

Set aside program may result from low cotton prices

With a lot of cotton being produced this year, prices are down. This dilemma may lead the government back into agriculture to create a cotton set-aside program—a program in which farmers would be paid not to grow cotton on a certain amount of their land.

"Interest in set-aside programs always increases when production is up and prices are down," says Dr. Ron Knutson, economist in marketing and policy with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "Since Secretary of Agriculture Block recently announced a 15 percent wheat set-aside, interest has grown regarding a similar program for cotton."

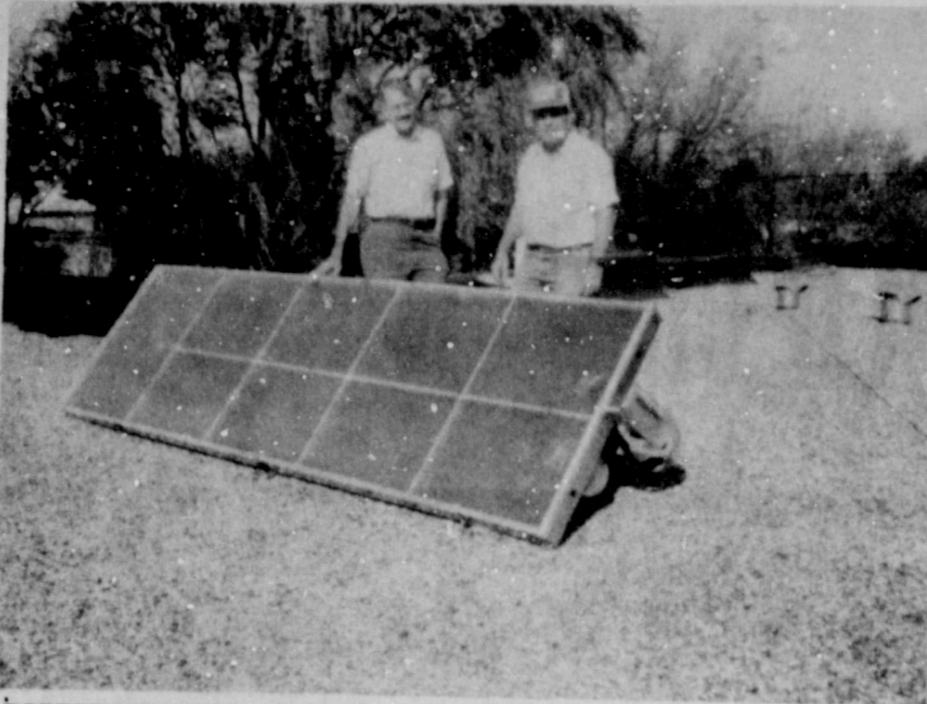

Such a program would be optional for cotton farmers, explains Knutson. If they opted to participate, they could not plant cotton or any other crop for harvest on the deferred acres. Failure to set aside the acreage specified once in the program would result in the farmer losing any benefits from farm programs, including target prices and loans.

How much would a set-aside program help cotton prices?

"Based on past experiences with set-aside programs, a 15 percent set-aside would result in only a 3 to 5 percent decrease in production," points out Knutson. "This reduced production would roughly increase cotton prices by 5 percent."

One reason why production would not be reduced more with such a set-aside program is that only one-half to two-thirds of the farmers normally participate. Also, those who do put their poorest land into the program and increase inputs on the remainder of their land to boost production.

So, cotton farmers and their organizations need to ponder the possible effects of a set-aside program as they study the issue, suggests Knutson.

Solar system installed

Floydada's first solar space heating system was installed last week in the home of Robert "Shorty" Turner, by The Solar Company, a recently established Floydada-based firm.

"The Model 37 Solar Age Collector mounted on the Turner home is identical to some 2,000 units installed in other parts of Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and Colorado," said Jim Jackson, president of the company. "Solar is one of the few alternate heat sources that pays for itself in just a few years, and then actually pays you to use it," said Jackson.

"We are proud to have a part in bringing this industry to Floydada," Jackson said.

The Model 37 is in its seventh year of research and its fourth season under the sun in Albuquerque, N.M. where the unit is manufactured. It was selected as the unit to represent New Mexico at the "Technologia Solar" exhibition in Mexico City this year, according to Jackson.

"Finally the solar industry has placed on the market, a unit that the homeowner can afford," said Larry Richards, sales manager for the firm. "It is low-priced and it works." Units have been installed in Aspermont, Lubbock, Brownfield, Levelland, and most recently the Plains Independent School District has solarized their administration building, according to Richards.

ding to Richards.

"Some people are reluctant to be pioneers in the solar field. They know that solar power is a coming thing, but want to wait until their neighbor does something and see how it works," said Richards. "It reminds me of the gas shortage when people waited to buy $3,000 small cars until they were $8000."

The federal and state governments are subsidizing the solar industry in an effort to encourage solar installations to conserve energy. The Internal Revenue Service is giving a 40 percent tax credit in 1981 for units purchased before December 31, and the state has exempted solar units from sales tax, according to Richards.

The thermostat-controlled unit is 40" by 136" or 37.78 square feet and weighs 68 pounds. Inside its aluminum frame is a black-coated aluminum plate that absorbs the sun's rays and heats to temperatures close to 400 degrees. A one-twelfth horsepower motor draws cold air from inside the bottom of the house, through the unit, and dispels it at temperatures above 100 degrees back into the home. The unit mounts on the house facing south at a 50 degree angle. The motor uses the same electricity as a 100 watt bulb, according to Richards.

Prairie dog control program begins

BY JETT MAJOR

The Floyd County Extension Service and the Texas Rodent and Predatory Animal Control Service is conducting a county-wide prairie dog control program next week for all interested landowners with prairie dog problems. County Extension Agents Jett Major and Ken Langley will assist Mike Yeary of the Rodent and Predatory Animal Control Service (RPACS) in Amarillo with the distribution of the zinc-phosphide bait and phostoxin pellets which will be used to treat prairie dog-infested acreage in the county.

The bait and pellets to be distributed by the state are restricted-use pesticides and, thus, will require landowners who wish to purchase the chemical to have a Private Applicator's License. If the landowner does not have one, he will need to work with another landowner that does in purchasing and applying the bait and the pellets.

We are asking all those that plan to purchase the bait to prebait your prairie dog town with untreated grain on or a day or so before Monday, November 30, 1981, because we plan to try to get everyone in the county with a prairie dog problem to put out the zinc phosphide bait on December 2nd and 3rd. Mike, Ken and Jett will be on hand to help you with this county-wide control effort. If you have any neighbors that have a prairie dog problem, please try to get them involved with this effort so that it will be more successful—remember that if you control your prairie dogs and your neighbor does not, then your problem could start all over again if neighboring prairie dogs spread to your property. Only with a unified, county-wide effort can we effectively reduce the size of the Prairie Dog problem in Floyd County. The Zinc phosphide bait consists of treated rolled oats, so to prebait your towns simply obtain some rolled oats from the feed store and spread about 1-2 teaspoons around each hole. not in the hole. Don't leave piles of the oats—spread or sprinkle them out on the bare ground around the hole at least six to eight inches away from the entrance. Remember to do this as near November 30th as you can.

Mike Yeary will be at the County Extension Office at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday morning, December 2nd to distribute the bait and pellets. We need each of you to be there at that time to pick up the amount of bait and pellets that you think you will need (1 pound of bait will treat 2 acres or 2 teaspoons of bait should be spread around each hole; 2 pellets will treat 1 hole) and please have your check ready to pay for the pellets and/or bait at that time.

Mike, Jett and Ken have set aside December 2nd and 3rd to assist you in treating your towns. We hope that you, too, can set aside some time on one of these two days to treat your prairie dogs so that as many of the towns in the county as possible will be treated at the same time. We suggest that you team up and help each other put out the bait so that the job will be done quicker and will be done right.

Now. Save on finance charges with a new John Deere tractor.

It won't cost you as much as you thought to buy a new John Deere tractor right now. On models 4040 through 8640, if you make a deal with us any time before January 30, 1982, you won't have to pay a penny in finance charges until June 1, 1982! You get the tractor. And you hold on to the money you would normally pay for finance charges.

And that's not all. Any new John Deere or used implements you buy with your tractor earn the same finance charge waiver. This is the best way to get behind the wheel of a new John Deere tractor.

Prairie Dog towns less than 1/2 acre in size can effectively be treated with pellets, but that does not mean you want to use pellets and pellets just to be sure.

Ginners Tom Gibson of Laurinburg, North Carolina called the system "great...it's revolutionary. I think it will eventually be very profitable to the farmer."

SA continues fund drive

The elderly, often living on a fixed income, struggle to stay warm, eat and pay their medical expenses. The woman, raising her children alone, fights to feed and clothe them.

The disabled, who cannot work, and the unemployed, desperate for a job — any job. These people have one thing in common: they face daily the terrible grinding effects of poverty. To the destitute, life is strictly a one-day-at-a-time situation. The only success is survival.

The Salvation Army has been dealing with these problems for over a century. It understands the causes, problems and effects of poverty, and works to meet the needs of those within poverty's grasp.

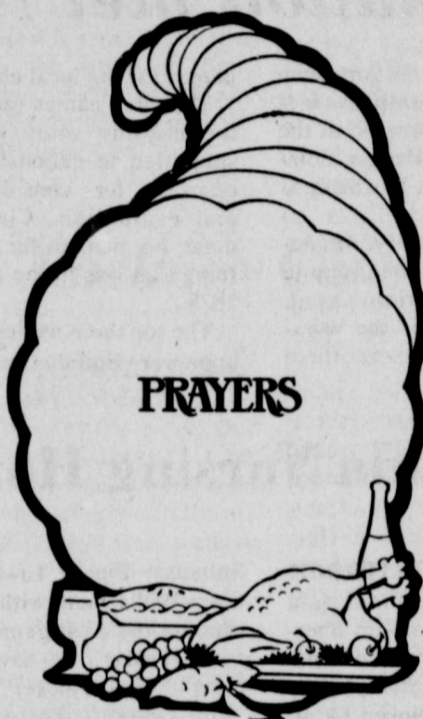

As a non-profit, voluntary organization, The Salvation Army must depend on others for the means with which to meet these needs. One means of raising needed revenue is to conduct fund drives in communities across the state each year.

The annual campaign is currently underway in Lockney, with a goal of $1,400. The Salvation Army asks that you give generously during this campaign so that it can continue to extend its "Heart to God, Hand to Man" philosophy to all those in need in Lockney this year.

Art Barker, Lockney Unit Chairman or Don Vernon, campaign chairman will pick up contributions if you cannot come to them.

LOCKNEY LOOKING BETTER—The new curbing recently installed on South Main Street in Lockney is shown above. The much-needed repairs not only add to the utility of the street system, but improve its general appearance as well.

MR. AND MRS. PHILLIP HOLBERT

Stephanie Thomas, Phillip Holbert united in marriage Nov. 12th

Wedding bells enhanced the doorway to the future home of Phillip Holbert and Stephanie Thomas, where the couple was united in marriage Thursday, November 12, at 7:30 p.m. The ceremony held before close friends and relatives was performed by Bro. Bob Chapman of the Bible Baptist Church of Floydada.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.W. Ferguson of Floydada and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vaudie Holbert of Floydada. Escorted and presented in marriage by her father-in-law, the bride wore a floor-length white and purple dress and carried a bridal bouquet of silk flowers.

Neva West, a friend of the bride, served as maid of honor. She was dressed in a peach colored floor-length dress and carried a white carnation.

Clinton Fawver was best man. Debra Jo Fawver, presented the musical selections, "You Light Up My Life" and "More."

A reception in the home followed the ceremony. Reception assistants were Debi Holbert, sister of the groom, and Mary Ferguson, mother of the bride.

Phillip is a 1981 graduate of Floydada High School and is employed at Consumers Fuel. Stephanie is attending Floydada High School. The couple will reside in Floydada.

Holbert honored with shower

Stephanie Holbert was honored with a wedding shower at the Bible Baptist Church on Tuesday, November 17, at 7:30 p.m. She and Phillip Holbert were united in marriage on Thursday, November 12.

Following the opening and displaying of gifts, refreshments were served.

The table was covered with an ecru cloth trimmed in lace. Debra Jo Fawver served lemon punch from a crystal punch bowl, and thumbprint cookies with yellow centers were served from crystal plates. Mints and nuts were also served from silver dishes. The centerpiece was a ring of yellow flowers and greenery circling the punch bowl. Special guests were the groom's mother, Mrs. Vaudie Holbert and the groom's sister, Debi Holbert.

Hostesses for the shower were Mrs. Bob Chapman, Mrs. Johnny Bill Sue and Mrs. Cecil Taylor.

Bishop feted with shower

Mrs. Mike Bishop was honored at a bridal shower given Saturday morning, November 14, in the home of Mrs. Norman Muncy. Guests were received from ten to eleven-thirty for coffee and tea.

Mrs. Michael Giesecke presided at the silver service with Mrs. David Crisswell, Plainview, assisting at the refreshment table. A white lace table cover was centered with an arrangement of autumn colored flowers in a crystal bowl. Brown candles were used in crystal holders. Brown and beige napkins completed the table decor. An assortment of fruit breads, miniature sausage breads and quiches were served with pineapple picks.

A corsage of bronze crysanthemums was given to the bride to compliment her white suit. Other co-hostesses for the shower included Mesdames Odell Breed, Dee Adams, Harold Bertrand, Reynaldo Quilantane, O.D. Williams, Oscar Santos, Leslie Nixon, Travis Jones, Don Green, Carl Turner, David Campbell, Scott Simpson, Pete Hickerson and Tom Moore.

Hostesses presented an upright vacuum sweeper as their gift to the honoree.

Free Spirit Class met November 12th

Thursday, November 12, the Free Spirit Class of First Baptist Church met at Light-house Electric.

Forty-eight ceramic piggy banks were painted as Christmas gifts for children at Buckners Childrens Home in Lubbock. Members present were: Lee Finley, Duffy Hinkle, Cheryl Kirk, Donna McClendon, Paula Pyle, Stacey Reeves, Trena Simpson, Sharon Vickers and Gail Hale, and Joyce, Owens, co-hostesses.

Arts & Crafts bazaar to be presented by Homemakers

The Moonlight Extension Homemakers Club presents its Third Annual Arts and Crafts Bazaar, Friday December 4 and Saturday December 5, 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. in the Bailey County Civic Center, Muleshoe, Texas.

On Saturday, December 5, the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a Christmas Parade and the town will be turning out for this annual event.

There will be over 60 booths filled by artists from Texas and New Mexico displaying their arts and crafts such as, ceramics, quilts, Christmas ornaments, wooden articles, dough art, baked goods, paintings, calligraphy, copper and brass, china painting, clocks, silver belt buckles, and many more items. All of these articles will be for sale by the artists.

Booth space is still available, and reservations are being accepted at the Bailey County Courthouse in the Extension Office or call 272-4583.

There will be a concession stand available throughout both days of the bazaar, and The Jennysippers of the Chamber of Commerce will serve a Bar B Que luncheon on Friday, December 5th at noon.

Plan to make a day of it in Muleshoe, do your Christmas shopping early at our bazaar, and enjoy the things that have been planned for the day.

Daughters of the American Revolution met November 9

Daughters of the American Revolution members met Monday, November 9, at the First National Bank's Community Room in Floydada.

Mrs. Clay Henry, organizing regent led the group in reciting the American Creed. New business for the workshop was to select three names for the local chapter.

The three names receiving the majority votes will be submitted to national headquarters for consideration and evaluation. Chapters must be named for something that was in the area in 1825.

The top three names voted upon were Buffalo Grass, Los Vientos (the winds) which tied, and Rio Blanco. These three have been sent to Washington where the final decision will be made.

Thirty ladies were present for the evening meeting. Notice will be given in the Messenger of the December meeting.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

BY DARTHA WESTBROOK

Last week started off right with a visit from Kim Sherman of Plainview, who conducted a music therapy session that was enjoyed by all who attended. Kim really has a way with the Residents, and they look forward to her visit.

Mr. Lawrence made 3 owls last week, they are hanging in the lobby. These lovely hangings make great Christmas gifts, and they are only $12.00. This money goes into the activity fund for purchase of materials to keep our craft supplies purchased.

We have three new items in our showcase. Magnetic note holders, small Christmas wreaths, and a child's crayon apron. Come by and look at these items the next time you visit the Home.

On Wednesday we took a bus trip to Matador. Those able to go were Emmitt Lawrence, Iva Simpson, W.C. Cates, and Juanita Bailey. Grady Freeman was able to drive for us again, and we really appreciate this outing.

Thursday is Bingo day and we had eight playing last week. Those who played were Ollie Miracle, Una Clark, Hallie Bertrand, W.C. Cates, Vera Duke, Alma Eubanks, Emmitt Lawrence, Clara Williamson, with Clara winning the most games (3).

On Friday we saw two films "The Thicket" and "The Desert." These were excellent films, with beautiful scenery, and were enjoyed by all. The Sunshine Class of the First Baptist Church brought bananas and cookies for all the Residents, and we appreciate this treat so much.

Someone sent a beautiful floral arrangement on Friday and we were told it was from some Friends, who did not want to be named. This was so kind, and we appreciate your thoughtfulness, whoever you are.

 What would you do?
 Draw out every cent every day, of course, and to your advantage!
 Well, you have such a bank--and its name is "Every Day".
 Every morning, it credits you with $6,400... and every night, it rules off as lost whatever of this you have failed to invest to good purpose.
 It carries over no balances.
 It allows no overdrafts.
 Each day, it opens a new account with you.
 Each night, it burns the records of the day.
 If you fail to use the day's deposits, the bank has no record.
 There is no going back.
 There is no drawing against the "Tomorrow."
 It is up to each of us to invest this precious fund of minutes and seconds in order to get from it the health, happiness and success!

Rebekah Lodge met at Abernathy Monday

Those attending the District school at Abernathy last Monday night from Floydada Rebekah Lodge were Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Davis, Mr. and Mrs. W.B. Parrack, Artie Webb, Pauline Pierce, Jewell Price, Valree Turner, and Willie Hill. A delicious turkey dinner was served to the group.

Extension Homemakers meet

The Lone Star Extension Homemakers met November 17 in the home of Mrs. Herman Huffman. Plans were discussed for the Council Christmas party.

Roll call was answered with a "Thanksgiving I Remember." The devotional was from Exodus 28:39. Refreshments of fruit salad, cake and punch were served to Vera King, Syble Teepie, Elvira Stewart, Ruth Reeves and Helen Huffman. The Christmas party will be held at Maudie Lawsons, December 15.

Lockney Care Center Capers

BY VICKIE HUTTON
 We have been busy as little beavers this week. Our first annual Lockney Care Center Olympics were held Thursday afternoon. Events included a ball toss, walking races and wheelchair races. First place winners were Myrtle Burke and Lewis Roberts; second place winners were Walter Craft and Sam Lide; third place winners were Mary Jo Fielding and William Holt. We had so much fun we can't wait until next year to do it again. Residents were treated with ice cream after the games. A special treat has been added to the residents' bingo games, ice cream. We thank everyone who left donations for the ice cream and to the residents who won the blackout prize, which was a dollar in the ice cream. The lucky blackout winners were William Holt, Albert Poole, Donnie Hester, Mamie Wofford, Mary Joe Fielding and Jewell Miller. During our weekly bus trip the residents have been able to see the area farmers stripping their cotton and bringing it in to the gin. Much reminiscing went on about many times they pulled cotton. Our ceramic class is really a joy. We have made many beautiful things and are hoping to sell them in our bake sale in December. We invite everyone to come and join us in our classes. While eating some delicious popcorn, we enjoyed the films "Blazing Glory", "Festival Time in Texas", and "Trick or Treat." Our thanks to Doylene Dipprey for supplying us with such enjoyable films. We send our love and best wishes to Sally Carpenter, who is in Lockney General Hospital. We hope she will be back with us soon. A special thanks to M.D. Arterburn for cutting the men's hair. We appreciate his kindness. Until next time residents send everyone a wish for a Happy Thanksgiving.

Sanders honoree of bridal shower

Laurie Sanders, bride-elect of Carlton Shaw, was honoree at a bridal shower given in the home of Mrs. Barry Barker, Lockney, on Saturday, November 21. The guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Barker and presented to the bride-elect, Laurie Sanders, her mother, Mrs. Ray W. Sanders, and Mrs. Kelton Shaw, the groom's mother. They wore corsages of white carnations tied with green bows. Mrs. Bob Miller presided at the registrar. Among guests were Bessie Ferguson Walls, Sonora, California, grandmother of the bride; Mrs. Edith Patterson of Lockney, grandmother of the groom; Mrs. Ben Whitfill of Silverton, aunt of groom; and Darlene Sanders, Plainview, friend of the family. Mrs. Bob Miller presided at the registrar which was a small round table covered with an ivory lace over chiffon floor-length cloth. The serving table was covered with a white lace cloth. The centerpiece was an arrangement of white silk flowers, accented with green leaves, in a silver urn. Two green votive candles were at the base. Green napkins also accented the bride's chosen colors of green and white. Silver appointments were used by Kendra Sanders and Amy Shaw, sisters of the bride and groom, in serving with love bird figurines. The bridal bouquet decorated the table. The bride and groom are graduates of Slaton High School and Lockney High School, respectively. Both attended Texas State Technical Institute in Amarillo. Mrs. Ferguson is an employee of Total TV and he is an employee of Amarillo Aircraft.

Today's Lifestyles

MAKE TIME FOR YOURSELF

A man's home may be his castle, but for his working wife the house can be a monumental burden. After an eight-hour day on the job, the average working wife returns home for another one to two hours of housework. Finding time and energy for these responsibilities is a major concern for today's two-career woman.

The solution is applying principles of industrial efficiency to household chores. Use the same efficiency methods at home as you use on the job.

*Delegate responsibility. Make your family aware of the demands placed on you and ask them to share the housework. If they don't sympathize immediately, make a list of all things you have to do on a given day and ask them to do likewise. Compare lists.

*Learn to say "no." Saying no to a boss or associate may be easier than turning down a daughter or husband, but sometimes this must and should be done. The word no used promptly, properly and with courtesy can avoid serious conflicts. If you can't say no, look for short cuts. If your daughter asks you on short notice to make a new dress for a party, propose a quickly made skirt instead.

*Organize your home as efficiently as your office, keeping housework tools where they do the most good. Have tools and supplies at point of use even if it means duplicating items.

*A To-Do list with which to start each day is an effective home management tool. Each Sunday, list household chores that have to be accomplished that week. If several errands have to be run, organize them geographically so you're not wasting time covering a territory more than once.

*Cut overwhelming housework chores to a manageable size by doing small tasks every day. Instead of devoting Saturdays to housecleaning do a few chores each morning or evening. For instance, sweep the carpet before you go to work, put laundry in the washer during a favorite evening TV program.

STREAMLINE TO SAVE TIME

Recent decorating trends of streamlined interiors does more than simply point to changes taking place in American life. It lends a helping hand.

American families are feeling the pressure of increasing time demands — especially as mothers expand responsibilities outside the home. The trend toward simple, pared down homes give today's hurried families soothing shelter and one free of overwhelming maintenance demands. The streamlined look focuses on soothing colors, minimal furniture, a few important accessories and easy-care textures. The result: no disturbing clutter, less clean-up time.

For an easy-care home consider the following streamlining techniques:

*Pare down. Fewer pieces of furniture, fewer accessories and less complicated window coverings mean fewer household chores. Two or three major objects of interest accomplish the same personalizing effect as a clutter of collections — and require a lot less dusting time. Streamlined windows without curtains, shades or blinds (when privacy isn't the concern) create a modern look and let you enjoy the view; they also eliminate laundry, pressing or dusting duties entirely.

*Decorate for labor as well as looks. Consider that upholstery fabrics show dirt less; choose a few big plants that don't need watering more than once a week over a collection of thirsty ones. Carpeting takes much less care than bare floors with area rugs; mini blinds can be cleaned in a minute with a vacuum attachment.

*Throw out. With time demands on the increase, home managers can't afford to rifle through years of recipe clippings for an evening meal idea, turn a closet inside out for something to wear to a community meeting or search the medicine chest for a headache pill. Sort through paperwork clutter, organizing recipes, documents, bills, etc. and discard unused or unimportant information.

Streamlining may take a little time, but the result is time saved.

Alpha Sigma hold meeting

President Rhonda Guthrie called the meeting of Texas Alpha Sigma Upsilon to order in her home on November 17, at 7 p.m. All members stood for the Opening Ritual.

Roll was called and the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Carla Norrell was submitted as a possible rushee. Report of the treasurer was given. All outstanding bills will be paid.

The next meeting will be December 2 Wednesday. Vikki Yeary has the program and it will be a guest speaker. Marilyn Tate will give the program on gift wrapping. Janice Poteet will be the hostess and Lynn Daniel will have the raffle.

Our Thanksgiving social will be a salad supper November 23 at 6:30 p.m. at Duffy Hinkle's. Alpha Mu Delta has invited our chapter to be their guests at the social.

The Christmas social was discussed. December 12 was set as a tentative date. The social will be husbands and wives and a meal will be served.

The West Texas Home Health Christmas Party was discussed and December 12 or 19 will be the date with his chapter furnishing the meat and all the trimmings, plates, napkins and door prizes. Vikki Yeary volunteered to cook the turkey and dressing. Further details will be worked out at the next meeting.

It was decided to have a booth at the Lions Club Bazaar in December.

Plans for the December 11, Christmas party were also discussed.

Present for the meeting were: Ophelia Cooper, Jill Golden, Vida Hrbacek, Kathy Hunter, Janie Klein, Mary Ann Kring, Martha Sue Lusk, Donnie Meriwether, Charlotte Mitchell, Virginia Owens, Judy Schacht and Cindy Smith. New members Tanya Covington and Judy Fannin were welcomed. Guests for the evening included Home-Economist Marilyn Tate, DeLynn Morgan, Susan Miller and Paula Nelson.

In the business meeting, members voted to donate money to the Floyd County Welfare Board and the Elementary Nellie Brown Fund.

Workman hosts Il Penseroso

Il Penseroso Jr. Study Club met November 19 at Jannette and David Workman's home. The program was Hazards Around The House!

For the program members walked to David's shop, where Dink Eckert and Carroll Sims of the Floydada Fire Department, demonstrated types of fires in and around the house. They told how and how not to try to extinguish them. Dink and Carroll told of the storing of flammable or combustible products. Dust rags were the villain most members weren't aware of.

Roll call was my latest disaster. After members gave thanks no one among them has been hurt seriously.

Meeting was the Hunt Breakfast. Members will meet at Lockney Meat Co. December 10 at 1:30 to make sour dough bread. The remainder will be cooked the morning of December 12 at 6:00 until 8:00 o'clock. See you there! Meeting adjourned.

Members present were: Brenda Mangold, Reeda Cay

Smith, Linda, Linda Cummings, Cindy Lynda Ann, Kay Workman, Judy Nett, Lesa Dumas, Lambert, Asia Hickerson, Anna Berry, Charlene Gail Mattis, Robin Jackson and Johnson.

Cotton stripping continues at Lakeview

ROYCE WILLIAMS

Charlie Wright has been the guest this week. Mrs. Lonnie Mae Workman, who is cooking and netting for a big family on the Wright's on the farm.

Mrs. Blanton were in Carlsbad, Mexico Thursday and visiting their daughter and her husband, D. Lambert Jr., and Howard Bishop had a night supper with two roommates from Lubbock. Mrs. Aldine and Mrs. Bill Caffrey, Green River, Utah, were here.

Cotton strippers are here and night in our city. Miss Cindy Burk and Mrs. Verlon works at the Lakeview after school each day. This young lady also works at the Lighthouse Elmer each morning from 10 to ten thirty, then attends classes at Floydada High School.

The Grady Dunavants are enjoying the new circular driveway at their home, built with the help of their son, Melvin. Melvin is also remodeling the downtown home of Mr. and Mrs. Aldine Williams and is booked up for several months ahead.

Thomas Montgomery Williams of Ft. Sill, Oklahoma was in Matador on business Sunday morning. He met his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O.D. Williams, at church in Floydada, and ate lunch with them before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Bertrand and daughter, Shelly of Vernon, visited from Friday night to Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Bertrand. Ronald was sowing wheat. Mrs. Randy Bertrand and daughters, Angie and Misti, came over for Sunday dinner at Fay and Williams while the guests were here. Randy was busy stripping cotton.

Mrs. Roy Fawver has been ill lately but you couldn't keep her down. Her brother, William Anderson, took her out for lunch Saturday and they enjoyed a nice long drive to Matador and Roaring Springs looking over the countryside. She cooked one of the three turkeys prepared for the Senior Citizens Thanksgiving Dinner served Thursday at the Center. A large crowd attended.

Mrs. Alvie McHam is resting at her home, on the brink of pneumonia. The family took her to the doctor and he said the hospital was full of it, so she came home and her family is nursing her.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Appling attended the reception honoring Brother and Mrs. Floyd Bradley, Sunday afternoon at the Baptist Wall Street Parlor.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Smith and Sharon visited Mr. and Mrs. Grady Dunavant Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Randy Bertrand were in New York City, the first of the month with Connie's sister, Darlene Reed and her brother, Kelly Reed, of Panhandle. Kelly had an appointment with Dr. Harold Levinson, nationally known specialist in treatment of dyslexia. Dr. Levinson treats the reading disability as an inner ear problem, a procedure followed in England. Mrs. Reed had seen Dr. Levinson on a television program, called for an appointment for her high school student son, and was told it would be next summer before he could be seen. A cancellation this fall resulted in his being called, and his family responded immediately.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Harrison and granddaughters, Tracy went to Lubbock Sunday afternoon to visit Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Bob Harrison, whose daughter, Kay and baby were there from San Angelo. Kay's husband, Rex McPherson, had gone deer hunting and Kay and the baby were enjoying a visit with her family.

Mrs. Wayne Appling has been going to the Texas Tech University Medical Center for eye treatment, but surgery has been postponed until after the holidays. The Applings recently visited in Dallas with their daughter, Beverly Conner and family, and Phyllis Farley and family. They also went to Ft. Worth to see Bertha's sister, Mrs. Wynn Rogers in the hospital.

All three of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Edwards, Sr.'s, children have been visiting them during the past week. Mr. and Mrs. Maxey McKnight of Kress came last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Edwards, Jr., of Llano were here Tuesday and Wednesday and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fite of Abilene came to visit this past Sunday.

Miss Cindy Burk attended the Floydada football game at Lubbock Saturday night.

Mrs. Verlon Wright's son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Burk, Jennifer and Justin, of Lubbock visited here Sunday before last. Leon Wright, also of Lubbock, visited on Sunday.

Mrs. Roy Fawver visited Mrs. Ora King and Mrs. Estelle Eubank in Caprock Hospital Saturday morning.

Mrs. Edmund Brown and Mrs. Georgia Mae Erickson with other museum personnel and directors hosted a reception Saturday evening in the Memorial Building at Crosbyton. Guests of honor were owners and stewards of land on the White River Water Shed. Historians Pat Brown and Verna Anne Wheeler presented a program on early travelers of Running Water Draw, White River and Blanco Canyon. A presentation was made to the David Glass family, who now own what was part of the L7 ranch when the Mackenzie Supply Camp for the U.S. Cavalry was established in 1871 to 1874. Guests from this community included Mr. and Mrs. R.H. Farris, Mr. and Mrs. O.D. Williams, Mrs. Viola Brown, Edmund Brown, Mrs. Irving Bennet, Mrs. Beth Kropp, Tom Taylor of the Kirkpatrick Ranch, Suzanne Brunson Horn and Van Horn (recently moved here from Arizona to look after the ranch left by her father, the late Stanton Brunson), two families of the Glass ranch clan from Sterling City, and several others.

Mrs. Erickson provided tea cakes and pumpkin bread served with coffee and spiced tea from the lid of the chuckwagon set up in the museum. Red checked tablecloths were centered with tin cans of dried flowers and grasses. Tables held displays of Indian relics discovered along Blanco Canyon. A book fair showed references pertaining to the area. Pictures were taken for museum records.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Harrison and daughters, Tracy, home from South Plains College, and Debbie, and Mrs. Harrison's father, F.M. Marquis, came out Thursday to run the cotton module at Don Harrison's. The girls had a lot of fun getting the cotton harvested.

Electricity. Knowing what it's worth is worth knowing.

One thing we've probably all learned is to have an appreciation of things that have worth and to know their value. How would you rate yourself on knowing the value of the electricity you use? Take this simple exercise.

- How much was your electric bill last month? $ _____
- Divide 30 into your answer to Number 1. This was the approximate cost of your electricity per day. $ _____
- How many people are in your family? _____
- Divide Number 3 into Number 2. This was the cost of your electricity per day per family member. $ _____

Knowing what electricity is worth is worth knowing. Just look around.

Good crops bless South Plains

BY MRS. MURRAY JULIAN

South Plains, November 23: If we did not have anything else to be thankful for, the beautiful weather would inspire us to poetry. However we are blessed here in this great and good part of the world, with fine crops and most of our people are in good health. May each of you have a happy and tranquil Thanksgiving.

Little 6 year old Amy Bethel got to come home from the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock where she was taken the first part of the week for surgery on her right arm. Until her arm was x-raved, they had thought it was doing well, but it was not knitting properly, so it had to be redone, and had to have surgery on it to help it to grow right, so she could have the use of her fingers. We trust she does well now, even though she will have to be in a cast until in January.

The Baptist Church women will be studying their parts for the Week of Prayer for Foreign Missions, which will be held at the church from December 6-13th, with theme for the WMU study, "How Shall They Hear?" Mrs. Cecil Osborne will be heading the lesson study.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hamm are going to spend their Thanksgiving in San Antonio with their daughter and husband, Dr. Tom and Dena Aufdemorte and daughter Christy. The Hamm's youngest daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Mike and Arlene Berkes of Arlington will fly down to San Antonio to be with their parents and the Aufdemortes for Thanksgiving. The Hamm's will be back home Tuesday.

J.P. Taylor was taken to the Central Plains Hospital in Plainview Sunday. We hope he does not have to be there long. His wife, Trudie, has been in the hospital there since about October 19, and following a major operation, she has been recuperating there.

Like a bee to ... a cotton boll? The attraction is definitely there, according to a joint study carried out by USDA and Texas A & M plant scientists. The researchers concentrated colonies of honey bees near cotton fields and found hybrid cottonseed production equaled that of regular cotton in fields where 50 percent of the plants were male sterile. The male-sterile plants required pollen from nearby male-fertile plants, which the bees gladly provided. When available, hybrid cotton seed will be well utilized by producers due to increased production and other desirable characteristics. This study, according to the entomologists, proved the feasibility of using honey bees to produce hybrid cottonseed, at least on the Texas High Plains, with other areas looking at least as favorable.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hamm prepared a Pre-Thanksgiving dinner Sunday for their children here, and those in Amarillo, since the Hamm's were to be gone during Thanksgiving Day to San Antonio. Guests with them on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Staples and their children, Bill, Stacy and Kevin, and Howard's mother, Mrs. Carrie Staples who is visiting them here from Shapleigh, Maine. Other guests were another daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Pat and Jeaneva Huff and Duane from Amarillo.

We would like to wish happiness to Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Bledsoe who now live in Dallas following their recent marriage. Mary Elizabeth Kinnaird and Dr. Roy William (Bill) Bledsoe were married on October 24, in a 7:30 p.m. ceremony in Hot Springs, Arkansas, in the First United Methodist Church the Rev. Dr. George Martin officiating. Mrs. Jane Ann Fortenberry of Little Rock, sister of the bride, and Roy Copeland Bledsoe, father of the bridegroom, were honor attendants. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kinnaird, Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bledsoe of El Paso. The bride attended Hot Springs High School and the University of Arkansas in Fayetteville. She was graduated from Baylor College of Dentistry, and the bridegroom attended schools here at South Plains, Floydada, then was graduated from Texas Tech University and Baylor College of Dentistry. The Bledsoes lived here in South Plains with their son, Bill, for several years.

We send congratulations to Beth Hall of Amarillo and Warren Cyfert of Giddings, Texas, who were wedded Friday night, November 20, at 6:00 p.m. in the Paramount Christian Church of Amarillo, with his sisters, Mrs. Ruby Higginbotham and Mr. and Mrs. Edith and husband A.D. Guggenheim present. Mrs. Higginbotham went there on Thursday and stayed until Monday, and others from here who attended the services were Mrs. Sarah Beard, an aunt of Warren Cyfert. The couple will make their home in Amarillo.

Mrs. Roby Lutrick and her little twins, of Hereford were here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Steward and Kyle last week. They had the twins pictures taken while they were here, and they left for home on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Upton and Mrs. Blum of Floydada went to Amarillo Thursday to see the Dinner-house play there, and they spent the night while up there with their granddaughter and husband.

The South Plains Hobby Club Christmas Party date has been changed to December 10th, on Thursday at 7:00 p.m. with Mrs. Fred Marble as hostess for the Christmas party.

Guests with the Rev. and Mrs. Cecil Osborne at the Baptist Parsonage for Thanksgiving will be their children, the Rev. and Mrs. Ron and Linda Somers and children, Jamie and Jennifer of Mineral Wells, Mrs. Karen Mauney of Dallas, and Mrs. Osborne's mother.

Mrs. Cordie Taylor of Muleshoe, Mrs. Mauney will spend a week here with her parents, as she has a vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Frank Parks and children of Hereford have been here off and on the past week, as they are staying at the bedside of her father, Jim Harper, who is in the Floydada Caprock Hospital and is very ill. The children are here at the home of his folks, Mr. and Mrs. I.H. Parks.

Last week the bridal party which honored Denise Johnson on Saturday November 14 and which was held at the home of Mrs. Ruby Higginbotham, had an error made on the hostess list and we are reprinting the list and asking a pardon for leaving off some of the names. Hostesses for the party were Mmes. Harold Hamm, Glen Wood, Nathan Johnson, Oliver Clark, E.J. Kinslow, Cecil Osborne, I.H. Parks, Algine Barker, Alton Higginbotham, Mamie Wood, Andy Ford, Kendis Julian, Grigsby Milton, J.P. Taylor, Arby Mulder, Raymond Upton, Bonnie Julian, Sylvain Kinnibrough, Sterling Cummings, Frank McClure, Jerry Chappell, Philip Smitherman and Mrs. Ruby Higginbotham.

The Thanksgiving meeting for the Mulder family will be at the home of Mrs. Letha Mulder here at South Plains. Spending the day with each other are Mr. and Mrs. Kathy and Jerry Taylor, Ronnie Richard, Ronda and Candy and Ronnie's girl from Amarillo and from here, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan and Kathy Mulder, Cindy, Penny, Jimmy and Cory.

Della Plains sports new kitchen

There is a group of "in the know" Floyadians who slip away each Friday noon for one of the finest lunches to be found on the South Plains.

The menu, served cafeteria style, is prepared by the High School and Jr. High VEH students in their newly remodeled kitchen and dining facility room at Della Plains School.

"We only prepare for 40 lunches," said Frances Easter, Home and Community Services teacher, "and have been afraid that we'd run out...so we really haven't publicized it before."

However, after serving to a capacity number of people for several weeks, one Friday only 20 diners came.

"So we are inviting everyone, and if they come and we are out of food, we just hope they will understand," she said.

A few dinners were served last year, but the dining room was small and the equipment was worn.

Then this past summer, the program was given $37,000 in state funds to purchase equipment and build storage areas. In order to comply with grant standards for room size, the VEH Department exchanged room with the early childhood department at Della Plains.

The equipment purchased was the cafeteria style serving line, convection-oven, char-broiler, and commercial dishwasher as well as the attractive wood topped dining tables and decorative chairs.

Cabinets were built, and a pantry was added.

The work was completed on September 15. The program, called "Home and Community Services," is designed to teach skills in the food service industry and the clothing industry.

Part of the state funds were used to buy four new sewing machines one of which is a commercial sewing machine that makes a finishing stitch found in clothing manufacturing.

The clothing instructing is secondary to the cooking classes. "We stress food

World Day of Prayer held at Roaring Springs

World Day of Prayer at Roaring Springs last week was well attended. A very interesting program was presented. Presenting Tuesday's program was Mrs. Gary Hill and Mrs. George Wexler, representing Baptist women of the church. A covered dish luncheon was served at noon and a good fellowship was really enjoyed by all present.

Those attending from Calvary Baptist Church were Mrs. Gary Hill, Mrs. George Wexler, Mrs. Fletcher Powell, Mrs. Jim Owens and Mrs. J.C. Odam.

Thomas died at 2:45 a.m. Thursday in Methodist Hospital after a brief illness. He moved to Lubbock nine years ago from Lockney where he had lived since 1906. He married the former Opal Sinebaugh on January 19, 1925, in Lockney.

He retired from farming in 1969 and was a member of the Lockney Lions Club and the Church of Christ.

Survivors include his wife; a daughter, Mrs. Bill (Betty Jean) Roach of Lubbock; and a sister, Mrs. Rogers of Lockney.

Born in Coleman she moved to Floyd County in 1912 from Plainview.

She was a homemaker, a member of the First United Methodist Church, Homebuilders Demonstration Club, 1929 Study Club and the Rebekah Lodge.

Survivors include a daughter, Sue Carver of Gypsum, Colorado; a stepson, Joe Rushing of Lubbock; a stepdaughter, Dorothy Poe of Tulsa, Oklahoma; a brother, John McKinney Jr. of Floydada; six sisters, Emma Lou Whitaker, Helen Soloman, and Elizabeth Armstrong, all of Floydada; Peggy McKinney of Plainview, and Virginia Small and Margaret Rodgers, both of Lubbock; and two grandchildren.

Caution warned for holidays

Major C.W. Bell, DPS Regional Commander, is asking drivers to be cautious during the Thanksgiving holidays.

"Thanksgiving is a time for us to rest and be grateful for many things. Each individual has its own feelings about Thanksgiving, but those drivers who practice good driving habits can be truly thankful that they were not involved in a traffic accident during the year," he said.

Major Bell pointed out that Texas is well on its way to a record number of traffic fatalities this year. "Last year 4,424 people were killed and 1981 is going to be another record year unless motorists take special precautions to protect themselves and others," he said.

"Many of these deaths could have been avoided if people would stay sober, drive at reasonable speeds and use their seat belts," he said.

Thanksgiving Pilgrims

BY DELIA MARIN

Thanksgiving started with Pilgrims and Pioneer Women coming to a party. All the Pilgrims and Pioneer Women were having fun. They were going to have turkey, dress-up, pumpkin pie, and tea. The Pilgrims and Pioneer Women thought it was a nice party. When they started eating they started dancing again. When they were dancing some Indians came rushing in with some arrows and pretty feathers. The Indian chief said, "What are you all doing here?" The Pilgrims said, "We are trying to go after some turkey because they were scared they would like all of the Pilgrims and Pioneer Women. We tied up with some real, real tight. They couldn't. They finished eating and

About Thanksgiving Day

BY PATRICIA VALLEJO

On Thanksgiving day the Pilgrims started to make the dinner because they were going to invite the Indian village to come to eat turkey and dressing, pumpkin pie and stuffing. That day all the people had so much fun. The Indians and Pilgrims danced together. The next day the Indians taught the Pilgrim boys Indian games and races. The Indian girls taught the Pilgrim girls how to make necklaces out of beautiful, colorful beads.

Thanksgiving Day

BY VINCE FARRIS

The first Thanksgiving Day was when the pilgrims came on the Mayflower to Plymouth Rock. November is the month of Thanksgiving. The pilgrims met the Indians and they became friends. They had a big lunch of roast turkey, corn, beans, squash, and bread, and this was the first Thanksgiving. Every year we have Thanksgiving Day so we can remember the pilgrims and be thankful for everything we have. I am thankful for America, God, school, my family, my friends, and my home. I am glad that the pilgrims came to America so we can have Thanksgiving. I like Thanksgiving Day. Let's be thankful for Thanksgiving.

This year for Thanksgiving we are going to Horseshoe Bay. We are going to fly in my grandpa's plane. My relatives will be there too. We will have a big Thanksgiving dinner. We will eat turkey, dressing, sweet potatoes, beans, bread, and pumpkin pie. It will be fun to be with my dad, mother, sister, grandma, grandpa, and my aunts and uncles. We can ride horses and my grandpa takes us to see the lighthouse. I also like Thanksgiving because I don't have to go to school for two days. I like Thanksgiving Day because I can play a lot and eat a lot. I can go golfing with my grandpa and play football with my dad and uncle. I will be thankful for Thanksgiving Day.

Thanksgiving Day

BY TAMMY PLEASANT

Once upon a time lived pilgrims. They also got to get alone together. The girls always helped their mothers. The boys always helped their fathers. They always invited the Indians to dinner. They had turkey, bread, salad, fruit, and drinks. They had a good time. After they ate, they danced, they played games. Then they had work to do. The Indians helped a little. Then they left. The pilgrims waved good-bye. The Indians thanked them before they left. So it was time to go to bed because it was midnight. When they went to sleep, they heard a loud noise. Then they all woke up. But it was just a wolf. The next morning the girls helped their mother cook breakfast. When they helped, they had a lot of fun. Sometimes they would get to play. They would play with their pets, and play with their dolls what their mothers made them. They were very nice and kind. The boys and their fathers went hunting turkey. At the end of Thanksgiving, they had enough food, fruit, turkey, salad and drinks.

Thanksgiving Day

BY CHRISTE MITCHELL

Thanksgiving is a wonderful holiday. It is time for family and it is time for friends. But most of all it is time for thanks. That is what Thanksgiving is all about. On Thanksgiving Day everyone visits their family and friends. Just like everyone else, I visit my family. My parents, my brother, my sister, and I visit my grandparents. When we get there I like to play with my friends and my cousins. We play outside sometimes if the weather is warm. We ride bikes and play ball. If it is raining, we play games inside. There are so many people that it is hard to find a place to play.

Thanksgiving

Share It With Loved Ones

The joy of giving... the feeling of brotherhood. On this day of togetherness, let's rekindle the spirit of the very first Thanksgiving, as we give grateful thanks for the many blessings we share.

As disaster payments phase out

Crop insurance could develop emphasis

Growers are expected to be looking closer at the new, larger federal crop insurance program this coming year with ASCS disaster payments phasing out after the 1981 crops are harvested.

And there is a move toward selling these policies through additional local insurance agencies. Although previously offered through a few such agencies this year, the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC) is phasing out some 68 permanent and 84 part-time offices by January and farmers who have not already selected a local agent by that time will be provided with a list of agents from which to choose, according to Ed Curran, USDA News Center in Washington.

List Available

He said any bonafide insurance agency, following certain training and approval, can contract with FCIC to sell the policies. Farmers wanting a list of the nearest local agency can call a toll free number, 1-800-447-4700.

Wayne Fletcher, head of the FCIC, said the choice of a service office is up to the farmer. He said FCIC will assign insurance files from the federal offices being closed to local crop insurance agents in cases where policyholders fail to make their own selection.

"These policyholders will be informed of their assigned agent when the file is transferred," Fletcher said.

However, farmers have the option of changing service agents up to the earliest sales closing date for their insured fall and spring crops.

Changes Made

When the new 1980 Federal Crop Insurance Act was written last fall, only about 1,600 of the nation's roughly 3,000 counties offered such coverage. Originally, 250 additional counties were to be brought into the program each year until all counties were covered.

In April, however, it was announced that by 1982 insurance would be available in all counties for major crops such as wheat, cotton, grain, sorghum, soybeans, rice, corn and barley.

Farmers can choose to cover 50, 65 or 75 percent of their normal yield when purchasing policies. The FCIC will pay for 30 percent of the premium price covering up to 65 percent of established yields.

Program Explained

USDA economist Clayton Ogg explains it this way:

"Premium payments and other elements of the program will vary among counties and crops," he said. "But, as an example, he looks at the protection a farmer can get on his corn and soybean crops."

The farmer has 200 acres of corn and 100 acres of soybeans that he wants to insure. For this farm, the average corn yield from FCIC records is 110 bushels and the farmer chooses the 75-percent yield guarantee at $2.70 a bushel, paying a premium of $9.90 an acre.

And, for that 100 acres of soybeans, he chooses the same 75-percent coverage. His county's average soybean yield is 30 bushels and the price guarantee is $7 a bushel for which he pays a premium of $8.50 an acre.

Drought Hits

"Now, let's assume that severe drought reduces his corn yield to 20 bushels per acre and his soybean yield to 10 bushels," Ogg said.

Payment for the damaged corn crop under the subsidized Federal Crop Insurance Program is calculated as follows:

- (1) 75 percent of the 110 bushel yield equals 82.5 bushels.
- (2) 82.5 bushels (guarantee) minus 20 bushels (production) equals 62.7 bushels loss.

(3) 62.5 bushels times $2.70 equals $168.75 per acre.

(4) $168.75 times 200 acres equals a $33,750 payment.

Payment for the soybean damage is determined the same way:

(1) 75 percent of the farmer's 30 bushel yield equals 22.50 bushels.

(2) 22.50 bushels (guarantee) minus 10 bushels (production) equals a 12.50 bushel loss.

(3) 12.50 bushels times $7 equals $87.50 per acre.

(4) $87.50 times 100 acres equals an $8,750 payment.

Total Receipts

"Under the FCIC program, the farmer would receive a total of $42,500 for his two damaged crops," Ogg said.

"His subsidized premiums were $9.90 an acre for corn and $8.50 an acre for soybeans. Therefore, he paid $2,830 in premium cost but received a net benefit of $39,670."

Ogg said the relationship between any insurance benefit and the premium cost depends, of course, upon how severe the loss and the level of protection chosen.

Test cottonseed for free fatty

Wet and relatively warm fall weather in the Texas High Plains has increased the possibility that the seed in early-maturing cotton fields has suffered some deterioration, cautions a cotton specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Cottonseed exposed to such conditions or subjected to poor storage conditions after harvest often undergoes fairly rapid deterioration in quality, said Dr. James R. Supak, Extension cotton agronomist. This deterioration is frequently reflected by an increased free fatty acid content of the seed, he said.

"Basically, these acids are both the building blocks for—and the breakdown products of—cottonseed oil," Supak explained. The cotton plant is able to convert the sugars it produces into fatty acids and eventually oil. This oil serves as a major source of energy that keeps the seed alive during storage and that enables the seed to germinate and establish a strong, healthy seedling.

Cottonseed always contains some free fatty acids in the tissues. This is due to the presence of fatty acids that were not synthesized into oils or to fatty acids that result from breakdown of oil needed to keep the seed viable during storage. The concentrations of free fatty acids in well-matured, properly processed cottonseed are generally well below one percent, the agronomist said.

"Higher levels (greater than 1 percent) are common in immature seed where the fatty acids were not formed into oil and in deteriorated seed where warm, moist conditions triggered a faster than normal breakdown of oil into fatty acids," Supak said.

He noted that many seedsmen and delinting plant operators use the free fatty acid test in conjunction with germination tests to assess seed quality. If free fatty acids exceed two to three percent, the seed are usually not suitable for planting purposes.

"Seed with free fatty acids in the 1 to 2 percent range are considered questionable whereas seed with less than 1 percent free fatty acids usually make acceptable planting seed," Supak said. "There are exceptions," he admitted. For example, high free fatty acid levels may be due primarily to the immature seed in a given seed lot. If these seed can be removed during the delinting-grading process, the overall quality of the seed lot may be acceptable.

Likewise, a few badly deteriorated seed, such as might occur near the bottom of a module formed on wet ground, can contain up to 30 percent free fatty acids while the rest of the seed are sound. A few such badly deteriorated seed in a test sample can give a false impression of the overall condition of the seed lot.

At the other extreme, seed can be dead and not have a high free fatty acid content, he noted. Seed can die from causes other than the high humidity, high temperature condition normally required for free fatty acid develop-

High Plains wheat hit by leaf rust

An old problem is causing new concern for wheat growers throughout the Texas wheat belt, but there isn't much the farmer can do to help this year's crop, says a plant pathologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The problem is wheat rust, a disease often caused by a microscopic fungus which thrives in the moist, warm environment of autumn, explained Dr. Robert Berry, the plant pathologist.

"Wheat farmers all over the wheat belt of Texas have become aware of a yellow color and poor appearance of their crop in many fields," the Extension specialist said.

The oldest leaves on a wheat plant will show the most damage. At first there is a small yellow fleck on the leaf. The spot enlarges for a short time and becomes a round, rough spot beneath the leaf surface. Soon the bump becomes pale in color, then yellow, and breaks to release many golden yellow rust spores. The spores blow to other leaves and start the whole process again. It takes about twelve days under good conditions, Berry said.

The best conditions for the disease are mild temperatures and long periods of wetness on wheat leaves. The spores will not infect a dry leaf and they soon perish under extremely high or low temperatures, he explained.

"As the disease progresses, each generation is more damaging," Berry said. Many fields have so much leaf rust at this time that older leaves are dead, middle leaves are yellow and only a few young, green leaves remain in the crown.

The continual loss of leaves to rust is something like heavy grazing by livestock. The plant will survive with good moisture but it will make little progress. "In fact, it is a good idea to graze a rusted field so as to use the forage and reduce the production of rust spores," Berry advised.

Leaf rust is not a new problem to wheat producers, he noted, it appears every fall on volunteer or early planted wheat. It spreads to younger plants and the epidemic increases rapidly until the weather forces a slow down.

The spores don't grow at low temperatures and many may freeze. Some will go south on the first northwind and carry on the disease in a more favorable climate.

"Rusted leaves are more sensitive to frost injury, so we usually expect no leaf rust after Thanksgiving," Berry said. Counties below the caprock may not be so lucky, he cautioned. The organism has occasionally spent the winter in the San Angelo area but is may be killed all the way to San Antonio or even farther south, he said.

In the spring, leaf rust may move slowly to the north. "It may reach as far as Munday or Seymour on southerly winds and it might even show up at Childress in some years," Berry said. "However, in my twenty years in the area, I've seen rust above the caprock only once."

In 1981 leaf rust was extremely heavy throughout the eastern Texas Panhandle, he noted. Most plant pathologists blamed the problem on an unusually mild winter last season and timely spring moisture.

"Leaf rust causes more concern to cowboys who happen to need wheat for grazing. They always plant early and the rust organism has a long time to raise many generations before cold weather comes. One solution is to delay planting as long as possible. Wheat seeded at this time will have no trouble with leaf rust," the Extension specialist said.

Another control is the use of rust resistant varieties. Sturdy, Sage, Oage, and Newton have resistance to leaf rust built into their genes. They will have much fewer rusted spots, he said. The pustules will be much smaller, and the pustules will be much sparser, he said.

Some fungicides have good activity against the rust fungus. Their use can not be recommended, though, because they do not have the proper label for use on feed or food wheat used for grazing, Berry cautioned. The cost of chemical controls might prevent their use on wheat even if it was legal, he added.

"There isn't much the wheat producer can do about rust on his crop this year. He can make plans for next year so as to prevent rust losses and he can be thankful for the moisture which will help the wheat through the winter," Berry said.

TFB members will meet in Corpus Christi

The state's largest general farm organization is making plans to meet in Corpus Christi for its annual convention, November 29-December 2. About 1,200 farmers and ranchers, all members of Texas Farm Bureau, will meet to decide the policies the organization will support in 1982.

The theme of this year's meeting is "Cultivating Freedom."

Delegates, who must earn at least 51 percent of their income from agriculture will adopt state policies to guide the organization next year. Approved resolutions on national issues will be forwarded to the 63rd annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation in San Diego, January 10-14.

General session, business session, and special conferences will be held in the Corpus Christi Convention Center. Registration for delegates begins at 2 p.m. on Sunday, November 29, in the convention center theater lobby.

The finals of the Free Enterprise Speech Contest for young people takes place Sunday evening. Following the contest, a quartet — "The Added Touch" — will be the featured entertainment for a devotional service.

A breakfast conference for young Farmers and Ranchers is scheduled at 6:30 a.m. on Monday, November 30. A general session for all delegates follows, beginning at 8:30 a.m. Carrol Chaloupka, TFB president, will present his annual address, and there will be a report by Secretary-Treasurer Donald Hebert.

The president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, Robert B. Delano, will be the keynote speaker, addressing the gathering about 11 a.m. Monday morning.

Six special conferences will be held on Monday afternoon from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. Delegates can attend the conference of their choice — energy, labor, taxes, water, mineral rights and leasing, and Farm Bureau economic services.

That evening, the annual Talent Find and the Queen's Contest will be held back-to-back in the Convention Center theater.

Other awards to be presented during the convention will be the membership awards to county Farm Bureaus, the winner of the "Outstanding Farmer and Rancher Award" for 1981, and the "Meritorious Service Award."

Tuesday and Wednesday, December 1 and 2, will be devoted to the business session. Warren Newberry, TFB executive director, will present his administrative report to the delegates as the session convenes at 8:30 Tuesday morning.

The final order of business on Wednesday, December 2, will be the election of directors from odd-numbered districts, and the election of a president.

Following adjournment of the convention, the TFB board of directors will meet and elect a secretary-treasurer and vice president from among their own number.

More dollar value came from irrigated cropland

More than 50 percent of the total dollar value of harvested crops in Texas in 1979 was from irrigated cropland, which represented about a third of the total cropland in the State, according to a report released today by the Texas Department of Water Resources.

"Inventories of Irrigation in Texas, 1958, 1964, 1969, 1974, and 1979" show that the leading irrigated crops in 1979 were cotton with 2,260,300 acres, grain sorghum with 1,263,400 acres, wheat with 1,229,500 acres, and corn with 984,200 acres.

Copies of the report, No. 263, may be obtained without charge from the TDR Publications Distribution Unit, P.O. Box 13087, Austin, Texas 78711. The report is based on inventories made cooperatively by the Texas Department of Water Resources, the Soil Conservation Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, and the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board.

Most of the basic data previously published in 1958, 1964, 1969, and 1974 inventories are included in the new 1979 inventory report.

Due to relatively high rainfall during the 1979 growing season in many parts of Texas, less acreage was irrigated and less water was applied in 1979 than in the prior inventory of 1974.

Because of the above normal rainfall in 1979 and the below normal rainfall in 1980, a 1980 irrigation survey was conducted for selected Texas areas and is included in the report. The three selected areas include the High Plains, Pecos and Reeves Counties, and the Winter Garden Counties.

Using data from the 1979 and 1980 surveys, it was estimated in the report that 1980 irrigated acreage was slightly larger than 1979; however, irrigation water use in the High Plains was about 24 percent greater in 1980 than in 1979. The 1980 survey data indicated that irrigation development in the three areas surveyed peaked during the 1970's.

Ground water constituted 75 percent of the total water used for irrigation in 1979 and surface water supplied 25 percent. Ground-water use for irrigation declined to an estimated 6.92 million acre-feet in 1979 from 10.28 million acre-feet in 1974.

Water Conservation measures used by Texas irrigators include the use of sprinkler irrigation and the newer trickle system which has water flowing directly to the root zone of each plant. The peacan crop was the leading crop to benefit from the trickle system in 1979 with use in some 12,000 acres.

Tables and maps in the report include data and information on amounts of irrigated acreage and of water use for all counties, river and coastal basin and zones, soil and water conservation districts, and major irrigation areas for the five statewide-inventory years. Major irrigation areas are the High Plains, El Paso Valley, Lower Rio Grande Valley, North-Central Texas, Trans-Pecos, Winter Garden-San Antonio area, Middle Rio Grande Valley, Gulf Coast Prairie, Coastal Bend, West Coast Timbers, and Brazos River Valley.
