EDITORIAL

What doth the Lord require of thee but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God? — Micah 6:8.

THE BEACON EDITOR has received an anonymous letter concerning an article that appeared in last week's paper. Although we appreciate at least some of the opinions expressed in the letter, it is against our policy to publish letters that are not signed. Also we avoid publishing letters that are unnecessarily critical although the criticism in some cases may be deserved. We appreciate having the opinion of our readers in the form of letters to the editor and we are glad to publish such letters whether or not they express our point of view, but they must be signed and avoid unnecessary abuse.

IF THE LETTER complies with the above policy and the writer does not want his name published, we will publish the letter without the name but the letter must be signed so that we will know who has written, and can produce the name should the letter be questioned.

NOBODY, BUT NOBODY is surprised that the AFL-CIO has decided to back the Democratic ticket. Why shouldn't they since Walter Reuther, a high officer in the AFL-CIO organization and head of the United Auto Workers, was one of the authors of the Democratic platform. If ever an area was slapped in the face with a party platform, the South has been slapped with the platform adopted by the Democratic party. It is the most radical, rabid, socialistic platform ever adopted by any political party outside of the Communist party and doesn't deserve the support of any one in the South. As far as we are concerned the placing of Lyndon Johnson on the ticket as the vice-presidential candidate hardly makes up for being slapped in the face. But as long as the brass collar is worn by the South, we can hardly expect any better treatment.

LABOR DAY week-end is coming up and highway officials are predicting a big traffic toll in dead and injured. This community has recently seen the terrible results of a moment of carelessness and it was something we won't soon forget. Here are some rules which are suggested by the Governor's Highway Safety Commission for the driver. We think they are good. Read them:

He stops for the fellow who runs through "on the yellow."

He doesn't squeeze the reckless passer, but lets him cut back into line.

He'd rather get a wave of thanks than a dirty look from the other driver.

He watches for the fellow who pulls out of a parking space without signal.

He treats pedestrians, especially children, as though they were members of his own family.

He shrugs his shoulders and gets out of the road-hog's way. Competing with him is too expensive.

FROM ENGLAND'S Manchester Guardian: "Anglo-American friendship and American participation in the defense of Western Europe are the cornerstones of the defense policy of the British Government — and so far, of the Labour Party — also long may it be so. While it is, the American bases are here to stay, and the British Government, and the British people, will rightly ignore Mr. Khrushchev's threats to retaliate with rockets against bases from which American aircraft start on what he may declare to be espionage flights. If we give ground now, many other countries in which the United States maintains bases, not necessarily for reconnaissance purposes will be tempted to try for cover. If we stand firm, they will —"

FORTUNE REPORTS that some 3,000 U.S. companies now have substantial investments overseas. Since 1950, it adds, the total of private direct U.S. investments abroad has risen from about $12 billion to nearly $30 billion.

WHAT YOU CAN DO TO FIGHT COMMUNISM

AND PRESERVE

Avert yourself—learn the true nature and tactics of communism.

Make civic programs for social improvement your business.

Exercise your right to vote; elect representatives of integrity.

Respect human dignity—communism and individual rights cannot coexist.

Inform yourself; know your country—its history, traditions, and heritage.

Combat public apathy toward communism—indifference can be fatal when national survival is at stake.

Attack bigotry and prejudice wherever they appear; justice for all is the bulwark of democracy.

FARM PROBLEMS

Vice President Nixon has yet to make a public speech on the farm problem and his ideas of its possible solution. Sen. John F. Kennedy made his first of that kind last Sunday in Des Moines, Ia., but did nothing except talk in glittering generalities. He said he'd make things better for the farmer, but didn't say how, and it could be that Mr. Nixon will do no better when his turn comes on the rural stump.

It just could be that neither presidential candidate has any more of a solution to the farm problem than his predecessors have had and, once more, all the farmer will get is a lot of nice promises.

Senator Kennedy's jumping on Secretary Ezra T. Benson, and

Mr. Nixon's disassociating himself from the gentleman from Utah, may furnish some campaign sound and fury, but neither promises a real answer. And farmers are smart enough to know that. — Charlie Guy In Lubbock Avalanche-Journal.

SELL US OUT

The State Department has been trying to get the Connally Reservation (SR 94) repealed or bypassed to supersede the Constitution and place a large part of our rights on the seas under compulsory jurisdiction of the World Court. We have only one judge on this court of 15, while the Communists have two. Both Senators Johnson and Yarborough have previously voted to sell-out America's sovereignty in this matter to the World Court. The One-World boys are making progress. What do you think? Then, write your senator. — Frank Hill, Lynn County News.

FOOD TOO HIGH

Doris Evans spotted this short, significant story somewhere recently and passed it on:

The woman just ahead unloaded her supermarket cart containing two magazines, paper napkins and towels, soap, two cosmetic items, a phonograph record, six glasses and one other dish, cleaning fluids, chocolate syrup, a carton of fresh shrimp, a pair of nylon hose, and a sack of potatoes.

"My food bill is something terrific," she commented as she paid her bill. "No wonder farmers are getting so rich." — Pat Bennett in Crosbyton Review.

Dear Editor: I see where the brilliant conceptioners of the current Democrat platform have boldly attacked the national worry about why Johnny can't read.

They have just taken a bold pass at the manner and decreed that whether John can read or not, he can still vote.

Which my happy neighbor says nobly guarantees security to all handicapped victims of progressiveness by fixing it so they don't have to know anything; they can just vote for a living. D. E. SCOTT Crossroads, U.S.A.

New Rexall Formulas Feed Natural Beauty Into Hair

Rexall laboratories have developed a formula which penetrates the hair shaft and restores and protects the natural beauty intended by Nature.

To understand the significance of this boon to natural beauty it is necessary to know the complex structure of hair. As explained Clyde Briley, druggist in Lockney Drug, each hair is composed of a root contained in a sheath called the hair follicle, and the shaft which grows from the extreme end of this follicle. The shaft receives its nourishment from blood vessels that extend into the follicle and, for a short distance, into the shaft itself.

If yours is a normal scalp, you have from 100,000 to 200,000 individual hair shafts, each one a living, growing organism, and Nature is constantly supplying it with nutrients essential for healthy growth and beauty. One is a vital part of all life and the basic building block that gives your hair body and strength. Another is panthenol, a vitamin that is a natural lubricating element that keeps your hair supple, keeps it elastic and resilient, helps prevent it from drying, splitting and breaking.

This, then, is your "crowning glory." But Nature's plan for beauty is constantly being lost through exposure to sun, wind, dust, air pollution and other environmental pollutants, along with harsh shampoos, bleaches, dyes and improper care.

Rexall scientists reasoned that if Nature's own replenishment cycle could be aided by actually penetrating the hair shafts with substances similar to those Nature uses, real improvement could be achieved. They searched for years for means of achieving this and at last succeeded. Now you can:

1. Cleanse your hair without robbing it of precious natural oils.
2. Protect and prolong the life of natural nutrients.
3. Sustain healthfully clean hair between shampoos.
4. Enhance natural strength, lustre and sheen.

Rexall offers a shampoo that cleans without washing away precious oils, sebum and panthenol vitamin. It's a New Awakening for your hair called Controlled Action Shampoo. This exclusive Rexall formula is automatically controlled to cleanse your hair while protecting Nature's nutrients. The scientific base is amphoteric, which means the ingredients are so balanced and buffered that they automatically meet the cleansing needs of your hair.

To preserve the healthful cleanliness and beauty New Awakening Shampoo has revived, Rexall research has perfected New Awakening Sheen "N" Shield Rinse. This formula is fortified with Prolanovite, a Rexall Laboratories secret that combines protein with a unique lanolin compound nearly approximating the function of natural sebum in your hair.

This rinse takes Prolanovite right into each shaft of hair. To combat ancient enemies of beauty — dust, wind and sun — Rexall scientists have developed a formula called New Awakening Moisture-Guard Conditioner. Used just a few moments each night or morning, this conditioner will constantly reinforce the natural elasticity of your hair, constantly restore and sustain its natural moisture balance. Dandruff and dryness are denied the conditions that help cause them.

Moisture-Guard Conditioner contains Prolanovite. That means you will be giving your hair a daily treatment with beauty-promoting protein, lanolin and Panthenol vitamin.

There is yet another New Awakening for your hair—Crystal Clear Hair Spray. It can hold your hair in the most delicate, fragile, natural style, yet there's not a single ingredient that will dull or darken. It also contains beauty-aiding lanolin and Panthenol vitamin. It is absolutely transparent, without the slightest trace of laquer or goo.

And for special dates or special evenings, Rexall has provided Star Shine. Compounded of the most delicate oils, it makes your hair dance with highlights, gleam with natural radiance.

DO YOU BELIEVE IN WITCHCRAFT?

WHEN YOU ARE ILL, avoid the well-meaning friend who offers "good-old-fashioned" advice. Grandmother's remedies may help or they may not. In either case, chances are they have been greatly improved by medical science of today. Save yourself needless discomfort, time, and money. Let your doctor diagnose and prescribe for you.

And bring that prescription to us for prompt, friendly service.

Couple Will Reside Here Following California Rites

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Neal Ford are now at home in Lockney following their wedding August 20 at Paso Robles, California.

The bride, the former Harriett Ann Agee, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey L. Steele, Shandon Star Route, Paso Robles, California, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Ford, Lockney.

The double ring ceremony was solemnized Saturday, Aug. 20, at 8 p.m. in the First Baptist Church, Paso Robles, California, with the pastor, Rev. P. W. Brown, officiating.

The altar was decorated with tall baskets of white gladioli and two candelabra accented with fern tied with large white bows. The aisles were marked with white gladioli and fern tied with white ribbon.

Clifford Monk, organist, played the wedding music and accompanied Miss Mary Mitchell who sang, "Oh Promise Me", "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Given in marriage by her step-father, the bride wore a gown of white satin and Chantilly lace fashioned by her mother. The molded bodice featured a yoke of white silk organza, scalloped neckline, Peter Pan collar and tiny covered buttons down the back and on the sleeves at the wrists.

The floor length skirt featured tiers of white nylon tulle. Her finger tip veil of white nylon tulle flowed from a crown of white seed pearls. She carried a white orchid surrounded by tiny carnations accented with strings of pearls and a shower of bridal satin ribbon. The bouquet was arranged atop a white Bible, a gift from the bride's mother.

Miss Pam McKim of Paso Robles was maid of honor. She was dressed in yellow polished cotton designed with a lace covered bodice fashioned with a scoop neck, brief sleeves and straight fitted skirt. She wore a matching picture hat and lace mitts and carried an arm bouquet of tangerine carnations. Bridesmaids were Misses Linda Lane and Cathy Hall. They wore dresses of aqua and lavender fashioned identical to that of the maid of honor. They wore matching picture hats and carried arm bouquets of pink carnations.

Window Fabrics That Resist Sun Fading
If the sun fades your curtains or draperies, look for fabrics with special qualities of sunlight resistance. There are several such fabrics on the market.

Solution-dyed acetates are color fast to sun-fading. The color is added to the liquid cellulose before it is spun into yarn which seals in the color. You will find numerous solution-dyed acetates with a shiny back to resist fading. These fabrics do not require a lining.

Another choice is 100 percent fortisan or fortisan in combination with one of the solution-dyed acetates.

Still another choice is fiberglass, which is available in unusual weaves and colors.

Take time to read the labels on drapery fabrics. Under the labeling act recently passed, curtain fabrics will give the name of fiber or fibers and their percentages—when each makes up more than 5 percent of the fabric.

Make Church - Going a Habit

are they Going?

A familiar sight . . . men with briefcases daily throng airports all over the nation, winging their way from one place to another. But where, really, are they going?

In this busy age of appointments, rush hours, and summit meetings, we search for success, for more money, for a better future, for a variety of things. Yet, like so many mid-twentieth century Americans, the harder we seek the less we find

We need a job, a purpose, a home, a family. But also, we need a church. We need to go into that church to reaffirm our faith both in God and in our fellow beings. Only then does our quest — and our ultimate destination — begin to make sense.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Wilma Barclay and Doyle Poole, Jr., United in Marriage

Miss Wilma Barclay and Doyle Poole, Jr., were united in marriage Friday afternoon at 6 o'clock in a double ring ceremony at the First Baptist Church in Lockney.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Barclay, and Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Poole, Sr., all of Lockney.

Rev. Temple Lewis, pastor of the Lone Star Baptist Church, read the vows as the couple stood before an arrangement of beautiful red and white zinnias and red dahlias, and a kneeling bench holding a red Bible opened to Proverbs 31:10-11.

Lynda Poole, sister of the groom, played the wedding march.

Entering on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride wore a formal gown of imported lace on Acelon net over satin. The molded bodice was designed with a portrait neckline, long petal point sleeves, and tiny self covered buttons on the back and sleeves. Seed pearls and iridescent sequins accented the bodice and bouffant ruffled skirt which extended into a chapel train. Her finger tip length veil of silk illusion was edged with imported lace and attached to a crown of tiny pearls centered with a large cultured pearl. She carried a bouquet of white carnations nestled in white satin leaves and white satin streamers.

Miss Jessie Barclay, sister of the bride, was her maid of honor. She wore a red ballerina length formal gown fashioned with tiny ruffles from top to bottom.

Don Smith of Lockney served the groom as best man. A reception followed the cere-

Telephone Man Tells Of Outer Space Signals

Plans to expand worldwide communications by bouncing telephone calls off satellites orbiting in outer space was described Monday to members of the Lockney Lions Club.

Glenn Scott, public information supervisor for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, used miniature equipment to demonstrate Project Echo, an experiment conducted by Bell Telephone Laboratories scientists.

These scientists completed a long distance telephone call between Holmdel, New Jersey, and Goldstone, California, by bouncing their voice signals off a balloon satellite in orbit 1,000 miles above the earth.

Scott also demonstrated other techniques Bell Laboratories have developed to improve and increase telephone transmission over a few miles or around the world.

Among these was an electronic device that doubles the transmission capacity of the transoceanic telephone cables. He also demonstrated an experimental device that can transmit samples of many different telephone conversations over the same pair of wires at the same time and then decode them back to normal voice conversations at their destinations.

Members of the Lions Club also heard description of the vast communications network that has been built to serve the North American Air Defense Command — the military nerve center for defense of North America against invasion.

Scott also demonstrated how microwave systems work to beam long distance calls and television programs across the country via the airways. He had a model of a telephone of tomorrow that has pushbuttons instead of a dial.

His talk, "Voices Across Time and Space", was brought to the Lions Club by R. M. Olsen.

Cotton Insect Situation

Many fields are showing some boll worm infestation that are about borderline cases as far as control is concerned. When 4 to 5 small worms and eggs are found control should begin. For successful control the worms must be sprayed while they are still small.

Soil Tour

The annual Floyd County Soil Tour is being planned at the present time. Interesting stops on soil conservation practices, grain and cotton varieties, Midland Bermuda grass and some other stops are being planned.

The tour will be held Sept. 15, and will start from the agricultural building in Floydada at 9:30 a.m. Be sure to mark this date on your calendar.

NEWS from the High Plains Research Foundation

Many new research projects as well as new machinery, aviation and irrigation exhibits will be featured at the Fourth Annual Field Day at the High Plains Research Foundation on Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 14, at Halfway, Texas.

Scientists will discuss results and progress with the new expanded research program with cotton. Other new research to be reviewed will include flame cultivation, sesame and soybean breeding programs, and the expanded programs with grain sorghum and castor beans. Soil and water conservation research involving irrigation cycles with cotton and grain sorghum, bench leveling, including irrigated and dryland studies, and recharge surface water underground will also be included in the afternoon program.

Tractor drawn trailers will transport visitors throughout the Field Tours.

Dr. T. C. Longnecker, director of the Foundation, stated that a full afternoon program has been arranged for the guests.

Miss Agnes Cooper and Mrs. Doris Brunger of Tyler are here visiting Miss Cooper's mother, Mrs. L. A. Cooper. The couple are on vacation and enroute back to Tyler after visiting in El Paso and Clovis.

Visiting this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sid Thomas were Rev. and Mrs. L. F. Parker of Muldoon, Texas. Mrs. Parker is Mr. Thomas' sister. Also visiting them with his family was Mark Fairman.

Belt Installs Small Pump To Utilize Irrigation Tail Water

— J. R. Belt, Jr., Lockney farmer and Vice President of the Board of Directors of the High Plains Under-land Water Conservation District, has recently installed a pump on one tract of his farm for the purpose of recirculating irrigation "tailwater."

The pump was installed, but it was difficult to irrigate the land adequately without some means because the surface of the land slopes sharply near the rows. However, since the recirculating pump is installed, it is now possible to slope down the land and have enough water to facilitate proper irrigation into the soil.

The permanent border is located at the low end of the field. It is used to retain "tailwater" on the farm. When water enters the field through the gravity feeds, it then flows back to the surface of the recirculating pump.

The pump itself is located about 200 yards from the intake which is situated at the high point on the farm. The intake was made by placing a 4-inch diameter concrete pipe in a vertical position. The pipe section is 3 feet in diameter and 4 feet long. A 12-inch concrete pipe was then laid beneath the intake to connect the intake to the recirculating pump.

The pipeline is gradually sloping toward the pump so water entering the intake will flow toward the pump. It was necessary to locate the pump on high ground and away from the water.

The sump in which the pump is installed is constructed in the same manner as the intake pipe, but instead of using 4-inch diameter concrete pipe, three pieces of concrete pipe, three pieces each one length of 3 feet by 4 inches diameter were used. When joined together vertically they made a sump twelve feet deep.

The pump consists of a one-and-a-half inch bowl assembly, 10 feet of 6-inch column pipe, is powered by a 5-horsepower electric motor that starts and stops automatically through the use of a switch controlled by a float in the sump. When the sump fills, the float cuts the motor on — when the pump empties the sump, the float cuts the motor off.

The discharge of the pump is connected to a steel riser that in turn is connected to 8-inch plastic pipe. The plastic pipe extends approximately 600 yards to one of two irrigation wells on the farm. There it joins a previously installed concrete pipeline system.

Irrigation water from the two wells is distributed to the crop through the older underground pipelines and surface gated-pipe. The recirculating pump coming on and going off does not interfere in any way with the normal irrigation process, and no labor is required to operate it because of the automatic controls.

Mr. Belt states that the overall cost of installing the recirculating pump system was approximately $2500. However, he says that under ordinary circumstances this cost could be reduced by decreasing the size of the plastic pipe. He installed pipe of this size because he has future plans for utilizing it that have nothing to do with the recirculating pump.

Mr. Belt has only used the recirculating system on one occasion so he is not fully aware of its benefits; however, he states that he can now run irrigation water through his field until he has the desired moisture penetration without fear of wasting water. Also, he states that now he does not need to tie up a man's time in maintaining the border at the bottom of the field because water does not build up on it.

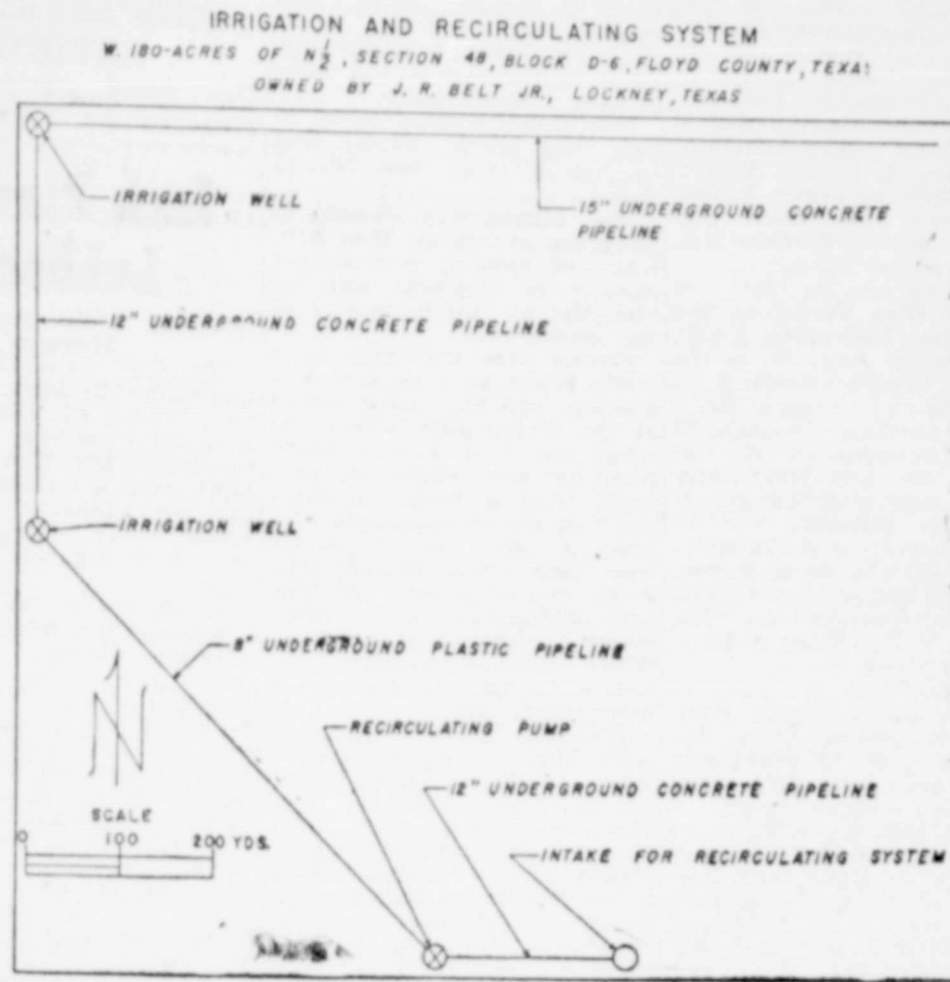

The High Plains Water District has installed a flowmeter on the discharge of the recirculating pump to calculate the amount of "tailwater" being pumped.

Mrs. Leslie Floyd will enter Methodist Hospital in Lubbock Thursday afternoon of this week and undergo an operation there Friday morning.

J. R. BELT JR., Lockney farmer, is shown as he checks the automatic float control that turns his recirculating pump on and off. When the sump, in which the pump is setting, fills with irrigation "tailwater" the pump starts automatically and sends the water back to the high side of the field where it can be used again.

CITY BENEATH THE SEA

Under the calm waters of Medina Lake west of San Antonio is the site of the settlement of Mountain Valley. A Mormon leader, Lyman Wright, established 16 families on this site in 1854 only to be driven away four years later by the Indians.

Medina Lake makes a quite resting place for this settlement with its violent history. The lake is also reputed to be the resting place of many of those big fish that "got away."

South Plains

By Mrs. Murray Julian

School opened at South Plains Monday morning with a welcoming speech by Principal J. M. Williams, and a talk by Rev. John Gillispie. The school buses ran their routes, and mothers tearfully sent their first graders off for their first day of school.

Scattered showers fell here Sunday evening. Arby Mulder and Sim Reeves received an inch of rain. Don Marble, R. H. Adams, Higginbotham, and Grigsby Milton received about a quarter inch. Others got a light sprinkle or little shower.

Rev. and Mrs. John Gillispie and children arrived home on Thursday after a vacation spent at Powell and Yellowstone National Park, Wyoming, and later a visit to see their parents in Lamesa. Church attendance was 85 Sunday morning, and 37 at night due to showers. A film, "The Wayland Story" was shown during the evening meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bledsoe and Bill spent last week end visiting in Lubbock with her sister, Mrs. Fay Sledge, Don and Dan.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Hidalgo and boys were hosts at a barbecue supper of chicken and steak Sunday evening with guests, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Smitherman and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Smitherman and boys.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Carver of Lubbock were dinner guests and afternoon visitors this Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Adams.

Mrs. Davis of Longview, Tex., is here visiting with her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Huckaby, and was a visitor at church services Sunday morning with Mrs. Huckaby.

Mrs. Leola McManamun of Dallas was a visitor at Sunday morning church services with her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Bean. Other visitors this past week with the Beans and Mrs. McManamun were the Billy Beans and children of Winters.

Mr. and Mrs. Dock Jones and boys spent last Saturday night and Sunday in Stinnett with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Davis and children. The Davises are building a new three bedroom home in Stinnett.

Mrs. Walter Wood, Mike and Walt Wood, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Jack McCown and Stevie, from near Fort Worth, went to Lubbock Sunday to Knapp Park where they attended the annual reunion of the Hazelwood families. Mr. and Mrs. James Teague and son of Lubbock, and guests Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Beedy from here, who had spent the night with the Teagues, were also present at the reunion.

O'Dell Mulder of Albuquerque, New Mexico, came last Saturday and spent the past week here with his brother and family, the Arby Muders. He and Jimmie Pritchett went to the Fitzgerald reunion with them last Sunday in Lubbock. O'Dell returned home Friday.

Mrs. Arby Mulder met with her youth group at the church Sunday afternoon, with Mrs.

They came home by way of Houston, where they visited the C. H. McMullens. They also went to Galveston where they enjoyed an outing at the beach.

Miss Janis Roberts Honored Miss Janis Roberts, bride-elect of Kendis Julian, was named honoree at a bridal shower Tuesday afternoon, Aug. 23 at four o'clock in the home of Mrs. Grigsby Milton.

The brides chosen colors of blue and white were used throughout the entertaining rooms.

Mrs. Milton was assisted in receiving guests by Miss Roberts, her mother, Mrs. Poyner Roberts of Floydada and by Mrs. Murray Julian, mother of the groom-to-be.

Guests were registered in a white brides book by Mrs. Roy Bledsoe, and they were served at the dining area, where the table was laid with a white linen cut work cloth, and centered with a bridal arrangement of white carnations with blue. A silver punch service was used where Mrs. Eugene Beedy poured punch, and Mrs. John Smitherman served white angel food squares and nuts. White napkins, bearing the names "Janis and Kendis" in blue, were used.

The first load of maize was brought in to the Clubb Elevator by Fred Fortenberry on Wednesday. The grain averaged about 3500 lbs., was cut by Max Marble, and the moisture content was 13.

Several families from our community attended the Plainview Production Credit Association banquet and open house which was held at the Floydada High School Friday night at 8. About seven families attended the affair, and enjoyed the beautiful building and the main speaker, Leon Hill, of Amarillo.

duties. Both are light, but have good speed. Rolling was a defensive starter last season and saw spot action on offense. Both boys are able pass receivers.

Rayland Brotherton, 165-pound junior will join the lineup on defense at middle guard. Rushing and Clark are also slated for defensive duty.

Coach Rhoten has listed the 'horn weaknesses as lack of speed, depth in the line, and experience. Only nine seniors grace the Big Red squad.

Lack of weight is also a drawback to the team's chances. Only seven men on the squad are listed over 160 pounds and the coaches can boast no 200 pounder.

History Of Lockney Reservations

Last week The Beacon carried an article telling of the writing of a history of Lockney by three 3rd grade teachers, Mrs. J. D. Copeland, Mrs. C. H. Cheves and Mrs. Robert Ayres. The history is well written, is interesting and factual. It is written in the language of a third grader so it may be used in the school room but that doesn't keep it from being interesting to adults.

The Beacon proposed to publish this little history book if enough people would agree to buy one in advance to assure us of getting the cost of printing out of it. Thus far some 25 people have written in asking for one of the books but this will not pay for the printing. We want only the cost of printing the book and any additional money coming in will be turned over to the teachers.

If you want one of these books, write a post card or letter to The Beacon asking that one be reserved for you. They are $1.00 each.

Change In FHA Loan Requirements

Under a recent change in the eligibility requirements for Farm Housing Loans, a farmer who owns a farm that will annually produce for sale or home use at least $400 worth of commodities may, if he meets other eligibility requirements, be able to obtain a Farm Housing Loan.

Previously, according to Joe T. Boone, Farmers Home Administration County Supervisor for Floyd County, an applicant had to own a farm that would produce a substantial amount of the operator's income.

Farm Housing loans are made by the Farmers Home Administration and are used to construct and repair needed farm houses and farm service buildings.

Other eligibility requirements for Farm Housing loans remain unchanged. These requirements are that the applicant lacks the resources needed to obtain credit elsewhere, be a citizen of the United States, and have sufficient income from farm and other sources to pay farm operating and family living expenses and meet payments, when due, on his debts.

Applications for this type of credit may be made at the County Office of the Farmers Home Administration located in the Bishop Building in Floyd-dad.

Further, the law requires that earnest money deposits made by Veterans be placed in trust accounts to provide safeguard in case the builder becomes insolvent.

Application for this benefit should be made upon completion of VA Form 10-103 and the same as for other patient treatment.
