next two years. Overall, salaries in the 1981-82 budget for the Lockney Schools were up 9.6 percent.

Hallmark said the school district anticipates an enrollment of 814 students in the coming year, down from 846 last year.

The board approved unanimously a budget totaling nearly $500,000, an increase of $50,302 over the budget for last year.

Lockney School Board sets school meal prices

Breakfast and lunch prices in the Lockney School District will remain the same for the 1981-82 school year, as they were last year.

Elementary school lunches will cost 55-cents for pupils while lunches at the junior high school and high school will cost 60-cents for students.

Teacher lunches will cost $1, an increase of ten-cents. Students throughout the school system qualifying for reduced price meals will pay 30-cents for lunch, an increase of ten-cents over last year.

Breakfast will cost 25-cents for students and 45-cents for teachers throughout the system. Students qualifying for the reduced price breakfast will pay 20-cents. Those prices are the same as last year.

The prices were set by the Lockney Board of Education at their regular monthly meeting.

Mr. Hightower likes district

Jack Hightower was first elected to represent the 13th District of Texas in November, 1974, and has won re-election ever since.

Mr. Hightower began a law practice in Vernon, Texas, in 1951 and was subsequently elected to the Texas House of Representatives in 1952.

Elected to the Texas Senate in 1964, Jack Hightower began to be increasingly recognized as a Texas leader with common-sense and a dedication to honest, responsive government.

In this short period he has become a senior member of the Texas delegation, serving on the crucial House Appropriations Committee. Mr. Hightower also serves on the Subcommittee on Agriculture, Rural Development and Related Agencies as well as the Subcommittee on State, Justice, Commerce and Judiciary.

Congressman Hightower served as Chairman of the Texas Democratic Delegation.

Congressman Hightower grew up in Memphis, Texas, graduating from Memphis High School with Honors in 1944.

Fair board meets to finalize fair plans

Fair plans are finalized

Final preparations are underway for the Floyd and Surrounding Counties Fair, September 10, 11, and 12.

The Fair Committee will be holding work sessions every Saturday from now until the fair, beginning at 8 a.m. to prepare the Fair Grounds.

September 1 is the entry deadline for the Floyd County Queen Pageant. Entrants must be high school age, single and never married and American citizens.

The Fair Committee needs additional new cars to be used in the parade, especially convertibles.

The Children's Rodeo and Play Day is set for Saturday, September 12, beginning at 2 p.m.

Boys and girls ages 6-through-10 years will have a barrel race, pole bending, goat ribbon race, and baseball throw.

Children ages 2-through-3-years and 4-through-5-years will have a boot race, sack race, stick horse competition, baseball throw, goat ribbon race, and barrel race with stick horses.

Prizes will be given by the Lockney and Floydada Rodeo Associations. First prize winners will receive trophies and others will receive ribbons.

A mechanical bull of the type made famous by the Urban Cowboy will be available for riding in the commercial booth section of the Fair.

Each rider must sign a form releasing the Floyd County Fair from any responsibility in case of injury.

Floyd County Fair Director Lisa Mosley said, "Almost all the preparations for the Fair are complete. We want to remind everyone to enter fair competitions. There is something for everyone."

Pipeline survey begins

Crews are surveying in Floyd County to decide where a gas pipeline should be laid across the county.

Sam Newcomb and Mark McWhorter, two representatives of Delhi Gas Pipeline Company, met with county commissioners to show them the proposed route they would take in laying the 24 inch pipe.

Commissioners made it clear that the county only had easement on the county roads. Court also asked for a letter of agreement to be given to them at a later date outlining the specifics of the project.

McWhorter said that the laying of the line is still in the planning stages. They do, however, have surveying contracts signed with all the land owners who will be effected in Floyd County.

The proposed gasline will generally follow a line from the southwest part of the county to the northeast.

After the surveying is done (this will include other counties as well as Floyd) the next step will be for Delhi to contract to buy right-of-ways. At that time they will negotiate the damages to be paid to the land owner prior to construction.

Newcomb said this will be a tax advantage by having the pipeline in Floyd County. County taxes paid by the company will spread the tax base.

He also said that there would probably be more exploration for oil in the county.

Other business taken up by the court included a discussion of the coming budget.

Main point of the discussion was that either taxes were going to have to be raised next year or county projects will have to be cut back.

Commissioners were reluctant to raise the tax rate.

Motion was made that the court authorize Judge Smith to give public notice for the adoption of the county budget for the regular September 14 meeting of the commissioners court at 2 p.m.

The motion also included instructions to give notice of getting the revenue sharing hearing (for proposed uses) at 1:30 the same day.

Old Fashioned Saturday this week

Watermelon feast at Old Fashioned Saturday 1980

Lockney's old fashion Saturday will be held this Saturday from 2 p.m. to 7 p.m.

Main Street will be closed to vehicle traffic between Locust and Bryant Streets during old fashion Saturday.

Locust Street will remain open to traffic.

Some businesses will have sales all-day Saturday and many will have sidewalk sales.

The day will climax with a watermelon feast at 7 p.m. Free watermelon will be provided by the Lockney Chamber of Commerce.

The schedule for old fashion Saturday is: 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. Arts and crafts displays and flea market. 5 p.m. Children's games. 6 p.m. Performance by the Lockney High School band. 7 p.m. Free watermelon.

Various clubs will be selling ice cream, sno-cones, and refreshments during old fashion Saturday.

Educational exhibits are needed

Educational exhibits are needed for the Floyd and surrounding Counties Fair which will be held September 10-12.

All teachers, clubs and adult and youth organizations may enter exhibits. Prizes of $25, $15, and $10 will be awarded in both the adult and youth categories.

For more information, contact Reeda Cay Smith, chairwoman of the educational exhibits division, at 652-2338 in Lockney.

Annual Coop dinner

The annual meeting and dinner of the Lockney Coop will be held at 7 o'clock this evening at the grade school cafeteria.

Dr. Terry Miller, dean of the school of business at West Texas State University in Canyon will be the featured speaker.

Registration is set for seniors

Lockney High School seniors may pickup their registration forms for school Friday, Aug. 28, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the high school.

Other high school students will receive their registration forms the first day of classes Aug. 31.

Memorial being constructed in England

Eagle Squadron commemorated

The famed Eagle Squadron for the Royal Air Force will be commemorated in London.

Floydada photographer Vernon Parker served as a member of the prestigious group during World War II.

Final site selection for the monument was awarded to Westminster City Government.

The site is in Berkley Square in the heart of the West End near the U.S. Embassy.

The British Air Ministry originated the idea for a memorial. The project was then directed by the British Petroleum Trust Fund.

Models were selected from several London architectural firms.

The Eagle Squadron Association approved the final model.

Estimated memorial completion date is 1983.

Funding for the project came from the British Petroleum Fund and the European Ford Company. As many as 300 other British and American firms are supporting the project.

Marble panels on three sides of the monument will list the names of each squadron and pilots in each.

Charles Sweeney, an American living in London and head of a Public Relations Firm organized and promoted the Eagle Squadrons for the RAF the same way his uncle, also named Charles Sweeney, organized the Lafayette Escadrill of American pilots, for France in World War I.

Sweeney has worked closely with the Eagle since World War II, helping arrange their reunion in London in 1976. He is the European representative of the American Eagles Association and chairman of London Memorial Project.

The late Clayton Knight, illustrator of World War I planes, was Sweeney's right hand man in the U.S.A. getting the word out to American pilots to join up and fly for the RAF.

The Clayton Knight Committee, hired legal counsel to assist Americans signing up to leave the country during wartime. Pressure was put on the pilots by the FBI and Immigration Service, until finally sanctioned by the State Department.

Many museums have honored the famed squadron with exhibits that include vintage uniforms, gear and other original memorabilia.

Museums that include the display are the Smithsonian National Air and Space Museum in Washington D.C. and the Royal Air Force Museum in Henley, London, and the Wright Patterson Air Force Museum in Dayton, Ohio.

Other museums are the International Aerospace Hall of Fame in San Diego and the National War Museum in Ottawa, Canada.

Exhibits are planned for the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, the Confederate Air Force in Harlingen and the English Village in Long Beach, California.

"The Eagle Squadrons" is available in the county library and the libraries at the First Baptist and Methodist Churches and high school.

This book, written by Vern Haugland was a bestseller in England and was published in five other countries.

Time-Life Books plans an issue of a book titled "Military Volunteers Since 1812 - Soldiers of Fortune" that will feature the Eagle Squadrons.

Parker said the Eagle Squadrons have requested to be listed as volunteers, not soldiers of fortune.

Parker said, "We flew for $88.00 a month, not much fortune there."

Care Center news

WICKIE HUTTON really had a week filled with fun. Brown, regional vice president, Frieda Gothard, Capitol Hill registered nurse, were here to visit and evaluate the work of the Care Center. We are looking forward to having them back.

Wingo winner this week was Miller and Albert Poole. They really get a work over. This is what the residents really love.

There was a lot of foot-stomping and music therapy. Kim Sherman has a talent for making music here and more enjoyable.

They viewed the films "Old Yeller," "The Wild Horses" Thursday. They go to Mr. and Mrs. Dale for picking up and returning.

much enthusiasm about this. An Auxiliary can be a tremendous help to the Care Center and help enrich the lives of the residents and is very rewarding for the volunteer. We asked everyone to take an interest in the auxiliary.

My family and I took a short trip last week but thanks to some wonderful volunteers, the activities went on as scheduled. The residents and I send our thanks to them for sharing their time and talent with us.

Our family fun night Friday night was a big success. There was plenty of good food to eat but the best part was the fellowship with families and friends. A special thanks to all who attended. Activities such as this are a special treat for the residents. We are planning more activities like this in the future.

Work continues on the new educational building at First Baptist Church in Lockney. Work should be finished in about two months.

Floydada church marks 90th anniversary

The First Baptist Church of Floydada, established in 1891 by 11 charter members who met in the dugout home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Arnold, will celebrate its 90th Anniversary this weekend. Former members and guests are invited.

Activities will begin Saturday at 7 p.m. in the Wall Street Parlor with a reception. Special guests will be former pastors Dr. R. Earl Allen and Dr. Ed B. Bowles. Both current and former members will be present for a time of fellowship and renewing of acquaintances. Homemade ice cream and cake will be served.

Sunday activities will include Bible Study at 9:45 a.m., the regular morning worship at 11 a.m. with Dr. Allen preaching, a catered luncheon at Duncan Cafeteria, and then a special anniversary celebration service at 2:30 p.m. in which Dr. Bowles will be preaching. The afternoon service will be a time of praise and reflection that will feature special music and testimonies by a number of members recalling the early years of the church.

ELEVEN MET TO BEGIN
On July 19, 1891, eleven men and women met in the dugout home of Mr.

and Mrs. Joe Arnold to organize the First Baptist Church of Floyd City. With the help of a traveling missionary, the Rev. I.B. Kimbrough, the church was organized with Kimbrough, Mr. and Mrs. C. Snodgrass, Mr. and Mrs. J.A. Huckabay, Mr. and Mrs. C.L. Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Bam Anderson, and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Jenkins as charter members. Kimbrough served as the first pastor.

The church first met for worship in the north side school building and later in the Methodist Church with services on alternate Sundays. The first resident pastor, the Rev. R.E.L. Muncy, organized the first Baptist Sunday School in 1897.

The first building was constructed in 1907 when the congregation numbered 100 and the Rev. R.T. Brittain was pastor. Subsequent building projects included the first brick building in 1928 that provided educational space, a larger auditorium completed in 1946, a new education building constructed in 1955, and a new auditorium plus office and music space completed in 1966. Value of the church property has gone from a borrowed dugout in 1891 to a church plant valued at $1,750,000 in 1981.

BUILDINGS EXPANDED AS PROGRAMS EXPANDED

Building was accomplished as the congregation and the church's programs expanded. From an initial membership of 11, the church as a present membership of 2,001. In addition to the organized Sunday School, other programs and activities have been established through the years.

The Women's Missionary Union was organized in 1909, and the Baptist Young People's Union (forerunner to today's Church Training program) was established in 1910. Vacation Bible School was first conducted in 1936. The Brotherhood was founded in 1947. The first issue of the Baptist Voice, the church's weekly publication, was published in 1950. A systematic library was begun during the pastorate of Dr. Allen.

The Spanish-speaking Mission was begun in 1957, and a bus ministry initiated in 1971. The first radio broadcast by the church was in 1959, and the church began televising its Sunday services over cable television on May 4, 1980.

County is among tops in cotton

Statistics released by the U.S. Department of Commerce show that Floyd County ranks 13th in the nation in cotton production in 1980.

Neighboring Hale County was ranked first in Texas and eighth in the nation while Lubbock was listed as tenth in the country.

Floyd County had 18 active gins last year which produced 158,216 bales of cotton in 1980 as compared with 87,635 in 1979 and 145,686 in 1978.

The actual number of bales grown in Floyd County totaled 168,103 in 1980 and 91,837 in 1979.

In the 1980 crop year, the nation had 10.8 million running bales of cotton, down from 14.2 million in 1979. There were 2,254 active gins in Texas last year.

Texas was the leading cotton producing state in the nation in 1980 with 3,269,028 bales produced from 6,872,500 acres.

pastors. Three former pastors still survive. The Rev. L.A. Doyle, who pastored from 1941-50, now resides in Mississippi. He is retired and due to ill health will not be able to be present this weekend.

Dr. R. Earl Allen, who was pastor from 1950-56, is pastor of Rosen Heights Baptist Church in Fort Worth where he has served since leaving Floydada in 1956. Dr. Ed B. Bowles has been pastor of the First Baptist Church in Beaumont since 1971. He pastored here from 1956-61.

Dr. Floyd C. Bradley, the current pastor, came to serve in 1961 from the First Baptist Church in Denver City. His twenty years gives him the longest tenure of any of the 21 pastors who have served here.

The first minister of education, Al Brian, was called during the pastorate of Dr. Allen. Later, the church also began to employ a full-time minister of music and youth. David T. Seay is the current minister of education having been called in October 1977. Bobbie Miller was called as the minister of music and youth in March, 1979. The Rev. Eloy Felan came in July to serve as pastor of the Spanish Mission.

Mooseberg honoree at shower

Miss Alice Moosberg, bride-elect of Ken Steele of Perryton, was honored with a bridal shower in Perryton on Saturday afternoon, August 15, in the home of Mrs. Cecil Outhier.

A special guest was Mrs. Carl Moosberg of Floydada, mother of the bride-to-be. The bride-elect and her mother were presented with burgundy and white silk flower corsages.

Mrs. Shelley Hill greeted the guests at the door as they arrived. Mrs. Clarice Parker presided at the guest register.

Refreshments of raspberry punch, assorted cookies, mints, and nuts were served. The serving table was covered with an organdy tablecloth bordered with a burgundy floral design. The centerpiece was an arrangement of burgundy and white silk flowers. Crystal and silver appointments and burgundy and pink napkins completed the setting. Hostesses were Meses: Cecil Outhier, Guy Allen, Shelley Hill, Don Johnson, Celestine Thompson, Darrell Morris, Clarice Parker, Allen Seigler, Jack Terhune, and A.C. Morris.

The hostesses' gifts to the bride-elect were a 4-slice toaster and a set of sheets and pillowcases.

Ken and Alice will exchange wedding vows at 2:00 p.m. on September 12 at the First United Methodist Church in Floydada.

MRS. RAY DAN FOSTER

Devon Jones, Kenneth Dice wed August 22 in Midland

Devon RexAnne Jones and Kenneth F. Dice, both of Lubbock, exchanged wedding vows at 11:00 a.m., Saturday, August 22, at the home of the bride's parents in Midland, with Dr. Kenneth Hall of Crestview Baptist Church in Midland, officiating.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Rex Jones of Midland. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Dice of Keokuk, Iowa.

Serving the couple as best man was Tommy L. Burt of Lockney. Michelle Lloyd of Lubbock attended as maid of honor. Von Jones, brother of the bride, served as usher.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ivory floor-length dress. For something both old and borrowed, a wedding ring belonging to the bride's great-grandmother was worn on a gold chain necklace. The bride also wore a traditional blue garter and a penny in her shoe.

A reception followed the double-ring ceremony with Kathy Dice and Kelley Dice, sisters of the groom, serving at the bride's table.

The bride is a 1980 graduate of Coronado High School in Lubbock. The groom graduated from Rider High School in Wichita Falls in 1978.

After a wedding trip to Cloudcroft, New Mexico, the couple will reside in Lubbock, continuing their studies at Texas Tech University.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. W.O. Newberry of Floydada.

MRS. KENNETH F. DICE

Mrs. J.C. Odam travels to Corpus Christi

Monday, August 3, Mrs. J.C. Odam accompanied her daughter, Mrs. Stanley Waits and Jeff to Corpus Christi for a visit with a grandson, John S. Waits, a student at Del Mar College of Electronics. John is also employed at Lamda Inc.

Mrs. Odam, Mrs. Waits, and Jeff returned to Hale Center Saturday night, August 8. Sunday, August 9, Mrs. Waits and Mrs. Odam attended the Hodge reunion in Lubbock.

Monday, August 10, Mr. and Mrs. Kerry Seiwert of Hart, where Mrs. Seiwert will be a high school English teacher this fall, visited in the Stanley Waits home.

Friday August 14, Mrs.

Stanley Waits visited her mother, Mrs. Odam. Sunday August 1, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Hill and Jeremy, Lockney, and Mrs. Odessa Cage, Lubbock, visited Mrs. Odam.

Cone Cemetery Association to meet

The Cone Cemetery Association will hold its annual meeting at the Primitive Baptist Foundation Building in Cone on Thursday, August 27, at 8 p.m. Three directors are to be elected at this meeting. All interested parties are urged to attend.

Brooks, Foster exchange double ring marriage

An impressive double-ring marriage ceremony performed Saturday, August 15, in the First United Methodist Church of Sherman, Texas, united Paula Sue Brooks of Sherman and Ray Dan Foster of Lubbock.

Officiating was the Reverend Jack Gibson, pastor of the First United Methodist Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Edward Brooks of Sherman. She is a graduate of Sherman High School, attended Kilgore Junior College and was a May graduate of Texas Tech University of Lubbock.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Garland C. Foster and the late Mr. Foster of Floydada. He graduated from Floydada High School and Texas Tech University. He is employed by IBM Corporation in Lubbock.

Traditional organ music was provided by Mrs. Frank Spindle. She also accompanied Mrs. S.E. Gatti as she sang "Because." Both ladies are of Sherman.

Background area for the ceremony was enhanced with beautiful arrangements of palms and pink and white carnations. Placed on either side of the altar were spiral brass candelabra with lighted tapers.

Bridal aisle pews were marked with pink miniature carnation and baby's breath bouquets.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white chiffon and lace wedding gown. The bodice was of Chantilly lace featuring a key hole neckline, which was outlined with re-embroidered lace medallions. The bodice dropped to a fitted scalloped waistline. Tiny self-covered buttons down the back and cap sleeves completed the bodice. The flowing chiffon skirt swept to a chapel length train edged with lace.

To complete her ensemble the bride wore a Juliet caplet of lace, attached with a fingertip veil of white silk illusion. She also wore a string of pearls and diamond drop necklace. She had the traditional six pence in her shoe and wore a blue garter. Her bridal bouquet was of sweetheart roses in shades of pink and white.

Attending her cousin as maid of honor was Miss Kim Roten of Dallas. Bridesmaids were Penney Patrick of Sherman and Stephanie Mendenhall of Lubbock.

Each attendant wore a shell pink eyelet gown, featuring deep ruffled off the shoulder bodices. They carried arrangements of pink silk flowers, and wore pink flowers in their hair.

Larry Oster of Odessa, cousin of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Craig Hambright of Idalou and Burl Masters, brother-in-law of the groom of Lubbock. Ushers were Ronnie Oster, cousin of the groom of Odessa, and Blake Masters, nephew of the groom of Lubbock.

The groom, best man and groomsmen were all attired in pearl gray tuxedos with

Bus trip cancelled due to rain

BY DOROTHY NEFF
We're so glad to have Mrs. Nora McNight home from the hospital.

Rain! Rain! Rain! If you ask any of our residents, they will tell you. We've had enough and they are ready for the sun to shine.

We didn't take a bus trip Wednesday because of rain, however we gathered in the lobby to play games and enjoyed cookies and coke. Those attending were Una Clark, Emmitt Lawrence, Mamie Gray, W.C. Cates, Iva Simpson, Claude Hughes, Juanita Bailey, Sue Thompson, Sallie Kreis, Mamie Daniels, Vera Duke, Myrtle Roy, Willie Stambough, and Verma McSwain.

Thursday was birthday party time and we had a full house, had to put extra chairs in the dining room to seat everyone. The City Park Church of Christ ladies hosted the occasion. Cake and punch was served to all residents, employees and a number of friends and relatives of honorees.

Honorees this month were Susie Mooney, 94, Dovie Rushing, 77, Sallie Kreis, 84, Sue Thompson, 79, Leonard Elliott, 70, and Willie Russell 74.

We also seated Dorothy Coleman at the honor table because she was Employee of the Month and this was her birthday also.

Baptist ladies meet

The ladies of the Bible Baptist Church held their monthly meeting on Tuesday, August 11 at the church. The meeting was opened with singing led by Debra Jo Fawver. Nancy Welborn then voiced the opening prayer.

The ladies then listened to a tape by J.R. Church entitled "The Gospel in the Stars." Following discussion on the tape Debra Jo Fawver closed the meeting in prayer. The ladies then enjoyed fellowship and refreshments in the fellowship hall of the church. The refreshments included chicken salad sandwiches, fresh garden vegetable plate, cheese and crackers, cookies and soft drinks.

Those attending were Margie Sue, Jaynette Harrison, Nancy Welborn, Lela Mae Burns, Lila Taylor, Renie Chapman, and Debra Jo Fawver.

The ladies' next meeting will be at the church on Tuesday, September 15 at 7:30 p.m.

First there was Teetlingua and the Terlingua Cook Off. This Cook Off prompted the Brady Jaycee Organization to come up with a renowned event that would promote the Brady-Heart of Texas Area and one of our top industries - the goat and mohair production. Thus Labor Day Weekend 1974 the World Championship Barbeque Goat Cook Off was born in Brady, Texas. The event, now in its 8th consecutive year is a copyrighted event now sponsored by the Brady-McCulloch Co. Chamber of Commerce. It has grown from 26 to over 90 entries. Last year the roster included our first international entry and one team had members from as far away as California. We expect the number of entries to increase this year.

Brown will be judging the Labor Day event.

The World Championship Barbeque Goat Cook Off is held under the cool shade trees of Richards Park and will officially get under way on Friday, September 4 of Labor Day Weekend with a welcome party for the contestants and their families. Come sunrise Saturday morning, smoke fills the air of Richards Park as the super chefs vie for the title of the World Championship Barbeque Goat Cooker. The title brings home a handsome trophy and prize money to make the trip worthwhile.

While the chefs are cooking for competition a gigantic Arts and Crafts Fair is being staged under a covered pavillion and in the shade of the large pecan trees. Last years fair drew 60 participants from all over Texas with various exhibits such as: original paintings, jewelry, wildlife and nature photography, wood craft items, ceramics, stained glass, afghans, stone-ware pottery, silk flower arrangements and many more.

In the contest and activities section of the cook off there are numerous games going on at different times all through the day. These include the blind-man's wheelbarrow race down a tricky path that runs along the bank of Brady creek; the wool bag races; tobacco spitting; egg toss; bicycle goat roping; and

LABOR DAY WEEKEND brings cooks from far and wide to join the festivities for the World's Champion Bar-B-Que Goat Cook Off. Held at Brady's beautiful tree laden 44-acre Richards Park, on Brady Creek. You are invited to come cook or look, with the Brady Jaycees. For information call: 915/597-2420.

Channel Five Highlights

August 23-29
 BY VALORIE INGLE

Channel 5 will be wrapping up this summer with an attractive line-up of programs for the last week of August.

Firing up the television on Sunday at 5:00 is Firing Line.
 The Emmy Award winning program is one of the longest continuous television programs on either commercial or public broadcasting. William F. Buck-ley's talk show is an "exchange of opinions" with powerful and important men and women acting as exchangers. Sunday's show will surely prove to be stimulating with guest Reverend Peter T. Kalangula. Imperialism and ethnic struggles in Africa will be discussed in great detail on this program. This show also will leave the viewer deeply concerned and enlightened for Reverend Kalangula's country and people.

Immediately following Firing
 Line comes the award winning National Geographic Special
 "Mysteries of the Mind." The endless feats of the most powerful force on Earth—the human mind—are explored in Mysteries. This one hour documentary looks at intriguing questions about the brains activities during sleep and how the dis-ordernarcolepsy affects the brain. Be sure to watch Sunday at 6:00 p.m.

Great T.V. viewing doesn't end with that Special on Sunday night. Andy Williams is special guest on Evening at Pops beginning at 7:00. Williams began singing with his three brothers and parents in the church choir of his home town, Wall Lake, Iowa. His family was the entire choir. Andy has come a long way since those choir days. He is the holder of 17 gold albums and five Grammy nominations.

 As usual Evening at Pops season continues with a superb line-up of guest artists.

Soundstage comes on each Friday night and has for the duration of the summer. When our new season begins the nights will change but we will keep you informed on that. This Friday, however, will be an episode you won't want to miss.
Soundstage will be presenting America's hottest country music vocal group—the Oak Ridge Boys at 9:00 p.m. A gospel music group in the early 60's, the Oak Ridge Boys for the last four years have been burning up the country music scene with a continuing string of hit songs, which resulted in 12 top ten hits, six gold albums, and three Grammy Awards. Their latest hit single, "Elvira," first zoomed up the country charts and now is firmly entrenched among the top ten on the pop charts.
 The album, Fancy Free has done equally well on both the country and pop charts, to send the Oaks well on the way to their sought-after goal—crossover success. On the Soundstage special, they will sing old and new hits including "Elvira,"
 "Dig a Little Deeper in the Well," "Dream On," and "Trying to Love Two Women."

 the looks of it.

My Savage World

My husband and I went to the lake in the ideal place to catch fish. So we went to the lake. I had heard about the alleged fish that my husband claimed he was going to catch. Some people have seen them, some people claimed to have caught them, and some people have actually eaten them. The fish are said to be 21 inches long and weigh anywhere from 50 to 150 lbs. They are not sharks or crocodiles. They are called catfish.

There are certain characteristics of a catfish. It must always be kept in a tank, and it must never have any facilities such as a water faucet, or shade. It must always be hot and have lots of mosquitoes.

While driving approximately 250 miles, we found the ideal lake. It had one tree (a catfish lake can have one tree as long as it's big enough) in the water just as a catfish grabbed his favorite food of a catfish, according to rumor, is dog food. While my husband was buying cold worms, I had bought a 39-cent can of dog food. We had a big one, about 27 inches long and about 2 1/2 lbs. We were so excited until he remembered that he had just "baited" the hole with dog food. We took the fish and scurried back to camp.

My husband cleaned the fish, he commented on how fat she was. I knew she was green around the gills and she still had crackers crumbs on her face. I knew she was suffering from morning sickness. She was not about to become a mother.

When he cut her open there were hundreds of eggs. She was helping him by producing hundreds of baby catfish for him to catch. He was to repay her by eating her. He tossed her eggs to the hungry bugs.

"I'm throwing away caviar," I choked between my tears. She would have been a fine little mother.

The fish cooked deliciously brown and crisp, but I couldn't eat a bite of her. She only made my husband greedy. He wanted more catfish.

The next morning, we put on our floppy hats, dark glasses, and wore sunglasses around our necks. We were cleverly disguising ourselves as bird hunters so we could sneak back to our "baited" hole without looking like we were. We tiptoed over the zillion sharp rocks. Lo and behold! Bird droppings surrounded the water and were catching "our" catfish.

My husband said it was too crowded for him. We packed our gear and went to another ideal catfish lake.

The Rev. Michael O'Connor's

Perspectives

A friend of mine tells of reading a Time magazine report on the Detroit zoo. It seems that they have added four security guards to the force. The reason? To protect the animals from the visitors.

In the past two years a baby wallaby was stoned to death, a duck was killed by a steel-tipped hunting arrow, and a pregnant reindeer miscarried after being sent into a panic when teenagers threw firecrackers at her.

Some people have found a new sport, throwing cigarette butts on the backs of the alligators and watching the reaction to the burns the animals receive. And somebody popped a tennis ball down the throat of a hippo begging for peanuts. Like the old lady who swallowed the horse, the hippo is dead, of course.

The writer of the article quoted the zookeepers as wondering who should be caged. Of course this incident is only a symptom of our society. Man's cruelty to everything keeps on increasing.

Miami has become the new murder capital of the world, animals are abandoned at an incredible rate, the environment is attacked, the list goes on and on.

We face much indifference to these problems. If the mass of people feel there is little they can do, or if they just don't care, it becomes very difficult to solve any of the various dilemmas confronting us.

Even worse is the active opposition that others take toward solving the problems. There is a subtle opposition in the attitude that we don't really have to do that serious a problem.

Then there are the more active forms of opposition. One of the newest has to do with the current freedom binge we are on.

An oil company ad shows a mountain climber attempting a difficult climb, touts the benefits of being free to risk things, and warns that if we let the government regulate, we lose a certain amount of freedom.

We are seeing this anti-regulatory attitude becoming more and more prevalent. We do not want to be protected from ourselves.

Granted that some regulations make little sense, still we must have some rules to protect us, especially those of us who cannot protect themselves.

The next time you feel like complaining about the pollution laws, or the speed limit, or the building codes, or whatever, imagine that you are an alligator with a burning cigarette on your back.

Would you want protection?

Carol Lea Clark's

It's Not Easy

If I can believe what I hear on television news, the annual inflation rate in July was only about 5%. I guess that news should be cause for rejoicing.

Still, I can't help but still feel uneasy.

I remember when President Nixon declared a wage and price freeze because he thought a 5% inflation rate was unacceptable.

And, all this talk about inflation rates seems so remote. I just know that a few years ago I could go to the bank to cash a check for $10 which was ample spending money for several days. Now the $10 barely pays for the gas it takes to go to the bank and back.

I remember thinking it quaint to hear my parents talk about buying hamburgers for a nickel when they were children. I give away my age because I can't get used to paying more than 39-cents for a hamburger, the average cost for years when I was a child.

I suppose my daughter still will remember the good old days when she could buy a hamburger for a dollar-and-a-half.

Already she has difficulty understanding the purpose of pennies. She asks Daddy for a nickel or a quarter when they go to the store because that's what most of the gum machines take these days.

She thinks that pennies are things that you store in a jar like gum drops, except they aren't as easy to eat.

I wish that I had a solution for inflation, but I don't. I guess that I'll just keep trying to enjoy my 39-cent hamburgers which cost $1.50 and hope that I get used to the idea before the price goes to $2.

And I'll just keep saving my pennies. All those copper pieces have sort of a nice glow in a glass jar. And it makes a great doorstep.

Lloyd Bentsen

Talk to your friends and neighbors, or for that matter, talk to anybody anywhere in this country. Unfortunately, odds are that in no time you'll find someone who has been recently victimized by crime.

The FBI reports that crime touched 30 percent of our nation's households in 1980. The bureau also notes that violent crime rose by 13 percent from 1979-80 — the largest increase in 12 years.

Coupled with this surge in crime is a rise in the average American's level of frustration with our legal system's ability to deal with criminals.

The National Opinion Research Center at the University of Chicago, a leading social research center, found that in 1972, two-thirds of the American public thought that the courts were not dealing harshly enough with criminals.

By 1978 the center found that a whopping 85 percent of Americans felt that way.

Is it any wonder that we do? The number of crimes committed in this country every year runs in the mind-boggling tens of millions — around 40 million in 1978 alone.

In Texas last year there were 2400 murders, 30,000 robberies and over 250,000 burglaries.

Quite simply, I think we should stop apologizing for punishing criminals and start putting them in jail. I think that the American people would agree that our system of justice is far too soft on crime.

Recently I cosponsored a Senate Resolution, unanimously approved, which zeroes in on the need to make crime-fighting a national priority.

I don't think this resolution understates our national problem when it stresses that "crime has reached epidemic proportions in the United States and is spreading like a cancer across our nation."

We can do something about crime in this country. We can not just continue to turn our backs on it.

I have introduced two measures in the 97th Congress which I think are important and will make a solid contribution to anti-crime efforts.

One of these provisions is a stiff solution to a growing fact of life — a great deal of crime is committed by people out on bail for another crime.

Right now, judges can give such criminals concurrent sentences for their multiple crimes. Suppose someone is convicted of three armed robberies and sentenced to 10 years for each robbery. He would serve only 10 years if the sentences run concurrently, or at the same time.

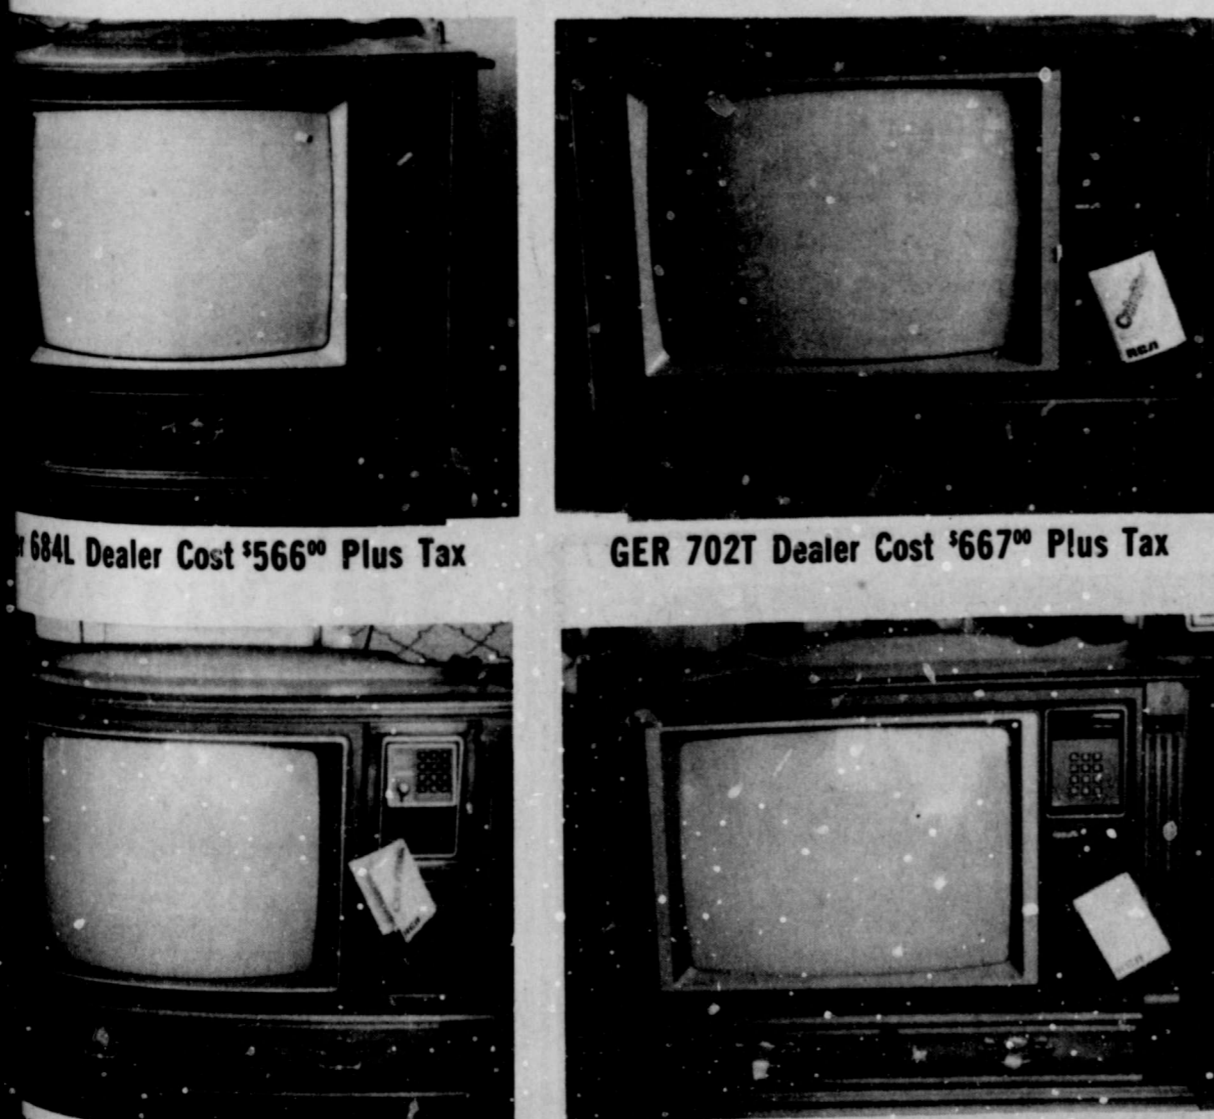

But I think those sentences should run consecutively. Under my measure, that criminal would serve 30 years in prison.

Another Bentsen bill would sharply stiffen the penalty for pilots involved in drug smuggling. My measure would raise the fine they pay, revoke their flying licenses and send them away to prison.

I think that the recent resolution on violent crime indicates that the U.S. Senate means to go to work on this issue and pass some meaningful legislation. The Senate is on record and the American people demand it.

The challenge now is to get some new and tougher anti-crime measures on the books.

OBITUARIES

PAULINE CHESHIRE

Services for Mrs. Pauline Hutton Cheshire, 62, of Post, were held recently at the First United Methodist Church in Post with the Rev. Don Travis officiating.

Burial was at the Terrace Cemetery under the direction of the Justice-Mason Funeral Home of Post.

Mrs. Cheshire died of injuries suffered in a car crash on U.S. 84 seven miles northwest of Post.

She was born in Rockwood, but attended Lockney schools. She married David A. Cheshire on June 2, 1945 in Salinas, California. They moved to Post in 1949.

Survivors include two sons, Charles of San Carlos, California, and David of Post; three daughters, Mrs. Helvyn Fields and Mrs. Janet Hair, both of Post, and Mrs. Mary Mullenix of Littlefield.

Mrs. Cheshire was the aunt of Tommy Hutton and the step daughter of Mary Hutton of Lockney.

She is also survived by two brothers, a sister, and seven grandchildren.

ORA A. GILLILAND

Services for Ora Ann Gilliland, 79, of Floydada were held at 3 p.m. Monday at First Baptist Church, Floydada, with Dr. Floyd C. Bradley, pastor, officiating.

Burial followed in Floydada Cemetery under direction of Moore-Rose Funeral Home.

Mrs. Gilliland died at 1 p.m. Saturday at Floydada Care Center after a long illness.

The Jack County native moved to Floydada in 1926. She married the late Burch Gilliland in 1919 in Jack County.

Survivors include two sons, Levins of Floydada and Earlene of Fort Worth; a daughter, Orphelia Finley of Rio Hondo; eight grandchildren; and 13 great-grandchildren.

REV. C.C. CAMPBELL

The Rev. C.C. Campbell, 62, of Amarillo, died Thursday.

Services are pending with Warford Mortuary.

The Rev. Campbell was a native of Wheelock.

He retired in June as pastor of St. Mark CME Church in Pampa.

He also had served as pastor of churches in Amarillo, Lubbock, Midland, Abilene and Jacksonville.

Survivors include his wife, Armatha; a son, Arthur L. Campbell of the home; a sister, Mrs. Rachael Jenkins of Floydada; three brothers, Bob Campbell and Theodore Toney, both of Floydada, and the Rev. W.C. Campbell of Quannah; a grandchild and five great-grandchildren.

RUBY C. BENNETT

Ruby Christopher Bennett, 75, died Wednesday, August 12, at 7:30 p.m. in Lockney General Hospital. She had been a resident of Floyd County for 65 years.

Services were at 2:30 p.m. Friday, August 14, in Main Street Church of Christ with the minister, Jerry L. Klein, officiating. Burial was in Lockney Cemetery under direction of Moore-Rose Funeral Home of Lockney.

She was born in Abilene and moved to Floyd County in 1949 from Memphis, Texas. The former Maxine Richards married Loyd Lee Widener January 29, 1938 in Memphis, Texas.

She was a homemaker and member of Main Street Church of Christ.

Survivors include her husband; one son, Loyd Jr. of Lockney; a daughter, Jan Fleming of Friona; her mother, Mrs. Louis Richards of Memphis, Texas; two brothers, Louis Jr. of Ruidoso, New Mexico and Mack of Memphis, Texas; two sisters, Mildred Phillips of Memphis, Texas and Patsy Jester of Arlington; and seven grandchildren.

Survivors include her husband; one sister, Mrs. Lula Mae Cates of Lockney, and several nieces and nephews.

Pallbearers were Robert Murdock, Lonny Hooten, Barney Bill McCarter, Johnny Waddington, Joe Cody Hale and Brad Blenden.

MRS. WILMA SURGINER

Funeral services for Mrs. Wilma Elizabeth Surginer, 77, of Weslaco were held at 11 a.m. Saturday, August 8, in the McCaleb Funeral Home. She died Tuesday in Arlington, Virginia, where she and her husband, Leslie Surginer, also maintained a home.

The Rev. Joe Cariker, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated. Burial was in Highland Memorial Park.

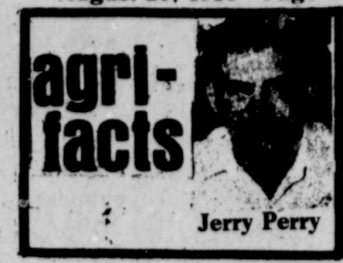

She was a member of the first Weslaco High School graduating class, a charter member of the First Baptist Church of Weslaco and a retired teacher, having been a faculty member at Stephen F. Austin Elementary School.

She was a native of Floydada.

Mrs. Surginer was a cousin to Mrs. May Garrett, Mr. W.C. Snodgrass and Mrs. Everett Miller all of Floydada.

Survivors in addition to the husband are a sister, Mrs. Thelma Snead of Weslaco; a brother, C.W. Gound of Nacogdoches; a niece, Miss Kitty Alice Snead of Dallas; and two nephews, Clarence and Charles Gound of Nacogdoches.

Survivors will be Don Marble, Nelson Wofford, Bobby Richards, David Richards, Jon Jester, Jerry Smith.

The electronic age isn't just coming to the farm - it's here in a big way. Computers in agriculture have become a reality. Individual producers - farmers and ranchers - are reaping the benefits of home computers programmed for such applications as farm records, budgeting, yield records comparison, test plot records and continuous market information. Also, many are using separate electronic information sources connected directly to their home computer. Individually-owned satellite receiving installations are bringing to the farm and ranch not only a universe of entertainment and information, but also are a direct tie-in for continual market and weather updates, special USDA reports and conferences, etc., via satellite and recorded on the home computer terminal. At least on the farm and ranch, in matters of technological and electronic matters, the phrase "the sky is the limit" is as antiquated as a horse drawn plow.

WILLIAMS

Williams returned from California where he attended his brother's funeral. On Sunday, he decided to go to Roaring Springs and pick peaches. His family accompanied him. After picking their fruit, on the way to the car he was stricken with a heart attack and died right there. Mr. McHam lived in the old Johnson house owned by Mr. Ferris of Crosbyton. He is survived by his wife and several sons and a daughter.

Mrs. Georgia Mae Erickson was hostess at Casa del Sol for the Mt. Blanco community party last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Monte Williams of Ft. Sill, Oklahoma, met Mr. and Mrs. Q.D. Williams and guests at Roaring Springs Sunday afternoon.

The Neff reunion was held at the Messie Activity Center Sunday.

The Floydada Country Club was the scene of the Hammonds reunion Sunday. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Hammonds, Mr. and Mrs. Lanny Glasscock, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Pyle, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pyle, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Smith and David Pyle of Floydada. From Vernon-Thalia area came Mr. and Mrs. Meryl Moore, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Maxwell of Cleburne, Mr. Bill Roy Henry, and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hammonds, and son Jimmy and Mr. and Mrs. Ricky Hammonds. All shared a covered dish luncheon in the party room of the Country Club.

Mrs. Gene Smith stayed several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Pyle, following surgery two weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Warner Johnson of Brownwood visited Mr. and Mrs. Louis Pyle Monday evening.

The Primitive Baptist Association is scheduled to start today, Thursday, at the Harmony Plains Foundation at Cone.

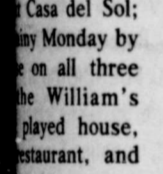

With all the rains our community has been getting, one activity is to be observed on various dirt roads leading to the highway that is getting the car out to the pavement. Sometimes it looks like a reunion at the gin, or cars parked near Quilantan's, as neighbors on dirt roads prudently park the family sedan as a life line to jobs in town, church or school while shuttling back and forth through the mud in the pick-ups.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Thurston were Sunday hosts to their daughter, Johnny and her husband of Lubbock.

REMEMBER your loved ones with a living memorial to the Caprock Hospital Auxiliary Memorial Fund.

Mrs. Ben Whitaker, Treasurer.

Card of Thanks

Since my uncle and the legal guardian of my estate did not notify me that my granddaddy had died until after he was buried, I was not allowed to come to his funeral or even send flowers in his memory, so I would like to take this opportunity to say thank you to the many wonderful people who befriended my granddaddy, grandmother and daddy during their life times. I have many wonderful memories of the people of Floydada that I met during my early childhood visits there and the brief time I attended school there. I love you all and may God give you His richest blessings.

Thank you, Lydia Collins Granddaughter of Walter and Lydia Collins and daughter of Van Collins

The family of John Wesley Walker wishes to express heartfelt thanks for all the flowers, food, calls, visits, and cards during the recent loss of our husband and father. We will always remember each of you.

Sincerely yours, Inez Walker Joe and Joyce Walker Beth and Bill Turner Shirley and Ronnie Murray

I would like to thank all my friends and neighbors for all the lovely cards and gifts during my stay in the hospital, and your telephone calls have been greatly appreciated.

Thanks again, Bea Britton

We wish to thank all of our friends and neighbors for the food, flowers, and kindness given to us during the loss of our loved one.

Jacksons hold reunion

A reunion of the descendants of the late J.W. Jackson of Floyd County was held Friday, Saturday and Sunday, August 7-9, in the Villa Inn in Lubbock.

Children of Mr. Jackson who attended were Bennie Sprawls and her husband H.G. of Lubbock; E.M. Jackson and his wife Faye of Floydada; Floyd Jackson and his wife Carolyn, Bernice Reynolds and her husband Willis, all of Lockney; and Carl Jackson and his wife Ann of Plainview. Also present was a daughter-in-law, Ava Jackson of Floydada. The only other living child, Ollie Carpenter of Farwell, was unable to attend because of illness.

Cousins of Mr. Jackson who were present were Howard and Frances Davis and Mary George Howard, all of Wolfe City; Pansy Palmer, Judy Fitzgerald, Venette Fitzgerald, all of Plains, Ben and Etta McAbee of Dallas.

Guests included John Cummings of Lockney and Kenneth Bownds of Ralls.

Grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren attending included the following: Jake and Sue Wofford, Nicole, Jake, Danelle and Gabrielle Wofford, Beverly and John Lipscomb, Tom, Kathy, and Kelly Sprawls, all of Lubbock; Button and Judy Beedy of Floydada; Ted, Betty and Julie Bruce of Childress; Verne Jackson of Odessa; Herman and Alta Gerries of Texico, New Mexico; Frances Norton of Farwell; Kerry and Jackie Taylor, Cory, Courtney and Cody of Electra; Neil and Beth Wright of Colorado City; Mildred Carroll, Danny and Judy Shelton, Shaun and Marty, all of Amarillo; Jack and Carol Sprawls, Scott and Melissa of Carrollton; Joe and Lynn Dunn, Lane and Shawn of Houston; Jim and Beth Reynolds, Rhonda Reynolds, Crosbyton; Teddy Rhodes, Jack Rhodes, Suzie Huckabee and Bryan, Denise Huckabee and Diane Huckabee, all of Albuquerque, New Mexico; Mary Ann Stapleton, Debs and Vince of Plainview; Randy Reynolds of Snyder; J.Q. and Bobby Jackson of Quanah; Bob Ann and Jami Rossi of Castle Rock, Colorado.

And from Lockney, Aaron Wilson, Rusty and Laura Wilson, Callie and Marc; Keith and Gayle Jackson, Dwight, Wade and Boyd.

J.W. Jackson was born in Alabama in 1860. He came to Fannin County, Texas, in about 1880. He was married in 1889 to Georgia Fowler Ritter. She died in 1901 and he married again in 1902 to Emma Mae Jacobs. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson moved to Floyd County to the McCoy community in 1916. Mr. Jackson died in 1928 and Emma Jackson died in 1969.

During the reunion in Lubbock, family members voted to meet annually. To be in charge of the 1982 reunion are Betty Bruce, Judy Beedy and Jane Baughman of Amarillo.

Fortenberry out for ENMU football practice

(PORTALES) — John Fortenberry of Lockney is among more than 75 athletes who reported for Eastern New Mexico University's fall football drills which began Tuesday.

Workouts in shorts will be held at 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. today and tomorrow with workouts in full pads held on Saturday, Sunday, and Monday at 9 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Players who have not registered for classes will do so with other ENMU students on August 25 with a practice session in full pads at 6 p.m. Classes at Eastern begin Officers elected were Keith Jackson, president; and Carolyn Jackson, secretary-treasurer and historian. Carolyn and husband Floyd Jackson reported to the family on work done tracing the Jackson family ancestors.

Amarillo registration

Amarillo College Fall Registration is August 26th from 9:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. in the College Union Building on the Washington Street Campus. Students are asked to report according to the following schedule:

Surnames beginning with: A, B, 9:00 a.m.; C, 9:30; D, E, 10:00; F, G, 10:30; H, 11:00; I, J, K, 11:30; L, M, 12:00 p.m.; N, 12:30; O, R, 1:30; S, 2:00; T, U, V, 2:30; W, 3:00; X, Y, Z, 3:30; Late Registrants, 3:30.

August 26 and regular practices will be held at 2:30 p.m.

Twenty-one lettermen return for the Greyhounds in 1981, in addition to 15 squads. There will be 11 transfers and 28 freshmen in the fall camp.

Eastern finished the 1980 season with a 2-7-1 record and returns five starters on offense and six starters on defense. The Greyhounds will play five games in Greyhound Stadium and five games on the road.

Fortenberry is a 6-2, 230-pound freshman defensive tackle.

Women take tourney

Lockney women's All-Star softball team placed second in the Ralls Fire Department tournament the weekend of August 8-9 losing in the finals to the Aces of Plainview.

The weekend of August 14-15, they won 1st in the Quitaque "We the Women" tournament outscoring their opponents 7-6.

The women's team will sponsor a tournament here in Lockney this weekend to make money for improvements on the softball field.

Also, anyone who can help with the concession stand, keeping the score book or umpiring the bases is asked to call Anna Anderson or Ricky Mosley.

Softball tournament this weekend

A women's slow pitch softball tournament will be held from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Saturday and Sunday at the softball field in Lockney. Ten teams from Lockney and the surrounding area will be participating in the tournament.

Tips on veterans benefits

BY BEN AYRES

The Veterans Administration today reminded veterans and their dependents that they shouldn't let lost documents prevent them from applying for VA benefits.

"Some veterans who can't locate birth or marriage certificates don't apply for benefits because they believe these documents are essential," a VA spokesman said.

But, he pointed out, VA accepts certified statements from applicants in instances where documents needed to establish eligibility for benefits are lost.

In the case of a marriage, the official said, this policy applies only to the first marriage for each partner, and there must be no contradictory information on file with the agency.

In years past, VA required formal documentation to support claims for compensation and education benefits for veterans, widows and orphaned children.

WYNONA ALLISON sharpen a pair of scissors at their new scissor, tool and saw service shop in Lockney.

Scissor sharpening shop a success

BY CAROL LEA CLARK

Scissor sharpening has taken O.C. (Oley) Allison and his wife Wynona on the road with a traveling scissor sharpening shop and finally into a full-time scissor, tool and saw service shop in Lockney.

When Oley Allison retired from electrical contracting work in the 1960's due to a health problem that kept him from climbing poles and handling hot wires, he became interested in locksmithing.

First he worked in a key concession stand on a Sears parking lot in Amarillo.

"The stand also was equipped with a scissor sharpener," Oley said, "but store management said not to worry about running it because there had been little demand for it."

Yet, he was intrigued by the machine. He taught himself to operate it and within a year the stand was showing a large increase in business.

Wynona Allison, who had operated a beauty shop became involved in scissor sharpening too when Oley bought a scissor sharpener of his own and they began travelling.

The Lockney couple called on barber, beauty, and fabric shops to sharpen scissors.

After they had travelled on their own for awhile, gaining new customers as they went along, the manger of the Cloth World chain heard of the Allisons and contacted them.

The Allisons began travelling for Cloth World. Each store they visited would run newspaper ads in advance saying that a professional scissor sharpener would be coming to the store on specific days.

Business was good for both the Allisons and Cloth World. While Oley sharpened scissors, Wynona tagged and bagged the scissors.

"I have sharpened as many as 450 pairs in one day. However, I think that 300 pairs make for a good days work, so I tried to hit this average," Oley said.

While Oley and Wynona Allison still make a few trips for Cloth World, they spend most of their time now working in the shop they have set up behind their Lockney home, where Wynona once had her beauty shop.

They have tools in their shop to handle scissors of all descriptions as well as saws. Their inventory also includes 3,000 pairs of high quality imported scissors.

The Allisons are quite proud of their shop which is unique in the area. It is satisfying and profitable, if a bit unusual, way of working for themselves.

Rodeo will kick off with parade

50th annual Ralls Rodeo will kick off parade at 4:00 p.m. Thursday afternoon, August 20, at Ralls, Texas. The parade will be given to the float division by the winning senior divisions of the rodeo.

Following the parade, a supper will be served at 7:00 p.m. at the Ralls Rodeo. The rodeo will begin at 8:00 p.m. On Friday, August 21, the rodeo will be admitted accompanied by a ticket purchase.

chased. Ticket prices are $4.00 adults, $2.00 children. Dancing nightly following the rodeo with Edna Lee and Band.

Rodeo stock is furnished by Terry and Delia Walls, of Stephenville, Texas. Terry and Delia have furnished stock for the Ralls Lions Rodeo for the past three years. Terry's and Delia's rodeo stock are well known for having good bulls in the bull riding events plus exceptional rodeo stock in the other events as well.

All riding and roping event entry fees are $40.00, with barrel racing $20.00 and the junior barrel racing at $12.00. All barrel racing events are jackpot each night. Trophy belt buckles will be given to the winners of each event in the rodeo.

Rodeo books will be open Wednesday, August 19, at 9:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. and Thursday, August 20, from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon.

This rodeo is sponsored by the Ralls Lions Club, a non-profit organization.

Light For The Soul
A Christian believer, talking to an atheistic evolutionist one time, took his watch out of his pocket, noted the time and put it back in again, saying to his friend: "This is a wonderful watch, never misses a second. I never have to do anything to it, yet it keeps perfect time."

"What make is it?" asked the evolutionist. "Oh, no make," was the reply. "Well, who manufactured it?" "Oh, no one. It just put itself together somehow."

"Nonsense!" said the atheist. "A watch can't just come into existence. Somebody had to manufacture it."

"That's true," replied the Christian, "yet you expect me to believe that this vast universe with its billions of planets and stars, all revolving in perfect order, just came about by itself, that it has no Designer, no Creator, and no one to keep it running. Isn't that nonsense!"

According to the Bible, God holds the pagan world responsible for its idolatry and declares: "They are without excuse" (Rom. 1:20) because all that the heathen witness about God every day calls for their worship and praise and thanksgiving (Rom. 1:20,21). But they have not had this

CPA course to be offered at Wayland

A course offering review for the Certified Public Account (CPA) Exam will begin later this month at Wayland Baptist University, Plainview.

Aimed at preparing the CPA candidate to successfully complete the CPA Exam in November, the course will meet on Friday evening from 6 until 10 p.m. and on Saturdays from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Class meetings are scheduled for August 28-29; September 11, 12, 25 and 26; and October 9, 10, 23, 24 and 30.

Three hours college credit may also be earned in the course.

The class will include review on Theory, Practice, Auditing, Business Law and Ethics. The entire course will cover a total of 63 clock hours.

Among the topics to be discussed relative to Theory are inventories, depreciation, amortization, accounting changes and consolidation. The Practice review will cover procedures and practices relative to such topics as valuation of assets, price level adjustments, present value considerations and individual income taxes.

In the Auditing segment, such topics as computer-generated accounting data, auditing theory and procedures, statistical sampling, and audit reports will be covered, while the final segment on Business Law and Ethics will discuss accountant's legal liability, anti-trust, contracts, professional conduct and conflicts of interest.

R.B. Vinson, a certified public accountant and assistant professor of accounting at Wayland, will instruct the class, which will meet in Room 211 of the Nunn Business Building on the WBU campus.

Total cost for the course is $395 and covers tuition, fees, and all materials. CPA candidates who wish to enroll for the course should contact the Office of the Registrar (Gates Hall Room 102) no later than the first class session (August 28.) Light For The Soul

They have denied and rejected God and, as St. Paul says, they "became vain in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened" (Ver. 21). It was thus that pagan idolatry, the worship of the creation, rather than the Creator (Ver. 25) had its beginning.

All this is very much like what we read in Eph. 4:17,18, where God exhorts His people not to live like "the Gentiles," in "the vanity (shallowness) of their mind, having the understanding darkened, being alienated from the life of God through the ignorance that is in them, because of the blindness of their heart."

Not very complimentary, is it? But it does reflect the condition of the human heart without God and apart from faith in Christ our Savior. It explains why the world, with all its increased technical knowledge, is worse off than ever.

How wonderful to know that "God who commanded the light to shine out of darkness," can give light and joy and blessing to the simplest soul who places his faith in Christ, who died for our sins! (See II Cor. 4:3-6; Acts 16:31).

THE PEACHTREE BORER

The Peachtree borer, Synanthedon exitiosa (Say) can be one of the most destructive insect pests of peaches in Texas. Damage occurs as a result of the larvae feeding around a tree's base just under the bark. Severe infestations reduce tree vigor and can kill a tree if allowed to continue uncontrolled for several years. Populations that average more than one larva per tree should be treated. Control is achieved with a single late August application of insecticide if Lorsban R is used.

Biology and Habits

Peachtree borer eggs are laid on the bark near the soil line of a peachtree. Hatch occurs in about 10 days. Newly emerged larvae bore into and feed in the bark cambium for 10-14 months. Mature larvae migrate from the tree out into the soil for a distance up to 12 inches and form a bullet-shaped puparium just below the surface. Eggs are generally laid in August or September with adults emerging the following August/September.

Adult peachtree borers are small moths with a wingspan of 1-1 1/2 inches. The female is larger, solid black with a single orange abdominal stripe. Males are black, not quite as robust as the female and have numerous yellow lines on their thorax.

After emerging from pupae, adults rest for a short period of time before mating. The mating sequence begins with the search for a mate where the male seeks out the female. The female emits an order (pheromone) attractive only to males of the same species. Using the odor, the peachtree borer male will locate and mate with the female. Egg laying follows in a few days. It is that period of time from oviposition to larval hatch that the peachtree borer is best controlled with insecticides.

Research has demonstrated that a single late August application of the insecticide Lorsban will effectively control the peachtree borer. It is applied at a treatment rate of 5 teaspoons Lorsban 4E per gallon of water or 3 quarts of Lorsban 4E per 100 gallons of water (3 lbs. active ingredient per 100 gallons water). Treatment is made by thoroughly wetting the base of each tree (about 1/2-1 gallon) with the spray mixture.

4-H projects help youth make wise decisions

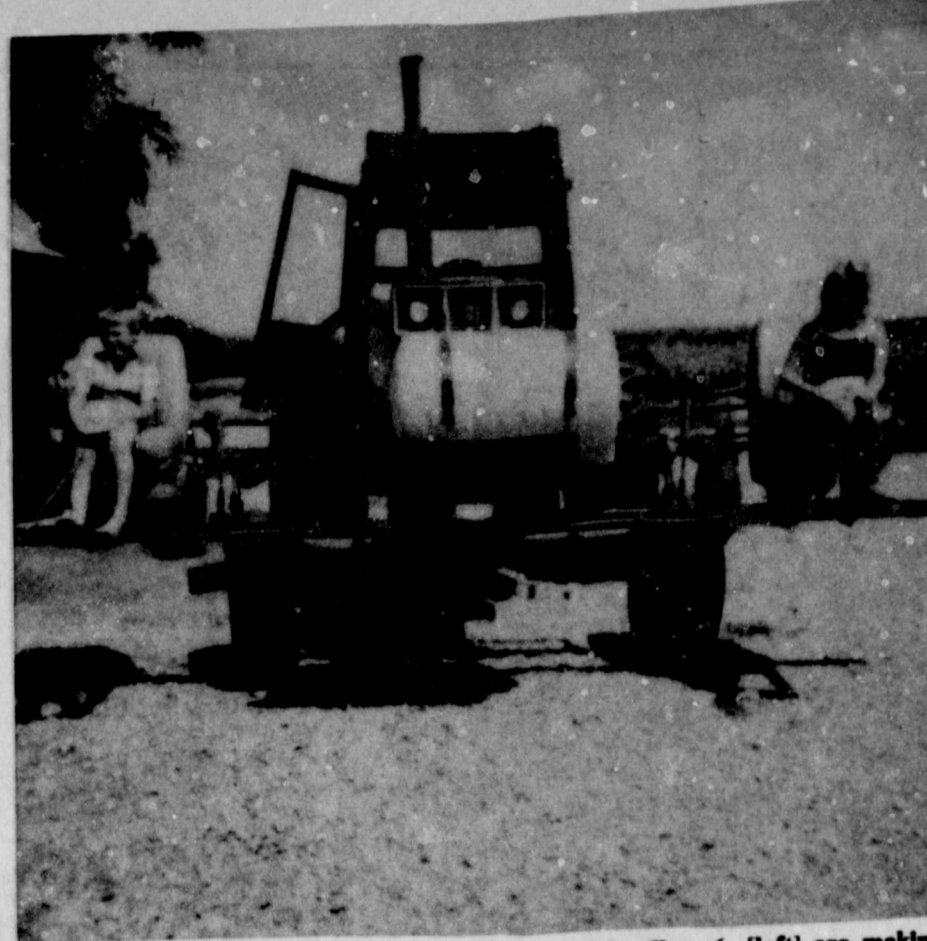

4-H projects are the "backbone" of the 4-H program.

Projects help 4-H members grow because, as a member he studies and works, he learns by doing, says Ken Langley, county 4-H program coordinator with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Skills are learned and developed through practice such as sewing a dress or baking a cake. Publications and other project aids, project meetings, talks with parents, leaders and others all help members learn. But projects are real-life experiences that help 4-H'ers learn to make wise decisions.

First a member must decide which project to take. Then he must decide a lot of things as he is doing the project. In gardening that would include such things as the location and what vegetables to plant. These decisions help members feel responsible for their own actions and give them personal satisfaction.

Learning to work with others is another benefit of a project, says Langley. The work is done in or near the home where family can work and be together. As members work together, they share ideas and help each other. They learn to compare their work with what other club members are doing. In some projects, club members own their

Insurance deadline for small grain producers nears

Small grain producers in Texas will need to decide soon if they wish to sign up for Federal Crop Insurance.

The insurance, available from any local Federal Crop Insurance Corp. representative, replaces the disaster payment program that has been in effect in recent years. Producers interested in insurance protection should contact local FCIC representatives for the sign-up deadline. The FCIC program is sponsored by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

"Federal crop insurance protection is available to all wheat and barley producers in Texas and to oat producers in the northern blacklands and central areas of Texas," points out Dr. James Ahrenholz, economist in management with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

The economist notes that there are three levels of insurance coverage available to producers. These are based on 50, 65 and 75 percent of the farm's average historical yield.

Producers can also make three price (per bushel) selections: wheat—$2.50, $3.50 and $4.50; barley—$2.00, $2.25 and $2.60; and oats—$1.20, $1.40 and $1.70.

"Premium rates for the 50 and 65 percent level of coverage include a 30 percent reduction as a program subsidy," notes Ahrenholz. "The premium for the 75 percent coverage level includes a reduction which is 30 percent of the 65 percent level premium."

The economist gives this example in explaining the crop insurance program. If a farm in northern Texas has an average historical yield of 25 bushels of wheat per acre, the producer can select coverage levels of either 12.5, 16.5 or 19 bushels (40, 65, or 75 percent of the historical average, respectively). If he chooses the 19 bushels per acre coverage and a price level of $4.50, his premium, for example on a Cooke County farm including subsidy, would be $7.75 per acre.

Premiums will vary according to the coverage and price level chosen by the farmer as well as by the location of the farm, says Ahrenholz.

For the cost of the premium, the farmer (in the above example) is buying income protection (at the selected price) for himself when his crop yield drops below the 19-bushel level. If his yield is reduced to 10 bushels, then he will receive an indemnity for nine bushels (19 minus 10) at $4.50 each for a total of $40.50 per acre.

"In addition to providing protection from all unavoidable hazards, the crop insurance program offers several other aspects," notes Ahrenholz. "The premiums are tax deductible, they need not be paid until the crop is harvested, and the insurance policy can be used as collateral."

"Crop insurance is one way farmers can protect themselves against some of the adverse financial consequences of a crop loss," says the economist.

Cows need minerals

Regardless of the type of forage cows are grazing, they all need minerals, says a range specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Most cows don't get enough phosphorus, magnesium and potassium from grazing, so they should be fed a mineral mix free choice the year round. Minerals, especially phosphorus, are short in dry forage and do not meet the requirements of lactating cows. A mineral mix should contain 8 to 12 percent phosphorus, not more than 20 percent salt, and magnesium oxide, plus potassium during the winter months.

Great Plains Conservation marks silver anniversary

August 7, 1981 was a historic day for farmers, ranchers, soil and water conservation district directors, and all who depend upon agricultural products for our food and clothing.

That date was the silver anniversary of the Great Plains Conservation Program. Jon J. La Baume, district conservator for the U.S. Soil Conservation Service for Floyd County said this week.

"Just 25 years ago, on August 7, 1956, President Eisenhower signed into law the bill authorizing the program," La Baume said. "It is available to producers in the ten Great Plains states—stretching through the Nation's breadbasket from North Dakota to Texas."

GPCP helps farmers and ranchers solve problems of wind and water erosion, drought, and other resource-related problems with technical and financial aid based on conservation plans tailored to each farm or ranch.

"Grassed seedings, terraces, diversions, grassed waterways, livestock water facilities, irrigation pipelines, tailwater pits, windbreaks, cross-fences, and livestock grazing programs are among GPCP practices on which a landowner can receive technical and cost share assistance," La Baume said.

The conservation practices in a GPCP plan are scheduled to be applied over 3 to 10 years. The U.S. Department of Agriculture has assigned leadership of the program to the Soil Conservation Service.

Soybean situation highly volatile

Soybeans, a cash crop of growing importance in Texas, will likely face ups and downs in the marketplace this year.

Extended wet weather this spring dealt a hard blow to the Texas soybean crop, causing some farmers in coastal and eastern areas to replant as many as three times. This means considerable added expenses plus low yield potentials from these late plantings.

"The fact that the average price of beans to farmers is about a dollar higher per bushel now than at this time last year should encourage producers to forward contract at least part of the crop," points out Johnny Feagan, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "This would assure a profit on part of their crop and reduce their risk."

"How much of a money-maker Texas soybeans prove to be this year will depend on the weather during the rest of the growing season, the overall U.S. crop and export demands," points out Feagan.

The total U.S. crop will likely exceed 68.7 million acres, with some double planting behind wheat still under way. That acreage is 2 percent below last year. About 15 percent of the acreage is estimated to be double-cropped, and these acres usually produce lower yields. This, in conjunction with expected lower yields from late plantings, should keep the national average yield somewhat below earlier USDA predictions of 29.5 bushels per acre.

The Texas crop will likely total 700,000 acres, about the same as last year. It would have been up considerably with favorable spring weather.

Regarding exports, world demand for soybean crops is up about 4 percent. That's important, notes Feagan, since more than 60 percent of the U.S. beans are exported. However, the demand for soybeans and soybean products has slowed somewhat in recent weeks due to reduced livestock feeding and higher vegetable oil stocks. Meal prices are currently just under $200 per ton.

"The strength of the dollar against foreign currencies and high interest rates also have contributed to curtailing exports of soybeans and soybean products," notes Feagan. "In addition, inventories of soybeans and their products are much higher than earlier estimated. Of course, the general state of economic conditions around the world also is having a dampening effect on the soybean market."

The Soviet Union, a major importer of U.S. beans in the past, is currently negotiating with Brazil for its soybean needs, so the U.S. will have to look elsewhere. China has not filled its needs and could brighten the export picture, notes the economist.

Extension service names brucellosis veterinarian

Continued concern over the disease brucellosis in Texas cattle herds has prompted the appointment of a veterinarian by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Assuming the new position on August 1 was Dr. Jimmy L. Howard. Howard will be giving leadership to a statewide educational program concentrating on the serious problem of brucellosis that affects many cattle herds in our state, said Dr. Daniel C. Pfannstiel, Extension Service director, in announcing the appointment.

The veterinarian will be working closely with county Extension agents and county program building committees as well as various industry and related organizations in mapping out educational programs and related strategy to cope with the brucellosis problem. Howard also will be working closely with Extension veterinarian Dr. James Armstrong in overall programming efforts.

A native of Floydada, Howard has projects. When they do, they learn to care for their property and respect other's property.

Most 4-H projects are set up to meet the needs of boys and girls of different ages—beginners, juniors and advanced members. As a member grows older and makes more progress, he has a chance to make more of his own decisions and do work that he could not do at an earlier age.

Besides the development of skills in a certain area, a 4-H project offers the 4-H member fellowship, leadership growth and personal development. The 4-H project, the most important part of the 4-H program, offers 4-H club members the opportunity for head, heart, hand and health development through many avenues of participation in 4-H, notes Langley.

Enrollment in 4-H is free and available to all Floyd County youth ages 9-19. Clubs are established in Floydada and Lockney. Some project areas available are foods, clothing, beef, sheep, swine, horse, recreation, gardening, dog, livestock, judging and woodworking. Many other self determined areas are also available to youth in Floyd County.

For more information come by the Extension Office on the Courthouse Square or call 983-2807.

Great Plains Conservation Reaches silver anniversary

1981 was a historic day for farmers, soil and water conservation directors, and all those who care about the future of the Great Plains. It was the silver anniversary of the Great Plains Conservation Program signed by President Dwight D. Eisenhower on August 7, 1951. The program was the first of its kind, authorizing the U.S. Department of Agriculture to provide technical and financial assistance to farmers and ranchers to conserve soil and water resources.

At the time, the program was a response to the severe drought of the 1930s and the need for a long-term plan to protect the Great Plains from future droughts. The program has since been expanded to include a wide range of conservation practices, from terracing and strip cropping to water conservation and soil erosion control.

Over the years, the program has helped millions of acres of land in the Great Plains, and it has been instrumental in the development of many of the conservation practices that are now standard on farms and ranches across the region.

Soil and water conservation is a future-oriented working force

The "force" is working with the Extension Service, the parent organization of 4-H. "4-H youth are benefitting from educational programs in one or more of some 60 project areas ranging from aerospace and health to photography and veterinary medicine," notes the youth leader.

Young people in 4-H clubs learn and grow under the direction of almost 22,000 trained volunteer leaders who meet with them in almost every Texas county, says Pelham.

County Extension staffs provide 4-H program direction and management in every county of the state. They are backed by the expertise of highly skilled Extension specialists headquartered either in area offices or on the Texas A&M University campus.

Texas A&M, in turn, is a part of the nationwide land-grant system which involves 52 other colleges and universities. The program receives further support through this link as part of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

"State, county and federal support, then, combine to make 4-H a unique organization," says Pelham.

"But it's the support of private citizens, organizations, corporations, and foundations whose assistances make it possible to multiply 4-H public resources many times over.

"Every 4-H'er is learning and growing through the development of his head, heart, hands and health. 4-H is shaping tomorrow's world," emphasizes Pelham.

Soybean crop will likely exceed last year's

Soybean farmers destroyed this year's crop, the total of which would be as if Commodity Credit Corp. had imported 45 million bushels from Minnesota, Iowa and the area.

Producers Association and TCGA are opposing the importation of corn in the Executive Director Elbert Harp's view.

"We believe CCC's sale of this corn in our area to be one of the most damaging actions USDA has ever taken in a regional market. We also believe it to be illegal."

GSPA and TCGA have established a fund to finance legal action against USDA unless this policy is reversed. Corn and sorghum farmers are contributing to the fund at a rate of $250.00 per million pounds of production. (A "million pound" producer stands to lose up to $5,000.00 because of these sales.) Checks should be mailed to: Legal Fund, Grain Sorghum Producers Association, Box R, Abernathy, Texas 79311.

The two producer organizations have employed the firm of McWhorter, Cobb and Johnson of Lubbock, Texas to represent them. Primary attorneys in the case will be David Langston, Tom Johnson and Jack Driskill.

Soybean crop will likely exceed last year's

Soybean farmers destroyed this year's crop, the total of which would be as if Commodity Credit Corp. had imported 45 million bushels from Minnesota, Iowa and the area.

Producers Association and TCGA are opposing the importation of corn in the Executive Director Elbert Harp's view.

"We believe CCC's sale of this corn in our area to be one of the most damaging actions USDA has ever taken in a regional market. We also believe it to be illegal."

GSPA and TCGA have established a fund to finance legal action against USDA unless this policy is reversed. Gasohol bill passed by overwhelming majority

The Texas Grain Products Cooperative, and Diamond Shamrock. The measure was sponsored by Representative Dan Kubiak and State Senator Bill Sarpalius.

"The gasohol bill was not only a priority bill for the TFU, the measure will help create a new industry in Texas, which in the long run will provide an alternate source of energy and a new tax base," Moeller predicted. "As a leading agriculture and energy producing state, Texas should now come to the forefront in alcohol fuel production from renewable sources of energy."

The exemption from the five cent motor fuels tax begins January 1, 1982 and lasts until 1987. At that point, the tax is phased in at the rate of one cent per year.

"With the exemption established in 1982, it will immediately help out the small producers already operating in Texas and help establish the market when the other large cooperatives begin producing alcohol in the next two years," Moeller said. "Every gallon of imported OPEC oil we avoid buying through the production of American made alcohol will bring us that much closer to energy independence" Moeller declared.

In addition to the small plants already on line or in the planning stages, three cooperatives have been formed in Hutto, Muleshoe, and Farwell to produce alcohol on a large scale basis.

Cedar Hill rain gauges top 3 1/2"

BY GRACE LEMONS
We wanted rain because it was so dry and the crops were suffering. In some parts we received 3.5 of rain this week and it is still raining. Edna Gilly and her granddaughters, Casendra and Cathy Harrison of New Orleans, had dinner Saturday with W.M. and Ruthie Clark in Plainview. Dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Lemons Saturday were Grace's sister and husband, Lavina and Shields Decker of Amarillo. Peat Kelley and Norma Welch visited a while in the afternoon. Norma Welch and Peat Kelley visited Robin and Ruth Fortenberry Saturday afternoon and later Peat visited Mr. and Mrs. Cephus Fortenberry.

Grace Lemons visited Jim Harper who was a patient in the Caprock Hospital Friday. Joyce Harper accompanied her to visit Vivian Roberts.

Joyce Harper spent Friday and Saturday nights in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A.S. Mize. Jim was released from the hospital Saturday morning and they returned to their home at the Stamford Lake.

A baby shower was given in the home of Edna Gilly Saturday afternoon from 2:00 to 3:30 in honor of Mrs. Missey Conner. There were around 25 present and the hostesses presented her with a high-chair, music mobile and a baby book. She received many and other useful gifts. The hostesses for the occasion were Edna Gilly, Lori Gilly, Leah Lackey, Peat Kelley, Norma Welch, Trudi Gilly and Lisa Rose.

Beverly Sue Burselson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Burselson and Kurt Brock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Brock of Levelland will exchange marriage vows Saturday, August 22, at 7:00 in the First Christian Church in Floydada.

Dayne Golightly, Lacy and Rance visited Mr. and Mrs. W.E. Lackey Sunday morning. Thada Fowler and Clayton brought lunch and served to Mr. and Mrs. Greer Lackey and children of Burselson and her parents. Bill and Lindsey Lackey and Kim and Kelley Mixon of Plainview visited them in the afternoon.

Twyla Lemons accompanied her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W.T. Cooper of Lockney to Ballinger to attend a family reunion. They returned to Lockney Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Lemons, Mr. and Mrs. Owen C. Gayley and children, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Lemons and Kim Carthel enjoyed Mexican food in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Lemons Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen C. Gayley left Thursday morning for Denver, Colorado to visit relatives before returning to their home in San Antonio.

Rev. and Mrs. Vance Mitchell and girls left Thursday morning for Ft. Worth and went to Six Flags and saw other points of interest. They attended the Barnard family reunion in Ft. Worth and returned home Saturday.

Sunday the Mitchells attended a family reunion in Crosbyton.

Rev. Mitchell's sister and husband, Mary and Boyd Bowen and daughter, Kathy of Midland had lunch with them and went on to Amarillo to visit other relatives.

Cathy Conner of Lubbock and Missey and Bruce Conner were dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Conner Sunday.

Enthusiasm is the match that lights the candle of achievement.

Center News

Many Center residents away on vacations

BY MRS. J.E. GREEN
August 16, 1981:

Last week's news predicted rain, now we've had it. Nice slow rains, night and day. No hail. Wonderful. Today the sun came out.

Vacation days are fast coming to a close. Church crowds are down a bit, as many are taking visits to relatives or friends in other areas. Seems like a short summer.

On the church bus today the similarity of every landscape was weeds. Did you ever see so many weeds? Looks like everybody is gone from home. But the rains have been so nice.

It is nearing Center reunion time. But last year the yearly reunion was ruled out. Now we meet every two years. So not in 1981, next we meet in 1982.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Carpenter have as house guest a teenage granddaughter who flew in from Boston last week, Sara Henry. She knows it rains in West Texas now.

Mrs. Claude Carpenter, now in Lockney Rest Home, is doing fine.

Mr. and Mrs. Millard Watson visited her parents, the Henry Brewers, this Sunday afternoon. Just dry enough to get in the garden for beans and tomatoes that needed to be picked.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cone of Wichita Falls spent the weekend with Mrs. Leo Frizell.

Mr. W.L. Hartline spent Saturday in Plainview visiting her daughter June and family, the Bob Landrys.

Mr. and Mrs. Hal Thomas were in Post this Sunday visiting a brother-in-law who had just re-entered the Rest Home after a siege in a Lubbock hospital. He and wife were there when his wife passed on.

Mr. and Mrs. J.K. Holmes visited Mr. and Mrs. Plumlee Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Warren visited his mother, Mrs. Ola Warren Sunday afternoon before attending the nite service at First Baptist.

Mrs. Zane Loftin of Tulsa spent Saturday nite with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Sandifur.

Ma Green and the Ryman had the pleasure of having supper last Monday evening, with Sarah and Doug Chandler of Lubbock. Then Doc, Margaret, and Nancy brought me home and spent the rest of the nite. It rained on us all the way home.

Registration for WTSU set for August 26

Summer for college-bound students will end on Wednesday, August 26, which is registration day at West Texas State University for the fall semester.

According to the registration schedule based on the first letter of the student's last name, students will begin enrolling for fall courses at 8:40 a.m. in the WTSU Activities Center. Registration will close at 7:20 p.m.

Classes will begin on Thursday, August 27. Before registration, several opportunities will be available for students to prepare to enroll. The American College Test (ACT) will be administered to beginning freshmen who do not have test scores on file from 12:45 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. on Saturday, August 22, in the Classroom Center.

Beginning freshmen who did not attend any of the five summer orientation and pre-registration sessions may meet in the Activities Center Ballroom at 8:45 a.m. on Monday, August 24. Transfer students will meet at 2 p.m. in the Activities Center Ballroom.

From 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. on Tuesday, August 25, freshman and transfer students will be academically advised and the registrar's office will be closed.

Late registration will begin at noon on the first day of class and a $5 late fee will be assessed. Late registration will continue through Friday, September 4.

The first holiday of the semester will be on Labor Day, Monday, September 7, and the semester will continue through Wednesday, December 16.

Jung reelected vice-chairman

Harry H. Jung of Lubbock and Crosbyton has been reelected vice-chairman of the Association of Texas Electric Cooperatives. The action came during the association's annual meeting August 3-5 in Austin. Jung resides in Lubbock and maintains law offices in Crosbyton.

He's a native of Albany and has been practicing law since 1956 after he graduated from the University of Texas Law School with a bachelor of laws and juris doctor degrees. During his career he has served six terms as Crosby County attorney. He is on the board of the Texas Tech Medical School Foundation.

Apartment contributed to Baptist as married couple

A major contribution from a Wayland Baptist University alumnus and former Plainview resident will significantly reduce the institution's shortage of married student housing, says Dr. David Jester, the President of Wayland.

Mr. Charles C. Pierce, Sr., a West Texas native who now resides in Dallas, has turned ownership of the Pierce Apartments at 408 West Seventh Street in Plainview over to the University for use as housing for married couples, according to Mr. Joe L. Provence, director of married student housing.

The gift is a direct result of appeals by the president for assistance in alleviating the University's ever-growing problem of housing prospective married students.

"At the beginning of summer school we had 21 married couples without housing and since then we have had five other married applicants for admission needing housing," Jester explained. "As of now all of them have been taken care of because of the good work of our staff and students, and the generous gift of Mr. Pierce. Fortunately, the University can now accommodate some more prospective married students."

The 10-apartment complex, near Columbia Street, includes five one-bedroom and five efficiency apart-

Holland brothers promoted

There are two Major Hollands in the 136th Tactical Airlift Wing of the Texas Air National Guard stationed at Hensley Field, Dallas, but not for long.

David R. Holland, a 1966 graduate of Floydada High, has just been promoted to Major, while older brother Chuck Holland, a 1960 grad of FHS, is awaiting final approval of his elevation to Lt. Col. Both served active duty roles in the Air Force.

David, who graduated from Texas Tech in 1970 with a journalism degree, is Public Affairs Officer for the 136th and just returned from two weeks annual training in Central and South America.

Flying out of Howard AFB, Panama in support of the Air Force's Volant Oak program, David, escorted news media from the Dallas-Fort Worth area to Panama, Lima, Peru; La Paz, Bolivia; and Asuncion, Paraguay. He also made a trip to Haiti and the Dominican Republic.

"EVEN IN THIS HEAT I CAN FEEL COMFORTABLE ABOUT MY ELECTRIC BILL"

"That's because I can depend on my bill being just about the same each month."

"I switched to the Averaged Billing Plan with SPS after my dad told me how much it helped him.

Averaged Billing smooths out the highs and lows in your electric bill so you can count on it being about the same each month.

That's a big break for a fixed income like dad's and it helps me plan a family budget. Averaged Billing really works."
