School Agriculture Plans Practice Farm

being worked out now for "practice farm" for the Agriculture department High school, it was announced last week by Supt. Sidney

Reeves has already acquired a 44-acre practice farm for the Agriculture department High school, it was announced last week by Supt. Sidney Reeves is now negotiating the purchase of the 44 acres of land near the school's agriculture department. Verbal assurance given by the owners of that it will be made available to the classes of the vocational agriculture.

Because of a breakdown in machinery the contractors have extended the deadline on the paving commitments to Saturday, March 19. Meanwhile, the paving committee, headed by E. R. Harris, is urging that everyone interested in paving see that those living on their block put up their money with the committee as soon as possible.

Over $3,000 have already been put up and other money is coming in daily, Mr. Harris said. However, much of the paving now paid for is in incomplete blocks, sometimes a 30-foot lot being the only property in the block that isn't paid for. The task now, Mr. Harris said, is to complete the blocks and get the money up for them.

The cost of the paving is $1.25 per lineal foot for each side of the street. This pays for a 20-foot base with an 18-foot asphalt surface treatment.

Some of the streets now partially under commitments are as follows: West Locust beginning two blocks west of the Baker Hotel and running two blocks west.

One block extension on West College Street from West 4th thence north one block to intersect Locust.

West Bryant street from Main to West 4th.

West 4th street from Locust one block north.

East 2nd street from College to Willow street.

One block east on Willow from Main Street.

One block east on Poplar street from the end of paving to east 2nd.

One block on West 1st Street from Spruce to Willow street.

School Paving Slow

Donations to the paving of the school streets have been coming in slow, it was reported this week. The plan is to secure enough money by public subscriptions to pay for paving a 54-foot wide strip in front of the grade school building and directly behind the high school building.

Supt. Sidney Reeves said this week that for safety's sake, these two blocks should be paved, providing a place for loading and unloading school buses. The narrow ribbon of pavement in front of the high school is not enough for unloading safely, he said.

Henry Schacht is chairman of this department of the paving program. He has been working in outlying districts and Mr. Reeves said that the only contributions so far as he knew were $114 from the Providence community and slightly over $200 from the Prairie Chapel community. However, there are probably other contributions that haven't been reported. An effort will be made to secure donations from Lockney and all other communities in the school district for this purpose, it was said.

The Streets running to and from the grade school and on the north and south side of the high school will be paved by property owners and the school, if they are paved, it was explained.

Work Continues Toward Securing City Paving

With the paving contractors, Cooper & Woodruff, granting an extension of the deadline to secure paving commitments in Lockney, work was continuing this week on the task of enlisting property owners to pave the side of the street adjoining their property.

Because of a breakdown in machinery the contractors have extended the deadline on the paving commitments to Saturday, March 19. Meanwhile, the paving committee, headed by E. R. Harris, is urging that everyone interested in paving see that those living on their block put up their money with the committee as soon as possible.

West 4th street from Locust one block north.

East 2nd street from College to Willow street.

One block east on Willow from Main Street.

One block east on Poplar street from the end of paving to east 2nd.

One block on West 1st Street from Spruce to Willow street.

Scholastics Are Being Enumerated

Scholastics in the Lockney Rural High School district are being enumerated, it was announced this week by school officials. The scholastic enrollment will determine the amount of money the local school receives from the state apportionment, and officials are anxious that every child who will be six years old by Sept. 1 be enumerated as well as those of older ages.

J. J. Harris is enumerating the pupils in the original Lockney district, Mr. Reeves said. Someone will be appointed to enumerate the scholastics in the other original districts very soon.

No children under 6 years on Sept. 1 will be allowed to attend school this year, Mr. Reeves said.

City Officials Are Unopposed This Year

The present city officials will appear on the ballot at the city election on April 5 unopposed, it appeared this week. Saturday was the deadline for filing for a place on the ballot and no other names were filed.

The city election will name four officials, the mayor, two aldermen and city secretary.

G. M. (Bud) Brunner is now serving his first term as mayor and his name has been filed for re-election.

The terms of J. E. Cox and J. B. Seale expire as aldermen. Their names were likewise filed for re-election.

Mrs. Faye Messer, city secretary, announced her candidacy last week for re-election to her position. She is also unopposed.

In addition to the election officials named last week, J. J. Harris will also be an election judge, Mrs. Messer said. Voting will be at the City Hall with polls opening at 8 a. m. and closing at 7 p. m.

Mr. Perkins said that members of the Lockney Business Women's Club would make the drive in the city. Donations to the Red Cross may be left at his office, also.

Wayne McClain is a new partner in the Baker Hardware firm of Lockney, it was revealed this week. He will assist John Stalcup, manager, in the firm.

Mr. McClain comes here from Plainview where he has been associated with business houses dealing in appliances and furniture for several years.

He is married and the couple have one son, Billy Dock, age 5. Mrs. McClain and the boy will come to Lockney as soon as suitable housing can be secured, he said.

Plans Complete For Junior Show Here Saturday

Plans are all complete for the Lockney Junior Livestock Show to be held here Saturday of this week.

The show will be open to all 4-H club and FFA boys of this part of the county and prizes of around $200 are being offered in the six divisions and two grand champion places. The show is sponsored by the Lockney Rotary Club and Derral Wood, president of the club is general superintendent of the show.

All animals must be in place by 11 a. m. Saturday and each exhibitor will be limited to two entries, according to the rules.

In addition to the other prizes the best calf showman and the best pig showman will also be given a prize.

R. C. Mitchell will be superintendent of the beef cattle division, while Fay Pinner will superintend the hog division and Hershel Carthel will be superintendent of the sheep division.

Place of the show will be the National Alfalfa Mill hay shed in south Lockney. Pens are being constructed there to handle the animals and in case of bad weather shelter will be provided from the elements.

Around 70 animals are expected to be entered, according to F. L. Montandon, local agriculture instructor, who has helped to work out the plans.

A complete list of places and prizes as well as the rules of the show will be found elsewhere in this issue.

Public Invited To See New Chrysler

The public is invited to attend the showing of the new Chrysler automobile at Murray-Motley Motor Co. starting today (Friday), it was announced this week by John Bilbrey.

Described as "the finest and most beautiful Chrysler of all time," the new car will be the Silver Anniversary model of the famous automobile manufacturer.

Outstanding feature of the new Chrysler, other than its beauty, is the prestomatic fluid drive transmission. Other features include the safety-rim wheels, high compression Chrysler splitfire engine, more spacious body, wider doors and broader windows.

"We invite everyone to come around and see this great new Chrysler whether you plan to buy one or not," Mr. Bilbrey said.

M. W. Wiley Buys Stock Of First National Bank

Deal Consummated This Week

M. W. Wiley, formerly first vice-president of the First State Bank of Dumas, has purchased the majority stock of the First National Bank of Lockney from Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Waldrop and was named president and director of the institution Tuesday of this week.

The transaction has been in process for several days and was consummated Tuesday when all the Waldrop stock was transferred to Mr. Wiley, the Waldrops resigned their official positions and the Board of Directors named Mr. Wiley president and director.

Mr. Waldrop came to Lockney on December 15, 1947, and began work with Artie Baker, then president of the bank. He purchased the bank from Mr. Baker effective June 1, 1948, and took complete charge. He and Mrs. Waldrop have already moved back to Dallas. Their plans for the present are indefinite, Mr. Waldrop said. He expressed their appreciation for the many courtesies extended to them by Lockney people.

Directors of the bank remain the same as previous to the transaction. They are Ben Quebe, Frank Perkins, H. L. Stowe, Oliver Savage, L. A. Cooper, Ed Whitfill. Mrs. June Bybee and Joe Wilson remain as assistant cashiers with Betty Jean Myers as bookkeeper.

Ed Teuton returns to the bank to assist Mr. Wiley in the loan department for a time at least.

Mr. Wiley has spent 22 years in the banking business. Previous to going to Dumas he was connected with banks at Denton, Cleburne, Wellington, Amarillo (National), and Dallas (National). He was first vice-president of the Dumas bank for seven years.

Mr. Wiley was active in civic affairs at Dumas, serving as chairman of the Moore County parole board, treasurer of the chamber of commerce and a member of the Rotary Club.

He is a graduate of North Texas State College at Denton and is a lawyer as well as a banker, having his LL.B. degree from Southern Methodist University. He is licensed to practice before the Supreme Court of the State of Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiley have one daughter, June Ellen, 14 years old who will graduate from the Dumas grade school this year. They will move to Lockney as soon as school is out, Mr. Wiley said.

Mr. Wiley is a member of the Church of Christ while Mrs. Wiley is a Methodist.

In talking with The Beacon representative Mr. Wiley said, "I have come to Lockney to make my home after several years experience in other banks. I intend to live in this community and do my best to serve the community in every way I can. I came to Lockney because I was looking for a good place to live. After checking several other places I decided Lockney was the best of them all, and we will move here to make our home. My present plans are to build a new home here before the year is out."

"I would like to welcome the people of Lockney to become customers of our bank and look forward to the opportunity of meeting each one of you."

Mr. Wiley has been warmly welcomed by the people of Lockney and this area, he said. He expressed his appreciation for their courtesies.

Local Men Attend Gas Tax Bill Hearing

A number of Floyd County men attended the hearing Monday in Austin on H. B. 59, which is a bill to pay for additional country roads by placing a 1c per 1,000 cu. feet tax on natural gas.

The committee, after a several hour hearing on the bill, voted to recommend it for passage to the House of Representatives. The bill would supplement the present road building appropriations and would supposedly be used to build the feeder lines and complete roads that are paved only partially in the present road building program.

A large crowd advocating the tax was present, the local men reported. They estimated that between 2,000 and 3,000 people were on hand for the hearing.

Those attending the hearing from Floyd County included Commissioner Hugh Counts, F. L. Brown, Hubert Frizzell, Oscar Golden, and Raymond Rucker, all of Lockney, and County Judge G. C. Tubbs, Commissioners Fred Carl and Fay Hart and Floydada Chamber of Commerce Manager Robert Crowell.

The bill must now pass the House and go to the Senate before it will finally be effective.

Fire Destroys Pigs And Shed At Handley Place

Fire breaking out late last Friday afternoon destroyed a farrowing house, one brood sow and about 20 pigs at the Harmon Handley place four miles southwest of Lockney.

Mr. and Mrs. Handley and their family were gone from home and the origin of the fire was unknown but it was thought to have caught from an electric light bulb kept in the shed to warm the pigs.

The fire was discovered by a Mexican hired hand of Mr. Handley's. He started fighting the fire and then T. B. Mitchell came along and succeeded in arousing the neighbors who came in to help save the remainder of the barn and the other hogs.

The local fire truck was called out early Saturday morning to a home near the grade school. The house had filled with smoke from a grease pan over a fire but no fire resulted and there was no damage.

The truck also made a run last week to a house on North Main where a radio had caught fire. The radio was completely destroyed and minor damage done to a window.

Rev. Marcus Rexrode of Dallas spent Tuesday night with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Rexrode.

Wayland Group To Old Mexico

Plainview, Tex., Mar. 5 (WCNS)—A tour to Mexico to give exhibition basketball games and special music was begun today when the last of a group of twenty-five students and faculty members left Wayland College by plane.

The Wayland Pioneer cagers have some exhibition games to play in Guadalajara, the first city they are to visit. These basketeers have won 20 of 28 games this season. A reception has been planned for the Wayland delegation when they reach Guadalajara today.

Both Wayland College and the University of Guadalajara will present a musical program at this reception. A male quartet composed of George Stokes, Sam Allen, Royce Dowell of Dimmitt, and Bill Knighton of Canyon, will be featured then.

Guy Woods, head of the music department, has also gone on the tour and will play from his wide repertoire which ranges from sacred to classical to popular and "boogie woogie."

Coach Harley J. Redin and his wife are among those going to Mexico. Last year, under his skillful coaching, the Pioneers fought their way to Texas Junior College Championship. Wayland's transition to senior college ruled them out this conference this year.

Mrs. J. P. Woodward, head of the Wayland College modern language department, left with the group to help them with language difficulties and to point out places of sight-seeing interest. She is heading the Wayland College Summer Language School at the University of Guadalajara.

Other Wayland staff members on the Mexico tour are Dr. J. W. Marshall, president of Wayland College, J. L. Harden, business manager, and Walter Lassiter of the public relations department.

The announcement was made in connection with a luncheon honoring Dr. Lee on the tenth anniversary of his taking over as president of the Methodist institution.

SMU has added an average of $1,000,000 in assets each year since 1939. Counting buildings completed in the ten-year period, now under construction, and in immediate building plans, SMU is in the process of adding 14 permanent structures to the 12 that existed on the campus in 1939.

Moisture Is Deep Over Plains Area

Moisture penetration in a five-county Plains area ranges from two to five feet.

Tests made since the February snows by O. W. Sweat, observation aide in moisture penetration research for the Soil Conservation Service, said his records show that about sixty per cent of Floyd and Briscoe counties have moisture penetrations equal to that of 1947 at a corresponding time of the year.

The moisture depth in Hale, Deaf Smith and Castro counties is about ten inches short of those at the corresponding time in 1947. That was the year of the record wheat crop in this area. A deep winter season was credited with a considerable assist in that year's harvest.

Compiling depths of approximately sixty tests in Hale County, Sweat found that moisture penetration averaged 37 inches with some as deep as 62 inches.

In Floyd County the range is from 20 to 50 inches with an average of 33.25 inches. In Castro the range is from 25 to 44 inches with an average of 32. Deaf Smith's average is 31 with a range of 28 to 36 inches. Briscoe has a range of 24 to 48 inches and the average is 34. The deepest test in the area was made at the school. It is at Graham farms where the land sometimes have a moisture a little more than said. Both the ham farms were. Moisture distribution even over Sweat made the making test. Swee penetrations of measurements. He in caliche leaches not be counted on soil.

Miss Cummings Takes Part In TSCW Stunts

DENTON, Tex.—Participating in class stunts, the outstanding inter-class competitive event of the year at Texas State College for Women, is Miss Era Mona Cummings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Zack Cummings.

Stunts will be presented two nights, March 11-12, to accommodate capacity audiences which since last year have made two performances necessary.

The 35-year-old stunts tradition began with a circus frolic by the "Middletons" class. The event became all-college in 1938 with the awarding of a silver loving cup to the prize stunt.

Each year the four classes write and produce 20-minute stunts usually with a musical comedy or fantasy theme. Executed entirely by student talent, the shows often include original songs and dances and specially designed costumes and sets.

Heart of Your Gas Service

West Texas Gas Company's McSpadden Compressor Station, near Canyon, Texas, is one of the stations employed to maintain movement of natural gas to South Plains cities.

Compressors and Maintenance Cost More... But Your Gas Rates Are at Pre-War Prices!

Construction of McSpadden Compressor Station began in 1943. Three compressor engines, two 165-horsepower and one 80-horsepower, were installed. Larger compressors were preferred at that time but were not available due to governmental restrictions during the war years.

Since 1943 West Texas Gas Company has installed six 400-horsepower compressors and made other improvements to increase the capacity of this station to 2,850-horsepower, almost seven times that of the original plant.

In 1948 West Texas Gas Company paid over 92 per cent more for 400-horsepower compressors than it paid for the same type engines purchased in 1940.

Despite increased costs of compressors, steel pipe, wages, valves and other items... natural gas service for your home and business is still furnished you at 1940 prices!

When you are so far from home all these things make you feel that your friends are near you. May God bless each and everyone of you.

Gratefully yours, Mrs. Cleatis Jeffcoat

Methodist Notes

We enjoyed having such a large crowd for preaching services Sunday. Now that the weather is pretty and people are getting well, let every one be at church next Sunday. Our church school attendance is still off. Help us to make it 150 this Sunday.

If you missed the singing Sunday night at our church you missed a good program. We had a solo, a duet, a quartette, and several special numbers by the choir. We appreciate the work of Mrs. Troy Ray and her helpers. There will be a similar program next Sunday night, beginning at 7 o'clock.

Now is the time for every Meth- dist to re-dedicate his life to Christ and His service.

Thoughts for the week:

We know a man who would do any thing to get his boy in Sunday School except go himself.

"Only one life, it will soon be past, What you do for Jesus is all that will last."

"Two marks of a Christian—giving and forgiving."

Ventilation System Of New Chevrolet Changes Air Often

Engineering studies of the 1949 Chevrolet ventilation system show that with windows closed and air duct valves open, car interior air is changed approximately two and one-half times each minute at 30 miles an hour. At 60 miles an hour, continues the report, the frequency of air changes is doubled.

According to the company, the fact will prove a worthwhile safety fea- ture in certain types of damp spring weather when windshields and win- dows have a tendency to fog. Body glass will stay clear without the necessity of providing drafts from open ventipanes.

The new Chevrolet ventilation system includes screened openings behind the radiator grille leading through tubes to outlets under the dash. The volume of air issuing into the passenger compartment is controlled by knobs beneath the instru- ment panel. The system is standard equipment on all Chevrolet passenger cars.

Reed-Stoerner Vows Spoken Thursday

Evaloe Brandes Reed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Brandes of the Providence community, became the bride of Wilfred Stoerner of Plainview in a ceremony performed Thursday, March 3, at six o'clock p. m. at the home of the bride's parents.

A simple double ring ceremony united the couple. Rev. H. L. Anderson, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran Church of Providence, officiated.

Attending the bride was her sister-in-law, Mrs. L. B. Brandes attired in a navy floral crepe print dress. Her corsage was of coral color carnations.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attractively dressed in a tailored navy fitted suit and white chiffon blouse trimmed in lace and crystal buttons. Her bonnet type hat was accented with tiny colored Spring flowers. Completing her outfit she wore navy strap pump type shoes, navy bag and white gloves. Her shoulder corsage was of gardenias.

Mr. Hubert Stoerner, brother of the bride-groom, served as best man.

Mrs. H. L. Anderson sang a religious wedding solo, "At Cana Lord Thou Didst Appear," following the ceremony.

Mrs. Rudolph Stoerner, mother of the groom, wore an attractive black crepe dress. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Mrs. Ben Brandes, mother of the bride, was also dressed in black with a pink carnation corsage.

A delicious turkey dinner was served immediately after the ceremony. A three-tiered wedding cake on a glass reflector surrounded by sweet peas made an attractive centerpiece for the table. Pink and white carnations in crystal vases decorated the entertaining rooms.

Attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Brandes, parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Stoerner and son, Larry, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Brandes and daughter, Debra Jan, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Stoerner, parents of the bride-groom, Rev. and Mrs. H. L. Anderson and son, David.

SOCIALISM IS ALWAYS HUNGRY

Recent press dispatches from England illustrate perfectly the insatiable appetite of socialism. There is a move underway to have the Labor government take over England's pubs. It has also been proposed that the government nationalize football pools, which are one of the most popular forms of legal gambling in Britain. Finally, an item says that Britain's motor industry has now become the biggest exporter of automobiles in the world, and that a Minister told the House of Commons that the time may come when that industry will be nationalized.

Those who think that a "little socialism" may be a good thing—so long as it doesn't touch them—should think that over. For if there is one thing sure about socialism, it is that its never satisfied until it has devoured all enterprise and established a complete dictatorship over all of a nation's productive resources, including the labor force.

There is a vital lesson in that for the American people. We may think to take the most important example, that it's all right for the government to go into the electric business, and to absorb the private industry in the process. But when this happens, the mere question of who is going to produce our electricity is the least of the matter. The big thing, which overrides all other considerations, is that a precedent is established whereby any kind of business, from a grocery store to a newspaper to an automobile plant, may be socialistic and half free enterprise. The people can have one or the other, but never both.

The cost of operating farms and ranches in this country in 1948 amounted to more than the gross farm income of all our farms and ranches in any year prior to 1942.

At the first sign of poor health in young farm animals, it's a good idea to get a diagnosis of the situation. Find out whether disease, parasites or faulty nutrition is responsible. If something is done soon enough, costly animal losses will be cut down.

SCHOOL TROUBLES

At Lamesa a school principal is in bad shape following a beating he got from two men who were mad because a school boy got a whipping at school for serious breach of discipline. Maintaining discipline is a lost virtue. "Reason" has been substituted at the recommendation of psychologists. Parents refuse to discipline children at home, or permit it to be done at school. It might stunt their lively imagination, stifle free enterprise, frustrate them, upset them emotionally, precipitate a nervous breakdown, cause mental anguish—or cause temporary pain in the posterior region. All an incorrigible needs to get world-wide sympathy is throw a simulated fit and get appraised for emotional instability. Once this is accomplished, he can break every rule in the book, put his teachers in a straitjacket, defeat the educational system, get plenty of attention, retard the education of hundreds of earnest students and make himself a sure candidate for reform school. Students and parents have combined to turn school faculties into a crawling, pleading, begging, wheedling, coaxing, coddling mass of humanity whose jobs depend upon the whims and desires of a small group of juvenile delinquents. It must give any boy a misplaced sense of power and superiority to have a teacher cowering before him, pleading for a little conformity to rules while the kid blubs teacher over the head with threat of telling his "old man" on him! There's at least one in every school. He has no more business there than the editor has in the White House. His place is in the cotton patch, breaking his back over a cotton row. He will at least be earning his living instead of squandering tax money and frustrating hundreds of good students. A fundamental of education is discipline. An undisciplined mind can't learn. No discipline, no school—just a gigantic baby-sitting institution. A lot of folks are getting fed up with a flock of long-haired psychiatrists, mollycoddling experts in juvenile neuroses who spend their time developing misfits. Small wonder half the school graduates can hardly read and write their own names. A lot of folks think reintroduction of the biggest elm club in Texas into classrooms will at east insure well-mannered and well-meaning students an even break at the game of life. And it wouldn't be a bad idea to hire the best prize-fighter in the county to interview parents of itybits, 185-pound, emotionally-upset Willie who just can't keep from taking the school apart. After all, this hunk of misdirected beef is "just a mischievous boy who doesn't mean any harm." And if anyone thinks we're drawing a parallel between the Lamesa principal's case and what happened in Ralls school's last week, they're exactly right!—Ralls Banner.

PUT DELINQUENT PARENTS OVER THE BARREL INSTEAD OF KIDS

Maybe we are wrong, but we have an idea that the only way to solve this youth delinquency problem is by regular sessions in the woodshed with parents of children who act the idiotic fools that youth—yes, youth from six to 90—are capable of being at times.

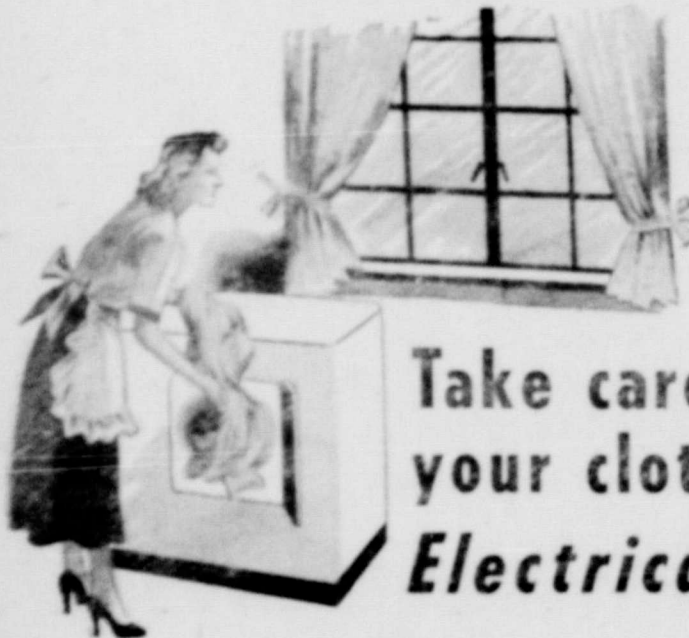

What's the sense of having more courts which waste time; more detention homes; houses of correction, more police force; so long as parents are the idiots and allow kids to run wild, with no parental restraint.

The old time punishment of turning the old folks over the barrel when the kids go wild is not a bad idea—not a bad idea at all.

The cussedness of the kids of this generation may largely be laid at the door of carelessness and neglect of parents during the war years when every one was running wild trying to become rich at the expense of war spending.

Let's put the blame where the blame belongs.—The Canyon News.

Growing plants without soil is a method known by several names, some of which are soilless culture, water culture, chemical gardening, hydroponics and tank farming.

Take care of your clothes Electrically

EVER stop to think of what a beating your clothes take when hanging on the line on a windy spring day?

That whipping wind tosses them, pulls them, twists them, detracting every minute from their future usefulness to you.

That can be easily avoided through the use of a scientifically designed labor saving home clothes dryer. In this economical machine, gentle puffs of warm air remove the moisture from your wash, leaving it toast dry. You'll avoid, too, the trouble of bundling up to go out to "hang up clothes" and resulting colds and sniffles.

Put an electrical clothes dryer on your list of electrical needs...you'll like it.

Your appliance dealer will gladly give you a demonstration of the efficiency of the new automatic clothes dryers. See him soon.

THE HIDE HUNT

AN HISTORICAL EPISODE OF LIFE IN THE GREAT SOUTHWEST

BY J. EVETTS HALEY
ILLUSTRATED BY H. D. BUGBEE

IN THE ENTIRE story of the chase—in all the annals of hunting—there is nothing to compare with the slaughter of the American buffalo. In the scope of territory involved, in the number of men engaged, in the systematic destruction of millions of great beasts, and in its economic significance, the hide hunt stands alone.

It drew its devotees from around the world, especially English sportsmen and European explorers, and artists and writers to depict and record its vivid life and wild appeal. But in its final and efficient stages, it drew its hosts of hunters from the rough and rugged, aggressive and adventurous men of the American frontier. In this period it attracted the active interest of the great fur and hide companies as big, if bloody, business—employing thousands of hunters, skippers, freighters and camp men.

Its rise was sounded by the roar of the Sharps' rifles from the Canadian border to the lower breaks of the Staked Plains. While the robe business had engaged the northwestern Indian traders for decades, the real hunt boomed and practically passed with the decade of the seventies. It was a matter of genuine historic significance. For the passing of the buffalo and the destruction of the Indians' larder meant the passing of the Indian problem on the western plains, and the opening of this vast region to ranching.

At one time this hardy animal—this shaggy mountain of beef—ranged from the Atlantic tideland into the Rocky Mountains, and from the great Slave Lake in the Arctic clear down into Mexico. Its range had been slowly beaten back by the inroads of the settlers until, at the end of the Civil War, it was fairly restricted to the Great Plains area, reaching from just below the Conchos to well above the Canadian border.

Seasonally, it moved, in keeping with that strange but elemental urge; migrating north with the rise of grass in the spring, and back south with the subtlest suggestion of approaching fall. The building of the transcontinental rail lines in the late sixties and early seventies cut the herd in two. With convenient points of supply and transportation thus provided, the business of hunting buffalo for their hides almost immediately came to life.

In 1872, the village of Dodge City, in western Kansas, became the center of this incipient trade in the Southwest. Below there, clear to the Colorado and the Conchos, grazed the greatest concentration of big game ever witnessed by the eye of man. East, among the settlements, existed a demand for fine and finished robes. Here was the supply; back there the demand. Still hostile Indians, extremely jealous of further inroads upon their wild game, made the hunt a hazardous pursuit.

It did not matter to those with the hardihood to venture! Rugged men made up their outfits along the railroads. With bar lead, kegs of powder and scant supplies—for wild meat was their fare—they headed out in every direction from Dodge City. With genuine knowledge of animal nature, they got their stands on the individual groups that made up vast herd, and with guns mounted on their rest-sticks, killed them in bunches. Meanwhile, they lived on rich roasts of buffalo hump, tongue, and roasted marrow bone while their outfits skinned them by the thousands, pegged the hides on the ground to dry, baled flint hides high on their wagons and freighted them back across the sea of buffalo grass for shipment from Dodge City.

Thus harassed by a continual the main southern herd drifted south. The hunters followed in the spring of 1874, and met them on migration north, on and below Canadian, in the Panhandle of Texas in the heart of the Indians' hunting range. And here the Comanches, Kiowas—supposedly held on reserves in the Territory—fell on hunters in wrath to wreak their terrible vengeance. Many scattered herds were killed, but the fight at the trading post of Adobe Walls, on the Canadian, taught the Indians the power of the Sharps' rifles and the accuracy of the hunters' eyes.

And so the slaughter went on concentrated fury around Fort Griffin and the foot of the Plains down through 1878, when the bulk of the southern herd, estimated in excess of three million animals, was killed. Then the Indians, with insufficient food to sustain them, were forced back on the paternalism of the federal government.

And thus, at last peace came to the far-flung frontier settler while the good tight turf of the buffalo grazer's richest cover for these swept Plains—beckoned to the legged men who made their lives in the dust of cattle.

Two From Lockney Make Tech Honor Roll

Edwin D. Langford, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Langford, and William T. Teuton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Teuton, each made the fall honor roll at Texas Technological College, Lubbock, according to an announcement made this week. Each of these students made an average of B plus.

Aristotle's most famous pupil was Alexander The Great.

WATCH IT, MR. PRESIDENT! . . . President Harry S. Truman apparently is having rough going as he descends a ladder from the hatch of a Northrup YB-49 after inspecting the giant "flying wing" at a ground display of the latest air force fighters and bombers at Andrews base, Maryland. Corbin Supports Gilmer-Aiken Bill

AUSTIN—Senator Kilmer Corbin of Lamesa strongly supported the second of a series of Gilmer-Aiken educational bills last week after the highly controversial measure was amended several times.

Corbin and other West Texas senators added amendments to the bill that will provide for greater transportation aid to the sparsely settled areas that they represent, also guaranteeing at least as many teachers as the small schools now have.

Senator Corbin this week also introduced a bill that will set up a Commodity Distribution Agency for the purpose of aiding the school lunch program, dependent children, the aged, needy and blind. He voiced the opinion that this measure will meet with little opposition.

A bill that will benefit the rural areas of the state with more farm-to-market roads quickly passed the senate this week. It would provide $1,250,000.00 a month for the next two years for rural roads.

"I want to do my part to help set up some kind of definite policy on rural roads," Senator Corbin said in urging passage of the bill.

1,000 Expected At WTSC Band Clinic

CANYON—Gold braid and marching feet will be the order of the day on March 15 when over 1,000 high school band students congregate on the West Texas State College campus for the Sixth Annual High School Band Clinic. The Lockney High School band will be among those attending.

M. J. Newman, band director, has announced that the featured work by a select band under an outstanding guest conductor will be discontinued this year. "While the clinics have been quite successful, we have felt that there was not enough work and inspiration for those students who were not chosen for the clinic band," he explained.

A totally different kind of clinic will be held this year, according to Newman. "There will be activities all day for everyone from the directors to the beginners in specific groups," he said. Concerts will be given by the Amarillo and Plainview High School bands and by the WT band.

Sectional clinics for each instrument and for student conductors will be held with members of the Amarillo Philharmonic Orchestra in specialist capacities.

Also on the day's program will be showings of the latest visual aid films in the field of music education.

Directors of the Amarillo Philharmonic have voted to give all the available seats for their concert that night in Amarillo to the clinic guests.
