Rural Electricity Consumption Is Doubled In 2 Yrs.

Use of electricity by rural people served through the REA program has nearly doubled in the last two years according to the announcement made by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in a report on the Rural Electrification Administration's progress during the 1949 fiscal year. This is attributed to the greatly expanded use of electricity by old consumers as well as the addition of new consumers to the rural lines.

Over 170,000 miles of line were energized, which was an increase of 42% over the year 1948. On June 30, 1949, REA borrowers were operating a total of $36,000 miles of lines. During the last quarter of the year 1948 REA borrowers added consumers to their lines at the rate of 2,750 each working day. On June 30, 1949, REA borrowers were serving approximately 2,765,000 consumers.

More loans were approved during the fiscal year than in any previous year and nearly as much as was approved during the first years of the REA program.

In Texas 124,449 miles of lines serve 280,946 members.

On the local scene the Floyd County Rural Electric is serving some 1,700 consumers on 1,000 miles of line. Under construction at the present time is 258 miles to serve an additional 350 members.

Mrs. Scheele was some improved Thursday, it was reported here.

Architects Submit Courthouse Plans

FLOYDADA.—The Commissioners Court of Floyd County has viewed preliminary plans and sketches and heard a report on the probable cost of re-building of the county's court house or of removing it and building a new structure in its place.

M. L. Stiles, of Haynes & Kirby, Lubbock architects, submitted the proposals and went over the situation with the court.

Should the court adopt the plan as submitted for rehabilitating the old structure it would have two floors and basement and a wing would be added on both the north and south sides and would entail a cost of $300,000. Of this $16,000 is estimated as required to re-do the basement floor and $48,000 of it to put the first floor of the present structure into new condition. For equipment $22,000 would be needed and $28,000 for air conditioning. Net cost to the taxpayers would be $200,000 after the county applies the $100,000 fire insurance money on the cost.

When finished this proposed building would be 130 feet in length north and south and 70 feet wide. The plans call for eliminating one corridor and eliminating more than half of the exterior flights of steps.

Should the court adopt the plan for a new building without any changes the architects estimate the cost at $410,000. This would be a building 134 feet in length and 76 feet wide.

Jones of Sweetwater; Mrs. Eula Chanault of Tullia, and Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Honea of Lockney. All those present are grandchildren of the late S. W. Smith, founder of the old Lockney Christian College. A picnic style lunch was served and an enjoyable time was had by all.

CITY-WIDE GARBAGE PICK-UP SYSTEM STARTED THIS WEEK

What is hoped to be a workable and satisfactory garbage collection system for the city began here Tuesday morning. Under the direction of Brownie McDowell, a garbage truck will pick up garbage in the residential district twice a week and in the business district every day, officials announced.

Mr. McDowell said that his truck will cover the area west of Main Street Tuesday and Saturday of each week and the area east of Main Street on Monday and Friday of each week.

Residents are asked to cooperate by having their garbage setting in a covered can in the alley on these days so that it can be picked up.

During wet weather when the alleys will be impassable the resident should set the garbage can on the front curb so that it can be picked up from the street, Mr. McDowell said.

No charge will be made to the resident or the business house for the garbage collection, it was said. Mr. McDowell is not making a charge for the collection.

Local Boys Will Attend National Plane Contests

J. Verne Dumont and Harold Hall of Lockney will leave Sunday or Monday for Olathe, Kansas, where they will attend the National Model Airplane Contests July 26 through July 31. Both boys will enter planes in the contests.

Verne won first place in the Class A open free flight contest at the Lubbock Plymouth plane contests held last week end at the Lubbock Air Force base. He also won second place in the Class B contest. He will enter planes in the same contests at the national meet.

Verne also plans to enter a model plane in the PAA load event at the national meet. This contest has a $500 first prize.

Harold will enter a plane in the Class D precision stunt flying. In this contest the owner keeps the plane in tow by means of a fine wire and put it through stunts and precision events. He entered the event at Lubbock but the high wind of the day prevented a good performance.

Over 1,000 contestants are expected to attend the national meet and an entertaining program has been planned. On the last day of the meet the Navy will present a full scale air show.

Verne received one large trophy and a smaller for his winning first and second place at the Lubbock show.

Public Invited To Sand Hill Services

The public is cordially invited to attend worship services at the Sandhill schoolhouse on Sunday afternoon, July 24. Services will begin at 2:30.

This is the regular service conducted by Commissioned Evangelist of the Church of the Nazarene Mrs. Bennie M. Rose.

Mrs. R. E. L. Stutts returned Tuesday from Tyler, Texas where she visited her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Reynolds. Mrs. Reynolds has been ill but is some improved at present.

Everyone is urged to obtain covered containers for their garbage and, contrary to a former request, do not wrap the garbage in paper. Keep the burnable trash separate from the garbage. Also keep the tin cans and other things of this nature separate from both garbage and burnable trash.

A block wardens meeting was held Tuesday night under the direction of Rev. N. S. Daniel, chairman of the inspection committee. Plans were made to have reports made on any condition existing which might contribute to disease.

General chairman Joe Holt held a meeting of the steering committee on Monday night at which various situations were discussed and a solution sought for them.

One point brought out by Mr. Holt was that those residents who have their own water well should have their water checked by the State Department of Health. In at least one case of polio in this county, a contaminated well was found. The city water has been tested several times and found to be in good condition.

Block wardens in addition to those named last week have been announced as follows: Lowell Copeland, Clyde Stowe, Ed Carter, Newt Daniel, J. E. Huggins, Condie Davis, John Bilibrey, Ike Dodson, C. C. Hackney, H. B. Maehen, Jesse Cox, Hugh Carroll, Ted Livesay, Hugh Gilbert, Whiteie Baccus, Marvin Gilbert, Carl McAdams, Douglas Degge, F. L. Montandon, and Charles Baxter.

Eight Injured In Auto Wreck

Eight people were injured, three of them seriously, when a car and pickup truck collided late Saturday afternoon on Highway 70 in the west edge of Lockney.

C. D. McCandless, farmer living just east of town, suffered a broken knee cap and other injuries. E. D. Blakley, a tile mason who had been working here suffered a fractured jaw and bruises. Hugh Hodges of Henderson, a negro field hand suffered head and knee injuries. All were treated at the Floyd County Cooperative Hospital here and have been released.

Several other Negro hands were treated for minor bruises and cuts.

McCandless was pulling a trailer load of cotton field workers behind his car when his car and a pickup driven by Blakley collided.

Charges of driving while drunk and aggravated assault with a motor vehicle have been filed against Blakley, it was reported to The Beacon.

L. W. Chapman, manager of the Floyd County Rural Electric Cooperative, Inc., and Mrs. Nancy Morckel, home electrification advisor for the cooperative, attended the tri-state meeting, Texas, New Mexico and Arizona, for managers and advisers, held at the high school library in Clovis, N. M., on July 11, 12 and 13. Among those having a part in the program were George Dillon, assistant chief, A. & L. division, REA, D. W. Teare and Miss Oneta Litter, also from REA application and loans division, and Miss Betty Williams, new regional adviser for the tri-state area. The meeting was well planned and very interesting, the Floyd County people report.

The Naval Medical Research Unit No. 1, at the University of California at Berkeley, directed in 1943 to investigate possible enemy use of infectious disease as a weapon, has not only gained considerable knowledge of mass defense against disease, but also has assimilated invaluable information for the control of communicable airborne diseases among peacetime populations. Hog Is Nature's 'Mech Harvester'

Mother Nature's own "mechanical harvester"—the hog—is a labor-saver that has some advantages over man-made machines, such as the corn or cotton picker or grain combine.

Properly used in hogging-off crops, swine not only do the work of harvesting, but produce meat cheaply at the same time—something no machine can do.

Hogging-off grains, sweet potatoes, peanuts and other crops saves labor, saves storage space, aids sanitation in hog raising and returns rich manure to the land on which the crops were grown. Morrison's "Feeds and Feeding", standard feeding textbook, reviews experiments proving that hogging-off grains is an economical practice, and makes gains fully as rapidly as feeding pigs in the dry lot. Water, shade, minerals and a protein supplement are all that are needed when pigs are turned in fields for harvesting crops.

Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station recently demonstrated that hogs need a protein supplement just as much when harvesting grains as when fed in the dry lot. In this test, 25 pounds of protein supplement produced 36 pounds of extra gain when the protein supplement was fed at the rate of one-half pound daily per pig.

An efficient protein supplement mixture consists of 40 pounds of cottonseed meal, 40 pounds of tankage and 20 pounds of alfalfa meal. One-half to one pound of the mixture, per pig daily, may be hand-fed dry, or mixed with water at feeding time. If grain is very abundant in the field, the protein supplement may be self-fed; but if grain is scarce, pigs will neglect the grain if the protein supplement is self-fed.

A mineral mixture of equal parts of bone meal, calcium supplement and salt should always be available, along with plenty of fresh water.

Pigs should weigh 75 to 125 pounds when turned fields. They may be finished to a weight of 180 to 200 pounds if grain is plentiful. When grain becomes scarce, pigs should go into the dry lot for finishing.

Marketing hogs when they weigh 180 to 200 pounds is very strongly recommended by livestock authorities this season. Prices favor light-weight hogs, not carrying much fat, and the lighter hogs make more economical gains.

Breeding animals should not be used to hog-off grain fields when grain is plentiful, but will profitably clean up fields after fattening hogs are removed.

The amount of grain available determines the number of pigs to use in a field. With a protein supplement feed, about one bushel of corn daily will be eaten by ten pigs weighing 75 to 100 pounds, or by five shoats weighing 150 to 200 pounds.

Peanuts and soybeans may be hogged-off profitably, but will make undesirable "soft pork" unless pigs are finished on feeds such as cottonseed meal, which make a firm carcass. Pigs may run on peanuts until they weigh 90 pounds, or on soybeans until weighing 100 pounds. They should then be finished on grain and a protein supplement mixture. An economical mixture is: 60 pounds of cottonseed meal, 20 pounds of tankage and 20 pounds of alfalfa leaf meal.

CHIROPRACTORS POINT OUT . . .

DR. D. R. HUET

That all bodily function is directed and controlled by the nervous system. Sensation is carried to the brain over a network of nerve fibers. Responding impulses set the glands and muscles to action in what is called metabolism or normal function.

DR. H. C. LEWIS

Sometimes, however, due to a fall or mishap, these nerve channels become blocked in a measure. This usually occurs when they leave the spinal cord itself. When this occurs, resistance will be lowered and eventually ill health and irritableness may come upon you.

Chiropractors are trained to locate and adjust these spinal displacements. They set the life forces within and soon you are cheerful, happy, yourself again. The thoughts you have and the smiles you wear make the sun shine everywhere, the poet tells us. So do you make the world a little happier.

They include Wayland Baptist College, Oklahoma University, Oklahoma Baptist University, Hoekaday College, Baylor University, Southern Methodist University, Texas Technological College, and Oglethorpe University in Georgia.

Courses to be taught in the six-week summer school will include Spanish and Mexican literature and language, archaeology, music and art. Classes in conversational English will be taught by Mrs. J. P. Woodward, head of the Foreign language Department at Wayland; Mrs. Jewel Ray Witt, Spanish instructor at Plainview High School; and Shelby Collier, head of the Voice Department of Wayland. Collier will also teach private lessons in voice and direct a combined Chorus of Wayland and Guadalajara U. Students.

The group will have an opportunity to visit many points of interest during their six-week stay in Mexico, stated Mrs. Woodward, sponsor of the group. In addition to the natural beauty of Guadalajara and its environs, the group will visit Paracutin volcano; the pyramids at San Juan Teotihuacan, the desert of the lions; Chapultepec castle; the Falls of Juacatlan, the Niagra of Mexico; Chapala, Mexico's largest lake; San Pedro Tlaquepaque, one of the most famous celebrated pottery towns of Mexico; and Barranco de Oblatos, the Grand Canyon of Mexico. They will spend three days in Mexico City and will also attend the celebration at San Juan, an Indian village near Guadalajara, commemorating a battle of the Moors and the Christians.

Edgar S. McFadden, agronomist for the United States Department of Agriculture, stationed at the A. and M. College of Texas since 1925, is credited with having done more than any other living man to feed this hungry world. Breeder of the first rust-resistant bread wheat, named "Hope," he has made it possible to grow wheat on millions of acres throughout the world where it could not be successfully grown before. His discovery is authoritatively credited with having saved American farmers $400,000,000 a year during the past war and with having furnished bread for 25,000,000 people who would have died of starvation. His "Austin" wheat now grows on more than a million Texas acres and his new "Seabreeze" variety is spreading throughout the Gulf Coast area rapidly.

Procedure For Veterans Acquiring Land Is Kept Simple, Giles Says

By BASCOM GILES
Commissioner of the General Land Office and Chairman of the Veterans' Land Board

In keeping with the terms of the legislation creating the Texas Veterans Land Board, its administration and operating policies will be kept as simple as the problems of this huge program will permit.

The fact that approximately 13,000 veterans have already contacted this office for information on the working details of the plan indicates the commendable desire of veterans to own a farm or ranch home under the idea originally conceived by the author five years ago.

Paper work involving application to participate has been cut to the minimum. Each successive step has been shorn of all encumbering delays.

For example, proof of the applicant's eligibility can be established by submitting a certified copy of honorable discharge plus substantiation that the applicant was a resident of Texas at the time he entered military service and is still a legal resident at the time of application, for land program benefits. For those taking advantage of the 90 day priority offered those who have service connected disability sustained in combat, certification of such must accompany the application.

Each veteran will be limited to one purchase not exceeding $7,500 cost to the board. He will then be required to pay not less than five per cent down and execute an on-or-before note for 40 years at three per cent interest for the balance.

Should a purchaser desire to acquire a tract of land costing NOT more than 10,000 he will be required to pay the difference between $7,500 and the purchase price plus the five per cent down payment on the $7,500 loan.

He shall have served not less than 90 days on active duty in some branch of the armed services between September 16, 1940 and December 31, 1946, unless discharged sooner for service connected disabilities. A certified copy of the applicants honorable discharge will be required to be filed with application. In addition, a veteran who leases his land for oil or gas must apply one-half of all bonus and rentals to the retirement of his debt.

The veterans will NOT be required to live upon the property but he will NOT be permitted to dispose of it for a period of three years.

Payments of principal on note with interest will be made on a semi-annual basis. Each veteran will receive a contract of sale from the state and upon final payment he or she will be granted absolute title.

Failure to make payments when due, permits the Board to revoke the contract of purchase and to forfeit the land which can then be offered for resale to other veterans.

A veteran may reinstate his land which has been forfeited, up to the announced dates of resale by payment of a penalty and placing account in good standing.

The Board in its first meeting named Alvis Vandygriff as executive secretary.

Vandygriff, an attorney, who hails from Ennis, Texas, has been serving as Chief Clerk of the General Land Office. He is a veteran of World War II having served as a Major in the Army Air Force. He was selected by the Board to direct the administrative machinery of the new program on the basis of his long experience in the Land Office where the offices and records of the program will be maintained.

Every valley shall be filled, and every mountain and hill shall be brought low, and the crooked shall be made straight, and the rough shall be made smooth.—Luke 3:5.

Few things fall quite so flat as the preaching of trade at home sermons by the fellow who doesn't practice it.

Anyone who can do one thing well has within him the possibility of success. Success is assured if along with his ability he has energy and industry to back up his knowledge. Merely an educated mind isn't enough. One has to have along with it the will to work.

Work is man's greatest blessing. Besides furnishing him his sustenance it serves to take his mind off himself and his troubles. Most of us are so constituted that we can have but one thing to occupy our mind at a time. If we allow it to do so, petty worries will destroy our peace of mind and render us unfit for the important things we have to do. The only remedy that has ever been devised to relieve a troubled, worried mind is to put into the place of the thing that worries, another thought, and make of it the superior interest. Here is where work comes in. The man with a normal power of application can make his work take the place in his mind of every other concern or worry. This is one of the greatest blessings of work.

The county clerk in a Kansas county last year compared the tax roll with the auto license lists. The result was the addition of nearly a million dollars worth of property to the tax roll. This year the county clerk reports 983 more automobiles listed on the tax rolls this year than last. This unusual county clerk also found a number of instances in which car owners had been missed completely by the tax assessors. Some states have laws making such a check compulsory. In the interest of a fair tax return all states should have such a law.

This from a local man: The fact that we haven't been able to reduce the national debt in four years is disturbing to me. The past four years have been the most prosperous in the history of this or any nation, yet we have not been able to pay off any of our debt. When do we expect to commence? When time get to normal or worse it is going to be a lot more difficult to reduce our debt. Why doesn't some one think of that? And here is another thing to think about. If we drift along heading in deeper all the time and are overtaken by another war what do those who are doing the figuring these days plan on doing. I am a small business man, but I know if we keep on piling up debt and not reducing it we are going to reach the point eventually where it will take more than we can earn to pay the interest. Every business man knows what happens when a business reaches that point. I do not feel that I am an alarmist when I say that if we keep on going further and further into debt, we can, and will, reach that point.

If people who drink like a fish would drink what the fish drinks, everything would be all right.

I feel sorry for Judith Coplon, a local man said yesterday. Not that she should not be punished, she should, but that a bright intelligent young woman with her whole life in front of her, a college graduate holding a trusted position with a salary of $4100 a year should be so foolish as to even think of doing anything that might help Russia against this country. She should have thought that in no country but this can a woman reach and hold the position she held or receive the salary she received, and least of all in Russia. The sentence seems severe but it is not out of proportion to the crime.

The army of persons who urge greater and greater centralization of authority and greater and greater dependence upon the federal treasury are really more dangerous to our form of government than any external threat that can possibly be arrayed against us.—General Dwight Eisenhower.

The experts are telling us that the present business decline, recession or whatever one chooses to call it, will last eight or ten months. We don't know that the experts know any thing about it but it is not a bad plan for one to arrange his affairs accordingly. If the thing only lasts seven or eight months there will be ample margin for safety.

"I have been wondering what we would be thinking and doing now," a local man says. "If we had shared, immediately following the war, as several foreign nations wanted us to do, the atomic bomb secret."

Man, after all his ingenuity, seems to be a rather helpless individual. When the Lord blesses him with bountiful crops he complains because he doesn't have any place to put them. Ever think how foolish, childish, and ungrateful that must sound to the Lord?

There is one good thing about a mosquito. If one allows him to sit until he gets his drill inserted in one's epidermis up to the second or third joint he may be readily dispatched with a sound slap.

INVERTED PROPORTIONS

A man in Crosby county goes into an irrigation well house and snatches a battery. He gets five years in the clink. Richard Crowe stole $883,660 from the bank in New York where he was a trusted official. He got three years this week, but complained that the sentence was too long. The man in the battery theft was an unschooled, untutored laborer whose transgression might have been eased because of his ignorance of the demands of society. But the bank official had everything modern society can bestow upon its fortunates—education, position, family, security. Yet his punishment is lighter. In England not so many years ago it was punishable by death to steal a loaf of bread. Nobility, if they stole enough, were either disgraced or knighted, according to the whim of the monarch. Things haven't changed much. The more one steals, it seems, the lesser the crime. Swipe an apple off fruit stand and you're a punk criminal. Steal a million belonging to thrifty widows and old folks and you're regarded more as a financier, a free enterprise whose capacity for "making money" should not be impaired by incarceration in prison.—The Ralls Banner.

THE LAW IS VIOLATED

Two years ago Crosbyton spent $25,000 to extend its sewer line in order that home owners not being served should have the advantages of sewer connections. When the lines were completed, however, it was discovered that materials and labor were scarce, and for this reason no concerted effort was made to enforce the state law requiring that homes on these new lines be tied in.

Trends checked this week, however and found that between 75 and 100 homes in the city which have access to the sewer lines still use unsanitary outdoor toilets. We sympathize, of course, with those who feel that they are unable to connect with the sewer because of the cost, which is high. But we sympathize more with those children who might contract polio this summer because of unsanitary conditions brought on by outdoor toilets. Trends personally thinks it is time that the state law requiring sewer connections be enforced in Crosbyton.—The Crosbyton Review.

DOGS! DOGS!

Most dogs are friendly and lovable whether they are worth a tallow candle or not. But there are three types that I always dread to meet. I never did like a bull dog; he has too stern and ugly a face, like John L. Lewis.

I don't like a German Police. He is too big for a dog, and too vicious. He ought to grow a little more mane and be called a lion.

And then I don't like that "He-won't-bite" old cuss that lies around all day in his master's or his missus's yard and the moment you start to enter he sedately rises up and comes toward you with a menacing growl and just keeps on coming in spite of the missus's protestations that he won't bite. I always try to be brave under such circumstances and to speak to the beast in the most kindly and flattering kind of way, but usually find it necessary to make a strategic retreat until the lady really senses the danger and sternly calls to Old Tige to come back and behave himself.

Such dogs in town are usually short-lived, however. Some night they often contract such fatal disease as poisonitis or maybe it is shotgunitis and the next morning there is a dog funeral in town.

The family, of course, never forgives the mean neighbor or other person from whom they think their darling old dog-devil contracted the disease.—Lynn County News.

How to Store Dry Foods
COFFEE or jam jars with screw tops and pint or quart mason jars make handy receptacles in which to store rice, cereals, spaghetti and other dry foods in cupboard and pantry space which could not otherwise be used.

can be placed at the back and a row of small jars for spices and condiments can make up a front row. You will find the foods stored in this way handy to get at and easy to keep in order.

The space under the jars can be used for dishes or for other packaged foods. This arrangement stretches the space in cupboards and pantries and puts everything in place so that it is unnecessary to lift one package from another when removing items from the shelves. If you have trouble identifying some of the items, such as salt and sugar, flour and baking powder, scissor off a part of the package label and put it along the glass at the bottom of the jar before filling.

This same arrangement can be employed under a shelf over your gas range for spices and condiments that are used often. The jars can be decorated if you wish with decalcomanias or stripes of colorful paint to match your kitchen decoration scheme.

The best time to cut hay to get the most out of it is before it is mature and has become coarse and stemmy. For instance, sudan and johnsongrass are nutritious the first year.

To us it is reassuring that so many folks have invested their money to help us progress with the area we serve. It means also that ownership of Public Service is vested in thousands of folks right around here... teachers, ranchers, small businessmen, churches.

In other words, your Public Service Company belongs to the Panhandle-Plains-Pecos Valley-Eastern New Mexico. Somehow, that's the way things work best... free enterprise and sound business management... together... for a better way of life.

Tech's Largest Aug. Graduating Class To Receive Degrees

LUBBOCK. — The largest August graduating class in the 23-year history of the Texas Technological college will receive degrees Aug. 26 in the first summer commencement since 1946. Three hundred fifty degrees will be conferred.

Gen. Robert J. Smith, president of Pioneer Air Lines and commanding general of the 443rd Troop Carrier wing reserve, will be the principal speaker at the exercises.

General Smith is a veteran of both World Wars, becoming first interested in aviation in 1917. Following his discharge from the service, he began a program of training which was to make him outstanding in the rapidly growing aviation industry.

He obtained an AB degree from Jefferson university and a LLB from Northwestern. In 1925 he became head of the aviation department of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce.

Remaining there until 1938, he went to New York City to become general traffic manager of American Airlines.

Since that time he held a position in the law firm of Clark and Rice and was executive vice president of Braniff Airways in Dallas. He left that company to enter military service in World War II.

As a colonel he acted as deputy commander of the North African division of the Air Transport command with headquarters in Cairo. General Smith commanded bases in Tripolitania, Libya, Saudi Arabia, Palestine, Lebanon, Syria, Iraq, Russia and India.

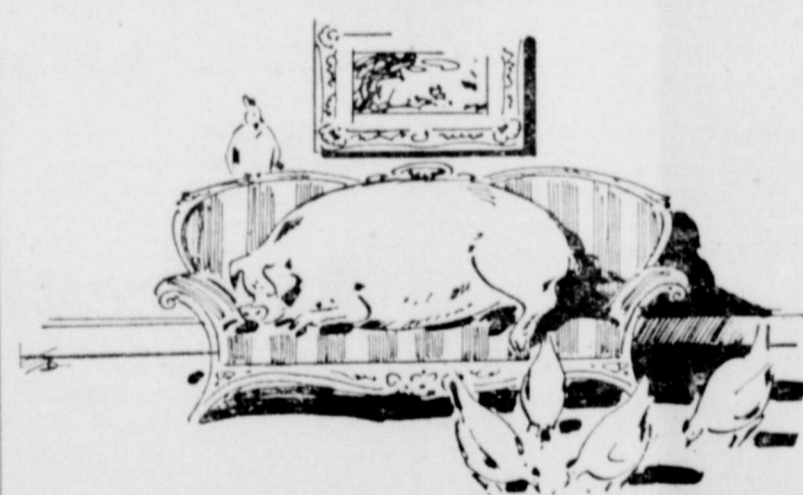

General Smith is a member of the Dallas, Texas and American Bar associations. He is acting president of Aviation Activities, Inc., a member of the Air Force association and a director of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce.

TECH JERSEY HERD CLASSIFIED RECENTLY

LUBBOCK. — Thirty-three Jersey cows of the Texas Technological college herd were classified recently, and the records of these and those previously classified give the herd an average of 81.3, which is good plus.

Those classified were rated as follows: very good, two; good plus, 19; good, 10; fair, two. There were none rated poor. The two cows rated fair were done so because of broken fore udder attachments rather than on body conformation.

Adam Smith is considered the founder of English economic theory.

PIGS IN YOUR PARLOR ?

A pig with a taste for the finer things of life might enjoy the luxury of a nap on the best sofa . . . but it would be hard on the sofa!

The same holds true with motor oils and motors. "Just any" oil in the crankcase of a good motor is as out-of-place as the pig in the parlor.

Good oil maintains the value of a good motor. That is why so many farmers use CO-OP MOTOR OIL. CO-OP MOTOR OILS are made in their own refineries to their own specifications. CO-OP on the label insures you of fine oil at a modest price.

FLOYD COUNTY GIRLS ATTEND DISTRICT 4-H CAMP LAST WEEK

Twelve 4-H Club girls from Sand Hill, as "Spirit of Club Work," Mona Rae Williams as "Health," Ginger Tinnin as "Head," Alice Latta as "Heart," and Juanice Shearer as "Hand." The girls were directed by Miss Woodruff.

Before leaving for camp on Tuesday morning the girls elected three delegates to represent them at their business meetings. They were Mona Williams, Juanice Shearer, and Loretta Peugh. Faye Rene Hardin served on the clean-up committee, and Alice Latta and Patsy Poteet were dining room helpers at one meal.

The ranch theme was carried in all activities. The barracks were bunk houses, the water coolers were water holes, and the mess hall, a very popular place, was designated as the chuck wagon. The daily newspaper, edited by the girls, was named "Cowgirl Capers." Thursday was western day and all the girls wore western clothes.

One girl from each 4-H club in the county attended the camp. They were Beuna Mae Holmes of Sand Hill, Faye Rene Hardin of Providence, Patsy Johnson of Lakeview, Winnie Hartman of South Plains, Patsy Poteet of Lockney Sr., Darla Allison of Lockney Jr., Ginger Tinnin of Dougherty, Loretta Peugh of Lone Star, and Nita Jo Lightfoot, Juanice Shearer, Mona Rae Williams, and Alice Latta from the Floydada 4-H clubs. Mr. and Mrs. Travis Lightfoot, Mrs. S. J. Latta and Mrs. E. L. Norman took the girls to Lubbock and Lavon Shearer and Mrs. L. W. Johnson brought the girls back.

TIME TO START CONTROLLING RAT POPULATION, AGENT SAYS

Now is the time to start controlling the winter population of rats, states Edd C. McLeroy, assistant county agent in training. There is a lot of stored grain in the county and much of it will be destroyed if the rats are not controlled. These rats not only destroy grain but help to spread typhus fever, bubonic plague and other diseases that are dangerous to man and livestock.

Mr. McLeroy urges that you check to see if your place is free of rats. Normally if you never see a rat but only rat damage you are probably supporting 50 rats. If you see them occasionally you are probably supporting 100 rats. A few rats seen during the day is an indication that you may have 500 rats or more, and many rats seen at night and a few in the daytime indicates that you could easily have 1000 or more. These figures sound high and are but one pair of rats produce three to seven litters a year with each litter numbering from three to thirteen. This adds up rapidly.

If your place is infested with rats there will be many methods of control. However poisoning will usually give the best result. Red squill is by far the safest poison available and will give excellent results when properly used. If red squill is used it should be mixed with bait to nine parts bait material. Bait materials which have given excellent results are: (1) One part the proportion of one part squill cracklings mixed with three parts oatmeal, (2) Fresh, lean ground meat, (3) cubed apples, tomatoes, cantaloupes, etc., used together or separately. It is important that more than one type of bait be used.

Find out where the rats are living, watering and feeding and then place the poison between the refuge and the watering or feeding place. Put out more bait than you believe to be necessary. Many small baits are better than a few large ones. Do not put out a few baits each day but cover the place thoroughly with one application and then do not use any more squill bait for at least two weeks. Any bait left three or four days should be picked up and burned. Dead rats should be burned or buried when found.

After you have reduced or removed your original rat infestation you should take steps to prevent reinfestation. Rat-proof your buildings as near as possible. Remove other places of refuge and watch for reinfestation because rats do move from one neighborhood to another.

Rat control is usually thought of an individual problem. However it can become community wide so check your place for rat infestation in the near future.

Feel free to come by the County Agent's office for information on rat control or any other agricultural problem that you might have.
