GRAND EASTER—Grand Champion Suffolk Lamb

JUDGE BOB BENTON slaps the Grand Champion Steer shown by Chris Fulton.

Floyd County Livestock Show ends tonight

The Floyd County Jr. Livestock show will wind down tonight with the annual banquet at Lockney School Cafeteria in Lockney.

For the first time in memory, Floyd-dada breeders walked away with top honors in all three classifications.

This could have put a strain on the buyers since the top sales all came out of the one town. It could have taken money away from the exhibitors further down the line, but buyers held the sale off very well.

Grand Champion Barrow was a heavy weight Hampshire shown by Keith Hancock. Keith's father, Tommy, is the new Ag teacher at Floydada High School.

The reserve champion was also a heavy weight Hampshire shown by Brad McNeill.

Bob Skaggs, Pampa, was judge. He is an Ag teacher.

In the lamb category, Garland Easter took the Grand Champion honors with a heavy weight Suffolk.

Marty Covington took reserve with his Suffolk Breed Reserve Champion.

A former Ag. teacher, Calvin Helm of Winters was judge.

The Grand Champion Steer was a heavy weight cross shown by Chris Fulton.

Mark Nutt took Reserve with the only medium weight winner of the show, a cross.

County Agent Bob Benson from Colorado City was the judge.

The show classifier was Gary Stanford who is a County Agent from Jones County.

The barns were full as 20 more hogs and 30 more sheep came in than last year. The same amount of steers were shown.

Full report of the County Show will be in next week's Beacon and Hesperian. Staff of both papers need some time to get photos and results together.

It's Not Easy

MAROLEA CLARK

Ever happened to paper clothes? Remember reading years ago that we would be wearing disposable paper clothes before the 70's were over.

I bundle up my laundry in that barely fits in the trunk of my car. I think of that optimistic forecast.

Down the street the back of my car is sagging from the weight of all those shirts, and mismatched socks. I know about half of it away, but I would have to do laundry twice as often. I never have enough time to wash everything, so I go home again until the next time. I recently in Redbook or Good Housekeeping that you should go through your closet once a year and get rid of anything that you haven't worn in a year.

Now, that dress you bought to wear to Aunt Sadie's wedding that never wear again, or those satin shorts you got for Christmas that are two sizes too small.

Don't have to worry about going through my closet. I could just go through the laundry hamper and throw away those things that haven't been worn in a year.

Just every night I guiltily watch all T.V. commercials about washing clothes in hot water and that in cold. I know the hard way that if you wash clothes in cold water that stray navy socks won't ruin all the white clothes.

I see those cute commercials showing rings around the collar. I could hope if I had to worry about ring around the collar. My husband just has more baths. Any rings are his.

Clean clothes never seem to last one wash to the next. About the end of the week I have to ration and wash out baby socks by hand.

I'm not really sure that it would help much if we had a washer and dryer in our house. We tried that once, but it was always putting a load in the washer or moving it to the dryer. It was ruled by that washer and dryer that there so I had no excuse for washing clothes.

At least if I go to the laundromat I can get ten loads at once and not worry for a week. I don't have to think about laundry again until I notice that my pants are wearing those Christmas with the little poinsettias embroidered on the sides, or until the dirty clothes start calling out of the hamper and threaten to take over the bathroom.

Lockney City Council holds budget hearings

The Lockney City Council will hold a public hearing at 9 a.m. next Thursday, March 5, on the proposed city budget for the new fiscal year which begins April 1.

The proposed budget totals $326,562, up about ten percent over last year's budget of $293,465.

The increase, city officials say, is due largely to higher fuel and utility costs.

Pay raises for municipal employees are also included in the budget.

The budget figure includes $14,272 from federal revenue sharing funds. Of that amount, $12,000 will be used for payments on the street sweeper and the other $2,272 will go for public safety, primarily to buy walkie-talkies for the police department.

Other items in the proposed budget include:

- $65,000 for administration.
- $45,098 for the police department.
- $22,750 for the fire department.
- $74,785 for the water works.
- $78,459 for streets and alleys.
- $13,015 for bonded indebtedness.
- $12,483 for the dump grounds.
- $500 for the city farm.

The public hearing on the budget will be held prior to the regular monthly city council meeting.

The budget will come up for final approval at the council's April meeting.

Rotary sponsors defensive driving course

The Lockney Rotary Club will sponsor a defensive driving course in March.

The course will be taught in Lockney by Burt Sinclair of the Texas Department of Public Safety. Sinclair taught the Rotary's last defensive driving course three years ago.

Those who complete the course may be eligible for a ten percent reduction in their premiums for collision and liability insurance. If two members of one family take the course, then they may be eligible for reduced premiums on two vehicles. The reduction is good for three years and those who received a reduction after taking the last Rotary course will not continue to receive the reduction unless they take the course again.

The course will be offered at 7 p.m., March 23, 24 and 26 at the Rebekah Hall in Lockney. The course costs $5 per person and is open to the public. You may register for the course by contacting any Lockney Rotary Club member.

Chamber to elect man & woman of year

A Lockney Chamber of Commerce committee will meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, March 12 at First National Bank in Lockney to choose an outstanding man and woman of the year for 1980.

Each civic club and organization and their auxiliaries and the churches in Lockney will be invited to send a representative to the meeting.

Candidates for the honor will be nominated at the meeting and those attending the meeting will vote for their choices.

Those chosen will be announced at the Lockney Chamber of Commerce banquet March 19.

Nominating letters for man and woman of the year may be mailed to committee chairman Boyce Mosley at Rt. 1, Lockney, Texas 79241.

Jerry Johnson and Elvira Muniz were chosen as the outstanding man and woman for 1979.

President Reagan campaigned, at least in part, on the idea that Mr. Carter was wrong when he said we all needed to get out of our belts because we had lived too well. We had not lived too well, the government had. We didn't need to cut the budget, the government did. How the budget is prepared, and it seems that at least some of us are going to have to sacrifice - the poor, public broadcasting, the fine arts, the space program, and others.

In some way, actually, it will touch all our lives; we will all have to make sacrifices.

In response to this joyous news has been: "Not me! Let somebody else carry the burden. Go find some fatter cat and let him take the blame. It is all their fault anyway."

We respond well to the promise that we won't have to suffer, that our problems are someone else's fault and we should have to bear the sacrifices necessary to rectify the situation. Yet, all parts of the Christian faith are concepts of sacrifice and personal responsibility. Christians are supposed to be servants in imitation of their Lord, sacrificing their resources for the betterment of their lives. And we are held accountable for our sins, without being able to lay the blame for them elsewhere.

Under how our great problems would be solved if people began to take responsibility for their own part in the problem, and were willing to make a little sacrifice without complaining that some ethereal "they" weren't doing "their" part.

Let's be more concrete. I can't stop the inflation. But I can save more money. I can go to work without items that I cannot solve world hunger, but I can contribute more responsibly, give some of my resources to creditable relief agencies.

I cannot solve the energy problem. I cannot drive a fuel efficient auto. I can make fewer trips - and those better ones.

I cannot reform the entire government, but I can see to it that I vote responsibly, and make my views known to those who represent me.

I don't expect miracles from this kind of approach, but I have found that when I conscientiously apply myself to taking care of the things I can take care of, I find precious little time to worry about what "they" are doing.

TUESDAY Lockney Postmaster Douglas Meriwether presented Thomas Marr a certificate of appreciation from the U.S. Postal Service. From 1946 until his retirement recently, Thomas Marr has been a fixture in Lockney postal service, delivering mail on the same route since 1957.

Thomas Marr retires from U.S. Postal Service

For years some Lockney residents have been able to count upon one daily constant, that their mail would be delivered by Tom Marr without fail. Marr, who started work at the Lockney Post Office April of 1946 and has had the same mail route since 1957, retired recently.

Tuesday Doug Meriwether, Lockney Postmaster, presented Marr with a certificate of appreciation signed by Emmett C. Cooper, regional postmaster general in Memphis, Tennessee. He also received a $110 dollar gift certificate from his fellow employees.

Marr says that the post office tradition of delivering mail "whether snow or rain, etc." is very much the way it is done by rural carriers, but "it has gotten easier over the years with more modern equipment and better roads. I remember several times years back when the post office car would give out along the way, and I would borrow a car from the nearest farmhouse and continue on the route."

The retiring rural postman says "I haven't ever done anything like deliver a baby, but I remember all those times I delivered letters from grandchildren. That's important too." Marr made friends of the people on the route and will continue to see many of them.

He is planning to expand his insulation business here in Lockney, and do a little fishing.

Marr, who received an award several years ago for 1,000,000 miles of safe driving on a postal route and has found rural route delivery a very satisfying way to make a living, doesn't have a mailman to deliver his mail to his door. Since he lives in the city limits of Lockney, he'll still have to deliver his own mail, which he picks up at the Main Street Post Office, like other town residents.

Bingo! Bingo! Bingo! That's what this week was. We played bingo Tuesday and Friday afternoon. We had the times of our life. Everyone is a winner during bingo. This is a time when we can all get together and socialize.

We really enjoyed our bus trip Monday to Floydada. A special thanks goes to Mr. Smith at the Taste Freeze for treating us to ice cream and we thank our bus driver Mabel Foster. Special people like this are a joy to us.

We all ate so much popcorn Wednesday we felt like we would bust. Mmm! It sure was tasty.

Our ceramics class is going great. We have really made some beautiful things, thanks to Chuck Shockley of MHMR for being a terrific teacher.

We are really a rocking during music therapy. Our tamborine playing is getting a lot better and Bill Holt has treated us with his terrific riddle playing.

Our exercise class is wilder than ever. I have used muscles I didn't even know I had. The residents just love to hit me with the ball when I'm not looking. They have more energy than I do. I thought my two kids would never run down but the residents have them beat by a mile.

We were saddened at the loss of one of our residents, Jewell Rigdon. We all loved Jewell and will miss her very much. Our sympathy goes to the family. We share their loss.

Ramaekers-Rainwater exchange double-ring marriage vows

Double-ring wedding vows were exchanged by Sharon Ramaekers and Randy Rainwater in a ceremony conducted by Rev. James Sonderman, at 4:30 p.m. Saturday in St. Mary's Catholic Church in Umberger.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Ramaekers of Umberger are parents of the bride. She is a graduate of Canyon High School and West Texas State University.

The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Rainwater of Dougherty. He is a graduate of Floydada High School and farms south of Dougherty.

For the nuptial service, selections included "Theme From Ice Castles", "Today", "Wedding Song" and "Our Father" with the bride's sisters, Elaine Scott and Debbie Wiecek, as vocalists. Organist was Mrs. Don Dolle and Robert Byrd played guitar accompaniment.

Bouquets of large white mums, pink carnations and red roses accented the alter. A unity candle garland with greenery, tied with pink and burgundy ribbons completing the decor.

Escorted and presented in marriage by her father, the bride chose a formal gown of white organza and Venise and Chantilly lace with a Victorian neckline. A ruffle of Chantilly lace, circled with a band of Venise lace, complemented the collar and delicate embroidery accented the V-shaped yoke that was outlined with a matching lace ruffle and scattered with pearls and sequins. The sheer Bishop sleeves were adorned with vertical lace and gathered onto lace edged cuffs. The sheer A-line skirt fell from a slightly raised waistline and was bordered with two lace edged ruffles. The top ruffle rose in back to form a bustle effect and the bottom ruffle dipped with an added back ruffle to form a chapel length train.

Her ensemble was complemented with a bridal picture hat covered with Chantilly lace and draped with illusion with silk blossom embellishment. Her cascade bouquet was an arrangement of white gardenias, stephanotis and baby's breath.

Matron of honor was Karol Rainwater, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, and bridesmaids were Linda Ramaekers, the bride's sister, Lori Novak and Marcie Bridges. They wore floor length maroon velvet dresses with V-shaped yokes in front and back of white lace and outlined with lace ruffles and fastened down the back with maroon velvet covered buttons.

The full sleeves were cuffed with white lace and fastened with maroon velvet covered buttons. Each attendant carried a nosegay of pixie carnations and white cushion mums and red roses.

Mary Ellen Ramaekers, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a dress styled similar to the bride's attendants and carried a white basket of pixie carnations, white cushion mums and red roses.

The bridegroom's brother, Mike Rainwater, served as best man. Groomsmen were Jerry McGuire, and the bridegroom's brothers, Andy Rainwater and Carlos Rainwater. Junior groomsmen were Blake Conrad, nephew of the bride.

Ushering were Jim Covington, Danny Colston, Mike Bean, and Morris Keele.

The groom wore a white tuxedo with an ivory colored shirt. All male attendants, ushers and fathers of the bride and groom wore silver tuxedos and white shirts with ruffles edged in black.

South Plains, February 23rd: There was good attendance at Sunday School and church services at the South Plains Baptist Church Sunday morning with visitors Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Camp and baby, Mançy of Idalou, present with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Upton. It was also good to see Mrs. Jim Roberts (Peggy) here, but we missed many others who were away for the week-end or were ill.

The Cub Scouts, Pack #1, Cub Scouts Troop #358, of South Plains will have a Blue and Gold Banquet at the South Plains Fellowship Hall of the Baptist Church, Thursday evening, February 26, at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Mammie Wood returned home this Monday from Amarillo where she spent the past week, taking care of her sister, Ruth, Mrs. Buster Dunham. Mrs. Glen Wood is going up there to stay a few days with her, as Mrs. Wood comes home. After the car accident on Christmas Eve, Mrs. Dunham has had a hard climb back to health.

John Cummings, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Cummings, assisted last week with the installation of the new members of the Lockney Honor Society.

Many from our community went to the Lockney Co-Op, at the South Plains Gin on Wednesday, February 18th, at the noon hour and enjoyed a luncheon meeting with a fish fry, and later Gary Kennedy, with CIBA-GEIGY, gave information on sprays for weeds, and grasses.

We are sorry to hear of the illness and death of a former South Plains resident, Mrs. Maggie Davis of Kilgore, who died on February 11, Wednesday, after a short illness. The family has been living in Kilgore since 1980, and funeral services and interment were held there on Saturday, 2:00 p.m. at the Raider Funeral Home Chapel with Baptist preacher, Rev. Marshall Taylor officiating. Maggie's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Dock Jones now of Floydada. Frank Jones, stationed in the Armed Services in Frankfurt, Germany was here for his sisters funeral. He was formerly at O'Donnell at the First Baptist Church. The Blakes youngest daughter, Atha Blake, is in Wayland this winter attending college classes there.

We offer our sincere sympathy to Sandra and Zach Cummings in the death of Sandra's grandmother, Mrs. Jewell Rigdon, 88, of Lockney, who has been ill for some time and passed away Tuesday at the Lockney Care Center in Lockney, on Tuesday, February 17th, and was buried February 19th at 2:00 p.m. in the Lockney Cemetery.

there as building contractor. There were memorial services in Riverside, California. We offer our sympathy to Mrs. McClure and family.

Mrs. Ruby Higginbotham had week-end guests and visitors in her home over the past week-end, as Friday her brother, Warren Cybert of Austin flew in to Lubbock, and she met him and brought him here for the week-end. Saturday her sister from Amarillo, Edith and husband, spent the night and Sunday with them.

BY MRS. J.E. GREEN

Feb. 23, 1981: Weather is good for this time of year. But dry. We could use some moisture.

Church attendance good but some out of town, and some not so well.

We were glad to have Mr. and Mrs. Plumlee back in church after some hospitalization.

Calvary Baptist had a visiting speaker Sunday morning, Mr. Wayne Newton of Date Street Baptist Church of Plainview representing Gideons International, the organization which places Bibles in public places. Interesting and good.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Carpenter returned home Tuesday from visiting their children and other relatives in the Dallas area. A daughter, Mrs. Jane Capor of Boston met them in Dallas and returned home with them. The rest of the week local relatives met in a different home each day. All had a wonderful time and Sunday the Carpenters took a plane for her home in Boston.

Friday, February 13, Mrs. Cora Hartline was in Roaring Springs for last rites of a sister-in-law, Mrs. Ethel Brown. Nieces of Mrs. Hartline, daughters of Mrs. Brown, near Ft. Worth, Mrs. Ruby Baker and Mrs. Lorene Shehan, returned home with Mrs. Hartline and spent Friday night. The Browns were long-time former residents of Floyd County.

Last week the Thomas Warren's were in Houston for an elevator convention. Then in College Station for a Commissioners meeting.

Mrs. Roe Jones is home again after spending some time in Amarillo with a daughter and family, Mrs. Clara Mae Hale.

Mr. Morris Carroll, with a son of Plainview, were in Dallas for the weekend visiting Mr. Carroll's father who is ill in a Dallas hospital.

Mrs. Erma Boenig of New Braunfels is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fulkerson. Other visitors are Mr. and Mrs. Bob Fulkerson and Mrs. Wright of Tula.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Mensch and son, David of Lubbock, visited Saturday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Thomas.

Mr. Gordon Mayfield is on the sick list, has been all last week. We hope for him and all the other sick people a speedy recovery.

My granddaughter and husband, Sarah and Doug Chandler of Hubbard, spent Tuesday night with me. Wednesday they were in Lubbock, then home.

Visitors with Miss Vera Meredith last week: Mr. and Mrs. Mize came one day, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Foster of Lawton, Oklahoma came Thursday and Mrs. Clay Muncy came Saturday.

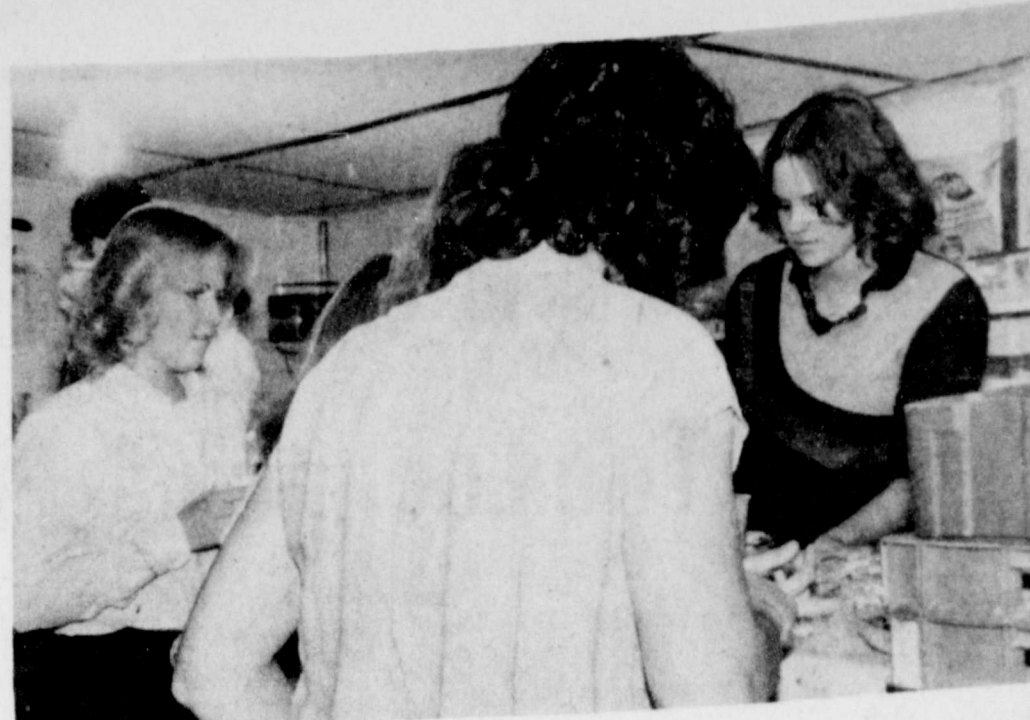

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Huckabee of Dumas, former Centerites, were in this area Friday seeing relatives, among them Mrs. Fred Batten and Mrs. Ola Warren, then went on to Lubbock to spend the weekend with their daughter and family.

Mrs. Anthony Latta and Ma Green drove around some Friday afternoon. First stop was the Rest Home, then the Caprock Hospital, a call at Mrs. Latta's son's home on Ralls Highway, and last the home of Miss Esther Peck and her sister, Mrs. Edith Badgett. Thanks Mrs. Latta for this opportunity.

Rock given honorary membership

Keith (Wanda) Brock was recently awarded honorary membership in the Texas Association of Young Homemakers.

Her interest in the organization was during the 19th annual convention of the Texas Association of Young Homemakers in Antonio.

Wanda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Brock of Lockney.

Code Directories available in Lockney

According to Postmaster Meriwether, the Postal Service began publishing the informative directory, which also contains a listing of all U.S. post offices, in 1965. Prior to that time, individual ZIP Code booklets were published for each state.

The ZIP (Zoning Improvement Plan) Code program was established in 1963. Today, approximately 97 percent of all mail processed by the Postal Service is ZIP Coded.

The Directory is an ideal reference source for commercial mailers requiring current addressing information. Last year, approximately 223,000 copies of the publication were sold.

FINISHING TOUCHES were put on the Cogdell Clinic of Lockney General Hospital this week when the letters announcing the name of the clinic were put in place. The actual clinic building, the gift of the Martha Ann Cogdell family was completed in September 1980.

Thanks for 'love fund'

Lockney residents and friends of Charles Thomason have contributed some $2000 to a "love fund" account to be used for the medical expenses for seriously ill Thomason. The FFA students of Lockney sponsored a Valentine's Dance and donated the proceeds to the fund.

Thomason's wife Mary, who operates Thomason grocery says "it's not just the money, although that's important. People have helped Charley so much by their interest and the love behind those contributions."

Charles Thomason says "To the wonderful people of Lockney and surrounding area, I would like to extend the heartfelt thanks of the Charles R. Thomason family for the many wonderful prayers and words of encouragement that you have given to me, especially the donations that have been given at the bank, and the money that was raised by the wonderful FFA kids by their dance. All of your efforts to help with our expenses show how wonderful all the people of our town are. May God bless each and everyone of you."

Social Security News

BY VIRGINIA DEWITT

Major changes to the Social Security Act became effective December 1980, and affect many people entitled to Social Security disability or to Supplemental Security Income (SSI) payments. The new provisions are encouraging to disabled beneficiaries who wish to return to work even though their condition has not improved.

One of the changes permits reinstatement for some disabled persons whose benefits had stopped because they returned to work. If the disabled person becomes unable to work again within a year after benefits had stopped or she can be reinstated if their medical condition has not improved.

Medicare entitlement may continue 2 years after a person's disability benefits stop because of return to work. Also, if Medicare coverage has terminated, it may be immediately re-instated if the individual becomes entitled to disability benefits again with five years after a prior period of disability.

Some disability related work expenses can be deducted from a disabled person's earnings in deciding whether he or she is engaging in substantial gainful work. Examples include expenses for such things as medical devices, attendant care, and other related services which the individual needs to return to work.

Persons wanting more information about these changes should contact the social security office at 1401-B West 5th Street, Plainview, Texas.

THE NAME OF THE LORD

Many people use the name of the Lord very lightly. They are quick to exclaim, "My God!" or to use the name of the Lord Jesus Christ in vain.

We should all understand that the Bible declares that "God will not hold him guiltless that taketh His name in vain" (Ex. 20:7). This is one of the Ten Commandments which too many people forget or ignore. But it is more than a commandment. It does not merely forbid taking the Lord's name on our lips carelessly; it adds the warning "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain; FOR the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh His name in vain." Don't commit this sin. He warns, for if you do you will have to face God Himself for it and He will not overlook it.

Now, probably many of our readers have used the name of God and Christ in vain again and again. They have gotten into the habit and find it difficult to stop. Now what? How can such escape the condemnation of God upon this sin?

First, one of the principal reasons for not using God's name in vain is because of His infinite greatness. We should all bow and worship before Him. The second reason is because He—the infinite God—took upon Him human form and, as God the Son, died for our sins at Calvary. Now would you want to curse and swear in His name? You wouldn't want people to curse and swear in your mother's name, would you? How much less should we curse and swear in Christ's name or God's name?

Those who have this problem, invariably have never trusted Christ as their own Savior—as the One who died for their sins. Those who have trusted Him as Savior usually never are tempted to use His name in vain again. Rather, like St. Paul, who once was "a blasphemer and a persecutor," they exclaim with deepest gratitude: "He loved me and gave Himself for me" (Gal. 2:20).

Steak or stew

BY MARGIE

"Honey, I have for you!" My husband sang out as he stepped into the kitchen.

I love surprises. He handed me a package from the department of the store. "Steak!" I love steak! My husband fairly drooled at the sight of the lean beef. I quivered at the sight of a succulent steak quivered at the sight of the char-broiled steak's smell. I expected. I love package. Fat on meat! Stew meat!

Not wishing for disappointment, my husband had been surprised. I leaped gave Jesse a cheek. As he held he whispered sweet ear. "Honey, will me some stew for me?"

Stew for supper could handle the fantasizing, my husband already ingested anyway. I got on pot and began preparing. I braised the small chunky meat, added steak sauce—just until it was a just brown. I then added chunks and carrots and water to cover. I looked a little pale. I added for color and flavor.

I decided I might clean the refrigerator in the kitchen. There I found deep-dish beans, bacon fat, black and celery. I added to the stew and added water to cover. This time, the pot was small. So I got on pot and transferred the little to a larger pot. It was only half full. I added water to cover.

Soon the soup was boiling and emitting an aroma which filled the neighborhood. I smelled grabbed by the nose and brought to the kitchen.

"What smells so good?" she inquired. "I she concluded. "You some of my butter beans. They just the right flavor."

Momentarily she with a jar of her beans. The beans and white, but I opened, probably a little too long. I dumped them into the hot, steaming added water to cover.

Soon I noticed of something around in my soup the world was that out a blob and between by fingers than being hot. I was somewhat surprised. My neighbor had pears instead of beans.

Well, I had too and time investment concoction. We have to eat it, people was a bit nervous. Jesse pear soup. But, he said it was stew he had ever had just the right too tart, not too right!

Steak or stew

BY MARGIE SAUER

"Honey, I have a surprise for you!" My husband sang out as he stepped into the kitchen.

I love surprises! He handed me a plum package from the department of the store. "Steak!" I thought, "I love steak! My husband fairly drooled at the sight of the lean beefy goodness of a succulent steak. He quivered at the sight of the char-broiled, juicy steak smell. In his anticipation, I tore open the package. Fat chunks of meat! Stew meat!

Not wishing to show disappointment, after my husband had brought the surprise, I leaned over and gave Jesse a kiss on the cheek. As he held me, he whispered softly in my ear, "Honey, will you make some stew for supper?"

Stew for supper! I could handle that. I fantasized, my system already ingested the anyway. I got out the pot and began preparing. I braised the small chunks of meat, adding steak sauce—just until it was a juicy, brown. I then added chunks and carrot and water to cover. It looked a little meager, a little pale. I added a little salt for color and onion flavor.

I decided I might clean the refrigerator in the kitchen. There I found dabs of pinto beans seasoned with bacon fat, black-eyed peas and celery. I added all to the stew and was adding water to cover. This time, the pan was small. So I got my pot and transferred the ingredients. Now the pot was only half full. I added a can of mixed vegetables to water to cover.

Soon the soup was boiling and emitting a delicious aroma which filled the house and leaked out into the neighborhood. The smell grabbed my attention by the nose and led me to the kitchen.

"What smells so good?" she inquired. "Oh, it's my soup," she concluded. "I'll give you some of my butter beans. They're just the right flavor."

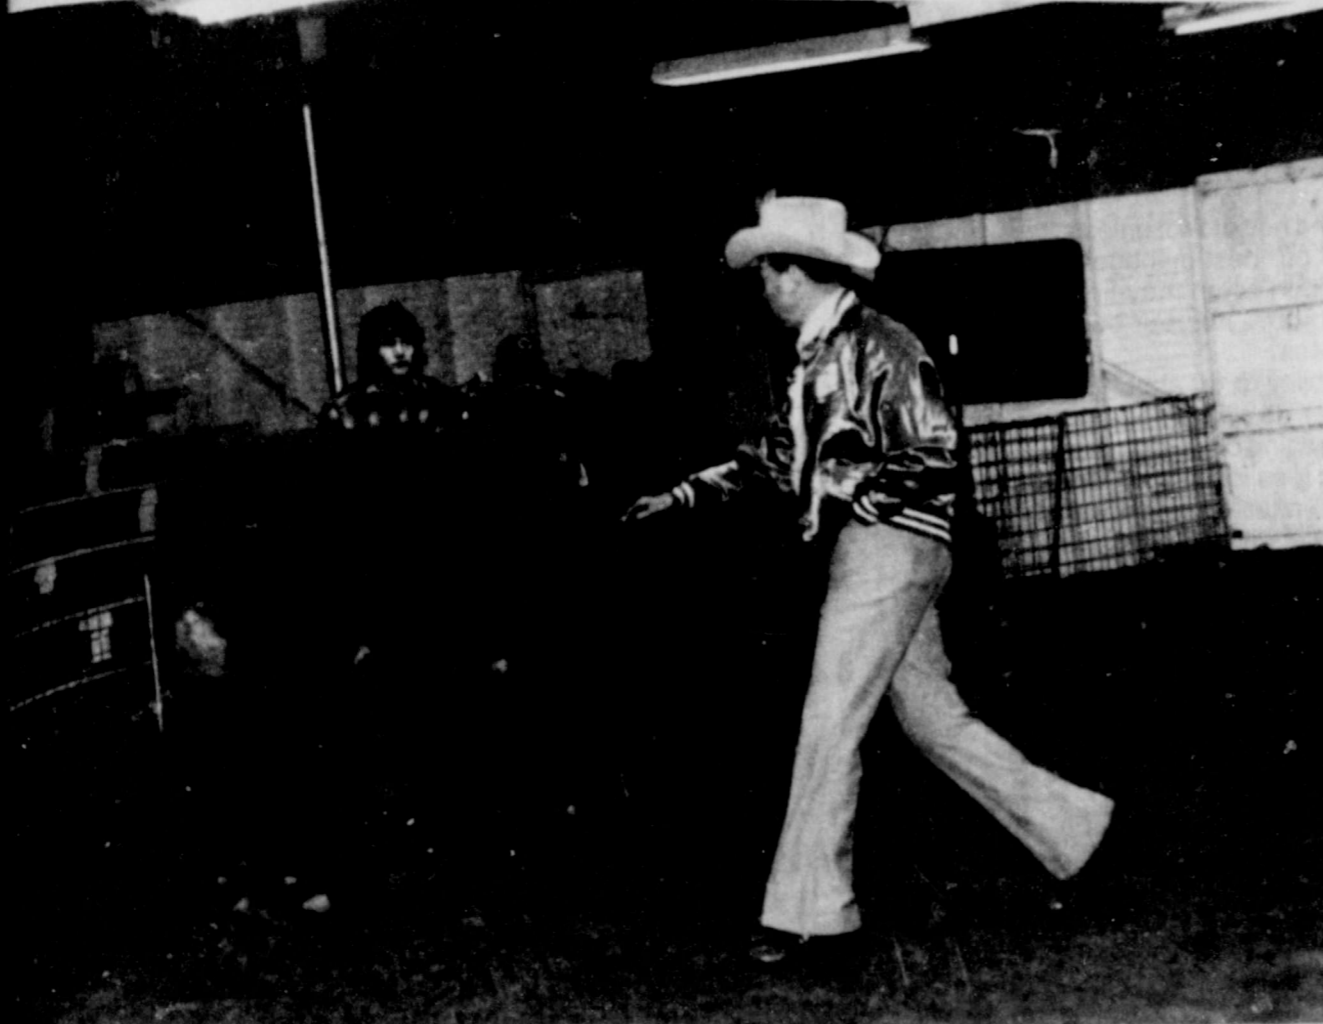

Momentarily she returned with a jar of her home-made beans. The beans were and white, but a bit more opened, probably cooked a little too long. I dumped them into the pot. By now the pot was small. I got my largest pot and once again transferred the hot, steaming soup. I added water to cover.

Soon I noticed white steam of something around in my soup. The world was that I had out a blob and mass between my fingers. It was than being hot, it was grainy texture. I tasted it was somewhat sweet. My neighbor had given me pears instead of beans.

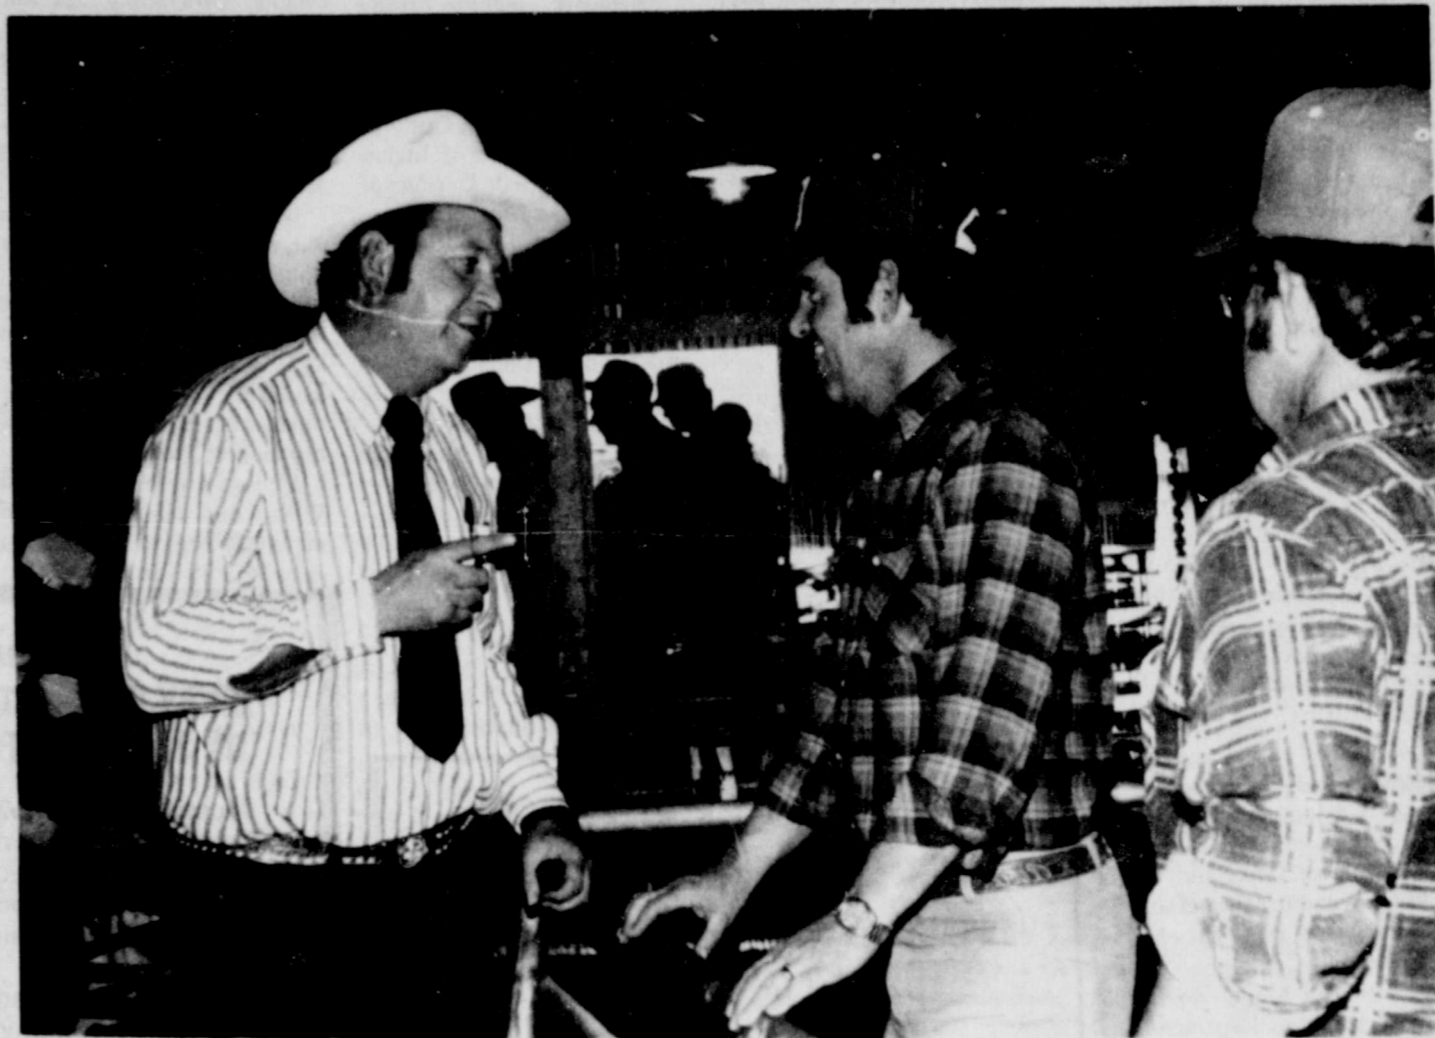

Well, I had too much time invested in the concoction. We would have to eat it, pears were a bit nervous as I ate. Jesse pear soup for me. But, he said it was the stew he had ever tasted had just the right flavor, not too tart, not too sweet, right!

Tech developing shipping fever vaccine

The incidence of shipping fever, a plague of the cattle industry and particularly feedlot operators, can be greatly reduced by a vaccine being developed at Texas Tech University.

Dr. Clarence L. Baugh, associate professor of biological sciences at Texas Tech, is doing research on a combination vaccine that combats the most common bacteria involved in the shipping fever and provides cattle a high degree of immunity against several dangerous bacteria species in one treatment.

San Angelo veterinarian Dr. W.H. Wohler is assisting in the project by providing Baugh with tissue and serum samples from feedlots throughout the state. Samples are taken from animals which have died from pasterellosis and salmonellosis, the two most common forms of shipping fever found in Texas.

Wohler often brings the samples personally from feedlots in Pecos, Hereford and other areas, travelling by plane. Baugh meets the veterinarian at the airport and quickly takes the sample to his Texas Tech lab, where he begins streaking for culture growths. By the next day he can have the shipping fever bacterium isolated.

"Wohler is getting the advantages of a laboratory, and I am getting the advantage of having somebody in the field," Baugh said.

The three main organisms the researchers are battling are Pasteurella multocida, Pasteurella hemolytica, and Salmonella typhimurium, bacteria which cause either death or significant weight loss in cattle.

Cattle become susceptible to infection by these organisms after stress, especially during shipping.

Baugh's combination vaccine contains these three bacteria, and others. Animals injected with small doses of the dead bacteria develop antibodies in their blood stream that produce immunity against later infection by those bacteria.

Field observations showed that Baugh's combination vaccine, prepared as a water in oil emulsion and injected subcutaneously, was highly successful in preventing shipping fever. The treatment reduced the incidence of the disease from 30 or 40 percent to 4 percent or less, and reduced deaths from as high as 10 percent to 0.9 percent or zero.

Baugh and Wohler have not found significant differences in the occurrence of different types of shipping fever in different parts of the state. They attribute this fact to a common source of the disease.

"Most of our cattle are coming through sale barns in the southeastern part of the United States," Baugh said. "They pick up the same diseases."

The vaccines Baugh is using are not new, the researcher pointed out, but a product that combines them in one emulsion is unique. The vaccine is being marketed only in Texas as Poly-Bac B. Texas Vet Lab, Inc., is funding Baugh's research.

Wohler and Baugh published experimental data on the shipping fever vaccine in the November 1980 issue of "Modern Veterinary Practices."

again seed is oftentimes not a good buy. Packets of seed which normally sell for 79 cents each may be offered for a little as three packages for $1.

Whether or not this is a real bargain will depend on whether or not the seed is of quality and will produce a good crop of vegetables.

Check the seed packet to see when it was processed. Most seed packets are dated and indicate the year seed was sown. Also, make sure that sale varieties recommended for this area.

Saving a little money by buying seed of the wrong variety certainly be reflected by lower yields at harvest-time.

In buying plants, again buy recommended varieties. When selecting your plants, remember the biggest plant is not always the best buy. Ideally, transplants should be about as tall as they are wide. They should be dark green in color, vigorous looking and certainly without spots, lesions or damage to the foliage. Purchase only the exact number of plants you will need according to your garden plan.

mothers and babies

Little Known Facts Doctors recommend that children of two or even three be allowed to sleep in cribs as long as they don't climb out of them. Putting a child into a bed too early can encourage her to keep getting out and wandering around.

Little ones can look lovely and feel comfy in cute and cozy sweaters such as these from Mothercare, retailing specialists for mothers-to-be, babies and children under seven. The fashionable pullover comes in pink or camel, the shawl collar cardigan in green with green, red and yellow cowboys. They're paired with sturdy, washable, corduroy pull-on pants.

Many children stutter a little when they are two or three. This is usually caused by their attempting to use new words and complicated sentences. The children usually outgrow the stuttering in a few months.

Mr. Guthrie places in photo contest

SECOND PRIZE WINNER—The strong wheel of this ferris wheel at the Texas State Fair emphasizes on its structure. Aubrey Guthrie, of Hurst, won second prize with this photograph in the MD Magazine photography contest.

MD Magazine recently held their MD Photography Contest, 18 winning photographs were chosen from more than 1700 submissions.

Unaware of any photographer's identity, the judges were impressed with the quality, professional vision, and artistry of the many works sent in by the physicians.

Aubrey Guthrie M.D., of Hurst, won second prize in the sports and recreation category of the contest.

He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. A.E. Guthrie of Floydada.

Guthrie turned in a photograph of the ferris wheel at the Texas State Fair, which emphasized on its structure.

Formerly of Floydada

Looney manages D.Q. at Lorenzo

The Lorenzo Dairy Queen opened this past week bringing fulfillment the letter-writing campaign conducted by the citizens of this West Texas town of 1,078 population to get a Dairy Queen here.

Moreover, the nearly 100 letters, most signed by several people and sent to the office of Hollis Jones Dairy Queen Restaurants in Amarillo, asking for a Dairy Queen to be built in Lorenzo, were framed and mounted on the walls inside the new Lorenzo Dairy Queen. Four 45 inch picture-type displays are required to exhibit the letters.

The Jones organization in Amarillo was the target of the citizens' letter-writing campaign to get a Dairy Queen for their town because it operates the two Dairy Queens closest to Lorenzo, in Ralls and Idalou, 100 miles to the east and 100 miles to the west, respectively, where Lorenzo is wanting Dairy Queen.

Looney drinks have been going to go in the past. Managing the new Lorenzo Dairy Queen is a Jones organization veteran, Mrs. Sue Looney of Ralls, who has worked for the firm in Ralls, and has since previously managed three other Jones Dairy Queens. The Wilbarger DQ restaurant in Vernon, the Crosbyton Dairy Queen and, most recently, the Ralls Dairy Queen. She was promoted to manager of one of the two Jones Dairy Queens in Vernon in 1974, just 13 months after joining the firm, then headed its Crosbyton DQ from June, 1975, to 1976, and the one at Ralls from June, 1976, to November, 1979.

Further, during her previous six years with the Jones organization, she served for a time, on two occasions, as district manager, as well as managing an individual Jones Dairy Queen. Also, Mrs. Looney is known in the Jones organization as the manager who has trained the most new managers for Jones and his wife, Sue, who are the second largest private operators of Dairy Queen restaurants in the United States.

Among the more than a score of managers she has trained for them is her husband, Pete Looney, when he joined the Jones organization after she did, and he is now one of the two vice presidents of Hollis Jones Dairy Queen Restaurants. After he had become an executive of the Jones organization, she left the company to start her own business in ceramics, the Hobby Shop, in Ralls.

But, now, the coming of the Lorenzo addition to the Jones organization, has brought her back into the Dairy Queen business. "I previously enjoyed working for the Joneses' Dairy Queens so much that I simply could not resist the opportunity Hollis and Sue offered me to open and become the first manager of this new Dairy Queen in Lorenzo," she said.

The Lorenzo restaurant became the 27th Dairy Queen owned and operated by the Joneses, who have another under construction in Groom, which is expected to open later this month as their 28th. In addition, Jones is the managing partner of two other Texas Dairy Queens which he has leased to an associate to operate.

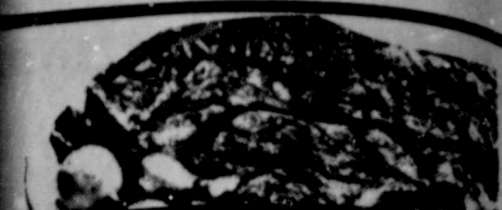

Hence, in total, Hollis Jones Dairy Queen Restaurants is a company encompassing 30 Texas Dairy Queens.

Twelve full- and part-time workers have already been employed to staff the new Lorenzo Dairy Queen, according to Mrs. Looney, as its manager. She, of course, will continue to live in Ralls with her husband, Pete, and family and will commute to Lorenzo to manage the new Dairy Queen.

A native Texan, born in Saint Jo in Montague County near Nocona, Mrs. Looney has spent most of her life in the immediate area of the Panhandle, where she now lives and works, and attended high school at Floydada. She and her husband have five children.

Three are adults, two sons, Edward, a staff sergeant stationed at the Pentagon in Washington, D.C., and Anthony, who has enlisted in the Army and will begin his service in May, and a daughter, Karen, now Mrs. Gordon Schulz of Vernon. The other two are also sons, William, 16, and Peter, 15, and both are students at Ralls High School.

Her husband, Pete, was just installed Saturday night as president of the Ralls Chamber of Commerce. Hence, this past week included another major event for the Looneys, in addition to the opening of the Lorenzo Dairy Queen, The Looneys, incidentally, celebrated their silver wedding anniversary last July 11, 1980.

All the rice in China may be going to buy U.S. wheat. The final figures are in, S.L.A. "experts who predict that China may 'nudge' its way into the top ten U.S. markets for farm goods may have predictably red faces. It seems that China may well end up the third or fourth leading market for U.S. goods, with the October signing of the first trade agreement between the U.S. and China adding a tremendous leap to the upward climbing graph. U.S. wheat are part of that origin with China, which experienced a considerable crop shortfall in 1980 due to planting weather and below normal temperatures. That estimate places China's wheat production down 5.5 billion tons from its 1979 mark of 60.5 million tons. A government plan for gradual expansion of livestock and poultry production to increase domestic consumption of meats has added additional pressure to China's grain needs. Any move in this direction could mean larger Chinese grain imports in the future.

Death cause preventable

What will be the number one cause of death in Texas for 1981?

Will it be cancer, or homicides, or how about automobile accidents? "None of these," claims Dr. C.R. Allen Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Health's Chronic Disease Division.

Dr. Allen says that according to the latest available 1979 statistics, heart disease kills more Texans than cancer, accidents and homicides combined.

"Many cardiovascular deaths are preventable," says Dr. Allen. "Take heart attacks, for example. Each year about 10,000 Americans died needlessly from heart attack because they don't seek medical attention early enough, according to the American Heart Association."

Dr. Allen said the average person waits three hours from the time of the first symptom before seeking medical attention. He stressed that the first few hours are critical. "If each person would place himself or herself under the competent medical surveillance within one hour after the onset of symptoms, needless deaths could be prevented," he said.

"Even though a heart attack may come suddenly, the underlying causes may have been developing over the years. The heart is a muscle pumping blood to the rest of the body — and just like any other muscle, it needs some of that blood for its own nourishment."

Coronary arteries supply the heart with the nourishment that it needs. But sometimes the arteries become narrowed, roughened and eventually blocked with fatty deposits and cholesterol. This is called arteriosclerosis and this coronary artery disease has been compared to the formation of lime deposits that build up in a water pipe.

When the arteries get too narrow, or a clot is formed, the blood flow to the heart is blocked off entirely and that part of the heart dies. Doctors call this condition a coronary thrombosis, coronary occlusion, or a myocardial infarction.

Symptoms of heart attack vary, but these are the usual warning signs: (1) Prolonged, oppressive pain or unusual discomfort in the center of the chest, behind the breastbone. (2) Pain that may radiate to the shoulder, arm, neck or jaw. (3) Pain or discomfort that is often accompanied by sweating, nausea, vomiting and shortness of breath. (4) Sometimes these symptoms may subside and then return.

Dr. Allen says "prevention" is a word often heard today in the medical discussion of heart attacks. There are things that can be done — starting early in life — to help prevent heart attacks in later years. These may be related to proper diet, exercise, and proper rest.

Extensive clinical and statistical studies of family medical histories, physical conditions and life styles have identified several factors associated with an increased risk of heart attack and stroke. Among these factors are heredity, sex, age, race, cigarette smoking, high blood pressure, elevated blood cholesterol, diabetes, stress and lack of exercise," said Dr. Allen.

Studies have documented the significance of the major risk factors in heart attack and stroke. They also have shown that the danger increases with the number and severity of risk factors — the more risk factors present or the greater the degree of abnormality of any factor, the greater the risk.

Emphasis in the past few years — from state and national levels — has been placed on high blood pressure. It is a silent, mysterious killer with no characteristic symptoms. More often than not, the cause may remain unknown although in most cases high blood pressure can be controlled.

"High blood pressure adds to the workload of the heart and arteries," says Dr. Allen. "If it continues for a long time, there is increased risk of stroke, heart failure, kidney failure and heart attack."

Dr. Allen says the Texas Department of Health currently has high blood pressure screening programs in public health regions and in local health departments. The purpose of these programs is to find people with high blood pressure and refer them to their private physicians.

For more information, contact Dr. C.R. Allen, Jr., Texas Department of Health, 1100 West 49th Street, Austin, Texas 78756.

Sewing contest to feature natural fibers

The "South Plains Fibers - Naturally" Sewing Contest will be one of several featured events of Agricultural Awareness - Appreciation Week. The purpose of this activity is to promote Texas natural fibers - cotton, wool, mohair, and to emphasize elements of good clothing construction, homesewing and fashion. It is sponsored by the Agricultural Committee of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and the Food and Fiber National Institute of Achievement in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Skills in homesewing and fashion will earn rewards for the top contestants in a new contest "South Plains Fibers - Naturally" at the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center on March 26.

The competition will have three divisions: young teens (grades 6-8), teen (grades 9-12), and adult.

Eligible garments must be made from a fabric that is all cotton or wool or mohair, or from a fabric that is a blend containing at least 50 percent cotton or wool or mohair.

For example, a fabric of 70 percent cotton and 30 percent polyester is eligible. Mohair may count with wool toward the 50 percent minimum wool percentage. Thus a fabric containing 30 percent wool, 20 percent mohair, and 50 percent acrylic would be eligible, as an example.

Accessories such as blouses, trim, and inner construction fabrics are excluded from this requirement. Contestants are eligible to enter one ensemble that has been made in the last three months. Single items such as pants only, a skirt, or shorts only are not considered a complete ensemble.

The entries will be judged on construction as it affects the overall appearance, compatibility of fabric and design, quality of work, creativity, overall appearance, accessories, becomingness, fit, poise, and representation of current fashion trends.

A panel of judges will determine first, second, and third place winners in each of the three divisions. Winners will receive cash awards and will be introduced at the March 26th Food and Fiber National Institute of Achievement Taste of Texas. All contestants will receive participation certificates.

Entry forms may be obtained from Lubbock area homemaking teachers and county Extension agents, or by contacting the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, Box 561, Lubbock, Texas 79408, 806-763-4666.

Completed entry forms must be returned to the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce to be received by March 13.

The contest will begin at 8:30 a.m. on March 26. A public review of contestants and announcements of winners will be featured at 2:00 p.m. in the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center Theatre.

SOUTH PLAINS PLAZA, a condominium for independent retirement, will be having their grand opening Sunday, March 1, in Lubbock. Approximately 160 units will be available with one or two bedrooms, bath, kitchen, living room, walk-in closets and balcony. 24-hour security and a registered nurse will also be available.

Tech hosts media workshops

"Mass Communications - It's Your Business." That is the theme of Mass Communications Week 1981 to be held at Texas Tech University February 23-27.

The week is an annual event sponsored by the mass communications students, and supported by local and state business.

This year's theme was selected to emphasize the fact that the mass communications industry is just that, an industry. Besides providing basic information for the public, mass communications must also function as a business.

Strange gets lead in Rainmaker

Rick Strange, son of Mrs. R.L. Crawford of Childress and formerly of Floydada, is playing the lead role in HSU's production of "The Rainmaker", which opened February 24 and will run through Saturday, February 28.

Set in 1928, the story revolves around schemes to marry off 27-year-old Lizzie, played by Mary Carter. The old-maid character is a mixture of practicality and dreams, allowing a newcomer, Starbuck, to bring reality to her fantasy.

Starbuck, played by Rick is "the epitome of the con man," said Betty Hukill, guest director of the play. "He knows how to sell them a story," she said, and he promises the one thing the town needs—rain.

The Rainmaker opened Tuesday evening for a five-night run. Call HSU's Moody Center at 677-7281. Abilene, Texas for ticket information.

Retirement plan holds open house

The grand opening of the model residence of the South Plains Plaza, a condominium for independent retirement living, will be from noon to 6 p.m. Sunday in Lubbock. Thereafter, the model will be open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday, and noon to 6 p.m. on Sundays in Lubbock at west Loop 289 between 56th and 58th streets.

Approximately 160 units will be available with one or two bedrooms, with bath, or bath and a-half, full kitchen, living room, walk in closets and a balcony-solarium off each bedroom. Each unit will have individual temperature controls and individual utilities. These units will be on the second through the eleventh floors. The first and twelfth floors will have common rooms such as a club, lounge, dining facilities and activity rooms.

Among the services provided by South Plains Plaza are 24-hour maintenance of the building.

Units are available for purchase through the developer and Company Realtor Homes and Company. Ownership will be as in any condominium action in that the owner retain full title to the unit, and can sell as he wishes.

Nat Kizer, who is consultant and general retirement planner, will be the sales director.

The structure is of pre-cast concrete to that of the Lubbock International Airport. Construction is to be completed in approximately six months and breaking.

It's Not Easy

CAROL LEA CLARK

The flu was invented by the Medical Association to keep us busy, during the winter. There are two construction workers hammering away behind my eyes. The sharp jabbing pain that is except when the two guys take a break or lunch break. Then they go for a few minutes, but they are worse when they start up.

Must be working three shifts around the clock, because about every hour the pain will slow down for a moment, and then renew itself. The workers take out their tools. The pain might not be so bad if I could take a hole by myself until I recovered or died. I can't do that. I have a husband and a family.

Why, we have an iron clad rule written into our marriage that only one of us can be sick at a time, and neither can be sick if the other is sick. We wait in line for a sign of indication that one of us is allowed to be sick. The other is allowed to be sick. I know this time we goofed. I had climbed out of bed for a time in a week and my husband must have taken it as a sign that they could now begin their job on the back of my head.

The groundhog who sees his shadow retreats, my husband took a deep breath of fresh air and went to the depths of the bed until he could see the tops of his feet sticking up from under the blanket. I was really in trouble and a little negotiation with my husband crew. "Just a few days," I said. "When I'll be as sick as you are."

I think that they could hear at the noise of the jackhammers. The pain came when my toddler daughter, No, her eyes became swollen and she kept pointing at me and moaning.

A couple of hours her eyes and nose were shining shades of purple and red. She looked like a battered child.

My only solution was to pack all three of us into the car, with the least ill to proceed to the doctor's office. I was sick call.

The doctor took one look at us and said, "What a mess."

My only hope when you feel the pain is that you can't feel any more. You just hope that you won't feel it for too long.

The family that is sick together through the ordeal closer together. At least the family that gets sick usually gets well together.

Lockney Cable Television system is taking large steps towards completion. Chances of a complete turn-on by the end of May looking more likely every day.

In the last two weeks, system manager Jerry Ford has: completed construction of his new building; installed up his microwave dish from Lubbock, Texas and installed it; installed his tower; and strung two miles of support cable and three miles of main cable.
