EDITORIAL

Jesus said unto him, If thou canst believe, all things are possible to him that believeth. —Mark 9:23.

AS THIS IS WRITTEN Monday it appears that Senator Kennedy has the Democratic nomination sewed up. The groundwork of his organization the past four years, including the sly help of the supposed-to-be-neutral Democratic Chairman Paul Butler, is more than Senator Lyndon Johnson's forces can overcome. One of Monday's daily newspapers carries the story that a majority of delegates favor Johnson but are bound to vote for Kennedy. Another says that a survey among the delegates shows that most of them believe that Johnson can beat Nixon but Kennedy can't. This is just another indication of the hair-brained escapades of those who apparently control Democratic Party policies. Most of us will never understand why the powers that be insist on nominating a candidate that apparently has little chance of winning. We predict another four—more likely eight years—of Republican administration.

SENATOR KENNEDY already has stated that "he hoped to win the nomination without a single Southern vote in the convention." Perhaps he hopes to win the Presidency the same way. Perhaps he can but we don't think so. Checking the record since 1904 we find that no Democratic candidate has ever won the Presidency without the support of most all the Southern states. Truman did it in 1948 without the support of three states but the three that didn't support him—Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana—were Republican. They voted for Thurmond. Checking the record further we find that five states in the nation have never voted Republican since 1904, all of them in the South. Yet what have they gained by their loyalty—a kick in the teeth both at the Democratic Convention and in Congress. Thirteen Southern states have a total of 146 electoral votes out of the total of 531. That's a pretty big slice.

A LOCAL FARMER, who has had quite a bit of experience with irrigation wells, suggests a plan for a bomb shelter that might be effective and yet economical. He says that about 60 feet below the surface in this area there is a layer of rock. He suggests sinking a shaft just below that level, then following out a room as large as needed for those who will use it just below the rock. Of course it would be necessary to sink a shaft in either end of the underground room. The digging would probably not be difficult since the water has been pumped out of this area and it is more or less a honeycomb of dirt. Problems might be securing firm footing for such a room and the shoring up of the rock ceiling. Anyway it is something to think about.

U. S. NEWS & World Report provides this outlook for the remainder of 1960: "Business will be good, but not booming. The economy, over all, will hold close to present levels. Latest developments suggest no steep climb, no new round of inflation and no major setback this year."

THE BIG QUESTION

With Our EXCHANGES

THIRD CLASS MAIL

One scarcely may open his mail these days without finding from one to six letters, or brochures, begging for funds for one do-gooding cause or another.

Tons of that sort of mail is under shipment, border-to-border and coast-to-coast every day — with good, old Jones paying the freight.

Good, old Jones, the taxpayer, does pay the freight, you know, and because the cost of third class mailing doesn't cover the expense required to handle and distribute it.

Of course, the mendicants-by-mail aren't the only people who happily employ third class postal privileges. Literally thousands of business concerns, many of them of the fly-by-night variety, use the vehicle, leading the postman — and the citizen's mail box — with pounds and pounds and pounds of their ruff every year.

They compete with local business concerns everywhere — and those local business concerns are forced, via tax monies used to supplement losses on Third Class postal rates, to subsidize their competition.

SWIMMING POOL?

I need to find out from Editor Edgar R. Hays, of The Lockney Beacon, how they did it? Last week they celebrated opening a new swimming pool in Lockney and it only cost them $19,000. We quit here after raising $16,000 because the cost of a pool would run, so we believed, around $30,000.

In the Beacon news story Editor Hays says:

"The new pool is located on ground donated by the Lockney American Legion Post No. 141 and the pool will be operated under the supervision of the Post. The pool is 35 feet wide by 75 feet long and construction costs, including the bath houses and pool equipment will run about $19,000. Most of the money has been raised by public subscription and the remainder will be raised the same way. The pool is equipped with diving boards and a slide, bath houses and a concession building."

Editor Hays, where did we make our mistake, or how in the world can you build a 35x75 pool for $19,000? Any details you can give us would certainly be appreciated. $25,000 seemed the least we could hope to build a pool and $30,000 was our aim that missed. However we could swing a $19,999 pool. Information please. — Cecil Waggoner in Claude News.

Editor's Note: Well, Mr. Waggoner, it was fairly simple. The committee let a contract to a Lubbock firm (name furnished or request) on the pool plus underwater lights, equipment, and filler for the total sum of $12,778.00. The bath houses, deck area, and fence cost the remaining $6,000 plus. We understand that the contractor sprayed concrete on the sides of the excavation for the walls and it worked well. It is a nice looking swimming pool and the kids are enjoying it. P. S. Grapevine has it that the contractor maybe lost money on the deal. We don't know about this. E.R.H.

Williamsburg, Va., is the scene of the restoration of the colonial capital of Virginia. Between 1928 and 1940, 77 buildings had been restored, 189 reconstructed upon original foundations, and 572 buildings of modern construction demolished. Most of the work was financed by John D. Rockefeller.

Dear Editor: I see where the student class around over the world has about quit goldfish swallowing, panty raids, etc., and took up rioting.

My time-tamed neighbor says he notes that Jap students get up some riots in the 100,000-plus range, but he don't think our own We Invented Brains clubs can ever match this.

On account of the only places were a mob can get satisfactory publicity are in such congested areas that not more than a few hundred students can find places to park their cars while they riotate.

Items of interest from the files of The Lockney Beacon.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — When the various states go to battle to capture new industries, other states go in with cannon-sized budgets. But not Texas.

Texas is, by comparison, fighting with a rubber band and spit balls. At least that's the view of the man who heads the Texas effort, Walter E. Dickerson.

Dickerson, an executive director of the Texas Industrial Commission, directs himself. He has no staff and no secretary. Legislature allotted him $23,750 a year to do a job for which the neighboring "poor" state of Arkansas spends more than a half-million a year.

Dickerson uses his slim funds for a brochure on Texas and, since out-of-state travel is impossible, long-distance telephoning. He's also seeking additional funds from Texas firms to carry on the work. Next winter he'll be before the Legislature to ask for more money to give Texas an even break in the intensely competitive industry-seeking field.

Dickerson's pleas come against a background of warnings that Texas manufacturing has not been growing fast enough to offset the decline of oil and agriculture. Some areas, such as the Gulf Coast, are becoming highly industrialized, but Texas needs more industry all over, say the economists. If it is to avoid a stall.

More manufacture of products for the Texas consumer market is especially recommended. Dickerson has data showing that Texans send $2,500,000,000 of their money out of state to buy manufactured products.

Dickerson also supports his urging for a beefed-up Industrial Commission with figures showing that new industry is literally "money in the bank" for each industry with 100 employees — not a particularly big one — bank deposits jump $270,000 and retail sales $360,000 per year.

SCHOOL PROBLEM ERUPTS

At the instigation of Texas Commissioner of Education, J. W. Edgar, Brownboro school officials, both board and superintendent, are resigning en masse.

Decision was reached after an involved and rather heated hearing in Austin to review school conflicts that had resulted in a killing at a Brownboro school board meeting.

GAS TAX LOSES ROUND

Texas' new natural gas severance beneficiary tax flunked its first court test when an Austin district judge ruled it unconstitutional.

Judge Jack Roberts held the tax violated the U.S. Constitution's prohibition against levying a tax on interstate commerce. Severance beneficiary tax is aimed at the natural gas pipeline companies who, the tax's supporters contend, benefit from taking the gas from Texas soil and should pay a tax for these benefits. Most pipelines operate on a national scale. Producers, the people who actually take the gas from the ground, already pay a tax.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, representing the state, said he would appeal Roberts' decision, probably to the Third Court of Civil Appeals. Since the case involves a constitutional question, it could be appealed directly to the State Supreme Court.

Either way, it will not finally be decided until it gets to the U.S. Supreme Court, probably not in time for the next Legislature to know whether the state can count on any revenue from that source. Estimated yield is about $7,500,000 a year.

Gov. Price Daniel said he was "keenly disappointed" in the district court decision, especially in that it saw no difference between the severance beneficiary tax and the old gas gathering tax which lost out in the courts.

Daniel said he was confident this tax eventually would be upheld.

BIGGER BUDGETS ASKED

Dear Editor:

I see where New York's Governor Rockefeller seems like is dissatisfied with the Republican administration's spending speed.

My cheapskate neighbor says it is impolite of Mr. Rockefeller to criticize, on account of a world's champion in any field of competition is entitled to respect.

But he notes that some believe the governor will quit the party if its leaders don't renounce frugality further, and he says both Republicans and Democrats need more people willing to improve their parties by getting out of same.

UNION OF CHURCH AND STATE

The great falling away of which we have previously spoken merged into the "Dark Ages" and Roman Catholicism, which grew out of the apostasy, came into being in great power. The "Dark Ages" was a period of intellectual stagnation. Spiritual ignorance hovered over the world for several hundred years. The word of God was kept from the people by Roman Catholic authorities and mankind in general groped in complete spiritual darkness for over 1,000 years.

Many claim that such could not happen to us in this fair land. Let us not be deceived into such complacency! The same source, should she gain sufficient power, would do the same today.

This writer recently taught for two weeks in a youth camp in New Mexico, in which there were several Catholic children. None of these young people had ever seen a Catholic Bible and would never have seen any translation of the Bible had it not been for some other than Catholics. At first some of these children were very reluctant to even read a Bible, thinking it was a sin to do so.

A converted Catholic states that a survey was made in one Catholic community and that there was not a Bible of any kind to be found in the entire town or community.

This same condition will become just as universal as the religion itself. All that is needed is to gain sufficient power and authority and this will be the inevitable result, whether we want to believe it or not. "By their fruits ye shall know them."

DRIVE A CHEVY CORVAIR

FAMILY PUTS 2,000 MILES A MONTH ON CORVAIR THINKS IT'S MARVELOUS GAS MILEAGE "OUT OF THIS WORLD"

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kahelin of Plant City, Florida, couldn't be happier with the way their new Corvair has worked out as a combination family and business car. On their newspaper distribution route alone they travel more than 400 miles a week over all kinds of roads. Little wonder they're so pleased with the gas mileage they've been getting — "at least twenty-three miles to the gallon with an automatic transmission . . . and we've had no trouble with our Corvair." The Kahelins have equally good things to say about Corvair's easy-going comfort and unique convenience features. They especially like the way the fold-down seat doubles as a built-in baby sitter.

FOR ECONOMICAL TRANSPORTATION

If you haven't driven it yet, you don't know what a delight driving can be. Its steering, response, traction and roadability are unique because it's a unique car — the only U.S. car with an air-cooled airplane-type rear engine, transaxle and independent suspension at all four wheels. Be in on the know. Find out what delightful differences this advanced design makes.

NO FARM LEGISLATION AT THIS SESSION OF CONGRESS

Washington, D. C. — A busy Congress, heading for a recess early this week until after the national conventions of the two major political parties, cleared several important measures and sent them to the White House for the signature of President Eisenhower.

One of the most important and far-reaching of these bills was the $40 billion Defense measure, handled in the House by George Mahon of the 19th Congressional District of Texas. Speaking of the Defense bill, Mahon said:

"I think we produced a good bill. We kept politics out of the bill, as attested to by the fact that all Republicans and Democrats on the Appropriations Committee except one supported it."

"We exceeded the budget in order to make up for certain deficiencies in the defense program. Many significant changes were made in the President's program in order to add needed strength to the defense effort. Congress took the position that this was no time to let down our guard."

Just prior to the recess, after heated debate, a wheat and feed grain farm bill was voted down in the House by a vote of 171 to 236. According to Mahon, the defeat of this measure means that no major farm legislation will be enacted at this session. Mahon said that the atmosphere was unfavorable and the conflicts were so great between Congress and Secretary Penson and among the farm organizations that it would be much better to consider the farm problem under the changed atmosphere of the new Administration, Democratic or Republican, which will take over next January, following the November elections.

The House passed a bill extending the Bracero farm labor bill for two years. Favorable Senate action is expected in August.

Final action on most of the appropriation bills for the session was taken prior to the recess. Indications are that appropriations in the over-all will approximate the amount of money requested by the President in his January Budget, but major readjustments, both up and down, were made, the Defense addition accounting for the major increase.

Indications are that the granting of obligatory authority other than appropriations by Congress will be decidedly over the President's Budget.

Final decisions as to what will be done on such major issues as federal aid to education, minimum wages, and social security will be made when Congress resumes. On these programs, as well as a number of others, either the House or Senate or both have taken preliminary action.

Mahon predicts that the Congress will be in session "from four to six weeks" when it reconvenes after the political conventions. The House is due to return to action August 15th, while the Senate has voted to convene a week earlier, on August 8th.

"I am hopeful," Mahon said, "that members of both political parties will refrain from turning the remainder of the session into a partisan show. The times demand serious, responsible attention to the legislation that will come before us."

Most members of Congress were disappointed that final adjournment was not achieved prior to the conventions, but sustained controversy over many key bills slowed action and prevented the wind-up of legislative business.

Mahon will attend the Democratic National Convention in Los Angeles, beginning July 11th, and, as a delegate, will join all other Texas delegates in working for the nomination of Senator Lyndon B. Johnson for President.

W.S.C.S. Hears Student Program

Mrs. Gene Handley, Secretary of Student Work at the Lockney Methodist Church, presented the program for the Woman's Society of Christian Service on Monday afternoon in the church parlor, in which college students of the Methodist Church participated.

Betty Jean Foster, Texas University senior, brought the devotional. An article on Protestant youth participating in overseas projects was read by Patsy Ashton, sophomore at West Texas State. A McMurry junior, Gayle Rucker, gave an article on the National Methodist Scholarship entitled, "We Help Open Doors". Each girl also discussed activities on her campus for all Christian young people. GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY.

Twenty years of growth is the record claimed for the national 4-H clothing award program which today involves nearly three-quarters of a million girls between 10 and 21 years of age.

This report comes from the National 4-H Service Committee which developed the program over two decades ago in cooperation with the Extension Service. It has been supported ever since by Coats & Clark Inc. of New York.

Right now across the nation young seamstresses are putting the finishing touches on skirts, dresses and coats. The garments were carefully cut, stitched and sewn under the knowing eye of their local 4-H Club leader.

Many hopeful models also are rehearsing for a fashion show and exhibit of their handiwork in competition with other club members for county, state and national 4-H clothing awards provided by Coats & Clark.

An even dozen college scholarships worth $400 each are awaiting the 12 top 4-H'ers to be selected from 50 state winners next fall. The state champion will be a delegate to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago with all expenses paid.

For more information about joining a 4-H Club contact the county Extension agent.

FROM THE County Agent's Office

By Cecil Lewis

Livestock
There has been some trouble with many herds of hogs because a good disease control program has not been followed. The sale of hog cholera vaccine has dropped way down and it shows that chances of outbreak can occur. A good vaccination program is a necessity when feeder pigs are brought in from different farms. This money spent in a disease control program can mean added profit.

Control of lice and worms can help improve gain and feed efficiency. The control of lice can also prevent the spread of swine pox.

Cotton Insect Situation

Most fields do not have many insect numbers. Some occurrence of flea-hoppers have been found in most communities. Before the rains large numbers of fleahoppers were reported seen in weeds in bar ditches and fence rows.

Fields should be watched closely for these insects.

County 4-H Club Camp

Any 4-H boy or girl who is interested in attending 4-H camp at Roaring Springs, Thursday and Friday, July 21 and 22 should return the cards received or contact the Agent's and the County Agent's office.

The county 4-H council has arranged a good program of events and should be enjoyed by all. The reservations should be turned in to us by July 18 so that last minute plans can be made.

Dear Editor:
 I see where the U. S. Health Department is spending $89,811 to study The Functions of Play in Developing Adult Behavior.

Some of this Bureau's operatives have just finished researching eighty cocktail parties, and my public-spirited neighbor says he would like to join the crusade and help gather this type of vital data for the snoopercrats.

Says he is experienced in several types of play, and the behavior developments therefrom, and feels like with the U. S. treasury to back him, he could bring in some memorable dope on horse playing and crap games.

Farm Bureau Tour Is Postponed

Waco — The Texas Farm Bureau Goodwill Tour to Mexico has been postponed until Aug. 4-14, according to an announcement by J. H. West, president of the state farm organization. The tour was originally scheduled for July 14-24.

"With this postponement, we will be able to take advantage of certain tour extras that are now being arranged in Mexico," West said. "Also, many people who expressed interest in going along on the tour have indicated that they prefer an August date for the trip."

The tour itinerary, which includes visits to places of agricultural interest as well as sight-seeing and stop-overs in fabulous resorts, has not been changed, West added.

The tour is not limited to Farm Bureau members since transportation to and from Mexico City is via regular airline flights instead of a chartered plane. Persons desiring to go along can secure information on how to become a tour member by writing the Texas Farm Bureau, Box 489, Waco.

FATAL ACCIDENTS 6/6 FATALITIES 6/6 DEATHLESS DAYS 6/6

THE DEADLY TRUTH—About traffic safety in Texas in 1959 was that only one day in the whole year was free of traffic deaths. In 1958, there were five "Deathless Days" in Texas, four in 1957, five in 1956, three in 1955. If more Texans will drive in such a way that their cars are never involved in a crash which takes a human life, then Texas can record more "Deathless Days." Will YOU drive so that the Fourth of July holiday will add a "Deathless Day" to the Texas traffic calendar? (Official 1959 Texas Traffic Death Calendar Compiled by Statistical Services, Texas Department of Public Safety and Reproduced by the Governor's Highway Safety Commission, Austin, Texas.)

CROSS ROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:
My pot-bearing neighbor says he tries all the diets, reducing pills, etc., which he reads about, but all he has lost so far is his confidence in science.

Says, though, this failure might make him a rich man, if he could just get a good research team interested in running some tests on him.

Figures it ought to be worth plenty to cattle raisers to get the secret of how his carburetor can take one pound of groceries and put on two pounds of fat.

The rain has finally stopped after almost six inches of moisture. Many of the fields still look like lakes, but the draw has finally gone down. Reports are that water got into some of the homes at Barwise.

The Sand Hill Club meeting and the Community meetings were called off due to the rain. Dates have not been set for these meetings. The 4-H dress review is Wednesday and the public review will be Friday. The Sand Hill Club will meet in their regular meeting Wednesday July 20. All members are urged to attend.

Norma Hollums and Warren Mitchell from the Sand Hill 4-H Club attended the Wednesday Camp in Lubbock. They reported it was rained out. They had a good attendance while they were there.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Noel and Mrs. Brownwood are planning a family reunion Friday. J. T. Huckabay and Jimmy Durrell Overton spent a few days last week at Stamford fishing. While there, Jimmy cut his foot on a piece of glass and had to have several stitches taken in it.

They stopped to get their daughter, Beverly, who had been visiting with Kay Stokes.

Miss Judy Bullocks left this week from Shamrock to visit relatives several days. Brenda Corder, Fort Worth, has been here visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Miller and family this week.

Reports on Cecil Jackson and Mary Starkey are good this week. Cecil is able to be up but is still very sore. Mary is still in the hospital in Lubbock. She will have dental surgery the latter part of this week. After that she may be able to return home. She will have to be in a wheel chair two months after she returns home. They enjoy your visits and cards and letters.

4-H Club Hears Safety Rules

CROSS ROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:
My pot-bearing neighbor says he tries all the diets, reducing pills, etc., which he reads about, but all he has lost so far is his confidence in science.

Says, though, this failure might make him a rich man, if he could just get a good research team interested in running some tests on him.

Figures it ought to be worth plenty to cattle raisers to get the secret of how his carburetor can take one pound of groceries and put on two pounds of fat.

Mrs. Ricky Dollar assisted her sister as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Eleane Baxter and Bonnie Dorman, Cotton Center, cousin of the bride. Candle lighters were Sandra McCandless, sister of the bridegroom, and Roger Dorman, brother of the bride. Ronda Messimer, Floydada, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl. Feminine attendants wore pale blue sundresses with darker blue aprons of silk organza and matching mits. Their bouquets were of white carnations with blue ribbon.

Attending the groom were Jackie Don Calahan, best man, and Ushers were Ricky Dollar, Lubbock, brother-in-law of the bride, and Kenneth Kendrick.

Coming to the altar on the arm of her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of white French lace which featured a scooped neckline and long tapered sleeves. Tiny self covered buttons closed the pointed sleeves and back of the fitted bodice which also came to a point. Her full skirt was fashioned with a wide inset of French lace. At her neck the bride wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. She also wore a bracelet belonging to the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. C. A.

Russell, Floydada, that Mrs. Russell had worn in her own wedding. This was the traditional something old. Completing it was her new wedding attire, a blue garter and the white Bible borrowed from Mrs. Dollar, on which her bouquet of white carnations and white streamers tied in love knots rested. A crown of seed pearls and iridescent sequins held her fingertip veil of silk illusion.

Elaine Cooper, organist, played the traditional marches and accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Gary Sides who sang "Whither Thou Goest," and "I Love You Truly."

Mrs. Dorman chose a dress of blue and white lace over white with white and black accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. McCandless wore a black linen sheath with white linen jacket and white and black accessories. Both were given corsages of white carnations.

The couple and their parents along with the feminine attendants received guests at the reception in the Fellowship hall of the church following the ceremony. The table featured blue under a beautiful white cloth, hand crocheted by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. A. Clark of Plainview. The centerpiece was a miniature bride and groom surrounded by white spider mums and blue ribbon-bridgroom, was flower girl, and ushers were Ricky Dollar, best man. Serving were Misses Jean Jody Paie, Pat Grey registered guests.

For a wedding trip to Carlsbad, New Mexico, the bride wore a navy dress of waffle pique with a scoop neckline and full pleated skirt with her corsage of white carnations.

The bride is a 1960 graduate of Lockney High School. The groom is a 1959 graduate of Lockney High School and Television Electronics Institute in Albuquerque, New Mexico, where he studied to be an electronic engineer. The couple will live in Lockney temporarily.

Millions Of Bindweed Seeds Produced Per Acre

The past few weeks of hot dry weather have been very inductive to a prolific Bindweed seed production. Research has found that over 1/2 million Bindweed seed were produced per acre on wheat land and up to 4 1/2 million seeds per acre were formed in Bindweed infested road ditches, according to Douglas Degge, supervisor of the Floyd County Noxious Weed Control District.

These astounding figures should make everyone more conscious of preventing this noxious weed from producing seed. Many farms which are under contract with the Federal Government in the Soil Bank have heavy infestations of Bindweed in heavy seed production. This land will be back in production some day and if efforts are not made to control Bindweed now it will be difficult and expensive to produce any type of agronomic crop on his land.

A few farmers in the county are making an effort to eradicate the Bindweed while their land is in government contract in anticipation of having clean farm land when it is put back into production. Control can be exercised at nominal cost to the land owner. The Weed District is willing to assist land owners in setting up a control program on such land.

Tennessee has a natural bridge, 175 feet long, 25 feet wide, and carved out of sandstone, near Jasper. It is quite similar in many ways to the one in Virginia, which was surveyed by Washington, and owned by Jefferson.

There are 170 species of willow, 65 of which are native to U. S., only 26 of which ever reach tree size.

Dear Editor:

I see where Representative Harris is all fore up because the papers have been printing figures on how much tax money some wanderlust Congressmen spend for high living on the road.

He says the reporters are doing this just to get back at his committee for digging into TV payola, and it ought to be unlawful for anybody to investigate Congressmen.

My touched heart neighbor says it must be mighty frustrating to be out rounding up sinners, and then get word that some of your posse may be raiding the hen house.

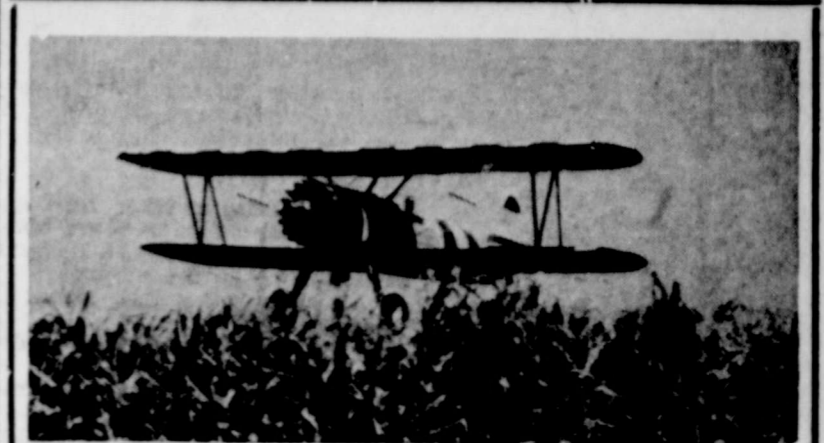

HUMAN FAMILY?

Read somewhere that of the human beings who have lived on this earth, 72,000,000,000 are dead and 2,790,000,000 are living. Or at least they think they are living. Out of this total group, who contributed the most to man as a human being?

You might run over the scale of the great and near great and still not touch the one I have in mind because he is a completely obscure little nobody who invented the belt. Why is he so great? The belt is the only thing that holds my britches up and that's important to me.—Cecil Waggoner in Claude News.

In mid-winter, the earth is some 186 million miles from where it was in mid-summer, and reared on the opposite side of the sun. Robert Louis Stevenson studied engineering and law at Edinburg University, and received diplomas in each, before taking up writing.

Paymaster Farm Turns Soybean Program Over To High Plains

The Paymaster Farm has recently turned over its soybean research program with 322 varieties of soybeans to the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway. As a result the High Plains Station will grow 454 varieties of soybeans this year in its stepped-up research on this crop.

Dr. Harold Loden, representing Paymaster Farm, recently made the formal transfer to Foundation representatives, Dr. T. C. Longnecker, director, and Dr. Earl Collister, who will direct the research.

In adding the Paymaster Farms' varieties to the Foundation's collection, Dr. Loden said, "There is no use to duplicate research, and besides, Paymaster Farms does not have a scientist of Dr. Collister's calibre to carry on its research. Paymaster wants to concentrate on cotton and grain sorghum development."

"Paymaster will lend any assistance possible to Dr. Collister and will give financial support to the Foundation's program on soybeans."

Dr. Collister and others connected with the research are looking at the program over a period of years. It is expected that it will take 10 to 14 years to develop soybeans especially adapted to the Plains and West Texas regions and after that at least three years of field growing tests to determine which variety, if any, are acceptable. "If we are real lucky," Dr. Collister said — and he doesn't depend on a rabbit's foot in his business — "we would find a soybean plant among all the thousands we will grow the first two or three years that would spell the answer. That would be a bonus, but we have to depend on actual work for results," he added.

At Renner where Dr. Collister concentrated on soybean research ten years before coming to the High Plains farm at Halfway west of Plainview last November he developed the Arthur Hopkins variety which is well adapted to North Central Texas.

For breeding purposes, this year the soybeans will be planted in 16-foot rows. This crop will be used for evaluation. Dr. Collister will be on most intimate terms with every soybean plant in the field before his job is done.

He will familiarize himself with the plants' general characteristics, their individual responses to cultivation, moisture, their maturity schedules, thriftiness, production, non-shattering potentialities and all the other characteristics that make a soybean good or bad for the Plains and West Texas.

Cross pollination work will begin with the next crop with specimens Dr. Collister selects from this year's experiment.

"The varieties we have received from Paymaster could if we are lucky, cut years off the possible period of development," Dr. Collister observed. He pointed out that every year the period of development is reduced could mean millions of dollars for soybean growers. Dr. Collister says proof of the until value of soybeans as a money crop is plain in the income that has increased from less than $1 billion to more than $40 billions in ten years in some states.

"Soybean is a natural for the irrigated Plains," Dr. Loden emphasized. In addition to its cash value it is a soil builder and, Dr. Loden said, cotton grown following soybeans is far less weedy and foul than cotton grown after grain sorghum.

About one out of every four bushels of soybeans produced in the United States is exported. That is an attractive feature for the American farmer who seems to build up an undesirable crop surplus every time he mounts his tractor.

Dr. Loden said the Paymaster Farms has been growing soybean varieties since 1942 and has been conducting research since 1952.

"That gives us a big jump ahead in what we hope to do," Dr. Collister says. Most of the varieties supplied by Paymaster to the foundation came from the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Much testing was done with the Lee and Hill varieties. Planting periods, amount of seeds to the acre, row spacing, irrigation and harvesting methods were included in the Paymaster trials. The cultivation practices are pretty well worked out, another fact that will help the foundation's program get ahead.

A soybean that can be planted like grain sorghum, a variety that will forge ahead to replace the wheat acreage which is being, or practically has been, abandoned in this part of the irrigated Plains.

The Superintendent said that the local district pays only the state salary schedule to class room teachers, which begins at $3204 for a person who has just completed four years of college. The district does pay a bonus to the three principals, the band director and the coaches. The district pays expenses of the various administrative personnel to attend professional meetings, as well as the coaches and some class room teachers, including teachers of science, English, agriculture, homemaking and Spanish.

He pointed out the value of supervisor, Henry C. Ford, Jr., to the school system and stated that his salary was paid entirely by the state. He complimented Ford's guidance and testing program which covers all students.

Nicholas said that the requirements for graduation from the local school have been raised to 20 credits, study hall has been discontinued and the class periods lengthened to include a 20 minute study period in each. The school now gives three credits in physical education and four in music.

Listing the things most needed by the school now, Supt. Nicholas said that more building is the primary need. He also listed counselors, a special school for non-English-speaking students, for which the state will pay 80 per cent of the cost. The current budget calls for $18,000 more than anticipated revenue, but the district will receive $15,000 which has been going to the interest and sinking fund and the anticipated revenue is based on 90 percent collections. Since past experience shows a better collection record than this, the Superintendent expects that the school will have enough money to meet the budget the coming year.

Fortenberry To —

(Continued from page 1) Eddie has rented 320 acres with irrigation wells. With exceptionally good management and with application of newest improved practices, Eddie has forged ahead, rising above debts to a net worth of over $27,000 in 1960. In 1957, Eddie's successful farming operations were recognized by his neighbors when he was selected as Floyd County's Outstanding Soil Conservation Farmer.

"In May of this year an Area I Committee appointed by Walter Labay, Area Supervisor of Vocational Agriculture, scrutinized farming programs of various prominent young farmers in the plains area and selected Fortenberry as the Outstanding Young Farmer in the area. Fortenberry is president of the new Young Farmers Chapter at Lockney. He is married and has two children.

"Walter Labay, Area Supervisor of vo-ag, Plainview, points out that young Fortenberry's farming activities along with the drive and determination which enabled him to rise above initial failure and hardships certainly merits for him the award of Area I Outstanding Young Farmer. M. L. Brewer is vo-ag teacher at Lockney and is advisor to the Lockney Young Farmer Chapter."

Dear Editor:

I note that every day or two some other large wheel in politics says we are sitting ducks for Russia if we don't spend more money on defense.

My blown-top neighbor says this is a downright slam on our Pantagonians who have dedicated their lives to spending us strong.

Says as long as we have got championship-type Navy buyers who can put out $21 each for 25-cent lamp sockets, we are going to be mighty hard to whip in a spending war.
