Winter ice storm 'socks in' Floyd County

A cloud of ice hovered over Floyd County the first half of this week, bringing essential services and bringing travel into and out of the county to a halt.

The electricity was off in Lockney for about an hour Tuesday night. The lights went out shortly after 10 p.m., and service was restored about 11.

Lighthouse Electric reported that the McAdoo and Providence communities suffered major power losses Tuesday, with a large number of lines down.

The situation worsened Wednesday when the transmission lines to the substations stopped working, causing even more outages. The damage became so widespread that the power cooperative had to call in outside crews to help restore power.

LADEN WITH ICE, some utility poles and wires in Floyd County didn't stand the strain as well as the ones pictured here, and some areas were without electricity and telephone service during the winter storm.

Floydada residents experienced several shorter power losses. Power department crews restored service twice on Wednesday morning. All three incidents lasted about 30 minutes each.

The rural areas of the county were hit by the three-day accumulation of ice, with some communities going without electric power since Tuesday morning.

Lockney schools ran on abbreviated schedules Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Students were dismissed at 2:45 Monday, and school started late (at 10 a.m.) on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Superintendent W.H. Hallmark said the decision to shorten school hours was made in the hopes of encouraging parents to send their children to school.

SPS to seek electricity rate increase

Southwestern Public Service Company announced Monday that it needs to increase its retail rates by 14.78 percent to the customers in Texas served by the electric company.

letting us use their money and our ability to deliver electricity to our customers will be limited.

existing rates being charged to all Texas retail customers. SPS projected revenues for 1979 will be less than the cost of service to those customers by $42,657,065.

The last base rate increase in Southwestern's rates for retail service was based on 1977 costs and went into effect in October 1978 and amounted to about seven percent.

The Lockney Independent School District board of trustees accepted a bid of $6,504.79 from Bacuss Motor Company for a new driver education car in a special called meeting last week.

Information outlining Southwestern's needs was presented to city officials in this area Monday. Formal filing with all regulatory bodies is pending.

And every one of us is affected by the change in the way we make electricity. We must build coal-fired plants instead of the conventional gas-fired plants because of cost, supply and government regulation.

The 14.78 percent increase is an average for all types or classes of customers. The increase will vary from one rate class to another. For example, the customer that uses 500 units of electrical energy per month would have an increase of $5.43 per month.

Even with the ice on the streets, Cannon said, buses had experienced no problems.

Bacuss' bid for a Ford Grananda was selected over several other bids submitted to the school board.

Every one of us is affected by inflation including SPS," Ballengee said. "As our costs for making and delivering electricity continue to go up, the price must also go up."

Ballengee also said that based on

The increase in rates would not affect the rates charged to wholesale power customers.

Every one of us is also affected by high money costs, including SPS. When we borrow money at today's second high interest rates, or sell stock, people are actually letting us use their money to build new power plants and lines and to build new equipment. If we do not give them a reasonable return on our investment, the people will stop gold buyers should now have a better knowledge of farming

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on White River discusses gold and hogs the week we believe.

Dear editor:
People who've been buying gold should now have a much better understanding of farming.

In one day last week the price of gold dropped $143 an ounce, or $2288 a pound. Gold-buyers, especially those who has just paid over $700 an ounce for the stuff before it dropped, were panic-stricken, acting, as the phrase goes, like a chicken with its head cut off.

So what? It happens all the time in farming. You never know from one day to the next what the market's going to do. The price of hogs or cattle or grain or whatever may drop today, go up a little tomorrow, slide the day after or recover, all within three days. What it'll be six months from now is a wild guess, with the buyers somehow always out-guessing the producers.

Now I don't know what causes the fluctuations in the price of gold, or the fluctuations in the price of farm products, but I can tell you why the fluctuation in farm products are rarely reflected in the supermarket.

It's because the middleman keeps up with the market reports only half the time. Hogs can drop $10 a hundred but the middleman, too busy that day to check the market, goes right on charging the same old price for bacon. But let hog prices go up a little and up goes the price of bacon.

I don't know why middlemen don't read the market reports every day.

As for the gold-buyer, I can't figure them out. Regardless of how many sweets the kids of the world are eating, I don't believe the number of teeth needing gold caps in the next few years is going to increase astronomically enough to justify such a demand for the stuff. I believe hogs would be a more stable investment. You've never heard of the price of hog droppings $143 an ounce in one day.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Letter to the editor

Dear Editor of Lockney Beacon:
I would like to say a Big Thank You! to all the people of Lockney. You have an unusual town and one to be proud of as you all showed such love, kindness and special consideration to my daughter Joan Rogers and her entire family during the illness and death of her husband Burl Rogers. I shall always have a special place in my heart and thank my God for all the people of Lockney.

I would like to extend a special thanks to Rev. and Mrs. Jenkins, First Baptist Church; Moore-Rose Funeral Home, Dr. and Mrs. Mangold, Dr. and Mrs. G. Mangold.

May God richly bless your fine town and all its people.

Thank You

Longhorns down Idalou in overtime

The Longhorn basketball team defeated Idalou 58-57 here Friday night in an overtime thriller of a basketball game. The win evened Lockney's first-round district record at 2-2. The score was knotted at 52-all at the end of regulation. Nick Christian and Jeffrey McCormick hit crucial free throws, and Kevin Evans made the final one-pointer in the overtime period. The 'Horns were nine points down at the beginning of the fourth quarter. McCormick and Steve Warren led the Longhorns in scoring with 14 points apiece. Evans and John Cummings pulled down 13 and 12 rebounds respectively to lead the 'Horns in that department. Everybody on the team played well and contributed, coach Ed Koester said.

JV girls nudge Idalou

Lockney High School's junior varsity girls' basketball team beat Idalou 39-36 here Friday night. It was a close contest all the way, but Lockney managed to stay ahead most of the time. Quarter scores were (Lockney first) 5-5, 21-9, 27-25, and the final 39-36. Karen Mathis was tops in the scoring department for Lockney with 14 points. Elizabeth Mathis had nine, Rhonda Brotherton six, Kay Reay and Antonia Luna four each, and Patricia Torrez two.

Lady Horns whip Wildcat girls

After a lackluster first half last Friday night, Lockney's Lady Horns found the spark in the final two periods and posted a 53-38 District 4-AA basketball victory over Idalou.

"We just stood and watched the first half of the game," Lockney coach Marsha Sharp said. "But I thought we played really well in the second half." The Lady Horns "won" the second half by a score of 32-16.

Sharp said the Lockney team did a "great job" at the free-throw line, where they went 27-for-38 (71 percent). Tammy Hayes and Julie Frizzell were perfect at the line, Hayes with four shots and Frizzell with eight.

Frizzell was Lockney's high scorer with 18 points. Rebecca Evans scored eight, Hayes six, Penny Sterling and Connie Coffman five each, and Susan Fitzgerald one.

Evans, Lockney's top scorer so far this season, was triple-teamed by Idalou Friday night (she routinely double-teamed by Lockney opponents.) That limited her personal scoring output, but she got the ball to other team members, who found themselves four-on-two against the Wildcat girls and were able to score easily once the team came to life in the second half.

It was probably Frizzell's best game of the year, Sharp said. She not only scored but also played good defense and advanced the ball well against the press. Sterling also played good defense in addition to scoring her five points.

Lady Horns 1-2 in ninth-grade tournament

Lockney girls won one game and lost two in a ninth-grade basketball tournament at Crosbyton last week. The Lady Horns lost to Floydada in the Thursday game and to Abernathy Saturday morning. They were edged by Frenship Friday afternoon.

Lockney were Doreen Alaniz, six points; Kay Reay, four; Robin Hardy, two; and Karen Mathis, one. Floydada led 17-9 at halftime.

Elizabeth Mathis duplicated her 13-point scoring total Saturday morning, when the Lady Horns notched a 36-20 victory over Abernathy. Karen Mathis was close behind with 11, Alaniz netted six, and Hardy, Reay and Mary Huffman chipped in with two each.

A 25-21 loss to Frenship eliminated the Lady Horns from the tournament. The Lockney girls owned a 15-14 advantage starting the fourth quarter, but Frenship outscored them 11-6 in the final frame. Elizabeth Mathis paced Lockney with 11 points. Karen Mathis and Reay had four each, and Alaniz added two.

Eighth-grade 'Horns win consolation at Lorenzo

Lockney eighth-grade boys took consolation honors in a basketball tournament at Lorenzo last week. The Short-horn eighth lost to Tahoka and defeated Ralls and Cooper to claim the consolation trophy.

Tahoka won the Thursday game 40-28. Robert Rendon was high-point man for Lockney with 12 points. Cooke Vasquez led in rebounding with five grabs.

It was Lockney 30, Ralls 21 in the Friday contest. Rendon paced Lockney with 15 points, and Jackie Cunyus came down with eight rebounds.

In the consolation finals Saturday, the Short-horns claimed a 30-26 victory. Cunyus netted 11 points, and Hector Molina got six rebounds for Lockney.

Supreme As A Side Dish

Vegetable dishes are fine examples of what can do for food. It would be hard to find a vegetable course or as an entree accompaniment. Take beautiful carrots fresh from the garden and team them with packaged enriched pre-cooked rice for a flavorful and handsome blend. Carrot Rice Supreme takes very little time to prepare and is a welcome part of a light summer menu.

Carrot Rice Supreme

1-1/2 cups sliced raw carrots
 1-1/2 cup orange juice
 1/3 cup raisins (optional)

1 cup packaged pre-cooked rice
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup oil

Cook carrots in saucepan with water to cover about 10 minutes. Drain, reserving 3/4 cup liquid. Measure liquid, orange juice and raisins in saucepan to a boil. Stir in rice and orange rind. Remove cover and let stand 5 minutes. Stir in carrots. Serves 4 or 4 servings.

MRS. RICHARD KIRBY FORD

Miss Greene, Ford exchange vows in McAllen

Miss Robin Elizabeth Greene and Richard Kirby Ford exchanged wedding vows Saturday, January 5 in the First Free Will Baptist Church in McAllen. Reverend Larry Powell officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dunham G. Greene of McAllen; and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. Ford of Lockney.

The church was decorated with a large arrangement of white spidermums, blue carnations and white gladioli flanked by candelabras. Music was provided by George Launer.

The bride wore a gown of satin with chiffon overlay fashioned in an empire silhouette. The bodice was lavishly adorned with lace details and featured a scoop neckline and bishop sleeves accented with lace appliques. The skirt fell softly to a flounce and widened in back to a chapel train. She wore a Juliet lace cap from which fell a waltz length veil of English illusion. Her bouquet was a cascade with a white orchid surrounded by white silk roses.

For "something old," the bride wore a sixpence in her shoe. "Something new" was her dress; "something borrowed," a pearl necklace belonging to her mother; and she wore a blue garter.

Maid of honor was Miss Lori P. Evans of Agua Dulce; and Miss Denise G. Crawford served as bridesmaid. They wore dresses of Roman blue silk organza over taffeta, with a ruffle falling from the side-wrap skirt and continuing to the ruffle at the hemline. They carried white roses with baby's breath and streamers.

Richard W. Hrbacek of Lockney was best man. Groomsman was a Evan Micheal Ford, brother of the groom of Lockney; and Mike Chandler and Randy Ford were ushers.

The bride's mother wore a pleated chiffon plum colored dress with a cowl neckline and a white cymbidium orchid corsage. The groom's mother wore a white cymbidium orchid corsage and a floor-length rust colored dress.

Following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. Mrs. Laura L. Slacum presided at the guest book; and Miss Melissa A. Greene and Miss Karen Ford handed out roses filled with rice.

The table was skirted in white with blue trim. A large arrangement of white and blue flowers surrounded by candelabras also adorned the table. A three-tiered fountain wedding cake was decorated with blue roses and topped with a canopy of satin blossoms and leaves encircling a pair of fluttering white doves perched upon two wedding bands.

Following a wedding trip to Pocono Mountains in Pennsylvania, the couple are at home in Bryan. The bride is a graduate of McAllen High School and a senior at Texas A&M. The groom is a graduate of Lockney High School, and is an agricultural education major at Texas A&M. He is employed by the Southland Corporation.

Special guests at the wedding were grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Webb of Daytona Beach, Florida; Mr. and Mrs. R.H. Ford of Lockney; and Mr. Kirby Ford, also of Lockney.

Pre-nuptial Courtship
A miscellaneous shower was given by Misses Lori Evens, Denise Crawford, and Julie Stone. The women of the First Free Will Baptist Church also hosted a miscellaneous shower.

A rehearsal dinner was held at the Caravey Inn, and was hosted by the family of the groom.

TANNED NUT WITH A SMILE NOW GROWS IN CALIFORNIA

Pistachio connoisseurs have reason to celebrate. California pistachio growers have just harvested their first major crop — over 12 million pounds, and it's only a beginning for the infant industry. Within a decade, California is expected to be the world leader in pistachio production, according to the California Pistachio Association, a non-profit organization of growers.

Pistachios traditionally have been grown in the Middle East, particularly Iran and Turkey. Unrest in Iran has virtually cut off the supply of nuts imported from that country, but California's crop will be able to fill much of the expected shortage in the United States. The domestic pistachio industry really began in the early 1970's when California farmers planted about 31,000 acres of trees. Since the tree takes about five years to produce nuts and gradually increases its yield until it reaches maturity in 20 to 40 years, this crop is the first of many that will fill nut bowls throughout the world.

Pistachios are one of the most ancient of mankind's snacks, dating back almost 4,000 years. The oval nut with the rich, green nut meat is as common to many persons around the world as the potato chip is to Americans. It is the only pre-cracked, or smiling, nut so its ease in eating makes it a natural as a snack.

Pistachios also are found in gourmet cooking world wide. The distinctive bright green nut is found in pastries (baklava), cakes, pates, pesto, sausage, breads, meat dishes, and other foods. Actually, pistachios can be used in any recipe calling for nuts, and will lend a delicately different flavor.

The United States, a frigate launched about 1794, was the first vessel built in the official new nation.

EYE ON TV

Although television was invented back in the 1920s and now reaches almost every home, the National Society to Prevent Blindness says there's more we should know about watching it than just turning the dial.

For one thing, despite what some believe, you cannot "wear out" healthy eyes watching television.

But, to avoid TV fatigue, be sure that the picture is in clear focus, there is correct lighting in the room, you are sitting the right distance from the screen and the set is positioned correctly. Give your eyes periodic rests when you are watching a lot.

If you suffer discomfort after watching TV, and the set and setting are correct, you may have an eye problem that needs professional attention.

Old age can be beautiful

Old age — it's something all of us are going to face at some time. And although few of us expect it to be the highlight of our lives, when you consider the alternatives, old age isn't such a bad thing — or is it?

More and more today, society tends to shuttle its elderly to nursing homes — whether they really need the medical care or not. There, out of sight and out of mind, the elderly, who could contribute so much to the lives of others, live out the rest of their days in uselessness and futility.

But there are alternatives, according to Norma Whiteley, social worker for the Texas Department of Human Resources in Floydada. Ms. Whiteley explained that TDHR is attempting to expand its services to the elderly by providing alternatives to nursing home care.

"With a little help, many elderly people who would otherwise have to go to nursing homes, can remain in their own homes or their own communities," she said. Help may be in the form of assistance with such personal care as bathing, exercising and taking medication, or household tasks such as cooking, cleaning, laundry, shopping, minor home repairs and yard work.

"One alternative that we're trying to make available in the Floydada area," Ms. Whiteley said, "is foster care." The foster care program provides 24-hour care in a family home approved and supervised by TDHR. It is for older people who are in pretty good health, but just need some assistance with day-to-day activities, or just don't have a home.

The foster homes are carefully studied and then licensed once it is established that they meet Departmental qualifications, she explained. The cost of the care is shared by the individual and the Department of Human Resources. The program benefits both the individual as well as the foster family. The foster benefits from the family atmosphere while the foster family benefits from the company and life experience of the elderly person.

"In those cases where the client does not have a nursing home, the provider gets a share with, and the state pays more than nursing home," she explained. "There are about 100 people who are in foster homes. We just have people in the area who are aware of the program sounds like TDHR anti-nursing-home program is not the case," said Ms. Whiteley.

Many elderly people who really need to continue to meet the needs of many elderly people who really need to discuss making a foster home available in the area. Whiteley in 983-2280.

Eyes and answers

Dr. A. Petley, O.D. PROBLEM Dr. Petley: I go crazy when I walk out into the sun. I don't wear dark sunglasses and my eyes hurt. What can I do?

There are other people who share your problem. Ask yourself these questions: Do I have a chronic eye problem, such as glaucoma, cataracts, or like stomachache, urination, arthritis, or physical distress? Has my optometrist diagnosed hyperopia?

There are a number of us who are interested in examining a light patient. If the problem is in conjunction with any of those symptoms, it is promptly to a physician to check for allergies or any other symptom he deems necessary to investigate. Before referring the patient, however, we make a thorough eye and vision examination to be certain there is no cause of the symptoms arising from the vision functions.

There are so many elements in the human body that can cause glare problems, we are most cautious in declaring a cause. Sometimes, dark lenses may bring comfort but actually be harmful by covering up the cause of the problem. That could be compared to the use of a pain reliever for headache without looking into the cause of the headache; such care could be dangerous.

Predator control spurs debate

Debate between livestock producers and environmentalists during the recent Predator Control Conference produced some lively discussions as well as several suggestions for future action.

According to the meeting organizer, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. ...

Findings of the Jan-conference will be reported into a report which will be distributed statewide to the U.S. Department of the Interior Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

It is expected that the report will add further to the contention of livestock producers that immediate, effective action is needed to stop the loss of millions of dollars in livestock each year.

Environmentalists in the livestock industry believe that the report will be more specific regarding the problem of predator control.

The actual extent of predator control; verification of the extent of predator control; and non-lethal methods of controlling predators.

Compound 1080, a highly toxic but effective control substance which has been banned by the EPA. The new policy also eliminated the practice of denning or killing coyote pups. He also noted that federal policy will focus on specific areas of the country where livestock losses due to coyotes have been substantial.

Andrus said no other immediate changes in animal control techniques will take place. These include the use of animal damage control specialists, trap, M-44 devices, and aerial hunting.

Losses nationwide to predators vary greatly. Around 48 percent of lambs and 1 1/2 percent of ewes are believed to be killed annually by predators. The figure is considerably higher in some areas and lower in others.

In Texas, predators were responsible for 58 percent of sheep and lamb losses of 1978 compared to 25 percent in 1967. Goat and kid deaths from predators amounted to 72 percent compared to 45 percent in 1967. Coyotes were the largest single cause, killing 24 percent of all sheep and goats.

Financial losses amount to $13 million in the Texas sheep and goat industry, excluding allowances for wool and mohair, with losses by all Texas livestock producers estimated at $21 million annually.

New director named

Maby Peel has been named Director of Sales and Marketing for Growers Seed Association, effective January 27, 1980.

The announcement was made by George B. Babcock, executive vice-president and general manager of the Lubbock-based company. According to Babcock, Peel will be coordinating marketing activities for Growers Seed while supervising sales and advertising.

Peel brings more than 20 years of experience in sales and advertising to Growers Seed, having worked with two other major seed companies in Lubbock since 1960. Peel attended New Mexico Military Institute in Roswell, New Mexico where he earned a Bachelor of Science degree in 1952. He served as an Army officer during the Korean War.

Peel, 48, is currently a member of the Lubbock Advertising Federation and the Lubbock Agriculture Club, and has served both organizations as its president. He also holds membership in several civic organizations in Lubbock.

Plan ahead for bountiful future

Planting a fruit or nut tree with a hopeful eye on its potential beauty, economy, and production carries with it all the care and responsibility of any agricultural undertaking. Careful forethought before planting as well as wise attention afterwards are needed to ensure a healthy and bountiful future.

CHOOSE WISELY—The first consideration, of course, is the local climate; no matter how much you may like citrus fruit, if your house is located in the Panhandle, you'll need to pick another, type of tree suited to growing conditions there.

Commercial nurseries are the best sources for young trees. Not only does their annual inspection by the Texas Department of Agriculture help to ensure healthy stock; they are also able to give sound advice tailored to your locale. Take into consideration the amount of care required for different types of trees in making your decision. Pears for instance, require less care than many other fruits and nuts, while those apple varieties which have been adapted for Texas need a great deal of special care to produce.

Remember, also that while some bear fruit through self-pollination or without pollination (including almost all citrus trees, quinces, apricots, figs, peaches, and European-type plums), most fruit trees need to be pollinated in order to bear. Included among those requiring either a male and female of one variety or two different varieties in order to produce are apples, pears and Japanese and American plums.

Perhaps the most popular fruit tree in Texas, able to grow in almost every part of the state, is the pecan, and numerous varieties are available from which to choose. Peaches are another very popular Texas fruit tree, with the freestone varieties planted for fresh fruit and the clingstones for canning. Plum varieties need to be carefully selected for each growing area while the most common pear variety in the state is the Bartlett.

PLANT CAREFULLY—Young trees must be dormant when planted. Fall and winter are traditional planting times for most of Texas but trees can also be planted in the early spring if kept dormant until that time. Keep the roots moist and cool and, if the roots do become dry, soak before planting.

The location is of paramount importance for the future growth and production of the tree; fruit and nut trees need full sunlight for best production (avoiding the shade of building and other trees), and also require adequate space for the development of their root systems. The old saw that "it is better to put a $5 tree in a $30 hole than a $30 tree in a $5 hole," holds very true for fruit and nut varieties. Before planting, it may be necessary to build up deficiencies in the soil; consult your nurseryman or county agent for advice on the soil in your neighborhood. Good aeration of the soil is also essential for root development and if the subsoil is heavy, it may be necessary to mix it with peat moss soaked in water.

Dig the hole somewhat deeper and larger than needed to encompass the root system. Trim off any broken or injured roots before placing into the hole. The soil should then be packed firmly around and soaked to a depth of five inches, adding extra soil if settling occurs. Soil around the tree base, covered in an area extending at least three to four feet from the trunk, should be cultivated with the use of herbicides or by mulching with straw or other vegetable matter. Cultivation is necessary to keep the area free of weeds and sod and to control other vegetation which would compete with the young tree.

WATCH CLOSELY—As with most young growing things, the care received by your tree in its first year of life is crucial in determining its future longevity, hardiness, and productive capabilities. Judicious fertilizing shortly after planting, and especially in the early spring, is a must; equally important is an ample soil moisture with adequate drainage so that the tree won't become waterlogged.

Varieties vary in their susceptibility or immunity to insects and diseases and your nurseryman is a good source for information about needed pesticides. It is important to remember, though, that insecticides should not be applied during the spring blossom period because they may interfere with the activity of bees and other insects essential to the pollination process. Some of the worst damage to young trees can be caused by pets, birds, squirrels, and people and precautions must be taken to protect your investment in the future.

For additional information about planting and caring for fruit and nut trees, as well as a host of other gardening tips, write for a free copy of "Tips for Texans on Lawn and Garden Care," available from the Texas Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

Water district approves grant

The Board of Directors of the High Plains Underground Water District have approved the acceptance of a 20 thousand dollar matching energy conservation grant from the Texas Energy and Natural Resources Advisory Council (TENRAC) to evaluate the efficiency of irrigation wells on the Southern High Plains of Texas.

The grant comes from the U.S. Department of Energy through TENRAC to the District. The District in turn expects to conduct irrigation efficiency tests on at least 60 randomly selected wells in their 15-county service area this spring and summer. Preliminary calculations indicate that hundreds of thousands of dollars in savings could be achieved by High Plains irrigators by making improvements in the efficiency of their pumping plants.

The district has several objectives in accepting the energy conservation grant. The first is to convey to the irrigator the importance of considering pump plant efficiencies as a potential area for energy and cost savings. Secondly, the project will demonstrate those potential savings and develop a simple procedure for evaluations irrigation well pump plant efficiencies.

The district personnel realize that this project can only scratch the surface of the job to be done, and will work to establish a training base of experienced resource people who can continue this spearhead effort. The grant calls for developing a procedural manual to train the staff of the District and its cooperators in how to conduct these efficiency tests and to make proper interpretations of the test data.

There are more than seventy thousand wells on the Southern High Plains. This grant can only represent a good start. But the Water District Board feels that it is a service they can provide, and it offers tremendous potential for energy and cash savings to producers who are continually impacted by the escalating energy crunch. Those estimated savings from improvements on many wells have a potential payback time of often less than one year and can mean a slash of ten to fifty percent on the annual fuel bill.

Public comment sought on 1980 cotton program

The public may submit through Feb. 19 recommendations concerning the loan level and payment rate for the 1980 crop of extra long staple cotton.

The total price support level for this cotton is based on the parity price and may be set between 55 percent and 90 percent of parity, according to Ray Fitzgerald, administrator of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's (USDA) Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS).

The extra long staple cotton loan level must be set between 185 and 235 percent of the 1980 national average loan level of 48 cents per pound for strict long middling 1-1/16 inch upland cotton, adjusted to average micronaire, Fitzgerald explained. If the loan level is established at less than the total support level, the difference is paid to extra long staple cotton producers as support payments, he said.

Prior to making 1980 extra long staple cotton program determinations, the secretary of agriculture will consider any written recommendation received by Feb. 19 by the director, production adjustment division, USDA-ASCS, P.O. Box 2415, Washington, D.C. 20013.

Chambers memorial gift aids pediatric orthopaedics

A family gift in memory of Dorothy Underwood Chambers will help expand pediatric orthopaedic services at Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center.

This gift will allow purchase of special equipment which will enable the orthopaedic staff to provide care for children who formerly had to go to Dallas, Houston and Galveston for management of skeletal, joint and muscular disorders.

According to William W. Robertson, M.D., the pediatric orthopaedic surgeon at Texas Tech, the gift will allow the staff at the medical school to treat such conditions as spinal curvatures, leg length differences, and difficult hip problems in children.

The surgical equipment will be installed in the orthopaedic surgery suite of the Health Sciences Hospital in Lubbock. A plaque commemorating the memorial will be permanently displayed in the Orthopaedic Surgery Department at the Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center.

CARDS OF THANKS

I want to express my appreciation to my friends and loved ones for their kindnesses and love they showed to me while I was in hospital. Their visits, gifts and flowers meant much to me. I also want to express special thanks to the very nurses and to Dr. [Name] for their wonderful services, and to Mrs. A.B. [Name], who stayed nights to help after I returned home. Each one I wish a happy new year and say God bless each and every one.

Sincerely
Rebekah Smith
