The car failed to make the turn in the highway traveling west, knocked a hole in each wall and stopped after it had cleared the building on the west side.

Bob Busby, charged with driving while intoxicated, was fined $75.00 and costs for a total of $99.40. He was also given three days in jail.

Highway Crossing Claims Second Victims In Week

The intersection of farm highways 135 and 598 at the east edge of Lockney claimed its second auto accident victims within a week Tuesday afternoon when a 1954 Oldsmobile, driven by Lewis Reddy of Floydada jammed into a 1954 Chevrolet driven by Mrs. Owen Thornton of South Plains.

Mrs. Thornton's car overturned twice and she was thrown out but suffered no broken bones, attending physicians said. She is badly bruised and is receiving treatment at the Lockney General Hospital here.

The four Floydada young people in the Oldsmobile escaped without injury. They were Reddy, Ann Deakins, Raynelle Irbay and Connie Bearden.

Reddy, who was driving north, failed to see the stop sign at the inadequately marked intersection and the Olds he was driving struck Mrs. Thornton's Chevrolet, traveling east, on the right rear fender. The Olds skidded around and stopped facing south but did not turn over.

Damage to the Chevrolet was estimated by body men at approximately $1,000. Damage to the Olds, which belonged to Jack Deakins, Floydada theatre man, was probably half as much.

Other Victims Improving
Jim McAdams, Mrs. Emory Ralls and Mrs. Della Ballard, all injured in a similar accident at the same intersection last week, are all improving this week, hospital officials say.

Longhorns Are Working Hard For First Game

The Lockney Longhorns were working hard this week, trying to get ready for their first game here on September 10 with the highly-touted Hale Center Owls. Coaches Rudy Halle, Elvin Lyon and Troy Ingram, working with only four regulars from last season's team, are well pleased with results so far, they say, but still have a lot of work to do if they are to hold the Hale Center boys to an interesting game.

The Longhorns will scrimmage the Happy football team this afternoon at 3:30 on the local field. Coach Halle said Tuesday night. Fans are invited to come out and watch the boys in action.

On last Friday night the Longhorns scrimmaged the Crosbyton Chiefs who lost only three regulars from their previous year's team and the local lads came off second best in the scrimmage. However, Coach Halle was well pleased with the boys' defense against running plays. The Longhorns had had no drill on pass defense and made little attempt to stop the Chiefs' passes but they did show plenty in stopping their running game. On offense the Longhorns didn't set any fields afire but expect to improve on that this week.

Coach Halle told the Quarterback Club Tuesday night that he had shifted Marion Cross, the Longhorns big center to tackle and sent last year's all-district guard Weldon Jones into the fullback slot to give the locals more drive on offense.

Some 40 boys are out for the team and workouts are held each afternoon from 3 to about 5:30.

Baxter-Priddy Ring Vows Solemnized

Bronze and white were the colors chosen by Miss LaVonne Priddy to carry out a late summer decor for her marriage Thursday to Robert Clyde Baxter.

The couple exchanged double ring vows before an altar of bronze chrysanthemums arranged in rattan baskets suspended from wrought iron stands, with foliage and white tapers in wrought iron candelabra forming the background for the sanctuary and baptistry of the First Christian Church.

Dr. Young Officiates

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white imported French lace over net and satin. Lace applique outlined the portrait neckline of the fitted bodice, and tiny sleeves were completed by gauntlets ending in points over the hands. A wide, pleated satin sash encircled the waist, from which extended a billowing circular lace skirt, with pleated drapery endings in a large butterfly bow in back. The full lace skirt swept into a graceful train.

The bridal veil of silk illusion was joined to a coronet of lace embroidered with seed pearls. She carried a cascade of phalaenopsis orchids, covered with stephanotis. Wear Gold Frocks

Mrs. Baxter, mother of the bridegroom, wore powder blue lace and silk organza. Her accessories were white and her corsage was fashioned of white variegations and stephanotis.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. The bride's table was entered with bronze chrysanthemums and white ivy entwined in silver candelabra. Bronze chrysanthemums arranged in silver bowls were used throughout the receiving rooms.

What Was This Call Worth?

"Mommy, can I stay at grandmother's tonight?" That was little Carol's very first telephone call — a real thrill that can hardly be measured in dollars and cents. Yet, Mrs. Caroline Niemeyer, Carol's grandmother, can tell you what that call cost. She is one of a group of customers who kept day-by-day records of calls made for a week — a total of 30 calls covering 133 miles. Then she broke her telephone bill down into the actual cost per call. "I was amazed," she reported, "at how little my telephone service cost for all the convenience and happiness it delivers." SOUTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY... CHILDREN OF GOD

Three things mar the beauty of this picture. DIRT POVERTY and NEGLECT.

Dirt can be scrubbed away in ten minutes. Poverty cannot destroy human character. It has bred some of our greatest men and women.

But neglect—for it there is neither cure nor consolation. It is the shadow of evil days to come.

Delinquency, immorality and crime can nearly always be traced to neglect. And not simply to the physical neglect so evident in this picture. Evil lives stem from the neglect of our children's spiritual needs. There are youngsters with clean faces and fine clothes who are being brought up in the soul-stifling atmosphere of a church-less home.

Our children are children of God. It is their sacred right to learn of their Father, and to see Him honored daily in their homes.

Parents, where will your children be on Sunday morning?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Dr. W. M. Ewing Is Author Of Digest Article

Dr. W. Maurice Ewing, noted oceanographer, born and reared at Lockney, is the author of the page 1 article in the September issue of Reader's Digest.

Title of the article is "A Letter to My Children." The letter, written at sea January 14, 1954, relates Dr. Ewing's experience of the previous day when he was swept off the deck of a ship into storm battered seas, 200 miles north of Bermuda.

Dr. Ewing, 47, director of the Columbia University Lamont Geological Observatory, and on an oceanography expedition at the time he was washed overboard, in the letter credits the love of his five children with giving him the power to keep afloat until he was rescued. It has a moving revelation of a man's emotions in a life and death struggle.

Dr. Ewing is the son of Floyd Ewing, deceased, and of Mrs. Floyd Ewing who makes her home with Dr. Ewing and daughters at Tulla and Amarillo. His father was in the hardware and furniture business with the late E. P. Thompson of Lockney for several years.

Dr. Ewing, a brilliant student even in his youth, graduated from the Lockney High School a-bout thirty years ago. He developed the method of mapping strata of the ocean floor by means of recording sound waves from an explosive charge and has accomplished other scientific feats that have made him a world-famous oceanographer.

He has a sister, Mrs. Deskin Shurbet, at Tulla, and another sister, Mrs. Herschel Clawson, Amarillo. An aunt, Mrs. W. B. Bybee, lives at Plainview. Mrs. Buck Sams and Miss Juanita Thompson, both of Lockney, are cousins.

Mrs. L. P. Goen of Los Angeles, Calif., is here visiting an old friend, Mrs. George Graham. She also is visiting relatives at Floydada and Plainview.

ATTEND MASONIC MEETING

Charlie Boedeker and B. H. Quebe, Dr. C. M. Thacker and A. H. Kreis of Floydada, all members of the Floyd County membership committee of the Pampa-Memphis district of the Dallas Scottish Rite, attended a dinner meeting at Memphis Tuesday night of this week. They heard an address by Hon. Frank Hamm, 33rd degree Mason of Dallas.

Huckabee Says Thanks To All

I wish to take this means of thanking each and everyone for the many courtesies shown me during my campaign for tax assessor-collector. I especially wish to thank those who supported and voted for me, even though we fell short of our goal.

I am glad we live in a country where a person can vote for the man of his choice and I have only the kindest feelings for those who saw fit to support another candidate.

Sincerely,
Chas. C. Huckabee.

Soil Conservation District News

Crop Residue

There were several thousand acres of cowpeas intra-planted with grain sorghums in the District this year. This should provide us with much information on how good a soil building crop cowpeas are.

Under ordinary dryland conditions cowpeas are classed as a shallow-rooted legume. But under irrigation where the top soil and subsoil are in fairly good condition, cowpea roots will penetrate much deeper into the soil. Last year a number of cowpea vines were pulled on the James Bobbitt farm near Sterley. Roots from some of these vines penetrated at least 24 inches into the soil. It may be that cowpeas will prove to be of much more benefit than we suspect, especially under irrigation. Besides opening up the soil so water can enter, they also add nitrogen to the soil, when properly inoculated. They are thought to add about 90 pounds of nitrogen per acre, when worked into the top soil in the green succulent stage, according to the best information available.

The question many farmers are asking is "How to best handle the cowpea-sorghum residue?" It is the opinion of employees of the Soil Conservation Service in this District that the best way to get maximum benefits from this crop residue, that soon after the grain has been harvested from the sorghum, a shredder be used to cut the material into fine pieces. Then in order to combat wind erosion and break up the bombardment of the winddrop the residue should be worked into the surface. Other methods may be used, but much of the residue should be left on top until after the following crop is well established. Many of our soils are low in organic matter, and these high residue and soil building crops will help much in this direction.

Cowpeas grown intra-planted with sorghums may prove to be one of the most economical ways of keeping our soils productive, and getting a cash crop at the same time. At any rate we should make the most advantageous use of our crop residues. By growing these two crops together we can build the soil, add organic matter, combat wind erosion and help the soil to take water better.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY.

THE BITTEREST CAMPAIGN
In many a year is over. Many unkind things were said on both sides and many untruths were told. A campaign as dirty as this one does the state no good and certainly doesn't help the candidates. We're glad it is over and wish it had ended with the first primary. It would have been better for all concerned. The best thing now is to forget the primary regardless of which side you were on. To carry on the hatred and malice shown in this campaign will hurt the one who continues to stir it more than it will anyone else.

WE HAVE BEEN somewhat disturbed in times past by other cities claiming tremendous growth in population while Lockney just grows along at a steady pace without any sensational increase in population. Now we've found out the reason other cities can claim such big growths. We're in the Amarillo Daily News gives the breakdown on water and electric meters among others for both Lubbock and Amarillo. He is attempting to show that Amarillo is still bigger than Lubbock. Without getting into that controversy we divided the number of meters into Lubbock's population claim of 112,734 and came up with 4.8 persons per water meter, and 3.8 per electric meter.

RISH, local manager for Southwestern Public Service Company we found that the company has 728 electric meters within the city limits. Multiplying that by 3.8 we came up with 2766 total population for the city of Lockney which is some 1,000 greater than the 1950 census gave us. Then checking with the city office we found that we have 670 water meters within the city. Multiplying that by 4.8 persons we came up with 3216 which is almost double the 1950 census population figure.

THE LUBBOCK CHAMBER OF COMMERCE is responsible for that city's population estimate which brings us around to the conclusion that maybe the Lockney Chamber of Commerce is laying down on the job. What about that, Mr. Bob Miller? Couldn't we claim about five persons per electric meter and run that population claim up to 3600 or 3700 people. That would really make a nice little city. Then we would really need a couple of housing projects or something similar.

SERIOUSLY SPEAKING we think that Lockney or most any city can justify claim around 3 persons per electric meter or maybe 3 1/2 persons per water meter. With that in mind, the 728 electric meters we have would give us a total population now of 2184 or the 670 water meters would figure a total population of 2345. The 1950 census gave Lockney a total population figure of 1698 despite the highway signs which show 1708. If we have a population of 2250, which appears to us to be a reasonable figure considering the number of meters, that means that Lockney has an increase in population of 550 since 1950, or about 135 per year increase. If we continue that increase by 1960 we should have some 3,000 population. We see no reason why we shouldn't do so.

KEEP YOUR FINGERS CROSSED but crop prospects in this part of Floyd County are very good, so the farmers say. Despite some hail damage in parts of the area, most farmers now have good crops and are looking forward to an excellent harvest. Fall is just around the corner so let's get ready for a good one this year.

DO YOU WANT to succeed? If so you must love work, according to L. L. Colbert, president of the Chrysler Corporation. "I believe that for most Americans there is a deep moral satisfaction in turning out a good job," he says.

BORROWED AGAIN
The following is something we swiped out of Southwestern Crop and Stock magazine. But then, they admitted that they also helmed it "from a blotter," so we guess we are as entitled to use it as they are. At any rate, we think it makes very good reading.

A man's life is full of contradictions. He comes into it without his consent — and leaves it the same way. The rule of contraries is the rule throughout the rocky trip.

When he's little, the big girls kiss him; and when he's big the little girls kiss him. If he's poor he's a bad manager — and if he's rich he's dishonest. If he needs credit he can't get it; but if he's prosperous everyone wants to do him a favor.

missed his calling — if he dies young he had a great future before him. If he gets money he's a grafter — if he doesn't he's a bum. So what's the use? — State Line Tribune.

PRECIPITATION ZERO
It's right interesting to read the weather summary each day and note that at Dallas or Fort Worth the temperature reached a maximum of 102 and a minimum of 80, while out here on the High Plains we're having 96 and 63 respectively. The temperature at 63 is good for sleeping, but the overall weather isn't so good for sleeping as we read day after day. "precipitation zero." Most of the South Plains has endured ninety days of parching drought, some total, and some relieved by scattered showers. It's got so that when the weather man forecasts "scattered showers" we hardly bother to wear our galoshes and raincoat to the office. — You Be The Judge in Crosbyton Review.

LITTLE THINGS COUNT
A thing cannot be too small to deserve attention. The first thing Sir Isaac Newton had, leading to his most important optical discoveries, was derived from a child's soap bubble. The art of printing was suggested by a man cutting letters in the bark of a tree.

The telescope was the outcome of a boy's amusement with two glasses in his father's shop. Charles Goodyear neglected his skill until it was red hot, and this guided him to the manufacture of vulcanized rubber. The web of a spider suggested to Captain Brown the idea of a suspension bridge. Watching a spider weave its web gave Robert Bruce the courage to try again. Henry Ford's idea about a perfect watch plant gave him a plan for his giant motor industry. J. L. Kraft's idea to put cheese in a sanitary package was the start of his enormous business. — Hamlin Herald.

USING YOUR BRAINS
Irving Berlin takes a worthless piece of paper and writes a song hit. He sells the copy for $50,000. That's genius.

John D. Rockefeller could sign his name to a worthless piece of paper and make it worth half a million. That's capital. A man can buy $5 worth of steel and make $1,000 worth of watch springs out of it. That's skill.

A cop can take a worthless piece of paper and write your name on it—and make you out ten bucks. That's your hard luck. But—when a man looks for an apartment, finds just what he wants—and then the manager asks, "Have you any children?" puts on a long face and answers, "Yes, but they are in the cemetery," pays six months rent in advance and gets a receipt, then goes out to the cemetery, gets his children and brings them to the apartment. That's brains! — Eddie Warren in Post Dispatch.

BACK THEM UP!
Texas Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, on many occasions in his capacity as Democratic Leader in the Upper House, has pledged both himself and his colleagues to the support of President Eisenhower's program to nail down world peace.

"We are like a plane-load of people in a storm," the Senator says, in so many words, "and we only have one pilot. If he fails, we all go down together." "The U. S. has only one President. He is the President of the Democrats, as well as of the Republicans, and if he fails in his dealings with other nations, we all go down together. Therefore, we Democrats shall uphold his hand in every way. — Lubbock Avalanche.

There are certain requisites that the acceptable concrete contractor must have. Among them are a good record of the work performed, the ability to pursue a job to its completion with a minimum of delay, and a sound business reputation and financial standing in the community. In each of these requirements, R. W. Hill excels and the many responsible jobs he has completed bear testimony of his ability as an outstanding concrete contractor.

As an aid to the farmers and ranchers of the area, Mr. Hill specializes in irrigation blocks reinforced. These essentials of our great irrigation district are already run and cured and carried in large stock so that irrigation systems may now be set up for the season ahead.

Contractors and builders with concrete contracts to sub-let and who are not already acquainted with the superior workmanship and speedy service on all concrete work given by R. W. Hill will profit by phoning him at Lubbock 4-5212 and letting him figure the job. He is an outstanding concrete contractor who has consistently won the commendation of his clients, and one who well merits continued good will and advantage.

Soil Conservation News

Fred Jackson, supervisor in Floyd County Soil Conservation District has originated the idea of how to do a good job of improving his soil while continuing to produce his customary crops.

Cropping system starting in 1954 was overseeded this spring at the time he quit grazing his wheat on about March 15. A good soil improving crop has already been grown and land will be prepared again for wheat in a short time.

The next part of his soil improvement program shows a very healthy growth of cowpeas growing intra-planted in the same furrow with his grain sorghum. Another step in this program will find vetch in his cotton middles. With this combination of crops, Fred believes he can grow a good crop of cowpeas in his sorghums then prepare this land early to go to cotton while the vetch on the 1954 cotton land will be seeded to gain sorghum and cowpeas later in 1955.

By switching crops each year it will give the vetch a longer growing season thereby producing more organic matter and do a better job of improving his soil.

Fred says, "with recurring use of this combination of soil improving crops it appears that a man has a good opportunity to make a notable increase in his overall production while at the same time, little extra expenses will result."

USE FOR OLD BATH TOWELS

When your favorite bath towels get thin in the centers, use the ends for hot-dish holders. Cut sizable squares of several thicknesses for your protection from the heat and add a tape loop for easy hanging. Then — keep them just as bright and clean as when they did bathroom duty! Toss them into the washer with plenty of hot water, a detergent and a generous handful of bead-beating. You will be insured attractive-looking pot holders.

REVIEW STORAGE PROBLEMS

If you spend more time in the kitchen than you should, investigate your storage methods. Food and utensils should be at point of first use, near the gas range, sink or refrigerator, and counters should be surfaced with a material like clay tile for easier and quicker cleaning.

Library Notes

"Signing Thirty" is the journalistic term for writing a last column. This is always a hard thing to do. There is so much I would like to express of gratitude to each one of you who has read this column; to each one who has said a cheering word as they visited the library; to each of the many many people who have made gifts of time, means, books, magazines, and good will; to the radio and the press in this county. All these mediums of publicity have taken the story of your library far beyond our county borders. I feel grateful. I can not put the actual feeling into words.

As to future—The library in Floyd County has the friends, the funds and good management to become one of the finest of its kind. It has another great essential, the interest and the good will of people in the corners of the county many of whom are in some of the wonderful service clubs, farm organizations, social and literary clubs to which I have already made reference. Many others are "not joiners" but have given wonderful library support and have, I hope, found it worth their while.

I count it a personal privilege to have been your librarian as the library was getting under way after all the fine ground-work your library minded citizens had done. I leave with the library every good wish and with a lot of "very good regret" I sign "thirty"

THE LOCKNEY BEACON, LOCKNEY, TEXAS, SEPT. 2, 1954

Farm Bureau To Discuss Policies In Area Meetings

Farm Bureau leaders in Texas will gather in 13 district meetings this month to discuss current issues and lay plans for developing new Farm Bureau policies for next year.

The first meeting will be held Sept. 11 in Waco and the last session will be in Mercedes Sept. 27. The meeting for this area will be at Lubbock on Sept. 18. State and national issues affecting farmers and ranchers will be discussed, according to J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau. In a letter to county leaders urging them to attend the sessions, Hammond called their attention to the fact that the Texas Legislature would be meeting next January with several vital issues expected to come before the lawmakers.

"There will be an intensive effort to increase the funds provided for road building, which will involve a new source of revenue," Hammond stated. "Some of the proposals to raise this additional revenue will be an increased tax on gasoline, abolishment of the tractor gas refund, a tax on natural gas, a state sales tax, or a state income tax."

As for national farm issues, the state farm organization leader said that the problem of diverted acres is one of the most serious problems facing agriculture.

"Developments would indicate that farmers may be deeply concerned with reference to regulations pertaining to diverted acres," Hammond said.

Speakers at the meeting will be C. H. DeVaney of Coahoma, vice-president of the Texas Farm Bureau; and O. R. Long, of Nashville, Tenn., southern region organization director for the American Farm Bureau Federation.

A highlight of the meetings will be the district Queen Conts. Winners will receive a wrist watch, a week's stay at a resort hotel and an expense-paid trip to the state convention. The state queen will receive an expense-paid trip to the AFBF convention in December in New York.

Shade Trees Need A Little Help

College Station — Shade trees sapped by another summer of sparse rainfall need a little help from their owners.

An ailing tree's condition can be improved greatly with water and fertilizer, says G. M. Watkins, extension pathologist. To accomplish this, build a circular dike around the tree to hold four inches deep in the basin. The diameter of the basin, says Watkins, should approximate the size of the tree's shade canopy. A dike six foot in diameter is suggested for very small trees and shrubs.

Spread a commercial fertilizer over the soil within the dike. The formula and application rate depend upon the inherent fertility of the soil. As a starter, one pound of 5-10-5 or 8-8-8 to every 100 square feet of surface is recommended.

Fill the basin to a depth of four inches and allow to soak in. During the hot, dry part of the year repeat the waterings at seven to 10 day intervals but discontinue during the seasons
