Number Of Commerce Banquet Scheduled March 29

Annual Lockney Chamber of Commerce Banquet will be held this Thursday, March 29 in the Elementary School Cafeteria, 1100 N. Main St., Lockney, Texas. Chamber president, David Frizzell, Chamber director, Roy Howell, and speaker, Air Force Lt. Bobby R. Bagley, now stationed at the Air Force Base in San Antonio, will be the banquet speaker. Bagley was a prisoner of war in North Vietnam for nearly six years. The former RF 101 reconnaissance pilot was captured after his plane was shot down on September 16, 1967 and held prisoner until March 14, 1973. Chamber director Roy Howell, who is in charge of the banquet program, says Bagley's speech on the meaning of freedom is, as one might expect, quite impressive.

Schwertner Reports Friday Tractorcade Stretches 14 Miles On Highway

"We're trying to get our government to the people. We feel we'll get our money back now...or lose it," Arnold Schwertner said in a morning phone conversation from Shreveport, La.

Sandhill man is a member of the tractorcade which is enroute to Washington, D.C. The delegation — which is making 100 to 120 miles a day — includes "over 100 tractors plus support vehicles (pickups and campers)," Schwertner explained, noting there are two to three support tractors for every tractor. The Tractorcade group with which he is traveling is "14 miles long."

The group left Shreveport Friday morning for Monroe, 100 miles away, for a Saturday night clam bake rally. They plan to remain in Monroe until Monday morning.

Thursday phone conversation with the leaders of the American Agriculture Movement noted that "500 tractors from Georgia are confirmed... there may be another 500." The Georgia tractors will link with Schwertner and his group Saturday of next week in Atlanta.

This is expected to produce a procession spanning "80 to 84 miles down the highway...plus what we pick up at Monroe."

The Sandhill man said "we farmers want 100 per cent parity in the market place because we feel this is the minimum and it would limit food price increases." He added his opinion that "the Carter administration is opposed to this because they are taking our land."

FARM BILL IMPLEMENTATION

"What we came for (to Washington) is implementation of the 1977 farm bill — 90 per cent of parity now. We believe this would be the first step to getting 100 per cent parity."

Schwertner said the group is following its projected time schedule. They plan to reach the nation's capitol Feb. 2, and "camp outside of town on Virginia farmland. We will cause confusion in manager of Farmer's Grain and Livestock Corp., who spoke to the Lockney Young Farmers Thursday. Watson says that's one of the ideas upon which Farmers' Grain and Livestock was founded. The primary goal of FGL, he says, is to educate and inform farmers and ranchers about better and more diversified marketing techniques which will permit them to consistently market their products in the top one-third of the market.

Watson and Mel Aven, state FGL manager, will conduct a free introductory seminar at 7:30 p.m. Monday (January 22) at Strickland's Restaurant in Lockney. The public is invited. Farmers and agribusinessmen in Floyd County and the surrounding area are especially urged to attend.

The seminar is being held to introduce the services of FGL and "...to help farmers in this area to become as skilled in marketing as they are in their productive ability," Watson says.

"U.S. farmers are the top producers in the world. They outstrip every other industry in production per man-hour and production per dollar input," Watson says. "But they're still marketing the way they did 60 years ago."

Questions on marketing, hedging and futures will be answered at the Monday-night seminar.

Doctors Made House Calls When Ewald Quebe Was Born

getting-off place, for Ewald Quebe's grandfather when he came by to look at land in the Providence community, was Canyon. That was in winter of 1904. The railroad came to view just a little later.

Quebe was one of a train load of people sent here by land agents. Grandfather bought this section of land at that time," says Ewald indicating the land he still owns and has lived all of his life.

My father came in 1906. When he came he was staying with another in a half-dugout near the house where he was when my grandfather bought the place. A Mr. Alexander was in the house."

Alexander had to dig them out of the cellar the next morning. They were moved in by the much-talked-about yard of 1906.

After he had shoveled the men out, grandfather announced that his cattle were all gone.

The three men waited until the snow was over to look for the missing cattle. They were then several days riding the cattle back. They had drifted far south as Sandhill.

only about 60 acres cultivated on this 320 acres."

There was a herd of antelope that stayed on the place. No one bothered them, so they were "fairly calm." Even though they were tame enough to come up to the improvements on the place, they were still wild at that. An antelope could "jump right over a fence."

"Before 1920, times were so rough that my father thought of moving back to McGregor. He went through several droughts and several hail storms. There had been some cyclones, but they were "scattering." A few times there were long rainy spells. At such times there were lakes.

"This has changed some now. This land has been so cultivated that we don't have so much run-off water as we used to have. This means that we have no creeks and draws. Back earlier, there were times that lakes had water in them the year around. They used to freeze over and stay frozen all winter. Now they don't do that."

Another thing has changed, doctors made house calls in 1914. That was when Ewald was born—November 5, 1914. Dr. L.C. Wasland came from Plainview to care for his birth. He came by buggy across the prairie to the Quebe house.

Their house is 2 and 3/4 miles from the Hale County line.

At present, the railroad that runs east-west of the Quebe's "starts to go around a curve" just where Hale meets Floyd County. That is the county line.

Many people of the Providence Community have originally lived in Hale County. Some still do.

After my father came here, he built on to the old house that was built here in 1900. It was not a tight house and it was one of the oldest. It was the kind that was called "box house" with walls made of 1 by 12 lumber with 4-in. strips to cover the cracks. The wall paper was the coarse, rough paper that carpenters used between inner and outer walls of better houses.

"Once, when I wasn't very old, I had to build a fire in a coal heater—we never did burn wood or cow chips that I can remember. I failed to get the fire going. Father had to build it for me. That morning it was 6 degrees below zero."

"The oven of that little stove was in the stove pipe where really there was not enough heat to bake. Mother had a stove in the kitchen that she did her cooking on."

"I have always worked. When I was little, I helped take care of the chickens, then I graduated to the live stock."

"I carried my part of the water to the house to do the washing. There was a room on the back of the house where Mother did the washing. We also stored cured meat in that little room."

"I remember that she had a big, old pot on the outside that she heated water in. I carried water in for washing and out when the washing was done."

"If a wind came up to break a clothes line, we would have to do it all over again. The wash water was good for scrubbing floors because it had soap in it."

"Mother made several pots of lye soap early spring. Many times I stood around the pot stirring the cooking soap for her."

Finally, water was in the house. A barrel was put up at the windmill with a pipe leading to the house. Then, a wash stand and wash pan were handy with lye soap to wash hands. Lye soap was too caustic to use on any part of the body other than the hands.

"As a boy, I used to watch the chicken hawks. There were lots of them. Since there was no place to keep chickens, they roamed out from the place where they were in danger of the hawks."

"After I was large enough to handle a gun, I decided that a hawk would make

Johnny Lloyds Establish Farm Equipment Firm In South Africa

Johnny and Willie Mae Lloyd started a new business venture in a foreign country "with just a screwdriver."

Three years later the former Floyd County residents are seeing the results of their initiative and imagination.

Mrs. Louis (Janice) Lloyd, the couple's sister-in-law, feels that Johnny and Willie Mae have made a significant contribution to agriculture in the Republic of South Africa. "They have helped develop and make available farm equipment, which was badly needed," the Floydada woman said last week while her brother-in-law and sister-in-law were visiting in the Floydada and Lubbock homes of relatives: Jno. A. Lloyd, Ray Lloyd, Fred Lloyd, G.U. Smith, Louis Lloyd, and others.

The former Floyd residents manufacture and sell parts as well as finished products.

The need for farm equipment and parts — "spares" they are called in South Africa — is pointed out in a story told by Willie Mae. Soon after their arrival in that country, Mrs. Lloyd and son Mitch went into a store in search of drafting paper. The woman salesclerk wanted to know the need for the drafting paper and when she learned the Americans would produce farm machinery and parts, she noted that the need existed.

The woman explained that she and her husband were selling their farm black, white, and Indian employees.

Soon after the farm implement business were founded, its owners decided that their rented facilities were inadequate. In October 1977 they designed a new plant "and we thought we would have plenty of room."

OUTGROW FACILITIES

They were wrong! Even before the Lloyds moved into their 11,000 square foot building last June 15, they realized the facility was "too small."

Lloyd, who unlike his wife, still speaks with a touch of Texas, says his firm manufactures "six or seven plows." They imported only one pattern cutter from the U.S. Two other models — a Master 20 7/8 foot semi-mounted offset disc harrow and a Hutch Master 12 to 20 foot plow — are "under license," which means that a royalty must be paid on them.

Most of the equipment, however, has been designated by the Lloyds. They have plans for a cultivator to go onto the market in October, "when we come into cultivator season."

Among Johnny's creations are several other models, including 2424 and 2426 dies.

The Lloyd's equipment is shipped as far as Capetown, "about a thousand miles."

Geysers have been spouting for centuries, periodically relieving the pent-up pressures from hot subterranean springs. For some people letting off steam at regular intervals is now a way of life.

Center News
 By Mrs. J.E. Green

January 15: My! My! Here it is half of January gone! I spent last week in Caprock Hospital, but they were so good to me and fed me so well I am home again — came Saturday.
 I am grateful for neighbors and the ambulance in my time of need, and visitors, flowers, phone calls, prayers and all. But I am glad to be home.
 What a cold, snowy two weeks we had! Snow is gone after the last two sunny days, but we have another windy, cloudy, cold day now.
 There was not a great deal of visiting because of the dangerous icy roads. But some kept going.
 At Miss Meredith's, Mrs. Clay Muncy and Mrs. Mildred Walters came Wednesday; and Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Edna Patton came Saturday — also Mrs. Muncy.
 The Claud Carpenters in Lockney Nursing Home are doing fine.
 Mrs. Green's company Sunday afternoon was Mrs. Wester, Mrs. Hollis Payne and Mrs. Victor Green of Plainview.
 All the children were at the Thomas Warren home Sunday — Also present were Mrs. Ola Warren and Mrs. Fred Battey.
 Last Monday the Thomas Warrens were in Weatherford for last rites of a relative, Alvie Miles, husband of a cousin, Nita Huckabee. Our sympathy with all.
 Mrs. Elmer Warren and Mrs. Leo Frizzell visited Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Elco Frizzell.
 Mr. and Mrs. L.D. Goightly and daughter of the Dallas area, formerly of Center, were in Floydada during the holidays visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fawcett and other relatives.
 Mrs. Ava Jackson and other local relatives were in Amarillo this week to attend last rites for her son-in-law, Orbin Carroll, who passed away on Friday. Our sympathy is with the loved ones.
 Mr. and Mrs. Milton Mensch and son David of Lubbock visited Saturday in town with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Thomas. It was David's birthday. He was three years old.
 Bill Thomas of Lockney visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Hal Thomas.
 Mr. and Mrs. Dean Watson were hosts to a birthday supper Saturday evening honoring the birthday of Dean. Present were his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brewer, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Millard Watson of Mt. Blanco, and Mrs. Fred McDougle and Sharon of Crosbyton. Also there were the Ken Robisons of Lubbock.
 Mrs. J.C. Odum visited Mrs. Green last Monday.

 Con. de la Garza is interested in sponsoring in the House the Dole Flexible Parity Bill, which was designed by Sen. Robert Dole of Kansas.
 Schwertner was highly pleased that freshman Congressmen Charles Stenholm and Kent Hance — who represent West Texas districts — were appointed to the House Agriculture Committee. Con. Jack Hightower of Vernon has been appointed to the influential House Ways and Means Committee.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:
 I would like to commend and say thanks to the Floydada Fire Department for their efficient work in controlling the fire in the house at 121 W. Crockett Street. I will have to say I was jittery for awhile for if it had burned down mine could have easily burned too. Since it's so close by, I feel a lot safer about fires since I saw the fire boys at work first hand.

'We Started With A Screwdriver'

Lloyds in South Africa. Prior to the establishment of their factory, Martin — who went to South Africa in 1970 from Floydada — was bringing in parts with which to assemble equipment. Another indication of the company's growth is the fact that Mrs. Lloyd, a former stockbroker in Lubbock, started keeping books in her house. Now, the office is housed in a separate building from the factory and "we have three office employees."

NEW DAUGHTER-IN-LAW
In addition to the business, Johnny and Willie Mae Lloyd have another new addition in South Africa: a daughter-in-law. Mitchell was married Oct. 7, 1978 to a South African English-speaking woman. The son is a 1973 graduate of Floydada High School.

Republic of South Africa's economies are different from Uncle Sam's. Seven employees have breakfast and lunch each day at a canteen on the plant grounds. The cost: $1.44 per day per person for both meals.

Johnny's pickup — a small Datsun which was assembled in Japan — after parts were shipped from Japan — will travel "45-to-50 miles" on a gallon of gasoline. "You can let that pickup smell gasoline fumes and it will go 100 miles," Johnny says in jest.

He admits, however, that the vehicle's comfort leaves something to be desired. "It's about like riding in a go-cart."

SEMI-TROPICAL
The pickup has no air conditioner, nor do any vehicles in South Africa due to the semi-tropical weather. Heaters are standard on vehicles.

"We're in summer now," explain the Lloyds who have found that seasons in South Africa are opposite of those in the United States. Weather is warm at Christmas. The poinsettia, a plant identified with Christmas in the USA, grows wild in South Africa "about Easter. Poinsettia plants reach a height of 18 feet."

With an altitude of 4,500 feet above sea-level, "almost every tree blooms some time during the year" in the Lloyds' home town. Howick is 60 miles from the major city of Durban, "just about the same distance as from Floydada to Lubbock."

Temperature there varies generally from 50 to 90 degrees, with an average daytime temperature of 75. Mornings are "cooler."

A Lubbock native, Willie Mae Lloyd explains that houses have no air conditioning nor heating "except for fireplaces."

BUYING HOUSE
The Lloyds "are in the process of buying a house after renting since we have been here." The design is basically the same as those in West Texas. Constructed with brick walls, the residences have little wood due to a termite problem. "Cabinets, baseboards and rafters are the only things wooden in the houses," Johnny says. Most people in the Howick area are "English speaking", a situation which does not exist throughout South Africa. Schools in the country which include people of four basic races — European (anglo), black, Indian, and colored (mixed race) — are segregated. Race relations generally are regarded by the Lloyds as "good," although the nine black tribes "do not get along."

Johnny Lloyd speaks enthusiastically about his adopted country, where he regards the government as "very stable." The Republic of South Africa is one of the most staunch anti-Communist Nations in the world. Anyone suspected of Communist activity is "jailed immediately."

The highest minimum wage in this nation is $2.50 per hour. South Africa's policy draw praise from Lloyd. He regards them as "very fair, very courteous, and very efficient."

A person of any race is eligible to become a policeman "if he can pass the training."

Various races "are compatible, but do not desire to mix." Although several nations have imposed economic sanctions against South Africa, Lloyd does not believe these will bring the country to its knees. Leaders of that independent nation are most resourceful, the former Floyd County man points out.

"The Republic of South Africa is strong enough that we do not feel threatened," Johnny adds. Janice Lloyd sees the nation as having "a very fair and stable government."

FARMING SITUATION
The region around Howick depends basically upon agriculture and raw products for its economic well-being. Farming and ranching are the major industries, although "there is some gold and diamond mining."

Most crops are planted in October and November — a time which would be comparable to Spring in West Texas. March, April and May are generally regarded as "harvest time."

No cotton is grown near the Lloyds' home — "the closest place is 500 or 600 miles from here" — due to the high altitude. Most cotton produced in South Africa is "hand picked."

Around Howick, agriculture consists of sugar cane, soybeans, corn, some milo, "and, of course, vegetables. And, there are quite a few dairies."

Mrs. Lloyd says that friends in Bishop's "grow tomatoes year around."

The beam with which Mrs. Lloyd discusses the climate and with which she and her husband talk about their business leave little doubt that the Lloyds are happy and enthusiastic about their adopted home.

Texas Farmers Union Convention Reaffirms Stand On Parity

Delegates and members of the Texas Farmers Union have again given full support to re-adoption of 100% of parity farm prices and have urged all farmers and ranchers in the state to unite their numbers and harmonize their opinions in the coming months' efforts in Washington.

Delegates attending the Texas Farmers Union convention from Floyd County included Vernie and Lana Moore.

The convention was filled with little controversy even though coincidentally timed with a caravan of tractors which left the convention center parking lot enroute to Washington.

In fact, the most heated session was not one of internal issues but rather one in which a top economist from the Carter Administration spoke Dr. J. B. Penn, deputy administrator of ESCS in the Department of Agriculture, was booed loudly and repeatedly in a question session after a speech in which he rather unsympathetically told the farmers that 1979 farm income would be little above last year's, "or down slight."

As one official stated, "Our sole interest at present is to change the poor and inadequate federal farm law. When we witness an unconcerned attitude like this from one of Carter's chief brain trusts in charge of farm policy, we're disposed to raise Cain. I think it's important that large numbers of farmers follow Penn back to Washington and dedicate themselves to bringing lawmakers to pass emergency legislation that even the Administration couldn't water down. I'd predict from the viewpoint here that President Carter couldn't carry enough farm votes in Texas to sneeze at.

Father Of Lockney Woman Victim Of Cold Weather

Enrique H. Esquivel, 63, of Winters, who had been ill since Saturday evening, was found early Monday morning in a field in the Dale community, about seven miles southeast of Winters.

Will Cowboys Will Super Bowl XIII?

BY LANCE BARROW

With Dallas beating Los Angeles, it puts the only team in the NFC that can match the strength of the Pittsburgh Steelers in Super Bowl XIII.

The Dallas Cowboys' organization is known as one of the best in the National Football League. Rarely do you hear anything of the Steeler front office. However, both teams have been very successful during the 1970's.

Part of their success is centered around the draft. The Steelers have seven first round draft choices in their organization. The Cowboys have six.

For the Cowboys to win this Sunday they must play a game as they played during the second half of the NFC Championship game against L.A.

Opinion, Please

In my opinion, there are three keys to a Cowboy victory. First, Roger Staubach must have a hot hand from the first to the final series of downs. Secondly, the Cowboys cannot make errors against the Steeler defense and expect to win. Thirdly, and most importantly, the Cowboys must contain Terry Bradshaw.

The Dallas secondary will have their hands full with Lynn Swann and Co. They will have to bury the Steeler receivers early in the game.

All in all, I feel this will be the best Super Bowl ever played. The spread will be less than a touchdown. The score will be reversed from Super Bowl X with the Cowboys winning 21-17.

She Wears Three Hats In Academia

(Editor's note: Harleen McAda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Workman of Lockney. She graduated from Lockney High School in 1954.)

Harleen McAda fairly snaps with energy as she enters her office at UC Santa Barbara. Her first problem, however, is which office?

The lady wears three hats. She is teacher, departmental administrator, and the latest feather in her cap, a high level management intern based in the office of Chancellor Robert Huttenback.

All of these posts keep her on the move, from the Graduate School of Education where she is assistant dean, to the Chancellor's office where she is an American Council on Education intern and Title IX officer, and back to her office and lab in Education, where she teaches science education and curriculum theory.

More than her list of appointments suggests, Harleen McAda makes herself accessible, dropping in at an evening pot luck for graduate students, joining an informal lunch for staff women, keeping her office door open, answering her phone with a voice of eagerness for the encounter.

She is highly visible and aware of the fact that she is a role model for women all over the campus who aspire to careers in educational management.

"Fewer than two percent of top level college administrators are women, with most of those still in women's colleges or those run by religious orders," she says.

"However, a few faculty women are inching up the ladder in major state universities and colleges as deans, department heads or assistants to the president or chancellor. In five to ten years they should be emerging into the highest posts."

An American Council on Education intern is targeted for one of those high positions. There are 50 interns throughout the country this year, nominated by their own colleges and placed either in their home environments or in other colleges and universities. Of the total group, 24 are women.

In her ACE post, Harleen McAda will "learn everything I can about how this university operates, which is endlessly fascinating." And in her deanship post, she will apply some of that knowledge to such thorny matters as budgets and space allocations, as well as taking charge of alumni affairs and public relations.

In addition to on-the-job administrative training, she will travel to other campuses as a resource person and also to Washington, D.C. three times, for week-long seminars which will bring in leaders in government and education to brief the ACE interns on issues in higher education.

Harleen McAda looks like an executive. She is a tall woman, impeccably groomed, confident in her bearing and articulate in her opinions. She has a B.A. in chemistry, and M.A. in biology, and a PhD in science education, all degrees earned at institutions in her native state of Texas.

Having extensive training in science has been a great advantage, she says, because science is based on the making of rational, data-based decisions. That ability to make decisions will serve her well in administration, a field more difficult in these days of declining resources than it was when colleges were expanding and enthusiasm ran high for education.

"The top administrators of the 1980's will have to be people who can face the harsh realities of declining resources and still retain their idealism," she said. "Naturally it is more pleasant to be able to say yes when people ask for new programs, more money, or space than it is to say no, we have limits."

She admits to being a Southern woman in matters of style—graceful of speech, agreeable and ever deferential in offering opinion, but possessing an underlying toughmindedness.

The problem comes when people assume that all there is to the Southern lady is a surface sweetness, she says with a brilliant smile and a slow Texas drawl.

"I do believe in the habit of courtesy in dealing with others. I was taught to catch more flies with honey than with vinegar. As a matter of fact, I share an Alma Mater, the University of Texas at Austin, with Lady Bird Johnson, who exemplifies the very qualities we are talking about."

As UCSB's Title IX officer, she is responsible for being the watchdog and reminder that there is to be no discrimination in education according to sex.

"Most people think that Title IX refers only to equal facilities in sports programs, but the law is much more pervasive than that," she said. "All-pervasive that that." she said. "All-pervasive that that." she said. "All-pervasive that that." she said. "All-pervasive that that." she said.

In addition, she works with all campus groups concerned with affirmative action and has been included in a number of search committees to fill high-level administrative vacancies.

Her daughter, Eden, an 11 year old student at Laguna Blanca, and her husband, Bill, an engineer with a Goleta

ON HER LAST DAY as a Lockney High School home economics teacher Thursday, Wilma Adams (center) received this bouquet of hand-made flowers from Myrtle Burke (right) and Lula Mae Cottrell (left). Mrs. Burke and Mrs. Cottrell went to Mrs. Adams' classroom to present, on behalf of the residents of the Lockney Care Center, the flowers and a card signed by the nursing home residents. "When the teacher saw what was happening, she called the boys in the room and made us sit there. He knew Mr. Samman would come and he did. We were reprimanded."

In the early 20's Ewald's father and Mr. Golden had a threshing machine. The whole community worked together with the old steam engine. An old push binder was used. They didn't have to have outside help. The community went together and moved from field to field to thresh.

On first of April, a number of "kids took off." After they were gone, the teacher said, "The rest of us will go to Claude's Crossing."

"We went in 2 trucks and some cars. We wore the low band out on the transmission and had to back up the hill to get out. The reverse band was still good. If I tried to go to Claude's Crossing now, I doubt if I could find it. "I never did get a whipping in school as long as I went—not that I didn't deserve one. You know, back then, trustee's kids had special treatment. Dad was trustee at Providence for some time, and he was on the County School Board for several years."

Quebe started farming with his father by riding a go-devil when he was 11. He remembers some run-aways where horses "ran into barbed-wire fences and cut themselves up."

"A few years later, Dad bought a threshing machine and Taylor Golden bought a tractor. Mother fed the crew when they were threshing for us, and Mrs. Golden fed them when they were working for them.

The hands were given a place to sleep, too. They were treated like one of the family.

"Oscar Golden and I carried water with jugs on our saddles to the threshing crews."

Hands for the threshing crews "came from everywhere. Some were boys who had been raised in town and had never been on a farm. The ones in their early 'teens would take a jug of water that Oscar and I had brought and pour a little out on the ground, take a drink, and pour a little more on the ground. They had pleasure in seeing us bring water.

"I started farming on my own in 1938. We married in '37. We have had it all: hail storms, dust storms and all the rest. During the dust storms, we had to clean the beds before we could go to bed at night.

"I have spent several hours under tractors, etc. during hail storms. I didn't think of lightning when I was under the tractor.

"The biggest loss that we had was in '54 or '55. It completely beat the roof off our house. I had alfalfa ready to cut. It was completely destroyed."

He has had no mechanic bills to pay. He has repaired all his engines, re-built irrigation engines, has done his own welding. He has done all the plumbing in his house, too.

He has so many hobbies, he knows which to follow, plus rock-hounding, or various other hobbies.

One old piano player in the house still works. Since vacuum cleaner motor in it, it's an new.

In Lions Club, he has had various offices in the organization, as well as being a state director of Crippled Children at Kerville. James Lee Nichols some sad features to the work gratifying to see improvement individual children.

In addition to all this, he has a dog in my purse," she said, saw the tiny pup.

The next time she went to the owner said, "You may have She is yours."

Sheriff's Department Confiscates 44½ Cases Beer

"It's lights were really shining on the moon," members of the Floyd County Sheriff's Department said in reference to a '69 Buick Skylark which was carrying 44½ cases of beer and one pint of rum, along with four passengers, when it was confiscated about 8:30 p.m. Thursday.

The driver, 28-year-old Benito Maldonado Beltran of Plainview, and his three companions were taken into custody 5½ miles north of Allmon in the western portion of Floyd County by members of the Sheriff's Department.

Beltran was charged with transporting and placed in the Floyd County Jail.

His three companions were charged with public intoxication and jailed. They were identified as: Ricardo Diez, 26, of Plainview; Raymond Martinez, 25, and Manuel Martinez, 22 both of Lockney.

The vehicle was impounded. County Judge Chose Smith fined Beltran $850 plus court costs of $48.30. In addition to the $898.30 fine, he also received a sentence of 60 days in jail, probated to nine months. The case was heard Friday.

The three companions appeared Friday before Justice of the Peace H.E. Porter and were assessed fines of $55.88, including court costs.

Sheriff Fred Cardinal said this was the 12th car which has been apprehended in connection with transporting of alcoholic beverages since he became sheriff in 1977.

Floyd Green Thumbers At Event

Texas Farmers Union Green Thumb workers Francisco Granados, Pedro Vallejo, Andy Solis, Mabel Foster, Georgia Finley, Penny Edwards, Mac Jones, Ethel Cross from Floydada recently attended an appreciation luncheon for over 140 Green Thumbers in the Lubbock Civic Center. The luncheon was provided by the Lubbock Title VII Meals Program under the direction of coordinator Dorothy Dailey.

Workers from sixteen surrounding counties were recognized for their outstanding contributions to their communities and to the success of the Green Thumb program.

Texas Green Thumb, sponsored by Texas Farmers Union, is a federally-funded employment program serving the rural elderly. The program provides older workers the opportunity to exhibit their skills and years of experience through worthwhile community betterment and conservation projects for non-profit organizations.

Notables attending the luncheon were John A. Baker, Green Thumb executive vice-president, Washington, D.C.; Jay I. Naman, Texas Farmers Union president, Waco; Texas Farmers Union executive board members; and David M. Hartwig, Texas Green Thumb state director, Waco. Numerous Green Thumb sponsors were also in attendance.

Keynoting the group was Gail House, professor of Home Economics at Texas Tech University, Lubbock, who spoke on the topic "Aging: The fulfillment of Life."

Betty Fuller, director of Floyd County Day Care Center, and Kathy Green, center director, Multi-Purpose Service Center, sponsors for the Green Thumb workers from Floydada, were in attendance also.

Also attending the meeting was alternating Mini-Bus Driver Grady Freeman.

Unable to attend the Floydada Crew Foreman Allen Rendon, and Nancy Marble, sponsor Floyd County Historical Museum.

Social Security Information

Employees who do not receive their Wage and Tax Statements by January 31, 1979, must still file by the tax deadline, the Internal Revenue Service said.

To avoid delay in mailing Wage and Tax Statements, employees should furnish his or her employer with a current address, according to IRS. If employees do not receive their statements by the end of January, they should contact their employer first. After February 15, 1979, they should contact their local IRS office.

Additional Wage and Tax Statement information is available in the free IRS Publication 15, "Circular E — Employer's Tax Guide," obtained from IRS District offices.

Tax

How much "relief" can taxpayers expect from "tax relief" measure recently approved statewide? School district officials really don't know, because they don't know what the Texas legislature will do next in the school financing matter. But if estimates by Jack Samford, LISD tax assessor-collector, are close, the answer is "Probably not much."

All homeowners now may apply for a school tax exemption of $5,000 market value on their residence home. Persons 65 or older may apply for Information Night for Floyd County farmers. The event is scheduled for 7:00 p.m. this Thursday, Jan. 25, at the Lockney High School Agriculture Building. County Extension Agent Birch L. Ban says four speakers will be invited. Time will be allowed for farmers to address questions to each of those speaking on the program.

ARM AND RANCH NEWS STARTED

his newspaper is beginning its "Arm and Ranch News" page in this issue. The feature is being given a "trial run" and will appear in each Friday's paper if additional sponsorship can be secured.

We will be glad to consider any contribution from readers. Since this page is designed strictly as another means of providing information for men and women involved in agriculture, no matter how commercial nature (except for seed or chemical names which appear in releases from research centers and other sources) nor those involving farm organizations are articles on this page.

Also, the only advertising to appear on this page will be the names of sponsoring firms.

In this newspaper's opinion, the "Arm and Ranch News" is one of the most important pages in our publication because this is "ag country."
