

Huntin' AND Fishin'

By Harve Pennington

Because no method of fishing has gained the popularity and range of bass fishing by means of bait casting, the number of lures that has been produced to fill the demand, is very great. From the cigar-shaped plug that was originally carved by Jim Heddon on the banks of Dowagiac Creek, in Michigan, to the latest quirk, that of a gas-operated plug that moves fantastically in erratic circles and dashes over the water, there has been created everything from the sublime to the ridiculous. Out of the welter of attractors, the fisherman is asked to select ten or fifteen lures that will do for any fishing he might want to carry out, north, south, east and west.

While it is admitted that the Black Bass is one of the most notional of all fish, it is not difficult to ascertain its likes and dislikes so far as lures are concerned. First it is known that bass are, by nature, watchers of the surface of the lake or stream in which they are found. That they take a definite amount of their food from the top of the water is known, but how much is uncertain. Because of this habit of surface feeding the use of surface lures is indicated, and may be considered in the light of the most seductive and killing lure of all. Second, the fact that much of their food is taken under the water's surface invites the use of an under water lure that will operate six inches under the water to many feet down.

In the relatively new method of deep-trolling for bass, the plug lure is sent bottomward to cruise around and attract bass that are sojourning in deep water. In the class of underwater plugs are found the wigglers, those possessed of a metal mouthpiece. When reeled through the water, they have a most animated wiggle that is lifelike to a degree, and are among the most successful of modern bass lures. Third is a class of lures that embrace all manner of metal attractors, such as rubber-skirted lures, and single hook spoons to which is applied a pork rind strip or pork chunk. In this class there are myriad experiments, many failures, and many successes. The top water popping plug is made either of light wood or other floating material and does not dip under water. It stays only on the surface. By reason of a cupped head, scoop mouth, metal lip or some other such appurtenance, when jerked on the surface by a sharp twitch of the rod, the plug will cause a bubbling, boiling, or gurgling sound on the water, sometimes actually simulating a popping noise. Because of this noise making ability the lure is generally known as a popper or a popping plug. There are a great number of specimens of this type lure on the market. To operate the popping plug, cast it and give it a sharp jerk which causes it to boil up the water. It is then permitted to rest motionless on the surface for a moment, and is then jerked a little to give it a slight nervous movement, imitating thereby the action of some creature that has dropped to the water and

APOSTACY (NO. 2)

Last week we started a study on the subject of the possibility of apostacy. Let us now continue our study. The question in hand is, "Can one who has been saved, in obedience to the gospel, fall away from the grace of God to the extent that he will be lost for eternity?" Let us remember that Adam fell from His grace in the Garden of Ed. — IF a saved man cannot NOW fall, when did or when does man lose this power of will?

Let us stop for just a moment and notice the division of the New Testament. First we have the four books that tell us of the Life of Christ. Next we have Acts of Apostles, which gives to us the establishment of the church, the history of the church as it grew, and what to do to become a Christian (how to be saved). Now we have 21 books that tell us how to live as Christians. Question: If it were not demandatory that we live above sin, why did the Lord give us so much on how to live as Christians? Does this not point toward the fact that man can fall unless he gives much diligence toward his manner of life?

Friends, we do not have to rely upon supposition in this matter. Turn to the 8th chapter of the Book of Acts. Simon and Sorcerer heard the preaching of Philip. Simon believed the preaching of Philip, and was baptized. When Peter and John were come down to lay their hands on some of the Samaritans that they might receive gifts of the Spirit, Simon desired to purchase the power that the Apostles had. Peter told him to "Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray God, if perhaps the thought of thy heart be forgiven thee." QUESTION: Does any one but a child of God have the right of repentance and prayer for the forgiveness of sin?

QUESTION: Are we today possessors of "being kept" by a greater power than Paul was kept by? No! Paul said in I Cor. 9:27, "But I keep under my body, and bring it into subjection: least that by any means, when I have preached to others, I myself should be a castaway." (One of the arguments of the advocates of the impossibility of falling from a saved state is that if a man sins that he was never saved in the first place). Question: Was Paul saved? Yes. Yet he said there was a possibility of his being a castaway. Is a saved person today safer than was Paul.

It was also the Apostle Paul who said, "Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth take heed LEST HE FALL." Friend, does this sound as if man cannot fall. Someone may say, "Paul said the one that 'thinketh' he standeth and not actually one that was standing, but one that thought he stood." QUESTION: Could one that did not stand but just thought he stood, FALL? If you were to blindfold a person and ACT as if you were taking him up on a tower and then tell that person that he was on top of a high tower and he THOUGHT that he was, could he FALL from the tower because he thought he was on it? How fool'sh even to ask the question. Can a person that thinks he has salvation FALL because he THINKS he has salvation but doesn't?

NOT MUCH OF A MYSTERY
—This mystery farm picture appearing in last week's Beacon was not too much of a mystery since The Beacon had a round 40 people call up to identify the place as belonging to R. H. Ford in the Prairie Chapel community. James Quisenberry of Lockney was the first to call and he received two tickets to the Plains or Seale Drive-In Theatres as a reward. Mr. and Mrs. Ford are at Rochester, Minn. now where she has just had a very serious operation. They have lived on the farm for a little more than five years, buying and moving to it in December, 1947. They formerly were residents of the Cedar Hill community. They have 210 acres on the place and it is irrigated. The Fords are now building a new home just west of their old residence. The new house will have seven rooms and two baths and will be large enough to accommodate their seven children. The children range in age from Roy, age 7 to Jerry, age 17. Four of the children are boys and three are girls. Look for another mystery farm picture in Handley's Shop & Pump Company advertisement in this week's Beacon.

Field Leveling Proves Value

Farmers in cooperation with the Soil Conservation District and assistance of Soil Conservation Service technicians are field leveling their land for more efficient use of irrigation water and natural rainfall.

Low M. Davis, a cooperar in the Harmony Community, has just leveled 54 acres of flat irrigated land. This area contained a shallow lake covering about eight acres which drowned out crops. The area surrounding the lake was very uneven caused by plow corners, old ditch lines and fence rows. Mr. Davis said that yields had been low on this area because irrigation water could not be applied uniformly. Some spots were partially drowned out and other spots did not get enough water. He stated a land float was used each year but helped very little. Mr. Davis has not eliminated the lake but made the whole area uniform without stripping the topsoil from the area surrounding the lake.

L. C. Franks, a cooperar farming in the Cedar Hill community, has just leveled twenty acres. This area also contained a shallow lake. Mr. Franks plans to plant this area to row crops. He plans to use small temporary borders which he can install himself if he plants it to a broadcast crop in order to control his irrigation water.

Field leveling is suited to flat land. No borders are required unless broadcast crops are to be irrigated. Large areas are leveled in one block. It cannot be used on steep land because this sloping land cannot be leveled in one block. The practice is to fit the leveling to the land. Bench leveling or leveling in narrow strips with permanent borders is used on sloping land. As the slope flattens out the strips leveled are made wider thus decreasing the number of permanent borders. If a broadcast crop is to be irrigated on these wide strips temporary borders are installed between the permanent borders to fit the strips to the size of the irrigation well.

Leveling improves the use of irrigation water, natural rainfall and stops water erosion.

"Go-togethers"

Newlyweds and the electric freezer-refrigerator combination are perfect go-togethers. The small family finds ample storage space in the freezer compartment of the combination, and gains economy that the big family finds in the home freezer. Meats, stewing chickens, ham, and other economy meat cuts can be stored and made into individual meals that are both economical and attractive. Thus you end the usual "cooking for two" expense, which usually means expensive "one time" meat cuts. When there are two, and the marriage is new, it's the freezer-refrigerator for you.

Minute Editorials

But thou, O Lord, art a shield for me; my glory, and the lifter up of my head.—Psalms 3:3.

Lost opportunities. The road of any failure is made up of lost opportunities. Many of us are so obsessed with our everyday lives that we fail to recognize opportunity when it presents itself. Others are unable to grasp it even when it is recognized, not having the knack of taking hold of a situation and using it to advantage.

There are lost opportunities for cities as well as individuals, and the City of Lockney is no exception. Several times in past years we have had opportunity to aid in securing a business that would furnish steady employment the year round — something every city is always looking for — but we have neglected to do anything about it. We are reliably informed that the West Texas Cotton Oil Co. has had several opportunities to sell or lease the big building they have in Southeast Lockney. Perhaps with some work by the citizens of this city something would have come of it — but nothing was done and the matter was dropped.

The people who are supposed to know tell us that cities are built — they don't just grow up. If this city is to continue to grow the citizens of Lockney are going to have to get together and do something — work out a program to help that growth. We have been fortunate in past years in the things that have come our way without very much help from us — but we can't always expect fortune to smile on us. We'd better do something to help it along.

It's clean-up time in West Texas. Many cities are planning clean-up campaigns and it is time for Lockney to do the same. The time to fight flies is before they get started, the health authorities tell us, and a clean-up campaign now would be worth two in the summer. Let's get started on cleaning up our premises — collectively and individually.

The wind blows free. That may be the name of a movie but it also perfectly describes the weather in West Texas last week. The old timers tell us that when we don't have wind in March we usually get it later in the year and such was the case this year. Hopes are that the windy days are over and that perhaps we will have a chance for some moisture now. We dry land farmers sure hope so, anyway.

Warning to 16 year olds who want to be 18: When you get a little older the years pass so fast — in fact too fast for comfort. You better stay as young as you can while you can. Just think — 10 years ago we were just getting started good in World War II — boys were leaving home, some never to return — business was picking up after 15 years of depression, the improvement being brought on by the war effort — and it seems such a short time to those of us who were old enough to grasp the significance of it fully. Why only a few days ago it was Christmas and then came January 1 and the struggle with income tax and other first of the year chores. And now it is May and the year is almost half gone. Soon it will be summer time and that will fade into fall with the harvesting of crops and then it will be Christmas again and another year passed. Take our advice: Stay young while you can.

MOTHER'S DAY

With Our EXCHANGES

TELEVISION VS. MOVIES

It's common knowledge that no progressive shopping center can afford not to have a theatre. But it isn't common knowledge in Hale Center that the local theatres are doomed unless something unusual turns people back to theatres again for entertainment.

It isn't quality and variety variety of pictures . . . it isn't prices . . . it isn't fault or shortcoming of Operator Boyd Prather that is endangering the future of the new XIT Theatre and the PIX Theatre.

It's television! FOR THE PAST FEW MONTHS since television made its appearance here, attendance at the local theatre has dropped off so sharply that even the best pictures are losing money. The loss is becoming prohibitive. The theatre can't stand the loss for many more months. First, we hasten to point out that we have nothing but the highest regard for television. And we don't want to consider this article as criticism against the people who stay at home to enjoy the television program. But we do feel justified in pointing out the danger of our local theatres closing down and how badly their closing would damage our community. Once they close, it's too late for tears and there's no doubt that there will be a lot of crying in our town. Boyd Prather is forced to close down. IF YOU'RE A DOUBTING THOMAS, who doubt the value of our modern theatres, ask the merchants in neighboring towns who endure the second rate entertainment of second rate theatres. Ask the merchants and citizens in towns where there is no theatre entertainment exception during the harvest rush.

In towns where television has closed down the theatres, the citizens have gone to heavy expense to bring theatre entertainment back home. Not until too late did they realize they couldn't do without a theatre.

They discovered that loss of the theatres hurt business badly at home . . . that people went to other places to find recreation. People learned that young people sought other places for entertainment, keeping late hours driving on crowded highways at night. Merchants suffered badly, direct and indirectly.

WHEN A TOWN FAILS to provide theatre entertainment it becomes a ghost town without life, with little to offer to induce people to stay at home. Older people drift to other places and get into the habit of trading at other places with a feeling that their own home town is a failure.

Close the doors of our theatre for lack of patronage would be like closing the door in the face of people who patronize our town. — Hale Center American.

BUSINESS CREED

Of all the wall mottoes you see hanging over desks of merchants or other business men, one of the most significant is this: "My competitors do more for me than my friends do; my friends are too polite to point out my weaknesses, but my competitors go to great expense to advertise them." "My competitors are efficient, diligent and attentive; they make me search for ways to improve my products and services." "My competitors would take my business away from me if they could; this keeps me alert to hold what I have." "If I had no competitors I would be lazy, incompetent, inattentive; I need the discipline they enforce upon me." "I salute my competitors; they have been good to me; God Bless them all!" What a sorry world we'd have without competitors. — Amarillo Daily News.

 in 1954 and thereafter. Most cotton farmers do not want to see these results of a large 1953 crop.
What Does The Secretary Suggest?
 1. It is suggested that cotton farmers as a whole plant less than five acres for each six planted in 1952. Some farmers will need to reduce more than the average if the acreage reduction is achieved. It is known that because of unfavorable weather and moisture conditions cotton was not planted or a low acreage was planted on some farms in 1952.
 2. It is suggested that soil improving crops and feed crops be produced on diverted acreage. Most farmers need to grow soil improving crops. In addition the large numbers of livestock require more feeds and forage than were produced in 1951 and 1952.
 Farmers of Floyd County should study the cotton situation thoroughly and decide in your own interest and in the interest of their cotton producing neighbors whether you will de-fits can be secured under the minimum acreage allotment provisions of the law by planting a larger acreage in 1953. The law provides that the minimum 1954 allotment for a farm shall not be less than the smaller of (a) ' acres or (b) the highest acreage planted to cotton on the farm during the three years, 1951, 1952, and 1953.

 The maximum acreage which can be allotted to a farm in apportioning the county allotment on the basis of a uniform percentage of cropland will be the highest acreage planted to cotton on the farm in the three years 1951, 1952, and 1953. In 1950 only a small portion of the farm allotments of more than five acres were limited by the highest cotton acreage history in the three year period 1946, 1947, and 1948.

 The above statements are all based on the present provisions of the law. If congress amends any of these provisions relating to the base period and method for establishing allotments, the above statements may be altered.

crease the cotton acreage, increase it or leave the acreage devoted to cotton the same as it was in 1952. It is entirely up to you in 1953.
Cotton Allotments
 Increased cotton plantings in 1953 will not result in larger 1954 allotments for the vast majority of farms under present provisions of the law in the event marketing quotas are in effect, according to a statement from the United States Department of Agriculture.
 If acreage allotments and marketing quotas are proclaimed for the 1954 cotton crop, present provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, provide that:
 (1) "The national acreage allotment for cotton for 1953 and subsequent years shall be apportioned to the States on the basis of the acreage planted to cotton (including the acreage regarded as planted to cotton under the provisions of Public Law 12, Seventy-ninth Congress) during the five calendar years immediately preceding the calendar year in which the national marketing quota is proclaimed with adjustments for abnormal weather conditions during such period." Public Law 28, 81st Congress, prohibits the use of 1943 cotton acreage in determining

State, county, and farm allotments. The base period, therefore, for establishing 1954 State acreage allotments is the five years 1947, 1948, 1950, 1951 and 1952. The 1955 base period will be the five years 1948, 1950, 1951, 1952, and 1953 and each year thereafter the first year will be dropped and the year following the last will be added.
 (2) The State acreage allotment, less the State acreage reserve withheld by the State committee, shall be apportioned to counties on the basis of the same five year period that is provided in apportioning the national acreage allotments to States.
 (3) The 1954 county Acreage allotment, less the acreage reserve withheld by the county committee, shall be apportioned to farms on which cotton was planted during any one of the three years 1951, 1952 and 1953, primarily on the basis of a county uniform percentage or cropland on the farm excluding the acreage devoted to specified crops. If cotton was planted on the farm in either 1951 or 1952, the farm will be eligible for a 1954 allotment as a regular cotton producing farm regardless of whether cotton is planted on it in 1953. Also, if more than 5 acres were planted in either

LOCKNEY, TEXAS
 GERALD JOHNSON, ASSOCIATE PASTOR

REV. WILEY ACCEPTS
 Rev. R. E. Wiley, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Cordell, Oklahoma, Monday notified the pulpit committee that he would accept the call of the church to be pastor here. He will preach his first sermon on May 24th.

ORGAN
 The church voted in conference last week to purchase a Hammond Organ. We welcome this new instrument to the music program of our church.

REDECORATION
 The auditorium of the church is to be redecorated in the very near future. Mrs. R. C. Mitchell, Mrs. Sid Thomas and Horton Howell are the committee that have been appointed to do the job.

SUPPLY PREACHERS
 During the month of April we had a number of preachers to supply our pulpit while we were in search of a pastor. Easter Sunday, the 5th, Bro. A. A. Bryan, vice president of Howard Payne College, was the guest speaker. The 12th, Bro. Ira Harrison, who is the manager of the Baptist Book Store in Lubbock spoke. Bro. Lloyd Hilton, who is a senior student in Wayland College, brought the message on the 19th. Last Sunday, the 26th, Bro. Clay Muncy, who is a member of the church here, brought a fine message which we all enjoyed very much. I know the church would like to say thanks to all the preachers who have been with us during the time we have been without a pastor.

SUNDAY SCHOOL
 We are very proud of our Sunday school. For the month of March we averaged 356 per Sunday. That is right at the most we have ever averaged in our history. We dropped a little this month. We only averaged 336 per Sunday. We have averaged a good 312 for the year beginning last September. I noticed the other day that the 6 months prior to that we had only averaged 289. We can see that we are slowly climbing and we are praying that it will be possible to grow even more.

Armed Forces Celebration At Reese A. F. Base

Underlining the theme of "Power for Peace," Reese Air Force Base officials are rapidly preparing final plans for a mammoth "open house" celebration to be held Armed Forces Day, Saturday, May 16.

Army, Navy and Air Force exhibits of special equipment, jet and conventional aircraft on display and aerial flyovers will be part of the demonstrations shown the public with the opening of the main gates at 11:00 a. m.

One of the day's features will be an artillery demonstration by Army personnel from Fort Sill, Okla. The troops, and their "big guns" should provide spectators with many thrills during their exhibition.

U. S. Air Force and Navy aircraft will be included in the display of air might. Visitors will have the opportunity of getting a close-up view of training, transport and combat aircraft.

In the air, several flying demonstrations are planned, including formation flyovers of B-29's, T-28's, F-80's and T-37's. Loud speakers on the flight line will be coordinated so that spectators may hear the actual radio procedures between aircraft and the Reese control tower.

Other events in the day's schedule will be The Sam Houston Rifles of the Air Force ROTC unit from Texas Technological College, who will demonstrate precision drilling; a Ground Controlled Approach (GCA) landing demonstration; a helicopter flight demonstration; and continuous movies showing throughout the afternoon in the base theatre.

Armed Forces Day is also graduation day for Class 53-C-2, who will receive their pilot's wings. Following a short address by Brig. Gen. L. G. Saunders (Ret), the former aviation cadets will receive their wings and the officers and men of the 3500th Pilot Training Wing will pass in review. The review is scheduled for 12:30.

Two refreshment stands will be near the demonstrations, tended by officer's and NCO wives, for those who become hungry and thirsty during the open house.

Due to a cold Dr. Wayne Greer was unable to help but he will see the children during the summer. Fifty children received the complete examination.

Others helping during the day were Mrs. Wallace Allen, Mrs. R. R. Sissney, Mrs. Raymond Rucker, Mrs. L. L. Rhodes, Mrs. Arthur Barker Jr., Mrs. Revis Harris, Mrs. John Riley, Mrs. Oscar Golden, Mrs. Warren Graham, Mrs. Clyde Kemp, Mrs. E. J. Foster, Mrs. Dee Copeland, Miss Joan Brown, school nurse and Mrs. Jay McPherson, chairman.

Mr. Olin Ritter of San Angelo was a guest last week end in the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. D. Reese and family.

Court Districts In Area Face Changes

Austin, April 28 — A statewide judicial redistricting bill passed by the House Tuesday proposes two changes in district court organization in the South Plains.

Crosby County, now included in the 72nd District along with Lubbock, Hockley and Cochran counties, would be moved to the 110th District. It would share that court with Briscoe, Floyd, Motley, and Dickens counties.

The 132 District court, now operating on a temporary basis, would be made a permanent court with Garza County added to the district now composed of Borden and Scurry counties.

The 106th District would be composed of Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Gaines and Dawson counties.

Lubbock would retain its 99th District court and the 64th District, composed of Parmer, Castro, Bailey, Lamb, Hale and Swisher counties, would also remain the same.

The bill passed the House by a vote of 118 to 21. It now goes to the Senate for action there.

While there the two families made a five-day tour of California including points along the coast and many places of interest in and around Los Angeles.

Floyd County 4-H Boy To Attend Nat'l Club Camp

College Station. — Texas 4-H club members will be represented at the 1953 National 4-H Club Camp to be held in Washington, D. C., June 17-24, by four veteran members. They are Troy Lee McNeill of Floyd County; Johnny Halbert of Nacogdoches County; Yvonne Allen of Denton County and Ruth Anderson of Nueces County.

Floyd Lynen, state 4-H leader for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says the delegates were selected on the basis of their outstanding leadership, community service and achievements in 4-H club work.

All are Gold Star members and each has won district or statewide recognition for leadership and achievement. Collectively, they have completed 30 years of active participation in 4-H demonstration and activity work. All have held many offices in their local, county, district and state 4-H organizations and currently all are serving as junior leaders in their respective local 4-H clubs.

While in Washington, they'll visit the different branches of the Federal government, government officials and many of the national shrines Agriculture will not be left out of their busy schedule. The USDA's great research center at Beltsville, Maryland, will be visited as will the Department of Agriculture. The theme of the camp is "Know Your Government."

Funds for the all-expense trips are being provided by the United Gas Pipeline Company, Inc., says Lynch.

In addition to their outstanding 4-H records, each has found time to give assistance to younger 4-H members and to participate in school, community and church activities. Local county extension agents have supervised their work in the counties with assistance from local adult leaders.
