Meeting Called For Crime Line Query

Sergeant Doyle Nelson of the Lubbock Police Department has been asked to meet with citizens of Floyd County who are exploring the possibilities of starting a Crime Line program here. Nelson will explain how the program works in Lubbock and how to set up a similar program.

The meeting is open to the public and Mayor Parnell Powell asks that everyone interested in protection of private and public property attend the meeting. "The turnout at the meeting will determine the interest people will have in such an operation," Powell said.

Floydada City council endorsed the idea of a crime-line type operation at their last meeting. The council gave Mayor Powell the authority to set up the called meeting.

Sheriff Fred Cardinal said that he would like to see the program go county wide. "I think that if we can get the thing rolling it will help, and we can use all the help we can get," he said.

Cardinal said that he wants to know more about how the program operates and what all is involved. He intends to be at the meeting to find out how the program is working in Lubbock.

"There are just four of us here," Sheriff Cardinal said, "we're on call 24 hours a day and sometimes it seems like 30 hours. If it's (Crime Line) worth while and if the people want it, we'll be willing to try the program. It's all going to revolve around whether the people want to get involved."

Police Chief Scott Newton said that his office is very receptive to the crime line operation. "The more help we get solving crime, the better off we are, and I'm sure that the crime line is going to give us some help," he said. "I'm looking forward to the meeting Monday night and hope that the citizens do form a crime line corporation. It would help the police department in Floydada and Lockney and the Sheriff's department."

Since the beginning of the crime line operation in Lubbock in April 1979, calls to Crime Line have led to 181 arrests in 153 felony cases, with $291,300 in stolen property recovered. A total of $21,900 has been paid to informants.

Generally the Crime Line program involved setting up a fund of private donations to be used as reward money for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons responsible for crimes.

TREASURES? This unidentified little boy seems to be enjoying the Treasure Hunt at the Play Day, Saturday.

Several displays were changed for the event. The new displays featured were: Frances Mitchell, Dolls; Jody and Winnie Beedy, Antique Kitchen appliances and antique dress; Brent Williams, metal prairie schooner; Greg Thompson, wax sculpture of state capitol; Gladys Jones, antique scales; Juanita Brosch, depression glass; Montgomery Ranch site Indian artifacts; Frances Stanforth, antique quilt; Ian Moore, Mac Willson, Jim Ward and Richard Stewart, woodcrafts; FHA, 50 year anniversary display.

Hostesses assisting during the open house were Nancy Marble, Virginia Taylor, Anne Swepston, Francis Stanforth, Georgia Finley, (Green Thumb), Sherri Colston, Mrs. Jim Word and Nancy Williams Goodwin.

An additional 500-plus people toured the museum during the Reunion.

A new attraction was provided by the Floydada Band Boosters. A play day was held at the track to keep the children occupied. According to Band Boosters president Gordon Kirtley, the play day was considered a great success, as approximately twice the number of children expected showed up to participate. Bill Gray said the activity "will more than likely be an annual event."

Many gate prizes were distributed throughout the morning with the following youngsters winning the major awards: $50 savings bonds: Leif Younger and Trena Wilson; 10 speed bicycle (Grand prize): Kristie Cleveland.

The Band Boosters wish to thank the following businesses, individuals, and organizations for their support in helping make the play day so successful. Hale Insurance and Real Estate, Kirk and Sons, Moore-Rose Funeral Home, First National Bank of Floydada, City Auto, Inc., Quality Body Shop, Adams Well Service, Inc., Script Printing, Babe Jones, Caprock Motor Parts, John Key West, Hale's Dept. Store, Perry Bros., Inc., Anderson's Dept. Store, Thompson Pharmacy, White Auto Store, The Loft, Kirtley's Equipment and Supply, Inc.

Co-sponsoring the play day along with the Band Boosters were Women's Division of Floydada Chamber of Commerce, Floydada Chapter #31 O.E.S., Alpha Sigma Epsilon, and the 1965 Study Club.

Kirtley expressed his personal thanks to the downtown merchants who donated money prizes and gifts to the event. "Without their help, we couldn't have done it."

The Friends of the Library held their third annual book sale during the Old Settler's Day. Janice Lloyd, president of the Friends, said the sale was a great success. About 750 books were sold for a total of $188. According to Mrs. Lloyd, the money will be used for County Library improvements. An additional $225 was brought in through memberships sold to people attending the day's activities. Mrs. Lloyd gave credit to the Junior Friends of the Library, as they scouted the town and got new members.

Mrs. Lloyd extended a special thanks to Mrs. Bob Kendrick, chairman of the event, and to Mr. Lloyd Allen for his cooperation and generosity in lending his building to the Friends.

Pioneer's Association President John Key West extended this personal note of thanks: "I wish to express my deep appreciation to the many people who helped in so many different ways to promote the Old Settler's Reunion. It is impossible to name all who helped, but it took a lot of work on the part of a great many people to have the success that we enjoyed."

Especially do I want to thank the board of directors for their guidance and their willingness to do whatever job was assigned to them. Then I want to thank the business men of Floydada and Lockney for their contributions that enabled us to buy the lunches and prizes that were given away. Then to all the musicians for their introductions and orientation and discussions of plans for the rehearsal weeks.

They learned what musical director Doug McCause will expect. They met choreographer Neil Hess who explained that the daily warm-ups start for everyone on Monday so that on opening night a singer can run 1/4 of a mile to his place on the stage and not be winded.

And they met the office staff, the light and sound producers, and the technical crew.

Thirty cast members came from out of state; New Mexico, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Kansas, Mississippi, Missouri, New Jersey and Wisconsin.

Members of the company met for the first time. The third who were in the cast last year were greeting old friends and introducing themselves to the new comers.

There are people who have been singing professionally in operas, and the student director of Koinonia Klowns for Christ.

The grandson of one of the discoverers of Carlsbad Caverns is here, and the great grandson of Bailey Bingham who drove cattle on the Goodnight trail.

All these people have come together to tell the story of this area in the musical romance of the Texas Panhandle, "TEXAS". They will open on Wednesday, June 18, after three and a half weeks of intensive rehearsal.

Tickets for "TEXAS" cost from $3 to $6 for adults, half for children in most sections of the theatre. They cost slightly less on week days. It is well to make reservations in advance by writing "TEXAS", Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015 or by calling 806-655-2181.

To the Editor:

The Floyd County Historical Museum wishes to express its gratitude for the cooperation of the following merchants in connection with the Friday evening open house prior to Old Settlers:

Hopefully this participation will continue in the future. I enjoyed the interesting display of old newspapers at the Hesperian, the beautiful display of art at Winnie's, and the interesting window display at Kirk and Sons.

Floyd County has every right to be proud of the cooperation shown by these merchants and the Hesperian for an interesting evening.

Yours very truly,

Floyd Philosopher Comes Up With A Suggestion

Dear editor:

Two sets of statistics I ran across the other day explain a lot about why things in this country are in the shape they're in.

One set, conducted scientifically by having people view excerpts from television programs and then answer true or false to six questions about what they'd just seen, revealed that 83 percent of their misunderstanding some part of what they'd viewed.

The other set reported that 62 percent of the U.S. population depends on television for their news of the state and nation.

All right, if 83 percent of a majority of us misunderstand what we see on the TV news, and you throw in the added fact that only 40 percent of that news on a good day is accurate, and we're asked to elect Presidents, Congressmen and even Justices of the Peace out of that deep pool of misunderstanding misinformation, you can figure out why

A BIRTHDAY CAKE proves to be quite a surprise

Kinky Birthday Surprise

The latest in a series of "one-upmanship" recently took place at Bill Evans Gin in the Lone Star Community. Evans was the honoree at a very special surprise birthday party.
Virginia Taylor, the other participant in the series, "baked" a birthday cake and brought it to the office to surprise Bill.
The domino game came to a halt and the crowd gathered to watch the cutting of the cake. After blowing out the candles (they were a big 46 but Evans was not really 46 years old. The candles just happened to match the icing) Evans proceeded to cut the cake. Much to his surprise, the cake was not made from the usual flour, eggs and sugar. Virginia had used fresh cow chips and covered them with icing.
The honoree then refused to eat the first piece although several unknowing late arrivals, thinking it was German chocolate, started to try to eat some.
Making the cake became quite a chore for Virginia before it was finished. The first cow chips she tried were too large. The second batch was a little fresh but she used them anyway.
"It took three boxes of icing to cover the thing," said Virginia, "and then it didn't look right. I kept on trying to cover it and finally succeeded. Them some little bugs started crawling out so I went back to the grocery store and bought another box and covered the holes the bugs were crawling out of. By the time I finished, it looked more like a big Easter egg than a cake but I took it anyway."
Evans said, "When I started to cut that thing, I thought it looked a little strange. I knew Virginia Taylor was a better cook than that but maybe she had a hard time so I didn't say anything. She really surprised me. Now she had better watch out!"
A conventional cake was on hand for anyone still hungry.
Evans received some more practical gifts for his birthday.

Around The County By Jett Major Floyd County

TOP WINNERS NAMED AT SOUTH PLAINS 4-H ROUNDUP
More than 100 South Plains 4-H'ers from the 20 counties in Extension District 2 Saturday (May 10) qualified to compete in the Texas 4-H Roundup at College Station next month by taking top honors in district competition at Texas Tech University.
About 300 4-H boys and girls competed in the district-wide event which included 28 contests. Winners received their awards in ceremonies in the University Center ballroom at Tech.

Hale County 4-H'ers captured the most qualifying wins of any county, with six senior victories. To qualify for the state contest, a team or individual must win a first or second place win in the senior division, for youths aged 14-19.
In junior competition, which was held simultaneously with the senior contests, Swisher County had 10 first and six second place victories. Scurry had six. Juniors do not compete beyond the district level.

Other counties taking a large portion of senior division honors included Swisher, Floyd and Terry with four each, and Gaines, Crosby and Bailey each with three qualifying wins.
Already two rounds of district competition have been staged. The 4-H Food Show was last December and judging contests were April 26. Winners from those events will join this Saturday's winners at the District 2 delegation to Texas 4-H Roundup.

The church was decorated with brass candelabras with white candles and yellow aisle bows.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a formal length gown of white organza and silk Venice lace. The gown featured a Queen Anne neckline outlined with pearl encrusted lace. Sheer bishop sleeves were capped with lace ruffles and scattered with lace appliques. Lace motifs defined the empire waistline. The sheer a-line skirt was bordered with two deeply gathered flounces topped with lace. The gown dipped in the back to form a chapel length train. The chapel length veil of illusion was encircled with Venice lace and attached to a lace Camelot headpiece. She carried a silk bouquet of roses and daisies with white flocked baby's breath and the Bible her mother carried when she married.

Sharon Ramaekers of UMBarger served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Sheila Hicks of Amarillo, sister of the bride, Lori Layman of Dalhart and Marci Bridges of Quanah. Junior bridesmaids were Sarah SoRelle of Amarillo, cousin of the bride and Michelle Wheeler of Amarillo.

The bridal attendants were dressed in floor length gowns of yellow organza featuring a halter style bodice and a bias cut flounce which picked up in the back to form a cascade of ruffles topped with a fabric rose. Double tiered caplets covered the bodice. White picture hats were trimmed with yellow satin ribbon tied in a double bow. They carried bouquets of white daisies and baby's breath.

The groom was attired in a white tuxedo with white vest and shirt. Mike Wardlow of Canyon served as best man. Groomsmen were Rod Mosier and David Self, both of Canyon, and Jerry McGuire of Floydada. Junior groomsmen were William SoRelle of Amarillo and J.J. SoRelle of Lubbock, cousins of the bride. The fathers, best man, groomsmen and ushers were attired in brown tuxedos with brown vest and yellow shirts.

Immediately following the ceremony, the bride's parents hosted a reception in the Fellowship Hall of the church. The bride's table was covered with an ecru lace table cloth. Placed on a mirror was the four-tiered white cake decorated with yellow lattice work and real daisies and baby's breath. Punch was served from a silver punch bowl. The table was centered with a four branch silver candelabra surrounded by the bridesmaid's bouquets.

The groom's table was covered with a yellow lace cloth. Placed on a mirror was a double-ring German chocolate cake. Coffee was served from a silver coffee service. The centerpiece was a silver holder with the Junior bridesmaid's bouquets. Special guests were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. William SoRelle, Jr. of Plainview and Mrs. Wiley Hicks, Jr. of Amarillo.

For a wedding trip to the Poconos in Pennsylvania the bride traveled in a baby blue dress with white accessories and a white rose corsage. Following the wedding trip the couple will make their home in Dougherty, where the groom is engaged in farming. The bride is a 1977 graduate of Canyon High School and a senior at West Texas State University majoring in elementary education. Altar decorations included twin spiral candelabra trimmed with greenery and yellow ribbons and an arch of candles behind the kneeling bench decorated with greenery and yellow ribbon. An arrangement of yellow and white daisies were placed on the altar.

Mrs. Louie Bybee served as matron of honor. Mrs. Don Smith, Midland, and Mrs. Monty Bybee, Levelland, were bridesmaids.

Lace appliques graced the slender sleeves and skirt and scalloped the hemline. Her chapel length mantilla was a drift of illusion and scattered with beaded allecon lace appliques forming a face-framing halo from the tiny cap.

For something old she carried a handkerchief that her great-great-grandmother made. Something borrowed was a string of pearls that belonged to her cousin, Mrs. Dan Smith. Something blue was her garter and something new was her wedding attire.

The bride's attendants wore gowns of yellow linen with matching hats. They carried fans with yellow and white daisies strewn throughout.

Nachbar offers the following checklist to aid the home buyer:
- Is the exterior of the home in good repair and how much maintenance will it require?
- Is the property well-
drained? Does the basement leak?
- Is the roof in good condition? Are there cracks in the wall and ceiling?
- Is the wiring adequate
for your present and future needs?
- Ask to see the owner's fuel bills for the past year.
- Is the plumbing in good condition? Make sure tree roots aren't growing into underground pipes.
- What is the protection
rating of the area? The availability of fire and police forces can affect your insurance rates.
- Are there any unpaid
assessments?
- What are the property taxes in the area? When was the last increase? What are the community's development plans which might affect your taxes?
- What is the zoning?

VACCINATE PETS

NOT PEOPLE (FOR RABIES)

IN 1979 AS MANY AS 1,249 TEXANS HAD TO TAKE THE RABIES TREATMENT INJECTIONS BECAUSE OF EXPOSURE OR POSSIBLE EXPOSURE TO RABIES. SEVERAL HUMAN DEATHS DUE TO RABIES OCCURRED IN TEXAS LAST YEAR.

A RABIES VACCINATION'S COST MAY VARY FROM THE COST OF PROTECTION TO THE COST OF 2 MOVIE TICKETS. NOT MUCH FOR THE PROTECTION IT PROVIDES FOR YOU, YOUR FAMILY, THE NEIGHBORHOOD AND YOUR WHOLE CITY OR AREA.

BE SURE YOUR PET HAS ITS VACCINATION. DON'T BE AFRAID TO ASK YOUR NEIGHBORS TO VACCINATE THEIR PETS TOO.

IT'S SIMPLE. VACCINATE TODAY. NOT NEXT WEEK.

RABIES IS RUNNING WILD IN TEXAS!

TEXAS HAS A LAW REQUIRING ANNUAL RABIES VACCINATIONS VACCINATE DOGS & CATS BY 4 MONTHS OF AGE
