Hot Checkers Are Picked Up

Two girls who left a string of hot checks in Floydada recently totalling $90 have been arrested. One of them, Jackie Thomas, was picked up in Casper, Wyoming, while the other, Mary Etheridge, was arrested at Big Spring.

The girls gave checks to J. C. Penny, Carl Minor, King's Variety and Arvine Drug, all Floydada merchants, two of the checks for $25 and two for $20, about April 10.

Deputy Sheriff Alton May in discussing the case with Highway Patrolman John Strother found that Strother had arrested the girls several days before but had released them not knowing about the hot checks in this county. Through Strother's information, they were able to trace them and arrest them.

The Thomas girl waived extradition and either Floyd or Garza county officers will go for her. The Etheridge girl, who is only 15 years old, was released to the custody of her mother until the grand jury meets.

Oakley New Mgr. Of Telephone Co.

John A. Cornell, manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company for the past two years, has been named manager of the telephone company's operations in Abilene, E. J. Ernest, division manager in Fort Worth, announced today.

He will be replaced by J. C. Oakley from the company's offices in Fort Worth. Both promotions are effective immediately, Ernest said.

Cornell began his telephone career in the plant department in Dallas, and was transferred to the commercial department in Waco in 1943. He served two years in the Navy submarine service during World War II, and in 1947, was promoted to commercial engineer in Tyler.

He was transferred to Fort Worth the same year, and was commercial supervisor there when he was appointed manager at Plainview in 1949.

Oakley went to work for Southwestern Bell in Amarillo in 1942 as a pay telephone collector in the commercial department. After serving in the Marine Corps during World War II, he returned to the company in Amarillo, and in January of this year was transferred to Fort Worth as a commercial staff assistant.

As manager at Plainview, Oakley will also handle telephone matters for Canyon, Floydada, Hale Center, Hereford, Lockney and Tuila.

Longhorns Win North Half Flag

The Lockney High school Longhorns won the baseball championship of the north half of District 3-A by defeating Abernathy Monday in a "quick death" ball game played at Floydada. The final score was 5-3.

Pat Frizzell almost had a shut-out in the game but an error at short stop in the seventh after two men were out gave the Abernathy team a new lease on life and they scored three runs. Pat pitched fine ball allowing only a few scattering hits. He got 13 strike-outs. He was supported by excellent fielding, the local boys making only two errors in the game.

The Longhorns won the game on base running, keeping the Abernathy pitcher in trouble most of the time that way. Tip Jeffcoat stole home from first after an overthrow at second to score one time, while Pat Frizzell and C. B. Smart both stole home from third.

The south half championship has not been decided. Falls and Paducah are playing for the title and Falls won the first game. They will play two out of three.

The Longhorns will play the winner of these games probably some time next week. The baseball games will go to the regional.

Follies Are Set For Mon. Night

The Lockney High School Follies will be presented Monday night at the City Auditorium. The curtain will go up at 8 p. m.

Featuring two one-act plays, the follies this year are reported to be funnier than ever. The Freshman class will present "Mamma Is Getting Married." Players in the one-act comedy include Sharinne Strickland, DeJores Russell, Evelyn Hooten, Clyde Hill, Willa Dean Rushing, Robert Brown, Donnie McGowan, Weldon Pickens, Denny Quisenberry and Donald Allison.

The Sophomore play, "Life O' The Party" has as characters, Bill Sherman, Elizabeth Handley, Mary Jo Bonner, Frances Dee Copeland, James Carthel, Mavis Tate, June Wiley, Susie Farish, Orland Gilbert, Teddy Carthel, Alfred Smith, C. B. Smart.

New lights have been installed for the field recently and most of the teams have new uniforms, some of them furnished by local business men.

The Plains Theatre has bought the concession rights for the field and will erect a concession stand as soon as league play starts.

Hospital Name Change Confirmed

Confirmation of the change in the name of the local hospital was received this week. Business Manager J. D. Copeland said. By a vote of the membership the name was changed from Floyd County Co-operative Hospital to Lockney General Hospital. The change in the charter was confirmed by the Secretary of State.

Pat Murphy Is Hurt In Auto Accident Friday

Pat Murphy, a trucker of Lockney, suffered a broken left leg just above the ankle and a broken foot last Friday afternoon while trying to stop a big gasoline transport truck at a spot where the pavement had buckled about four miles east of Plainview on the Lockney highway. A 1950 model Ford car belonging to V. D. Harris was almost destroyed in the accident.

Mr. Murphy and Mr. Harris had been to Plainview and were returning home when they came to the buckled pavement. The pavement had risen about two feet above the ground, apparently due to the heat. The Harris car went over the hump without damage and Mr. Harris pulled off the side of the road and stopped. Mr. Murphy got out of the car and noticed the gas transport truck coming. He immediately attempted to stop the truck but was unsuccessful. Mr. Harris had just alighted from the car when the big truck hit the buckled pavement, blew a rear tire, swerved to the right, striking Mr. Murphy and the Harris car.

Bill Grundy of Floydada came along and brought Murphy to the local hospital where he was treated. He is now recuperating at his home here.

The truck driver was not injured but his truck lost a great quantity of gasoline before it could be emptied. The highway buckled at three other points on the stretch east of Plainview, it was reported. It also buckled at one or two places last year.

Stanley Conner Wins Prize In Contest

An essay contest sponsored by the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society brought $50 to Stanley Conner, Lockney high school senior, when he was awarded second prize recently.

Stanley used as his subject Uncle "Ceph" Fortenberry of the Cedar Hill community, telling of his early life on the plains. The contest was conducted over a 32 county area. The first place winner was given $100 prize.

Other students who entered, all members of Mrs. G. C. Applewhite's English class, included Patsy Fortenberry, Wanda Kellison, Laverne Seigler, Gene Kellison. All the essays were very interesting.

Inter-Squad Game Night Of May 17

The Lockney Longhorn inter-squad football game, closing out the spring football practice session, will be played Thursday night, May 17. Coach Curtis Kelly said this week. Coaches Kelly, Lyons and Birdwell have 36 candidates out for spring training.

The game will be slowed somewhat because four of the regular players will be out because of mumps, Kelly said. However, he expects to have a fairly even game and the public is invited to come out and watch the boys.

Dr. Young To Speak On Tour

Dr. A. W. Young, head of the Department of Plant Industry of Texas Technological College will be the principal speaker at the Floyd County Soil Conservation District field tour on May 17. Dr. Young is expected to address a large number of persons at the noon luncheon at Lockview Farm. Dr. Young has for a number of years been associated with the college at Lubbock.

Other plans for the annual tour are being completed according to Bert Bobbitt, chairman of the district board of supervisors. A committee composed of Bob Gibson, Ralph R. Cogdell, Henry Barber, T. J. Hutchins and F. L. Montandon are busy this week working out final plans for the route to be taken on the tour. Gibson states that a number of interesting projects will be included on the tour this year.

The group will form on the Courthouse square in Floydada at 10 a. m. Thursday, May 17 and proceed according to a pre-arranged route. Programs will be available for everyone.

At noon the group will reach Lockview Farm about 3 miles north of Aiken for a free barbecue lunch served by Lockview and Floydada Chamber of Commerce. The Chamber of Commerce is furnishing barbecue and beans and Lockview will furnish the rest of the food.

Awards will be made to Oscar Golden, outstanding Floyd County farmer of 1950 and to winners of the window display contest. The Lions will present Mr. Golden with a plaque for his outstanding accomplishments in conservation farming. Cash prizes will be given FFA students and 4-H club members judged winners in the contest by the Jaycees.

A mobile sound truck will be furnished by the Southwestern Public Service for the tour so that everyone will be able to hear the entire program.

Everyone interested in agriculture in any way is cordially invited to attend this event. The ladies are also invited to enjoy this day, officials said.

Wiley Heads New Developm't Ass'n

M. W. Wiley, president of the First National Bank, was elected president of the chamber of commerce and development association organized here Monday night at the grade school. A representative group of both farmers and businessmen attended the meeting.

Patterson, J. B. Seale; one year terms, Ed Whitfill, Hubert Frizzell, Henry Schacht, J. D. Copeland and Ben Quebe.

President Wiley announced that he would appoint a constitution and by-laws committee, a budget committee, and a membership committee immediately. Other standing committees will be named at a later date.

Monroe Nelson Is Critically Injured In Courthouse Fall

Monroe Nelson, 28, of Floydada, was critically injured about 9:15 Wednesday morning when a scaffold fell at the new courthouse building in Floydada. He is in the Peoples Hospital at Floydada with possibly a fractured skull and other injuries. Attending physicians were unable to determine the exact extent of his injuries due to his condition. However, they did say that his condition was "critical" and indications were that his recovery was doubtful.

Another workman on the scaffold with him, J. O. McGillivray, suffered a broken wrist and a broken finger. The two men fell about 23 feet when a cable slipped on the scaffold on which they were working.

They were cleaning the exterior wall of the new building at the time of the accident and were working on the south side.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. McCollum and family of Stinnett, Texas, visited in the home of his mother, Mrs. J. H. Widener Sunday. Robert has been re-elected to teach in the Pringle school at Stinnett another year and also was recently elected vice president of the Hutchinson County unit of the Texas State Teachers Association. He plans to attend West Texas State College this summer for a course in School Administration.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee R. Viall of Amarillo spent Saturday night and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beall.

Corbin Opposes Gasoline Tax; For Gas Tax

Austin. — Sen. Kilmer Corbin of Lubbock and Lamesa today took a flat-footed stand against a one-cent gasoline tax increase as proposed in the omnibus tax bill voted out of State Affairs Committee in the Senate.

At the same time, Corbin repeated his support for a tax on natural gas going into pipelines. He emphasized that 62 per cent of the natural gas tax would be paid by out-of-state users of Texas gas, leaving 38 per cent for Texas citizens to pay.

As a member of the State Affairs Committee, Corbin was one of only three Senators voting against the one-cent gasoline sales tax increase.

"I will vote against it again on the floor of the Senate and from now on out every time they try to put this extra sales tax on the people of Texas," Corbin declared.

"The tax issue in the Legislature now has come to the point where the legislators must choose between a natural gas pipeline tax (which will be paid largely by people in other states) and a higher gasoline tax (which will be paid almost entirely by Texans)," Corbin continued.

"There's no sense whatsoever in adding more and more sales taxes on the people of Texas when natural gas is going out of the state in ever-increasing volume without paying a fair and just tax for the support of the State," Corbin continued.

Corbin is supporting the natural gas pipeline tax which it is estimated would raise about $30,000,000 a year. The money would be divided as follows: one-fourth, or $7,500,000 to the available school fund for support of the public schools; one-fourth to the cities and towns of Texas for street construction; one-half to the counties for rural road construction.

"This is a fair tax and a just tax," the Senator said. "It is a tax which will solve the State's financial predicament without hurting the people of Texas. It would raise more money than the gasoline tax, but it would cost the people of Texas many times less."

Farmers Urged To Grow More Grains

Farmers in areas where the wheat crop has failed are urged to consider the planting of grain sorghums, Thomas J. Hutchins, Secretary of the county PMA committee, said today.

"We don't want any farmer to plant grain sorghums at the expense of cotton because cotton is vitally needed in our defense effort. However, where growing cotton is not feasible the planting of grain sorghums will help out greatly in our drive for needed feed grains."

B. F. Vance, chairman of the state PMA committee, has already announced that the state meetings have been scheduled by the Texas Agricultural Mobilization Committee to highlight the need for increased production of grain sorghums. These meetings will be held in Amarillo on May 2 and at Abilene on May 3.

"With continued strengthening in consumer demand in prospect and with military requirements increasing there will be need for all the livestock, dairy and poultry products that can be produced from the feed supplies that are expected to be available in the next few years. Feed is the essential factor in maintaining livestock for the present high level of production of meats, dairy and poultry products and must be maintained for several years. While feed is available at the present time, the rate of feeding is at record levels and this constitutes a heavy drain upon the supply of feeds. Requirements may be expected to be even greater as consumer income expands with our progress in the national defense effort," the secretary said.

Kay and Buster Carter of Lorenzo spent last week here visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Carter.

Mrs. F. W. Horton and daughter, Evalyn visited her mother, Mrs. J. H. Widener here last week end. She and her husband are moving to Houston where he will be employed as an electrician.

OPS Deadlines Are Listed

Lubbock. — In bringing West Texas business men up to date concerning the pricing program of the Office of Price Stabilization, C. J. Taylor, District price executive, said that every buyer and seller of goods or services, with "very few exceptions," is covered by regulations issued by OPS. Taylor heads the price division of the Lubbock district which includes merchants of Floyd County.

Contrary to the belief by many merchants that they are exempt, Taylor emphasizes that practically every one of them falls under the General Ceiling Price Regulation or the "tailored" ceiling price regulations which have removed them from the general freeze.

There are certain records which every business must keep," Taylor said, "so that they are available to OPS representatives; and there are filings which many should make with their district office." The district office for merchants of this town and county is in the Broadway Building, 1202 Texas Avenue, Lubbock, Texas.

"By May 14," the price executive continued, "retail grocery stores should be in full compliance with the regulations. They are covered, in the main, by Regulations 15 and 16. They should have already filed with the district office OPS form 3 placing them in a certain category based on 1950 gross sales volume. Full compliance should begin Monday, May 14. Grocery stores operate under a tailored margin-type price program."

Restaurants, cafes, soda fountains, and other eating and drinking establishments should have already filed with the district office their base period food costs per dollar of sales, Taylor explained. Their deadline, too, was April 30. Briefly, the eating establishments are, by regulation II, obligated to keep their food costs in proportion to their total sales.

Another large segment of business, large and small, comes under the tailored, margin-type Ceiling Price Regulation 7 and its amendments. The regulation governs firms handling so-called consumer goods, including soft goods and durables.

"Department stores, variety stores, all kinds of wearing apparel firms, and furniture stores are among the operations falling under CPR 7," Taylor pointed out.

There are record requirements for this type firm to maintain, and they, too, have a filing to do with the district office. The regulation requires that retailers of these type goods file pricing charts by categories with the district office. However, the deadline for filing these charts has been extended to May 30. The former deadline, which no longer holds, was April 30.

Ceiling Price Regulation 13 sets out the pricing procedures for gasoline service stations and retailers of petroleum products. New and used car dealers have definite pricing patterns, too.

Questions concerning all pricing regulations, records keeping, and filing procedures should be directed to the pricing division of the district office. The district office cannot be contacted by chambers of commerce or other organizations unless the district office is notified in writing.

Huntin' AND Fishin'

By Harve Pennington

In fishing all spoons and spinners there is one general rule to follow. Retrieve or troll them just fast enough to bring out their best action. Different lures vary so greatly in this respect that you should experiment to find out what the speed should be. Knowing your lures well will enable you to make the proper selection for particular fish under prevailing conditions.

If the fish are sluggish, a spoon which works well at very slow speed is likely to get the best results. If the fish are active and on the move, then a spoon which is lively when reeled fast should prove the best. No fisherman can afford to ignore these lures. An assortment of various types, sizes, and metals should be in every tackle box. While you may get by with only one kind, and perhaps one size, you will make out better if you are prepared to meet those conditions which every fisherman experiences.

The reason why we have so many lures to choose from is because every fisherman worthy of the name is always figuring out something to take some special fish or to meet a particular condition. Timeworn jokes would make it appear that fishermen are a lazy lot who go fishing simply because they don't like to work. That assumption is unfair. There is no more worthy, thought-provoking, or nerve-soothing sport than fishing. The individual who says "I just haven't the patience to fish", merely shows his ignorance.

Ignorant also is the person who accuses the tackle manufacturers of making lures primarily to lure dollars from the fishermen. The reason so many lures are made is because no one lure ever has been wholly effective. Money-making enters into it, of course. But who works wholly for love? Lures then, are based on fundamentals with which all fishermen should be familiar.

A monkey is the only wild animal that will use sticks, stones or anything handy as a weapon.

Retirement Claim Should Be Filed

March 31 is the last day for many persons to file old age insurance retirement claims without loss of payments. This warning came from the Lubbock office of the Social Security Administration in a statement directed primarily to retired workers.

As explained by Mr. Hutton, Manager of the Lubbock office, recent amendments to the Social Security Act drastically reduce the requirements for eligibility. Under the new rules anyone now 65 years old or who will be 65 before July 1, 1954—needs to have worked only about one and one-half years in jobs covered by the law. Payments cannot begin, however, until the individual is 65 and has retired. "During the last six months, we've been engaged in a real man-hunt" Mr. Hutton explained, "trying to locate as many as possible of the hundreds of people in this area who can be eligible under the new rules. We don't have exact figures, but we know that the majority of them have already applied for payments and many are receiving monthly checks. Unfortunately, many others have not yet filed claims, and much more delay will mean a loss of payments. We can make back payments for 6 months to take care of delayed applications, so that a claim filed before the end of March will cover all months back to last September, when the new rules went into effect.

A representative of the Lubbock Social Security office will be at the Post Office in Lockney at 2:30 p. m. on Tuesday, March 27 to assist persons who wish to file claims for survivors or retirement benefits and to assist in furnishing information about the new Social Security law.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY.

Health Talks

Prepared by the State Medical Association of Texas

When the body sends out signals of persistent overactivity or constant under-activity, it is usually a good idea to find out what's behind the change. All the symptoms of emptiness and fullness may be your normal rate of physical reaction to the daily routine but when these symptoms change from normal, it may well be considered a signal of distress.

Too much or too little desire for food, too much or too little weight, too much or too little elimination of waste materials, too much or too little energy may all come under the classification of excesses or deficiencies, fullness or emptiness that the body responds to with discomfort.

Appetite or the lack of appetite may have a definite bearing upon all the excesses of the body. The overweight person seldom dislikes food and will normally like to eat to the extent that he places a burden upon the whole digestive tract. The person who is underweight will normally complain of lack of appetite or of a finicky dislike of certain foods to the extent that the digestive tract may suffer. When these normal symptoms are reversed or when the appetite varies from normal to the extent of either cravings for food or aversion of food, there is room for suspicion of a threat to health.

Disorders originating in the stomach or intestines may reduce, or interfere, with appetite and diseases affecting the glands of the body may create either constant hunger or a real aversion to food. Nervous disorders and emotional upsets may have either reaction, too much or too little desire for food.

Hot weather seems to decrease the normal appetite and allergy-sensitivity to certain foods, may become associated with the process of painful reaction to eating to such an extent that all foods become unattractive, the harmless ones as well as the ones that cause allergic reactions.

Peptic ulcer is that brand of sore that is sometimes found in the lining of the stomach or the small intestine. Just beyond the stomach. Since the acid of the gastric juice can get at the sore spot much better when there is no food to absorb or dilute it, the victim may want to take food at frequent intervals—even arising around 2 or 3 a. m. to ease his pain with a shot of milk. He may gain weight excessively as a result of his ulcer-enforced eating habits.

High fevers with acute infections and the longer illnesses of chronic infections are noted for the symptom of lack of appetite, which is called anorexia. Improper diet itself, lacking in some or all of the B vitamins, may turn the pleasure of eating into a chore.

The liver plays a very important role in whether or not you look forward with moral glee to those three meals a day, and any irregularity of the liver or its functions may make you wish those three meals were eliminated or doubled.

When your appetite changes from the desire for general foods into certain specific types of food, it may be indicative of changes taking place in your body. Certainly the strange yearnings for exotic foods that may accompany pregnancy are not necessarily a sign that something is wrong; they may be considered a sign that changes are taking place in the body, which happens during pregnancy.

Adolescent girls with a yearning for pickles and condiments may be manifesting a symptom of green sickness, though this illness is much less common than it used to be. Spices, acids and some liquids may be the chief desire of some people suffering from chronic gastritis, an inflammation of the lining of the stomach which may interfere with the stomach juices.

If your teeth are bad or if your false teeth don't fit well, you might develop a lack of appetite merely because eating isn't a pleasure anymore. Since you can't go on indefinitely without eating, any reason that may interfere with your partaking of food may be considered a health threat that requires medical attention.

And a ravenous appetite that seems beyond control may lead to or stem from health disorders that would soon become more serious.

The desire for food at regular intervals is a very pleasant reflex; when it gets out of line, it may be a symptom of danger to your mental and physical well-being.

Paint which contains zinc oxide are best for painting farm buildings in areas that have warm, humid climates. Soft paints, which contain a high percentage of white lead, are better for the areas with a dry climate.

Watch your expiration date.

Lackey Well Down To 8341 Feet

The Houston Oil Co. John S. Lackey wildcat near Cedar Hill was drilling in black sandy shale at 8341 feet Wednesday morning. Since the crew has passed the 8,000 foot mark, most observers feel that the operators will go on to the contract depth of 9,800 feet and test the Ellenberger.

MEMBER OF TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

EDITORIAL

It may be that the house of Judah will hear all the evil which I purpose to do unto them; that they may return every man from his evil way; that I may forgive their iniquity and their sin.—Jeremiah 36:3.

"It is an organization that has been needed here for years." Those words seem to speak the sentiment of most of the people who helped to organize the chamber of commerce and development association Monday night at the grade school cafeteria. Although a large crowd wasn't present, a very representative one was and an enthusiastic spirit prevailed.

As was brought out by one of the officials elected Monday night, the success or failure of the new organization will depend upon the amount of work put into it. Not only should the officers get in the harness and pull but every member ought to do the same. Putting your money into it is not enough. We must all put some time, thought and effort into the work and plans of the organization if it is to accomplish its purpose.

The new organization ought to have a vision of greater things for this area. The irrigated section of Floyd County has not reached more than a fraction of its potential growth and development. The failure here is probably due to lack of organized effort. This organization is set up to make up for that void.

It is not necessarily an organization to benefit the town and not the rural area. Officers of the organization are about evenly divided between farmers and businessmen. The farmer should profit from it just as the businessman. Perhaps some projects of the organization will deal more with the town's welfare than with the rural area. On the other hand some of the projects are bound to deal a great deal more with the rural man's welfare than with those who live in town. By all working together for the common good, then all will profit in the long run regardless of who receives the immediate benefit.

It is an organization that deserves the support and help of all the people of this area. Its success can be assured if all will join in an effort to make it go.

We're glad to see our state senator, Kilmer Corbin, backing the proposed natural gas tax and opposing the gasoline tax. Texas has allowed its natural resources to be used long enough by northern and eastern firms without deriving some benefit. They say that 62% of the natural gas produced in Texas is being used by out-of-state interests. To allow them the privilege of paying some taxes in the state seems just and right in our sight.

We are unable to understand the attitude of the majority of state senators regarding the natural gas tax bill. Perhaps too many of them have accepted retainer fees from the large natural resources companies and allowed that retainer fee to shape their voting policies.

We are still in favor of raising the pay of the legislator. Not many able men are in position to go to Austin and live for two, three or four months and sometimes longer without some financial remuneration other than the $10 per day. Men who serve the state ought to be paid commensurate to their responsibilities.

What a great world this would be if all the criticism were honest and all the criticism were withheld until all the facts were known. Criticism based on incomplete knowledge or blind prejudice may be as harmful as a malicious lie.

THE THING CALLED FREEDOM

Yes, we have the greatest country in the world, the richest, the most intelligent, the most resourceful, the most progressive, the most democratic, and the most powerful. Probably we have the most freedom, the most personal liberty, of any country on the face of the globe. In this country we can write and print whatever we please about the local constable, about the governor of the state, or about the President of the United States so long as we steer clear of slander, libel, and indecency, although we must always bear in mind that the constable may be a big-fisted fellow who has just as much liberty as we have and that the President may have a temper and a daughter of whom he is very proud, and that therefore in exercising our liberty we do run the risk sometimes of getting a terrific punch on the nose. But our Government never cuts a man's head off, sends him to a concentration camp, or backs him up against a wall and shoots him because he may have written the President or any other ordinary citizen of our country. We wouldn't trade America, even swap, for all the rest of the world.—Odds and Ends in Lynn County News.

Every time a new federal agency is created, it over-indulges in the expensive past-time of purchasing luxury furniture items.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd has revealed that five defense agencies have already spent more than $1,250,000 for plush office furnishings, which includes 143 davenport and easy chairs at a cost of $14,200.

The Economic Stabilization Agency, handling price controls, has bought 118 executive desks at $279 apiece, 95 easy chairs at $155 apiece, and 26 davenports at $268 apiece.

Criticism must be tempered with amenity when we start with the image reflected from our own mirror. Each honest man is aware his faults are like the stars, lost in the sunlight of a hurrying world, but fixed in the firmament of his secret soul. Except that criticism is tendered on a satin pillow of compassion and without hiatus, its mission is defeated and rancid balm anoints the critic's vanity.—Trail Dust in Matador Tribune.

MECHANICAL FAILURE

A bill recently passed by the state legislature requires annual inspection of all motor vehicles. Purpose of the bill is to cut down Texas' 2000 annual traffic deaths. Inspections at a cost of $1 per year are to be made by private concerns under the guidance of the Department of Public Safety. No certificate of title can be transferred unless the automobile has been inspected during the preceding 12 months. A certificate of inspection will be another of the papers required for purchasing license plates. Inspections are to cover steering mechanisms, brake lights, warning signals, windshield wipers, and other safety devices. The garage or station doing the inspection is to get 75 cents and 25 cents will go to the state for administrative purposes. This bill will be beneficial not only in preventing accidents, but perhaps in preventing eye in the purchase of used cars. We are wholeheartedly in support of this law. But it is only a step down a long road. Mechanical failures do not cause the largest per cent of traffic accidents. The driver is the cause of most of them. Maybe instead of automatically renewing our drivers licenses, the state should force us to submit to another test each time they expire. We must go even farther in cutting down the traffic death toll.—Post Dispatch.

OUT WITH THE DAVENPORTS

Every time a new federal agency is created, it over-indulges in the expensive past-time of purchasing luxury furniture items.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd has revealed that five defense agencies have already spent more than $1,250,000 for plush office furnishings, which includes 143 davenports and easy chairs at a cost of $14,200.

The Economic Stabilization Agency, handling price controls, has bought 118 executive desks at $279 apiece, 95 easy chairs at $155 apiece, and 26 davenports at $268 apiece.

This is really living! But if price controls has been working, even these plush items could have been bought for half the price through local retail dealers!

If these agencies are to spend tax money for davenports at $268 each, we feel the moral and economic interests of the country would be best served by eliminating office secretaries.—Halls Banner.

MINING THE SOIL

I can remember, as a farm boy, when the deep black soil in the Rogers area produced bumper crops year after year. At one time there were as many as eight gins in Rogers. It has been said that more cotton was shipped from there than any other point on the Santa Fe. There was a cotton oil mill. The town was booming. At its peak there was in the neighborhood of 2,500 people. All businesses flourished. Farm land, if it could be bought at all, was bringing a premium price. Rogers and Bell County were riding high.

And then, as in all things, there was an end to mother nature's resources. Production started falling off and the wave of prosperity began receding from Rogers even more rapidly than it had come. Today instead of eight gins there are no gins. Instead of 2,500 people in the city there is probably six or seven hundred. The rich black soil was mined and what was thought to be an inexhaustible source of income had been depleted, there is probably not over a tenth as many business firms now as there were in the heyday. Nobody is to blame. The people didn't know until it was too late that they were killing the goose that laid the golden egg. Now, however, following a period of despair, there are signs of a comeback in the area. Better farming practices are being used. Many farms are being terraced, stock farming is coming into its own, diversification is being practiced and eventually it will gain take its place among the thriving agricultural areas of the state. The road back will be hard and long, however.—Castro County News.

General MacArthur Addressed Joint Meeting

30% Loss Due To Beverage Alcohol

A midwest automobile insurance company reports, "Based on our own experience, we believe that alcohol is responsible for at least 30 per cent of all losses paid by casualty insurance companies in the United States."

The only insurance company in this country writing insurance for non-drinking drivers exclusively, it probably has more statistical knowledge of the drinking driver than any other insurance company.

Evidence compiled from experience by a Swedish automobile insurance company which limits insurance to total abstainers only is to the same general effect as the Des Moines Company's conclusion.

Accuracy of the conclusion is borne out by studies of drinking driving accidents in several parts of the United States.

For example, the Minnesota Department of Highways reported that in one recent year 14% of all accidents involved drinking drivers but that 29% of the fatal accidents involved drinking drivers.

Recent extensive driving and laboratory tests in a Swedish study indicate a 27% impairment of driving ability among expert drivers who had blood alcohol concentrations ranging from .04% to .06%.

As proof of cheaper insurance, even though less than 20 million registered drivers may be total abstainers, at present the Des Moines Company is able to issue standard automobile insurance at premiums 28% below (on the average) that of premium charged of the largest companies in the business, that have no abstinence provision.

Heart Disease Not Spell Of Doom

Austin. — Too prevalent today is the belief that heart disease is the spell of doom and that one must cease all work and activity. Modern medical knowledge easily disproves this notion, and thousands of case histories bear witness to its falsity.

Heart disease, medical science now knows, is not a single ailment. Many troubles can afflict the heart—some less serious than others. While some restrictions are necessary, it is now generally true that patients with any form of heart trouble should be active within the limits of their capacity.

Not all persons with heart ailments can continue working at their pace. Obviously there are those who require bed rest and often a very strict limitation of physical and mental activity. But there are many who can continue working, performing some type of useful or productive activity, without fear that their hearts will suddenly give out.

A person with a mild heart disorder can in most instances perform any kind of job for which his skills qualify him.

No individual with a heart condition, it should be cautioned, should determine for himself whether he is able to work or not and how much work he can do.

Just as there are many who become cardiac individuals because of fear, there are those at the opposite extreme who ignore proper medical advice and subject their hearts to unnecessary strain and abuse by overactivity. Only a competent physician is qualified to say what are the limits of an impaired heart.

Whooping Cough Not Big Killer Now As In Past

Whooping cough, which once took many children's lives every year, is being brought under control by modern medicine.

In 1915, about 15,000 people in this country, mostly children, died from this virus-caused disease. In 1950, an estimated 1,200 people died, according to latest insurance company statistics.

This dramatic decrease in the mortality rate was brought about through use of new drugs for prevention and treatment. Whooping cough occurs most often in children under five years of age and at one time 25 per cent of infants under six months who contracted the disease died. The American Public Health Association recommends immunization between the third and sixth months of life.

All children are exposed to whooping cough. Once contracted, the disease can have complications which affect the future health of the child. Most common complications are severe inflammation of the middle ear, kidney disease, toxic brain complications, abscess formation, and bronchopneumonia.

Until recently, medication did little to relieve the choking spasms which accompany the disease. However, this is changing. Recent observation of cases of whooping cough treated with the antibiotic drug aureomycin, showed that it greatly reduced the number of severity of coughing spells, as compared to a group not given the drug. In the laboratory, aureomycin is deadly against the germ of whooping cough. In other clinical tests, aureomycin indicated that it will decrease the severity and duration of the illness. Patients receiving the antibiotic showed immediate and steady improvement.

G. I. Insurance Checks Mailed

The first checks for the second special dividend of $685,000,000 to be paid to holders of some 8,000,000 G. I. insurance policies were placed in the mail recently.

Veterans Administration said the checks covered dividends due on some of the National Service Life Insurance policies with anniversary dates falling during the month of January. The anniversary date of a policy is the anniversary of the date on which it originally became effective.

An insured should not expect to receive a dividend check until several months after the policy anniversary date, because the final calculation of the amount due cannot be made until the last premium has been paid for the dividend policy year.

Dividends will be paid on those policies which have been in force three months or longer during the three-year period from the anniversary in 1948 to 1951 inclusive. This applies to both term and permanent plan policies including those which have lapsed or were terminated by the death of the insured.

Veterans Administration said the dividend will require about one year in which to pay. The bulk of the dividend should be distributed by April, 1952.

Veterans Administration again urged policy-holders not to make inquiries about the dividend before they receive their checks. However, after a policyholder has received his check, and he has a question about the payment, he should write to the VA District Office handling the account. The District Office to which he should write is identified in printed material accompanying each check.

One check will be mailed for each policy. Policyholders with more than one policy eligible for the dividend will receive one check for each eligible policy based on the anniversary date of that policy. Since different policies held by the same insured may have anniversary dates months apart, the dividends would be paid at different times. The amount of Dividend earned by each Policy will vary according to the following formula:

1. The number of months it was in force;
 2. The plan of insurance;
 3. The face value of the Policy; and
 4. The age of the Insured at the time it became effective.
- Since this is a special dividend the payments may not be left on deposit with Veterans Administration at interest. However, the checks may be cashed and the proceeds used to pay insurance premiums.

Everything's O.K.!

It's a BOY!

What price good news?

So often it's the price of a telephone call . . . and that means just a few pennies to spread the glad tidings.

Worth more? Of course. Many telephone calls are practically priceless in their value to you.

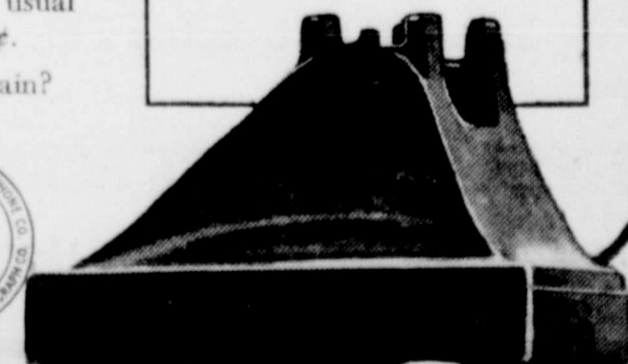

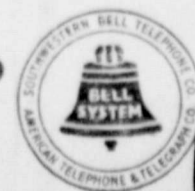

And yet the average cost, including tax, of each local telephone call—the big, important calls and the usual everyday variety—is about 2½¢.

Can you think of a better bargain?

A GROWING BARGAIN!

Telephone service has gone up far less than most things you buy—far less than the average family income.

Proper Spacing Pays Off In Irrigation

Locating irrigation wells too close together is a costly business.

A farm loan official tells this illustrative story: His organization loaned a farmer enough money to put down an irrigation well. It stretched the farmer's credit to the limit, but he got a good well. Not long afterwards, a neighbor drilled a well about 60 feet away. The two wells set up a mutual interference, with the neighbor getting most of the water.

The only thing our farmer can do now is lower his pipes. But that costs another $1,000, and his credit won't stretch that far. And if he does lower his well, chances are that his neighbor will have to do the same.

The point one that water conservation experts have long stressed, is that proper spacing of irrigation wells not only saves water, but also saves time and money . . . and sometimes saves hard feelings.

One of the main functions of the proposed underground water conservation district is to promote proper spacing of all new wells. This would be done under a permit system, and while no person could be denied a permit to drill a well, issuance of the permit could be conditioned on the recommended spacing, thus protecting both the new driller and his neighbors who are already pumping.

Mrs. L. T. Woods was confined to her home with illness two days of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Staniforth Jr. were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Henry's in Floydada on Friday evening for a dinner bridge party. There were three tables of guests for dinner bridge.

The South Plains P-TA held its last meeting of the year on Friday afternoon, May 4. The following officers were elected for the coming year. President, Mrs. L. T. Wood, Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. E. P. Smitherman, Vice-president, Mrs. G. Milton, Richard and Roger Sanders celebrated their joint birthdays in a dinner for several of their friends Sunday, May 6. Richard's birthday was April 29, and Roger's was May 7, so they were given a party by their parents on Sunday. Several friends were present at dinner and for doughnuts and punch during the afternoon, and those who enjoyed the day or who came after church were: Johnny Woods, who is home on a furlough from the Marines, but lives at Sterley, and Louis Foster from Sterley, and Douglas Reeves, Buddy Sanders, Elmo Reeves, Terry Julian, and Richard and Roger Sanders, and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otho Sanders and small brother, Curtis.

The Fairview Home Demonstration Club was hostesses to the South Plains Home Demonstration Club on Wednesday, May 2, at the gracious and lovely home of Mrs. Jim Stewart. Mrs. E. W. Mrs. Walton Wilson and Mrs. Clifford Helms presided at the punch bowl, and dainty cookies and small sandwiches were served with the punch. The serving table was lovely in a beautiful cloth and punch bowl of crystal and surrounded with lilac blossoms. After the guests were served Mrs. E. W. Wells and Mrs. Joe Wilson led the get acquainted games, which were enjoyed immensely. Mrs. S. D. Kinnibrugh gave a lovely poem about Mothers, and an unusual skit was given honoring mothers, in which several members of the club took part. The box supper given by the South Plains Home Demonstration Club at the school house on Friday night, May 4, was not very well attended, but the boxes were beautiful and sold very well. We were glad to have Mr. and Mrs. Charley McDonald from Plainview, and their sons, Mr. Mitchell acted as auctioneer, and we were grateful for his services. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lambert came out from Floydada with the Fields, and we were glad to have them. Thanks to Mrs. Carl Daniels for her unceasing effort in planning each detail, and working so hard in her committee along with others. Mrs. Menard Field's box was judged most beautiful. The box supper netted ninety-seven dollars, fifty cents.

The folks all gave Mr. West a bountiful dinner, and he was fortunate in having all but the youngest boy there to visit him on Sunday. Mr. West is spry and enjoyed his birthday along with all the many children and relatives. Hester West, from Abilene was present also, to help celebrate her father's great day. We all wish Mr. West the best of everything in the years to come.

Quitaque Hails New Road Links

Quitaque. — An estimated 700 spectators Thursday attended ceremonies which opened two new bridge links in the road which connects this community with the Matador-Turkey highway.

Floyd County Judge Frank L. Moore snipped the ribbon at the south end of the 500-foot concrete span over Quitaque Creek. Briscoe County Judge J. W. Lyons Jr., snipped the ribbon at the north end, while members of the two commissioners court stood by.

The bridge over Quitaque Creek is the first to span this stream, which until now had been crossed at low water by only an improvised dirt road.

The 600-foot span over the Los Lingos replaces a wood bridge which was washed away in torrential rains last June and July.

Both county judges spoke briefly, pointing out that completion of the two bridge links in Farm-To-Market Road 1965 is the realization of a 40-year dream among residents of this area.

Jim Potts of Floydada, resident engineer for the highway department, served as master of ceremonies, introducing the county judges and S. C. McCarthy, district highway engineer at Lubbock.

Pete Rice of Quitaque was in charge of the barbecue which followed the ceremonies. The barbecue was sponsored by the Quitaque Lions Club, under the direction of President O. R. Stark.

The two bridges were built by the Amarillo firm of Bell, Braden, Barker and Gilvin at a total cost of $90,000.

The new bridges now give easy access to the Matador-Turkey highway for a large population of area farmers.

Ocie R. Golightly Dies At Floydada

Floydada. — Ocie R. Golightly, 65 years old, died at 9 o'clock Monday morning at his home in Floydada. He had suffered a paralytic stroke four years earlier.

Survivors include his wife, four sons, Lee and L. D. of Floydada, W. E. Grand Prairie, and Ed. Lubbock; a daughter, Miss Viola Golightly, Floydada; and a brother, Tom, of Crowell.

Funeral services were conducted at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the First Baptist Church of Floydada. Rev. Earl Allen, pastor, officiated.

Burial was in Floydada Cemetery. Services were under the direction of Harmon Funeral Home.

Pasture Development Aid Available Through PMA

Successful livestock growers recognize they cannot produce milk and beef most economically unless they have an abundance of good grazing. Many Texas farmers have found that an improved permanent pasture is their best and cheapest source of feed. Well managed pastures carrying one cow or more per acre is no longer a dream in this State, Texas, but a fact which has been demonstrated on numerous occasions in recent years.

The ability of Texas livestock farmers to compete with livestock producers of other sections of the nation depends primarily on their ability to produce an abundance of grazing throughout the year. The farmers of part of the state have one great natural advantage over northern and western livestock producers in that they can grow winter pastures as well as spring and summer pastures. Year-round grazing is the Texas farmer's main answer to the problem of economical livestock production.

Realizing the importance and value of improved permanent pastures, the Agricultural Conservation program provides a way whereby farmers may obtain the equivalent of cash assistance or certain materials for the establishment of a permanent pasture. The assistance consists of either payments or reimbursements for a part of the cost of establishing the pasture and applies to such items as grass and legume seed, limestone, superphosphate, potash and land clearing.

Farmers who are interested in obtaining this assistance must bear in mind that there are definite limitations on each individual farm as to the total amount of assistance available for pastures, and there are also definite specifications which must be complied with in developing their pasture. Those who are interested should contact their county PMA administrative officer for details concerning the pasture practices.

SOLDIER—Pvt. Charles Samples, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Samples of Lockney, has just finished basic training and is now attending an auto parts school at Fort Lee, Virginia. He has been assigned to the quartermaster corps.

Stapleton Speaks To Rotary Club

District Attorney John Stapleton spoke to the Lockney Rotary Club last Friday noon his subject being Jury Service. The subject was in keeping with the "Jury Service Month" sponsored by the State Bar Association and the Texas Press Association, in which citizens are urged to accept jury service and to realize its importance in the democratic government.
