The Floyd County Commissioners in regular session last week met with Mrs. Janice Lloyd and several community leaders about the Q.A. & P. Depot as a proposed library for Floyd County Judge Smith presented to the court and group a letter which he received March 18, 1980 from Donald E. Ransom, Assistant General Counsel of the St. Louis-San Francisco Railway Co., stating that they would donate the Q.A. &

P. Depot at Floydada to Floyd County. Mrs. Lloyd, representing "Friends of the Library", stated that it would be possible to get a government grant of matching funds to renovate the depot to be used as a county library. The approximate cost of the project would be $60,000. The "Friends of the Library", she stated, would be able to raise the $30,000 necessary for the matching of funds. She asked the commissioners to approve a budget enlargement for the county library to maintain the building. This would include the heating and cooling for the building, janitorial service and insurance. Commissioner Jack Lackey brought up the question of land deed; how many years would be included in the lease agreement and at what price. Judge Smith said he thought the lease would be for a number of years and that the price would be nominal.

Mrs. Lloyd said that the Friends of the Library would not be able to get the government grant themselves because t has to be submitted by the Floyd County Historical Commission. She stated that many people are denied access to the county library in the court house because of the stairs and that a small child had fallen down the stairs recently. She also stated that the present site of the library allows no room to expand the library facilities. She said that all her group was asking for was the maintenance funds. Commissioner Jack Lackey stated flatly that the County does not have the extra funds for the maintenance of the building. The county has loaded themselves down with the remodeling of the jail house, and didn't have any choice in the matter of redoing the jail. Lackey also said that this is one of the few counties that can pay their bills.

Jim Word, representing the Floyd County Historical Commission brought up the fact that the library has to continue to grow and that if it doesn't it will stagnate. The longer library expansion is put off the more it will cost, he

Lab Week Observed

The purpose of National Laboratories Week, is to help make the public aware of the different aspects of the Clinical

There are several mistaken views seen by the patients who have contact with the laboratory. The Laboratory is not a part of the nursing service, it is a separate entity and separate personel.

The lab technician does more than just draw blood or swab a throat for culture. She or he must know how to perform most tests with reasonable speed to help the doctor make a diagnosis. Many diseases have the same symptoms only a lab test can differentiate the diseases so the doctor can treat the correct ailment, such as strep throat. This has clinical symptoms similar to many other throat ailments. Only a lab test can distinguish between the seperate diseases, allowing the doctor to prescribe the medicine or treatment for that specific disease, instead of a general prescription that may not be as effective.

Tom Lovell said that "at Lockney we try to perform most of the tests ordered in the lab. However, some types of studies are impractical for us to perform. These we send to Dallas to a lab that has more equipment and personnel. There are specialists in that area. It usually takes three to five days for a result to return. Most of the tests performed in the hospital are done the same day as the patient comes in." There are three employees working in the lab here, at Lockney General Hospital. Estafana Gatica, who has been working for 17 years in the lab. Josefina Hernandez, who has been in the lab field for 8 years and Tom Lovell, lab. and x-ray supervisor, who has also been in the lab field 8 years. He is also a graduate of Texas Tech University with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Zoology and a registered Medical Technologist

People Key To Allsups Success

People - the more than 1,300 employees and customers from Grants to west of Fort Worth - get the credit for helping write one of New Mexico's biggest retailing success stories.

The first chapter began in October 1956 in Roswell with the opening of Lonnie's Drive-In Grocery at 1500 W.

Now, Lonnie and Barbara Allsup have put together the 24th largest chain of convenience stores in the nation, with 168 Allsup's Convenience Stores helping form a $50 million business.

Before the final chapter is written Allsup's Convenience Stores Inc. will have some 400 stores selling items ranging from garden hoses to barbe-cued chicken throughout New Mexico, West Texas and parts of Oklahoma. In conversation, Mr. and Mrs. Allsup speak repeatedly of motivated employees, long-term workers, loyal customers and consumer convenience.

"Anybody can have buildings, fixtures and merchandise, but if they don't have good people to run those stores all the way up and all the way down you won't be successful," explained Allsup, president of the corporation which he and his wife started building

"I'd look pretty funny trying to run 168 stores," he added with a chuckle.

"Anyone who gets negative on people won't grow with the business. You really have to be optimistic and you have to think that people are good," Allsup said. "If we decided that people are no good, we'd have to get out of the

As chief executive officer of a major chain, Lonnie Allsup looks back nostalgically to the time not so long ago when he was waiting on customers.

"One of the parts I enjoy most about the grocery or convenience store business is meeting the customers, taking care of the customers. I really enjoy that," he said. "I really enjoy that. Now I don't get enough contact with the customers; it's all employee contact

"I always enjoyed the customers and the customer was No. 1. That's your business, that's all you've got is the customer," Allsup added.

Barbara Allsup, financial vice president of Allsup's echoed the same She fondly recalls their Roswell customers when they were starting out. 'They were really receptive about what we were trying to do. A lot of people were very helpful," Mrs. Allsup added.

In addition to what she describes as "Lonnie's vision," she attributes the chain's success to Allsup employees through the years.

In fact, they opened their second store - also in Roswell - with money borrowed from an employee.

"We've been lucky to get good people and to keep them," Barbara Allsup said, pointing out that some of the current employees of Allsup's Convenience Stores Inc., started with the first stores in Roswell.

"They're very loyal, it's almost like a family relationship," she added.

The Allsups began putting their present chain of 168 stores together shortly after selling their 12 initial stores to Southland Corp. in 1963.

At that time, the couple owned eight stores in Roswell, two in Ruidoso and two in Alamogordo.

These dozen convenience stores had been built up since 1956 when Lonnie Allsup opened Lonnie's Drive-In Grocery after his discharge from the Air

BARBARA ALLSUP

Allsup's infatuation with grocery retailing, however, began many years before that.

"I started out standing on a box, sacking groceries when I was 10 or 11,"

"It's a fast business," he added, explaining how he "liked the fast part of the grocery store business.'

Working in the grocery business, he said, was much faster than working for his father's Chevrolet dealership in his hometown of Morton, Texas.

That was more a work real hard and trade cars, maybe make a sale of one a day or two," he added. Allsup also recalls working in the

At the age of 16, Allsup graduated from Morton High School; married Barbara, his school sweetheart, who

"I ended up going to school all day long," she said. "I was taking more hours than he was. Unbelieveable!"

Barbara recalls, with a laugh, that

And he usually is followed by the larger, national chains.

It was Allsup who started selling cooked foods through convenience stores and he was one of the first operators to sell gasoline - a concept he and other convenience store owners initially had pooh-poohed.

"The first time that a fellow came in here and asked me why didn't I put a set of pumps out in front of my store, I said,

"That won't work, you can't sell gasoline with groceries.'

"And now I won't build a store without it," he volunteered.

It's easy to understand why, too. Allsup's Convenience Stores Inc., sells more than two million gallons of gasoline a month, he estimated.

Long hours and hard work are a reality to Lonnie and Barbara Allsup. Lonnie's ultimate goal is to "cover every town in New Mexico and every town between Clovis and Fort Worth, Texas." His short-term goal is 25 new store locations within the next 12

The County Of Caring People

Once upon a time there was a small group of people who cared so much for their county that they decided to give of themselves to improve the county. This handful of concerned citizens included mothers, fathers, homemakers, school teachers, shop keepers, and farmers-young and old together.

Because the parents and grandparents of the town's first citizens had cared about the education of future generations, they filed a petition and had an election to furnish a room with books which could be freely used by all the persons of the town as well as those surrounding it. As more and more people discovered travel, biographies, history, mystery, inspiration, and aids in purchasing and constructing from the books in this room, a lady was hired by the people to guide in selecting the best books for the desired information.

Years passed and the younger people had children who wanted to try their new world of reading books. The parents became grandparents who were old and tired and whose legs could not perform without great pain the task of walking up steep steps to the room of

Now the County Bosses who the people had elected to control the money for the room of books had become so involved in the county's delinquents and the roads leading into the town that they no longer had time to know the bliss of relaxing in the pages of a book from the wonderful room. Since they no longer cared about the room of books, they thought others felt the same.

However, once again a small group of people did care--about the small children, the grandparents, the handicapped and others. This time the caring people decided the books should be placed in a room which all persons could visit. They discussed this with the Bosses who said, "Times are hard, and we have no money.'

The caring people did not give up, though. They noticed an old building on as a Transportation Center for the community. The Transportation Center had been abandoned for modern methods of travel, but the craftsmanship of the neglected site still stood proud behind cobwebs, weeds, and broken

The caring people became excited! They went to work. The owner of the building agreed to give the building to the whole county and the Bosses of the State agreed to furnish half the money to recycle the old building. The caring people found a group who loved gardens to care for the grounds around the building. Other people in the county donated money to refurbish the building because they wanted the historic area to be preserved.

The children of the county had never used a Transportation Center, but they could go there and look at photographs and films and read of what had once

The skeptical County Bosses one day visited the new-old Transportation Center and at last discovered the beauty, history and community cooperation which had been preserved. They were delighted to see that the caring people had the foresight and fortitude to move the room of books.

People from all over the state began hearing about the lovely old Transportation Center with its room full of books.

Beginner Takes To Water

John Eubanks

University Daily Sports Editor Texas Tech

With the kind of weather we have been experiencing lately, it would take a real land-lover not to want to drench himself into a cool, refreshing pool. Give me the water, anyday. But there was a time in my life when you couldn't have paid me to get into a pool — precisely, at the age of six, on early Saturday mornings during swim They classified the activity under the tle, "SWIM LESSONS FOR BEGIN-NERS," but picking up pennies from the bottom of a grungy pool just wasn't my idea of learning how to swim.

And dunking my head into the water 50 times came nowhere near making my list of Top 10 activities. But I was only six, which made my number of viable options quite a bit less than the number of years of age. "Try it again, Johnny," came the command from the Mark Spitz-lookalike. "Put your head in one more

"No way!" I said, gasping for air, clinging tightly to the edge of the pool, hoping my toes might discover a rock or two on which to plant my size four-and-

Sure, I wanted to learn how to swim, but there had to be an easier way. Like, maybe, at the beach in between the building of sand castles?

Instead of attending swim lessons, I would have rather been with my buddies, playing army, maybe even overtaking Pork Chop Hill "at whatever cost it takes," as eight-year-old Billy

I still cringe at the time it was suggested I take swim lessons. What a great idea, mom thought, after reading

'Saturday mornings," I screamed. 'No way!" But a way was found. So each Saturday I dutifully dragged my feet to the pool just like an accused

"A blindfold?" No thanks. "One last cigarette?" No. I haven't had my first Our first maneuver each lesson was to jump into the pool and retrieve Abe Lincoln's personalized coin. "How deep?" I asked.

"We're talking three, maybe four feet," the instructor answered.

"The deep part, huh?" I said, as the candy cigarette dangled from the corner of my mouth; the other half of the cig being nervously chewed. So with fingers pinching nose, I said my last ados and leaped from the poolside. Water rushed into my ears, up my nose and in my eyes. I looked for sharks. There were none.

I glanced at my toy watch. Only a few precious seconds of air remained. I had find that penny!

"Little Sweet" Dorothy had done the procedure before me and "What a Big Boy" Roy had passed the test before her. I didn't fully understand psychology at that age, but believe me, one's ego is very well developed at age six.

I knew I couldn't come up to the surface without that one center. Suddenly, out of the corner of my right eye I spotted the treasure.

"Eagle two, this is Houston. We have you in sight. Take a 45-degree angle to your right and set her down." My hand reached down for the penny. Time was running out.

"Wait a minute, Eagle Two. We have portside. Headed your way."

I quickly picked up the penny with my thumb and forefinger and grasped it tightly into my hand. I only had one shot on my spear-gun, but I figured to "take one of them (barracuda) with me."

I began frantically swimming toward the surface. I came to the three-foot level, then the two-foot level, eventually the one-foot mark and finally...the top.

After gasping for air, my mouth formed into a huge smile. You might say, I was proud of myself. The instructor said I did okay, but he wanted

It's easy to see where many of our priorities are.

The children of today are looking to us for ways they can prepare for their own style of life . . . families . . . and job opportunities. To help, we'll need more electricity. It's true, electricity will play a big role toward helping expand the job market to include these adults of tomorrow. The modern use of electricity has contributed to a better educational system to prepare our young people for the new experiences yet to come. Almost 10 years ago, the folks at

Homecoming 1980

Exes Request Address Help

Homecoming, 1980, has been set for Friday and Saturday, September 26 and 27, 1980, according to Alton Higginbotham, president of the Exes' Association. Plans are well under way for this to be an enjoyable time for all, with most of the activities planned for Saturday. The football game is with Olton.

A representative of each graduating class is currently working on updating the address list for his or her class. If you know of new addresses, people interested in attending who may not be on the list, or have any suggestions, call one of the Exes' officers, i.e., Alton Higginbotham, president; John Dunlap, 1st Vice President; Britt Gregory, 2nd Vice president; Judy Allen, Secretary; and Jaynette Harrison, Treasurer.

As you see Floydada Exes, spread the word, send newspaper clippings, or write a note telling the date as the letters will not be going out until the last of August. Let people know now so that they can make their vacation plans for September 26 and 27.

The following is a list of the address committee representatives of each class for your convenience in contacting a representative of your class for individual class plans and address updating:

1900-1919 - Mrs. R.A. (May) Garrett, 1920-1921 - Mrs. Emma Lou Whitaker, 1922 - Mrs. Paul (Vaughn) Murff, 1923 - Mrs. W. Ian (Hester) Moore, 1924 - Miss Mary Pearl Cowand, 1925 - Mrs. W. Removing Traffic Lane, Gum From Carpet

Our carpet has a noticeable traffic lane starting in the entrance hall, also a gob of chewing gum in this otherwise clean carpet. Can you help with an answer to this spring clean-up mess?

Sounds like the old winter boots and over-shoes trail. A spray or granular carpet cleaning product is recommended for the traffic lane. The granular type of cleaner for small areas is preferred.

The chewing gum can be removed by placing ice cubes in a plastic bag and laying them on the gum. After thirty minutes, remove the bag and crush the gum with a pair of pliers. If the gum is cold enough, it will shatter into small pieces. Repeat this process until most of the gum is removed. Soak a cloth with dry cleaning solvent and squeeze the soiled tufts of pile between the cloth, pulling up gently. Repeat until the

Every few years we paint the trim on the outside of our brick home. The front porch is paneled with wood. Before the paint has a chance to dry, gnats and other small insects stick to the surface. Is there anything we can do to repel the insects?

Wet paint has the tendency to attract all the insects in the neighborhood. It is very disturbing when you spend a lot of time in the application of the paint. Add two tablespoons of citronella oil to a gallon of paint and stir well. The scent of the citronella oil will repel most of the insects.

Mrs. Alice Ragsdale tells Bill Cosby how Red Cross helped after the flood receded.

Alice Ragsdale: When the water came, it was like a dam broke! You can't imagine the total damage, Bill. Possessions washed awayfamily treasures smashed, covered with mud It was shocking, devastating."

Bill Cosby: 'How'd you know Red Cross could help?"

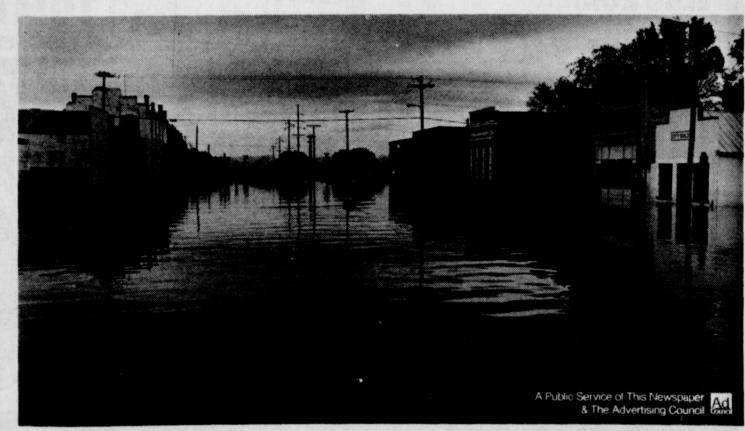

Alice Ragsdale: 'My sister urged us to call Red Cross. We've always stood on our own two feet - asking for help isn't easy for us. But this time we had to - for our two daughters.

Red Cross helped us get emergency supplies - food, clothing, cleaning supplies; showed us how to apply for federal disaster assistance. They gave us moral support, too. That meant a lot.

It's true, Bill . . . sometimes we don't appreciate what we've got . . . until we lose it."

Bill Cosby: "That's why it's so important to keep Red Cross alive and well.'

Finger Mechanism Plateless Planters 1. The finger mechanisms are susceptible to wear and somewhat susceptible to breakage. Check these once a year. 2. The nylon paddle belt that delivers the seed from the finger mechanism to the seed drop should also be checked for wear, breakage and proper functioning.

3. Manufacurers suggest that these planters be cleaned inside and out after every 50 hours of use. It's also good to sprinkle a little powder graphite into the seed box during planting. The dry lubricant reduces wear of the finger mechanisms, while having no adverse effect on the crop. Check Your Planter.

McCauley summarizes, "Anything that shows signs of wear should be replaced. Period. The expense for replacing a questionable part now is minimal compared to the cost of down time during planting.

Later today the department will report the amount purchased in each state and the weighted average purchase price.

CCC announced April 7 that it will also offer to buy wheat at declared prices, beginning today. Purchases will be made on a first-come, first served basis. County offices of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service will be notified of the local purchase price. Farmers who wish to know the acceptable purchase price in their county should contact their ASCS

Bee Payments May End

WASHINGTON, April 4--Beekeepers whose bees are killed by insecticides approved for use by the government would no longer be eligible for federal indemnity payments under a proposal made recently by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The USDA proposal would become effective May 15. according to John Goodwin, associate administrator of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, the agency which oversees the program.

Legislation authorizing the program was passed in 1970 after beekeepers in the cotton-growing areas of Arizona and California reported heavy bee kills due to an extensive spray program to control the pink bollworm, said Goodwin.

As of Sept. 30, 1979, $34.0 million had been paid to beekeepers in 48 states. Of this total, $18.76 million was paid out in the last five years.

The proposal was published in the April 8 Federal Register, Goodwin

All comments on the proposal should be sent to Bob Cook, ASCS-EIPD, USDA, P.O. Box 2415, Washington, D.C. 20013. They must be received before April 29.

FROM PLAINS COTION GROWERS, INC. Opposition to forced soil and water conservation practices, proposed by USDA as one possibility under the 1977 Resource Conservation Act (RCA), has become widespread, highly vocal and appears to be growing, according to Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock. PCG, acting on a board position taken in October last year, on numerous occasions has presented arguments against suggestions that government decreed conservation practices be made a requirement for farm program eligibility or be mandated by other penalty-bearing regulations.

PCG makes clear that the organization and its members are strong believers in conservation of soil and water resources, but maintains that the solution to conservation problems should come through the provision of "incentives to conserve, not penalties for failure to conserve."

The latest voices to speak out firmly in support of that same position are those of Representatives Thomas Foley, Democrat from Washington, and Kika de la Garza, Democrat from Texas.

Foley is Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee and de la Garza is Vice Chairman of the Committee and Chairman of its Subcommittee on Department Investigations, Oversight and Research. According to a House Agriculture Committee news release, both recently have "... told Agriculture Department officials they will not support coercive conservation

"We made it clear that we do not think the government should propose such policies and we are convinced Congress would not adopt them. Certainly we need strong conservation programs but they should be based on cooperating with and assisting landowners in their own voluntary efforts - not on trying to blackjack people into compliance," the Committee leaders

Foley and de la Garza added "We are confident that the recommendations and views submitted to the Agriculture Department by thousands of interested and concerned people will be heard, and the Department has assured us this will lead to practical proposals for future conservation policies. We are confident these policies will not include coercion."

De la Garza also noted that "When the 1977 Conservation Act was written, I personally insisted on and secured the inclusion of a provision specifying that no conservation practices would be used under the bill except at the request of the landowner."

In response to the Committee news release, Johnson commented, "We are gratified that these and other people in high places have joined us in the effort to prevent bureaucratic interference with what farmers across the nation have found to be the most productive and efficient farming practices."

COTTON IMPORT QUOTA

On April 2, 1980, President Carter issued a proclamation establishing a special limited global import quota for upland cotton in the amount of 244,030, 605 lbs. (508,397,08 standard 480 lb. bales). This special quota is directed by Section 103 (f) (l) of the Agriculture Act of 1949, as amended (Section 602 of the Food and Agriculture Act of 1977). The Secretary of Agriculture is required by the law to determine whenever the average price, for one month of strict low middling 1-1/16 inch cotton (micronaire 3.5 through 4.9) in the designated spot markets exceeds 130% of the average price of such quality of cotton for the preceding 36 months, and then to report to the President, who is directed to announce the quota.

The law establishes the amount of the quota to be equal to twenty-one days of domestic mill consumption of upland cotton at the seasonally adjusted average rate of the most recent three months for which data is available. The present special quota is in effect for the period of April 3, 1980 through July 2, 1980.

The Secretary of Agriculture determined that the average price of strict low middling cotton in the designated spot markets for the month of February 1980 was 80.66 cents per lb. The Secretary also determined that the average price of strict low middling cotton in the designated spot markets for the 36 months preceding the month of February 1980 (February 1977 through January 1980) was 60.34 cents per lb. Thus, the current month (February 1980) price as computed of 80.66 cents per lb. is 133.68% of the previous 36 months computed price of 60.34 cents per lb.

The Secretary also determined that the domestic mill consumption of upland cotton for the most recent three months for which data is available (November 1979-January 1980) is 244, 030,605 lbs. (508,397.08 - 480 lb. bales). The new import quota is added to import quotas now in existence. There will be a new set of figures at the end of the present special quota ending on July 2, 1980 and these figures will determine if the special quota is to be extended.

Upland cotton import quotas existing before the current quota announced on April 2, 1980 are authorized by Section 22 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended. Section 22 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, is designed to work with current price support programs. A domestic managed supply-demand program demands management of imports. Current tariff schedules authorize the following annual cotton import quotas: 1. Cotton having a staple length under 1-1/8 inch (except harsh or rough cotton having a staple length under 3/4 inch) entering during the 12-month period beginning on September 20 of any year, 30,242.06 bales. This quota is assigned to 19 countries.

2. Harsh or rough cotton (except cotton of perished staple, grabbots and cotton pickings), white in color having a staple length of 1-5/32 inch or more, 3,125 bales.

3. Cotton with staple length of 1-1/8 inch or more but under 1-3/8 inch other than included in paragraph 2. above, 9,511.75 bales. 4. Cotton having a staple length of

1-3/8 inch, or more, entered during the 12-month period beginning August 1 in any year, 82,480.787 bales. 5. Partially manufactured cotton for any 12 month period beginning on September 20, 5,482,509 lbs.

6. Fibers of cotton that are spun entered in the 12-month period beginning September 11 of any year, 1,000

Current tariff rates on imports of raw cotton with a staple length of less than 1-3/8 inch are as follows:

Under 1-1/8 inch staple: Free More than 1-1/8 inch but under 1-11/16 inch staple length: 3.5 cents per pounds. In summary, during the year 1978-79 (year ending 9-19 for all cotton under 1-1/8 inch and 8-31 for other cotton), the total of all raw quota cotton imported into the United States was 2,700 bales, compared to 3,800 bales in 1977-78. In addition, there was the harsh or rough cotton imported in the amount of 1,600 bales in 1978-79 and 400 bales in 1977-78. Imports of all raw cotton for the calendar year 1979 are reported at 6,127 bales, compared to 2,778.74 bales in 1978. The authorized 12 month quota of raw cotton totals 125,356.6 bales, of which 42,878.822 bales were of the upland cotton designation used in new quota announcement. Linters imported in calendar year 1979 amounted to 27,683,451 lbs., compared with 34,663,287 lbs. in 1978. Raw cotton equivalent of U.S. imports for consumption of cotton manufacturers in 1979 was 1,554,400 bales, compared with

1,761,300 bales in 1978. Raw cotton equivalent of U.S. exports of domestic cotton manufacturers in 1979 was 995,800 bales, compared with 741,900

FARM PROGRAM AMENDED

Congress has approved, and sent to the President for his signature, Senate Bill 2427, giving the U.S. Secretary of Agriculture discretionary authority to permit producers who did not comply with the 1979 set-aside regulations to place in the grain reserve 1979 crop corn and wheat. Other provisions of the bill are as follows:

1. Authorizes the Agriculture Department to sell government-owned surplus corn for use in newly constructed fuel alcohol plants at not less than the release price used in the grain reserve program, currently $2.63 a bushel, rather than the standard resale minimum of $3.15 a bushel.

2. Authorizes the Department to make loans of up to $100,000 to farmers to construct crop storage facilities on farms instead of the present ceiling of $50,000, and repeals a current restriction which limits these storage facility loans to amounts needed to build storage for two years production on any

OIL AND GAS TAX

The President of the United States has issued Proclamation No. 4/44 placing an additional heavy tax burden on U.S. taxpayers who consume oil and oil products. The new tax specifically applies to crude oil and oil products. The new tax specifically applies to crude oil and gasoline entering the United States after March 24, 1980. The tax on crude oil is $4.62 per barrel and on gasoline is $4.35 per barrel.

Explanation forms and other related data are available from this office.

EL SALVADOR MEAT IMPORTS DISCONTINUED

USDA announced, on March 25, 1980, that it was removing El Salvador's two meat slaughtering plants from the list of approved exporters that can ship meat products to the United States.

The Department indicated that El Salvador plants shipped 10.5 million lbs. of meat to the U.S. in the 1979, or about .5% of all imported meat during 1979. For the period of January -February 1980, El Salvador sent to the United States 2,863,000 lbs. of meat covered by the meat import control law, compared to 1,901,000 lbs. during the same period in 1979.

ESTATE TAX LAW

The windfall profits tax law has formally eliminated the carry-over basis provision of the 1976 estate tax law. The law also carries some provisions relating to agriculture in the area of energy conservation and production of alternate fuels.

OGALLALA AQUIFER REGIONAL STUDY

The U.S. Economic Development Administration has announced a series of scoping meetings designed to collect information for an Environmental Impact Statement with regard to the High Plains Ogallala Aquifer Regional Study now in progress. The High Plains Ogallala Aquifer covers portions of Colorado, Kansas, Nebraska, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas.

The Economic Impact Statement will attempt to measure the economic impact of the various alternatives under consideration in the plan. The overall objective of the project is to assure adequate water supplies in the area. The scheduled meetings are as

Accident Takes Life

Odell Thompson, 53, of Petersburg was killed Wednesday when he was trapped by grain while cleaning out an elevator.

Abernathy Justice of the Peace Jean Marr pronounced Thompson dead at the scene and ruled the death accidental. She said the man died of suffocation. Hale County deputy sheriff Tommy Thompson said that Thompson and several other employees were scooping out grain that had clogged up at the bottom of an elevator, at Heard Elevator, when the accident occurred. Thompson was trapped by hundreds of pounds of maize which suddenly fell on him, the deputy said.

The accident reportedly occurred about 3 p.m., and it took several fellow employ-ees about three hours to dig the victim out. Services for Thompson
