EDITORIAL

I will say unto the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress; my God, in Him will I trust. —Psalm 91:2.

MR. KENNEDY'S win in Wisconsin may not be as valuable to him in his race for the Democratic nomination for president as it would appear on the surface. In the first place, he didn't win by as big a margin as was anticipated. Poor little old Hubert Humphrey made a good showing himself. In the second place, the primary showed that religion is an issue in the campaign as far as Catholic voters are concerned. That revelation will not be to Mr. Kennedy's benefit. Hubert Humphrey says that Republican Catholic voters crossed party lines and voted for Kennedy thus enabling him to win the Democratic delegates. A survey by national news services reveal that Kennedy gained his majority in the sections of the state where the Catholics are most numerous. This may serve to alarm Protestants and other non-Catholic voters and cause them to vote against Kennedy. The Catholic hierarchy is extremely active politically and many times uses its powers to its own advantage. For this reason many non-Catholics are afraid of Kennedy despite his protests that a "man's religion shouldn't matter" in political affairs. Religion is and will continue to be an issue in the presidential race. In our opinion, Kennedy would have no chance of defeating Nixon should both get the nomination from their respective parties, because of this fact.

UNDERGROUND water level measurements in Floyd County as recently released by the State Board of Water Engineers and the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District are very revealing. For the 10 year period 1950 to 1960, The Beacon noted these figures: The average water level in 52 wells in 1950 was 95 feet plus while the average level in 1960 in 58 wells was 137 feet plus. Thus in the 10 year period the water level has dropped 42 feet if the figures are accurate. Water-level measurements are made in January of each year in observation wells scattered over the county. Yet there are still some farmers who waste underground water. As one man pointed out recently, water under your land is more valuable than oil under your land. It should be conserved.

THE TRAGIC traffic accident at Lubbock Sunday impresses upon us the need for more careful driving. The constant use of an automobile leads us who drive to take a careless attitude toward the operation of the vehicle. About the only way we can be stirred out of our lethargy is for some terrible accident to happen near us. A study of the Texas Department of Public Safety Records for the calendar year 1959 reveal the fact that only one day out of the 365 was there no fatal auto accident in Texas. That was December 2nd. On the other hand a total of 24 were killed in auto accidents in Texas on November 14, 22 on September 12 and 22 on December 22. The average seems to run 8 or 10 per day. All of us need to be more careful. "It could be you."

TO BE COMMENDED are the local women who have begun the movement to build a modern swimming pool in Lockney. Other communities smaller than Lockney have put such a project over and there is no reason why we can't do as well. It will take a lot of hard work by the women and a lot of cooperating by the rest of us but it can be done.

FOOD EXPENDITURES this year probably will account for a little more than a fifth of the average income per capita after taxes. This is the lowest share of income for food in the post-war period. In 1947, average per capita spending for food amounted to 27 per cent of income after taxes.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENTAL operations have been "in the black," fiscally speaking, during only 25 of the past 90 years, and only six years since 1930. The federal government went into the red an average of $1 billion a month during the fiscal year which ended last June 30.

GASOLINE TAXES have jumped 37 per cent in the past ten years, while all retail prices rose 21 per cent and the price of gasoline itself only six per cent.

NEW COUNCIL MEMBER

Ever see a town with a surprised look on its face? Well, our southern neighbor, Slaton, had a very surprised and startled look Wednesday morning when it awoke to find the city election the day before had placed a Negro on the city council. L. L. Dixon, a Negro minister, put together enough Negro and Mexican votes to win over four "Anglos" and a Mexican to place the first Negro on a city council on the South Plains. The funny part is that Dixon did not do his campaigning overnight and go in office by surprise, last minute moves. He has worked at the campaign for some time. He persuaded supporters to pay poll taxes and then campaigned vigorously to get his followers to get out and vote in the city election Tuesday. Not that a Negro on a city council is not right. The man won the election, "L" and square. The fact is that people in this part of the county had not for years that it could not be done. They have thought so for so long it was beginning to be taken for granted. They relaxed and sure enough it did happen. Slatonites were saying, "Four Whites can beat that Negro hands down, why should we get out and strain to keep him off the council?" Actually, this may be a good thing for this area. True, no Negro has ever served in office, but that does not mean they are not capable of filling a city council slot. They pay taxes, own property and help support the businesses as well as make up a part of the population. If Slaton is anything like Ralls, more than likely it would be very hard to drive down the streets of the Negro section of town. They have been sadly neglected because of the white man's thinking that they just don't care about their part of town. I feel the only way the Negro can become better is to help himself and this is as good a start as I can think of for him to do so. If he has a vote on the city council there is a possibility his section of town will improve. His way of life will come nearer to our standard of living. Now let's sit back and watch the results. I'll bet one thing does come of this election. More people will pay poll taxes and vote in next year's city election than ever have in Slaton. — Marvin Tomme in Ralls Banner

SHADES OF WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN

I see monkey business is back in the news. Evolution and the public schools has flared anew in Washington State. It seems a co-ed, writing a research paper on "evolution" was advised by Dr. John M. Howell, supervisor of curriculum guides and courses of study for Washington State, advised her: "No one really believes the Darwinian theory. "It is most damaging to the minds of growing boys and girls to have such untruths taught them by men and women paid by public funds, and who should tell them the truth. "If the doctrine of evolution is true, then the Bible is untrue.

I prefer to hold by the old book." His answer is now wound up in politics and is causing quite a stir in Washington State.

Dr. Howell is right in that evolution is still a theory but is often taught as undeniable truth. In fact, most of our scientific facts are still theory. A thinking man will buy a new science book every year but he invests in the Bible and great works of literature for life. — Cecil Waggoner in Claude News.

Dear Editor: I see where the generals, admirals, politicians, and other public dependents sort of differ on whether we could whip the Reds if they took a notion to draw on us.

And all of this expert disagreement has got the general run of citizen pretty worried and confused, except my all-around expert neighbor.

He says there is no need to lose any sleep over this matter, on account of it stands to reason that nobody can lick an army which has got a 10-year supply of overalls.

Citizens Group Will Not Meet

The Citizenship Training Course, under way here for the past four Thursday nights, will not meet tonight (Thursday) due to the annual membership meeting of Lockney Chamber of Commerce. The sessions will be resumed Thursday evening of next week at Lockney High School auditorium.

Last Thursday evening, Dr. Jack Bates, dean of Lubbock Christian College, who is teaching the course, talked on the subject of "Socialism," with a large crowd present, many of them high school students.

Dr. Bates pointed out that, generally speaking, there are just two kinds of government — that one in which the people are servants of the government, and that one in which the government is a servant of the people. He classed socialism as being in the former class, along with Communism. He emphasized that the free enterprise system, under which the government is a servant of the people, has brought prosperity to this great country.

He pointed out that Communism is a religion of promise and has two appeals, first to the poor and ignorant and second to the self-intellectual or the person who feels he is more learned than his fellow-men. He described the steps of toward a dictatorship in government as being, first the step from capitalism to socialism, second from socialism to Communism, then a dictatorship. To emphasize the difference in the standard of living in socialistic country and a free enterprise country he quoted the average monthly wage in Yugoslavia as being $32 while that in the United States is $350. He said that as socialism comes into a country, it is customary that the national income and the standard of living declines.

He showed slide graphs depicting the amount of socialism in the governments of the world and their standards of living.

Quoting Harold McMillan, British government official, Dr. Bates said that the final end of socialism and communism is the same, the only difference being that socialism takes the soft course to that end and communism the hard course.

FORGET ABOUT SEARING

Leading meat cookery authorities say that searing roasts at high temperatures should be discouraged. What do they recommend? Constant low temperature of 250 to 325 degrees is the currently favored method. Low temperature roasting not only improves cooking results, but makes ovens easier to clean, too. Lockney Girl Writes Home From Okinawa

Mrs. Glenn McLeod, the former Ruby Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wilson, Lockney, writes an interesting letter to her parents concerning her trip to Okinawa where she and her four sons joined S-Sgt. Glenn McLeod several months ago.

Mrs. McLeod writes she was not afraid of the plane trip but the boys didn't like the safety belts. After ten hours of flight and lots of water they reached Hawaii at 6 a.m. The flight from Hawaii to Wake Island took eight hours and she says she is glad they didn't have to stay there long since the weather was unbearably hot. Another nine-hour flight took the family to Japan by 12:00 midnight. Three hours before arrival there the passengers were told to fasten their seat belts, presumable because of the rough weather, arriving there at 4 a.m. They were met by some of Glenn's friends who had arranged the furniture and supplied the cabinet and ice box with food. The house has three bedrooms.

Speed limit there is 30 miles an hour, Mrs. McLeod says. She writes she is glad they didn't take any more of their furniture since they mold and warp badly.

Mc. McLeod took his wife to a foodway downtown. She says he thought the sight of Okinawa food would make her sick, but she knew she wouldn't be eating any of it. There were smoked snakes and eel. Fruits were outlandishly high. Hi-Ho crackers which sell in the states for 28 cents were 75 cents on the island. Carrots were three fangs long.

Mrs. McLeod says there are many nice places for picnics and taking pictures. The beach is beautiful in the summer and the family likes to go splashing in the water, that is, all except David, who won't have any part of the salt water.

The women on the island work at heavy jobs just as the men. Many of the women work with a baby strapped to their back. Mrs. McLeod says the people are all short and come only to her shoulder. They carry lots of things on their heads she says. The McLeods have a maid who helps with the children and housework and is very dependable. She stays at night so the older McLeods may get out more often.

T.V. reception is good on Okinawa and one of their main stations is Japan.

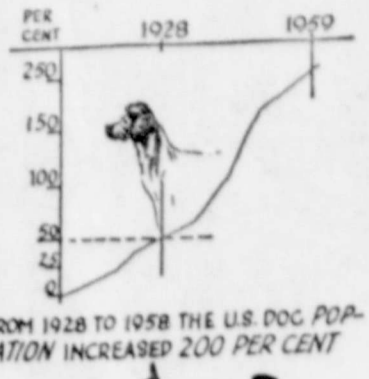

The McLeods experienced a typhoon recently with winds up to 150 miles per hour and brought 21 inches of rain. They had to cook on a stove they had to cook on oil stove the day. Mrs. McLeod writes, since the utilities were knocked out.

Mrs. McLeod says most of the islanders believe in the Buddha religion, however there is an Adventist church up the hill from where they live. The McLeods attend church and Sunday school at the base. She says it would be impos-

Mrs. McLeod grew up in Lockney. She and the boys went to Okinawa several months ago. Her husband, S-Sgt. Glenn N. McLeod is with the 1252nd Airways and Air Command Squadron, their additional address is APO 235, San Francisco. He is making the army his career. The family would enjoy hearing from all their friends in the states. Mr. McLeod's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. McLeod, are former residents of Lockney and he attended Lockney schools. His parents now reside in Denver, Colorado.

HOW TO CLEAN OVEN WINDOWS

Many gas ranges have double oven windows. The outer window is removable so both windows can be easily cleaned on the inside. The Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association suggests an easy way to remove the outer window. Place a table knife blade between the oven door panel and center of the chrome bezel at the top of the door. Push down and out slightly on the bezel and remove it while holding onto the glass. After cleaning replace the glass first then the bezel.

FISH STICKS AMERICANO

Mash a clove of garlic and cook with 2 tablespoons of oil over the automatic top burner heat control on your range. Set the control at 350 degrees. When the garlic begins to brown, remove it from the skillet and add the frozen fish sticks. Turn the sticks several times to coat with the garlic oil. Season with salt and pepper, cover and cook 10 to 15 minutes; or until the sticks are soft but not mushy. Remove the lid and add 1-3 cup of dry white wine. Turn the flame to high — about 400 degrees to concentrate the juice. Serve with tartar sauce and mixed vegetables; au gratin.

SMOOTHEST BEDS IN TOWN

Ever noticed how smooth a trained nurse makes a bed? You can achieve the same smoothness without hours of ironing. Whether you're laundering nylon, muslin or percale sheets, remove them from the clothes dryer slightly under-dried. Put them on the bed as soon as you can. Slightly moist, they are less likely to wrinkle. In fact, contour sheets handled in this way will dry to hospital-tight smoothness.

CROSS ROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where the Internal Revenue will consider allowing a deduction for termite damage on your house, if the termites finished the job in a couple of years.

But it seems if you draw a team of slow termites, working by the hour instead of by the day, and they stretch it out three or four years, the damage is not deductible.

My undermined neighbor says he is afraid his house is not going to fall down before the deadline, so he is looking for a good crew of unemployed termites to put on a night shift.

News from the High Plains Research Foundation

Irrigation efficiency is one of the answers to profitable cotton production, James Valiant, Assistant Water Engineer of the High Plains Research Foundation, stated in the 1959 research reports just released.

Income Tax Returns

to supporters of the Foundation.

Irrigation applied preplant and at peak bloom produced the best grade and highest income in 1959. Production from this irrigation method ranged from 85.3 to 94.3 pounds of lint per acre inch of supplemental water applied.

The return from the preplant, peak bloom method of irrigation ranged from $161.00 to $181.00 per acre. Pumping costs were figured at $6.00 per acre foot at Halfway. Some authorities, however, report this cost as high as $9.00 per acre foot.

These results indicate that the time of application, not the total amount of irrigation water applied, controls dollar returns from irrigated cotton.

Cotton irrigated at a total of 17.2 and 21.5 inches returned less income in 1959 than the 8.6 inches applied in the pre-plant, peak bloom method.

From these results it is evident that a more profitable cotton crop can be grown with less water, less labor, and less pumping costs in a year like 1959. Time of irrigation and fertility level are two of the major controlling factors in irrigated cotton profits.

This experiment will be conducted over a period of several years before definite conclusions can be made regarding the recommended irrigation

14 Scholarships Await 4-H Safety And Health Winners

Chicago, Ill. — A total of 14 college scholarships will be awarded to 4-H Club members this year for best achievement in the 4-H health and safety programs, according to Norman C. Mindrum, director of the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work.

The $400 scholarships will be presented to six national health winners and eight safety winners to be announced at the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago next December. The state and national champions will receive all-expense trips to the congress.

Club members over 14 years old who have completed three years of project work are eligible for both state and national awards, Mr. Mindrum declares. For the younger member there is a medal award given for best achievement at the county level.

In addition to developing desirable health and safety practices in day-to-day living, the programs teach the responsibility of good citizenship and effective leadership, he points out. The work is under supervision of the Cooperative Extension Service and local volunteer club leaders.

Last year nearly 1 1/2 million 4-H'ers across the nation were enrolled in these programs.

Donors of the health awards is Eli Lilly and Company of Indianapolis, Ind. General Motors, Detroit, Mich., sponsor the safety awards.

Further information can be obtained from the County Extension agent or the State Extension office.

Dear Editor:

My short-puffing neighbor says the Internal Revenue men have got it made, on account of their customers keep the records, figure the bills, and send in the money.

Says they don't have to carry stock, pay freight, nor outbid competitors, and if you don't trade with them you go to jail.

And he don't see how their business could fail, because on top of all the other high-profit advantages, us pigeons attaching checks to their remittance forms keep them supplied with free paper clips.

Cotton Leader Raps Critics Of Farm Program

Dallas. — Edward L. Lipscomb of the National Cotton Council said Tuesday it is time pundits, politicians and farm critics in general get off the farmer's back.

Farmers, he said, are getting a "country bellyful" of criticism of the farm program, including criticism published in newspapers and magazines.

Lipscomb of Memphis, Tenn., spoke at one of the final sessions of the Texas Cotton Growers' Association's annual convention.

"The farmers are fed up with being blamed for high retail prices when their income is going down and city workers, Paulers, packagers, pre-freezers and pre-cookers who have never produced a calorie of food in their mortal lives are getting most of the cash that goes over the grocery counter," he said.

"The farmers are fed up with erudite typewriter jockeys who blare forth with sensational columns containing droplets of truth that cause excitable readers to gulp in gallons of exaggeration and insinuation."

Lipscomb said he saw only two solutions to the problem as far as farmers are concerned: Press relations to refute the critics' attacks or "peasantry."

"Farmers admit in a minute that the farm laws are a patchwork, even as are the laws on labor and manufacturing and transportation," he said.

"They further admit that farm laws contain absurdities and abuses," he continued. But so do the laws that permit "multimillion-dollar overcharges on military contracts, payment of honorary salaries to congressmen's kindreds, strangulation of consumers by union monopolies, and the use of tax money to pay half the cost of luxury ocean liners."

CARD OF THANKS

I want to thank the doctors and nurses at Lockney General Hospital for their kindness and care while I was under treatment there. I do thank my friends for their visits, cards, flowers and gifts. I appreciate everything you have done for me.

Mrs. Forrest Smith.

TRAFFIC REDUCERS IN THE HOME

The wise homemaker will provide "filling" and "dumping" stations along the traffic lanes in the home. Margaret Spader, home service consultant for the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association, suggests that laundry hampers located near the bathroom and in each bedroom will save many steps. A basket or shopping bag at the bottom of the stairs can be used to accumulate items to take upstairs. A rolling cart is an efficient way to tote cleaning supplies, groceries, dishes and food from one part of the house to another.

BEAUTIFUL END FOR AN EGG

Happy is the ending for an egg that is poached in cream. Heat 1 1/2 cups of cream with 1/2 teaspoon salt and a 1/4 teaspoon each of poultry seasoning and basil. Place over the automatic top burner and set the control at 212 degrees. Gently add 4 fresh eggs and cover the pan. Turn the flame back to its lowest setting and ignore completely for 5 minutes or until the eggs are congealed and covered with a velvety film. Serve on toasted English muffins with fresh asparagus as an accompaniment.

He said the farm program has become a national whipping boy because:

"Every apartment-dwelling, desk-sitting, short-week working, high-wage-earning Tom, Dick and Mrs. Herry is looking for an excuse for his own extravagance."

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex.—A 30-member committee appointed by Gov. Price Daniel will meet May 16 to begin work on a tall task.

Assignment of the State Finance Advisory Committee will be to suggest every possible economy in state government and recommend a tax program to put the state on a sound financial basis.

For the immediate future the tax program is to wipe out the general revenue fund deficit, which the governor estimates will be $40,000,000 at the end of this fiscal year, and provide $35,000,000 for teacher pay raises.

Committee is to be made up of leading citizens in both public and private life. Six already have been named. They are Secretary of State Zolie Steakley who will be chairman; Jess Irwin, the governor's budget director; Jon Ford, administrative assistant to the governor; Dr. John R. Stockton, director of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research; John R. McKee of Dallas, Ford Motor Co. executive; and Hugo Lowenstern, Amarillo real estate man.

Gov. Daniel said he would ask the committee to search for revenue sources other than a general sales tax or state income tax.

He hopes, said the governor, that the committee will work out some recommendations soon so that a special session can be called this year to pass teacher pay raises. Under Texas requirement for pay-as-you-go financing, the Legislature would have to pass taxes to wipe out the deficit before it could vote funds for the school improvement program.

TEACHER RAISE ENDORSED— Nearly three-fourths of the candidates for the Legislature the year have told the Texas State Teachers Association they favor a pay raise for teachers.

Some qualified their statements to indicate that getting the pay raise might be an easier said-than-done proposition.

Of 401 candidates for the Senate and House, 336 answered TSTA's questionnaire, and 293 said they approved the Hele-Aiken school program.

Asked if they would vote the necessary taxes for it, 252 promised support outright. Others added conditions on the kinds of taxes they would approve.

The American Farmer

The American people buy every year around $100 billion worth of products that originate on farms — domestic and foreign. Close to $75 billion, or about $3.00 out of every $4.00, are costs that are added after the product leaves the farm.

LOAN PLAN DISAPPROVED— Third Court of Civil Appeals has held the certificate plan used by some loan companies is unconstitutional.

Loan companies involved in the test case are expected to appeal to the State Supreme Court.

Under the certificate plan, the borrower of $100 would agree to repay his loan through monthly payments on an investment certificate for $110. This, according to the Attorney General's Department, forces the borrower to pay more than Attorney General's Department replied that there is no specific provision prohibiting other institutions from computing interest in this manner.

Three new members have been elected to the TLEF executive committee. They are Neil Masterson Jr. of Houston, Weldon Jones of San Angelo and Radcliffe Killam of Laredo. Dolph Briscoe Jr. of Uvalde is new secretary of the committee.

Plans are under way to expand the foundation's board to include representation from every part of the state and to set up a program to assist families of law enforcement officers killed on duty.

SCHOOL BUYING CRITICIZED— Clothing purchases at the Texas Blind, Deaf and Orphan School for Colored in Austin were far in excess of use during the past 18 months, State Auditor C. H. Cavness reported. Cavness said his audit turned up excessive clothing purchases totaling $3,824. In all, he said, 3,042 articles of clothing were bought, but only 75 articles were issued to the children.

He said he had received no "reasonable explanation" for the discrepancy. Cavness suggested that the Texas Youth Council, which oversees state schools for needy and handicapped children, make an inventory and transfer surplus items to other schools.

DON'T WORRY ABOUT IT— State Supreme Court has again refused to get involved in a dispute as to whether a Dallas district judge can hold a railway president in contempt of court because trains blocked a Dallas street.

However, the high court repeated, with emphasis, its belief that the district court order is void and "no trial judge will attempt to enforce" it.

Dallas Dist. Judge Jack Thornton sentenced M. K. T. Deramus to 240 days in jail and levied a $4,000 ed a street for more than five minutes at a time against the judge's order. Since then, an underspass was begun.

CITIZEN INTEREST URGED— Texas Law Enforcement Foundation has called on individual citizens to feel responsible for the way the law is observed in their communities.

Citing no specific instances, the TLEF executive committee said that "a breakdown in citizen responsibility must precede any breakdown in law enforcement."

VELVETY SAUCE FOR CHICKEN BREASTS

This sauce for chicken breasts is suggested by the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association: Heat 1 cup of mayonnaise in a small aluminum saucepan over a low flame. Add 2 tablespoons of lemon juice, 3 tablespoons of chopped parsley, 1/2 cup toasted almonds and stir well. Pour the sauce over sauteed chicken breasts and serve with chilled sauterne and fluffy rice tossed with pineapple chunks.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where the matter of the government paying medical expenses for old folks is being discussed in Congress and elsewhere these days.

fine because Katy trains block-resident, has sought to avoid coming to Texas to appear in Thornton's court despite the Supreme Court's reassurances. Thornton has declared he would put the railway executive in jail.

My non-veteranized neighbor says folks paying taxes and higher prices for goods are already giving free doctoring to employes of big corporations, and to President Ike and other people overseers.

But says he guesses that raising living standards for foreigners, etc., is costing so much we can't hardly afford deferred and supervised dying for mill-run citizens.

SHORT SHORTS— Texas permanent school fund now totals $413,231,236, according to a report to the State Board of Education. Fund is built up by revenues, rentals and oil and gas royalties on public lands set aside for schools. Only the income from investment of the fund can be spent. . . . A record number of Texans have qualified themselves to vote this year. State Comptroller Bob Calvert estimates that poll taxes plus exemptions will total 2,559,000. This compares to 2,410,000 in 1956. . . . Prices received for Texas farm and ranch products increased two per cent last month, said the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, but were nine per cent below a year ago.

PERFECT SHOWER GIFT— New Pyroceram cooking ware will solve a lot of cooking problems for the June bride. Its appearance is deceiving — it looks like fragile white china but is sturdy enough to use directly on a burner, in the oven or under a high flame in the broiler. Handles on skillets and saucepans are detachable. Foods may be frozen in the casseroles and taken from the freezer directly to a hot oven for quick cooking.

Are We Counting on the Other Fellow to Take Care of Our Future...

when he may not be working at the job

This is a good way to arrange for an unsatisfactory future . . . physical or economic.

For instance . . . some of us depend on our good neighbors to spend THEIR money in the home community to keep it going so we can make a living in it . . . while we do OUR buying somewhere else.

But . . . sort of like when a couple of fellows in a car each thinks the other one is driving . . . the habit of "Letting George Do It" can darken the future if George happens to be letting YOU do it.

And, anyhow, even if we DO have lots of good neighbors trading at home to support US, and our schools and churches and other community activities . . . THINK how much BETTER all of these would be supported if ALL OF US were buying everything we could at home.

Trading with home merchants is just good practical business sense anyhow . . . because we automatically get more for our money from them than out-of-town stores can give us . . . the EXTRA PREMIUM of community prosperity that only home business establishments can throw in for free with the goods we buy.

It Pays to Buy where you Live

YOU get everything that your money pays for . . . merchandise AND a trade-invigorated community to live in . . . when you buy from your home town merchants . . .
