Economic Emergency Farm Loans Available Through FmHA

Economic Emergency loan reports that FmHA is prepared to take applications at its county office in the FmHA Floyd and Crosby Counties offices in Floydada and Crosbytown.

Economic Emergency loans are authorized under the Agricultural Credit Act of 1978 signed by President Carter Aug. 4. They offer special help to farmers who are hand-pressed by recent shortage of credit from their regular lenders, or by debts accumulated during the recent period of low farm prices.

Mr. Brown said the Economic Emergency loan program was enacted by Congress, with Administration support, in recognition of the fact that "economic conditions, as well as weather, are often beyond farmers' control." FmHA emergency credit has previously been confined to loans for recovery from natural disaster, or the guarantee of private lenders' loans to livestock producers affected by economic conditions.

Under the new Economic Emergency program, any established farm operator — individual, partnership, corporation or cooperative — experiencing scarce credit or an overload of debt coming due, may apply for up to $400,000 of credit through FmHA in order to survive in farming and continue their normal level of operation. Economic Emergency loans will not be made to expand a farm operation.

Loans made directly by FmHA will be at an interest rate equivalent to the cost of money secured by the government through sale of its securities to the public, plus an administrative add-on of up to one percent. The rate initially will be 8 1/2 percent. Guaranteed loans will be made at rates negotiated between borrower and lender, with FmHA providing the lender up to 90 percent guarantee against loss.

Loans for operating purposes will be made for terms of up to 7 years, with loan consolidations and rescheduling for another 7 years permitted, and 20-year payment authorized under special conditions. Real estate loans may be made for up to 40 years. Loans for annually-recurring expenses will be repayable annually.

Mr. Brown said initial inquiries about Economic Emergency loans can be made either through a commercial agricultural lender or the county FmHA office serving the county where the farm is located. The Act calls for decision by FmHA on individual applications within 30 days.

While introducing the new Economic Emergency farm loan, FmHA will continue all pre-existing services. They include various programs of non-emergency real estate and production loans to family-size farms, terms of which will soon be broadened under the recent Credit Act; emergency loans to farms damaged by natural disaster, and loans or grants for housing, community facilities and business and industry in rural areas.

Longhorns Gain 569 Yards In First Scrimmage

Lockney "scored" six times and held Lubbock Cooper scoreless Friday in a football scrimmage at the Pirates' home field.

Head Coach Jim Warren reported that the Longhorns gained 569 yards (total offense) in 50 plays. Cooper's total yardage was "about 105."

Warren said the "Horns executed well and didn't make too many mental mistakes in the scrimmage, first interschool action of the year for the Lockneyites.

Warren said it was a good scrimmage for the Longhorns. "We did what we wanted to do," he said. "The team has progressed."

But, Warren said, the team must improve if they hope to make as good a showing in a scrimmage at Muleshoe this Friday. The Mules will provide a sterner test for the Ragin' Red, if pre-season polls are to be believed—they're ranked number four in the state in the Associated Press poll, Warren told The Beacon.

FLASHING LIGHTS and gates are being installed at the railroad crossing where the Santa Fe tracks intersect Farm Road 2301 near Aiken, just north of US 70. Railroad employees are putting in the lights, gates, and sensing devices, under contract from the state. The installation could be complete in two to three weeks. (Staff Photo)

Corn Prices Under Pressure

COLLEGE STATION — Good corn and sorghum prospects, both in the U.S. and abroad, will keep corn prices low in the coming months.

That assessment comes from Roland Smith, grain marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Smith foresees abundant feedgrain (corn and sorghum) crops over much of the U.S. although yields will be down in Texas due to drought conditions. "However, weather could play a crucial role in the Midwest where feedgrains are two to three weeks late. An early frost could damage crops severely and have a bullish effect on prices."

According to U.S. Department of Agriculture forecasts, the nation's corn crop is pegged at a whopping 6.5 billion bushels while the sorghum crop should reach 712 million bushels. Both corn and sorghum crops will be down in Texas, however, due to poor weather.

"Despite the adequate supply of corn and sorghum and favorable prices to feeders, feed use has lagged behind earlier estimates," notes Smith. Hog producers have expanded slower than expected.

"As far as exports are concerned, corn movement overseas is over 10 percent ahead of last year, but sorghum exports are lagging behind 14 percent," says Smith.

According to the marketing specialist, world feedgrain supplies are up and should increase over last year. Russia, a major importer of U.S. feedgrains in the past, has a good crop in the making. This, along with strained relations with the U.S., likely will keep exports to Russia at a lower level. However, the decline of the dollar in international exchange should aid the export market somewhat. "For example, the dollar has lost over 30 percent of its value in the past year against the Japanese yen," cites Smith.

Where does all this leave farmers? "Producers can expect to see corn and sorghum prices near the loan rate in the coming weeks," says Smith. "Only severe weather in the Midwest, such as an early frost, could bolster prices much at this time."

"Where storage is available, cash grain farmers will want to think seriously about holding their crops in hopes that demand will improve by next spring. Farmers participating in set-aside programs with grain eligible for loan should make plans to use the loan and to evaluate the reserve programs. Also, there is a chance that favorable changes in government policy will be forthcoming," believes Smith.

There may well be certain attempts by the USDA to tighten feedgrain supplies so as to strengthen prices. Among options could be the outright purchase of grain or allowing 1978 grain to enter immediately into the reserve program. "USDA is concerned about these support measures, though, because they could hurt participation in next year's program," adds Smith. Only 41 percent of corn acreage is in the 1978 program.

Some say that age is just a state of mind.....well, I'm not so sure. When I look in my mirror, I think it might just possibly also be a state of body. I don't really think all the positive thinking in the world would change gray to mousy brown again or replace wrinkles with smooth young skin. I guess I have concrete evidence, then, that age is also a state of body. A deepening degree of time engraved among dying cells. We may dread it and kick against its pricks, but each moment tacks onto us another smothering indestructible irreversible degree of time. We call it aging.

Is it true, as our youth oriented society preaches, that youth is "it"? Once youth is past are we on the downhill side with only regrets of idolizations of the past and dreams of what we were or might have been. Ah, dreadful plight! Hated predicament! Infinite, consuming fate!

No man can dare to think in his youth of himself as a dependent older person. When honesty is the bottom line, no one wants to become aged. Yet to view someone in a senile, bent aged body as someone of less value than someone younger, is wrong. One's age does not alter the space he occupies or his importance among the creatures of God. Dignity is maintained because man is man, and man is of intrinsic value. One's moral responsibility to himself is to continue to grow, as long as possible.

"Dynamics work toward form" yet form -- (one's present state of being) -- dies unless it remains in a state of dynamic struggle toward future form. Now, I wonder, are the dynamics and stimulation of youth directed toward a mature form which is stable yet dead, or toward a maturity which can never take final form lest it die for lack of activity? Viewed in this way, form becomes in part transitory, a desirable or undesirable shadow of dynamics--can't have one without the other.....Dough in a bowl.....A stale loaf of bread. Fresh bread is best--not the "not yet" or the "was then" but the "is now".

Where is the maturity that continues to be just beyond our grasp? Maybe it is the hidden answer, the never ending circle--continuing dynamics, transitory form. Maturing dynamics begets maturing dynamics begets m.....

"Is now" is for everyone, regardless of chronological age.

Aging is the subject to be featured in this column during September, and hopefully many of you will contribute your ideas, feelings or opinions on the various aspects of aging.

"How Old Are You?"

Age is a quality of mind: If you have left your dreams behind. If hope is cold. If you no longer look ahead. If your ambition fires are dead-- Then you are old.

Would you want to be young again?

Do you look forward to becoming a senior citizen?

What is it like to live in a retirement home? What are the advantages and the disadvantages.

What is your opinion of current health service plans which are provided for the aged?

NEWS 'N' NOTES

(by Sharon Hillis)

What's your nutrition I.Q.?

Here's a true-false test to help you discover how much you know about nutrition. Give yourself 10 points for each correct answer. Perfect score will total 160.

FOOD GROUPS

(1) In general, basic foods needed for good health can be grouped into four groups.

(2) Milk and milk group foods are needed daily for calcium only.

(3) Meat group foods contribute protein needed for growth.

(4) Fruits and vegetables are needed for vitamins A and C.

(5) Breads and cereals furnish carbohydrates needed for energy.

(6) No other foods should be eaten in the daily diet.

NUTRIENTS

(7) Nutrition affects our weight, ability to withstand stress, intelligence and the ability of a woman to reproduce.

(8) Calories are a measure of body energy.

(9) All of our calories may be obtained from fats and carbohydrates.

(10) Iron is part of the hemoglobin molecule—the chemical in blood cells that carries oxygen to all parts of the body.

RECOMMENDED DIETARY ALLOWANCES

(12) The Recommended Dietary Allowances (RDA) is a list of major nutrients needed to meet the physiological needs of most people.

(13) The RDA never changes.

(14) The RDA for calcium for women 23 years of age or older is 800 milligrams daily.

(15) The RDA for vitamin A is 400 International Units daily for a woman 23 years of age or older.

(16) Scurvy is common in the United States.

ANSWERS

(1) TRUE. Foods needed to furnish key nutrients are grouped into four groups. Research scientists found that foods to furnish nutrients needed daily fell naturally into four basic groups—milk, meat, fruit-vegetable and bread-cereal.

(2) FALSE. Milk or dairy products are also needed for riboflavin. It is difficult to get amount of this nutrient needed daily without foods from the milk and dairy products group. Milk also furnishes other nutrients such as protein and helps balance out nutrient needs.

(3) TRUE. Meat group foods do contribute the major source of protein of growth. Protein also helps repair broken down body tissue—a process that is going on constantly. Meat group foods also contribute a major source of iron needed for blood.

(4) TRUE. Fruits and vegetables are major contributors of vitamins A and C. However, they also furnish fiber needed to help move food through the digestive tract and other vitamins and minerals needed in small amounts.

(5) TRUE. Breads and cereals do contribute a major source of carbohydrates. However, they also carry B-vitamins needed for nerves. They, too, supply fiber.

(6) FALSE. Other foods such as fats and sweets may be eaten in amounts that maintain normal weight.

(7) TRUE. Body size and weight is affected by the food eaten. A person consistently eats a nutritionally sound diet can usually withstand disease, strenuous work and emotional problems better than someone who has eaten an inadequate diet.

In a child's early life, nutrition can affect intelligence to a high degree and in later life to a lesser degree.

There is a strong correlation between nutrition and a female's reproductive ability and capacity. In those parts of the world where the mother has a nutritionally deficient diet, the number of birth defects, stillborn births, miscarriages and problems during child delivery are very high.

(8) TRUE. A certain amount of energy is necessary for maintenance and growth of the body. The exact amount of calories needed for an individual varies with age and activity.

(9) Calories are also obtained from protein and alcohol. In fact, one gram of the following furnishes: fat—nine calories, carbohydrates—four calories, protein—four calories, and alcohol—seven calories.

(10) FALSE. Calcium is constantly being used and removed from the body. A common malady of older people, especially women, is osteoporosis—a thinning out of the bone partially due to the lack of calcium in the diet.

(11) TRUE. Blood loss during menstruation and poor diet can lead to a form of anemia.

(12) TRUE. The RDA is the intake level of a nutrient that should insure nutritional adequacy and good health for as large a population as possible, taking into account the effects of some stress and the biochemical differences of humans.

(13) FALSE. The Food and Nutrition Board of the

Bilbreds To Celebrate Wedding Anniversary

Rev. and Mrs. J.T. Bilbrey are to be honored, by their three daughters on their 60th wedding anniversary on Sunday, September 3.

A reception is planned from two until four o'clock in the afternoon at the Pioneer Room, First National Bank, Plainview, Texas.

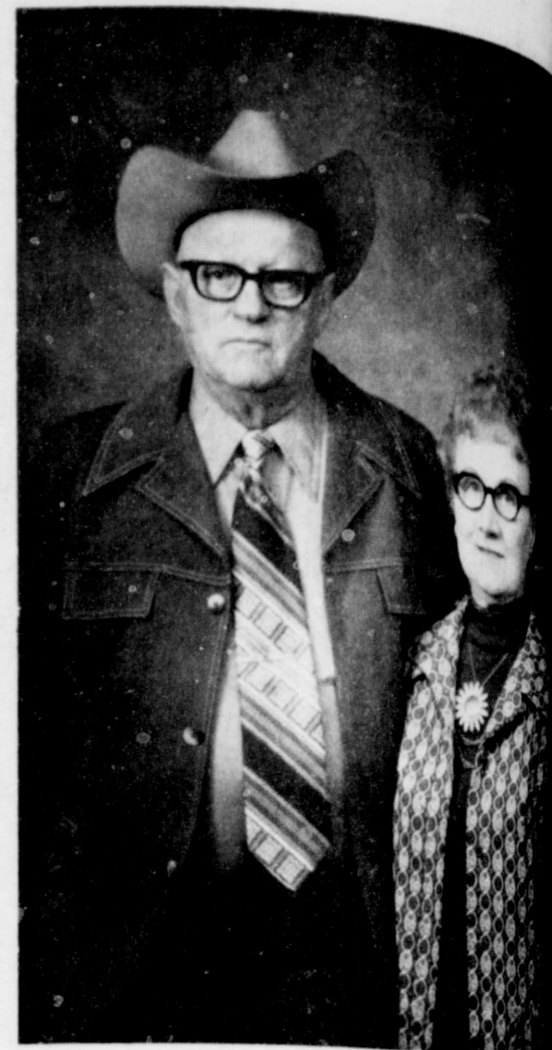

The Bilbreds' daughters are Mrs. J.H. (Vera Fay) Reece and Mrs. H.C. (Flora Nell) Boteler both from Plainview, and Mrs. G.M. (Johnnie Lea) Wilson of Post. The couple have eight grandchildren and fourteen great grandchildren.

J.T. Bilbrey, a retired Baptist minister, and the former Mary Lee Tisdale were married September 2, 1918 in a double wedding ceremony with Mrs. Bilbrey's sister and her fiancé. The two couples were en route to Crosbyton in a buggy to be married in a simple ceremony by the pastor of First Baptist Church, the late Rev. C.E. Dick. However, instead, they were married at Silver Falls in Blanco Canyon where the preacher was conducting a baptismal service. Vows were recited under twin oak trees overlooking the falls and were witnessed by approximately 100 persons.

For about 10 years the Bilbreds lived in Spur, where Bilbrey operated a drayline business. In January 1944, the family moved to Plainview and Bilbrey attended classes for about two years at Wayland Baptist College and worked for an insurance company. Serving for years following as a Baptist missionary, he established churches, including one at Hereford, one at Floydada and at Ralls. He and Mrs. Bilbrey are members of Date Street Baptist Church.

Reverend Bilbrey was born January 3, 1898 in Calahan County. He is the son of the late L.W. and Bertie Bilbrey. Mrs. Bilbrey, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. C.W. Tisdale, was born Oct. 12, 1896 at Waco.

cant magnitude, and that routine consumption of large amounts of vitamin C is not advisable without medical advice.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex, religion, or origin.

National Academy of Science-National Research Council examines all the scientific data on nutrition and estimates the RDAs for the human population every five years.

(14) TRUE. Milk furnishes 291 milligrams per cup. The day's need of 800 milligrams would be met with two cups milk for an adult and from eating the other foods from the four basic groups of foods in amounts recommended. For example, three slices of bread and one biscuit furnish 99 milligrams. Vegetables such as one-half cup carrots furnish 20 milligrams calcium, one-half cup mashed potatoes 25 grams, one-half cup tomato juice 22 milligrams, and one-half cup spinach 112 milligrams.

(15) TRUE. The vitamin A recommendation is increased to 5000 International Units for pregnant women and to 6000 IUs for the lactating woman. Vitamin A is essential for maintaining the normal condition of mucous membranes and it functions in the visual process. One of the early symptoms of vitamin A deficiency is impaired dark adaptation—night blindness.

Meet the day's need for vitamin A by eating fruits and vegetables in amounts recommended including one source high in vitamin A.

For example, the following foods furnish a total of 4,295 IU's vitamin A: one-half cup broccoli—1,940 IU, one tomato—0,110 IU, one-half cup apricots—2,245 IU, and one potato—trace.

(16) FALSE. At the present time, well defined scurvy—a vitamin C deficiency disease—is not common in the United States. It occurs chiefly in infants fed diets deficient in ascorbic acid, alcoholism, famine and nutritional ignorance.

The functions of vitamin C are not completely known. However, it plays a role in the syntheses of collagen-connec-tive tissue.

Women 23 years of age or older need 45 milligrams of vitamin C daily. Pregnant women need 60 milligrams and lactating women need 80 milligrams of vitamin C daily.

Vitamin C deficiency is associated with impaired wound healing.

There has been reports that large doses of vitamin C—0.5-5 grams daily—are beneficial to health, particularly in reducing the frequency or severity of common colds.

However, the Food and Nutrition Board feels that many of these claims are not sufficiently substantiated, the effects are not of signifi-

NEWS Of The Bible

Scripture Distribution

Bible distribution throughout the world is expected to reach one billion annually by 1982.

Last year it topped all previous records, with 410 million Scriptures published and distributed by the American Bible Society and its Bible Society partners globally.

Total 1977 distribution consisted of nine million complete Bibles, 11 million New Testaments and 390 million smaller Portions or Selections of Scripture.

Of that number, 170 million Scriptures reached the people of the Asia-Pacific region, an increase of 50 million in one year. This was the largest numerical and percentage increase for any geographical area in 1977.

In the United States 114 million Scriptures were distributed.

Among significant recent developments is an increase in Bible distribution where political turmoil and internal strife prevail, say representatives of the American Bible Society, a nonprofit, nondenominational organization responsible for the translation, publication and distribution of the Scriptures without doctrinal note or comments.

For example, more than a million Scriptures were shipped to Uganda last year for the first time in that country's history, and 374,275 copies were pro-

Many people are just learning to read and write in their own language, so the world's Bible Societies have sought to meet their need for reading materials with simplified, graded selections of Scripture through the "Good News for New Readers" program.

This good work is paid for with contributions to the American Bible Society from thousands of individuals and churches. For information on how you, too, can help, write: The American Bible Society, 1865 Broadway, New York, N.Y. 10023.

Outdoor Equipment

Taking Care Of Camping Gear

Vacuum, sweep or whisk broom the inside of your tent before you store it, paying special attention to the seams, where food crumbs or dirt often hide.

Clean the outside of your tent with a soft brush and lots of fresh water. Don't scrub too hard, for you can remove the water and/or fire-resisting finishes that were initially applied to the fabric.

Clean and lubricate the zipper with a silicone spray or petroleum jelly for good service next year. Loosely stuff the tent into a breathable bag and keep it in a cool, dry place for winter storage. Always avoid concrete floors. Treat your sleeping bag like a fine garment. Clean it according to the manufacturer's directions. Some are hand or machine washable, while others must be dry cleaned. Never use a detergent, only a mild soap.

Fold or hang the bag loosely in a cool, dry place for winter. If your equipment needs mending, take it to a local canvas firm for professional repair. For a list of firms in the United States and Canada, send 25¢ to the Canvas Products Association International, 350 Endicott Building, St. Paul, MN 55101.

75 YEARS AGO!

TALK ABOUT WOMEN'S RIGHTS coming a long way—a woman was arrested by a New York City policeman. The charge? Smoking in public!

THE GREAT INVENTION! Orville and Wilbur Wright flew the first motor-powered airplane from Kitty Hawk, North Carolina. It stayed up for 12 seconds! Later that same day, Wilbur went up again—this time for a full 59 seconds!

A NEW FOOD WAS INVENTED, TOO! Canned Tuna—today a mainstay in more than 80% of American homes, was packed for the first time in the U.S. in 1923. Before that—people only prized tunas as prime game fish. Sold for $3,500, 700 cases were canned that first year. Today, more than 30 million cases of tuna are packed annually, and are valued at $850 million!

Lockney Care Center Family News

by Yvonne Steele

By Yvonne Steele
We have had a lot of comings and goings this past week. Two new residents joining our family are John Turner of Floydake and Ora Jacobs from Quitaque. We hope they will be very happy here with us. James Turner, Grace Byars, and Claude Wofford are in the hospital. We are looking forward to their return home. Someone who was very happy to get home is Dora Harris. She had been in Central Plains Hospital in Plainview with a broken hip.

Along with the comings and goings of this past week we had our regular Bingo Day. Those attending were Charlie and Lula Mae Cottrell, Lewis Roberts, Alpha Kitchens, and Myrtle Burke. Lucky Alpha Kitchens held in the winning B-1 for the blackout game.

Friday afternoon Johnny Francis visited with his mother, Jewel Franis and entertained the other residents with his piano playing and gospel singing.

Another form of entertainment was furnished by Louie Kitchens, the son of Alpha Kitchens. He brought some blackeyed peas to the home Monday. Several residents had a fun filled "pea picking time" shelling and snapping the peas. Visiting while they worked were Myrtle Burke, Lula Mae Cottrell, Lewis Roberts, Alpha Kitchens, Ethel Carroll, Eunice Taylor, Howard Withrow and Willie Merle Haithecock.

The Main Street Church of Christ brought the devotional services this past Sunday. We will miss this group's younger people who have been assisting in our Tuesday morning devotional services since they will be returning to school.

In old Germany it was illegal to tie nine knots in anything.
