High-school girls are encouraged to attend and if possible have their mothers come with them. Anyone age 14 or older is welcome.

The ladies of the Methodist Church are sponsoring the program, but they urge all community women to attend.

Tower To Address GOP County Chairmen

AUSTIN—GOP State Chairman Ray Hutchison announced today that United States Senator John Tower will be the featured speaker at a luncheon on Saturday, July 16, honoring Republican county chairmen from throughout the State. The luncheon will be one of the highlights of a two-day organizational meeting of the Republican County Chairman's Association.

Scheduled for the Driskill Hotel in Austin, the meeting agenda includes adoption of bylaws and election of officers for the newly-formed organization. "Republicans in Texas have never had an organization where their county chairmen could gather and exchange ideas and information about the political problems in their particular area," Hutchison said. "I was pleased that our State Republican Executive Committee voted recently to rectify this situation by the establishment of this organization."

"These community leaders can be of great value by providing advice to statewide candidates regarding grass roots opinion on the vital issues facing our State," Hutchison stated.

The meeting will begin at 9:00 a.m. on Saturday morning, July 16. Every certified Republican county chairman, or his or her proxy, is entitled to register as a voting member of this organization. A luncheon will follow the Sunday morning, July 17, session with a meeting of the newly-elected officers of the Association to be held on Sunday afternoon. Election of officers will take place on Sunday morning.

District Weed Control By David Duvak

The District is making good progress in the treating of bindweed on county barrow ditches and farmland. The District will work fence row applications in as soon as possible, we like to do this type of work in the fall of the year while bindweeds are dormant. Since bindweed is first preference for the treating of weeds we will have to devote all of our time to treating these.

Hinsley Says...No Future In Hog Business

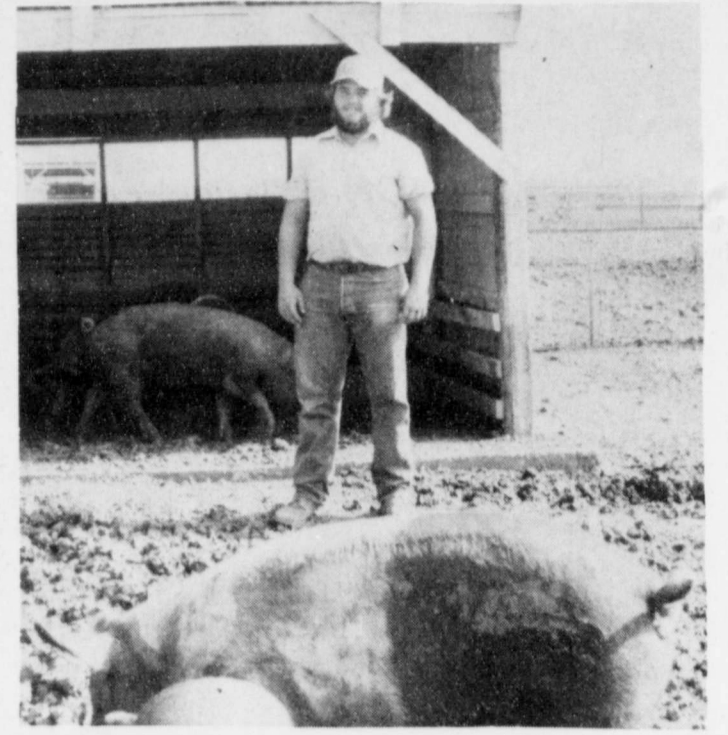

BY DOUG SIMPSON
For Lonnie Hinsley, hog farmer, raising hogs is a thing of the past. Hinsley, possibly the county's largest hog farmer, stated in an interview Thursday that because neither the consumer nor the government cared about agriculture, there was really no future in the business.

Hinsley also said that there was little profit in the business because of this year's low grain prices. Hinsley has been raising hogs five years and farms approximately five miles southeast of Floydada.

He said that he took care of his own hogs and bought them to feed out rather than feeding them.

He markets them at Wilson's Food in Oklahoma City and prepares his feed at his own mill.

HOG STORY... These hogs belong to the county's largest hog farmer Lonnie Hinsley who farms about five miles southeast of town. ## Farm Leader Describes Producers Protest Move

A protest action by farmers, possibly a strike or moratorium on supplies purchases, rallies and demonstrations, has been announced by the Texas Farmers Union.

Speaking from the Panhandle where the Executive Board of the statewide general farm organization formed the official resolution of protest, President Jay Naman described the ensuing events.

"We are calling for major amendments to the four-year omnibus farm bill now before Congress. We find certain provisions intolerable, such as the importation of raw cotton, grain reserve systems which would assure constant surpluses and the resulting low prices, inadequate disaster programs, the destruction of the peanut and rice programs, and many other sections which are obviously implemented at the request of trade and processing groups. The leadership in Washington has apparently been lobbied into providing a farm bill which benefits commodity buyers who love cheap prices, trade groups who enjoy prices at a world bargaining level, and political leaders who fear food and fiber inflation. Domestic producers have been forgotten.

"If Congress does not, however, rewrite this bill, we ask the President for a veto and reversion to previous permanent farm legislation.

"Failing all of that, we find no other alternative than to organize into a posture of protest. If we are to be penalized for efficiency and surpluses, then we must find a way to slow down our production. This could mean an end to purchases of equipment, fertilizer, fuel... all supplies.

With the losses we are taking this market year, many farmers will not be financially able to buy these supplies anyhow.

"We will do whatever it takes to draw attention to the serious problems of farming and the fact that this situation cannot continue. If farmers are an ignored minority group, then we will use all the tools of a minority group to gain a voice before we are all forced out of business.

"Apparently the Administration and Congress are not interested in our need for survival through a fair price. And consumers are likely not interested in anything but the retail price they face.

"If everyone thinks we are going to be the scapegoat for inflation while facing our own huge cost increases in equipment, supplies and labor, they are wrong. Thousands of farmers have been going out of business over the past decade, and it's all going unnoticed while America enjoys the supermarket fantasy of always having plentiful, high quality food and fiber.

"That is not the reality of farming when we are getting mere pennies of the retail dollar. If you don't want to pay the producer a fair price, don't expect domestic agriculture to survive much longer.

"The time has come that we will no longer sit by and accept this. Even our bankers will be behind our protest because they cannot continue to finance a losing farm business either.

Q. If a person has rental income from rental property, will the rental income be included in the $2670 exempt amount for 1976 and the $3000 exempt amount for the year 1977?

A. No, rental income (and income such as royalties, interest, pensions, retirement benefits, and the like) is not counted in determining the amount of your earnings for purposes of the so-called "retirement test." Only income from wages or from working in self-employment is considered.

If anyone had any doubts, recently published Census Bureau estimates for the first half of this decade show conclusively that a population shift is underway in this country.

People are fleeing from the densely populated areas of the Northeast and Upper Midwest.

The population of metropolitan New York declined by 338,500 between 1970 and 1975; Cleveland by 88,400; Philadelphia by 26,900; Newark, N.J., by 61,600.

They are forsaking the Snowbelt, crossing the Frost Line, flocking to the Sun Belt—the South and Southwestern United States.

And Texas appears to be one of the most popular and attractive places to settle in.

The Census Bureau estimates that the population of Texas increased by over a million during the first five years of the 1970's.

By way of comparison, Illinois grew by 5,300 people during the same period, enabling Texas to overtake that state and become third ranked in the country in population, behind New York and California.

So far in this decade, metropolitan areas in our state have grown by leaps and bounds. Three of them—Houston, Dallas-Fort Worth, and San Antonio—are among the nation's ten biggest cities.

Much of the reason for our startling population growth in Texas results from a solid, healthy economic base which offers both jobs and plentiful business opportunities. The increasing numbers of people, in turn, help keep the economic base expanding.

But, along with the obvious blessings, the ever-growing number of people bring serious problems and hardships as well.

It hasn't been easy, though, to get the federal government to understand this. Government bureaucrats—particularly those bureaucrats within the Department of Housing and Urban Development—seem preoccupied with the problems of the older, declining cities. They haven't paid attention to the difficulties faced by officials in fast-growing areas, such as Texas.

Take the Community Development Act, for example. Texas last year received an amount equivalent to $344 for each family in poverty under this act, which is intended to upgrade neighborhoods and improve public services in large and small cities alike. The figure in New York was $652, in Pennsylvania $831, and in Michigan $681.

And this year Congress—over my opposition—is changing the formula for distributing funds under the Community Development Act so that it favors even more the older, decaying areas in the Northeast and Midwest.

Government planners say these older areas suffer more because they have inadequate water and sewer systems, deteriorating roads, and outmoded public buildings.

They should check into how much it costs in a new, fast-growing area to expand water and sewer systems, build enough roads, and construct enough public buildings to keep pace.

The planners cite antiquated or substandard housing in older cities. It is not being modernized or improved, they note, because of declining property values and high unemployment.

They should more carefully investigate the cost of building new housing and upgrading substandard housing in some areas of Texas, which have a far lower per capita income than states in the Northeast Industrial tier.

I have taken action that will, hopefully, change the outlook of these government bureaucrats in coming years by forcing them to focus on the problems of growing cities as well as those of cities in decline.

The law already requires the President to issue a report on urban areas every two years. My amendment—adopted by the Senate—would specify that this report include an examination of the problems in cities with a growth rate that equals or exceeds the national average.

The problems experienced by rapidly growing cities, in Texas and elsewhere, are real and very difficult. I

VA News
Effective May 31, 1977, the interest rate on GI home loans for veterans became 8-1/2%. According to D.G. Ayres, Service Officer for Floyd County, the GI loan interest rate prior to that date was 8%. All GI home loans closed on and after May 31, 1977, will carry the interest rate of 8-1/2%. Eligible for GI home loans are veterans who served honorably for 90 days or more at any time between September 16, 1940, and July 25, 1947. Also entitled are veterans who served honorably for 90 days or more during the Korean Conflict which began June 27, 1950, and ended January 31, 1955, or whose honorable service of 181 days or more occurred on or after January 31, 1955. Also eligible are the surviving spouses of persons who served during the above mentioned periods and whose deaths are shown to have been caused by such military service. In addition, GI home loans are available to the spouses of military personnel listed as missing in action or prisoners of war.

Most GI home loans are made by private lending institutions, with a portion of the loan being guaranteed by the government. Under present law, the Veterans Administration is authorized to guarantee 60% of the loan amount, up to a maximum of $17,500. Persons desiring a guaranteed home loan under the GI program should discuss their needs and desires with a local private lending firm, who will assist in completing the necessary paper work. A veteran remains eligible until he or she actually uses the VA entitlement, as there is no time deadline involved. Further information on GI home loans may be obtained from the local Veterans Service Officer.

County 4-H'ers To Compete In District Dress Revue

Heather Holt, Darlene Brose and Jill Whitfill will represent Floyd County in the District 2 4-H Dress Revue scheduled for July 7th in Lubbock. Winners will represent the district in state competition.

The three will be modeling their own creations which made them winner in county competition. Contestants are judged on their sewing and construction skills, overall appearance, modeling abilities, and their 4-H record books.

'Fashion Fandango' is the theme of the event which is set for the Texas Tech University Center ballroom, according to County Extension Agent Sharon Hillis.

A luncheon will be served for dress revue participants, parents and guests following contest activities. Revue and presentation of awards begin at 2 p.m. Mr. Edward Breihan, manager of Plains Cooperative Oil Mill, will present the honors.

In addition to the naming of the top seniors who will compete in the State 4-H Dress Revue this September, awards also will include the recognition of the girl making the best all-cotton outfit and the best all-wool garment.

Two junior level contests will be staged at the same time as senior competition, says Sharon Hillis. These younger lasses, ages 9-11 and 12-14 will not compete beyond the district level. For them, the event offers experience and leadership development.

Parents, 4-H leaders, and special guests will be on hand for the occasion. The public is invited to the 2 p.m. revue.

By the late 1800s, women's clubs had become very popular and, since many of them were consumer-oriented in interests, they were developing a lobbying influence which the government could not ignore.

One of the women to recognize this power and organize other women to use it, was a crusader against food additives, an issue still alive today. In 1906 she was responsible for one million women writing to Washington to demand federal standards for the labeling of food and drug products, the most dramatic of many of her accomplishments. Who was that lady? Alice Lakey.

What One Person Can Do

MARY KATHERINE GODDARD, PRINTER

The job of printing the official Declaration of Independence in 1777 went to a woman—Mary Katherine Goddard. Here's how it happened.

Congress approved the Declaration on July 4, 1776. But they did not print the official version bearing the authenticated names of the signers until the following January. At that point, they were in Baltimore, having fled Philadelphia to escape the British army. Mary Goddard, publisher of the Maryland Journal, was asked to print the document.

Mary Goddard was running the paper originally founded by her brilliant but quarrelsome brother, William. It was William Goddard who conceived the idea of the Colony Post Riders to replace the British-controlled mail system. Congress liked William's idea, but not him. Benjamin Franklin was named Postmaster General in 1775. William was made surveyor (traveling inspector) of the new system, until he quarrelled with Franklin a year later and was fired. Franklin appointed Mary Goddard as postmistress of Baltimore, a post which it was common for newspapers publishers to hold.

Miss Goddard ran the printshop and the Journal until 1784, when her brother forced her to sell out her interest. The terms were so unfair that she left the printing business and refused to have anything to do with him from then on. She lost her postal position in 1789 in a political maneuver. Mary Katherine Goddard died in 1816, alone and forgotten. But she made her mark: The Declaration of Independence bears her name as printer.

At a crucial time in the history of this nation, she contributed her talent. One person, she made a difference.

PLANTS NOT RECOMMENDED FOR human consumption include apricot kernels, pokeweed and water hemlock, reports Mrs. Mary K. Sweeten, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Public Invited To Outdoor Concert

LUBBOCK—Lubbock and area residents are invited to bring lawn chairs and sit on the Texas Tech University campus at 1 p.m., Sunday (July 3), to hear a carillon concert to be presented by music professor Judson D. Maynard.

The program will be presented on the Ruth Baird Larabee Memorial Carillon in the west tower of the Administration Building on campus. Listeners may sit in the Administration Building courtyard directly south of the Administration Building or on the circle in the center of the campus. There will be no admission charge.

The rare instrument, built by Harry Van Bergen, was installed on the campus in May, 1976. It has 36 bells, the largest weighing more than 800 pounds. It is one of less than a dozen carillons in Texas.

Dr. Maynard performed in a carillon concert last year in celebration of the Bicentennial year, with more than 500 persons attending. Music Department officials said the concert likely will become an annual Independence Day event.

The program will include "Prelude No. 5 in D Minor" by Matthias Van Den Gheyn, "Adoro Te Devote" (a traditional piece), "A Song for the Bells" by Daniel Pinkham, "Higher Ground," a Baptist hymn by Gabriel and arranged by Myhre, "Gamelan and Jhala, Op. 106" by Alan Hovhaness, "Listen to the Mockingbird" by Milburn Myhre, "Romantic Suite" by Wim Franken and "The Entertainer" by Scott Joplin.

Dr. Maynard is head of the Organ Department and coordinator of sophomore theory.

UTILITY COSTS MAY CAUSE mortgage foreclosures to increase by 50 percent, according to Mrs. Sue Fung, housing and home furnishings specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

TO MARRY IN SEPTEMBER—Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Terrell, Route 1, Lockney, announce the engagement of their daughter Kay Beth to Michael Edward King, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. King, Irving. Miss Terrell is a graduate of Lockney High School and of Oklahoma Baptist University, where she received a B. A. degree in religion/sociology. At OBU, she was a member of Beta Chi Gamma social club and Religious Education Association. She is employed as executive secretary for Fisk Telephone Systems, Inc. King, a graduate of Nimitz High School in Irving, received a degree in pilot technology from Mountain View Junior College in Dallas. He was a member of the tennis team at Mountain View. King is employed by Firestone Tire & Rubber Company in Dallas. The wedding is scheduled September 24, 1977 in the Lockney First Baptist Church.

RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP—Miss Donna Rhea Chesshir, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Chesshir of Floydada, is the recipient of a $200 Cabot Journalism Scholarship from West Texas State, Miss Chesshir has also been recommended to receive honorary award recognition by having her biography published in the appropriate volume of the 11th Annual Edition of Who's Who Among American High School Students 1976-77. Miss Chesshir plans to use her scholarship at Texas Tech where she will major in journalism. She is a May, 1977 graduate of Floydada High School and will be a freshman at Tech this fall.

NEWS 'N' NOTES (by Sharon Hillis)

HEALTHY HAIR A TRIO FOR IT

Getting and keeping healthy hair depends on three care techniques. For healthy hair, eat a balanced diet daily, keep hair clean and conditioned regularly—and avoid stress and strain and harsh hair products.

Clean, Conditioned Hair Takes Knowhow Shampoo hair regularly—frequency depends on hair type and personal preference.

Oily hair requires more frequent wash than dry hair—and everyday shampooing with a mild product generally is not harmful to hair.

A low PH shampoo will leave hair a more natural (acidic) state, which means it will be stronger to withstand the heat of blow dryers, curling irons, or heated rollers.

For best hair condition, keep it cut and styled regularly.

Avoid pulling or tugging on wet or damp hair—as it is more susceptible to damage. Cream rinses lubricate the hair, make it easier to comb, and reduce danger of breakage.

Conditioners soften the hair and make it feel more silky and healthy looking, but they will not perform miracles, such as on split end problems—cutting them away is the only sure solution.

Special dandruff shampoos usually can control common dandruff problems, which is a mild increase in the shedding rate of epidermal cells on the scalp.

Also, what looks like dandruff may be accumulated hair spray, psoriasis of the scalp, or eczema—and a doctor should treat the latter two.

Hair Loss Causes, Cures, 'Copes' Hair loss is a common problem, especially among men, but normal hair loss ranges from 50-150 hairs per day, so do not be alarmed even if daily hair losses somewhat exceed this range.

If hair loss is an inherited trait, nothing can prevent it—but wigs, toupees, implants, or transplants can help camouflage the baldness.

If healthy or medical reasons cause hair loss, then diet corrections or medication usually can restore it. Some causes of hair loss are anemia, thyroid disease, undue tension or stress, medication—such as some hormone shots and heart medicine, termination of birth control pills, menopause, hot oil straightening treatment and estrogen deficiency.

Also, hair pulled tightly back in a pony tail over a period of time can cause permanent hair follicle damage—and loss of hair.

Fiddlers contest slated

By MARIE HARRIS
Herald Regional Editor

HALE CENTER — Preserving the colorful tradition of rural America, the 22nd annual All-American Country Fiddlers Contest will be the feature attraction of Hale Center's 4th of July celebration Monday.

The contest scheduled from 1 to 4 p.m. in Hale Center City Park by the City Hall will include three divisions — old fiddlers, open and junior division, with money prizes given in each group. Also a trophy will be given to the best guitar picker.

Glenn Wardlaw, who sparked the first fiddlers contest here in 1952, is director of the event. The fiddlers competition has attracted top musicians in the past including the late Eck Robertson, a legend-maker from the scene of old-time country music.

Well-known fiddlers from Texas, New Mexico, Kansas and Louisiana are expected to include the Hale Center special day in their itineraries.

Several of the fiddling favorites of the past will not be present because they now are busy as members of big western bands.

On Sunday night Wardlaw will host contestants at his home for a music jam session — a time for practicing, visiting and good fellowship.

COUNTRY WESTERN gospel singing, slated to begin at 6 p.m. Monday in the park, will bring some of the best performers in its category for the listening pleasure of July 4 observers. Included will be the Hazel Family Singers, the Bible Singers and the Youth Action Singers, the latter a group of 45 Explorer Boy Scouts.

Featured soloists will be Gary Pringle, Julia Newcomb and Nadine Stallings, all of Lubbock. Roy Love, also of Lubbock, will serve as master of ceremonies for the gospel singing session. Don R. Yelvington of Lubbock has arranged the program and secured coverage of the performance by radio and television.

Singing will go on until midnight if audience reception asks for such a continued evening of music. Phil Ritzinger is chairman of the gospel singing.

The Hale Center 4th will get underway with a parade at 10 a.m. to be followed at 11 a.m. by a concert by the Hale Center High School band directed by Harold Bufe. Also at 11 a.m. matched team roping is scheduled.

FROM 11:30 A.M. until 1 p.m. barbecue lunch will be served in the fire station. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Other entertainment for the day will include a professional carnival, food concessions and an art show.

DURING COOKOUT SEASON, buy less tender meat cuts, marinate or slow cook them, and save money—since greater demand for the more tender steaks makes their prices higher at this time, advises Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

PRETREAT HEAVILY SOILED areas and greasy stains in clothing, then use warm wash temperatures and save energy costs. This laundry method is as effective as hot-water washing, says Mrs. Becky Culp, area clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

TIPS FOR HOMEOWNERS

Using Power Equipment Safely

Edger/trimmers were designed with one purpose in mind—to take the drudgery out of maintaining your lawn. Here are some tips from experts at the Outdoor Power Equipment Institute on how to use edger/trimmers with safety and efficiency.

1. Read the owner's manual carefully and acquaint yourself with all controls, attachments and safety features.

2. Keep children and pets out of the way.
3. Wear proper clothing—rough-soled heavy-duty shoes or boots and tailored pants. Skirts or billowy slacks can get caught in moving parts.
4. If you should spill gasoline, wipe it up immediately.
5. Let the engine cool for 10 minutes before filling the tank.
6. Stop the engine if you're leaving the equipment, making repairs, refueling.

These safety tips should help you help your edger/trimmer give you a lovely neat lawn.

Texas High On Cotton

COLLEGE STATION—The 1977 Texas cotton crop is off to a good start. With good market conditions, farmers have planted fence row to fence row, and this year's crop could yield well over four million bales.

Barring weather and insect problems, the Texas cotton crop has the potential of surpassing the 1973 crop of 4.6 million bales.

That analysis comes from Charles Baker, marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Furthermore, prices should be good," says Baker, "because we have a worldwide shortage of cotton. World stocks at the beginning of the August 1 crop year have averaged 40 per cent of world consumption the past 10 years. Beginning stocks on August 1, 1977 will be a low 30 percent of projected consumption. Low world stock levels in 1972 and 1973 preceded the sharp price rise of 1973. Low stock levels in 1976 were accompanied by price increases for the 1976 crop. Yet, those levels for 1972, '73 and '76 were not nearly as low as current levels.

"Prices have been down for the last month because of the expected big crop for 1977," notes Baker. "This big crop is needed badly, but it cannot be big enough to restore stocks to normal. Therefore, prices for this year's crops are expected to average near those received for the 1976 Texas crop."

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN—If you haven't bought a product that comes with a warranty lately, you may be surprised at how that warranty has changed. The Federal Trade Commission has recently put into effect certain rules assuring compliance with the Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act passed by Congress in 1975.

It's important to realize, though, say our Consumer Protection Division attorneys, that these changes won't eliminate all potential warranty problems. For one thing, they note, neither the FTC rules nor the Warranty Act require manufacturers to give warranties or guarantees (which are the same thing). For another, they only cover written warranties on products costing more than $15.

But consumers still have protection under the implied warranty that comes with every product guaranteeing that it will do the job it was intended to do. As an example, a consumer whose new microwave oven doesn't cook would be covered by this implied warranty.

What the new warranty rules do is make warranty tags easier to read and understand, so consumers will know what coverage they have. Now, written warranties must be available for consumers to read before they buy an item. Sometimes in the past, warranties and other information were enclosed in plastic or got lost, making it impossible for a consumer to comparison shop for warranty coverage before a purchase. Warranties must now be easy to read and understand. In other words, legal jargon and fine print will be eliminated.

All warranty conditions must be in writing. Promises given by a salesperson are not valid. In addition, written warranties fall into two categories—full and limited.

The differences sometimes are confusing.

Full warranties provide the following: Defective products will be fixed at no cost, including picking up the product and re-installing it later. A product that cannot be fixed will be replaced or its purchase price refunded.

Product repairs must be done within a reasonable time, and consumers won't have to take any unreasonable actions to get their warranty service. Our attorneys point out, however, that the rules don't precisely define what "reasonable" and "unreasonable" mean, but that the FTC has said that having to return a piano to a factory for service would be "unreasonable."

Full warranties cover the product during the entire warranty period no matter how many times it may change hands. But a full warranty may not cover the entire product. On an air conditioner, it might cover only the compressor, for example. Other parts, though, may carry limited warranties. It's important for the consumer to be fully aware, in such cases, what coverage the two combined warranties on the product may give.

Limited warranties also cover repair and parts replacement, although they do not offer the extent of coverage of a full warranty. A limited warranty on a toaster, for example, might cover parts and not labor and might require you to take the toaster back to the same store where you bought it for service.

If you have a consumer complaint involving a warranty problem, get in touch with the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division in Austin, Houston, Dallas, San Antonio, Lubbock, El Paso, or McAllen. Outside those areas, call this toll-free number: 1-800-252-9236.

What you pay to lease
a Zimmatic depends on the price of corn.

Here's another first from Lindsay... the Zimmatic Corn Crop Lease. Instead of a fixed lease payment, you pay for your Zimmatic based on the price of corn. If corn prices plunge, so does your lease payment.

By offering this new lease, Lindsay is sharing some of the same risks that you face every year. Corn prices fluctuate, which affects your profit picture. That's why Lindsay developed the exclusive Zimmatic Corn Crop Lease... a revolutionary program that tailors your lease payments to the changing price of corn, from one year to the next.

The Zimmatic Corn Crop Lease is designed so you can lease a Zimmatic without using your normal operating credit sources... your Zimmatic pays its own way by turning on your production.

The number of Zimmatics available under this program and the time period of this offer are limited so come in soon and get all the details on the Corn Crop Lease and other exclusive leasing programs available only through Lindsay Credit Corp.

Take advantage of a program that has never been offered in the industry before... it's the lease we can do for you.
