

C. Brown Will Open Dry Goods Store Here Soon

Claude Brown, proprietor of Brown's Cleaners & Clothiers of Lockney, will open a new dry goods department store here in the Spears building, formerly occupied by Lockney Dry Goods, in the near future he announced this week.

Mr. Brown has leased the building from Mrs. V. E. Spears, owner and work is already underway remodeling the interior, installing fixtures and repainting the building.

The new store will carry a good line of dry goods, notions, and ready-to-wear for all the family, as well as shoes, Mr. Brown said. He expects to be able to open for business within the next three or four weeks.

Mr. Brown said that he would continue to maintain his men's and boys clothing store and his cleaning shop in the present location and he would continue to devote his full time to that store. Management will be employed for the new dry goods store.

The bankrupt stock of the old Lockney Dry Goods was sold here last Thursday, at public auction. The stock and fixtures were sold piece-meal for approximately $6300. Out-of-town buyers bought all the stock and moved it out.

Cross Home Is Burned Saturday

The farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Oren Cross, two miles north and a mile west of Barwise, was destroyed by fire last Saturday afternoon. Origin of the fire was believed to have been faulty wiring.

All the family, except Mr. Cross' aged father, were out of the house at the time the fire started and the building was ablaze all over the top when they noticed it. They rushed to the house and led the elder Mr. Cross out of the building but were able to save only a television set, a divan, chair and a rug. The house was completely destroyed.

The family lost all their clothing except what they were wearing along with all other household furnishings and utensils.

The Lockney Fire Department sent a truck to the scene, arriving in time to prevent the destruction of a windmill tower and a small outbuilding. The house was too far gone to save when they arrived.

Some 20 to 25 neighbors quickly gathered to do what they could to help in the situation, and a number of Lockney people, in addition to firemen, rushed to the scene.

Owner of the farm is an Amarillo man. He plans to build another house on the farm very soon, reports say. He carried $3,000 insurance on the house.

The Cross family had no insurance on the contents. A shower is planned for them at the Sandhill school house tonight (Thursday) at 8 p. m.

They have one son, Larry Joe, age 12, at home. Another son, Marlon Cross, is married and lives at Plainview.

TWO NEGROES ARE DROWNED IN PIT SOUTHEAST OF TOWN

C-C Committee Named To Study 4-Lane Hiway

After much discussion, a committee of five men representing both the Lockney and Floydada Chambers of Commerce was appointed Monday evening to make a further study of the county's proposed highway improvement program and to possibly make some recommendations concerning the situation. The committee was composed of Mitchell Parrish of Floydada, chairman, J. Everett Perry, Floydada, Edgar R. Hays and Jerry Cooper, Lockney, and Commissioner of Precinct No. 1 Keller Holmes.

The committee plans to confer further with Highway Commissioner Marshall Formby and to give more study to the county road problem.

The discussion and committee came out of a joint meeting of the directors of the two Chambers of Commerce to discuss the highway. The State Highway Commission has allotted money to build a 4-lane divided highway from Floydada west to the Hale County line. Their requirement is that the county furnish right-of-way for the road. Two previous bond issues, designed to furnish money to purchase the right-of-way, have been voted down. Mr. Formby informed the Chamber representatives previously that the Commission would have to reallocate the money to another county if this county was unable to furnish right-of-way. The study was to determine if the county should try one more time to vote bonds for the right-of-way purchase.

In previous bond issues plans were made and money provided for a long-range highway program which would include also rebuilding of Highway 62 south from Floydada to the Crosby county line and also east from Floydada to the Motley county line. It is expected that the same program will be included in the new bond issue if an election is called.

Present for the Monday night meeting in addition to officers and directors of the two Chambers were E. W. Tucker, assistant district engineer from the State Highway Department at Lubbock, Sam Fowler, assistant resident engineer at Floydada, and members of the

A new heart also will I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you, and I will take the stony heart out of your flesh.—Ezekiel 36:26.

COACH RUDY HAILE and others who helped with the first annual Longhorn Relays here last Saturday are to be congratulated. The meet went off in fine shape, 28 teams entered, some 300 athletes were present along with their coaches and a few fans. The entrants enjoyed the meet and the weather was perfect. Coach Haile says that it is planned to make the event an annual affair. We hope that it becomes one of the biggest meets in West Texas.

THE ADMINISTRATION has asked for a $350 million postal rate hike in order to bring postal revenues more in line with costs of operation. We would suggest that another good way to get the income and the outgo together would be to cut down on the franking privileges of a billion government bureaus. How can they ever expect to come close to breaking even when every government agency, bureau and in-law sends tons of mail each year without paying one cent of postage. Because of this burden, private individuals, newspapers, etc., are called upon to make up the extra revenue needed to handle it. Let the government bureaus pay their own postage bills. That ought to get the department back into the black column right quick.

WHO WILL BE the top candidate for the office of governor of Texas? Price Daniel, Reuben Senterfitt and probably Ralph Yarborough or John C. White are the men we believe will be high men in the race. We can't see W. Leo Daniel getting very many votes. Of course, he fooled a lot of people the first time he ran and he may do it again, but we doubt it. We're predicting there will be a run-off and that Price Daniel and Yarborough or White, whichever ever runs, will be the high men. And, of course, we think that Price Daniel will win the race, assuming that he does run.

WE TALKED TOO SOON, it looks like. Recently The Beacon said that we had had very little if any vandalism around here and that we were proud of that fact. Now we've had it. Some one, whether it was young people or older people, we do not know, has broken some 30 lights out at the fair building in Southeast Lockney and also tore down some of the doors to the building. To say we're disappointed is putting it mildly. The fair building is a community and county project. It works to benefit everyone in several different ways. Why tear up something that is for your own benefit? That doesn't make sense in any way. If it should be the work of juveniles, we do not believe that one young person in 100 in this community would approve it. Most of them would feel as we do that it was a foolish, wasteful thing to do. Perhaps the young people of the community could help in preventing such things from happening by influencing those in their number who have no regard for community betterment or community property. It would certainly be a helpful thing to do.

THE PARENTS of young people, especially the very young, can do their part by knowing at all times where their youngsters are and what they are doing. Neglectful parents contribute as much to juvenile delinquency as anyone does.

FLOYD COUNTY is faced with a problem. Are we to take advantage of the State Highway Commission's offer to build better roads through the county if we furnish the right-of-way, or shall we sit still and let the Commission spend the money, which we helped to accumulate through taxes, in neighboring counties. Are we satisfied with the present narrow roads we have in this county or do we want wider, safer roads had enough to just furnish the additional right-of-way? That's Floyd County's problem.

TRUE FRIENDSHIP

THIS SELECTION concerns true friendship:

He likes you just as you are. He does not want to alter you. He likes your moods and enjoys your pessimism as much as your optimism.

He likes your success. And your failure endears you to him the more.

He is better than a lover because he is never jealous.

He wants nothing from you except that you be yourself.

He is the one being with whom you can feel safe. With him you can utter your heart, its badness and its goodness.

There are many faithful wives and husbands; there are few faithful friends.

Friendship is the most admirable, amazing and rare article among human beings. Anybody can stand by you when you are right. A friend stands by you even when you are wrong.

Like the shade of a great tree in the noonday heat, is a friend.

Like the home port, with your country's flag flying, after a long journey, is a friend.

A friend is an impregnable citadel of refuge in the straits of existence.

It is he who keeps alive your faith in human nature that makes you believe it is a good universe.

He is an antidote for despair, the elixir of hope, the tonic for depression.

When you are vigorous and spirited, you like to take your pleasures with him; when you are in trouble you want to tell him; when you are dying you want him near.

You give to him without reluctance and borrow from him without embarrassment.

If you live fifty years and find one absolute friend, you are fortunate — Thoughts for Thursday in Tullia Herald.

GRAIN PRICES—

Most people it seems, are prone to under rate the importance of the new support prices on grain sorghums. This will mean a lot of dollars and cents in Hereford pockets, according to Bill Lenderman, C.C. manager, who has worked closely with R. G. Peeler and the committee. Bill says the big help will be noted in 1957—but that it will also mean around 30 cents a hundred more in 1956. Something like $2 million to this area. This, according to all previous calculations, will be the margin of profit, which growers bemoaned on the 1955 crop. Sounds good. It sure does! —Jimmy Gillentine in Hereford Brand.

Services At Trinity Church, Providence Are Announced

Special Palm Sunday Services are scheduled to mark the opening of Holy Week in Trinity Lutheran Church of Providence, it was announced today by the pastor, H. L. Anderson. The Holy Week observance gets under way with Sunday School at 10 a. m. The school under the leadership of Helmut F. Quebe is working to break all previous attendance records. A new record was set on March 18th when an attendance equal to 101% of the enrollment was registered, according to Mr. Quebe.

The Junior Choir wearing their newly acquired robes will lead the processional opening the Palm Sunday Morning Worship at 11 a. m. The choir under the direction of Albert Scheele will sing "Jerusalem" by Parker. The choir is composed of Janice Boedeker, Lou Ann Ford, Gladys Matthews, Fritzie Steinfeld, Debra Brandes, Myra Sue Quebe, Barbara Gale Schulz, Linda Scheele, Elbert Sammann, Larry Boedeker, Monroe Schulz, Jess Wayne Sammann, David Scheele, Larry Stoerner, Merlin Boedeker and David Anderson. The reception of new members and the celebration of the Sacrament of Holy Communion will be a part of the morning worship.

As a special feature of the service, each person who attends will be presented with a remembrance in keeping with the religious significance of the Palm Sunday Worship.

Following the morning worship the congregation will serve a dinner at 12:30 to all present for the morning service. The dinner honors all newly received members of the congregation.

The Providence congregation has been engaged in a Lenten campaign to increase the attendance at all its services of worship beginning on the first Sunday in Lent, February 19th, and continuing through Palm Sunday. Directing this Lenten attendance effort was a committee composed of Charlie Boedeker, L. B. Brandes, Melvin Kelm, E. M. Quebe and Albert Scheele. The committee set an attendance goal for each service and agreed to place an Easter lily on the altar on Palm Sunday for each service in which the congregation reached or exceeded the attendance goal. According to present figures, four lilies will be set in place this Sunday and a fifth will be added when the congregation reaches the goal of 175 attending the Palm Sunday Service. Last Sunday in all three services, previous attendance records were shattered, according to the pastor.

The Holy Week observance will continue with a service this Sunday evening at 7:30 p. m. Good Friday, March 30th, the congregation participates in its annual service at 10:30 a. m. Easter services on Easter morning begin with Sunday School at 10 a. m., divine worship at 11 a. m., and the annual Sunday School easter egg hunt at 3 p. m. on the church grounds. Visitors are invited to all the services of Trinity Congregation.

Sample of the 100,000,000 colorful '56 Easter Seals mailed in Texas this week is discussed by Mrs. Henry J. Martyn, Jr. (left) and Mrs. Temple J. Barcafer, typical volunteers among the hundreds of Texans who annually give their spare time during the Lenten season for preparation of the huge Texas mailing. The 1956 Easter Seal Appeal, which opened March 10, will send the Seals into 1,000,000 Texas homes with an appeal for funds to aid thousands of crippled Texans. Misses Martyn and Barcafer are officers of the Women of Rotary Club of Dallas, one of the many organized service groups over the state which help in preparation of the Easter Seals.

The Male Quartette of the First Methodist Church of Lockney, provided special music for the regular Sunday evening worship in the Trinity Lutheran Church of Providence March 18th. The quartette composed of C. L. Record, Clark Harris, Ike Johnson, and Raymond Rucker, and accompanied by Mrs. C. L. Record sang three familiar hymns: "There is a Fountain," "Kneeling at the Cross," and "The Old Rugged Cross." C. L. Record sang as a solo rendition, "Beyond Gethsemane." A large and appreciative congregation was present for the service, according to the pastor H. L. Anderson.

BUTANE PRICES? WOW!!!

WOULDN'T YOU KNOW IT? It happens every time! You buy a business and right off you get caught as an innocent bystander in a "below cost" price fight. I guess some dealer feller offered to loan a better tank than the tank some other dealer fellar had already loaned. And we bet both fellers would get together and double the prices if they thought they could, because we sure feel the price wasn't cut just to be kind to customers. Of course, this is all said in fun because we don't actually know what happened, but . . .

Abernathy Wins First Annual Longhorn Relays

The Abernathy Antelopes, by virtue of placing both first and second in two different events, won the team trophy at the first annual Longhorn Relays here last Saturday. They piled up 26 8-15 points to 21 14-15 for Stinnett and 17 1-5 for Canyon.

A total of 28 teams over the great plains area finally entered the event, and it was one of the best invitational meets of the season. Coach Rudy Haile was complimented by all the coaches attending on the fine way the meet was handled. Some 300 athletes participated in the various events.

The Lockney Chamber of Commerce, represented by Manager Dick Whiteley, presented trophies to first and second place teams, and to the winning relay teams in both the 440 yard relay and the mile relay. Also ribbons were given for the first four places in each event.

The host Lockney Longhorns were able to rack up only three points, that on Nelson Wofford's second place in the 220 yard dash. However the Longhorns had several near-misses winning fifth places in several events. Bill Musser came in fifth in the mile and Jerry Williams won fifth in the 100 yard dash.

Other team scores were Lorenzo 13 points, Olton 12 points, Littlefield 7 points, Ralls, Sundown, Farwell and Bovina, 6 points each. Matador 6 1-3 points, Post 5 points, Spur 4 points, Happy and Cotton Center, 3 points each, Floydada and Paducah, 2 points each, Silverton, Muleshoe, Union, Friona, 1 point each.

The teams which entered the meet but not placing were Springlake, Amberst, Sudan, Petersburg, Tulla and Kress. Abernathy's win came when they won first and second place in both the discus throw and the broad jump. This 16 points put them ahead of Stinnett which had been leading up to that time. Stinnett won first places in the 220 yard dash, the mile relay, second in the 100 yard dash, had three boys to tie with two others for second, third and fourth places in the high jump, and won third in 120 high hurdles. GROWERS REPORT INCREASED YIELD WITH "NA-CHURS" SEED TREATMENT AND LEAF FEEDING

The following excerpts from satisfied "Na-Churs" users are typical of the many letters received by the "Na-Churs" Plant Food Company from your own friends and neighbors. These folks have proven to themselves that "Na-Churs" Liquid Fertilizer can help increase yield, give better growth and advance harvest.

"I sprayed 5 gallons of "Na-Churs" on 3 acres of cotton in the middle of a 12 acre field. The increase in yield was at least 30% compared to unsprayed part. I will use "Na-Churs" again next year." C. C. Swope, Wilson, Texas.

"In 1955 I treated 10 acres of irrigated cotton with 2 gallons per acre of "Na-Churs". This cotton made one bale per acre and was pulled two weeks before the untreated which made only 2-3 bale per acre. All of this cotton acreage had a heavy hail loss on June 26. In 1956 my plans call for seed treatment plus foliage spraying." Theo Campbell, Wilson, Texas.

EASY TO DO — SMALL COST PER ACRE

Treating seed with "Na-Churs" is easy. Simply sprinkle "Na-Churs" over the seed, mix until thoroughly moistened, and allow to dry. One gallon of "Na-Churs" will treat 8 bushels of seed and the cost is only a few cents per acre. Only a half bushel increase in yield will more than pay for "Na-Churs" seed treatment.

FOR MORE PROFIT — TRY LEAF FEEDING

Used as a companion with "Na-Churs" seed treatment, foliage feeding with "Na-Churs" can help your grain and cotton develop stronger roots. Application can be made with any type sprayer or by airplane. It's fast acting. Don't let this season go by without giving "Na-Churs" a try on your farm.

CALL US TODAY!

We have "Na-Churs" available for immediate delivery in 5, 30 and 55 gallon drums. Try "Na-Churs" for yourself. You be the judge.

Harden-Wallace Wedding Vows Exchanged At Aiken

An archway of greenery flanked by candelabra and baskets of white mums, carnations and stock, with accents of fern, formed the setting in the Baptist Church at Aiken on Friday, March 9, for the marriage of Miss Fayrene Harden and Horace Dean Wallace. The Rev. C. O. Halle read the double ring ceremony in the presence of relatives and friends at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

Bobby Harden, brother of the bride, and Ann Hays of Amarillo, a niece of the bridegroom, lighted the candles preceding the ceremony, and Frances Halle, soloist, sang "Always" and "Whither Thou Goest". The accompaniments and the traditional wedding marches were played by Margie Cox, pianist.

The bridegroom, son of Les Wallace of 2009 West 17th, Plainview, was attended by his brother Vernon Wallace as best man. Kenneth Duckert was usher.

Maid of honor to the bride was Miss Lavone Haws, and Miss Martha Harden, the bride's sister was bridesmaid. Miss Haws wore a blue lace waltz length dress with complementing accessories and carried a nosegay of pink carnations. Miss Harden wore a pink eyelet embroidered frock, and carried a bouquet of blue carnations.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Harden of the Providence community, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a bridal dress of white lace over taffeta, styled with waltz length bouffant skirt, and bodice furnished with Peter Pan collar and three-quarter length sleeves. She wore a small white halo hat and her gardenia corsage was carried on a white Bible.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Harden wore a two piece dress in an avocado shade, and her flowers were gardenias.

A reception was held, following the ceremony in the home of Rev. and Mrs. Halle, where the guests were received informally and the tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bridal couple, was served with punch.

Out of town guests included the bridegroom's twin sister, Mrs. Kennon Wise of Shongalos, Louisiana; another sister, Mrs. Arthur Hays of Amarillo, and the bride's aunt, Mrs. Lucile Garner of Carlisbad, N. M.

For a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N. M., the bride wore a navy suit with white accessories. She is a graduate of Lockney

High School and after attending Lippert's Business College was employed at the Tegel Insurance Agency in Plainview.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Clarendon High School. He is now employed at the Cloverlake Creamery and the couple is making their home at 1209 Houston St., Plainview.

Everman MODERN, RUBBER MOUNTED FLOATING-DITCH DITCHER

Built by The Everman Manufacturing Company, makers of Everman Automatic Land Levelers and Dirt Movers

"Finest Ditcher Ever Built!"

Says John Bradley

I have found my Everman Ditcher one of the finest I have ever used. The wide, clean ditch it makes carries plenty of water. I like the feature of having a one-man ditcher. I like the way it transports, no lifting or loading. I get away from a lot of shoveling by being able to back the ditcher into another ditch and pull away. The water follows.

By removing the ditcher blades and putting on an Everman sub-soiler I have deep-chiseled 50 acres. This was a lot cheaper than buying a separate sub-soiler. I pulled it at a depth of about 18" with ease with my three-plow tractor.

• For pan-breaking slip the ditcher wing off the beam and install the Everman Pan-Breaker. Under favorable conditions your farm tractor will pull the pan-breaker at a depth of from 14" to 20".

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

C. M. Perry, who is a Floyd County Soil Conservation District cooperater west of Floydada, has recently completed shaping and seeding a waterway with the help of Soil Conservation Service technicians. The waterway is 65 feet wide and will take care of a 100 acre watershed. It will intercept water from a diversion terrace, now being constructed and transport it to a lake.

Other cooperaters who have terraces and waterways planned or under construction are: L. L. Ferguson, Bill Poole, Horton Howell, Wade Deavenport, Lloyd Deavenport and James L. Nichols.

Now is the time of year to shape and establish vegetation in waterways. Waterways are broad shallow, vegetated strips used to transport runoff water from the outlets of terraces to a safe place of disposal, such as a lake or grass area. They are especially valuable in cases where diversion terraces cannot dump water directly on a grass area. In these cases, a vegetated waterway can be designed to safely carry the runoff water across land that has been in cultivation, without causing severe gully erosion. The width of the waterway will depend upon the drainage area contributing runoff water and slope of the waterway.

Vegetation should be established in the waterways before runoff water is turned into it in order to prevent erosion in the waterway channel. Weeping lovegrass is very good and has been used successfully in establishing vegetation in waterways where irrigation water cannot be applied. Alfalfa, clover, perennial ryegrass and Kentucky fescue are a few plants that are good where irrigation water can be applied on flat slopes.

Farm Records Are Money Savers

College Station.— Farm records have been referred to by a farm management specialist of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service as the eyes and ears of the farm business. They reflect, said C. H. Bates the specialist, how the business is doing and may prevent many costly management or expensive mistakes.

On the average farm the investment per worker totals about $15,000. Investments in land, machinery, livestock and other essentials needed for agricultural production makes the present day farmer a capitalist of considerable means. His investments are often larger than those of many urban businesses. Our highly competitive commercial farming, said Bates, makes record keeping mandatory as a protection for our investments.

Too, records make the job of completing the yearly income tax report much simpler and can save money, expense items which are not recorded often are over-looked or forgotten at tax paying time and for every $5.00 item missed, the average taxpayer paid $1.25 in taxes he didn't owe, said Bates. Even the cost of a good farm record book is deductible as a legitimate operating expense.

Farm families, said the specialist, who have improved the efficiency of their farming operations have found records to be the key to their success. They have taken the guess-work out of their business.

Luther Williams — Once I was going to be a big impressive chef. What could I make to prove my skill? Candy, yes, that was it, because everybody likes that. Alone in the kitchen, I read the recipe which called for two cups of sugar and half cup of cocoa. Then I put it aside. When I came to the ingredients again, I discovered I had used two cups of cocoa and half a cup of sugar. It certainly made tasty candy.

Carolyn Campbell — One time when I was a little girl, my mother had to be operated on. Of course, daddy and I had to batch. As we were having gravy one morning for breakfast, daddy asked me how much flour to use. My reply was to put in two cups. We had gravy that was so thick that you could cut it with a knife.

Sandra Sams — Flying seemed so real that I was always dreaming about it. One day when I was five years of age, I jumped off a ten-foot porch and attempted to fly. I barely missed a concrete sidewalk and almost got a broken arm. Right then and there, I decided to restrict my flying to airplanes instead of off porches.

Jan Widener — Once when I was eight, I went to the farm with my daddy. He told me to stay in the pick-up, but I thought I had to get out. I went over to the horse trough and sat down. Soon I lost my balance and fell in, head first. When daddy pulled me out, I was soaked to the bone.

Ernestine Spradlin — When I was small we had a fighting turkey. I would go to the door and gobble at it, and it would come furiously after me. He hated me so much that I couldn't even go outside without his coming right in behind me. That was all great fun until I was caught one day. Then we traded our fighting turkey for a fighting goat. That was a big help.

Betty Mae Sams — When I baked my first cake, the recipe said to cream the shortening and sugar. I was hunting for the cream when Mother came in and told me it didn't mean milk cream.

Mary Ford — Once when I was quite small, I decided to bake a cake. It fell in the center, so I put an upside-down saucer on the plate. That didn't help much; hence I decided to put a saucer between the layers. When mother started to cut the cake—Well!

Veda Etand — When I was a little girl, I did my hair in an upswEEP style, using cockle-burs to hold it in place.

Doyle Harrison — One time when I was quite small, sister and I were playing with one of our friends at her home. I suddenly became very angry and scratched her. The friend proceeded to take in after me with a loaded gun. I have her mother to thank for saving my life.

Eldora Boone — When I was small, I liked to sleep on the floor. One night after a hard day at play, I wanted to sleep on the floor. Mother gave her consent, and I prepared for bed. I pulled off my shoes and socks and laid them beside my pallet. During the night, I had a dream about snakes. I woke up, saw my shoes and socks, and screamed to the top of my voice. When daddy turned on the light, I discovered that it was shoes instead of a coiled snake.

Peggy Hall — When I was about four years of age, I was slipping into the ice box to

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

C. M. Perry, who is a Floyd County Soil Conservation District cooperater west of Floydada, has recently completed shaping and seeding a waterway with the help of Soil Conservation Service technicians. The waterway is 65 feet wide and will take care of a 100 acre watershed. It will intercept water from a diversion terrace, now being constructed and transport it to a lake.

Other cooperators who have terraces and waterways planned or under construction are: L. L. Ferguson, Bill Poole, Horton Howell, Wade Deavenport, Lloyd Deavenport and James L. Nichols.

Now is the time of year to shape and establish vegetation in waterways. Waterways are broad shallow, vegetated strips used to transport runoff water from the outlets of terraces to a safe place of disposal, such as a lake or grass area. They are especially valuable in cases where diversion terraces cannot dump water directly on a grass area. In these cases, a vegetated waterway can be designed to safely carry the runoff water across land that has been in cultivation, without causing severe gully erosion. The width of the waterway will depend upon the drainage area contributing runoff water and slope of the waterway.

Vegetation should be established in the waterways before runoff water is turned into it in order to prevent erosion in the waterway channel. Weeping lovegrass is very good and has been used successfully in establishing vegetation in waterways where irrigation water cannot be applied. Alfalfa, clover, perennial ryegrass and Kentucky fescue are a few plants that are good where irrigation water can be applied on flat slopes.

Farm Records Are Money Savers

College Station.— Farm records have been referred to by a farm management specialist of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service as the eyes and ears of the farm business. They reflect, said C. H. Bates the specialist, how the business is doing and may prevent many costly management or expensive mistakes.

On the average farm the investment per worker totals about $15,000. Investments in land, machinery, livestock and other essentials needed for agricultural production makes the present day farmer a capitalist of considerable means. His investments are often larger than those of many urban businesses. Our highly competitive commercial farming, said Bates, makes record keeping mandatory as a protection for our investments.

Too, records make the job of completing the yearly income tax report much simpler and can save money, expense items which are not recorded often are over-looked or forgotten at tax paying time and for every $5.00 item missed, the average taxpayer paid $1.25 in taxes he didn't owe, said Bates. Even the cost of a good farm record book is deductible as a legitimate operating expense.

Farm families, said the specialist, who have improved the efficiency of their farming operations have found records to be the key to their success. They have taken the guess-work out of their business.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

C. M. Perry, who is a Floyd County Soil Conservation District cooperater west of Floydada, has recently completed shaping and seeding a waterway with the help of Soil Conservation Service technicians. The waterway is 65 feet wide and will take care of a 100 acre watershed. It will intercept water from a diversion terrace, now being constructed and transport it to a lake.

Other cooperators who have terraces and waterways planned or under construction are: L. L. Ferguson, Bill Poole, Horton Howell, Wade Deavenport, Lloyd Deavenport and James L. Nichols.

Now is the time of year to shape and establish vegetation in waterways. Waterways are broad shallow, vegetated strips used to transport runoff water from the outlets of terraces to a safe place of disposal, such as a lake or grass area. They are especially valuable in cases where diversion terraces cannot dump water directly on a grass area. In these cases, a vegetated waterway can be designed to safely carry the runoff water across land that has been in cultivation, without causing severe gully erosion. The width of the waterway will depend upon the drainage area contributing runoff water and slope of the waterway.

Vegetation should be established in the waterways before runoff water is turned into it in order to prevent erosion in the waterway channel. Weeping lovegrass is very good and has been used successfully in waterways where irrigation water cannot be applied. Alfalfa, clover, perennial ryegrass and Kentucky fescue are a few plants that are good where irrigation water can be applied on flat slopes.

Farm Records Are Money Savers

College Station.— Farm records have been referred to by a farm management specialist of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service as the eyes and ears of the farm business. They reflect, said C. H. Bates the specialist, how the business is doing and may prevent many costly management or expensive mistakes.

On the average farm the investment per worker totals about $15,000. Investments in land, machinery, livestock and other essentials needed for agricultural production makes the present day farmer a capitalist of considerable means. His investments are often larger than those of many urban businesses. Our highly competitive commercial farming, said Bates, makes record keeping mandatory as a protection for our investments.

Too, records make the job of completing the yearly income tax report much simpler and can save money, expense items which are not recorded often are over-looked or forgotten at tax paying time and for every $5.00 item missed, the average taxpayer paid $1.25 in taxes he didn't owe, said Bates. Even the cost of a good farm record book is deductible as a legitimate operating expense.

Farm families, said the specialist, who have improved the efficiency of their farming operations have found records to be the key to their success. They have taken the guesswork out of their business.

High School Press Association Meets At Canyon

Bright and early Saturday morning the 17th, eight members of "The Lariat" staff and two sponsors left Lockney to attend the Panhandle High School Press Association at Canyon, Texas.

The party arrived at nine o'clock and went directly to the Branding Iron Theatre where they registered and watched a Talent Show in progress. After forty-five minutes of this entertainment, the group enjoyed a panel discussion by students from various schools. Financial problems, sport columns, featurettes, editorials, photography, news stories, and lay outs were the subjects brought up.

Gladys Parkey and the editor of the West Texas State College campus paper spoke on "Covering Your School."

Following a 15 minute break, those officers were elected for next year: Helen Knight of Palo Duro High School, president; Bob Viegel, vice-president; Betty Atchley, secretary.

Dismissal for lunch at the West Texas State College Cafeteria was at 12:45.

H. M. Baggarly, publisher of The Tulsa Herald, delivered a luncheon address on "How To Determine Whether To Enter Weekly or Daily Newspaper Field."

Bill R. Lee, sponsor of the P. H. S. P. A. handed out award certificates or trophies to all winners in the various forms of news-writing.

The meeting adjourned at 2:30.

Candid Comments

Luther Williams — Once I was going to be a big impressive chef. What could I make to prove my skill? Candy, yes, that was it, because everybody likes that. Alone in the kitchen, I read the recipe which called for two cups of sugar and half cup of cocoa. Then I put it aside. When I came to the ingredients again, I discovered I had used two cups of cocoa and half a cup of sugar. It certainly made tasty candy.

Carolyn Campbell — One time when I was a little girl, my mother had to be operated on. Of course, daddy and I had to batch. As we were having gravy one morning for breakfast, daddy asked me how much flour to use. My reply was to put in two cups. We had gravy that was so thick that you could cut it with a knife.

Sandra Sams — Flying seemed so real that I was always dreaming about it. One day when I was five years of age, I jumped off a ten-foot porch and attempted to fly. I barely missed a concrete sidewalk and almost got a broken arm. Right then and there, I decided to restrict my flying to airplanes instead of off porches.

Jan Widener — Once when I was eight, I went to the barn with my daddy. He told me to stay in the pick-up, but I thought I had to get out. I went over to the horse trough and sat down. Soon I lost my balance and fell in, head first. When daddy pulled me out, I was soaked to the bone.

Ernestine Spradlin — When I was small we had a fighting turkey. I would go to the door and gobble at it, and it would come furiously after me. He hated me so much that I couldn't even go outside without his coming right in behind me. That was all great fun until I was caught one day. Then we traded our fighting turkey for a fighting goat. That was a big help.

Betty Mae Sams — When I baked my first cake, the recipe said to cream the shortening and sugar. I was hunting for the cream when Mother came in and told me it didn't mean milk cream.

Mary Ford — Once when I was quite small, I decided to bake a cake. It fell in the center, so I put an upside-down saucer on the plate. That didn't help much; hence I decided to put a saucer between the layers. When mother started to cut the cake—Well!

Veda Etland — When I was a little girl, I did my hair in an up-sweep style, using cockle-burs to hold it in place.

Doyle Harrison — One time when I was quite small, sister and I were playing with one of our friends at her home. I suddenly became very angry and scratched her. The friend proceeded to take in after me with a loaded gun. I have her mother to thank for saving my life.

Eldora Boone — When I was small, I liked to sleep on the floor. One night after a hard day at play, I wanted to sleep on the floor. Mother gave her consent, and I prepared for bed. I pulled off my shoes and socks and laid them beside my pallet. During the night, I had a dream about snakes. I woke up, saw my shoes and socks, and screamed to the top of my voice. When daddy turned on the light, I discovered that it was shoes instead of a coiled snake.

Peggy Hall — When I was about four years of age, I was slipping into the ice box to

John Deere Day Is Next Monday

The Lockney Implement Company, local John Deere dealers, will again be hosts to farmers and their families of this area on next Monday, which is the annual John Deere Day in Lockney.

Feature of the day's program will be a free lunch to be served at the local implement house from 11:30 to 1:30 and an afternoon's entertainment at the Plains Theatre showing six all-color films, starting at 1:30. Plans are to make the day an interesting one for farm families and all are urged and invited to attend, according to Pat Stansell, manager of the local John Deere house. The show is free to farmers and their families.

Feature of the film fare will be "Tim's Choice," a full-length feature built around the three youngsters of a typical rural family. How the delightful young trio, all of 4-8 age, vie with one another for activity honors and the sometimes anxious, sometimes comical situations they find themselves in provides a story that is a pleasant combination of humor and sentiment.

The Gordon family, a Deere-created clan that has grown to seem as real as it is actually fictional, appear in the picture "A Lease in the Future." This time, the story is built around an immigrant refugee's new start in his newly adopted country.

Tom Gordon's exasperating antics have their usual satisfying ending and will keep him a favorite of John Deere Day audiences everywhere.

A series of films which has proved extremely popular for the last half dozen years, "Oddities in Farming", is continued again this year with unusual sequences taken in the wild rice harvest, the rhubarb winter harvest and mushroom farming — all important, but little known, agricultural pursuits.

What's New For 1956
The John Deere Day audiences will also see the line-up of the latest in modern farm machinery when they view the film "What's New for 1956." They will see the new John Deere "80" Diesel Tractor, the new John Deere hay conditioner, and other new machinery.

A SCENE from the film "Tim's Choice" is shown here. The full-length film will be shown here on John Deere Day, March 26 along with a number of other films. The showing will be at the Plains Theatre starting at 1:30 p. m.

C-C Committee—

Floyd County Commissioners Court.

Mr. Tucker explained that all the money allocated at present was $530,000 for the road west from Floydada to the Hale County line. He stated that the other roads must come in future programs. He quoted traffic counts on the various roads showing that the heaviest traffic in the county was on Highway 70 around Lockney and Aiken. The road south from Floydada carries the next heaviest traffic load and the road east from Floydada the next.

It was revealed that Highway Department plans call for widening of the road south from Floydada but not making it 4-lane. This will require 30 more feet of right-of-way. Previously plans had been made to lay another road beside the old road east of Floydada, though not on as wide a right-of-way as a regular 4-lane highway. Whether this can be worked out with the Highway Department and the Commissioners Court is still to be determined. Such a program would require an additional 70 feet of right-of-way.

Mr. Tucker said that through Lockney the proposed 4-lane road would remain on the old route though an additional 100 feet of right-of-way would be required. He said that curb and gutter was not required, in response to a question by Mayor J. E. Cox of Lockney.

It was also brought out that the Highway Commission will rebuild and straighten West Locust Street from the Baker Hotel west and extend it on to an intersection with Highway 70 west of town if the program is adopted.

Huggins Aids In Search For Plane

J. E. Huggins of Lockney, commander of the Plainsview Civilian Air Patrol Club, aided in the search for the Army plane lost last Wednesday in the rough country northeast of Silverton. Clayton Campbell, a member of the C. A. P. at Plainsview spotted the wreckage first Friday morning.

SEEK TO BUY BOAT

A total of $266 had been contributed up to Tuesday for the purchase of a boat and motor for the Lockney Fire Department. The equipment will be used in searching for drowning victims, according to Audie Barnett, fire chief. Donations may be left at Knox Grocery or Barnett's Gulf Service. A total of around $350 will be needed, it was said.
