Durward Lynch will be parade marshall. The color guard will also head the parade and the Plainview bands will march. Antique cars, riding clubs, and miscellaneous riders are some of the other attractions scheduled for the parade. Winners will be announced at the night program.

The concessions and Kuntry Kitchen will be open all day at the Hale County Agriculture Center and Jacqueline Masso and Verne Shields are the chairmen. Sandwiches, pies and cakes will be available at lunch time. Everyone is invited to shop for baked products made by members of the Plainview BPW Club.

The evening activities will also be held in the Hale County Agriculture Center. The chuck wagon supper will be served from 6 to 8 p.m.
"Take out" plates will also be available. The meal will consist of son-of-a-gun, barbecue, sour dough biscuits and all the trimmings. The club members will "rock the beans" on Thursday afternoon with the cooking beginning early Saturday morning. The program, chaired by Dorothy Morton, will begin at 8 p.m. and will feature three dance groups and group singing.

To highlight the evening's activities, the Pioneer Woman of the Plains will be announced. Prizes will be awarded to the couple who has been married the longest, the oldest pioneer present and to the pioneer (over 60) traveling the farthest distance to attend the Round-

The square dance will conclude the Pioneer Round-Up again this year. Roy Johnson, Amarillo, will be the caller. All who like to square dance, waltz, polka and participate in other couple dances are invited to do so. The Agriculture Center is air conditioned and will be comfortable for dancing from 9 p.m. until midnight.

Tickets, $3.50 (tax included) include the supper, program and square dance, and may be purchased from any member of the Plainview BPW Club or secured at the

Senior Citizens Month Proclaimed By President

May has been designated "Older Americans Month," to honor senior citizens for their continuing and past achievements and to raise public awareness of their particular concerns.

President Carter has proclaimed it, just as each President has done every year since John F. Kennedy's first national proclamation of Senior Citizens Month in 1963. Even before that, as early as 1950, many state and localities have been honoring their senior citizens with special activities in May.

"Significant changes are taking place in our populawhich raises new issues," said the President, "and highlight new aspects of existing issues. A decline in the birth rate, along with improvements in health care, are moving us toward a society in which more Americans, and a higher proportion of Americans, will be older. The implications of this will be felt by all segments of society.'

The needs of older people are as varied as those of any age group. Their needs are recreational, social, cultural and educational. Most need productive activity - paid work, work at home, or volunteer service outside. Urgent needs for some older persons are health care. homemaker services and programs are active in the

A comprehensive network of aging services has been established in the South Plains. Many of the programs are funded by the Governor's Committee on Aging, through the Area Agency. Currently there are 17 multipurpose senior centers open in the fifteen county area. Twenty minibuses operate to transport senior citizens. One hot meal is served daily, or three times a week, by fifteen federally funded nutrition sites, and six privately funded projects. Information and referral services are available in fourteen counties, and the Retired Senior Volunteer and Green Thumb HEART BOOK—Lynn Marler, right, president of the Floyd County Heart Association, presents a new book to Jackie Walls, librarian. The volume, Heartbook, is a cardivascular reference book in not-technical language and basically an easy-to-read encyclopedia about the heart and how to protect it. The 370-page illustrated book was written by 32 cardiovascular experts and is the only one authorized by the American Heart Association, Mrs. Marler said.
