Widener and Tate Glasscock.

In the oldest group, ages 6-10 winners were Colbie Pennell, Stacy Turner, and Brandon Rowell.

Ribbons were awarded for both commercial and educational exhibits at the fair.

The blue ribbon educational exhibit was presented by the Hi-Plains Genealogical Society in the adult division and by Lockney Junior High teacher Carolyn Whittington on Texas history in the youth division.

The blue ribbon for inside commercial exhibit went to Wilson Photography and outside commercial exhibit to B&E

Construction.

Winning top honors in the tractor driving contest were Aaron Kidd, Joe Ruiz, Sandy Langley, and Keith Hight.

Featured entertainment at the fair were the Maines Brothers concert and the Pride of Texas carnival.

Lockney Care Center news

BY VICKIE HUTTON

This has been one eventful week! Saturday, we entered a float in the Floyd County Fair and won first place. Afterwards I told the residents I knew we would win because "they were the best looking ones in the parade. We send a special thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ansley for letting us use their low boy trailer and to DeLinda Glasson, Naomi Soliz, and Rosalinda Hernandez for helping us decorate the float.

Friday, the residents were honored with a Grandparent's Day Party. Grandparents are very special people and they should be cherished. The residents were treated to two cakes, white and chocolate, and lime punch. Everyone had a great time and after the party Mr. Holt was ready to play bingo. He loves to play bingo and dominoes. Our lucky bingo winner was Sally Carpenter.

Thursday, we enjoyed the "Bird-brain." It was very informative and we learned many things about birds we didn't know. A special thanks to Mrs. Walls at the Floyd Co. Library for supplying such wonderful films.

We have been very lucky to have so many wonderful friends who have brought us fresh fruits and vegetables. The residents appreciate all the kindness people show them. A special thanks goes to Mrs. H. McPherson, apples; Geneva Stansell, tomatoes; Mr. and Mrs. Dick Taylor, peas, squash, cucumbers, bell peppers, and tomatoes; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Clay, watermelons; Austin Beedy, cantalopes, tomatoes, okra, and beans; Don Henderson, cantalopes, tomatoes, okra, squash, and cucumbers; and Myrtle Gibson, peas and beans.

Mrs. Alpha Kitchens is still in Methodist Hospital but is doing great. Get well soon Mrs. Kitchens.

We have had so many thoughtful people bringing us fresh fruits and vegetables. Thanks goes to Myrtle Gibson, Mrs. H. McPherson, Geneva Stansell, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ike Clay, Austin Beedy, and Don Henderson. We have really become expert pea shellers.

We welcome new resident Ethel Carroll. Mrs. Carroll lived with us a short time last winter and we are happy to have her back with us.

We said goodbye to Rozella Trowbridge, Kathyrine Patrick and Mattie Readhimer. Mrs. Trowbridge went to Louisiana to spend the winter with her daughter, she has gone to Louisiana every winter for several years, wish we could join her.

Anderson is chosen Crime Call president

Carroll Anderson, Lockney, has been elected president of Crime Call of Floyd County, Inc. for the ensuing year.

Other officers elected during the Crime Call board meeting at the Community Room of the First National Bank were: Bill Gray, Floydada, as vice-president; and Fred Thayer, Floydada, as secretary-treasurer.

Gary Brown, Floydada, was elected to the board.

A financial report by Thayer gave a balance in the reward money fund of $2528. That includes monies deposited in both Floyd County banks.

Reward money paid out at the end of the fiscal year in May was $250.

Crime Call was formed in June of '80 as a citizens program to aid law enforcement in the county.

The Crime Call program is coordinated through the Sheriff's department, but is run strictly by citizens.

A telephone line, open 24 hours a day, is manned by the Sheriff's department.

Anyone wishing to give information on a crime may call that number and never have to identify themselves. No questions are asked other than about the crime reported.

If the information results in the arrest of the criminal the informant calls back to set up a location or drop-off for the reward money offered for that crime.

Life of a country musician

By Don Williams
As Told To Kelly Delaney

The hot afternoon sun shined like a piece of sizzling cornbread in the mid-summer Tennessee sky. The heat and humidity were relentless as I sat atop the tractor, mowing the field behind our house. Sometimes, when the work was hard and the temperature near 100 degrees, I almost wished I had never moved my family out into the country. Yet, my dual life as an entertainer and husband-father, meant that I had to make our time together as a family count for all it was worth.

I had prayed to God for guidance and this move to the country was the decision he led me to. The hardest thing for me, as far as my career and my family is concerned, is separating the two—keeping one away from the other as much as possible. I really want my family to be a family. I don't see how that can be if my children are constantly bombarded with comments like, "Hey, your daddy is a star!"

So, two years after I started releasing records, we moved out here to the farm, in the hills west of Nashville. Prior to this we lived in a subdivision in the city. I really felt like time-wise I was always competing with the neighborhood kids. Daddies can't compete with the neighborhood kids. If I wanted the boys to help me with something or for us to spend some time together, it was always—get it finished as quickly as possible—because there was always a yardful of kids waiting for them.

I could see the need in them for guidance. I had to spend so much time away from home touring and performing I knew that unless the situation was controlled, they might never learn the values of a Christian upbringing. It would take both my wife, Joy, and I to own up to the task at hand.

This always troubled me, because I think when you're a kid there are a whole lot of things you can learn, and the process is very natural. If they didn't learn the principles of life as children, they would have to learn them as adults, and then it's very painful. I prayed frequently that the boys, Gary and Timmy, would understand that this is the only way we can live and be a family.

As I continued mowing, I heard a little voice practically hushed by the drone of the tractor's motor. I looked in the direction of the voice. It was my youngest boy, Timmy. He was frantically waving his arms, trying to get my attention. I shut down the tractor and mopped my brow with a handkerchief. I could feel the sweat dripping out of every pore in my body. Timmy ran over to me and said, "Daddy, there's some tourists out in the driveway and they want to know if they can come up to the house and take some pictures and stuff."

There are a lot of people who come out to the house at different times. They drive by slowly and look. Once in a great while someone will get out and come up to the house.

This was one of those times. I was in no mood to deal with a carload of tourists. I sighed, licked the salty perspiration from my lips, and said, "Well...no, I don't think so."

"Okay," he shrugged and toddled back up the hillside. I cranked 'er over again and continued mowing. Soon I was back engrossed in my thoughts of what I wanted to represent to my children. I had seen the potential for some inadvertent type of harm if my children viewed me as Don Williams—the entertainer, and not as their daddy. I want the father part of it to far outstretch the recording artist aspect. The only way this could be, as God had indicated, was to keep my family life private.

We had tried a couple of things—like performing at school benefits—since we moved to the country. I wish I could do more of them, but I recognized after both incidents that the boys were coming home from school and talking a lot about what the other kids were saying about their daddy—"Hey, he was terrific! Your daddy is a super singer!" I wanted to set a moral example for my boys and I could never do this if they were confused about just who and what I really am.

Setting an example and raising the boys in a Christian environment have always been important to me. When I was a boy, I was kind of driven away from religion because it wasn't really anything I could live. I hardly saw anyone who was living what they professed. Rather than claim to be something I wasn't, I figured I'd be better off to get away from the whole thing. I did for a long time.

Then an event occurred which changed my entire life. It was at the end of my career as a member of the Pozo Seco Singers. Joy and I had been living in Nashville at that time. We had resolved ourselves to the fact that the musical part of my life was over. We moved back to our hometown of Corpus Christi, Texas, where my father-in-law and I started a furniture business.

We visited with a friend of ours, Chuck Merrill, who is a minister in Austin. He's been close to us for a number of years. In fact, he actually helped us salvage our marriage at one point. Chuck has always been a special example to me. He was the first person I met who seemed like he had a grasp of what the Bible was all about, yet he had incorporated it into his life in terms that made it a little easier to live.

Before my experiences with Chuck, the only time I talked to my God was if something was wrong. Chuck has been an encouragement to me. He's got a real gut understanding about how to plug into life and how to relate to God.

Since those days, we have moved back to Nashville and I've had a career as a solo artist. Now, I can thank God for all his blessings and talk to Him a whole lot more than just when something is wrong. Joy and I really turn it over to God when something doesn't go the way we'd like it to, because there's usually a reason and it'll show up at some point.

We've attempted to apply the spiritual knowledge we gained from Chuck to raising our children. We have tried not to be too rigid. By that I mean, the church I went to, and the way I was raised, promoted the attitude that if you didn't belong to that particular church, you were doomed to go to hell.

We still go to the same church I grew up in, but we don't promote those kinds of attitudes in our kids. I guess what it boils down to is I don't think I've got it all figured out. I don't think I know enough about it all that I can fold it up and stick it in my pocket and say, "I've got it and anybody who doesn't see it like I understand it is in a bad way." I feel like we all have to constantly question ourselves, search for the answers, and hopefully keep growing.

But, I think there are a lot of people who don't feel that way about it. They don't like to be tested and pushed into situations where it's gray. Life is not just black and white. That was the essence of what I learned from Chuck!

As I mowed the field, thinking of my own religious development, I suddenly realized a good 15 minutes had passed and Timmy had not come back down the hill. What had happened? Did he run the tourists rudely off? Did he give in and were they traipsing through our home? Finally, it just got the best of me. I had to know the outcome. Was it black, white, or somewhere inbetween?

I turned off the tractor. I listened to the silence of the country and felt a slight breeze filling the air with the scent of freshly-mown clover. When I reached the top of the hill I saw Timmy sitting in the front yard whistling on a stick. I walked over and sat down beside him. "Well, what happened?" I asked. He looked up sheepishly at me, grimaced, and said, "Daddy, I just couldn't go over to those people and tell them no."

"Well, what did you tell them," I pressed. His eyes turned warmly serious as he said, "I just went to the car and talked to the man. I told him, 'You know, my daddy is really a quiet person, and he really likes his privacy. You understand, don't you?' The man said, 'Yes, I do understand.' Then he got in the car and they drove away."

I just couldn't believe it! Here was a 9-year-old boy who not only was able to understand my feelings, but also he could express them so as not to hurt the feelings of others. I hugged him and silently thanked God for helping all of us to have a greater understanding of each other.

As the boys get older, I know there will be trying times ahead. But I could see in this tiny, seemingly unimportant incident that my prayers were being answered. My sons were beginning to pay attention to life around them, to other people. This little boy could see what other persons were going through and what they feel.

Margaret Collier was honored Tuesday afternoon with a reception given by the Commissioners court and courthouse employees. It was 40 years to the day September 15, since Margaret began working at the courthouse. "I always thought that if anyone did anything like this for me, I'd feel like crying. But I don't," she said her eyes shining. "I feel like clapping my hands." The cake, served to about 60 guests, had the courthouse designed in the icing. A decorative book was inscribed "County Court Records." Margaret has served as County Clerk since 1943. She had worked in the clerks office for 10 years before that. [Smith] Johnson, Margaret lived in Lockney, Texas, back and forth. She moved to Floydada after taking over the county clerk's office. "I was here when the courthouse burned down. It was here when we moved back in the 1940s. It's been hard those years, but I've always enjoyed it." Clerk.

Plainview concerts scheduled

Plainview Community Concerts is marking its 37th season of bringing top musical and dance talent to Plainview audiences...and this season is no exception. Scheduled performances include Cametol that shines with jewel-like beauty as the legend of King Arthur and the Knights of the Round Table unfolds on stage, November 21: The Musical World of Shigemitsu Matsumoto, beautiful, young leading soprano of the San Francisco Opera, with Koto and Piano, January 23, both of which will be performed on the stage of Plainview High School; Ballet Fantasio, from Constanta, the stylish city which has been called "the Monte Carlo of the Black Sea," a new and vibrant company which is the pride of Romania, February 10; Keith and Rusty McNeil, a celebration of America Folksong, March 15; and Paul Schenly, winner of the prestigious Avery Fisher Prize and soloist with major U.S. orchestras, April 26. The last three performances will be in Harral Memorial Auditorium on Wayland Baptist University campus. Renewal membership forms are in the hands of current and former members of Community Concerts. # Longhorns shutout Petersburg 12-0

Outstanding defensive play coupled with a strong offense gave the Lockney Longhorns a 12-0 upset over the favored Petersburg Buffaloes at the home game.

while McCormick carried ten times for 74 yards and the other Longhorn TD.

The Lockney defense, led by linebacker Kyle Brock, held the Buffaloes to 145 total yards, producing four pass interceptions and one recovered fumble.

Six times the Longhorn defense threw the Petersburg backs for losses, and it allowed less than one yard on ten other tries.

After kicking off to open the game, the 'Horns looked like they'd get an early score when they got a turnover on off-target pitchout.

With that turnover, Petersburg put together one of its two serious scoring the third play of the game when McDonald intercepted a pass by Petersburg's Doug Fullingim at the Buffaloes' 41-yard line. The Longhorns moved the ball to the 25, but a fumble ended the advance.

Neither team threatened to score again until the second quarter when Petersburg got as far as the Lockney 28-yard line. But the drive ended when the Lockney defense, led by Jeff Reece and Marc Schacht, stopped Petersburg's David Juarez just short of a first down on a fourth and two play.

A short time later, the Longhorns found the end zone when Israel Guerra intercepted another Fullingim pass and returned it nine yards to the Petersburg 46 yard line.

McDonald took four plays to cover the remaining distance as the 'Horns scored with 3:07 left to go in the half for a 6-0 lead. The kick was blocked.

Lockney threatened to score again in the third quarter but their drive stalled at the Petersburg 16 yard line when the Buffaloes' Ronny Lang recovered an intercept of the second half. But that drive ended with an interception on the Lockney 35 yard line.

Petersburg later went down to the Lockney 24 early in the fourth quarter, but McDonald recovered a Fullingim fumble and the Buffaloes never threatened again.

The Longhorns' other score came with just 37 seconds left in the game when McCormick climaxed a 55-yard drive with a 35-yard touchdown run. The conversion failed again.

IN FIRST QUARTER ACTION Lockney downs a Petersburg ball carrier. The Longhorns gained 227 yards rushing in the Friday night game to beat Petersburg 12-0.

Ray, Wester plan October wedding

Dawn Ray and Todd Wester, are proud to announce their engagement and forthcoming marriage on October 17, 1981, at the First United Methodist Church in Grand Prairie, Texas.

Miss Ray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Ray of Grand Prairie, attended North Texas State University and is presently a flight attendant for American Airlines.

Mr. Wester is a graduate of Texas State University and is presently a salesman for...

MRS. ROBERT FERGUSON

Fawver, Robert Ferguson in Plainview Saturday night

Memorial Chapel Baptist University was setting for a wedding on Saturday evening, September 12.

The bride is Leslie Fawver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Fawver of Floydada, Texas.

The groom is Robert Ferguson of Plainview. All wore ivory lace trim forming a shawl neckline and contour hemline accented with huckleberry ribbon sash. An ivory lace-purse fan was carried by each.

The honored couple pledged their marriage promises at an altar graced with a white wrought-iron archway entwined with lemon leaves greenery and violet asters.

RECEPTION

Serving at the reception in the Heritage Room of Van Howeling Library were Mrs. Steve Ferguson, sister-in-law of the groom, Mrs. Jackie Clark and Mrs. Eddie Guffee. Reception hostesses were Marilyn Thompson and Mrs. Jeff Doughten.

The combination table was laid with a white cloth accented with a lilac eyelet runner. Focal point was a white wrought iron votive candleholder holding purple candles. White milk glass serving appointments and lilac napkins completed the table arrangement.

Glorietta, New Mexico was the destination for the wedding trip. The couple will be home after Wednesday.

Mrs. Ferguson is a graduate of Floydada High School and Draughton's Business College. She is currently employed by Dr. Dan McLallen at Wayland Baptist University and is also sponsor of Omega Phi Alpha Sorority at WBU.

Ferguson, also a Floydada, High School graduate, was graduated from Clarendon Jr. College. He is a member of the Jaycees in Floydada and is presently farming.

The rehearsal party was held at K-Bob's hosted by the groom's parents.

COURTESIES

Pre-nuptial courtesies include a shower in the home of Mrs. L.B. Stewart, Assisting Mrs. Stewart with hostess duties were Mmes. W.C. Snodgrass, Bill Daniel, Thomas Warren, Allen Birmingham, Bill Marrs, Tommy Assiter, Weldon Becker, I.B. Stewart, Bob Alldredge, R.H. Lutrick, Franklin Harris, Wilson Bond and Bill Hendrix.

Assisting Mrs. Dan McLallen of Plainview with a shower in her home were Mmes. Roy Boles, Jeff Doughten, Jackie Clark, Eddie Guffee, Arch Mayfield, Mark Sartain, Lena Faye Alford, Bob Simmons, Reed Harris, Dr. Glenna Dod and Edna Hudgins.

The McLallen home was also the setting for a fingerie shower given by Omega Phi Alpha sorority. Hostesses were Alta Blake, Cnty Brazeal, D'Lesia Garnett, Mika Moore, Janice Lyles, Nancy Bentley, Kim Lav, Vickie Harper and Janet Johnson, all active members. Lisa Payne, Jerilyn Willis, Christy Smith and Larie Grant, alumni, and Myrna Clark and Connie Wakefield, sponsors.

time out for GOD

"Justified Without A Cause"

God tells us in His Word that believers are "justified freely by His grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus" (Rom. 3:24). The word "freely," here, does not mean "without cost," but "without cause." The same original word is so translated in John 15:25, where we find the words of Christ: "They hated Me without a cause."

Thus sinners hated Christ "without a cause," yet God justified sinners "without a cause." How can this be? Let's see:

What had Christ done to earn the enmity of men? Nothing whatever. He had been kind and good, had helped those in distress, had healed the sick, had made the dumb to speak, the deaf to hear, the blind to see and the lame to leap for joy. Why, then, did they hate Him? The Bible says they hated Him "without a cause," i.e., without any cause in Him. The cause of their hatred lay in their own evil hearts.

But on the other hand, what have sinners done to merit justification before God? Again the answer is: Nothing whatever. They have broken His commandments every day, lying, stealing and committing hundreds of other sins. Yet in love God gave His Son to die for them on Calvary "that He might be just and (at the same time) the Justifier of him that believeth in Jesus" (Rom. 3:26). He loves and justifies believers "without a cause," i.e., without any cause in them. The cause is to be found in His own compassionate heart, for "GOD IS LOVE."

Thus those who trust in Christ, who died for our sins, are justified without a cause, by God's grace, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus.

"GOD COMMENDETH HIS LOVE TOWARD US IN THAT WHILE WE WERE YET SINNERS CHRIST DIED FOR US" (Rom. 5:8)

"BY THIS MAN IS PREACHED THE FORGIVENESS OF SINS, AND BY HIM ALL THAT BELIEVE ARE JUSTIFIED FROM ALL THINGS, FROM WHICH YE COULD NOT BE JUSTIFIED BY THE LAW OF MOSES" (Acts 13:38,39)

ON THE BALLOT

Joint Resolution
 House Joint Resolution 11 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize a person to receive a patent to land from the Commissioner of the General Land Office under certain conditions. The amendment must be made within five years from approval of the amendment. The land must be surveyed, public school land not presently patentable. The person must have a property recorded deed to the land and his predecessor in interest have held the land for at least 50 years. The person and his predecessor in interest must have continuously claimed the land for at least 50 years. This amendment does not apply to beach land, riparian land, or land that has been patented under this provision to resolve a boundary dispute. This will not apply which has been determined to be by a court of jurisdiction or other taxing units to that exemptions from ad valorem taxes on undeveloped, underdeveloped or blighted area in order to encourage its development. The amendment would also allow the legislature to authorize a city or town to issue bonds or notes to finance development and to increase in such valorem tax revenues the property in such area to repay these bonds or notes.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitution of this state is amended to authorize cities, towns and other taxing units to encourage its development, improvement, development, or redevelopment of certain areas through property tax relief and the issuance of bonds and notes."

South Plains Fair

Clark D. McDermott and his "Cold Nose Five" will be among the many free attractions booked for the outdoor stage at the 64th annual Panhandle South Plains Fair September 26-October 3.

Dermott's "Cold Nose Five" actually are beautiful Alsatian Shepherd dogs performing extraordinary tricks in unique costuming and with special equipment. It marks their first appearance in Lubbock and shows will be presented at 5 p.m., 7 p.m. and 9 p.m. daily.

The magic of Bob Ford and South Plains College's "Raisin' a Ruckus" productions, also are being featured on the outdoor stage, according to Steve L. Lewis, general manager.

In addition, other acts will include Fox Fire, Texas Train Band, the Texas Tech Raiderettes, Plainview Hoedowners, The Echo Valley Boys plus square dancing and tumbling demonstrations will fill spots on the daily calendars, Lewis noted.

Because they are efficient, devoted and reliable, Alsatian Shepherds are used as guide dogs for the blind.

In some of their tricks, the quintet rides in scooters, balances on a rope, pushes a baby buggy, jumps rope, climbs ladders and other feats.

A highlight of the act is the "barrel roll", in which one of the animals remains inside a wide barrel-type hoop, while another sits on top of the rim, accelerating its spin.

"The Magic of Bob Ford" pleases crowd

"The magic of Bob Ford," which has pleased audiences in Lubbock for two previous years, is being returned to the 64th annual Panhandle South Plains Fair September 26-October 3.

General manager Steve L. Lewis said Ford's popular show will be staged three times daily throughout the eight-day run. It will be on the outdoor stage at 5:30 p.m., 7:30 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. daily.

A wide variety of featured acts has been scheduled each day on the outdoor stage, ranging from Ford's magic to performing dogs, the bluegrass music, dance and tumbling demonstrations and others.

Ford started his magic in 1946 and continues to add new tricks, creating new illusions and polishing old ones. He was a member of the first USO show in Vietnam in 1964 and also has performed in Europe.

As the 1974 president of the Texas Association of Magicians, Ford largely was responsible for assembling one of the most spectacular magic conventions ever held in the state.

Ford is an associate member of the Inner Magic Circle of the London Magic Circle. The English club is the only magic club in the world you must progress by degrees.

In each degree, a member must appear before a board of peers and perform. In addition, he also is a member of the International Brotherhood of Magicians, Society of American Magicians and the Texas association.

Lewis said the activities planned for the outdoor stage offered "entertainment for everyone, regardless of age."

The same is true for Fair Park Coliseum, where seven shows have been slated.

fall season for 21st year

Six Flags Over Texas has begun weekend-only operation for the fall months following a spring and summer which produced an average attendance increase of 1,000 visitors a day.

The Arlington theme park welcomed its two millionth visitor of the 1981 season during the last week of August, the final week of daily operation.

Six Flags will open on Saturdays and Sundays through the end of November.

Attendance at the state's most-visited tourist attraction averaged just over 15,000 guests per day, compared to slightly less than 14,000 per day in 1980.

Six Flags' general manager Ray Williams, said, "We expect rather healthy attendance during the fall months. Over our 2 seasons of operation many of our regular guests have found that the park is most enjoyable at this time of year."

The crowds are roughly half the size of those in the spring and summer, and, of course, our visitors don't have to contend with heat."

Week of September 20 - 26

VIRGO

(August 24 - September 23) Try to be understanding with a child who may need your sympathy. Any travel plans made now might be changed.

LIBRA

(September 24 - October 23) Depending on someone else instead of yourself could lead to a disappointment. Trust your instincts in business.

SCORPIO

(October 24 - November 22) An associate may be harder to work with than you had anticipated. Your feelings for a family member could change.

SAGITTARIUS

(November 23 - December 21) Counting your congratulations before you finish your current project might not be a wise idea for many reasons.

CAPRICORN

(December 22 - January 20) Judging someone without knowing the facts of the situation could lead to regrets when the truth is finally out.

AQUARIUS

(January 21 - February 19) An associate may have a change of heart in a matter involving a business project. Watch your budget carefully.

PISCES

(February 20 - March 20) Before making any spur of the moment decisions, be sure you are not acting in haste because of your emotions.

ARIES

(March 21 - April 20) Putting trust in an acquaintance may annoy others who have known you longer and don't trust this person.

TAURUS

(April 21 - May 21) Be honest with yourself about your feelings for a former lover. Spend more time with relatives.

GEMINI

(May 22 - June 21) Refrain from jumping to conclusions because of what a friend tells you. There may be facts you are unaware of.

CANCER

(June 22 - July 23) Career commitments could prevent you from socializing as much as you would like to with a new crowd of people.

LEO

(July 24 - August 23) You may not be able to stop a rift from developing between friends. A love affair could take an unusual turn.

FALL GARDENING
 Fall gardening is a concept in which involves replanting or planting a new garden done in such a way and on schedule to bring it in full production during the fall months of September, October, and November. You do this with some plants like tomatoes and peppers which must be planted back in June or July if they're going to bring their peak production in sometime during September, October, and November.

Gardening in the fall is another concept that is how to care for and make a garden most productive that has been grown during the summer and how to care for it in such a way that it brings out its maximum production during the fall months.

This a pattern of weather which is very conducive to the growth of new plants and germination of seeds. There has been heavy rainfall in most areas of the Plains and the Panhandle. The soil has been leached of many of the salts that are in the municipal water supplies. The soil is in good condition to plant.

Many vegetables can be started from seed now and will grow and mature in the months to come and up through early winter. Some of these plants are taller than the frost and some are not. The ones that are not taller than the frost are going to be fast growing in order to make their growth and produce their crop before the frost comes.

Some of the vegetables that are not frost taller but will grow fast are like: Summer Squash, which will be ready in approximately 35 to 40 days from seed; cucumber, which can be ready in approximately 50 days; English Peas (particularly the sugar snap) will be ready in about 60 to 65 days. Although they're risky, it's well worth the chance to take to enjoy these peas in the fall. They are susceptible to hard freeze and damage from freeze as they approach maturity.

A list of plants and vegetables that can be planted now and will do well in the fall gardening and other information to take good care of fall gardening are available from County Agents.

INSECTS AND DISEASE PROBLEMS

There has been a peak of aphids activity. Aphids are into cucumbers and tomatoes. There has been spider mite problems. Right now tomato pin worm is the problem. People need to take care of their plants to reduce the chance of activity and damage. The pin worm likes lot of leave cover and lots of darkness. The adult lays the eggs where it is dark and merky and near the bottom of the plants and underneath the leaves. Pull the leaves away on tomatoes that are already established and fruiting. The stems that have produced their fruit load can be cut off. Open the plant so that light and air can circulate through the stems. Then apply a good fungicide. A fungicide that will control the late blight in tomato plants. Apply at the same time a good material diazonium which is a good prospector insecticide that will kill aphids and will control pinworms that are not well established.

There are still two months of good gardening days ahead here in the High Plains and Panhandle of Texas.
