Health-Fitness program started

The Health-Fitness program offered through the Lockney General Hospital has already proven to be a tremendous success for this area.

Some 75 participants have signed up for the program. 68 women and seven men are already enjoying the benefits of toning up their muscles.

Next week beginning Monday, February 15, a men's program will be offered especially for men who work and need an earlier hour. The office will be open from 6:30 a.m. More time may be allotted for that purpose if enough interest is shown.

Participants that enrolled range in age from 17 to 72. Each exercise session lasts 30 minutes. A doctor's permit is required for everyone. Permits may be picked up at the office or at the doctor's office.

Health-Fitness is located at 116 South Main Street.

Fees are very modest. A set-up charge of $20 is required for everyone. Senior citizens pay $20 per month. Other enrollees pay $30 per month; a second member under the same roof is charged $15. Plans A and B are available for groups; if interested, contact the Health-Fitness office at 652-2210.

Health-Fitness is not a "gym" or "spa." The exercise program is pulse monitored and supervised by people who are experts in the field of exercise and exercise physiology.

The Health-Fitness staff recommends that you exercise from three to five times a week for best results.

Block Grant procedure changed

Lockney City Council met Thursday morning, February 4, for their regular monthly meeting.

A change was passed by the Council in order to enable the 1981-82 Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program to be implemented more efficiently.

The program had previously stated that the owner would pay $3600 and the city would pay $2400 with a maximum of $6000. With the change the city would pay the total $6000.

Under this agreement, the landlord agrees not to sell the house for at least 5 years, to keep the house in the same repair that it was made with normal wear and tear excepted, and to agree not to raise the rent unless it was for something beyond his control.

A called election has been set for Saturday, April 3 for the election of three aldermen. The terms of J.W. Dipprey, Jr., Pat Frizzell, and Paul Reecer will expire. All three have announced for re-election.

Smitherman to run

E.P. "Ernest" Smitherman has announced his candidacy for the office of Justice of the Peace Precinct #1-4 of Floyd County.

Smitherman, a citizen of Floyd County since 1917, farmed in the South Plains Community until 1962 when he moved to Floydada after buying the Fieldan Motel. Smitherman owned and managed the local business for 12 years, and is currently semi-retired.

Smitherman and his wife Ruth are members of the First Baptist Church.

"I would like to take this opportunity to encourage everyone to get out and vote," Smitherman said. "It would indeed be a pleasure serving my fellow citizens of Precincts 1 and 4 as your Justice of the Peace. I pledge myself to exercise fairness and good judgement, and would appreciate your vote and encouragement."

Smitherman will be running against incumbent Walter Hollums in the May primaries.

Lockney Care Center doors decorated

Friday, February 5 was very exciting around the Lockney Care Center. There had been all kinds of bustling around for four or five days.

Employees were dashing here and there and all of that energy was not being spent caring for the residents. All of the residents were smiling and their eyes twinkled as they got caught up in all that excitement.

What was happening? Valentine was coming and they were going to have a contest. Each employee decorated a door to one of the resident's rooms with all the creativity she could muster. Eleanor Schacht was the qualified judge of all those hearts, lace, velvet, crepe paper and cupid.

Sherry Carthel, LVN on the day shift, won first place. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cap Carthel of Lockney. Sherry has worked at the Lockney Care Center since August, 1981.

Second place winner was Elvera Blanco, a nurse's aide. Elvera is a high school student who works at the Care Center along with her school activities. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Blanco.

Paula Soliz, also a nurse's aide, won third place on the door she decorated. She is the daughter of Mr. Andy Soliz, returning to the Lockney Care Center in

Open letter to Floyd County farmers

BY SHELLY HARRIS

When the idea for a farm story on using multiple tools to save trips across the ground in preparation for planting came in last week I was delighted.

I went out Tuesday afternoon and took pictures of Lyle Miller plowing in a wind that was so strong and so cold I could hardly hold the camera still.

I talked to him through a face scarf with teeth chattering. That night I interviewed Cecil Jackson by phone.

Wanting to be accurate, on Wednesday morning I called Larry Barbee at Consumers Fuel to get the correct spelling of anhydrous and herbicide. I also learned that stubble is what you're left with after you harvest wheat and that stalks are what you're left with after harvesting cotton.

I finished the story, and sent it back to be typed...very pleased with myself. I had a good local farm story for the papers.

Ah, but then came Thursday morning! Ever so often an article will slip through without being proofed, and this was one of those times.

Marjorie Holcomb, our bookkeeper, brought the most glaring to my attention. "You've got the wrong word on the cotton here" she said pointing.

I should have known it was spelled with an "al" as in Jack and the beanstalk rather than with an "oc" as in farm animals. I also learned that tandem is with an "em" not a "um."

Then there were the typos. Re-word was correctly spelled. It's just that you don't "re-word the land". And 14 is a perfectly good number, except that Cecil Jackson estimated land preparation at $4 an acre.

I must say that farmers are true gentlemen. Not one of you called me up on it.

When I was at Gladys Jones's house Friday covering the DAR ceremony I was moaning my mistakes to the group composed mostly of farm wives. One of them really soothed my spirit by saying, "Don't worry about it, Shelly, the farmers need a good laugh nowadays anyway."

So, don't give up on me fellows. I'm learning. And when the coffee shop talk centers around a farmer who is trying something new or something a little bit different...let me know.

We really appreciate all the local farm articles we can get.

May I leave you with this excerpt from a book by Charlotte Macleod.

"Agri isn't a business, it's a culture! A farmer's highest calling is to serve the earth."

"Farm Bureau Week" designated in county

February 15-20 has been designated "Farm Bureau Week" in Floyd County by County Judge Choise Smith.

The week is part of a statewide observance during which county Farm Bureaus will make a special effort to enroll new members, according to Delmas McCormick of Floydada, president of Floyd County Farm Bureau.

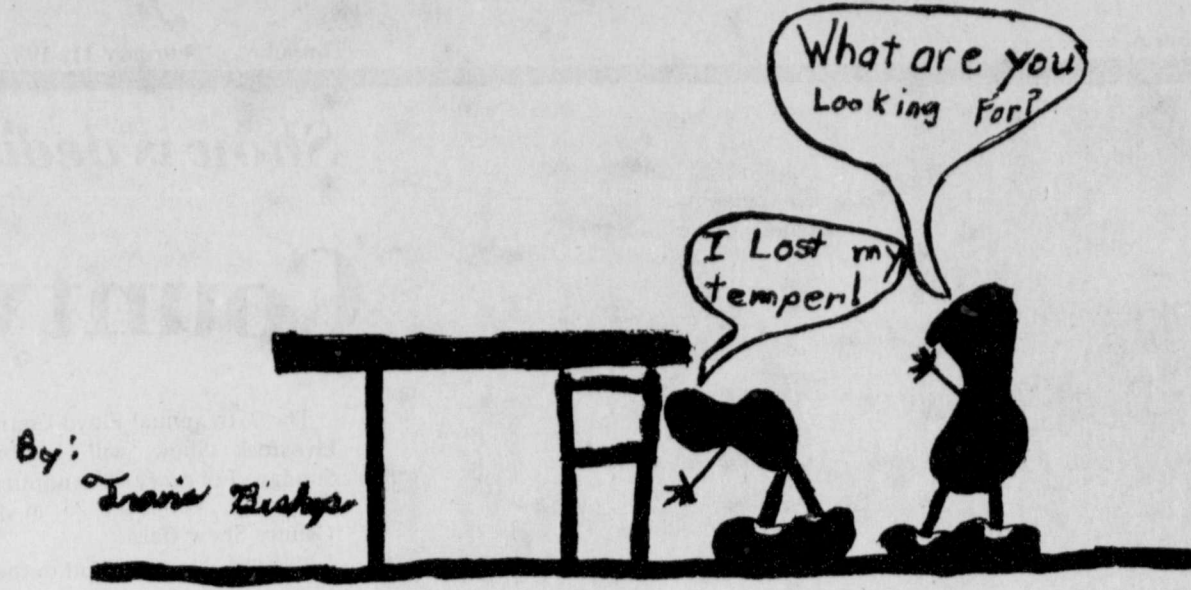

The official county proclamation calls American agriculture "the producing marvel of the world," and adds that one farm worker now produces enough food for 68 people. "Because of this," the proclamation said, "the average American family spends less than one-fifth of its income for food."

The proclamation continues by saying that "four out of five producers are voluntary members of Farm Bureau" and through that organization, they "work to build a better social and economic life for themselves."

Mr. McCormick said that Farm Bureau will continue to represent interests of farmers and ranchers in Austin and in Washington, D.C. Among Farm Bureau policies implemented last year was the state constitutional amendment exempting livestock and poultry from ad valorem taxation.

The county leader said the organization also favored spending and tax cuts that were passed by Congress last year.

Don't lose your temper!

The Rev. Michael O'Connor's

Perspectives

Until just recently, Don Wildmon and his National Federation For Decency told me very little I did not know. They seemed to concentrate on the shows on television they did not like, most of which I had already refused to watch.

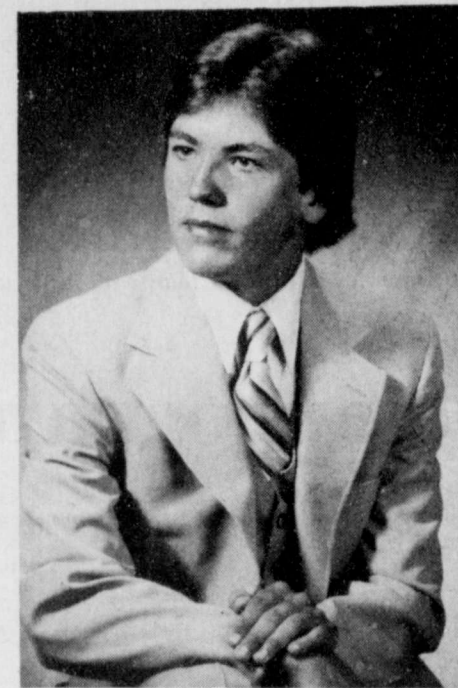

Then I received one of NFD's mailings for the past month. They were incensed, and as I read what they had to say, I became incensed as well. Playboy magazine ran in one of its issues a section they entitled "Prayboy". The NFD included a reproduction of the section in their mailing.

While I had always assumed that the people over at Playboy would be opposed to the NFD and Moral Majority, I was surprised at this vitriolic attack on Christianity as a whole. Certainly a production which includes an interview with God must be dealt with in terms of an attack on the faith itself, rather than just a swipe at a couple of organizations the Hefner and his crew would not like.

The "Prayboy" section included, in addition to the aforementioned interview, a "Praymate of the Month", various pictures which the NFD censored in reprint, and a picture of a "new, improved chastity belt." In times gone by, such a piece of garbage would have been called blasphemy, and the perpetrators would have forfeited their lives. Maybe times gone by were a bit extreme, but publications such as Playboy must be put out of business.

Pressure can be brought on stores not to carry such publications, and advertisers can be asked not to support such junk. We have to let people know we will not stand for these kinds of vicious attacks. Otherwise, the world will think it is alright to do such things.

Shelly Harris - Publisher Editor
111 East Missouri Street
Floydada, Texas 79235

Dear Shelly:

I do enjoy the Hesperian so very much. I will always have a soft spot for Floydada. My job does not allow me to be there as much as I like, but getting the Hesperian each week helps keep me in touch.

Now, the reason I am writing is to share with you and all my friends this item I found not long ago, which I feel is a very good Recipe for a Happy New Year for every one who reads it.

So I was wondering if you would print it in the Hesperian so others may read it:

A Recipe For A Happy New Year
Take twelve fine, bright new months; See that they are thoroughly free from all old memories of bitterness, hate and jealousy.

Cleanse them completely from every clinging spite. Pick off all specks of pettiness and littleness - In short, see that these months are free from all the past. Have them as fresh and clean as when they first from God's great store house of time.

Cut these months into thirty or thirty one equal parts (or twenty-eight for February). Do not attempt to make up the whole batch at one time. (so many people spoil the entire lot this way) But prepare one day at a time as follows.

Into each day put equal parts of Faith, Patience, Courage, Work and Hope. (some folks omit this ingredient and so spoil the flavor of the rest). Add kindness and Prayer. (leaving out this ingredient is like leaving the oil out of the salad—Don't do it.) Also add meditation and one selected resolution—put in about a teaspoonful of good spirits, a dash of fun, a pinch of folly, a sprinkling of play and a heaping cupful of good humor.

Pour Love into the whole mixture and blend with gladness—garnish with a few smiles and a sprig of joy; Then serve with quietness, unselfishness and cheerfulness. — And there you have a perfect recipe for a Happy New Year.

COUNTY JUDGE Choise Smith signs a Proclamation designating Farm Bureau Week, February 15-20, as Billy Fulton looks on.

Proclamation

OFFICIAL PROCLAMATION
BY
CHOISE SMITH, COUNTY JUDGE
FLOYD COUNTY
FLOYDADA, TEXAS

Greetings: American agriculture is the producing marvel of the world. One farm worker produces enough food for 68 people. Because of this, the average American family spends less than one-fifth of its income for food.

Farmers and ranchers have learned they can improve their industry and rural life through organization. Some four out of five producers are voluntary members of Farm Bureau, an independent general farm organization. Through Farm Bureau, they work to build a better social and economic life for themselves.

Therefore, I, Choise Smith, County Judge of Floyd County, do hereby designate February 15-20, 1982, as FARM BUREAU WEEK in Floyd County, and urge our citizens to give due recognition to this observance honoring the Floyd County Farm Bureau.

In official recognition thereof, I hereby affix my signature this 15th day of February, 1982.

Signed Choise Smith

Jr. High students place high in DAR essay contest

Floydada Jr. High students walked off with most of the top honors in the DAR essay contest judged in Plainview.

First place went to Jana Lawson. Third place was won by Pam Richardson, and honorable mention went to Rebecca Redding and Haney Robertson. All are eighth-graders.

The youngsters were honored at a tea Wednesday afternoon at the Woman's Club in Plainview.

Topic of the contest, concluded in January, was "A Famous Person born in February."

Jana chose Thomas Edison for her essay, which was entitled, "One percent inspiration and ninety-nine percent perspiration."

Jana said that, though she didn't always agree with what he said, she admired the way he always stood up for what he believed in.

Susan B. Anthony was the famous person who sparked Rebecca's interest. "She was a pioneer in women's rights and she was very intelligent," Rebecca said.

Haney wrote about William T. Sherman, who was a Yankee general during the Civil War.

"He felt he should fight for the North. He did what he thought was right," Haney said. "He conducted the march through Georgia that destroyed the South."

Pam Richardson was ill and not available for interview.

The essay contest is sponsored by the Mary McCov Baines Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution in Plainview and is open to area youngsters.

Norma Feuerbacher is the sponsoring teacher at Floydada Jr. High.

Floydada Volunteer Fire Department accepts money

A check for $100.00 was received by the Floydada Volunteer Fire Department from Germania Farm Mutual in appreciation of services the department rendered. The department responded to a fire call on January 6, 1982, involving insured property of Mutual member Manuel Suarez.

Edwin Schmid, president of the company said, "Volunteer fire departments such as yours have been a tremendous help in keeping fire losses to a minimum, not only for policyholders of this Association, but for all people in the State of Texas. Your services not only help keep fire insurance rates as low as possible, but because of your efforts, many lives are saved together with a tremendous amount of valuable property."

"We extend our special thanks to the members of the Floydada Volunteer Fire Department for the services rendered in this case."

In accepting the check, Fire Chief Bobby Welborn said, "We would like to express our appreciation to all residents and businesses who have made contributions to the Volunteer Fire Department."

Annie Taylor Scholarship Fund gains momentum

The Student Council of Floydada Jr. High School has found a way of combining an evening of entertainment with the support of a worthy cause and lacing it all with a valentine.

A dance sponsored by the council will be given on Friday night for Jr. High students. The proceeds from the concession sales and from a carnation sale will be donated to the Annie Taylor Scholarship Fund.

The valentine dance will be free to all students. A seventh and an eighth grade Beau and Sweetheart will be presented at the dance. The student body has voted on two from each grade.

A metal trivet formed of entwining hearts will also be raffled off at the dance. A one-dollar donation allows the youngster to place their name in a jar for the drawing. The trivet was hand crafted by Al Galloway. Proceeds from the drawing will also be given to the Annie Taylor Scholarship Fund.

The carnations being ordered now are $2.25 each.

The dance, held in the Jr. High Gymnasium, is from 7 to 9 p.m.

Growing in momentum
The scholarship fund drive is growing in momentum, and the committee goal is to have the first scholarship presented to a graduating student this year.

The fund is named after Annie Taylor, who has devoted her life to teaching. The scholarship is set up so that each year a young person who is economically unable to attend college may do so. Any deserving student may qualify.

The fund, started just before Christmas, is now over $700. Donations not previously reported are: the 1934 Study Club gave a $100 check, two memorials have been received; one by Bob and Frances Hambright in the name of Weldon McClure, and another by Elaine Hardy in the name of Jessie Reeves.

Personal contributions have been received from: Vaughn Murff; Gwen Cogdell; Ian Moore; J.E. Evans, Houston; and Parnell and Frances Powell.

The fund has been set up at the First National Bank. Those wishing to donate through the Jr. High Valentine Dance may do so by calling the school. Others may pledge their support directly at the bank.

A January article in the Plainview Herald featured Annie Taylor as a pioneer in integration since she was the first black student admitted to Wayland Baptist University 30 years ago.

Mrs. Taylor was also interviewed by Lubbock KAMC-TV, Channel 28, last week to be aired soon. It is expected that there will be people in Lubbock interested in taking part in the project since her son, Charles, is principal of Posey School in that city.

Don Harmon announces completion of merger

Don Harmon, President of Summit Savings Association, announced recently that final approval of the merger of Tri-County Savings and Loan, Plainview Savings and Loan, and Collin County Savings and Loan into one Association, Summit Savings, has taken place.

This merger means that Summit Savings will now have offices in Plainview, Floydada, Matador, Hale Center, Muleshoe, Littlefield, Friona, Farwell, Plano and Allen, Texas, and will have a combined financial strength of $140,000,000.

In this age of higher interest rates, along with the cost of building, it is a must that the lending institution has the financial footings to meet the customer's need. This merger has provided us with one hundred forty million dollars which in turn will help provide financing on a larger scale.

"One other thing that I need to stress is that there have been no major shake-ups in our offices. The same personnel are still there to serve their friends and customers. The same friendly atmosphere while attending to business is still the order of the day. The only thing that has changed is that we now have a universal logo and name for identity purposes. I would invite everyone to feel free to visit any one of our eleven locations, meet the people who are associated with Summit Savings and, if they aren't already, become one of our valued customers." President Harmon concluded.

Teachers honored

The Lockney teachers and administration were honored with an appreciation tea Wednesday by the FHA. Refreshments were served by members of the FHA and their sponsors, Mrs. Cindy Ford and Miss Annette Weil. The tea was one of their projects during Texas FHA Week, February 7-13.

Floydada Chamber elects directors

In recent balloting five new Directors have been elected by the Floydada Chamber of Commerce. They are Lewis McDaniel, Southwestern Public Service; Tommy Ogden, Federal Land Bank; Tom Powell, F.I.S.D.; Joe Rice, Caprock Hospital; and Daphna Simpson, Behner and Company.

Combining with the present Board of Directors their first duty was to elect a new slate of officers to serve the Chamber and community for 1982. Those elected were: Stan McClendon, President; Tom Powell, Vice President; Johnny Harris, Jr., Vice President; Daphna Simpson, Board Secretary.

As provided for in the by-laws, President-elect McClendon has duly appointed his three Directors to serve one-year terms. They are: Darlynn Hambright, Rob Heflin, and Jett Major.

Many of the board officers and members will travel to Plainview Friday for a Leaders and Personnel Workshop conducted by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Topics included will be: The Chamber of Commerce Present/Future; Staff and Volunteer Relationships; the Challenges and Responsibilities. Financing the Chamber (for the volunteer); Problem Solving for the Executive.

Saturday the entire new Board of Directors will go into retreat to plan the Chamber's goals and objectives and develop a program of work for 1982.

Valentine week brings out the new friendships and loves of Lockney High School students as carnations are sold by the student council to be given to ones "friends." This has become an annual event at LHS, and a money-making project for the student council. A fund has been set up to purchase a marquee.

DAR forms new chapter

The National Society Daughters of the American Revolution, Buffalo Grass Chapter was installed in Floydada on Friday, February 5 at the home of Gladys Jones.

Installing officer was Mrs. L.W. Norvell, State Linage Research Chairman from Hereford.

The threefold objectives of the NSDAR are the same today as when the Society was organized in 1890 and chartered by Act of Congress in 1896:

historical, educational, and patriotic. The historical, educational and patriotic work of the National Society is promoted through the National, Special and Administrative Committees. One third of these relate to youth.

The NSDAR is classified as an educational, nonprofit organization because the fundamental purpose of the DAR is to promote good citizenship through education. Participation in youth programs sponsored by DAR is voluntary, and winners of awards are selected by local citizens. All youth programs are planned to promote leadership, dependability, service, and patriotism.

Officers installed were Ozena Norris, Regent; Alice Henry, Vice Regent; Janis Julian, Chaplain; Gladys Jones, Registrar; Emma Lou Whitaker, Treasurer; Ann Swepston, Secretary; Ona Ruth Neff, Historian; Loretta Denning, Librarian, Nova Dee Evans, Curator.

Center reports sunny but cold weather

BY MRS. J.E. GREEN

February 8, 1982:

It has been very cold. A bit of snow, and last nite a shower. Today it is cloudy and sunny by turns, and still cold.

We are thankful when we can stay in. Especially Senior Citizens.

Our convalescing friends are coming along — the at home and Rest Home friends: Mrs. Clarence Ashton and Mrs. Sally Carpenter in Lockney, Miss Opal Rogers in Floydada Rest Home and Wiley Rogers and the Pecks at home. How thankful we all are for gas stoves and fire places. But is colder farther north and west. Time flies. Spring will be here soon.

Mrs. Ava Jackson is home again after visiting in Odessa in the home of a son who has been sick.

Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Millard Watson visited her parents, the Henry Brewers, and Sunday the Fred McDou-gles came from Crosbyton.

Church attendance Sunday was up from last Sunday.

Mrs. McPherson visited Mrs. Ola Warren Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Jackson has been on the sick list.

The Dale Millers had company Sunday evening.

Mrs. Roe Jones is visiting in Petersburg with a daughter and family, John and Christine Perry and family.

Bro. Clay Muncy was taken to Lockney Hospital Saturday nite. We hope he will soon be feeling better.

The Hal Thomases, as well as a lot more of us have been staying in.

Mr. and Mrs. John Warren and family of near Lubbock, spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Ethel Warren.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Warren dined Sunday with the Bob Alldredges.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Latta visited Mrs. Green Friday and Saturday P.M.'s. So did son Vic of Plainview Thursday P.M. when temperature dropped toward zero.

The program will include sewing techniques, machine adjustments, helpful new sewing aides, pressing techniques, and pattern selection.

Mark your calendar and plan to attend on Monday, February 15, at 4:00 p.m. in the Agriculture Building, courthouse square, Floydada.

ARE YOU A "MOLD MAKER?"

Are you a pack rat — saving everything? You just can't throw anything out — including food. Do you find little dishes in the back of the refrigerator covered with all sorts of mold? Do not despair, you are not alone! This is one of the consequences of growing up in a home where you learned to eat everything with these words, "Remember the starving children and clean your plate." So what in the world do you do with leftover food — a dab of this or a half cup of that? Some general rules for leftovers are:

- *Refrigerate leftovers immediately after dining. Foods should not stay at room temperature over two hours.
- *Use leftovers within two to four days.
- *Thoroughly reheat leftovers.
- Try these "tricks" in using leftovers.
- *Extend leftover vegetables by reheating with sliced celery, green pepper, water chestnuts, or rice, or by serving with cheese or hollandaise sauce.
- *Use leftover mashed potatoes for patties, potato soup, or topping casseroles.
- *Freeze cooked rice for future use in main dishes or salads.
- *Save celery leaves, parsley stems, and other vegetable "scraps" for soups and stews.
- *Add diced leftover fruit to pancake batter or serve in a sauce over cake or pancake.
- *Crumble leftover cake and cookies; then toast in the oven. Use as topping for ice cream, fruit compotes or puddings.
- *Use leftover liquid from canned or cooked fruits and vegetables in gelatins molds, puddings, frozen desserts, soups, stews, chowders, and casseroles.

*Simmer meat, poultry, or fish bones with seasonings for soup, stew, or sauce stock. The stock can be frozen for future use.

*Combine leftover meat, poultry, fish, or vegetables with a convenience dinner—macaroni and cheese, noodles and cheese, or spaghetti.

*Freshen slightly stale bread or rolls by sprinkling with water, wrapping in foil and heating at 350 degrees F.

*Use stale bread for French toast, bread pudding, meat loaves, stuffing, bread crumbs, and croissants.

*Marinate leftover vegetables such as carrots, all types of beans, beets, corn, Brussels sprouts, broccoli, and cauliflower in your favorite pourable salad dressing. The oil and vinegar types are especially good.

TLC FOR CHILDREN'S SOFT TOYS - HOW TO LAUNDER THEM SAFELY

The beloved stuffed animal or doll that becomes a child's favorite is apt to become shabby, gray and sad-looking in record time—and the more loved, hugged and cuddled it is, the shabbier it becomes. Don't despair. The Soap and Detergent Association suggests a bit of well-chosen care to revive and restore even the most bedraggled stuffed toy.

First brush or vacuum to remove surface dirt and dust, then take off any garments; laundry separately. Check washability of the toy. Some stuffed toys have labels advising if they are machine-washable or hand-washable. If there is no tag and you are not sure of washability, open a section of seam and check the stuffing used. If it is of brownish-colored cotton, various types of fabric or multi-colored fibers, the stuffing may stain the covering material if it gets very wet. It is best to scrub these toys with a suds-filled brush and rinse by wiping with a damp cloth. Also use this method for toys with mechanical insides or those containing music boxes.

If the toy is washable, pretreat dirty spots and smudges by scrubbing with a small brush dipped in liquid detergent, or a paste of detergent and water. Be sure all seams are securely stitched. To wash by hand, immerse the toy in a detergent and warm water bath, quickly dunking it in and out of the solution and swishing it through the sudsy water. Rinse thoroughly. To launder machine-washable toys, several should be washed together to balance the load. Partially fill the washer with warm water, add detergent and agitate to dissolve it. Add the toys and fill the washer to the desired water level. Use a short wash cycle and continue through spin and rinse automatically. The use of a fabric softener will enhance the feel and look of animals or dolls with plush or fur-like coverings.

To dry, place the toy on a rack or line to let air circulate around it. A fan speeds drying time. Or dry the toy in a dryer, along with several clean, dry bath towels to serve as buffers. Set the dryer heat according to the stuffing material. Toys stuffed with foam rubber or kapok should be dried on AIR setting only. Stop the dryer occasionally and shape the toy to redistribute the stuffing. Hand washed toys also need to be reshaped when the toys are almost dry.

Defensive driving course saves money

New Texas law requires motorists to be covered by liability insurance.

Motorists who've never been covered may be surprised at the high cost of liability insurance. This cost can be lowered by taking the Defensive Driving Course (DDC).

Administered by the Texas Safety Association (TSA) the Defensive Driving Course was written and produced by the National Safety Council (NSC).

TSA statistics show those who complete the 8-hour DDC are better drivers. The Texas State Board of Insurance allows insurance companies to grant those who complete the course a ten percent reduction in insurance rates.

This ten percent discount applies for three years and can be renewed by taking the course again and is allowed for the principal driver of each family car. The discount applies to policies written by rate-regulated carriers. Discounts are given at the discretion of assigned risk pool and country mutual carriers.

Fee for the course is usually $18.00. DDC is taught by more than 650 agencies across the state to more than 225,000 persons yearly.

Consult the yellow pages for Driver Improvement for an agency near you or call the Texas Safety Association (512) 451-7421.

Our week started off with a bus trip to Crosbyton. Going through the canyons is a beautiful experience. One of our Residents remarked, "I bet the indians had a wild time in these parts!" Our bus trips are very special to us because they provide us with an opportunity to get out and enjoy the beautiful scenery and fresh air.

Our lucky bingo winners this week were Myrtle Payne and Jewell Miller. Our bingo games really gets our blood to pumping. Anticipation really builds as we are waiting for that last number we need and it never fails the caller calls the other fellows number!

Ceramic class went on as scheduled thanks to our wonderful teacher, Chuck Shockley. Even though he was sick he came anyway because he didn't want to disappoint the Residents. We thank Chuck for his kindness and concern for the Residents and for sharing his talent with us.

Our film of the week was "The Mouse on the Mayflower." This was a very enjoyable film. Thanks goes to Doylene Dippery for supplying these films.

We welcomed Bill Holt and Albert Poole back from the hospital. We sure missed them while they were gone. We hope Ethel Carrol is well enough to come home soon.

Until next time, have a nice week!

Quality care is...

The best medical bargain for the money.

The cost of professional nursing care? Grossly overestimated!

Small wonder some of those people who need care now are discouraged. Truth is, on the average, nursing home costs are about one-fifth the cost of hospitals. So, for the chronically ill, the convalescent, there's now an economical alternative.

Without nursing homes, people who need long-term health care would have to remain at home and rely on the care of relatives or friends; pay for the cost of a full-time nurse, or else become long-term hospital patients.

But our nursing home offers a compassionate environment for our residents. No blank walls and blank stares. The focus is on motivating our residents as well as caring for, and catering to their physical and medical ailments.

Our quality care continues to rise. But, the cost for that quality care: Still low.

Mrs. O.D. Williams was in San Antonio the first part of last week attending the National Cattleman's Association Convention. The president, Bill Swan, observed there had not been a profit in the cattle business for the past 38 months and none was foreseeable in the next twelve. The Bache Company meeting observed there appeared to be no profit this coming year in cattle, hogs or sheep; only broilers looked profitable. Automobile dealers from South Texas, where oil has been discovered, are reported to be selling Lincolns and Cadillacs as their biggest item. A lavish buffet and fiesta was sponsored by Production Credit and the Federal Land Bank, with a continual parade of Mexican waiters bringing ever more tables full of every kind of Mexican food imaginable, all free gratis to the guests. San Antonio downtown was in its usual state of being remodeled and expanded. Business sounded great everywhere but the Plains area. Naomi keeps a booth to display her oil paintings, and was delivering a large painting when the Harrisons were there. She's kept her booth the past three years, and sold Mary of her works.

with her father, Edgar Jones, until Sunday afternoon.

Names of those who haven't registered will be posted

The Selective Service System is continuing to make available for public inspection lists of registrants and their tentative local board assignments. This is in keeping with the intent of Selective Service that its procedures be open to the public.

The list may be viewed at the County Courthouse.

The lists cover registrations processed through September 30, 1981, and include men born in 1960, 1961, 1962, and 1963.

Local board assignments are arranged by ZIP code based upon the registrant's permanent address.

The requirement to register applies to U.S. citizens, and to aliens residing in the United States, born on or after January 1, 1960. Men born in 1960 and 1961 were scheduled to register during July 1980; men born in 1962 were scheduled to register in January 1981; those born in 1963 were scheduled to be registered during 1981. Men born in 1964 are required to register within 30 days of their 18th birthday. They may do so at any U.S. Post Office.

On January 7, 1982, President Reagan announced his decision to continue peacetime Selective Service Registration. In announcing his decision, the President declared a grace period during which late registration would be accepted without penalty. That grace period extends through February 1982.

Anyone who was scheduled to register previously but has not yet done so is encouraged to register immediately at any U.S. Post Office in order to avoid any possible penalty.

For further information on this subject, contact Paul D. Aikin, State Director for the Selective Service System in Texas. He can be reached at telephone number 214/784-7593.

Social Security News

BY RAY PURCELL

BY RAY PURCELL

Social Security is conducting an aggressive campaign to collect the nearly $1.9 billion in outstanding overpayments—money owed to Social Security by those who receive monthly Social Security retirement, survivors, and disability benefits as well as supplemental security income (SSI) payments. In most instances, these overpayments came about because a person failed to report an event that affected his or her right to benefits.

It's much easier to prevent an overpayment than it is to lose part or all of one or more monthly checks, money that most people need for day to day living.

And, the easiest way to prevent overpayments is to report every event that could affect the right to or the amount of a person's monthly benefit. I cannot emphasize strongly enough the necessity of proper reporting.

Prompt reporting of the following events will go far to prevent a possible overpayment. People who get green Social Security checks should report:

—Earnings above the annual limit—The 1982 annual limits are $6,000 for people 65 and over any part of 1982 and $4,440 for people under 65 all of 1982. Generally, $1 in benefits is withheld for each $2 of earnings above the annual limit. Notify Social Security as soon as you think your earnings will exceed the annual limit. Don't wait until your earnings have already gone above the limit. And remember, it's gross pay that counts, not just take home pay.

—Any plans to go outside the U.S. for 30 days or more. Absence from the country may affect the receipt of checks.

—Any work outside the U.S., no matter how little you earn.

—Divorce or annulment of marriage. Benefits to wives or husbands generally end unless the marriage lasted 10 years or longer.

—Marriage. Any person who gets benefits as a child, widow, widower, divorced spouse, or parents of a worker should report if he or she marries.

—Child leaves the care of a mother or father. A mother or father who receives benefits because she or he is caring for a child, must report if the child leaves her or his care.

—Change in school attendance for a child over 18. A child over 18 can get checks as a student only while he or she attends school full time. Any change in attendance must be reported. Also, the child must report if he or she is paid to attend school by an employer, or if he or she is convicted of a felony.

—Death. Benefits stop at death. Someone should report if a person getting benefits dies. No check is payable for the month of death.

—A person getting benefits because of disability should report the following:

—The person's condition improves.
—A return to work, no matter how little is earned.
—Application for, the receipt of, or any change in the amount of any public disability benefit provided by Federal, State, and local programs, including workers compensation payments.

People getting gold SSI checks should report:

—A move or change of address.
—A change in household—a person moves into or out of a home or a husband and wife separate. Or, there is a change in the way expenses are paid.
—A person enters or leaves an institution.
—A person leaves the U.S.
—A person marries or a marriage ends.
—Any change in income.
—Any change in resources owned.
—Any improvement in condition for a blind or disabled person, or if the person takes a job.
—Any change in school attendance for a student under 22.
—If a drug addict or alcoholic stops treatment.
—If a person can't manage funds.
—If a person dies.

It's very important that these reports be made as soon as possible after the person learns of one of these events. The quicker the report is made, the more likely that an overpayment will be prevented.

The reports can be made by telephone, mail, or in person at any Social Security office. Our phone number is 293-4371. We are located at 1401-B West 5th street in Plainview. A report should include the following information:

—Name of person about whom the report is being made.
—What is being reported.
—Date it happened.
—Signature if report is by mail or in person.
—Address and the correct claim number under which benefits are being paid.

The claim number is shown on all correspondence and appears on all checks.

Any help you need can be obtained at all Social Security offices. Remember, it is a lot easier to prevent an overpayment than it is to repay it.

ROCK 'N ROLLERS—Residents of the Floydada Nursing Home will be having their annual Rock 'n Roll contest Friday, February 12, to benefit the American Heart Association. Johnson Announces For County Judge

Jay Johnson announces his candidacy for election as County Judge of Swisher County, subject to the May Democratic Primary.

Born and reared in Floyd County, a graduate of Floydada High School, Johnson served in the U.S. Navy as a Pilot Training Instructor and attended Jacksonville University. For 12 years he was Project Manager for an International Construction Company, directing State and Federal projects. He has farmed and raised cattle in Swisher County since 1977.

A sustaining member of the Texas Democratic Party, Johnson has served on the 1980 State Platform Committee, a 1979 Agricultural Issues Conference, 1979 and 1980 Ad Hoc Committee on Agriculture and as Representative of the Texas Democratic Agriculture Caucus to the State Teacher's Caucus, Mexican American Political Caucus, and the Coalition of Black Democrats in 1980-1981. He has served as Election Judge in both Primary and General Elections, and represented Swisher County as an alternate and delegate to the 1980 Texas Democratic Conventions in San Antonio and Houston.

A member of the First Christian Church, Johnson resides in Tulia with his wife, Patsy, who is office manager for L.M.C., Inc. of Kress. They have five children, ranging from a Texas Tech senior to a fourth grader at Highland Elementary in Tulia.

Johnson states, "As a taxpayer, farmer, and concerned citizen, I understand the problems facing Swisher County. If elected, I will promote a program of quality assurance throughout the county system for an efficient, economical operation at all levels, with the goal of saving tax dollars. County business is the people's business and I intend to maintain an open door policy for direct communication with the people of Swisher County! I owe no political favors and can assure every citizen of cooperation and fair treatment from this office."

"Your vote and influence in this election will be sincerely appreciated."

JAY JOHNSON

Annual Rock 'n Roll contest planned

The annual Rock 'n Roll contest at Floydada Nursing Home is planned for Friday, February 12, as a benefit for the American Heart Association.

Entrants will begin warming up their rocking chairs and rolling up their wheel chairs at 10:30 a.m.

A contest for Valentine King and Queen is underway and the winners will be presented during the Valentine party at 2:30 p.m., Friday.

Contestants are: Sue Thompson, Ollie Miracle, Claude Hughs and W.C. Cates. Four decorated jars are already set up at the home and a penny placed in the jar is a vote for that person for king or queen. The pennies will be donated to the Heart fund.

"It's a lot of fun for everyone and lets the people at the rest home take part in collecting for the heart fund," said Lynn Daniels, recreation director.

Handell workshop scheduled

Registration is underway for the Albert Handell oil painting and pastel workshop, sponsored by the Lubbock Art Association and scheduled for 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., March 29 through April 2, at the Garden & Arts Center, 4215 University, in Lubbock.

Albert Handell, one of America's foremost pastel painters, is a man considered by many critics to be the medium's finest innovator.

Each morning will be set aside for demonstrations which will give the workshop student an opportunity to observe and learn the various painting techniques Handell utilizes. In the afternoon, students will have the opportunity to put the morning's lessons into practice while the instructor gives individual assistance.

Demonstrations will be $20.00 a day or $80.00 for the week. A workshop is $160.00 for one week.

For more information, call Carol Meek, workshop chairman, at 806-792-9528, or the Garden and Art Center, 806-762-6411, ext. 2725.

Farm crisis discussed at symposium

Mr. J.B. Wheeler, Chairman of the Board of Hale County State Bank in Plainview, will be the keynote speaker at the Annual Crop Symposium at the Texas A&M Center on February 18. Mr. Wheeler's topic is "How Bad is the Farm Crisis". Dr. G.B. Thompson, Research Director at the Center invites everyone to attend the event starting at 9:30 a.m.

Mr. Wheeler is a native of Plainview and started working at the Hale County Bank in 1946. He is a member of the Plainview Rotary Club, VFW, American Legion and is Chairman of the Veterans Land Board for Hale County. He is Chairman of the Board of High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway, Texas and of the Central Plains Higher Education Authority Board in Plainview. Wheeler is past president of the Texas Bankers Association and serves on the Banking Trade Association National Board.

In addition to Wheeler, Dr. Milton Holloway, Director, Texas Energy and Natural Resources Advisory Council will discuss the impact of natural gas deregulation on crop production. Wesley Masters, President of Center Plains Industries in Amarillo will tell symposium participants about the impact of natural gas deregulation on fertilizer production.

The nuts and bolts of crop budgets and cash flow analysis will be discussed by Drs. Wyatt Harman and Ray Sammons, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station Research Economist and Texas Agricultural Extension Service Farm Management Specialist from Amarillo.

Other topics being discussed by Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and USDA Researchers from Bushland and Amarillo are "Management of Center Pivot Systems" by Dr. Dan Undersander, and "Water Conservation in Irrigated Crop Production," by Jack Musick. Dr. Paul Unger will discuss "Water Conservation in Dryland Crops," and Dr. Steve Winter will present his research on cropping systems. The program will be rounded out by Randy Underwood, Conservation Agronomist with the USDA Soil Conservation Service from Amarillo telling people about "Limited Tillage in Action on the Farm."

The symposium is sponsored by the USDA Conservation and Production Research Laboratory at Bushland.

IT'S A FACT

There's a fire in your future—a range fire designed to help ranchers raise more livestock per acre. Prescribed burning practices as part of an integrated brush control problem are turning vast areas of Texas rangeland back into production. The Texas Agricultural Extension Service is offering educational programs for range managers, ranchers and agricultural technicians on correct methods and procedures for using one of nature's oldest rangeland renovation techniques. This is another example of "The Extension Way—People Helping People."

Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Texas Agricultural Extension Service and Panhandle Economic Program.

"Everyone interested in management techniques and new research to combat high costs and low prices will benefit from this symposium," Thompson said.

Hightower comments:

"prices must increase..."

Congressman Jack Hightower told the Secretary of Agriculture that "prices for farm commodities must increase or the many problems of the farm sector are going to continue to mushroom." The Secretary, John Block, was testifying before the Agriculture subcommittee of the House Committee on Appropriations, requesting an emergency appropriation for the Commodity Credit Corporation. The Corporation is the financial arm of the Agriculture Department that directly assists farmers in certain financial matters.

The emergency appropriation was requested by the Department of Agriculture because of the increased levels of farm commodities going into the federal farm commodity loan program. Low prices for farm products have forced farmers to turn to the commodity loan program to keep from being forced to sell their crops during this period of rock-bottom prices.

Hightower, a member of the Agriculture Appropriations subcommittee, questioned the Secretary as to where the farm economy was going from that point. "So we give you the additional five billion dollars — what happens now? Do we come back several months from now and go through this again? We are going to have to get these prices up or farmers and the government are both going to be broke," Hightower said. "As I have tried to explain to you and your office over the past months, farmers in my district are on the ragged edge. Commodity loans or any kind of loan is a short-term solution that just buys time and time will run out," Hightower stated.

Secretary Block stated that crop conditions in other parts of the world could possibly improve the chances of reasonable prices, but that depended on the weather.

Hightower also raised the question of the stocks owned by the Commodity Credit Corporation. "The conventional wisdom of farmers in my area is that any reserve of stocks places a burden on the market. Even if the reserve is isolated, the market knows it is there. Why can't the Department of Agriculture set a policy of selling its own stocks, in a manner that will be spread equally over the entire market, slowly, and remove this expensive burden?" Hightower asked. "Stocks can be sold and the money used in the loan program."

High percentage of water leads to frothy bloat and grass tetany

Wheat pasture forage with a high percentage of water leads to frothy bloat and grass tetany. Dr. B.A. Stewart, Soil Scientist at the USDA Conservation and Production Research Laboratory at Bushland, and three other researchers determined this in a three-year study in Texas and Oklahoma.

Frothy bloat and grass tetany usually cause 2 to 3 percent death losses on wheat pasture on the Southern Great Plains. This is bad enough, but sometimes losses jump up to 20 percent. Stewart says most severe losses occur in the spring after a cold winter when the soil is wet and temperatures rise fast. Under these conditions, wheat plants take up a lot of water and nutrients. This increases the level of potassium in the forage to above normal levels, which can cause grass tetany. The percentage of carbohydrates decreases, which in turn increases chances of bloat.

Stewart and his USDA co-workers, Drs. D.L. Grunes, Ithaca, New York, A.C. Mathers, Bushland, Texas, and F.P. Horn, El Reno, Oklahoma, determined nitrogen (N), Potassium (K), calcium (Ca), magnesium (Mg), phosphorus (P) and total nonstructural carbohydrates in wheat pasture forage at Bushland, Texas, and El Reno, Oklahoma, for three winters during the mid-70's. They found that N, P, K, and water content of forages increased about 2 weeks earlier than growth increased yield of dry matter. This condition was at its worst at El Reno during the spring of 1978. The winter has been so wet and cold that forage samples could not be collected from January 12 to March 14. Then it warmed rapidly, causing ideal growing conditions. The N and K in the forage increased dramatically. The K increased from 2 to 4.5 percent in 2 weeks. Unfortunately, Mg and Ca did not increase rapidly. This increased the ratio of K to Ca and Mg up to 5.0, which is very hazardous to lactating cows. Ratios above 2.2 are considered dangerous, according to Stewart.

The scientists found also that N in forage increased rapidly under these conditions. High nitrogen in forage leads to increased concentration of fatty acids. This causes foam formation in the rumen, which results in bloat.

In looking over all of their data, the scientists noticed a common denominator. When conditions leading to grass tetany or bloat came about, wheat forage contained a high percentage of water. In other words, measuring dry matter in the forage would be a good indicator for the hazard of grass tetany and bloat.

Although studies were not conclusive, Stewart and the other scientists think that wheat forage that has at least 25 percent dry matter is safe. There is some hazard when dry matter ranges from 18 to 25 percent. If dry matter drops below 18 percent, there is a good chance that bloat and grass tetany will be a problem.

The scientists advise people with cattle on wheat pasture to watch for weather conditions leading to rapid growth after a cold spell and take the following precautions. Lactating cows should be put on other pasture, and young calves and feeder cattle should be fed some hay or other dry feed. Feeding cattle molasses salt blocks with an anti-foaming agent will decrease the chances of bloat. These precautions should be continued until wheat growth starts and dry-matter content of the forage increases.

Many Texas livestock producers are expressing interest in obtaining a certified brucellosis free herd, but are not certain about procedures to follow in achieving this goal.

To achieve a certified free herd will require a time frame of 10 to 14 months, and will also require a retest annually. Costs will depend on what your local veterinarians will charge for testing your eligible cattle. If your herd is under quarantine for brucellosis clean-up, you will be able to get your first herd certification without any charges from the Texas Animal Health Commission. A certified brucellosis free herd classification is available for both dairy and beef breeds.

In dairy cattle, a milk ring test may be used. A minimum of three consecutive negative milk ring tests conducted at not less than 90 day intervals is needed. This is followed by a negative herd blood test conducted within 90 days after the last negative milk ring test.

A complete herd blood test is required for beef cattle. It involves two consecutive negative blood tests of all test-eligible cattle, tested not less than 10 months or more than 14 months apart.

To maintain certification, a test of eligible cattle is required within 60 days of the annual anniversary date.

Cattle within a brucellosis free herd are able to move more freely within the control areas, as well as from one control area to another in the state. A certified free herd should also provide more profit potential for the owner.

Space is the first and most important consideration in planning home fruit production.

Stand on the proposed planting location, look around and think 10 years ahead. The mature spread (width) of a pecan tree is at least 40 feet and can be twice that. Roots extend even farther than the branches.

Adequate space between trees is just as important as adequate space between trees and existing structures. Recommended planting space between peach and plum trees is 18 feet; between Japanese persimmons, standard pears and standard apples, 25 feet; dwarf apples, 6 to 12 feet; pecans 50 feet; and figs 12 to 14 feet; and between blackberries, 3 feet with rows 12 feet apart.

If you don't think you have enough space for large trees, you may consider miniatures. Horticultural advances in developing miniatures have been dramatic. Fruit which is normally produced on 30-foot trees can now be harvested from dwarf trees 6 feet high. Fruit from these dwarf trees is the same quality and size as that produced by larger trees. In fact, fruit size and quality usually are better on dwarfs because dwarf trees are easier to spray, prune and manage than larger, standard sized trees. Of course, total yield per tree is less since the bearing surface area of the smaller tree is not as great.

In addition to minimal pruning and ease of pruning, dwarf trees produce rapidly, produce better where growth requirements such as light, water and soil are limited, harvest easier, and require smaller amounts of pesticides that can be applied more accurately.

Many types of dwarf fruit trees can be purchased and grown in containers. In fact, the Romans grew orange trees in tubs and large containers for decorative purposes. Later, this custom spread to other parts of Europe, and today it is a popular custom. In England, in particular, where hazards of late spring frost are especially acute, potted fruit trees are common not only for the value of ornamentals but also for profitable commercial interest.

Although not yet a popular practice in America, growing fruit trees in containers does have great potential, especially in southern areas of the United States. The abundance of fruit in America at relatively low prices precludes commercial production using this technique. But for home gardeners and especially those interested in novel and unusual type fruits, potted fruits can be grown anywhere in the South and moved inside when damaging freezes are predicted. Avocado, guava, papaya, and cold-sensitive limes and lemons are just a few possibilities for container fruit trees.

TEXAS CLIFFHANGER -- The world's first total freefall ride, the Texas Cliffhanger, will open in late April at Six Flags Over Texas. Riders will be dropped at freefall speed from the top of the 128-foot-tall tower. Passengers will end up riding flat on their backs as the ride's computer-controlled brakes bring the gondolas to a stop.

Texas Cliffhanger announced by Six Flags Over Texas

The world's first total freefall ride, the Texas Cliffhanger, will debut late this spring at Six Flags Over Texas. The Arlington theme park's general manager, Ray Williams, said the towering, 2.1 million dollar ride will give thrillseekers "the same falling sensation they would feel if they stepped off the top of a nine-story building."

Williams said the ride has no precedent in the industry. "Even our loop coaster," he said, "had 'ancestors' that were built around the turn of the century, but there's nothing in amusement ride history which resembles the Texas Cliffhanger."

Williams, who recently rode the prototype model of the ride at the Intamin AG factory near Geneva, Switzerland, said, "The sensation is unlike anything developed up to now. There's no way to compare it to even the biggest of roller coasters, or any existing ride."

The "L-shaped" ride tower juts 128 feet into the air. Passengers board the Texas Cliffhanger on the underside of the tower. They will be seated four abreast in sleek, padded gondolas. The gondolas rise one at a time to the top of the tower, with the trip up taking only ten seconds.

At the top, the gondolas move into "drop position" and will be held at that point for ten seconds. Riders, protected by over-the-shoulder "lap bars," have an unobstructed view of the area in front of them.

After the pause, the gondolas — weighing 1,500 pounds without passengers — drop at freefall speed, guided by tracks.

Near the bottom of the drop, the track curves and riders will suddenly find themselves on their backs looking straight up at the sky.

A computer controlled braking system will stop the gondolas near the end of an 86-foot-long horizontal track. Then the gondolas will be slowly turned upright and lowered to the bottom of the structure for unloading.

During the freefall drop, riders will experience a 3.5 G force. The ride accelerates from zero to 55 miles per hour in the first 1.3 seconds of the plunge.

Williams said the computer safety systems engineered into the ride are "state of the art" devices.

He said 103 electronic sensors send messages to the computer during each ride cycle.

Some of the sensors detect the ride's speed. Others give the computer information on the exact location of each gondola.

"If the computer isn't satisfied with the ride's operation, it will temporarily close it down," Williams commented.

Williams said the ride is currently on its way by ship from Europe to Texas. Foundations for the 110-ton structure have already been poured.

After construction is completed, extensive tests will be conducted before the ride is opened to the public in late April.

The Texas Cliffhanger will occupy a site on the edge of Six Flags' Boomtown section.

Texas Senior Games to be held

Older Texans who enjoy games like bridge and dominoes or sports such as golf and tennis can match wits and physical skills with their contemporaries at the Texas Senior Games, to be held June 24-26 on the campus of The University of Texas at Arlington.

The Senior Games' agenda will span a broad spectrum of indoor and outdoor competition, including 14 track and field events. Registration cost is $1 for each event, plus nominal facility fees for bowling, golf, and tennis.

Any Texas resident 50 years of age or older is eligible to compete. In most events, separate contests will be held for men and women in the following age groups: 50-54; 55-59; 60-64; 65-69; 70 and older.

Sponsor for the games is a non-profit organization, Texas Senior Games for Fun and Fitness, in cooperation with the Texas Department on Aging (TDOA) and the Governor's Commission on Physical Fitness.

The Arlington meet will be the first statewide recreational competition ever held exclusively for older adults in Texas, according to TDOA Board Chairman Ed Palm of Fort Worth.

Noting the popularity of regional Senior Olympics conducted in various parts of the state for several years, Palm said, "The time is right for a state meet like the Senior Games where active senior citizens can join others their age for playoffs in their favorite games or sports."

"We believe the Senior Games will provide a lot of fun for participants; and we hope the Games will encourage more senior citizens interest in physical fitness," said Palm.

The Department on Aging is serving as a catalyst for development of the games because "health maintenance is a major concern of the older generations," he added.

The following competitive events have been approved for the 1982 Texas Senior Games: Basketball free throw, separate contests for men and women; Bicycle races (1/2-mile sprint and 2-mile race) men and women; Billiards (rotation) men and women; Bridge, mixed; Checkers, mixed; Dominoes, mixed; Dancing, mixed (waltz, jitterbug, square, folklorico); Golf (18-hole) men and women; Horseshoes, men and women;

Table tennis, men and women; Tennis (2 of 3 sets) men's singles, women's singles, mixed doubles; Track and field, men and women, as follows:

50 meter dash, 100 meter dash, 200 meter dash, 400 meter dash, 800 meter dash, 110 meter high hurdles, pole vault, javelin, high jump, 1-mile run, discus throw, long jump, shot put, and standing broad jump; Pentathlon, men and women (five events from track and field); Fun walk, (2-mile, NOT heel-toe) men and women; Jog (3 1/2-mile) men and women; Pancake race, mixed.

Medals will be awarded to the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place finalists in each age group. All participants will receive certificates.

Registration information may be obtained from: Hal Geldon, Executive Director, Texas Senior Games, Box 5431, Richardson, Texas 75080, 214/231-6889.

Most of the competitive events will be held on the campus of UT-Arlington, which has reserved its new stadium and other sports facilities for the use of Senior Games contestants.

The Commission will sponsor a training session on physical condition in Dallas during March. This session will be primarily for local parks and recreation officials, Area Agency on Aging staff, and others who will be implementing conditioning programs at the local level throughout the state prior to the games.

Other organizations which are actively supporting the Texas Senior Games include: The American Association of Retired Persons; the Texas Amateur Athletic Federation, Texas Recreation and Parks Society, and the Athletic Congress.

Among the groups that will be working with participants are: Tarrant County YMCA, Arlington YMCA, Arlington Bicycle Club, and the Arlington Parks and Recreation Department.

University Day to be held at Tech February 26th

University Day, offering a taste of college academic and social life for prospective freshmen, will be February 26 at Texas Tech University.

Registration for the day of free activities will begin at 8 a.m. in the University Center. After a 9 a.m. general assembly and welcome, students will participate in advisement programs on career possibilities, potential majors and Texas Tech academic requirements.

After lunch students will have a chance to tour the campus and meet with counselors. There will be various booths set up in the University Center Ballroom by student organizations and academic units.

Ample time is allowed for students to look around campus and to talk with Texas Tech students, faculty and staff. Concluding the day's events will be a swimming and dancing party at the Texas Tech Aquatic Center.

For further information about University Day, contact the Office of New Student Relations, 742-1480.

First load of coal delivered to new Southwestern Public Service plant

The first trainload of coal at Southwestern Public Service Company's new electrical generating station near Muleshoe, Texas, was unloaded at the plant recently.

The new power plant is named Tolk Station, in tribute to Roy Tolk, recently retired chairman of the SPS board of directors and a current board member. Mr. Tolk threw the switch to dump the first car of coal.

Ben Green, plant manager, said the 110-car unit train delivered approximately 11,000 tons of coal to the Tolk Station site.

With the arrival of additional shipments, about 200,000 tons of coal will be stored at the plant prior to start-up of the first generating unit in June of this year. The 200,000 tons is enough fuel to run the 561,000-kilowatt generator for approximately 60 days during the start-up phase while operating at considerably reduced loads.

Green said the coal-handling system at Tolk Station represents a departure from the system used at SPS's Harrington Station in Amarillo. During the unloading process the coal cars are turned upside down to dump the coal. The trains serving Harrington Station utilize coal cars that dump the coal through doors on the underside of the cars. Green said the coal cars used at Tolk will be lighter weight and capable of carrying more coal than the cars used at Harrington.

Tolk Station is the second coal-fired power plant for SPS. The first, Harrington Station, was completed in 1980 and is presently the largest of Southwestern's 10 generating plants.

The new plant will have a total capability of more than a million kilowatts when completed. The first 561,000-kilowatt unit is scheduled to go on line in July of this year and the second unit in July of 1985.

Commenting on the fuel supply, Green said, "we have enough coal under contract for the life of the plant, which is about 35 years."

TTU Home & Family life to hold conference

Texas Tech University will be the site of the first annual conference on "Families and Close Relationships: Individuals in Social Interaction" February 11-13.

From more than 20 states will come professionals in family studies, life-span development, marriage and family therapy, child development, psychology and sociology. They will lecture, conduct workshops and present papers on the interactions of individuals and families in close relationships.

The three-day conference is sponsored by the Texas Tech Department of

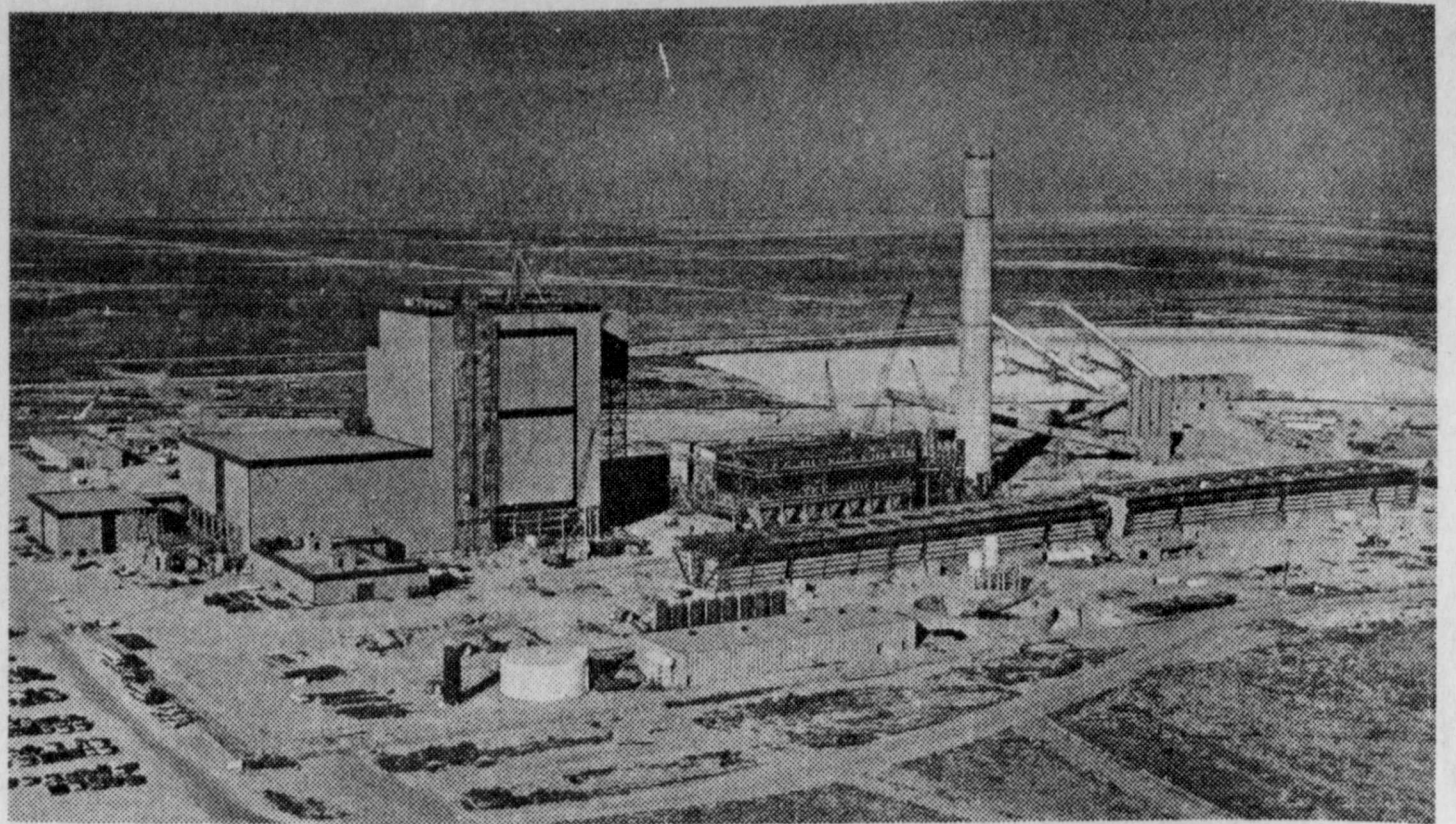

The coal for both Tolk Station and Harrington Station is a low-sulphur, high-Btu coal from the Black Thunder Mine in the Powder River Basin near Gillette, Wyoming.

Southwestern Public Service primarily provides electric utility service to a population of more than 1 million in a 45,000-square-mile area of the Panhandle and south plains of Texas, eastern and southeastern New Mexico, the Oklahoma Panhandle and southwestern Kansas.

Home and Family life, Division of Continuing Education and Office of the Vice President for Research and Graduate Studies.

Registration at noon Thursday, February 11, and conference activities will be in the Texas Tech Home Economics Building. The registration fee is $35 for graduate students and $55 for others. Cost's of the Friday banquet and Saturday luncheon are included in the registration fee.

For further information or to register, contact the Division of Continuing Education, Box 4110, Texas Tech University, Lubbock, Texas 79409, (806) 742-2354, or Dr. Judith Fischer, 742-3001.

TOLK STATION, Southwestern Public Service Company's new coal-fired electric generating station is located 10 miles east of Muleshoe. The first 561,000 kilowatt generating unit is scheduled to be completed this summer. The second unit will go on line in 1985.

Tech to offer course in social work

Texas Tech University in cooperation with the University of Texas-Arlington will offer courses next fall towards a master's degree in social work.

An organizational meeting for persons interested in the program will be held at 7 p.m. March 2 in Room 129, Holden Hall, on the Texas Tech campus.

Dr. H. Paul Chalfant, chairman of the Texas Tech Department of Sociology, said students during the first two years of the program will take two courses each semester from Texas Tech and University of Texas-Arlington social workers and sociologists. The final one-year phase of the degree will be spent in full-time study at the University of Texas-Arlington.

Dorinda N. Noble, director of the social work program at Texas Tech, said the manpower required by the Department of Human Resources dictates the need for this degree.

"In the past people have had to travel some 300 miles to take any master of social work courses. This is a service to people who want to increase their professional standing," Noble said.

Chalfant said the degree program is primarily aimed at upgrading workers of the Department of Human Resources. That agency also funds the program.

Students enrolling must meet entrance requirements of the University of Texas-Arlington and Texas Tech and must take the Graduate Record Exam.
