Contracts Of Superintendent, Tax Collector Extended At School Board Meeting

The Lockney school board extended one year the contracts of Superintendent W.H. Hallmark and Tax Assessor-Collector Jack Samford at the January board meeting Monday night. Extension of the contracts came after the school trustees entered executive session.

The Lockney Independent School District trustees formally accepted the resignation of a junior-high math aide, Mrs. Ruth Noland, and officially approved the hiring of a fourth-grade teacher, Cindy Hanks. Hanks replaced Christine Keenan, whose resignation was accepted at the December board meeting.

Hallmark reported that Jackie Holt had been hired as a part-time bookkeeper, working four hours a day. The superintendent submitted a list of substitute teachers, which the school board approved.

The trustees decided to again put up for bids two lots east of elementary school and "the old elementary school property." Both had been offered for sale before, but the board rejected a low bid on the old school property, and the only bid received on the two lots was withdrawn Monday shortly before the board meeting.

Samford and Hallmark reported on the pre-legislative seminar on school they attended last month in Austin.

The superintendent reported on progress on additional dressing-room facilities approved at the December board meeting. He recommended meeting with coaches and principals to draw up specifications for construction and plumbing bids on the proposed dressing rooms in the stage area of the "old gym" (formerly an auditorium). A building committee, composed of Hallmark and trustees Tom Duvall, Jerry Williams, and Kenneth Broseh, has authority to approve the specifications and advertise for the bids.

Also discussed at the school board meeting Monday night: repair of carpet in the boys' basketball dressing room in the main gym; school discipline matters; attendance by Lockney trustees at a South Plains Association of School boards meeting today at Slaton.

All school board members were present Monday night.

BEACON LIGHTS

by Jim Huggins

REMEMBER LAST SUMMER when you filmed the TV commercials with hot-air balloon in and around Lockney? They're showing one of those commercials on Lubbock stations now. You look close, you can see Roland Lydia Watson (I think) and Carlton Diane Johnson. Watch for these kites in the Tolban Herbside ad. It will be shown during the 5-o'clock news this Saturday on Channel 11. But you gotta look fast, because it moves pretty quick.

Burglary Losses Low In Recent Months

In this edition of the Beacon, there are reports on two break-ins in Lockney. Bill McConnell, chief of police, notes however that over the past few months the town has had an exceedingly low number of burglaries and a minimal amount of property loss. McConnell credits the recent low losses to citizen help. The police are still following some leads on the few burglaries that have occurred.

Two Break-Ins Investigated

Lockney police are investigating two break-ins which occurred during the past weekend. The field house at the high-school football stadium was broken coaches' office were scattered about the office, McConnell noted.

Police photographed the field house and dusted for fingerprints. The incident is still under investigation.

FIELD HOUSE RANSACKED

Chief of Police Bill McConnell said a field house locker room was entered through a window on the west side of the building. McConnell said the window did not have glass in it but had three metal bars, two of which were not secured at the bottom, across it.

Whoever entered the field house took the screws out of a hasp securing a lock and entered the main building. They attempted to get into the soft-drink vending machine with a screwdriver, which they left at the scene, McConnell said.

Towels and other items were strewn over the floor of the building, and the contents of filing cabinets in the

DAVIS LUMBER ENTERED

At approximately 11 p.m. Sunday, a burglar alarm system at Davis Lumber was tripped. Owner Thurman Davis and policemen McConnell and Charles Higgs went to the store and found a door on the west side, leading into a storage room, open and a small glass beside the door broken out. Entry was apparently gained by breaking out the small glass with a piece of wood, reaching inside and removing the bolt to the door. The main building was entered through the storage room.

A search of the building revealed no one still on the premises. It is believed that the store alarm system frightened

Police Jail Suspect After Beating Incident

A man has been charged with assault and another is being sought in connection with an incident which occurred Wednesday morning of last week in apartments in the 100 block of West Street in Lockney, probably between 6 and 8 a.m.

After receiving a report that someone had been badly beaten, was lying on the floor of one of the apartments, police went to the apartment and found a man, apparently unconscious, lying on the floor.

The injured man was taken by the Lockney Volunteer Fire Department ambulance service to Lockney General Hospital. He was identified as Juan Sustaita, 17, who was staying at the apartments but not in the room in which he was found.

Police Chief Bill McConnell said the room where Sustaita was found in Police Chief Bill McConnell said the room where Sustaita was found ("in apartment No. 6) was blood-spattered and that several items in the room, including a broken vodka bottle, had blood on them.

In an adjacent room, police found a male subject huddled in the corner. The man, who lived in apartment No. 6, was unable to tell police what had happened, but based on the scene itself and facts found at that time, he was taken into custody, transported to the Floyd County jail in Floydada and charged with assault. McConnell said the investigation revealed that probably more than one party was involved in the alleged assault, and a second subject was still being sought Tuesday afternoon, when details of the incident were released.

When the police were able to interview the victim later the day of the alleged assault, he told them that there had been an argument and he thought he had been hit with a bottle.

Sustaita was released from the hospital Friday.

TOUGH NEIGHBORHOOD TO GO THROUGH!

AN EDITORIAL

Send Them Home!

What would have happened had Iranian students who attempted to lay siege to the Beverly Hills, Calif., mansion where the sister and 90-year-old mother of the Shah of Iran were staying pulled such a stunt in their homeland? Most likely, they would have been shot!

In Iran, dissent is not encouraged, peaceful or otherwise.

It is different in the United States. Being free to speak one's mind is one of America's most prized freedoms, as its place at the top of the Bill of Rights indicates.

"Congress shall make no law...abridging the freedom of speech...or the right of the people to peaceably to assemble..." Uncle Sam has always permitted peaceful dissent.

But the first time one of them so much as breaks a window or sets a fire in expressing his opinion, that person should face immediate deportation.

The same situation should exist for any visitor in this nation!

These young Iranians' destructive behavior would not be tolerated in their mother country. In the United States, these guests should be permitted to freely speak their minds, assemble to protest the Shah's government, even his family's presence here.

Sen. Lloyd Bentsen wants any Iranian student found guilty of breaking U.S. laws speedily deported. We wholeheartedly agree!

But the first time one of them so much as breaks a window or sets a fire in expressing his opinion, that person should face immediate deportation.

The same situation should exist for any visitor in this nation!

So They Say.

SELECTIVE

The women's libbers have taken the sting out of not getting married for the younger generation but that hasn't solved the problem for the one most affected.

It always has been Mama who was most embarrassed when her beautiful and talented daughter had failed to bait some young man into double harness with her.

Mama was asked at church, the quilting and the bridge party when little Susie was going to get married and was she going to horrify the family by becoming a career woman coming home every evening to an empty house with no man to cook and wash for, nor to take house shoes to.

It got downright hard to come up with different reasons such as Susie was waiting for the perfect man to come along before she would consider any mention of marriage.

Finally, though, Susie met an old boy that seemed to be passable in a lot of ways. He made enough money to feed her and keep her in shoes and gingham dresses, and all in all, he didn't seem to be such a bad fellow.

The one obvious fault with him, though, was that he didn't go to church and that was of some concern to Susie since that was one of her obvious virtues.

Mama could forgive that short-coming a whole lot better than she could stand to have an old maid daughter on her hands. Her own husband was that way. She encouraged Susie to encourage the fellow to pop the question and Susie to accept it.

"But I couldn't marry him if he asked me, Mama," she said. "He doesn't believe in the hereafter."

"Don't worry about that," Mama said. "You go ahead and marry him."

"Then while you are on your honeymoon, you convince him that there is a heaven."

"And when you come back, live with me a while and I'll convince him for you that there is a hell."

Longhorns Fall

The Lockney Longhorns basketball team fell to the Floydada Whirlwinds last Friday night in the season's District 4-AA cage contest. The game was knotted at 61-all at the end of regulation, but when the first overtime was over the Whirlwinds were ahead by a single point, 71-70.

It was a typical Lockney-Floydada contest—a close game, played before a large crowd. This one played in the Longhorns' home gym. Lockney coach Ed Koester said the Longhorns put forth a good total effort but made a couple of errors near the end of the game that cost them the victory.

Lockney SPORTING EVENTS

The Lady Horns of Lockney High placed second in a junior varsity basketball tournament at Valley High School last week. The Lockney JV girls defeated Clarendon 16-13 in the opening-round game Thursday, advanced when a team cancelled a Friday game, and lost to Valley 41-24 in the Saturday finals.

Julie Ferguson scored nine points and played probably her best game of the season Thursday. Also scoring for Lockney were Sheris Clark, three points; Rosalind Hill, two; Kara Carthel and Tammy Williams, one each.

Ferguson led Lockney again Saturday, scoring 14 points. Clark managed seven before fouling out, Hill had two and Kay Sherman scored one for Lockney.

Seventh-Grade Girls Trim Idalou

The seventh-grade Lady Horn basketball team beat Idalou 22-20 here Monday evening, playing their best game of the year, according to Coach Tina Slinker. When the teams met earlier in the season Idalou won by some 20 points, but this time the Lockney girls "played super," shot well, and came away with the victory.

Sherly Perry was the Lady Horns' top scorer with six points. Shwanda Brock, Shelley Sessom and Dolores Luna had four points apiece for Lockney, and Hope Torres and Sylvia Hernandez scored two each.

Two Idalou girls had nine points each in the seventh-grade contest.

IDALOU EIGHTH WINS
Idalou was a 17-14 winner in the eighth-grade girls' game. It was only the second loss of the season for the Lady Horn eighth. Connie Coffman and Elizabeth Mathis shared high-score honors for Lockney, each getting eight points. Kay Reay and Robin Hardy scored four points each.

The eighth-grade Lady Horn team is scheduled to play in a tournament at Littlefield today (Thursday) and Saturday.

Both junior-high girls' teams play at Floydada Monday.

Ninth Grade Girls Defeated By Idalou

Lockney High School's ninth-grade girls' basketball team lost a 36-24 decision to Idalou Monday night, but Coach Marsha Sharp said the Lady Horn ninth has definitely showed improvement since the first of the season, when Idalou trounced them by 30 points. As a matter of fact, Sharp said the Lockney girls played really well and had their free-throw-shooting percentage of the year.

Scoring for Lockney were Patricia Torres and Virginia Wilson, six points each; Rhonda Brotherton and Antonia Luna, four apiece; Devra Baker, two; Esmeralda Vasquez and Martha Gonzales, one each.

Freshmen Defeat Idalou

Lockney Longhorn cagers pinned a 51-40 defeat on Idalou's freshmen Monday, improving their season record to 7-2. Jeffrey McCormick paced the 'Horns, scoring 22 points. Ernest Galvin added 16.
