In her business, she is in contact with school children throughout the year. They know and love her for her many acts of kindness. It takes devotion to young people to constantly be part of their lives day in and out. Her love for kids always comes through. She is truly an inspiration to many for her Christian love and always that special sense of humor that she has. She is "Living Proof" of a Christian citizen."

Welcome Rain Spreads Across Floyd County

Southeasterly winds brought welcome rainfall to Floyd County on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. The

.8 reported by Pioneer Natural Gas in Floydada brought the year's total rainfall to 2.90.

This was more than this time last year with a total of 2.06 following a two inch rain just about the same time last year.

Much of the dryland wheat will still benefit from the rainfall, and some irrigated wheat will possibly not be irrigated again before harvest due to the rainfall.

With some corn planted, onions set out, and many farmers ready to plant grain sorghum, the rain couldn't have come at a better time.

Pivot Irrigation In Floyd County

PIVOT IRRIGATION systems are now being installed in Floyd County. In Pullman clay loam soils light applications of 1 1/2 or 2 inches or less will be needed usually for the system to function properly.

Pivot or circular irrigation systems are now being installed by many farmers in Floyd County. These systems have been in use for a number of years in the counties west of Floyd County and have helped to conserve the underground water supply because their soils are sandier and in many cases much water was wasted as it leaked down past the root zone when a surface system was used.

Most of the soils on top of the "Caprock" in Floyd County are Pullman clay loam or similar type soils.

present for a Scout presentation that Tuesday night in which the Teague family were involved. She returned home Wednesday.

Wednesday night's rainfall brought varying amounts to our area, from .40 to 1.20 in the southeastern part. All that fell was wonderful, and farmers appreciate each drop that comes.

Travis Young is having a farm sale at his farm on the Silverton Highway today, Thursday, April 14.

Mrs. Tillman Powell (Doris) will enter St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock Monday, April 18, for major surgery. She expects to be in the hospital about five days. We wish her a speedy recovery.

Spending Easter Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Johnson and boys were Mr. and Mrs. Travis Jones and her mother, Mrs. Roberts of Floydada.

South Plains Hobby Club met Wednesday afternoon in Lockney at the home of Mrs. Mildred Wells, with Miss Kathy Burke of the Light-house Electric giving a program on the making of "Crepes". Mrs. Kendall Cummings presided over the meeting, and roll call was, "A Useful Hint For Spring Cleaning." Mrs. Fred Marble gave the "Thought For the Day." Kathy Burke demonstrated making Crepes, and they were served at the refreshment time, with as-

These soils for irrigation are "tighter" and have a slower intake rate for water and may present a problem with runoff of the irrigation water being applied. Traction problems may also occur for the pivot systems.

Pivots have been used for a few years in the Northern Panhandle on Pullman type soils successfully. However, if installed to "run over" a terrace system, care should be taken to see that the "tracks" made over the terraces do not become too deep. This may cause terraces to break and cause a wash in the field. Applying a light application of less than 1 1/2 or 2 inches in most cases on Pullman soils will be necessary to prevent runoff and traction problems or "sticking" of the system. If irrigation runoff begins the system is running too slow and should be "speeded up". Playa lakes or other low areas that concentrate runoff water may present additional problems due to the extra water and "tighter" soils causing problems of running the system through the lake without "sticking".

Most systems will cover 126-131 acres out of a quarter section. A 900-1000 gpm system will be needed to fully irrigate and grow such crops as corn or grain sorghum. Systems with less water should be planted partially to a crop that can be expected to produce under pre-irrigation or reduced irrigation.

When one is deciding on a system two important considerations are: Flootation and the Co-efficient of Uniformity. Flootation is important in Pullman soils. The weight of each tower and the size tire has much to do with flootation. In most cases the more towers a system has the less each tower weighs and the wider the tire the better the system will "stand up" in the wet soil. Weight, number towers, tire size varies from brand to brand and these items should be given serious consideration.

The co-efficient of uniformity means how evenly the system applies the water. For example, if 1 1/2 inches is being applied and a can is placed anywhere in the field it should be the same amount less evaporation. If one catches 3/4 and another 2", then the system would not be applying the water evenly. Exactly the same amount in every can or 100% uniformity cannot be expected, but it should be 85% or better for a conservation irrigation system.

These are only some of the important factors to consider before converting to a pivot system. The Soil Conservation Service in cooperation with the Floyd County Soil and Water Conservation District will be glad to assist farmers with information on pivot irrigation. Please contact the SCS in the Agriculture Building or telephone 983-2352 for assistance or information. All programs and services of the USDA-SCS are available to everyone without regard to race, color, creed, sex or national origin.

South Plains News

By Mrs. Murray Julian

SOUTH PLAINS, April 14—Easter morning was cloudy and cool with 50 degree temperatures, and the whole week has been cloudy with a smattering of rain drops.

At the South Plains Baptist Easter services the church was full, with nearly a hundred for the Easter sermon given by Rev. Fred Blake. Kelvin Cummings gave his testimony at the morning service, and Mrs. Doris Powell gave her testimony at the evening services. Visitors present were Mrs. Jerry Chappell from Duncan, Oklahoma, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Widener and children, and Mrs. Lillian Marble, from Floydada. Mrs. Ira Henderson entered the Baptist Church Sunday morning and will soon be baptized.

Sunday evening at the Baptist Church a play, "The Challenge of The Cross," was given under the leadership of Mrs. Nathan Johnson, with Mrs. Kendis Julian at the piano, and Mrs. Nina Sanders and Mrs. Ruby Higginbotham in special music. The disciples and Evangel were Kristi Julian, Regina Sanders, Renee Sanders, Monte Lyons, Cindy Mulder, Mitzie Julian and Atha Blake. Visitors for the evening services were Mr. and Mrs. Travis Jones, and her mother, Mrs. Roberts all of Floydada.

out exports drastically cutting an already too low carryover."

Looking ahead to 1977-78, the economists see domestic use of cotton topping seven million bales but falling short of the 7.3 million bales used in 1973-76. Foreign cotton consumption, they predict should top 56 million bales, a two-million bale increase over this year.

Even with foreign production increases in 1977-78, says Cox, "these consumption prospects plus the need to rebuild stocks indicate demand for U.S. exports again should be above four million bales."

The foreign production outlook has been clouded, Cox points out, by a variety of developments, included drought in southern Colombia, reports of drought in China, cotton seed problems in the USSR and late plantings in Egypt.

"With most of the world's cotton yet to be planted, it is impossible at this time to make an accurate estimate for foreign production in 1977-78," says Cox. "However, one thing is clear: if world economic conditions remain favorable, the low world carryover is not likely to be rebuilt substantially in one year's time. This is an important point for both producers and users of cotton to keep in mind."

U.S. producers, he says, also are advised to continue to review current profit potentials.

"With today's high cotton production costs, an opportunity to market small portions to cover direct costs before planting should be assessed," says Cox. "Periodic selling during the 'heat' of the summer may be the next target."

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Pearson of Truth or Consequences, New Mexico, have been visiting friends here in the South Plains area the past few days. They formerly lived in our vicinity.

Rev. and Mrs. Fred Blake were called to Levelland Tuesday where Rev. Blake conducted funeral services for Mrs. Ocia Ruth Mote, of Levelland in the First Baptist Church officiating with Rev. J. Prentiss McGee. Mrs. Mote died Monday following a long illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Nichols went to Sweetwater Friday of last week to visit their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Whitfill, then Saturday Mrs. Whitfill took them to Irving where all attended the Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary of Mrs. Nichols sister, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Davis, at the Davis home in Irving, Saturday afternoon. They spent the night with Mr. and Mrs. Davis and returned to Sweetwater Sunday and back home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Marble were hosts for the Marble Easter gathering in South Plains Easter noon with family members, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Marble, DLee and Dwayne, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Marble and son, Mr. and Mrs. Don Marble, Brett and Donette, Mrs. Lillian Marble of Floydada, Mrs. Robert Daniels of Lockney and Mr. Jim Tye of Floydada, besides other members of the Fred Marble family, Fred, Kelly and Cindy all present.

Mrs. Mamie Wood left Tuesday evening for Lubbock where she spent the night with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Teague and sons. She was

Helpful Ideas From The International Lutheran Laymen's League

THE ART OF LISTENING
People are so often preoccupied with themselves that they forget to look outside themselves.

But there is a beauty and meaning in the ordinary things of the world waiting right out there for attentive ears and open eyes.

For the most part, God Himself speaks to us in ordinary ways, in the ordinary events of life, in the still small voice, while people wait for the dramatic occurrence they are always demanding, but won't listen to when it comes.

God's still small voice to our world is Jesus Christ. In His own unpretentious way the Son of God gave His life for us all. In Christ, God was reconciling the world to Himself, not counting our sins against us. He is God's still small voice in history, not to be drowned out by the whirl of industry, the roll of drums, the thunders of war, the pronouncements of the mighty, or the jabbering of people preoccupied with themselves.

Living With Change

It's not always easy for a father to be content during the first year of a baby's life in a supporting role to his wife and child.

"Although fathers are familiar figures to an infant, a real father-child relationship doesn't begin until the second year," says Sharon Hillis, County Extension agent.

Mrs. Hillis says the adjustments that a family makes as it undergoes changes during the early years will be the focus of five workshops during a seminar April 21 in Lubbock at St. John's United Methodist Church.

The seminar, which is from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., will feature a keynote address by noted psychologist Dr. Frederick Mears of Texas Eastern University at Tyler.

Registration begins at 9:30 a.m. Fee for the four-hour program is $1 for adults, and no charge for high school students. Child-care facilities will be available at a total cost of $2.50 for the first child, and $1 for each additional child.

The event is being sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in cooperation with South Plains Development (SPD) Program's family living task force.

Ms. Hillis, (a co-host for the program) says the SPD task force and Extension Service, assisted by several Lubbock public service agencies including the March of Dimes, is staging the program for the benefit of all area citizens. It is the first of a three-year emphasis on living with change within the family. Focus this year is on the early years. Next year, the seminar will deal with the middle years, and the third year will center on living with changes during the family's later years.

"One of the workshops this April 21, will emphasize adjusting to changes associated with interpersonal relationships and on how a person views oneself.

"A second session will outline the changes one encounters upon entering marriage, such as developing in-law relationships. Many couples, she adds, enjoy pleasant, satisfying relationships with their in-laws but others are plagued by conflict and ill feelings. Researchers have found that certain factors contribute heavily to satisfying relationship.

"In a third workshop, leaders will focus on stress changes associated with pregnancy. There are many motives for pregnancy. Some may even be selfish and immature," she adds.

Scoring Big Against Cancer

Hundreds of personal dramas take place daily across the country concerning victims of cancer. April is Cancer Crusade Month and the following excerpts are given by prominent Americans who have had personal triumph over cancer.

"People like myself owe their lives to cancer research," states Army Lt. Bob Johnson, captain of the 1974 Army football team, and a symbol of hope in the fight against cancer.

Lt. Johnson, a native of Terressee, was the first black to be elected captain of the West Point team. But, from the time that he first played for Army, he was troubled by pain in his right elbow. "Somehow you learn to play with pain," he recalls, "at it kept getting worse and worse." He was given up to the minute treatment combining surgery and radiation. Although he could no longer play, his teammates insisted that he continue as their captain.

Lt. Johnson also is top man in the eyes of the American Cancer Society whose volunteers presented him with a Courage Award in a White House ceremony. It is to have more cancer winners like Lt. Johnson that the ACS is conducting its annual educational and fund-raising Crusade.

Gene Littler, one of professional golfing's great stars continued his career after recovery from the melanoma that very nearly ended his career five years ago.

Courage on the football field can sometimes mirror courage in real life. One person who has shown both is Jack Pardee, former all-pro linebacker for the Washington Redskins.

Pardee was in the middle of an exciting football career when he noticed a black mole on his right elbow. It turned out to be melanoma, an often fatal form of skin cancer. Pardee underwent an 11-hour operation. Despite cancer and despite surgery, he made it back to the football field, and his view their child as an individual being rather than an extension of their own egos, and can feel loving concern for their child, the baby's birth can be a joyous event after all.

Mrs. Hillis says that how children learn will be a focus of attention of another workshop. Parents who compare their child's development to that of other children can be asking for frustration, she adds. How to avoid this kind of situation will be among the many ideas expressed during this session.

In the fifth workshop, the early years of marriage will be outlined. Open, honest communication, sharing feelings, and mutual trust and respect are among the topics to be discussed.

"For most adults, a permanent and rewarding marriage is the most satisfying part of their lives," she says. No one has yet found the exact combination of effort and promise or of personality and circumstance that lifts a couple and their marriage out of the ordinary. Some general threads weave through most successful marriages.

In all of these workshops, the stress factor will be emphasized.

Participants will be able to attend any two of the five workshops. The keynote address by Dr. Mears will precede these sessions, and he will also conclude the program.

"Coping with factors that lead to stress and frustration is a challenge every family faces daily. We believe these workshops, along with the expert, commonsense advice Dr. Mears is expected to offer, will be invaluable to every family."

Speakers for the five workshops are Mrs. Ilene Miller, family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, College Station; Mr. Phil Carpenter, marriage family counselor at Central Plains Mental Health Center, Plainview; Mrs. Nel Loper, executive director for the National Foundation-March of Dimes; Dr. Connie Steele, assistant professor-child development, Texas Tech University, Lubbock; and Deborah Johnson, family life education specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, College Station.

Mrs. Bobby Cohorn of Lamesa is program chairman. Mrs. Tom Box of Plains is task force chairman, and Mrs. Catherine B. Crawford, district agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Lubbock, is coordinator.

Editorial:

The public library: best bargain in town

Few people would disagree with the proposition that libraries are good institutions. But while people pay homage to libraries, not enough people pay attention to them.

Your library needs active support and use; not passive endorsement. That's why the American Library Association's message during National Library Week (April 17-23) is "Use Your Library."

Did you know that the dazzling array of services public libraries offer cost you per year about what you'd pay for one dinner in a moderately-priced restaurant?

It's not surprising that more and more people are realizing that libraries are an essential public service. When funding cuts caused library branch and program cuts in Detroit and New York, the resulting public outcry made headlines all over the country. Nationally, between 1974-75, library circulation jumped 10 percent, the biggest jump in the 37 years such records have been kept.

But still, a recent Gallup Poll found that one-third of Americans had never used a library, that 37 percent had no idea how public libraries are funded; and that a majority of these non-users were totally unaware of the wide range of services available beyond book loans.

If you still haven't discovered what's undoubtedly the best bargain in town, National Library Week is the perfect time to do so — Use Your Library.

super-active life. He not only played again, he regained his all-pro status.

It was breast self-examination and mammography that probably saved Mrs. Margaretta "Happy" Rockefeller's life in 1974 when breast cancer was discovered.

Almost two years after surgery for the removal of her left and then her right breast, Mrs. Rockefeller urged American women to act promptly and courageously as she had done—inspired by the earlier experience of Mrs. Betty Ford.

Shotgun blast kills woman

SILVERTON — A 32-year-old woman was killed by a shotgun blast on a farm about 16 miles southwest of here while on a hunting trip with her husband.

Mrs. Manuela Robles was pronounced dead at 5:15 p.m. Sunday by Justice of the Peace Dick Taylor of Quitaque. Judge Taylor ruled the shooting accidental.

Officers said Mrs. Robles and her husband, Sergefredo, were hunting rabbits on their farm during the afternoon. Mrs. Robles was seated in a pickup truck and had tried to lift the weapon when it discharged.

The family had lived on the farm here about 10 years. She was born in Mexico and was a Catholic.

Services for Mrs. Robles are pending in Roma.

Surviving also are three daughters, Melba, Patricia and Greselda, all of the home; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Giragardo Gonzalez of Roma; three brothers and two sisters.

Other segments of the cotton industry are kept abreast of current and projected trends in the economy and the cotton market.

In the April issue of the division's monthly publication, the COTTON SUMMARY, Cox and his staff analyze the carryover situation and what it means for the future.

They point out that cotton carryover should be evaluated in terms of days' or months' supply rather than absolute amount. The world carryover this year, they note, will amount to less than a four-month supply the lowest level since 1924-25.

The Cotton Incorporated economists say their estimates of the carryover have dropped as use and export demand for U.S. cotton have

Cotton Stocks Dropping To "Carryunder" Levels

RALEIGH—Americas cotton producers are entering the planting season firmly on the side of the law—the law of supply and demand. In fact, say economists at Cotton Incorporated, cotton demand is overpowering supply, and both U.S. and world cotton stocks will be pulled down to their lowest levels in decades.

When the current cotton marketing year ends July 31, the cotton industry will be looking at a carryover that will be more like a "carryunder," says David W. Cox, vice president of economic research and development.

Cox says the U.S. carryover is now estimated at 2.9 million bales, the lowest in 25 years. "On a world basis, he adds, "the carryover is also expected to be very little—about 18.9 million bales."

The low stocks, coupled with improvements in the economy, add up to continued strong demand for U.S. cotton on both the domestic and export markets, Cox says.

Cotton Incorporated is the fiber company of U. S. cotton producers. Through the company's Economic Research and Development Division, producers and Off To A Good Start... Watch For These... Water Report Due Soon.

The program to eradicate the screwworm for Texas this year is off to a good start. Less than a half dozen cases have been confirmed this year.

Officials at the fly plant in Mission say they are pleased with the cooperation being shown by livestock producers throughout the state.

They urge continued cooperation and vigilance so that the pest can be "done in" once and for all this year. The number of samples being sent to Mission has been on the increase in recent weeks, officials said, and this indicates that producers are doing their part in the total eradication effort.

There's also good news from Mexico, too. That program is also progressing well, and a new distribution center is to be dedicated there April 26.

About 400 million sterile screwworm flies are being dispersed in northern Mexico and the southern part of Texas as part of the program to wipe out infestations.

All livestock producers should continue to check their animals regularly, treat wounds with approved screwworm-control remedies, delay surgery as long as possible, and submit suspected samples to the fly lab at Mission.

Coming up this month and next will be important crop reports from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

April 14 at 2 p.m. Texas time the prospective plantings report for 1977 as of conditions April 1 will be released. This will include major crops such as grain sorghum, cotton, corn and soybeans. It will be an update of the Jan. 17 report, which was based on Jan. 1 conditions.

The first national winter wheat production report will be issued May 10. A Texas winter wheat production report was issued recently.

Water, water everywhere, or so it seems now. But projections for the state in the future show a real water shortage. The Texas Water Development Board is expected to issue soon its water plan.

That plan will detail future projections for Texas' water needs, and how to meet them.

Agriculture will of course have a major interest in the plan. More than 55 per cent of the cash receipts of crops produced in Texas come from irrigated acres.

It will be a report that should be studied carefully by agriculture producers as well as all Texans.

Two of the top men behind existing and potential government regulations that can be weighty factors in determining the future profitability of High Plains cotton operations will appear as speakers at the 20th Annual Meeting of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. The meeting begins at 1:30 p.m. April 14 in the Aztec Room of the Southpark Inn on South Loop 289, Lubbock.

Following the two "serious" speakers on the podium will be well-known humorist and inspirational lecturer Millard Townsend of Lubbock. There is no registration fee for the half-day affair and the public is invited.

An expected 500 or more High Plains cotton producers and agribusinessmen and their wives will also hear organizational reports from PCG President W.B. Criswell of Idalou and Executive Vice President Donald Johnson of Lubbock.

The government officials to address the meeting are Grover C. Wrenn, Deputy Director of Health Standards Programs for the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) and Edwin L. Johnson, Deputy Assistant Administrator of Pesticide Programs for the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

"Both these men are destined to have a significant impact on our industry in the years ahead," commented Criswell, "and what they have to say should be of interest to everyone on the High Plains whose livelihood is even remotely connected to cotton."

As examples of the regulatory activities so important to cotton people, Criswell cited EPA's upcoming hearings that could lead to a ban on the widely used herbicide Treflan, and OSHA's proposed cotton dust standard "which if enforced as now written could close over half the gins on the High Plains and more than double what producers are now paying for ginning."

PCG's hope, according to Johnson, is that having EPA and OSHA officials on the program will open lines of communication and "assist in efforts to assure that regulations of the future from both agencies will be reasonable regulations, reasonably administered."

In addition to addressing the PCG membership meeting while in Lubbock, plans call for the two officials to visit typical cotton production and processing facilities in the area that will be most affected by regulations proposed by their respective agencies.

Following the membership meeting, slated to adjourn at 5:00 p.m., PCG's 50-man Board of Directors will meet to elect officers for the 1977-78 year. Current officers, each of whom has now served the maximum two years in his present office, are President Criswell, Vice President Lloyd Cline of Lamesa and Secretary-Treasurer Joe D. Unfried of New Home.

PCG represents cotton producers in a 25-county area surrounding Lubbock. Each county elects two directors to the research, market development and service organization.

Business conditions improved markedly for the U.S. textile industry in February, Cox reports, with mill use of cotton running 5 per cent ahead of January's pace. With seasonal adjustments in the daily rate of consumption, February was the strongest month for domestic mill cotton use since July 1976, he points out.

It now seems, he says, that domestic mill need for cotton in the current marketing year will reach or exceed seven million bales.

Use can't reach that high, notes Cox, since cotton supplies are not sufficient to provide domestic mills with more than 6.8 million bales.

At the same time, the Cotton Incorporated economists have found the pace of export shipments of U.S.

cotton surge upward in recent weeks.

"In the past seven weeks," notes Cox, "shipments have been very strong, averaging 125,000 bales a week. The recent rate of shipments cannot be maintained with-

Baseball Signup Monday

Boys and girls who will be seven through 12 years of age on August 1, 1977, are invited to sign up for Lockney Lions Club Little League Baseball, according to Lions baseball commissioner Gary Stennett.

This is the first year that girls have been eligible to play in the local Little League summer program.

Signup will be at 7 p.m. Monday, April 18 in the Lockney Junior High cafeteria. A parent or guardian should accompany each child. Entry fee is $5 per player.

If enough players sign up, there will be competition in both Peeewe League and Little League.

Boys and girls who miss the Monday-night signup will still be eligible to play if they contact Stennett or any Lockney Lions Club member by April 25. No players will be accepted after that date.

NEWS OF ART

A stainless steel kinetic sculpture, "Tomorrow's Song II" has been selected by the Steel Service Center Institute (SSCI) as the art theme of its '77 annual meeting. Designed by the renowned French team of Francois and Bernard Baschet, the three-part, musical clock is crafted of polished stainless steel and stands 32 inches atop a mirrored base. The sculpture rings changes in time when suspended balls turning at different speeds strike rods within each cylinder. According to SSCI president Robert G. Welch, "Tomorrow's Song II" is a reminder that "we must face the challenges of today if we hope to attain the promise of tomorrow." SSCI has been selecting a work of art to highlight its annual meeting for almost 20 years.
