The board meeting followed canvassing of mail ballots on five new directors which ended Monday night. Baccus has served on the board about a month, being appointed to replace Dr. B. A. Simmons who moved away.

Aubrey Green, Lockney High School senior, won third place on a theme entitled "Why I Want to be a Teacher" and was selected second alternate for a $1,000 scholarship from North Texas State College, Denton, at a banquet Saturday night climaxed the annual Future Teachers of America state convention. About 800 delegates attended.

Each of the 204 FTA Clubs over the state were entitled to one applicant for the scholarship. Winners were chosen from the themes submitted by these applicants and announced at the Saturday night banquet. Aubrey was in attendance at the banquet.

This is the first year Lockney has had an FTA chapter and was pleasantly surprised to receive this honor. If the first two winners fail to use the scholarship then Aubrey will receive the award.

Other students attending the convention were Kay Golden, Charlyne Brown, Ann Griffith and Anita Durham. They were sponsored on the trip by Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Approximately 360 girls are expected to attend and will be housed in dormitories on University of Texas campus. During their stay the girls will meet in conference with state officials and become more acquainted with government affairs. There will be tours of the University campus and the State Capitol building. Janice will make the trip on a chartered bus from Lubbock with other girls of the area.

6-Inch Snow Falls Here

This area will remember this winter as the "winter of many snows" if one or two more fall. Another snow fell here Tuesday night, measuring around 6-inches in depth in most places. Very little wind accompanied the snow and it fell evenly. This snow is believed to be a little light in body, however, and will not result in as much moisture as some previous "wet" snows.

There was some melting Wednesday afternoon but snow still covered the ground late Wednesday.

Some farmers are pleased with the moisture while others are anxious to get into the fields and make some preparations for the crop year.

Consumers In Annual Meeting Next Wednesday

City Loses 5% On Good Fire Record Credit

The City of Lockney will lose 5% of its good fire record credit on insurance premiums on April 1st, according to announcement from the State Board of Insurance Commissioners. The city has had a 20% good fire record credit during the past year but will have only a 15% credit after April 1st.

Local insurance agents said that the fire record credit is figured on a five-year basis and that some bad fires here two or three years ago are still affecting the insurance rates.

The regulation allows the rate to drop only 5% per year and it is possible by next year the five-year average will level out and the drop will stop. However that is yet an unknown factor. The Beacon was told.

A state-wide rise in insurance rates was effective on January 1st on frame buildings due to the dropping of the experience credit on such structures. The experience credit in towns and cities dropped from 53 to 48% and in rural areas dropped from 29 to 21%.

Commissioners Order Bonds To Be Issued

The Floyd County Commissioners Court, in regular meeting Monday, issued an order directing the issuing of $294,000 in bonds voted last fall to pay for right-of-way in the county's highway improvement program.

Other matters attended to by the Commissioners were routine. Judge J. D. McBrien said Wednesday.

Tickets for the annual Lockney Chamber of Commerce banquet are on sale at a number of places and are moving already, a report Tuesday night said. Oscar Golden is chairman of the ticket committee. The tickets may be purchased at Byrd Pharmacy, Lockney Drug Co., Knox Grocery, The Lockney Beacon, Baxter & Smith Grain Co., Patterson Grain Co., and Brown's Cleaners & Clothiers. A number of other directors will have tickets for sale also.

Deadline on the ticket sales will be Wednesday night of next week in order to give the food committee ample time for preparations.

The program will include the presentation of the outstanding citizen award, a male quartet, introduction of officers, and a talk by Rev. Leon Hill of Amarillo, humorist and after-dinner speaker.

Frizzell of Lone Star seeks to recover more than $42,000 from a "hot check" given him by a Lubbock firm, L&H Sheep Co., is set for trial Monday in 72nd District Court at Lubbock. The trial has been postponed several times but is due for action this time, Mr. Frizzell thought this week.

A hearing before Judge Victor H. Lindsey in the same court has been set for Friday of this week in which Frizzell is asking for a summary judgment against Odell C. Herman, one of the partners in the sheep company. The "hot check" was given by Herman's partner, Les Lincoln, and the partnership was dissolved soon thereafter, it was reported.

Mr. and Mrs. Schaffner and family left Tuesday for Midland to attend funeral services. Services will probably be held Thursday.

Survivors include his wife, one daughter, Mrs. Schaffner, four grandchildren, his mother and several brothers and sisters.

Donald Farish's grand champion Angus calf brought $1.00 per pound at the auction sale of the Floyd County Junior Fat Stock Show Wednesday afternoon. The calf was bought by Rhodes Super Market, Cassel Bros. Gin of Lone Star and the First National Bank of Lockney. The calf weighed 909 pounds.

EDITORIAL

In God is my salvation and my glory; the rock of my strength, and my refuge, is in God. — Psalm 62:7.

IN THE HUSTLE and hurry of getting a newspaper to bed, we sometimes write things that don't sound exactly as we intended them to sound. Such was the case last week when we wrote the story concerning the Chamber of Commerce banquet committees. One sentence in the story said that "Kelton Shaw was named chairman of the decorations committee and Bob Miller asked to help him with this work." Now Bob did not ask to help with this job. Actually what we meant to say was that Bob would be asked to help. The asking came from the committee, not from Bob. Bob has been active in Chamber of Commerce work for several years, in fact he is past-president of the local Chamber but he hasn't reached the stage yet where he is asking for jobs.

U. S. SENATOR LYNDON JOHNSON in his weekly letter, points to the farm situation from a financial standpoint and, as he says, the story is not a cheerful one. He points out, "Net cash income of American farmers in 1957 was down to $11.5 billion, which is four per cent below the 1956 figure and the lowest since 1942. Cash farm income was down $350 million and there was a $600 million increase in production costs." Senator Johnson further points out "Prices received by farmers have gone down 20 per cent since 1951 while farm operating costs have gone up 15 per cent during the same period."

SOMETHING should be done about the numerous organizations which send out unsolicited seals, stamps, stickers, greeting cards, miniature auto tags, neckties and about everything else under the sun that is available. All they ask is that you pay two or three times the normal value for the merchandise sent. Of course, some of the organizations are worthwhile charitable groups which do a good job, but others are of doubtful value. Most of us do not object to buying seals from the T. B. Association but so many others have adopted the same plan of raising money that something is in the mail most of the time. If you check you'll find that some of these organizations will be mailing you something three or four times a year. It might be best to think a little before responding to every call for help that comes through the mail.

WE SUPPOSE most farmers in this territory are confident of their ability to produce a good crop if Old Man Weather cooperates but sometimes conditions are not exactly normal as, for instance, this year. For that reason, perhaps, we read with interest the article by A. W. Young, agronomist of Texas Tech College, in which he advised against listing land that isn't already listed and made some other unusual recommendations for this unusual year. The article is carried elsewhere in this issue of The Beacon. Some of you farmers may find it interesting.

A SPECIALIST on Soviet science and industry who is associated with the Standard Oil Company in Indiana says that in the first 10 grades of school put in more than 35 per cent of their time on science and mathematics. By way of contrast, columnist Jay Hayden states that during 1956 only 34.4 per cent of all high school students took chemistry; 24.5 per cent took physics; 9.2 per cent took trigonometry, and 7.6 per cent took solid geometry.

TOWNER PHELAN writes in The Freeman: "If all power is concentrated in the State, it is of no importance, in the long run, whether that State represents communism, fascism, British socialism, or Welfare Statism, carried to its logical conclusion, or any other 'ism'. The men who control such a State may start with the best intentions — but they will end as bloody tyrants. It is impossible to reject capitalism except in favor of its only alternative, the omnipotent State, under which man cannot be free and his dignity will not be respected."

U. S. RAILROADS constitute a total investment of around $35 billion — about 60 per cent in fixed property and 40 per cent in rolling stock.

Reduce Delinquency

INSTEAD OF "THINGS"
(A distinguished Texas judge offers pointers on combating our rapidly increasing juvenile delinquency problem.)
By JUDGE SARAH T. HUGHES

JUDGE HUGHES

A girl recently answered a newspaper inquiry on what young people want from their parents with the statement that her father gave her material things — money for shows, clothes, travel, even a car; but what she really wanted most was his attention. "He doesn't listen to me," she wrote. "He doesn't even know the name of my best friend. When I try to talk to him he just gives me a $5 bill and says he has to meet a business friend. Surely his children should be more important to him than his business friends."

Big Change in the Times
It used to be easy for parents and children to do things together — many tasks around the house or farm called for joint effort, and the times made joint recreation easy. But today, with home chores limited and so many outside distractions, it is easy to drift apart.

A young boy brought before me had become delinquent largely because his father, busy making money, thought to retain his son's love by giving him THINGS.

Best Gifts Don't Cost Money
He failed to give him time and understanding. The boy sought significance elsewhere, fell in with the wrong crowd, and stole tires and gadgets for the car his father had given him.

The need to feel important in the lives of their parents is basic in a child's development. Next: Striking a Balance.

IN THE VIEW of Sylvia Porter, the business and financial analyst, the overwhelming percentage of American homes are under-insured. She writes that a home that was built for $8,000 in 1937 would cost $21,600 today, and that a $38,000 house erected just before World War II couldn't be duplicated for under $100,500 now. An improvement job that could be done for $5,000 in 1946 would cost $7,600 at the present time.

A U. S. NEWS & World Report article points out that sales of foreign-made cars, most of which are small economical models, are rolling right along in this country. The 1958 total is expected to be 400,000, as against a mere 34,500 in 1954. Volkswagon still leads by a big margin, followed by Renault.

With Our EXCHANGES

GOT PROBLEMS?
We think we've got problems because the bills are sometimes bigger than the check, or we got up on the wrong side of the bed and things aren't going so good today, or Joe's got the snuffles?

Let's look around. There is a parent, among many others, grief-stricken because his child was one of those drowned in a school bus that ran into the river last week —

Or that child over there who hasn't eaten since yesterday morning going through the garbage cans outside the grocery store —

Or that five-year polio victim who can no longer boy down his front steps but is being rolled down a ramp in a wheel chair.

No, we really don't have problems. And our recent contributions to the March of Dimes, Salvation Army and Red Cross have helped to soften theirs too.

If you were missed in the drives, it's not too late to mail in a contribution. — P. J. in Lynn County News.

EDUCATION AGAIN
The Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, are going all out to prevent a basic need from being dropped from our schools.

In a letter last week the organization reports: At a time when educational "trills" are being challenged, it is important that we "rightly divide the word of truth".

Driver Education in our schools is not a frill; it attacks one of the major social and economic problems of this nation, and the one that is growing faster than any other. The economic losses from traffic accidents in Texas run $250,000,000 each year. Injuries last year reached well over 110,000, and we continue to kill seven people a day. — Cecil Waggoner in Claude News.

ON THE RECESSION
Despite the unemployment and buyer resistance, trade unions are still striking and demanding more money for less time on the job. Having once belonged to one of these unions, we understand their objectives but find it hard to agree with them. At a time when the economy needs a leveling off place, neither labor nor management will consent to bear the financial pain of accepting less to halt inflation.

We have had recessions before. Perhaps this is the worst one since the Great Depression. But this country is too big and we have developed too much for a recession of major proportions. We must still maintain a certain amount of faith in the guiding economic principles of this country. Another thing: We can't afford a crippling depression. Let something like that get started and the Russians would be on our necks before we could turn around. If the time comes for lifting ourselves by our own bootstraps, then we'd better grunt hard. — Bascom Nelson in the Castro County News.

Dear Editor:
I see where a psychiatrist says if some guy comes along and pokes a gun in your ribs for profit, it is not because he is bad. He is just a sick man.

My hard neighbor says the only stickup man he ever met in a business way didn't look sick. He just looked mean.

But since reading the psychiatrist's revelation he feels very sad and regrets even more than ever that he didn't at the time have a six-shooter and the drop so he could have cured the poor fellow of his sickness.

At this time A. R. Meriwether is placing material on the ground for the erection of a brick home. Construction will begin this week.

In an advertisement of the G. S. Morris grocery store are listed the following prices: Corn flakes, 3 pkgs for 28c; Banner coffee, 4 1/2 lb. bucket, $1.27; White Swan coffee, 3 lb. can, $1.76; Good lettuce, per head, 5c.

Points On Egg Law Explained

The Texas Egg Law has been in effect since February 17th, and already the Texas Department of Agriculture is being flooded with questions concerning its various points.

Greatest concern seems to be whether ungraded eggs can now be sold in the state. Yes! Ungraded eggs can still be sold, but they must be clearly marked "Ungraded" on the package or carton.

Just because eggs have not been graded, it does not mean that the eggs are of poor quality. On the contrary, a display of ungraded eggs may contain a mixture of all egg grades. However, the eggs must be of edible quality or they cannot be offered for sale.

Another point causing some confusion is the fact that certain descriptive terms cannot be printed on egg cartons or used in advertising.

Any eggs below the quality of Grade A must not be labeled as "fresh", "selected", "henery", "newlaid", "infertile", "cage", or other words of similar import. These terms are confusing and sometimes mislead the consumer on eggs of lower quality. Unless some bars were placed on descriptive phr-

And finally, retail egg sellers do not have to renew their license from the Texas Department of Agriculture each year. The retailer's license is good indefinitely until it is recalled, cancelled or revoked.

For other segments of the industry however, licenses run only from Sept. 1 through Aug. 31 of the following year. Those required to have a license include: dealers, wholesalers, processors and brokers.

13,000 Acres Of Vegetables In Eight Counties

A report from the meeting of the Texas Hi-Plains Vegetable Growers, held last Thursday at Dimmitt, shows almost 13,000 acres of vegetables will be planted in eight high plains counties, not including Deaf Smith county, which is recognized as the leading vegetable growing county on the plains. Deaf Smith, Crosby and Farmer counties were not represented at the meeting and therefore no report was available from them, according to Pete Mosley, a Floyd County representative.

Attending the meeting from Floyd County were Mosley and Burl Holt of Lockney, Ralph Ferguson and Gene Probasco of Floydada.

Hale County reported plans for about 3,000 acres of vegetables with 1,000 of that being in potatoes. They also plan 800 acres of tomatoes.

Floyd County is expecting to plant 2,300 acres of vegetables, the report said, with 900 acres of onions being included. Tomatoes and cantaloupes are reported at 500 acres each.

Bailey County will have some 3,200 acres of vegetables with 2,000 acres in tomatoes, and 750 acres in potatoes.

Castro County will have 1,500 acres of carrots out of a total of 2,000 acres in all, the report showed.

In all the reporting counties the total acres of each vegetable was given as follows:

- Onions — 2570 acres.
- Tomatoes — 3315 acres.
- Cantaloupes — 600 acres.
- Pepper — 150 acres.
- Cabbage — 320 acres.
- Carrots — 3200 acres.
- Potatoes — 2350 acres.

The purpose of the association is so that growers in each county may keep posted on what other counties are doing and seek to avoid too many acres of any one product. Mosley said. They also plan to cooperate on efforts to improve the marketing of vegetables from the high plains.

The Castro County Chamber of Commerce was host at a steak dinner for the vegetable association representatives Thursday at noon.

Other counties reporting their acres were Lamb County, Swisher County, Hockley County and Dallam County.

CROSS ROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where the President's advisory committee on weather control thinks science may soon find out how to make weather to order.

They figure this would be useful in many ways and especially war. Like when Joshua made the sun stand still so he could finish off a job without having to pay his troops for overtime.

My simple neighbor says science will have to dig if they come up with any better way to make it rain or turn cold than washing your car or taking off your long-handles.

Court Holds Farmers Must Pay Braceros "Prevailing Wages"

Farm wages which the U. S. Secretary of Labor finds to be "prevailing wages" must be paid by employers of braceros when the prevailing wages are higher than the contract rate.

That is the essence of a February 25 decision by the U. S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit. It reversed a district court judgment involving J. H. Morris, a cotton grower in Fisher County, Texas.

Mr. Morris employed eight braceros during the cotton harvesting season of 1955. His contract with them was to pay the workers at the rate of $1.55 cwt or the prevailing rate, whichever was higher. Midway of the season, the Secretary of Labor determined that the prevailing wage for the area was $1.75 cwt.

The government sued to recover the difference between the contract rate and the determined prevailing rate which it was obligated to pay the Mexican government under the terms of an international agreement between the United States and Mexico.

The case is said to have wide-spread significance because a large number of other employers have refused to pay the established prevailing wage rate when it was higher than the rate mentioned in their contracts.

The word alphabet comes from "alpha" and "beta," first two letters of the Greek alphabet.

AUSTIN, Tex. — State's fiscal board is bare at the moment. The end of the month probably be about $20,000 short, says State Treasurer Jesse James.

Texas' treasury has turned in the red during the last few months for several years. Situation corrects itself sometime after April with the state tax payments. For more than a decade the state has come in the black by the end of each fiscal period.

This year Treasurer James predicts incoming revenue will be out the deficit by May. But there's a difference. Lagging oil revenues have cut a sizable hole in the state's income. Comptroller Robert S. Calvert, the state's chief income estimator, says the next fall. By the end of the next budget period in 1959, he estimates the state will have spent $32,000,000 more than it takes in. This estimate holds even if production picks up in the next few months. Meanwhile, state banks are cashing the state's warrants and holding them until the state gets money in its pockets.

PENNY SAVED — With the State's depleted treasury, the Legislature Budget is asking state departments to look for ways to save pennies.

Gov. C. Lee Burdick's letter calls on departments to "review" their activity in your organization to determine if there is anything that can be eliminated without detriment to the state.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — State's fiscal board is bare at the moment. At the end of the month it'll probably be about $20,000,000 short, says State Treasurer Jesse James.

Texas' treasury has been running in the red during the first months for several years. Situation corrects itself sometime after April when state tax payments come in. For more than a decade the state has come out in the black by the end of each fiscal period.

This year Treasurer James predicts incoming revenue will pay out the deficit by May or June.

But there's a difference this year. Lagging oil revenues have kicked off a sizable hunk of expected tax income. Comptroller Robert S. Calvert, the state's fiscal income estimator, sees other — and worse — deficit next fall. By the end of the next budget period in August, 1959, he estimates the state will have spent $32,000,000 "on cuff."

His estimate holds even if production picks up within the next few months.

Meanwhile, state banks are cashing the state's warrants and holding them until state gets money in to pay them.

PENNY SAVED — With an eye on the state's depleted coffers, the Legislature Budget Board is asking state departments to look for ways to pare expenses.

Board's letter calls on departments to "review" activity in your organization to determine if there is anything that can be eliminated without detriment to the citizens of Texas."

DEFENSE NEED CITED — It won't be just Texas that will suffer if oil importing continues, says Railroad Commission Chairman Olin Culberson.

In an Austin speech to members of Texas Service Stations Associated, Culberson took the usual swat at imports for draining some $1,000,000 a day from Texas economy.

But above this, he said, is the danger of national security if the domestic oil industry is strangled and the country becomes dependent on oil fields "half a world away."

"It's suicidal," said Culberson.

He doesn't see prospect of cheaper gasoline from imports, said the Railroad Commissioner. Europeans, who get all their oil from the Middle East, pay from 80 cents to $1.10 per gallon, he said.

NO TREND YET — Texas Employment Commission's latest report showed a slight drop in number of jobless — from 79,604 to 79,079.

But the change was not enough to indicate a "turning point," the board hoped for spring upswing in job activities.

TEC's figures include only unemployed persons covered by unemployment insurance.

DIFFERENCE IN VIEW — Texas Supreme Court is considering the arguments of rival groups of optometrists who don't see eye to eye on advertising.

One group, associated with Texas State Optical, contends a law passed by the last Legislature prohibits eye glass advertisements mentioning price. Opponents from Lee Optical declare the section of the law limiting advertising is unconstitutional because it wasn't mentioned in the caption of the bill.

Suit is part of a long history of legal maneuvering between competing optometry firms.

LOAN STUDY SET — Small loan study group of the Legislative Council will hold a series of fact-finding hearings over the state. First will be April 4 in Houston.

Numerous organizations and officials have, for some years, called for an overhaul of loan laws, charging that small borrowers have been exploited. State Junior Bar of Texas set the "loan shark problem" as its principle target at its recent meeting in Austin.

Sen. Abraham Kazen, chairman of the study committee, said any interested person with information and recommendations is invited to appear before the committee.

ANNUAL SESSIONS URGED — House Speaker Waggoner Carr of Lubbock wants Texas voters to approve a proposed constitutional amendment to provide annual sessions of the Legislature.

Carr is campaigning over the state for re-election to the speakership. Voter approval of annual sessions also is being urged.

Budgeting on an annual basis would be much more businesslike and efficient, he said, than on the present two-year plan.

SALARY SQUABBLE FLARES — Plans to supplement the $15,000 salary to get a qualified executive director for the state hospitals and special schools has bumped into a lawmaker's indignation.

Sen. William S. Fly of Victoria said the supplement would violate the appropriation bill he helped to write. He said the $15,000 salary was purposely set below that of several other staff members to reflect that the executive director was "serving" and not "over" the higher paid staff members.

Six applicants for one of the higher paid jobs reportedly turned it down because of the "unworkable" situation.

TAINT THAT TAINTED — No point in throwing away money, says the GOP, even if it's "tainted" oil money.

Texas Republican State Committee, meeting in Austin, voted to use $100,000 raised by National Committeeman Jack Porter for its state budget. National GOP wouldn't touch the money after Eastern newspapers headlined Porter's fund-seeking letter which reminded Texas oil and gas men they needed GOP support to pass the natural gas bill.

State committee gave Porter a vote of confidence in a resolution saying that New Dealers had distorted his intent.

SHORT SHORTS — Texans' driving habits seem to have improved thus far in 1958. Reports (not final) from the Department of Public Safety for the first nine weeks of '58 show a traffic death toll of 267 compared to 319 for the same period last year. . . . Almost twice as many degrees are awarded in teacher education than in any other field in Texas state colleges and universities. Business administration, liberal arts, engineering, sciences follow in that order. Listing is by the Commission on Higher Education. . . . State revenue collections from liquor sales dropped $300,000 in January below collections for the comparable month a year ago, Liquor Control Board figures show. January collections this year totaled $2,201,306. . . . Governor Daniel, as hard beset as any Texan in this year of flu sieges, took to his bed for the third time. Members of the governor's family also have had the flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Worster of Beeville arrived Saturday and left Wednesday after visiting their daughter, Mrs. H. G. Edwards and family.

RECUPERATING

Mrs. Mildred Sandlin who has spent the past four months in Lubbock receiving medical and hospital care for injuries sustained in a fall the day before Thanksgiving, is recuperating in the home of her sister, Mrs. R. T. Samford. She goes back to Methodist Hospitals at intervals for x-rays.

Mrs. Curtis Kelley and Cheryl of Big Spring spent last week end here visiting Mrs. Kelley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Cox and Hope. Coach Curtis Kelley spent the week end attending the Border Olympics at Larado. The Kelleys are former Lockney residents.

Better Service

is an Extra you get for shopping at home

People of skill . . . from lawn mower sharpeners to brain surgeons . . . are Service people. The more mechanized, electrified and complicated our way of living becomes, the more we need these folks to be handy at all times with their skill and their expensive precision tools.

The more of our patronage we give them, the more likely they are to stay around here with us. And the better equipment they can buy to cope with our balky TV sets, flat tires, leaky faucets, measles, etc. And the more local taxes they can pay, and the more civic jobs they can do (leaving less of these for us).

The Better Service which all of this adds up to . . . plus the often inestimable importance of having these people available at a moment's notice . . . is the big bonus we get for patronizing our local service establishments at all times instead of those sometimes more glamorous-appearing places in some other town or city.

The support of local service people . . . always vital to the prosperity and upbuilding of our community . . . may well be a matter of great profit or loss, life or death, in emergencies when time is the difference.

Trade in Lockney

. . . where friendly service is more than a motto

It Pays to Buy where you Live

YOU get everything that your money pays for . . . merchandise AND a trade-invigorated community live in . . . when you buy from your home town merchants . . .

New Size Bottle Of Coca-Cola Makes Debut

Beginning today shoppers in the Lockney area will find that the familiar Coca-Cola bottle has a "big brother".

New king-size bottles of the famed soft drink will go on sale today in local food and beverage stores. Howard Billingsley, manager of the Plainview Coca-Cola Bottling Company announced. This is the first packaging change this plant has made in over forty years.

Billingsley explained that a shift in the public's consuming and buying habits has brought about the need for new bottle sizes. "Only ten years ago, most soft drinks were sold in drug stores, restaurants, ball parks, offices, and factories," he said. "Today all that has changed. Now people are drinking more soft drinks at home than anywhere else. And the trend is growing. Take home sales, for example, have increased every year since 1948. Five years ago, 40 per cent of the soft drinks were consumed at home, now it's over 50 per cent."

The introduction of the king-size bottle — still of the traditional "pinch waist" shape — doesn't mean Coca-Cola intends to neglect the regular 6 1/2 ounce bottle, which traces back to 1915. "We think there's a need for both," Billingsley explained. "Surveys show the majority of the public prefer the regular size, since it is ideal for individual drinks. In fact, a million cartons of it are sold every day. But we also think there are many people who will want the convenience of another size, depending on the occasion."

Billingsley said the new bottles will not be in all food and beverage stores by today. Complete distribution through the area served by the Plainview plant will take several days.

Young Says Late Farmers May Be Better Off, Don't List Land

Lockney — "High Plains cotton and maize farmers who are behind in their spring work because of bad weather may be better off in the end," Dr. A. W. Young, Texas Tech agronomy department head, reports.

He points to moisture supplies that are far above normal, making desirable soil conditions that might not be improved by the usual tilage.

"This is the first time in several years that soil bacteria have had moisture enough to work on the organic matter during the winter months," Young says.

"Also the freezing and thawing of the moist soil has improved its workability," he continues. Of course, there are some soils on which this factor works to a better advantage than others.

Asked whether it would be any advantage to list the ground prior to planting this year, he says that in his opinion, it will be a disadvantage unless the farmer plants to water the ground.

Listing exposes more land surface to the wind and, consequently, more water can be lost to evaporation, he adds.

"The amount of moisture in each piece of land is the final word on whether or not to water," Young says. "How the land lies and whether any moisture has been lost to winter crops influence the ground level."

He explains that there is no need to water if the soil already has enough moisture to decompose residues and release plant foods and the water holding capacity of the soil already is near its maximum. These factors were taken into account by the weather bureau, he says.

Working prior to planting is the big question now, Young declares. Since sandy soils cannot store a surplus of amount of water in the heavier soils, his opinion is that to try to get more water in the sandy cotton land in the High Plains may be a question of economic waste.

His advice is to water and make crops in the sandy area is to work the land with chains and bring some of the loached clay to the top if it begins to blow after a rain — also to plow just deep enough to permit the soil and keep it from moving.

"Some work may be necessary to level the ground for a proper seed bed," Dr. Young believes, "but extra work will only tend to tractor-punch the soil and dry it out."

In the heavier loams, more work may be necessary for the proper preparation of the seed bed. He suggests that the disc-type implements will probably work to better advantage in these soils.

"In case of having to replant, as many did last spring, the soil planting leaves an area of soil moisture still undisturbed," Dr. Young points out. "This enables the farmer to 'burn the edges' in replanting and still have moisture to get the seed up."

Every farm is a different problem, he believes, but to the economically hard pressed farmer, land preparation that is both cheaper and better is certainly a step in the right direction.

Mrs. Alton Noland Regains Speech

After being almost speechless for six weeks, Mrs. Alton Noland has regained her ability to talk since a whiplash she reports this week. "Finger surgery" or a physicians' office helped her to regain her speech, she said. "I went into the office whiplashed and came out talking," she told The Beacon.

Her trouble started with a slight cold and she soon lost her voice. She has been under treatment since and her voice was almost back to normal the first of the week. The trouble was attributed to the vocal chords, she was told.

Dear Editor: I see where the U. S. government is finding to spend a few odd billions working our roads around over the country.

My dubious neighbor says we already have lots of good roads. Regardless of the weather, hardly anybody these days has to miss a movie or a ball game on account of the roads being too bad to travel over.

But he thinks maybe we do need a little work on some roads, such as the roads to church, which it seems like either visiting weather, fishing weather or cloudy weather makes them unfit for travel.

Freedom of the Press, Here and Now

Everywhere that a tyrant's heel has ground most brutally, there has sprung up an "underground" movement. And its heart always is a printing press. For the urge that dwells deep in a freedom-loving people to know the truth is hard to kill. In fact it cannot be killed — not even by the best-organized despotism in history.

The many stories of underground presses that have come down through the ages of trial and error by many dictators is an inspiration to the men and women of America's press.

We know that the truth can actually be spread and circulated under the very heel of a tyrant's boot. But a far better way of keeping people informed is through their own press which operates not in some dark corner but on main street, right next door to the grocer, the postoffice, the drug store. To preserve that freedom is the first obligation of the American people and the American press. It is our only hope of maintaining our cherished freedoms.

Fords Report On Washington
Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Ford of Lockney returned last Sunday from a 10-day trip to Washington, D. C., made along with 136 other Farmers Union delegates from Illinois, North Dakota, Arkansas and Texas.
"We wish to express our appreciation to the state and local Farmers Union for the opportunity of representing Floyd County in Washington," the Fords said. The group was a part of a series of farm delegations going to the nation's capitol this winter.
While in Washington the Fords, along with other members of their group, met with the House Agriculture Committee, dealing with wheat, cotton, grain sorghums, corn and dairy products. The Farmers Union representatives endorsed proposals to prevent any cut in farm commodity support prices in 1958.
Farmers Union representatives asked for not less than 90% of parity for all farm commodities in 1959, the reason for 1959 instead of 1958 being because the farm group cannot muster the two-thirds majority vote necessary to override a certain presidential vote this year, the Fords said.
James E. Patton, president of National Farmers Union and Alex Dickie, president of Texas Farmers Union, both appeared before the agriculture committee advocating 100% of parity and refusing to accept less than 90% of parity in 1959.
The local people had the privilege of visiting with Senators Lyndon Johnson and Ralph Yarborough, Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn, Congressman George Mahon and other distinguished men of Washington.

Young Says Late Farmers May Be Better Off, Don't List Land

Lubbock — "High Plains cotton and maize farmers who are behind in their spring work because of bad weather may be better off in the end," Dr. A. W. Young, Texas Tech agronomy department head, reports.

He points to moisture supplies that are far above normal, making desirable soil conditions that might not be improved by the usual tillage.

"This is the first time in several years that soil bacteria have had moisture enough to work on the organic matter during the winter months," Young says.

"Also, the freezing and thawing of the moist soil has improved its workability," he continues. Of course, there are some soils on which this factor works to a better advantage than others.

Asked whether it would be any advantage to list the ground prior to planting this year, he says, that in his opinion, it will be a disadvantage unless the farmer plans to water the ground.

Listing exposes more land surface to the winds and, consequently, more water can be lost to evaporation, he adds.

"The amount of moisture in each piece of land is the final word on whether or not to water," Young says. "How the land lies and whether any moisture has been lost to winter crops, influence the storage level."

He explains that there is no need to water if the soil already has enough moisture to decompose residues and release plant foods and the water-holding capacity of the soil already is near its maximum. These factors were taken care of with October and subsequent rains, he says.

Watering prior to planting is the big question now, Young declares. Since sandy soils cannot store a large amount of water as the heavier soils, his opinion is that to try to get more water in the sandy cotton land in the High Plains may be a question of economic waste.

His advice to the cotton and maize farmers in the sandy area is to work the land with chisels and bring some of the leached clay to the top if it begins to blow after a rain — also, to plow just deep enough to remix the sand and keep it from moving.

"Some work may be necessary to level the ground for a proper seed bed," Dr. Young believes, "but extra work will only tend to tractor-pack the soil and dry it out."

In the heavier loams, more work may be necessary for the proper preparation of the seed bed. He suggests that the disc-type implements will probably work to better advantage in these soils.

"In case of having to replant, as many did last spring, the fat planting leaves an area of soil moisture still undisturbed," Dr. Young points out. "This enables the farmer to 'bust the ridges' in replanting and still have moisture to get the seed up."

Every farm is a different problem, he believes, but to the economically hard-pressed farmer, land preparation that is both cheaper and better is certainly a step in the right direction.

Mrs. Alton Noland Regains Speech

After being almost speechless for six weeks, Mrs. Alton Noland has regained her ability to talk above a whisper, she reports this week. "Finger surgery" in a physicians office helped her to regain her speech, she said. "I went into the office whispering and came out talking," she told The Beacon.

Her trouble started with a slight cold and she soon lost her voice. She has been under treatment since and her voice was almost back to normal the first of the week. The trouble was adhesions on the vocal chords, she was told.

Dear Editor: I see where the U. S. government is fixing to spend a few odd billions working our roads around over the country.

My dubious neighbor says we already have lots of good roads. Regardless of the weather, hardly anybody these days has to miss a movie or a ball game on account of the roads being too bad to travel over.

But he thinks maybe we do need a little work on some roads, such as the roads to church, which it seems like either visiting weather, fishing weather or cloudy weather makes them unfit for travel.

Freedom of the Press, Here and Now

Everywhere that a tyrant's heel has ground most brutally, there has sprung up an "underground" movement. And its heart always is a printing press. For the urge that dwells deep in a freedom-loving people to know the truth is hard to kill. In fact it cannot be killed — not even by the best-organized despotism in history.

The many stories of underground presses that have come down through the ages of trial and error by many dictators is an inspiration to the men and women of America's press.

We know that the truth can actually be spread and circulated under the very heel of a tyrant's boot. But a far better way of keeping people informed is through their own press which operates not in some dark corner but on main street, right next door to the grocer, the postoffice, the drug store. To preserve that freedom is the first obligation of the American people and the American press. It is our only hope of maintaining our cherished freedoms.

Dear Editor: I see where the post office wheels in Washington have decided to raise all of the postage out of our post office this month and put it on our noses.

My showing neighbor says he won't see this high-handed move, or amount to it as an act.

Some to note that while the customer are gone from his home post office, the signs which discourage spitting at the floor are still there, and this is just another low-down bureaucratic trick to make more problems for the common man.

Hybrid Grains Will Continue To Increase

Lubbock — Hybrid grain sorghums will make up 50 per cent of that crop's production within the next 10 years, according to a report from the Texas Experiment Station. The report, which was presented at a meeting of the Texas Experiment Station, Lubbock, on Feb. 25 at Tech.

The group also made the following predictions regarding grain sorghum hybrids: They will be made more drought resistant and palatable and will have better uniformity of quality. Success with their production will stimulate seed and fertilizer sales and cause expansion of handling, storage and transportation facilities.

That success also will spur research leading to varieties adapted to the shorter growing season of the Midwest and to the more humid climate of Central and South Texas. Their development as a "super" crop will make lending agencies more receptive to helping farmers get into production. These results will spur research into hybrids of all kinds. Panel participants were Dr. N. W. Kramer, Jim Lindsey, and Archie Campbell, Lubbock; Delmar G. "Bill" Nelson, Amarillo; Dr. Johnny H. Davis, Railway; and Dr. Clark Harvey, Tech.

Dear Editor: I note that some deep thinking is going on in political circles on the subject of what to do in case the President was to get too sick to work at his job.

But I guess science will finally come to the rescue by inventing some kind of an electronic machine to run tests on a President to see whether he is still fit for service.

My screwloose neighbor says a device of this nature would also come in handy to run assays on Presidential candidates to see if they are fit for the job before we elect them.
