Floyd Bank Deposits Up

Deposits in the First National Bank of Floydada for the second quarter of 1979 passed last year's mark for the same period by approximately 16 percent in what bank president Tom Farris called "one of the best quarters the county ever had."

"The first quarter showed significant increase," Farris said Tuesday, "but it wasn't nearly so great as the second quarter."

The Floydada bank recorded a total of $28,454,493.73 in deposits for the three months ending June 30. That figure is an increase of $3,918,146.43 over the 1978 deposits of $24,505,886.43.

"A primary cause of the increase, we believe, is that the wheat crop was better than anyone expected," Farris said. "Also, it appears that money is being drawn back into Floydada."

Loans for the second quarter also showed a large increase over the 1978 figures. The bank approved $12,608,592.81 in loans by June 30 of this year, compared with $11,252,610.74 for the same period in 1978. Total loan increase was $1,355,982.07.

Deposits in the First National Bank of Lockney also showed a dramatic rise over last year.

Deposits listed as of June 30 this year in Lockney amounted to $16,907,786.47, the highest figure ever on a reporting date, but not the record for deposits at a single time.

Last year's second quarter stood at $14,158,823.73.

Loans at the Lockney bank remained nearly steady, showing only a slight increase over the second quarter of 1978. Lockney reported a total of $6,648,584.57 in loans last quarter, compared with $6,599,274.42 for the same period in 1978.

Teens Compete With Dads In All Star Game Tonight

The Lockney 15-16-year-old baseball team's challenge to their dads has been accepted, and the game will be played tonight (Thursday), beginning at 8 p.m. at the teenage-league diamond.

Lockney City Council members will be on hand to add their strength and talents to the dads' team. The contest promises to be a real "All Star Game," according to Coach Roy Turley.

15-16 Team Ends Season With Win Over New Deal

Trailing 5-0 in the bottom of the fourth inning, the Lockney 15-16 year-old team came up with seven runs to take the lead in a baseball game with New Deal Monday. The Lockney teens went on to win the game by a score of 11-7.

Coach David Quisenberry said he was well pleased with the team's final performance. Scoring for Lockney were Karl Race, Victor Villalon, Troy Turley, Steven Galvan, Jeffrey McCormick, Johnny Rodriguez, Joe Reay, Mike Arellano and Ivory Harris.

The team ends the season in third place in the Tri-County League, only two losses behind the top two teams.

TEAMS TO SEE RANGERS PLAY

Instead of having an end-of-season swimming party this year, both Lockney teenage teams are scheduled to go to Arlington July 21 to see the Rangers play Kansas City in a major-league baseball game.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

The Lockney Independent School District board of trustees meeting will be the third Monday (July 16) this month. The school board regularly meets on the second Monday of each month.

Duwall Girls Make Playday Finals

Dana Duwall, daughters of Duwall of Aiken, have qualified for the National Playday Finals at the American Association of Riding Clubs July colt), so Tiffani will ride her father Don's horse Widowmaker in the pylon and flag races.

"FAMILY AFFAIR" The Playday competition is a family affair, with classes for all ages, and Don also qualified for the nationals in all eight events in the senior men's class. His wife Jan isn't in the Playday competition this year, but she has promised the kids she'll start riding again next year.

The other members of the Duwall family — Dodd, 11, and Lauri, 13 — hope to compete in the Playday events next year, too. Dodd is no stranger to competition involving horses — he has competed in rodeo bareback and bull-riding events.

RODEO RIDER

Tiffani is a rodeo rider, too. She won the barrel race event last Saturday in a junior rodeo at Muleshoe and recently turned an 18.04-second time in the barrels at the Bar-None Rodeo at Plainview. She was contesting with older girls at the Bar None, her first professional rodeo, and the 18.04-second time wasn't good enough to place her "in the money," but it was better than the junior girls' 1979 top time listed in the April "Riders Round-up" official publication of the American Association of Sheriff Poses and Riding Clubs. And her qualifying time in the barrel race at the district Playday was 17.26 seconds, so she has hopes of doing well in the event at Bowie.

TOUGH CLASS

The junior girls' class is one of the largest and one of the toughest, though. The April AASP&RC "Top Times" list shows the junior girls' best time of the year to be 18.12 seconds, only half a second slower than the senior men's best, 17.62. Last year at the national finals, there were 122 contestants in Tiffani's class.

A WALL FULL OF RIBBONS

The Duwall girls have won about 30 trophies, four belt buckles, and a wall full of ribbons so far this year in Playday and similar contests.

Tiffani won the all-around buckle at the Little Rustlers Rodeo in Lockney three years ago, and since then she's taken five more all-around awards. Her ambition is to make it to the national rodeo finals.

13-14-YEAR-OLDS

Baseball Team Second In League

Lockney's 13-14-year-old baseball team wound up the 1979 season Monday night with a 5-4 victory over Idalou. The victory gave the Lockney team a 9-3 Tri-County League record, good for second place in the final standings. Coach Earl Hill said he believes that might be the best a Lockney team has ever done in the league. New Deal won the league crown with a 10-2 mark, just a game ahead of the Lockney nine.

Joey Davis was the starting pitcher for Lockney Monday night. Robert Rendon got the save, and Israel Gonzales pitched a couple of good innings in relief.

LOCKNEY DOWNS ABERNATHY

Lockney beat Abernathy 11-4 last Friday night. Davis started on the mound, and Rendon came on in relief. Hill said he was really proud of the team, which played hard all season. Assistant coaches are Glenn Bailey and Claude McMurry.

TEAMS TO SEE RANGERS PLAY

Instead of having an end-of-season swimming party this year, both Lockney teenage teams are scheduled to go to Arlington July 21 to see the Rangers play Kansas City in a major-league baseball game.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

Friday The 13th Holds No Dread For Koesters

by Gayle Jackson

If they were superstitious, Ed and Diane Koester of Lockney really would be dreading Friday the 13th. For "bad luck" has been their lot ever since they began a house-moving project.

Ed and Diane laugh that it's not Friday the 13th they dread — it's the weekends for that is when most of their misfortune has occurred.

It all started when they found a two-bedroom house they could buy and move into Lockney. Then zoning problems nearly cancelled the project as the house was too small to meet the 1200-square-foot of floor space required in that area. Koester met with the city council and agreed to build onto the house.

So the house was moved onto their lot on West Willow. The water lines were connected to the house, but the kitchen sink was not yet attached to the sewer line. That was fine...until someone turned on the water at the meter. The Koesters rented a water vacuum to clean the flooded kitchen carpet.

The roof where the new addition began was opened to allow the necessary connecting of the old and new roof. The framework for the two new rooms was going well, and then came the hard, driving rains from the northeast on June 23. The bathroom and kitchen ceilings got wet, water blew in all around the kitchen and the kitchen carpet got soaked...again. That required water vacuum rental number two.

The Koesters got home from Lubbock right after the storm. In the street and on the flooded lot floated their lumber. Friends Billy Joe Turner, Jim Warren and Tom Johnson assisted until 1 a.m. gathering up the wet lumber while Diane vacuumed up the water in the house.

Mother Nature took one more swipe at the vulnerable house about 2 or 3 a.m. the next Monday morning. Lockney got two more inches of rain, but the Koesters got more than that in the house when the kitchen ceiling gave way. This time they ripped up the kitchen carpet and declared it ruined.

Ed's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Koester of Tulsa, Oklahoma, arrived here June 28 to help with the house project. Their son Gary had been here a month living in the Gerald Koester's travel trailer parked next to Ed and Diane's rented house.

Things were looking up, work being accomplished....

But Sunday afternoon about 4 o'clock the trailer caught on fire. The fire siren was going off when the Koester women went outdoors to see what the commotion was.

The trailer was ruined, the Gerald Koesters' poodle was killed and their clothing was burned. They think an electrical short might have caused the fire.

Ed and Diane, Gerald and his wife all have expressed appreciation to the concerned people who brought food and clothing after the fire. They commended the fire department for their quick action.

The outside of the house is finished. They've been painting this week. There are still several weeks work remaining on the inside, but when Ed and Diane Koester and their young children Amy, 3, and Kyle, nearly 1, move in they'll be hoping that misfortune has ended.

And their attitude about all that has happened is still good. For them it's more like "I can't believe this is happening" than "poor us".

WAIT A MINUTE, ED — Don't walk under that ladder, it might mean bad luck! Perhaps believing he's had all the bad luck he can possibly have, Ed Koester fearlessly walks under a ladder leaned against the house the Koesters moved into Lockney. See the accompanying story to learn how much bad luck the Koesters have had in connection with the house. (Staff Photo)

NEWS 'N' NOTES

(by Sharon Hillis)

WINDOW WASHING

Schedule window washing as a cleaning priority to rid windows of the last vestiges of winter.

Begin by taking down curtains and draperies. Stand on a sturdy chair or ladder to do this.

Shake out dust from window coverings. Launder or have them dry cleaned if dirty.

Next, dust shades or blinds. Take them down and wash, if necessary. Set aside.

Pick up dirt around the window trim with the crevice tool attachment of the vacuum.

Wash frames and sills with a cloth or sponge and detergent or soap suds. Pipe cleaners, cotton swabs or an old toothbrush help coax dirt from corners.

To wash windows, make a mixture of one tablespoon of ammonia to a quart of water for greasy soil. Use one tablespoon vinegar to a quart of water for windows with hard spots, she continues.

Pour the solution into a clean spray bottle or apply with a clean cloth. Use clean, dry, lintless cloths or paper towels to dry windows.

Or, try a squeegee or windshield wiper. Hold flat against the glass and pull down. Dry the wiper after each stroke.

Use crumpled newspaper to polish the glass. Avoid washing windows in direct sunlight because the glass dries too quickly and causes streaking. Polish windows up and down on one side and back and forth on the other so missed spots and streaks will wipe away more easily.

OUTDOOR ANTENNAS CAN KILL

They must do the same with masts or other devices intended to support these antennas.

HOME GADGETS CAN KILL

Other electrocutions involved hair-care equipment and other devices.

Hair dryers were a major culprit — killing children who dropped a plugged-in hair dryer into a sink full of water or into a bathtub while bathing.

Many appliances can kill when NOT turned on — only PLUGGED IN, Ms. Kerbel warns.

Never leave electrical appliances in the bathroom plugged in, she says.

Even better, do not use electrical appliances in the bathroom.

Industry has agreed to put stronger warnings and more visible markings on hair dryers to caution against their use in or near water.

Still other electric-shock accidents involved drills, saws, other electric power tools, ladders and electric garden equipment, she adds.

The Family-Occasion Cake

Count the birthdays, anniversaries and "just special" occasions when the family has good reason to celebrate. Then, file this jewel of a pudding cake recipe and rely on it to make each a delicious celebration. What makes this cake so simple to prepare is a package of Jell-O pistachio flavored instant pudding and pie filling right from the cupboard shelf. It's combined with yellow cake mix, eggs, sour cream and a little oil and blended together. Part of the cake batter is blended with raspberry preserves and layered between the top and bottom layers, which are all pistachio cake batter. Then, a quick zigzag of a knife through the batter produces the ripple design which bakes into the cake. There's no need to fuss with frosting when just a sprinkling of confectioners sugar adds the crowning touch.

Pistachio Raspberry Ripple Cake

1 package (4-serving size) pistachio flavored instant pudding and pie filling for 4 minutes. Blend preserves into 1 cup of the batter. Pour half the pistachio batter into a greased and floured 10-inch fluted tube pan. Spoon raspberry batter into pan, away from sides of pan. Spoon on remaining pistachio batter. Zigzag a knife through batter to marble. Bake at 350° for 50 minutes, or until cake springs back when lightly touched and pull away from sides of pan. Do not overbake. Bake 15 minutes from pan and cool. In a large bowl, beat 1 egg with 1/4 cup oil. Add 1/2 cup raspberry preserves, 1/2 cup yellow cake mix, 1/2 cup sour cream and 1/2 cup oil. Combine pudding mix, cake mix, eggs, sour cream and oil

SHOWER THE BRIDE WITH GOOD WISHES

The bridal shower—an old-fashioned tradition that's still popular with the modern bride. It's a time when friends and family can "shower" the bride with gifts for her new home and good wishes for the future. An at-home shower is fun for all, including the hostess when she serves dishes that are made ahead with no last minute fussing. "Golden Ring" Salad is perfect for a bridal shower—easy to make and serve, and pretty enough to be the centerpiece.

"GOLDEN RING" SALAD

1 can (16 oz.) pineapple chunks, drained (reserve syrup)
1 can (11 oz.) mandarin oranges, drained (reserve syrup)
2 envelopes Knox® Unflavored Gelatine
1 cup boiling water
1/4 cup lime juice

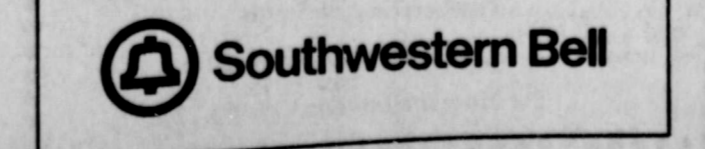

In 5-cup blender, sprinkle unflavored gelatine over reserved syrups; let stand 3 to 4 minutes. Add boiling water and process at low speed until gelatine is completely dissolved, about 2 minutes. Add pineapple, oranges, and lime juice; process at high speed until fruit is pureed, about 2 minutes. Pour into 4-cup ring mold and chill until firm. To serve, unmold onto serving platter; mound your favorite chicken or seafood salad in center. Makes about 8 servings.

Floyd Philosopher

Gets His Mind Off The Energy Shortage

By Reporting On Woodpeckers

Editor's note: The Floyd County Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm talks around the energy problem this week.

Dear editor:
When you're surrounded by something like the energy shortage and can't figure out how to talk your way out of it, a sensible scientist or Congressman or columnist will turn his attention to something else.

For example, woodpeckers. Scientists have been studying woodpeckers and are bewildered by the birds' ability to pound away with machine-gun rapidity at a telephone pole without suffering brain damage.

Using high-speed film they photographed one in action and report his beak hits the wood with an impact speed of 1,300 miles per hour. This, they say, means his head then snaps back with a force 1,000 times the force of gravity. A car, they say, hitting a brick wall at 35 miles per hour hits with a force of 10 times that of gravity.

How, the scientists wonder, can a woodpecker's head sustain a blow 100 times that of a car smashing into a brick wall without suffering brain damage?

This doesn't baffle me. Any creature trying to get something to eat by drilling a hole in a telephone pole with its beak already has brain damage. Probably born with it.

Changing the subject, how many kids do you suppose will tell their teachers next fall they were late for school because their bus had to wait in line to get gas?

Have you stopped to think that if the estimated 50 million people owning power lawnmowers would shut them down and let their grass grow, we'd save at least 500 million gallons of gasoline this summer, and produce enough hay to feed 300 thousand cows next winter? I'd accept a few hundred bales if it's delivered.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

KEEPING COOL

Hot Weather Tips

As the expression goes, cool it—especially in the summer—it's better for your health. Here are some hot tips on keeping cool: Drink an ample amount of water, about 8 glasses a day if you work or play in a high temperature. A cool summer diet: fruits, juices, vegetables, only a limited amount of fatty foods, or iced beverages.

Most men like to look cool, but shaving's an unpleasant task when you've got to work up a steam to lather your face. One answer is an electric razor.

QUERY:

Questions and Answers about managing your money

Question: I've given up hope of getting rich quick, but between income taxes and the Tax Reform Act of 1976, is there any way to get rich at all?

Answer: If, by "getting rich," you mean accumulating wealth, the answer is yes. The American Society of Chartered Life Underwriters points out that qualified retirement plans are still an excellent vehicle. Contributions by an employer to pension or profit-sharing plans are income tax deductible. And the earnings on the funds set aside are income tax free.

Spearfish, S. Dak., experienced a phenomenal 49 degree change in temperature in January 1943, when the thermometer rose from minus 40°F to 45°F in two minutes.

TERRY AND MARY ANN

Through some U.S. Army people under Germany a "hardship tour," Mary Ann and Terry Brown "just love

Germany and Mary Ann Brown have been in Aschaffenburg, West Germany, since late September of 1978. He is a lieutenant with a missile unit. (The missiles are small, mobile nuclear missiles.) They will remain in Germany another 2 1/2 years, living in base quarters at Texas Tech and she taught German since the first of this year at the base in the Department of Education.

Some Americans say that Germans are friendly, but I think that Germans are a restrained people. They wouldn't talk to a German on the street unless they had a good reason. "I haven't had time to speak their language they see me and they treat you fine."

Mary Ann and Terry took a German course at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, and have more courses since arriving there. Although she knows the language, "I can probably understand more than I can speak."

Because of the expense, she retorts, "I can't buy many bargains here. There are not many bargains left here." She says that American personnel can buy food in the base commissary and clothing at prices comparable to those in the U.S.

Mary Ann tells of the army-sponsored tours and resorts. "A day train trip costs only $20, so touring can be very cost effective, and the army operates tours that cost very little for army personnel." They skied often this past winter at Garmish, four or five hours from them, at an army resort.

They plan to travel a good bit, and already been to Switzerland, Austria and France. She spent 10 days with a friend, Terry will get to Crete, near Greece, soon for his missile unit goes there for a target practice.

The Floyd County 4-H Camp at Roaring Springs was rained out Monday night, and the campers were forced to cut short what was to have been a two-day camp after only one afternoon at The Springs.

They managed to get in some swimming, volleyball, horseshoe and washer pitching and a barbecue supper before the rains came, but additional recreation and the 4-H Council installation planned for Monday evening and breakfast, more swimming, and an adult leaders' meeting scheduled for Tuesday were either cancelled or postponed. Forty-two Floyd County 4-H Club members and adult leaders attended the abbreviated camp.

Q: I've been living with a man for three years, and we consider ourselves married although we never got a marriage license or had a wedding. If we decide to split up, do we have to go to court and get a divorce?

A: Because a common law marriage is just as valid as a traditional marriage, a divorce is necessary in both types of marriages. Accordingly, any property or children from either type of marriage must be divided between the husband and wife. Furthermore, neither party is free to re-marry until the common law marriage is dissolved. The law defines a common law marriage as one where the partners agree to marry, hold themselves out as being married, and live together. Contrary to popular belief, there is no minimum number of months or years a couple must live together to have a legal common law marriage.

Q: I was married here in Texas a couple of months ago. I want to keep my maiden name as my legal last name for both personal and business reasons. I still use my maiden name at work and I haven't changed my name on my driver's license. Is this OK?

A: There is no law requiring a wife to use her husband's last name or any particular name for that matter, so long as she is not attempting to defraud creditors. As far as your driver's license goes, the Texas Constitution prohibits governmental agencies from requiring a woman to use the husband's name on official documents, including a driver's license. However, to make sure that merchants carry accounts in the maiden name, you may need an order from a district judge making the decision official.

Q: Can a finance company look to a man for payment of a debt which his ex-wife agreed to assume in their divorce settlement? Both parties had signed at the time of the loan.

A: When a husband and wife sign a note to a creditor, they are jointly liable to the creditor, regardless of whether they later divorce and assign that community debt to the wife. If a creditor successfully sues the wife for payment, but is unable to collect the judgment, the creditor can then seek a judgment against the former husband.

Q: My wife and I are planning to buy a house that is presently under construction. The builder promised us he'll complete the house in 90 days if we'll sign the purchase contract. How can we protect ourselves and make sure he keeps his promise?

A: A promise for a particular completion date should be included in the written purchase contract. Further protection could be achieved by insisting that a damage clause be included in the contract to provide for alternatives in the event he failed to meet the completion deadline. Your lawyer could draft the damage clause to give you the option of rescinding the contract or of collecting damages for the contractor's breach of promise.

Q: A district court has appointed me guardian of the estate of my brother, who is incompetent to handle his own affairs. Does this give me the authority to place my brother in a private home, rest home, or state institution for his physical care?

A: No. Your appointment as guardian of the estate of an incompetent is limited to management of the incompetent person's property. Commitment to a state mental hospital, a private mental hospital or a state facility for the mentally retarded involves a separate proceeding in the county court. The legal requirements for obtaining a commitment order from a county judge vary according to the length of commitment and whether the person is mentally ill or mentally retarded.

Conserving Energy Benefits Everyone

This summer your car's gas tank may have something to say about where you'll spend your vacation or weekend get-aways.

Royal-Globe Insurance Companies remind you there are measures you can take to reduce gasoline consumption and at the same time spend less money—up to $60 annually for car fuel. And, there are ways you can reduce energy costs at home, too.

According to the U.S. Department of Energy, if everybody who operates an automobile, 100 million private cars in the United States, and every light trucker conserved just five percent of the gasoline used, the result would be more than 5.5 billion gallons of gasoline a year. That's enough gas savings to drive the average car coast to coast 25 million times.

One of the best ways to increase your car's fuel efficiency is to drive at a moderate speed, usually 35 to 45 miles per hour. On the highways, hold your speed to 55 m.p.h. Most cars get around 18 percent better mileage at 60 m.p.h. than at 65 m.p.h. and 20 percent better mileage at 55 than at 70 m.p.h.

Try to avoid unnecessary accelerating, braking and tailgating. Start and drive at a smooth and steady pace. Anticipate traffic flow 10 to 12 seconds ahead and maintain a two to three-second buffer space between your car and those around you. Note when a car ahead passes a fixed point and count the seconds until you reach the same mark.

If you expect to wait more than 30 seconds, restarting your car instead of idling will take less gasoline. This is especially useful when waiting in line at a drive-in window. Also driving the car a few miles slowly is more fuel efficient than idling the motor to warm up the car. Now that you've made adjustments in your driving technique, you should consider the importance of the trips you use your car for and decide if you can combine several trips—the grocery store, visiting friends and the post office into one jaunt instead of several. Consider eliminating an unnecessary trip by car. Use your phone or write a letter instead if possible.

About one-third of all private automobile travel is for commuting. If you share the ride, gas savings should amount to half the usual costs. You may want to consider organizing a van-pool, which is a popular trend these days. Take public transit whenever you can. If a large group of friends is planning a trip, a chartered bus will probably be a lot more fun and far less worry.

The effect of all the careful driving and planning will be reduced if the car you drive is not properly maintained. Check tire pressures regularly. Mileage can be im-

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Texas Attorney General Mark White blasted the national energy policy last week, painting a gloomy picture of double-digit inflation and a continued energy crisis.

The crisis brings "economic chaos" at a level of "deeper concerns than Vietnam or Watergate," White told a Young Texas Lawyers convention in San Antonio.

The national policy has a particularly negative impact on the economic vitality of Texas, he told them, and Congress "has not dealt with us (Texas) in an even-handed fashion."

White referred to a series of rulings by the Interstate Commerce Commission which granted increases in coal freight rates... "additional gouges," White called them.

Coal transport rates have risen from less than $8 per ton to more than $18 per ton.

Later this week Governor Bill Clements took advantage of authority given to him by President Jimmy Carter to announce he plans to shift up to five percent of the state's monthly gasoline allocation from low-use rural areas to metropolitan areas.

Clements is considering a plan to require some service stations in big cities to sell gasoline on weekends or not get their share of an additional 40 million gallons of fuel expected to be channeled to the big cities this month.

Kubiak Pushes "Agrihol"

If fuel continues to flow from rural to urban areas, the slack in tractor fuel tanks may be taken up by alcohol fuels, according to one state legislator.

State Rep. Dan Kubiak told a Capitol news conference Tuesday that Texas farmers will one day have "agrifuel" plants on their farms and burn pure grain alcohol in their tractors and farm machinery.

Kubiak also announced he is building a pilot "agrifuel" plant in Milam County to demonstrate how farmers can grow their own fuels. Irked by Clements' veto last month of a Texas A&M University alcohol fuel plant, Kubiak went to farmers and engineers in his district for financial backing for the plant.

Clements, meanwhile, submitted to Environmental Protection Agency officials a Texas plan for complying with federal clean air standards.

If it is not accepted, the state could lose millions in federal funds in highway and sewage treatment plant construction grants and face a ban on building new industrial facilities.

The plan calls for Texas to meet the Clean Air Act of 1970 guidelines through additional pollution controls on refineries, chemical and manufacturing plants and automobile emissions.

Demos Favor Convention
While Texas Republicans will hold a presidential primary election next spring, Democrats will probably choose their delegates to the 1980 Democratic National Convention through the convention system.

The overwhelming sentiment of testimony at a Democratic Party Rules Committee hearing in Houston was that the party reject the idea of a binding presidential primary.

Only one of 21 witnesses opted for the primary: Franklin Garcia of San Antonio who said, "Let the people choose. Period."

On the eve of the Fourth of July, Republican presidential contender John Connally met in Austin with a group of 200 of the state's most powerful lobbyists.

When the group discovered a news reporter in the adjacent room, Connally's microphone was shut off and the press was effectively left out of the meeting.

Clements has also entertained the political movers and shakers lately trying to pay off a $100,000 campaign debt in his 1978 campaign. Attorney General Clements said he will not decide whether to accept the offer until he has consulted with the Noland.

Predictions And Projections For Aquifer

Two reports published by the Texas Department of Water Resources predict the depletion of and the possible replenishing of the South Plains Ogallala Aquifer, the major source of ground water in this area, according to a recent South Plains Association of Governments bulletin.

Report 222, an analytical study of the Ogallala Aquifer in Terry County, charted the impact and future course of underground water depletion through the next 44 years and its effect on irrigation water production, the bulletin said.

If present water use and irrigation practices are continued, the report claimed, the aquifer will decline an estimated 44 percent by the year 2,000 and approximately 63 percent twenty years after that.

Report 222 pointed out that during the past 30 years the withdrawal of ground water from the aquifer greatly exceeded the formation's natural recharging abilities, a trend which seriously threatens to end future irrigation. The aquifer, Report 222 said, is literally the lifeblood of the area's agriculture, where nearly 70 percent of the state's irrigated food and fiber is grown.

Report 220, however, described methods and techniques which can artificially aid in recharging the aquifer, primarily with water from playa lakes. Compiled by the U.S. Geological Survey, the report supported such artificial means as being a manageable and significant technique for this area.

Recharge from the lakes would consist of either water-spreading basins which would allow water to infiltrate the aquifer, or injection wells to deposit water directly into the formation.

Both reports are available without charge from the Texas Department of Water Resources, P.O. Box 13087, Austin, Tex. 78711.

Energy Benefits Ever

...ing it will take less gasoline. This is especially useful when waiting in line at a drive-in window. Also driving the car a few miles slowly is more fuel efficient than idling the motor to warm up the car. Now that you've made adjustments in your driving technique, you should consider the importance of the trips you use your car for and decide if you can combine several trips—the grocery store, visiting friends and the post office into one jaunt instead of several. Consider eliminating an unnecessary trip by car. Use your phone or write a letter instead if possible.

About one-third of all private automobile travel is for commuting. If you share the ride, gas savings should amount to half the usual costs. You may want to consider organizing a van-pool, which is a popular trend these days. Take public transit whenever you can. If a large group of friends is planning a trip, a chartered bus will probably be a lot more fun and far less worry.

The effect of all the careful driving and planning will be reduced if the car you drive is not properly maintained. Check tire pressures regularly. Mileage can be improved on every two pounds of pressure needed on your tires up to 10 percent.

Make sure your brakes are properly adjusted and release properly. Consider a tune-up your car is having. Hesitates, sputters, idles roughly, you are losing gas mileage.

When you remember overworn house is expensive. Air conditioning temperatures six degrees above 72 degrees Fahrenheit will use 72 percent more energy than 72 degrees.

Consider if you are using your air conditioning when you are not home. Turn it off when you are not home. Consider if you are using your air conditioning when you are not home. Turn it off when you are not home.

Social Security, VA Benefits Increase

A cost of living increase in Social Security benefits went into effect June 1, 1979. According to D.G. Ayres, Service Officer for Floyd County, this increase was 9.9 percent, and is the first such raise since the Veterans Administration pension reform bill went into effect January 1, 1979. Included in this pension was a provision for VA benefits to be increased at the same percentage that Social Security was raised.

Public Law 95-588, which went into effect January 1, 1979, provides a new pension program for wartime veterans and their dependent and surviving spouses and minor children. Persons who were receiving pension under a previous VA law were given the choice of remaining as they are or changing to the new law, whichever is to their advantage. Once an election has been made to receive under the new pension law, a person cannot revert back to an earlier law. Also, any such pensioner who makes the election prior to October 1, 1979, will be eligible for retroactive benefits back to January 1, 1979. Any election made after that date will become effective only from the date it is received by the Veterans Administration.

Since there will be a annual increase in the cost of living, it will be to the advantage of claimants to change to the new law. However, will have to pay their older law in order to receive the level of benefits that persons considering a change should seek counseling from their local Service Officer before final determination.

Postal Service Slates

Odd Mail Deadline

U.S. Postal patrons have until July 15 to use up all their odd sized stationery, according to Postmaster Douglas Meriwether.

After that date, mail measuring less than three and one half inches by five inches will not be deliverable and will be returned to the sender. Letters with no return address will be forwarded to the "dead letter office."

First class envelopes measuring less than 6 1/8 inches by 11 1/2 inches will be assessed a seven cent surcharge if they fail to meet the one-ounce minimum. These pieces will be returned to their address of origin and can be remailed after the surcharge is added.

Thin or flimsy cards and folded sheets of paper are also prohibited under the new regulations. After July 15, the cards must be at least seven thousandths (.007) of an inch thick. Folded sheets must be enveloped.

Washington, D.C. — In ancient Greece the messenger of bad news was often beaten and sometimes even killed. In 5000 years of civilization human nature has changed very little and we still often accuse the messenger instead of the culprit.

For many years now energy experts have been telling us that if we continue the current regulatory policy of allowing cheap energy, we will eventually face a large shortage of hydrocarbon fuels. This is what is happening today. We are consuming fossil fuels at a rate that is one million times faster than it took nature to produce them and nothing will change the reality of the shortage — no matter who we blame or how much the issue becomes a victim to demagoguery.

The decisions on how to deal with the current shortage now rest with our elected officials. President Carter recently proposed a plan to decontrol oil prices which I support. This proposal will save thousands of marginal wells which only produce 35 barrels a day or less. These wells have been abandoned in past years because they were losing money. Federal pricing policies only allow them to receive $5.86 a barrel while we were paying many times that for foreign oil. This new policy will allow domestic producers to recover billions of barrels of oil that otherwise would not have been retrieved. There will be a small inflationary effect but this will be offset by a reduction in import costs and a strengthening of the dollar. When President Carter announced his decontrol decision it was hailed by most leaders of industrialized countries and confidence in the dollar was increased. Our energy goals should be conservation, increased production, less control.

If you put $50 a month in a 5 1/4 percent savings account you will have $3,408 after five years and $7,825 after ten years.

Washington, D.C. — In ancient Greece the messenger of bad news was often beaten or sometimes even killed. In 20 years of civilization man's nature has changed very little and we still often accuse the messenger instead of the culprit.

For many years now energy reports have been telling us that if we continue the current regulatory policy of allowing cap energy, we will eventually face a large shortage of oil. This is what is happening today. We are consuming fossil fuels at a rate that is one million times more than it took nature to produce them and nothing will change the reality of the shortage — no matter who we blame or how much the issue comes victim to sabotage.

This new policy will allow domestic producers to produce billions of barrels of oil otherwise would not have been retrieved. There will be an inflationary effect but it will be offset by a reduction in import costs and a strengthening of the dollar.

President Carter announced his decontrol decision hailed by most leaders of industrialized countries and our own. Our energy goals are conservation, increased production, less reliance on imported oil, development of sources of energy that are not depletable, and utility of these aims would be decontrol.

Most of the industry will be dependent on the usual small producers who take great pride in their work and all exploratory work drilled by the industry. Eight of nine holes are dry and those that are successful pay over profits in taxes. We should encourage people to find more oil. If we restrain the rate of production and force many companies to leave the market and the centralized industry competition, very long and gas intensive.

The Congress is considering a new tax. This tax is based on profits and is a permanent federal oil tax on domestic oil production. It will increase the consumer and also needed revenues for production. According to U.S. Census Bureau data producers have invested in the oil industry more than 100% of their revenues in finding and producing domestic oil. It is our resource that allowed these investments. If America is to remain the dominant world, we must economically independent foreign suppliers. We can solve our energy crisis by being one of our great defense, economy and even our freedom of the hands of foreign control.

Encouraging News About Our Energy Supply
FLIPPING THE SWITCH
Most people's knowledge of electricity is limited — flip a switch, a light goes on. What's electricity? Converted energy. How's it made? A generator has two main parts: a rotor (a big magnet) and a stator (coils of copper surrounding the rotor). When the rotor rotates, the moving magnetic field produces electricity in the copper wire.

There's more to it than flipping a switch.
What makes the rotor rotate? Fuel (coal, oil, natural gas, uranium) is used to heat water in boilers. Heat changes water to steam which turns the turbine which spins the rotor to generate electricity.

So when you flip the switch, the electricity is delivered to you at nearly the speed of light — 186,000 miles a second. You pay for it on a basis of 1,000 kilowatts per hour.

Will it always be thus? According to the Edison Electric Institute, there appears to be an adequate electric supply at least through 1985.

The electric industry keeps building with an eye on the future. From 1978 through 1992, it expects to spend $850 billion for new construction. Electric utilities will be responsible for at least a third, possibly half, of all business financing during the next decade and a half, to expand facilities needed to fuel our nation's economy and provide jobs and consumer products in the years ahead.
