STENHOLM, TOP CITIZENS TO BE HONORED AT RECEPTION

Congressional Candidate To Attend C Of C Banquet

Charles Stenholm, a Democratic candidate to replace Omar Burleson as U.S. Congressman for the 17th District, will attend the Lockney Chamber of Commerce banquet Thursday night. Stenholm, along with the city's outstanding man and woman of the year (both of whom will be revealed at the banquet), will be honored at a reception Thursday night following the banquet at the Buster Terrell home southwest of Lockney.

Stenholm, a farmer and native of Stamford, is married and has two children. He is a graduate of Tarleton State and Texas Tech Universities. Stenholm is a member of Bethel Lutheran Church in Stamford. He is a former member of the Texas State ASC committee and the state Democratic executive committee, and past president of Rolling Plains Cotton Growers.

To get to the Terrell home from Lockney, go west on US 70 past the Sea*Drive-In Theater, turn left and go south on FM 2883; Terrell's house is on the south side of the road, and one-half mile after the road curves west.

BANQUET STARTS AT 7
Starting time for the Chamber of Commerce banquet is 7 p.m. Thursday in the elementary school cafeteria. In addition to the announcement of the outstanding man and woman of the year, new C of C directors and officers will be installed. John D. (Jack)

Jackson of American Airlines in Fort Worth will be the featured speaker. Tickets to the banquet, available from Chamber directors, are $5 each.

Faith stimulates Ruby Hartman's aptitude for happy living

Felicia Applewhite
Ruby Hartman's belief that faith is a higher ability than reasoning is applicable first of all in her religious realm. She has found that it also serves in the task of refinishing a piano, quilting a quilt or learning to drive a Model A Ford with no one sitting beside her to instruct her.

"We were always so poor when I was growing up that we didn't know whether we would have enough to eat. It didn't bother us. We were happy," she says.

"She says that there is a way of facing disappointments. 'When it happens, it's done. You just have to face it and go on.'"

"As a Christian, I know the Lord will see me through; He always has.

"We had hard times and disappointments. I am sure, but I don't remember anything but the happy times. There was so much happiness!"

"Daddy was a preacher. Three of my brothers are preachers. I had four sisters and four brothers, all still living. Mother always played the piano at the church. She still can play at the age of eighty-two. She also played an old pump organ some."

"Since they were a preacher's family, they always lived in town. This would have been a handicap for some, but not for the Crawford children. A vacant lot on my served for drawing off a baseball diamond. It was a good place for many games, but before Ruby and her sisters were old enough to drive a Model T Ford, they pushed the Model T all over the vacant lot. Why? She doesn't remember.

"After we were older, we often asked Papa to let us drive our old Model T Ford. My sisters always made me do the asking. He nearly always let us have it. Some times, we would have a flat. Papa would come to fix our flat; he never would say a word," she remembers.

"The main family entertainment was in music. Early there was an established relationship in the family through music. With the pump organ centrally placed and with the mother pumping and playing, the family gathered around and sang.

"Music still plays a part in Ruby's life. She has a seventy-five year old piano that belonged to her husband's family. The piano could be much older. There is no way to arrive at a definite date.

"Once her husband's grandmother and grandfather made a trip in a wagon from Collingsworth County in Texas to Springer New Mexico and had the piano with them in the wagon. It speaks for the sturdiness of the piano that no harm was done.

"This old Strohber piano has its original ivory keys. Once she asked a piano authority's advice on putting new ivory on the keys. His answer surprised her.

"Why put new? This that is on there is worth a fortune. You couldn't afford to put new ivory on even if you could get it."

It was agreed that the piano needed a new finish job. Ruby herself did the finishing.

"I had never done any furniture refinishing. I just called Johnny Kellison, step by step on the work. Five coats of old varnish had to be taken off down to the wood. I took the piano all apart and sanded down to the cracks. It took me all summer. I'll never do it again," she is emphatic when she says that.

"The name plate on the front of the piano was misplaced during the refinishing time. A new hand-painted name plate takes its place. The information for the hand painting was gleaned from the inside of the piano.

"Once during the depression, a piano tuner wanted to buy the piano for $350. The offer was the result of his having heard of the instrument while he was on the inside tuning. An offer of $350 for nearly anything during the depression was a big offer. The piano is an upright. It has been in Ruby's possession for forty years.

"There is not a great deal of connection between music and quilting only that Ruby Hartman does both.

"There is a secret in quilting and quilt making you have to like it to do it. I just like seeing something built. Quilting is an old form of hand work, but I see it is growing in popularity again. The younger people are taking it up," she says.

"There was a time when people quilted because of necessity. They had to have something to cover the bed. That was when Ruby quilted so many that she learned to like it.

"I can't remember how many I have quilted. Once when mama and papa were gone, four of us decided to put a quilt in the frames to be quilted. We used a quilt top that mama had waiting to be made into a quilt. When mama and papa came in, we had it half quilted.

"Mama began to laugh when she saw the quilt. You have to put the lining in wrong side out," she said.

"The raw seams were on the outside. She has kept that quilt all these years," Ruby tells, laughing.

"Ruby Hartman has 'always known how to quilt.' She just 'grew up' knowing how to quilt.

"Back when housing space was quite limited, it was necessary to swing the quilting frames from the ceiling, so when the quilt was not being quilted on, it could be swung high above heads of family members. All the while, the quilt became more narrow in the frames as row after row was quilted

Mothers March Rescheduled

The Lockney Mothers' March for the March of Dimes, postponed from last Monday because of bad weather, has been rescheduled, according to Sharon Kinard, head of the Floyd County Chapter March of Dimes 1978 campaign.

Lockney Future Homemakers of America collected from the business area last week, and members of the Lockney Business and Professional Women's Club will complete the campaign in the residential section on Monday evening (February 6).

Kountry Kitchen Open Monday

Evelyn Merrell and Georgia Galloway are proprietors of the "Kountry Kitchen," which opens Monday in the building that formerly housed Rogers' Cafe.

The Kountry Kitchen will be open for three meals a day, from 6 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Specialties of the house include Merrell barbecue, Spanish food every evening, and calf fries and fish each Friday noon. There will be a large variety of foods on the dinner menu every day, according to the new operators.

Mrs. Merrell and Mrs. Pete Huley will be the morning cooks, and Mrs. Galloway and Stella Gonzales will be the evening cooks.

"We are going to have good food, we will try to give good, friendly service, and we invite all our friends and neighbors to eat with us," say Mrs. Merrell and Mrs. Galloway.

Allison's Sharp Shop Opens

O.C. Allison announces that he will be doing all of kinds of sharpening—saws, circular saw blades, chain saws, carbide blades, scissors, knives, garden tools, lawnmower blades—almost everything that needs sharpening.

"I have the most complete sharp shop in West Texas," Allison says, "and would appreciate your business."

Allison's Sharp Shop is located in Allison's home at 407 Bryant Street in Lockney.

Allison and his wife became interested in the sharpening business while traveling with Cloth World, sharpening scissors for Cloth World customers from Miami Beach to Denver and Phoenix. After traveling for seven years, Mr. and Mrs. Allison plan to be at home in Lockney most of the time to devote time to their new business.

Allison is also a locksmith and makes keys of all kinds in the shop.

Burleson Introduces Ag Bill

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Congressman Omar Burleson today announced that he has cosponsored legislation known as "The Agricultural Trade Act of 1978." This legislation is designed to expand foreign markets for U.S. agricultural commodities which he feels is vital to the continued growth of agricultural exports.

In view of the disastrous economic crisis which farmers all over the United States are now facing, Mr. Burleson feels this Nation must reduce agricultural surpluses by establishing an aggressive foreign marketing program such as that contained in his bill.

As introduced, the Agricultural Trade Act of 1978 would provide for the establishment of from 6 to 25 U.S. agricultural trade missions; a new medium term commercial credit program for financing exports; the establishment of an Under Secretary of Agriculture for International Affairs; an upgrading of the role of U.S. Agricultural Attaches; and other provisions.

DAR Essays

Three Lockney seventh graders will be among the area junior-high students who will be honored by the Mary McCoy Baines Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution Wednesday afternoon.

Amy Shaw and Karen Mathis won first and second place respectively in the American History Month Essay Contest sponsored by the Plainview chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and Russell Warren received honorable mention in the contest. Seventh- and eighth-grade students entered the area-wide essay competition.

The Lockney students, their parents and their teacher Mrs. Sally Carthel have been invited to a George Washington tea at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

The students wrote 600-to-1,000-word essays entitled "Growing Up In Colonial Times." The essays depicted the manner in which families lived during that era and the trades and crafts used.

American Agriculture Meeting Tuesday

Every farmer in this area, business people, individuals interested in the farming economy are invited to a meeting Tuesday night at 8 p.m. in the Massie Activity Center in Floydada.

Purpose of the meeting is to hear reports from farmers who have recently returned from Washington, D.C. and to discuss plans for future legislation and farming operations.

Downstate meetings of the American Agriculture movement have concerned the 50% plow up of winter wheat and 50% planting of row crops this spring.

The 50% philosophy is based on the fact that the farmer will lose just half as much money this year as last.

...And there is the possibility that farm product prices will go up if production is cut 50%.

Spring Fabrics

Spring fabrics will offer a wide variety of colors and textures to suit every taste, says Margret Ann Vanderpoorten, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Fresh and exciting textures range from suedes to linen gauze, from towelling to seersucker, and from satin to silk tweed, she continues.

Damask and shot taffeta are the newest look for day wear, with silk jersey seen at night.

Combine fabrics and textures-surprise combos are the newest, such as velvet with cotton knit, silk with leather, or cotton tweed worn with linen gauze and silk clip-dot shirting.

Try unusual color combinations for fun and fantasy, the specialist suggests.

True blue, white, hite, and many shades of brick, rust, wheat, mushroom, and ginger provide an interesting contrast for plum, tea rose, blush, saffron, and willow.

Use one color from head to toe or layer several. For example, pink, blue, violet and blue-green over bronze are a color-clashing bid for attention.

Many gourmet recipes call for clarified butter, says Mary K. Sweeten, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

To make clarified butter, heat butter over low heat, skim the froth off the top and strain through a cheesecloth. Clarified butter loses one-fourth of the original volume, she adds.

Arts And Crafts Festival Deadline April 1

Applications for the fourth Running Water Draw Arts and Crafts Festival are now being accepted, according to Festival director Rob Strong. Co-sponsored by Llano Estacado Museum and Plainview Rotary Club, the annual event will be held at the Hale County Agriculture Center in Plainview from October 13-15. The 125 available booths will be assigned to artists and craftsmen from Texas, New Mexico, and Oklahoma. Only handcrafted items are accepted.

The 1977 Festival attracted more than 5,000 visitors. An equal or greater number is expected this year.

Booths are expected to be filled by April 1. Anyone interested in being considered should write for an application to Rob Strong, Running Water Draw Arts and Crafts Festival, Wayland College, Plainview, Texas 79072.

Submit Family Histories

Now For Floyd Book

The Floyd County Historical Book Project leaders want to remind everyone of the deadline for submitting family histories is Feb. 14.

The following letter was sent to over 5000 persons who have been or are now residents of the county. This letter was printed in the paper because there are many people who did not receive letters for one reason or another.

FLOYD COUNTY HISTORICAL MUSEUM

Friend:

The Floyd County Historical Museum is compiling a history of Floyd County. The book will consist primarily of family histories. If the book is a warrant, we plan to include the history of communities, churches, organizations, education, business and information. This book will be unique in that it will be written by all the people in the county who are interested in their family history.

The book will give emphasis to the importance of the family history in our history and in Texas history. If you are presently living in, or have previously lived in Floyd County, we would like to hear from you. We are interested in your family history even if you are a recent resident.

Write the history of your family in the county who are interested in their family history. Give the state or county from which your family came, the approximate date, and the area where they settled in what is known as Floyd County. Write the story as if you could tell it in reminiscence. Then it will be interesting reading for others. The family history should not be more than 500 words. Limit each past generation to 100 words or less. Note the attached sample history and outline. Please submit your story double spaced and typed if possible, as hand written copy must be typed before being mailed to the center. Sign your name to your history and double check copy for content.

In addition to sending the family biography, please send one to three photographs (current or historic). Number them in priority for appearance in the book. We will try to use at least one & W photograph from every family, if we have the space we will use more. Because the photographs will be handled many times, please send photo-copies of any valuable or irreplaceable photographs. Please write the approximate date of the photograph or a caption for the picture. Your pictures will be returned to you after the book is completed.

There will be NO FEE for having your history published in this book. The histories and pictures should be sent as soon as possible. Send your material to: Floyd County Historical Museum, P. O. Box 304, Floydada, Texas 79235.

The history of Floyd County (including 1876-1977) will contain approximately 400 to 600 pages, depending upon the amount of biographies sent in and the number of books ordered. The more books ordered, the more pages we are allowed. The book, an 8 1/2 X 11 size, will be beautifully bound in a hardback, leatherette cover with a gold stamped, embossed logo and name on the front cover and spine. If space allows, many personal cherished items will be included in the book such as a family tree chart for recording your family's history. Just imagine 100 years from now, one of your loved ones being able to read about your life in 1977 along with looking at historic photographs plus tracing your family tree. What a family heirloom to pass down to your children, your grandchildren, etc.

As a nonprofit organization, our purpose in writing the history of Floyd County is to preserve historical records for the education and enjoyment of future generations.

Since we are going to publish the history, we want to make available copies for your enjoyment, too. For what reason, it will be necessary to collect in advance so our publisher will know how many books to produce and will know how many pages it will contain. All money will be held in escrow in the First National Bank of Floydada for payment to the publisher at a later date.

This historical book is available on a pre-sale basis only. The price of the limited edition book is $24.50 plus sales tax and your check should be made out to the FLOYD COUNTY HISTORICAL MUSEUM. Many families have expressed an interest in purchasing a printed memorial page to memorialize a member of their family. For information concerning memorial pages or if you have any questions, please contact:

Master's Four Quartet
Coming to Floydada

Another big feature of the "International Gospel Music Festival" scheduled for 8 p.m. Monday, February 13 in the Floydada high school auditorium will be the Master's Four quartet.

EXCITING, SPIRITUAL, ENTERTAINING, SOUL STIRRING... these are just a few of the words people are using to describe the ministry of The Master's Four. These dedicated young men are involved with concerts, church services, revivals, radio, television and any means to fulfill their goal of "Telling The World About His Love."

The fantastic Master's Four possess the rare ability to present a song with such impact that it can reach your heart. Through their God-given talents one hardly knows whether to shout for

Sales Tax Rep. Coming To Floydada

AUSTIN—State Comptroller Bob Bullock announced he is sending a representative from his Lubbock office to Floydada on Thur. Feb. 9th to assist taxpayers and answer questions about state taxes. Bullock said Enforcement Officer Raymond Bogus will meet with local taxpayers at the Floydada Court House, Room 103 from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m. "If Floydada-area merchants, or anyone else for that matter, have any questions about state taxes or need help in preparing tax forms, Mr. Bogus will be there to assist them," Bullock said. "We're trying to cut the red tape in this office and we believe these face-to-face sessions with taxpayers help do just that," Bullock added. Bullock reminded those taxpayers who are unable to meet with his representative on Feb. 9th that they can still get their questions answered quickly by calling his TOLL-FREE tax information number in Austin. That number is 1-800-252-5555. The Lubbock office, headed by Donald F. Paxton, serves Lubbock and surrounding counties.

Turkey Flock Cuts May Go Over 300,000

AUSTIN—Texas turkey flocks could be cut 3 percent this year if growers carry out their current intentions, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan, V. Brown has announced.

"Growers have indicated to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service that they will raise 8,300,000 heavy breed poulters this year," Brown stated. "This is a decrease of 300,000 from the 8,600,000 total in 1977. In spite of lower feed costs, producers are continuing to cut back slightly from the higher levels of 1976 in an attempt to keep prices up."

Brown noted that recent new turkey products should help to keep consumer interest in the product high.

"If the IRS calls you in, we'll go with you. No extra charge."

Henry W. Block

When we prepare your return, we stand behind our work. So if the IRS should call you in, H&R Block will go along with you at no charge. Not as your legal representative, but to answer any questions about how your taxes were prepared. That's Reason No. 5 why H&R Block should do your taxes.

OBITUARY

Louis Harvey Alldredge

Louis Harvey Alldredge, 84, died Friday February 3, 1978 at 7:45 a.m. at the Floydada Nursing Home. He was born December 22, 1893.

Services were Saturday morning at 11 a.m. at Moore-Rose Funeral Chapel, Dr. Floyd C. Bradley officiating. Interment was at the Denver City Cemetery, with Masonic graveside rites.

Mr. Alldredge was married to Mary Elizabeth Barrington, was a retired school administrator, and a member of the First Baptist Church, Denver City, and a member of the Masonic Lodge. He served as principal of the South Plains school from 1934-1939.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. J.H. Strickland, Roswell, N.M., and Mrs. Ralph Trice, Hobbs, N.M.; one son, Bob Alldredge, Floydada; one brother, James Alldredge, Palestine, Texas; two sisters, Belle Smith and Annie Mae Rouse both of Lubbock; eleven grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Colston

Services for Christine Swepton Colston, 61, of the Dougherty community was at 2:30 p.m. Saturday in the First Baptist Church.

The Rev. Floyd C. Bradley pastor, officiated and Tilden B. Armstrong of Paducah assisted.

Burial was in Floydada Cemetery under direction of Moore-Rose Funeral Home.

Mrs. Colston was dead at 12:30 p.m. Thursday on arrival at Caprock Hospital here after a sudden illness.

The Matador native moved to Floyd County in 1920, from Motley County. She married J.A. "Bill" Colston Oct. 15, 1939 in Plainview. Mrs. Colston was a member of First Baptist Church here.

Survivors include her husband; a son, Billy Don of Dougherty; a brother Hershel Swepton of Floydada; and three sisters, Ann Swepton of Hillcrest community, Lottie Belle Burns of Amarillo, and Betty Jean Campbell of Dougherty.

Pallbearers were Warren Mitchell, Lockney, Neil Mitchell, Lockney, Raz Ware, D.M. Cogdell, Harold Campbell, Matador, and Buster Terrill, Lockney.

Ludie (Pharr) Morris

Ludie (Pharr) Morris, long time resident of Gober, Texas was buried Tuesday, January 31, 1978 in the Gober Cemetery following an extended illness.

She was preceded in death by her husband Edward Morris. The Pharr and Morris families formerly lived on adjoining farms north of the McCoy community. Edward and Ludie were married in Floydada in 1922. Two years later the couple moved to Gober, where they farmed.

Survivors include four sisters: Mrs. Myrtle Allmon of Hereford, Mrs. Elber Ewing and Mrs. Lounette Chiddix of Amarillo, Mrs. Jewel Sparkman of Brownfield; two daughters: Karen Hopkins and Peggy Cummins of Dallas, one son, Rudolph Morris of Ector, Texas, five grandchildren. She was also a sister of the late Mrs. Charlie Berry.

Pastor of the Gober Baptist Church officiated.

Mrs. Spence

Services for Maylon Leona Spence, 89, of Floydada were at 3 p.m. in the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Floyd C. Bradley, pastor, officiating.

Burial was in Floydada County Memorial Park under direction of Moore-Rose Funeral Home.

Mrs. Spence died about 3:45 a.m. Thursday in Floydada Care Center after a long illness.

The Dalton, Georgia native moved to Floyd County from Crosby County in 1918. She was a member of the First Baptist Church. She married Charlie Spence Sept. 24, 1911, at Norton.

Survivors include her husband; two sons, Orvel Sherman and Sam Adrel of Floydada; a sister, Mrs. Myrtle Colwell of Petersburg; a brother, John Lollar of Winters; five grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Serving as pallbearers were Bill Daniel, Glen White, Art Ratslaff, Tommie Assiter, Aldine Williams and Roger Poage.

STRIKE REPORT — James Stair, right, tells Marvin Meek, left, and G.E. Kellison of Lockney about a show of force Stair and Meek participated in while in Washington when about 2,000 farmers linked hands and circled the White House asking for a meeting with President Carter. Meek reported on other American Agriculture activities and plans during a meeting Monday at the Hale County Agricultural Center.

Key Weather Events In 1977 Compiled

AUSTIN—An analysis of 1977 weather in Texas completed by the Weather Modification and Technology division of the Texas Department of Water Resources cites several unusual weather events.

The frequency and intensity of dust and windstorms provided uncommon and memorable characteristics of 1977 weather in Texas. Hurricane-force winds whipped giant clouds of dust throughout the western third of the State in February and then transported the precious topsoil eastward, darkening skies and reducing visibility to less than one mile from Wichita Falls to Lufkin.

Twenty injuries and an estimated $655,000 in damages were sustained to real and personal property in the El Paso area alone. Tractor-trailer trucks were blown off the highway at Guadalupe Pass (Trans-Pecos), and low humidity accompanying the high winds in North Texas prompted the issuance of fire-danger advisories.

A second severe dust-storm preceded the invasion of a snowstorm into the High Plains region in March. One-fourth of the winter wheat crop, having an estimated value of 25 million dollars, was destroyed in the High Plains, and property damages of one-quarter million dollars were sustained in the El Paso area. The dust moved eastward into other sections of the State and reduced visibilities to one mile or less at many points. A third duststorm pounded southern portions of the High Plains again in March, building up sand drifts as high as 10 feet near Littlefield.

Very heavy rains deluged much of the North Central and East Texas in March. Flash rains caused the worst flooding in the Dallas-Fort Worth area in 20 years. Three drownings and property damage in excess of one million dollars were reported in Tarrant County alone. In Arlington, 200 homes were flooded, and heavy water-damage occurred to Six Flags Amusement Park.

Tornadoes were not as numerous during 1977 as during the previous year, but considerable destruction resulted nonetheless from several of the "cyclones" when they struck at random in various parts of the State. One of the most costly tornadoes of the year struck near downtown Houston on December 13, leaving one man dead and causing at least 37 reported injuries. The violent "twister" touched down at mid-morning and traveled along a 500-foot path for five miles, snapping three-foot-thick pine trees, crushing mobile homes, and ripping off roofs of other homes in the Houston metropolitan area. It was also one of the most bizarre tornadoes of the year, for it struck during one of the least active months of the year for tornadoes.

Two tornadoes struck Monahans (Trans-Pecos) on April 19, destroying a hospital, convalescent center, and more than three dozen homes. No deaths resulted from the storms, although nearly a score of people were injured. Another damaging tornado hit the community of Quail (Low Rolling Plains) on May 16. Damages totalling nearly three-quarters of a million dollars were incurred from the storm; the Quail school and cafeteria, three homes, and ten vehicles were totally destroyed. On the following day, a one-half mile section of Plainview (High Plains) was struck by a tornado one which damaged a school and more than two dozen homes.

As in most recent years, fierce thunderstorms intermittently dumped heavy rains and damaged hail in various sections of Texas, particularly during the spring. Jourdan (Southern) received 8.54 inches in one 24-hour period. A baseball-size hail pelted Charlotte (Southern), and three inches of rain fell in minutes at Mountain Home (Edwards Plateau). Tornadoes raised the level of the Devils River by eight feet in just more than a day, and Interstate Highway 10 near Kerrville was nearly blocked by logs and stone transported by the water. Five-inch rains were measured in the Miami-Oadian area of the High Plains region causing the Canadian River to crest at over eight feet. Softball-size hail pelted the community of Alamo (Low Rolling Plains) in days later, while persistently heavy rains of as much as six inches caused flooding parts of both the Low Rolling and High Plains regions.

COTTON TALKS FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

High Plains cotton producers who plant as much or more cotton in 1978 as in 1977 have reason to expect target price coverage on about 85 to 90 percent of planted acreage according to calculations made by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, using the 12,516,100-acre figure in USDA's January planting intentions report.

The target price for 1978 is 52 cents per pound. If the average U.S. cotton price for the year is below 52 cents growers will receive a payment equal to the difference times the farm's established yield from covered acreage.

Producers who voluntarily reduce 1977 cotton acreage by 20 percent or more, the "National Reduction Percentage", will have coverage on all planted acres. For those who do not reduce acreage, if it appears payments will be necessary, USDA late in the year will announce an "Allocation Factor" that will determine the percentage of planted acreage on which payments may be made.

The Allocation Factor will be a percentage determined by dividing the estimated 1978 cotton acreage for harvest into the 10,248,000 National Program Acreage announced earlier.

The January planting intentions figure for the past ten years has been within three percent of actual plantings. If it proves accurate for 1978 and if the normal 6.7 percent abandonment is experienced, acreage for harvest will be 11,677,500. Dividing that into the 10,248,000-acre National Program Acreage would result in an Allocation Factor of 87.75 percent.

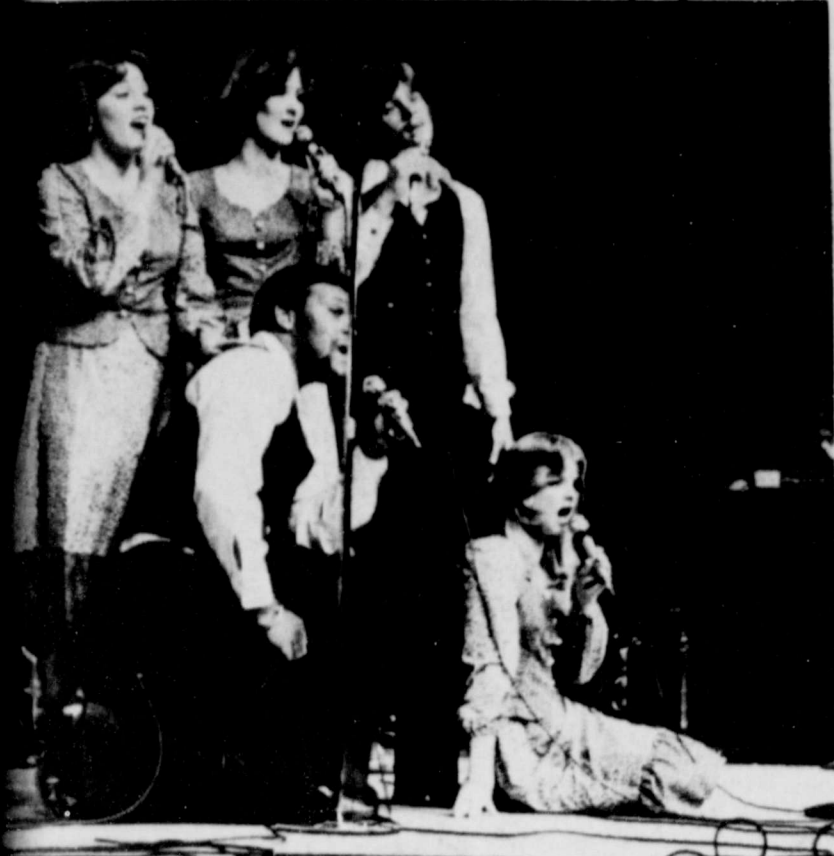

The maximum possible target price payment for 1978 is eight cents per pound, the difference between the 52-cent target and the 44-cent loan. However it would not be realistic to expect the average price paid to farmers in 1978 to equal the loan, so the payment rate, if a payment is called for, will almost certainly be something less than eight cents.

The 12,516,100-acre intentions figure indicates a reduction of about seven percent from the 13,501,100 acres planted in 1977. Only four states show intent to plant more than 90 percent as much cotton as last year. They are Oklahoma (100), Texas (97), Louisiana (96) and California (93). Other percentages range from 71 percent in South Carolina to 89 percent in Arizona.

If you can't pass this simple test, you might flunk life. Whether it's a bachelor pad on San Francisco's Hyde Street, a ranch in Wyoming, a room in a commune of back-to-nature thinkers, a home in Connecticut or a converted barn, it's home. Home to someone. And that someone is a homemaker. Here's a test that everyone who lives in a home ought to be able to pass. See how well you do. YES NO 1. Does your family have good vibes? Do you take part in establishing family goals and work to achieve them? 2. How about sharing household responsibilities? 3. Do you know the value of your belongings? A list of what you own would be helpful in collecting insurance. 4. Do you spend time with family members? When was the last time you helped plan a family outing? 5. Does your family have a monthly food budget? If you could help save $10 a week on food, your family could save toward a nice vacation. 6. Can you perform the simplest carpentry or electrical repair in your home? Do-it-yourself simple repairs could save your family money. 7. Do you know state laws affecting the family? What would happen to your family in case of death or divorce? How did you do? Everyone is a homemaker and needs the skills of successfully managing his or her life. LUBBOCK-The annual quail season continues through Feb. 12 in regulatory counties of Texas and many hunters are winding up their 1977-78 hunting season on the West Texas quail hunt.

The daily bag limit of 12 birds was easier to fill early in the season while the habitat was overloaded with birds, but winter hunters are still finding plenty of birds to shoot in most areas of the Panhandle and South Plains. Cold weather often kills or retards vegetation that provides needed forage, and populations can be reduced drastically when this occurs.

According to Texas Parks and Wildlife field reports, there seem to be several areas that were dry early last fall which now have had either rain or snow until Apr. 15 (actually Apr. 17) to file their 1977 income tax returns, the filing date for farmers and ranchers is much sooner.

"Agricultural producers who did not file an estimate of their income tax by Jan. 16 and did not pay the estimated taxes must file their tax returns and pay due taxes by Mar. 1," points out Dr. Richard Trimble, economist in management for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "However, if farmers filed an estimate, they have until the Apr. 17 deadline to file final returns."

Trimble notes that several changes were made in the income tax law during 1977 which should be of interest to Texas farmers and ranchers. A major change was the elimination of the standard deduction and the low income allowance. These two items have been replaced by a flat amount called "zero bracket amount." This amount depends on your filing status.

"The zero bracket amount is not a separate deduction, but the equivalent amount is built into the new simplified tax tables and tax rate schedules," explains the economist. "This is true if you file the 1040A or 1040 income tax forms. However, a person who chooses to use the 1040 form and itemize deductions will need to make an adjustment if his itemized deductions exceed the amount allowed for his particular filing status." Another change is that the deduction of $750 for each exemption and the general tax credit have been built into the new tables, so there is no need for the taxpayer to determine these. The general tax credit has also been revised to consider exemptions for age and blindness, adds Trimble.

Filing requirements have also been changed for the 1977 tax year. For example, an individual must file a return if his gross income is $2,950 or more and a married couple under 65 years of age must file if their joint gross income is more than $4,700. If both are 65 or older, they may make $6,200 before being required to file a return.

There are many other minor changes, and Trimble suggests several publications that may be of help. One is publication No. 17, "Your Federal Income Tax," 1978 edition, from the Internal Revenue Service. Another, publication No. 225, "Farmer's Tax Guide," 1978 edition, is also available from the IRS or from any county Extension office.

Trapping Season Winds Down

LUBBOCK--The Texas trapping season will continue through January 31 and Panhandle and South Plains trappers have had plenty of cold weather, but only an average year collecting pelts.

The prices for raccoon have topped out at $16 in the Panhandle. Coyote carcasses are bringing from $20 to $22 in most areas with more finished pelts being handled according to one dealer.

"We have bought over 1500 coyotes this winter and most of the trappers are reporting just as many coyotes as last year although the animals are harder to spot or find due to the trapping and hunting pressure," the fur buyer continued.

The biggest decline in number of pelts and prices is the bobcat which is bringing an average of $50-$55 in January. The export ban by the Endangered Species Scientific Authority (ESSA) on Texas bobcat pelts has caused less interest in bobcat hunting and trapping by comparing the $55 per-pelt price this winter with a $100 price tag last winter.

Licensed trappers are reminded that they must dispose of their season inventory of fur-bearing pelts by Feb. 5 since it is unlawful to possess green or undried pelts after that date.

Fishing Requirements

LUBBOCK--The license requirements for anglers have changed several times since the early 1970's with non-resident fishermen required to buy a 1977-78 Texas fishing license regardless of age.

As a result of S.B. 222, 65th Texas Legislature, R.S., nonresident anglers are required to have a nonresident fishing license to fish in any public waters of the state. A temporary nonresident fishing license ($4.50) may be purchased to fish for five consecutive days in lieu of the regular nonresident fishing license ($10.50). Both Texas nonresident and resident fishing licenses expire Aug. 31.

Texas residents 65 years of age or older and 16 years of age or younger still are not required to have a fishing license. To be considered a Texas resident, you must live in the state of six consecutive months prior to purchasing a resident license.
