Anty Cotton Council To Be Organized

Floyd County Cotton Council will be organized, to work operation with the district organization set up Tuesday of week at Lubbock, if plans succeed this week are carried out.

Foster of Lockney, farm estate to the district organization and Bill Rodgers, temporary chairman for the county, called a meeting of all growers and business of the county to be held at the district court room at Lubbock, Thursday evening, February 9th at 7:30. W. W. McClaskey of Lockney named the business manager to the district organization.

Lockney cotton councils, both county and district, are set up in protecting the cotton growers' interests and to aid in using the consumption of the products.

Those interested in these are invited to attend the meeting, officials said.

Vegetable Meet March 1st

Meeting for all vegetable growers of Floyd County and all farmers interested in growing vegetables has been set for March 1, according to Bill Rodgers, Floyd County agricultural agent.

Tentative lists from Texas A. College will be here to discuss production and market-rodgers says.

The meeting is being scheduled chiefly to aid farmers engaged in the vegetable program rather than to favor to enlist a large number in the vegetable growing and will follow on the day of a similar meeting held in Plainview this Tuesday in hopes of forming a Haley organization in cooperation with the area project," Rodgers said.

Meeting of all pinto bean growers of Floyd County will be held for late January, according to D. W. Fyffe of Fyffe and Seed Company, who coordinated with local bean growers this year in the marketing of their product. Problems anticipated this year by the growers will be discussed at the meeting.

Considerable progress has been made in the county within past two years by pioneer vegetable growing. Some acres of pinto beans, most which were the No. 111 variety developed by the Idaho College, were planted in experimental plots, with C. T.monds having 260 acres, largest plot for a single grower. It was learned that the date recommended for planting proved late for the yield from beans planted early July was more satisfactory.

This year installed a planting plant which proved a aid to growers. He hopes add a packaging plant to help with an electric eye detecting faulty beans before the next harvest season. Despite of severe hail storms the county, an abundance of vegetables, including onions, peas, pumpkins, peppers, and squash were produced by growers, with some on-growers harvesting from over 1,000 sacks per acre after being damaged from

Committee To Study Vegetable Growers Set-Up

A committee will continue the study of an area-wide vegetable growers organization following a meeting of some 200 farmers of the South Plains area at Plainview Tuesday. Herman Thornton of South Plains and Chamber of Commerce Manager Dick Whiteley of Lockney represented Floyd County at the meeting.

The group heard talks by two specialists in the vegetable industry, Dr. Donald Ashdown of the horticulture department at Texas Tech and J. F. Roshborough, extension service horticulture marketing specialist of Tyler. The advisory board, of which Thornton is a member, will meet February 14 to weigh information gathered at the Tuesday meeting and decide on future action.

Ashdown told the group that vegetable growing was a hazardous business and while many factors are on the side of the farmer in the Plains area, certain pitfalls and cold hard facts must not be overlooked before plunging into the business.

The group was advised to analyze the area and its potential, the marketing possibilities and other things relative to the growing of vegetables.

Ten bred gilts, nine open gilts and two boars have been consigned for sale.

At a meeting of the officers and directors of the Lockney Chamber of Commerce and Board of Development Monday evening in the high school cafeteria, plans were made for the annual membership meeting and committees were appointed. The directors also heard a report from the nominating committee and a request from the City Park Committee for help on a skating rink project. President Claude Holley presided.

Committees were instructed to set the time of the annual meeting as near to March 15 as possible. It was agreed that the program committee would secure a "name" speaker and plan an attractive program. Edgar R. Hays is chairman of the committee and other members are R. L. Knox Jr. and Marvin Cox. The directors were hopeful that the high school cafeteria, scene of the annual meeting, would be filled for the occasion.

The food and arrangements committee is headed by Bob Miller. Bill McClaskey will assist him.

R. H. Ford is head of the ticket committee. He will select his help in this department.

The directors voted to increase the number of directors to 15 starting the new year in March. Terms of the directors are staggered so that five new directors are elected each year. Nine are now serving with the terms of two, R. L. Knox Jr. and W. O. Stuart, expiring this year. The nominating committee, headed by Knox, listed sixteen nominees on the ballot soon to be mailed to members with eight to be elected. The nominees are: Claude Holley, Leslie Ferguson, Raymond Rhodes, Horton Howell, Kelton Shaw, Claude Brown, R. C. Mitchell, Oliver Holmes, John Powell, Barry Barker, Dr. B. A. Simmons, Hubert Frizzell, Charles Baxter, Jerry Paul Cooper, M. L. Brewer, Ike Johnson.

The selection will be kept a secret by the committee to be revealed at the annual banquet.

The directors heard a report from Claude Brown, chairman of the City Park Committee, on the operations of that committee the past year. The report included an accounting of the money raised by the committee as well as that spent for improvements at the park and the swimming pool. Brown, accompanied by Mrs. George Webster Jr. and Mrs. L. L. Rhodes, presented a project to the directors involving the installation of a skating rink in the present city auditorium along with a snack bar for a recreational center for young people.

After some discussion, President Holley appointed a committee composed of Marvin Cox, chairman, Oscar Golden and W. O. Stuart to work with the City Park committee in investigating the cost and feasibility of the proposed project.

Concluding the meeting Bob Miller, chairman of the industrial committee, reported on the committee's recent investigations. He pointed out that the committee had found encouraging things and some discouraging ones in their investigations. The committee will continue its investigations.

WE SALUTE the Boy Scouts of America on its 46th birthday, which will be observed during Boy Scout Week, February 6-11. Scouting is a program for all boys everywhere. It is successful in the widest rural areas and the most congested cities. Scouting has three program parts to meet the needs of boys of different ages. Eight to 10 year-old boys are in Cub Scouting. Boy Scout ages are 11, 12 and 13. Explorer Scouts are 14 and over. It is often said that a boy can always find something to do. It is when he finds the wrong thing to do that he gets into trouble. WE ALL SHOULD appreciate those local adult workers who spend their time with Scouts. They receive no wages but do an unmeasured amount of good in their work of leading boys to become Scouts and to advance in Scouting ranks by passing tests and learning new skills. Thanks to Scoutmaster Jerry Paul Cooper and Assistant Scoutmaster Eddie Holcomb for their efforts.

SOMEBODY HAD BETTER straighten out Mr. Eisenhower on his farm program. Not only are price supports lower but now the new farm program has the suggestion that the basis for price supports be changed from 7/8 to one inch staple cotton. Our own congressman, George Mahon is leading the fight against this but whether there are enough congressmen and senators to stem the tide is a question. But getting back to our original suggestion, Mr. Eisenhower, as straight-forward and honest as he is, has been getting some poor advice from some source, probably his brother, D. Milton. If and when he runs for his second term he's due to lose a lot of farm votes unless things change.

PRICE DANIEL will probably run for governor of Texas this year. Although he has done an outstanding job as U. S. Senator, his heart is in Texas and apparently he is willing to step down from his Senate seat if he can find a place of service in his home state. We hope that he does run for governor. We think now that we will support him because we know him to be a very capable man with high ideals and the ability to get the job done.

THE SELF-RIGHTEOUS reformers up north who cry long and loud about segregation and still threaten the colored man like dirt under their feet, are at it again. They now want to vote federal funds to aid public schools but to include a clause which forbids the expenditure of federal funds in a district where segregation is practiced. We don't think the national congress will place its stamp of approval upon such a clause but the fight may serve to kill the whole federal aid for education bill. If the northern reformers would sweep around their own doorsteps first, perhaps the south would be free to handle its own problems and take care of its own people.

WE'RE GONNA NEED some moisture one of these days. That wheat which was planted last fall will hold on a while longer, we hope, but it won't stay forever. Some of the weather prognosticators are saying that we will have rain or snow in February. They better deliver, or else.

THE RACE is not always to the swift, not the battle to the strong, nor bread to the wise nor yet favor to men of skill, but TIME, the cradle of hope and progress is the great corrector of our mistakes and teacher of all who are willing to learn.—Anon.

THE SOIL-FERTILITY BANK
So many versions of the "Soil Bank" plan are being talked that it is hard to discuss the subject without knowing just what plan one has in mind. If some form of the soil fertility bank idea can be made work able, it will be just one more tool to help us solve our farm problems. Some things do seem obvious:

1. There is no fairness in trying to force the same per cent shift from cultivated to retired acres on all farmers. What's fair for a cotton grower with a large acreage allotment may not be at all fair to a man who is already cut down to nothing.

2. Rental rates based on land values are not going to be fair to the farmer who has no other land. The world has never been fed.—The Progressive Farmer.

Research has shown that printing is truly "The Art Preservation of all Arts" with approximately 92 per cent of the knowledge we accumulate being gained through the printed word.

at all to our cotton folks. The grain farmer in the Corn Belt may get 60 bushels of corn worth, say $90, from $200-an-acre land; down here we may get a bale of cotton, worth with seed, say $150, on $100 an acre-land. Based on 7 per cent of land value, the cotton grower would get $140 to retire an acre; the cotton producer, $7. We don't need to point out the injustice of such rental rates.

3. Some plan that would help us to speed up the planting of our poorest acres in the South to grass and pines would be fine, but it wouldn't help us much to end surpluses.

4. Retiring some percentage of all crop acres is not going to mean much in the way of production control. That would simply take out the least productive acres and the least profitable crops. Any sound plan for "retiring" acres will have to be based on retiring areas of specific crops.

5. If any proposal can be made workable and at all equitable then we ought to support it. As long as even moderate supplies above normal are such a factor in farm prices, then it is wise to bring them closer to normal if we can. Of course, it's absolutely wrong that 110 per cent of a normal crop should bring the farmer less than 90 per cent of a normal crop. But if our economy is going to operate on that basis for a while longer, then we are tired of seeing the farmer made the goat. America can't indefinitely penalize her farmers for feeding her more abundantly than any other nation in the world has ever been fed.—The Progressive Farmer.

Freedom
do you ever stop to think about what freedom means to you? Every man, if by free will, has no more than a right to be free. There is no such thing as being free in a world where there is always something or someone to be free from. Freedom means the right to stop for a moment and think about the kind of life that we have. It means the right to take religion seriously in the best sense of the word. It means the right to freedom of each person to live as he wishes, provided his actions would mean that he is not worshipping anyone or anything. Freedom

Have you ever stopped to think what freedom really means to you? Everyone loves it, but few understand it. It is not more than doing as we please. There is no such thing as being free in general. Freedom is always freedom from something or freedom to something.

Freedom is a stop for a minute and about the kinds of freedom that we have. First, we take religion. In its truest sense, the idea of freedom means the freedom of each person to worship as he pleases. It would mean that a person would worship any God he pleased to believe in, and worship any way he pleased.

Annual Work Completion

The Annual Staff has been working diligently to complete the annual by February 18. They do not expect any delay in the completion of the annual. With progress already made, the annual should arrive near the end of April. One thing needed to complete the annual is snapshots. If you have any of interest, please turn them in to any of the staff members. Please help us make your annual the best.

Then the Twirlers, Jean Wofford and Loy O'Brien, twirled to the music of "The National Emblem March." Following this, a reading, "So Was I," was given by Charlyne Brown. Next, the Silver Bells sang "Teenage Prayer" and "Blue Moon." Last on the program was a one-act play, "Andy's Antics," presented by David Howell, Jerry Williams, Anita Durham, Kelly Harrison, Carolyn Jones and Jan Widener.

Question Of The Week

A devotional is held each morning in the junior high school during the first five minutes of the first period. This consists of a pledge to the flag, a scriptural reading, a prayer, and etc. How do you feel about having this in our high school?

I think it would be real nice — Doyle Harrison.

It would help every one get off to a better start each day — Jimmie Holt.

I think it would be good for each of us — Frances Lemons.

I think we should begin each day's work just that way — Oddie Rogers.

It is a marvelous idea, I think — Patricia Reed.

A devotional each morning would help get us in the proper state of mind for the day's work — Pat Pierce.

We need more prayer and scriptural reading in our daily lives — Charlene Messimer and Clara Lee Smith.

We should start our daily jobs with thankfulness and reverence — Morris Meriwether and Brannon Darnell.

There should be more direct religious-teaching in our school, I think — Peggy Epperson.

No person is properly educated unless he has some knowledge of the Bible — Lloyd Williams.

I feel that such a devotional program would yield great rewards — Luther Williams.

I think it would be very beneficial as most schools do — Ava Brand.

I think a service of this kind would be one of the best things that could happen in our high school — Betty June Jackson.

I consider it a very helpful addition to our daily school ac-

Roland, what happened to your car Sunday?

I wonder if Dorothy Skelton's happiness nowadays is due to the fact that she is seventeen.

It is rumored that Paul will come on Barbara's birthday.

The reason that Gail W. and Wanda C. were not seen in town during the last weekend was that he was ill.

I hear that the junior class is really going to have a splendid play.

Junior class, we must get busy if we give the seniors the kind of banquet they should have.

Margie S., how did you manage to get everyone in that pickup you were driving Sunday?

Some mighty sweet smiles are being exchanged by Gene and Katy.

Shirley, did you leave any fingerprints on that green Chevrolet Sunday?

It looks as if Dee Nix has a new "interest" these days.

Mary Myers and Gene Baker were seen in Plainview Saturday night.

Paul Ray and Oddie and Loyd and Peggy H. frequently glance at each other in the various classes.

I just wonder what attractive girls are responsible for Weldon's and Donice's regular trips to Plainview.

activities — Carolyn Jones.

I believe that it would improve our school spirit — Jan Widener.

I think it would be very inspiring and helpful to the student body — Lanell Johnson.

I think it would give each student a lift and make his day more enjoyable — Sue Harper.

I believe this would further the interest of each pupil and would help the school-spirit a great deal. I think every school should have this — Wanda Cox.

Wanda Bates, why are you so sad lately? Is it because you're moving and leaving a certain blond-haired, blue eyed freshman boy?

Patsy H. and Nelda M., did you have fun at Wichita Falls over the weekend?

Sally, how are you and Bill getting along?

Evidently Betty Maye's happiness this week is due to a call from California. Was it Tom?

We are sorry to see Jan M. leave, but we know she will be very happy in her married life.

Eldora, what is this we hear about you and Jerry W. "going steady"?

Mary Myers, we hear you have been taking your gloves to Church each Sunday night. Let's watch that.

If all the girls in L. H. S. are getting married, whom will the boys go with?

Peggy H., don't be too blue, for Joe will be back in two years.

Congratulations to Donice, for he has four new white sidewalls on his car.

Lanell, who were your men escorts Saturday night?

Avanell, what have you planned for Friday night?

Bennie finally got his car washed and greased for the first time this year.

Charles and Carolyn and Derrrel and Janis were seen together Wednesday night.

Mary, Betty J., and Ernestine were you having a good time chasing that Cadillac in Plainview?

Gail, did Mack come home last weekend?

Charles V., how did you like the show Wednesday evening?

I am quite sure that Lloyd Williams will not swipe Mr. Babitzke's paddle-board again soon.

Dan, do you have a lot of fun phoning people about eleven o'clock every night?

Dubby and Lloyd, what happened to your "good ole Chevrolet"? You were using the "ole model A" Thursday evening.

Barbara is all excited over the weekend. Can it be Richard? Clara Lee's interest in Floydada is apparently Dale Read.

Oddie seems to enjoy going with everyone again.

Pat Pierce, what is that en-

Everyone is very grateful to Mrs. Carpenter for inspiring her pupils to increase their vocabularies. Students, let's get busy and take advantage of this opportunity.

Kenneth P., who is your new girl friend?

City Is Troubled With Dogs, Guns

City officials have been having numerous complaints recently from local residents about stray dogs, BB guns and other things, Mayor J. E. Cox said this week and he is asking parents to co-operate in helping to eliminate the troubles.

Dogs are one big source of trouble, Cox said. Some of them run loose, bother the neighbors, dig up flower beds, bark at strangers and generally cause a disturbance. All dogs should wear a city dog tag and be kept at home as much as possible, the Mayor said.

Some younger citizens have been shooting their BB guns too carelessly and have damaged window glasses in various buildings over the city. One store front here has more than a dozen BB shot pits in the plate glass window and damage was reported to church.

Mahon Fights Increase In Staple Length

Washington, Jan. 26 — Rep. George Mahon (D-Texas) testified before a recent session of the Senate Agriculture Committee that a proposed plan to base cotton price supports on one-inch staple cotton would bring "widespread dissatisfaction and heavy losses to cotton farmers."

Mahon sharply attacked what he termed a "double-barreled threat" to cotton farmers in two plans which have been incorporated in a suggested bill and which are being actively considered by the Senate Committee on Agriculture.

One of the proposals, which was supported by President Eisenhower in his farm message to Congress, would make one-inch staple cotton the basis for support prices.

The other would provide for 90 per cent of parity on one-inch staple cotton and a lower support on cotton of less than one inch staple.

Regarding the President's proposal, Mahon told the Senators if the support price in 1955 had been based on one-inch staple instead of 7-8 inch as provided by the present law, it would have reduced the price of cotton by 2.85 cents per pound, by $14.25 per bale and would have meant a loss to Texas cotton farmers of about $60 million and a loss on the nation's 14 million bale cotton crop of $200 million.

"Of course, all of the cotton did not go into the government loan," Mahon said, "but the effect on the price was just the same. The reduction of the price of cotton under the program in 1956 would be 3.46 cents per pound—that is if the support level is changed from 7-8 inch to one inch."

"That would mean," Mahon continued, "a loss of $17.30 per bale and a loss of $242 million on 14 million bales."

The other proposal which Mahon opposed calls for special preference for long staple cotton and a lower parity support for cotton of less than one inch.

ton and a lower parity support for cotton of less than one inch.

Mahon denied that short staple cotton was responsible for the cotton surplus. He explained that 62 per cent of all U. S. cotton in government hands last August 1 was one-inch staple. He said, therefore, that the great majority of the surplus cotton in government hands is long staple.

Mahon insisted that there was a need for both long and short staple cotton and that the proposed attempt to provide a lower level of parity for short staple cotton was rank discrimination.

"Such action would be a body blow to the cotton farmers of Texas where 79 per cent of all cotton of less than one-inch staple is produced," Mahon testified. He appealed to the Senators to respect this portion of the proposed bill.

Mahon declared that adoption of these two proposals would reduce the income of the cotton farmer far in excess of $200 million a year.

"It would be hypocrisy for Congress to say it is trying to take care of the problems of the cotton farmer and come up with a law which would reduce the cotton farmers' income by a quarter of a billion dollars annually," he said.

The Senate Committee will continue its study of the farm situation before presenting a bill to the full Senate for action.

Legislation already has been approved by the House of Representatives which calls for 90 per cent of parity without the penalty against short staple cotton which Mahon warned against.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Austin, Texas
January 21, 1956

To The Editor:

In the January 19 issue of The Beacon, the editorials unhesitating and completely convicted union labor in Corsicans of using violence in a strike. It left no room for doubt as to the perpetrators of claimed non-violence against three non-striking employees. Also in the same column there was a quote from Cheer Magazine concerning a big league umpire who could not understand how the crowd in the stands could see better than he could, whether it was a ball or strike. The article went on to comment: "Perhaps if we had a closer view of the man and his problems, we could reverse our decisions."

Aren't you calling the strikes on the union men at Corsicana without being able to see whether the ball went over the plate?

If you will check the news releases from The United Press and Associated Press, I believe you will find that of all the members of the City Commission of Corsicana, only the Mayor claimed to know of any violence and it was he who asked the Governor to send a Ranger—which he did. Yee from out in West Texas, with only what news are in the newspapers you immediately convict the union of unfair and violent acts, evidently because it suited your own desires.

Why the press of the nation believes that it is wrong for working men to band together to protect their rights and working conditions and expectations of a living wage is beyond comprehension. Yet the newspapers themselves are banned together in the American Newspaper Publishers Association and the North American Newspaper Alliance, not to mention the Texas Press Association, and use these organizations in furthering their interests from sending lobbyists to Washington and Austin to actually co-operating in their fight against labor.

Yet this same group, with a few exceptions, fought tooth and toenail to put into office one of the most flagrantly corrupt group of politicians in public office since the independence of Texas over a hundred years ago.

I have not seen in your newspaper a criticism or condemnation of public officials stealing the state's money, or an editorial on the laxity and unconcern of the Administration-appointed Insurance Commission in allowing illegal insurance and loan companies to operate and fleeh a million dollars from the people of Texas. Nor very much about a seemingly large corruption of the State Senate.

In suppressing the working man such a choice plum in your mind that you feel it is more important than calling the attentions of your readers to thievery of millions of dollars from the citizens of your state? Does the fact that apparently over half of the State Senate is controlled by corruptions interested in legislation, through retainer fees of no importance? Perhaps you can figure how you can come out on a deal such as this I can't work for a living.

Yours very truly,
W. T. HAYS.

Editor's note: The writer of the above letter is a close relative of the editor, though we won't say how close since some of his views are rather radical. But since he has questioned our motives, we feel impelled to answer his accusations just to keep the record straight. The Beacon is willing at all times to have both sides of any question aired but we hope that such letters will be free of personal abuse.

As to the Corsicans affair apparently there was violence in the strike and the violence was against those who opposed the union. We didn't say that the union was responsible but we did say that the union was the only one who could benefit from the action and naturally they would get the credit for whatever happened. We hardly see how anyone could question that statement.

We do not and have never opposed union labor. We believe that it is necessary for working men, especially in large organizations, to join together to protect their interests. The writer of the above letter is a member of the International Typographical Union, which is one of the better unions in our country. We're sorry he seeks to defend all kinds of unions, regardless of their character.

We do oppose violence by any organization, be it labor union, "white supremacy" group, big business or any other group which seeks to push its desires on the public through violence and outlawry. That is not the democratic way of life and it has no place in a democracy.

This newspaper has never supported Bascom Giles editorially and it has criticized the Insurance Commission for its negligence, as well as the system which allows members of the legislature to accept retainer fees while serving as a legislator. We see little reason to jump Mr. Giles now. He has confessed his guilt and is paying the penalty. We realize that many state officials, particularly those in appointive offices, have been neglectful to their duties. We say that this is due, in part, to the antiquated system of state government we have and we hope it brings some reforms.

We're sorry that the writer has not read our editorial columns more closely. If he had he would be better informed and wouldn't be so confused in his political thinking.

Over 500,000,000 books were printed and bound last year by the nation's printers and publishers.

Farm Bureau News

By Chester Carthel

We are back again for Farm Bureau News. This week, but we will do the same.

Noticed that the Floyd Farm Bureau is sending out renewal notices for members whose membership expires in the next few weeks. You might be wondering why you are receiving notice before your expiration date. I might just say you will not be paying for part of the year. If membership expiration is March 1, 1956 and you receive a notice, you will not pay for the third month of the year. Now, suppose your expiration date is March 1, 1956, you pay your membership fee February 1, 1956, this will affect the expiration of your membership for next year. It will still be February 1. Thought this example might help to clarify the situation a bit. We are sending notices out now in order to receive as many of you back in the county office as possible before our county membership drive begins. This enables Mrs. Puckett to the ones that have paid all; and therefore, it will be necessary for some of neighbors to call on you for membership dues. So all try to send in our membership dues as soon as possible. It certainly will be a help.

Imagine many of you saw program on TV last Thursday night showing the agricultural condition in three or four states. There was one that was made by a farmer in Wisconsin that struck me as being interesting. That particular farmer replied to a question by the reporter asking him to belong to some sort of farm organization. He said he believed that we all belong to some kind of farm organization. Isn't that just what Farm Bureau is? It is most definitely organization for the entire family. So, to you that are not members of any farm organization, we would like for you and your family to join the farm families in Farm Bureau, and let's all strive together to better our economic social position. We want in the Floyd County Farm Bureau.

Some of you might wonder der just what Farm Bureau can do for you. There are many ways that Farm Bureau helps you every day. For a fairly recent example, your Farm Bureau was the principle cause of CCC agreeing to take discolored grain sorghums in the loan last fall. Service that Farm Bureau renders to its members is only limited by the demand for those services. Remember, if you have anything of interest to farmers happening in your community, please let us know about it. Let's meet here again next week. How about it?

Texas High Court Rules Floyd Co. Lawsuit A Draw

Austin. — A complicated lawsuit arising out of a collision between a car and a car and trailer in Floyd County has been settled by the Texas Supreme Court.

It came out a draw. Tom Nelson of Floyd County was injured when the car in which he was riding, driven by his minor son, Gene, collided with a car and trailer driven by C. P. Fulkerson. Nelson brought suit against Fulkerson for damages. Fulkerson filed a cross-action against both Nelsons. Gene Nelson then filed a cross-action against Fulkerson. On the trial in Floyd County district court, the jury answered the special issues and on that basis, the court denied all three of them any judgment against the other. It held the drivers both negligent and that therefore they could not collect damages.

Tom Nelson appealed to the Amarillo Court of Civil Appeals and there won a ruling reversing the trial court and remanding the case of a new trial. Both Fulkerson and Tom Nelson appealed to the Supreme Court. In a decision, written by Associate Justice Few Brewster, the high court reversed the appellate court and reinstated the decision of the trial court that nobody should collect anything.

The big point of argument was whether Tom Nelson was responsible for the acts of his 19-year-old son, who was driving the car. The Supreme Court held that Tom Nelson "most certainly had the right to direct and control Gene in the operation of the automobile, with the right of reasonable punishment if Gene disobeyed him." Thus, they had joint control over the car, and as a matter of law, the blame for any negligence of Gene in driving the car falls also on his father.

Since the jury, as a finding of fact, found all three men guilty of negligence, all are precluded from recovering damages because of the doctrine of contributory negligence. Under Texas laws, if a person is even slightly negligent, he cannot claim damage.

Soil District Buys Carry-All

The Floyd County Soil Conservation District Board has purchased a 1 3/4 cu. yd. capacity carry-all for use by farmers in sub-division No. 1 of the county. This is the area north of the Lockney-Plainview highway, north of the Lockney-Silverton highway cut-off and west of the Silverton highway, north to the county line.

Any farmer in this area that desires to use the machine may contact Bert Bobbitt, supervisor, Sterley, phone 3787. The rental rate is $5.00 per day. The machine has a 72 inch reversible cutting blade, and is equipped with hydraulic cylinders, hose, and couplings for attaching to any tractor with a hydraulic unit. It is easily operated and may be handled by any four-row tractor or larger.

Many farmers in this area have low places that need filling, or high places that need cutting down. This machine is designed for farmer use in small jobs of this type. The supervisors say and they hope that farmers of this district will use the machine.

Dates Are Set For County Show

The Floyd County 4-H and FFA Junior Livestock Show has been set for March 6-7-8, according to officials of the stock show association. The show barns on the Rodeo Grounds in East Floydada will again be the site for the annual event.

The first planning meeting for the show will be called in early February.

Doyle Mount is president of the Floyd County Fat Stock Show Association, which has operated as an association only since May 3 of last year. Other officers include vice president, Chester Mitchell of Lockney; show superintendent, Bill Beedy of South Plains; and secretary-treasurer, Bill McClaskey of Lockney.

Best selling book in the world is the Bible. More than 25,000,000 copies are printed annually.

Fire Drills Begin

With the election of the fire chiefs and firemen, came the beginning of the fire drills. Thursday, the first fire drill of the school year was execut- ed. The students cleared the building in one minute and fifteen seconds. Weldon Jones, the newly elected fire chief, had charge of the drill. His assistants were Doyle McAda, assistant Fire-Chief, and J. W. Dippery and Kelly Harrison, firemen.

The purpose of the drills are to decrease the time in which the students clear the building in case of an actual fire and to move out and into the build- ing as orderly as possible.

"PIECES"

By Gene, Jay and Jerry
 Twas the day before Mid- Term
 And all through the school
 Every person was stirring,
 According to rule.

Catastrophe had struck!
 A thief was afoot.
 Just what was he after?
 Could it be that grade book?

He was clever and shy as he
 Made for her room
 No one saw him or her;
 So we must presume.

"I need a grade book,"
 He thought with a sigh,
 Then he chanced to see hers
 And away he did fly.

Through the doors into the halls
 He went to the first floor
 No one saw him or that grade book
 That I know of, any more.

And he said to himself "Oh
 my, Oh me,
 What will this grade-book
 do for me?
 Then it went through his mind like a flash,
 "I'll tear it up and throw it on the grass."

Grass? What grass could this be?
 Could it be Mr. Smith's?
 We shall see.
 Sunday morning, there it lay
 In a million pieces, I would say.

Poor hard-working, humorous Mrs. Cope
 Certainly knows how to take a "joke."
 Two dollars thirty cents was the offer
 Reveal the name and increase your coffer.

Thrifty save it
 Misers crave it
 Robbers seize it
 Rich increase it
 Gamblers lose it
 And I could use it.

Many people carry "just a little" insurance just to ease their minds.

But insurance should really INSURE. In case of disaster, you want more than, say, a fifth enough or half enough to rebuild your house or pay off a damage suit or meet some other loss.

Many people forget that it would cost much more to replace their home and furnishings if they had a fire. Many people forget they may be sued for perhaps tens of thousands of dollars if they kill or injure someone with their car. Many people carry too little liability insurance.

Don't be half safe. Be completely safe with the right America Fore policies.
