Longhorns, Antelopes To Tangle In Abernathy

WINNER LEAVES DISTRICT CELLAR

The Lockney Longhorns, their "backs against the wall" with one loss in the District 4-AA football title race, travel to Abernathy Friday night to face an Antelope team which is just as desperate. The Antelopes went 5-1 in non-district games, losing only to mighty Muleshoe (and barely, at that—26-20), but they faltered Friday in their district opener when unheralded Tulia team beat them 28-14.

The loser of tomorrow night's contest will own undisputed possession of the 4-AA cellar with an 0-2 district record, since the Longhorns are also 0-1 in conference play after last week's loss to Floydada. Idalou, the 4-AA "powerhouse," was idle last week, so the worst they can stand after their contest with Floydada is 0-1.

Lockney Head Coach Jim Warren looks at it this way: "We just have to win our three and let the other pieces fall where they may." Warren says, "We'll have to play extremely hard to remain in contention for the district title."

Abernathy's offense has a pre-game scoring average of 22.5 points, while the defense has allowed less than 12 points per contest on the average. They beat Petersburg 28-13; Olton 9-7; Hale Center 15-8; Roosevelt 41-20, and Lubbock Christian 31-0.

The Longhorns, meanwhile, have allowed only 41 points in seven contests, a respectable 5.8-points-per-game average for the Ragin' Red defense. The 'Horns, you remember, have been involved in some close, low-scoring games, defeating Post 10-0; Littlefield 10-7; Seymour 16-0, and Dimmitt 7-0. They've lost 7-6 to Friona, 17-8 to Olton, and 10-7 to the Whirlwinds.

Abernathy's led offensively by running backs Lee McCune and Roger Lindsay and quarterback Tony Heath. Two of the top Abernathy defensemen are linebackers David Kennedy and Ken Sanders.

Kickoff is at 8 p.m. in the Abernathy stadium.

Despite last week's loss, the Longhorns moved up in the Harris Ratings from number 85 to number 71 in the state AA ranks, and Floydada fell from 36th to 45th.

Abernathy went from number 62 last week to number 93 in the current Harris Ratings, and Tulia's victory over the Antelopes jumped the Horns from 138th to 104th. Idalou, number 21 in the state last week by Harris's calculations, climbed two notches by shutting out Open Date.

No School Friday

There will be no school in Lockney Friday. Teachers will have an in-service day in Lubbock. Students will have the day off.

The football pep rally will be at 3:30 p.m. Friday at the stadium.

Townpeople as well as for LHS students are invited to the pep rally and the "sendoff" for the football players, which follows at 3:45.

Cannon, Warren, Curtsinger Are Contest Winners

The "regulars" were at it again last week in the Beacon football contest. Sheree Cannon missed just three games (Texas-Arkansas, Tulia-Abernathy and Lorenzo-Crosbyton) and hit the tie breaker total on the nose (17) to claim the $10 first prize.

She missed the winner on the tie breaker, choosing Lockney over Floydada, but so did second-place winner Lela Warren, who also missed three in the regular games section. Mrs. Warren, who shared first prize money in the previous two contests, won $6 for second this time.

Winning $4 for third was Jim Curtsinger of Lubbock. He and three Lockneyites missed five, but only Curtsinger circled Floydada in the tie breaker section. W.L. Carthel and Louie Bybee missed five and said Lockney, 18 points in the tie breaker; Tommy Montandon missed five and indicated Lockney, 27.

Close behind with six misses were Gilbert Reyna, Reeda Cay Smith, David Turbeville, Dan Apple, and Cathy Barnett of Lockney, and Tommy Cathey Jr. and T.L. Holland of Floydada.

Stenholm Coming To Lockney And Floydada

Stenholm loaded with supporters Stenholm for Congress Lockney and Floydada Monday. The bus will be met by Lockney volunteers when it reaches town. The visit has been planned by Alton Higginbotham of Lockney and J.T. Threlkeld of Lockney and John Stenholm.

Stenholm will be in Lockney at 10 a.m. and in Floydada 5-40 p.m. He and his wife Cindy will be the group of volunteers who are answering questions, passing out campaign literature and Stenholm. Stenholm is a Democratic nominee for the 17th Congressional District.

Stenholm, a farmer-businessman, was the Democratic nominee in a landslide, two to one in the June 3 runoff. He is the post being vacated by the veteran legislator Omar Burdick. Stenholm has endorsed Stenholm on numerous occasions.

Stenholm has based his campaign on seven major issues facing the state: inflation, agriculture, paper energy, free enterprise and the direction of our country.

"The direction of our country must be cut substantially from private investment capital. The Federal budget must be balanced," Stenholm has repeatedly told his followers.

Speaking of agriculture, Stenholm states, "The most critical problem facing agriculture today is low farm prices received vs. high cost of production. Supply management and improved marketing are vital to a profitable agriculture."

Government "red-tape" will cost the American public over $100 billion in 1978. Government bureaucracy that restricts or hinders private initiative must be eliminated.

"We must deregulate domestic oil and gas production and support development of non-depletable resources such as solar energy for our future needs," Stenholm says on energy.

"Freedom for individuals to succeed or fail by their own efforts must be preserved," comments Stenholm, a strong believer in the free enterprise system. "Competition is healthy for our country and must be encouraged. Profit is not a dirty word in my vocabulary," he states.

Taking a stand on our Nation's defense, he says, "If we do not maintain our position as Number One in military strength, all other problems become secondary. We must maintain a strong defense."

Stenholm, the father of three, attended Tarleton State Junior College and received his M.S. in agricultural education from Texas Tech University. He has taught vocational agriculture, served as the executive officer of the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, general manager of Stamford Electric Cooperative and is a director of the First National Bank of Stamford.

He has served as president of the Stamford United Way, Stamford Little League, Texas Electric Cooperatives, Rolling Plains Cotton Growers and the Stamford Chamber of Commerce. He is a former member of the Texas State ASC Committee and State Democratic Executive Committee.

Active in business and community affairs, he and his family are active members of the Bethel Lutheran Church.

Stenholm's involvement in church, civic and political affairs have led him to local, state and national recognition.

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

Department of Agriculture is calling for public comment on 1979 cotton program provisions, some of which will be effective as early as November 1 of this year. The comment must be received by Ray Johnson, Acting Director of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, P. O. Box 2415, Washington, D.C. 20516, before October 20.

Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, issues most likely to elicit comment from High Plains cotton producers include the 1979 target price, and whether the Secretary should use more of the available mechanisms to reduce 1979 cotton prices.

Recommendations will be developed by the organization of Directors at a meeting October 11, Johnson said. In addition to direct comment to USDA, he adds, cotton producers are invited to convey their thoughts to PCG in their respective counties or to the PCG office in Lubbock before October 11.

The loan level for 1979 must be announced no later than October 1, 1978. Under existing law the loan cannot be below 85 percent nor above 85 percent of a three-year average of market prices, based on the last five years, from the year with the highest and the year with the lowest prices are excluded. According to USDA figures, this year's 1979 figures to be 50.23 cents per pound.

The Secretary also has authority under the law to set the loan level between this minimum and maximum, provided 90 percent of the adjusted average Liverpool "A Index" for the period beginning July 1 of this year falls below 50.23 cents per pound. The minimum target price for 1979 is 51 cents per pound. The Secretary is directed to adjust the 1978 target price to reflect any change in the cost of producing cotton between 1976 and 1977. The Secretary also has authority to adjust the target price if a cotton set-aside is in effect for the target price is increased for any other commodity set-aside is in effect.

The Secretary determines the supply of upland cotton will, in the absence of a set-aside, be excessive. And, if a mandatory set-aside is in effect, the Secretary has authority to place a limit on the amount of cotton in the U.S. that may be required set-aside is in effect for cotton, the Secretary may make land diversion payments to producers if he determines such payments are necessary to assist in adjusting cotton production to desirable levels. The amount of voluntary payments may be determined by the Secretary on a bid basis through such other means as he determines appropriate.

These suggestions can help make your work area comfortable:
 Good ventilation and sufficient lighting are essential for your workshop. Unless the area is beside a big window, you'll need a strong fan and a bright overhead light by your workbench. For close work, you can install an adjustable droplight fixture, or a gooseneck lamp.
 Loose papers, wood shavings and sawdust must be swept up before you "lock up." To clean away tough, greasy soil, spray Grease relief® all purpose degreaser directly onto washable surfaces and wipe with a damp sponge. To remove greasy spots and stains from washable workclothes, spray the degreaser directly onto greasy areas and launder normally.

Fires often start in workshops due to the presence of flammable materials—oils, paints, and varnishes. Be sure to carefully clean up after using these materials; keep cans of paint remover, turpentine and other flammable materials tightly sealed and stored in a fireproof cabinet. Also, be sure to pick up and discard oily rags after use.

Second Honeymoons
 Once children are born, husband and wife all too often start redefining themselves as "mommy and daddy"—exclusively. But maintaining the adult-to-adult relationship is critically important to a marriage.

Taking a vacation without the children can be a positive step: a few days "away from it all" at a resort may be ideal. There, with no pressure, the focus of your time can be on each other. At resorts with good facilities, you can be as busy or as idle as you choose. And all the work is done by someone else!

The Catskill Mountains in New York State are scenically beautiful and easily accessible. One of the area's resorts, the Nevele Country Club, rates Mobil's Four Star Award. Operating the year round, the Nevele offers facilities for all popular sports, fine meals and nightly entertainment.

Many young parents hesitate to take a vacation until "the children are old enough." Be assured that your children are not likely to suffer if you entrust them to the care of friends or relatives for a short time.

 "Hay fever" is actually a medical misnomer since it has nothing to do with either hay or fever. October 23: Sunday afternoon late we had a cold north wind blow in along with a lot of dust. Then in the early hours of Monday morning it began raining a slow cold rain that lasted most of the morning and has continued cloudy and cold. The weather report is more rain for tonight and temperature in the upper 30's, so our summer-like weather may be over for this year. Ray Cook reports 6/10 of an inch of rain at their place, 1/2 inch is reported at E.W. Walls on the north side of the community; C.W. Payne reports 1/2 inch at their place on the south side. Keith and Carl Carlisle of Sherman spent the weekend here as guest of Greg Pruitt. Mr. and Mrs. Larry Walls and son of Plainview visited Sunday afternoon with their grandparents Mr. and Mrs. E.W. Walls.

The community wishes to express sympathy to the family of Carl L. Mooney of Roswell, New Mexico, whose funeral was held there on October 19. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mooney and family lived for a number of years in our community living just north of Rushing Chapel Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tye went to Lubbock Saturday and brought their grandchildren, Britta and Joshua Tye home with them. Britta stayed with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Pruitt and family while Mr. and Mrs. Tye kept Joshua. The children's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Tye of Lubbock, came up Sunday and all spent the day in the Weldon Pruitt home.

Corn Still Left From Last Year

WASHINGTON — A huge left over reserve of corn, the largest in the history of the United States, is in storage just as farmers are in the midst of harvesting another record crop this fall. The Agriculture Department said corn inventories on Oct. 1 totaled more than 1.06 billion bushels. That was about 57 million bushels more than experts earlier estimated the Oct. 1 corn "carryover" to be. The Oct. 1 inventory is the amount of corn left over as the new 1978 crop marketing year began. Farmers are harvesting another record crop, estimated by the Agriculture Department at 4.2 billion bushels.

Lockney Care Center Family News

by Yvonne Steele

As the result of some changes in the usual routine as well as non-changes, this has been a week filled with fun and parties. On Thursday afternoon several of our residents took advantage of a new activity for us of using the bus each Thursday, by traveling to Lake Mackenzie. Those of us going were Lewis Roberts, Lela Wofford, Myrtle Burk, Alpha Kitchens, Lula Mae Cottrell and Howard Withrow. It was a scenic drive and picturesque view of our future source of water. On our return we treated ourselves to tasty ice cream cones. We look forward to this week's trip, a visit with our friends in the Floydada Nursing Home.

Even though our weekly Bingo Game was changed from Thursday to Tuesday, we still had an enjoyable time and good participation. Alpha Kitchens, Myrtle Burk, John Turner, Charlie and Lula Mae Cottrell attended with Myrtle Burk the blackout winner.

We helped celebrate a birthday with a party for Lavonna Pitchford. What a surprised look we got when it dawned on her why she had been asked to return to work Tuesday afternoon!

We appreciate the roses shared from the Methodist Church services on Sunday from the garden of Mr. and Mrs. C.H. Rose. We also appreciate Johnny Francis playing the piano and singing for us on Monday, Main Street Church of Christ on Tuesday, Methodist Church on Wednesday, Baptist Church on Thursday, and Flomot Baptist Church on Friday with all the churches in this area rotating for our Sunday services. West Side Church of Christ brought the services this past Sunday. On Friday, Johnny Francis paid us an earlier visit, unexpected but of great enjoyment to all of us. Johnny Francis came by to visit his mother, Jewel Francis, and stayed to play and sing for us. He was joined by Mary Ann Resch and Faye Sams in the singing. We appreciate the Senior Citizen Bus providing transportation for us each Thursday afternoon with Grady Freeman driving.

A long awaited party will be this Friday with Sunshine Sally visiting with us from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. We invite our friends and relatives to come visit with all of us at this time. Please, all visitors and relatives wear Halloween costumes.

John Hill calls for state tax freeze

"Our state taxes in Texas are among the lowest in the nation, and I want to keep them there. As I've said many times, I'll veto a tax increase before the ink dries on the bill."

As Attorney General, John Hill proved he could increase the efficiency of his office without any unnecessary budget increases. He absorbed a three-fold increase in his office caseload by hiring top legal talent capable of higher productivity. The result: his staff lawyers doubled their average workload, and the increased court judgments and enforcement of civil penalty laws returned $25 for every $1 of state funds spent on his office.

As Governor, John Hill will insist on this same type of increased productivity for all state agencies. He will institute new controls over federal funds, demand that we follow our "pay-as-you-go" budget policy, and use zero-base budgeting to eliminate unneeded programs before any new programs are added. And he'll block any state tax increase — there won't be any new taxes under John Hill.

BIGGEST SELECTION IN TOWN!

Quitaque News

An old time soaker drenched this area on September 19 and 20, and after the front had moved out the best moisture conditions in many months prevailed. From 3 to 4 1/2 inches of rain fell over a WIDE AREA, and it left the country in great shape. This rain was too late to be much help to the cotton, but in West Texas no matter when the moisture comes it ALWAYS HELPS, and this was certainly true this time, for it broke a PROLONGED DRY SPELL. Earlier in the month, over Labor Day weekend, from one to three inches of rain fell and this

WAS in time to help most of the cotton below the Caprock. As a result most of the valley crop looks VERY GOOD at this writing, and if we do not catch an early freeze, we could have a fine harvest.

The rains were also great on the newly sowed wheat and pastures, and they should improve the already favorable cattle outlook even more in the days ahead. The good rains did not leave a dry spot in the entire region. Even the Cedar Hill vicinity on the edge of the Plains, which had been so dry all this year, was a virtual sea of water when the rains ended. It was an inspiring sight to see furrowed fields full of water and see bar ditches brimming full of nature's precious commodity. The best thing of all about the moisture, however, was the WAY IT FELL, for it covered a span of 48 hours, and very little water was lost by runoff. Even the peanut growers, who have to water their peanuts until harvest time in late October, were able to shut down their irrigation wells for a few days, and all over this area farmers and businessmen alike were jubilant and happy over the wonderful turn of events.

There was a heavy influx of bollworms on much of the Plains near the last of August and in early September, and quite a bit of spraying had to be done for worm control. The Plains area was hit harder than under the Caprock, where damage was inflicted only in scattered localities. The boll weevil picture is MUCH BRIGHTER this year than in years past, for the number of weevils caught in traps in individual fields range from zero to 450 per week, which is only slightly higher than peak weevil catches last June. A few weevils have been caught above the Caprock, but no weevils were found in fields adjacent to the traps. This is a WELCOME SURPRISE to program officials, for they had expected a westward migration to the Plains by the boll weevil this year. Only 40% of the fields had had weevil infestations this year, compared with 100% of the fields at this time a year ago. This means that the Diapause Program this winter will also be MORE SUCCESSFUL than normal, and the chances are EXCELLENT that very few weevils should be able to overwinter and plague our 1979 crops.

Commodity Prices—Things are not always as dark as they seem, even with farming and the prices received for agricultural products. We ran across a PRICE COMPARISON of agricultural products in the Southwest Farm Press on September 7, 1978, compared with prices a year earlier, and here are the results. Grain Sorghum, in 1978, $3.60, last year, $2.80; Cotton, $58.10, last year, $46.50; Wheat, $2.92, last year, $2.12; Soybeans, $5.46, last year, $4.35; Corn, $2.27, last year,

$1.79, and Peanuts, 38 1/2%, last year, 36 1/2%.

Silverton Young Farmers Meet

Tractors Headed For Congress

SPRINGFIELD, Co.—Farmers and ranchers of the American Agriculture Movement (AAM) plan to start rolling their rigs to Washington, D.C. shortly after Congress convenes in mid-January.

"We'll give Congress or Ag Secretary Bob Bergland the length of the time it takes us to get to D.C. to act," said Derral Schroder, spokesman for American Ag. "We'll stay there until it happens. We'll camp anywhere and everywhere and become residents of Washington, D.C. until we get our demands."

Schroder said the National American Ag Tractorcade will begin from five or six locations in the country, including Lamar, Co., Amarillo, Tx., Dallas Tx., Houston, Tx., Bismarck, ND., and Pierre, SD.

"We'll travel about 100 miles a day," Schroder said. "We'll have meetings every night and pass out flyers on the way. We'll gather more tractors and supporters as we go."

Schroder said that tractors from the West Coast will be hauled to the closest starting point. The tractorcade will, according to the AAM spokesman, "Parade through most of the large metropolitan areas such as Chicago, St. Louis, Memphis and Indianapolis."

American Agriculture Representatives are counting on making the winter trek in two weeks.

"After reaching Washington," Schroder said, "Each morning we will travel to the capitol to urge our Congressman to act."

Schroder said American Ag is getting businesses to help sponsor the tractorcade. "Four sponsors per tractor should be our goal," he said.

Aoudad Sheep

LUBBOCK—An unlimited quantity of aoudad permits are available to landowners in eight Panhandle counties due to the increase in the number of the sheep throughout the caprock country.

"The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department will issue approximately 500 aoudad permits to the landowners and they in turn can issue these permits to sportsmen wanting to hunt the elusive aoudad sheep," said David Dvorak, wildlife biologist.

The 1978 aoudad season will be from Nov. 4-17 in Armstrong, Briscoe, Donley, Floyd, Hall, Motley, Randall, and Swisher counties.

The daily and season bag limit of one aoudad will be hard to fill if the statistics from recent years are duplicated in 1978. Last year, approximately 450 permits were issued to hunters with only 133 aoudad bagged during the two-week hunt for a hunter success rate of only 30 percent.

The record aoudad for the Panhandle was bagged in 1976 with a horn length of 34 1/2 inches. This record still stands with many 1978 hunters hoping to come home with a bigger horn.

P&WD wildlife biologists will be spot checking the hunters during the hunt to obtain animal and hunter information vital to future management of the sheep.
Texas game wardens will also be checking hunters for the permit and license requirements throughout the eight-county area.
Most successful aoudad hunters spend their time planning caprock areas where the sheep. The fufus or brown areas and forepart of the legs, the inside of the leg in color.

Over 400 Attend Fisher-Connally Dinner

Over 400 people attended the John Connally-Bill Fisher
Tuesday night, October 17th. The event, billed as "An Evening of Political and Musical Entertainment" featured three musical groups and three political speeches.
Connally was introduced by Jack Cox, who was Connally's Republican opponent for governor in 1962.

Connally, responding to his introduction, told the crowd
"we didn't come here to talk about me, but about Bill
Fisher."
Connally said through his travels he sees that the people lack confidence in government. "They are concerned," he said, "about inflation, taxes, the bureaucracy, budget spending and deficits." He pointed out that the President was not totally at fault. The blame, he said, goes to the Congress that has been controlled by Democrats for all but two sessions since 1931.

Governor Connally said he did not know Fisher's opponent and he did not need to.

"I'm sure he's a nice man and a good farmer," he said "but we need good farmers to farm." Connally added that Stenholm should not be elected to Congress for any reason because "what we don't need is more Democrats."
In his speech, Fisher said he is "tired of promises" from Democrats including his opponent.

Arguments For and Against The "Tax Relief Amendment"

Arguments for and against the proposed amendment to the Texas Constitution known as "The Tax Relief Amendment" on which Texans will vote, along with eight other amendments, in the general election November 7. Prepared by the Texas Legislative Council.

ARGUMENTS

Because of the variety of subjects covered by the "Tax Relief Amendment," the usual practice of grouping together all "for" and "against" arguments is not followed. Instead, arguments concerning each topic are given, followed by a "for" and "against" argument for the amendment as a whole.

Taxation of Intangible Property

For: Intangible properties are almost impossible to assess and tax fairly. Removing them from the mandatory tax base would eliminate a major obstacle to achieving equitable property tax administration and public school finance.

Against: Although intangible assets may be difficult to assess and tax, they can be taxed fairly if the appropriate administrative procedures are provided. Eliminating them from the mandatory tax base will help wealthy persons and large corporations, who own the greatest portion of intangibles, at the expense of middle-class homeowners and other small property owners.

Personal Property Exemptions

For: The current $250 limit on the tax exemption for household and kitchen furniture is unrealistically low in view of today's inflated property values. Exempting all household goods and personal effects not used to produce income is a more rational and workable approach. Permitting the legislature to further exempt property that is exempt from forced sale will, among other things, authorize legislation to exempt personal motor vehicles from property taxes, a form of tax relief that will help the average citizen most.

Against: Tying personal property tax exemptions to the statute exempting property from forced sale is unwise. Future legislatures may broaden the coverage of the statute to permit tax exemptions for all sorts of personal property, and in doing so they would not only provide excessively broad tax exemptions but would also impair the ability of creditors to collect judgments against debtors.

Taxation of Agricultural Land

For: The provision that requires the legislature to provide for taxation of farm and ranch land on the basis of productivity, rather than speculative market values, would result in needed tax relief for the state's financially troubled farmers and ranchers.

Against: Under the amendment, timberland could also be taxed on the basis of productivity, rather than market value. It is doubtful that the timber industry needs this tax break, and its implementation by the legislature could seriously erode the tax base of many counties and school districts and result in a greater tax burden for the average homeowner.

Homestead Exemptions

For: A major tax break would be provided the state's overburdened homeowners with the mandated homestead exemption of $5,000 for school tax purposes. Homeowners over 65 or disabled, for whom the property tax is particularly burdensome in proportion to income, could also be provided an additional homestead exemption by the legislature.

Against: The amendment does not provide significant tax relief for the average citizen. The tax savings for an individual homeowner from the $5,000 homestead exemption have been estimated to be only about $30 a year for a $40,000 home, based on a 60 percent assessment ratio and a $1 per $100 school tax. In addition, the disability homestead exemption is tied to qualification under the federal Old-Age, Survivors, and Disability Insurance program, and will exclude a great many of the state's disabled citizens.

"Truth in Taxation"

For: This provision would assure homeowners an adequate opportunity to voice their sentiments about property tax increases and, therefore, should lead to smaller tax increases in the future.

Against: A constitution should be a flexible document in which the fundamental powers of government are established, limited, defined, and distributed. This provision is statutory in nature, and its inclusion in the constitution merely adds to the already excessive verbiage of one of the longest state constitutions.

State Spending Limitations

For: The provision restraining state spending increases should force the legislature in the appropriation process to be more conscious of the necessity of proposed government programs and the value of existing ones.

Against: The "limit" on state spending is meaningless and will be as ineffective as the "permanent" federal debt ceiling, which is continually raised by Congress. Only a majority of the state's lawmakers would be required to declare an emergency and authorize an appropriation in excess of the limit.

Property Tax Administration

For: Property tax reform has been stalled in previous legislative sessions partly because of fear that it might lead to statewide property tax appraisals. The amendment's prohibition of such appraisals should, therefore, eliminate a major obstacle to long-needed reform of property tax administration.

Against: The prohibition of statewide appraisals of real property and the requirement that enforcement of uniform appraisal standards must originate at the county level would perpetuate the current inequities in the administration of the state property tax and thwart meaningful tax reform in the future.

"The Tax Relief Amendment"

For: The amendment is a balanced tax relief package that could total over one-half billion dollars in tax reductions over the next three years. More important, the amendment will have the long-range effect of preventing an increased dependence on property taxation for government revenue.

Against: The amendment is a hodgepodge of loosely-related proposals that should have been submitted separately to the voters. In addition, total government spending will not be substantially reduced by the amendment. Much of the revenue lost by local governments must be replaced by the state, a situation that could lead to a state sales tax increase within a few years.

See Page 10 for the complete text of the amendment

Family Safety - Around The Clock

There's no place like home. It is the heart and soul of family life.

And there's no place like home, either, when it comes to accidents. Though we think of it as a refuge, more people get hurt in or around home than anywhere else. Nearly 30,000 men, women and children perish each year in home accidents, accounting for an accidental death toll exceeded only by traffic.

In addition, untold millions suffer minor, but painful, home injuries that are measurable only by counting the billions of band-aids and gallons and tons of medicaments we use to remedy them.

The most likely victims of fatal home accidents are those under five years of age and those 65 and older. They account for seven out of ten of the deaths while making up only a fifth of the population. Falls are the leading cause of accidental death among elderly people. Fire is a significant foe of both young and old, as is suffocation for infants.

Small children and elderly people need extra protection because they usually can't cope as well with hazardous situations. Also a bigger percentage of accidents to the aged result in serious injury or death.

But plenty of home accidents occur to school-age children, teens, young adults and those in middle age. About three out of four disabling home injuries involve persons five to 65.

Accidents in and around the house can be prevented. Good management practices will assist in eliminating or minimizing household safety hazards. Fewer hazards mean fewer chances for accidents. Good management also results in a more attractive, more livable home, and in extra time to spend with family, or with hobbies or community activities.

Practice Good Management for Safety Around the Clock

- Get sufficient rest
- Make periodic home safety checks
- Arrange furniture for unobstructed movement about house
- Make home pleasant to reduce accident-producing tension
- Establish good family eating habits
- Recognize and remove hazards
- Teach family safe practices
- Select and use right equipment for job
- Provide ample storage space
- Plan flexible work schedule to avoid rush and fatigue
- Take good care of household appliances and equipment
- Learn first aid and what to do in case of fire

A TAXPAYER'S BILL OF RIGHTS IS PAST DUE

Bill Clements believes we still have a chance to preserve our future by establishing constitutional protection against excessive taxation and runaway government spending.

Bill Clements believes the people of Texas should have the power necessary to ratify or reject tax policies made by legislators.

To establish this power (of the people), Bill Clements will introduce an amendment to the Texas Constitution that would give the people of Texas this right.

Bill Clements' "Taxpayers' Bill of Rights" would:

- Give Texans the right of initiative and referendum, a phrase that means we, the people, have a right to vote on the taxes to be levied on us.
- Place a ban on corporate or personal income tax in Texas.
- Require a two-thirds record vote of both houses of the legislature to pass a tax bill.
- Allow local taxpayers to call an election to ratify or reject a tax increase created by a local governmental unit.

Bill Clements believes in Texas and the people of Texas.

Bill Clements thinks that elected officials must work for the people and represent them properly.

As governor of Texas, Bill Clements will work for and with the people of Texas.

It's about time someone recalled that our form of government was conceived to be a servant of the people and provide the means to insure that principle endures.

Peggy Kater stood beside one of the signs leading into the small town she founded, scratched her head and declared: "Why? Why?" "Because back in 1850 when I opened a gas station on my homestead everyone always asked, 'Why do you ever come out here?'"

Mrs. Kater, 65, now mayor of the southwest Arizona hamlet, said she would always reply: "Why? Because like the mountains, the desert, and the wide open spaces, why not?"

"People asked me that question often. Then others moved here and soon we had a town, and when we had to name the place, everyone turned to me."

"All I could think of were all the people wondering why anyone would settle in what seemed to be such a godforsaken place. So I came up with 'Why.'"

Why's population is 125—mostly business people who operate out of the two saloons, three gas stations, two grocery stores, the post office and barber shop.

And it isn't easy for people of the town when they leave town and are asked where they live. They just can't say "Why."

There were 40 RA's, GA's and others present for the organizations at the Baptist Church Wednesday afternoon.

World Day of Prayer will be held at the Pansy Baptist Church on November 6, beginning at 10:00 a.m. and several from South Plains plan to attend for the program.

Thursday October 26, 1978 Page 9 Mrs. Murray Julian went to Crosbyton Thursday afternoon and evening to attend the 18th annual meeting of the Caprock Baptist Association, which was held at the First Baptist Church on October 19. The 1979 meeting will be held at the Silverton First Baptist Church. Rev. Fred Blake will be moderator at the Associational Meetings next year.

Time is turned backward on Sunday, October 29. Be sure to turn your clock back before you go to bed, so you won't be late for church on Sunday morning.

Mrs. C.L. Julian, Clifford Julian and David Julian, from Hollywood, Florida, flew here October 5 to be here for the services for Murray Julian on October 6. They were here until October 7 with Mrs. Murray Julian and children, Mr. and Mrs. Kendis Julian, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Julian and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Julian and families.

Teenagers from the South Plains Baptist Church went to Plainview Saturday night for a bowling party with their counselors, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Johnson, Rev. and Mrs. Fred Blake joined them in Plainview, and there were seven from the church who enjoyed games of bowling and supper at the Taco Plaza.

Additional details of USDA's planning for an all-risk crop insurance program were revealed at a recent meeting of USDA officials and producer representatives in Kansas City. Meanwhile the odds are increasing against getting the proposed Federal Crop Protection Act (FCPA) passed and the program in operation before the disaster payment section of current law expires at the end of 1979. The House Agriculture Subcommittee heard Administration witnesses at a one-day hearing July 27 but hearings have not been scheduled before the full House Committee or the Senate Agriculture Committee.

Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland said earlier that legislation needed to be passed in July of this year if insurance was to be available on 1980 crops, but it now appears unlikely that the FCPA can become law before next year.

The Administration plan calls for the FCPA to provide all-risk insurance to all producers of cotton, feed grains, wheat, sunflowers, soybeans, sugar beets and other crops of less importance on the High Plains. Coverage would be based on cost the event of a total loss. A premium payment of $9.35 per acre would get coverage on 345 pounds or $179 per acre. For a $22.50 premium, 445 pounds of production would be insured and a total loss would bring $231 per acre indemnity.

A dryland farm, where the risk is greater, would pay $4.25 per acre premium for 50 percent coverage of a 270-pound yield, $10.65 premium for 70 percent, and $25.60 per acre for 90 percent coverage. Dollar indemnities after total loss, respectively, would be $70, $99 and $127.

Officials emphasize that these figures are tentative pending further cost calculations and Congressional action. Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., 25-county producer organization based in Lubbock, was represented at the meeting by its executive officer, Donald Johnson. The PCG Board's position calls for an extension of the current disaster program until it is certain the FCPA will be an adequate replacement.

The complete text of "The Tax Relief Amendment" to the Texas Constitution to be voted on November 7.
Prepared by the Texas Legislative Council.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION

proposing a constitutional amendment relating to ad valorem taxation of agricultural property, exemptions of certain property from taxation, and conditions for increases in total property tax revenues.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

SECTION 1. That Article VIII, Section 1, of the Texas Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 1. Taxation shall be equal and uniform. All real property and tangible personal property in this State, whether owned by natural persons or corporations, other than municipal, shall be taxed in proportion to its value, which shall be ascertained as may be provided by law. The Legislature may provide for the taxation of intangible property and may also impose occupation taxes, both upon natural persons and upon corporations, other than municipal, doing any business in this State. It may also tax incomes of both natural persons and corporations other than municipal, except that persons engaged in mechanical and agricultural pursuits shall never be required to pay an occupation tax. The Legislature by general law shall exempt household goods not held or used for the production of income and personal effects not held or used for the production of income, and the Legislature by general law may exempt all or part of the personal property homestead of a family or single adult, "personal property homestead" meaning that personal property exempt by law from forced sale for debt, from ad valorem taxation. The occupation tax levied by any county, city or town for any year on persons or corporations pursuing any profession or business, shall not exceed one half of the tax levied by the State for the same period on such profession or business.

SECTION 2. That Article VIII of the Texas Constitution be amended by adding Section 1-d-1 to read as follows:

Sec. 1-d-1. (a) To promote the preservation of open-space land, the legislature shall provide by general law for taxation of open-space land devoted to farm or ranch purposes on the basis of its productive capacity and may provide by general law for taxation of open-space land devoted to timber production on the basis of its productive capacity. The legislature by general law may provide eligibility limitations under this section and may impose sanctions in furtherance of the taxation policy of this section.

(b) If a property owner qualifies his land for designation for agricultural use under Section 1-d of this article, the land is subject to the provisions of Section 1-d for the year in which the designation is effective and is not subject to a law enacted under this Section 1-d-1 in that year.

SECTION 3. That Article VIII, Section 1-b, of the Texas Constitution be amended by amending Subsection (b) and adding Subsections (c) and (d) to read as follows:

(b) From and after January 1, 1973, the governing body of any county, city, town, school district, or other political subdivision of the State may exempt by its own action not less than Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000) of the market value of residence homesteads of persons, married or unmarried, including those living alone, who are under a disability for purposes of payment of disability insurance benefits under Federal Old-Age, Survivors, and Disability Insurance or its successor or of married or unmarried persons sixty-five (65) years of age or older, including those living alone, from all ad valorem taxes thereafter levied by the political subdivision. As an alternative, upon receipt of a petition signed by twenty percent (20%) of the voters who voted in the last preceding election held by the political subdivision, the governing body of the subdivision shall call an election to determine by majority vote whether an amount not less than Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000) as provided in the petition, of the market value of residence homesteads of disabled persons or of persons sixty-five (65) years of age or over shall be exempt from ad valorem taxes thereafter levied by the political subdivision. An eligible disabled person who is sixty-five (65) years of age or older may not receive both exemptions from the same political subdivision in the same year but may choose either if the subdivision has adopted both. Where any ad valorem tax has theretofore been pledged for the payment of any debt, the taxing officers of the political subdivision shall have authority to continue to levy and collect the tax against the homestead property at the same rate as the tax so pledged until the debt is discharged, if the cessation of the levy would impair the obligation of the contract by which the debt was created. An exemption adopted under this subsection based on assessed value is increased, effective January 1, 1979, to an amount that, when converted to market value, provides the same reduction in taxes, except that the market value exemption shall be rounded to the nearest $100.

(c) Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) of the market value of the residence homestead of a married or unmarried adult, including one living alone, is exempt from ad valorem taxation for general elementary and secondary public school purposes. In addition to this exemption, the legislature by general law may exempt an amount not to exceed Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000) of the market value of the residence homestead of a person who is disabled as defined in Subsection (b) of this section and of a person sixty-five (65) years of age or older from ad valorem taxation for general elementary and secondary public school purposes. The legislature by general law may base the amount of and condition eligibility for the additional exemption authorized by this subsection for disabled persons and for persons sixty-five (65) years of age or older on economic need. An eligible disabled person who is sixty-five (65) years of age or older may not receive both exemptions from a school district but may choose either. An eligible person is entitled to receive both the exemption required by this subsection for all residence homesteads and any exemption adopted pursuant to Subsection (b) of this section, but the legislature shall provide by general law whether an eligible disabled or elderly person may receive both the additional exemption for the elderly and disabled authorized by this subsection and any exemption for the elderly or disabled adopted pursuant to Subsection (b) of this section. Where ad valorem tax has previously been pledged for the payment of debt, the taxing officers of a school district may continue to levy and collect the tax against the value of homesteads exempted under this subsection until the debt is discharged if the cessation of the levy would impair the obligation of the contract by which the debt was created. The legislature shall provide for formulas to protect school districts against all or part of the revenue loss incurred by the implementation of Article VIII, Sections 1-b(c), 1-b(d), and 1-d-1, of this constitution. The legislature by general law may define residence homestead for purposes of this section.

(d) Except as otherwise provided by this subsection, if a person receives the residence homestead exemption prescribed by Subsection (c) of this section for homesteads of persons sixty-five (65) years of age or older, the total amount of ad valorem taxes imposed on that homestead for general elementary and secondary public school purposes may not be increased while it remains the residence homestead of that person or that person's spouse who receives the exemption. However, those taxes may be increased to the extent the value of the homestead is increased by improvements other than repairs or improvements made to comply with governmental requirements.

SECTION 4. That Article VIII of the Texas Constitution be amended by adding Section 21 to read as follows:

Sec. 21. (a) Subject to any exceptions prescribed by general law, the total amount of property taxes imposed by a political subdivision in any year may not exceed the total amount of property taxes imposed by that subdivision in the preceding year unless the governing body of the subdivision gives notice of its intent to consider an increase in taxes and holds a public hearing on the proposed increase before it increases those total taxes. The legislature shall prescribe by law the form, content, timing, and methods of giving the notice and the rules for the conduct of the hearing.

(b) In calculating the total amount of taxes imposed in the current year for the purposes of Subsection (a) of this section, the taxes on property in territory added to the political subdivision since the preceding year and on new improvements that were not taxable in the preceding year are excluded. In calculating the total amount of taxes imposed in the preceding year for the purposes of Subsection (a) of this section, the taxes imposed on real property that is not taxable by the subdivision in the current year are excluded.

(c) The legislature by general law shall require that, subject to reasonable exceptions, a property owner be given notice of a revaluation and of the amount of taxes that will result from the reappraised value if neither the tax rate nor the ratio of assessment in effect in the preceding year is reduced. The notice must be given before the procedures required in Subsection (a) are instituted.

SECTION 5. That Article VIII of the Texas Constitution be amended by adding Section 22 to read as follows:

Sec. 22. (a) In no biennium shall the rate of growth of appropriations from state tax revenues not dedicated by this constitution exceed the estimated rate of growth of the state's economy. The legislature shall provide by general law procedures to implement this subsection.

(b) If the legislature by adoption of a resolution approved by a record vote of a majority of the members of each house finds that an emergency exists and identifies the nature of the emergency, the legislature may provide for appropriations in excess of the amount authorized by Subsection (a) of this section. The excess authorized under this subsection may not exceed the amount specified in the resolution.

(c) In no case shall appropriations exceed revenues as provided in Article III, Section 49a, of this constitution. Nothing in this section shall be construed to alter, amend, or repeal Article III, Section 49a, of this constitution.

SECTION 6. That Article VIII of the Texas Constitution be amended by adding Section 23 to read as follows:

Sec. 23. (a) There shall be no statewide appraisal of real property for ad valorem tax purposes; however, this shall not preclude formula distribution of tax revenues to political subdivisions of the state.

(b) Administrative and judicial enforcement of uniform standards and procedures for appraisal of property for ad valorem tax purposes, as prescribed by general law, shall originate in the county where the tax is imposed, except that the legislature may provide by general law for political subdivisions with boundaries extending outside the county.

SECTION 7. This amendment takes effect January 1, 1979.

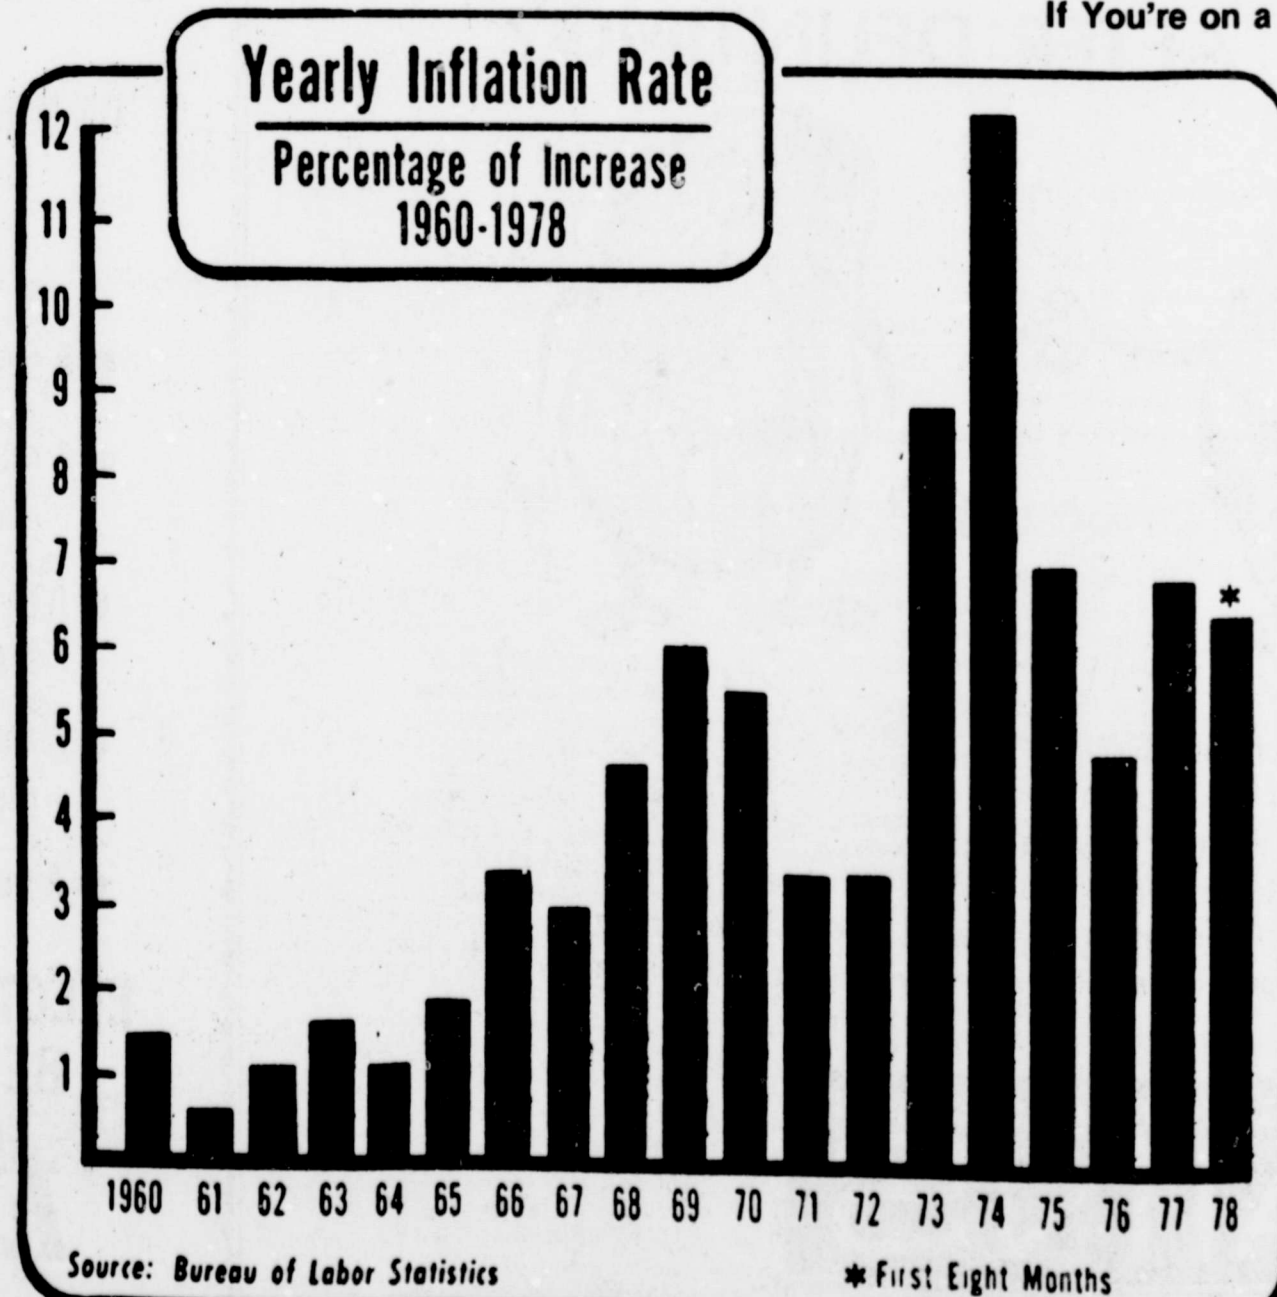

SECTION 8. The secretary of state shall designate this proposed constitutional amendment as "The Tax Relief Amendment" and shall place the proposition prior to any other proposition on the ballot for the election to be held on November 7, 1978.

SECTION 9. This proposed constitutional amendment shall be submitted to the voters at an election to be held on November 7, 1978. The ballot shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "The constitutional amendment providing for tax relief for residential homesteads, elderly persons, disabled persons, and agricultural land; for personal property exemptions; for truth in taxation procedures, including citizen involvement; for a redefinition of the tax base; for limitations on state spending; and for property tax administration."

Pork's Good and Good for You Too... If You're on a Weight-Reduction Diet

It is interesting and important to note that as the "type" pork has been produced by breeding and feeding relative proportions of protein has increased. For example, pork as consumed today is 22 percent more protein, 22 percent less fat and 30 percent fewer calories than the pork of 20 years ago, according to the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

Pork is an excellent source of the B vitamins—riboflavin, niacin, B6 and B12. As a matter of fact, it is the richest known source of thiamin. The B vitamins are associated with proper functioning of heart, muscles, nerves, normal appetite, digestion, blood formation, normal vision and strength.

Pork is an excellent source of high quality protein containing all the essential amino acids so necessary to build, maintain and repair tissue as well as to increase resistance to disease. Part of the mineral iron, which helps teams to play a vital role in the formation of hemoglobin, of red blood cells and prevention of anemia.

Variety Abounds... Given these facts, you see that even on weight-reduction diets, pork is a good choice. Dieters can enjoy such cuts as pork loin, sirloin, roasts, rib and loin chops, tenderloin, ham, rump, porchetta.

Amendment Pros And Cons

for and against No. 1, proposed by the Texas State Constitution, which state voters will have compiled by the Legislative Committee, and other proposed amendments to be explained in later issues of the newspaper.

AMENDMENT NO. 1-S.J.R. No. 50

Amendment No. 1, proposed by the Texas State Constitution, Section 21, of the Texas Constitution to exempt certain state agencies from the requirement that they be done by competitive bidding.

The proposed amendment would exempt from the requirement that they be done by competitive bidding, the purchase of stationery, paper, and fuel by the state, and the purchase of stationery, paper, and fuel by the state, and the purchase of stationery, paper, and fuel by the state.

governmental powers. Beginning in 1919 with its creation as the state purchasing agent, the board of control, in effect, has exercised the function of calling for and awarding all state contracts. Compliance with the constitutional provision requiring approval of the governor, the secretary of state, and the comptroller has generally been perfunctory, although the board of control does give notice to the three officers when bids on printing or fuel are to be opened.

A proposed amendment eliminating the approval-function of the governor, the secretary of state, and the comptroller was submitted to the governor in 1968 and was defeated.

In 1975, the legislature enacted Articles 664-S and 664-F, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes, which authorized state agencies to purchase products and services from "nonprofit agencies for the blind" without letting competitive bids. The legislature found that the program would result both in the employment of persons with no alternative employment and in substantial savings over the cost of institutionalizing the individuals employed. Two years later the attorney general issued an opinion ruling that Article XVI, Section 21, of the Texas Constitution prohibited the purchase of stationery and supplies, including items such as pens and pencils, without competitive bidding. (Op. Atty. Gen. H-984 (1977).) Those items are some of the principal products of the visually handicapped. This constitutional provision therefore thwarts full realization of the legislature's attempt to help the visually handicapped.

purchase at a fair market price. If an apparent loss were suffered, it would be offset by the savings resulting from private employment of these individuals rather than their state-supported institutionalization.

2. The governor, the secretary of state, and the comptroller have many important duties and should not be burdened with the strictly storekeeping function of approving purchasing contracts. Approval of contracts by these officials has in actual practice become a mere formality and something of a nuisance. The "approval" is actually performed by ministerial subordinates, so that the requirement has in reality become so much "red tape."

Against:

1. Even though the legislature's policy of helping employ handicapped individuals is praiseworthy, the policy of competitive bidding established under Article XVI, Section 21, is also sound. Competitive bidding for these products and services insures that the state will receive the lowest possible price for what it purchases. The establishment of a "fair market price" under a statute is not assurance to the taxpayer that the government is operating in the least costly manner. This constitutional requirement is stronger than any statute enacted by the legislature since change requires an affirmative vote of the citizens. It is therefore the best protection of the taxpayer's dollar.

2. The action of the governor, the secretary of state, and the comptroller in approving purchasing contracts awarded by the board of control may be perfunctory, but nonetheless it serves as a check on those actually performing the function. Purchasing agents and officials exert more caution with knowledge that their actions are subject to review by high state officials. In addition, because the governor and the comptroller are elected officials, the voters have recourse if it becomes apparent that these contracts are being improperly awarded.

The Floyd Philosopher

State And Local Governments Have Out-Smarted Washington

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm thinks he has discovered an odd fact this week.

Dear editor:

The states, counties, cities, towns and school districts of this country have out-smarted Washington.

Look at it this way: when people complain about high taxes and government waste, who are they thinking of? Mostly Washington, of course. "It's those tax-eating, tax-spending politicians in Washington that're ruining this country," they say.

As though it was minor news hardly worth mentioning except to fill up space with an inside page, a big newspaper I got hold of printed the following:

State and local government tax collections across the country increased 10.5 percent in the past year, reaching a total of $192.2 billion."

The authority for this? The U.S. Commerce Department in Washington, D.C.

You see, state and local governments have managed to keep everybody's tax attention focused on Washington, while they slip in a 10.5 percent increase on their own in one year, although it'd be hard to find anybody who claims state and local governments on the average over the country have increased their services 10.5 percent. Looks like all the political brains aren't concentrated in Washington.

In fact, Washington clearly has been out-smarted and it had better hurry up and hire a public relations firm to distribute the blame.

Yours faithfully
J.A.

Good and Good for You Too... on a Weight-Reduction Diet!

It is interesting and important to note that as the "type" pork has been produced by breeding and feeding, relative proportion of protein has increased. For example, 22 percent more protein, 22 percent less fat and 36 percent fewer calories than the pork of 26 years ago, according to the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

Pork is an excellent source of the B vitamins—thiamin, riboflavin, niacin, B6 and B12. As a matter of fact, pork is the richest known food source of thiamin. The B vitamins associated with proper functioning of heart, muscles, nerves, normal appetite, digestion, blood formation, normal vision and smooth skin.

Pork is an excellent source of high quality protein—protein containing all the essential amino acids so necessary to build, maintain and repair body tissue as well as to increase resistance to disease. Pork is rich in the mineral iron, which, in teams with the high quality protein, to play a vital role in the formation and maintenance of red blood and prevention of anemia.

Variety Abounds

Given these facts, we see that even on weight reduction diets, pork is a good choice. Dieters can enjoy such cuts as pork loin, sirloin and roasts, rib and loin chops, tender slice of ham and smoked ham (rump portion).

Bentsen Urges Carter Sign Beef Import Bill

DALLAS — Senator Lloyd Bentsen said Monday the President would be making a "tragic mistake" if he vetoes the Bentsen Counter-cyclical Beef Imports Bill.

Bentsen spoke Monday morning to the annual convention of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association in Dallas.

"We produce and consume more beef than any country in the world—and the United States is willing to share its market to a far greater degree than any of our competitors," the Senator said.

"We import seven percent of the beef we consume; no other beef-producing country comes even close to this figure."

"One problem, however, has been the way we have managed our beef imports. We have traditionally relied on a pro-cyclical beef import policy: when the cattle cycle is such that the domestic price of beef is low, the gates have been opened to more imports. When the domestic price is high the formula in the law permits fewer beef imports."

"Now, you don't have to be an economic or agricultural genius to understand that such a policy makes no sense. It accentuates the high and low points in beef price fluctuations. It operates to the detriment of both the consumer and the producer."

"But that's not the whole story. Under the previous law, the President had discretionary authority to suspend the beef import quotas and frequently did so when the price was up."

"Earlier this year we got together and decided to do something about this situation. We decided to press for a counter-cyclical import formula. We'd maintain roughly the same level of beef imports—but we would permit them to come in when prices were high and reduce imports when prices were low. This approach has the obvious advantage of evening out the peaks and troughs in the beef cycle."

"We also decided to exempt live cattle from our bill. There were a lot of people who thought they should be included, but there were also a lot of people—like the Texas Cattle Feeders Association—who understood what an adverse impact this would have on your industry and on the economy of Mexico, our primary foreign supplier of live cattle."

"We went one step farther in this legislation: we took away the President's discretion to waive the quota, except in cases of real emergency."

"It was probably this provision, more than any other aspect of the bill, that brought about the strong Administration opposition we have been fighting for the past six months."

"But, despite this opposition we were able to sell the bill to Congress on its merits. It made sense. We were able to respond to any argument leveled against it. We got it through the Senate Finance Committee and passed it on the Senate Floor last May."

"Congressman Bob Poage took up the fight on the House side. There were negotiations, compromises, some changes. But the bill that emerged from the House was essentially the bill that I got through the Senate: the Bentsen Counter-cyclical Beef Imports bill. It has the twin attributes of the counter-cyclical approach and limitations on the President's ability to suspend the beef import quota."

"It is no secret that the Administration does not like this legislation. The threat of a veto—either an outright veto or a pocket veto—is still a factor to be reckoned with."

"President Carter will be making a very real and tragic mistake if he vetoes the beef bill. There is no good reason for a veto; no economic justification, no political justification and no inflationary justification. The proposal we offer is a substantial improvement over current procedures," Bentsen said. "It leaves the President discretion to waive quotas when such a waiver is really warranted. It will help even out fluctuations in the beef market without any marked decrease in imports. It makes good sense for America and for our trading partners. It makes sense for both the consumer and the producer," Senator Bentsen said.
