I fail to write this column from time to time for various reasons, the omission for the past three or four weeks, however, hasn't been for various reasons. It has been for a particular reason. I had put off needed surgery, in several areas, until I ran out of excuses or reasons or whatever.

I surrendered to the medical authorities the latter part of February and was sentenced to eight days in the hospital where the necessary removals and repairs were made. Apparently the medics, and their assistants, did a fairly creditable job as I regained consciousness and have been able to be up and about on a fairly restricted schedule.

Most people run a card of thanks, on the classified page, telling people about how thankful they are for their concern, etc., but it is my prerogative to do it right here on the front page due to the fact that I am a majority stock holder in this newspaper.

I want to tell everyone who was so thoughtful and considerate during my stay in the hospital that I do deeply appreciate the many cards, visits, flowers and words of encouragement. There is nothing that will take the place of friends in good times or bad. Viola and I and our kids are thankful for having so many friends and deeply appreciate your concern.

Civil rights workers are doing their cause a great harm by supporting Adam Clayton Powell. It shows a lack of responsibility, on their part, for honesty in government and integrity in our public officials. Whether civil rights leaders believe it or not the boom would have been lowered on Powell much sooner if he had been a white man instead of a Negro.

In the last three issues of the News, including this one, Don has given many detailed reasons why the airport bond issue should carry. These reasons are based on experiences of individuals and business firms, as they had day to day need for the services of an airport, both for routine and emergency flights. Sufficient case has been made for the passage of the airport bond election, and it is now up to the evaluation and good judgment of the qualified voters in Dimmitt to determine whether our city will take this step forward, or whether a much needed facility will be vetoed. Many of the good things we enjoy daily in Dimmitt are the result of bond elections that have carried. To name a few:

Dimmitt Schools Order Ungraded Reading Plan

First graders in Dimmitt elementary schools this fall will learn to read through the ungraded, or "continuous progress," teaching system.

DIMMITT'S school board last week ordered the continuous progress system initiated here to overcome reading and comprehension problems that still hamper students in higher grades.

And Supt. Paul Hilburn said the switch could eventually lead to an ungraded system throughout the schools, with each student progressing at his own capabilities in every course.

"But you have to walk before you can run," Hilburn said, "so we're initiating the new program only in first grade reading next year. We're going to have to re-write the entire curriculum for the first grade. We'll have help from the Title III program at WTSU, plus workshops for our teachers this summer."

THE PROGRAM will be extended through the first three grades as next year's first graders pass up, "and we intend to have it through the first six grades later," Hilburn said.

Instead of the first three grades being divided into three big grade steps as they are at present, the curriculum for these grades will be set up in nine to 11 smaller steps, enabling a student to move from one phase to the next as he masters the skills involved in that "block" of the curriculum.

"IT MAY TAKE some kids as long as four years to finish these first nine to 11 steps," Hilburn said, "but there'll be no such thing as failing. Each child will progress at his own maximum ability, but there won't be any advancement out of age group. Instead, there will be a special 'enrichment' program for faster-learning students."

Hilburn described the new program as a modern equivalent of the little red school house.

"The non-graded concept isn't new," he said. "It's the same thing a very good teacher origi-

Angered Car Dealers Protest County Buying Auto in Tulia

County commissioners and three Dimmitt auto dealers clashed Monday morning after the commissioners court bought a new Buick in Tulia for the Sheriff's Dept.

DEALERS claimed the sheriff's car should have been bought at home. The commissioners answered that they were required by law to accept the lowest bid, and that the Tulia agency's bid was at least $500 under the lowest offer submitted by a Dimmitt dealer.

"We pay taxes here, and we hustle out of this county and get the county a lot of license tag money," said Bob Sheffy of Brockett Ford. "We don't feel that the local dealers got a fair shake on it."

Brockett Ford did not submit a bid.

JUDGE RAYMOND Wilson answered, "This is the first time we felt the prices were getting high enough to require advertising for bids. These bids are now going over $2,000 on the cash difference, and we're required to advertise for bids on items over this price. Of course, we try to give local people consideration, but the advertisement itself was what brought in this other bid, and the statutes say we must take the lowest and best bid. We didn't go out and invite the bid."

The county's advertisement drew four bids, Judge Wilson said.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 p.m. Monday for Mrs. Fannie Burch Shive, 78, who died Friday night in Plains Memorial Hospital.

Rev. Frank Polard conducted the last rites in the First Baptist Church. Burial was in Castro Memorial Gardens under Dennis Funeral Home direction.

BORN MAY 9, 1889, in Adairsville, Ga., Mrs. Shive had lived at Hart many years before moving to Dimmitt.

She is survived by two sons, Leroy and Eldon, both of Hart; three daughters, Onita Marie, 214 W. Locust St., Dimmitt, Mrs. Velma May Oberst of Canyon and Mrs. Addie Davis of Amarillo; 11 grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

John Howell

Howell Tapped For All-State

No matter who's picking 'em, Dimmitt's John Howell is an all-stater.

THE 62 SENIOR post forward Howell was announced as an unanimous choice for the Texas Class AA all-tournament team after the state classic ended in Austin with the B-beats in the runner-up position.

And Tuesday, Howell was named to the Class AA third team allstate squad after the Texas Sports Writers Association had finished canvassing the outstanding players throughout Texas, including those who didn't make it to the state tourney.

IN THE aftermath of the basketball season, Dimmitt High placed three boys on the all-district team, two on the all-regional squad and Howell on the all-state lineups.

District 3-AA coaches named Howell and B-beat guard's Ronnie Kenmore and Tommy Stafford to the all-district team as the DHS cagers dominated the post-season selections. The state finalists' other two starters, forward Billy Clidwell and guard Kent Lindsey, also received honorable mention in the all-district selections.

After the B-beats won the Region 1-AA championship, Howell and Stafford were named to the all-regional squad.

Dimmitt's property owning voters will decide Friday whether to enlarge and modernize Dimmitt airport and put it into city ownership.

THEY'LL GO to city hall from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. to cast ballots on the $100,000 bond issue, and boosters of the airport project hope voters will override the 60-vote defeat handed to the same issue last year.

The choice on the ballot will be: "For (or Against) the issuance of $100,000 general obligation airport bonds and the levy of a tax in payment thereof."

HOWEVER, city commissioners have said they foresee no tax increase if the issue carries. The airport, now privately operated by Bob Dulaney under a 20 year site lease agreement, is producing more than $5,000 a year net income from hangar rentals and commercial usage fees.

The airport has already been guaranteed a $96,000 grant by the Federal Aviation Agency of the bond issue carries.

HERE'S HOW the $196,000 total funds would be spent, according to the Chamber of Commerce airport committee:

1. Airport site preparation, including $13,500 for excavation to level the longer, paved runway.

2. Paving a 4,000 ft. by 50 ft. runway west of the present dirt landing strip, $59,400.

3. Site preparation and paving of an access road to the runway from US 385, $11,560.

4. Fencing around the airport, $3,000.

5. Purchase of all airport facilities plus the remainder of Dulaney's 20-year lease, $37,500.

6. Lighted wind cone, circle and beacon for night landing and take-offs, $4,000.

7. Engineering fee (7 percent of project), $7,279.

8. Contingencies, $4,951.

9. Administrative cost, $300.

WITH THESE 6 improvements, the committee said, the airport would be capable of handling 95 percent of all propeller-driven general aviation (business and industrial) aircraft.

The project has received the endorsement of the Chamber of Commerce, the Dimmitt Jaycees, Radio Station KDHN, First State Bank, Castro County News, Tierra Blanca Medical Society, the local Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association and a host of business leaders in Dimmitt.

No organized opposition to the bond issue has developed, although the present airport site has come under fire.

BOY BISCAMP of Albuquerque, FAAA Field Representative who conducted the FAA investigation on the airport, told the News Tuesday that he conducted an independent survey of sites available in the area and that the present site was "the best of all those available."

"The reason the FAA recommended the runway be moved and its direction changed was to alter the air approach pattern so aircraft would not be approaching or taking off over the city," Biscamp said. "The location and accessibility of the airport make it a good site. We conducted an independent investigation of possible sites, and found the present site to be better than any other we studied."

The Airport Issue—3 Problem Is Apparent, And Future's at Stake

(Third in a series on the need for an improved airport in Dimmitt.)

By Don Nelson

It isn't enough to say, "We need a better airport."

When we're being asked to vote a bond issue for it, we're entitled to prof. We're entitled to know WHY we need a better airport.

Has aviation in Dimmitt grown so much that our airport is no longer adequate? Does an airport really generate enough business to justify the expense of modernizing it?

LET'S TAKE a look at the airport's growth (and be ready for a few surprises):

Dimmitt's airport got its start more than a decade ago in a typical American way — at a meeting in a downtown cafe.

Our Jaycees, noticing the increased use of executive aircraft and hearing stories of business passing the city by for lack of an airport, voted to build one here.

THEY STUDIED several acceptable tracts of land — without the landowners' knowledge. One tract in particular, they decided, was an outstanding site. It was 40 acres north of the city, close in, and near US 385. It was flat, and still had enough slope for good drainage.

The Jaycees approached the owner, Elmer Youts, and popped the question: Would he rent this 40 acres for an airport?

Sure, Youts said. He even went an extra mile with them — he rented the land to them for $1 per acre per month.

SO WITH three hangar contracts in their hands — enough to pay the land rent — the Jaycees went to work.

They first laid out four crossed runways, lining them with old tires that they had painted bright orange. Then they turned to building hangars — and learned the hard way about the rigors of sheet metal work and steel-frame construction.

By the time they had the airport basically finished, the Jaycees agreed it was a once in a lifetime project — that they wouldn't want to do it more often than that.

BUT THE Dimmitt Airport had been established, and it still stands today as the outstanding civic accomplishment of the Dimmitt Jaycees.

The airport outgrew itself almost immediately. More hangars had to be added as aviation mushroomed here. And the runways, while long enough for the smallest planes of a decade ago, were too short for most private aircraft.

So the Jaycees started enlarging the airport, concentrating on the north-south runway. Youts agreed to let them extend the runway another 750 feet onto some more of his property. Then the adjacent landowner allowed them to use a portion of his land, and the strip grew to its present length of 3,875 feet.

Physically, the airport hasn't changed much since then — but the use of it certainly has.

TODAY, Dimmitt Airport is the home of 31 planes (although it has hangar space for only 23). These 31 planes have a current, depreciated value of $420,000. Eighty percent of these are classified as business and industrial planes; only 20 percent are classified as pleasure craft.

The airport is also the home of two aviation firms, D&D Aerial Spray and Tidwell Flying Service. Their specialized planes are used throughout the county to spread fertilizer, kill insects, control encephalitis, stop weeds, defoliate cotton, and produce higher crop yields. In addition, they provide charter flight service anywhere in the US and conduct individual flight training.

THE NUMBER of qualified pilots has mushroomed here, too, as more and more businessmen, farmers and housewives learn to use the airplane as most of us use a car.

Dimmitt now has 75 to 100 licensed pilots — "and some of them are as good as you'll find anywhere," says Buster Tidwell, who makes his living in the air. Seven of these are commercial pilots, and the rest have private licenses (the aviation equivalent to

Adequate Airport Is a 'Must' For 80 Percent of Industries

More than 80 percent of the top industries in the US require an airport with facilities that will accommodate their fleets of executive aircraft, and will not select a plant location that doesn't have these facilities.

THIS IS THE main point of a brochure released last year by the Texas Aeronautics Commission.

The TAC reported in the brochure that a questionnaire study of the 500 top industries in the US regarding their needs and desires for local airports showed:

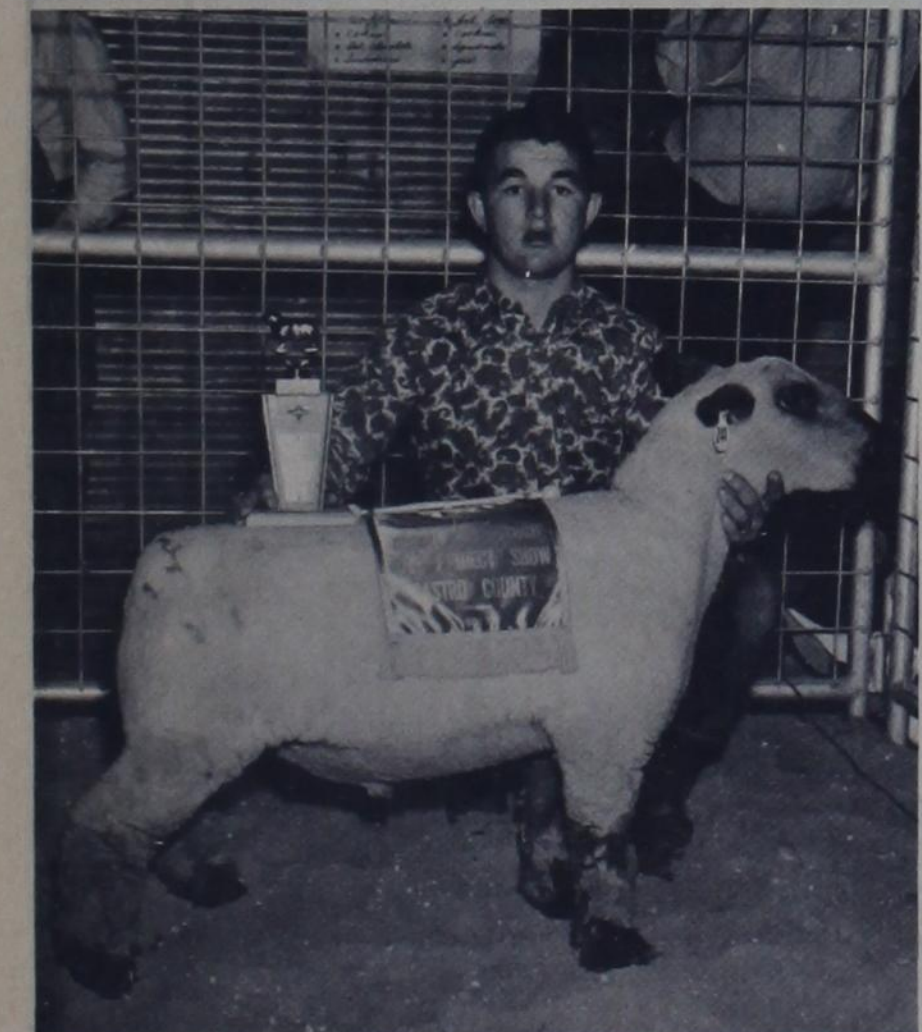

Three percent of the companies require airstrips to accommodate single engine aircraft; 20.8 percent require airstrips to accommodate light twin engine aircraft; 28.5 percent require airstrips to accommodate medium twin engine aircraft; and 57.1 percent require airstrips for heavy twin engine planes.

THE MAXIMUM capability of Dimmitt Airport at present is the accommodation of light twin engine aircraft in daytime. This means Dimmitt Airport is currently adequate for 23.8 percent of industrial aircraft and inadequate for all other industrial planes.

The proposed plan to modernize Dimmitt Airport would make it adequate for 95 percent of industrial aircraft, according to the Chamber of Commerce airport committee.

The Grand Champions

W. A. HAWKINS III of Hart was the biggest winner in the lamb division of last week's Castro County Junior Livestock Show. The Hart FFA boy's lightweight Hampshire lamb was named best in the medium wool class, then won over the champions of five other lamb classes for the grand championship. Hawkins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis A. Hawkins Jr.

HAROLD BOB BENNETT of Hart was mighty proud when his 988-lb. Hereford steer was named grand champion of the Castro County Junior Livestock Show Saturday morning. Before ascending to the championship, Bennett's steer was named the best of class in competition among heavyweight calves. The 15-year-old Hart FFA boy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Ed Bennett. For the third year in a row, Hart FFA and 4-H members swept the junior show, taking every grand and reserve championship in all divisions. Lanny Tucker is Hart FFA sponsor.

CLIFFORD RAY of Hart put his big Hampshire barrow through the biggest division of the Castro County Junior Livestock Show Friday. And in every judging, the big barrow came up the winner — and after the huge field had been narrowed to seven class winners, Ray's barrow came out with the grand championship. Ray's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Claude Ray.

Program to Air Airport Issue

Radio Station KDHN will conduct a 30-minute public forum today (Thursday) on the airport bond election.

The question-answer session will be sponsored by First State Bank, and will originate from the bank's community room at 9:30 a.m.

ON HAND to answer phoned-in questions on the airport issue will be Bill McMorries, engineer; Bob McLean, bank president; Dr. J. D. Blackburn, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce airport committee; and other chamber and city officials.

30,000 Texans Travel by Air

General aviation-business and private flying — "literally exploding" in the Lone Star State, according to the Texas Aeronautics Commission.

WITH 11,000 aircraft and more than 30,000 pilots, Texas ranks second only to California in the use of general aviation.

And the TAC predicts that general aviation will increase by at least 40 percent in the next five years.

"Nothing foreseeable can stop the growth of this transportation system," the TAC says. "If Texas anticipates and adequately prepares for the use of this new transportation, it will benefit all Texans economically and will be a substantial factor in saving our small communities."

Young Farmers Have Busy Week

The Dimmitt Young Farmers had a busy schedule last week. They started the week by getting the lights replaced in the show barns, getting sand for the show ring and hauling the show ring panels from Friona.

CLARK DOBBS Speaks on grain

TUESDAY night they sponsored the Dimmitt FFA Stock Show for local FFA members. They also furnished the banners and ribbons and served as division superintendents.

Thursday night, they met at the DHS vo-ag building for their regular meeting and heard Clark Dobbs, local Lindsey Seed Co. representative, talk on the latest developments in grain sorghum production. After the program, the show animals were divided into weight classes for the Friday judging.

YOUNG FARMERS served as general superintendent, swine superintendents, lamb superintendent and chief clerk of the county show. They were also responsible for hauling, setting up and returning the chairs for the prize animals sale. They tore down the show ring and set up the sale ring, and they bought the sifted hogs and hauled them to market for the boys.

To the Mothers of Dimmitt:

I learned last June just how important our airport is to us.

Twice within 24 hours, our Dimmitt pilots are called upon to get emergency help here for members of my family as quickly as possible.

My husband, C. W. (Dub) George Jr., and our son Danny were in a fatal automobile accident at noon on June 23. A neurosurgeon flew here from Lubbock to treat them, and they had the best medical care possible.

Then at 2 a.m. on June 24, my son Larry had to have an emergency appendectomy. There was no anesthetist here to administer the anesthesia to him. Allan Webb left Dimmitt Airport at 2 a.m., flew to Amarillo, brought the anesthetist here for Larry's surgery, then flew him back to Amarillo at 3:30 or 4 a.m. the same night.

I was concerned mainly for my family at that time, and didn't know until later just how important a role the airport had played in the lives and safety of my family.

I wish I could vote for all of us in the airport bond election Friday. Please join me in voting for the bond issue.

The fine courthouse that houses the county's business offices. Incidentally the bonds for that fine edifice were voted in a second election with the federal government supplying forty percent of the necessary funds for its construction;

Our four fine school buildings and many of the other school facilities were financed by bonds okayed by people who realized the need and were willing to pay the price;

Dimmitt, overall, probably has the finest network of paved streets of any town anywhere of comparable size. Our street paving was made possible only by the passage of bond elections;

Our water and sewer systems, that very adequately take care of the needs of our city, are the result of the people of Dimmitt being willing, in numerous instances, to pass bond issues to secure the needed facilities;

Our fine city hall and fire station is another needed facility that we all take pride in and is daily proving its worth. That bond issue carried by only one vote, but it carried;

Then there is our county hospital that provides our county and city with a fine health service, I should know. Boy, am I proud those bond issues carried.

Somebody may give us something sometime, but it is very doubtful. Chances are we will have to pay for needed improvements from here on in. In the case of the airport the federal government is offering to pay half of the cost, and this is probably as good a deal as we can ever expect to get. This is a needed public facility and merits the support of Dimmitt voters.

'Family Tree' Course Begins

A night class in genealogy — the climbing of your family tree — will be organized tonight (Thursday) at 7:30 in the county library.

MRS. MABEL HEARD, Dimmitt Junior High School counselor, will instruct the course.

The class is open to all persons interested in tracing their family trees. Librarian Sandra Robb said. Those attending tonight's session in the courthouse basement will decide the class's meeting times, and will receive work sheets and materials.

No enrollment fee will be charged, Mrs. Robb said.

More About:

Airport

a driver's license).

Seven persons — homeowners and taxpayers — now make their living at the Dimmitt Airport.

On the average, Dimmitt turns out one new pilot every 65 days. In the last five years, at least 25 have earned their wings here. Right now, 14 student pilots are learning to fly at Dimmitt Airport.

THIS IS THE kind of business the Jaycees generated here by building that basic dirt landing strip. And the modernized airport now being proposed would generate even more business for Dimmitt perhaps more than we realize.

We don't see many of the larger, faster business planes here — simply because their owners won't land them on our short dirt runway. They land instead at Hereford, then drive over. They buy their aviation fuel at Hereford, pay their fuel taxes at Hereford, buy most of their meals at Hereford, and have their planes' mechanical touch-ups done at Hereford.

And we don't see as many home-based planes here as we would if we had more hangars and a better runway. At least four plane owners in the county have said they would move their planes from Hereford, Hart and Plainview to Dimmitt if the runway were paved and hangar space were available.

WHEN YOU list these growth factors, the current problem jumps out at you: the need has outgrown the facilities here. If Dimmitt wants to keep pace with the potential that's here for aviation, it needs a better airport.

Don't get the idea that we would be modernizing our airport for the convenience of a little group of Sunday afternoon Rickenbackers. Ours is mainly a business and industrial airport, and it's to the best interests of all of us to modernize it.

Here's why: SINCE THE advent of irrigation, the booming High Plains area has known nothing but growth. However, we're now beginning to see towns around us lose population.

It's not just a sad thing for a town to lose population. It's an expensive thing, too. Older residents begin paying higher and higher property taxes for the same services, as the tax base dwindles. The town's young people move where the opportunity is greater. The "future" is no longer there. These problems are very difficult to solve. They're much easier to avert.

THE TOWNS and cities in this area that are still growing healthily are the ones that prepared for the future — the ones that actively aimed for new, diversified business and industry, and created a broad-based climate for growth. Dimmitt is one of these.

Significantly, these are the towns with airports.

And the towns that will continue to grow are likely to be the ones that keep up with the age of aviation.

NEARLY ANY industry today, when seeking a new plant site, will have a list of six to 10 basic questions that the city must answer before it will consider locating. One of these questions is, "Does your city have an airport that will accommodate medium-size aircraft?"

This is because the trend throughout industry today is to widespread branches and diversification. And the airways have become the highways for inter-industry travel.

RIGHT NOW, our airport isn't keeping up with the needs and growth of aviation. If it were modernized, it could prove to be the key for more industry here in the future — which in turn would provide a broader tax base, lower city taxes, and more growth.

But even with such speculation aside, the airport project would be a good investment, simply because it would pay for itself.

Right now, hangar rent's and commercial usage fees are netting the airport more than $5,000 a year. Estimates are that the airport, if modernized, would net at least $7,000 a year — enough to pay off the bonds six years early.

AND WHO knows what extra benefits our airport could reap for us? It could be an important key to Dimmitt's future, and we'd be making a wasteful mistake if we didn't turn that key with our votes Friday.

Lawmakers Watch Saturday Voting

Two pilots who are hoping the airport bond election will carry here Saturday are State Representative Bill Clayton and Congressman Bob Price.

BOTH USE the local airport extensively. Price flew in two weeks ago for a meeting of 18th District advisors, and used the airport on all his campaign trips here last summer.

Clayton, who flies his own plane back and forth weekly between the state capital and his Springlake home, has been the main supporter in Austin of the local airport project. As a member of the Texas Aeronautics Commission, he is working to get state aviation funds to help modernize the Dimmitt Airport.

bly tend to specialize in single phases," Hilburn said.

THE UNGRADED school concept, which started in progressive schools in Florida and California, has been on the educational scene in Texas only since 1962, when a Corpus Christi elementary school initiated it. In the last two years, the program has been initiated in elementary schools at Hale Center, Vega, Plainview and Dumas.

"The principal of the Corpus Christi school that started this in Texas now attests that they no longer have any elementary students who can't read properly," Hilburn said.

Dimmitt elementary schools will begin with ungraded reading first, "reading is the backbone of all other subjects."

"A LARGE percentage of public elementary schools today are still turning out students who are unable to read and comprehend properly," he added. "This hinders their education when they get into high school, and later they can't operate in college at all."

"A lot of students in Dimmitt High School are way behind in their reading, and we intend for this new program to practically eliminate this problem — although we know it's no cure-all," he said.

He estimated $10,000 as the cost to initiate the program in the first three grades. Main cost will be in new materials, he said.

The first capitol building at Austin was partially built from logs and sawn lumber obtained at Bastrop, in the heart of the Lost Pine area, according to the Texas Forest Service. Today, wood production from the pine-hardwood area furnishes much of the economic life blood of the state.

Seven administrative districts, each headed by a district forester, are responsible for the activities of the Texas Forest Service. District headquarters are located at Linden, Henderson, Lufkin, Woodville, Kirbyville, Conroe and College Station.

"We're Thankful"

My wife and I were thankful for local air travel availability when we needed it.

On March 19, Mrs. Brock and myself received word of a critical illness in our family in Kansas City, and learned that we were needed there as soon as possible.

We contacted Dimmitt Airport, and a plane was ready immediately to take us. We arrived in Kansas City 2 1/2 hours after taking off from Dimmitt.

By having a charter plane available here, we were able to make the trip several hours faster than we could have by booking passage on a scheduled airline, and we also saved the trip to Amarillo. Any other mode of transportation would have taken extra hours that we couldn't spare at that time.

Having an airstrip and charter plane service available here has proven to be a blessing for many Dimmitt families in times of emergency, when fast transportation was essential.

The modernization of Dimmitt Airport will make this service even more efficient, faster, safer, day or night. It will "pave the airways" between Dimmitt and the rest of the nation.

I'm in favor of better travel and transportation facilities for Dimmitt in all phases.

"This is a fine little girl that got sidetracked from the rest of the world. Now she's trying to make it back.

"There are lots of kids like this. Little folks that hurt all over, trying to learn how to walk. Trying to do things other kids don't have to learn. They'll make it, too, if they don't run out of hope.

"Hope is a job for Easter Seals. Special doctors and nurses. Special equipment. Special love—special ways to keep these little ones full of hope. It costs money.

"But not a lot if we split it up.

"How about you m'friend? Slow down a minute, and reach out a hand with a few dollars in it, for Easter Seals. If you do, you'll put one of these little kids a little closer to catching up with the rest of the world. And that's a fine thing."

Baptist Singers Get Top Ratings

Superior ratings were received by both entries of the First Baptist Church in the Llanos Altos Associational Music Festival held at First Baptist Church of Lubbock recently.

THE ADULT Choir was awarded superior ratings of 93 and 95 for its presentation of the hymn of the month, "Grace Greater Than Our Sin," and for the anthem selection, "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross."

Judges commented about the fine quality of both the choir and its accompanist, Janice Monee. Both judges, James D. Cram, assistant professor of music and director of the International Choir at Wayland Baptist College in Plainview, and Edward L. Wittner, minister of music at First Baptist Church, Plainview, exclaimed, "Excellent accompanist." Wittner closed his comments concerning the choir's "good, clean presentation" with an emphatic, "A great job!"

THE LADIES Trio also received a superior rating for an a cappella presentation of the gospel hymn, "I Am Not Worthy." Judges, Mrs. Ed Wittner and Malcolm Grainger, minister of music at the First Baptist Church of Monahans, awarded the ensemble ratings of 98 and 97, respectively. MAYOR E. E. FOSTER RECEIVES PLAQUE From Willis A. Hawkins Jr., left

Foster Is Hart's Man of the Year

Hart's Man of the Year is Mayor E. E. Foster.

HIS SELECTION was announced last week at the Hart Lions' annual Ladies Night banquet.

Hart's Man of the Year is a member of the Castro County Community Action Committee for economic opportunity, and has served on the county board of the High Plains Underground Water District. He is a charter member and past president of the Hart Lions Club, holds a 40-year American Legion pin, is adjutant of Hart's American Legion Post, and served six years on the local school board.

IN HIS church, the First Methodist, he is a member of the official board, past president of Methodist Men and former Sunday school superintendent and teacher.

The first office he was elected to in Hart was manager of the city's Little League baseball program.

After spending his youth at Bowman Ridge and Alexander, Mayor Foster moved to Floydada in 1915. He left the High Plains during World War I to serve 13 months in France, then returned to settle at Allmon, near Peterburg. He married Lena Falls of Stephenville in August, 1919.

Mayor and Mrs. Foster first came to Hart in 1955, and he farmed until 1950 when he became manager of Hart Co-op Gin. He retired May 1, 1966.

The Fosters have one son and two daughters.

THE LADIES Night banquet was held in the Hart school cafeteria, with freshman and sophomore home economics students serving dinner.

Lion Boss W. T. Sanders introduced the guests, including Deputy District Gov. Milton Laurie of Kress and Rev. Carl Hudson, also of Kress, who is chairman of District 271 golden anniversary activities.

Umbersons Visit Here

Mr. and Mrs. Dee Umberson and daughters, Dee Ann and Dana of Alamogordo, N.M., were weekend visitors of his mother, Mrs. E. S. Umberson, 311 NW Fourth St.

First Baptist News From My Heart to Yours

To execute a retreat involving fifty-eight young people, eleven adults and the distance between Dimmitt and Santa Fe, New Mexico is no small undertaking. To have all this happen in such a manner as to bring about a high spiritual experience for these sixty-nine people has to be a work of God.

But God works with flesh and blood tools, therefore I want to express a Pastor's thanks to all who gave themselves to this effort.

Mrs. V. C. Hopson, youth coordinator, and our youth leaders, laid the foundation for the most spiritual retreat I have ever attended. These wonderful people went as counselors: Don and Elizabeth Hooten, Martin and Kay Young, Jess Willard, Doyle Underwood, Bobby Strait, Dora Baldrige and Dorothy Hopson. A special word of appreciation is due "Judge" Baldrige. Even though he is not a member of our church, "Judge" loves young people so much that he volunteered to take a carload, thereby giving his time and the expense involved in doing this.

Our thanks to Clyde Vick for getting a bus for us.
And to R. O. Nelson for servicing the bus and donating gasoline.
And to that group of people who met to pray for the retreat.
And to the young people who went. Their attitude and consideration for others were large factors in the success of this trip. I am convinced that no finer group of young people can be found anywhere than those in our town! See you Sunday.

Your pastor and friend,
Frank Pollard

Hey Red!

Hey Red,
My boyfriend is a pilot and loves to take me flying in his open top airplane. This literally wrecks my hairdo. What can I do?
Windy Wanda

Dear Windy,
Get in a little sky diving. Have him drop you off at the Blue Room for a fresh hairdo on the way to the hangar.
Red

Hey Red,
I'm up in the air over this fellow but he prefers redheads. I'm a natural blond and he's the first guy I've met who hasn't preferred blonds. What can I do?
Blondie

Dear Blondie,
We're experts in coloring at the Blue Room, but don't take a chance. Get a new wig in the color he claims he prefers and try it out on him. This Dagwood of yours may prefer blonds after all.

CDA Group Sees Slide Program

Dora Albracht and Betty Wilhelm showed slides of Father Elmer Albracht's ordination in May 1966 at the latest meeting of the Nazareth Catholic Daughters of America.

A LETTER from the Women for Decency Committee was read. A list of objectionable magazines was enclosed. The list will be mimeographed and made available to the parish.

A report on the Va'entine meeting in Amarillo was given. At that meeting, Father Christmas urged everyone to attend the dance to be held Saturday at which the proceeds will go to Catholic Charities.

The nominating committee for the upcoming May election of officers was selected. They were Norma Schacher, Catherine Hochstein, Dorothy Klemm, Thelma Westington and Lucille Drerup.

DOROTHY KLEMM announced that for the next meeting the members who wished to should make an original Easter bonnet to be shown and judged then.

Corrections Made In Jungman Story

The complete list of Gerald Jungman's survivors was not included in the story of his death and funeral in last week's issue of the News.

MR. JUNGMAN, 40, died in his pickup near Cactus March 3 while apparently trying to drive to a hospital after a fatal irrigation-well accident.

Also, investigation showed that Mr. Jungman never did leave his wrecked pickup, as was believed when last week's story was written.

He is survived by his wife, Patsy; two daughters, Kim and Cindy; a son, Buddy; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Jungman

Revisit Center To Be a Reality

Plans for opening a Revisit Center in Hereford for brain damaged children were announced Saturday morning by Guy M. Parrish, director of the Institutes for the Achievement of Human Potential of Texas, Inc.

THE CENTER, to be located directly west of the Deaf Smith

County Courthouse, will be officially opened March 20.

The announcement caps a long campaign and fund drive in the area to provide such a center for brain-damaged children in Castro, Deaf Smith and surrounding counties. Until now, the nearest facility was in San Antonio.

Persons in Castro County have contributed $236 to a fund through First State Bank to initiate the revisit center plan.

Dr. Bruce G. Beene of Hereford will serve as medical director of the new center.

Nazareth Singers To Give Concert Sunday Afternoon

Nazareth School music groups will present their first annual Easter concert Sunday afternoon at 2:30 in the high school gymnasium.

PERFORMING groups, under the direction of Nolan W. Froehner, will be the Swift Band, the Sixth Grade Junior Band, and the Fifth Grade Beginner Band. These groups will be massed together with grades two, three, and four in vocal numbers with some of the latest popular tunes included in the program.

Also included in the Pa'm Sunday concert will be a number of combined third and fourth grade tonettes.

The concert is open to the public, and there will be no admission charge. However, anyone wishing to contribute to the instrument fund may do so at the door after the concert.

"THE REVISIT Center will be staffed by members of the parent institute from San Antonio until such time as a local person can be trained in Philadelphia," Parrish said.

A branch of the San Antonio institute, the Revisit Center will be designed for treatment of brain damaged persons.

"At present, there are approximately 80 children in the general area who will be coming to the center for evaluation and programming," Parrish said. "Many more families have expressed interest in placing their children on this program of rehabilitation now that the facility will be available here."

CARD OF THANKS

Words cannot express our heartfelt appreciation to every one for all your prayers, food, cards, visits, flowers and every expression of love and friendship extended to us during the illness and passing of our beloved mother.

Special thanks also to Dr. Blackburn, nurses and Rev. Frank Pollard.
The family of Mrs. Fannie Shive

Art Gallery Perspective

By Alice Cowen

The Pictures of the Month are hanging in the City Drug this month and not in the window of Kittrell Electronics as this column reported last week.

NEW ART students at the Gallery whose names were not mentioned last week are Lucille and Dorothy Carson and Mrs. Spain.

Larry Hilburn's student exhibit in Amarillo will run through this week; then pictures will be changed and others will be shown for the rest of the month. Dimmitt artists who have paintings hanging there this week are Alice Anthony, Polly Be'ly Bell, Babe Scoggin and Alice Cowen.

Mitch Kennedy has completed a painting that shows talent and imagination, and it is only his second. Larry is taking it to the Amarillo exhibit. Mitch is going to try painting on velvet next.

Guild members are a bit stirred up over their next assignment — something representing an industry. Next Guild meeting should tell the tale.

Homemakers To Meet Tonight

Dimmitt Young Homemakers will meet at 7:30 tonight (Thursday) in the homemaking department of Dimmitt High School.

MEMBERS will see a movie on the Holy Land. Babysitters will be available, and the meeting is open to all interested ladies.

Miss Dehtan

Dehtan-Stafford Plans Revealed

Donna Joann Dehtan and Tommy Lee Stafford will be married at 4 p.m. May 28 in Dimmitt's First Baptist Church.

The announcement was made by Miss Dehtan's parents, Mrs. Rex Sheffy of Dimmitt and Willie Dehtan of Lubbock.

STAFFORD, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stafford, is a senior in Dimmitt High School and will graduate May 26. Miss Dehtan is a 1966 graduate of DHS and is employed at First State Bank.

An invitation is issued to all friends of the couple to attend the wedding.

WHY DIMMITT NEEDS A BIGGER, BETTER AIRPORT

1. Dimmitt is a growing community – its population has doubled in the last decade. Its airport requirements have grown, too – the number of planes based here is TEN TIMES GREATER than a decade ago!
2. When Dimmitt Airport was built in 1957 by the Jaycees, three planes were initially hangared there. Today the airport is the home of 31 planes. Of these, 80 percent are business and industrial aircraft and 20 percent are pleasure craft. More planes – bigger and faster planes – need to use our airport now, but can't because of our short dirt runway and lack of night landing facilities.
3. If Friday's bond election passes and the airport is put under city ownership, it will immediately begin providing the city with income equal to the property taxes paid by 20 new families. Its income would offset the bond payments, and in the long run, the airport would be paid for by those who use it.
4. There are more registered airplanes in West Texas than in any other part of this five-state region. Modern transportation has had to overcome distance.
5. Modern industries and businesses demand quick, competent transportation and modern airport facilities. If Dimmitt does NOT provide these facilities, our community will have two strikes against it in trying to secure new industrial branches.
6. An improved, enlarged airport will be an all-weather, day-or-night safeguard to ALL OF US in times of emergency, illness or accident. Air ambulances, medical supplies, and emergency materials of all types will be hours or days closer.
7. Our airport site is near the city, near a major highway, and near choice industrial and business sites – making it a valuable key in the city's future growth.
8. Both the site of the airport and the modernization plan adhere to strict FAA requirements, including approach paths, distance from residential areas, runway length, drainage, distance from obstructions and towers, and accessibility.
9. If the bond issue passes, the new Dimmitt Municipal Airport will be operated under FAA rules and regulations, and the strictest standards of safety and protection would be adhered to.
10. A modernized airport would provide Dimmitt with the best (and only) commercial transportation link with the rest of the nation. It will be adequate for 95 percent of today's aircraft, and will immediately connect Dimmitt with every other airport in the US.

Cotton's Past Is Rich, But What of Its Future?

(Editor's Note: The current government stockpile of short-staple cotton is causing increasing concern to cotton growers on the High Plains. This article by Gene Ellis of Dimmitt points up the rich history of cotton — and questions its future.)

By Gene Ellis
Some 1,800 years before the birth of Christ, people in the countries of Europe found a plant growing that had beautiful blossoms in the summer and later developed a white fiber that they could use to weave into clothing or blankets.

DURING this period, the main source of fiber for clothing was wool or animal skins. Much to the surprise of these ancestors of ours, this new fiber was very comfortable and did not scratch or itch. It was cool in summer and warm in winter.

We have no idea what this fiber was called at that time, but it was very useful and had great trade value.

The next mention of this fiber was in 800 A.D., when China and Japan were producing it for market. We know from a study of history that the countries of western Europe carried on trade relations with China and Japan, so we can be almost positive that some of this cloth was brought back to western Europe.

THE NEXT mention of cotton was when America was discovered. This little white flower was taken back to Europe, and cotton began to be planted there.

When the Spanish explorers began to travel over Mexico and the western part of the US we found more mention of this wonder plant growing wild, and also the Inca and Aztec Indians were raising it and making it into material for clothing. So man has traced this miracle fiber, this little white flower and wonder plant, for some 3,500 years.

After America was discovered and this wonder plant was taken back to England and produced in great quantities, it changed many said, apply these percentages to the rate applicable to the farm projected yield, the price support and diversion dates: 28 percent on castor beans and guar; and 40 percent on crame, mustard seed, plantago ovata and sesame.

COTTON diverted acreage: 50 percent on castor beans, crame, guar and sesame, and 70 percent on mustard seed and plantago ovata.

lives. It produced many more jobs by planting, cultivating, harvesting, and weaving. It created so much havoc that Parliament passed a law in 1682 to prohibit the free trade of cotton because it was taken the place of woolen materials. Why? Because of the comfortable feeling cotton has when made into clothing.

The next stride cotton made was the production for market in the new-found country, America.

HERE OUR ancestors had freedom of speech, press, and the right to produce anything for market they wished, if it would enhance their living standards. Most of the cotton was produced in the part of the country we know as Georgia, Virginia, Alabama and Florida.

However, very little was raised because of the process of separating of seed from the lint. Then a fellow by the name of Eli Whitney charged this with the invention of the cotton gin. This process eliminated the tedious hours of hand separation of lint and seed. The principle of the first cotton gin and those we have today are primarily the same. The only difference is in speed of operation and the cleaning facilities that have been added.

Today in the United States we have cotton in a very extensive program. We are producing about 40 percent of the cotton grown in all the world.

HOWEVER, we have hit upon a trend to place our cotton in warehouses across the nation and are importing some 50 to 60 percent of the cotton goods that are on the shelves of our stores. The bad part of this is that this material is made from cotton with below one-inch fiber length. (Note Dr. Harnes' speech at Lubbock Feb. 22, 1967.)

We are on a drive for longer staple cotton with a stronger micronaire rating to compete with this import cotton. Cost-wise, it does not make sense. Quality always costs somebody money.

The cotton industry in the US is probably one of the largest businesses going when you break it down from seed to material and then to the consumer. Let's look.

WE FIRST have the farmer and his acreage, then the seed man, fertilizer dealer, farm laborer, cotton chopper, insecticides, oil mill, food products from oil, cotton buyer, transportation, spinner, weaver, transportation of material, dyeing, clothing factory, wholesaler, and retail merchant.

When you line all of these different businesses up, you employ a lot of people.

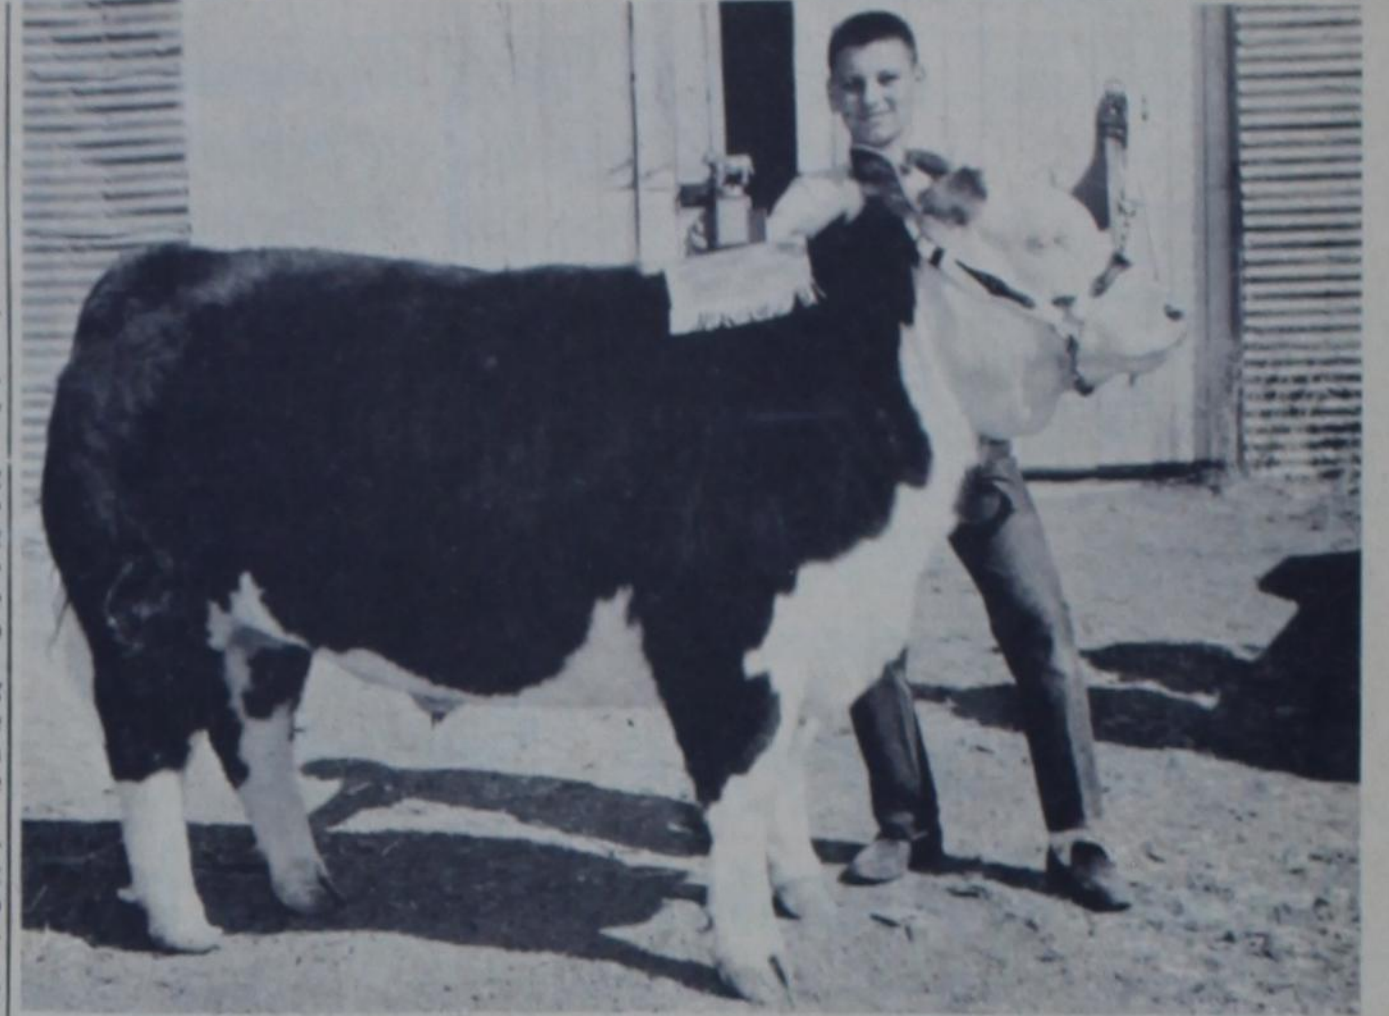

We here in the US are fighting poverty with handouts — welfare and unemployment checks. But still we are cutting the acreage of a product that employs more people than any other known to mankind.

SOMETHING must be wrong somewhere along the line if we cannot see the advantage of cotton production to the majority of the people of this nation.

We know there are many synthetics on the market, but they do not have the comforts of cotton, nor do they have the usefulness of cotton.

This is on'y a brief rundown of over 3,000 years of a commodity that is being forced into extinction, and these are the views of one person, being mostly adopted from substantial records.

Let's do something about cotton!

PHIL DAVIS, Hart FFA member, showed the reserve champion beef calf in the Castro County Junior Livestock Show Saturday. His 1,000-lb. Hereford steer placed second in the heavy beef class, then went on to win the reserve championship. Phil is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Davis.

Grain Men Slate Meeting, Voting

Dimmitt will host an educational and directional meeting on grain sorghum next Thursday night.

SPONSORED by the Grain Sorghum Producers Association, the meeting is one of 12 being conducted in the High Plains grain counties. Castro GSPA officers and directors for the coming year will be elected at the same meeting.

Next Thursday night's meeting will be at 8 o'clock in the Dimmitt High School cafeteria. Melvin Barton of Easter, a GSPA director, is in charge of the session. GSPA president, said farmers have done the best job ever in supporting the organization, and that this meeting is to inform them on the programs and projects currently being worked on by GSPA. Also, GSPA officials will seek added direction from local producers on new activities for grain sorghum betterment.

Y. F. SNODGRASS of the GSPA staff will discuss the possibility of changing county loan rates on sorghum, plus the new labor laws affecting producers.

Rudie Tate of the GSPA North Plains staff will speak on current new developments in livestock feeding and processing in the sorghum area as well as possibilities for food and industrial use of grain sorghum.

New county GSPA officers will be elected during the new business session of the meeting.

Six Crops Okayed On Diverted Land

Six crops have been okayed for planting on minimum required diversion for feed grain and on acreage diverted from cotton this year.

THEY ARE castor beans, guar, crame, mustard seed, plantago ovata and sesame.

County ASCS Manager Charley Hill said the per acre payment reduction rates on the crops are:

Feed grain diverted acres: 70 percent for castor beans and guar, and 100 percent for crame, mustard seed, plantago ovata and sesame. These percentages are on the diversion rate which would be applicable to the first 20 percent of the feed grain base.

(To determine the rate, Hill

Deadline Friday On '67 Sign-ups

Friday is the deadline for farmers to sign up at the ASCS office in Dimmitt for the 1967 feed grain, wheat and cotton programs.

ADVANCE payments equal to one-half of the computed diverted acres payment for cotton and one-half of the computed price support payment for feed grains may be requested when you sign up, according to County Manager Charley E. Hill.

Loan Date Near On Wheat, Barley

March 31 is the final date for placing 1966 wheat and barley crops under loan through the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, County ASCS Manager Charley Hill reminded producers this week.

OTHER 1966 crop loan deadlines are May 1 on cotton, May 31 on grain sorghum, and June 30 on corn and soybeans.

Maturity dates are April 30 on wheat and barley, June 30 on grain sorghum, and July 31 on corn, cotton and soybeans.

Next Breakthrough:

People Will Become Grain Sorghum Eaters

Grain sorghum eventually will become known as a food grain rather than a feed grain in the United States, a research scientist predicted last week.

O. BEN GERRISH, head of the food science section of Midwest Research Institute, Kansas City, made the forecast during the fifth biennial International Grain Sorghum Research and Utilization Conference in Amarillo.

More than 265 farmers, business and two foreign countries attended the two-day meeting sponsored by the Grain Sorghum Producers Association.

"While sorghum is a most important food grain in large parts of Asia and Africa, only about 10 percent of the sorghum grown in the United States is used as human food," Gerrish said. "When the population in this nation comes into a closer relationship with the available food supply, then we'll start using more grain sorghum for food in the United States."

DR. S. M. KENNEDY, vice-president for academic affairs at Texas Tech, pointed out that the "country that is a world power doesn't reach that level without a reliable source of food."

"The food supply has to be reliable for the country to exist. History has shown that nations have literally fallen apart because they failed to grow adequate food supplies."

He added that grain sorghum has been looked upon as a crisis ration, and it will take a considerable amount of educating to convince the American housewife that it is an edible food.

SPEAKING in the same vein was the conference's keynote speaker, Dr. K. Sundara Rajan, economic minister with the Embassy in India, Washington, D.C.

"In the rich countries there is a growing realization of the urgent need to help the poor countries raise their standards of living. There will be no lasting peace in the world if some countries are rich and others continue to be poor. The world of today cannot be divided into the two watertight compartments of very rich and poor without grave detriment to both," Dr. Rajan said.

He added that "in most of the developing countries where people live close to starvation levels, you cannot tighten a belt on a skeleton — it takes a tremendous effort over a number of years to reach a self-sustaining growth."

HE SAID THAT in India the net area of land for farming is expected to increase by less than one percent during the five-year period ending in 1971.

"At the same time, the country's population is expected to increase by 14 percent. This means that most of the country's additional food requirement must be met by raising the productivity of the land," he said.

India plans to increase its production of food grains to 120 million tons by 1971 through the use of high-yielding hybrid seeds, concentrated applications of fertilizers and water and through help to farmers by keeping remunerative prices and adequate farm credit.

Public Service Starts New Industrial Search

Dimmitt customers of Southwestern Public Service Co. will receive a "Prosperity Through You" prospect card in their next electric statement.

"PROSPERITY Through You" is a program launched by the electric company in an effort to attract new industries to the communities which the company serves.

Earl Brock, local manager for Southwestern Public Service Co., requests that if Castro County people have any industrial prospects or even the slightest rumor that an industry is interested in this area, that the information be placed on the prospect card and that it be mailed or brought to the chamber of commerce office or to the Public Service office.

ALL OF THE tips provided by the program, which is designed to help local citizens realize their importance in industrial and community development, will be followed up by the chamber of commerce with the assistance of the utility company.

"Industrial development has many times resulted from the actions of one individual. Just the slightest rumor has led on many occasions, to the establishment of an industry which was economically important to a community. This type of approach will obviously lead to some blind alleys, but it is equally obvious that, with the cooperation of all of us, it can also produce some valuable industrial prospects," Larry Milner, industrial development manager for Southwestern Public Service Co., said.

PLANS FOR following up on the leads provided by the "Prosperity Through You" program for an evaluation of the tip by local business leaders and then some type of contact with the prospect suggested by the local resident.

Southwestern Public Service Co. announced establishment of a new industrial development department last fall. Since that time, the department has been accumulating economic information about communities in its service area so it will be able to provide industrial prospects with factual information.

"Prosperity Through You" is the first program in what will be an expanded industrial development effort.

How Precious OUR CHILDREN

In telling us of the heritage of the servants of the Lord, the prophet Isaiah says, "And all thy children shall be taught of the Lord; and great shall be the peace of thy children." Isaiah 54:13. We want our children to be taught the ways of love for God, for their neighbor, and for their fellow man. We know that if they are educated in the ways of love, great will be their peace and happiness, creativeness, and productivity.

What other agency is assigned by our Lord the task of teaching love of God and man than the church? Take your children to church this Sunday and claim His promises.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Sen. Jack Hightower of Vernon has introduced a proposal outlining stiff health and sanitation requirements for the disposing or processing of dead livestock.

UNDER THE proposal, all persons involved in rendering operations would be required to obtain licenses from the state health department.

Licensing and health and sanitation requirements would also extend to independent haulers who sell dead animals directly to rendering plants.

Texas Calf Crop Shows Increase

The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service says the 1966 calf crop for the state was up 1 percent from 1965 and totaled 4,685,000 head. The increase, they said, was the result of the larger percent calf crop.

Nationally, the calf crop was down very slightly but it was the first decline in the number of calves born from the previous year since 1958.

4-H PRESIDENTS walked off with the top two awards in the senior division of Saturday's County 4-H Project Show at the American Legion Hall. Diana Adams (left), president of the Frio 4-H Club, was the grand championship winner and Marilyn McLeroy, president of the Dimmitt Go-Getters 4-H Club, won the reserve championship. Diana is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Adams, and Marilyn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edd McLeroy.

Beet Growers Pick Jay Boston; Hear Optimistic Market Report

Sugar beet growers heard a glowing report on the sugar beet market and next year's prospects at a business session and election of officers last week in Hereford.

JAY BOSTON is the new president of the Texas-New Mexico Sugar Beet Growers Association, Inc. He succeeds S. L. Garrison of Easter as president of the two-state growers organization.

Dcn Shipley succeeds Virgil Marsh as vice-president. Officers were elected for the coming year at a board meeting March 6.

James W. Witherspoon of Hereford, executive secretary, told directors that presently the net return on sugar processed from the 1966 crop is a healthy $8 per cwt., and said he hoped this price will hold true for the year.

NET RETURNS in the last two years were $7.415 in 1964 and $7.616 in 1965.

At 14 percent sugar, the new higher return would mean the grower would be paid 71 cents per ton more for his sugar than he received for his raw sugar beets in 1965.

Marketing season on the '66 crop will not end until next Oct. 1.

Witherspoon also noted that the Secretary of Agriculture has established the contract scale for the 1967 crop now being planted at 30 cents per ton more than the contract price for the 1966 crop.

"IT SHOULD be noted that if the net selling price of sugar will remain at $8 per cwt. and with this additional 30 cents per ton," Witherspoon said, "the grower should realize considerable more per acre from the sugar beets harvested in 1967 than was realized in previous years."

Want to Save a Million?

By Irene Keating

A very busy week has just gone.

MANY OF you were involved in the activities surrounding the Junior Livestock and Project Show. The 4-H Council had a food sale at the Legion Hall during the event. We don't know yet how much money was made.

We wish to thank everyone who helped make it successful by donating time and food, or purchasing food the girls had baked and served.

TUESDAY afternoon, Argen Draper, CHDA in Deaf Smith County, presented a very informative program on "Consumer Economics in Home Furnishings." It was enjoyed by interested women in the county. It was related to the consumer economics phase of PEP.

Mrs. Draper reminded us that good management and consumer economics could save the residents of Castro County one million dollars per year. She discussed this more on Monday when she was on the radio program.

I WOULD like to remind all the homemakers in the county of the program on "Storage in the Kitchen, Bathroom, and Utility Rooms" to be given Tuesday at 2:30 p.m. in the courthouse assembly room. Mrs. Jane Berry, home furnishings specialist, will present the program.

I urge all who can to come. It will be a very informative, up-to-date program.

SOME OF YOU already have heard of the big change in the Extension Service, some of you have not. Effective nearly two weeks ago was a new policy in the distribution of our extension publica-

Rials Posts Perfect Grade

James Rials of Dimmitt was one of 18 students at South Plains College to make a perfect grade point average of 4.00 and gain a top place on the Dean's Honor List for the fall semester.

NAMES OF Honor List winners were released this week by Academic Dean Nathan Tubb.

Farm Receipts Rise 8 Percent

Texas farmers and ranchers received $2,676 million during the 1966 calendar year from the sale of crops and livestock and livestock products. Receipts were up 8 percent from a year earlier, said the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. The cash receipts were almost equally divided between crops and livestock.

tions. All publications will now be sold under certain conditions. These are the conditions as listed in our January 1967 publications catalog.

"Only one copy of each publication can be made available free. No more than 12 different titles may be obtained free of charge at one time."

There are two home economics bulletins that are available for sale on'y. "Christmas Time at Home" is 35 cents and "Salads" is 30 cents.

IT IS TIME for the Home Demonstration Club women to be thinking of the woman their club wants to nominate as Home Demonstration Club Woman of the Year for 1967. Each club needs to write a resume about the woman they selected.

This month we are emphasizing Consumer Economics. Here is some information that will be of interest to all of us.

Some present-day credit practices make it almost impossible for one to make intelligent decisions about credit. Various methods of stating consumer credit costs often confuse, confound, and mask the true financing cost.

In an ideal credit transaction, the debtor is told the accurate price of credit and the charges are stated as an annual rate. More frequently, however, the following practices are employed:

(1) The price of credit is given as a simple monthly rate which on a true annual basis amounts to 12 times the monthly rate.

(2) The borrower is quoted an add-on or discount percentage rate. That is, he is quoted a rate on the original amount of credit rather than on the periodic

Activities Hit High Gear

By Carolyn Dunn
These past few weeks have really been busy ones for the students of DHS with the regional basketball tournament, the State PTA convention, the state basketball tournament and the Baptist Ski Retreat.

THE WEEKEND of the state tournament was a rather long one. School ended that week for the boys on Tuesday, and many students joined the "exodus" to Austin. Almost the entire metropolis of Big "D" was down in Austin.

After the game on Saturday, most of the boys began to enjoy the trip. They were down in spirits, but we all know how long it takes to get someone out of the dumps when the whole group is together.

The town started to liven up again Saturday as some Dimmittites returned home. The remainder came home Sunday and were here to greet the Cats outside of town. Everyone is indeed proud of our runner-up state champions. Congratulations, Cats!

THIS LAST week was a short one, too. On Monday afternoon, the Eastern New Mexico Little Theatre presented a play, "The Emperor's New Clothes." It was really cute. Everyone enjoyed it. On Monday night, the PTA met and hosted an open house. At the meeting, Dr. Wallace, head of the Evaluation Study, spoke. He told the parents the reasons for the study. He also told them a group of professors were coming in the next two or three weeks to observe and evaluate our school.

On Tuesday, the senior met and discussed the gift to the school and appointed committees to write the will, the history, and the class prophesy. Those committees have already begun work.

We understand that Bill Glidewell is on crutches — or most of the time, anyway. He had a "lit-

Open Letter From Bobcats

Dear Bobcat Boosters
We, the Bobcats of Dimmitt High School, would like to thank each and every person who has supported us this year. If we were ahead, you yelled loudly, and when we were behind, you encouraged us on even more.

WE WOULD especially want to thank Mrs. Shirley Kountz and the Pep Club for all the wonderful signs and all the support you have given us. We appreciate very much our faculty for backing us and following us to the games.

We know we couldn't have gone to Austin if it weren't for our wonderful boosters. Whether you are a student, parent, teacher or business man, our deepest appreciation goes to you for all you have done for us this year.

Thanks Again

Seniors Plan Year-end Events

Seniors met last week in Room 10 to select committees for graduation events. President Ray Bradley conducted the session.

The committee for the junior-senior party includes Genita Aldridge, Mike Bruegel, Kent Lindsey and Carolyn Simpson.

Bee'ee Goodwin, Rodney Hutto, Linda Harman and Sandra Coffman were appointed the Gift Committee. Suggestions for a gift to leave the school were made.

The remaining members of the class volunteered for the committees on the will, prophesy and history.

The different committees will make plans to meet at a later date.

Council Hears Tourney Plans

The Student Council met Wednesday of last week, in the Band Hall. A report was presented from the volleyball committee. The annual all school volleyball tournament will be held soon.

The group also discussed financial problems and decided the members could afford to attend the state convention.

Portales early Friday morning in hopes of winning a couple of awards and gaining some experience. The cast consisted of Genita Aldridge, Sandra Coffman, David Land, Elaine Davis, Sharron Flynt, Shirley Leinen, Garland Jarvis, Wendell Moore and Randy Hasley.

The judges' criticisms were few and mostly about small items. These will help the director to know just what changes need to be made and how to make them.

At the awards banquet Saturday night, Dimmitt's Sharron Flynt received an "excellent" award for her role. This exciting moment was expressed by Miss Griffing as she was called on to give a word, as were all other directors.

The thespians returned to Dimmitt Sunday afternoon.

Pauletta, 'Buzz' Seniors of Week

"DHS is the best school I have ever attended. The people are nice and considerate of each other, and the sportsmanship is great. These few years in DHS have brought me many memories and friendships I shall always remember."

"THIS WAS the comment our senior girl of the week, Pauletta Templeton.

Pauletta is very busy this year with her studies, which include English IV, Shorthand, Typing I and Drama. When she is not busy with her studies, she finds time for FHA and Pep Club.

Pauletta plans to get married this summer and later enter business school.

"THIS WEEK we have one of our fighting Bobcats as our senior boy of the week. He is "Buzz" (Kent) Lindsey. When "Buzz" isn't raising it with the boys, he manages a little time to study English IV, Speech III, Civics, Physics and Journalism. His activities include football, basketball, band, tennis, Lyre Club, "D" Club, Science Club and Student Council.

"Buzz" has earned many honors in high school. He is president of the band, vice-president of Lyre Club, vice-president of the senior class, 1967 Flame King, DHS Personality King, and has been chosen as a class favorite for four years.

Kent's plans include going to college, but he is undecided about his major.

"Buzz" has this opinion about Dimmitt High School:

"I think DHS is one of the finest schools anyone could go to, everyone is friendly including the teachers. Our class was very lucky to have gone to school in the new building for four years."

Thespians Plan to Take Play On Road Tour Before Contest

Enthusiasm plus Desire plus Experience equals Victory for DHS.

This is the member's motto for "An Overpraised Season," by Richard Dunlop, the one-act play which will be presented as the Dimmitt entry in the Interscholastic League Contest in Hale Center on March 31, 1967.

The play is one concerning teenagers and parents. It presents extreme philosophy with a little of the common truth about the sensitive period of adolescence.

STUDENTS chosen to portray the roles and to work back stage are:

Sharron Flynt, director; Sandra Coffman, Mother; Garland Jarvis, Larry; Wendell Moore, Father; David Land, Bob, and Elaine Davis, Betty.

Four capable and experienced people were chosen for back stage work. They are Ronnie Hutcheson as an alternate, Randy Hasley who is in charge of lights, stage and props, Genita Aldridge as timekeeper and head of the makeup department, and Shirley Leinen as the student director.

The cast will meet the following schedule during March in preparation for district contest:

- March 6 — Performance to cast parents and friends.
March 10 — Portales Drama Festival, Portales, New Mexico.
March 14 — Springlake will come to Dimmitt for practice run and workshop.
March 20 — Cast will go to Hart for practice run and workshop.
March 22 — Practice play on Hale Center's stage.
March 27 — Give play to student body.
March 31 — District Contest at Hale Center.
Experience always plays a vital part in the success of any activity. DHS has that experience this year in drama.

How to Use a Library

TV, Microfilm Aid Libraries

Part III: How to Use the Library
As you have noticed this series on how to use the library has shown how and where to find books and magazines. This week we will discover some of the newer improvements of the modern library.

SOME OF THE smaller libraries may have a limited selection of books or magazines. If one really needs a book, the librarian can and will borrow this book or books from another library. This inter-library co-operation is a very common and practical as a helper.

It is becoming practical and profitable for libraries to preserve copies of books and papers on microfilm. This way the information of a book never dies. It is possible that some day all information will be stored on microfilm. This would save much room and money.

Another important part of a library is the use of records and recordings. It seems that today people had rather listen to something than read it. Records and recordings can be of great historic value. They also put the author's expression and exact feelings in. In this respect one record or recording can serve a whole room at once. This can save much time.

ALONG WITH these improvements television should not be left out. This not only brings sound to the reader but of course also the sight as well. Television spurs the emotion and creative spirit of a person. Many libraries now consider television an important part of their libraries.

These are just a few of the improvements in the modern library.

Today computers and electronic equipment store information which can be relayed in a matter of seconds to a person.

Let's not forget the human side of the library. Some of the larger libraries have special trained librarians for each section of the library. This can be very helpful to a person who doesn't know where to find his information in the library. Also there are telephone reference divisions. These are people that do nothing but answer phone calls concerning the location of some books, subjects, or other material.

SOME LIBRARIES have several different rooms. Let's say one is a reading room; another is used for showing films and slides, etc. This is very convenient.

One of the more recent improvements is the use of the bookmobile. This is a mobile truck that carries a very limited supply of books and magazines. These trucks serve several communities. These operate just like a public library.

This is an electronic age and our libraries must keep a great nation by educating the masses, and today that is exactly what America is doing.

Libraries are wonderful storehouses of information that hold the keys to the success of the future.

Letters To The Editor:

Basketball Fan Thanks Bobcats For Thrill of Going to State

An open letter to Coach Cleveland, the assistant coaches and basketball boys.

One of the greatest joys that could happen in a sports-minded town is to have its high school team win the right to compete in the state finals.

I want to say thank you, and I am sure I speak for more than just myself. Thank you for taking us to state.

that ended in the bitter taste of defeat shaded my appreciation, but only for a little while.

SO, THANKS again Bobcats — to each and every one of you for your personal sacrifices that gave me a sense of pride because you were MY team, and most of all, thanks for earning the trip to state for all of us.

JEAN BYRNES

THE LONG hours of sweat and work during practice each and every afternoon; the time spent at the free throw line trying to perfect your free throws; times you went to bed early, when you would have liked to watch the late movie; eating eggs when Spudnuts would have been tastier; the weekends, Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays you gave up to play in tournaments so that you might gain the experience you had to have to be great — these things did not go unnoticed, nor do they go unappreciated.

It was a great joy and experience to have claimed as our own a clean-cut, all American team such as yours through the regular season. But then, to have the added treat you handed us, the right to go to state, was nothing short of tremendous.

I am ashamed to admit that the sweet smell of final victory

First Christian Revival Underway

Evangelist J. Fred Bayless, accompanied by his wife, who is serving as pianist for the spring revival at First Christian Church, arrived Monday afternoon from Pueblo, Colo., to lead the campaign that began Sunday.

Minister Bedford Smith is conducting the song service, which begins at 7:30 each evening.

ATTENDANCE at the services showed a slight increase Monday evening over that on Sunday, with other attendance gains on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Evangelist Bayless' opening sermon was "Jesus Seeking a Kingdom." His sermons are aimed to be helpful to Bible lovers and have been designed to aid the Christian to be inspired and encouraged, as well as to present the claims of Christ for grace to the unsaved.

Other topics for discussion during the week are "What Christ Taught About Himself," "Disciples of the Kingdom," "Obligations in the Kingdom," and "The Sovereignty of God."

The spring revival will continue at 7:30 nightly through Sunday. The Sunday morning service will be at 10:30. Minister Smith issued an invitation to the public to attend these evangelistic services.

Simpson Attends 4-H Convention

M. L. Simpson, 4H leader at Jumbo, flew to Austin last week to represent Castro County at the Second Annual Texas 4-H Adult Leader Forum.

DURING THE three-day meeting the forum of 96 state 4-H leaders heard key Texas political figures speak.

The forum was designed to "provide additional training for adult leaders in 4-H work," according to Dr. Edward Schlutt, director and coordinator of the state organization.

HE SAID the training will enable the leaders to work more effectively with youth in citizenship and other educational programs in the various counties.

The participants met in committees and panels to study program development, effective leadership, confidence for leadership, principles of democratic leadership, and helping youth to adjust

Livestock Still Declines

Cattle and calves on the farms and ranches of the nation numbered 108.5 million head, down slightly for the second year in a row. An increase of 1 percent in beef cattle was more than offset by a 5 percent decrease in dairy cattle reports USDA's Statistical Reporting Service.

Number of cows and heifers two years old and older kept for milk was down to 15.2 million head—smallest number since 1893. Hogs and pigs on farms Jan. 1 was up by 8 percent. All sheep and lambs totaled 23.7 million head, down 4 percent

A&M Compiles 'What, When' Crop Guideline

A state-wide effort which could add an estimated $300 million annually to the agricultural income of Texas is now underway.

FOR SEVERAL months specialists of the Texas A&M Agricultural Extension Service have been preparing production and management guidelines to be used in a three-point educational program.

The educational effort is aimed at increasing farmer and rancher income, increasing their production efficiency and gearing production to produce the quality of products demanded by the market.

John E. Hutchison, director of the Extension Service, in announcing the program, said the guidelines combine all of the best practices available from research and from proven demonstrations on the production of crops and livestock. A $300 million increase in agricultural income can be achieved, and is in fact conservative, if producers will put the suggested guidelines into practice, and if weather conditions are favorable, he added.

THE GUIDELINES for the most part, include the "what and when to do" for the most efficient production and cover 20 important crop and livestock enterprises, Hutchison said.

He said the state's county agricultural agents took the specialist prepared guides, and working with the county program building committees and sub-committees, adapted them into county programs of action. The finalized guidelines will be reproduced and copies distributed to all producers of economically important crop and livestock enterprises in each county. The crop production guidelines will be distributed first, he added.

Hutchison concluded that this was an effort to make sure that all producers of economically important crops and livestock have available for easy reference the best production guidelines known. This program can greatly increase agricultural income in the state, increase net income to producers, and maintain and improve the competitive position of Texas producers, the director concluded.
