County tax appraisal board

School board nominates five

The county appraisal district board will oversee the work of the newly activated central appraisal office which combines the duties of all taxing units in the county under one roof and under the direction of one tax assessor-collector. The law governing the new taxing system was passed by the state Legislature in its last session.

In other business, the board discussed the very serious drop in enrollments experienced by the Lockney Hallmark pointed out that total school enrollment is down 83 students from the total in November of 1979 when it was 918. The enrollment in November 1980 was 880 and the total for the same month in 1981 is 835.

This can have a very detrimental effect on the school tax money available in the district and, since state financial aid is based on average daily attendance, the lower number of students erodes the amount of funds available from the state.

Another factor considered by the board is the district alignments recently announced by the UIL which puts Lockney at a distinct disadvantage due to the enrollment being substantially lower than that of other schools in the district.

The matter was in the discussion stage only and no action is contemplated on it in the near future.

The board approved a request by the Quarterback Club for a dance to be held Saturday, November 14.

At the October meeting of the board—not previously reported by the Beacon—approval was given to revise upward the salaries of school lunchroom employees to conform to the raises recently given by the state to other non-professional workers.

The resignation of Jack Samford as LISD tax assessor-collector was accepted by the board. Samford held that position for 13 years before his resignation to move to Littlefield as Lamb County Tax Appraiser.

The board adopted a revision of the

The Salvation Army's services for the less fortunate in this area. "We are confident that our community will support the emergency fund program as generously as in the past," Vernon stated.

round program of aid to people with emergency needs. Acting on behalf of The Salvation Army, the committee arranges for food, lodging, utilities or other basic necessities that a family or an individual might require in a crisis situation. The Service Unit committee also acts as liaison with The Salvation Army's statewide programs. Some of these services are: summer outings for boys at the Army's Camp Hoblitzelle near Dallas; help for paroled prisoners; and emergency relief in time of natural disaster. Members of the committee are: Joe Charles, Carol Manley, Art Barker, Evelyn Vernon. Volunteers to help in the drive are still needed and they can offer their services by contacting either Barker or myself campaign chairman Vernon stated.

City Council names Dipprey new member

The appointment and swearing in of a new Alderman was the main order of business at the regular monthly meeting of the Lockney city council Thursday morning, November 5.

J.W. (Dub) Dipprey was unanimously voted into office by the council and was sworn in by the city secretary. He will serve out the unexpired term of Roy Holly who recently retired and moved to DeLeon, Texas. The term expires in April 1982, at which time an election of Aldermen will take place.

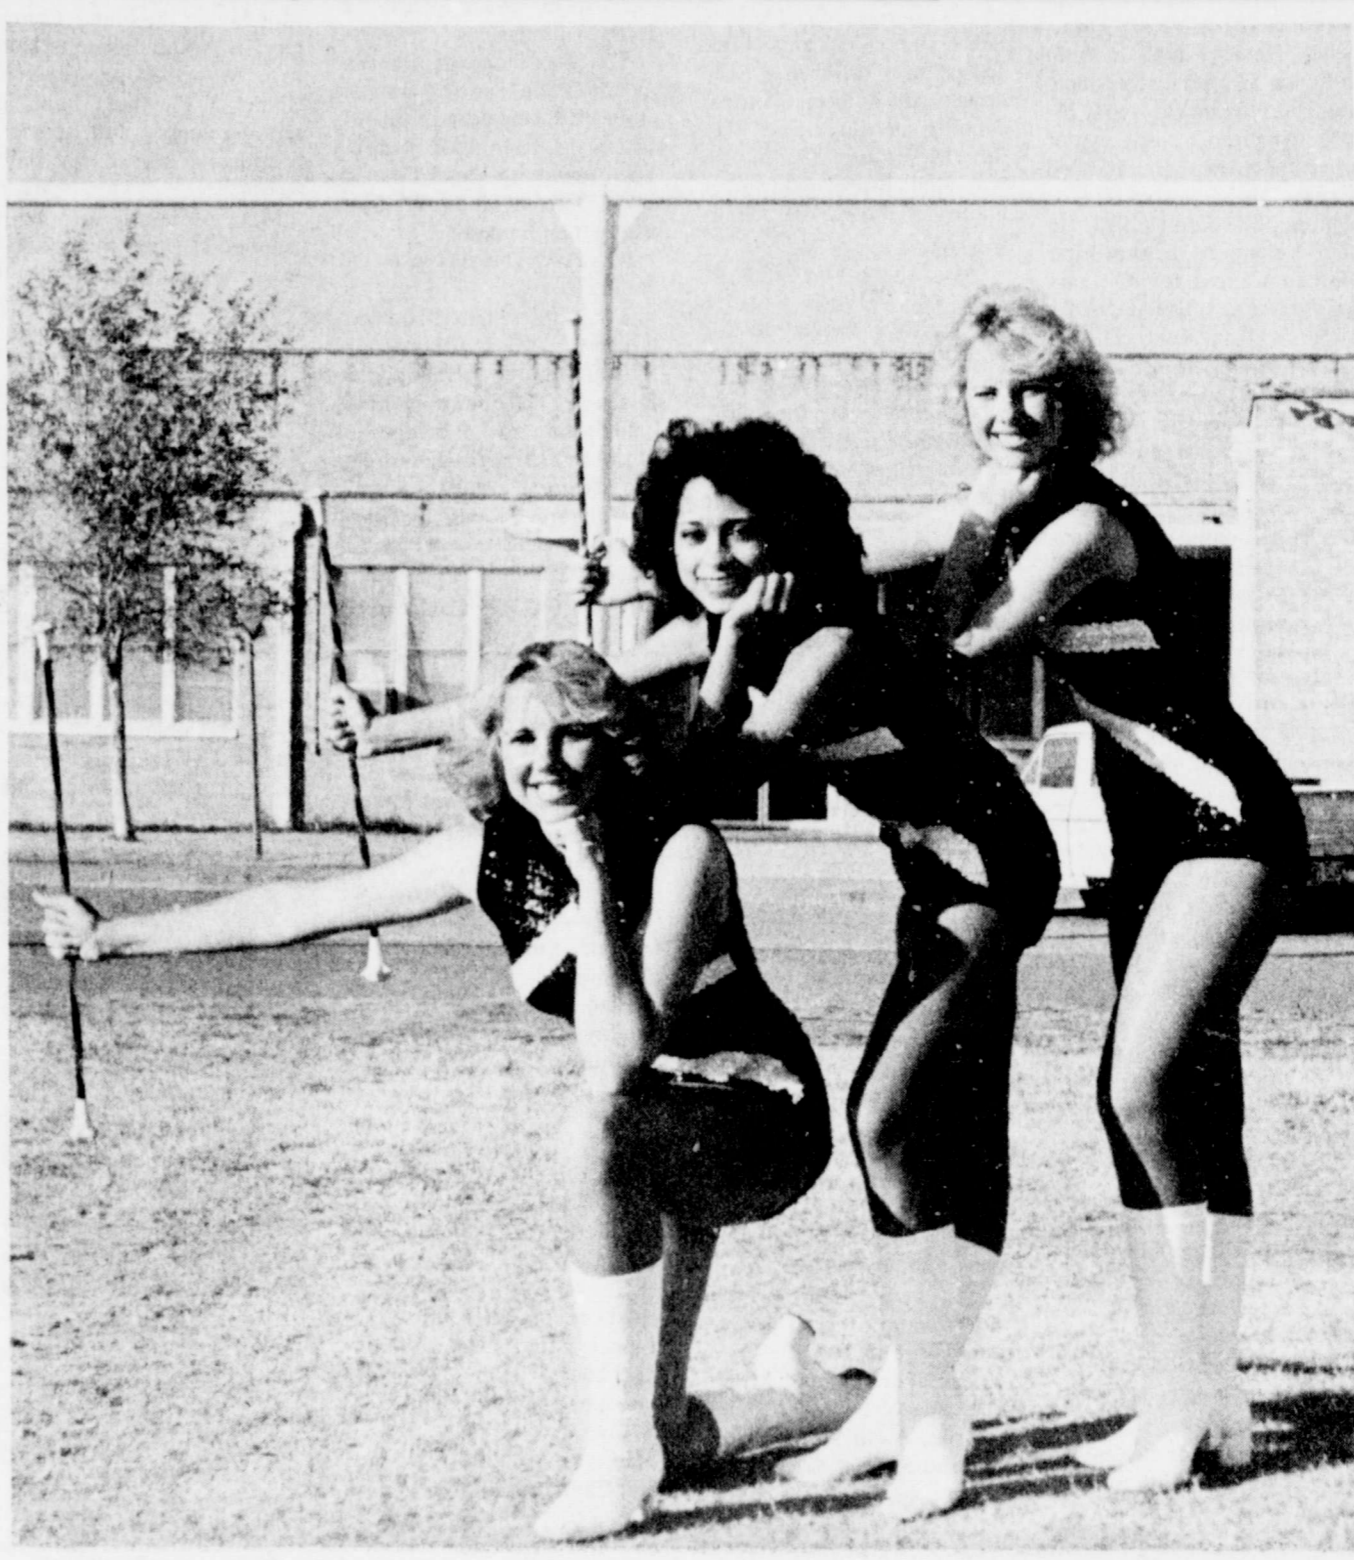

In other business, Ms. Barbara Holt, who is acting for the city as coordinator of the Community Development Block Grant program presently underway in Lockney, gave the council an update briefing on the project and made recommendations on how to improve its progress. Ms. Holt, who is with the engineering firm of Parkhill, Smith and Cooper, Inc., was highly instrumental in obtaining the federal funds for the city and was asked by the council to supervise the project.

The grant is in the amount of $812,000 and will be used over the next two years to install new water and sewer lines, to rehabilitate some 35 substandard residential houses and to pave certain streets in the project target area in northeast Lockney.

Lockney police chief Bill McConnell informed the council that he has received a directive from higher up requiring higher standards for city policemen in the use of firearms. He asked for and received from the council authority to purchase additional ammunition for target practice to bring his men up to the requirements of the new law.

OUTSTANDING TWIRLERS—The Lockney High School Twirlers won a rating of I and gold medals at the regional band competitions held at Texas Tech University last Wednesday. The high rating automatically qualifies them to go to Austin in the spring and participate in the state UIL competitions. Left to right they are Terri Sparkman, Freshman, Margie Araujo, Junior and Julie Collins, Sophomore.

Longhorn band places high

The Lockney High School Longhorn Band came away from the regional UIL marching competition held at Texas Tech University last Wednesday with some notable additions to its trophy case.

In the 58-band contest, the Longhorns garnered a rating of II, close behind the twelve organizations that rated a I. The Longhorn twirling ensemble of Julie Collins, Margie Araujo and Terri Sparkman won First Division medals and the right to participate in the UIL state championship competition in Austin in the spring of 1982.

The final rating of the Lockney band came on a split decision as one of the three judges gave them a rating of I and the other two voted for II's.

Band Director Larry Williams had these comments to make about the competition: "I was very proud of the way our kids performed. We just made some mistakes that we had never made before. They had worked very hard in practice in preparation for this competition, and it is a shame that they fell one vote short of a I rating. The judges—and this was the most severely judged contest I have ever seen—were very complimentary toward our band."

"I am extremely proud of Margie, Julie and Terri. They worked very hard preparing for this contest and their efforts paid off. The girls get along very well together and are constantly working to improve their performance. They are a great asset to our band."

County library board OK'd

County Commissioners gave the go-ahead to "Friends of the Library" representative Janice Lloyd in answer to her request for the formation of a library board.

She will offer names of county residents, who have an interest in the library and who are qualified, to act on its behalf as a member of the board.

Two board members would be chosen from each of the four precincts and one member at large would be named.

In a statement to the court Lloyd said that the library is a county facility, and that a board would be more representative of the county with members from the different communities.

She also said that a board is particularly needed at this time since both librarians are new. The board will be able to establish policy she said. She hastened to add that any policy would come about only by approval of the court.

One of the commissioners wanted to know how the formation of the board would effect the "Friends" group, and would it not be the same thing.

Lloyd said that the board would be a go between the library and the court. That the "Friends" is a support group and that "we could very well have the two groups."

She added that the board would have more to do with the business of the library. "Because of everyone's concern they'd like to see a change of hours. Perhaps being open through the noon hours for those who work," she said.

"If we had a board, we could sit down

County-wide recipe contest announced

This is the time of the year when the cooks of the county begin pouring over recipe books and magazine articles to find a new and original dish to go with the traditional fare of holiday goodies.

To this end, the Hesperian and Beacon (with the help of Home Economist Marilyn Tate) are sponsoring a recipe exchange.

In order to stimulate participation we will sponsor a contest with weekly winners for the next three weeks.

Contest rules are simple, and winners will be named on a point system. You will get one point for each recipe entered. Recipes may be either written or typed and delivered to either the Beacon or Hesperian office.

There will be three winning recipes each week. Those recipes will be published in that week's newspaper. The first place winner will receive 5 points; second place, 4 points; and third place, 3 points.

On December 10 we will publish in both the Hesperian and Beacon the Floyd County Cookbook. In it will be every recipe sent in over the three week period. We will also print up extra copies of the cookbook which may be purchased and given as gifts.

The first week, recipes for salad and

It has always been our contention that there has never been a newspaperman so skillful and perceptive that he could walk into a town as a total stranger and begin immediately to pontificate through a column or editorials before he becomes at least minimally acquainted with that town and its people.

Although most all small West Texas towns bear a strong resemblance, they are just like people, they each one possess their own individuality and "personality" which is the product of the citizens who reside there.

Therefore, it behooves a "new" editor to take time to get to know the town and its people before he begins popping off. If, by now, you are wondering what we are getting at, it is simply this: we feel that seven editions of the Beacon is not enough time for us to become sufficiently acquainted with you to begin writing a serious column. However, there are certain things that we need to communicate to our readers, so we will confine this first effort to them—as the best way to get the message across.

First, it has been decreed that the Beacon will be a one-man operation, and we old editor is "it." That means he has to be away from the office a good deal with no one there to answer the telephone when you call us. We have tried to alleviate this problem by installing an answering service which will take your message or phone number if you will state it on the phone.

Most people are reluctant to use these new "gadgets" and we admit that it took some getting used to for us also, but if the caller will please just quickly state his phone number, we will get back to him right away. We hate to think about all the good stuff we may be missing because of people's reluctance to use that "infernal device." *****

Another thing we wanted to get over to you is that we are well aware of the sad state of our subscription mailing system at the present time. This comes from years of neglect and will take some time to clear up. We are presently changing over to what we believe will be a much more efficient system and, hopefully, within a short time we will have the problem corrected and all our subscribers will be getting their papers promptly every week.

Race returns to Floyd County as new manager of Farm Bureau agency

James Race has returned to Floyd County to head-up the Farm Bureau office. Don Morrison, former agency manager, has moved back to the Plainview office.

Race was born in Floydada, raised in Lockney, and began working as an agent in Floyd County in 1974.

For the past three and a half years, he has lived in Tulia and managed the Swisher County Farm Bureau. That agency was the top sales office in the state of Texas last year. In 1979 the agency produced over 6 million; in '80 it produced over 7 million; and in '81 it will produce over 10 million.

Race was personally responsible for over 2 million in sales in 1979, and over 2 1/2 million in sales in 1980.

Race's enthusiasm and energy have carried over into numerous community services. He was president of Lockney Lions Club when he lived in that town and president of the Tulia Club during the time he lived there.

He was president of the Lockney Chamber of Commerce two years in a row. He was a member of the Chamber Industrial Board in Tulia.

He has been Vice-President of the Tennis Club in both towns also.

In 1977 Race was chosen one of the "Outstanding Young Men of America" and received a plaque. In 1978 he received a plaque as "Community Leader and Noteworthy American."

His wide range of interests include: Caller for square dances from '68 to '74; and for the past 19 years he has served as referee in several sports.

He has umpired little league baseball, refereed Jr. High and Junior Varsity football, and for the past two years has refereed soccer in Tulia.

Race and his wife, Sherry, are in the process of selling their home and re-locating in Floydada. Their daughter Nicki is a freshman at Tulia High School and will remain in school there until the family moves. Race is commuting at the present time.

Jeff Race, son, is a freshman at Amarillo Jr. College. He is living and working in Amarillo.

"We are glad to be coming back to Floyd County," Race said.

The person most responsible for Race being able to return to Floyd County is Don Grantham. It was Grantham who hired and trained Race during the time he was manager of Floyd County Farm Bureau. Grantham is now District Sales Manager and as such approved Race for this county.

The other career agents are Max Jones, who came to Floydada from Crane. He was a coach before going into the insurance field.

Donice Casey, Sterley, began as agent in April of this year.

The two secretaries are Mitzi Nixon, Floydada, and Linda Cunyus, Lockney.

"We are hoping that everyone will come in and have coffee with us while they used to," Race said.

MRS. CLEON WILLIAMS NAMKEN

Galloway-Namaken wedding vows pledged in Lubbock.

In a church lit with candlelight from numerous candelabra and enhanced with ribbons and flowers Margaret Ann Galloway and Cleon Williams Namken pledged their wedding vows on the evening of November 7 in Saint John's United Methodist Church in Lubbock.

The 7 p.m. wedding ceremony was performed by David Black, minister, of Lubbock.

The bride is the daughter of Georgia Galloway of Lockney and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Myron H. Namken, Lubbock.

Musical selections were performed by vocalists Barry Canter and Natilie Berryhill, both of Lubbock. Beverly Strickland and Mark Tavenner, both of Lubbock, were piano player and organist, respectively.

Presiding at the register was Ms. Karen Douglas of Lubbock.

Escorting guests to their seats were Eugene Swaffar, cousin of the bride, and Russell Namken, brother of the groom, both of Lubbock. They were attired in Silver Blake by Lord West, with white ruffled shirts and silver pants, vest and ties. Candelighters were Christy Tyson of Lubbock and Russell Namken, brother of the groom of Lubbock. Miss Tyson was dressed in a formal length Rose Silesta chiffon dress.

Presented in marriage by her brother, Dale Galloway, the bride wore a white gown of sheer satin organza designed by Priscilla of Boston. The moulded bodice featured a wedding band neckline of venise and bristol laces. The entire bodice was embellished in venise lace flowers and delicate bristol lace. The sheer Bishop sleeves were defined at the wrist with venise and bristol laces and featured a button closure.

The empire waistline fell to a natural waistline in the back. The A-line skirt featured venise and bristol lace front appliques and swept to back fullness forming a chapel length train. A narrow lace ruffle edged the hemline and train of the underneath layer of the double layered skirt. Bristol lace encircled the hemline and train of the top layer.

To complete her ensemble the bride chose a silk illusion veiling caught to a venise lace Juliet capulet. The scalloped waltz length veil was edged in matching venise lace. A single row of tiny seed pearls encircled the edge of each scallop. Venise lace motifs were sprinkled at the crown of the veil and at the tip of each scallop.

She carried a bouquet of wine colored sweetheart roses, daphne pink carnations with a touch of paperwhites and baby's breath emphasized with white lace back and ribbon. It was styled in a colonial with small cascades.

Following tradition, the bride had for something old, a ring of the groom's grandmother; something new was her wedding dress; something borrowed was a pair of diamond earrings; and something blue was the traditional garter, which was made by Mrs. M.D. Arterburn of Lockney.

Her brother was attired in Silver Blake by Lord West with a white ruffled shirt and silver pants, vest and tie.

Bridal attendants, Trena Corbell, maid of honor, and Darla Jefferson, bridesmaid, both of Lubbock, wore contrasting rose and wine gowns, respectively, of Silesta Chiffon designed by Bernelle Fashions of New York.

The one piece gown featured a blouson bodice, scooped neckline and split chiffon sleeves. From the natural waistline layers of chiffon fell forming the handkerchief hemline. A self fabric bow encircled and tied at the waist.

They carried the traditional colonial style bouquets using the same colors as the bride. Cascading ribbons were of contrasting color to their dresses.

Lee Ann Galloway, niece of the bride of Lockney, served as flower girl. She was dressed in a long wine Silesta chiffon dress.

The bridegroom was attired in Silver Bennett tails by Lord West with a white ruffled shirt and silver pants, vest and tie.

Best man, James Weddell, groomsman, Gary Birdsall and ring bearer, Shane Kimball, all of Lubbock, wore Silver Blake by Lord West

This has really been a hectic two weeks!! We really got into the Halloween Spirit with our Spook Day. We had many unusual spooks, witches, ghosts, clowns, "Yoda" from "Star Wars", "Farmer Jones", you name it-that spook visited us.

The spookiest resident was Sherman Brashears, and the cutest spook was

The Rev. Michael O'Connor's

Perspectives

We are being taken over. By what? Computers, that's what. And I'm not sure that I'm all that ready, or even like the idea very much.

Mind you, I'm pretty much like anybody else. I own a couple of microchip driven games, and really enjoy playing with them. I go by the computer displays at the electronics stores and wonder what it would be like to sit down and punch a few keys.

But I don't like the blasted machines talking to me. The Japanese have a car out now that tells you, with a voice, not little flashing "idiot" lights, to turn out your lights, fasten your seat belt, etc. And your home computer, which some experts feel will be in 85% of our homes in about 10-20 years, can talk to you as well.

The things that bother me about these incredible thinking gadgets are probably small matters. I'm afraid I'll never really learn how to run one of the things with out goofing up all the information in it. Somebody would always be troubleshooting it for me.

I worry that if I had a computer it would eventually tell me I could not do something, and refuse to let me do whatever it was I wanted to do. Look at the space shuttle. The computers won out over men who just knew the bird would have been ok if they had gone ahead and launched.

What bothers me most, though, is the report I read which said adequate safeguards and rules for information access have not kept pace with the development of hardware. Our lives are being stored on little computer chips all over the nation, and it won't take someone very long to figure out how to get that information and use it against us.

I don't object to the technology, per se. I do have a concern that we be careful building things without knowing adequately what we are going to do with them. Every great advance has the potential for great harm. We need to be concerned about that harm and head off whatever we are able to.

Richard Lanham. The spookiest employee was Elizabeth Foster our Director of Nurses.

The highlight of the Halloween Week was the Halloween Party, the ladies of the San Jose Catholic Church gave for the Residents. The party was lovely and we thank these lovely ladies for their thoughtfulness and kindness.

Our Halloween Bake Sale was a big success. The Residents made $114.00 for their activity fund. We thank everyone who donated and bought the baked items. The Residents are already planning a Christmas Bake Sale. They are really enterprising!

Our bingo games are becoming more and more enjoyable. We have had so many winners, Mamie Wofford, Birda Foster, Richard Lanham, Myrtle Burke, Jewell Miller, Ruby Vaughan, and Alma McDonald. Our congratulation to all these lucky winners.

After the game the residents have been enjoying some delicious ice cream thanks to some very generous people. Thanks goes to Alice Mitchell, DeLinda Glasson, Almada Phillips, and Jane Martinez.

We welcome our administrator Lavener Christian back. Mrs. Christin was out having surgery. Having her back is a real joy to all of us. We truly missed her.

We have added some very special people to our family: Marie Howard from Fort Worth, a cousin of Homer and Norma Ragland; Mattie Gogdill from Quitaque, mother of Leon Elliott; Mary Green of Lockney, Mother of Mrs. M.A. Ulmer; J.T. Strickland of Floydada, father of Bill Strickland and D.M. Grabbe of Silverton, father of L.E. Grabbe. We welcome these special people and are looking forward to them joining in on our activities.

The residents are compiling a cookbook, if you would like to have one of your recipes in our book bring it by the nursing home and we would love to oput it in our book.

Workers help keep Lockney looking good

Mr. Petronilo Ortiz is helping keep the city of Lockney looking good.

During the past few months, Mr. Ortiz has painted the city's fire hydrants, kept the park tidy, trimmed the hedgerows and done other work around the town. He is a participant of the Green Thumb organization — an older worker employment and placement program in the rural area.

Green Thumb is sponsored by National Farmers Union and funded through a grant from the U.S. Department of Labor.

The program places low income men and women of 55 years of age or older into employment. While under the program the participants are placed with private or public non-profit organizations. The main objective of the program is to find unsubsidized employment in the community for the participants. Employers hiring an older worker are getting someone with years of valuable experience. National surveys show the older worker is more reliable than younger workers, they have fewer accidents — and if they have an accident — they are back on the job in less time. They do not quit their jobs as frequently as younger workers. Employers are encouraged to consider an older worker. The district office of Green Thumb for this area is located in Lubbock. If anyone is interested in knowing more about the Green Thumb program they are welcome to call, 806-747-8342 (Lubbock).

Lloyd was asked if there had not been a library board at one time.

She answered that there had, but that it was "at the first" and that the board was dissolved because "the interest and work it out," she said.

"Anything would have to be approved by the court?" Judge Smith asked.

"Yes," Lloyd answered, "any suggestions would be brought before the court."

Commissioner Sam Spence said that he "felt like it would be a good thing."

Judge Smith said, "(Since) any policy would have to come before the court, I can't see it would hurt anything."

Spring-like weather experienced by South Plains

November 9: Showers fell here last night, with lots of rain falling through the hours, but there were great amounts of rain during the morning during the showers again. Then the clouds moved away, and this Monday, bright, cold and clear. The Lockney Elevator here at South Plains told us the low temperature Sunday night was a freeze.

Louzilla Nichols.

We wish to extend congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Terry Brewer, recently married couple. Mrs. Brewer was formerly Susie Probasco who grew up here in South Plains and is the daughter of Mr. Don Probasco and Mrs. Oddie Mae Probasco.

Mrs. Carrie Staples from Shapleigh, Maine, arrived in Lubbock by plane Sunday night and was met by her son, Howard and wife, Anelda Staples and children. Howard had not seen his mother for over ten years, and she has come to spend a month with them here.

Mrs. Fred Marble of South Plains (Carolyn) was hostess at a baby shower on September 24 honoring twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Roby and Teresa Lutrick. Teresa is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Stewart here in South Plains, and grew up in this vicinity, attending schools here. They make their home in Hereford. Over 50 friends, relatives and neighbors were present for the shower, or sent gifts for the twin babies, Tobi Lynn and Tessa Lannette. Hostesses presented the twins two high chairs.

South Plains Hobby Club will meet this Wednesday at 2:00 p.m. in Lockney at the home of Mrs. Fred Fortenberry.

Donald McClure of Houston came in last Wednesday from Houston to be with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClure, and to share the birthday of his mother, Mrs. McClure on November 6. Mrs. Alvin Nichols visited in Plainview with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Walker on Monday a few weeks ago. We are sorry to hear that little Amy Bethel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rogene Bethel of South Plains fell at school and broke her arm and is in the Caprock Hospital in Floydada in traction since October 28. We hope she will be able to have her arm put in a sling soon, and be able to come home.

Rev. and Mrs. Cecil Osborne had a house full of company over the past weekend. From Dallas their daughter, Mrs. Karen Mauney, and from Mineral Wells, Barbara Bryan, and Mrs. Linda Somers, and daughters, Jennifer and Jaime, and from Muleshoe her mother, Mrs. Cordie Taylor, all were present over the weekend, and were guests at Sunday School and church services Sunday morning. The young folks all left for their homes Sunday afternoon but Mrs. Taylor is still here visiting at the parsonage.

Missy Files, a freshman at Wayland College was a guest with Rev. and Mrs. Cecil Osborne Sunday afternoon and was a visitor at Sunday evening church services at the South Plains Baptist Church.

The Caprock Associational Church meeting will be held this Tuesday, November 10th, beginning at 5:30 p.m. at the First Baptist Church in Spur.

Miss Denise Johnson, bride-elect of John Burson, will be honored with a bridal shower on Saturday, November 14th, at the home of Mrs. Ruby Higginbotham in South Plains.

Mrs. Murray Julian left Lubbock, October 21, by plane for Denver, Colorado, where she was met by her niece, Mrs. Kay Huntley, and her sister, Mrs. B. Sandusky. She visited one day with them and other relatives there, and Friday Mrs. Sandusky and Mrs. Julian were taken to the airport by Mrs. Huntley and they boarded the plane for Seattle, Washington, where they went to meet their brother, Willis Everist and his wife Nancy and a score of nieces, nephews and their children and enjoyed trips around the beautiful countryside of Washington. In Denver the leaves were perfectly beautiful and trees were heavy with foliage. Lovely colors from reds, golden yellows, and all shades in between were in their greatest beauty both in Colorado and Washington. There were soft rains day and night in Washington, but lots of sunshine, too, and trips to Tacoma, Puyallup to see friends there were enjoyed, as well as fresh oysters from Hood Canal, and getting to see new babies and other relatives were such a joy. We had a week in Bremerton, and a week in Denver, where a heavy wet snow greeted us Friday night, October 30, dining at lovely places, getting to visit a nephew, Kent Sandusky and family, and others made such a wonderful vacation. Mrs. Julian arrived back home, Wednesday, November 4, in Lubbock, to be met by loving relatives, and home and Texas looked awfully good! Mrs. Julian flew over Mt. St. Helens and saw the steam pouring forth from it. In a few days there was a big eruption from the mountain.

Oil leases extended at Lakeview Comm.

BY JOYCE WILLIAMS

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Mike Bishop who were united in marriage Saturday morning in the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bishop, here in our community. The former Rozanne Ford teaches in the Ralls schools, and Mike is an entomologist. They have bought a home in Floydada, where they will live. It's good to have our young people return to their hometowns to make their home and business.

Mrs. Don Harrison and granddaughters, Amy and Marty, were in San Angelo last weekend visiting Ruth and Don's new great-grandson, Daniel Barton McPherson, son of Kay and Rex McPherson. Kay is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Bob Harrison of Lubbock and formerly of Lakeview. Jerre and Jerry Bob are now in San Angelo taking care of their little grandson, as his mother, Kay, is in the hospital there with a bad case of the flu. The baby is doing fine.

A joy rider keeps knocking down the highway signs around our community.

Mr. and Mrs. A.J. Miller of Stonewall, Oklahoma visited Friday and Saturday with Mrs. Miller's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Q.D. Williams. Mrs. Williams took the visitors on a tour of the Floyd County Historical Museum Friday afternoon.

Miss Jodi Smith, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Choise Smith is in the Caprock Hospital with respiratory problems. There has been a lot of flu over our community, also allergy conditions.

Mrs. Buell Neff was in Lubbock Tuesday and dropped by to visit her son, Donald, at his job. The men had sent out for hamburgers, so called one more for mom, and she ate lunch on the spot with them. Later, Ona Ruth went by the Mahon library to do geneological research for the Daughters of the American Revolution. The library was colorfully decorated with displays of handmade quilts draped over the stair railings.

Mr. and Mrs. Dayne Golightly and children were in Plainview Saturday night for racquet ball with Mr. and Mrs. Danny Law. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bloys joined them and all went out for dinner after their game.

Mrs. Verna McSwain, mother of Mrs. Bobby Kendrick, was buried Saturday. Mrs. McSwain had lived at the Floydada Nursing Home for several years. Her fine Kendrick grandchildren were here for the funeral.

Mrs. Carl Moosberg has been having allergy difficulties this past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller and son Cody of San Antonio were Texas Tech Homecoming game hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Q.D. Williams Saturday afternoon at Lubbock. They were joined by the Miller's other son, Ford, who is a student at Tech.

Howard Bishop and sons, Greg and Mike, moved their cattle to wheat fields last week, as did Q.D. Williams. Norman Muncy moved his cattle this week. Dee Adams assisted the neighbors.

Weather is cool and dry after showers over the weekend.

Miss Melanie Finley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Finley, of Midland and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. W.H. Bunch, was crowned homecoming queen of the Midland Lee High School homecoming recently. Melanie, a senior, is also a twirler with the high school band.

Lakeview guests at the baby shower for little Robert Dunlap, son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Dunlap, included Mrs. Joe Thurston, Mrs. Blanton Hartsell, Mrs. Bob Hambricht, Mrs. W.H. Bunch, Mrs. Carl Moosberg, Mrs. Q.D. Williams, co-hostess, Mrs. Weldon Hammonds, Mrs. William Bertrand and Mrs. Randy Bertrand.

Several families in our community who leased their land to R&K Oil Company of Ft. Worth, in February 1977, have received letters from the oil company this week wanting to extend the lease.

A few phone calls around the state revealed the oil company plans to go public with stock selling for ten cents a share in January via a broker in Oklahoma City. They plan to drill locally, they say, when rigs are available. Right now they are planning to drill mostly in far west Texas, Frio County, and have already drilled near Brownfield.

Graffiti on a university wall, "The meek shall inherit the earth — but the strong shall retain the mineral rights."

Among those who helped with the Halloween spook house at Duncan school were Lakeview ladies: Mrs. Dayne Golightly, Mrs. Rex Harrison, Mrs. Robert Pyle, and Mrs. Lanny Glasscock. They have also been doing substitute teaching in the Floydada schools.

What can you think of which costs about the same now as in 1975? Try beef, suggests an Iowa State extension economist. But, he adds, don't go looking for any 89¢-a-pound cuts. What has remained constant, or nearly so, since 1975, is the real price of beef, taking into account the impact of inflation on prices. He says the real price of beef declined in 1980, but is higher now than in 1976 and 1977 when beef supplies were plentiful. Saying the high rate of inflation tends to make everyone think in terms of grossly overestimated changes in real prices, he cited beef as a prime example. Recent price changes in beef have been much more moderate than suggested by present price tags, he says. If retail beef prices for the past six years are adjusted to 1975 dollars, he illustrates, the 1980 average price per pound for beef figures out to $1.55.

Electricity.

Knowing what it's worth is worth knowing.

One thing we've probably all learned is to have an appreciation of things that have worth and to know their value. How would you rate yourself on knowing the value of the electricity you use? Take this simple exercise.

- How much was your electric bill last month? $ _____
- Divide 30 into your answer to Number 1. This was the approximate cost of your electricity per day. $ _____
- How many people are in your family? _____
- Divide Number 3 into Number 2. This was the cost of your electricity per day per family member. $ _____

Knowing what electricity is worth is worth knowing. Just look around.

Donald, Kirk to perform in view Symphony November 23

The new Symphony Orchestra will be playing selections from the opera "Carmen" and pianist Mark Donald will perform the symphony. The concert is the first of the concert series announced by the orchestra.

The movement "is intended to convey the impression which one receives when the eye rests on a beloved landscape that calls up in one's soul beautiful memories—for instance, on a fine moonlit spring night." The final movement is very spirited and powerful, said Daniels.

Tickets are now on sale for this performance scheduled at 8:15 p.m. Monday, November 23 in Wayland's Haral Auditorium. They are priced at $5.00 for adults and $2.50 for students.

"Season tickets for the remaining three concerts (including Pair's) are available at a reduced price of $12 for adults and $6 for students," said Mrs. Kent Akin, vice president in charge of ticket sales. "Season tickets and tickets for the upcoming November 23 concert can be purchased at Gabriels, at the door the night of Pair's performance or by calling 296-7284."

Cedar Hill News

Harvest continues in Cedar Hill

BY GRACE LEMONS

The farmers are baling hay and moving hay, stripping cotton and some are sowing wheat. The weather is colder and we had about 1/4 inch of rain Saturday night.

Rev. H. E. Mitchell of Eakly, Oklahoma and Sharon and Jay Green of Amarillo came Thursday to visit his daughter and Sharon's sister. Bro. Barnard remained Sunday and preached at the Assembly of God Church.

Rev. and Mrs. Vance Mitchell attended the fall convention at Childress Thursday.

The Rev. Mitchell and family attended the football game in Abernathy Friday night. Sandra and Virginia both play in the Floydada band.

A large number from Cedar Hill attended the last rites of Shawna (Gilly) Wolfe held at the Assembly of God Church in Floydada Friday afternoon.

Eula Mae Wilson of Ralls spent Wednesday with her sister, Pauline VanHoose in Floydada.

Thursday Pauline VanHoose accompanied Eula Mae Wilson to Lubbock where they did some shopping.

The Rev. Vance Mitchell visited Mary and Garland Tucker in Lubbock one day this week and report that Garland is still improving from recent surgery.

Grace Lemons visited her sister and spent Wednesday night with her and her husband, Shields Decker, in Amarillo. Lavena is recuperating in her home after complications of a broken leg. Shields B. Decker and family of Hereford visited them Thursday while Grace was there.

Donie Hanson and Goldie Cyert visited Albert and Clara Mize one day last week. Mr. and Mrs. W.N. Anderson visited them Sunday evening, and Sid Brown and his nurse Josephine visited them Tuesday.

Troy and Jean Smith and boys spent the weekend in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cephus Fortenberry, and returned to their home in Dumas Sunday.

Bryan and Karla Fortenberry moved to our community this week from Abilene. We are glad to have them as neighbors.

Belle Lemons had lunch Sunday in the home of her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Lemons.

Happiness is like a sunset: it is there for all, but most of us look the other way and miss it.

Major crimes rise 3.3% in Texas

The number of major crimes reported in Texas during the first six months of 1981 rose 3.3 per cent compared to the same period last year, according to DPS Director Colonel Jim Adams. "Although this is a significant increase, it does indicate that the volume of major crimes in our state is rising at a lower rate than we saw last year," Adams said.

In 1980, major criminal offenses in Texas increased 9.9 per cent in comparison to 1979. Major index crimes recorded by the DPS Uniform Crime Reporting Bureau during the first half of this year totaled 431,409.

"Based on reports from Texas police agencies for the first six months of 1981, burglary showed the largest increase by category, rising 8.2 per cent to 133,621 cases," Adams pointed out.

The DPS Director said one of the major crime categories actually registered a decline.

"Murder cases reported during the first half of this year totaled 1,143—a decrease of 2.1 per cent from the same period in 1980."

The remaining violent crime categories showed increases, with aggravated assaults up 3.8 per cent and rape and robbery each posting increases of 3.5 per cent. The property crime categories of motor vehicle theft and larceny-theft rose 2.5 per cent and point-five per cent respectively.

Total property loss attributed to major crime in the first half of 1981 was estimated at $400 million. In addition there were 3,941 arson cases reported during the period which resulted in estimated property losses of $50 million.

Three police officers were killed in the line of duty by criminal action during the 6-month reporting period. Three other officers perished in duty-related accidents.

Morrill to represent Texas Easter Seals

Michael Morrill, five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth H. Morrill of Denison, was chosen to represent the Texas Easter Seal Society as the 1982 State Poster Child. Michael will replace Melinda Housh of Dallas, who served as the 1981 State Poster Child.

Michael is one of the 12,947 handicapped Texans who received rehabilitation or other services from the Texas Easter Seal Society and its affiliates statewide in 1981.

Michael was born with cerebral palsy and presently receives physical and occupational therapy at the Grayson County Easter Seal Rehabilitation Center in Sherman. He is a bright and talkative child with a promising future. Therapists at the Center feel that he is an excellent example of how the implementation of an early therapy program can greatly enhance a patient's prognosis.

This friendly and outgoing youngster is looking forward to his activities as the Texas Easter Seal Poster Child. His schedule will include some personal appearances throughout the State and a special guest role on the Sherman, Texas Easter Seal Telethon this March.

Simple reasoning will tell you — if saving stamps have a redemption value, some one has to be paying for the redeemed merchandise.

Ask yourself, "Who is paying for stamps?"

TWPA meeting set for Nov. 19th

Plagued by high interest rates and prices below the cost of production, wheat producers from across the state of Texas will meet to discuss the wheat situation and adopt policy resolutions for action in 1982. According to Wiley Tabor, of Quanah, farmer-elected President of the Texas Wheat Producers Association (TWPA), this year's Annual Meeting is set for Thursday, November 19, at the Hilton Inn in Amarillo. This will be the 31st annual meeting of TWPA, with registration beginning at 9:00 a.m.

"Considering recent developments in the world involving international trade and increased grain production, this meeting is especially important," Tabor said. "Farmers must be aware of the problems in expanding markets for wheat, and the future for such expansion, and the effect which the deregulation of railroads has had on the price of farm commodities." Tabor said that the main purpose of the meeting will be to discuss these issues and determine what must be done in the area of agricultural legislation and expanded market development activities.

The meeting will begin at 9:45 a.m. with a film by the Union Carbide Chemical Co., entitled "The New Wave." The film explores the economic advantages of early chemical weed control in wheat.

Having no disaster program available for wheat this year, producers will be evaluating Federal Crop Insurance more closely. Mr. Ben Jordan, Jr., Director of Federal Crop Insurance Corporations will be on hand to explain planned changes in the program and answer questions.

The changing financial structure of agriculture and alternative financing methods will be discussed by Dr. Wayland Bennett, Thompson Professor of Agricultural Finance and Assoc. Dean of Agriculture at Texas Tech University.

Even though Kansas wheat must travel further to the Gulf, it is now being shipped there for a cheaper rate than is some wheat produced in Texas. The deregulation of the railroads and the resulting tremendous impact on commodity prices will be discussed by Mr. Jon Hansen, Ass't. Vice President of Transportation at the Kansas City Board of Trade.

With regard to the importance of export markets to farmers, Mr. Glen Wier, Vice Pres. of the Plunge Corporation in Washington, D.C. will speak on "Wheat Exports and Their Impact on Farmer Prices."

Following lunch, a film produced by the Agriculture Council of America and narrated by Charlton Heston, entitled, "We Can Turn the Tide," will focus on the importance of agricultural exports to the national economy.

With regard to the expansion of markets for Texas and U.S. wheat, Mr. Paul Green with U.S. Wheat Associates in Washington, D.C. will discuss "What Farmers are Doing to Develop Their Own Wheat Markets" — a topic intended to inform producers about how their wheat markets are developed and where the major potential lies today.

"Farm Policy Development for the 80's" will be the topic presented by Jim Billington, Altus, Oklahoma farmer and President of the National Association of Wheat Growers.

Following Billington's speech will be the afternoon business session at which wheat producers will adopt resolutions to guide the Association in 1982. Wheat producers present will also elect a group of officers to implement these programs during the coming year.

A drawing for a free trip to Washington, D.C. and the National Association of Wheat Growers Annual convention on January 17-21 will be held following the business session. TWPA meeting in November kicks off the new membership year. Producers must have their 1982 membership paid and be present at the meeting to be eligible for the trip.

Cotton Council's to meet in Dallas February 7-9

The National Cotton Council's 44th annual meeting will be held February 7-9 at the Hyatt Regency in Dallas.

President Frank M. Mitchener, Jr., Sumner, Mississippi, cotton producer will preside over the general sessions and will deliver the keynote address. Several nationally known guest speakers also will appear on the program.

The meeting is expected to draw some 1,500 producers, ginners, warehousemen, cottonseed crushers, merchants, cooperative representatives, and textile manufacturers from across the Cotton Belt.

Various committee meetings at convention headquarters will precede the general sessions. Slated the afternoon of February 5 are sessions of the Council's Producer Steering Committee and Cotton Council International's board of directors.

Committees on public relations and promotion, technical, industry practices and policies, and foreign operations will meet jointly the morning of February 6 to hear a report on cotton's economic outlook. Separate meetings for drafting 1982 Council policy recommendations will follow.

On the agenda February 7 are meetings of the retiring board of directors and delegate caucuses to elect new directors representing each of the seven segments of the cotton industry.

Range Management Conference to be held

Legislation, policy and survival in the ranching industry will be the theme of the Texas Section, Society for Range Management, Conference December 4-5 at the South Park Inn in Lubbock.

Dr. Bill E. Dahl, president of the Texas Section and a range and wildlife professor at Texas Tech University, will preside at the meeting.

U.S. Congressman Kent Hance is scheduled to speak on agricultural programs under the current administration and the range-livestock industry.

Representatives from Mexico, private ranches and state and federal agencies will speak on topics including international policies concerning the range-livestock industry, state and federal regulations on predators, federal regulations on herbicides and the future of ranching in the southwest.

The conference is open to the public.

The fee is $30. Charge for persons who only attend the 6:30 p.m. social hour and 7:30 p.m. banquet is $15.

Registration will run 5-9 p.m. Thursday, December 3, and from 8 a.m. until noon Friday, December 4, at the South Park Inn. Approximately 300 persons are expected to attend.

A special women's program is planned with a registration fee of $30. Local tours, a style show and the Friday night banquet are included in the packet.

Students may register for the conference free. However, a $15 fee will be charged for those attending the banquet.

Additional information and reservations may be made through the Department of Range and Wildlife Management, Texas Tech University, Lubbock, Texas, 79409, or by calling (806) 742-2841.

Deficiency payments likely on '81 cotton

COLLEGE STATION — Cotton farmers will likely collect 5 to 7 cents a pound from the government for their crop this year. The money will be in the form of deficiency payments—the difference between the target price set by the government and the actual market price.

If payments are necessary due to poor market prices, they will be the first since the target price program was established in 1974.

"The 1981 target price for cotton is 70.87 cents a pound," explains Dr. Carl Anderson, economist in cotton marketing with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "The average price received by farmers in July (70.20 cents) just missed this level. Since then, the cotton market fell to 65 cents a pound in August and in October was running about 60 cents. At this level the deficiency payment would be 5 to 7 cents."

And this is a likely probability since plentiful cotton supplies, high interest rates and a weak demand will tend to keep market prices down the remainder of this year, contends Anderson. Although cool, wet conditions may reduce the Texas crop some from the 5.8 million bale October estimate, there is plenty of cotton to go around.

Deficiency payments will be based on the difference between the weighted monthly average price received by farmers in 1981 and the target price of 70.87 cents, explains the economist. Monthly prices received are weighted by the proportion of the crop sold that month. Normally about half the crop is sold during the last three months of the year, so low prices at that time will greatly influence the 1981 average farm price.

"All farmers get the same payment regardless of the price they received for their cotton," says Anderson. "Payments are based on the farm program acreage and yield established on each farm."

Deficiency payments are limited to a combined total of $50,000 per person under the Upland cotton, wheat and feed grain programs in 1981. Farmers must be in full compliance with government programs involving other crops to receive payments under the cotton program, adds the economist.

Preconditioning makes healthy feeder calves in feedlots

Preconditioning feeder calves to improve feedlot health has been highly publicized for 20 years. However, the practice has not been accepted widely by cow-calf producers or cattle feeders. Dr. Andy Cole, USDA Animal Nutritionist at the Research Laboratory at Bushland says it is a matter of economics. "The cost of the program is often more than the benefits received," he said.

The scientist bases his convictions on some of his recent research at Bushland, Texas, and Knoxville, Tennessee. In a series of studies, preconditioned calves gained 11 pounds more than calves left with their mothers during the 30-day preconditioning period. However, there was big variation from farm to farm. Cole speculated that pasture conditions and cow milk production would affect this weight gain difference. In order to make the 11-pound extra gain, calves in the studies consumed 280 pounds of feed or 25 pounds of feed for each extra pound of gain. Compared to leaving calves with their dams, producers would have extra feed costs, as well as extra labor and vaccination costs.

From the feeders' standpoint, preconditioning reduced shipping fever in the feedlot about five to ten percent. However, average daily gain in the feedlot was not affected by preconditioning and feed efficiency was three to six percent poorer in preconditioned calves.

Cole did some calculations with January, 1981 prices, and concluded that a farmer that preconditioned calves would have to have a bonus of $6.52 per hundred weight to break even. If he did not get a bonus, preconditioned calves would have to be 45 pounds heavier than calves left with their mothers to pay for the preconditioning.

The researcher points out that feeders can not afford to pay cow-calf producers a bonus for preconditioned calves because his studies show that gains in the feedlot are not improved and feed efficiency is hurt. Increased feed cost due to poorer feed conversion can offset the reduced health costs of preconditioned calves.

According to Cole, preconditioning defined by the American Association of Bovine Practitioners involves (1) weaning calves three weeks prior to sale, (2) training calves to eat from a bunk and drink from a trough, (3) having calves castrated and dehorned, and (4) identifying each calf with an ear tag. In addition, calves must be treated for endo- and ectoparasites and vaccinated for blackleg, malignant edema, and several organisms associated with shipping fever. All this must be done on the farm of origin and certified by a veterinarian. Cole says preconditioning is designed to immunize calves against major pathogens involved in shipping fever and to reduce stresses on calves when they are sold.

Because his research shows that preconditioning is often not profitable, Cole proposes several alternatives that are less expensive or fit better into present day marketing systems.

One alternative to preconditioning is vaccinating calves 21 to 28 days prior to sale but leave them with their dam. Booster shots could be given two weeks later. Early vaccination prior to stress of sale and shipment allows calves to build immunity to the organisms that cause shipping fever. "Calves that are immune to BVD, IBR, and Pasteurella organisms have a much lower incidence of shipping fever than calves that are not immune," Cole said.

Secondly, calves can be fed a 50 percent concentrate diet fortified with antibiotics in the order buyer's barn. This treatment has been about equal to preconditioning in reducing shipping fever losses, but is much cheaper to perform.

Studies conducted by Dr. David Hutcheson, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station Nutritionist at Amarillo, showed that receiving diets with 1.5 percent potassium improved gain and reduced sickness of new cattle in feedyards. Normal diets have about 0.8 percent potassium.

Another alternative to preconditioning is backgrounding. Calves are given special care for 30 to 90 days before going to the feedyard. Backgrounding is similar to preconditioning but is done on a large scale away from the farm of origin. Many cow-calf producers have fewer than 30 cows and are not set up to background calves.

Cole points out there are several less expensive and more profitable ways of handling calves from weaning to arrival in the feedyard than preconditioning. "Feeding a fortified diet at barns of order buyers and giving calves special receiving treatment in the feedlot are feasible methods," he said.

Increase in production decrease in farmers

Despite a six-fold increase in farm production over the past 100 years, there has been a drastic reduction in the U.S. farmer's profit margin.

Dr. J. Wayland Bennett, the Charles C. Thompson Professor of Agricultural Finance at Texas Tech University, cites the change of agriculture to a capital-intensive industry as one of the reasons for the profit decline.

"Farms at one time were operated with hand labor, horses and mules," Bennett said. "In the 1930s, we began to substitute the combustion engine for horsepower. Today, contrary to the past when farms were self-reliant and self-sufficient, farmers are purchasing their power and equipment. Dollars are now moving off the farm."

The decrease in farms over the past 50 years has been drastic, Bennett, a director of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, said. Even in the past 20 years the number of farming operations has decreased by 900,000 although production has continued to increase. The consolidation of small farms into bigger operations has become a way of life in an effort by some farmers to achieve the maximum benefits of mechanization.

Bennett sees the farmer's biggest problem now as financial management. "There was the mechanical revolution, the power revolution and the scientific revolution. The most important thing now is that farmers learn to financially manage their operation with all the variables involved," he said.

The savior for U.S. producers has been the increases in exports. Japan, for example, receives 6 percent of all food produced in this country. Bennett said 15 percent of a farmer's market return in 1970 came from exports while in 1980 that figure rose to 25 percent. He noted 59.6 percent of all grains traded in world commerce comes from U.S. production.

With record crops of soybean, corn and wheat, Bennett said many farmers this year may suffer from price declines. Unsteady economies in many importing nations also may cut into foreign sales.

"So many of the world economies are soft now," he said. "The value of the dollar against world currencies has increased. It is going to take more foreign currency to buy our commodities."

Although the U.S. Department of Agriculture has predicted the exportation of some $47 billion dollars worth of farm goods, Bennett believes that figure will be much lower.

"The import countries are buying cautiously, from hand-to-mouth so to speak," Bennett said.

He noted President Reagan's agricultural economic plan is three-fold: 1) to make the U.S. a dependable commodity supplier, 2) to increase the number of nations buying U.S. agricultural commodities, and 3) to sell more grain to the Far East, Republic of China, Iron Curtain countries and Western Europe. Bennett said increased export competition and soft foreign economies will have a direct effect on the farmer this year.

With competitive prices, the countries of Canada, Brazil, Argentina and Australia have been able to increase grain exports to countries which the U.S. has had political differences.

During President Carter's administration, grain shipments were cut off to Russia as a result of that country's invasion of Afghanistan. While Russia went elsewhere for its grain, Bennett said American farmers were left asking, "Why must we bear the cost of diplomatic policy?"

"Surplus food involves more than economics; it involves politics," Bennett said. While farmers' production expenses now take up 88.7 percent of their gross income, the export market and political decisions in that market have become an important economic factor.

Approximately 97 percent of all U.S. agricultural exports are sold and are generally not given away by the government to underdeveloped countries except in the case of the U.S. has been an increase in population. However, the upgrading of the American's growing...

Tests show

EDITORS NOTE: The Lockney school system recently received the results of the Texas Assessment of Basic Skills (TABS) examinations that were administered in the schools last spring. The following article on the test results was written in its entirety by Lockney High School Principal Raymond Lusk and has been edited only for conformation to the style of the Beacon.
