Early Symptoms Of Cancer Are Given

HOUSTON—Although Texans rate cancer as one of the most dangerous diseases they know, more than half of them do not know any cancer symptoms. J. Louis Neff, executive director of the Texas Division of the American Cancer Society, said today, in discussing the 1949 educational and membership drive of the Society.

"Not only is the public to a large extent uninformed concerning cancer danger signals, but three out of ten people of the general American population give incorrect or misleading symptoms," Mr. Neff added.

"This is a dangerous situation and one which makes the American Cancer Society's fight to control cancer in Texas much more difficult. We have found that those who most frequently give wrong symptoms for disease heard those incorrect symptoms from equally uninformed persons. These Texans are playing directly into the hands of cancer crooks and are often delaying cancer treatment until it is too late for recovery."

The executive director pointed out that Texans can learn accurate information from their family doctor, from cancer information centers now being set up about the state by county units of the American Cancer Society, and by news stories such as this, published by local newspapers in the interest of public health.

Mr. Neff listed the following as the only true accurate early symp-

- toms of cancer:
- (1). Any sore that does not heal, particularly about the tongue, mouth or lip.
 - (2). A painless lump or thickening, especially on the breast, lip or tongue.
 - (3). Irregular bleeding or discharge from any body opening.
 - (4). A wart, mole, or birthmark that suddenly starts to grow or change color.
 - (5). Persistent indigestion suddenly appearing in middle life.
 - (6). Any change in normal bowel habit, if persistent.
 - (7). Persistent hoarseness, unexplained cough, or difficulty in swallowing.

Record X-Rays For 1852 Persons

The Texas State Department of Health's x-ray mobile unit announced Saturday night at the close of a week spent in the county that 1,852 persons, an average of more than 300 per day, had visited the Chamber of Commerce office where they set up to have chest x-rays made as a precautionary measure in the interest of the individual and public health.

The figures representing the number of persons x-rayed is a rather high percentage and indicates better than average cooperation and interest, it was indicated.

Expression of the thanks of the technicians of the Department of Health and of the Chamber of Commerce and Board of County Development which was instrumental in getting the visit of the mobile unit here, were profuse. Not only were there ample and able aides for handling the crowds and for making those who came for the test at ease, but the general public was quite helpful and responsive, said a statement issued by Robert H. Crowell, C. of Co. manager.

Their First Soap

BERLIN, GERMANY—Two tiny frauleins work up a lather with the first soap received in Berlin through the CARE soap drive. German children like these have never seen honest-to-goodness soap. Bob Hope, who saw their plight when he was abroad last year, is continuing to urge support of the CARE campaign on his radio show. The drive lasts till August 1, during which time Lever Brothers will donate one cake of soap for every two Swan wrappers sent to CARE, Boston 1, Massachusetts. CARE delivers the soap to the children overseas.

Texas 4-H Girls Canning Year-Round Supply Of Foodstuff

It'll be June in January for Texas 4-H families when it comes to eating fruits and vegetables next winter. Girls enrolled in the 1949 National 4-H Canning Achievement program have learned to estimate family food needs, and have their food preservation plans pretty well worked out. They are doing a lot to top last year's national output of 17 million quarts canned by 4-H Club girls.

In addition to providing healthful, nutritious dishes for daily meals, the canning project cuts food costs considerably. Most of the produce, meat and poultry canned is raised on the home farm. The girls are aware of the importance of fruits and vegetables in the winter diet, and see to it that there's a plentiful variety served at the family table. To exhibit prize jars of sparkling jellies, cool green pickles and bright colored vegetables is the ambition of every girl.

Records are kept of amount, kind and value of canned products, giving Texas 4-H'ers an opportunity to qualify for merit awards in the program provided by the Kerr Glass Manufacturing corporation. Betty Blackerby of Whitewright was the 1948 state champion, winning a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. She also won Grayson county medal of honor. Other county winners were: Doris Rudolph, Atascosa; Lucille Wilhelm, Bastrop; Charlotte Hinshaw, Carson; Callista Heck, Castro; Patsy Bass, Delta; Mildred Williamson, Harris; Elaine Schonfeld, Kleberg; Louise Garrett, Liberty; Momm Goodpasture, Lubbock; Winnell Hall, Marion; Loretta Davis, Montague; Sally Fitzgerald, Nacogdoches; Jane Bilbeck, Wharton; Mary Joe Stevens, Wood.

Rheumatic Heart Is Threat To Children

AUSTIN, TEXAS.—The disabling and often fatal disease of children, rheumatic heart disease, is one of the leading causes of death among children and young adults in the age group 10 to 25 years.

Unfortunately, there has been developed for this disease no vaccine such as we have for smallpox, diphtheria and whooping cough, but by recognizing the early symptoms and obtaining a competent physician's diagnosis and treatment, some of the damaging results of rheumatic heart disease can be prevented or moderated.

The State Health Officer, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, says that "in general the early symptoms of rheumatic fever are pain and swelling in the joints of the knees, ankles, elbows or wrists. The pain is felt usually in one of these joints, and spreads frequently to others. Often a doctor's examination of a child who becomes irritable and cross without apparent cause, cries easily, and develops nervous habits, will disclose the presence of rheumatic heart disease."

Predisposing causes to this serious illness include frequent chilling, living in damp, steamy quarters, poor diet, frequent colds, and sometimes scarlet fever or other infections caused by certain streptococcus germs. All such conditions should be avoided if at all possible.

Protection for children against rheumatic heart disease, should include a thorough physical examination by a physician at least once a year; a well balanced and nourishing diet; sufficient rest and sleep, and dressing at all times in accordance with the temperature of the room or playground. Consult a physician at once if any symptom suggests that this disease may be present or in the process of developing.

HOW TO SHOOT A RIFLE

By ARTHUR E. COOK
National and Olympic Rifle Champion

Sighting

Gun sights are used to point the rifle at the target and it is important to learn to sight perfectly. An error of 1/10 inch in sight alignment will place the bullet two inches from the center of a target only 50 feet away—a bad miss.

If you have the rear peep and front post sight combination on your rifle, aim as shown at top left, centering the top of the post in the peep hole. With an open rear sight (right above) center the top of the post on a level with the top of the rear sight before directing the aim on the target. Notice that when shooting at bullseye targets you aim at the bottom of the bull rather than at the center. That is because you are likely to lose sight of the black post within the black bullseye.

Aiming and shooting at bullseye targets is not only a great sport with many thousands of adherents throughout the world, but it is also the finest training for any kind of shooting. If you can't hit a bullseye that is standing still how can you expect to hit a live target that is moving?

(This instruction based on the booklet, "HOW TO SHOOT A RIFLE," published by The National Rifle Association, Washington, D. C.)

CHERRIES GALORE!

Fritz Schacht, who lives on the former Lloyd Wofford place at the southwest edge of Lockney, brought in two bunches of cherries he had picked from a tree at his place this week. One bunch, the heart cherry, had around 75 or 80 cherries on a branch about 12 inches long. Another branch of equal length bearing the Royal Ann cherries had an equal number on it. The cherries had been damaged a little by hail but were well shaped and excellent flavor.

THE WEST WINS A ROUND

The agreement between the Soviet Union and the Western powers to lift the blockade of Berlin and to reopen mutual discussions of the German problem, is generally considered to be a major victory for the West in the "cold war." It would be manifestly unwise to believe that the situation is susceptible to not other interpretation—the Kremlin has pulled many a clever trick in the past, and things are not always what they seem to be on the surface. However, the Russian blockade failed entirely to get the planned result, and the Soviet policy makers have apparently accepted that as a demonstrated fact and are embarked in a new tactical direction.

The Berlin blockade will make a colorful page in history if for only one reason—the way the air lift broke it. No one, save a few American military experts—and they had their doubts—believed that great city, war torn and with few resources of its own, could be indefinitely supplied by air. But the air lift did the near impossible. Food, coal, and all the rest of the necessities came in by thousands of tons each day, weather notwithstanding. The British helped materially. Every possible plane was pressed into service and kept flying.

The job was done without regard to cost or risk. At times planes arrived and departed from Tempelhof air-drome at two-minute intervals day and night. Berlin was fed and sheltered. The air lift was the weapon that made the blockade untenable. But, if Russia has really decided it is necessary to come to terms with the West, there must be other reasons back of it. One may be that the Beas has bit off all and perhaps more than he can chew for the time being. The job of consolidating the countries behind the iron curtain is incredibly difficult. It is no secret that millions of people in Czechoslovakia, Hungary and elsewhere are restive under Soviet dictation. Russia is making an all-out effort to increase her industrial production, particularly in the heavy-goods field. The drain of her military establishment on her resources is enormous. Under these circumstances, the Politburo may have understandably decided that a prolonged truce with the West, if not a real peace, is desirable.

No one should minimize the reverses the West has received in China. It will be a miracle if the Nationalist government survives as an effective influence. However, it is doubtful if the Chinese reds will do much for their Russian friends. Stalin is said to have compared Chinese communists to a radish—red outside and white inside. They have a job on their hands within China, without trying to help extend the Soviet ideology throughout the world.

North Texas State Now Pays For Water

DENTON.—Denton's largest water user became a paying customer this week following the first meeting of North Texas State College's newly-created board of regents, at which regents approved President W. J. McConnell's recommendation on water rates.

Under authorization granted by the present legislature, the new board ended the "free water" situation which has existed since 1899. At that time the city agreed to furnish free water to the school if it was made a state institution. Expansion of water usage by the college caused the city to ask payment for water. The city shut off mains to some portions of the college last summer.

Water payments, which recently began, will cost the college approximately $1,800 per month, Business Manager Robert Caldwell estimated.

Ludwig II was called the Mad King of Bavaria.

ON PROFANE LANGUAGE

There was an awful lot of name calling in Washington this last week. That is, there was a lot of name calling, out loud. It's an old American custom for people to call names, especially when the lambasted one is not present, and particularly of people who are in the public eye when one does not agree with them politically. . . . Terms that were once bandied mostly in private conversation and on a men-only basis have been so commonly used in public places recently that they're likely to become common nouns. They appear in print almost unexpurgated. . . . It's said that the use of profanity marks a limited vocabulary and is a sign of incompetence and unbalance. . . . We believe that is true, and that it indicates, too, uncontrolled temper.

No one can make a successful defense of the use of vile language and profanity, not even those most habitually addicted to it. . . . Not being in position to cast a lot of stones at those who are guilty, we merely state the subject broadly. We never heard of a stone bomeranging, but they do ricochet. . . . When we laugh or smile when one publicly loses his temper and huris vile epithets probably we're laughing at the plight of the man who's so hot and bothered as much as we are of the one he's vilifying.—Note Book Scraps in The Plainview Herald.

MORAL EROSION

We hear and read much nowadays about soil erosion, wasting our natural resources, and generally throwing away our substance in the mad race for wealth and pleasure. At the same time, we read that the Texas House of Representatives, only last Wednesday, voted a bill calling for 10 million dollars to be used for soil conservation. And one of the larger appropriation bills before Congress is for reclamation and conservation of resources.

Side by side with the proper use of material resources, we are devoting vast sums of money to education, to the effort to increase, or at least maintain, the mental calibre of the nation. Along with the news from Austin last Wednesday, a report in the same paper from Harrisville, RI, told of a minister arguing before a church convention that everything in life is a gamble. The minister is the Reverend Albert Perry, who spoke against a resolution condemning gambling.

The Reverend Mr. Perry said that if ministers drew a line on gambling they might as well close up their churches. He explained that his church held raffles, card parties, and penny socials and that he intended to continue doing so. The minister concluded his remarks by saying that business, marriage, and life itself are all gambles.

The article did not name the Reverend Mr. Perry's denomination, or give any particulars about the nature of the convention. But it tells quite a bit about the mental and morality of the Reverend Mr. Perry in briefing his remarks before the convention.

If the Reverend Mr. Perry has no better conception of the teachings, morals, and life of Jesus than to describe life as "a gamble," then his church might as well close. If he follows the fatalistic line that the "end justifies the means" he is most assuredly in the wrong profession. If he is naive as to think that he can turn his church into a gambling den on Friday night, and presto change it back to a Christian sanctuary on Sunday, then he is either too stupid or too immoral to wear the cloth.

The whole idea of gambling is getting money from people without giving anything in return, whether it is a colored dice hustler in a back alley or the Reverend Mr. Perry's church. It is gambling, not religion nor any part thereof. How widespread this idea of raising money for church purposes is we do not know; but from the bold way in which Mr. Perry defended his position, one would suppose that it has some support in the churches. And if so, we point to it as a very evident example of moral erosion.

Two years ago the schools of Springfield, Mass., set up a special class, as an experiment, called "A Program of Education for Democracy." The press of the country, particularly the educational publications, called special attention to the daring innovation. Innovation? The very novelty of the idea, or rather the innovation it created, points out the basic weakness of our educational system. The schools should have been and should be now teaching little else but "Education for Democracy."

A short time ago one of the witnesses in the Communist espionage scandal in Washington confessed that she had been a Communist for 10 years. She was a graduate of one of our better known women's colleges, but sat on the stand that she had never had any studies in American history, knew nothing about democracy and had never heard of the word while she was in high school and college.

These so-called "courses" were no doubt taught in her schools, but they were "elective," that is, the students could take them or not, as they elected. Most of them ignored the courses. The textbooks in both history and civics are written by learned and cloistered schoolmen who know nothing about what goes on off the campus. It is quite possible that the students realized they would be wasting time on the dull, inane verbiage of the learned nincompoops who write the text books. A case of mental erosion, so to speak.

We've coasted quite long enough on the structure built for us in the 19th and the first decade of the present century. Isn't it about time we took a survey of our society, and re-established ourselves on the firm foundations of moral and mental responsibility as conceived by the builders of the state and nation?—The Amarillo Daily News.

Thoughts For The Week

"In my Father's house are many mansions . . . I go to prepare a place for you" . . . although the master prepares a place for us we must prepare ourselves for that place.

Whatever our profession or work. God calls all of us to be Christlike.

SHOOT A RIFLE

ARTHUR E. COOK
Olympic Rifle Champion

not actually fire you can see your mistakes. Another thing—while squeezing the trigger stop breathing and relax. The rise and fall of the chest while breathing will throw your sights off the target. Relaxation will reduce your pulse beat, which is another disturbing factor in precision aiming. One final hint—always follow through. By that I mean keep looking through the sights at the target even after the shot is fired. This prevents movement of the gun before the shot has left the muzzle and often enables you to see where your shot hit when you are shooting in the field.

Miss Mary Lou Keller And L. Godfrey Wed

An impressive double ring ceremony Saturday, May 21, at four o'clock in the afternoon, united in marriage Miss Mary Lou Keller and Larry Godfrey. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Keller, Route Three, Plainview and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Godfrey, Aiken.

The vows were exchanged in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Maddox, grandparents of the groom, before an arch of red roses, Reverend W. H. Magee officiated.

The bride was attractive in a white silk crepe street-length dress. Her finger-tip-length veil fell from a halo of pink roses. Her dress was accented by a corsage of pink rose buds and she carried a white Bible topped with pink rose buds and showered with pale pink and white streamers.

For something new, she carried a Bible; for something borrowed, a string of pearls; for something old, a ring; and for something blue, earrings.

Donald Keller, brother of the bride attended the couple as best man. Mrs. Jeff Hutchinson, sister of the groom, was matron-of-honor. She wore a grey dress, a corsage of pink roses, and a halo of white rosebuds with shoulder-length-veil. Melba Jo Hutchinson, niece of the groom, served as ring bearer.

Mrs. Godfrey graduated from Plainview High School and is employed at Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Mr. Godfrey attended high school at Diehlstadt, Mo., and Lockney. He is now farming near Aiken.

A small reception followed the ceremony. Cake and punch were served to Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Keller, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Maddox, Mrs. Raymond Sills, Mrs. Jeff Hutchinson and Melba Jo, Reverend and Mrs. W. H. Magee, Miss Wanda Maddox, Donald Keller and Glenn Maddox.

OUR DEMOCRACY by Mat THE "FORTY-NINERS" 1849-1949

WHEN GOLD WAS DISCOVERED IN CALIFORNIA, THOUSANDS OF AMERICANS LEFT THEIR FAMILIES AND HOMES, TO STAKE EVERYTHING—EVEN THEIR LIVES—ON THE CHANCE OF FINDING GOLD. THEY WERE WILLING TO SACRIFICE WHAT ECONOMIC SECURITY THEY ENJOYED IN THE HOPE OF "STRIKING IT RICH."

THE SPIRIT OF ADVENTURE—OF TAKING A CHANCE—REMAINS STRONG IN AMERICA. SINCE 1849, HOWEVER, OUR ECONOMIC OPPORTUNITIES HAVE BROADENED GREATLY.

THE MODERN "FORTY-NINER", IN SEEKING NEW FIELDS OF ENDEAVOR, PLACES LESS RELIANCE ON CHANCE AND MORE ON THE MEASURED RISK—GREATER RELIANCE ON THE FACTORS OF HARD WORK, INGENUITY AND THRIFT.

Cox Recommends Clean-Up With Spray Job

AUSTIN, TEXAS—During the last several summers, considerable enthusiasm was shown by various local organizations such as Chamber of Commerce, many Civic Organizations, and others in the arranging of a fly eradication program. Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, says that for taking interest in this work, the responsible parties are to be commended.

However, without year-round community sanitation the ultimate result, which is so important has not always been too successful; in some areas this has given rise to rumors that flies are DDT resistant.

"The Texas State Department of Health heartily endorses a fly spraying program, provided it includes a general clean-up program carried out during the entire year," Dr. Cox said.

"For example, why spray a garbage heap that not only invites but actually breeds flies when it should have been removed. Why spray the city dump when it really should be covered. I fear the unplanned spraying program is similar to the application of perfume or toilet water to overcome B. O. or the application of powder to cover dirt."

In a well-planned fly control program, Dr. Cox declared, all places where flies gather, such as dumps, rubbish piles, garbage piles, decaying vegetation should be cleared up by hauling away and burning. Proper garbage and rubbish containers with fly tight covers should be demanded from all. All buildings should be screened. Then, secure a sprayer outfit, preferably with one or more hoses each manned by a skilled operator to spray the areas where flies and other insects will light. It does little good to spray the center of the street, the ball diamond, or the sidewalks. Spray the surfaces where insects light or breed.

A residual spray remains active until the DDT washes off or is covered with grease, dirt or soot. This usually lasts four to six weeks. After that, a second spray is recommended provided the item of clean-up is still being carried out.

Tech Purchases Fine Registered Bull

LUBBOCK—The animal husbandry department of Texas Technological college recently purchased a registered Jersey bull for future use in the college's artificial breeding program.

The newest Jersey bull, Smith's Crest Signal, is the son of Signal Commander, who is the son of Observer's Blonde Signal, rated very good and winner of gold and silver medals of merit. Signal Commander's dam is Welcome Volunteer Sable who holds a record production of 1034 pounds of fat.

Smith's Crest Signal's dam is China Cup's Gamboque Foxy, an unofficial ton of gold cow, rated so by the Dairy Herd Improvement association.

The college purchased the bull from the J. J. Smith Jersey farm near Petersburg.

Site Selected For Plainview High School

The new main building for the Plainview High School will face east on Quincey street between 14th and 16th streets, under tentative plans of the board. Options for purchase of the 15-acre site have been exercised and abstract and papers are being examined, said R. Q. Silverthorne, another trustee, to conclude negotiations and take title to the property in the name of the Plainview independent school district.

Various architectural firms will be notified and negotiations will start immediately for plans and specifications, Silverthorne said Saturday.

The purchased site will be paid for when the bonds are sold or funds available, it was stated.

Eighty-one lots are included in the site, which was purchased at a total consideration of $44,800. Included is a five-room modern home, belonging to W. B. Spillman, which is to be sold immediately.

This site lies west and north of the Warren White, Clinton Walter and J. E. Roberson homes, which face east on Quincey.

It starts on West 13th street at the alley behind the White home, west to Smyth on 13th street or the southwest corner; north to 16th as the northwest corner; a distance of three blocks; east to 16th and Quincey for the northeast corner; south on Quincey to 14th, thence a half block west, thence south to the beginning place.

PUBLIC NOTICES NOW MANDATORY—Governor Beauford Jester is shown here as he affixes his signature to Senate Bill No. 375. The Bill, known as the Mandatory Publication Law, requires that all public notices called for by Texas Statutes be published, or the official responsible for such publication suffer loss of salary, or removal from office for neglect of Covered by the law are all public officers of the state, counties, cities, and school districts. Governor Jester signed the bill into law June 8, and it became immediately effective.
