Briscoe Roads To Be Paved Soon

Contract for completing a hard-surfaced road between Silvertown and Memphis will be let in July, reports from that county say. A 10 mile gap of dirt road hinders traffic on the road between the two cities. The road is down the cap to the northeast of Silvertown and when complete considerable traffic from this area to Memphis and Clarendon will use the road, the probability is.

300,000 Bushel Elevator To Be Built At Sterley

Patterson Grain Company of Lockney and Sterley will construct a 300,000 bushel elevator at Sterley and expect to have it ready for the maize harvest crop this fall, according to information from members of the firm Wednesday.

Lumber was unloaded on the site Wednesday. The elevator will be of concrete, similar to the large one built here last year, and will be located just west of the bins now owned by Patterson Grain at Sterley. Chalmers & Barton of Hutchinson, Kansas, will construct the elevator as well as one at Plainview and another at Lubbock for other grain firms. They built the elevator here last year.

The bins will be 113 feet high and the head house will go on top of that, it was said. The new elevator will give the Patterson Grain Co. close to 800,000 bushels of storage at both Lockney and Sterley.

City Plans To Bury All Trash At Dump Grounds

A huge burying project is being planned by city officials for the junk, trash and dead animals at the local dumping grounds northeast of the city. Mayor Jesse Cox said Wednesday that present plans call for digging three trenches probably 6 to 8 feet deep, 16 feet wide and about a half mile long. The trash and junk will then be bulldozed into the hole, the dirt piled on top and everything covered up.

The project is being undertaken as a sanitary measure and in an effort to do away with breeding places for flies and mosquitoes and to generally clean up the city dump ground. When all present junk is buried then another trench will be dug and as refuse is dumped into it, it will be covered.

Mayor Cox and City Officer Otan Poteet were in Amarillo Tuesday investigating the possibility of leasing equipment for the project.

School Board In Regular Meeting

The board of trustees of the Lockney School District met in a regular session Monday night and approved various phases of the school program for the 1954-1955 term. Supt. W. C. Irons said this week.

All members of the board were present for the meeting. The board approved a painting and repair job for the high school building in which all class rooms will be painted and repairs made to a number of doors. Custodians of the building will do the work during the summer months.

The board approved the school calendar for next term. The general faculty meeting will be held on August 31 and school will begin on Wednesday, September 1. Thanksgiving holidays will be November 25 and 26 and Christmas holidays will begin on December 23 and run to January 3.

The board set aside a one day holiday in March on which teachers will attend a teachers association meeting and two days for Easter holidays. School will close May 20, 1955.

The board approved the lunch room program along the same general lines as run this year and named the Superintendent as the authorized representative of the school.

The board passed an order to purchase two new school buses. The buses will be purchased through the State Board of Control and school officials hope to have them by the time school starts.

Mrs. Rhudy Haile was elected as a teacher in the local schools subject to assignment. She will probably teach in the junior high. She is a graduate of Texas College of Arts and Industries at Kingsville but previously attended North Texas State College.

Seniors Planning To Enter College

A number of the spring graduating class have already chosen the college they plan to attend as indicated by their request for transcripts from Lockney High.

U.: Eddie Joe Foster; to University of Texas: Jerry Holt; to ACC, Abilene, Sue Wofford; to West Texas State, Canyon: Rosemary McDonald; to American Business Institute, Fort Worth: Clydelle Hill. Harleen Workman plans to attend college but hasn't definitely decided where.

John Munselle Sr., of Bangs visited his daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Munselle and baby here Wednesday morning.

CANDIDATE HERE — C. T. Johnson, Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor from Austin, was in Lockney last Friday doing some campaigning. Mr. Johnson, 43 years old, is running on a platform that calls for a state communications commission elected by the people to regulate and "reduce high telephone rates," and a state wide water conservation program as a dire necessity.

Mr. Johnson says that "regulation of telephone rates has been found successful in 45 of the 48 states." Johnson charged that Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's basis for requesting phone rate increases, which he called "the fantastic feature of this procedure" is unfair to the public by excluding long distance revenue in determining a fair return on their investments.

His water conservation plan calls for building 100,000 small dams in Northwest Texas and a vast canal parallel to the Gulf Coast crossing the state's 10 rivers as a means of saving Texas from deadly drought.

Johnson is also advocating $100 per month pensions for eligible citizens at the age of 65 and a $1,000 bonus to all veterans.

Fungus Growth On Wheat Makes Uncertain Market

The wheat situation, as far as the market or loan value, was highly uncertain late Wednesday due to a fungus growth on the new crop which was threatening to ruin the crop for human consumption. Elevator men were accepting the wheat with the promise "we'll do the best we can" in some places and one Plainview firm had given orders not to accept any wheat that showed more than 4% total damage from the fungus. Fear that it would deteriorate still further in storage was the basis for the order, it was reported here.

Wheat was coming into local elevators in a dribble this week as farmers began combining what appeared to be the best harvest in the past three years.

Frank Jones and son brought the first wheat to Patterson Elevator here Tuesday. It was cut Monday afternoon. Moisture was 11.75 and the wheat tested 62 pounds. They live in the Prairie Chapel community.

First wheat to Baxter & Smith elevator here was brought in Wednesday by Lloyd Collis. It tested 12.65 moisture and tested 62 pounds by weight.

The Muncy elevator received wheat from Raymond Rucker on Monday that tested 12.55 moisture and 61 pounds by weight. The elevator also had received wheat from Hall Ferguson and the F. C. Irwin estate. Ferguson had five self-propelled combines running in his fields Wednesday afternoon.

At Aiken elevator, Johnny Mayberry on the Emmett Thornton place brought in the first load of wheat. It tested 60 pounds by weight and 13.00 moisture. This load came in Monday and several others have come in since, according to Mrs. Charlie Andrews.

Wheat Damage Noted

One dark spot on the wheat harvest horizon is the damaged kernel situation which has been noted in a large area in Floyd, Hale and Lubbock counties. The damage is in the form of a brown fungus spot on the end of the kernel. Wheat experts are studying the matter trying to determine exactly what it is and how it is caused. The experts are disagreeing on the reason for the damage.

The kernel damage is not confined to any certain fields, elevator men say but is showing up at all elevators in the three counties. Damage to the wheat varies considerably with a small part of it grading No. 1, quite a bit going No. 2 and 3 and some going No. 4 and sample grade, both of which are not eligible for the loan. Quite a bit is grading No. 3, which means that damage runs from 5% to 7% of the total.

Hot winds last Saturday and Sunday damaged the wheat crop considerably in this area, farmers say. The grain shriveled and some farms will see more damage from it than others.

The crop has been damaged considerably from falling and shattering also, farmers say. Apparently damage dating back to the freeze is causing the wheat

Rotary Wins Soft Ball Game 21-8

The Lockney Rotary Club continued their winning ways over their arch rival, the Lockney Lions Monday night when the two teams met under the lights for their annual grudge softball game. The final score was 21-8 but the Rotarians held the Lions to a 21-2 score going into the bottom of the last inning.

The game started off with a bang. Rotarian Bob Miller, batting in the first inning, struck hard at what he thought was a softball. When he hit it he found that it was a grapefruit of softball size which had been painted white. The batter, catcher and umpire were all covered with the pieces.

Difference in the score came about due to better fielding support which the Rotarians gave their pitcher, Al Willis, and also the heavy hitting of the Rotary batters. Arthur Barker Jr., batting clean-up position, banged out two home runs and his younger brother, Barry also circled the bases on one hit later in the game. Pitcher Al Willis also knocked a home run.

Starting for the Lions were "Rocky" Knox, south paw first baseman, Pitcher Paul Kropp and Short Stop Clyde Bailey.

The crowd was small but Banker M. W. Wiley and Mayor Jesse Cox took up some $25 in admission fees which the Rotary Club will apply to the Boy Scout building fund.

The game is an annual affair between the two clubs. Last year the Lions won in a close game.

Rotary players included Al Willis, Bob Miller, Edgar Hays, Arthur Barker Jr., Bill Birdwell, Audvie Barnett, Homer Ragland, Barry Barker, Jesse Cox and Howard Cooper.

Lions players were Clyde Bailey, Wallace Allen, Burgin Watkins, Paul Kroppe, R. L. Knox Jr., Chester Mitchell, Warren Graham, R. C. Mitchell, Clyde Kemp and Joe Wilson.

Rotarian officials are now considering challenging the Lions to a game of marbles or checkers, they said this week. "It appears the Lions can't play either softball or basketball so we're going to try a game that won't be so hard on old men."

Stubble mulch tillage will pay in more ways than one says Supervisor R. G. Dunlap and Gilbert Fawver.

These two supervisors, Shirley Irwin and L. D. Barteo recently visited the Bushland Experiment Station at Amarillo to find out what was being done in small grain work on variety yield and conservation.

The thing which will do this Soil Conservation District the most good in small grain farming is proper handling of the residue. An improved wheat variety will only increase production a bushel or maybe less, while under some conditions it may produce even less than an Stubble mulch tillage has proven over the past several years of study at the Bushland Station to enable the same variety to out yield land tilled with a one-way plow by about two bushel per acre.

If you figure this up on a half section of wheat you will find the income from that half-section will be about $1280.00.

Stubble mulching has the ability to cover the land and protect it from wind erosion. This keeps that valuable top soil where you need it in later years.

Stubble maintained on the surface breaks the packing effect of raindrops, it also keeps the soil surface in condition to take in more of the moisture that falls.

The nation, state and county committee recognize the value of this practice as a soil conservation practice. This is brought out by the county committee's decision to pay $125 per acre under the emergency wind erosion program.

They ask that you meet with the county committee in order that you may be sure to understand that the stubble need to be maintained on the surface until another growing crop is offering protection.

If it can be fixed we can fix it.

Story of the week and "naming no names." He was our first caller on Saturday morning. He wore boots, he selected a most appropriate adventure book and a biography of Lincoln. He returned his card which he had taken out for signature, the card said "eight years old." We discussed the weather and he was asked to stay for Story Hour. "No," he replied. "Thank you, I can't stay today, I have to get right back home and plow." Would not be surprised to find out in some time to come that we entertained a future President last Saturday.

And speaking of Story Hour! Attendance was quite good in spite of a belated case or two of mumps which kept some of our regulars away. La Juana and La Netta Elza of Amarillo were guests coming with a cousin who is a regular attendant. Patsy Baxter of Lockney was a new comer and will be attending Story Hour in the future. Mrs. Orion Miller told the stories. Mrs. Hollis R. Bond brought refreshments and C. W. Denison stood sponsor for the 1929 Study Club.

We have been presented with three books in memory of Mrs. Vernon Shaw of Lubbock. "The Sermon on the Mount" by Emmet Fox was given by Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Norman. "This Do and Live" by Roy M. Pearson was the gift of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Nelson. Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McBrien gave "Standing up to Life" by Frank Halliday Ferris. Miss Erin Gamble sent us "Songbirds in Your Garden" in memory of her mother, Mrs. Belle Gamble and "Dig or Die"; the autobiography of a pioneer preacher by William J. Hyde in appreciation of Mrs. Emma J. Robbins.

Mary Jo Britton, Kenneth Lightfoot and Elaine Minor have presented us with gift books.

Mr. and Mrs. Kinder Farris have requested a copy of "The Greatest Faith Ever Known" by Oursler be placed in the library as their gift in memory of Mrs. R. E. Fry.

Your librarian will be on vacation for the two weeks following June 5th. Mrs. Harmon will be in the Central Library all day during the week and Dorothy Duncan and Ivy Pearl Reber will help out in rush periods. Mrs. Mills will work all of the afternoons in the Lockney Branch. The column will appear as usual.

We are delighted to announce our award on our Library Window Display of the Old Settler's Day occasion. We have, after due consultation, invested the prize money in a copy of "Horns and Antlers" by Wilfrid S. Bronson. It tells us a great deal our pioneers knew from observation.

Hail and rain in the north part of our community brought much damage last Tuesday evening when amounts varying from a sprinkle to nearly three inches fell. Hardly a farm or home was left without some gristly reminder of the storm. Hail ruined the windows, roof, and drapes of the Bill Beedy home and wheat there and on Oscar Hewitt, Arby Mulder and other farms which might have made as much as 40 bushels was levelled. Hail reached as far south as the Billy Staniforths and did some damage, but not as much as at C. L. Vincents, Roy Childress, Kinslow, Sim Reeves, and the Cummings farms. Many had 100 percent loss and any cotton that was up was destroyed in the storm even though it was not of tornado proportions as it was in the Paducah area.

Cotton Exports Are Up From 1953 Level

College Station. — Farm exports from the United States were three percent higher in March than in the preceding month. Shipments during the month totaled $244,000,000, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports.

The upward trend in cotton exports continued, rice shipments remained above the previous year, and shippings of vegetable oils and peanuts were above March 1953.

Tobacco shipments were seasonably small, but oranges reached an unusually high level.

Foreign demands for United States wheat has declined principally because of smaller world needs, greater world production and keener international trade competition, the U. S. D. A. says. Other grains, including barley, corn and grain sorghums were affected by the same factors and showed reduced exports compared to the previous year.

Mr. and Mrs. Doy Eiland of Lowery Field, Colorado visited his father, W. C. Eiland and Mrs. Eiland Sunday night.

Mrs. Ross Carthel of Plainview, another daughter of the Rains couple, was also present for the reunion. The only child not present was Mrs. Lena Sammann of Phoenix, Ariz.

Farm Bureau Hears Laws Explained

Floyd County Farm Bureau officials and members along with representatives from other South Plains counties heard discussions on the present laws governing agriculture along with amendments or proposed changes to those laws in a meeting of Farm Bureau members at Lubbock last Thursday.

Jack McIntosh, vice president of the Floyd County organization, W. R. Puckett, service man for the county and county Agricultural Agent Bill Rodgers were among those attending.

Speaking on the program was Jack Lynn, legislative director from the Washington office with Hub King, district director, presiding. Mr. Lynn gave facts and figures on the laws and amendments, among them, an amendment which would set aside 3 to 4 million bales of cotton to be excluded from carry-over computation for price support purposes on modernized parity to be effective January 1, 1956. He explained the new laws fully to his audience.

J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau, offered a few sound suggestions on why farmers should not quit the Farm Bureau because they disagreed on some question.

The regular business session of directors of the Floyd County organization will be held Thursday, June 10 at which a complete report of the meeting will be heard. These meetings are open and anyone is invited to attend.

Mrs. Doris Jones reported that some progress has been made on the queen contest and that local organizations would be contacted within the near future.

Retail Merchants Official Here

Stimulation of trade through extension of credit to sound risks is the primary function of the Retail Merchants Association, Charles T. Lux of Austin, executive vice-president of the Retail Merchants Association of Texas, said while visiting here last week.

Lux visited the local RMA office, which is affiliated with the RMA of Texas, and conferred with J. H. Cooper, manager.

The two officers reviewed operations of the three main RMA divisions; the credit bureau, collection department and public relations department.

Lux said the credit bureau is the primary function of the organization. It offers six services of prime importance: 1) rendering of reports on credit applications; 2) operating a security system to guard against hot checks and other fraudulent schemes; 3) keeping tab on changes of address; 4) publishing a monthly bulletin; 5) handling of public relations; and 6) operating a pre-collection service.

Lux described the pre-collection service as highly effective.

It is based on a person's desire to maintain a good credit rating, he said. Persons with past due accounts are advised their credit standing is endangered and urged to set it on a sound basis. The appeal generally brings good results and saves many bad debt losses.

Lux also outlined the RMA's "automatic reporting" plan which is largely responsible for the effectiveness of the organization.

The plan is based on the institution of a central office where credit information is collected and distributed to member firms. It enables merchants to ascertain immediately any changes in the credit status of their customers, either for the better or the worse. For its effectiveness it depends on prompt reporting of all changes on the customer's credit standing by the member firms.

MOVE BACK HERE

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Brand and three children moved back to Lockney last week from Dallas. They moved away about five years ago.

Peggy Ford is visiting relatives in Gruver this week.

The Worthy Matron's color is green and the officers wore identical dresses of green lace and net over taffeta. Her theme is the 23rd Psalm. In her message to the chapter and visitors she expressed the hope that each officer and member would accept the Lord as their Shepherd this year and in so doing magnify the principles of the Order of Eastern Star.

Hints On High Plains Gardening

(The following is the thirteenth in a series of garden hints to home gardeners on the Plains. The series, written by Dr. George Elle, professor horticulture, Texas Tech, is in the interest of better home gardens.)

By Dr. George Elle
Professor of Horticulture, Texas Tech

This is the time when gardeners like to talk over the back fence and compare notes on how their gardens are coming on.

At Texas Tech some 75 students planted small vegetable gardens as part of their regular course work. These plots were seeded during the first week of March and represent about what any West Texas gardener can expect.

Plots which were not well protected from blowing took a sand blasting and had to be replanted a month later. Most of the gardens, although not protected from the wind, were protected from blowing by rough-breaking the soil and keeping it rough and came through in excellent shape. This demonstrates very well that just about anyone in West Texas, who can or will take trouble to protect his plot from severe blowing can plant vegetables in March.

Early planting of the cool season crops yields fresh vegetables in late April and early May. In our Tech gardens, early radishes are gone and the boys are beginning to pull the second planting. Mustard, turnip and collard greens have been large enough to harvest for the past two weeks and are now in their prime quality. This growth has been during a period relatively free from insect troubles—an other advantage in early planting.

We transplanted cabbage, broccoli, tomatoes, peppers and egg-plant during the last week of April and favorable cool weather brought these transplants along in good style. Our tomato transplants were not as good quality this year as in former years, but they are recovering rapidly and should be in bloom in another week or so. Our six-inch tall cabbage and broccoli transplants were grown in plant bands so that the root system was intact when we transplanted to the field, the main reason for their excellent growth since.

So far this season we have had only one serious set-back because of insects. Late in March, when plants were in the seedling stage, we had trouble with the flea beetle. Application of 5% DDT gave quick control.

You can expect trouble from curly-top in tomatoes about now. This could result in 100% loss. To save your plants use malathion of 5% DDT in 50% sulphur. Apply weekly.

We lost practically all of our spinach from "yellows," a virus disease. We had not been troubled by this disease in previous years; so failed to use the resistant varieties, such as Virginia Savoy, which we certainly shall use in the future.

To stress the importance of fertilizer, each year, unknown to the student, we apply fertilizer in a pattern which gives areas of high nitrogen, of medium nitrogen and of no fertilizer. Already these patterns are showing up markedly in the growth of the plants. Greens from areas receiving high nitrogen have been available since late April;

Seniors Enjoy 10 Wonderful Days

By Harleen Workman

On Friday, May 28, amid a frenzy of excitement and the farewells of parents and friends, the Senior Class of 1954 left on a chartered T. N. M. O. bus for the annual senior trip. Immediately following commencement services, thirty-five seniors and their sponsors began the greatest adventure thus far in the lives of the graduates. The bus left at eleven o'clock Friday night and arrived in Shreveport, Louisiana the next morning at ten o'clock. We stayed at the Captain Shreve Hotel. The Seniors spent the afternoon in sleeping or seeing the sights of Shreveport. We saw several interesting things that night. We attended the famous "Louisiana Hayride," saw and heard many of the most well-known artists in the western and folk music field. Our group was very lucky to be chosen as one of the four senior classes to be represented on the "Beat the Band" contest. Rosemary McDonald was chosen and we were extremely proud of her when she correctly identified her tune and won many nice prizes. On Sunday we were dragged out of bed very early and by eight o'clock we were well on our way to our main destination, New Orleans. We arrived at the Skyline Motel about three o'clock and proceeded to see what there was to see in New Orleans. Believe me, this was not such an easy matter because New Orleans is a huge city and it is very hard to find your way around. For the next three days and four nights the seniors discovered many new things to see and we soon learned that it was quite different from home. It was here the trip came to an untimely end for Sandra Myers when she had to have an operation for appendicitis. Sandra is doing well now, however and all the seniors hope for her complete recovery soon. We did so many interesting things that it would be impossible to tell them all here, so I will tell you briefly what we did each day. On Monday, we hired a guide and the group went on a four-hour tour of both the old and the new sides of the city. This we enjoyed very much. In the afternoon we went to the beach at Lake Ponchartrain which is the lake around which New Orleans was built. On Tuesday the seniors went in small groups to explore further the interesting things we had seen the day before and we went again to the beach which was a favorite with almost all the group. On Wednesday, we took a wonderful tour of the New Orleans harbor on the steamer "President." It took us for a thirty-mile cruise on the Mississippi river. This was a nice climax to the days in New Orleans because it was different from anything most of us had ever done. On Thursday, we drove the four hundred miles to Galveston, Texas. We stayed at the Buccaneer hotel there. We went swimming in the Gulf and went to a nearby amusement park that night. Friday morning we drove over to San Jacinto and toured the San Jacinto monument and museum there. We also toured the battleship "Texas" which is anchored near the monument and is open to visitors. We also stayed in Galveston Friday night. Saturday morning we left for San Antonio where we stayed in the Gunter hotel. We toured the Alamo and went to the famous Buckhorn Curio Shop. Sunday we went through beautiful Brackenridge park in San Antonio before leaving for Austin. There we toured the State Capitol together and then the group divided. Some went swimming and others toured the Campus of Texas University. On Monday, June seventeenth, we came home. Everyone agreed that it had been a wonderful trip and one that each of the seniors will remember always.

ANDY ROGERS

Andy Rogers Asks Support In His Race For Senate

It was deep satisfaction in 1951, as a State Representative, to help create our new 30th Senatorial District and thereby give West Texas a fair share of representation in Austin.

It has been an honor, a pleasure and a privilege to serve as the first Senator from that new District.

In reviewing my record, I would be the first to insist that I have made mistakes. No doubt, I shall make others. These will always be honest mistakes.

As your freshman Senator, I gained the following committees: Chairman of Stock and Stock Raising; Vice-Chairman of Agriculture; Vice-Chairman of Education, and member of Water Rights and Irrigation, Veterans Affairs and Public Printing.

Major legislation I introduced, and which is now law, includes an amendment to the Gilmer-

Aiken school program which has saved our District $150,000-90 of your local school tax money; Texas' first Grain-Warehouse and Grain Storage Law, and an act creating the Greenbelt Municipal Industrial Water Authority to build a dam on the Red River near Clarendon and Hedley.

My bill to prohibit the sale, publication and distribution of lewd, lascivious and vulgar literature and pictures in Texas passed the Senate unanimously, but died in the House of Representatives.

I consider water, its development and conservation, to be our most pressing State problem. I shall continue to do all within my power to keep the control of underground water resources in the hands of those who own the land.

When you elected me two years ago at the age of 27, I was the youngest Senator ever to have had the honor of serving West Texas. This is my fourth occasion to ask to serve the people of West Texas—twice as State Representative, and now, the second time as your State Senator.

This is the second time I have been unopposed. For this—and for all of your kindness, help, encouragement, cooperation, friendship and understanding—I say, "thank you" from the bottom of my heart.

I will appreciate your vote and support and pledge my best to the opportunity of serving you again. I shall approach the job humbly and prayerfully.

ANDY ROGERS.

CRITICALLY ILL

Mrs. Ida B. Jeffcoat is critically ill at her home here. The children have been called in and relatives have been told that she may live only a short time.

Attend Funeral Services Friday

Mr. and Mrs. Kelton Shaw of Lockney and Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Shaw of Lone Star attended funeral services in Lubbock Friday for Mrs. Vernon Shaw, a sister-in-law of Rev. Shaw, who passed away suddenly Thursday afternoon. Rev. Shaw assisted in conducting the services.

Mrs. Shaw died after a very brief illness in a Lubbock Hospital. Services were held at the First Baptist Church in Lubbock. Death was attributed to a cerebral hemorrhage. Assisting in the services were Rev. J. F. Nix, pioneer preacher of this area, and Dr. R. Earl Allen, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Floydada. Burial was in the Wilson cemetery.

Mrs. Shaw was a native of Wilson, Texas. Her husband is field representative for the Texas Baptist Children's Home.

Survivors include the husband, one step-son, Kenneth, now serving in the Army; one sister, Mrs. B. W. Baker, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. May, all of Lubbock.

Retail Merchants Official Here

Stimulation of trade through extension of credit to sound risks is the primary function of the Retail Merchants Association, Charles T. Lux of Austin, executive vice-president of the Retail Merchants Association of Texas, said while visiting here last week.

Lux visited the local RMA office, which is affiliated with the RMA of Texas, and conferred with J. H. Cooper, manager.

The two officers reviewed operations of the three main RMA divisions; the credit bureau, collection department and public relations department.

Lux said the credit bureau is the primary function of the organization. It offers six services of prime importance: 1) rendering of reports on credit applications; 2) operating a security system to guard against hot checks and other fraudulent schemes; 3) keeping tabs on changes of address; 4) publishing a monthly bulletin; 5) handling of public relations; and 6) operating a pre-collection service.

Lux described the pre-collection service as highly effective.

It is based on a person's desire to maintain a good credit rating, he said. Persons with past due accounts are advised their credit standing is endangered and urged to set it on a sound basis. The appeal generally brings good results and saves many bad debt losses.

Lux also outlined the RMA's "automatic reporting" plan which is largely responsible for the effectiveness of the organization.

The plan is based on the institution of a central office where credit information is collected and distributed to member firms. It enables merchants to ascertain immediately any changes in the credit status of their customers, either for the better or the worse. For its effectiveness it depends on prompt reporting of all changes on the customer's credit standing by the member firms.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Brand and three children moved back to Lockney last week from Dallas. They moved away about five years ago.

Peggy Ford is visiting relatives in Gruver this week.

Mrs. Bernice Miller, Organist and Mrs. Frank Messimer, Warder were unable to attend to be installed because of illness.

Installing officers were Mrs. Glenn Dunn of Muleshoe, Mrs. Marvin Cox and Mrs. K. W. Cook of Lockney.

Music was furnished by Mrs. Jimmy McClure and Mrs. Sonny Holmes.

Mrs. Henry Ford was escorted to her station by her son, Henry Ford Jr.

The Worthy Matron's color is green and the officers wore identical dresses of green lace and net over taffeta. Her theme is the 23rd Psalm. In her message to the chapter and visitors she expressed the hope that each officer and member would accept the Lord as their Shepherd this year and in so doing magnify the principles of the Order of Eastern Star.

The service was opened by invitation and about 60 guests and members attended.

Green punch and white cake squares were served in the dining room from a lovely lace covered table centered with an arrangement of carnations. Hosts for the social hour were Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Messimer, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rucker, Mr. and Mrs. Herman King.

We also toured the battleship "Texas" which is anchored near the monument and is open to visitors. We also stayed in Galveston Friday night. Saturday morning we left for San Antonio where we stayed in the Gunter hotel. We toured the Alamo and went to the famous Buckhorn Curio Shop. Sunday we went through beautiful Brackenridge park in San Antonio before leaving for Austin. There we toured the State Capital together and then the group divided. Some went swimming and others toured the Campus of Texas University. On Monday, June seventeenth, we came home. Everyone agreed that it had been a wonderful trip and one that each of the seniors will remember always.

ANDY ROGERS

Andy Rogers Asks Support In His Race For Senate

It was deep satisfaction in 1951, as a State Representative, to help create our new 30th Senatorial District and thereby give West Texas a fair share of representation in Austin.

It has been an honor, a pleasure and a privilege to serve as the first Senator from that new District.

In reviewing my record, I would be the first to insist that I have made mistakes. No doubt, I shall make others. These will always be honest mistakes.

As your freshman Senator, I gained the following committees: Chairman of Stock and Stock Raising; Vice-Chairman of Agriculture; Vice-Chairman of Education, and member of Water Rights and Irrigation, Veterans Affairs and Public Printing.

Major legislation I introduced, and which is now law, includes an amendment to the Gilmer-

Aiken school program which has saved our District $150,000.00 of your local school tax money; Texas' first Grain Warehouse and Grain Storage Law, and an act creating the Greenbelt Municipal Industrial Water Authority to build a dam on the Red River near Clarendon and Hedley.

My bill to prohibit the sale, publication and distribution of lewd, lascivious and vulgar literature and pictures in Texas passed the Senate unanimously, but died in the House of Representatives.

I consider water, its development and conservation, to be our most pressing State problem. I shall continue to do all within my power to keep the control of underground water resources in the hands of those who own the land.

When you elected me two years ago at the age of 27, I was the youngest Senator ever to have had the honor of serving West Texas. This is my fourth occasion to ask to serve the people of West Texas—twice as State Representative, and now, the second time as your State Senator.

This is the second time I have been unopposed. For this—and for all of your kindness, help, encouragement, cooperation, friendship and understanding—I say, "thank you" from the bottom of my heart.

I will appreciate your vote and support and pledge my best to the opportunity of serving you again. I shall approach the job humbly and prayerfully.

ANDY ROGERS.

CRITICALLY ILL

Mrs. Ida B. Jeffcoat is critically ill at her home here. The children have been called in and relatives have been told that she may live only a short time.

Attend Funeral Services Friday

Mr. and Mrs. Kelton Shaw of Lockney and Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Shaw of Lone Star attended funeral services in Lubbock Friday for Mrs. Vernon Shaw, a sister-in-law of Rev. Shaw, who passed away suddenly Thursday afternoon. Rev. Shaw assisted in conducting the services.

Mrs. Shaw died after a very brief illness in a Lubbock Hospital. Services were held at the First Baptist Church in Lubbock. Death was attributed to a cerebral hemorrhage. Assisting in the services were Rev. J. F. Nix, pioneer preacher of this area, and Dr. R. Earl Allen, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Floydada. Burial was in the Wilson cemetery.

Mrs. Shaw was a native of Wilson, Texas. Her husband is field representative for the Texas Baptist Children's Home.

Survivors include the husband, one step-son, Kenneth, now serving in the Army; one sister, Mrs. B. W. Baker, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. May, all of Lubbock.

What Was This Call Worth?

"Mommy, can I stay at grandmother's tonight?" That was little Carol's very first telephone call — a real thrill that can hardly be measured in dollars and cents. Yet, Mrs. Caroline Niemeyer, Carol's grandmother, can tell you what that call cost. She is one of a group of customers who kept day-by-day records of calls made for a week — a total of 30 calls covering 133 miles. Then she broke her telephone bill down into the actual cost per call. "I was amazed," she reported, "at how little my telephone service cost for all the convenience and happiness it delivers." SOUTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY... God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. — Psalm 46:1.

WE NOTE the decision of the Air Force to locate their Air Force academy up in Yanketland somewhere instead of down on the plains of Texas where a pilot in trouble might have at least an even chance of settling down the plane without killing himself. Mountains and trees make flying more hazardous, as any one can see, but that doesn't deter the politicians who want the academy in their back yard whether it is best for the Air Force and the nation or not. Politics must always come first with some of the boys and the idea of serving the interests of their nation first and letting political considerations come second is so foreign to their thinking that they can't comprehend any such attitude.

THE COMMUNIST PATTERN, as described by Senator Lyndon Johnson in his weekly report to the people is interesting. Here it is: "It seems clear that the communist aggression in Indo-China and the shipment of Iron Curtain arms to Guatemala are pieces of a pattern—a pattern designed to keep the United States off balance in the months ahead. More pieces of this sinister pattern will be revealed as the communists unravel the web they have spun. We have got to keep an alert eye on other "soft spots" in the world. Obviously, we cannot police the whole world. American soldiers cannot act as fire brigades rushing to stamp out flames spurt- ing up at isolated corners of the globe. That would be a fruitless undertaking. It would exhaust both our economic strength and our manpower. We have to pick and choose. We must select the ground upon which we will stand — and know clearly just who will stand with us. We do not want to abandon any unwilling people to communist tyranny — nor should we. We do not want to break relations with countries that are our friends and allies — nor should we. Nevertheless, we must take a long, cool look at the realities of the world today."

—oO—
SENATOR JOHNSON, in speaking further discusses our foreign policy thus:

"Our foreign policy is a complicated network of alliances, pacts and understandings which have been put together in the last few years. Some parts of that network have worked well. Some parts have been severely strained. Some may have failed altogether. We must examine this network and determine the strengths and the weaknesses. Perhaps some parts should be propped up. Perhaps others should be abandoned altogether. It is not a job to be accomplished in a day or a week. It is a hard, plugging task that will take time — even though we cannot afford too much time. But it must be done. And the first step in doing it must be the promotion of national unity. The times, call for a bipartisan review — in a nonpartisan spirit — of our whole foreign policy."

—oO—
SOME COMMENT on the problem of storage for wheat this summer and grain sorghums this fall is heard. It seems that most storage units are full, the larger ones at least, and there might be a necessity for storing some grain on the ground either this summer or this fall. Farmers who have storage facilities of their own should certainly make plans to utilize them.

—oO—
NEXT MONDAY is Flag Day. It was on June 14, 1777 when an act of Congress authorized the flag. Francis Hopkins, chairman of the Navy Committee of this Congress, designed the flag and Betsy Ross made it. The first stars added to the original 13 were for the states of Vermont and Kentucky on May 1, 1795. Following that new stars were added to the flag on each July 4 following a state's admittance to the union. It will be a patriotic gesture if all business houses who have suitable flags will display them next Monday, June 14.

HIGHWAY PATROL
I always admire the efficient manner in which law enforcement officers, especially the Texas Highway Patrolmen, handle traffic at the rodeos here. Near the show's end, there's always a couple of them at the entrance gate waving flash lights to direct traffic. I've never been one of those who "had it in" for highway patrolmen just over getting stopped for a traffic infraction. That's their job and in doing it they're helping make the highways safe for all of us.

A press release from the Texas Department of Public Safety says if you were stopped by a Texas Highway Patrolman during the month of April for an infraction of the traffic laws — you had a lot of company. As a matter of fact you had exactly 34,686 other folks in the same boat with you.

You could have been "lucky" though. You might have been one of nearly half the total who got a warning ticket instead of an arrest ticket. And you might not have been involved in one of the 13,496 accidents during the month. Better than that — you might not have been one of the 6,840 persons injured in traffic accidents in April. And one thing is sure . . . if you're reading this you're really fortunate because you weren't among the 168 killed in Texas traffic during the thirty-day period. — Getting Out on a Limb in Post Dispatch.

WHEN YOUNG PEOPLE LEAVE, TOWNS DIE

A few weeks ago The Brand published an editorial regarding the loss of the county's most important crop: Our Young people. We were definitely interested, therefore, in recent release of a speech made by Attorney General John Ben Shepperd concerning this same "trend over the entire State of Texas. Shepperd entitled his talk, "The Dying Towns of Texas," and quotes some interesting figures. The overall picture is, in fact, much more alarming than that seen on the local level in the Hereford area.

"One hundred and forty-six counties in Texas — more than half of the 254 — lost population between 1940 and 1950," says Shepperd. One out of four counties pulled up in population count. Deaf Smith, we are proud to say, was in the population increase group. Many small towns in North Central Texas, he cites as having two persons over 65 years of age for each person under that figure. Counties showing a decrease in population definitely ran to higher ages for the remaining inhabitants. Three-fourths of all of the people who live in towns over 2,500 live in one of the 15 large cities in Texas, according to Shepperd's figures — and these 15 cities house 47 out of each 100 residents of the State of Texas. In other words, the younger people are migrating to industrial centers. — Hereford Brand.

THE REAL REWARD

Few people have learned that the greatest reward of success is the inward knowledge of a job well done. Too many there are who measure everything in terms of effect produced on other people.

If one's only incentive for hard work is publicity or the prestige of a high school diploma or college degree, we fear he has missed the most important reason for putting forth maximum effort.

Greatest satisfaction in life comes from the knowledge that one has pleased himself, that he has played a good game, that he has done his best. It does not come from playing for grandstand applause, newspaper headlines or the praise of the masses.

We need no greater reward for a job well done than the personal knowledge that "we made it." —Town Topics in Tullia Herald.

REA Expects To Triple Use By 1975

College Station. — Use of electric power on farms served by REA is expected to triple by 1975.

REA predicts consumption of its Texas customers to reach 3,987,606,000 kilowatt hours by that time, or three times the 1,026,860,000 kilowatt hours used in 1953.

These estimates are part of a survey conducted by REA to determine future needs regarding the interconnection of existing power sources, new generating facilities and the use of atomic energy for power production.

Consumption on REA-financed electric systems has doubled about every four years. In the future, greater usage by present consumers is expected to be the principle factor in increased demands.

Last year REA distributed 14,000,000 kilowatt hours to the nation's rural customers. The agency says this figure may hit 45,000,000 kilowatt hours within the next 21 years.

IT TAKES PRACTICE

What a dilemma! Johnny should sit here and practice his piano lesson for the next hour. But there are so many things he would prefer doing . . . Of course he'd like to be able to play well. Who wouldn't?

So many of us are like Johnny. We'd like to be able to accomplish something, but we aren't willing to spend the necessary time and effort.

The same holds true in the practice of our Christian religion. How can we hope to understand the will of God without reading His Word or without supporting His Church?

In order to live the richest life, we must devote our time and talent to God's work. We will learn to direct our efforts where they will accomplish most if we will study His Word and worship in His House.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake; (2) For his children's sake; (3) For the sake of his community and nation; (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

June is National Dairy Month and to celebrate the special event, the Foss Acres Dairy here, operated by F. O. Schacht, will hold an open barn at his place in southwest Lockney between the hours of 1 and 5 o'clock on Sunday, June 13, he announced this week.

Fungus Growth—

(Continued from page 1) to fall. The Beacon was unable to learn exactly what wheat in the fields that had been cut was yielding. Farmers were apparently too busy getting it cut to stop and figure the yield.

The harvest is expected to hit its peak about June 20 when the sucker heads will have time to dry out.

Cotton Is Up

Most farmers of this area were nursing their cotton crop along this week trying to get it up big enough to work. Still a few farmers, who had to replant for the third time and the mouth in a few isolated instances, were waiting for the plant to appear above the ground. Some just completed planting Monday of this week but most of that not up was "just at the top of the ground" and ready to come out. No moisture to speak of has fallen in this area since the disastrous hail and rain that swept the northern edge of the county on Tuesday of last week.

Dual Fans Approved For Cotton Gin Trash Processing

College Station. — Use of dual fans for continuous processing of cotton gin trash has been approved and is called the most practical method of handling the materials yet tested.

Given the go-ahead by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the two-fan system enables ginners to install equipment which will allow farmers to collect and return gin trash to the soil for organic matter at very nominal cost.

Under current regulations, all wastes must be processed by one of the approved methods to kill pink bollworms and other insect life.

According to the U. S. D. A., the two fans must be operated in series, have at least six blades and turn at specified revolutions per minute.

Increased organic matter, water holding capacity and moisture penetration are benefits derived from spreading cotton burrs on cropland.

The other processing methods are incineration, composting, sterilization, fumigation and hammer milling. Roller mills are on a trial basis in some areas.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cooper and Carol attended the wedding of Kenneth Cooper and Patsy Coe in Ruidoso, Saturday evening. Enroute home Sunday they visited Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Perkins in Sudan. Carol Cooper remained in Sudan and accompanied the Perkins to Lockney Tuesday.

Here are 2 increasingly popular endorsements to our crop-hail insurance policy. Practical and up to date, these endorsements afford a sizable savings in premiums.

When a farmer selects either an Excess Over 10% or an Excess Over 20% Loss Endorsement, he takes in stride the small crop losses but is protected against the large, catastrophe losses which can wipe out his harvest income.

For the best buy in crop-hail insurance, look into our XS 10 & XS 20 crop-hail endorsements.
