Ground broken for First Baptist building

Base Lockbinding
P.O. Box 2558
Amarillo, Tex. 79105

WELL, left, chairman of the Deacons, the Rev. John Jenkins, center, and committee chairman Gail Kring, turned the first shovels full of dirt as ground was broken for the new educational building at First Baptist Church in Lockney. The 40 by 90, one-story building will be connected to the existing sanctuary building by a 30 by 50 enclosed courtyard. The new educational building will replace two old houses that had been used as educational facilities. The building will cost about $170,000 and will take about four months to complete. Tusha Builders of Lubbock, the contractor on the project, began work on the building this week.

ADOLESCENT LEA CLARK
I can't redesign the whole world, but I can make it safe for my little girl. I would like to make a playground in all the playgrounds my little girl is likely to find, but I guess that's not possible either. I watched my daughter, little Lea, stand at the top of a slide. I'd let her climb. It looked like Everest from where I was standing, gauging all the ways she could catch her if she fell from any point on the slide. She started down the slide I had built for her eyes. An Olympic diver had the same look. She was happy and scared only enough to want to do it again and again.

As she counted when she had reached the bottom and come down the slide. Yet, every time she looked down I could see her falling. I'm the designer of the slide. I'm the designer of the slide. I'm the designer of the slide. I'm sure I wouldn't mind if she had never been invented. I didn't have the slide to test it. When she would find someone that look on my face. I saw so many times when she would say, "Be careful, I would respond "Oh, I understand how she must have

Kara Carthel fund drive begins

Kara Carthel, a senior at Lockney High School, is presently touring with the highly acclaimed Continental Singers.

This is an interdenominational religious musical organization with headquarters in the Los Angeles area.

Each year 280 vocalists and 190 instrumentalists are chosen from hundreds of high school and college musicians auditioning for the group. Each summer those musicians who are chosen for the tour report to California where they undergo a week of intensive rehearsal.

After rehearsing, the groups then leave on tour. There are 15 groups under the name of the Continental Singers. Each group tours throughout the U.S. any many foreign countries.

Kara's group will be touring the East Coast and then leave for a tour of Europe. The groups perform at churches, military bases, hospitals, and auditoriums. They travel by bus, boat, and plane.

The funding for each student is paid half by the student and half by the organization.

Lockney Band Director Larry Williams said, "Being chosen to perform with the Continental Singers is quite an honor for any musician. This has to be the highlight of a student's musical career. We are all happy for Kara. She is extremely talented and will do a good job for her group. This is a very professional organization. Each touring group is well chaperoned and they play in some of the best places in the world. While on tour she will be working with other musicians of various backgrounds and religions. We are very excited for her."

In an effort to help out with Kara's share of expenses, a special account for Kara has been set up at the First National Bank. Anyone wishing to make a donation may do so at the bank.

Also, raffle tickets are being sold for an afghan made by Georgia Ford. Tickets can be obtained at the First National Bank, or you can call Larry Williams at 652-2747.

Officials looking into junked car problem

Lockney City officials are taking a look at existing ordinances to see what authority exists that could be used in alleviating the junk car problem.

Despite local opposition, the City of Pampa has passed an ordinance giving the city power to remove junked vehicles from private property, through due process.

The Pampa ordinance follows guidelines set by state law. Nevertheless, petitions bearing the signatures of more than 400 Pampa residents were submitted to the council in opposition to the proposed ordinance.

However, the Pampa council passed the ordinance despite the opposition.

Lockney Mayor J.D. Copeland said he plans to meet with city attorney Paul Lyle to discuss whether existing ordinances are sufficient for the city to take action to force property owners to remove junk vehicles.

Councilman Gail Kring said an ordinance along the lines of the Pampa ordinance would be, "fantastic."

"We need to do something," Kring said about the junked car problem. "We need to get it done."

Kring said he is not hopeful about voluntary compliance.

"There never has been any before," Kring said, "and there's no reason to anticipate there will be now."

Copeland said if there is sufficient existing authority in city ordinances to force removal of the junk vehicles, he will have Lyle write violaters a letter asking for compliance.

Copeland said if existing ordinances aren't sufficient to force compliance, the council will take action on new legislation.

Rest Home Birthday Party

We welcome June and birthdays... And summertime is here... So a party is in order... To fill the day with cheer.

Mrs. Clara Williamson loves her "special" day with friends and family visits. And gifts and time to play!

Mrs. Alta Probasco... She counts from '93... Is a very lovely lady. And a party is her "tea".

A very pretty lady is Mrs. Myrtle Roy... And a birthday celebration fills her heart with joy!

Let's do the birthday "ditty"... So everybody sing...

To serenade these ladies and give them "their day" some "zing"!

The Rest Home birthday party was held Thursday, June 18, with ladies of the City Park Church of Christ hosting the celebration.

Honorees, other residents of the home and guests were ushered into the dining room with the honorees being seated at the "honor" table. Their places were marked with special birthday cards.

The table was laid with an ecru cloth and a floral arrangement in blue served as the centerpiece. The poem and all joined in singing the birthday song.

The Hesperian photographer was there for the picture "taking".

A delicious refreshment plate of iced chocolate cake and pink fruit punch was served to all present, including the employees.

Mrs. Williamson had as her special guest her daughter Dessie Turner and seated with Mrs. Roy was her daughter Evelyn Huggins. Mrs. Probasco was happy to have her daughter Hazel Bradley and grandson, Kim, as her special guests. Attending the party with Mr. Ray Reed was his daughter, Mrs. Pearl Sparkman, granddaughter Mrs. Mike Oden and great-granddaughter Penny.

Everyone was very happy to have had these visitors and invite each of you to be with them any time you can, especially if you have loved ones or close friends being honored.

The next party will be Thursday, July 16 at 2:30 p.m.

Buyers warned of flood damaged cars

The executive vice-president of the Texas Automobile Dealers Association has warned new car customers to exercise "the utmost caution" in purchasing cars which may have suffered flood damage.

"No matter how much it has been reconditioned, a flood damaged automobile should be carefully checked by the consumer for mechanical impairments," said Gene Fondren, on behalf of the franchised new car and truck dealers in Texas.

"Anyone selling a flood damaged auto should disclose to the potential buyer any and all known damage or impairments caused by the water," Fondren said.

Fondren cited the Texas Deceptive Trade Practices Consumer Protection Act which provides that it is a deceptive act or practice for any person to fail "to disclose information concerning goods or services which was known at the time of the transaction if such failure to disclose such information was intended to induce the consumer into a transaction into which the consumer would not have entered had the information been disclosed."

Fondren suggested the consumer complete the following five point guide when considering a possibly flood damaged automobile:

1. Check all gauges on the dashboard to make sure they are accurate. Look for signs of water on or in the gauges. Autos that have had water up to the dashboard are likely to be dangerous no matter how thoroughly the car has been reconditioned.

2. Look for signs of corrosion under the hood, inside and under the car on bumpers, behind the hub-caps and around the gas cap. Corrosion of any metal may cause a weak spot to occur.

3. Test the lights, windshield wipers, turn signals, cigarette lighter, radio, heater, fans and air conditioner several times. To flex sure they work repeatedly. Flex some wires under the dash to see if they bend or crack. Wet wires and rubber hoses become brittle upon drying and can crack and fail.

4. Start the engine several times. If you see white smoke, this may mean the engine has just been cleaned out. Drive the car to make certain that it accelerates, shifts and stops smoothly. Mud or sand in fuel, cooling, and lubrication systems can cause extensive damage.

5. Check the interior and trunk for signs of mud and water. The back seat can be easily removed to check the stuffing and upholstery. Check the carpet for any dampness. Musty odors and water marks indicate that the upholstery, stuffing or carpet has been wet and may begin to rot.

Social Security Cuts May Be Avoided
 The Reagan administration has recently proposed $2.9 billion in Social Security benefit reductions.

These cuts, say the experts at the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, will have a disproportionate heavy impact on middle-income families. These reductions, they say, begin to chop away at the edges of the Social Security system. It suggests that people concerned about fair tax cuts and Social Security might like to write their member of Congress about the proposed budget. Such letters can be addressed to the House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515.

Remember thinking that nothing good could possibly come from the heatwave of '80? Something has. Drought conditions, like those of last summer are, if nothing else, ideal for research directed toward finding stress tolerant plants. Corn hybrids, with improved drought tolerance are available this year as a direct benefit of the 1980 blister. On the market this year are seeds with improved root systems and sturdy brace roots to aid in upright growth. New corn hybrids will also have minimal leaf scorch characteristics, as well as larger ear size and, possibly, double ears which will boost yields even if weather stresses call for reduced planting populations. Hybrids with superior germination ability have also been developed, as well as plants with severe cold stress adaptability. Just another example of American producer's determination when there is a need, they will find a way.

Lockney Care Center news

BY VICKIE HUTTON
The heat has really affected us since one of our air conditioners has gone out.

We are working on the air conditioning system, but it looks as though Mother Nature is going to dish out some more hot weather. Please say a prayer that we get some relief.

Our bus trips are more enjoyable as the weeks pass. We have never seen the same scenery twice even though we have gone to the same place twice.

Wednesday, we enjoyed popcorn while playing dominoes and checkers. Our domino players are Bill Holt, Myrtle Payne, Alpha Kitchens, Albert Poole, Lewis Roberts, and Richard Lanham. Our checker players are Bertie Bradley, Alpha Kitchens, Richard Lanham, and Lewis Roberts.

Thursday, we enjoyed the talent of Charlie Chaplin when we were able to see the movie, "The Tramp." The film brought back memories of when the residents first went to the movies.

Our lucky bingo winners in a very competitive game were Richard Lanham and Lavell Edwards. After the game Friday the men were honored with a surprise Father's Day party. We all enjoyed paying tribute to these men.

Seniors attend "Oklahoma" showing

BY MARY PEARL COWARD

Friday afternoon, June 19, 39 Senior Citizens boarded a bus bound for Lubbock to see the musical production "Oklahoma."

Such a clatter and chatter there was on that bus!

On our arrival at the Civic Center, we found Mr. and Mrs. Menard Field, Ethel Cross, and Guy Garrison waiting for us.

After much confusion about the tickets and where we were to be seated, we were all settled and ready for the show to begin.

The show was very interesting and so well performed. The lighting and costumes were pretty and very appropriate. We had no trouble seeing and hearing the performance.

Our bus driver, who was such a polite and careful driver, told us he would be back to the parking lot at 10 minutes after 10, found that he had quite a long wait, since it was nearly 11:30 before we got back on the bus and started for home.

To the Office on Aging in Lubbock, we owe the pleasure of this all-expense paid outing which we enjoyed and appreciate so very much.

Those making the trip were Mr. and Mrs. Menard Field, Ethel Cross and Guy Garrison who had gone on earlier in their car. Those riding the chartered bus were Eldie Bryant, Thelma Jones, Annie Turner, Nettie Lowrance, Myria Dade, Elva Reeves, Mabel Foster, Lorene Reasoner, Ethel Warren, Ethel Morehead, Ruby Davis, Grady and Esther Freeman.

Others were J.M. Daniel,

Capturing the spirit of summer in photographs is as easy as getting a child with watermelon to smile, especially if you follow a few simple tips on picture-taking.

To get a candid, slice-of-life photo like this one, try to take pictures while people are being themselves, unposed. Maintain a low profile when approaching your subject, even if it's impossible to avoid notice initially. Timing is essential, because you want to catch that precious smile before it's gone.

Use a camera with a telephoto lens to help you "get in close" without distracting the subject. Close-up pictures capture the true feeling of the moment—and help eliminate distracting backgrounds.

Your camera should be loaded and ready for picture-taking, because that fleeting moment can be gone at the blink of an eye. An aim-and-shoot Kodak Tele-Ektra 300 camera is ideal for these situations because you simply frame the subject in the viewfinder and squeeze the shutter gently. Its built-in telephoto lens will bring or on a winter

SPORTS SHORTS

NEGLECT CAN KILL, TOO. IT JUST TAKES A LITTLE LONGER.

In the heat of competition, sports enthusiasts may lose sight of eye safety. The racquet sports—tennis, racquetball, badminton, squash—account for many of the 35,000 sports and recreational eye injuries in a year.

Child abuse in most minds is synonymous with battered children. But the sad fact is that thousands of parents are abusing their children by leaving them alone. It's called neglect, and it can mean a lack of food, clothing and shelter. And just as in the other forms of child abuse—physical, sexual and emotional—it can and often does result in death. Each year one million children feel the pain of child abuse needlessly. Needlessly because it can be prevented if you help.

Abused children are helpless. Unless you help.

Crude oil output drops in Texas

Crude oil production declines this year and in the future," Cox said.

Floyd County, which has had recorded production since 1952, last year produced 1,572 barrels of crude oil and condensate at the rate of four barrels per day. Production in 1980 boosted Floyd County's production total through the end of the year to 80,961 barrels.

In 1980, 21 counties produced more than 10-million barrels of crude oil. This is a decrease of one county from 1979.

Evaporation causes poor watering results

Much of the water going onto area lawns and shrubs is being wasted. It's lost to overwatering, high evaporation and poor application patterns. Since the lion's share of household water use goes out to the yard, it becomes a real waste of money as well.

You can have a healthy lawn and garden without wasting water, and it is not difficult. The biggest improvement you can make is to begin a careful program of home lawn irrigation...if you can figure out when to sprinkle, how much water to apply and for how long.

The High Plains Water District has a few pointers for practical, efficient grass watering tailored for the individual lawn that can save you several hundred gallons of treated, fresh water and save you money on your monthly energy bill. They'll help you make it through the summer without sacrificing your turf while saving water.

A REMINDER

Water alone will not make grass healthy. In fact, too much water can be as harmful as too little water. Excess watering will drain away valuable plant nutrients stored in the root zone, decrease root zone aeration necessary to plant growth and may even inhibit root growth.

Overwatering can promote the growth of disease. It is a waste of water, fertilizer and energy expended on pumping.

You don't need to water every day. Most High Plains soils can store enough moisture to last seven to ten days. Watering a small amount every day or two only serves to wet the top few inches of the soil and cause the plant roots to concentrate there. Plants will be healthier if they are watered long enough at one time to moisten the deeper zone thereby encouraging deep root development.

OK — BUT HOW LONG?

Try this experiment to learn your sprinkler's habits. First, place a few empty topless cans at various distances from the sprinkler making sure they don't lean. After sprinkling for an hour, measure the depth of water caught in each can and average the amounts. Then divide the number of inches needed for your soil type by the average amount of water needed to effectively irrigate your lawn.

For example, assume that you've placed several catch cans, sprinkled for an hour, and arrived at an average depth of 3/8-inch of water in the cans. If the total depth of water needed for your lawn is one inch, then the total sprinkling time needed is found by dividing one inch (the total depth of water needed) by 3/8-inch (the average one-hour catch) — and the answer is 2 hours, 40 minutes. If you needed to apply 1.5 inches of water to sufficiently irrigate the grass and root zone, you'd need to water for about four hours.

SO WHEN DO YOU WATER?

At the first sign of real wilt. Wilt doesn't mean that the grass is dying, only that it's "thirsty." But don't look for it in the middle of the afternoon. Despite plenty of available moisture, many plants will tend to show considerable wilt on a hot afternoon. It's usually temporary. The grass normally will regain its vitality in the evening. Look for signs of real wilting then; its time to water.

Most likely you'll discover signs of wilt only after five to ten days of little or no rain or irrigation. During cooler weather, this period will be even longer.

HOW MUCH SHOULD YOU WATER?

Most lawn grasses used in the High Plains have a potential root zone depth of about three feet. This means that with proper irrigation, the grass roots will penetrate and efficiently extract water and nutrients from the soil to a depth of about three feet from the surface.

How much water you'll need to apply to adequately irrigate this three foot zone depends on what type soil you have. If it is totally dry and sandy soil, you will need to apply about three inches; if it's loam (a mixture of clay, silt and sand) apply about four and one-half inches; and if it's a heavy clay soil, about six inches. It will be a rare occasion that your soil will be totally dry to the three foot depth. Normally half of the amounts given above will wet your soil adequately.

Of course, other factors will have a bearing on your irrigation schedule, but this is a good rule of thumb approach for establishing a lawn-irrigation schedule. Combined with careful observation, it should lead to a healthy, resilient lawn as well as to an appreciable savings of water.

Sermonette-----JESUS IS PASSING BY

"And it came to pass, that as he was come nigh unto Jerico, a certain blind man sat by the way side begging; And hearing the multitude pass by, he asked what it meant. And they told him, that Jesus of Nazareth passeth by." (Luke 18:35-37)

A man sat by the roadside near Jerico begging. Although blind, he was mentally alert. He sensed the bustle and confusion of a throng of people winding its way along the stony road.

The blind man was aware of something unusual. When he asked about it he was told, "Jesus of Nazareth is passing by." That was almost too good to be true. It had never happened to him before. Sensing the priceless opportunity, he began to cry aloud: "Jesus, Thou Son of David, have mercy on me!" Bystanders scolded him for making a spectacle of himself. They were ashamed to be in such rude company. But the blind man, realizing that the opportunity of his life might pass before he had grasped it, cried out the more exceedingly, "Thou Son of David, have mercy on me!"

Those walking in front of Jesus rebuked the blind man, but he wisely ignored them as he continued to address his supplications to our Lord.

Jesus heard him and stopped and asked the man to come near and explain what he wanted. Trembling with eagerness and a sense of awe as he approached Jesus Christ, the suppliant asked that he might receive his sight. "And Jesus said unto him, 'Receive thy sight: thy faith hath saved thee.'" (Luke 18:42)

Who, if any, of us can realize the great uplift and transformation in the life of one who was blind and suddenly found that he could see. It is no wonder that this man accepted Jesus into his heart, and Jesus became a way of life to him.

For all people Jesus is passing by—today, now! He continually knocks on the hearts door, but you must open the door to let him in. He is revealed in the Scriptures and exalted, inspiring words have been written about Him in the great hymns and other devotional literature.

Do you sense that something important is happening and do you immediately take action to profit by the presence of Jesus or do you remain silent and inactive until He is gone? The blind man might have sat beside the road, listening and wondering, but doing nothing until his great opportunity passed by and he remained merely the blind beggar by the roadside. Today is the day of salvation, now is the time to accept Jesus as Lord and Saviour of your life. For Jesus is able to grant you sight, light, happiness, joy and fulfillment beyond your highest expectation, leading on to life eternal as a joint-heir with Jesus Christ.

Since just about everyone else has gotten their licks in about the baseball strike, I thought I might say a word myself.

As I recall my American history, unions were originally formed in order to do something about atrocious working conditions, and extremely poor wages. Such a purpose was a noble one. With people working up to 15 hours a day, in conditions most owners would not have allowed a slave to work in, and for practically no wages at all, something needed to be done.

I am not sure that the same problem exists in conjunction with baseball players, or for that matter any other sports or entertainment personality.

This is not to argue the worth of these people to society, as some have done. Athletes and entertainers have always existed, though not always held in high regard, and have done so because we have a need to be entertained and thrilled, or what ever.

It seems to me, however, that what the athletes are looking for is some kind of security against their fleeting stardom. Their careers are admittedly short in many cases, but they were the ones who decided to take the risk.

If they should get stuck working for some turkey who won't pay them what they think they're worth, they should realize that they signed the contract. Somebody has got to be accountable for their actions, why not them?

Admittedly I look at this problem simplistically, and there are probably much more important considerations involved. But I still don't see the sweat shop conditions applying here.

Perhaps the best thing to do would be to get rid of owners, have everybody choose up sides, sponsor the games at so much prize money per man, and the best people win, kinda like golf. Those who can make it, do; and those who can't make it sell insurance.

In any case, let's quit wasting so much space and time on something as trivial as whether we get to see baseball this year, and get on with the business of seeing to it that real injustices are solved.

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Volumes seem to have been written concerning the problems of the marginally-employed worker and the need to protect the employee from the abuses of the employer.

Little thought has been given, however, to the multitude of problems facing the employers of such labor, whether that employer runs a household and depends on a part-time housekeeper or a hamburger stand and hires teenagers after school.

The inclusion of such workers under the minimum wage law creates the first set of problems, with many employers simply unable or unwilling to hire workers at the standard minimum rate.

Even if the federal minimum hourly wage rates are met, the employer may well find himself in the position of the case outlined in the publication, The Exchange, recently. The retired businessman, a widower, told of his experiences in trying to hire a part-time housekeeper. The employee had medical problems that would make it difficult to find employment elsewhere and really needed the job. And even though the employer met federal wage standards, in order to employ her legally, he was required to fill out and file 13 different state and federal forms, plus pay a total of $442.35 a year in Federal Social Security taxes and state and federal unemployment insurance taxes.

All of these problems were encountered, I might add, after the man had found someone willing to do the work. Many potential employees turned down the minimum wage job to live in government-subsidized apartments at low rentals and subsist on welfare or Social Security payments, bank interest and other types of minimal income. Their desire and will to work have been destroyed by the federal largess, he believes.

No wonder that many employers and employees now agree on wages paid in cash from hand to hand, with such income never reported. I am not justifying breaking the law, but I do understand the frustration that can lead to such a practice.

Federal rules and regulations have reached the height of the ridiculous. If I have work to be done and am willing to pay you to do that work; if you need work and are willing to perform the task I advertise for the pay I offer, to what degree does the government have the right to interfere? That is the question.

I sometimes think government has been determined to legislate and regulate common sense right out of the picture and has become far too successful.

We now have a golden opportunity to make significant changes in the way government affects us.

A few years ago, several local people received a brochure describing the pleasures of life in a resort in New Mexico. Living in a small town, naturally the people mentioned this and more desirable as each person added his imagined pleasures. The more they talked the more excited they became. The brochure pointed out the trip was entirely free—no down condition—the couples accepting the trip must agree to a possibility of purchasing a cabin or lot in the resort.

The group was now in such high frenzy that they were ready to return their acceptance letter to the company.

In happy expectation, they began to get their gear together and explicit plans. Some began practicing their golf swing and their clubs to a high gloss. The tour had pictured beautiful favorable weather.

The fishermen donned their fishing gear, checked their tackle and sure they had all the right lures to catch the big ones that were ladies went shopping so they would be ready for the fabulous literature so elaborately portrayed.

After what seemed like months, the expected acceptance came in plane reservations. The trip was finally an actuality. So they happy family to the gigantic airport to await the super jet that took them away to their dream vacation.

After waiting a good two hours, the group began to get impatient and walked out of the building to see if they could catch a glimpse of the jet. At this point, any plane would have been acceptable.

They were becoming angry, but worse than that, they were humiliated. Their dignity was being trampled on. They were around. Their wanderings were leading them closer and closer to the plane. Suddenly the group was surrounded by armed security guards. "What's going on here," one of the guards demanded. "We are just waiting for a plane to take us to New Mexico. We have our reservations," the spokesman for the group showed them tickets.

"Oh, I see. This is the private plane owned by the company supposed to take you to Utopia, New Mexico. But it is at full capacity. There won't be another plane going there until next week, sorry, but there must have been some mistake. Now break it up on the runway."

The group was sorely disappointed as they stood back and watched "their" plane depart without them. But there was nothing to be done. They would not return next week or any other time. They were home. They would not return next week or any other time. They were home. They would not return next week or any other time.

Some of the group say they learned a lesson from this experience. "Nothing worth anything is free."

Some just laugh and think of it as a bad joke and like to raise the hair on their necks.

But secretly they know if they were offered another "dream" they would probably jump at the chance and take the risk of being fooled.

They are the ones that are still watching their mail for that special offer that Once-in-a-Lifetime-Dream-Vacation.

AUSTIN—The United Nations has proclaimed 1981 "International Year of Disabled Persons (IYDP)" and has established the theme that all individuals who are disabled (450 million world-wide) should have the right to live as independently as possible with full participation in all phases of life.

There are a number of federal and state services available or planned for disabled persons. For example, the U.S. Postal Service program allows people to buy stamps by mail without making a trip to the post office; the Social Security Administration makes it possible for blind persons to receive letters and notices in braille; and the Department of the Interior is actively training its personnel on ways to improve accessibility for disabled persons.

The government programs which are available are an excellent investment in the development of our most underutilized resources—disabled persons. It can be done in many ways. Governmental officials should make the most of their contribution to make to disabled persons help break down physical and attitudinal barriers which can encourage independent living, local businesses, and other institutions recognize the capabilities and accomplishments of disabled persons in order to develop employment opportunities for everyone. All of us have practical contributions to make on our own time and energy. It is the year to make commitments to make commitments. Texas can have the opportunities for full participation in all aspects of life, if we all agree on one truth is, we all depend on each other.

Contrary to popular belief, Abner Doubleday did not invent the game of baseball. Doubleday never claimed that honor. In fact, he was a military man retiring from the army in 1873 to become a writer.

He never even wrote a word about the game. But he had a friend who did. In a report on the origins of baseball written by the president of the National League, A.G. Mills in 1907 credited Doubleday. The report was never discredited, so Abner Doubleday was enshrined as the Father of Baseball in the National Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, New York in 1939.

Baseball probably evolved from the English game of Cricket. In the early days, any number of players could play on any size field. There were no set rules so arguments frequently broke out. Alexander J. Cartwright in 1845 drew up a set of rules for his team, the New York Knickerbockers. He also constructed a 90 foot square diamond. The first recorded baseball game was played in Hoboken, New Jersey between Cartwright's team and the New York Nine. The Knickerbockers won 1-0.

Baseball caught on as a professional player was employed by the Philadelphia Athletics in 1869 the captain and manager Cincinnati Red Stockings made $5,000 a year.

Bob Feller is credited with the fastest pitch of 98.6 mph. He was later. Mark Koenig, a pitcher for the New York Yankees, pitched a fast ball clocked at 127 mph.

Little League was started in 1939 and was formed with rules geared to the strength of both boys and girls. Baseball is more popular in the U.S. of A. If you like information be sure and read our Patrick Clark's Sports...

NOTICE TO PUBLIC OF FINDING OF NO SIGNIFICANT EFFECT ON THE ENVIRONMENT AND NOTICE TO PUBLIC OF REQUEST FOR RELEASE OF FUNDS

City of Lockney
215 E. Locust Street
P.O. Box 387
Lockney, Texas 79241
(806) 652-2355

TO ALL INTERESTED AGENCIES, GROUPS AND PERSONS:

On or about July 13, 1981, the above-named City will request the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development to release Federal funds under Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 (PL 93-383) for the following project activities:

NORTHEAST LOCKNEY NEIGHBORHOOD REVITALIZATION PROJECT:

Clearance Activities -	$22,000.00	estimated cost
Water & Sewer Facilities -	$166,500.00	estimated cost
Acquisition -	$ 6,000.00	estimated cost
Relocation -	$ 76,000.00	estimated cost
Street Improvements -	$254,000.00	estimated cost

The above referenced project activities will be carried out as part of a two year (1981-1982) comprehensive Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program. The request for release of funds will cover both the 1981 and 1982 program years. The project will be carried out in a Target Area in northeast Lockney with the following boundaries: North - F.W. & D.S.P. Railroad; East - 1st Street (Locust to Guest) and 2nd Street (Guest to F.W. & D.S.P. Railroad); South - Locust Street; West - 8th Street. A map showing the Target Area is available for review in the Lockney City Hall.

It has been determined that such request for release of funds will not constitute an action significantly affecting the quality of the human environment and accordingly the above-named City has decided not to prepare an Environmental Impact Statement under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (PL 91-190).

The reasons for such decision not to prepare such Statement are as follows:

NORTHEAST LOCKNEY NEIGHBORHOOD REVITALIZATION PROJECT: Vacant, dilapidated structures will be demolished and cleared. Vacant, overgrown lots and accumulations of junk, debris, abandoned vehicles, etc., will be cleared. Occupants of dilapidated housing will be provided with an opportunity to receive relocation assistance and payments so they may obtain decent, safe and sanitary dwellings. In some cases, dilapidated rental units will be acquired for subsequent demolition, thereby making low/moderate income tenants eligible for replacement housing payments. Sanitary sewer lines will be installed to eliminate use of malfunctioning septic tanks and cess pools. Undersized, unlooped, deteriorated water lines will be replaced with adequately sized, looped lines which can provide dependable and adequate domestic water service and fire protection. Dirt street will be paved, curbed and guttered to reduce dust pollution, facilitate drainage of storm waters and improve vehicular and pedestrian safety.

Limited grading and clearing will be involved in project activities but no major changes in topographic features are anticipated. No major changes in land use, population density or demand for community facilities are expected over the course of this project or as a result of project use. Existing support systems and infrastructure will not be negatively affected by the project. Some small short-term increases in air and noise pollution may occur during the construction phase of the project but air and noise activities in the Target Area will return to current levels at the conclusion of the construction phase of the project. No properties of known historic, archeological or architectural significance will be affected by the project activities and the aesthetic improvement of the neighborhood will be improved by proposed improvements.

An Environmental Review Record respecting the within project has been made by the above-named City which documents the environmental review of the project activities and more fully sets forth the reasons why such Statement is not required. This Environmental Review Record is on file at the above address and is available for public examination and copying upon request in the office of the City Secretary between the hours of 8 A.M. and 5 P.M., Monday through Friday.

No further environmental review of such project activities is proposed to be conducted prior to the request for release of Federal funds.

All interested agencies, groups and persons disagreeing with this decision are invited to submit written comments for consideration by the City to the office of the City Secretary. Such written comments should be received at the above address on or before July 12, 1981. All such comments so received will be considered and the City will not request the release of Federal funds or taken any administrative action on the within project activities prior to the date specified in the preceding sentence.

The City of Lockney will undertake the project activities described above with Community Development Block Grant funds from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) under Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974. The City of Lockney is certifying to HUD that the City and J.D. Copeland in his official capacity as Mayor consent to accept the jurisdiction of the Federal courts if an action is brought to enforce responsibilities in relation to environmental reviews, decision making and actions and that these responsibilities have been satisfied. The legal effect of the certification is that upon its approval the City may use the CDBG funds and HUD will have satisfied its responsibilities under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969. HUD will accept an objection to its approval only if it is on one of the following bases: (a) that the certification was not in fact executed by the certifying officer or other officer of applicant approved by HUD; or (b) that the applicant's Environmental Review Record for the project activities indicate omission of a required decision, finding or step applicable to the project activities in the environmental review process. Objections must be prepared and submitted in accordance with the required procedure (24 CFR Part 58) and may be addressed to HUD at:

Community Development Block Grant Program

Objections to the release of funds on bases other than those stated above will not be considered by HUD. No objection received after August 3, 1981 will be considered by HUD. The Chief Executive Officer of the City of Lockney is J.D. Copeland, Mayor; P.O. Box 387; Lockney, Texas 79241.

Aspirin substitute is preferred by doctors

The aspirin substitute acetaminophen, a component of such medicines as Tylenol, Liquiprin and Tempra, is a preferred treatment for children's fevers, but over-doses can be dangerous, says Baylor College of Medicine pediatrician Martin Lorin, M.D.

Lorin, associate professor of pediatrics, emphasized that while acetaminophen is considered by many pediatricians to be safer than aspirin when used in correct dosage, caution is needed, especially to prevent children from accidentally swallowing the contents of an entire bottle. He is urged that labels on acetaminophen bottles be rewritten to warn parents of the dangers of acetaminophen overdosage.

A study by Lorin and three colleagues found that parents are often unaware of the risks of acetaminophen overdosage.

"Even with ordinary dosage, aspirin has a great many side effects. It interferes with blood clotting and can cause bleeding of the nose or stomach," Lorin said. "It can cause gastric ulcers, aggravate asthma and interfere with water balance in the body. Acetaminophen, on the other hand, has almost no side effects when used in correct dosage and has minimal side effects even with moderate dosage."

But when ingested in excessively large amounts, acetaminophen can cause liver failure, he said.

"In fact, a massive overdosage of acetaminophen can actually be more dangerous than aspirin overdosage because liver failure is very difficult to treat," Lorin said.

The Baylor study, conducted among 249 Spanish- and English-speaking parents of patients at a Harris County health clinic and at a private pediatric clinic, indicated that more than 80 percent of the parents realized aspirin overdosage can cause death, but only about half knew the danger of acetaminophen overdosage.

Copperhead

ASALE NOLAND'S BACK CATCH ON DISPLAY

If you've got any snake-killing to do, Asale (Mrs. Alton) Noland of Blue Ridge formerly of Floydada, can give you a few tips.

She became an expert recently when she picked off a copperhead atop a barbed wire fence from 38 feet away—with a .22 caliber rifle.

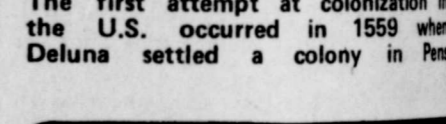

While most people would advance in the opposite direction at the site of what they merely thought was a copperhead, Mrs. Noland acted firmly.

She had just walked out of her home near Blue Ridge when she spotted something moving on the fence. She stepped a little closer and determined that it was a snake of some sort.

She went back into the house and came back with the rifle and a garden-hoe—just to cover all possibilities.

As she emerged from the house, the snake was clearly visible along the top of the fence.

"It must have come out of the woodpile," she said later, still apparently unshaken by the incident.

The first attempt at colonization in the U.S. occurred in 1559 when Deluna settled a colony in Pensacola.

base. It comes down to the old eye for an eye and tooth for a tooth concept. If we take from the land, we need to understand that we are going to have to give something back to what we took from," added Davis.

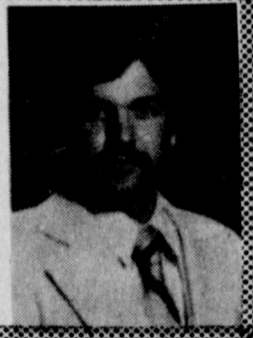

Mac is also supportive of conservation problems being resolved at the local level.

"Many conservation measures to protect the land have become cost prohibitive today. Farmers—like other people—produce to survive, but in the process they face a dilemma of conscience in deciding where and when to practice conservation. They have to pay their debts and they have to support their families. When existing economic conditions leave them with no choice but to tolerate a declining productivity of their land, then we all will inevitably suffer with them," concluded Fawver.

PEACHES

Many homeowners have peach trees which they prize very highly in their yard. In many areas fruit is now beginning to ripen and instead of getting off nice red juicy peaches, they are getting off brown rotted fruit. This is the result of the fungus known as Brownrot. Brownrot is favored by the wet rainy weather we've had and the fruit that is approaching maturity. Brownrot is controlled with Benamil sprays applied at two week intervals. If your fruit is nearing maturity, make sure that you have sprayed the fruit with Benalate or Benamil within the last two to three days. Fruit can be sprayed one day prior to picking with the Benamil spray and not have to worry about any type of residue. Sprays can be used to control Brownrot on peaches but you must do it before the fruit begins to rot.

4-H and FFA steer validation to be held Monday

All 4-H and FFA members planning to show steers at any Junior livestock shows in the state of Texas in 1981-82, must have their steers validated before July 1, 1981.

Floyd County Steer Validation Day will be held on Monday, June 29, beginning at 9:00 a.m. at the Brock's Feedlot located 6 miles north of Lockney on FM 378. Approximate cost for the validation (which includes ear tag, noseprint and photograph) will be approximately $2.00 per head. Please bring your checkbook with you.

Steers which are not validated on this date set by the Floyd County Validation Committee will not be eligible to show at any major stock show in Texas, so please make every effort to attend the county validation day.

Sleeping sickness- only one horse in four is protected

The U.S. Department of Agriculture recommends that all horses be vaccinated annually against equine encephalomyelitis (Sleeping Sickness). This recommendation is emphasized by Dr. Ralph Knowles at USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS). He points out that the recommendation includes vaccination against both Eastern and Western strains of the disease.

Although there is a trend toward routine annual vaccination, authorities say a reasonable estimate is that only 20 to 25 percent of the total U.S. horse population now receives this protection.

Dr. Knowles' advice to horse owners is wholeheartedly endorsed by Dr. Thomas E. Walton at USDA's Arthropod-Borne Animal Diseases Research Laboratory in Denver. Both call Equine Encephalomyelitis "an ever-present threat". The probability of incidence of this disease in horses increases significantly where a large proportion of an area's horse population is not vaccinated against it. And, biting insects can carry the disease to humans.

Under the proper conditions, every horse, regardless of breed, age or sex, is susceptible. The ideal time for vaccinating is before the local mosquito season begins.

A key vector or carrier in the transmission cycle is the mosquito. Birds are the reservoir hosts. They introduce Equine Encephalomyelitis into an area via mosquitoes parasitic to birds. Then other mosquitoes transmit Sleeping Sickness from birds to horses or humans. The build up and concentration of infected birds, combined with large numbers of mosquitoes, intensifies into explosive Encephalomyelitis incidence. Horses and humans are dead-end hosts.

Mosquitoes can thrive even in a dry climate if they can find standing water to breed in. In the Western U.S., for example, irrigation canals and reservoirs provide a perfect base for mosquito propagation.

Once infected with Equine Encephalomyelitis, the horse exhibits various symptoms including fever, extreme nervousness, loss of appetite, depression and paralysis. Of the three principal strains of Sleeping Sickness -- Eastern, Western and Venezuelan -- the Eastern is the most severe because it usually results in death in 90% of the cases. The Western form may leave horses brain-damaged after a prolonged course of illness, treatment and apparent recovery. The Venezuelan strain causes explosive outbreaks with high equine mortality. It does not exist in the U.S. at present.

Sleeping Sickness is a disease that affects the horse's brain and spinal cord. No antiviral treatment is available; and permanent damage may result if the horse survives. The only means of preventing Equine Encephalomyelitis is by vaccination. After the initial immunization, only an annual booster is needed.

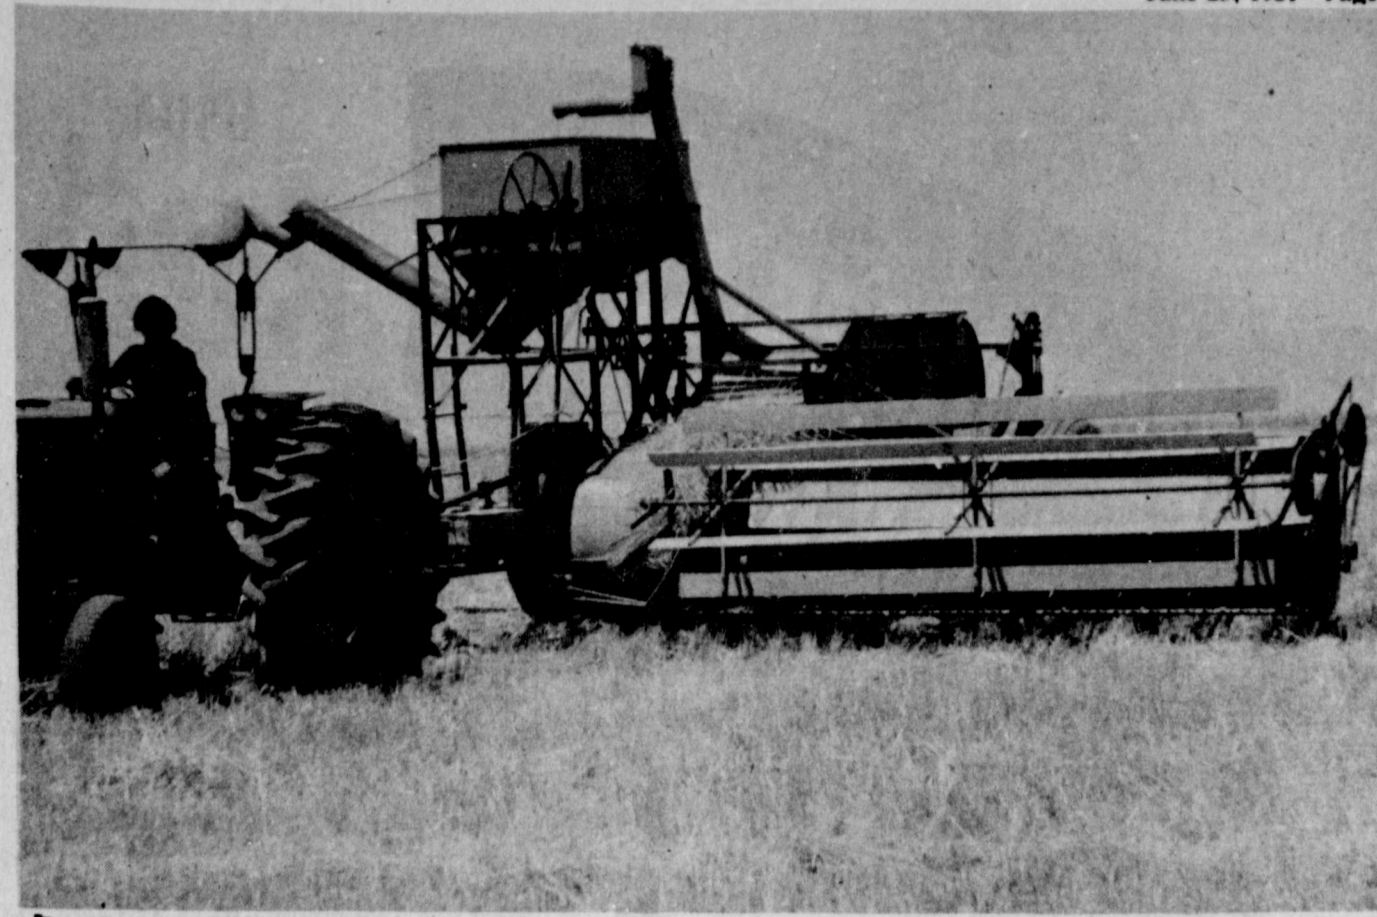

Combination vaccines now available also allow the horse to receive protection against other major dangers at the same time it is vaccinated against Equine Encephalomyelitis.

Tetanus Toxoid and Equine Influenza immunity are also available in combination with the Encephalomyelitis vaccine.

Tetanus is one of the most common and most serious horse health problems, with a death rate estimated at 85 percent. The spores of this organism are found everywhere in the soil, only waiting for an opportunity to enter the horse's system through a scratch or other break in foot or hide.

A third disease that is not normally fatal, but harmful and preventable, is Equine Influenza. It is a highly contagious disease of the respiratory tract that causes coughing and nasal discharge. Usually three to six weeks are needed for full recovery. Occasionally a horse weakened by influenza is attacked by other diseases that can result in permanent lung damage or even death.

For more information on the prevention of Equine Encephalomyelitis and tetanus, horse owners should consult their veterinarians.

Harold Campbell of Matador has converted a motor driven combine to a power take-off unit. Campbell purchased the combine in 1952. It is a 1951 Gleaser-Baldwin by Allis Chalmers. With the assistance of Leo Asher, Campbell converted the motor driven piece of machinery to a power take-off unit. Campbell said the economic possibility of less fuel consumption sparked his interest in the conversion. Campbell said he can run the tractor, which was propane, at "a little above idle."

USDA to test for alternatives of donating agriculture commodities

The U.S. Department of Agriculture will test two alternatives to the current practice of donating agricultural commodities for the National School Lunch Program in 60 schools over the next three years.

One alternative, cash-in-lieu of commodities, will provide school food authorities in 30 schools with cash equal to the value of commodities they would be entitled to under the present commodity donation program, said G. William Hoagland, administrator of USDA's Food and Nutrition Service.

The other will give 30 participating schools letters of credit allowing them to purchase specific food items from local sources, Hoagland said.

"In each case, the cash or letters of credit will be provided in place of donated commodities," Hoagland said.

"The study will examine the cost effectiveness of the two alternatives, their impact on school food procurement patterns, their effects on school lunch quality and lunch program participation, their impacts on government price support and surplus removal programs and their administrative feasibility," he said.

Hoagland said an additional 30 schools will be selected as control sites and will continue to operate under current regulations on the commodity donation program. All 90 schools will be selected by the end of August.

"Schools chosen as demonstration project sites will participate for four school years beginning in September 1981," Hoagland said. "The demonstration projects will be evaluated during the first three years and USDA will report to Congress on the project by December 15, 1984."

Title III of the Agriculture Appropriations Act for fiscal year 1981 mandates these demonstration projects, he said.

USDA is now soliciting applications from school food authorities wishing to participate in the study.

School food authorities may apply to be part of the study by sending a letter with a brief description of their food service operation. Applications are to be postmarked no later than July 24, 1981, and should be sent to: Ronald Vogel, program evaluation staff, room 622 GHI, Office of Policy, Planning and Evaluation, Food and Nutrition Service, USDA, 500 12th St., S.W., Washington, D.C. 20250.

NCC reiterated support for Reagan's economic package

The National Cotton Council has reiterated its support for the economic package as proposed by the Reagan Administration, including the newly-recently bipartisan tax program recently introduced in the House of Representatives.

Council President Frank M. Mitchener, Jr., Sumner, Mississippi, cotton farmer, said the new tax-cut package coincided with the cotton industry's position on the need to stimulate productivity-improving investments.

He pointed out that the Council's board of directors at its spring meeting has commended President Reagan for his leadership in changing the direction of the U.S. economy. The board applauded steps already taken toward relieving the burdens of excessive regulation and the efforts to curb government spending, as well as the tax-cut proposals.

Mitchener said the confidence of the cotton industry in our economy's future is being restored by the very substantive moves in Washington toward transferring economic power and decision-making back to the people.

"High confidence in the past has always led to more jobs and better living standards. Passage of the bipartisan economic package by the Congress will greatly enhance the chances of a repeat of that experience," he declared.

Sleeping Sickness is a disease that affects the horse's brain and spinal cord. No antiviral treatment is available; and permanent damage may result if the horse survives. The only means of preventing Equine Encephalomyelitis is by vaccination. After the initial immunization, only an annual booster is needed.

Combination vaccines now available also allow the horse to receive protection against other major dangers at the same time it is vaccinated against Equine Encephalomyelitis.

Tetanus Toxoid and Equine Influenza immunity are also available in combination with the Encephalomyelitis vaccine.

Tetanus is one of the most common and most serious horse health problems, with a death rate estimated at 85 percent. The spores of this organism are found everywhere in the soil, only waiting for an opportunity to enter the horse's system through a scratch or other break in foot or hide.

A third disease that is not normally fatal, but harmful and preventable, is Equine Influenza. It is a highly contagious disease of the respiratory tract that causes coughing and nasal discharge. Usually three to six weeks are needed for full recovery. Occasionally a horse weakened by influenza is attacked by other diseases that can result in permanent lung damage or even death.

For more information on the prevention of Equine Encephalomyelitis and tetanus, horse owners should consult their veterinarians.

June 28-July 4
 Classical guitarist Angel Romero joins the Boston Pops Orchestra Sunday at 4:00 p.m. on Evening At Pops. Romero performed at Carnegie Hall a few seasons ago and then performed continuously as a member of the Romero Quartet. Romero performs and then the 'Pops' perform several numbers closing with one of my favorites—Malaguena. Watch at 4:00 on 5.

Great Performances continues its series of John Cheever's stories this week. Monday's 7:00 performance is "The Five Forty-Eight" with Laurence Lukenbill and Mary Beth Hurt.

The story which was taken from the Pulitzer Prize winning collection, The Stories of John Cheever, takes place in two of Cheever's typical locales—the suburban train station and the jammed commuter train. Luckenbill plays Mr. Blake, an advertising executive, who is threatened by Miss Dent (Mary Beth Hurt), a woman he once hired, seduced, then cast off.

At 9:00 Monday, a special that examines the realities of mental retardation in adults, premieres on PBS, Channel 5. The Hidden Struggle presents the remarkable accomplishments of residents of Clausen House, a private residential and educational facility for mentally retarded adults located in Oakland, California. One of the innovative programs guides certain members toward independent lifestyles and living situations, with most members in the program employed at various jobs in the community. This is really a beautiful film.

Wednesday at 7:00 is "The New Deal for Artists", narrated by Orson Welles. This special features well-known artists, photographers and writers who got their start in nationally financed Depression-era programs.

Following that special is another entitled "Three Portraits." Three award winning Michigan artists—a potter, choreographer and a sculptor—share their work and their feelings about making art in this sensitive film.

Hidden Places: Where History Lives is a series of three half hour programs examining little known sites which still contain the raw elements of American history. "Ancient Places" is the first program. It takes viewers to the canyon lands wilderness of Utah and to Hueco Tanks here in Texas. These are two sites where Indian rock art has endured for centuries. The other two programs are "Two Routes West" and "Boom and Bust: The Mining Towns". It airs Thursdays at 7:00 p.m.

Also coverage of the NAACP National Conference will be aired each night June 29 through July 3rd at 10:00 on Channel 5.

Write us at KTXT-TV and tell us what programs you would like us to buy for next season.

Long ago, in a small dusty upstairs room, a group of friends met to share a last meal together. Most of them thought it was the end—One of them knew it was the beginning.

"In Remembrance" tells of their darkest night together... and of their last supper. It begins among the shadows of the first Passover, a mysterious night of death in Egypt, and ends with death's destruction at Golgotha. Today, almost two thousand years later, that simple and distant event is celebrated by people around the world.

This film captures an unforgettable story of the men who chose to follow a young teacher from Nazareth and of the night that would change their world—forever! It is a film about real people, fiercely Jewish, who felt as we feel - the doubts, loves, fears, and loneliness that are the common bonds of all humanity.

"In Remembrance" is a stunning recreation of the men and events which surrounded the Last Supper - a film for all time and all people. This is a motion picture experience you will never forget!

Everyone is invited to see this film at the Floydada First United Methodist Church, 7:00 p.m., Sunday, June 28.

Charley Pride, Don Williams appearances scheduled at Panhandle South Plains Fair

Following a one-year absence, country and western superstar Charley Pride will be returning to the Panhandle South Plains Fair in Lubbock this fall.

Fair General manager Steve L. Lewis said Pride would be making a record 10th appearance at the exposition for two shows—5 p.m. and 8 p.m.—on opening day, September 26. The fair concludes October 3.

In the past 13 years since he was first signed by the fair, Pride has missed only 1971, 1973 and 1980 lineups.

He still holds the fair's box office record for a single performance.

Sixteen years have passed since Price cut his first single, "Snakes Crawl at Night", the first of many hits.

Now, 38 albums and 43 singles later, Pride has established himself as a superstar in the country and western field.

Out of his 38 albums, 14 are gold and he has had a steady stream of chart-topping hits, including the million seller, "Kiss an Angel Good Morning".

He has been nominated for 18 Country Music Association awards, including six for the prestigious "Entertainer of the Year" (which he won in 1971); five for "Best Male Vocalist" (winning in both 1971 and 1972); three for "Best Single" of the year and four for "Best Album".

He has won several Grammy awards and has been selected as top male country vocalist and best male vocalist by Billboard and Cashbox magazines.

Country and western singer/songwriter Don Williams will be making his first appearance at the Panhandle South Plains Fair in Lubbock September 29, general manager Steve L. Lewis has announced.

Williams, an artist of MCA Records, will be performing with his own band for an 8 p.m. only show on that date, Lewis said.

Williams has been labeled "the gentle giant", "the show drawing baritone" and "the mellow balladeer". He calls himself a "maverick".

Happiness seems made to be shared.

Many of his records have been hits both at home and abroad. Two LPs shipped "gold" to Great Britain; two were certified "silver" and he is one of the first country music artists ever to have albums reach "platinum" status (sales of one million units) in the United Kingdom and Canada.

Williams, whose traditional jeans outfit and hat are trademarks, has been named male vocalist of the year by the Country Music Association in the United States and Great Britain.

His four-piece band includes a lead guitarist, bassist, percussionist and keyboard man.

Tickets for all fair shows will be $6, $7 and $8 and all seats are reserved.

Mail order requests for reservations will be accepted by the fair at P.O. Box 208, Lubbock, Texas 79408. Orders will be filled in the order in which accepted but tickets will not be mailed until early August, Lewis said. Requests also must be accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

SHOWTIME MOVIE-(COMEDY)  1/2 "10" 1979 Bo Derek, Dudley

Long ago, in a small dusty upstairs room, a group of friends met to share a last meal together. Most of them thought it was the end—One of them knew it was the beginning. "In Remembrance" tells of their darkest night together... It begins among the shadows of the first Passover, a mysterious night of death in Egypt, and ends with death's destruction at Golgotha. Today, almost two thousand years later, that simple and distant event is celebrated.

Battey's to make home in Lakeview

BY JOYCE WILLIAMS

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Battey Jr. are at home in Lakeview in the new house north of his parents' place, following their wedding Saturday, June 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Battey arrived from Paris, Texas Friday to attend their grandson's wedding. They also attended the 50th wedding anniversary reception honoring their former neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Truman Dunavant, Sunday, June 7, at the Wall Street parlor.

Mr. and Mrs. Truman Dunavant look back on many joys during their 50th anniversary, but the highlight was having all five of their children home at the same time. Mrs. Dunavant requested they all sing and record hymns that she and Mr. Dunavant can enjoy in their home. This wish was granted with hymns sung by their children, and others recorded by the grandchildren. Eighteen of their twenty grandchildren were present, and six of the ten great-grandchildren were present to honor them. Mrs. Dunavant's aunt and uncle, Mrs. Flora Fawver, and her brother, Mr. W.N. Anderson, attended the reception. The Dunavant children presented their parents with a riding lawn mower. Their daughter, Carolyn (Mrs. John Redding) planned and did the pre-party work. Mr. and Mrs. Redding served Saturday morning breakfast to the group in their home. The other two Saturday meals were served on the lawn at Mr. and Mrs. Dunavant's farm home. Among the many useful and beautiful gifts presented was a family tree quilt of yellow and white checked gingham, made by the Truman Dunavant family of Bayfield, Colorado, listing all their birthdays. Silk corsages were made and presented by their grandson, Ray Dunavant of Bayfield.

The centerpiece was designed by Mrs. John Redding, Floydada. The beautiful three tiered cake was made by Mrs. L.H. Irman of Ft. Worth, mother of Mrs. Milton Dunavant. Hosts for the occasion were the Dunavant's five children and their families.

A light shower Monday morning dropped Sunday 90+ temperatures to the sixties. Most of the wheat has been cut in the community and the replanted cotton sprang up almost overnight and is now nearly all tall as the earlier planted cotton that did not get hailed out.

Mrs. O.D. Williams returned home Thursday night after spending several days in Carrizozo, New Mexico where she attended funeral services for her maternal aunt, Mrs. Alice Snell May of Nogal, New Mexico. Mrs. Jack Brown, Truscott, accompanied her sister.
