

Floyd is part of Palo Duro oil find

Figures, released this past week, show the Mayfield discovery well in Briscoe County is producing 136 barrels of oil a day and are giving substance to the oil rumors flying around, Floyd County.

As part of the Palo Duro Basin, Floyd County may be sitting, almost entirely, on top of an oil field with boom possibilities reminiscent of the 1920's.

The basin covers a vast area of some 30 counties. The Marathon Discovery is directly north of Floyd County close to the Mackenzie Lake. A well is being drilled just inside the northern boundary of Floyd County. Another well is being drilled about 300 yards from the first Marathon well in Briscoe County.

The first Briscoe County well, the Mayfield, also produced 73 barrels of water on pump in 24 hours from perforations between 7880 and 7906 feet. It was drilled to 9500 feet. The second well, the No. 1 Pascal Garrison, is being evaluated at total depth.

Reportedly, it has been drillstem tested to 8,400 feet.

The same rig used on the Mayfield and the Garrison has been moved to drill the No. 1 Cogdell. It is at the permitted 9000 feet and drillers are said to be submitting surface casing. Any results of the project should be known by mid-March.

The immediate results of the discovery is an intensified interest in leasing. We have a confirmed report of $100 an acre lease in the immediate vicinity of the Mayfield. Rumors have placed the figure as high as $135 an acre.

Reports of leasing along the eastern part of Floyd County and into Hale County have been a confirmed $10 an acre.

The leasing fury, however, is in southern Floyd County where many five-year leases are expiring and land owners are concerned about not only getting top price per acre, but also the concessions available.

The Amarillo Globe reports that spurred by the Marathon results, a small tract near the discovery well was reported leased for over $100 per acre, with a $650 per acre bonus, and one-quarter royalties instead of the usual one-eighth.

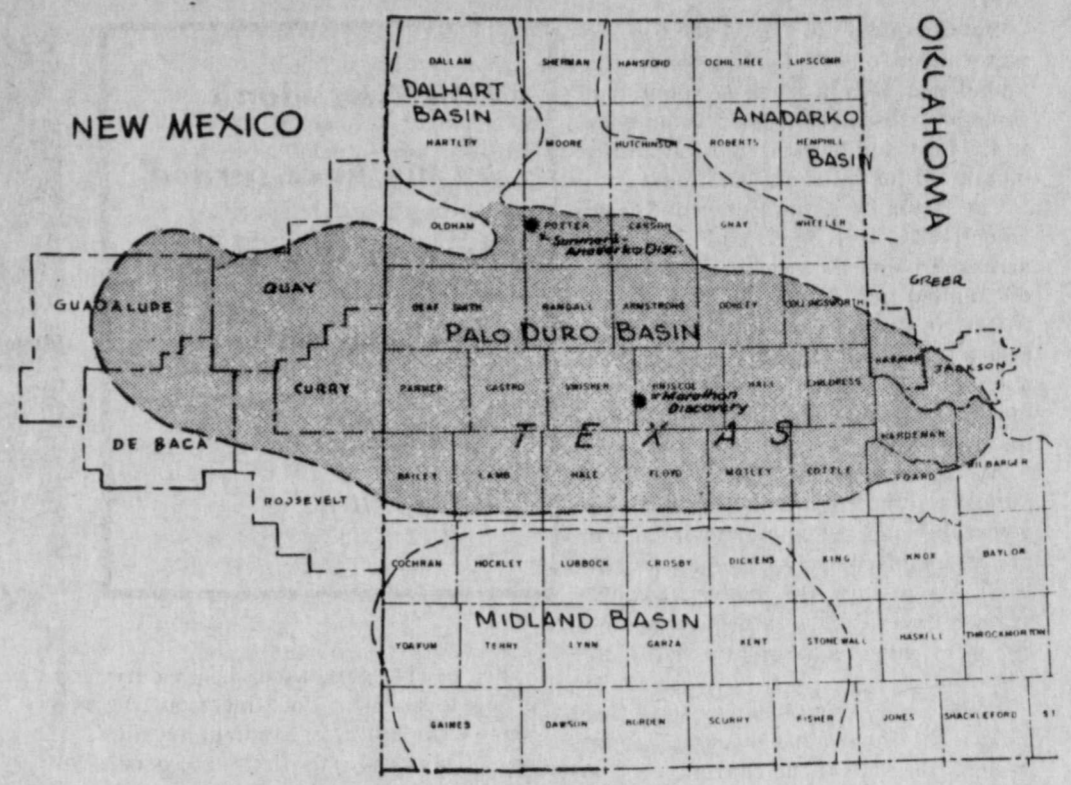

Leases in west Hall County are going for $35 an acre the Globe reported.

With more than a million dollars in oil leases in the Palo Duro Basin already this year, operators are understandably nervous about such costs, but thus far the situation is limited to the immediate vicinity of the Marathon well.

Another report stated that the "bonuses have jumped from the $25 to $30 per acre range to as high as $135," in the Marathon area.

The surest thing that can be expected from oil interest is that the reports will be conflicting and that no one is sure how much a lease will bring until it's written on a check or how good a well is until it's pumping.

PALO DURO BASIN is shaded on map drawn by John H. Nicholson, Amarillo consulting geologist. Mayfield No. 1 in Briscoe County is considered the discovery well for the strike. The SunMark-Anadarko well in Potter County is producing both oil and gas.

TEC office to reopen

Senator Ray Farabee telephoned the newspaper Friday noon to report that the Texas Employment Commission office in Floydada would be opened within the next 30 to 60 days.

Farabee had been loudly critical of the budget cut-backs which closed 71 job placement centers, including the one in Floyd County, last month.

"The people who need the help most are the ones who can't afford to go to Lubbock or Plainview," he said, referring to the fact that with the sub-offices closed, those needing employment would have to travel to a main office in a near-by metropolitan area.

The announcement that the TEC was to receive about $12.5 million in restored federal funds and that the Floyd County office would be opening, was made about 45 minutes before Farabee called.

He said that he wasn't sure what level of staffing there would be, "as yet it hasn't been determined."

The local TEC office boasts one of the highest placement records in the state of Texas and had been managed by Bob Hambright for the past 14 years.

Supporters of both Hambright and the Floyd County TEC sent a barrage of letters and phone calls to government officials contesting the closing of the office.

Farabee said "the efforts of community leaders and legislative efforts did make a difference this time."

The unemployment level in Texas is now at 6% and could go higher with farm workers being laid off as a result of the present agricultural slump. Farm laborers make up a large portion of the TEC job applicant lists.

Farabee said that the Vernon and Sweetwater offices were to be opened immediately.

There is an uncertainty of when the other offices will be put back in operation, or if they will be staffed as fully as before.

Jerry Biscoe, TEC spokesman, said, "It's our intent to restore service in each of the local offices where we have cut service."

Man trapped in canyon wreck

On Saturday morning Clarence High, heavy equipment operator with the Jake Deil Company, was transporting one of the company's largest front-end loaders from Littlefield to the Thrasher Pits located about 20 miles east of Floydada. It was about 1 p.m.

The day was beautiful, almost spring like, and as he neared the rim of Blanco Canyon, six miles south of Floydada it seemed that the slow trip was almost over.

But Clarence didn't finish the trip. He was carried out of the canyon in an ambulance after a freak accident that brought in rescue units from as far away as Lubbock and blocked highway traffic on and off for six-and-a-half hours.

The 75 ton front-end loader moves on wheels 7½ feet high and 3½ feet across. To haul the machine it must be dismantled and loaded on five semi-trucks. It's weight is 30 times heavier than a truck, and 15 times heavier than a large field tractor. The system that moves this giant piece of equipment is totally hydraulic.

As Clarence started the decent into the canyon the engine stalled. Without power the machine began moving down grade out of control. Clarence fought vainly to re-start the motor. Twenty years of experience with heavy machinery went into his desperate battle to gain control.

At the curve, about half way down the incline, the free-rolling machine began to climb the side of the canyon.

Clarence could feel it going over. He stood and braced himself.

The noise was deafening as the loader rolled over on its side and then settled upside down.

Within minutes he could hear people banging and yelling, but he couldn't make out what they were saying.

"Oh, God," he prayed. "Don't let me have turned over on something. Don't let there be people under me."

Encased in a tomb of 150,000 pounds of metal he waited.

It would be two hours before a window was cut through the cab so that he could talk to people and find out what was happening.

A passing motorist saw the accident and began pounding on what he surmised to be the cab and called to see if anyone was inside. He heard a faint noise and was reassured that the man inside was alive.

A call from the nearby Country Club brought the Floydada Volunteer Fire Department rescue crew with their hydraulic jaws-of-life tool.

"Oh, God, don't let me have turned over on something. Don't let there be people under me."

The newly purchased heavy-duty, cutting tool was a donation from the Lions Club after a community-wide drive. This was the first emergency situation encountered by the jaws team.

But the unit is designed to cut into cars, trucks and tractors not a machine of the loader's immensity.

A second call went to the emergency medical crew dispatched from Caprock Hospital.

Jean Jarrett, EMS team member, has just sat down to lunch when the ambulance call came in at 1:15. She had taken about three bites of her lunch and it would be 6 hours before she returned to finish her cold meal.

She and her ambulance partner, Robert Luna, arrived on the scene just after the fire crew. They could hear the man inside and knew he was alive but couldn't know how badly he was hurt. "You fell helpless," Jean said, "knowing the man's in there and you can't get to him."

She paced up and down the highway and wished there was something she could do being.

The hospital had been alerted, and Dr. Hong was there waiting. The Floydada Volunteer firemen were working desperately with the jaws of life, but it was impossible to cut through the thick steel.

A call had been put through to Lubbock Wrecker Service. They sent their two heavy-duty winch trucks, a supply truck and a pick-up.

One of the wrecker drivers, was baby-sitting when he got the message that a man was trapped near Floydada. His wife had just left to go to the grocery store. Faced with the dilemma of what to do with the baby, he was relieved to see his sister drive up. He ran out, handed her the baby and called back over his shoulder, "I'll see you later."

The wrecker made the trip from Lubbock in 45 minutes. They hooked on to the loader, but could only lift the 75 tons about a foot off the ground. It was enough, however, to place the huge air bags.

The fire volunteers had by this time cut a window on the left side of the cab. Not enough to pull the man out, but they could reach in, touch him, and could now talk to him.

Finally Jean and Robert could go to work. He reached in and put a pressure bandage on a cut in the back of Clarence's head that had re-opened. They found his pulse was normal and his condition stable. He complained of pain in his side and they took precautions against broken ribs and punctured lungs. Not knowing the extent of internal injuries, they were afraid to give him the water he was asking for, but handed in a damp rag so that he could moisten his lips.

Clarence's left leg was caught and doubled under him. The area he was enclosed in was so small that had he been a large man he could never have survived.

"Somebody was sure looking out for me," he told Robert.

The winch trucks worked vainly to raise the loader, so that rescue workers could get to the cab underneath.

A 40,000 pound crane had been dispatched from the Jake Deil plant at the Thrasher Pits and was on its slow moving way to the canyon.

Finally Allen Thrasher, who works for Jake Deil, was located and arrived on the scene. His knowledge of the loader and its construction was needed.

The volunteer firemen gave him a quick course in how to use the cutting tool. He was able to cut away enough metal pieces to get to the bolts on the cab seat. With those undone the seat was pulled out and Clarence finally released. He had been held prisoner for 3 hours and 37 minutes.

He was taken to Caprock Hospital where his condition was stabilized. Dr. Hong decided that an orthopedic surgeon would be needed to reset Clarence's ankle. The one that had been crushed under him. He was then taken by ambulance to Lubbock Methodist where his condition was listed as satisfactory. He is expected to fully recover.

Back at the scene of the accident the awesome task of righting the overturned loader and bringing it safely to the bottom of the canyon was in progress. The crane arrived about 4 p.m. and raised the loader over on its side. However, highway officials were concerned that once the loader was again on its wheels it could continue its runaway down the incline.

Another front-end loader, half the size of the wrecked machine, was brought to the scene and placed in front of it's gigantic brother to serve as a brake.

When the loader was turned over it dropped the last few feet and those standing on the highway said the earth shook.

Workers then attached the two loader buckets together with chains and the second loader pulled the first to the bottom of the canyon.

The time was now 6:30 p.m.

Thrasher said that there is no apparent structural damage to the loader and that they will probably repair it on site and drive it out of the canyon rather than dismantle it and try to bring it out by truck.

"It was just a freak accident," Thrasher said. "we've never had one do this before."

THE CRANE has lifted the loader to its side after it turned over in the steep grade in Blanco Canyon.

EMS CREWS lift Clarence High into the ambulance after he was released from under a 150,000 pound front end loader.

A FRONT END LOADER half the size of the wrecked loader eases the giant piece of equipment down the hill.

Annie Taylor interviewed by Channel 13 Lubbock

KATHY WILLIAMS, Channel 13 reporter, interviewed Annie Taylor for a news spot which can be viewed tonight at 10.

A television news series, "Impact 13" will feature a local woman in tonight's late report at 10 o'clock on Channel 13, Lubbock.

Annie Taylor, who has been spotlighted recently by publicity on a scholarship fund in her honor, was singled out for the interview because of her effect on the school system in Floydada.

Kathy Williams, Channel 13 reporter, said, "The theme of the program will show how she has affected so many people of all races."

Included in the program will be an interview with Floydada School Superintendent, Jerry Cannon, and Al Galloway, teacher at Della Plains School.

Side shots of the Della Plains school where Mrs. Taylor taught and of the park named after her will be included in the televised feature piece.

The Impact 13 series, aired nightly, contained "hard news" stories the first three days of the week.

"I wanted to balance the heavy news with soft features the last two nights," Williams said. The Taylor story of changing education provided that balance.

Mrs. Taylor was the first black student admitted to Wayland Baptist College in Plainview. She was also a pioneer in the integration of schools in Floydada.

The scholarship fund is growing in momentum and the committee has as their goal the first scholarship to be awarded this fall to a senior who otherwise would not financially be able to go to college.

The First National Bank in Floydada is the depository for the fund and donations may be made directly to the bank.

JERRY CANNON AND AL GALLOWAY are part of the Annie Taylor interview by Channel 13.

Dallas Cowboys to appear

A team of eight Dallas Cowboys will be in Floydada on March 6 to challenge a formidable local team in what may well be the sport event of the season.

The game, however, will be basketball, not football.

Sponsored by the Floydada Chamber of Commerce, the game will be played at Graves Gym in the Jr. High School. Starting time is 7:30 p.m.

Advance tickets are now on sale, and Chamber Manager Susan Garms advises sport fans to purchase tickets early since seating will be limited.

The Cowboys participate in promotional basketball games during off-season. Of the 45 member team, 41 players travel across the state to appear at what are generally fund raising events in smaller communities.

The Cowboy team for the Floydada game will be made up of: Glenn Carano, back-up quarterback for Danny White;

Tony Hill, wide receiver; Drew Pearson, wide receiver; Larry Bethea, defensive tackle; Steve Wilson, corner back; Butch Johnson, wide receiver; Jay Saldi, tight end; and Benny Barnes, corner back.

The chamber has been working for over two months to secure a contract with the Cowboys for the game.

The local team, Floydada All-Stars, is made up of: Richard Hale, Curtis Thompson, Donzell Minner, Kelvin

Ratliff, Larry Barbee, Bob Marler, Bill Gilliland, Don Rainer, Ricky Biggs, Jerry Beary, Kerri Bearden and Matt Clark.

Souvenir Dallas Cowboy T-shirts will be on sale at the game.

Tickets may be purchased at the Chamber office at 107 California, or from any Chamber Director. Prices are $7 for adults, and $4.50 for children 12 and under.

It really pays to be a subscriber. Consider the fate of this poor soul:

A man neglected to renew his subscription to his local, weekly newspaper, sent his little boy to borrow a copy from his neighbor.

In his haste, the boy ran over a stand of bees and in a few minutes looked like a warted squash....

His father ran to his assistance and failing to notice the barbed wire fence, he tore a pair of $19 trousers and kicked a strand off the fence....

The old cow took advantage of the opening in the fence, got into the field and killed herself eating green corn. Hearing the commotion the farmer's wife ran out, upsetting a four-gallon churn of cream into a basket of little chickens, drowning the entire lot....

The baby, being left alone crawled through the cream into the parlor, ruining a brand new $50 carpet....

During the excitement the oldest daughter eloped with the hired man; and the dog broke up 11 settings of hens and the calves got out and chewed the tails off four shirts on the clothesline....

Letters to the Editor

Editor:

While I was visiting my Dad, Olin Bryant, in Golden Age Nursing Home in Lubbock the other day, I discovered a former Floydadian, Mr. Tom Smith, who worked for Carl Minor at Star Cash Grocery for 30 years, is living there too.

Tom remembers all his friends at Floydada and would love to hear from them. Let's all send him a card and tell him we remember too. The address is Golden Age Nursing Home, 2613 34th St., Lubbock, TX 79413.

Thanks,
Darlene Fulton

Dear Editor:

I must express my appreciation to the Student Council of Jr. High School, who led the student body in making possible the significant contribution to the Annie Taylor Scholarship Fund. It is exciting to observe kids working so tirelessly and enthusiastically in an effort to help others. (and on a voluntary basis!)

I would not underestimate nor neglect mentioning the leadership and encouragement given by Mr. Collins, Principal, and Mrs. Feuerbacher, Student Council Sponsor.

With far-sighted leaders/teachers, and students willing to serve, we can surely have an optimistic outlook for the future of Floydada!

Thanks to each person involved.
Sally Galloway
I appreciate the excellent coverage given by the Hesperian, too, Shelly!

Chamber speaker will to 'Tell it like it is'

The Annual Banquet for the Floydada Chamber of Commerce will take place at Duncan Cafetorium Saturday night beginning at 7:00 p.m. Kings Restaurant will cater the barbeque dinner.

The speaker, George McKinney, will "Tell It Like It Is" to the many chamber members and friends in attendance. He has been declared an official Ambassador of Good Will by Governors Dolph Briscoe and Bill Clements. In his remarks to the group, McKinney will outline several points of a successful chamber program, with much humor sparking his remarks. The first of these points will stress the need to present the industry picture and the growth picture in their true lights rather than trying to sugar-coat them for a big impression.

He will outline Dedication of members, Enthusiasm, Optimism, Misunderstanding, and Indecisiveness in a program of motivation and humor. He will be introduced by the President of the Chamber, Mark Wideman. The "Employer of the Year" will be awarded by the Women's Division.

A special award will be given to an unsuspecting citizen and the exchange of gavel will be conducted symbolizing the change from the 1981 administration to the 1982 Officers and Directors.

Banquet tickets are available at the chamber office and from any of the Board of Directors.

Floyd County Jr Livestock Show banquet tonight

The Rev. Michael O'Connor's

Perspectives

The government is now telling religious organizations what they may or may not believe. It also appears that they are perfectly within their legal prerogatives. At issue is whether the government may deny tax exempt status to a religious institution that discriminates racially, even though that discrimination is based on religious grounds.

What we have here is a flaw in the conception of the separation of church and state, and a problem with the current conception of "rights." Can the government interfere with the beliefs of a religious group? Does that group have the right to do something that is considered illegal, unethical, or even immoral?

The whole issue of tax exemption for religious groups has been a problem for quite some time. The atheist movement claims that exemption violates church state separation. The government has always countered by saying that tax exempt status is granted equally to non-religious groups and therefore no constitutional provision has been violated. Also, as I understand the policy, tax exemptions are considered to be privileges extended to groups by the government, rather than a right the government owes to any group.

The problem has arisen in these latter days that many groups have been trying to take advantage of the privileges which have been extended to religious groups. Mail order ordination groups have sprung up, so that their members can avoid paying taxes, and many religious schools have been built for the sole purpose of racial discrimination.

Naturally the government can tolerate only so much of this kind of fraud in the name of religion before it feels it must crack down on the offender. The problem then becomes more confused when legitimate religious concerns are regulated by the government as a result of the crackdown.

This then is the problem. Next week we will look at the possible solution.

Bridge to perform at Church

BRIDGE will perform live in concert next Saturday, February 27, at the First United Methodist Church in Floydada beginning at 7:00 p.m.

The message of BRIDGE is a very special one. Five highly stylized vocalists together with live horns, rhythm, and keyboards combine to present a dynamic concert. A BRIDGE concert is not something you watch; it's something you experience! BRIDGE enters each concert with the purpose of ministry.

Through their music and sharing they build bridges that span hurts, doubts, frustrations, anger, and disappointments. They gently bring people in touch with God and the result is always a wonderful experience. In a small size town there is rarely a chance to participate in a ministry like the one of BRIDGE.

There will be no charge for this concert. A love offering will be taken for the group. There will be a nursery provided.

MRS. BRENT WAYNE BARKER

Watson, Barker united during afternoon ceremony

LouAnn Watson became the bride of Brent Wayne Barker in a 4:30 p.m. ceremony Saturday, February 20, at the First United Methodist Church in Floydada. The Reverend Joel Green, pastor of the Pleasant Mound United Methodist Church, Dallas, read the exchange of vows.

The couple are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Olin M. Watson, Jr. of Floydada and Mr. and Mrs. Barry Wayne Barker of Lockney.

A brass arched candelabra holding an arrangement of burgundy and light pink poms, gladiolus and large killian daisies, flanked by graduated sizes of palms of commodore foliage in brass urns and centered in seven branched candelabra with crystal hurricane lamps formed the wedding scene. Entrance to the wedding altar was through brass hurricane lamps and decorations of burgundy and pink and centered with a unity candle decorated in the chosen colors of pink and cranberry.

A unity candle decorated in the pink and burgundy was lit by the parents of the couple before the wedding began.

Prelude music was provided by Mrs. C.L. Record, organist, of Lockney and Mrs. Pat Fairchild, pianist, of Midland. A piano-organ duet of "My Cup Runneth Over" was played as the candles were lit. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson sang "The Wedding Song" and "Together Forever" and Mr. Pat Fairchild sang "The Lord's Prayer." A French horn solo of "Ice Castles" was played by Craig Hambright as the bridesmaid's processional. The traditional wedding march was played for the entrance of the bride.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride chose a white chiffon gown with a Queen Anne neckline and full Bishop sleeves. The lace trimmed bodice was sprinkled with pearls and featured a sunburst pleated skirt and knife pleated hemline through the attached chapel train. Her veil was of bridal illusion with Chantilly lace trim. She carried an all-silk cascade bouquet of various shades of pale pink daisies and burgundy rose buds and showered with silk baby's breath. Following the wedding the bride wore a shoulder corsage designed in colors of pink and cranberry silk flowers.

Lordlighters for the occasion were Lori Hallmark of Arlington and Cody McCauley, Lubbock.

Serving the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Sid Parsley, cousin of the bride from Arlington. Bridesmaids were Beverly Barker, sister of the groom, Lubbock, and Mrs. Mark Sharp, Dalhart, and Mrs. Ricky Shanks, El Paso.

Bridal attendants were dressed in pink silk polyester knit dresses. The natural waist bodices featured a scoop neck with a draped lace hold at the shoulder and was complimented with a pleated skirt. They carried colonial type bouquets of pink, cranberry, and burgundy silk flowers accented with satin streamers in burgundy.

Flower girl was Chelsea Taylor of Lubbock.

Attending the groom as best man was Steve Barker, cousin of the groom of San Antonio. Pat O'Daniel, Brownfield, Ross McKenzie, Corpus Christi, and Ronnie Gammage, Plainview, were groomsmen.

Brian Fairchild, Midland, was ring bearer.

Escorting guests were Paul Barker, cousin of the groom of San Antonio, and Glen Fox, Lubbock.

Guests were registered by Karla Grace, Big Spring.

Grandmothers attending the wedding were Mrs. C.W. Caruthers of Paradise, Texas, Mrs. Euphemia O'Daniel Seay of Tulia, and Mrs. Authur Paul Barker, Sr., Lockney.

The bride is a 1975 graduate of Floydada High School, attended West Texas State University and was graduated from Texas Tech University in 1979. She is employed as a first grade teacher for the Midland Independent School District.

The groom, a 1974 graduate of Lockney High School and a 1978 graduate of Texas Tech University, is a petroleum engineer and pilot for Fairchild Petroleum Coop of Midland.

RECEPTION

HOME INVENTORY

Because household possessions accumulate over the years, it's easy to forget exactly what and how much you own. Knowing what you have is important. It can help make you aware, first, so you can be sure your insurance protection covers the full value of your possessions. Then later, if you suffer a loss and have to file a claim, you'll know exactly what was lost and the value of each item.

Most people cannot remember all of their home's contents following a loss from fire, tornado, etc. The result is a potential loss that could amount to thousands of dollars.

The full amount of the "contents" insurance you may have as a part of a homeowners or tenants policy is not automatically paid. The homeowner or tenant must provide a detailed list of all items stolen or destroyed.

To prove to yourself how important a list can be, just take ten minutes for a simple exercise. Sit down and itemize from memory everything in one room. Then compare your list against what's actually there. Most people find they have forgotten several things.

STARTING A HOME INVENTORY

To have a complete home inventory, systematically go through every room listing each piece of furniture and clothing. Also indicate, as accurately as possible, the date of purchase and the price. Keep your inventory current by adding all new purchases and gifts. An excellent method of describing the items listed in the inventory is to take color photos of everything, including the inside of closets and drawers.

WHERE TO STORE HOUSEHOLD INVENTORY

It is important NOT to keep inventory list and photographs in your home. They would be destroyed along with everything else in the event of fire, or possibly stolen if burglarized. Make a copy of the inventory for your use, but keep the originals in a safe deposit box.

The few hours it takes to complete your inventory could save you thousands of dollars, and will definitely save you time and aggravation, in the event of a major fire or theft. The County Extension Office has household inventory forms called Setting Your Household in Order. Just call our office or come by and pick up a set of the forms.

Lockney Care Center Capers

BY VICKIE HUTTON

Valentines! Valentines! Valentines! Every where you looked the past two weeks you saw Valentines. Starting it off every employee was assigned a door to decorate. This created a lot of enthusiasm. Eleanor Schacht was our judge. I would have hated to be in her place. All the doors were beautiful. Thanks Mrs. Schacht. Our lucky winners were: First place, Shari Carthel; Second place, Elvira Blanco; Third place, Paula Soliz; and Most Unique, Twila Salazar. Congratulations to all our winners. We are really looking forward to Easter when we are going to do it again!

Friday was the highlight of the week when we crowned our Valentine King and Queen. Our Valentine Queen is Mary Jo Fielding. Mary Jo is from Amarillo and is a very special person who is loved by everyone. Our Valentine King is Richard Lanham. Richard is from Quitaque, a retired rancher. He is a real stinker, maybe because his initials are J.R.!! Our runners up were Myrtle Howle and Thomas Jones. We send our wishes to everyone for a Happy Valentines.

Our bus trip this week was cancelled because of bad weather and because I was sick. We are looking forward to next week because we are planning an outing to Quitaque.

Our film of the week was "The Legacy of Anne Frank". This was a very informative film. Thanks to Doylene Dippery for supplying such informative and enjoyable films.

We lost a very special resident this week, Eunice Taylor. We all loved Mrs. Taylor very much and we send our sympathy to the family. Mrs. Taylor will be truly missed.

Ethel Carroll was able to return home this week. We were all happy to have her home again.

Sally Carpenter, Emma Scott and Jewell Miller are in the hospital. We hope they are well soon so they can come home. We really miss their smiling faces.

Until next week, enjoy life!

This has been a busy week! Tuesday I attended a meeting of the South Plains Chapter of Activity Directors at Hi Plains Life Care Center in Lubbock. Guest speaker was Randy Barnett from the Texas Department of Health. He presented a very informative program on "Suicide in the Elderly," and showed a slide presentation on "Volunteers in a Nursing Home." Every nursing home in the state of Texas was presented with this slide presentation provided by a grant from the Levi Strauss Corporation. This gift comes complete with the slides and carousel, cassette tapes of the program adapted for the volunteers and for the residents. Our sincere thanks to Levi Strauss for presenting us with this lovely gift.

Friday, Laverne Christian, administrator, Elizabeth Foster, Director of Nurses, and myself attended a seminar in Lubbock on "Are you a Stressaholic" conducted by Dr. Carl Pickhardt. This program helped you understand the relationship between demands and stress to understand specific organizational stresses which go with management responsibility and to understand available choices for limiting the amount of stress in your personal and organizational life. Dr. Pickhardt is a practicing personal, family, and organizational life management counselor. We all learned very much from this informative seminar.

Our scenic bus trip of the week took us to Quitaque. Those enjoying the trip were Richard Lanham, Alma McDonald, Bertie Bradley, Mary Jo Fielding, Myrtle Payne, Donnie Hester, and Albert Poole.

Our big bingo winners this week were Lovell Edwards, Richard Lanham, and Myrtle Burke. Thanks to our wonderful volunteers DeLinda Glasson, Almada Phillips and Linda Holley for adding something extra special to our games, just being there.

The movies of the week were "Happy Birthday, U.S.A." and "Missions in Texas." Our movie days are very special to us because they transport us into other worlds and teach us many new things. You are never too old to learn new things and to teach others.

Our loved ones who are in the hospital are Sally Carpenter, Belva Gibson, and Amelia Ashton. We hope these special ladies are well soon and able to return home. They are truly missed.

I had a very lovely experience this week! Laverne Christian and myself traveled to the Floydada Nursing Home to visit and meet their new Activity Director, Lynn Daniels. It was really a surprise when I met Lynn and as it turned out we went to high school together in Lockney. It was really nice seeing Lynn again and sharing ideas on our different activities. The residents and myself extend a warm welcome to the residents of the Floydada Nursing Home and Lynn to visit us.

Until next time, have a nice week and come see us.

Lady horns end season with 8-2

The Lockney Ladyhorns ended their season playing Idalou last Tuesday night. The win of 54-49 brought their district record to 8-2, losing only to Abernathy in the two rounds of play. Their overall record for this year was 21-11.

Leading scorers were Connie Coffman—20 and Shawnda Brock—14. For Idalou, Sharon Foreman hit for 12.

The Ladyhorns will be returning all but one player next year and should have the experience that was needed this year. Patricia Torrez was the only senior on the team.

Score By Quarters
Lockney	14	27	41	54
Idalou	12	29	39	49

JEFFREY McCORMICK was high point man with 29 and Tony Rodriguez followed close behind with 27. The final outcome was the Horns 69, Idalou 63.

New members inducted into National Honor Society

One senior and ten junior students from Lockney High School were inducted into the membership of the National Honor Society in a morning ceremony at the high school gymnasium Thursday, February 11. Special guests included the eighth grade, the school board members, and parents of the inductees and members.

To be eligible for membership consideration, junior or senior students must have a cumulative grade of 90. Additionally, members must meet high standards in leadership, service, and character.

Students inducted were: Jeff Reece, senior, Margie Araujo, Robin Hardy, Mary Huffman, Sue Martinez, Karen Mathis, Kay Reay, Tony Rodriguez, Jesusa Saucedo, Marcus Schacht, Maribel Torres, all juniors. Each new member was presented with a pin and a certificate at the candlelight service and informed that NHS members will be privileged to wear a gold cord over their robes on the night of high school graduation.

A reception for members, parents, faculty, and school board was held following the induction in the Home Economics Building.

The Lockney High chapter has been active since the 1950's when Forrest M. Smith and Mildred Zeigler were sponsors, and membership since then totals approximately 480. Mrs. Jerry Williams is the immediate sponsor of the group. Senior members include Carl Race, Patricia Torres, Ralph Scheele, Gary Cowley, Wade Jackson, Elma Molina, Ernest Galvan, Chris Cooper, Criss Carthel, Tyke Dipprey, and Jeffrey McCormick.

Jones honored by Dairy Queen owners

Hollis Jones of Hollis Jones Dairy Queen Restaurants, which is headquartered in Decatur, has just been honored by his fellow Dairy Queen owners and operators in the state of Texas. Jones has restaurants in both Lockney and Floydada.

Jones was elected a director of the Texas Dairy Queen Operators' Council, the membership of which encompasses the owners and operators of the nearly 1,000 Dairy Queens in Texas, at the organization's annual meeting this month (the second week of February) in Fort Worth.

Jones was one of six new directors elected by the Council's membership and one of four chosen for a full three-year term on the group's 12-member Board. The Texas organization, incidentally, is the largest state or regional Dairy Queen association in North America in as much as the nearly 1,000 Dairy Queens in Texas constitute approximately one-fourth of all the DO restaurants in the United States and Canada.

Jones was accorded this new honor just after completing, for the year of 1981, a one-year term as one of two representatives from Texas on the National Dealers Council of American Dairy Queen, whose parent company, International Dairy Queen, is the franchisor for virtually all the DO restaurants in North America.

Jones' own Dairy Queen organization — in which his wife, Sue, is active as co-owner — is the fourth largest DO group in Texas. Hollis Jones Dairy Queen Restaurants encompasses 30

DOs, including 28 in 26 North Central and West Texas towns which it owns and operates — including the ones locally, of course — plus two more it owns and leases to an independent operator.

Watson family enjoys summer-like weather Sunday

BY JOYCE WILLIAMS

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Watson and children, David, Deanna and Amanda went to Roaring Springs Ranch Sunday to enjoy the summer-like 80 degree. The children swam in the pool and played with the children of Byron and Eileen Kendricks. Later that evening the Watsons came home with the Kendricks for supper.

This has been a February of greatly contrasting weather. Snows and blizzards, dust storms and summer heat, all in one month; within three weeks to be exact.

Mr. Holt Bishop came home the early part of last week, with a good report from his hospital tests.

Friday night supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bishop included Mr. and Mrs. Harold Page, of Cameron, Oklahoma, parents of Mrs. Mike Bishop. Other guests were Mike and Rozanne Bishop, Mrs. Shirley Peggram, Holt Bishop and Greg.

The Mike Bishops and their house-guests, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Page, stayed Saturday and Sunday at the Bishop's ranch at Roaring Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Harrison visited in San Angelo last week with their granddaughter and her family. Mr. and Mrs. Rex McPherson. They stayed with their great-grandson, Danny, as his regular babysitter was out of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Harrison, Debbie and Traci, visited in San Angelo Friday and Saturday with the Rex McPhersons and Don Harrisons. Greg Wilkes, student at San Angelo University, came over for a visit with the Harrison girls.

Bob Alldredge was attending a school meeting in Austin over the weekend, but the rest of the family was out in force to hear Roger Alldredge and other members of his band perform at the Rotary Club talent show in Floydada Saturday night. Other musicians included Bryan Sanders, Tim Burns, Robert Pratt, and Gilbert Schwertner.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Klein and sons, Jonathan and Jeremy, Mark and Steve Alldredge visited the Bob Alldredges over the weekend and attended the talent show.

Karen Klein was among the house-party of friends who served at the wedding reception for Lou Ann Watson and Brent Barker Saturday afternoon.

A former Lakeview resident, now in Floydada, performed with a gospel singing group at the talent show. Del Russell Grey, looking so much like her pretty mother, provided piano accompaniment. They had the audience humming and singing along with them long before they invited all to join.

A third group at the talent show was a showcase of combining different musical groups into one harmonious beat. It brought back memories of fifteen years ago in the 60's, with Tommy Farris, on the guitar, Richard Burton on the piano, and Jimmy Sneed, all of whose music had the high school girls jumping and screaming, and their parents holding their hands over their ears in those days. Richard can still play the piano standing up or sitting down. Tom Farris, along with Kris Kristoferson, has undoubtedly changed the image of bankers, after that Saturday nights howling performance greeted with appreciative whistles, cheers and loud applause. The playing by Torrez and Turner was just as professional. I remember the first time I heard them perform, with the Cheek boys, at an Andrews Ward school Christmas program on the upper gallery of the T-Bar ranch house replica at the Floyd County Historical Museum. Jerry Cannon and Charley Tyer are to be commended for assembling so much high quality local talent.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Danny Daniels, Chip, Hollie, and Ashley, are staying a few days with their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Kendrick, while their parents are out of town. Byron and Chip went fishing at Roaring Springs Ranch Sunday. The ranch has had several houses given to them, and these have been moved in and are being remodeled into a pro shop at the golf course, and a camp store near the lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Q.D. Williams attended church at Crowell Sunday and had dinner with his brother and family. Mr. and Mrs. Odell Williams at the Shamburger Ranch. After lunch all went to the Johnson-Ekern ranch between Crowell and Paducah to watch a Pasture Roping. Cowboys from all over the ranch country arrived with horses and trailers. Yearling calves were let out through a panel chute that ran twenty-five yards out into open pasture. Teams of two cowboys tried to rope the calf before it escaped into the mesquite and cedar brush, throw it, and grab the ribbon on its leg, to be returned to the judges. Spectators parked the cars, pick-ups and horse trailers into an arena shape, as much as the rough country allowed. Spectators frequently had to scramble when the cattle veered and headed toward them and open space. The 80 degree plus sunshine, dust and riding had the horses lathered and cowboys parched. It was a true test of a range cowboy's skill, where missing a rope can mean all day searching for the calf that got away. Nothing to compare with regular arena roping. The calves escaped to the canyons and pastures. A barbecue was catered for those who wished to eat on the site. Approximately a thousand spectators and contestants attended. It was much like the rodeos held in small towns in the 20's and 30's, where the only thing between spectators and performers, at most, was a stretched lariat to define the arena. Patrons sat on top their cars and pick-ups and leaned against trailers. Sunday afternoon, neighbors visited; children ran everywhere; teen-age cowboys courted their high school sweethearts, while the girls eyed all the new cowboys they hadn't met yet. For many it was one good day before the farm sales start and they get out of farming into the know not what. One last day of visiting, of good fun together, of admiring skill and hard work. Wheat fields and pastures are dry and water tanks are almost empty all the way from Matador to Crowell. A good rain could still save the wheat. A good oil well could help the farmers and ranchers. Mrs. William's brother, Vernon Jones, enjoyed the roping and barbecue. When he got home he discovered cattle rustlers had butchered one of his beeves, cutting off a hind quarter for a barbecue of their own, leaving the rest for the covotes.

Floydada was full of seismograph crews and thumper trucks. Saturday, reportedly headed for the oil patch of Silverton towards the north part of the county.

Lakeview residents report oil lease offers ranging from $30 an acre and one eighth royalty, to $50 and three-sixteenths. It's like a poker game with the lease hounds holding the deck. It's a whole new crew of oil people this time. None of the leasing is being offered this time by companies that were in here February 1977 when oil fever was hot. Calls come in with offers from Amarillo, Midland and Lubbock with connections to the major oil companies as well as independents. Most of the leasing at this time is along the rim of the canyon and in the southwest part of the community. One oil map shows we are part of the newly named Palo Duro Basin, deep drilling required. Another map shows we are part of the Permian Basin. Landowners don't really care what the Basin is called beneath their land, just so long as they are in it.

Mrs. W.R. Daniels entertained with a birthday party in her home, honoring her little granddaughter, Laura Kendricks, on her sixth birthday Friday after school. A group of Laura's classmates were guests. Her two sets of grandparents gifted her with an Easy Bake Oven and new Easter shoes.

All the children of Judge and Mrs. Choise Smith are showing sheep at the Floyd County Livestock Show this week. Jody, Hunter and Dean spent the week-end grooming their animals and getting ready for the show.

Mrs. Kay Dean Smith teaches the gifted and talented class for students K through 3 in Duncan Elementary School. She is attending a Gifted and Talented workshop in Dallas this week.

Joe and Julie Womack visited Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Womack, in Floydada, while Tracy Womack was home from Stephenville and college. Joe and Julie don't go far from home these days as their sheep are lambing. Joe helped judge the lamb division of the show at Lubbock where his brother, Ricky Copp, teaches agriculture in high school.

Mrs. Jimmy McLaugh and her mother, Mrs. C.M. Miller, visited her grandmother, Mrs. C.L. Alkire, in Happy Union on Sunday.

Marlis McLaugh is on the production crew of the play being readied at Junior High.

Mrs. Georgia Mae Erickson recently presented a copying machine to the Crosby County Historical Museum in memory of her late husband, Stanley, who was associated with A. T. and T. for many years when they lived in Connecticut and New York City. After his death, she returned to Mt. Blanco where she'd grown up and built Casa del Sol in Blanco Canyon.

Mrs. Joe Womack is commuting to classes at Texas Tech University this semester, and attending an evening college class in government at Crosbyton.

Greg Bishop and Jimmy McLaugh, like other farmers in our community, are putting Treflan on their fields when they catch a still day.

Norman Muncy entered St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock Sunday for tests. He has suffered for several years from getting kicked in the stomach by a horse, and in a check-up for this, which was judged minor, a condition was discovered requiring the tests in the chest and neck area.

For landowners contemplating leasing for oil and gas, an interview with accountant Fred Thayer reveals tax saving measures that can be taken to the landowners advantage. When you and the oil company agree on a royalty price, get your lawyer to draw up a lease contract requiring deferred payments with money held in trust. The oil company then puts the full amount in the trust account, so you don't have to worry about them dropping you the second year or so and you receive yearly payments from your trust fund, paying income tax only in that particular year for that year's sum. This could be a big tax savings over getting one lump sum and paying 50% out in taxes.

Landscape & Gardening

BY JETT MAJOR
FLOYD COUNTY EXTENSION AGENT

Early spring is generally the best time to plant fruit trees. For Floyd County, this includes the months of February, March and April.

When spring begins to break rapidly, a difference of two weeks in the planting date often results in obviously better growth of earlier-planted trees. Since new roots develop when the soil temperature is above 45 degrees F., earlier-established trees can make some root development in their growing location before leaves appear and get off to a vigorous start.

The best fruit trees that one can buy are ones that are two years old and 3 to 5 feet tall. Not only do they survive transplanting better, but they become established faster. The largest tree is not necessarily the best. Smaller unbranched trees often are best because they cost less, are inherently more vigorous, start growth sooner, are easier to plant and, most importantly, can be trained properly to look shapely and bear heavy crops. Tiny trees (less than 18 inches tall) were runts in the nursery and should be avoided.

To insure a successful transplanting after buying a tree, keep the roots moist by wrapping them in damp packing material or sawdust. The roots must not dry out or the tree will die. Trim off broken or injured roots.

To prepare to plant, dig the hole a little deeper and wider than necessary to accommodate the roots. Leave some loose soil in the bottom of the hole. Set the tree at the same depth that it grew in the nursery. Never set it so deep that the bud union of the scion and root section is below ground level when the hole is filled.

If a tree cannot be planted immediately, keep it in the original package and refrigerate it for a week or two. Otherwise, heel (temporarily plant) the trees in a well-drained area, making sure the roots never become dry. Soak the tree in a bucket of water several hours before planting to insure good moisture uptake.

Once the tree is in the hole, fill it with pulverized soil, shaking the tree gently to filter soil among the roots. Use the same soil that was removed from the hole earlier. Tramp the soil firmly and thoroughly with the foot or a well-padded stick. Add water when the hole is about three-fourths full to help pack the soil around roots and increase chances for survival. After the water has soaked in completely, fill the hole with soil, leaving it loose on top.

Do not add fertilizer at planting time but consider a light application of nitrogen in June following planting. Keep all fertilizer at least 18 inches away from the trunk. It is essential that the tree be well watered and that all vegetation be controlled immediately under the tree. A heavy layer of mulch does an excellent job of weed control.

Some other crops which you may want to consider planting now are blackberries, figs and citrus.

With blackberries, plant root cuttings. Use 6- to 8-inch segments of 3/8-inch diameter roots. Plant two segments every 3 feet with plants 2 to 3 inches deep.

Figs are easy to start from cuttings. Place cuttings (6 to 8 inches long and 3/8 to 1-1/2 inches in diameter) 4 inches deep in rooting media and put them in a greenhouse or in pots indoors until the spring. Keep rooting media moist. Do not accept rooted cuttings dug from around a neighbor's plant since nematodes may be present and will prevent production or cause plant death.

"Town Hall Meeting" planned for February 25th in Lubbock

Secretary of Agriculture John Block has announced plans for a "Town Hall Meeting" with High Plains farmers in Lubbock, Texas on February 25. The meeting is scheduled for 8:00 p.m. at the University Center on the Texas Tech campus.

Arrangements for the meeting are being made by a host committee of High Plains agricultural leaders, including: Vern Highley, Vice-President of Plains Cotton Cooperative Association; Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.; Elbert Harp, Executive Director of Grain Sorghum Producers Association; Dr. Bill Ott, Resident Director of Research, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Dr. Sam Curl, Dean of Agriculture, Texas Tech University.

"Secretary Block told us that he wants an opportunity to visit with farmers," stated GSPA Executive Director Elbert Harp. "This meeting is being planned to allow time for questions, answers and discussion. Farmers are encouraged to attend."

Stenholm Suggests Marketing Plans

By Con. Charles W. Stenholm

With a bumper cotton crop hitting the market and prices falling far below the cost of actually producing that crop, cotton growers must now make what I consider the only practical decision open to them at this time: Stop selling!

For several years, I have outlined a four-point agricultural program that remains as valid (and perhaps even more crucial in light of current conditions) and when it was first released in 1979. Highlights of the program include:

1) Farmers immediately curtail ALL sales of non-perishable commodities (not just cotton) at current prices.
2) Farmers agree to participate in an orderly marketing system designed to encourage market adjustments. This plan, that I call the 20-10-20 marketing plan, is outlined below.

3) A long-range production control program — which I have long advocated — that includes set-asides of 15-25 percent, or some facsimile is initiated by Congress.

4) An expanded effort using all available resources to increase foreign and domestic sales of farm commodities at profitable prices.

20-10-20 PLAN
Let's take a look at a workable, low-risk short-range solution, the 20-10-20 marketing plan:

20 percent goes immediately into reserve — cotton farmers make a voluntary commitment to place 20 percent of existing supplies (both carryover and new crop cotton) into a farmer-held reserve program. This could be through home or commercial storage and either through the federal Commodity Credit Corporation loan program or a private financed program.

10 percent sold during first marketing period — Farmers would then be free to sell no more than 10 percent of the remaining 80 percent of existing supplies during any 30 day period in any of the first three months of the marketing year. An additional 10 percent of the remaining balance of the supply base if the market maintains an agreed upon price level.

20 percent sold during second marketing period — Farmers would then sell up to 20 percent of the remaining balance of the crop during any of the last nine months of the market year and additional 10 percent lots when the market allows as previously determined.

The risk to most farmers would be absolutely minimal and the benefits to all are easy to see. Such a program would be well within the realm of the free enterprise system that I support and would not require a federal spending program to achieve.

The same type of marketing program would work for all non-perishable crops and is already gaining support in wheat-producing areas. I am currently working with a broad base of agricultural representatives to refine details and implement the program.

Farmers need only to look at the last session of Congress and read the writing on the wall to know that we have reached the point where solutions to growing problems in the industry must be found by farmers themselves. Government is not going to do it for them and as the number of congressmen representing agricultural districts dwindle, passage of favorable farm legislation is going to become more and more difficult.

To those who might question such a program, I would only say, "What do you have to lose? If you accept today's market prices, you have already lost more than you can afford to lose and may not get another chance next year."

Lockney brings home winners from the Ft. Worth Stock Show

Young people from Lockney showed placing animals in the Junior Division of the 86th Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show and came home winners.

Ty Williams came in 3rd, 1st, and Junior Champion Heifer in the Angus Heifers. Libby Williams brought home a 4th and 1st in Angus Heifers and Matt Williams, came in 4th in the Angus Heifers.

The 1982 Stock Show, which concluded its 12-day run Sunday, February 7, hosted a record number of Junior entries for Texas youth who are members of 4-H Clubs and Future Farmers of America chapters.

A record number of Junior Show exhibitors presented 5,780 head of livestock for judging in classes for steers, heifers, dairy, sheep and barrows. The Junior Show posted a 25 percent gain from the 1981 Stock Show, and contributed greatly to the show record of 17,068 total livestock exhibited.

Chad Breeding, 11, of Miami shows the grand champion steer, a 1,216-pound registered Hereford bred by his father, Bill. The animal sold at the Stock Show's Sale of Champions for $24,500 to Majestic Liquors/Fort Worth and Coors Distributing Company of Fort Worth.

The reserve grand champion steer, an 1,160-pound Limousin crossbred, was shown by Jeff Chisum, 11, of Frath. Breeder was Holcomb Cattle Company of Stanton. The sale brought $8,000 from Tony Loma Boot Company.

Winner of the grand champion barrow of the show honor was Matt

Muehlstein of Avoca, a crossbred sold at auction for $4,000 to Walsh Oil Company. Champions in the lamb show included Amy Holifield of Iraan, fine wool; Carl Gholson of Jayton, fine wool cross; Linda Sue Dockery of Colorado City, medium wool; and Susan Hill of Albany, medium wool cross. The lambs each brought $2,500 from KXAS-TV, Fort Worth National Bank, Continental National Bank and Pancho's Mexican Buffet, respectively.

During the Stock Show, some 121,968 purchased tickets to one of the 22 performances of the World's Original Indoor Rodeo, and more than 618,900 visitors passed through the gates. Show dates for 1983 will be January 26 through February 6.

Water District completes measuring of Floyd Co.

The High Plains Underground Water Conservation District has completed its annual program of measuring depth-to-water levels in the 97 wells in Floyd County. These wells are part of a larger network of more than 950 observation wells scattered throughout the District's 15-county service area.

Don McReynolds was able to complete 94 measurements of 'static' water levels in observation wells and tag them with the District's red identification sticker for owner information.

"I visited with several irrigators in the field who wanted to know that their water's doing," said Don. "We have the initial results for each County, but tabulated data on the entire observation network readings is not expected to be complete until mid-year."

Floyd County's 1981-1982 depth-to-water table below surface minimum reading was at 62.21 feet, and the maximum level read was at 319.35 feet. This year's average change in depth-to-water in the county was +0.19 of a foot, which compares with a 1980-1981 county reading of -3.54 feet. Comparing the rate of change calculated this year for these wells shows a minimum decline change of +4.91 feet and a maximum decline change of -6.51 feet.

The Water District keeps a record of annual decline and rate of change going back to 1962. The data is used for making projections of decline rate, for determining the amount of water left in storage, and as a basis for the income-tax depletion allowance claims on landowner's tax returns.

MARGIE ARAUJO—Champion Chester White

The annual Lockney Jr. Livestock Show was underway Saturday with near perfect weather and a high number of entrants.

Randy Upshaw, Lubbock County Agent, was commended on a fine job he did as judge. He took time with each class to discuss with the youngsters what he saw in their animals. Then he made the public judging announcement.

He said that the show was for the youngsters and that what they gained from the experience was his main concern.

The following are the show results:

Sorghum team works with Mexican livestock

A team of livestock research scientists and sorghum farmers is meeting with livestock producers in the rapidly expanding feedlot industry of Mexico. The seven-man team is under the direction of U.S. Feed Grains Council and Grain Sorghum Producers Association and is jointly sponsored by Funk Seeds, International; Ciba Geigy, Agricultural Division and Pioneer Hi-Bred Seeds, International. The purpose of the project is to examine ways to continue the expansion of sales of U.S. grain sorghum to Mexico.

Mexico was the second largest customer for U.S. grain sorghum in 1979 and 1980. Sales have dropped because the Mexican domestic crop of feed grains was large in 1981. Increased sales are expected later this year.

Jim Myrick, Latin American Director of U.S. Feed Grains Council, in Mexico City, planned the itinerary and will be working with the team. John Brethour, Beef Research Scientist from the Ft. Hays Experiment Station in Hays, Kansas, will conduct a nutrition seminar in Torreon and consult with livestock producers in Torreon, Guadalajara and Mexico City. The trip will conclude with conferences with Mexican Government and railroad officials in Mexico City.

GSPA President Mabry Foreman and Executive Director Elbert Harp are leading the team. Donald Epperson of Hutchinson, Kansas; Walter Cox of Abilene, Texas and H.H. Deaver of Bishop, Texas are representing U.S. sorghum producers.

"We are grateful to our commercial sponsors: Funk Seeds, Ciba Geigy and Pioneer Seeds, for their support and encouragement," said Foreman. "Our market development program depends on this kind of cooperation between producers and agri-business."

Quality care is... A Warm Atmosphere

In our nursing home, one of the most important things we do for our residents is work to create a warm, friendly atmosphere. We do it with big smiles. With genuine friendship between our nurses and residents. And with activities designed to make our residents feel at home, among friends: trips, parties, classes in crafts, and more. Some people may think that working to create a warm, happy atmosphere isn't a usual part of health care. But a nursing home isn't an intensive care unit. It's a home. And we try to make our home as warm and loving as we can, because when our residents are happier, they feel better. And that's what nursing, and nursing home care, are all about. Come and visit us soon, and feel at home.
