

Act Expected Denver Plea in 30 Days

San Antonio is expected within the next 30 days from the Texas Railroad Commission on the Fort Worth City's application to the passenger service to the Plains. The hearings application were held on Friday of last week at Lubbock and Plainview, Texas. The Commission and the railroad and the city are expected to continue the hearings.

The Commission's general passenger service for the FW&D told the Commission at the hearing that had lost $47,728 yearly operation. He pointed out that the area is served by air bus lines as well as by the FW&D.

E. Shoemaker, superintendent for the FW&D said that the train be discontinued would recommend that the route be run to this area by the same mail service.

W. O. general manager of the railroad said that the train was a business and that nothing had been done about it. In reply to the South Plains people in his community who are pleased with present service but want improvement, not discontinuance of the train.

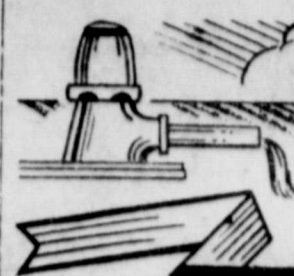

Wiley, president of the National Bank of Lockney, said that his bank will encounter difficulties in getting from federal banks if passenger service is discontinued.

The federal reserve bank of Dallas said the post office department has informed him that if the service is discontinued the bank will receive money only one week in an amount not over $40,000.

There were Saturdays when the Lockney bank had $75,000 more currency than it needed.

The new managers have both had experience in the business. Joe Handley is the son of Mr. D. L. Handley while Mr. Durham is a son-in-law, having married the former Eunice Bell Handley. The Durhams have been living near Lubbock but have moved here.

The shop will also continue serving the public with blacksmithing, welding and machine work but the firm will all be known as Handley Shop & Pump Co.

Handley Pump In New Location

Handley Shop & Pump Company has moved to a new location and is under new management, according to an announcement made this week.

The shop has been moved from its old location to the building occupied by Joe Handley's blacksmith and welding shop on West Locust street, first door west of Lockney Auto Company. With the move D. L. Handley, manager of the company for many years, has retired and the firm is now under the management of Joe Handley and Paul Durham.

The elder Mr. Handley, however, will still be available for help and advice when needed he said. He will continue to make his home here. He has been in the business here for 20 years.

The firm will continue to serve the public with irrigation or windmill well drilling, well servicing or repair and will continue to handle U. S. Pumps.

Calvin Tomme, Ed Chandler and David Jackson will remain with the firm in the well servicing department.

The new managers have both had experience in the business. Joe Handley is the son of Mr. D. L. Handley while Mr. Durham is a son-in-law, having married the former Eunice Bell Handley. The Durhams have been living near Lubbock but have moved here.

Plans Made For TB X-Ray Drive

Plans are going forward every day for the TB x-ray drive to be made in Floyd County in early October. Mrs. M. W. Wiley, Lockney Chairman and Mrs. Robert H. Gibson, Floydada chairman, working with general chairman Enos Jones of Floydada have worked out plans already to reach every person in the county with information concerning the purpose of the x-rays.

The mobile x-ray unit will be set up in Lockney on Wednesday, October 4 and in Floydada on Friday and Saturday, October 6 and 7. A free chest x-ray will be made of every person 15 years of age or over who so desires. The unit will be set up here at Lockney Auto Company and in Floydada at the Chamber of Commerce office.

It was pointed out by officials of the drive that the x-rays are paid for out of taxes and that everyone should avail themselves of this opportunity. Especially people who believe themselves to be "fit as a fiddle" are urged to appear for an x-ray since many cases of TB have been found among such people. TB is no respecter of age and many times strikes a younger person in the 30 to 40 age group as quickly as older people.

It will not be necessary to remove clothing and the x-ray will take only a fraction of a minute to make.

BUYS STATION

Harley Workman has purchased the stock of the Williams Conoco Station on South Main Street from R. D. Williams. It was announced this week. Mr. Williams will continue to operate the station, however, and Mr. Workman stated that he would continue his work as a plumber.

Longhorns Travel To Sudan Friday

The Lockney Longhorns, smarting from two defeats in their first two games this season, will travel to Sudan Friday night where they will play a non-district game with the Sudan Hornets. With the exception of Stanley Conner, who will be out of play for some time, the Longhorns are ready to go.

Coach Curtis Kelly will start C. B. Smart, Ray Ferguson, Norton Baker and Mac Howard in his revised backfield line up on offense. On defense, Ferguson will shift to left end and Pat Frizzle will come in at a half back position.

The Longhorns were working out enthusiastically Wednesday and are in the mood to win a ball game, according to the spectators view point.

Sudan has a fine team although they are in Class B football. They defeated Class A Denver City 13 to 6 last week end. The Longhorns edged them out 20 to 19 on the local field last year. The Hornets are a heavy team and have a reputation of being hard to defeat.

A large crowd of local fans will make the journey to Sudan unless bad weather prevents.

Details of the county organization will be announced by Mr. Watson at a later date.

County School Board Refuses Action On Election Petition

The Floyd County School Board in session Tuesday afternoon refused to take any action on a petition presented by a group from Lone Star school district asking for a vote on consolidation with the Lockney Rural High School District.

The petition bearing 59 names of Lone Star district voters asked the board to call an election to determine if the majority of the voters would favor such a consolidation. Reason for taking no action on the petition was not given, according to those circulating the petition.

The petition for consolidation was circulated when trustees of the Lone Star district refused to allow some students to transfer to the Lockney schools, it was reported here.

Mr. and Mrs. Watkins have been operating a grocery store at Lone Star for several years. They will continue to operate the Lone Star store in addition to the local one.

Hail And Rain Strikes Area

Hail and rain struck this area this week in a continuing wet cycle and forecasts were that the scattered showers would continue for a few days yet.

Rain falling Friday night of last week measured almost an inch here, showing .96 on the gauge at Hammond & Company. On Sunday night an additional .38 was registered bringing the total here to five and a half inches for the past 10 days.

Wesley Hay who lives six miles north of town reported a half inch Friday night and 1.85 on Sunday night bringing the total in that area to about 8 1/2 inches for the past two weeks. In the Sterley area Mason Davis had 2.25 inches and Hilburn Casey reported 1 1/2 inches Sunday night. Roads are all but impassable in that area.

Hail continued to take its toll of crops in northern and western Floyd County. On Sunday night hail again struck an area that had been hit before damaging crops severely in some places.

West and south of Lockney hail damaged crops again for J. R. Belt, B. E. Harris, Buck Kellison, Austin Merivether, Fred Dorman, Glen Watson and possibly others in that vicinity. Around Sterley and Lone Star Horton Howell, Joe Phillips, Floyd Jackson, Pete Mosley all received damage to cotton and other crops.

In the Providence community hail damaged crops on the farms of Walter Boedecker, Randall Collis, Walter Sammann, Ted Boedecker, Roy Street, Marvin Scheele, Roy Street and Randall Collis received the most serious damage, it was reported. Rain totaled 1.40 there Sunday night.

Making the damage more severe was the fact that in many cases the hail struck in the same areas that had already received one hail this year.

John Smitherman in the South Plains area was reported to have received a bad hail and there was other hail damage in the South Plains vicinity.

High winds damaged feed also Sunday night, but this type damage was not extensive.

School Enrollment Hits 705 Here

Enrollment in the Lockney schools totaled 705 up to Wednesday of this week despite the wet weather and the fact that school buses have not yet been able to make their complete routes.

Of this number 194 were in high school and 511 in the grade school. This represents an increase of about 15 in the high school enrollment over the initial enrollment last year but is slightly lower than the 1949 grade school enrollment. However Supt. Sidney Reeves said Wednesday that the number of pupils would increase considerably when the roads dried up to where all students could get to school.

Farmers Meeting Tuesday Night To Talk Cotton

Farmers of Floyd County have been invited to attend a meeting at the City Auditorium in Lockney Tuesday night, starting at 7:30. Purpose of the meeting is to discuss problems relating to cotton harvesting, according to M. W. Wiley, president of the First National Bank here who is making arrangements for the meeting.

Mr. Wiley said that a number of county agents from surrounding counties as well as the local county agent had been invited to attend the meeting.

No special speaker has been selected but the meeting will be generally a round table discussion among those present. It is hoped that information regarding plans of other counties in this area as to the cotton harvest will be available at the time of the meeting, Mr. Wiley said.

"This is your meeting so be sure that you are present to benefit by it," Mr. Wiley urged farmers of the county.

Pig Show Set September 30

The officials of the FFA and 4-H Club Achievement Day Hog Show met Tuesday September 12 and designated Saturday, September 30 as the date for the fall pig show, announced County Agent Bob Gibson.

All FFA and 4-H Club boys should make every effort to get their animals in show shape by that date.

The rules and regulations as well as prizes and ribbons will be the same as for 1949.

Boys having one of the 1950 Cow-Hog-Iven gilts will have a special class for those animals and each of these boys are requested to show their gilt in that class.

The names of the officials and judges of the show will be released as soon as possible, Gibson said.

Lunch Room Asks For Dishes

A call for extra dishes was issued by the Grade School lunch room this week. Mrs. Carl McAdams, superintendent of the lunch room, says that it will be very much appreciated if any one having any odd cups, plates, or glasses, especially glasses, would donate them to the lunch room. Glasses are broken at the rate of about four a day, so it is difficult to keep a ready supply. She expresses her thanks in advance to those who will make this kind contribution.

The lunch room has a high standard for preparing well balanced, nutritious meals. Mrs. McAdams received a certificate this summer from Texas Technological College when she attended the School Lunch Room Workshop held on that campus.

The lunch room serves lunch each school day at a low cost to the students. The first meal was served Tuesday this week and much to the delight of the students, was a fried chicken dinner.

STOCK FEEDING PROGRAM BASED ON SUGAR BEETS IN COLORADO TEXAS PLAINS FARMERS FIND

Five Floyd County men were among the 40 from the Texas Panhandle who recently made an agricultural tour of Colorado. The tour was sponsored by the Burlington System and the Texas Extension service and the men were gone five days, viewing many types of farming and stock raising. They covered mostly the Arkansas River valley and the Platt River valley and viewed among other things, great numbers of steers which were being fed out.

Those attending from this county included Ed Whitfill and T. B. Mitchell of Lockney and County Agent Robert H. Gibson Harry Morekel and Lovell Jones of Floydada.

The following article from the Castro County News concerning the tour gives details about what the men found in the agricultural regions of Colorado:

The group of Castro County people making the tour through the agricultural areas in central Colorado last week were deeply impressed by the prosperous conditions, the diversified farming program and the stock feeding industry. It was the unanimous opinion of those making the trip through the Arkansas River valley and the Platt Valley that our own Castro County could be developed to as high a degree of productivity as that of the area we visited in Colorado. The agricultural and stock feeding program in Colorado is built around the sugar beet industry. The sugar beet is the big cash crop with the tops and foliage being used for cattle feed. After the sugar has been extracted the beet pulp is also used for feed, and is an excellent tonic or conditioner for the beef cattle. A crop rotating program will only allow beets to be planted on a piece of land one year out of each four or five. On the land that is not planted to sugar beets other crops are being harvested mostly from soil building crops such as clover, alfalfa, peas or beans, all of which also work into the cattle feeding program both as pasture, hay and ensilage. Scientific farming is not practiced by only a few of the farmers but by practically all of them. Only in rare instances are there indications of poor farming practices. We were told that much of the land visited had been in cultivation for the past sixty, seventy and as much as eighty years, and that the fertility of the soil had been depleted many years ago and that only through good soil building practices was the present economy in that rich agricultural area possible. While many commercial feeders are operating in the Arkansas and Platt River Valleys, buying from the farmers and selling barnyard fertilizer back to them, there are many farmers who operate their own feed lots on both large and small scales. Many of the cattle fed out in that area are purchased in West Texas, we saw one group of cattle that had been purchased from a Castro County farmer. The feeders declare that they invariably make a good profit on their cattle feeding operations.

Perfection has been attained in the agricultural areas we visited as far as rotation, soil conservation, and fertilization is concerned. The identical practices developed and being developed at the A&M College Experiment Station at Fort Collins are being followed by the farmers throughout the area. In addition to the research at the College experiment station the Sugar Refining Companies also conduct a research program with results available to the use of the farmers. We are told that contrary to general opinion, the tourist trade and mining was responsible for only ten to fifteen per cent of Colorado income while eighty-five to ninety per cent of the state's economy depended on agriculture.

The group of farmers making the tour of the Colorado diversified farming area were deeply impressed by the high yields of various types of farm produce and the soil building and conservation practices. Regardless of whether or not a highly diversified farming program is adopted in this area if the lessons learned in Colorado will result in an adequate soil building and conservation program in our own area much good will have been accomplished. This is a tour that every farmer in Castro County should make, especially irrigation farmers. Many of the farms visited were being operated by elderly men who first saw the fertility of the soil depleted and then through good soil building practices saw it restored to high productivity. They are the ones who told us that through trial and error they have learned that it pays to rotate crops, fertilize and employ all types of better farming practices.

BEAUTY IS YOUR BIRTHRIGHT

By MONA

Hi! Honey! This is Mona giving you a dirty thumbnail sketch of her breathless life spent chasing that enchanting will-o-the-wisp, beauty.

I'll begin at the age of vanity, when I was eleven or thereabouts—I know that I would have been a much happier little girl if it hadn't been for my darn cousin, who was all ringlets, long lashes, and dimply cheeks, as I was definitely not, as my family would unnecessarily point out to me. I certainly didn't have to be told that I was scrawny, clumsy and dimple-less. But in my teens I changed completely. When I was sixteen I was 5'5" tall, with an average frame, plain features, nondescript coloring—and fat as a bubble. To make matters worse, I was as concave as a parenthesis from trying to hide the cause of my constant embarrassment, my bulging bosom.

What an adolescence! What with dun coloring, thick glasses, one fangy tooth, and a humpty-dumpty figure, I suffered my way through high school and college with belligerent shyness. At least I was proud. No one had ever heard my heart break. I stuck my snub nose up in the air and solaced myself with thoughts of being a brilliant scholar and studied and studied, and life was very grim.

Well, eventually cupid's little arrow caught me and I stopped struggling to be smarter-than and started worrying about being FATTER-THAN, and it seemed as if there were just billions of jills that I was FATTER-THAN. Thus started the first of my "battles of the bulge." Since then there have been ten major battles in which I have dieted off about thirty pounds each time, or altogether 300 pounds of lumps lost. You can see that, unhappily, I'm an expert on the subject of reducing. Writing as I do from personal misery, I know that beneath every blubberball there is a slim gal struggling to get out and in another article I'll tell you the six ways to help her escape.

But as I was saying, being roly-poly was only one of my thorns. My dishwasher coloring bothered me just as much as my blubbery build and I determined to do something about it—and even-

GOOD HEALTH

I. WHY ARE MANY SCHOOLS SO CROWDED?

Answer to Question No. 1:
1. Not only are more children born but many more now live long enough to go to school. The death rate among pre-school children has declined from 20 deaths per 1,000 in 1900 to 1 per 1,000 today. With so many childhood diseases conquered, pediatricians report they spend most of their time supervising the health of well children and thus preventing illness.

Answer to Question No. 2:
2. The American Hospital Association says it costs an average of $14.33 a day for a general hos-

Crosby Oil Test Is Abandoned At 8,761 Feet

Crosby county still remains dry as far as oil is concerned, with the announcement recently that Deep Rock Oil company of California No. 1 Morgan Jones, wildcat 12 miles south of Crosbyton, had been plugged and abandoned on a total depth of 8,761 feet in Ellenburger lime.

That formation made sulphur water. It did not log any signs of oil or gas.

None of the upper formations carried any possibilities of production. Top of the Ellenburger was 8,730 feet. Elevation is 2,723 feet.

Across the line in Garza county, Aurora Gasoline company and N. Appleman company was reported to be having difficulty on their No. 1 Swenson, wild-cat venture to 7,500 feet.

The hole had been drilled to 4,600 feet when the drill stem was broken, and efforts to fish usually did—and that was how the day finally came when I went around saying, "Look Ma! No Hair!" But that's a sad story I'll tell you another time, that, and the four most common hair problems and effective solutions for them. Bye, Honey, see you next week.

Mona.

OIL RESERVES HIT NEW PEAK; EXCEED 28 BILLION BARRELS

Proved reserves of crude oil and natural gas liquids reached new highs during 1949, thanks to intensive discovery efforts of the oil industry. By the end of the year, crude reserves showed a net gain of 1,369,045,000 barrels and totaled 24,649,389,000 barrels. Natural gas liquid reserves rose 188,229,000 barrels to reach 3,729,012,000 barrels. This gives the country a proved reserve of liquid hydrocarbons totaling 28,378,501,000 barrels. The oil industry's record in building up the nation's proved oil reserves spikes all rumors that our oil reserves are running out.

At Amarillo Fair

MINNIE PEARL

In response to popular demand, the Grand Ole Opry will return to Amarillo's Tri-State Fair this year, September 18 through 23. Minnie Pearl, Hank Williams and Ernest Tubbs, with an all-star cast, will appear twice daily in both afternoon and evening performances at the Sports Arena at the fairgrounds.

Other entertainment features planned for the Fair include Bill Hames' Carnival, featuring all types of rides for grown-ups and children. Free acts will be presented twice daily on the Midway.

Agricultural, livestock, and educational shows and exhibits this year will be "bigger and better than ever," according to John Boyce, the Fair's President.

DRY ICE HELPS OIL DRILLERS

Dry ice was put to work recently to solve a critical problem at an off-shore well in the Gulf of Mexico. Oil and gas pressure threatened to blow out the drill pipe and endanger personnel and adjoining wells. Quick-thinking drillers pumped mud into the drill pipe and surrounded it with pulverized dry ice. The resulting plug of frozen mud helped the pressure in check until controlling valves could be put in place.

Out Of Gas? Pour In Water

A quart of water poured into the gasoline tank can save the stranded motorist a long walk to a gas station, if his car is a new Chrysler.

All postwar Chryslers are equipped with a super-efficient fuel tank filtering device which is effective against even the most minute droplets of water. Should the new Chrysler "run out of gas," a quart of water poured into the fuel tank will cause the gasoline remaining at the bottom to rise to the level of the filtering element, allowing the car to run a few more miles.

No harm will result to the fuel system of the car if the water is drained off by removing the drain plug at the bottom of the tank before refueling.

Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them. —Matthew 7:12.

The Golden Rule is, of course, the ideal way for man to treat his fellowman, but most of us find it hard at times to follow its directions. It will work in everyday business life just as well as it will in religious matters or other phases of the average man's existence. But putting it to practice in a business way is a problem for most of us.

Most Lockney business men and professional people here are at least outward exponents of the "trade-at-home" theory. It is the only sensible attitude for a business or a professional man to take. He can hardly expect his fellow citizens to trade with him or to patronize him unless he returns the favor by patronizing them. Yet there are people in Lockney who depend on the citizenship of this area for a living who do not feel that they are obligated to try to patronize local merchants or services.

How can such a person, who spends at least a big part of his money off at the "big city stores," expect to deserve the patronage of other local people or persuade them to patronize him or the institution with which he is connected? He certainly deserves no consideration from his fellow townspeople, on this score, at least. All of which gets us back to the trite but true saying "If a town is good enough to make a living in, it's good enough to spend your money in."

When a person persists in spending his money away from his home town he is joining the forces that gradually throttle the commerce of his town and which will eventually destroy his own livelihood. That has happened before in Lockney.

No one brags on the man who is forever bragging on himself. The reason is perhaps because no one feels that he can do as well devoting part time to a job as the fellow who is giving it all of his time.

One who is disappointed in love is fortunate compared with the person who is disappointed in marriage.

Charles E. (Chap) Bohlen now Minister Counselor at Paris, adds to the list of famous last words: 1—"Liquor doesn't affect me." 2—"I understand the Russians."

Letting Jacob Malik take over the Security Council for the month of August was like letting a member of the Capone gang take over the FBI during a law enforcement drive. — Sen. William F. Knowland, (R. California).

A writer in one of our exchanges records what he regards as an unusual experience. He attended a party recently, he writes, at which a woman became so tired she could hardly keep her mouth open.

Much space in the papers is given to the new adjustable scissors that cuts cloth or tin. What we really needed in the scissor line is a pair that not only cuts cloth and tin but which can serve as a pry to open a stuck dresser drawer or a closet door.

DIVERSIFIED FARMING . . .

The recent farm trip to Colorado by Castro County farmers pointed out the fact that diversified farming can pay off in dollars as well as land savings. The ultimate aim of the program is to give the farmer an income of more than one crop, thus insuring a more certain profit. The farmers also learned on the trip that profits can be realized by better practices in soil conservation. This conservation program, if properly carried out, can combine money crops in such a process whereby they all make the farmer more profits and at the same time save or build up his soil. The big money crop in Colorado is beets, and it is big money. The crop is only made in beets once in every five years, but it has brought riches to the Arkansas and Platt River Valleys. Sugar beets will prove harmful and even disastrous to soil unless planted carefully. This is the cause for the five-year rotation.

We believe that if, in future years, Castro County farmers employ the practices of diversified farming, this section of the Panhandle will grow extensively. Many towns the size of Plainview and bigger are supported by Colorado farmers in a space not much bigger than Castro County. It could happen here. Larger towns are also a big help

SOURCE OF TROUBLE

Some of the psychiatrists are hard-headed, stubborn boys.

They will tackle and problem and give you an answer without wasting words in shading the question until it loses forcefulness.

Now, what do you think is the greatest source of family trouble? This is a question that has wrecked romance, blasted family life and disintegrated the home. In fact, it is such a dangerous query that a cagey individual, male or female, will pass it up almost without reading it.

Not so, however with keen psychiatrists. Recently, one of them, right off the bat, and apparently without a thought of his home life said: "The struggle between husband and wife over who is going to be the 'boss,' is the answer to the query."

To add fuel to the fire, the man insists that "efficiency in family life is best served by the dominance of one person." This will not cause much trouble in itself. Every member of the family will readily agree. The havoc begins when somebody tries to gain the dominance. — Hereford Brand.

TECH COW TESTS WELL

The animal was five years and three months old when she began the testing period.

Longhorns Lose To Littlefield

The Lockney Longhorns lost to the Littlefield Wildcats on the local field last Friday night but not before the locals had played the famed Lamb County aggregation to a standstill in the first half of the game.

The Longhorns started like a house afire, recovering a Wildcat fumble the third play of the game in midfield.

Barry Thompson, Longhorn center took the short kick-off and carried it back to the 50 yard line. One play lost a yard and then Ray Ferguson, fleet Longhorn halfback, took the ball spun in his tracks while his teammates faked the opposition out of position and ran 52 yards for the score.

Late in the second quarter the big Wildcat fullback, Renfro, smashed over from six yards out to make the score 12-0 where it stood at the halftime.

The Wildcats scored twice more in the third quarter, once on a 52 yard run by Renfro and the other on an 8 yard plunge by McCanlis.

In the fourth quarter the Wildcats scored twice more, making one point to bring the total to 38 to 6. Joe Walden made one of these on a 55 yard run while Renfro made another on a 40 yard gallop.

The Longhorns were badly handicapped both offensively and defensively by the loss of Stanley Conner. Conner was the blocking back and also the line backer on defense.

C. B. Smart, Barry Thompson, Eddie Fortenberry, Norton Baker, and other Longhorns turned in outstanding defensive games although they were no match for the heavy Littlefield aggregation.

The Wildcats were penalized almost 100 yards during the game, a large part of the penalties being for roughing, clipping, etc. The Longhorns lost 30 yards in penalties most of this being for backfield in motion.

Other 3-A Teams Lose District 3-A didn't fare very well for the most part with several other teams losing their games last week end.

New Deal, a class B school in Lubbock county, plastered the Class A Ralls Jackrabbits 32-6.

The big New Deal team completely outclassed the Ralls boys, according to newspaper reports.

Post smothered the Crosbyton Chiefs 43-0 in a game at Post. The Antelopes aerial game and razzle-dazzle play was too much for the Chiefs.

Floydada Whirlwinds lost a ball game to the Slaton Tigers 19-7 in a game at Floydada. The Tigers led 19-0 until the fading minutes of the game when Floydada rushed in to block a Slaton punt and recover it in the end zone.

Spur lost to Haskell 20 to 0 and Paducah set other 3-A teams on notice by downing Chilli-cothe 39-0. Abernathy eased past Morton 7-6 and Tullia downed Canyon 18 to 7.

Huntin' AND Fishin'

By Harve Pennington

When buying a new gun, most men think they should buy a full choke barrel. But they would kill more game with a more open bored gun because they would have a more open shot pattern at closer range and would not have as many deformed shots that never reach the target. Now don't cut the choke off of your gun to make it more open.

A so-called cylinder bored gun has a slight choke of about 5 thousands and is called an improved cylinder bore. Gun builders have found that without a slight choke that it makes a patchy pattern with holes in it that your game could get through even though your hold was perfect.

Most people are over gunned with the full choke gun. It is for the expert that shoots all the time. Most of us are better off with the modified or improved cylinder bore.

When you get that new shot gun, put up a large paper target on an old barn and step off about forty steps and shoot at the center of your target and then draw off a 30 inch circle in the center and see what kind of a pattern you have. Don't stop at one size shot. Try several size shots until you find the size that your gun handles best. Each gun will handle one size shot better than all the other sizes.

After you have shot your target and made the 30 inch circle, see if there is a spot where your game could get through. For instance, if you were shooting 7 1/2 size shot there shouldn't be a spot in the target that would let a dove or quail through. Remember that a bird is a much smaller target when he has the feathers off so judge accordingly.

It takes as many as three shots to the bird to make a clean kill. I hear somebody say that they have killed birds and rabbits at a hundred yards with that old "Betsy" over the mantle. Sure you have, but it was an accident as your shot gun was not made to kill game at that distance. Put up your target at 100 yards and see how many shot reaches your target, and what kind of a pattern you have.

My advice to the man who has a single barrel gun, such as a slide action or automatic shot gun, to have an all around gun by equipping it with a variable choke of some kind.

There are several good variable chokes on the market, that you wouldn't go wrong with. This way you could select the choke that you think best for the game you are hunting. Most variable chokes are vented to let the gas escape and keep it from tearing up the shot pattern when it leaves the barrel and it also reduces the recoil about 30 per cent.

SC Buffaloes Are Preparing For Play

Coach Frank Kimbrough and his 47 varsity football candidates have settled into steady two-a-day training in preparation for the West State opener against conference opponent Arizona State at Lagstaff September 16. The game will be played under the lights in Amarillo Stadium.

By co-captains Gene Field, Quitaque quarterback and top contender for conference honors, and big Roy Lee Dunn, 195-pound 6'3" Borger end, the Buffaloes have had a rough start to the season. They have lost the first two games and are now in a two-weeks training with Texas National Guard and helped the spirit of the Buffaloes' tremendously.

Although a definite starting lineup has not been formed, the eleven is coming to the present time it looks though Dunn and Joe Spann, 195-pound Munday junior, will be over the end posts. Tackle will probably be manned second-term all-conference Womack, 200-pounder from Padada and senior Donald Ross, 195-pound Shamrock end.

Blond Bob Kelley, weighing in at 215 pounds, should get nod at center although a leg operation may tame him down a bit. At the guard spots fiery little J. D. Covington, Borger regular, and Don Tucker, 197-pound Throckmorton senior, should make a fine combination.

Kimbrough's backfield choices are fine and many. Mayfield, who completed 54 out of 100 tosses last year and racked up 300 yards on the ground, will be at quarter. The handsome Quitaque back also will do some punting and play a great deal on defense. At the fullback post will be the Canadian scooter, Bill Cross. Although he weighs only 150 pounds, opponents know he is dangerous with his shifty hard-hitting style of running. At the halfback slot will be churning Charlie Wright, the Border Conference's number two man in rushing last year. Wright is tipping the scales at 195 pounds and seems faster than ever.

Eddie Conner, determined Floydada flash, should get the wingback starting assignment although he will be pushed by Walker Bateman, Plainview.

With that combination, Kimbrough will field a line averaging 196 pounds and a starting backfield averaging 177. The over-all average will be 189 pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Whitfill of Silverton returned to Lockney Wednesday from Temple where Mrs. Whitfill had undergone surgery last week. She is improving nicely, it was reported.
