The Lockney Softball League, composed of six teams this year, will begin league play on Tuesday night of next week. The league teams will play on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday nights of each week. The league is composed of these teams: FFA Boys, Fire Department, Providence, South Plains, Lone Star and the American Legion team.

The first round will run through Thursday, June 18. The second and third rounds will follow with the schedule following the first round in exactly the same order, league officials said.

Following is the first round schedule:

Tuesday, June 2 — FFA vs. Fire Department; Providence vs. South Plains.

Thursday, June 4 — Lone Star vs. Legion; FFA vs. Providence.

Friday, June 5 — Fire Department vs. South Plains; Legion vs. Providence.

Tuesday, June 9 — Lone Star vs. South Plains; FFA vs. Legion.

Thursday, June 11 — Fire Department vs. Lone Star; South Plains vs. Legion.

Friday, June 12 — FFA vs. Lone Star; Fire Department vs. Providence.

Tuesday, June 16 — Fire Department vs. Legion; FFA vs. South Plains.

Thursday, June 18 — Providence vs. Lone Star.

3-Dimension Film At Seale Drive-In

Probably the first three-dimensional film to be shown in Floyd County is scheduled at the Seale Drive-In Theatre on Tuesday and Wednesday nights of next week, June 2 and 3. It is a featurette titled "A Day in The Country." The required glasses will be furnished with each adult admission at the regular price of 50 cents. For children under 12 the only charge will be 10 cents for glasses, according to J. B. Seale.

The feature of the night will be "Hellgate," a film story of the famed Hellgate prison starring Joan Leslie and Sterling Hayden. A cartoon completes the nights program.

Plains To Be Closed Middle Of Week

At least during the month of June the Plains Theatre will not operate on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights. Mr. Seale said this week. It will show Friday and Saturday and also Sunday and Monday.

"We're having the same trouble other theatres in the area are having," Mr. Seale said. "Television is too much competition. We have been used to losing a little money through the summer months but we can't afford to operate full time and lose the money we have been losing lately. Therefore we are curtailing our schedule during the summer months with the expectation that by fall business will be back where it has been."

It is the first time in the 10 years he has operated the show that the Plains has been closed. Mr. Seale pointed out. The Seale Drive-In, also owned by Mr. Seale, will continue to operate a full schedule of films.

Saturday Will Be "Poppy Day" Here

Saturday will be "Poppy Day" in Lockney and members of the American Legion Auxiliary will hold the regular Memorial Day poppy sale on that day. Members of the Auxiliary and girl scouts will ask the people of the community to wear a poppy in memory of the men who gave their lives in service of their country and those who are in hospitals now.

All money contributed for the poppies will be used for benefit of disabled veterans and the welfare of their families.

A CLEAN CITY IS A SAFE CITY!

Temperature Hits High Mark For May

The weather really warmed up in this area the past week and the thermometer hit a high mark for May when it reached 100 in Lockney on Monday of this week, according to the government thermometer kept by Joe Holt, local weather observer. On Sunday the high temperature was 98 degrees and on Tuesday 97. The forecast for Thursday was continued warm with light winds, Mr. Holt said.

Rain falling last Saturday night totaled .37 of an inch here.

The cotton situation was looking better this week with most farmers having at least a part of their cotton up to a stand. However the showers falling every few days have kept some from getting a stand yet. The cotton acreage will probably not be as large as first thought in this area but may be as large as last year.

Fifty-five students, including two who finished their high school work in colleges, received diplomas signifying graduation from Lockney High School in Commencement exercises Monday evening in the auditorium of the First Baptist Church.

The local swimming pool at the City Park will open Saturday afternoon at 1:30, it was announced this week by members of the City Park committee. As a special attraction Saturday several gold fish will be turned loose in the pool and to every one who catches a gold fish will be given a month's pass to the pool.

Charles Hammit has been employed as manager of the swimming pool and park and will also act as life guard at the pool. A new life buoy has been purchased as has two new diving boards and some new clothes baskets.

Other improvements include the providing of rest room facilities for pool patrons in the city auditorium building.

Other improvements have been made in the City Park and the place is now a real attraction for picnickers and those seeking recreation. The Lockney Garden Club has recently planted flowers to beautify the grounds. The new swing purchased by the Lockney Rotary Club is up and in use, several new picnic tables have been built and other improvements are under way.

Carothers Case Is Dismissed

The case against J. H. Carothers of Lockney in county court at Floydada charging sale of liquor in a dry territory was ordered dismissed last Thursday by County Judge Ralph G. Johnson due to the retraction of previous statements by two state witnesses. The two young men, Travis Mason and John Jacobs, both of Floydada, had previously filed sworn statements with the sheriff's department that they purchased whiskey from Carothers on January 9, 1953 but when the case came to trial Thursday morning both men changed their testimony and stated that they had not purchased whiskey from Carothers.

A copy of the judgment as entered in the county court records shows that both men freely admitted they had made statements to Sheriff Earl Cooper and the County Attorney Kenneth Bain saying that they had purchased the whiskey from Carothers. They did not change their testimony until Thursday morning when the case came to trial.

As a result of the arrest of Carothers on the charge, he has filed a suit for damages against Sheriff Cooper in federal court at Lubbock for $4,000. Bondsmen for the sheriff are furnishing legal counsel to assist the county and district attorney in fighting the case.

Harmony Is 5th In Texas Rural Progress Contest

College Station, May 24. — First prize of $500 in the sixth year of the Texas Rural Neighborhood Progress Contest goes to the Sunnyside community of Castro county. The rules of the contest require that to be eligible for three district awards at least 15 or more communities must submit completed entry forms. The number of district awards therefore, was dependent upon the entries from each of the districts.

The contest is judged on the basis of records and visits to the communities. Items considered in naming the winners include almost everything worthwhile that could be done on a community basis for improving life in the community.

Vote Friday On School District Status Change

Voters in the Lockney Rural High School District will vote Friday of this week on the proposition, recently submitted by the board, of changing the status of the district from a rural high school district to that of an independent district.

Voting will be at the high school building with polls opening at 8 a. m. and close at 7 p. m. Frank Dodson has been named election judge and clerks will be Mrs. Lula Woodburn and Mrs. Frank Jameson.

All qualified voters who pay property taxes on any kind of property, real estate, automobile, farm implements or any other taxable property may vote in the election, officials said.

Supt. W. C. Irons has emphasized two points regarding the change in status. The first is that the taxing powers of the board will not be changed since the trustees of an independent district have exactly the same powers regarding the setting of valuation of property for tax purposes as do the board of a rural high school district.

In response to a query by The Beacon last week a letter from the Texas Education Agency quoted the law saying that the boards of the two kinds of districts had equal powers of assessing valuation of property and that the change in the status of the district would not affect the taxing program in any way.

Also there will be no change in the districts receiving of state money, it was pointed out, since the money is distributed on the basis of class room teacher units and the status of the district has no effect on it.

The value of the change is that the local board and the patrons of the school will have much more control over their own district as an independent one rather than a rural high school district. In the present status, that of rural high school, the county school board and county school superintendent have supervisory authority over the local district that they would not have in an independent district.

Purpose of the board in asking the change is that the local district may be in position to handle its own affairs free from red tape and incumbrances that come with a rural high school district, members of the board said.

APOSTASY NO. 5

The question under consideration today is that of sin. Will a Child of God be eternally lost if he sins? There are those in the religious world today who advocate that a Christian may commit murder, adultery, or any other sin and he will not be lost. This is the other side of the teaching of the impossibility of apostasy. Friends, I feel that this doctrine is more dangerous to our society than the other side of the question that we have been studying for the past month. (I am sure that either one is bad, and both being false doctrines we know that we can not follow such and be pleasing to God. But when I refer to it being more dangerous, I refer to this world, and the effects such a doctrine can have on society.) Let us stop and consider for just a moment. Suppose that our children are reared to believe that they may commit any kind of sin and still be saved. This alone will remove a great portion of their inspiration to live pure lives. One religious group teaches that one may buy indulgences to sin. I believe that by a survey of countries dominated by this religion, we can see the effects of such a rotten doctrine. A lot of the inspiration to live pure lives has been removed by the teaching that they can buy indulgences to sin, or after they sin they may pay the priest to forgive their sin. No wonder the morality of the lands dominated by advocates of such teaching is so low. Friends, this doctrine of man sinning and not having to pay the supreme penalty for his sins is not only dangerous to our souls in eternity but it is also dangerous to our society.

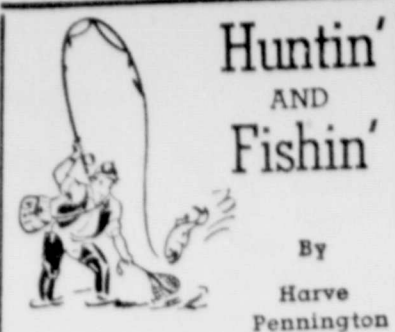

Let us notice what the Book has to say about the matter. In the long ago one of the prophets recorded these words for us. In Ezekiel 18:20, "The soul that sinneth, it shall die . . ." Read farther, in verse 24, "But when the righteous turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, and doeth according to all the abominations that the wicked man doeth, shall he live? All his righteousness that he hath done shall not be mentioned; in his trespass that he hath trespassed, and in his sin that he hath sinned, in them shall he die." We realize that this was written in the Old Testament but we quote this to show God's attitude toward sin in other ages. Now let us go to the New Testament and to the Christian dispensation.

We read in Rom. 6:23, "For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord." Do you believe this? If we remain the servants of sin, i. e., continue to live in sin, we shall receive the wages of sin. Let us go now to Gal. 5:16-21. "This I say then. Walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfill the lust of the flesh. For the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh; and these are contrary the one to the other; so that ye cannot do the things that ye would. But if ye be led of the Spirit, we are not under the law. Now the works of the flesh are manifest, which are these: adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness, idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulations, wrath, strife, seditions, heresies, envyings, murders, drunkenness, revellings, and such like: of the which I tell before, as I have also told you in time past, THAT THEY WHICH DO SUCH THINGS SHALL NOT INHERIT THE KINGDOM OF GOD." This is clear and plain. Such things will cause us to be lost. There is no question about the teaching of the Scriptures upon this subject.

We invite you to all services of the Main Street Church of Christ. Study your Bible and then be led by the Spirit of God. He leads through the Word of God and not separate and apart from the Word.

No matter how well your rod is made, it can do nothing for you without the proper line. I used a fly rod for several years before I knew how easy it was to do good casting, and the reason was that I never really understood how important the fly line is. If the line is too light or too heavy for the rod, you can throw your arm out in trying to get the distance you should attain with no effort whatever. And a line that is much too heavy will eventually over strain a good rod, but I should like to emphasize the fact that it is more important to get the right line for the rod you select than was the selection of the rod in the first place. Fly casting lines are made of silk or nylon. They are level, that is, with the same diameter throughout, or double taper, that is, with a level length of light line at each end tapering into a body of heavier level line, or forward tapered, that is, with a short forward length of light line tapering into a short length of heavy line which tapers back to a longer length of lighter running or shooting line.

The name "torpedo-tapered" is descriptive. A half dozen other names and variations are used, but they all mean about the same thing. Nylon lines will not rot, but they do stretch and eventually the finish comes off, as the oil will not penetrate the nylon braid, and is really a surface finish. I use them but I like the silk lines better. There are no better lines in the world than American finish silk lines. The experts say that the tapered lines are superior to level lines for casting, so I say so too, and I use a forward tapered line by preference.

The man who is fishing with me for bass uses a level line, and casts better than I do. My private opinion here, revealed for the first time, is that a tapered line is really a necessity in laying out a line as when dry fly fishing for trout, and that a level line of the proper weight is just as good for anything else, and better for heavy flies like bass bugs.

fly reels than any other adjuncts of the fly rod. The fly reel is still primarily a storage place for the line, and secondarily, to give line under adjusted tension to a large fish. The single action fly reel has been the development of the automatic reel. Automatic reels wind by spring action, when the line is stripped from the reel, the spring is wound. Touching the lever with a finger actuates the spring and winds in the line. Some of these positions on the reel seat like single action reels. Others fit flat against the reel seat. There is no difference in performance. All good ones have a slip clutch which permits line to be drawn from the reel after the spring is fully wound. This is an essential. The earlier models did not have this safety device and the more line drawn of the tighter the spring tension became. I broke a rod tip with one of these older models due, I must admit, to inexperienced handling. A more common complaint was that excessive spring tension broke light leaders. This defect was eliminated and many fly fishermen use automatics by preference. I have tried a number and they were very convenient for taking up slack line, when I remembered to touch the lever, but I have been using the single action type for so long that it is too late for me to change.

Most good single-action reels are made of aluminum alloy, or other light strong metal. Such a reel should have a click and an adjustable tension drag. It should also have a large diameter spool hub, both to prevent setting the reel end of the line in a small, tight spiral and to facilitate the rapid rewinding of slack line. If the line does not fit the reel, the hub size should be increased by a backing of nylon bait casting line spliced to the fly line. I have never seen any fresh water fish take out more than thirty yards of line, but one can always hope. I like a little weight below my casting hand, and prefer to have the reel to weigh about as much as my rod. Most fly fishermen do. Many accept the rule of thumb that the reel should be about 1 1/2 times the weight of the rod. On the other hand some of the best uses the lightest reel they can get. Tournament distant casters usually coil their lines on the ground in front of them and use no reel at all.

Conservation News

Improving crops in general is good in the Floyd County Conservation District.

Those who watered these crops from two to three times received good results. This was observed in the field by the physical condition of the crops.

Tests were also made of the growth of two of the vetch grown this past year.

Bennett, a cooperator of the County Conservation District from the Alken community, has about 30 acres of vetch in the middle of this field of vetch was cut three times at one week in with the first clipping made April 23. The following yields were obtained: 2,400 and 9,883 pounds of vetch per acre.

Collis, another cooperator of the local District, who has two or 3 miles North of here, had an outstanding yield of vetch which was drilled.

Vetch was clipped on the farm as that on the Don farm. It yielded 11,140 and 21,780 pounds of vetch per acre.

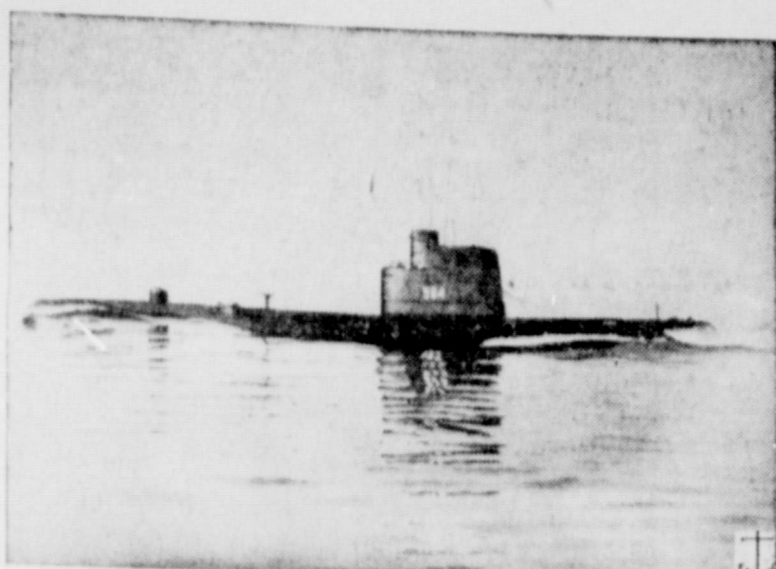

You may say, what have they got now that they have produced this green manure crop? First lets see what turning under green manure of this type adds to the soil. For each ton of green manure you are adding 15 pounds of nitrogen. In checking the highest green manure weight of the three clippings made on each, we see that Bennett would be adding 67 pounds of nitrogen per acre. Collis would be adding about 160 pounds of nitrogen.

If this were converted to dollars at the rate it would cost to buy commercial nitrogen, Mr. Collis would have grown $20.80 worth of nitrogen. Mr. Bennett's crop would figure to be $8.71 worth of nitrogen.

Nitrogen is only part of the benefit of growing a good soil improving crop such as vetch, Austrian winter peas and sweet clovers.

Cover on the ground at the time of year these crops are grown is valuable in controlling wind erosion and when snow or rain falls in the winter more use is made of the moisture.

Adding of organic matter to the soil is probably the greatest benefit received from a cover crop. Organic matter helps to prevent soil crusting, holds the soil open, resulting in more efficient use of rainfall and irrigation water, keeps the soil open so air can get in the soil. Air is necessary for normal plant growth.

Soils of this District are very much in need of soil improving crops as is indicated by the response which is received by crops which follow these soil improvers.

Check with some of the farmers who have been using these soil improving crops. Here is a list of men who have used the crops to an advantage: E. L. Thomas, Frank Probasco, Johnnie Miller, Lloyd Collis, W. E. Miller, Mr. Jeffress, Kenneth Probasco, Aubrey Holt, Oliver W. Holmes, Truett McCarty, Edd Whitfill, Paul Cooper, Wendell W. McLaughlin, Bernard E. Harris, George Webster and Raymond Williams.

To The Lockney Beacon:

I notice a heading in the Dallas Morning News, "Democrats For Adlai Join Hands."

This piece goes on to say: "May 17 Some 300 Democrats who voted for Adlai Stevenson Sunday formed the Democratic Organizing Committee of Texas and voted to hold a State convention before Nov. 1."

"Byron Skelton of Temple was named chairman of the committee, Mrs. Jud Collier, Mumford, vice-president, and Creekmore Faith, Austin, Secretary-treasurer."

"In a shouting speech that brought the spectators to their feet yelling and clapping, Skelton said:

"I charge that the Republican party is in absolute control of the official party machinery in Texas today."

Of course the charge is that U. S. Senator Price Daniel and Governor Allan Shivers has betrayed the Democrats of Texas and led them into the Republican party. I notice that Webster gives the definition of Democracy as a Government in which the supreme power is in the hands of the people, and further more, up until the last few years the Democratic party has stood for States Rights and local self Government.

Byron Skelton and his bunch are fighting for an empty name, and for a man that stood, not for States Rights or local self Government, but for a Government that wants every thing to come out of Washington. In his campaign for President he came to Texas, and said that he was for taking our Tidelands.

As Attorney General, Price Daniel fought for our Tidelands and refused to compromise. As our U. S. Senator he led the fight that passed a bill that gives the tidelands to the States, and in this fight he has won a greater victory than the value of the tidelands. He has won a victory for Democracy, and States rights. He has won a victory for all of the 48 States. Under the doctrine of Paramount Rights "there would be no end to what the Federal Government could take away from the people."

Price Daniel is a great and fearless Democrat. He has stood and fought for the people, and when Dwight D. Eisenhower came out for Democratic principles, Price Daniel had the courage and the manhood to support a man that stood for States Rights, local Self Government, Free Press and Free Speech, rather than vote for a man that does not know the meaning of Democracy.

I have made the assertion made here in Floyd County, that no man was going to hold office in Floyd County, and that Texas was going to beat Price Daniel and Allan Shivers, because they claimed to be Democrats, but supported Eisenhower. MY REPLY TO THIS WAS, "THAT IS A GAME BOTH SIDES CAN PLAY."

Years—6 Times More Rural Telephones

THIS SCENE HAS BEEN REPEATED many times in recent years, as telephone people worked to extend service to the state's farming areas. In just seven years, the number of southwestern Bell rural telephones in Texas has increased six times. And we're continuing to push more lines out to rural areas every month. In 1953 we hope to be able to add more than $4½ million on this type of construction.

For pennies, you can keep a light aglow in your home. But the price to keep this torch of liberty aflame is so great as to be almost beyond comprehension.

This torch that says "this is Freedom's cradle, this is Liberty's home," has been kept aglow by men and women who have given their lives that its beam may never be dimmed.

What kind of engines are you finding in more and more of America's finest cars? Yes, V-8 engines. It's the wonderful result of Ford's experience building more V-8's than all other makers combined . . . over 13,000,000 of them.

Imagine! A car so low in first cost keeps its value better than any other car on the American Road. Used-car figures on last year's cars prove that. And with its 41 "Worth More" features, this newer, finer '53 Ford holds still greater promise of long-lived value. You'll find built-to-last Crestmark Bodies. I am the Lord, that is My name, and My glory will I not give to another, neither My praise to graven images. — Isaiah 42:8.

—oOo—
Saturday is Memorial Day — a time set aside to remember those who have died in battle in defense of their country. A million men have given their lives fighting to defend these United States from Lexington in the Revolution to Korea's Heartbreak Ridge. It is a small thing to ask that the people of this country pause and pay tribute to these men one day out of the year.

—oOo—
The Southern States initiated Memorial Day as a tribute to the "Boys in Gray" and the North adopted it in memory of the "Boys in Blue." Now the entire country observes the day when flowers are in bloom honoring soldiers of all wars since the founding of this country. Paraphrasing Lincoln's Gettysburg address, it is beyond our power to add to or detract from the honor of these brave men who gave their lives for liberty. It is rather for us to dedicate ourselves, as the bugle sounds Taps over the fields of lonely crosses, to the task of preserving the freedom for which they died in battle.

—oOo—
Although the public opinion polls show that around 85 percent of the people approve the actions thus far of the Eisenhower administration, some people and a few newspapers still are fighting the campaign of November 1952. No one, least of all Eisenhower himself, ever said that the administration would be perfect and that they would right all the wrongs and get the country in apple pie order in 30 days. No one with any judgment ever expected them to do that. Twenty years of a socialistic program, filled with waste, graft, corruption and incompetent bureaucrats in many posts is somewhat of a handicap to overcome.

—oOo—
However most of us believe that Mr. Eisenhower and his administration are taking steps to get the country back in order and we are sure of one thing—that is that the President himself and the members of his cabinet are men of some moral character and they are bringing dignity, honesty and uprightness to Washington that have been absent from many of the top offices for several years. The overall view of the administration is so much better than what we have had in the past few years we hardly see how a person could be very critical, even if it does cost us a little money.

—oOo—
There are rumblings of labor unrest and strikes in some minor plants. The labor bosses must get a raise every so often for their men or lose their prestige. We're predicting that raises in pay are going to be hard to get this year. The upward price spiral is going to have to stop somewhere if people continue to buy and prices can't be kept down if wages continue to rise. It's the case of the immovable object hitting an irresistible force. There's going to be an explosion.

SALARY CUT

For seven years Trends has had a nice, soft government job. Each morning for those seven years we have dutifully read, reset and recorded the high and low temperature reading for the preceding 24 hours. We have measured what little rain has fallen during those seven years, and periodically dumped the accumulated dust out of the rain gauge. For six months each year, we have sent a telegram each morning to the Weather Bureau telling them the pertinent facts of Crosby county weather. Once each month we have mailed a detailed report of all weather observations. And for this cushy federal job we have received the handsome stipend of $54 per year. Now we are caught in the government economy program. Our salary has been reduced from $54 to $31.20 per year. That's a 40 percent cut, we want to point out—and we're all for it. But we have only one hope, and that is only a faint whispering of desire, that the rest of this government expenses be cut 40 percent, also. It doesn't seem that all the federal budget reduction should come off us poor weather recorders' salaries. — Trends in Crosbyton Review.

CONTRARY PEOPLE

There are three things you can do with contrary people. You can ignore them, pretend they are not there. Sometimes you have to do this, but it's too bad, because often their contrariness is a sign of energy and interest, even though you don't agree with the way it is directed. If your contrary people have other good characteristics, find something to do beside ignoring them. You can fight with them. Usually this is a mistake. Maybe with tactfulness and open mindedness the other fellow's contrariness may be overcome. You may win him by displaying a lack of contrariness in your own dealings with him.

You can get them to cooperate with you. All contrary people have one characteristic in common. They are interested in themselves. Usually they can see things from only one point of view — their own. Take the time and trouble to show them you, too, are interested in them. Without making an issue of it, try to show them a point of view a little different to theirs. Be friendly, be patient, be undiscourageable.

Frankness, courage and tact can make friends out of most contrary people. — Hamlin Herold.

JACKRABBITS AGAIN

Being of provincial nature, imbued since childhood with superstition, it follows that I should be a reader of signs foretelling the future's erratic course. Things were in a pretty sorry state until this week. It is comforting to report a relaxing of the tension and a turn of the world into an avenue of confidence. I have witnessed the best of omens. For the first time since the Republicans went into power, I have seen a jack rabbit. He was alone at the time, resting in the shade of a sage-brush, but I am convinced that no where in the world is there just one rabbit. Statistics offer an overwhelming argument that nowhere in the world is there just two rabbits for very long. — Trail Dust in Matador Tribune.

HOME HINTS

For a treat the teen-age crowd will love during a kitchen raid be sure you have plenty of homemade cookies and milk on hand. Then melt one-half package semi-sweet chocolate chips in top of double boiler and let simmer over the top burner of your gas range. Cool to lukewarm, add one-and-one-half tablespoons of milk and blend. Add two tablespoons of peanut butter and mix thoroughly. Let stand, then spread on cookies and serve with milk.

ANSWERS YOUR QUESTIONS

Q. At what age should chicks be wormed the 1st time?

A. It varies but usually birds need worming at 6 to 8 weeks. Large roundworms often infect chicks early--use Dr. Salsbury's Wormal in the mash for a quick 'n' easy treatment. Wormal also removes cecal worms and tapeworms. It is safe for birds of any age. This year, make more money from your chicks--follow a Wormal worming plan! (*Genus Raillietina)
