C. H. Rose

Promises To The 'Good Lord' Kept By C.H. Rose

Felicia Applewhite
For the "almost 90 years" in the life of C.H. Rose not much has "just happened." Most everything has been planned and orderly. His coming to Floyd County at age of 23 was planned and for specific purpose. He came to "build a home in this fine country with its bountiful prospects for young folks."

He came in a covered wagon, dragging an old cultivator and planter behind him. He brought this farming equipment "hoping to get a place to farm" because he "felt sure he would have some place to live."

He came here from the part of Oklahoma where boys and girls married early. Usually, after marriage, the girl went to live with her new husband's people. Often Rose heard rumors of how a family friction developed in such households. "None of that" for him. When a young friend attempted calling his attention to marriage, he informed her of his position on the matter. He just supposed he would never marry—certainly not until he had a home for a girl.

He made the move to here following a crop failure on the "best farm land" near Martha, Oklahoma. In fact, he hadn't made enough that year "to pay his board bill." That 65 acres of row crop had been "hard work and no pay."

What better place to stop on arriving in Floyd County than Meteor northwest of Lockney.

"There were three of us—my niece, her husband and I. We lived together. When we began farming, we moved to the Roseland Community northeast of Lockney. We had 1/2 section of farm land and 1/2 section of grass land," he recalls.

Early in Mr. Rose's West Texas friendships was a German-born man by the name of Roloff who farmed nearby. Since Rose had no interest in making trips to town, he spent much of his spare time at the Roloff farm. And since there was always work at the Roloff farm, Rose "pitched in" and helped "without pay."

Very clear in Rose's memory was the time the wind blew Roloff's barns down. Roloff called the wind "storm wind." It was so strong that it blew the hog sheds down and turned the hogs out.

"I didn't have work at home at the time, so I helped re-build the barns and hog sheds." He adds then, "No cost to Roloff."

He sometimes fed Roloff's stuff and did other things he saw to be done. However, the most striking contribution made to Roloff was work that Rose did secretly at night.

"It was in the fall when Roloff had his feed on the ground in bundles. It was hard to see the bundles because of the wild ducks. They were by the hundreds, and they were eating Roloff's feed up."

"During the day, I was heading my own feed, so I started shocking Roloff's feed at night. He saw his feed was being shocked, so the 3rd night he came to where I was. Together we finished shocking his feed. He insisted on paying me. I told him if I had been doing it for pay, I would have asked before hand."

In the winter months, when the crops were "laid by," Rose worked for Roy Phillips for "$35 a month and board."

While he was working for Phillips, he became fascinated by some hand work Mrs. Phillips was doing. She was making coarse lacework by weaving and knotting cords into a pattern. She called it macrame. One day, he asked her to bring him some of the cord when she went to town. The end result was that he made a macrame bag.

The 64-year-old bag is still in Mrs. Rose possession. He made it for her in March before they were married in June. Mrs. Phillips instructed him because he said, "I believe I will just make one of those for Girl."

He points out the two errors he made in making the bag; those errors have to be pointed out because they are not noticeable. Many macrame artists have studied the bag hoping to reproduce its unusual design, but no one has. "After I quit working for him Roy rode 17 miles horse back to get me to come back to take his ranch. I had 6 horses and 6 cows; he offered to pasture them and give me $70 a month if I would come back, but I wanted a farm of my own."

Rose never refers to his wife by any other name than "Girl." She had said to him once that she never wanted to be referred to as "the old woman." He then began calling her "Girl" with his own special blend of the "i" and "r" as he says it.

Rose never did ask Girl to marry him; there was never a spoken proposal. "We just began making our plans to marry without saying so," he remembers.

"For our honeymoon, we rigged out a covered wagon and went to Oklahoma for Girl to meet my folks. She had never met any of them."

There was a chuck box on the back of the wagon and a bed in the wagon. Rose did the cooking. "That's where I started wrong. I cooked it the first morning and still do."

It took 7 days to get to Blair in that wagon. One horse became a cripple when his leg swelled from a cut in the joint he had before they left Floyd County.

"Before we married, I told Girl that I didn't have anything. She said, 'I can make my own living' that is what we have done with no inheritance or assistance of any kind."

"A brother-in-law wanted me to come back to Oklahoma to work in his feed barn where I had worked once. I didn't want to work for anybody; I wanted a farm of my own. I had already arranged for a place to go before we married."

They spent 2 months in Oklahoma on the honeymoon, then came back and headed maize and picked cotton—both of them. At the end of the year they had $500.

They bought cows and farm equipment from Roloff. They bought kerosene, coal and groceries to last 6 months. They spent $50 on house keeping items. After buying these things, they had less than $5.

He then decided, "If I make a living, I have to have something to make a living with, so I bought 2 sows and 18 hens."

They didn't get possession of the place until February, and they were not much more than moved until the cows had calves. There were then 5 cows to milk. Girl churned butter to sell and sold eggs.

For three months, Rose didn't go to town. Town had no appeal for him.

Girl's brothers helped them move in when they took possession in February.

"The brothers had just left after helping us get moved in when Girl and I met each other in the middle of the room and stopped. We put our arms around each other and stood there and stood there. We promised the good Lord while we stood there to do our best and asked Him to keep us, and he was right there with us all the way."

However, it looked at times that that prayer wasn't answered. A series of disappointments came to the young Rose family before the year finally ended on a good note.

To begin with, "I had 6 head of good work stock. First, in moving up there, I was leading one horse by the side of the wagon and ran across the side of his foot. Later, I went to saw off a part of the bad hoof. Just as I bent down to saw, the hoof dropped off. The horse had to grow back another hoof."

Then, two of our 5-year-old mares took what the veterinarian called the 'grease heel' I had the vet to come several times. I decided I would have to farm with 3 work stock.

"Then I went out one morning to find a 2-year-old dragging his hind foot. Something had kicked him in the hip. I got him up several times, but his leg stuck out a little farther all the time. I finally shot him."

"That left me with 2 good work stock. I went to farming early—the first of April. Mr. Rushing came by and told me to quit, but I went ahead. I planted cotton and maize the first of April. I had no rain until July."

"I made more on the 96 acres than some neighbors made on 1,000 acres. I made 1/2 bale of cotton, made good feed. I sold my maize for 17cents a bundle."

The prayer had been answered through a series of hard luck experiences.

"If I had had all the good horses, I would not have begun until May to plant, and it would have been too dry to get my stuff up. We had a 4-inch snow the first of May. The young cotton was plain down the row as the snow melted. The snow was all gone by dinner."

"Since 6 days was for work, I promised the Lord I would not work on Sundays. In my whole life, I have worked 3 hours altogether on Sundays."

When we moved there, we were given wheat and oat straw and my neighbor gave me half of his can stalks to haul it out of the field after he had de-headed it. We had enough feed for our stock for the winter. Girl had stacked it as we hauled it.

Several years later, Rose sold Maytag washers for 2 years. About this time Pat Fairley came to Rose to see if he would buy his laundry. He finally ended up by saying, "You can have that laundry. You won't owe a penny. You won't be busy in it except in the mornings."

"It wasn't long before we ran until 10 o'clock at night. The alarm for getting up was set for 10 minutes before 5. We operated the laundry for 6 years and never missed a day and never washed on Sunday."

After coming to town, he not only operated the laundry for a time, he bought the store where Rowell Variety is now and sold groceries 3 years. He worked at the hospital 2 years. Last year he raised 300 acres of wheat and kept the weeds hoed out of 100 acres of cotton. He hasn't missed hoeing on his birthday all his life except for sickness.

"We have a pretty good record on church service attendance. We haven't missed 2 Sundays a year except for sickness, or when off visiting. At times when we have away visiting we have visited Catholic, Church of Christ, Baptist, Episcopal and Presbyterians churches."

In a few days, Rose will have his 90th birthday, but his life style is much as it has always been—planned and orderly.

Police Chief Hamilton Resigns

Raymond Hamilton, chief of police at Lockney since August 1, 1973, has resigned. Hamilton gave two weeks' notice and started two weeks' vacation Tuesday.

Donnie Ballew is acting police chief. The city's two patrolmen Ballew and Leonard Cox, are working 12-hour shifts until another policeman is hired. Mayor Claude Brown said.

Bickley Is Honorary Saddle Tramp

John Bickley of Lockney became an honorary Saddle Tramp Tuesday when the Texas Tech spirit, service and leadership organization presented a certificate to the long-time Texas Tech sports booster at a meeting in the Tech business administration building.

According to the organization's constitution, "Honorary Saddle Tramps are those individuals who the organization recognizes for their service to the university and/or Saddle Tramps." Bickley was selected "by an overwhelming margin," according to the secretary of the organization, George D. Greenwade, to join the elite group of 17 individuals which includes past presidents of Texas Tech athletic department officials and others who the Saddle Tramps feel "...best represent the spirit and loyalty that Tech is known for."

Bickley makes the Lockney American Legion building available for the Saddle Tramps' freshman orientation and has Tech baseball schedules and bumper stickers printed each year.

When his son Bick was on the team, he furnished warmup jackets for the baseball team. This year, he sponsored the "Double-T Dolls," buying uniforms for the Red Raider "batgirls."

Show Board Salute

By Wendell Tooley
This month the salute goes to the men and women who work in the Floyd County Junior Livestock Show board. They not only put in a hard week's work in the spring of the year when the show comes off, but meet during the year to make plans for the next show.

The show is one of the smoothest running and one of the biggest in this part of the state. This year 407 animals were weighed in—.50 steers, 176 lambs, 181 barrows.

The show is staged each year to encourage boys and girls in learning the livestock business, as well as how to be showmen. 4-H and FFA boys and girls keep records on profits and losses, enjoy a good experience of working with their advisors, their parents and the fat stock show board.

MERCHANTS SUPPORT
The keen interest Floyd County merchants have in the success of the show is evident in the thousands of dollars of prize money donated each year. Many individuals also donate to the premiums.

Money-wise, the auction sale each year on Wednesday is big. Over $85,000 were paid to the young showmen this year in floor bids, premium and auction money.

No doubt about it, the show is the big event of the year in Floyd County and highly successful because of the men and women who devote long hours of hard work to see that rules are followed, schedules maintained, and improvements made every year.

perhaps a lesson can be learned from this charming but meaningful presented in the Baptist Courier. "Oh, not Einstein assured her. "I enjoy what we get along very well."

No problem, her employer replied. "We were glad to see her receive this assistance, knowing full well that she was as deserving as anyone could possibly be."

Okay so far. She called one morning last week to tell the fellow that due to regulations connected with the Food Stamp program, she couldn't continue to work and receive the stamps plus other assistances available.

Big deal, you say. Well, it is a big deal. Why in the name of HEW don't our welfare programs encourage folks to keep working in order to qualify. Instead they make it more attractive and profitable NOT to continue working.

NOTHING TO TOY ABOUT: Well, if the tables aren't turned! In order to promote its campaign for toy safety, the Consumer Product Safety Commission bought 80,000 bright yellow buttons that featured a teddy bear and the words "Think Toy Safety." Unfortunately, the Commission found that the buttons were unsafe; they had sharp edges and were decorated with lead paint, which, if licked by children, could cause harm. The cost of the blunder? $20,000.

Named Outstanding Citizens

April 20 at the regular meeting of the Senior Citizens' club of Floydada, the group elected two persons as their outstanding citizens' for 1978. Edna Phillips was elected to represent the outstanding women and Carl Plumlee the outstanding man.

Girl Scout Review Held

Four Girl Scouts went before the board of review Wednesday, April 26th. The four are Pamela Lipham, Debra Allen, Margie Cuevas and Vicki Keener. The board of review precedes the awarding of First Rank of First Class Girl Scouts which will be held in May. On the board of review were Mrs. Dewey Parson, Mrs. James Spurlock, Mrs. Jerry Finley and Mrs. Gary Pate.

Mrs. Phillips organized the club in June of 1975 and served as president for two successive years meeting at Lighthouse Electric once a month.

Mrs. Phillips is a retired school teacher of 52 years. On retiring she received a golden bell from the State Department congratulating her for services rendered in the teaching profession.

She also taught juniors in Sunday School for 40 years, then was drafted to teach senior women which she is still doing.

Mrs. Phillips serves as senior advocate for Floyd County which gives her the opportunities to aid the aging in housing, welfare, social security, transportation and referral work.

Carl Plumlee was elected to represent the outstanding man for services rendered to Floyd and joining counties for 1978. More than a year ago he was appointed advisory counselor over a 15 county area, by Betty Shannon, project director of South Plains. In the function of this work he spends much time traveling, and perseverance is required to make all the meetings.

Mr. Plumlee served as Floyd County commissioner overseeing roads for six years, and as commissioner in the court for 30 years. His influence with the commissioners court had aided the transportation of the mini bus in securing funds to cover the taxes, tires, and gasoline for Floyd County's bus.

Since the Senior club has moved to 301 E. Georgia he has been the promoter of repairman, painting, building tables, and securing the sign for the club. His work for the club is unnumbered. His pleasing personality reaches out to Senior Citizens' in such a way that he was able to secure volunteer help from Green Thumb workers and others in repairing the club house. He has been the problem solver for the Senior citizens' club since its founding.

The beginning of Senior Citizens was slow, starting with no funds. Lighthouse Electric offered their meeting room to them and Kathy Green at the Community Center lent a helping hand. The organization grew however in time and later was able to raise enough funds to purchase a former church building at 301 East Georgia. They moved in several months ago and now have a membership of 50 people with visitors attending regularly.

The Center is open five days each week offering recreation, quilting, Bible study, exercises and other activities.

In 1972 and again in 1974 they gave him more than 90% of their vote for Governor.

In 1978 they are backing him strongly again.

El Progreso Meets

"Fear not that your life shall come to an end, but rather fear that it shall never have a beginning" by Wilfred A. Patterson, was the feeling of the members of the El Progreso Study Club if they had not been in the home of Jeanette Marr for a travelogue of England given by LaVerna Sams, Wednesday, April 26, 1978. Delicious refreshments of sausage balls, cookies, coffee and punch were served to nineteen members.

In a business session presided over by president Juanita Jenkins, three new members were welcomed to the club membership. Roll call was answered by many interesting facts about various states. The final meeting of the club year was announced to be a salad luncheon in the home of Dorothy Smith, May 13, 1978.

LaVerna Sams, with her sister Ruth, has spent several weeks in England as a guest of a nephew and his family. She gave a most interesting account of her trip to various tourist attractions in and around London. Especially interesting were visits she had to several homes for tea and being able to visit with English women.

A tour through the home and grounds of Winston Churchill was the highlight of the trip. The Easter holidays was spent in Paris. As a result of an unfortunate accident her sister had to remain in an England hospital two weeks and Mrs. Sams had to come home alone, but found everybody most helpful.

Those present for the delightful meeting were Juanita Jenkins, LaVerna Sams, Dimon Schacht, Faye Ferguson, Ann Brock, Cornelia Johnson, Bobby Kellison, Josie Taylor, Anna Dell Quebe, Polly Gilbert, Kathryn Ball, Alice Mitchell, Dorothy Smith, Marie Brock, Arla Copeland, Hazel Johnson, Pauline Sams, Faye Holmes and Jeanette Marr.

Mrs. Ruth Trapp reported on the crepes luncheon which was a great success in attendance as well as a pleasant change from everyday foods.

Nominees to council as delegates to the T.H.D.A. State meeting are Mrs. Lillian Smith and Mrs. Ruth Trapp. Mrs. Dovie Rushing will receive honors as a 50 year member.

Mrs. Norrell, recreation chairman, led in exercises that help in blood circulation.

Mrs. Blanch Williams gave the program "Choosing material for floors and walls." Choosing material for quality and beauty shows you care enough to buy the best for your home. Be sure to choose the right material for walls or floors to receive the best service in each room.

We thank Mrs. Mae Willson for conducting a training meeting for our program leaders.

Refreshments were served by hostess to Mmes. Ruby Evans, Inje Walker, Blanch Williams, Dovie Rushing, Frances McClure, Lillian Smith, Ruth Trapp and Mattie Norrell.

Next meeting will be May 9.

Homebuilders

Meet In Widener Home

Homebuilders Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Gladys Widener Tuesday, April 25. Mrs. Lillian Smith opened the meeting with the hostess reading the devotional I John 14:18. Roll call was answered by nine members on "Things I have done to change the decor in my home."

4-H chairman, Mrs. Blanch Williams reported on the many awards won by the 4-H members in our county.

VA NEWS

Students may not be any more mobile than other people, but it seems so when you are mailing checks to some one million of them monthly, Jack Coker, Director of the VA Regional Office in Waco, says.

Some 160,000 GI Bill students filed change of addresses with VA last month and VA computer programmers are happy about it. It's those who failed to notify the agency after a move that Coker worries about.

"A late check can be disastrous to a veteran student's budget," Coker said. "The risk of missing a check can be avoided with a change of address notice." "Students who move,"

Coker said, "and alert their VA on-campus reps or local VA office will get their checks at the new address."

The biggest problem in misdirected checks come at the end of a semester. For example, if the semester ends in May, the student may leave campus before his check arrives. A change of address notices can solve this problem.

VA takes pride in its overall record of getting benefits to the right person, at the right time, at the right place, according to Coker.

"Veterans can help us trim our mistakes," Coker said.

"The busy have no time for tears." Byron

Confederate Memorial Day Held In Childress

The Childress Chapter #1845 of The United Daughters of The Confederacy and Sarah Elizabeth Underwood chapter #670 of Children of Confederacy commemorated Confederate Memorial Day, April 29th, with a beautiful memorial program at the Calvary Baptist Church Sunday, April 23rd. The program was dedicated to the Confederate ancestors "Who Fought For The Things in which They Believed."

Whether known or unknown to fame, they died and wore The Gray." Boone Adams, member of Sons of Confederate Veterans Camp, Floydada gave the invocation. Pledge of Allegiance to U.S. Flag was led by Miss Maudie Coffee; salute to Confederate Flag by Heather Efrid; salute to Texas Flag by Mrs. George Finley. Greetings were extended by Miss Rojion Adams, president of Sarah Elizabeth Underwood Chapter of Children of Confederacy and by Miss Tops Gilreath, president of Childress Chapter of United Daughters of Confederacy.

A playlet "Discovery at Gettysburg" was presented by pupils of sixth grade jr. high school: Karen Quisenberry, Scott Court, Sarah Henley, Kim Shanks, Alva Massey, Lenna Lowrance, Shawn Garrison, and the announcer Stacy Holtman.

The Honorable Harper Knight, judge of Childress County, was introduced by Mrs. L.L. Baker. Judge Knight gave a very inspiring talk to the group and some interesting facts about the federal government gaining inroads into our local communities, counties and state. He advised if people ask for federal monies, the federal government is going to control said money; the judge advised those listening to vote when there was an issue to be voted on and gave some statistics about the apathy of Americans and local counties in going to the polls.

Judge Knight urged the U.D.C. Chapters and local women to use their influence in putting over good measures and defeating others. He encouraged women to write letters, send telegrams and to talk with congressmen and senators about political issues. It was the opinion of Judge Knight that local organizations composed of women as the U.D.C. could exercise much influence if pressure were put on officials.

Mr. and Mrs. George Finley, Floydada, rendered a beautiful old song of the Southern Army "Dear Mother I have Come Home To Die". Miss Rojion Adams was the accompanist. "The Drummer Boy" was played by Kody Hardin dressed in Confederate suit, while Jacky Don Martin of Lakeview played the violin and Mrs. Ruth Ann Shaefer played the accompanist. "The Yellow Rose of Texas" was also rendered.

Mrs. B.B. Martin acted the part of the grandfather telling his story to his grandson played by LeAnn Efrid in "When Grandfather Followed Lee". The narration was given by Mrs. C.O. Bodine and the finale was a poem by LeAnn.

In memoriam to Mrs. M.H. Turner (nee Edith Myrtle May) who died August 2, 1977. Mrs. L.L. Baker presented the heroic story of Emma Sansom, the Alabama girl who when the bridge on Black River had been burned by the Yankees mounted behind General Nathan B. Forrest and showed him a ford where his command crossed. He pursued and captured that enemy and saved the city of Rome, Georgia. Then Mrs. C. E. Voyles read the resolution of respect to Mrs. Turner and a wreath of flowers was placed in her memory by Heather Efrid and then read a poem of memoriam.

Roll call of United Confederates of Joseph E. Johnston Camp No. 259, organized June 4th, 1892, Childress, Texas, was made by president of Childress Chapter who organized the camp was called to honor the memory of all Confederates in the U.C.V. Camp.

As each name was called by the chapter president a Confederate battle flag was removed from a container by Heather Efrid and handed to the color guard to the memory of the departed soldier and in honor of the one hundred-four Confederate soldiers in the Childress, Tell, Kirkland, Newlin, Dodson and Olympus Cemeteries. Wreaths were placed by Mrs. C.V. Johnson and Miss Maudie Coffee in memory of the Gray soldiers. Mrs. Ray Russell, accompanied by Linda Kay Southern member of C. of C. Chapter of membership number: Home Adams benediction.

MATURITY OF JUDGMENT
A PROVEN RECORD OF
ACCOMPLISHMENTS

FOSTER WHALEY as County Agricultural Agent used his boots on a couple of bureaucrats; one tried to close down a cotton gin, the other tried to sell compulsory soil and water conservation to the local soil conservation district.

FOSTER WHALEY was the first to alert Texas' major farm organizations of this statewide effort. He wrote the resolution for his local farm organization's opposing compulsory soil and water conservation.

IN THE PEN ABOVE, Foster Whaley hedged the first cattle ever hedged in Gray County, and among the first ever hedged south of the Canadian River. He then taught this technique to thousands of feedlot managers, cattle feeders, farmers and 4-H members. Many 4-H members attended college on profits they earned from his help.

FOSTER WHALEY, as State Representative, will continue to boot any bureaucrat in State Government who gets over zealous in regulating our industries, organizations and agriculture.

Let us keep it that way. Crabs and gripers yea and rather on moral support - yet there is that is our security and faith - By general boardcast - I learned there is a judgeship up for grabs. There is a young gentleman, of candor and who has been closely associated with that and other of the district, willing, desirous, well-qualified to pursue and extend career in that field. Panama Canal Mistake?

WASHINGTON—America's decision to relinquish the Panama Canal could not come at a worse time for the conduct of our foreign affairs. The Panama Canal is a country known for its sharp departure from world affairs and will no doubt be met with a close eye by those who have been testing our mettle.

The Panama Canal decision represents the foreign policy mistake. The Canal is a vital link in the world's maritime and airway important to our economic well-being and to that of the world. Its national importance to this country is above dispute.

INTS FOR ANDY OMEOWNERS

Spring Into Action

Don't wait till the last minute—or the first weeds of the season may make your lawn "out of sight!" Here are some tips from the Outdoor Power Equipment Institute for getting your lawn mower ready before the season starts.

1. If you haven't had your machine serviced in a year, make sure to make an appointment with your dealer long before the robins arrive.
2. Make sure the carburetor air filter is clean—or does it need replacement?
3. Before you start your mower, clean the spark plug and make sure it doesn't need replacing.
4. Change the oil and fill the tank with gas.
5. Before you use the mower, reread the operating instructions in your owner's manual.

Farmers Union Calls For New Efforts From All Who Support Parity

WACO, TX.-Officers of Texas Farmers Union from counties all across the state have officially gathered to renew the fight for parity goals in farm legislation and pledged continued support of "all farmers and groups of farmers who are fighting for the cause."

The resolution "to build stronger coalitions and efforts of ALL farmers for new work toward the goal of parity in government programs for the survival of family agriculture." Pointing toward the shared goals of Farmers Union with the American Agriculture Movement, the local farm leaders indicated a need to more closely associate all factions who are willing to work actively for reform.

Said one representative spokesman, "Farmers have learned many things in the past few months. Among them has been an awareness of which individuals and groups are fighting for them and which are fighting against them. Farmers are learning how to take care of their own business, and item number one is to support your friends and quit feeding your enemies. Family agriculture will be saved only when those who are willing to get out and work start working together. I think the farmers on our side of the fence are in the majority, but we're going to have to put it all together and push and push until there's no one left on the sidelines. We must stop beating ourselves and start building a bloc of supporters of 100% of parity."

An official of Texas Farmers Union called the spirit of farmers across Texas "good despite their frustrations." New work to build the organization to greater numbers and efforts seeking compromise legislation were discussed at the meeting with positive momentum.

Soil Stewardship Week Set for April 30-May 7

By Clyde Gottschalk

"Compelling Ventures," the theme for this year's Stewardship Week observance, places strong emphasis on current national objectives for preserving the quantity of our national resources.

Throughout the state and nation, ministers will carry the message of improving the quality of our waters and of the need to preserve prime agricultural lands. Print and electronic media will also carry the message. As elected public officials of political subdivisions of the State of Texas, soil and water conservation districts have a great leadership responsibility in guiding district programs to conserve soil, water and other resources. District directors have a greater responsibility in directing their district's individual conservation programs such a way as to be harmonious with the first step system and with a respect for private property rights. We want to approach the protection of our soil and resources from erosion, depletion and pollution as God-Given for the sustenance of man. When properly, soil can be used continuously and its productivity improved with each generation. There has always been erosion, but when kept in acceptable limits the principles of the universe make restoration.

We can be positive about the accomplishments of our ranch people through the programs of their soil conservation districts. We doubt seriously that our soil and ranch land contributes any appreciable amount of harmful germs or poisonous substances toward pollution. While we want to keep topsoil in place for economic reasons, it is not a dangerous pollutant.

The Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board applauds all of the Soil Stewardship Week observances held over the state April 30-May 7. In observance of Stewardship Week, the State Board pledges to work toward conserving the state's soils, water and natural resources in a cautious, sound, scientific way which would be most harmonious with local objectives.

Godfrey Speaks To Floydada Lions

U. S. Congressman Fike Godfrey spoke to the Lions Club at the subject of "God Back To The Lion's Den".

When we get back home we are always convinced that we here in America still have the best country in the world. If we can keep it. During the past 7 years I have made many trips to Washington to work on legislative matters and federal agency regulations. In testifying before the Congress and the Washington agencies and in our related work on these issues I have been disturbed and worried by what I have seen and heard. We have seen and heard a growing number of people and organizations working to change our system of government to a system that has failed everywhere it has been tried...Socialism.

We have seen these people doing this by moving America away from the basics. The basics of our democratic system that has made America great. America needs to get back to the basics. The basics of the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. We have won with these basics and we can continue to win with them. IF we stay with them.

There are practiced in the world today only two basic different economic systems by nations. They are free enterprise and socialism. What is the American Free Enterprise System? The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has defined it as: A system that must be honorable to succeed, it rewards hard work, encourages the profit incentive that built an American Economy which has given an unexcelled standard of living to Americans, requires a government that exists to serve, not to rule, puts personal liberty and freedom of choice as an inalienable human right and believes that pride in my country, and love for it, can never become old fashioned.

In America, Free Enterprise has been a success for 200 years and 200 Years of Success Can't Be Wrong. The American Free Enterprise System's heart and soul is the fact of "individual Americans personal and economic freedom."

Individuality is the keynote of the free enterprise system. The margin between what we can do, and what we actually do, is so great that a system that urges us on to action and helps us to develop our own individual enterprise and initiative is preferable to any alternative. No other system offers a better alternative.

THE FOUNDERS OF OUR COUNTRY FAVORED FREE ENTERPRISE

1976 was also the 200th anniversary of the publication of the Wealth of Nations by the Scottish economist Adam Smith.

In Wealth of Nations, Smith sparked a revolution in economic theory which is still benefiting the world. At the core was Smith's "system of natural liberty," which Karl Marx later called "capitalism" and which we call "free enterprise."

Smith said the well-being of society is best promoted by leaving people free to promote their individual welfare in the ways they considered best. The nation as a whole would prosper as each individual within it works to increase his own wealth.

This nation's Founding Fathers wholeheartedly shared Smith's views. They purposely set out to protect the right to life, liberty and property from their principal oppressorthe power of government. But today, at the pinnacle of its success, Free Enterprise has its back to the wall. It seems as though many Americans—the sponsors of National Economic Planning prominently among them—have lost faith in the economic system that has made us more free and more prosperous than any other people on the face of the earth.

More than half of the economic activity in the entire history of man has taken place under American auspices, and most of that in this century!

This is the nation people all over the world long to come to!

The only alternative to free enterprise is government ownership, you can call that socialism, or National Economic Planning.

Some people regard private enterprise as a predatory tiger to be shot. Others look on it as a cow they can milk. Not enough people see it as a healthy horse pulling a wagon loaded with all the people of this nation.

Many people have found this exciting new way to be heard has inspired them to express their opinions more and to form more opinions to express, and so to become more interesting.

the BRISCOE record

- ☆ Dolph Briscoe became governor a little more than five years ago, and shortly thereafter, the Texas Boom began. During the Briscoe years, the income of the average Texan has risen 52 percent.
- ☆ Before coming to office, Governor Briscoe promised improved Government services without a penny's increase in the taxes Texans pay. It was a promise he had the know-how and skill to keep.
- without raising taxes,
Governor Briscoe increased public school spending by $3 Billion. The result: improved vocational, technical and bi-lingual education.
- without raising taxes,
Governor Briscoe found the money to expand programs for the aging by 200 percent.
- without raising taxes,
Governor Briscoe was able to increase medical education funding by 250 percent.
- without raising taxes,
Governor Briscoe increased the amount of money devoted to the care of the mentally ill and retarded by 174 percent.
- without raising taxes,
even the Texas gasoline tax — which is still the lowest in the Nation — Governor Briscoe funded the first long-range highway program in the State in 22 years.
- without raising taxes,
Governor Briscoe established a comprehensive anti-crime program aimed at violent, habitual criminals.
- ☆ The Governor's record is a reflection of Dolph Briscoe's philosophy of government, which is built around a central, unshakeable tenet: government's job is to serve citizens without intruding unduly into their lives and pocketbooks.

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I have become fascinated with the subject of reincarnation. Why are people like you so opposed to this idea? — I. F.

DEAR I. F.: As a Christian I take my stand on what God has revealed about life after death in the Bible. I therefore reject reincarnation, because it is clearly rejected by the Bible, God's Word.

What does the Bible teach? It tells us that we have been created by God, and He has placed us on this earth. It also tells us we only have one life, and after this life is over there will never be a second chance to prepare ourselves for eternal life. Instead, we will be brought before God for judgment.

The Bible says, "And as it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment" (Hebrews 9:27). God told Adam and Eve, "For dust thou art, to dust shalt thou return" (Genesis 3:19). There is not one passage of Scripture that gives any support to reincarnation.

I wonder if you have asked why you are fascinated by this. Perhaps it is because down here you have a deep yearning for eternal life and do not deserve it. You hope that in other lives you will get nearer to God. Whatever the reason, I have good news for you, and He wants you to be with Him and live with Him throughout your life, so you could be in your place, so you could be with Him. He loves you so much that He might deliver us from this world, according to the will of our Father" (Galatians 1:4). I want to give yourself to Him, so you can receive a rich welcome into the kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Christ" (2 Peter 1:11, New International Version).

Some people have thought that seeing a wolf before the wolf saw them would render them speechless.

Charity Begins At Home

It's going to be easier than ever to help in the fight against a killer disease.

More than 30,000 real estate brokers across the country are joining a massive home-to-home fund raising campaign—"A Day in May for MDA," for the "Fight Against Muscular Dystrophy" on Sunday, May 7th from 11 to 5 p.m. This gives you a chance to join the fight right at your door.

Testimony By Film To Be Given

First Baptist Church of Floydada will present the dramatic testimony of Colonel Heath Bottomly Sunday at 7 p.m. in a film entitled "A Warlord Meets Christ." The public is invited. The film is an account of Colonel Bottomly's conversion to Christ at a point in his highly successful military career when everything he had worked and strived for appeared to be crumbling. Highly ambitious, highly motivated and one of the best pilots in the United States Air Force, Bottomly recounts how a phone call from his son half way around the world completely changed his life and his perspective of life. "Having heard personally his testimony, I can highly recommend this film to anyone," said Dr. Floyd C. Bradley, pastor.

SAFETY CORNER

INSTRUCT FARM HELP

Good instructions to those that work on your farm or ranch—your own family or hired hands—can pay big safety dividends. Train new workers so they will learn the job and the proper method of doing it. Four steps to instructions—(1) Put worker at ease, (2) demonstrate the job in steps, (3) have the worker repeat the steps and (4) follow up on performance. Have workers study operator manuals of equipment they will run.

SAFETY TIP

Wool is a factor to be considered in selecting the type of insulation to be installed in a building. Wool, either fiber or rock wool, is incombustible and won't burn. However, paper or foil facings on batts and blankets are combustible and should be removed after installation.

Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. President:

For over three decades the American farmers and ranchers have been the victims of a bipartisan cheap food policy. Now double digit inflation caused by government has the American farmer on his knees.

I have some suggestions for immediate relief. Cost to the government would be insignificant.

Since we are the only surplus-producing nation in the world that does not have a central grain and agricultural products board to speak for the best interests of farmers, let's form one. Let's man it with farmer-appointed representatives for each of the commodities. Then work out trade agreements satisfactory to American agricultural interests. I see the need of appointing an agricultural trade expert in the State Department with full authority to erase some unbelievably bad trade agreements.

Today the Japanese government sells American wheat to the Japanese millers for a $2.00 profit over their cost, while the American farmer is losing about this amount on each bushel he produces. This $2.00 should be going into the pockets of American farmers with proper trade agreements. Wouldn't this help erase the seven billion dollars trade deficit we now have with Japan? Wouldn't it improve the value of our dollar abroad and steady a stock market that has the jitters?

We don't need new markets for our agricultural products as badly as we need higher prices. We sell well over fifty-five percent of all world grains. Why can't we set the market instead of letting five major grain companies (some of which are foreign owned) do it for us?

Why do we allow European Common Market countries to send their foreign cars into our country for a 3% duty based on wholesale cost at point of manufacture, while they charge an import duty of 150% on a bushel of our wheat going into their country? As of January 17, 1978, import duties on a bushel of wheat was $3.45. The farmer got $2.25/bu and took a $1.50 to $2.00/bu. loss producing the wheat.

What benefit is a farmer-held grain reserve program that has as its goal dumping three hundred million bushels of wheat [1/2 year's U. S. needs] on the market...before wheat price had even hit the cost of production?

You have all the tools you need to make our farm products bring parity price in the world market. You could return from five to ten billion dollars more to this country to help erase the twenty-seven billion dollar trade deficit created by poor foreign trade negotiation. Sure, you will raise the price of a loaf of bread four cents in this country. But this seems like a small price to pay for such tremendous benefits to people that hold common stock, farmers, ranchers and laborers.

Erasing the world trade deficit will end the massive land and real estate purchases by such people as the Shah of Iran and Mercedes Benz people of Europe.

Mr. President, I've farmed and ranched most of my life. I served twenty-seven and one-half years as a county agricultural agent. Farmers and ranchers are in the most severe economic plight I've seen in my 57 years.

PLEASE HEAR THEM.

Sincerely,

Foster Whaley

Meredith, Mrs. Helen Patterson and Mrs. Helen Solomon drove to Dallas Thursday where they visited Mrs. Meredith's daughter and family as well as others. They returned home Monday. Mrs. Meredith reports that her brother and wife, C.D. and Hope Rutledge of Weslaco, formerly of Center, have reached home after a stay in Houston where C.D. had heart surgery for the second time. He seems to be feeling fine. Mrs. Henry Brewer attended a Tupperware party Tuesday morning at the Mt. Blanco home of her daughter, Mrs. Millard Watson. Irving Brewer and family of Lubbock were Sunday dinner guests of his parents, the Henry Brewers. A daughter from Crosbyton, Mrs. Fred McDougle and her daughter Sharon of Crosbyton came in the afternoon. Mrs. Fred Battey visited Mrs. Marion Carpenter Friday afternoon. Mrs. Green visited Mrs. Troy Leonard briefly Friday on the way home from the rest home and Mrs. Leona Bell awhile Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Zolan Mel-

Mrs. Myrtle Meredith and daughter, Mrs. Juanita Burke of Amarillo visited Monday with Bro. and Mrs. Clay Muncy in the Lockney Hospital. Tuesday Miss Vera Meredith and Miss Mary Pearl Coward visited the Clay Muncys in the hospital. The Senior Citizens group had a good time at the Center last Thursday with 83 present, counting visitors. Mrs. Agnes Anderson is home again feeling better after a stay in a Lubbock hospital. Our sympathy is with the family and other loved ones of Mrs. Nita Jackson who passed away last Thursday. A host of friends and loved ones attended last rites Saturday morning in the Methodist Church. Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Latta, Mrs. J.E. Green, and Ms. Victor Green of Plainview were in Borger Monday to attend last rites for Mrs. Ruby Stone, a step sister of Mrs. Green, who passed away Friday in a Borger Hospital after a long illness. Mrs. Stone was a grand daughter of a pioneer Lakeview family, the W.S. Adams. She was born Ruby Dillard, June 6, 1904 at Clyde, Texas, the daughter of Epsie and Floyd Dillard. She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Dolly Deskin and family of Borger and other relatives and many friends. Thanks for every expressions of sympathy.

Board Offers Booklet On High Plains Water

The Board of Directors of the High Plains Under- ground Water Conservation District authorized the printing of an educational booklet entitled Chief Running Water's Story of High Plains Water at their March 1978, board meeting. The booklet has been printed and is currently being distributed to elementary schools throughout the district. The booklet illustrates basic information concerning the Texas High Plains water supply. It illustrates the origin of the water supply and also many of the ways we use our underground water (city, farm and industry). It takes children through a normal day's activities and shows them just how much water they really use each day. It also

NEW EDUCATIONAL TOOL

Through the use of Chief Running Water's Story, teachers in area schools will have a new educational tool to aid them in presenting a basic knowledge of water conservation to their students. In the comic book, Chief Running Water and his horse, Thunderhead, take two present day school children on a ride back in time to the dawn of history where the story begins. The book explains how the Ogallala got its water and retains it in its subsurface "sponge" area. Irrigation history is touched on and is covered from the early settlers' efforts, through the "dust-bowl" years and on up to today with its conservation practices. Such farm practices as contour plowing, bench-leveling, stubble mulching and using cotton burrs to help soil soak up and hold more water are briefly discussed. The book introduces the students to the hydrologic cycle and brings information about city dwellers' use of water into the story by means of average gallons used for various activities. The main thrust of the book is at the conservation practices needed to insure that we will continue to have water for agricultural, business, industrial and recreational uses in the future.

BOOKLET DELIVERED During the month of April members of the district staff delivered copies of Chief Running Water's Story of High Plains Water to 25 schools in the district's service area. Schools requesting copies of the booklet which have been delivered include: Amherst, Anton, Bledsoe, Crosbyton, Dimmitt, Friona, Hale Center, Hereford, Lubbock State
