home in Wheeler where he was Animal Health Supervisor with Beef Cattle Company.

$2,212,000 In U.S. Grants Locally

NEW YORK, July 9-Are residents of Floyd County paying a high or a low price for the benefits their area receives from the Government in the form of grants-in-aid and revenue sharing?

To what extent did the local area share in the $54.7 billion that was distributed by Washington in the past fiscal year, compared with the amounts that went to other areas?

According to a state-by-state analysis of Treasury Department figures, made by the Tax Foundation, a non-profit organization that monitors Government spending, Floyd County's share was relatively small.

An estimated $2,212,000 in aid was allocated to cover a variety of programs in the local area.

The total amount of grants in the State of Texas as a whole came to $2,602,000,000 in the year.

The funds were awarded for such programs as urban renewal, child welfare, job training, hospitals, health, road construction, schools and the like.

The figures take into account only grants-in-aid and revenue sharing and do not include Federal spending in local areas for goods and services.

As to the cost of the benefits, they are met by each community, in whole or in part, by the portion of their Federal taxes that are allocated to the aid programs.

Floyd County's share of the costs, exclusive of matching funds, came to approximately $2,677,000 in the past year. Statewide, the bill was $3,148,000,000.

In some parts of the country, the costs involved were greater than the value of the aid received. In others the reverse was true.

All in all, the study shows, 21 states paid a premium for the aid they got, one broke even and 28 came out ahead.

Connecticut was the biggest loser. It paid $1.45 for every $1 of aid. The chief gainer was Mississippi, where the $1 in aid cost only 50 cents.

In explanation of the seeming inequity, it is pointed out that some localities get bigger allotments than others because their need is greater. There is no attempt to return dollar for dollar.

Floyd County Ranks In Top Ten In Corn Production

AUSTIN-Floyd County ranked within the top ten counties in corn production in 1976, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has announced. Floyd produced 5 million bushels.

Other counties in the top ten were Farmer, with 40 million bushels; Castro, with 24 million bushels; and Hale with 16.7 million bushels. Also included were Deaf Smith County, Lamb County, Moore County, Swisher County, Bailey County and Sherman County.

Texas farmers produced the largest corn crop on record in 1976 with production totaling $432 million. "All of our reports show that the 1977 crop will be even bigger in Texas, with a nine per cent increase in acreage planted thus far," Brown said.

According to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service yield per acre in 1976 was 120 bushels. This was substantial increase from the 103 bushel yield per acre in 1975.

Crop conditions were good to excellent over most of the state allowing Texas to climb four positions from its eleventh place in U.S. ranks in 1975, with 113 million bushels, to seventh place in 1976, with 180 million bushels. Illinois is the number one corn producing state.

Complete statistics on 1976 field crops are available in publication form by writing Reagan V. Brown, Commissioner, Texas Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, 78711.

Swisher Group Joins In Hail Boycott Plan

TULIA—Members of Swisher Citizens for Natural Weather are circulating petitions for a boycott of Plainview merchants who support weather modification activities.

The petitions and placards explaining them are being placed in a number of businesses in Tulia, Happy and Kress. "We are putting them in every firm that will allow us to do so," said Mrs. C.J. (Betty) Vars of Tulia, who temporarily is in charge of the boycott.

Swisher Citizens for Natural Weather, meeting Monday night in Tulia, joined Briscoe County in urging a boycott of all Plainview merchants with the exception of professional services such as doctors and dentists.

The citizens group also voted to take immediate steps to call an election giving county residents an opportunity to vote on whether or not they want weather modification or cloud seeding. Presently a petition for an election has been signed by the necessary 25 persons and delivered to the county clerk. After approval of this petition, another one must be signed by 10 per cent of the county's qualified voters and the eligibility of each signer checked before the commissioners court can set an election. The petition must be signed within 30 days.

Western Encephalitis Virus

Noted In Nearby Areas

Reports from the Texas Health Dept. Laboratory in Austin confirm presence of the Western Encephalitis virus in Hale County (Hale Center and Plainview). This week a confirmed Western horse case was reported in Lubbock County. The Western encephalitis virus is contagious to human, and can be transmitted by mosquitoes. So far, no St. Louis encephalitis virus has been found this year in West Texas. In Dallas the second human case was reported this week. A continuing surveillance program is being regularly conducted in most major population areas by the Texas Health Dept. (Zoonosis Control Division) and has provided an early warning to the area.

Horse vaccination, mosquito control, and personal protection is advisable now. The encephalitis season will persist until late fall.

McCoy Reunion

Persons are reminded of the annual McCoy Community reunion slated Sunday, July 17, at Lighthouse Electric. Registration is at 10 a.m. and a basket lunch will be served at 1 p.m., followed with the election of officers.

All residents of McCoy and former residents, their families and friends are invited to attend.

As It Looks From Here

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Clack-Clackity-Clack, the raucous, raspy sound came creeping into my dozing thought on a quiet July afternoon. After all my years in Washington, I recognized that sound immediately as the dependable, sturdy stapler.

The stapler is that indispensable gadget used in every agency of the Federal Government to hold reams and reams of paper together. The bureaucracy would be absolutely helpless without the stapler and bureaucrats paralyzed in efforts to turn out reports, regulations and directives.

There must have been a primitive version of the stapler. The Fifteenth Century Flemish writer Belartus, the Bemused, used this reference in one of his works: "Ah," he wrote, "That this cur's d and ferrous affixer might be, by happy fortune, deep-sixed." (Hope no one re-researches the correctness of this quote.)

Anyway, whether the Flemish scholar really knew about the stapler, it would serve good purpose for the President and Congressmen who vote for more and bigger programs, to have Belartus' words engraved and placed on their desks. The stapler explains much about the infestation of Federal functionaries in the daily affairs of Government.

It does not require towering intellect to develop this thesis. Staples have an obvious single purpose—to hold multiple sheets of paper together. A sophisticated stapler can securely bind dozens upon dozens of papers, until full-grown.

This is the way it usually works: A middle-level official would rather miss lunch than to pass along a file on anything without appending three or six or a dozen more pages to it. The process, then, becomes one of geometric accumulation until the executive on whose desk the document finally comes to rest, must be stricken with visions of a small cabin on a little lake deep in the mesquite in Jones County.

The thicker the compilation of stapled entries on a Government matter, less is the inclination of the higher bureaucrat to slog his way, page by page, through all details. This is the time when he may appoint a study committee to deal with the matter in the bulging file. (The Congress often does the same thing but for different reasons—usually to put something off to another day.)

The study committee, to carry out its mission, recruits a staff and months later, issues a report. The stapled sheaves of paper have now given birth to thick volumes, recommending further study and a larger staff.

Many members of Congress lament and criticize big Government—controls and regulation—but continue to help churn out legislation which increases bureaucracy and paperwork. The President, who promises reduction in red tape and bigger Government, proposes more of the same. Let it be said in fairness then that it is not just the bureaucrats who create all the red tape which is engulfing the country. To carry out what the President proposes and the Congress disposes, somebody has to push the button and turn the crank.

That sound could not be a stapler. Out here in the country where stillness crashes on the ears—no telephone or television, only an occasional plane overhead or the distant roar of a diesel truck on the Anson-Stamford Highway—all is quiet. Scores of doves, mockingbirds, red-winged blackbirds, scissor-tails and quail are taking one another's location. At about nine-thirty in the evening and four a.m., coyotes seem to be arguing about something across the pasture. A clacking road-runner came by—which gave the idea of the clinking stapler going steadily in Washington.

NEWS OF BEAUTY

Eyes Bright, Eyes Right

There's more to eye make-up than selecting colors and products and applying them artfully.

Doing it right means reading the labels—they provide instructions on use and information on ingredients.

Because of the extreme sensitivity of the eye area, all cosmetics should be tightly capped and stored in a clean place. Old eye makeup should be thrown away.

It's always a good idea to wash your hands before applying eye makeup and never a good idea to use someone else's makeup or let someone else use yours.

All eye makeup products from reputable cosmetic companies are carefully formulated from ingredients and colors approved by the Food and Drug Administration.

Squeezing The Vanishing Dollar : An Approach For Young Marrieds

LUBBOCK, July 11—Inflation is an issue of concern for everyone today but particularly for young married couples.

Faced with everyday rising costs, standard of living expectations and providing financial protection for the future, sound financial planning becomes a necessity, according to Fred E. Maxcey, general agent in Lubbock for John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co.

"A young couple's typical expenses might include mortgage or rent; life, property and auto insurance; taxes; interest charges and similar costs," Maxcey noted. "There are also expenses which vary widely, but can be planned for, such as utilities, medical bills, food, clothing, recreation, home furnishings, education and transportation.

"If income from net pay, interest and other sources is equal to, or less than, expenses, conscientious financial planning or some form of systematic saving is more necessary than ever to provide an emergency, retirement or investment," he said.

Maxcey advised establishing a joint or individual checking account as one of the easiest ways of keeping track of income and expenses. Most banks and many savings and loan institutions offer this service at little or no charge, based on minimum balance requirements.

"To provide for an emergency, one sensible rule for couples to follow is to maintain savings equal to at least half of their annual take-home pay," he advised.

He offered several suggestions for keeping expenses manageable:

• Take advantage of occasional merchandise sales that do not include a carrying charge over a specified period of time.

• Take advantage of payroll savings deduction plans frequently offered by employers as an employee service.

• Save through periodic or automatic purchase of U.S. Savings Bonds.

• Consider purchasing a home which offers almost guaranteed value appreciation of the dwelling each year, income tax deductions for mortgage interest and property taxes, and the knowledge that a portion of the monthly payments are reducing the principal and building up equity.

• Consider the purchase of life insurance which will offer immediate protection while providing the long-term basis for meeting specific goals such as security program for retirement or an educational fund for children.

There are a variety of options available in insurance programs and couples should review these options with a qualified insurance representative to ensure

1977 Girl Scout Trip Planning Session Held

Twelve Floydada Girl Scouts have already signed up for next year's trip to Canada and Washington, D.C. Planning sessions for the trip have been held, and 32 applications received from Girl Scouts in the Floydada, Lorenzo and Crosbyton areas.

Any girl that is a registered scout and who will have completed the seventh grade by 1979 wishing to make the trip may place her name on the waiting list by calling Mrs. Jeanette Harrison 983-3044. Additional applications can still be obtained, then put on the waiting list in case any of the seats become available.

Mrs. Harrison will make the trip as well as Helen Lipham, (both are scout leaders) and Lou Burleson, assistant scout leader, all of Floydada.

Floydada Girl Scouts who have signed up for the trip include Pam Lipham, Teresa Spurlock, Tracy Harrison, Debra Allen, Lisa Ware, Jonna West, Angie Neff, Julie Morton, Karen Turner, Debbie Harrison, Beverly Burleson, and Lisa Welborn.

It was decided at the past meeting that material would be purchased and each girl and leader would be responsible for making a large portion of the clothes needed for the trip. Everyone will dress alike and meet Scout standards.

The following trip itinerary was decided: Depart from Crosbyton to Tulsa, St. Louis, Indianapolis, Erie, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Toronto, Canada, Montreal, New York City, Baltimore, Washington, D.C. Fredericksburg, Raleigh, Nashville, Memphis, Little Rock, Texarkana and home.

Letters are already in the mail to the President, the First Lady, senators, and representatives. The U.S. consulate in Montreal has already been written as well as towns to any size in order to receive information of points of interests the scouts and leaders may visit.

Plans are also being made to begin work on a gift to present to President Carter from the Girl Scouts of this area.

CAMPBELL

Button, Button Who's Got The Button?

Fifty thousand collectors have buttons—in all shapes and sizes. Priced for their beauty, buttons have reflected the traditions and costumes of cultures throughout the ages.

Buttons have been used as ornaments since 2500 B.C. The oldest one known is a disc with holes that dates from the early Iron Age.

By the 16th century, buttons were widely accepted and used as fasteners as well as for decoration. King Francis I of France used 13,600 gold buttons on one court costume!

Whether you collect buttons or sew them, enjoy... ing their babies extremely well. Some of them have given me pointers about that very important helper, the sitter.

• When selecting a sitter, see that she or he is capable, level-headed and dependable, or you may not be able to concentrate at work—you'll be worrying.

• If sitters are older, make sure hearing is adequate and that they are alert to handle emergencies capably.

• If the sitter's young, satisfy yourself that he or she is experienced and mature. High school students who've had baby care instruction in home economics classes usually are well-qualified sitters.

THEN

THEN: In the '30s, '40s, and '50s ice cream in Dixie cup cartons were great favorites with youngsters—not so much for the feast as for the feature on the lids: a picture of an athlete, animal or movie, radio or TV star. Part of the fun was peeling away the cover on the picture to see who was revealed. The cards then were traded, played with or saved for premiums.

LITTLE KNOWN FACTS

A traditional game with a French name was actually borrowed from the American Indians. A French clergyman saw a group of Algonquians playing ball with odd-shaped webbed sticks. Since each stick resembled a Bishop's cross, he dubbed the game lacrosse.

Scissors, those handy cutting tools, have been around for ages—historians say since the Third Century B.C. It is little wonder they've become such a common household instrument, given too little thought and probably less attention.

40 Year Sentence Given In Murder

Stacy Albert Carter, 26, one of two men charged with gunning down popular Midway County Sheriff Jidmar "Jinks" Wilson last Nov. 12, Thursday pleaded guilty to murdering the sheriff and received a 40-year sentence.

The plea, taken in Lubbock courtroom where the trial was moved on a change of venue from Midway County, was reduced charge, since Carter along with Larry C. Fortenberry, 26, of Mount Hemmon, La., was indicted for capital murder in connection with the officer's death.

Fortenberry's capital murder trial is scheduled to start with jury selection Monday in Plainsview.

A statement by Carter introduced into evidence during Thursday's abbreviated trial indicated his expected testimony could perform two functions: provide the state with a second eyewitness to the shooting and also provide testimony that Wilson's killers knew that he was a law enforcement officer.

Before agreeing to accept Carter's plea Thursday, 110 Dist. Judge George Miller asked prosecutor Randy Hollums if it were true that the state could not produce evidence to show that Carter fired the fatal shot.

Hollums said the state could not.

Speculation of a plea bargaining agreement in Carter's case was prompted earlier. The defendant originally had been scheduled to stand trial for capital murder in May, but, after several days of juror selection, a mistrial was declared.

Sources indicated that an agreement had been struck.

Some observers said they felt the way may have been rather opened for negotiations during a pretrial hearing.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Baker

Mrs. C.P. (Marie) Baker, whose influence in the Midway community extended over a period of many years, passed away at 7:25 p.m. Tuesday, July 5, in the Knox County Hospital. She had taken seriously ill at her home several hours earlier.

She was born Marie Henry on October 12, 1899, in Floydada and was 77 years of age at the time of her death. She married C.P. Baker on September 23, 1923, in Tulsa, and they soon established a home in Weinert, where they operated a dry goods store. They moved to Munday in 1932 and were active in operation of Baker-McCarty Dry Good for years. Mrs. Baker was active in churchwork, social and civic clubs throughout the years. When aversness of service opened, she headed the list to be of assistance.

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. Thursday, July 8th from the First United Methodist Church in Munday with Rev. L. Mauldin, a former pastor, now of San Jacinto Methodist Church in Amarillo, and Rev. E. Hardy Cole, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Johnson Memorial Cemetery under direction of McCauley-Smith Funeral Home.

Serving as pallbearers were Henry Barker, Guy Ginn, Paul Pendleton, Elviss Lee, Harry Rantall and R.C. Couch.

In mute testimony of the esteem which the community held for Mrs. Baker, the church was filled to near-capacity by loyal friends who came to pay tribute to her memory and to comfort the bereaved family by their presence. Her creative mind artistic hands and christian influence had brought happiness to many of those present. Munday business establishments were closed in her memory during the service.

1. Observe all traffic laws and signals.
2. Don't ride double or attempt stunts.
3. Ride near the curb in the same direction as traffic.
4. Walk, don't ride, the bike across crowded intersections.
5. Make sure you have good lights. One light that's a 35-candlepower fluorescent signal can be sighted from as far as two miles away.
6. Avoid loose clothing or long coats that can catch in the pedals or wheels.

LEGISLATURE ENACTS LAWS

55 M.P.H. INTACT — HELMET LAW ALTERED

The Regular Session of the 55th Texas Legislature was faced with such major issues as highway funding, education, energy, and public utilities as well as the General Appropriations Bill. The education bill remains a question to be addressed by a special session later this month. The Senate introduced 1,336 bills and passed 461, while the House introduced 2,267 and passed 440.

The following synopsis covers the more significant areas of traffic safety addressed by the Legislature: 55 MPH SPEED LIMIT—The Governor vetoed a Bill that would have prohibited speeding violations between 55 and 70 m.p.h. from counting against a driver's record for purposes of license suspensions or insurance rates. The Governor's reasoning in vetoing the bill centered around the lifesaving aspect of the lower speed limit and the possible loss of Federal highway funds.

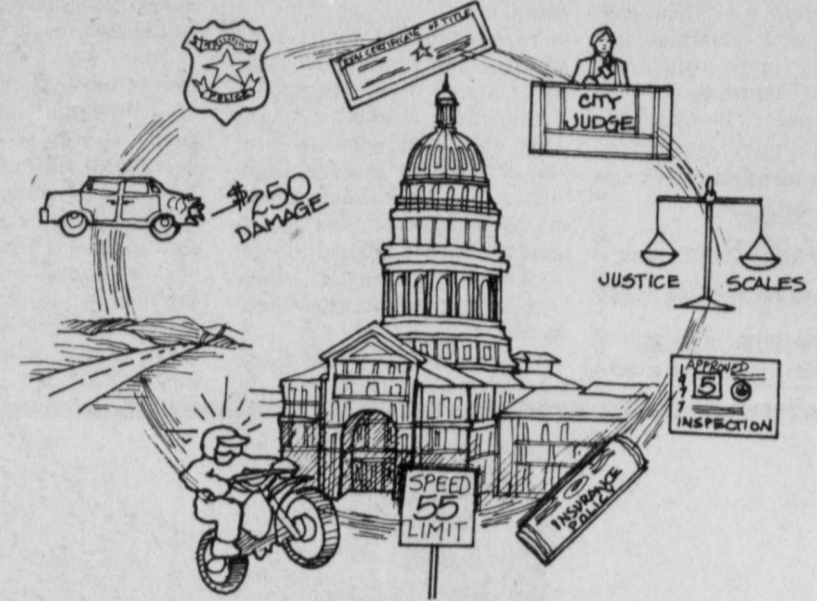

MOTORCYCLE HELMET LAW—The current law is altered to remove the requirement that drivers and passengers of motorcycles wear protective helmets with the exception of those under 18 years old.

MOTOR VEHICLE INSPECTION—SB1302 strengthens the compulsory annual motor vehicle inspection program and increases the inspection fee from $2.00 to $4.00. HB-1772 provides all motorists a five day grace period after the month of expiration of the inspection certificate. If, for example, an inspection certificate expires on January 31st, the individual would have through February 5th to have the vehicle inspected.

MOTOR VEHICLE REGISTRATION—HB1536 increases the fee for a duplicate motor vehicle license receipt from .25¢ to $1.00. HB1537 increases the fee charged for a Certificate of Title from .75¢ to $3.00. TRAFFIC COURTS—SB387 requires legal education and training for all municipal court judges. Every municipal judge who is NOT a licensed attorney must, within one year of taking office or from the date of this act, receive a 24 hour course in the performance of his/her duties. Each judge must fur-

porting threshold to "damage to the property of any one person to an apparent extent of $250.00 or more". Heretofore, accidents involving property damage to an apparent extent of $25.00 had to be reported. The bill also provides, on freeways in cities over 100,000 population, for the immediate removal of accident involved vehicles from the main lanes ther complete a minimum of eight hours training each year thereafter. Every municipal judge who is a licensed attorney, must complete an eight hour course in the performance of his/her duties within the first year in office or from the date of this act, as well as at least eight hours each year thereafter. (The Office of Traffic Safety has recently completed the development of a "Municipal Court Procedures Manual" and will soon offer courses of instruction in the utilization of the manual.) Three separate bills authorized the establishment of Municipal Courts of Record in Fort Worth, El Paso, and Sweetwater.

ACCIDENT REPORTING—HB368 raises the accident reporting threshold to "damage to the property of any one person to an apparent extent of $250.00 or more". Heretofore, accidents involving property damage to an apparent extent of $25.00 had to be reported. The bill also provides, on freeways in cities over 100,000 population, for the immediate removal of accident involved vehicles from the main lanes

LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS—HB451 creates a fund to be used by the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement Officers Standards and Education to be used in conducting officer certification and training programs. Monies for the fund will be derived by assessing a fee of $1.00 to each person convicted of a criminal offense including most traffic violation convictions with the exception of pedestrian and parking violations.
