes holds the order of the interstate commerce commission that the railroads must lower the rate on live stock to conform with rates on packing house products to be unlawful and that it shall not be enforced. The decision is held in public opinion at the yards to have a direct bearing on the present agitation in Washington and over the whole country for rate legislation and to demonstrate that the time has come when the interstate commerce commission must be given more power or wiped out of its useless and extravagant existence.

Discriminates Against Chicago
"And they further charge that such condition of rates had existed from that time until the filing of these petitions; that said rates were unreasonable under section 1 of the interstate commerce act and the result of such condition of rates was that under section 2 of the act and of the Elkins act the defendants are committing an unlawful discrimination against said live stock and live hogs, and the shippers thereof and the locality of Chicago, and thereby giving an undue and unreasonable preference or advantage to the traffic of fresh meats and packing house products over said live cattle and hogs."

Representative Charles E. Townsend, joint author of the Esch-Townsend rate bill, a congressman commanding the full confidence of President Roosevelt, and whose views on rate legislation so closely coincide with those of the President that he was chosen to draft the house bill for this important legislation, is in Chicago and said today:

"This decision against the live stock shippers may be depended upon to further arouse the country. I believe that railroad rate regulation is demanded by a large majority of our people. They know that no question more vitally affects them than that of freight rates. It enters into every article produced and consumed, and inasmuch as it is the law of the land that the rates and regulations of our interstate carriers shall be just and reasonable, it seems to me it is the highest duty of the government to provide a tribunal which will see that that provision of the law is carried out."

"The direful predictions of interested railroad men of industrial disaster, in case such a tribunal is established, have no weight with me, for they are the same predictions which have been made every time any attempt to carry out said law has been made, and subsequent events have demonstrated that such prophecies were false."

"Just and reasonable rates cannot harm any honest corporations, and such are the only rates sought to be established. I am also deeply convinced of the fact that unless this question is settled properly now it will become a great national political issue upon which the people will divide, and may cause the pendulum to swing from extreme selfish corporate ownership and control to that of government ownership."

"These extremes are equally bad in my opinion, and it is the duty of conservative statesmanship to steer the ship of state between Scylla on one side and Charybdis on the other."

"Already the people have learned that monopolistic railroad corporations have not only succeeded in defeating the operation of a just law, but have been able to exercise extreme and unwarranted power over any proposed railroad legislation."

"I consider the most important action to be taken at this time to be the enactment of a conservative law giving the interstate commerce commission power, upon complaint and after full hearing, to not only declare a rate unreasonable which is found to be so, but to substitute in its place a reasonable rate to go into operation within a reasonably short time after such order, and to remain in effect until a court of competent jurisdiction shall have set such order aside on the ground that it is illegal."

"Such power will not injure the railroads, for it is a false assumption to state that a reasonable rate will bring loss to the carrier. It never has done it and never can. The only rate which can injure a railroad is one that takes the carrier's property without due compensation, or forces such carrier to carry at a rate that does not bring a reasonable return on the capital invested. In both of these cases the court has all the power to render relief."

Judge Bethes' Decision
After citing the original order of the commission requiring a justification of rates on live stock and dressed meats Jan. 7, 1905, the failure of the railroads to comply and the subsequent petitions to the court by the commission to compel obedience, Judge Bethes says: "The substance of the allegations of the two petitions is that the defendants were common carriers from the Missouri river and St. Paul to Chicago; that before Aug. 8, 1902, the published rates of the defendants as to fresh meats and packing house products from the Missouri river and St. Paul to Chicago were the same as were the rates on live cattle and hogs from the same points to Chicago; that upon the mentioned date the defendant, the Chicago and Great Western Railway Company, made a contract with certain owners of packing houses in Kansas City, St. Joe and other Missouri river points in consideration of receiving a certain percentage of their business for seven years, that for that period the said railway company would transport from the Missouri river points and St. Paul to Chicago fresh meats and packing house products at certain rates."

Among the findings of fact by the court are:
That the live stock rates are unreasonable in themselves.
That the cost of carrying live stock is greater to the packers because of the higher price of a car of dressed meats, valued worth twice that of live stock.
Rates were made voluntarily but from necessity arising from competition, the necessity being that of carrying the goods at the lower rate or losing the business.
That the competition in question did not result from agreement of the defendants, but was actual, genuine competition.

That the welfare of the public, including the shippers, consumers and all localities and markets, does not seem to be materially affected by the present rate.
Necessity of Competition
"It appears then, under the facts," said the court, "that the reduction of rates was not voluntary, according to the definition and description contained in some of the cases, but was caused on the part of the Chicago Great Western Railway Company by the necessity of competing for business which under the law they were required to do."

"The evidence shows that in substantially all cases the factor of competition alone controls the rate."

Attorney L. A. Shaver, representing the commission, after reading the decision, which was composed of twenty-two typewritten pages, declared that he would first communicate with the department of justice before deciding whether an appeal should be taken from the court's decision.

President Buell's Views
President Buell of the Chicago live stock exchange said this morning: "Judge Bethes' decision covering the Missouri river rate, which was an stock exchange before the interstate commerce commission some years ago because railroad companies had seen proper to make a much lesser rate on dressed beef and packing house products than they made upon the live stock, is a shocking surprise to me and many members of our exchange. Our contention was that this was a discrimination against the Chicago market."

"Not many years ago railroad men claimed that the rate on live stock must necessarily be less than upon the packing house products and for years the rate on dressed beef was 23 cents from Missouri river points, as compared with 22 1/2 cents on live stock. A few years ago Mr. Stickney, president of the Chicago Great Western railroad, found it necessary in order to get a fair percentage of business from Missouri river points to make a special contract with the large packing houses at a rate much below the former rate and carried it to a point between 5 cents and 6 cents below live stock rates."

"The Chicago exchange took the matter before the interstate commerce commission, which held on several hearings that the rate on dressed beef and packing house products should not be lower than the rate on live stock. The opinion of Judge Bethes comes as a great surprise not only to shippers of live stock and commission merchants, but many railroad men believe that the opinion would be in line with the policy of the interstate commerce commission. This opinion confirms the wisdom of President Roosevelt in advocating giving the interstate commerce commission power to correct a rate when found unreasonably high."

DEATH LIST GROWS
Man Dies as Indirect Result of Iroquois Fire
CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Janesville, Wis., says:
Arthur W. Campbell, formerly private secretary of the president of Northwestern University, died yesterday. He was present at the Iroquois fire in Chicago, Dec. 30, 1903, and recovered many persons. He never recovered from the shock.

IT DRAWS HARD
On a woman's vitality to do work for which she is unfitted, and we wonder how some of the women of our land live through a single season of pleasure or dissipation. They will say with tears in their eyes, when they mention the subject at all, "it is a hard pull," that with pain, weakness and dizziness they are "almost dragged out."

Many, in this condition, resort to alcoholic stimulants and "invigorants," the after effects of which are very injurious. Dr. R. V. Pierce, forty years ago, found that women were being mistreated through ignorance or carelessness and determined to devote his life and energies to their relief. Having found the cause of their suffering, he next sought for the means of relief, and found in Nature's laboratory, the earth, certain roots which had remarkable and valuable medicinal virtues for the cure of these ailments.

Using chemically pure glycerine, or proper strength instead of alcohol, he prepared extracts of these, and the result was so satisfactory that the combination became his "Favorite Prescription." The roots used are: Lady's Slipper root, Black Cohosh root, Unicorn root, Blue Cohosh root and Golden Seal root. The world knows it as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and it has effected a wonderful and unparalleled record of a half-million of cures in the last forty years.

"I write to Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for advice, given without charge. I am glad to be able to testify as to the merits of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the many ills that women suffer with. I was afflicted with a severe case of Young Ladies' Complaint, Endorsey's Pills, 45 Columbia Street, Detroit, Mich. After your medicine and in a short time I began to feel stronger, became more regular and didn't have the bearing-down pains which had been my lot for so long. I will never cease to be very grateful that it was brought to my notice. I have no pains, and feel much stronger generally."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cleanse the clogged system from accumulated impurities.

CAMPAIGN FUNDS ARE CONDEMNED

President's Message to Ask for Legislation

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Washington, D. C., says:
Probably the most tangible result of the insurance investigation in New York will be a strong effort made to pass some sort of corrupt practices act, so as to require publicity for all expenditures and contributions for federal elections throughout the country.

Within a few days Chairman Cortelyou of the republican national committee will have ready a complete list of all contributions made through him in the last national campaign. As a result of the revelations in New York, the postmaster general after consultation with the President, is preparing to show up his books and he probably will go on record as favoring some sort of law or a political custom which will prevent reception of political contributions from corporations.

The President will take up the same matter in his message and probably will urge such a law by congress as well as put a veto on the attempt of soliciting contributions from corporations without a direct vote of all stockholders.

EDUCATION RALLY HELD

Bishop Hoss Wants Southwestern University Endowed

SULPHUR SPRINGS, Texas, Nov. 27.—An educational meeting was held at the Methodist church Friday night and every seat and all available space were occupied. Bishop Hoss and Dr. H. A. Boaz, president of Polytechnic College, Fort Worth, made addresses that were highly appropriate and worthy of the important occasion.

The bishop presented to his audience the value and importance of education, especially Christian education, and endeavored to arouse the Methodist people to the importance of the subject, and pleaded with them to do their duty in the way of supporting their church schools, colleges and universities. He said that there ought to be 1,000 laymen in Texas, and he believed there were, who would contribute liberally toward the endowment of Southwestern University, if they were only properly approached on the subject: that an average contribution of $1,000 would create an endowment fund of $1,000,000, that would place Southwestern upon a desirable working basis and the donors would hardly miss it; that the said university is Methodist property, and Methodist people should maintain and support it. It is their duty to do so. That any man who would try to create opposition and prevent the co-operation and correlation of other church schools and colleges with the Southwestern University was an enemy of Methodism. The bishop urged the conference to appoint a committee of educated clerical and lay members for the purpose of calling a great mass meeting or convention of lay members and citizens of the state who were interested in Christian education, for the purpose of arousing the proper interest and sentiment upon the subject. That all men should appreciate the importance of educating their children; that it was a notorious fact that intelligence always wins when brought into contact with ignorance.

Dr. Boaz followed the bishop, and also made an able address, in which he fully presented the importance of giving every boy and girl an education.

RIVALRY TO MEET
State University and A. & M. College Play Thursday
AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 28.—Preparations are under way for the great football game to be played here Thanksgiving day between Texas University and A. & M. College. The college always plays a strong game here and this year, when "Varsity" is acknowledged to be as strong as usual, there are some fears that the tide of battle may be disastrous, but hopes are high. No attention was paid the small score made by the college against Baylor a week ago, as it was understood that four of the college stars were out of the game and saving themselves for the contest here next Thursday.

TEXAS EXPORTS SHOW INCREASE

Steamer Service to Central America Enlarged

The rapidly increasing export of Texas-made goods to Yucatan and Mexico has caused the Texas City Transportation Company to double its vessel capacity and on the first of this month two additional ships were put into commission between Texas City and Yucatan. The new vessels are the Saphire and the Navigator. Ever since the beginning of service between these two places the company has had two vessels making regular sailings, but the increase of business between this country and Yucatan has made it impossible for two boats to keep up in handling the traffic.

The tonnage being carried by this transportation company includes, principally, railroad building supplies being used in the construction of the Pan-American road and agricultural machinery. In addition to this heavy tonnage there has been transported from Texas ports to Yucatan during the past ninety days the following: 900 hogs, forty cars of chickens, hundreds of horses, mules and cows, besides large shipments of groceries and packing house products. Within the period named 6,000 bales of Texas cotton have been delivered to spinners in Mexico. All of this heavy movement has been handled by the above company with two vessels only. This great increase of business relations with that country has prompted the company to add two more vessels to the service. The doubling of this line means much to Texas and will increase her exports to Yucatan by at least one-half.

The ships of the Texas City Transportation Company touch every Mexican port on the Atlantic side, save Tampico. It has made American competition at many of these ports which Germany has in control. On their return voyage the vessels bring back to the United States sisal from Yucatan.

A single instance for the opening Yucatan offers to Texas products is the demand there at this time for potatoes. Preparations are now being made for a whole cargo of potatoes for Yucatan.

Traffic Manager H. B. Moore of the Texas City Transportation Company says that the increased facilities for handling the export business from this country to Yucatan will not, in his judgment, meet the requirements of the trade, and that the vessels will sail with full cargoes every week. The demand seems unlimited, and a great traffic, especially between Texas and Yucatan, is fast developing.

The sisal brought to Texas on the return voyage is used in rope and twine making principally. There is a ready market for it in this country and a minimum in cost of transportation is attained by this line.

EMPEROR PROTESTED
VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 28.—The emperor of Korea fought a lone handed fight, coerced by his ministers, vainly trying to prevent Marquis Ito's coup to make Korea a Japanese protectorate, according to advices from Seoul by the steamer Athenian. A Korean official reported to a Seoul correspondent that the emperor always received Japanese representatives standing and etiquette demanded that they stand. Then the emperor launched at once into a rapid-fire conversation on any subject but the one that they would talk of, often continuing for two hours. An attempt was made to assassinate the ministers of the interior, war and justice, who had been bought by Japan, but it was frustrated by Japanese troops.

PULLMANS TO BUILD
Will Increase Plant to Meet Demand for Cars
CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 28.—As a result of increasing demands by railroad companies for Pullman cars, the Pullman Company directors are said to decide on increasing the Chicago plant by additions costing $5,000,000. The Pullman Company is now employing 8,200 workmen, which is said to be the high-water mark of its pay roll. It has a present capacity for turning out every month sixty passenger coaches and 1,500 freight cars.

The proposed extension of the plant would permit the manufacture every month of seventy-five coaches and 1,600 freight cars. The company's surplus now amounts, according to a Chicago dispatch, to $22,600,000.

This work has been in progress the past two years, and will soon be finished; the tracks of both the Denver Road and the Colorado and Southern will then be in excellent shape.

HOLIDAY OUTLOOK
General Passenger Agent C. W. Strain of the Frisco says that all indications point to one of the heaviest holiday travels in the history of the road. He believes that more people will travel to their old home state during the next two months than has been the case in many years.

"Times are prosperous, especially with the farmer," said Mr. Strain, "and when the farmer is prosperous everybody else is, and as a consequence people travel considerably during the holidays when they have plenty of money, as is the case this year."

These holiday tickets are on sale Dec. 21 to 23 and have a return limit of thirty days.

WOMEN TAKEN TO CANAL ZONE
Bishop Calls for Investigation of Moral Conditions
NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Bishop Thomas P. Neely, who represents the Methodist church in South America, talked to the Methodist preachers at their meeting yesterday.

In the course of his address he made reference to the reports of importations of negro women from Jamaica and Martinique into the canal zone. It has been said that the women in question were imported for immoral purposes, said the bishop.

"I doubt this report. It seems to me hardly to be likely and until President Roosevelt investigates, as I feel sure he ought to and as I feel sure he will do, let us assume that the report is not true. I am willing to wait for proof."

"But down in my heart I fear it may be true. If the report is correct—and let us hope again, I say, that it is not—how long will it be before vastly worse conditions obtain in the canal zone because of this beginning? How long it will be before other flocks of negro women will be imported in order that other bands of black laborers may be 'contented' with moral sentiments, how long it will be before abandoned white women will be imported to debauch those fine young fellows we are sending down there?"

Then the bishop said that with $1,000 per year, all that is allowed him, he keeps one preacher at work in the canal zone at eight preaching stations. He asked for more preachers, more workers and more money, and told his listeners they should do something in the way of social uplifting of Americans in the zone.

LINDSAY TRANSFERRED
W. P. Lindsay, former city ticket agent of the Katy at Houston, and well known in Fort Worth railroad circles, who was recently made district passenger and immigration agent of the system at Omaha, has been transferred to Minneapolis, with headquarters at St. Paul.

Mr. Lindsay's title remains the same, but the territory he fills is much more extensive than that of Omaha. In view of the fact that much of the immigration to Texas is from the extreme northern states, the Missouri, Kansas and Texas is paying especial attention to this particular movement.

FAST GUN PLAY GETS PRISONER

Man Who Made Daring Escape Captured Here

Quick gun play enabled Detective Al Ray of the local police department to capture a jail breaker at Ninth and Grove streets Monday night. The man, recognized from description, offered resistance, when a quick drop caused him to change his mind.

W. C. Wood, the prisoner, was wanted for jail breaking at Canton, Van Zandt county. Sheriff Howard of Van Zandt county, took charge of him, leaving for Canton late Monday night over the Texas and Pacific railway.

Wood and a man named Craig escaped from the Van Zandt county jail Thursday. There were three other prisoners in the jail at the time, but they were unable to get out through the hole in the wall. Dogs were put on the trail and Wood told Detective Ray after being arrested he had waded eight miles down a creek in order to throw the dogs off the scent.

Wood is under sentence of two years in the Texas penitentiary for bigamy and the state agent of prisons was to have secured him Friday.

Detective Ray received $25 from Sheriff Howard for the capture.

Time plays no favorite. All of us must fall by the wayside sooner or later. One after the other the old school of pugilists and their backers drop off.

the state of New York into the Hudson river, and shouted with all his might that he would shoot the first man who tried to enter the ring.

Unless there is a mistake some place, the New York fans are to be given an opportunity of seeing twenty-round battles without traveling across the continent.

Johnson was always Sullivan's friend. He came to me after that New Orleans fight and said that he was through with the game.

I met a friend the other day who assured me that plans were practically complete for the establishing of a first class fight club in Delaware county, Pennsylvania, which will be known as the Tuxedo Park Association.

About 1,000 acres of land have been bought just outside the city of Philadelphia and a big amphitheater will be built to accommodate enormous crowds.

Charley Johnson was a sport from childhood. He came to this country from Ireland when but a mere boy.

Out in San Francisco they are wondering whether Fitz will be able to train. Some go so far as to say that he is getting too old to do much hard work, and that his approaching battle will be a "shame to take the money" affair.

It was Johnson who took Sullivan to Mississippi and backed him to beat Kilrain. His opinion turned out right and he was handsomely rewarded.

Let us wait and see. O'Brien is clever and all that, but to whip Fitzsimmons no man has an easy task in front of him.

It was Johnson who took Sullivan to France to meet Charley Mitchell at Chantilly, and again he was rewarded for his trouble. But the fall was to come.

It was about the eleventh round before I began to get him. He was a bit tired and I whaled away at his body, taking the speed out of him.

Charley Johnson's name recalls an incident in the early career of Sullivan, which is one of the most interesting in prize ring history.

TERRY MCGOVERN TELLS OF FIGHTS and FIGHTERS

Terry McGovern, whose recent return to form was one of the year's surprises in the realms of pugilism, gives renewed promise of being one of the most conspicuous fighters among the little fellows in the near future.

BY TERRY MCGOVERN

I have had some pretty tough ring battles in my career, but the hardest was my fight with little Harry Forbes in Brooklyn, just after I had started on my way up the ladder.

and then he stayed on for seven more rounds after that. I felt lucky after beating him that night, because I didn't think it possible to hit that fellow at all.

That was about seven years ago, but I can remember that fight as well as though it took place last night.

I had taken some good beatings in my time, too. Every man who stays in the business gets the hard jolts as well as the coin.

It was about the eleventh round before I began to get him. He was a bit tired and I whaled away at his body, taking the speed out of him.

Taking all things into consideration, Frank Erne was about the best boxer and slugger that I have met. He was there with the jab.

STOCKS

Special to The Telegram
NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Stocks continued to improve throughout the early session today, the early London cable being encouraging, the local market opening strong, with the general list showing fractional gains. Trading was hardly as active as yesterday, quite a large portion of the opening operations being confined to realizing from yesterday's advance. However, there was enough buying to offset this and impart a good tone to the market. Tennessee Coal and Iron was again the feature and added to its already marvellous record by an initial advance of 2 to 3 points, which was followed in rapid succession by another jump of 3 points, carrying the stock to 129, where it was selling about the noon hour. Other iron stocks were affected by the strength of Tennessee Coal and Iron, and among them Colorado Fuel and Iron was the most prominent, with an advance of 2½ points during the morning. St. Paul led the rails with a rise of 1½ points. Sales to noon, 757,500 shares.

The profit-taking operations increased in the afternoon and the entire list weakened rapidly and closed near the low of the day. Tennessee Coal and Iron lost all of the early gain and closed ¼ point under last night's finish, while Colorado Fuel and Iron closed unchanged. Reading was the greatest sufferer, losing 3 points on the day, while several issues lost a point or more and fractional declines were the rule.

GRAIN

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 28.—Trading in the wheat pit was almost at a standstill today. There was nothing in the day's news to influence sentiment in either direction and the market was characterized by the extreme dullness of the early session. In the afternoon traders were partially awakened and there was some scattered buying of the May option, effecting an advance of 1/8, which was maintained to the close. Local receipts, 99 cars, against 78 last year.

Corn was fairly active and reaction in the early trading, but a weakener in the last hour resulted in a close at a new record of 44 1/2 cents. Local receipts, 327 cars, against 440 cars last year.

Oats were quiet but firm, closing 1/4 to 1/8 higher. Local receipts, 21 cars. The feature of the provision market was the pronounced strength and activity in pork, resulting in a net gain of 40¢ to 45¢. Lard is up 25¢ to 28¢. Ribs gained 28¢ to 30¢.

COTTON

Special to The Telegram
NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Cables were somewhat disappointing this morning and this fact influenced a weaker local market. On the first call near positions were off 7 to 12 points and the high of the day was only slightly above the opening.

In spite of some rather good buying, the market weakened gradually and the closing prices were near the lowest, showing net losses of 18 to 23 points.

It was reported that a certain prominent operator, who is supposed to be out of the market at present, had bought quietly all day, but there was no confirmation of the rumor.

There were some few December notices issued early in the day, but local spot people stopped them all. Spots closed quiet and $1 a bale lower, at 11.80c for middling, with sales of 260 bales.

The average guess of 135 members of the Memphis Cotton Exchange is a crop of 10,526,000 bales.
