Where will we put the grain?

By BRENDA SCHULTE
"An unusual harvest."
That's what local grain elevator managers expect this year, and unusual it will be. With an estimated 75,000 acres of corn, 50,000 acres of grain sorghum and 19,000 acres of soybeans planted, and good yields expected, local elevators may run out of storage room before the harvest is finished.

Elbert Harp, president of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association, blames the storage problem on this year's bumper wheat crop and the 1980 corn that was sold but never delivered to the Russians.

Harp said the massive storage problem on the High Plains has been building steadily for the last few years. "We had a surplus of all grain. Then, an all-time record wheat crop was piled on top of that. There's just so much storage available," he said.

There's just so much storage available in Castro County, too, and elevator operators are trying to alleviate the problem. "It's going to be difficult," said Don Gregory of Castro County Grain. "A lot of the elevators will be 35 to 65% full at the start of harvest, where normally they are pretty well empty."

"We are trying to find storage elsewhere," he said. Gregory said the biggest problem will be with corn, because it needs more aerating so requires more space.

"Most of the larger operations will not have the room necessary for corn storage," he said. "Storage will be critical in Castro County," said Bill Clark of Dimmitt Agri Industries, Inc. "We're doing everything we possibly can to secure storage, but it's going to be short and critical."

"No one has their storage problem settled yet," said Ronnie Truelock of Farmers Grain in Hart. "We still have quite a bit of grain in storage from the 1977 reserve program. "It will be different from any harvest I've ever experienced," he said. "I hope we won't have the same problem next year, but the outlook is not real good."

"I've done everything I can do," said J. R. Brown of Flagg Grain Co. "We've shipped out all the grain we can to make room for this year's corn crop. When that space plays out, I absolutely don't know what will happen."

"Hopefully, we will have enough storage room for our loyal customers," Brown said. "We will probably make it this year," said Eddie Matthews of Easter Grain, "but I don't know what we'll do next year. We're letting the farmers put crops in reserve if they want to, and most do, so it looks like we will be full the next three years."

"The storage of milo will especially be a problem for us," said Matthews. "I have leased some storage from

County museum receives historic 'Shootout' pistol

By LINDA MAXWELL

The Castro County Historical Museum this week was given an old six-shooter that probably was used in a famous shootout in Dimmitt in 1891.

The gun and its holster were donated by Mr. and Mrs. Ira D. Aten of Albuquerque, N.M. He is the son of the late Ira Aten, former Texas Ranger and Sheriff of Castro County from 1893 to 1895. "From speaking with Mrs. Ira D. Aten, we got the impression that this was Ira Aten's main personal weapon — that he had used as a Ranger and the same one he used in the 1891 shootout in downtown Dimmitt," said museum curator Madge Robb.

The gun is a Colt .45 and bears the patent dates of Sept. 19, 1871, July 2, 1872, and Jan. 19, 1875, as well as the serial number 162777. Its black grips are decorated with a small silhouette of a rearing horse. The belt-clip holster is a little newer, with a patent date of Nov. 4, 1884.

"The gift of these items could not have come at a more providential time — just in time for the Harvest Days Celebration, Old Settlers' Reunion, and our Museum Open House," said museum association member Helen Richardson.

She noted that the County Historical Commission is also currently involved in efforts to have a state historical marker placed in Dimmitt commemorating the big shootout between Aten and the McClelland brothers.

"Just out of the blue one day in mid-August, we received the call from Mrs. Aten. She said that since she and her husband are 'getting on in years,' they wanted to make sure the gun was placed where it would receive special appreciation," Mrs. Robb recounted. "She said her husband remembered his father speaking often of how kind Dimmitt and Castro County had been to him."

Personally hand-delivered by an official of the Albuquerque office of the US Treasury Dept., Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, the gun arrived in Dimmitt Sunday. The official dropped it by on his way to vacationing in Oklahoma.

Born near Austin in 1862, Aten joined the Texas Rangers at the age of 20 and served 6½ years in West Texas, along the Rio Grande. In 1890, he wanted to retire from law enforcement, and decided to homestead in Castro County about 2½ miles east of the proposed town site of Dimmitt.

About this time, various factions were promoting different town sites in the county to be designated as the county seat. At an open meeting held to discuss the merits of the various sites, Andrew McClelland called Aten a liar.

Declining to start up gunplay where women and children were present, Aten told McClelland that he would gladly settle the matter after the pending election.

Following the election, Aten challenged McClelland on the city street, even allowing McClelland time to go home and get his gun. Returning with the gun, McClelland fired the first shot. Aten returned fire, wounding McClelland in the arm.

Aten was putting his gun in his holster when a shot whizzed past him and he saw about dimmitt and castro county by b. m. n.

After a drive through the countryside and a good look at the lush crops of corn, milo, soybeans, sunflowers and cotton with still a chance to produce, it is hard to imagine that we are in an agricultural depression. There is just no way, however, to produce enough of any of these crops per acre, at current prices to break even, much less to show a profit. Unless something is done, and soon, to cut the expense of farming or to increase the price of farm produce, the best a good farmer can hope for is a job as superintendent of some corporation farm. They won't like that.

We had a candidate for comptroller of public accounts in the News office several weeks ago. He was Mike Richards, a republican candidate for the office. At that time, and since, Richards has been carrying on a campaign of vilification against the incumbent comptroller, Bob Bullock. He has talked long and loud about Bullock's personal life, especially about his problem with alcohol, and incompetence in conducting the duties of the office. The public was well aware of Bullock's drinking problem, they also knew when he was voluntarily institutionalized to overcome the problem. Joining the many people who have expressed their appreciation for the commendable and efficient way Bullock has performed as comptroller was the man who is his opponent for election to the office, Mike Richards.

A letter that Bullock received from Richards, before that gentleman decided to seek the office himself, pretty well expresses the opinion of most Texans. He wrote as follows:

"Dear Bob: It is my understanding that you have entered a hospital on the West Coast for personal treatment and I wanted to commend you for doing so. Everyone I know respects and admires you greatly for the job you have done and wishes you the best.

"Bob, your contribution to Texas has been significant and I feel that it is unfortunate the public's recognition of this has been somewhat lost due to your health problems. Get well soon. We need you back here at home.

Sincerely, Mike Richards Richards should also have added "Bob we also need you for another four years as comptroller of public accounts."

Big parade planned

Parade organizers have received a variety of entries and are expecting many more before the annual Harvest Days Parade begins at 11 a.m. Saturday.

Tuesday afternoon Chamber of Commerce manager Delores Heller had recorded six entries in the youth division, three equipment, five club and five miscellaneous division entries. One horse club had entered, seven were entered in the bed race and both Dimmitt and Nazareth High School bands had signed up.

"We would like for people to call ahead of time," Mrs. Heller said.

First, second and third place awards will be given in each division. All bicycle riders will receive a ribbon, plus the first, second and third place awards.

Mrs. Heller asked for parents to stress that their children stay in the bicycle group and not ride out of the group.

Charley and Edith Graef will be honorary marshals of the parade. They will represent the Senior Citizens' Center as long-time residents. They have lived in Castro County for 52 years.

Major entries in the parade, such as cars and commercial entries need to register as soon as possible.

The parade will begin forming at 10 a.m. and the prize winning entries will be determined at that time.

Riding Clubs will line up at East Fourth and Grant. Commercial entries will line up on East Fourth and Stinson, followed by tractors and equipment. Youth, bicycles, clubs, and three wheelers will line up on Stinson Street. The front of the parade will begin lining up on East Second Street at the Belsher Street intersection. The city police, the sheriff's dept., fire trucks, color guard, parade marshals, the mayor and the Dimmitt High School band will line up at the front of the parade.

The parade will head north on southeast second, then turn west on Bedford. After passing through the center of town, it will turn south on Fifth Street and "double back" past the Senior Citizens Center on Jones Street past City Hall where it will turn south on Southeast Third.

Old Settlers plan big day

The Castro County Old Settlers Reunion will be held again this year in conjunction with the Harvest Days activities.

Registration for the reunion will begin Saturday at 9 a.m. at the Castro County Senior Citizens Center on West Jones Street in Dimmitt, and continue until 10 a.m.

Those registering will have opportunity to visit and get reacquainted until 11 a.m., when activities will dismish, so people can watch the parade.

Then at noon, it's back to the Senior Citizens' Center for a basket dinner. All are invited, and should bring some food to share. Tea and eating utensils will be provided.

At 1:30 p.m., the Old Settlers Association meeting and program will be conducted by Pat Hardy, president.

Fun Olympics set for kids

A Fun Olympics for Kids will be held Saturday from 2 until 4 p.m. behind the County Expo building.

The olympics will feature four age groups for children ranging from 3 to 10 years old. Each group will have four games. Some of the games are, a tricycle race, truck race, boot race, suitcase race, bubble gum blow, softball throw, football kick and others.

The fee is $2 per child, and ribbons will be given for the winners of each contest. Sign up begins at 1:30 p.m. behind the Expo building.

Stanfords see Yellowstone Park

By MARY EDNA HENDRIX
The Stanfords, John, Janet, Tammy, Mike and Chris had a very good trip to Yellowstone and Grand Teton National Parks. Here are some of the highlights of that trip.

decided to spend the time shopping around in Jackson. "It was a great trip and we all enjoyed it very much," Janet said.

V. C. and Dorothy Hopson drove to San Angelo to the Holidome for a reunion with relatives from Plano and Carrollton. Going from Hereford were Dorothy's aunt, Louise Kinsey and her mother, Lola Jewell, and the Hopsons' daughter Susan Owens and three children.

Mary Sue Hull of Hereford invited some of her friends from Hereford, Friona and Dimmitt to a luncheon and style show at the Amarillo Club. Mike Bruegel's wife was one of the models from Suzanne's. Oleta Gollehon was among the guests.

Rhoda Mays told me she and her husband, J. C., spent their vacation visiting relatives. They went to Fort Worth to visit Herman E. Reed, stayed a few days, then went to Texarkana, Ark., to visit J.C.'s sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Tucker. Then they went on to Eldorado to visit another sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Murton Barton.

The Thursday Bridge Club met at the Senior Citizens Center for a day of games and lunch at noon, with Cleo Forson as hostess. Susie Reeves was high scorer and Jo Gregory was second high.

The Friday Bridge Club met at the Senior Citizens Center for a few hours of bridge and time out at noon for lunch. Opal Bearden was hostess and Betty Cartwright had high score, Josie Bradford had second high, and Retta Cluck had third high.

Clyde Renfro came to Dimmitt on business and Betty came to visit friends. J. C. and Rhoda Mays went to Palo Duro Canyon on Friday night to camp out. On Saturday they drove to Amarillo to pick up their grandkids, Shane and Brandie Mays, children of Bill and Sharla Mays. They went back to the Canyons for a weekend of fun and relaxation.

My two daughters and their families visited me over the weekend. David Vaughan flew out early and painted the interior of my house, then Sue, Shannon and Brent drove out Friday. Mary Lynn and Lauren spent Saturday with us. We all went out to see the Dennis family - Geneva, Morgan, Decimae, Betty, Debbie and Connie.

Waurayne Hughes tells me they began vacation season with an early one in June to East Texas, then took another week in August to go to northern New Mexico.

The first side trip from Corsicana was to see their Alma Mater - Baylor University - thus involving her sister, Katharin Marx of Corsicana, Mama Birdie Neill, Van Earl and Waurayne who spent several hours touring old buildings that are restored and used for other purposes such as Old Burselon, now as offices. All the towers are now restored on all the buildings thus giving the togetherness of the "old" and the "new." The new BSU building is complete and open to visitors with dedication coming in September - to Waurayne's class of 1943.

The wedding of Sheril Baldrige and Kevin Hucks last Saturday afternoon was beautiful with yellow flowers and spiral candelabra. The bridesmaids wore lovely yellow dresses. Sheril's little nephew, Kevin Baldrige, who was ring bearer, stole the show! (His parents are Sherri and Gary Baldrige). The bride's cake was a beautifully decorated three-tier cake with tiny flowers and the groom's cake was chocolate with matching flowers.

Decimae Dennis and Jo Ann Montgomery from Midland were visiting Geneva and Morgan Dennis over the Labor Day weekend.

The Billy Graham movie, "The Gospel Road" was shown Sunday night at the First Baptist Church. Johnny Cash is the narrator and he sings several songs including "Lord, is it I?" and "Lord, help me bear this burden."

Hazel and Ivor Bagwell spent a few days vacationing at Tres Ritos, N.M. until they were called to go to Albuquerque to be with Hazel's sister whose husband was seriously ill, but he is much improved now.

The second side trip was to Kilgore, to visit the most interesting oil museum that has been open about two years. It tells the history of three small towns and the oil boom of the 1930's. Also a few blocks away on the College Campus is the famous Rangerettes Show Case. They enjoyed a picnic lunch under the lovely East Texas Pine Trees.

The third side trip was a return visit to North Park Mall in Dallas. The highlight was visiting the Craftsman James Avery jewelry shop - so very special!

In August they drove up to Angel Fire - saw lots of wild antelopes near the highway - and stayed several days in a lovely condominium enjoying the quiet mountain scenery - the varied recreational facilities of the club and the excellent food at the golf club. From Angel Fire they drove through the national forest to Taos and Santa Fe.

Who would ever think that these arch enemies could share an afternoon rest? Bowser doesn't mind being a pillow for his friend; and the sleepy cat is quite willing to forget their age-old quarrel in exchange for a soft mattress. How much this peaceful scene differs than the one our expression "cat and dog fight" brings to mind. How easy it is to forget that patience and earnest endeavor can bring together the most bitter of enemies. If we learn only one lesson from Bowser and his friend; let it be that all petty hatreds and jealousies can be overcome by an understanding of the other fellow's point of view. There is no other place that can sow the seed of mutual respect so deeply in our hearts than God's house. For every church is built upon the foundation of love for our fellow man. Go to church and take your family.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE
The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Bollworm activity slows

By ALLEN KNUTSON
County Agent, Entomology

BOLLWORM egg populations were lower in many fields the last week of August. Infestation levels in 28 pest management fields checked Aug. 26-29 averaged 17,000 eggs (range 3,000-40,000) and 7,800 small larvae (2,000-20,000) per acre. It appears we are on the downhill side of peak bollworm activity in cotton.

Many fields are wilting during the heat of the day, beginning to shed fruit, and flower (cut-out) in the terminal. These fields will be less attractive to bollworms for egg-laying and small worm survival will be low due to the lack of tender terminal growth and small squares to feed upon. Fields recently irrigated and/or still rapidly growing have a greater potential for bollworm problems at this time.

The fate of this year's cotton crop now depends on the weather in September and October. The number of days between white bloom and open boll period is temperature controlled, with lower temperatures increasing boll period. Boll periods on the High Plains generally fall within the following ranges.

Date of white bloom	Days to open Boll
July 1	45-55 days
Aug. 1	50-62 days
Aug. 15	55-68 days
Sept. 1	60-75 days

Warm temperatures, especially at night, are necessary for fibers to fully mature in length, strength and thickness. Once maximum fiber length is reached, fiber walls begin to thicken. Every 24 hours a layer of cellulose is deposited in the form of a growth ring inside the fiber. This process continues until the fiber is mature or until adverse weather conditions stop the growth. Fibers in bolls maturing early have thicker walls, and a higher mic reading, than fibers in later maturing bolls. Low temperatures decrease the rate of cellulose deposition, and the resulting fiber will be fine and immature.

SORGHUM

HEADWORMS are of concern once fields have flowered and grain begins to develop. Headworms should be controlled when they are small and before significant grain loss has occurred. Larvae consume about 80% of their total grain intake after they reach about one inch in length.

The economic threshold for headworms in sorghum is dependent upon the market price, treatment, cost and yield potential. An infestation averaging one larva per head would result in a 6% yield loss; and two larvae per head a 10% yield loss. The number of pounds of grain that must be saved to equal the cost of control is determined by dividing the treatment cost by the value of a pound of grain. The market price and the actual yield loss will be determined by the type of sorghum planted. Seed production fields have lower yield potentials, higher yield loss risks and greater potential returns per pound of grain produced.

Treatment is usually recommended when infestations average 1/head in seed production fields or 2/head in feed grain fields. Be sure to check several areas of the fields to accurately determine the overall infestation.

SOYBEANS

Many fields of cotton destroyed this spring were replanted to soybeans. The CORN EARWORM (pod-worm) and BEEF ARMYWORM are the most serious insect pests of soybeans in this area. Several kinds of LOOPERS feed on leaves but usually do not cause significant damage.

Only light populations (less than 1/2 row feet) of corn earworms and beet armyworms have been found in soybeans to date. Earworm eggs are laid on terminal leaves and sometimes on pods. Young larvae may feed on terminal leaves before moving down the plant to feed on developing pods. Studies have shown that one earworm will damage 6-20 pods during its development. The soybean plant can compensate for pod damage or loss during early stages of pod development, but not after pods are elongated and seeds are enlarged.

Treatment for corn earworm is recommended when an average of 1 larvae per foot of row is found across the field.

Beet armyworms are dark green with a pale stripe on each side. A black spot is present on the second body segment behind the head. Beet armyworms feed on both leaves and pods, and there is no economic threshold established for the pod fill stage.

PEACHES

PEACH TREE BORERS can be controlled with a single application of chlorpyrifos (Lorsban®) (7 1/2 tablespoons per gallon) applied in late August. Spray trunks thoroughly but do not contaminate any remaining fruit. Chlorpyrifos is also marketed as Greenlight Borer Killer.

NAZARETH LABOR DAY festivities included a parade to start off the day. The Senior Citizens organization built a float which represented the activities Nazareth's senior citizens participate in.

City looks into 'mobile' zones

Although the newly reorganized Dimmitt City Zoning Board will hold its first meeting Monday at 6:30 p.m. in the City Hall meeting room, board members will not be able to discuss whether changes are needed in zoning for mobile homes in the Miller addition of the city, in the area bounded by West Hall-sell, West Bedford, Northwest Fifth and Northwest Tenth Street, as requested by the Dimmitt City Board of Aldermen.

City Attorney Jack Edwards told zoning board members at Tuesday's meeting of the board of aldermen that written notice must be given to all property owners in the area to be affected as well as those residing within 200 feet of the proposed changes before even initial discussion can be started.

Edwards suggested that the written notice be included with the tax notices to be sent out in early October to save on postage costs.

However, the zoning board will be able to discuss other matters at the Monday meeting. All of the zoning board members were present at the aldermen's meeting Tuesday night. They are Roger Malone, chairman, Ann Cox, Pete Garza, R. E. Hunter and Stanley Schaeffer.

In other business, the city aldermen heard a presentation from representatives of Dimmitt TV Cable Co. on renewal of the company's 20-year old franchise agreement with the city, which will expire Nov. 6.

Company representative Jack R. Miller told the board that the new franchise agreement the company is proposing will be basically the same as the old one, with a few changes to cover changing conditions of the company and the law. He said the company is coming now with the agreement to give the city plenty of time to consider the agreement ahead of time.

The aldermen tabled consideration of the matter until the Sept. 20 meeting in order to give the public plenty of notice and a chance to comment on the matter. Several airplane pilots were present at the meeting to hear discussion of the proposed placing of a key pump system at the city airport to dispense aviation fuel.

The board agreed to have representatives from Castro Oil and Gas and West Texas Gas, Inc. present at the next meeting of the board to discuss possible details of the arrangement under a long-term lease agreement. The two companies are the only wholesale suppliers of aviation fuel in the city.

At the present time, most private pilots have to fly to the Hereford airport to refuel. Pilot Dale Maxwell told the board that he did not feel that pilots should have to pay any extra for the convenience of having the fuel here, adding that he hoped the agreement could be worked out where it would not cost the pilots any extra.

The aldermen opened bids on the purchase of two new cars for the police department, and awarded the bid to Stan Byrnes Ford of Dimmitt. Byrnes' bid was for $17,496.92 for the two Ford Crown Victorias together and with trade-in allowance on two old police cars. Delivery will be in six to eight weeks.

The other bid received was from Larry's Chevrolet-Pontiac of Dimmitt and was for $17,646 for both cars together and with trade-in allowance.

Neither of the bids completely met all of the published specifications, but Police Chief Don Franklin said that the Ford bid was on white cars, which he preferred, and they were 1983 models, whereas the Chevrolet cars were 1982 models.

Three representatives from electronic communications companies presented facts and figures to the aldermen on the possibility of supplying a communications system for the Dept. of Public Works.

Estimates submitted were in the $4,000 and up range, so the board agreed to decide on specifications and let bids on [Continued on Page 15]

Conservation leaders to speak at dedication

Two national leaders in soil and water conservation, Joseph W. Hass of Washington, D.C., and Milton E. "Bud" Mekelburg of Yuma, Colo., will be featured speakers for activities Sept. 21 dedicating the Running Water Draw Watershed Project.

That flood prevention project, which has been under planning and construction since 1960, runs from Clovis, N.M., to Plainview and includes portions of six counties. It was built by the U.S. Soil Conservation Service in cooperation with local sponsors.

Hass, deputy chief for Natural Resource Projects with the U.S. Soil Conservation Service, will speak at the dedication program to be held beginning at 2 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 21, at Site 3, located northwest of Plainview near Edmonson. Signs along both US-70 and Texas-194 will direct visitors to the site.

Mekelburg, president of the National Association of Conservation Districts, will speak to leaders of the sponsoring organizations and guests at a noon luncheon, to be held at the Plainview Country Club. Due to limited seating, admittance to the luncheon is by invitation only. The afternoon program at Site 3 is open to the general public.

The flood prevention project was initiated in 1960 after heavy rains caused flooding along the watershed. Planning for the upper half of the watershed project was completed in 1966 and the lower half in 1968 with the Soil Conservation Service completing the first of seven dams in 1972.

Hass, an Illinois native, began work with the Soil Conservation Service in 1956 as an agricultural engineer at Edwardsville, Ill. He worked at several locations in Illinois, primarily with watershed programs similar to the Running Water Draw project, before being named state conservation engineer for SCS in Illinois in 1964.

Joseph Hass

He was reassigned to the SCS state office in Pennsylvania, as assistant state conservationist, in 1968, and was promoted and reassigned to the SCS National Office in Washington in 1969. Since then he has held several positions in the area of water resources, becoming the SCS assistant administrator for water resources in October 1975. Effective May 4, 1980, after a SCS organizational restructuring, he became deputy chief for natural resource projects.

Hass received his bachelor's degree in agricultural engineering in 1953 from the University of Illinois and his master's degree in civil engineering in 1964 from Stanford University. He has received from SCS the Career Education Award for 1963-64 for a year of graduate work at Stanford University, and the USDA Superior Service Award in 1976.

As deputy chief of natural resource projects, Hass has the responsibility for all SCS natural resource programs carried out by project action.

Mekelburg, a farmer, cattle feeder and businessman, is a native of Yuma, Colo., where he operates a farm with two of his sons.

He helped organize Yuma Soil Conservation District and served as president of the board for 20 years. He also is chairman of Trans-County Water, Inc.

Mekelburg is a governor's delegate to the Six-State Ground Water Study by the U.S. Department of Commerce, served as vice chairman and president of the Colorado Association of Soil

Milton Mekelburg

Conservation Districts and is chairman of the Colorado Chapter of the Soil Conservation Society of America.

He was named the Yuma County Jaycees Outstanding Young Farmer in 1966, received the Soil Conservation Society of America Honor Award in 1975 and the SCSA Colorado Soil Conservationist of the Year Award in 1975.

Educationally, Mekelburg has attended both Union College in Lincoln, Neb., and Colorado State University. He also has traveled to Scandinavia, Eastern and Western Europe, Russia and the Middle East.

Due to the length of the Running Water Draw project, SCS has divided it into two parts. The Running Water Draw Watershed includes three dams, on the main channel north of Clovis, on a tributary northwest of Bovina, and four miles northeast of Lazbuddie in Parmer County.

The Lower Running Water Draw Project includes four dams, Site One about eight miles west of Hart, Site Two in northwest Hale County on North Draw, Site Three near Running Water School (south of Edmonson) and Site Four, four miles west of Plainview on Slaton Draw.

Sponsors for the project include, in Texas, commissioners courts in Hale, Swisher, Lamb, Castro and Parmer counties; the City of Plainview, and five soil and water conservation districts, Hale County, Tule Creek, Lamb County, Running Water and Parmer County. In New Mexico, sponsors include Central Curry County SWCD, Curry County Commissioners Court, City of Clovis and Ned Houk Park Board.

View from the library

By BRICK AUTRY

In the early days of this century American libraries were quite a bit more formal than they are now.

One interesting thing that was quite different was the kind of books that public libraries had for young people. Instead of colorful well illustrated story books, libraries provided textbooks, religious books and etiquette pamphlets.

About the same time in Europe, however, social work with children was well underway. In schools and in libraries there, several things were undertaken with children's interests in mind. Storytelling became the most popular. A lady named Marie Shedlock in London started the first study and development of storytelling for children. She wrote and spoke publicly about the importance of storytelling and became a recognized figure.

Not well known on the other side of the Atlantic in New York was another lady named Carrol Ann Moore who directed the children's room at the Pratt Institute Free Library. She was also looking for a way to bring literature, good reading and stimulating items to children. She also wrote. She wrote book reviews of children's books. They were quite a sensation because she was outspoken in her criticism of the publishers who brought out dull unexciting children's books and children's librarians who insisted on being "proper" instead of leading youngsters to good books.

Carroll Ann Moore's efforts to make children's literature a fine experience for youngsters led to her inviting Marie Shedlock to the United States in 1900. Marie Shedlock conducted classes and demonstrations of story telling. She was so interesting that many libraries began their story hours for children.

Today, quite a few years later, story telling again is coming into the forefront again. The big news item in the library trade magazines this summer is the story telling festivals.

At these festivals story tellers come and swap stories (and perhaps a knee slapper or two) and pass successful techniques among themselves. Many of these story tellers are very talented and are accomplished performers. There was a highlight on a story teller at the University of South Carolina, for example. Her name, Augusta Baker, is well known in the South because she started a negro folk tale performance which is seldom surpassed in being entertaining. Around this performance began the Tarheel Association of Storytellers.

You may well hear of the Tarheels in the future. It has been so successful that it includes a national membership now. And it's still growing.

Anyone interested in story telling can join the Tarheels by sending a $10 membership fee to: Tarheel Association of Storytellers, Inc., 818 Woodcote St., Winston-Salem, N.C. 27107.

Local residents attend convention

Three local residents will go to Austin this week to represent Castro County as delegates to the 1982 Republican State Convention. Among those serving as delegates are Winston Waggoner, Linda Merritt and Deanne Clark.

More than 2,500 delegates and alternates from throughout the state are expected to attend the 1982 convention Friday and Saturday.

The event will feature addresses by Secretary of Commerce Malcolm Baldrige, Gov. William P. Clements Jr., Sen. John Tower, and all statewide Republican candidates.

Delegates will elect a Republican state chairman and vice-chairman, as well as 62 members of the State Republican Executive Committee.

They will also adopt a Republican state platform, attend workshops and conferences, and approve changes in the party rules.

Republican County Chairman Deanne Clark said, "We are most excited about attending this 1982 convention and representing the growing number of Republican voters in our county. This event will be the kickoff for one of the most critical election campaigns in our state's history. Our candidates are the most qualified ever to run, and I am convinced that we will come away with a unified conservative state of candidates solidly behind a firmly conservative state platform. As a matter of fact, conservative leadership in the Democrat Party has been pushed aside."

The convention will be held at the Special Events Center in Austin.

Laurent places in race

Dimmitt's Reggie Laurent won third place in his age division Monday in the Jerry Lewis Telethon two-mile run in Lubbock.

John Laurent and Kenny Paxton of Dimmitt, finished fourth in their age divisions in the two-mile run.

Reggie Laurent finished third in the 20-29 age group, while John Laurent was fourth in that division.

Paxton placed fourth in the 35-39 age division.

There were about 200 entries in the different divisions of the two races, the two-mile run and a 10-kilometer run. All proceeds went to the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Insurance deadline is set for wheat

Sept. 15 is the last date on which applications will be accepted for All-Risk insurance policies on 1983-crop wheat. All-Risk Crop Insurance Field Operations Director F. W. "Ted" Crouch, Jr. says that a list of local agents who offer the insurance can be obtained by contacting the county ASCS office. Crouch says that the number of applications received to date and the interest expressed by wheat growers suggests that the amount of insurance in force will be a record high. "One major reason," Crouch notes, "is the continuing increase in crop production costs. Many wheat growers simply do not have the necessary cash reserves or additional borrowing capability to take a chance on losing the money that they will have invested in their crops."

"Another reason," the insurance official contends, "is the reduced cost of purchasing insurance." The federal government, in an effort to encourage participation in the program, pays up to 30% of the cost of the protection. Anticipated sign-up also is expected to be higher because a growing number of lenders are requiring or suggesting that borrowers carry at least enough coverage to provide for repayment of production loans.

AS A YOUNG MAN Adolf Hitler was an artist and not a bad one. However, he did not get accepted into the Vienna Art Academy. It is said that he was disappointed to the end of his life.

'Winds overtake stubborn Bobcats, 19-6

By JOHN BROOKS
To look at the Dimmitt Bobcats in the dressing room after the game Friday night, you would have thought they had just run a marathon while in full football gear.

Truth be known, some of them had, running from sideline to sideline to keep Floydada tailback Bruce Williams penned up.

Williams got the ball three times too many, though, scoring on three nine-yard runs in the final seven minutes of the game to lead the Whirlwinds to a 19-6 comeback win over Dimmitt at Bobcat Stadium.

Williams, who devastated Dimmitt's defense last year on his way to becoming the region's second leading rusher and number one scorer, picked up all 80 of Floydada's rushing yards on 25 carries. He was the only semi-effective cog in a Floydada offense that, for 41 minutes, failed to even bend the Dimmitt defense.

The Bobcat defense, running Coach Gene Griffin's newly installed "split-4" set, kept Floydada penned up throughout the first period, never allowing the 'Winds a first down in the first quarter, then watched a big-play secondary of safety David Barton and halfbacks Dwight McDonald and Brad Holcomb swat down several Mark Hatley tosses in the end zone near halftime to preserve a 6-0 lead.

The Bobcats had two scoring chances in the first quarter.

The first, a 40-yard drive, was halted on downs at the Floydada 11 when Mark Bruegel — the game's top ground-gainer with 103 yards on 25 carries — picked up just one of the needed two yards.

The second time around, the Bobcats drove the ball 53 yards, with a 30-yard pass interference call against Floydada giving Dimmitt a first down at the Floydada 11. On second down, Bruegel went over the right side, broke two tackles and squeezed across the goal line to put the Bobcats up, 6-0. The extra point was wide to the right.

That score came with 3:02 left in the first period, and, with the exception of Floydada's long-strike passing attempts, neither offense was able to do much the rest of the half. Dimmitt got four of its six first-half first downs in the first period, while the Whirlwinds picked up two second-period first downs.

The Whirlwinds' best success came through the air in the first half, after the Bobcat defense stopped them cold on the ground. Mark Hatley completed four of eight for 28 yards. Williams was the top first-half rusher for Floydada, with 25 yards on 10 carries. His biggest gain was six yards on his second tote.

For Dimmitt, Bruegel was the top first-half man, with 14 totes for 78 yards and the touchdown. Fullback Johnny Gonzales, using some great blocks on traps up the middle, had four carries for 30 yards. Richard Guzman was 0 for 1 throwing, but the best play the Bobcats had in the first half — the one that did the most good — was the pass interference call against the Whirlwinds.

Floydada was penalized three times in the first half for 63 yards. Dimmitt was penalized twice for 24.

Just as the score turned around in the second half, so did the penalties. In the last two periods, the Bobcats were flagged four times for 40 yards, while Floydada was called for violations twice for 10 yards.

The tone of the game didn't change until the last 10 minutes, when Floydada's defense ransacked the Dimmitt offense for 27 yards lost in three plays. A Jeff Watts punt out of the end zone put Floydada at the Dimmitt 49. Hatley hit his only two passes of the second half on the ensuing drive, an 8-yard toss to wingback Donnell Weeks and a 15-yard pass to Williams. Williams put the 'Winds on the board with 6:55 left on a nine-yard scamper around left end. Weeks hit what proved to be the winning point on his conversion kick, giving the visitors a 7-6 advantage.

The Dimmitt offense roared back and was moving the ball well again, picking up three first downs in succession. But then Hatley stepped in front of a Guzman pass and returned it 50 yards before being forced out of bounds. Williams scored on the next play, again from the 9, to suddenly put the Whirlwinds up 13-6 with three minutes to play.

The fired-up Whirlwinds again used the big-play defense to bottle up the Bobcats, stopping their hosts on

THE BOBCAT DEFENSE SWARMS IN TO STOP

Floydada's Bruce Williams after a three-yard gain to the Dimmitt 46 late in the first quarter of Friday night's season opener here. Two plays earlier, the highly touted Whirlwinds had crossed the midfield stripe for the first time in the game, with 1:30 remaining in the first period. Dimmitt's split-4 defense made an excellent showing, holding the Whirlwinds to only 80 yards rushing and forcing them to go to the air, where they netted 51 yards.

Cats face long trek to Plains

By JOHN BROOKS
Dimmitt will try to even its season record Friday night when the Bobcats make a long trip to the Plains Basin to face the Plains Cowboys.

Plains, coached by former Dimmitt assistant Larry McMinn, is coming off an 11-1 1981 season. The Cowboys opened their '82 schedule with a 27-21 win over Farwell Friday night.

The Cowboys, in that contest, were led by back Martin Herta, quarterback Kyle Andrews and tight end Julian Romero.

Running out of the veer, the Cowboys opened up a big lead against Farwell Friday night, then saw the Steers come back before Andrews connected on a 60-yard pass to Romero with less than two minutes left in the game.

Huerta is one of few varsity members back from last year's bi-district champions that fell to Hamlin in the regional championship game. Plains won its second straight district crown last year, and has always been one of the toughest class AA schools on the South Plains.

Andrews, a senior, is starting his first year at quarterback, after backing up James McElroy in that role for two years. Andrews last week completed eight of 10 passes, picking up almost 200 yards in the air, and scored twice passing. Andrews also ran for a 40-yard touchdown.

Coach McMinn has stated throughout the pre-season that his toughest job in rebuilding from last year is in the line. The biggest man on the squad is Romero, a 185-lb. senior. There are no returning starters on offense or defense in the line.

The Bobcats, fresh off a great effort in a losing cause last week, will be in good shape injury-wise. Running backs Johnny Gonzales and Sid Sageser each had to leave last week's contest for a few plays, but neither was banged up badly.

Dimmitt will be working on different phases of its offense to get ready for Plains this week. The Bobcats did not control the ball for a long period in the second half Friday, and the defense had to stay on the field a little bit

Hart edges Anton 16-14

Having lost to Hart 14 years in a row, Anton's Bulldogs had their minds set on stopping the Longhorn jinx Friday night. However, when the scoreboard had ticked off the last seconds, the Longhorns had preserved a thrilling 16-14 victory.

Hart was at a great size disadvantage. During the first quarter, the Bulldogs used that size and their team speed to move the ball almost at will against the much smaller Longhorn defense. Yet the Longhorns seemed to come up with the big play at the right moment, and even though Anton ran three times as many plays as the Longhorns, the score was still knotted at zero when the first period ended.

During the second period, the Longhorns took advantage of some good punting by Robert Martinez to keep the Bulldogs pinned up deep in their own territory. At the 5:18 mark, Hart linebacker Robert Martinez blocked a punt and it was recovered in the end zone by Robert Perez for a Longhorn touchdown. Dale Scott ran for the two-point conversion, giving Hart the lead at 8-0.

Moments later, defensive end Robert Perez stripped Anton running back Robert Mathis of the ball and recovered it at the Bulldogs' 26-yard line.

Quarterback Kerry Newsom threw to Kyle Allen, who was interfered with at the 11-yard line. Three plays later Hart fullback Bone Diaz scored on an 11-yard run with 1:23 remaining in the half. Kerry Newsom passed to Freddy Washington for a two-point conversion upping the score to 16-0 in favor of the Longhorns.

Anton took the ensuing kickoff and moved to the Hart 22, mainly on the passing of quarterback Scotty Davis. However, the Longhorn defense tightened up, forcing three incomplete passes by the Bulldogs, to preserve Hart's 16-0 lead at halftime. The second half saw the Longhorns gain the upper hand on offense with the running of Dale Scott and Bobby Valadez. With the exchange of punts, Hart got good field position at the Bulldogs' 25-yard line following a personal foul penalty against Anton. It looked at this point as though the Longhorns might put the game away with another score, but a fumble in the backfield saw the momentum switch sides.

After the Hart miscue, Anton marched downfield, primarily on the running of fullback Jimmy Perry. Perry capped off the 70-yard drive with a 20-yard burst right up the middle for the Bulldogs' first score. The run for two points was stopped short, so with 1:28 remaining in the third period, Hart's lead was trimmed to 16-6.

Anton rose to the occasion and forced the Longhorns to punt on their next possession, giving the Bulldogs good field position at the 50. Three plays later, big Jimmy Perry found a huge hole over the right side and sprinted 40 yards for a touchdown with 9:36 left in the game. Quarterback Scotty Davis ran for the two points, to trim Hart's lead to 16-14.

Anton got one more chance to pull the game out, and almost made the most of it. Starting from the Bulldog 30-yard line after holding the Longhorns on downs, Robert Mathis was thrown for an 11-yard loss. However, on the next play, Scotty Davis found split end Charlie DeLacruz behind the Longhorn secondary for a 50-yard gain. Two more pass completions put the ball at the Longhorns' 2-yard line with 17 seconds left in the game.

Hart ran Robert Mathis out of bounds with seven seconds remaining, leaving time for one more play. Quarterback Scotty Davis rolled to his right and fired incomplete in the end zone as time ran out. The Longhorns had held the Bulldogs when the chips were down, securing an exciting 16-14 win over a talented Anton team.

"It was truly a team effort," commented a very happy and excited Coach Ken Hoskins. "We ended the game with only 16 players and everyone who played gave it all they had. Our kids showed a lot of pride and character tonight. I am really proud of each and every one of them."

Anton dominated in the statistical department, out-gaining Hart 326 yards to 120. Yet it was the Longhorns who took advantage of Bulldog mistakes to make the most of their yardage.

Hart will travel to Lorenzo Friday for an 8 p.m. encounter with a Hornet team that upset Ropesville last week, 12-7.

Swifts post 12-0 win

By JEANIE WILHELM
Rodney Schulte, one of only two Nazareth seniors, rushed for 109 yards on 33 carries and scored a touchdown to lead the young Swifts to a convincing 12-0 victory over the Lubbock Christian Eagles Friday night.

The game was played in Nazareth and was the season opener for both teams.

The Swifts scored early in the second quarter and late in the third. The first TD came on a two-yard run by Rodney Schulte with 10:32 left to play in the first half of the battle. The kick failed and the Swifts went into the locker room with a 6-0 halftime lead.

The Swifts' second TD came on a one-yard quarterback sneak by Johnny Schmucker with 3:21 left in the third quarter. A pass for two extra points failed, leaving the score at 12-0 for the remainder of the game.

Nazareth Head Coach Ken Cole commented, "I was extremely satisfied with their effort, but we must make some improvement on our technique. I was proud of the outstanding jobs done by George Hochstein, Billy Huseman, Roger Schulte, Rodney Schulte and Sidney Gerber."

The Swifts had 14 first downs and 176 total yards. Defensively they held the Eagles to only eight first downs and 114 total yards. The Eagles were allowed only 40 yards rushing. Nazareth's defense was also hard at work when Lubbock Christian threw passes. Of 18 passes attempted by the Eagles, only five were completed, and four were picked off by the Swifts. Sidney Gerber made three of those four interceptions.

"Lubbock Christian is an average team, compared with the teams in our district," said Coach Cole. "They are downs at the Dimmitt 15 after a major penalty and two sacks.

After Dimmitt had gambled on fourth down and came up short, Williams again went in from his magical 9-yard line. Weeks missed his second PAT kick of the night, but Floydada had salled things away at 19-6 with seven seconds left.

For the Bobcats, it was the closest they had come to the Whirlwinds since the 1970 football season, including a bi-district affair in 1975 which Floydada won 35-6.

as capable, but lack the skilled people needed for a potentially good team."

Friday the Swifts will travel to Groom to play the Tigers at 8 p.m.

"If we play to our capabilities, we'll have a good chance against Groom," Coach Cole said.

VETERAN'S SERVICES

By BEDFORD W. SMITH
County Service Officer

The Veterans Land Board sold $74 million worth of bonds Aug. 31 and chairman Bob Armstrong said the program of low-interest land purchase loans will now gear back up to full speed.

The board also voted to start accepting requests for loan applications again after a moratorium of more than a year, but Armstrong said the more than 9,000 veterans currently waiting for loan applications will be sent applications first.

First Boston Corp. was the winning bidder with a declining interest rate over the next 38 years.

Armstrong said the board will meet within the next two weeks to determine the declining rate which will be charged to veterans, but he said the highest rate will not be more than 9 1/4 percent.

This was the first sale of veterans bonds since June, 1980. In June, 1981, the board stopped accepting requests for applications because the program had a backlog of more than 14,000 veterans on the waiting list for applications and the bond market was unfavorable to sell additional bonds.

The veterans program, administered by the General Land Office, makes low-interest, 40-year loans to veterans to purchase 10 or more acres. The maximum loan is $20,000.

Everyone is asked to bring a vegetable for the luncheon.

Following the luncheon the delegates who attended the Republican State convention in Austin will give a report.

Outlook dim for farm coops

It's true that farm cooperatives reflect the mood and economic circumstances of the farmer, and currently the outlook for both is dim at best.

"Adverse weather conditions in the High Plains have sharply reduced cotton and grain sorghum prospects for this fall, and many areas won't have enough volume to operate all cotton gins," said Dr. Bill Black, economist in marketing and policy with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"Because of this, the cooperatives must decide which gins will operate and which will close," he said. "It's more economical to operate a few gins, even though cotton must be hauled from a wider area."

Reduced production also affects a cooperative's cash flow, Black pointed out, because farmers lack income.

Texas farmers must also decide how to market cooperatively-stored grain since the Producer's Grain Corporation has shut down.

"This decision affects not only High Plains growers but also those in the Rio Grande Valley and Coastal Bend regions," Black said.

Since PGC's port elevator in Corpus Christi has been sold, farmers must turn to FarMarco or Agri-Industries for marketing services.

And the ability of cooperatives to move and market grain economically is affected by the continued high cost of energy, credit and railroad abandonments, Black added.

The current situation suggests that many grain cooperatives, especially in the High Plains, should consider merging into larger, more economic units, the economist said.

FAITH is what makes it possible for choir members to beam while wearing cassocks on a hot and humid sabbath morning.

Planning ahead helps shoppers

A small amount of planning can add up to big savings in both time and money at the grocery store.

"Before writing a shopping list, think about the store layout," says Dr. Dymple C. Cooksey, food and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "Make up a shopping list in the same order as the items are located in the store."

Avoid shopping when you're tired or hungry, Cooksey says. A tired shopper may get confused and miss the week's best buys. A hungry shopper will be tempted to buy more than needed.

Most stores have unit pricing which lists price per ounce or pound. Compare to see which container is a better value. Other foods may spark considerable interest, but you will save money if you follow your list and buy only what you need, Cooksey emphasizes. "Generic foods and store brands offer a good blend of quality and economy. They are usually equal nutritionally to name brand products, but they may lack their flavor and appearance," Cooksey says.

Always allow time to read labels in the store. Nutrition information is provided in two ways. The first gives the amount of protein, carbohydrates and fats as well as calories per serving.

The second lists the percentage of U.S. Recommended Dietary Allowance (RDA) per serving. The information should be used to get the most nutrition for your money, Cooksey says.

TAES plans field day

Research aimed at helping High Plains farmers make better management decisions about their crops will be demonstrated Tuesday at the 73rd annual field day of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station (TAES) at Lubbock and Halfway.

The Texas A&M University High Plains Research Facility at Halfway, 14 miles west of Plainview on U.S. Hwy. 70 is the host this year, said Dr. Bill Ott, resident director of research for the Lubbock-Halfway centers. The annual program alternates between the two facilities, in cooperation with the High Plains Research Foundation.

Five major displays are planned on the tours of the research sites at Halfway, said James Bordovsky, research agricultural engineer and field day chairman.

These stops will illustrate research being conducted in weed research, cotton breeding and variety testing, and cotton bollworm control; explain work on new management strategies, including on-farm computer application; and display a new multi-function irrigation system which will apply both water and chemicals through a dual nozzle system.

Also featured on the tour will be research on sorghum improvement, mite control, soil fertility, grain sorghum performance, and soybean evaluation. Farm machinery, irrigation equipment and other farm implements will be on display by area manufacturers and suppliers.

Tours will begin at 1 p.m. and end at 5 p.m.

The field day is a cooperative presentation of TAES, the High Plains Research Foundation, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Agricultural Research Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Professional staffs of these agencies will be on hand to answer questions and discuss problems with agricultural producers, home owners and gardeners, Bordovsky said.

MR. AND MRS. KELLY JOE DAVIS
... She's the former Kimberly Layne Barbee.

Barbee, Davis exchange vows

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Joe Davis are at home in Abilene after a honeymoon trip to San Antonio, following their Aug. 14 wedding in Weatherford. The couple was united in a formal, double ring ceremony in the Springtown Road Church of Christ with Dr. Bill Smotherman officiating. The bride is the former Kimberly Layne Barbee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Barbee of Weatherford. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Duward Davis of Dimmitt. Among arches and candelabras covered with fresh flowers and greenery, the bride was given in marriage by her father. She was attended by Teta Dempsey of Weatherford, as maid of honor; and Tania Davis of Dallas, sister-in-law of the groom, and Lisa Davis of Dimmitt, sister of the groom, as bridesmaids. Don Davis of Dallas, brother of the groom, served as best man. Robert Moore of Dimmitt and Alan Barbee of Weatherford, brother of the bride, were groomsmen. The bride's cousin, Mary Gail Banta of Oden, Ark., and Carol Kirk of Weatherford were candlelighters. Michelle Parker of Fort Worth, a cousin of the bride, served as ring bearer, and flower girl was Jennifer Vincent of Fort Worth, a cousin of the bride. Ushers were Jeff McCarty of Weatherford and David Gregory of Abilene. Soloists Ursulla Crutsinger, Camilla Crutsinger and Mark Aldridge sang selections including "If" by Bread, "Follow Me" by John Denver, "The Wedding Song (There is Love)," and "Theme From Ice Castles." The bride wore a Victorian-style formal gown made with a satin underskirt and a sheer overskirt, trimmed at the hemline with Chantilly lace and flowing into a Cathedral-length train. The bodice of the gown featured a high neckline with stand-up collar, and a triangular lace overlay matching the sheer lace sleeves. The bride wore a cameo pin which belonged to her grandmother Stewart. Her Victorian-style hat held a netted veil around her face and anchored a full-length trail of illusion. She carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis, made by her grandmother. Feminine attendants wore lilac voile dresses, styled at ankle-length and trimmed with lace collars and cuffs. Lilac satin ribbons tied at the waist. Each attendant carried a bouquet of white and lilac roses, and wore a halo of white and lilac flowers. The reception following the ceremony was held in the home of the bride's parents. Debra Davis served punch, Tonya Baker, cousin of the bride, served the bridal cake, and Kathy Covington served the groom's cake. The bride's table was covered with lilac satin, graced with a white, sheer lace overlay. The front of the table was accented with two wicker bells, trimmed with lilac ribbons. The wedding cake was fashioned with a three-tiered main section set over a fountain and surrounded by four heart-shaped smaller cakes. Frosted in white and decorated with lilac roses, the cake was topped with a white heart trimmed in lace and complemented with two satin bells. German chocolate cake topped with chocolate icing and sliced almonds was served from the groom's table, which was covered with a round, brown cloth. Two brass candelabras surrounded with greenery added to the decorations. The bride is a 1979 graduate of Weatherford High School, and attended Weatherford Junior College for one year and Abilene Christian University for two years. A 1980 graduate of Dimmitt High School, the groom has attended Abilene Christian University for two years and plans to major in graphic design. SEPTEMBER has been designated as "National Sewing Month" and special activities are being planned in many locations to benefit those who sew, says Ann Vanderpoorten, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. To encourage and reward their customers, many fabric store operators are sponsoring beginning and specialty sewing classes, and also stocking a wider variety of fabrics.

Date set for tea, style show

The Lubbock Christian College Associates will sponsor a style show and tea Sept. 19 in Dimmitt. The event will be in the Church of Christ Fellowship Hall at Fourth and Bedford, beginning at 4 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Reception fetes pair

The Revs. Larry and Connie Nelson-Daniel were honored Tuesday, Aug. 31, at a post-wedding reception at the First United Methodist Church of Dimmitt. Women of the church acted as hostesses for the event, which was held in Lamar Fellowship Hall of the church. The couple and her parents, Don and Verbie Nelson of Dimmitt, greeted guests. Pictures from the Aug. 21 wedding ceremony and reception in Dallas were placed on display next to the guest book. Bud vases holding pink roses centered each of the tables grouped around the hall. Table covers were pink and white. Refreshments of miniature hors d'oeuvres and summer tea were served from crystal appointments. The couple is making their home in Odessa.

MRS. KEVIN KARL HUCKS
... She's the former Sheril Dian Baldrige.

Baldrige, Hucks are wed Saturday

Sheril Dian Baldrige and Kevin Karl Hucks exchanged wedding vows in a formal, double-ring ceremony Saturday at 4 p.m. in the First Baptist Church of Dimmitt, with Rev. John Street, pastor, officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Baldrige of Dimmitt, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Hucks of Dimmitt. The bride walked down the aisle, which was decked with yellow pew bows, and stood before a heart-shaped candelabra, greenery-covered archway and a unity candle. She was given in marriage by her father and mother. She wore a formal-length gown of white Quiana[®] fashioned with Queen Anne neckline. The bodice was covered with Chantilly lace and seed pearls, and featured bishop sleeves of matching lace. The raised waistline was enhanced with a full, pleated skirt, edged with Chantilly lace, seed pearls and white satin bows. A Juliet cap of Chantilly lace held her mid-length veil of bridal illusion. She carried a bouquet of yellow silk roses and white silk daisies accented with yellow and white ribbons. The bride followed tradition in wearing something old — pearl earrings; something new — a pearl necklace; something borrowed — her grandmother's ring; and something blue — the bridal garter. Maid of honor was Lisa Davis of San Angelo, while DeNise Dobbs of Lubbock, Sonya Andrews of San Angelo and Lana Lane of Canyon served as bridesmaids. The feminine attendants wore formal length gowns of yellow Quiana[®]. The gowns were fashioned with a fitted bodice and an off-the-shoulder neckline accented with a ruffle. Other features included white satin bows and softly gathered skirts. The attendants each carried a single yellow, long-stemmed rose, accented with baby's breath and a yellow ribbon. Tim Hucks of Pampa, brother of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Joe Collins of Lubbock, Jeff Bell of Lorenzo and Scott Armstrong of Lubbock. The men in the wedding party wore gray tuxedos and white shirts with ascot ties. Candlelighters were Dana Prather of Brownfield, cousin of the bride, and Randy Ammens of Olney, cousin of the groom. Kevin Baldrige of Dimmitt, nephew of the bride, served as ring bearer, and Jennifer Hucks of Dimmitt, niece of the groom, served as flower girl. Ushers were Gary Baldrige of Dimmitt, brother of the bride, and Randy Lunsford of Amarillo.

Shirley Pegram served as organist, and Kimberly Pegram sang "Through the Eyes of Love," "Wedding Song," and "With this Ring." A reception following the ceremonies was held in the fellowship hall. The bride's table was covered with a draped cloth accented with yellow bows, yellow roses and daisies. The four-tiered wedding cake was white, and accented with roses and daisies. A centerpiece of fresh yellow roses and white daisies was complemented with four yellow tapers. The groom's table was overlaid with eyelet material. The centerpiece was a hurricane globe accented with yellow daisies. Appointments were of silver. Chocolate cake covered with yellow roses and white daisies was served. Presiding at the bride's table were Jeri Lunsford of Amarillo, Shelly Frye of Dimmitt and Becky Benton of Dimmitt. At the groom's table were Sherri Baldrige of Dimmitt, sister-in-law of the bride, and Sharla Street of Lubbock. Sherri Baldrige and Jeri Lunsford registered the guests. The bride's traveling attire was a navy-blue suit, featuring a split skirt. She completed the outfit with a yellow blouse. After a wedding trip to Dallas, the couple will be at home in Hereford. The bride is a 1982 graduate of Dimmitt High School. The groom is a 1978 graduate of DHS and attended Texas Tech for three years. He is currently employed at Horizon Seed in Hereford.

Franklin talks to Rotary Club

"The Crime Line program needs citizen involvement," Dimmitt Chief of Police Donald Franklin told the Dimmitt Rotary Club members at their Friday meeting. He stressed that now that the program is set up, people should not forget about it, but continue to support it in every way possible. Franklin told the group that the program currently has about $2,000 in the bank, but said that it wouldn't last long "if several $500 rewards are handed out." Reward levels are established at $100 to $500 for felonies and up to $100 for misdemeanors. Franklin said that the line has already received at least three or four calls that are being investigated, but that no rewards have been paid out yet. The Rotarians discussed work on their entry for the Harvest Days Bed Race. Jack Thompson has been trying to organize efforts on the entry. David Schaeffer reported on the club's softball tournament set for Sept. 8-12. He noted that few entries had been received so far. Twenty-one members were present, along with the club sweetheart, Vonda Richards of the Dimmitt Interact Club was a guest at the meeting.

Friends of Library elect Mona Acker

Mona Acker of Nazareth was named the new president of the Friends of the Library at the group's regular monthly meeting in Rhoads Memorial Library. Other officers elected at the meeting were Beral Hance of Dimmitt, vice-president; Brick Autry of Dimmitt, secretary; and Betty Cartwright of Dimmitt, treasurer. The group meets the first Wednesday of each month at 2:30 p.m. in the library. Interested persons are invited to attend and become a member. Club members planned their new project at the meeting. Last year ambitious members of the Friends purchased a piano for the library meeting room. This year the Friends plan to coordinate county library services for the visually handicapped. Today through the State Library in Austin and the Library of Congress and several other organizations a great many materials are available for people who have trouble reading regular print. Most of these can be obtained cheaply or at no cost. Those who are interested can call the Library in Dimmitt at 647-3532 Tuesdays through Saturday mornings. The library is closed on Mondays. Six shooter ...

Andrew McClelland's brother, Hugh, duck around the corner of a small wooden store building. Firing through the corner of the building, Aten finally scored a hit on Hugh.

Although no one died, Aten immediately turned his gun over to newly elected Sheriff C. I. Bedford and was subsequently indicted for assault with intent to commit murder. The case was tried on a change of venue in Swisher County, and Aten was acquitted by a jury of 12 men in December 1892, just two days before his first child was born.

When Bedford's term expired, Perry G. Cox was elected sheriff. But he ran into trouble with the public for allegedly ignoring cattle rustlers. Several citizens who had signed Cox's bond of office withdrew their names and no one else would sign, so Cox became disqualified.

Aten was appointed to fill the remainder of Cox's term. Known as "a good man to steer clear of" by lawbreakers, Aten had "eliminated all traces of the bad element by 1894," according to Lillie Mae Hunter in her book, "The Moving Finger."

Aten resigned the office in 1895 to become an unofficial law officer to control rustling on the Escarabada Division of the XIT Ranch, working there for 10 years.

He and his family then moved to California, where he died at the age of 90.

Three are sentenced

Three people were sentenced Friday in 64th District Court by Judge Jack Miller.

Thomas Chavez Martinez, 23, of Hereford, was sentenced to serve a two-year term in the Texas Dept. of Corrections for her part in a felony shoplifting incident in downtown Dimmitt Feb. 25. Several items were removed from Parsons Drug, Tots and Teens, and other stores in the downtown area.

Leslie Foy Acker, 30, of Tulla, received a five-year sentence in the Texas Dept. of Corrections after Judge Miller revoked a probation which had been granted to Acker on Feb. 8. Acker was convicted originally for several forgeries in Castro and Swisher Counties. His probation was revoked because of consumption of alcohol, unlawfully carrying a weapon, and because of an incident involving intentional damage to a car windshield.

Ronald Claude Golden, 32, of Tortilla Flat, AZ, (formerly of Dimmitt) pleaded nolo contendere (no contest) to theft charges involving eight head of cattle in an incident that occurred in May 1980. The cattle involved were being fed by James Welch of Bethel. Judge Miller accepted the plea of nolo contendere, then found Golden guilty of theft and placed him on probation for one year. He ordered Golden to pay a fine of $250, plus $96 in court costs, a restitution of $4,600, and $15 per month as a probation reporting fee.

scheduled throughout the local session included performances by the Little Bit of Texas Band from Lubbock, Hershel Wilson of Sunnyside, Johnny Ray Watson of Hereford, and Tammy and Cindy Jordan, Tim Lay, Rhonda Heath and Tammy Calhoun, all of Dimmitt. Also, the Dimmitt Kurly Q's and the Dimmitt Promenaders square dancing clubs performed.

"We really want to thank Leeann Haldane of Dimmitt for the use of her sound equipment," Kirby said. "And we also appreciate Rev. Ronnie Travis of the Lee Street Baptist Church of Dimmitt for letting us use their piano."

Kirby said that nationwide, the telethon raised over $29,490,000, which was $3 million short of what was raised last year.

Funds raised by the telethon help support MDA's global research effort and nationwide program of medical services.

The association sponsors 10 research/clinical centers in the US and England, and has some 600 research projects worldwide. It also maintains more than 240 outpatient clinics, where MDA patients receive medical care, orthopedic aids and related services free of charge.

Police calls

A 23-year-old Hereford woman was arrested on theft charges last week. Thomasa Martinez Chaves was sentenced to two years in the Texas Department of Corrections.

Buford Vanclave, 28, of Paducah was arrested on charges of theft by check and released to Plainview authorities.

Sheriff's deputies and city police arrested five for public intoxication, three for DWI, one for disorderly conduct, and one for possession of marijuana during the week.

Manuel Victor Hernandez, 27, of Mexico was arrested on the possession charge and posted a cash bond. The next day he was arrested again for possession of marijuana (after the trial). He was sentenced to three days in jail and assessed a $275 fine.

One 24-year-old man was arrested for simple assault, and another man was arrested for driving with no license.

A suspect is being sought in connection with a theft at the Circle K convenience store in Dimmitt last Wednesday. The suspect, described as a white male with a beard, took a 12-pack of beer from the cooler and walked out of the store.

THE GOOSE is said to be one of the oldest domesticated animals. Geese were depicted in drawings on the walls of King Tut's tomb.

farmers and I am waiting to get them approved."

Agriculture Secretary John Block has approved emergency storage of grain in surplus barges, rail cars and other facilities not normally certified by the Commodity Credit Corporation to store harvested crops.

This decision won't help Castro County farmers directly, since there are no barges and not many rail cars in the area in which to place the extra grain.

Carl King, president of the Texas Corn Growers Association, feels that area farmers will have to try to store grain on the ground if elevators run out of storage room.

"I think we will see a lot of milo piles on the ground this year," King said. "Corn won't keep on the ground unless you put an acid on it, and then it is not good for human consumption."

With the beginning of the 1982 harvest just a few days away, Castro County farmers and elevator operators will be looking to find enough storage room for the crops, and hoping for an answer.

the purchase of four units. Chief Franklin spoke to the board about a new animal control program his department is implementing, and also requested their approval for the beginning of a Police Reserve unit for Dimmitt.

The animal control program will use traps for catching dogs that are a habitual nuisance to property owners. Owners must give permission for the traps, approved by the Texas Dept. of Health as safe for animals, to be placed on their property, and must sign a request form, releasing the city from any legal liability in use of the traps.

The board agreed to approve the new approach after changes are made to the request form.

Franklin told the board that the city articles provide for establishment of a police reserve force appointed at the discretion of the police chief.

Only certified, trained officers can serve on the force. They must have a least 70 hours of training from a certified course.

Members of the program would be volunteers, working without any compensation other than one supplied uniform and insurance coverage for injuries on the job.

"The reserve would help the regular department in times of high turnover, as we've experienced in the past, or when officers are on vacation or in times of emergency," Franklin told the board.

Franklin said he would like to eventually have five members on the reserve force, but that at the present Rex Cowart is the only one in the city qualified.

The city gave approval to establishment of the reserve police force.

The aldermen approved the articles of incorporation that were drawn up for the Dimmitt Texas Development Corporation. Copies have been sent to the Texas Secretary of State.

Cotton:

Ginners expect half a crop or less

While local elevator operators are wondering where they will put all the grain, cotton ginners are wondering where all the cotton is.

With less cotton planted, and an estimated 25% of that lost, Castro County cotton ginners are expecting a short ginning season this year.

An estimated 80,000 acres of cotton were planted this year compared with 101,000 a year ago, according to ASCS County Executive Director Charley Hill.

"Farmers lost around 20,000 acres of cotton this year because of weather conditions (hail)," said Hill.

"Most of the cotton is late so the yield will depend on what happens in September and October," Hill added. "The weather then will determine what kind of cotton crop we'll end up with."

Several local ginners estimate they will gin only half as much cotton as last year, and one predicts only 20% as much.

"The cotton looks real good here," said Mike Bryant of Five Point Gin. "There's not a whole lot of it, but it's coming along real well."

"Most of it is pretty late," Bryant said. "Most of the cotton is late, so we will definitely need a late freeze.

"I presume there is just enough cotton around for all the gins (in Castro County) to open, but they will not gin as much cotton as last year," he said. "We may gin half as many bales as last year."

L. J. Rice of Hart Producers Co-op Gin said things look bad in his area.

"There is just not much cotton, 20% of what we had last year," said Rice. "And it doesn't look like the yield will be very good on what's left."

Rice said farmers in his area lost close to 4,000 acres of cotton because of hail earlier this summer.

"We'll gin 20% of what we did last year, or less," Rice said.

"Things are looking up," according to Army Armstrong of Bruegel Brothers Gin. "The early cotton is looking good, and I think we're going to gin quite a bit of cotton. Maybe half as much as last year."

"There is some good cotton," said Clay Davis of Flagg Gin.

"The early cotton needs warm, dry weather, but some of the later cotton needs water. Probably 50% of the crop in this area was lost.

"We'll be lucky here if we gin 50% of what we did last year."

Carryover to keep cotton supply high

Although 1982's US cotton crop will probably harvest out to 29% below 1981's, large carryover stocks from the 1981 crop will keep supplies fairly high — 17.5 million bales, versus 18.3 million for 1981-82. Carryover stocks will likely shrink about a million bales over the next year, according to the "Cotton Situation" released Aug. 29 by the US Dept. of Agriculture's Economic Research Service.

Carryovers totaled 6.3 million bales this Aug. 1, and USDA economists forecast that they will total 5.3 million on Aug. 1, 1983.

The US cotton crop will likely total 11.1 million bales — 11 million bales of upland and 94,800 of American Pima cotton.

The 29% decline from last year's crop is due to bad growing conditions in Texas and Oklahoma and widespread compliance with the acreage reduction program. In Texas, growers abandoned one-third of planted acres. Farmers replanted some acres, but late planted cotton faces chancey weather.

Total cotton disappearance between Aug. 1, 1982 and Aug. 1, 1983 may total 12.3 million bales, up from the previous year's 12 million. Domestic textile mills will consume 5.6 million bales, and exports are estimated at 6.7 million bales. However, thus far China — last year's No. 3 importer of US cotton — has bought only a minimal amount.

Hart board approves new school budget

The Hart Board of Education met in special session on Aug. 30 and amended the 1981-82 school budget and approved the 82-83 budget.

The board inspected the work on the Kindergarten building by Holley Construction Company, and the school's enrollment was presented.

FUTURE PICKLES—Simon and Prucencia Vicencio Jr. [right] of Donna watch as a truckload of cucumbers which they picked on the Jack Ingram farm Thursday goes into the loading chute and up the conveyor for sizing and grading at the Dimmitt plant of Western Food Products Co., Inc. After being soaked in brine tanks here, the cucumbers will be shipped to La Junta, Colo., to be processed into pickles bearing a variety of brand names.

Vegetables:

It's a mixed bag this year

It was a bad year for onions and cucumbers, but Castro County sugar beets and carrot crops are expected to do well.

POTATOES, ONIONS, CARROTS

Vegetable processors reported this week that the potato and onion harvest is complete, while carrot digging is just getting underway.

"We're done with everything but carrots," said Lee Drake of LaMantia, Cullum, Collier & Co., Inc.

LCC began harvesting carrots Tuesday. Drake reported that LCC didn't raise any potatoes this season due to adverse weather conditions in this area.

LCC harvested an estimated 1,000 acres of onions, but it was not a good year, as it turned out.

"The average selling price last year was between $8 and $9," Drake said. "This year it's around $3. The price keeps getting worse. Demand is light and the market continues to go down."

"It was an extremely bad year for onions," said Allan McClure of Dimco Industries, Inc. "We had some onions, but the hail, rain and cool June we had hurt the crop. The quality of the onions was very poor."

Dimco finished digging potatoes Saturday and McClure said the turnout was about normal.

"The rains hurt our potato harvest some, but the quality of the potatoes was good and the yield was about normal (somewhere between 185 to 195 bags per acre)."

Drake reported that the carrot harvest will continue until the weather gets too cold.

"We're not sure on the price of carrots yet," Drake said. "But it looks good for the early summer ones. Of all the vegetables, the carrot price looks the best."

CUCUMBERS

The cucumber harvest — what there is of it this year — will continue until the last week of September or the first of October "if Mother Nature will leave us alone," according to Lee Kimbell, manager of the Dimmitt plant of Western Food Products Co., Inc.

Hail destroyed most of the early cucumbers this year, causing not only a shortage in the harvest but a shortage of workers.

"We've had real problems finding labor," Kimbell said. "That first crop is our calling card, but when it gets hailed out and there's no work on that first crop, and you don't start harvesting until July 5... it's hard to get labor."

Vertical integration helps

A vertical integration in agriculture gives farmers more control, power and profit — if it's done right.

"Vertical integration is selling bread instead of wheat, or hamburger instead of cows," said Dr. Bill Black, economist in marketing and policy with the Texas Agriculture Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Before a consumer buys a product in a store, it must be produced, processed, serviced and marketed. Integration combines two or more of these steps under one management.

"To farmers, it means carrying what they grow closer to consumers," Black said.

Vertical integration is achieved through contract or ownership. A farmer is contractually integrated when he is legally committed to deliver what he produces to a particular firm.

"For example, a farmer grows peas and delivers them to Green Giant. This is a case of production contract integration with a proprietary agribusiness firm," the economist said.

About one-third of US agriculture is contractually integrated, Black noted. Commodities with 50 percent or more production integration by proprietary firms are broilers, processing vegetables, eggs and turkeys. Those with more than half of their total production integrated through marketing contracts with cooperatives are milk, citrus, processing fruits and nuts and rice.

Only 6 percent of US agricultural production is ownership integrated by proprietary agribusiness firms, Black said. Agribusiness firms have relied mainly on contract integration rather than ownership integration to achieve control and economic power.

Baby furniture should be safe

Safety is a major consideration when one selects baby furniture.

"Manufacturers offer a variety of baby furniture, and it is wise to shop with safety in mind, especially when purchasing older, previously owned furniture," says Dr. Peggy Owens, housing and home furnishings specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"A few general guidelines will aid parents in providing the safest purchase for their baby," Owens says.

A crib mattress should fit snugly so the child cannot get caught between it and the crib walls. If you can fit more than two fingers between mattress and crib, the mattress is too small, she cautions.

Crib slats should be no more than 2-3/8 inches apart, Owens says. Slats too far apart can allow the baby to slip through and strangle.

Buy a crib with a latch or lock for the "drop side" that cannot be easily tripped. Avoid sharp edges and metal parts on the crib frame.

"Many accidents occur when the baby falls while trying to climb out," Owens says. "Select a crib with a large distance between top of the side rail and the mattress support."

"Bumper pads" should run around the entire crib and tie or snap into place, Owens adds.

Select highchairs with a wide base for stability. Safety straps should be simple and not attached to the tray, which should lock securely. Avoid plaster features — for these sometimes come loose easily — and check for rough or sharp edges and points.

"Older wooden-slatted playpens may have too much space between the bars to be safe," Owens says. "The smaller the distance of the bars, the safer the equipment will be."

Mesh siding on playpens should be small enough to prevent buttons from being caught or providing a foothold for climbing, Owens says. The hinges or folding models should lock tightly. Make sure the playpen floor has a center support, she adds.

"Safer furniture may cost more, but is usually more sturdy and durable," Owens says.

CHARLES DICKENS' pen name was "Boz."

SUGARBEETS

Holly Sugar Corp.'s Cal Jones is expecting a "bumper crop" from Castro County sugarbeet farmers.

"The sugarbeet crop looks excellent in Castro County," said Jones, agriculture manager at the plant. "We're looking for a bumper crop there."

There are 9,200 acres of sugar beets planted in the county and contracted to Holly Sugar Corp. "That's a little more than in previous years," Jones said.

The beet crops suffered some early hail damage, "but they've all grown back from the hails quite rapidly,"

Jones reported.

"The indications from our sampling sequence is that we will have a bumper crop in both tonnage and sugar," he said.

The beet harvest is scheduled to begin on the morning of Sept. 28. Jones predicts the harvest will continue until Nov. 22.

Cool, dry weather would be beneficial for the sugarbeet crops now.

"We need cool weather to be able to store the beets on top of the ground," explained Jones, "and dry weather in order to get the beets out of the ground."

The sugar beet price Tuesday was $28.50 per hundred weight.

Insects of interest

Control white grubs now

By ALLEN KNUTSON
Extension Entomologist

White grubs sometimes damage area lawns, feeding on grass roots and causing brown patches of dead grass. Now is a good time to control white grubs while this season's population is small and easier to kill.

White grubs are the immature or larval stage of May or June beetles. These 1/2-3/4 inch, brown, hard-shelled beetles have been common around lights at night, and are a nuisance themselves. The beetles lay eggs in the soil. Tiny grubs hatch in 3-4 weeks and feed for 1-2 years before completing their life cycle. Insecticides applied by mid-August are most effective in controlling white grubs. To check a lawn for white grubs, cut out several sections of turf and turn them over. Carefully examine the soil and root zone. If more than 4 grubs are found per square foot, treatment is indicated. Sample sections of turf from the margins of brown spots to see if white grubs are the culprit.

White grubs can be controlled with Diazinon, Dursban® or Dylox® if treated early. Granular formulations can be applied with a fertilizer spreader and are easier and safer to apply. Thoroughly soak the lawn to move the insecticide into the soil. Always read and follow label directions carefully.

Hightower featured speaker at conservation meeting

The USDA Conservation and Production Research Laboratory will host the fall meeting and barbecue of the Golden Spread Chapter of the Soil Conservation Society of American on Friday, September 10, according to Dr. B. A. Stewart, Director of the research facility.

Congressman Jack Hightower will be the featured speaker at the event which will be preceded by a tour of research plots. Anyone interested in learning more about soil and water conservation is invited, according to Reggie Jones, Program Chairman for the local Conservation Chapter. The tour is scheduled at 5 p.m. and the barbecue will follow one hour later. Congressman Hightower will address regional problems in resource conservation and the impact of the new enacted Resources Conservation Act (RCA) on Panhandle residents.

Guests on the tour will see research on wind energy, cropping systems, sunflowers, center pivot irrigation, limited tillage and livestock diseases.

The Soil Conservation Society of America is a non-profit scientific and educational organization dedicated to promoting conservation of land, water and related natural resources. The Golden Spread chapter is part of the national organization and is comprised of farmers, agribusiness people, university and USDA agricultural researchers and Soil Conservation Service personnel from all over the Panhandle.

Reservations to attend the tour and barbecue can be made at the Research Laboratory or by calling 378-5721 by next Wednesday. The barbecue dinner is $3.50 for adults and $1.75 for children.

Jones said, "Chapter members sponsor the annual event to increase awareness in soil and water conservation, as well as examine research directed toward that end." "This year we are very fortunate to be able to meet at the research laboratory and have Congressman Hightower as our speaker," he continued.

'The toughest job you'll ever love'

Peace Corpsman tells of life in Senegal

By BRENDA SCHULTE

A "very fulfilling experience" amid a different language, different customs and a different lifestyle is what Henry Wilhelm experienced the last two years as a volunteer in the Peace Corps in Africa.

Wilhelm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lavern Wilhelm of Nazareth, returned to the US from Senegal, West Africa in July and made a surprise appearance at his parents' 25th wedding anniversary in Nazareth.

He spent two years in Thies, Africa, where he taught the Senegalese natives the trade of mechanics.

In Thies, Wilhelm, a graduate in diesel and auto mechanics at TSTI in Amarillo, was responsible for maintaining three bulldozers and 10 tractors. The equipment was used to remove useless boabab and other trees and to plant eucalyptus and prosopis trees for the production of charcoal.

Wilhelm was in training for 10 weeks, learning the culture and language of the region.

"I had to learn to speak

HENRY WILHELM of Nazareth, a Peace Corpsman in West Africa for the past two years, wears a tee shirt that was tie-died in a unique pattern by the natives of Senegal.

French and the native language, Wolof," he said.

The climate, religious beliefs, transportation and the treatment of women were among the most striking differences Wilhelm encountered in Africa.

"We had dry heat from 95 to 115 degrees for nine months of the year," Wilhelm said. "Then during the rainy season sometimes it got up to 95 degrees and was very humid. The lowest the temperature gets is about 60 degrees, and it's downright cold."

The dominant religion in Senegal is the Muslim faith.

"The Moslems bow toward Mecca, the chief holy city, and they pray five times a day," said Wilhelm. "They have loud speakers so everyone can hear them pray."

Although gas was $3.50 a gallon there, public transportation was reasonably cheap, Wilhelm said.

"It cost about $2 to travel 50 miles," he said. "People traveled either in small buses with boards to sit on, pickups with canvas over the back, or station wagons which would seat seven people plus the driver."

"To travel between villages (a short distance) you ride in a cart pulled by a horse."

The women's liberation

PEACE CORPS VOLUNTEERS during training in Senegal, Africa, eat fish and rice out of a bowl. It is customary to pick up the food with your right hand and make into a small ball before eating it.

movement has definitely not reached Senegal. Wilhelm noted, "Women have only two functions in this culture — to have babies and keep house. In greeting someone, you ask about all the male members of the family before you mention any of the women. Women are literally slaves."

He said the people in Senegal have a good attitude about arguments.

"If you ever have a disagreement with anyone, you never part being angry. You always make up and are friends again before you leave."

The people of Senegal are very slow-paced, Wilhelm said. A typical workday starts at 8 a.m., then from noon until 3 p.m. everyone takes a "siesta" because of the heat. Then the workday continues from 3 until 6 p.m.

Upon entering a room, Wilhelm said, one must shake hands with everyone in the room.

"Then when you leave, you shake hands with everyone again," he said. "Sometimes it took 30 minutes to greet everyone."

Fish and rice is the main meal served in Senegal, and millet (used for birdseed in the US) mixed in a sauce of sour milk and sugar.

"Food was served in big bowls without any utensils," he said. "You always dip into the food in your right hand and make the food into a small ball and put it in your mouth. Several people eat from one bowl."

"I always wanted to join the Peace Corps," said the Nazareth High School graduate. "I wanted to get out on my own and see another part of the world and understand another culture. It was a very fulfilling experience."

Wilhelm plans to work on his father's farm now and take a night course at college to keep up with his French.

Comptroller's aide to be in Dimmitt

State Comptroller Bob Bullock has announced that Raymond Bogus, from his Lubbock field office, will be at the Castro County Courthouse in the County Commissioner's room on Sept. 15 from 10 a.m. to noon.

A comptroller's representative is available to assist local residents at the Courthouse the third Wednesday of each month. Bullock urges anyone with problems or questions concerning state taxes to contact Bogus at the courthouse or call the Lubbock Field office at 795-0691. A toll-free number (1-800-252-5555) is also available to Texas taxpayers.

THE PROBLEM of overweight can be solved by a combination of things — a sensible diet program based on lower caloric choices from the basic food groupings, a daily exercise program and changing those bad eating habits, pointed out Mary K. Sweeten, a food and nutrition specialist on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Proposed legislation to reduce premiums

Legislation which would enable the State of Texas to further reduce insured grower's premium cost for All-Risk crop insurance will be introduced in January, according to Senator Bill Sarpalius of Hereford.

Sarpalius, Chairman of the Senate Subcommittee on Agriculture, announced today that his committee has begun drafting such a bill. "In 1980, Congress authorized, for the first time, the Federal government to pay up to 30% of the premium cost to farmers and ranchers insured under the USDA All-Risk Program," the senator said.

"The bill also authorized any state to further reduce the cost to its agricultural producers by paying an additional portion of the true risk premium cost," he added. Ted Crouch, Field Operations Director for USDA's Federal Crop Insurance Corporation in College Station, said, "FCIC is very pleased to hear of this innovative effort. I am especially pleased that it is beginning in Texas. We all know, too well, how severely the agricultural sector of our state's economy has suffered recently. During this period, FCIC's capacity to relieve these adverse conditions has been limited in many areas of the state because of low participation. The action being initiated by the Senate Subcommittee on Agriculture will almost certainly stimulate greater producer acceptance."

For the 1982 crop year an estimated 1.9 million acres of Texas crops are covered by All-Risk crop insurance. Maximum liability on these acres exceeds $200,000,000.

Senator Sarpalius feels the additional assistance would make Crop Insurance programs more attractive to more farmers. "Increased participation helps spread insurance risk and strengthens the Crop Insurance programs for all farmers involved," he stated.

All-Risk Crop Insurance is administered by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation and marketed through private insurance firms. It guarantees a specific yield per farm for each insured crop. That yield is established prior to planting based upon either area average yields or the farmer's own production yield history. Crops are guaranteed against most unavoidable causes of loss.

If the insured's production is less than the guarantee, a payment will be made for the production lost at a price selected before the growing season. No disaster designation nor any other special conditions are required for claims to be paid under the All-Risk program.

NELSON'S
Drilling & Pump Service

Our girl in Norway

AFS'er 'ready to go back'

"It was nice to see everybody when I got home, but now I'm ready to go back," said Toby Tischler after returning from Norway.

"I'd like to see more of Norway. It was such a short time to be there and the people were really great," she added.

Miss Tischler, the daughter of Delton and Sue Tischler of Dimmitt, spent two months in Hoevik, Norway, as an American Field Service Summer Program exchange student.

She lived with the Arne Johan Brekke family in Hoevik, near Oslo.

"They were a really nice family," Miss Tischler said. "They opened up very easily to me and I felt really at home."

"The first two weeks I was there I just wanted to come home, but I knew I would only be there two months so I figured I'd better enjoy it while I could."

Now she is determined to go back for a visit when she can.

The highlight of Miss Tischler's trip was meeting some relatives of hers.

"I asked my Norwegian father if we could contact my relatives. He got in touch with them and we went to see them."

"Seeing them was something I'll never forget," she said.

She spent two days with the family on their farm in Romedal.

"I got to visit with Juridn, 17, my second cousin, her mother (Ellien) and her husband Ola, and Ellien's mother Elizabeth.

"Elizabeth is my grandmother's (Lillian Prisk) cousin. I could compare her with the family we have in Clifton. There is a family resemblance there."

The 17-year-old Dimmitt junior said the people in Norway were different than people here.

"You have to make the first move. They are not going to open up to someone new. It's not that they don't like you, it's just that people are not as open as they are here."

"One thing I noticed was that they don't judge a person by what they wear, but by what's on the inside."

Miss Tischler said she noticed some differences in Norwegian teenagers, also.

"A lot of the kids rolled their own cigarettes and smoked them. They didn't talk about each other as much as kids at home, and they were more serious in the things they did."

"The schools are harder, so they worked harder in school."

Arne Brekke. The Brekkes live in Hoevik and have a cabin near a mountain lake where they vacationed during the summer.

They lived at a much slower pace than we do here. And kids bought the things they wanted with their own money, rather than ask their parents."

English is taught in the Norwegian schools from the second grade up, and almost everyone I met knew two or three languages," she said.

"I learned some Norwegian," Miss Tischler added. But she was not able to master the language. "It just can't be done in two months."

She said the Norwegian countryside was beautiful.

"It was totally green, with hilly mountains and a lot of marshes in the mountains," she said. "We went boating every weekend."

Soccer is the major sport in Norway, according to the Dimmitt athlete.

"They do a lot of kayaking, play volleyball and hockey. They play a little bit of basketball, but not half as good as in the US."

She also said everything cost about three times as much in Norway as in the US.

"Gas is from $3 to $4 a gallon. Everything is higher." "They don't eat much beef at all. We ate mostly fish, and they raise reindeer for meat like we do cattle."

"The meat was good; most of the time I didn't know what it was. I liked the fish most of all."

"I learned not to waste food," she said. "What you put on your plate you have to eat."

Corn growers are cranking up

With a few loads of corn in, the 1982 harvest is expected to get into full swing in a couple of weeks.

Dimmitt Agri Industries, Inc., has received a few loads of corn, and Castro County Grain reported that a few loads of sunflowers were brought in last week.

Other local elevator operators expect to receive their first corn at the end of this week.

Don Gregory of Castro County Grain estimates that full-swing corn harvest is still a week or so away, and the milo will take a little longer.

"We have had some sunflowers come in," Gregory said. "But most of the sunflowers and soybeans will be late because farmers planted them after they lost other crops."

Gregory predicts good yields, but not record ones.

"The corn pollination is not as good as in years past, but some fields are excellent," he said.

Last Wednesday, corn was selling for $4.60 per bushel and milo for $4.10.

"It will be hard for the market to hold or get stronger because there is not much demand," Gregory said.

Charlie Hill, ASCS County Executive director estimates that approximately 75,000 acres of corn were planted in Castro County this year, 50,000 acres of grain sorghum, 19,000 acres of soybeans and 2,500 acres of sunflowers.

Hill reported that corn acreage is down about 15,000 acres from last year and grain sorghum acreage is up anywhere from 10,000 to 15,000 acres.

"Anywhere from 15,000 to 17,000 more acres of soybeans were planted, while about 1,000 more acres of sunflowers were planted," said Hill.

Bill Clark of Dimmitt Agri Industries reported that Rayburn Ott of the Flagg community harvested some corn last week.

"The crops look very good at this stage," said Clark. "The crop production will probably be equal to last year, maybe below, it just depends on the weather in the final stages."

J. R. Brown of Flagg Grain expects very good yields from the corn and milo in his area.

"We have a lot of soybeans this year," said Brown. "The yield on those will range from extra good to mediocre. It will depend on when the farmer planted them."

"The maize and corn look pretty good around here," said Mike Boothe of Nazareth's Dimmitt Agri Industries branch.

"On the land that had no hail damage, the farmers say the crops will be a little better than last year," Boothe said.

Farmers in the Hart area received some hail damage to crops, "especially to the east of town," said Ronnie Truelock of Farmers Grain.

"Most farmers indicate that the yields will be pretty good, except from the crops that were hailed on," Truelock said.

YOUR CITY AT WORK

By PAUL CATOE
City Manager

The City's Zoning Commission has been inactive in recent years; however, the current members of the Board of Aldermen are making an effort to revitalize the Commission. The purpose of the Zoning Commission is to hold public hearings to hear all requests for amending, supplementing, or changing our current zoning ordinance. Members of the Commission will also make recommendations to the Board of Aldermen regarding such proposed amendments, supplements, or changes based on a majority vote of its membership.

Our current membership includes five members of which four are new to the Zoning Commission. Current membership includes Roger Malone, Chairman, Pete Garza, Ann Cox, Stanley Schaeffer and R. E. Hunter. Members are appointed by the City Council to serve as follows: Place 1 and 2 - 1 year term; Place 2 & 3 - 2 years term; Place 5 - 3 years term. All replacements are for a three year term.

Scheduled meetings of the Zoning Commission will be the second Monday of each month. Effective immediately the Zoning Commission will schedule meetings for each second Monday of every month. Regularity of the meetings will be determined by the work load.

All individuals who wish to change, supplement, or add to our current Zoning Ordinance must file an official application with the City Secretary 15 days prior to the next regular scheduled meeting of the Zoning Commission. The City Secretary will then in turn request that the City Attorney draw up a legal application which must then be submitted to the Zoning Commission at its next regular scheduled meeting.

Individuals who wish to file an official application with the City Secretary must also be willing to pay for all costs and legal fees associated with the request to re-zone an area or change our existing ordinance. A deposit for this cost will also be required at the time the individual files the application with the City Secretary.

Roger Malone has called a meeting of the Zoning Commission for September 13 at City Hall.

The City's Zoning Commission can provide the citizens of Dimmitt an opportunity to change our current Zoning Ordinance, and also assist the Board of Aldermen in making difficult zoning decisions. We hope the citizens of Dimmitt will exercise their rights to be heard by the Zoning Commission.

He is certified as a police officer, an arson investigator, a firefighter, a building inspector and in Class B instruction (he can teach 19 of 23 fire fighting courses).

"We had many good candidates," City Manager Paul Catoe said. "Jameson was highly qualified in every area. He was the best candidate we had."

Jameson, his wife, Joanne and their three children will live in the apartment above the fire station.

His responsibilities will include: working in fire prevention areas with businesses, investigation of arson, helping to prepare budgets and sending in state reports.

He will also assist firemen in fighting fires.

GENERAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 2, 1982

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 1 proposes a constitutional amendment that prohibits any state ad valorem tax. Receipts from previously authorized state ad valorem taxes that are collected after the effective date of the proposed amendment shall be deposited to the credit of the general fund of the county collecting the taxes and may be expended for county purposes. Taxes collected before that date shall be distributed by the legislature among educational institutions eligible to receive those funds under prior law. The proposed amendment also repeals a section of the Constitution levying an ad valorem tax for a construction fund for 17 state colleges and universities.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment repealing the state property tax."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 62 as amended by Senate Joint Resolution 10 proposes a constitutional amendment that would eliminate the $80,000,000 ceiling on state welfare aid during any fiscal year. "The constitutional amendment exempting implements of husbandry (agricultural machinery and equipment) from ad valorem taxation."

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

PROPOSITION NO. 5 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 119 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize Tarrant and Bee counties to hold county-wide elections to abolish the county treasurer's office by majority vote.

Should the county treasurer's office be abolished, the duties, powers, and functions of that office would be transferred to the county auditor or the successor to the auditor's functions.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to abolish the office of county treasurer in Tarrant and Bee counties."

PROPOSITION NO. 6 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 6 proposes a constitutional amendment that would raise the constitutional interest rate limit on state general obligation bonds from 6% to 12%. The new 12% ceiling does not, however, apply to bonds issued by the Veterans' Land Board.
