

State and Federal Inspectors met with Commissioners Court

County canneries investigated

A suspected case of botulism reported by a Plainview doctor brought the Floyd County canneries to the attention of both state and federal health officials this past week.

The elderly patient, hospitalized in Plainview, was later proved not to be suffering from food poisoning but rather from a drug reaction.

However, Ralph Godfrey, investigator with the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, had already inspected the Lockney Cannery and placed an embargo on cans of hot sauce prepared at that cannery. Godfrey was brought into the matter because products from the cannery were taken across the state line into Oklahoma.

Ray Ashley is a Food and Drug Inspector with the Texas Department of Health. Both inspectors are based in Lubbock.

"We didn't know the canneries were here," Godfrey said. There has never been a health inspection.

The two inspectors met with Commissioners Court Monday morning and gave a list of "observations (that) would be deviations from current good manufacturing practice if the (Lockney) cannery had been operating in the manner reported during the visit."

Commissioners accompanied the inspectors to the Floydada cannery and were told that the same conditions exist in both canneries.

Ashley said that they cannot take action at this time because the canneries are not running and the evidence is "hearsay", but that when the canneries begin operating, they will inspect both and if conditions are the same as had been reported, they will take action.

"We're not here to say you have to close," Godfrey said. "It is for your own protection from some very severe liability."

He was referring to the fact that a state, use a direct heat method for processing rather than the steam processing considered safe by the health department.

"Today we did not expect to find a flame heated processor (retort)" Ashley said. "I've never seen a fire retort before."

Godfrey said that he had never seen one before either.

Of all the retorts in Lockney and Floydada only one has a thermostat on it. Inspectors couldn't tell if it worked or not. The list of deviations reported by the inspectors included; the operators of the processing systems have not attended and satisfactorily completed an approved school for thermal processing or container closure.

Faults of the equipments included; the retorts do not have the required mercury-in-glass thermometers, the retorts do not have the required temperature recording devices, the retorts do not have the required steam or heat controls, some do not have bleeders, and some do not have vents.

Commissioners estimated that 10,000 cans of food were processed at the two canneries the past season. The one in Lockney will process twice as much as the one in Floydada.

The plants are set up so that people can bring in their own vegetables and can them themselves for a fee. Cost of the cans is 17 cents apiece.

Then there is a plan where the managers of the cannery will process the food on halves for people. Generally the half retained by the managers is sold and the money is kept by the managers as part of their compensation for the work.

The inspectors said that apparently the ladies who have managed the canneries have been doing a good job since there has been no problem.

Judge Choise Smith said, "The ladies have done a good job" in his estimation.

The inspectors said that since there is no coding or records kept on the cans in case of a problem, it would be very difficult to trace the contaminated cans.

Godfrey told the court that to "bring your canneries into the '80's" can be done but to bring them up to standards will cost.

The court took no action, but will put the issue on the agenda for the next court meeting.

COUNTY JUDGE CHOISE SMITH listens as Federal Health Inspector Ralph Godfrey points out "deviations" at the Floydada Cannery. Looking on is State Health Inspector Ray Ashley.

MICHAEL ROSE AND RANDY MARTIN were hospitalized after being involved in a one-vehicle accident Friday night seven miles east of Plainview on FM 2286.

One-vehicle accident sends two to hospital

Two Lockney men were hospitalized after a 1-vehicle accident east of Plainview Friday night.

Michael Rose, 24, and Randy Martin, 27, were traveling east on FM 2286 about seven miles east of Plainview about 9 p.m. Friday when the '77 white Chevrolet Silverado pickup in which they were riding apparently left the road and struck a culvert on the south side of the road, according to officers at the scene. DPS units from Hale and Floyd Counties were dispatched to the scene of the accident since it was almost directly on the county line.

The two men were taken to the emergency ward of the Central Plains Hospital where they were treated and transferred to the Lubbock General Hospital about midnight where Martin still remains in ICU with surgery scheduled when his condition stabilizes and the doctors feel it is safe due to the swelling.

Both men were thrown from the vehicle. Rose's wife, Suzan, was following the first vehicle some 10 to 15 minutes behind. Because the vehicle had flipped and landed back on its tires, she reported she thought the men had pulled over to wait up for her.

Rose suffered a broken right leg, a badly injured and possibly cracked, shoulder and arm, cuts and gashes. He was dismissed late Monday and is recovering at the home of his parents, Willie and Loveta Rose in Lockney.

Chamber of Commerce Banquet draws near

The Lockney Chamber of Commerce is working hard toward their banquet slated for March 11 at 7:00 p.m. in the Elementary Cafetorium.

The Chamber would just like to remind everyone to be sure to buy their tickets to assure them of getting to enjoy this evening of relaxing entertainment and to also help your club or organization to win that plaque.

The featured speaker, J. Garland McKee will be the guest speaker with his "laugh-a-minute" stories in his well developed Southern dialect. This should be an evening that everyone will not want to miss.

Tickets may be purchased from Raymond Lusk, James Poole, or they may be bought at Copeland Insurance, Lockney Coop, Barker Insurance Agency, First National Bank of Lockney, Pioneer Natural Gas Company, Jerry Cooper Insurance Agency, and Brown's Department Store. The price of the tickets is $7.00.

Outstanding Man and Woman of the Year will also be recognized that night.

Health Fitness holds open house Sunday

An open invitation is being extended to the general public on Sunday, March 28, from 1:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. to view the facilities and equipment.

There will be demonstrations for the use of the facilities and some of the members will be doing workouts for observation.

Refreshments will be served and drawings will be held at random during the festivities. Memberships ranging from 1 month to 1 year will be given away. A business blessing will be pronounced at 2:30 p.m. by a local pastor. Helium balloons will be released to accentuate this blessing.

Health Fitness is hoping to award a 3-month free membership to their 100th member in the very near future. They have already exceeded their 90th member.

The Hospital Auxiliary has planned a luncheon in the school cafetorium from 11:30-1:30.

Hospital directors to be elected April 3

A regular election for directors shall be held on the first Tuesday in April.

Any person desiring his name to be printed on the ballot as a candidate for director shall file a petition, signed by not less than 10 qualified voters, asking that such name be printed on the ballot, with the secretary of the board of directors of the district, Kenneth Tate. Such petition shall be filed with the secretary at least 25 days prior to the date of election.

Notice of the election shall be published one time in a newspaper of general circulation in the area of the district at least five days before the election.

Petitions with Francis Montandon and George Sparkman being named have already been submitted to Tate and their names will be placed on the ballot for the upcoming election April 3, 1982.

New precinct lines to be used in primaries

The County commissioners, during a called emergency meeting Monday afternoon, were faced with a decision of either abiding by federal law or state law concerning the coming precinct primary elections to be held May 1.

They heard the seemingly conflicting advice of three attorneys, but the final decision was left squarely in their own hands. They voted to follow federal law.

The problem stems from the federal Justice Department mandate that precinct lines must be drawn to comply with the non-discrimination code. This had been done and a balance of population was achieved in Floyd County, but the Justice Department must pass on the new precinct lines. So far the county has not received that O.K. from the federal government.

State election laws say that voting lines must be in effect by March 1 or the election must be held using the old precinct lines.

Commissioners voted 3 to 1 to instruct County Tax Assessor Jonelle Fawver to send out voting cards according to the new precinct lines.

Precinct 2, Lockney, will be most effected by the decision. That is the only precinct with a race for commissioner. Incumbent, Bob Jarrett, is running against newcomer Charles Carthel.

The new precinct lines will exclude a part of east Lockney since they will now be part of precinct 3. Since there is no election in precinct 3 this year they will not vote.

Surrounding counties have been sued on the grounds of an imbalance in the minority population figures as set forth by the Justice Department. These counties are Hale, Crosby, Lamb and Hockley. Court costs in those suits have cost the same counties as much as $40,000.

TEC office reopens next week in Courthouse office

The Texas Employment Commission office will be open Monday March 8, at its new location in the County Courthouse.

The office had been closed since January due to cutback in funds. Efforts by legislators in response to complaints by their constituents brought about a restoration of funds at the 1981 level.

Funds for the local office were not adequate for building rental according to Bob Hambright, Floyd County TEC manager. He was given permission by Commissioners Court to move into the one vacant office in the courthouse. The room, #112, is located at the north end of the building on the first floor.

The telephone will be paid for by TEC, and the court further stipulated that the office would be "subject to removal by the commissioners court."

Hambright will maintain the office alone, but said that there may be funds for part-time help later.

Since the closing of the sub-office, Hambright has been working at the Plainview TEC.

MOST OF US HAVE HEARD OF KIDS' DAY but can you believe 80 and 90 year old kids. The residents and employees of Lockney Care Center enjoyed a Kids' Day last week and some of them may still have their dolls and teddy bears hid-out.

Strake honored

George Strake, candidate for Lt. Governor, will be in Floydada Tuesday, March 9, to attend a coffee given in his honor at the First National Bank Community Room.

The coffee, held from 9 to 9:30 a.m., is hosted by Bill Hale.

"I feel that we are very fortunate to have a candidate for the number-two spot in the state visiting in Floydada," Hale said.

Strake is including rural towns in his campaign schedule and considers those residents a vital part of his campaign.

He will be looking for input from county residents on the issues of particular importance to them. He will be especially interested in meeting and hearing the views of area farmers.

The 46-year-old former Secretary of State sees President Reagan's "New Federalism" as an opportunity to regain "control of our own destiny."

BUD RAINEY SHOWS WEAPON used in the basic firearms portion of the recent academy for area reserve police officers sponsored by the Floydada Police Department.

Floydada police sponsor academy

During the month of February, the Floydada Police Department has been sponsoring an academy for area reserve police officers. The academy is a required basic seventy hour reserve school required of all reserve officers in the State of Texas.

When the officers complete the academy they will meet basic educational requirements of the state for reserve police officers. They will be licensed to function as a peace officer while working for any law enforcement agency with a reserve program.

Bud Rainey, former Sheriff of Floyd County and presently an instructor for Wayland Baptist University, is the coordinator and main instructor. Assisting as instructors are Sgt. Raynard Macha of the Floydada Police Department, Randy Hollums, 110th Judicial District Attorney and Sgt. Fant of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Some of the topics taught are basic criminal law, firearms, traffic law, first aid, patrol procedures and many more subjects as required by the State Commission on Law Enforcement Officers Standards and Education.

Law enforcement agencies represented are Floydada Police Department, Floyd County Sheriffs office, Silvertown

Police Department, Briscoe County Sheriffs office, Mackenzie Water Authority and the 110th Judicial District Attorneys office.

"We were fortunate that Wayland Baptist University allowed Bud Rainey to coordinate the school, lending his expertise in teaching practical police training" stated Sgt. Macha. "We hope that Wayland Baptist University and local law enforcement agencies will be able to work even closer in the future to improve area police training."

There has been a growing trend in the state for more reserve programs as law enforcement agencies are cut back in funding and manpower. In many areas of the state the reserve officers have become so valuable because Sheriffs and Chiefs of Police could not handle the work load with their present full time staffs. These people perform a community service often for no pay or benefits. They are strictly volunteers who work as police officers when called to service or when they can find time. They have been invaluable in times of natural disasters such as tornadoes and floods. They must all meet the state requirements of a police officer. The students have enjoyed the academy and feel that they will be better equipped to serve their agencies. As one student put it, "I never realized how difficult it was to be a police officer working on the streets, it looks so easy on television. I have a greater respect for our area officers now. I wish everyone could go through a school like this, then they might realize that what you see on television and what really happens in real life situations are two different things. I'm glad we don't have to go through the full 340 hours of training that a licensed full time officer has to complete."

Persons attending the academy are Dan Holt and Jimmy Forbes of the Floydada Police Department, Nancy Willson of the 110th Judicial District Attorneys office, J. Eckert of the Floyd County Sheriffs office and David Malone, Eldon Oneal, Janice Hill, Emmet Tomlin, Ricky Minyard all from law enforcement agencies from Briscoe County.

On Friday, February 26th the class presented Bud Rainey with a new Smith and Wesson 357 magnum revolver and a plaque to show their appreciation for his hard work and sacrifice involved in making the academy possible.

Definition of oil terms

BY JOYCE WILLIAMS

Delay rentals may be generally defined as payments made by the lessee to the lessor, from year to year, during the primary term of a "unless" or "drill or pay" form lease, for the purpose of delaying the commencement of development operations on the leased land. The right to such payments may be of substantial value where large tracts of land are involved, as the amount of the delay rental is generally computed on a per acre basis. Where no production is obtained, the right to delay rentals may well be the most valuable right of the owner of the mineral estate.

Bonus is a sum paid to the owner of the mineral estate for the execution of an oil and gas lease. Such sum may be paid in cash or on a deferred basis out of future production. It represents market value for a "sale" of the minerals to the lessee.

A "royalty" interest may be broadly defined as the right to fractional share of production of petroleum products, free of cost or expense incident to exploration, development, or production. The royalty interest is that portion of production returned to the owner of the mineral estate as compensation for oil and gas lease.

Shut-in royalties are a substitute for the payment of actual royalty. A shut-in clause provides for a substitute or contractual method of production, which will maintain the lease in force and effect when a well is drilled and for which no market exists. Shut-in royalties which are being used to maintain a lease in effect must be paid prior to or on the date that actual production exists to maintain a lease in effect.

During the secondary term the dry hole clause allows the lessee a stated number of days after the completion of a well as a dry hole to commence additional drilling activities. If they result in a producing well the lease will be maintained in effect. The lessee may tack between the well completion clause and the dry hole clause.

Pooling is the formation of drilling units for oil and gas of sufficient size so that the lessee will comply with minimum spacing requirements for such production. A pooling clause allows lessees acting pursuant to the authority vested in them by the lease clause to pool.

An overriding royalty interest is a royalty payable to someone other than the lessor. Frequently, the term "overriding royalty" means a royalty carved out of the lessee's working interest. Occasionally, a royalty to the lessor in addition to the usual 1/8th, is referred to as an overriding royalty.

The primary term of the lease is its duration, which contains a fixed term. The primary term of a lease is followed by a secondary term, which is indefinite in duration and is dependent upon production for continued existence.

Jamboree was a success

The Rock-n-Roll Jamboree held at the Floydada Nursing Home was a grand success.

From dawn to dusk one could hear the sound of a rocking chair creaking back and forth and the soft whisper of chairs rolling down the halls as the residents donated their time for a worthy cause.

The American Heart Association would like to thank all residents who participated to help raise $212.78 for research projects.

There will be a Teen Heart Dance on March 5, 1982 from 8:00 p.m. to 12:00 p.m. at the Massie Activity Center. Cost will be $2.50 per person and music will be provided by Sheldon Sue. Dress casual, bring a friend, and plan for an evening of fun.

Symphony Pops Night planned

When the Plainview Symphony gets together with the Floyd "Red" Rice Orchestra Pops Night, March 12, what follows will be a fun night for the family featuring everything from "Superman" to "Elvira."

Two Floydada residents will be playing with the Symphony at this concert: Sunny McDonald (violin) and Kerry Kirk (tuba).

"We chose Rice for our Pops Night artist because he has such an outstanding reputation from other symphony orchestras," said Dale Daniels, Plainview Symphony conductor. "Every symphony who has played with him invites him back again and again because he is such a hit with the audiences."

Rice plays the trumpet and his wife Lou Ann sings and performs on the keyboards. His daughters, Joni and Donna, tap dance, sing, play guitar, sax, synthesizer drums, and bass.

The concert starts at 8:15 p.m. at Plainview High School Auditorium. Admission is by Plainview Symphony Orchestra season membership card or tickets can be purchased at the Floydada Chamber of Commerce office afternoons.

Tickets will also be available at Gabriels Department Store in Plainview or at the door. The prices are $5.00 for adults and $2.50 for students.

One Oklahoma newspaper critic said "Seldom has there been so much good, clean, wholesome fun packed into a Saturday night as when Leigh Burns conducted the symphony in a short light classic concert and Floyd "Red" Rice's band wowed 'em as guest artists."

Red Rice's trumpet and comedy and Lou Ann Rice's piano and singing combined with the big sound of the Symphony make for the most enjoyable and entertaining Pops Concert ever, said Daniels.

FHS Band students compete in contest

Nine Floydada High School band students competed in the Region XVI Solo-Ensemble Contest held last Saturday at Lubbock Coronado High School.

The contest allowed solos and/or ensembles in three categories: band instruments, orchestral instruments, and piano. Ratings were given from I to V with a I being superior and a V being poor. All students who made a Division I received an official U.I.L. medal.

The Floydada students and their ratings are: Tammy Boothe, flute solo, I; Sandra Mitchell, piano solo, I; Christine Wilson, piano solo, I; Carrie Martin, Rusty Simpson, and Christine Wilson, flute trio, I; Mitzi Julian, piano solo, II; Cindee Davis, piano solo, II; Greg Thompson, piano solo, II; Virginia Mitchell, piano solo, II; Rusty Simpson, piano solo, II; and Sandra Mitchell, trumpet solo, III.

Because the Division I ratings are on Class I solos and ensembles, Tammy Boothe, Sandra Mitchell, Christine Wilson, Carrie Martin, and Rusty Simpson qualify to go to the Texas State Solo-Ensemble Contest to be held in Austin on May 29 and 31.

These students are under the direction of Bruce Kenner, F.H.S. band director. In addition, the piano students are from the studios of Dell Gray, Carolyn Cheek, and Elaine Hardy.

Additions to churches completed

Lockney is typical of the average small town U.S.A. With the economy in the condition it is in today, it would be very unusual to see a new business come to town with a new building and all. But Lockney is ahead of some small towns because additions and remodeling is updating our town in spite of economic conditions, as member of two of our local churches will attest.

The First Baptist Church congregation moved in mid-January into a $180,000 educational unit built on the south side of the church property on Main Street.

West College and Third Street Church of Christ has just completed an 1,800-square-foot office addition.

The Baptist educational unit, debt-free after the note was paid off with $53,000 that was raised in a special offering January 17, will be dedicated this spring when landscaping has been completed. A note-burning ceremony was held in the January 24 morning worship service.

The new building is of steel with brick facing. Interior walls are vinyl-covered sheetrock. The educational unit includes 10 classrooms, a kitchen area, restrooms and storage.

A garden room and an enclosed breezeway connect the new and old facilities. The garden room will be dedicated to the late Mrs. R.C. (Ruth) Mitchell who died suddenly last fall during construction of the new building. Mrs. Mitchell and local craftsman Roger McDonald together had designed a stained glass panel that McDonald built and set into an interior wall of the garden room. Dimmer-controlled lighting behind the panel illuminates the glass. Wooden lattice panels set on either side of the window, which has provided a setting several times already for weddings.

Plants, a small fountain and a sun dial have been donated in memory of Mrs. Mitchell by individuals. Her husband allowed selection of two of her paintings to be hung in the room. A bronze plaque dedicating the room to her memory has been ordered.

Total floor space in the new addition at the Baptist Church is about 5,200 square feet.

The building project was started last summer under the pastorate of the Rev. John Jenkins who moved to Morton in October. The building was completed while Dr. Strauss Atkinson of Plainview was serving as interim pastor. New pastor of the church is the Rev. Murle Rogers who moved to Lockney January 25 from Friona.

The new office facilities at West College and Third Street Church of Christ include a new office for Minister Frank Duckworth, a secretary's office, a storage closet for office supplies and a conference room.

The addition, was built on the southeast side of the church costing about $30,000. The old office has been converted into a library housing books, tapes, and the church's tape duplicator. Earphones are available for quieter use of the tapes. Several women organized the library and typed a cross-reference file.

The secretary's office also houses the small offset press used for printing church publications such as weekly newsletter, Bible lessons, tracts and brochures for the congregation and for mission work in India and Mexico that is coordinated by this church. Other office machines such as the folder and the addresser are kept on free-standing cabinets.

Paneling and vinyl paper cover the walls of the new office space. The conference room and secretary's office are separated by a movable partition kept open except during meetings of the elders, deacons, and other groups.

The addition is debt-free as funds for the building were received from church members before its completion.

Floydada becomes Cowboy land

A team of eight Dallas Cowboys will be in Floydada on March 6 to challenge a formidable local team in what may well be the sport event of the season.

The game, however, will be basketball, not football.

Sponsored by the Floydada Chamber of Commerce, the game will be played at Graves Gym in the Jr. High School. Starting time is 7:30 p.m.

Advance tickets are now on sale, and Chamber Manager Susan Garms advises sport fans to purchase tickets early since seating will be limited.

The Cowboys participate in promotional basketball games during off-season. Of the 45 member team, 41 players travel across the state to appear at what are generally fund raising events in smaller communities.

The Cowboy team for the Floydada game will be made up of: Glenn Carano, back-up quarterback for Danny White; Tony Hill, wide receiver; Drew Pearson, wide receiver; Larry Bethea, defensive tackle; Steve Wilson, corner back; Butch Johnson, wide receiver; Jay Saldi, tight end; and Benny Barnes, corner back.

The chamber has been working for over two months to secure a contract with the Cowboys for the game.

The local team, Floydada All-Stars, is made up of: Richard Hale, Curtis Thompson, Donzell Minner, Kelvin Ratliff, Larry Barbee, Bob Marler, Bill Gilliland, Don Rainer, Ricky Biggs, Jerry Beary, Kerri Bearden and Matt Clark.

Souvenir Dallas Cowboy T-shirts will be on sale at the game.

Tickets may be purchased at the Chamber office at 107 California, or from any Chamber Director. Prices are $7 for adults, and $4.50 for children 12 and under.

SHERRI LEE THURLKILL, JOHN WAYNE STRICKLAND

Thurlkill, Strickland announce engagement

The parents of Sherri Lee Thurlkill and John LaWayne Strickland announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their children.

The bride-elect's parents are Ms. Frankie Thurlkill of Vernon and Tommy Thurlkill of Wichita Falls. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Strickland of Lockney.

The wedding has been set for June 11, 1982 at the First United Methodist Church in Vernon with the Rev. Lee Crouch, pastor of that church officiating at the double ring ceremony.

The bride has been attending Amarillo College. She graduated from Vernon High School.

The groom is currently employed by Halliburton in Amarillo. He graduated from Lockney High School and attended West Texas University.

The couple plan to make their home in Amarillo.

World Day of Prayer to be held Friday, March 5th

World Day of Prayer, an international celebration sponsored in the United States by Church Women United, will be held March 5, at 10:30 a.m. at the First Christian Church, 301 W. Missouri, Floydada. This annual service unites millions of people in prayer services occurring on six continents during a 24-hour period.

This year's theme is "The People of God: Gathered for Worship, Scattered for Service." The text was prepared by women of the Republic of Ireland and of Northern Ireland. They worked ecumenically at a Christian renewal center near the border of the two Irish states.

World Day of Prayer provides women in the United States with an occasion to participate in a nationwide offering which goes into International Grants, the process by which Church Women United carries out its stewardship through grants to a wide variety of programs.

Involved in World Day of Prayer events in Floydada are: the Women's Circles of the First United Methodist Church and the Christian Womens Fellowship of the First Christian Church.

All women of the community are cordially invited to attend. Lunch will be served at noon.

Clower, Kirby pledge vows in Cotton Center Feb. 27th

Naomia Denice Clower and Jonathan Aaron Kirby pledged their wedding vows on Saturday, February 27, 1982 at six o'clock in the First United Methodist Church, Cotton Center. The Rev. Donny Crowson of Cotton Center and Craig Curry of Lubbock performed the marriage ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Ira Clower of Roaring Springs, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W.H. Kirby, Jr. of Cotton Center.

The ceremony was performed before an altar area which was complimented with matching candelabra arches, spirals trimmed with boxwood and gyp centered with matching bows in mauve and plum. A kneeling bench centered the altar area, and a bouquet of white, mauve alstromeria lillies and plum pixie carnations centered the background area. Miniature hurricane lamps holding votive cups trimmed with boxwood, gyp, and trimmed with plum bows marked the honor pews.

Traditional wedding music was rendered by Mrs. Tommy Applewhite at the piano and Mrs. Ralph McFerrin at the organ. Vocalist was Mrs. Craig Curry, who sang "Wedding Song," "This Is the Day," and "That's the Way It Is."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of satin accented with an overlay of organza with lace trim. She also wore a cathedral length veil.

Maid of honor was Miss Catherine Norfleet of Cotton Center. She carried a nosegay of pixie carnations, alstromeria lillies, sweetheart roses, and baby's breath. Bridesmaids were Iroma Applewhite of Cotton Center and Ramona Clower of Canyon. Both are sisters of the bride. Also, cousin of the bride, Lori Bice of Abilene and Stacy Parker of Levelland, were bridesmaids. The attendants wore identical plum soft Faille gowns with a mauve suede jacket. The bridesmaids carried nosegays of pixie carnations, alstromeria lillies and baby's breath. They wore matching hairpieces of flowers used in their bouquets.

The candelabras were lighted by Karen Fisher and LaJean Taylor who wore identical dresses to the attendants.

Kimberly Clower, sister of the bride, was flower girl. She was attired in a long white dress and carried a lace basket filled with silk petals and accented with a matching bow of the brides chosen colors of plum and mauve.

The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo and wore a boutonniere of pixie carnations with a rose in the center. W.H. (Bill) Kirby, Jr., father of the groom was best man. Groomsmen were brother of the groom, W.H. (Chip) Kirby, III, of Cotton Center; brother of the bride, Keith Clower of Roaring Springs; Jimmy Sageser and Jeff Kirkland, both of Cotton Center.

Gary Koelder and Kip Thomas, both of Cotton Center, were ushers. All of the men attendants wore grey tuxedos with white rose boutonnieres.

Timothy Schoenhals of Lubbock was the ringbearer and was attired in a white tuxedo with a white rose boutonniere.

Registering guests at the wedding was Dalene Livesay of Levelland.

RECEPTION

A reception was held in the fellowship hall and serving at the brides table was LaDon Horsford of Cotton Center and Tammi Webb of Levelland. Serving at the grooms table were Beverly Norfleet and Kendra Burnett both of Cotton Center.

Members of the house party were cousin of the bride, Amy Rowell, of Plainview, Karen Joines of Cotton Center, Mrs. Charles Norfleet, Mrs. James Sageser, Mrs. Ervin Koelder, all of Cotton Center, and Mrs. J.R. Nixon of Lubbock.

Sarah Mahagan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Mahagan, passed out rice bags.

Following a honeymoon to New Mexico, the couple will reside in Cotton Center where the groom is engaged in farming.

MRS. JONATHON AARON KIRBY

Caprock Hospital Auxiliary met March 1st

The Caprock Women Hospital Auxiliary met for their monthly meeting Monday, March 1, at 2:30 p.m. in the hospital dining room.

The elected members are Edna Beth Tye, president; Ethel Carmack, vice president; Emma Lou Whitaker, treasurer, and Jo Bryant, secretary. The members present were Lillian Smith, Margaret Fowler, Hester Moore, Eunice Hong and guests, Mildred Cates, Mrs. John Wilson, Jean Appling, R.N. supervisor of nurses, and Joe Rice, administrator.

Mrs. Edna Beth Tye presided over the meeting calling it to order. Then reading of the last month's reading were read by Jo Bryant and approved by all members. A treasurer's report was given by Emma Lou Whitaker. She reported that the auxiliary had received some memorials and would continue to put an ad in the Hesperian so that the public is aware of giving in honor of someone who has deceased. The project of the auxiliary is a much, urgent need of a Heart monitoring, machine. Thanks are also being given to the people who have contributed to memorials.

Joe Rice, administrator, spoke to the ladies of some of the needs of the hospital. The most urgent need is a heart monitoring machine, etc. It is used on emergency patients and patients in the hospital with heart problems. Two chairs are also needed at the nurses station, wall blood pressure cups are also needed, in fact 28 are needed. A Thyroid test machine, tests are being sent off, as of now and two typewriters for office work are also needed.

be aware of the needs of the hospital and that now they can have more confidence in getting the care they need while in the hospital, as alot of improvements have taken place and that all the community could benefit by coming to the local hospital.

The patient quota was 118 five months ago, it has increased to 555 now. Much more hope is expected for the future to grow and serve the needs of this community.

Mrs. Jean Appling shared the news of three R.N. nurses. They are supposed to come to Floydada in the next six to eight weeks. They are from the Philippines.

Further information will be given later and plans for a reception to be held as a welcome to our community will also be announced later. Household furnishings and furniture will be needed by these three nurses.

The meeting was adjourned.

Bible Baptist Ladies meet in Fawver Home

The ladies of the Bible Baptist Church met on Tuesday, February 23, at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Debra Jo Fawver for their monthly Bible study.

After all had arrived, the business was taken care of, and the next Bible study was set for Tuesday, March 23, at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Lila Taylor.

Helen Lipham then led the group in prayer. Lila Taylor then continued the lesson on The Tabernacle. The group had a discussion on the lesson.

Nancy Welborn closed the Bible study by leading the group in prayer.

The ladies enjoyed refreshments of brownies, soft drinks and coffee.

Those attending were: Nancy Welborn, Helen Lipham, Margie Sue, Lila Taylor, Lela Mae Burns, Renie Chapman, Debra Jo Fawver and Jaynette Harrison.

Five generations times two

Miss Tobi Ann Duncan of Panhandle is indeed a fortunate young miss. When she arrived, she had 12 living grandparents.

Her great-great-grandmother, Mrs. J.A. (Eunice) Taylor has lived in the area since 1911, having made the trip to West Texas from King County in a covered wagon. She resided at the Lockney Care Center until her death February 12.

Another great-great-grandmother, Mrs. J.T. (Bertie) Bradley moved to this area from Grayson County in 1928. She currently resides in the Lockney Care Center.

Tobi Ann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ray Duncan of Panhandle.

Cost for the 12 hours of instruction will be $30.00. Any sewing machine with a zig zag stitch will do machine embroidery.

WINTER TIME FOR POTTING

Plants love to get potted, and late winter is an excellent time to pot, or repot, whichever the case.

But what about the selection of the right pot for your plant? It may not be a simple task, as there are many from which to choose; some are good, but some should be avoided.

So what do you need? A clay pot, a glazed pot, plastic, styrofoam, brass or wood? Let's take a closer look at the various types available.

Plastic pots — often considered less desirable than the old-fashioned clay pots. But there's no reason why you can't grow just as healthy a plant in plastic as you can in clay.

Because water does not evaporate through the plastic pot, these plants will require less watering. It's easy to overwater if you're not used to plastic pots. But many are used in the production of greenhouse crops by professional growers.

Plastic pots vary from the cheap flimsy ones to very decorative and attractive types designed for interior landscaping. One of the most interesting plastic pots is the clear plastic.

Clay pots — they don't actually "breathe" as is sometimes suggested.

When the pots have been watered all the pore spaces in the clay are filled with water so little or no air actually escapes through the pot container.

If the container is so dry that the pore spaces in the clay pot are not filled with water then the plant is in trouble. The main advantage of a clay pot is that they're cooler because of the evaporation of water from the outside.

Also, because this water does evaporate you're less likely to over water plants in the clay pot. Of course, if the clay has been glazed you essentially have the same water requirements with this type of container that you would have with a plastic pot.

Wooden containers — all but especially the redwood, look very attractive in the garden shops. Once they're brought home and filled with soil, planted with plants and watered over a period of time they begin to streak and water stain. Like the clay pot, they will dry out faster than plastic and this may be an advantage.

Metal containers — most are designed to set less attractive clay or plastic pots in. They usually don't have holes provided for drainage and as a rule they're fairly expensive. They can last a long time, though, and they certainly add a special touch to the interior landscape.

Styrofoam pots — this is a relatively new type of pot and although people associate styrofoam with inexpensive ice chests, styrofoam is a good material to make pots out of. It is a good insulator thus the soil should remain cooler, especially if the styrofoam is a light color. They don't dry out as rapidly as clay or wooden containers, but they just don't look as attractive as plastic or clay.

Being lightweight, styrofoam pots will occasionally tip over in a gusty wind if placed outdoors on the patio. This can wreck a beautiful plant you have grown carefully, so be forewarned.

Styrofoam hot cups used for coffee make good temporary planters for transplants if you punch about four holes in the side of the cup at the bottom.

Hanging basket containers — almost every material available for regular pots is also available in some form of hanging container. Wire baskets lined with sphagnum moss are still perhaps the favorite because they're very attractive and natural looking, but a number of plastic and ceramic hanging basket containers are also very attractive.

Murry hosts the Harmony Homemakers Club

The Harmony Extension Homemakers Club met in the community center February 22 with Imelda Murry as hostess.

The president, Imelda Murry, called the meeting to order. She read the devotion, Exodus 39:3. The roll call was answered by a safety measure in the home.

The program, Electrical Safety in the home, was presented by Anna Maude Hopper. Members were reminded of so many dangers in the misuse of electricity, not only in the home, but in every day life.

Recreation was led by Blanche Williams and she was assisted by Ruth Scott.

The hostess served refreshments to these members: Bess Carr, Anna Maude Hopper, Ruth Scott and Blanche Williams.

did you know?

The average SPS customer spends the same percentage of his budget for electricity as he did in 1976. SPS keeps electric service costs lower by engineering and designing its own power plants, cooling towers and certain pollution-control devices. SPS is continuing its research into alternative energy sources to guarantee that our customers will have a reliable supply of electric power.

Jim Martin, district manager, Clovis.

SPS employees pay the same rate for electric service as do the Company's other customers. Although some utility companies in other areas offer special employee rates, SPS employees do not receive a discount on their electric service.

Jim Steinhilper, senior rate analyst, Amarillo.

SPS must build new power plants to take advantage of coal, a more reliable, less expensive fuel. Gas-fired plants cannot be economically converted to other fuel sources, so SPS must construct coal-fired plants to meet the energy needs of its customers. Coal-fired plants are more expensive to construct than gas-fired, but the SPS engineering and design staffs are able to build coal-fired plants at about one-half the national average.

LAMB JUDGING was held Wednesday morning. These participants are trying to pick the ideal animal that would be sold for meat at the packers.

Floyd County judging contest held

The Floyd County judging contest took place Wednesday morning beginning at 8 a.m. This event is one in which the exhibitors what to look for as the ideal animal sold for meat at the packers.

The contest is a learning experience led by County Agents Jett Majors and Benny Butler. It's objective is to teach the youngsters what to look for as the ideal animal sold for meat at the packers.

It also helps them when picking out an animal for their project.

A 4-H judging team is being organized by the Floyd County 4-Hers. Any member interested in participating on the team is encouraged to contact the County Agent's office, 983-2806.

Winners of the County Show judging contest will be presented trophies at the Jr. Livestock Show Banquet, March 8. Individual trophies will be given in each division and one overall trophy.

Results of the contest are:

Bentsen asks Agriculture Dept. to consider economic emergency

Washington, D.C. — Senator Lloyd Bentsen asked Secretary John R. Block if he intends to implement a $600 million Economic Emergency Program to assist hard-pressed farmers in Texas and other states.

Some 35 percent of 16,000 Texas farmers borrowing from the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) are delinquent on their loan payments, Bentsen said in a letter to Block. Of these farmers, some 1,250 are not able to receive refinancing or other assistance from FmHA, which traditionally is the lender of last resort for farmers. These statistics are for December. Bentsen said, noting that figures for January "will be even more depressing."

"If the American farmer ever faced an emergency situation, he does today. Many farmers in Texas are being literally driven to the wall by a combination of high interest rates and low farm prices," Bentsen said.

Calling the situation the worst for farmers since the Great Depression of the 1930s, Bentsen asked Block to consider using his discretionary powers to implement the Economic Emergency (EE) loan program. The EE is designed to assist farmers who, through circumstances beyond their control, have no other means of surviving until the economic situation improves. EE funds would make financing available to farmers who meet FmHA eligibility requirements.

"Many Texas farmers advise me that the FmHA, by turning its back, is forcing them and their neighbors to face the harsh prospect of either foreclosure or voluntary liquidation. These are not marginal operators either, but farms that would be prospering during normal economic times," Bentsen said.

"I would appreciate knowing whether you consider the current farm situation to be a serious emergency and if so what steps your department is taking to help farmers survive," Senator Bentsen said.

18 percent decline in cotton forecasted

A producer survey by the National Cotton Council in early January indicates farmers at that time intended to plant 11.8 million acres of cotton this spring, an 18 percent decline from last season's 14.3 million.

Results of the survey, taken before announcement of a government acreage reduction program for cotton, were revealed in Dallas on February 5 at a meeting of the Council's Producer Steering Committee.

Joseph T. Wyrick, staff agricultural economist, said more than 1,700 responses from producers all across the Cotton Belt were incorporated into the results.

Planting intentions by regions were:

Southeast — 635,000 acres, down 18 percent;

Mid-South — 2,583,000 acres, down 18 percent;

Southwest — 6,340,000 acres, down 22 percent;

West — 2,213,000 acres, down 3 percent.

Wyrick said producers in the Southeast and the Mid-South indicated much of their acreage shifted out of cotton would go into winter wheat and soybeans. Southwest growers planned to step up their wheat and sorghum plantings to compensate for their downward shift in cotton acreage, while

The problem agriculture is facing today started "yesterday"

The problem agriculture is facing today actually began when President Ford decided to put an embargo on grain shipments to the Soviet Union in 1975. The reason he gave was that we had high food prices in the U.S. Later, President Carter decided to use the shipment of food and grains to the Soviet Union as a weapon against their invasion of Afghanistan. Reagan is now using the shipment of these items to Poland as a weapon. So it's small wonder that other countries have decided that if U.S. can use the shipments of those commodities as a club over the head of someone, why can't they do the same thing.

For example, Mainland China has told us if we continue to sell military plans to Taiwan, they will not honor the five year contract they have with us for the purchase of various grains. India has also decided they could use it as a weapon against us by threatening to cut off the purchase of various grains from the United States if we continue to sell weapons to Pakistan. Can we criticize them when we are doing the same thing? Also, can we fault the Russians when they indicate they would rather not have us as their main source of supply?

Another tragic example is Japan. It is the largest single importer of U.S. agricultural products. The volume of purchases from the U.S. exceeds 7 billion dollars, about 15% of the total U.S. agricultural exports. Two-thirds of the dollar volume is grain - primarily corn, soybeans and wheat.

At Chicago in July of last year, a panel discussion was held between the U.S. and Japanese concerning the future of U.S./Japan agricultural trade. Secretary of Agriculture Block as well as Ambassador Yoshio Okawara of Japan were in attendance.

The most interesting point made by the panel members - from Japan - and in particular Mr. Eishi Ueno, Agricultural Attache, was the point about U.S. grain embargo against Russia. The Japanese viewed this quite negatively and openly stated that as a result of this action they, the Japanese, would work to become less dependent on U.S. agricultural commodities. The point was made emphatically and repeatedly that the percent of Japanese purchase of grain from the U.S. will decline. They did not consider us a reliable source of supply because we use grain shipments as a weapon in cold war diplomacy.

Somehow or another the United States Department of State and the Department of Agriculture must get their act together. Surely, they realize what a tragic blow to the farmers of this country their actions and in some cases inaction is causing. And the farmer's plight in this mess is only the tip of the iceberg. Obviously, nothing happens until the farmer grows or raises something, be it wheat, corn, soybeans, rice, cattle or hogs. But that is only the beginning.

I don't think most people realize that agriculture is this country's largest industry. It's assets today total nearly one trillion dollars, that amount is equal to almost 90% of the total assets of all manufacturing corporations in this country.

Also, agriculture is this country's largest employer (outside the government itself). Around 15 million people work in some phase of agriculture - the growing, the storing, transporting, processing, merchandising and marketing of all farm commodities.

Also, I think we're all aware that agriculture makes a tremendous contribution to the U.S. balance of payments. Farm exports last year totaled over 45 billion dollars, giving us a surplus of 26.7 billion in agriculture products. That went a long way toward helping us pay for the imported oil bill.

We are constantly hearing and reading the economists of our country proclaiming that the U.S. has fallen behind Japan, West Germany and other countries in productivity. They have completely overlooked the fact that the productivity gains of the farmers outstrip those of any other type of industry in this country or in any other country. This current generation of U.S. farmer produces over 75% more crops than their fathers did on the same number of acres. An hour of farm labor in 1981 produced 14 times as much food as it did only 60 years ago.

As a result, food in this country is one heck of a good buy. That's something that most people overlook when they are grumbling about high prices. The United States families now spend approximately 14% of their incomes for food. This compares with 34% in the Soviet Union, 23% in Japan, 59% in India, 41% in Brazil, 60% in Mainland China, 41% in Mexico, 20% in France, 19% in England and on and on. The people of United States spend far and away the lowest percentage of their spendable income for food than any country in the world.

Due to better productivity on the farms, an hour of factory wages today buys four times as much chicken as it did 30 years ago, three times as many eggs, 70% more milk, and so on.

I don't think we should forget that farmers are also large consumers. For example, the annual purchases for farm machinery, farm tractors, trucks and other vehicles total 14 billion dollars. For fuel, lubricants, maintenance of vehicle and equipment, the farmer spends over 13 billion dollars a year.

Agriculture uses about six and one-half million tons of steel every year. That is enough to account for 40 thousand jobs in the steel industry. Farmers use a tremendous amount of electricity, 33 billion kilowatt hours in a year. That's more than is used in homes of New England, Maryland, Kentucky and Washington D.C. combined.

Incidentally, farmers also pay an enormous amount of taxes. Last year they paid over 8 billion dollars.

The farmers today are one of the last vestiges of the independent entrepreneurs. As such, they're not very good at banding together and making their need and desires known in the political world. They are better now than they used to be, but it's difficult to get a group of farmers to all agree on the same thing. That's why there's more than one farm organization. The interest of the wheat farmer may not be (and in many cases cannot be) the same as a rice farmer, a peanut farmer, a cotton farmer, or a corn farmer. As a result, it's difficult for them to get together and agree on a course of action.

But in this country today if you have no political clout, you have no clout at all. Thus, the farmer and those who are dependent on what happens to the farmer are at the mercy of the Congressmen who come from the center of the big cities and whose interest seems to be pointed only toward having the lowest possible food prices for their constituents. What they have forgotten is that as the farmer is pushed back, some of the people they represent can also be hurt (such as steel workers and auto workers.)

I think it's time for all of us to let our national and state representatives know that, whether they are willing to admit it or not, the farmer is now and always has been the backbone of our country. Stop using them as a "whipping boy" and stop "playing games" with them in the operation of their business. Instead, help them to do what they do well and that's FARM.

A producer survey by the National Cotton Council in early January indicates farmers at that time intended to plant 11.8 million acres of cotton this spring, an 18 percent decline from last season's 14.3 million.

Results of the survey, taken before announcement of a government acreage reduction program for cotton, were revealed in Dallas on February 5 at a meeting of the Council's Producer Steering Committee.

Joseph T. Wyrick, staff agricultural economist, said more than 1,700 responses from producers all across the Cotton Belt were incorporated into the results.

Planting intentions by regions were:

Southeast — 635,000 acres, down 18 percent;

Mid-South — 2,583,000 acres, down 18 percent;

Southwest — 6,340,000 acres, down 22 percent;

West — 2,213,000 acres, down 3 percent.

Wyrick said producers in the Southeast and the Mid-South indicated much of their acreage shifted out of cotton would go into winter wheat and soybeans. Southwest growers planned to step up their wheat and sorghum plantings to compensate for their downward shift in cotton acreage, while Western growers listed wheat as their primary crop for acreage increases.

He said most of the acres intended to be taken out of cotton apparently are slated to be used for alternative crops since cotton farmers indicated they planned to reduce their plantings of all crops by less than 2 percent.

The economist emphasized that early season intentions are much more subject to revision than those nearer planting time.

"Certainly there will be ample reason for farmers to reconsider early intentions," he said.

Factors cited were: (1) the 7.67 cent target price deficiency payment which the economist said will give producers a better understanding of this income protection feature of the farm bill; (2) the government acreage reduction program for cotton and alternative crops which requires that producers comply to be eligible for CCC loans and deficiency payments; and (3) net return prospects assuming both compliance and non-compliance with the acreage reduction program.

"It's possible that some producers could find it necessary to plant more cotton than originally planned in order to adhere to acreage requirements for other crops while minimizing idled crop lands," the Council economist stated.

Others, he added, may consider the costs of laying out land and complying with conservation requirements to be greater than expected benefits from program compliance.

Wyrick said USDA economists, using computer models to compare production costs and market and target prices of cotton and alternative crops, have estimated cotton producer participation in the acreage reduction program at 75 percent in the Southeast, 65 percent in the Mid-South, 50 percent in the Southwest, and 55 percent in the West.

The USDA model assumes that non-participants would reduce acreage only about 5 percent and this — added to the 15 percent reduction by participants — leads to an estimate of 12.8 million acres planted to cotton in 1982.

The Council's survey, however, suggests this estimate may be somewhat high since non-participating producers appear likely to reduce their cotton plantings by a significantly greater amount than USDA's model assumes.

Noting that USDA's estimate of 12.8 million acres may be on the high side and the Council's survey findings on the low side, he said the "best guess" of planted acreage is about 12.5 million.

"This, we believe, reflects both the bullish and bearish impacts of the government's program while considering the stated intentions of producers who might choose not to participate."

Texas onions known for sweet and mild flavor to hit market soon

Texas onions are starting to move to market in the Rio Grande Valley. That's good news for onion lovers not only in this state but throughout the U.S.

"Texas onions are known for their sweet and mild flavor," says Tom Longbrake, horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "Supplies from South Texas should start to increase in the coming weeks and should continue through June."

Aside from supplying market demands in this state, Texas onions provide about 70 percent of the total of U.S. consumption from March through June.

Harvesting of the Texas crop won't mean lower prices, though. Onion prices will likely remain above normal this spring due to low storage stocks in northern states, notes Longbrake. Northern growers supply the nation with stored onions from October through February except for a few fresh imports from Mexico.

"Onions are an everyday favorite for adding flavor to food at little cost and effort," says Longbrake. "Furthermore, they are low in calories and add vitamin C, the B vitamins and several minerals to the diet."

In addition to using onions for flavoring food, Longbrake suggests trying broiled buttered whole onions or chopped onions added to cornbread or mashed potato cakes.

"And then there's the popular breaded french-fried onion ring," he adds. "Not only are onion rings a popular fast-food restaurant item, but they are also becoming a more popular fare in the home. Of course, sliced or diced onions and hamburgers go hand-in-hand."

What does all of this add up to? Each American consumes about 12 pounds of onions a year on the average.

says the horticulturist. And that's important to the Texas vegetable industry.

"Onions are Texas' top dollar producing vegetable crop," says Longbrake. "The crop was valued at $99 million last year—30 percent of the state's fresh market vegetable value. South Texas onions produced $70 million from 18,000 acres while onions from West Texas and the High Plains generated $29 million from 6,200 acres."

To help growers improve onion production, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station researchers are working to develop superior varieties and to improve harvesting methods, adds the horticulturist. New disease resistant varieties will soon be available, and a mechanical harvesting system has been developed through grants from the South Texas Onion Committee made up of growers and shippers.

Mulder enjoys Amarillo visitors

BY MRS. MURRAY JULIAN
South Plains, March 1:
Visitors present at the South Plains Baptist Church Sunday included most of the Cub Scout Boys of South Plains as they attended in a body for the Sunday School and Church services with their Den Leader, Mrs. Helen Teeple. Nine of the eleven Cub Scouts who attended were Ruben Chavarria, Victor Chavarria, Bryan Henderson, Larry Galvan, Jacob Galvan, Brian Teeple, Tim Julian, Tracy Johnson, Keith Teeple and Scoutmaster, Mrs. Janis Julian. Mrs. Connie Johnson, Mrs. Gayle Henderson and Jerry Chappell, Webelos Leader and visiting from Amarillo Candy Taylor and Sunday night Mr. and Mrs. John Burson were visitors.

Remember next Sunday evening at 6:30 p.m. in the community is invited to the Baptist Church for an evening of music with the Ladies Ensemble and the Mens Gospel Quartet from the First Baptist Church of Plainview. There will be refreshments offered later at the Fellowship Hall at the church.

Mrs. L.N. Johnson (Carlene) was hostess at the Fellowship Hall of the Baptist Church here, Sunday evening, as she served a birthday supper for Mrs. Carlton Johnson, (Diane) Brad Smith, and Mrs. Ruby Higginbotham. After Sunday evening services members of the Johnson family, all the honorees, and church members gathered at the birthday celebration for a delicious supper complete with ice cream and cake following the entrees and main meal dishes. We send congratulations to all of them who had birthdays.

The Rev. and Mrs. Cecil Osborne Jr. went to Tulsa Sunday afternoon to see his mother, Mrs. Cecil Osborne, Sr. who had entered the Swisher County Hospital Tuesday of last week, taking tests. We pray she will soon be feeling better and be able to go home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Taylor and family of Amarillo visited her mother here, Mrs. Letha Mulder, Sunday evening and had supper with her. They took their daughter, Candy home with them, as she had spent the week-end here with her grandmother, and had attended Sunday morning church services here.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan Kinnibrugh and daughter, Mrs. Beth Dickens and Latham and Melissa Horne, all the latter ones of Plainview, went to Vera Sunday to celebrate the birthday of Sylvan's father, J.A. Kinnibrugh, who was 90 years old. All of the children, and nearly all of the great and great-great grandchildren were present for the big day. All carried dishes to have at the banquet, and there were about fifty who attended the birthday celebration of Mr. Kinnibrugh. We offer our best wishes, too, to him.

Kevin Staples is back in school this Monday after being out of school all the past week. He was suffering with a set back of the flu, which has been going around the area.

Mrs. Ruby Higginbotham had as Sunday dinner guests here with her from Floydada, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Higginbotham and children, Lori, Kelly and Bryant all of Floydada.

Blue and Gold Cub Scout Banquet
Cub Scouts of South Plains enjoyed a banquet on Friday evening, February 26, at the Fellowship Hall of South Plains. Honored guests were Jerry Massingill, district executive of South Plains Council of Boy Scouts of America from Lubbock, and Rev. and Mrs. Cecil and Joyce Osborne of South Plains. Eleven Cub Scouts with their parents and brothers and sisters were present with the banquet being served to around thirty. Ham, green beans, tossed salad, fruit salad, hot rolls and other good things were on the menu, and Blue and Gold cup cakes were the dessert. The fathers and sons had made cakes which were auctioned off, and the money is to go for the Pine Wood Derby. Kathy Mulder made the Cub Scout and Webelos centerpiece, which was lovely, and Gayle Henderson made up the beautiful spoon awards for the cakes and these were presented each father and son who made a cake. Mrs. Janis Julian is Cub Scout Master. Mrs. Gayle Henderson is committee chairman. Mrs. Helen Teeple is Cub Scout Den mother. Mrs. Connie Johnson is committee chairman, and Jerry Chappell is Webelos Coordinator. Scouts present were Ruben and Victor Chavarria, Bryan Henderson, Larry and Jacob Galvan, Brian and Keith Teeple, Tim Julian, Cory Mulder, Tracy Johnson and David Perry. All were present with parents, sisters and brothers, and honored guests. Jerry Massingill commended the troop for 100 percent participation.

Johns Cox, brother of Mrs. Alvin Nichols was taken to the Plainview Central Plains Hospital, Saturday, where he was in intensive care until Monday, and we trust he is much better at this time.

Hobby Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Sterling Cummings on Wednesday, March 10, at 2:00 p.m. with a program on how to prepare exotic dishes by Mrs. Kendall Cummings. Bring a craft to show and tell about, and tell about an exotic dish you prepare at home. "Thought for the Day" will be given by Mrs. M.M. Julian.

MILDRED CRUMP

Services for Mildred Lee Crump, 65, were at 10 a.m. Wednesday in the Downtown Church of Christ with Bill Morrison, minister, and the Rev. Bob Metzger, pastor of First United Methodist Church, officiating.

Burial was in Lamesa Memorial Park under the direction of Branon Funeral Home.

Mrs. Crump, a native of Roswell, New Mexico, died at 7:15 a.m. Monday in Highland Hospital in Lubbock. She married Verner W. Crump on November 25, 1939, in Clovis, New Mexico, and came to Dawson County from Crosby County in 1947.

She was a social worker for the State Department of Public Welfare from 1963 to 1966. She was the first welfare worker in the county and established the offices in both Dawson and Lynn Counties.

Mrs. Crump was a member of the Downtown Church of Christ, Lamesa Area Chamber of Commerce and the Dawson County Farm Bureau. She was listed in Who's Who in American Women for 1974 through 1976 and in Personalities of the South. She received the Florence Hall cash award in 1971 from the National Association of Extension Home Economics.

In 1970, she was appointed by the governor as delegate to the White House Conference on Aging. She was a life member of the Parent-Teachers Association.

Survivors include her husband; a son, Richard of Garland; three daughters, Nita Burney and Sandy Mayfield of Lamesa and Pam Farr of Hermleigh; her mother, Mrs. C.R. Smith Sr. of Lubbock; two sisters, Geneva Harris of Floydada and Eunice Nance of Denver, Colorado; four brothers, C.R. Smith Jr. of Ralls, Carl Smith of New Orleans, Dallas Smith of Lubbock and Aubry Smith of Phoenix; and nine grandchildren.

SALLIE CARPENTER

Services for Sallie A. Carpenter, 91, of Floydada were at 3 p.m. Saturday at First Baptist Church of Floydada with the Rev. Floyd C. Bradley, pastor, officiating.

Burial was in Floyd County Memorial Park under direction of Moore-Rose Funeral Home of Floydada.

Mrs. Carpenter died at 12:55 p.m. Thursday in Lockney General Hospital after a brief illness.

She was born in Mason County and moved to Floydada in 1914. She married Claud Carpenter September 19, 1909, in Wolfe City. He died in 1979. She was a Baptist.

Survivors include two sons, Marion of Floydada and Dale of Irving; a daughter, Claudine Conway of Irving; two brothers, Darrell Smith of Tulsa and Russell Smith of Rogers, Arkansas; a sister, Mrs. Frank Hall of Plainview; 10 grandchildren; 14 great-grandchildren; and four great-great-grandchildren.

CHARLIE JARRETT

Services for Charlie L. Jarrett, 89, of Floydada were at 2 p.m. yesterday at New Salem Primitive Baptist Church with elder Joe Jackson officiating, assisted by elder Don Martin and elder Bill Heit, all of New Salem Primitive Baptist Church.

Burial was in Floyd County Memorial Park under direction of Moore-Rose Funeral Home of Floydada.

Jarrett died Monday in Lockney General Hospital after an illness.

He was a native of Sherivan, Indiana, and married Grace Pearson December 29, 1912, in Lockney. She died in 1962. He married Viola Fox August 7, 1963. He was a farmer and a retired minister.

Survivors include his wife; four sons, Lowell of Clarendon, Carl of Floydada, Bob of Lockney and Edward of Lubbock; three daughters, Joyce Hollums of Anderson, Missouri, Floyce Parkey of Littlefield and Lonnie of Alamogordo, New Mexico; two stepsons, Alvin Fox of Tulsa and Marvin Fox of Silver City; a stepdaughter, Sue Fortenberry of Silver City; 19 grandchildren; 29 great-grandchildren; and four great-great-grandchildren.

T.J. MILD SR.

Services for Timothy J. Mild Sr., 35, of Grand Junction and formerly of Raton were at 10 a.m. Tuesday in Resthaven Funeral Home of Lubbock with the Rev. Bobby Zacharias, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, officiating.

Burial was in Resthaven Memorial Park under direction of Resthaven Funeral Home.

Mild was pronounced dead at the scene of a car-pedestrian accident which occurred at 9:45 p.m. MST Friday, about two miles west of Grand Junction. According to the Colorado State Police, Mild was running across the Interstate 70 bypass when he was struck by a westbound automobile.

Mild was born in Columbus, Ohio, and had lived in Slaton for 10 years. He was a diesel mechanic and had served in the U.S. Navy.

He was a Lutheran.

Survivors include two sons, Timothy Jr. and Johnathan, both of Grand Junction; his parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Andrew E. Mild of Lockney; his grandmother, Marie of Plainview; three brothers, Andrew of Lubbock, Philip of Dodge City, Kansas, and Steven of San Angelo; a sister, Lois Hungerford of Energy; six nephews; and two nieces.

Pallbearers were Cecil Stolle, Jackie Ford, Larry Lilley, Sandy Bloxom, Bennie Moeller and Richard Becker.

The family suggests memorials to Lutheran Social Services of Texas or to the American Bible Society.

OLLIE B. MIRACLE

Services for Ollie B. (Blasingame) Miracle, 87, were at 11:00 a.m. yesterday at the First United Methodist Church with the Rev. James Smith, officiating. Burial will be today at Port Arthur, Texas, with Carter-Adams Funeral Home in Ralls in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Miracle died at 3:30 a.m. Tuesday at Caprock Hospital, following a brief illness.

Born November 16, 1894 in Corin, Mississippi, she married Elmer Miracle November 16, 1912 in Eddy, Texas. They moved to Port Arthur shortly after. He died in October 1968.

She was a member of the Methodist Church in Floydada. She moved to Floydada in April 1975 and had been in the rest home in Floydada a little over a year.

Surviving are one sister, Mrs. Ethel Sawyer, Floydada; and numerous nieces and nephews.

MRS. MYRTLE ROBERTS

Funeral services for Mrs. Myrtle Roberts were at 10:30 a.m. Saturday, February 27, at the Tims Funeral Home at Altus, Oklahoma, with the Rev. Bill Moss officiating. Burial was in the Altus Cemetery.

Mrs. Roberts, 75, died at 3:45 p.m. Tuesday, February 23, at a nursing home in Erie, Kansas. She had been in failing health the past year, but death was unexpected.

Mrs. Roberts was born May 21, 1906, at Floydada, the daughter of Robert Lee Henry and Maud (Taffender) Henry. She spent her childhood years here and then graduated from high school at Monroe, Louisiana and from the Pamona, California junior college. She taught school for two years.

She was married to Isaac D. (Bob) Roberts on May 28, 1929 at Silvertown.

REMEMBER your loved ones with a living memorial to the Caprock Hospital Auxiliary Memorial Fund. Mrs. Ben Whitaker, Treasurer.

Texas. He died on September 29, 1975.

Early in their married life, they lived at Floydada, and at Altus, Oklahoma. From 1939 to 1975 they lived at Marlow, Oklahoma; Altus; and at Siloam Springs, Arkansas. They operated grocery businesses in Marlow and in Altus, and Mrs. Roberts assisted in the business.

She was a member of the First United Methodist Church at Floydada.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Richard (Dr. Kathleen R.) Rice, Parsons, Kansas, and Mrs. Gale (Martha) Sadler, Lawton, Oklahoma; one brother, George L. Henry, Floydada; one step-sister, Mrs. A.M. (Veda) Dorsey, Floydada; six grandchildren; and three great-grandchildren.

One brother preceded her in death.

MAGGIE VINSON

Graveside rites for Maggie Lou Vinson, 88, of Weslaco, a former resident of Floydada, were at 3 p.m. Tuesday in Floyd County Memorial Park with the Rev. David Seav, assistant pastor of First Baptist Church, officiating.

Burial was under the direction of Moore-Rose Funeral Home.

Mrs. Vinson, a native of Alabama, died at 6:15 p.m. Saturday in Weslaco after a lengthy illness. She married Oliver C. Vinson on December 4, 1909, in Comanche County and came to Floyd County in 1935 from Hartlingen. He died in 1967. She was a Baptist.

Survivors include a son, Jerrold of Floydada; four daughters, LaNelle McLeod, LaVerne Anderson and Evelyn Anderson of Hartlingen and Doris Huckabee of Stephenville; a brother, Joe Williams of Kentucky; 12 grandchildren; 15 great-grandchildren; and one great-great-grandchild.

Local man named co-manager of 84 Lumber

Chris Sue, son of Huford and Carolyn of Lockney has been named Co-Manager of the 84 Lumber Company's store in San Angelo.

Chris is a 1978 graduate of Lockney High School and has completed one year at Texas Tech. He started with 84 in August of 1981 at the Plainview store, where he most recently has been a sales associate.

Chris and his wife Anne are now residing in the San Angelo area.

The 84 Lumber presently has 350 stores coast to coast and plans call for an additional 50 stores to be opened in 1982.

Lockney Care Center Capers

BY VICKIE HUTTON

This has been a full week! Monday, Alma McDonald, Myrtle Payne, Richard Lanham, Sam Lide, Mable Griffin, Euna Bradshaw, Mary Jo Fielding, Donnie Hester Myrtle Gibson, Estella Castro, and myself loaded ourselves in the van with a picnic lunch and headed for Mackenzie State Park in Lubbock. We had a wonderful time. The weather was beautiful and we all enjoyed feeding the ducks and geese. I don't know what it is but the food always tastes better on picnics. We are looking forward to more picnics.

Our lucky bingo winners this week were Myrtle Payne and Myrtle Burke. We send a special thanks to Linda Cumbie for calling bingo Tuesday and we send our congratulations to Phillip Glasson, son of Paul and DeLinda Glasson, for having a champion in the stock show.

Our movie of the week was "Monsters, Mysteries and Myths." This film dealt with unexplained mysteries and monsters such as Big Foot, the Abominable snowman and the Lochness monster. Thanks to the Lockney Library for supplying us with our films.

We started a new activity this week, Bible Study. It will be taught by Jerry Klein, minister of the Main Street Church of Christ. We thank Brother Klein for taking time out of his busy schedule to teach our class.

We lost a very special member of our family this week, Sally Carpenter. Sally was a lovely person and was loved by all. During the time she was with us she was president of our Resident Council, 1st runner up for Valentine Queen and was very active in all the activities of the home. She will be truly missed. Our sympathy to her family.

Friday was a very fun day! It was "Kid Day." All the Residents and the staff dressed up as kids. We all had a ball and don't you know we were the best looking bunch of kids in town!

Until next time, remember God loves you!

MONDAYS SUNNY WEATHER was enjoyed by some of the residents from the Lockney Care Center who took a picnic lunch to Mackenzie State Park. Those attending were Alma McDonald, Myrtle Payne, Richard Lanham, Sam Lide, Mable Griffin, Euna Bradshaw, Mary Jo Fielding, Donnie Hester, Myrtle Gibson, Estella Castro and Vickie Hutton.

BY MRS. J.E. GREEN

March 1, 1982:

The snow was beautiful, the sunny week-end was too. And not so cold.

Mrs. Hartline has been visiting relatives out of town.

The Gordon Mayfield's guests are their son, Gene, wife Mary and daughter Paulette of Henrietta. One errand for them in this area was the trip to Lubbock where they enrolled their daughter for the fall semester of Texas Tech.

Mrs. Clarence Ashton, a resident of the Lockney Rest Home spent the last week in the Lockney Hospital. We hope she will soon be feeling better.

Mr. and Mrs. Millard Watson visited briefly this Monday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brewer.

Mrs. Hal Thomas is home again after spending several days in the local hospital. The Thomas children, Sue and Milton Mensch and son David of Lubbock spent over the weekend with her parents the Thomases.

Mrs. Ethel Warren dined Sunday with Mrs. Leona Warren.

The three small daughters of Elaine and Paul Stout of Muleshoe spent over the weekend with their grandparents the Thomas Warrens while their parents took a week-end vacation with friends in Ruidoso.

Sunday at some part of the day all the Thomas family were present except Paul Stout. Elaine came for her children Sunday evening and they returned to Muleshoe Monday.

Saturday, February 20, Zelda and Julian Edmondson of Borger and Mr. and Mrs. (Vida) Verlin Martin of Amarillo were guests of Mrs. Fred Battey when all attended the Watson-Barker wedding.

Guests of Mrs. Ava Jackson over the weekend were her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Neal Wright of Sweetwater. They and many more attended last rites for Mrs. Sally Carpenter Saturday P.M. We had to say goodbye to Mrs. Carpenter, who was in early days of the Center church, the beloved S.S. teacher of Intermediate - till the Carpenters moved to Oklahoma. And we just received news that Mrs. O.C. Vinson, formerly of the Silverton Highway but later of Harlingen, has passed on. Last rites here Tuesday. Our sympathy is with all.

Late Sunday my daughter, Margaret Ryman and mother in law who flew to Lubbock Friday drove over for me and I spent till Monday morning with them in a granddaughter's home, the Doug Chandlers.

We attended Calvary Baptist Church there, and saw the Perry Threadgills. They looked as young and happy as ever. I had not seen them in years. He was our pastor at Calvary here about 14 years ago.

TRAINING YOUNG FRUIT TREES

Probably the most difficult thing for the gardener to grasp when dealing with young fruit trees is that half of the top growth should be removed before planting. Many nurseries provide this service to customers.

Why must a tree be topped? When a tree is dug at the nursery, about half of its root system is lost. So, an equal amount of top growth must be removed to bring top and bottom into balance again (the root-shoot ratio) and to begin the main branches in the right places. If this balance is not maintained, the tree will grow feebly, if at all, and branches may die back anyway.

Pruning does not mean "whack off the top half." Initial pruning removes branches that total about half of the top growth starting with weak and poorly placed ones. This should produce a tree with three to five strong, well-distributed scaffold branches from which new growth will come soon. If you choose good branches now, you can avoid broken branches and poorly shaped trees later.

After planting and pruning the nursery tree, water it thoroughly. Remember that the newly established tree is operating on a limited root zone and cannot "reach" for additional soil moisture during times of stress. To retain moisture and control competing weeds, spread mulches 2 or 3 inches deep around the trunk. This early care keeps new roots actively growing and insures a vigorous, well-established tree with a potential for earlier quality and quantity production.

Once the newly planted tree has established a substantial root system, use a systematic cultural program which involves watering, pruning, thinning fruit, and controlling insects and diseases. Since these cultural requirements vary for different fruits, contact the county Extension office for specific recommendations.

With proper selection and care, a fruit tree or grape vine can be a real asset to the home gardener. By the same token, the poorly adapted, improperly cared for fruit tree will be a lasting liability.

Browns attend museum meeting

BY JOYCE WILLIAMS

Congratulations to Jodie Smith for her lamb that won the grand championship at the County livestock show last month.

Mrs. O.K. Custer was in Lubbock Tuesday with Mrs. Hazel Bradley.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Brown attended the museum meeting at Amarillo in the convention center of the Villa Inn, from Wednesday to Saturday. The Texas Association of Museums conducted workshops for museum personnel and directors. Pat Brown, educational director of the Crosbyton Museum, attended those workshops specializing in how the local museum may be utilized through the public schools.

Boone Pickens, of Mesa Petroleum, spoke on how to approach foundations and individuals for large donations. The audience was given a report of Texas Sesquicentennial plans. Governor Clements wants to build a sesquicentennial museum, and several million dollars have already been spent studying the matter. However, museums over the state would prefer funds to have gone to existing museums, with perhaps a traveling display of material showing what Texas has been up to the last 150 years since the Battle of the Alamo.

Mrs. Roy Fawver was visited Thursday by Mr. and Mrs. O.H. Preston of Lamesa. Her granddaughter, Gail Ferguson, of Woodrow, came by for a visit Monday afternoon. Flora and other ladies of the Baptist church have prepared meals for families of thirty-one funerals conducted by Brother Bradley since January 1. Until your own family has gone through a funeral, you really can't truly appreciate the support and love shown by neighbors and church friends during such a time.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dunn have both had the flu the past few weeks. Their daughters, Norma and Snowdrop, called from Los Angeles and Springfield, Missouri to cheer their parents.

Norman Muncy returned home Tuesday, heart and blood pressure checked out fine, and is now on a low cholesterol diet. He's back working his usual rounds.

Mrs. O.D. Williams went to Roaring Springs Sunday afternoon to look at her farm, and stopped by the Roaring Springs Ranch to explore the old houses recently moved there for remodeling. The house at the golf course is a large two-story, turn-of-the-century structure, with lots of interesting nooks and crannies. It has been re-wired, the stairway changed, and interior walls removed, and large supporting pillars added. Paneling resembling old fashioned beaded paneling has been used throughout. Sky lights bring the sunshine to the upstairs rooms.

Mrs. Choise Smith returned home from Dallas Saturday night, where she attended a workshop for teachers of the Gifted and Talented students. While Kay Dean was out of town, Choise and the children went to Lubbock to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Flukie Smith, and found them recovering from the flu. Tal Jackson, Scarlet's son, was also visiting his grandparents; weekending from his studies at Clarendon College. Tal came back to Lakeview with his cousins.

Rex and Andy Brown helped Mrs. Viola Brown hold down the farm last week during the snowstorm Thursday, while Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Brown were in Amarillo.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bishop included Mr. and Mrs. Mike Bishop, and Mike's friend, John Page. John is studying entomology at Texas Tech University, and worked last summer with Mike.

Mr. and Mrs. W.M. Hambright visited the Bob Hambright's Saturday afternoon. We are all happy to hear Bob will re-open the Texas Employment Office in Floydada. With planting time here, farmers and other employers appreciate having a centrally located place to reach field workers. Janie Santos, also of our community is employed as secretary in the office.

Mrs. Georgia Mae Erickson attended the trustees meeting of the Texas Association of Museums at Amarillo last week. She is a member of the board for both the Crosbyton Museum and the Ranching Heritage Center at Lubbock. Georgia Mae recently presented a Buick Stationwagon to the Crosbyton Museum for use of the personnel and to transport the educational programs to the schools.

O.D. Williams and Bill Norris helped Tom Taylor round up cattle Monday. They were shipped to New Mexico pastures. Spring Break is on the school calendar for March 12-22.

Floyd County farms have been joking about how they may start eating jack rabbit, considering farm economics. The Texas Farmer-Stockman Magazine says three does and a buck can supply the yearly protein needs of a family of four. They can be raised and tended in a backyard cage. Each domestic doe should produce four or five litters a year, averaging eight bunnies a litter, resulting in more than one hundred marketable animals each year. Floydada rabbit herdsman experts are Mr. Earl Bishop and Mrs. Norman Muncy. If Norman's cattle herds had multiplied like Edith's rabbits, he would be a cattle baron today. She finally had to hold a garage sale and put an end to it all.

Hutselles head for Philadelphia

BY GRACE LEMONS

The air is damp after a beautiful spring day Monday.

Sunday morning was a special day at the Assembly of God Church. Edna Gilly put on a program for Womens Ministry. The attendance was good.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hutselle and daughter Jan of Silverton left Sunday morning for Philadelphia, Pennsylvania where Ed will undergo surgery of the head. Our prayers are with them and the R.C. Guest family that everything will go as expected and Ed will have a speedy recovery.

Greer Lackey returned to his home in Burleson last week after spending some time with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W.E. Lackey.

Virginia and Sandra Mitchell were among those who went to Lubbock Saturday and participated in the University Interscholastic League where Sandra received a I in piano and a III in trumpet. Virginia received a II in her piano solo.

Edna Gilly, Claude Gene and Darla Hammitt of Holly, Colorado and Gertrude Hammitt of Plainview enjoyed eating out in Plainview Thursday.

Craig and Trudy Gilly and Amy had dinner Sunday in the home of Edna Gilly. Jannette Lackey of Floydada visited with her in the afternoon.

Edna Gilly visited her mother Ruthie Clark in Plainview Friday and Monday Gertrude Hammitt visited with Edna.

Lori Gilly's grandmother, Mrs. Vinson of Weslaco was laid to rest in the Floydada Cemetery Monday afternoon. Graveside services were at the cemetery. Mrs. Vinson had been in a rest home in Weslaco. Our sympathy is with the family.

Linda Lemons and Vance accompanied Grace Lemons to Amarillo Monday to see Grace's sister Mrs. S.A. Decker and husband Shields. Shields is recovering from recent gall bladder surgery. However x-rays show more stones in the liver and removal of them are scheduled at a later date. Mrs. Decker is improving after receiving treatment at the Rehab Hospital in Abilene. She fell and broke her leg and had complications recently.

Mr. and Mrs. A.S. Mize visited Sid Brown Sunday afternoon and report that he is much improved.

Several from Cedar Hill attended the funeral services for Woodrow Wilson, 67, at 2:00 p.m. Wednesday at the First United Methodist Church in Floydada Wednesday with the Rev. Jim Smith officiating. Woodrow died Monday at the Caprock Hospital from a lengthy illness.

Gladys Fortenberry and daughter Patsy Boone took Pam Hayhurst to her home in Henryetta, Oklahoma Friday. Pam had been visiting the Boones for several days.

Preparation, opportunity, and success are closely related.

Wayland University to begin graduate study

Wayland Baptist University president Dr. David L. Jester announced that the university has received full approval to begin its own program of graduate study beginning next fall.

Approval came earlier this week from the Christian Education Coordinating Board of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, Jester explained. The Coordinating Board oversees the entire operations of the nine educational institutions in Texas supported by the BGCT.

"This is one of the most important advancements in Wayland's history and falls in line with our new university structure," said Dr. Dan McLallen, academic vice president. "It is particularly significant in our efforts to become a total university."

As a result of the approval Wayland will phase out its cooperative graduate study program with Houston Baptist University, which has been in operation locally for the past year. However, all coursework completed in that program may be transferred into the Wayland program for students wishing to do so.

Through the graduate program Wayland will offer the master of arts in Christian ministries, master of education, and master of science in management degrees. Each is a 36-hour non-thesis program with emphasis on practical application and requires an internship.

A special graduate study committee consisting of Wayland administrators and faculty members from all three colleges began an intensive study in early November to address itself to some questions posed to the university earlier last fall.

We appeared before a committee of the Coordinating Board, they outlined some questions for us to answer, and our committee went to work," said Dr. Bill Hardage, assistant academic vice president.

Dr. Sylvia Nadler, chairman of the Division of Health, Physical Education and Recreation, headed the study committee of 11, which then appointed three curriculum sub-committees. "The sub-committees brought their recommendations back to the full committee, which refined it and presented it for approval by the Coordinating Board," Nadler said.

The Board reviewed the committee results and accepted the recommendation that they be approved, Hardage added. A full self-study by the university, for use in receiving accreditation by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, is now forthcoming.

"The task before us now is to prepare for instituting the program by next September," Hardage said. "That means hiring a director as well as an additional four to five faculty members, implementing the curriculum, and designing mechanisms for application and admission, record-keeping, and evaluation."

The program will be made available at Wayland's extension centers in Lubbock, Amarillo and Wichita Falls as demand for it arises in those areas. In addition, all financial aid programs available to undergraduates will also be available to graduate students, McLallen noted.

Applications for admission and a schedule of classes will be available in the near future, and all prospective students should contact Hardage at (806) 296-5521 for more information.

GI insurance payments may be withheld

The easiest way to make payments on GI life insurance is to have the premium deducted from the holder's Veterans Administration compensation or pension check.

But, such deductions can't be made for private insurance or insurance from other government agencies.

In order to have premiums deducted from a VA compensation or pension check, the veteran must fill in the proper request form available from any VA regional office. The form also may be requested by telephoning the Waco VA Regional Office toll free using the telephone number in your directory.

PUBLIC NOTICE EQUAL OPPORTUNITY IN HOUSING CITY OF LOCKNEY

The City of Lockney reminds all citizens that it has adopted and is currently enforcing a local fair housing ordinance which has the following provisions:

- (1) Prohibits discrimination in the sale or rental of housing.
- (2) Prohibits discrimination in the financing of housing.
- (3) Prohibits discrimination in the provision of brokerage services.
- (4) Provides for specific exemptions and exclusion to the ordinance.
- (5) Provides for designation of a City Fair Housing Administrator.
- (6) Sets out complaint handling and investigation procedures and defines financial penalties for non-compliance.
- (7) Provides for free administrative counsel by the City to persons who wish to file law suits.
- (8) Prohibits unlawful intimidation of complainants under the ordinance.
- (9) Provides for cooperation with the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development.
- (10) Authorizes the City to conduct educational and public information programs concerning the ordinance.

The City is seeking feedback from citizens about housing opportunities in our community. Have you experienced or do you know anyone who has experienced discrimination with regard to housing? What special housing problems do members of minority groups, women, the handicapped, others, have in our City? What should our City's priorities be in regard to housing programs?

If you can provide information about our City's housing needs, please call, write or come by the Lockney City Hall, 219 E. Locust Street; Lockney, Texas 79241; (806) 652-2355. Copies of the City's fair housing ordinance and complaint handling procedures are available for examination, and copying, upon request, at the Lockney City Hall.

Card of Thanks

Words cannot adequately express our appreciation for all the expressions of love and concern during the illness and death of our loved one.

The Family of Johnny Ray Adams
Pat, Johnny Wayne, Tammy
Cindy and Tracy
Virgil Adams
Ruby Adams
Gordon Adams & family
Mr. and Mrs. Red Archer & family

The family of Sallie Carpenter wish to express gratitude for the loving support of our neighbors and friends during her illness and our bereavement.

Your prayers, cards, phone calls and never-ending supply of food kept us all going.

Our thanks to our friends at the Lockney General Hospital and the Lockney Care Center for their round-the-clock caring and concern, and special appreciation to Dr. Mangold and Dr. Gary.

Marion, Dale, and Claudine and families

I would like to express my thanks to each of you for your interest, care and concern while I was in Caprock Hospital and St. Mary's, and since my return home. Your prayers, visits, cards, flowers, phone calls and food were surely appreciated.

Homer L. Farmer

Thank you so much for your thoughts and prayers during my stay in the Wichita Falls hospital. The cards, letters and flowers brightened each day. I am now at home and will be a shut in for awhile, but hope to be back going strong again before too very long.

Thanks again,
Rexie Gordon

The family of T.C. Hollums would like to express our appreciation for the prayers, flowers, food, cards, memorials and all other kindness shown to our family during our time of sorrow. God bless each and everyone of you.

Mrs. T.C. Hollums
and family

The sons and daughters of Maggie Vinson wish to thank all the friends and neighbors for their expressions of sympathy after our loss. All the kindnesses to us and our families are greatly appreciated.

Jerrold & Belle Vinson
Mark & Lori Gilly
Mr. & Mrs. Leo McLeod
Mr. & Mrs. LaVerne Anderson
Mr. & Mrs. F.J. Huckabee
Mrs. Evelyn Edmondson

Stock Show Cards of Thanks

I would like to thank Marble Brothers and the Floydada Businessmen for buying my pigs, also everyone who supported the Floydada FFA Chapter and helped with the show and sale.

Thank you,
Tim Burns

I would like to thank Producers Cooperative Elevator and the businessmen of Floydada for buying my lambs. I would also like to thank everyone who helped with the shows to make them a success.

Paige Cannon

Dear Floydada Businessmen and Farmers:

Thank you so much for buying my pig. Thank you too for your interest in our 4-H projects.

Sincerely,
Kristy Dawdy

To the Floyd County Businessmen and Farmers:

Thank you very much for buying my steer. I really appreciate your support for our stock show.

Mitch Ross

To the Floydada Businessmen and Farmers:

We would like to thank you for buying our 4-H and FFA pigs at the Floyd County Livestock Sale.

Shannon Smith

NOW IS THE TIME TO SAVE $500<sup>00</sup> ON THE NEW OLDS CUTLASS CIERA DO IT TODAY DON'T DELAY Save $500<sup>00</sup>

THERE'S A LOT OF NEWS IN OLDS TODAY

INTRODUCING CUTLASS CIERA!

Here's a car the likes of which you've never seen before. It's called Ciera and it's a Cutlass. A whole new kind of Cutlass up with the latest in automotive technology. Cutlass Ciera...the first Cutlass with front-wheel drive. A 2.5-liter

4-cylinder with electronic fuel injection is standard. A 3.0-liter V6 with an on-board computer that helps fine-tune your engine as you drive is available. Also available, the brand-new 4.3-liter diesel V6. And look what else comes standard on Cutlass Ciera: power steering and brakes, automatic transmission, side window defoggers, full-wheel covers and...a lot of style. Cutlass Ciera. Even today, there's still room to do it with style.

Campaign to head off cuts in students aid

An intensive campaign is being launched in hopes of heading off proposed massive cuts in federal support for higher education.

Students—and their parents—are being asked by supporters of higher education to help meet the critical challenge of a federal budget which the American Council on Education says "would clearly be a disaster for American higher education."

President Reagan, in his budget message early in February, called for cuts which will take another $950 million out of student aid and reduce most other programs by 25 percent.

According to the administration's proposed FY 83 budget, the cuts include a 40 percent reduction in Pell Grants; a 30 percent cut in College Work-Study; total elimination of Supplemental Grants, National Direct Loans, State Student Incentive Grants and graduate fellowships, and further restrictions in the Guaranteed Student Loan Program as follows:

A proposal to drop graduate and professional students from the guaranteed loan program.

Require all students to demonstrate financial need before they qualify for a loan. Under existing law, all students from families earning less than $30,000 year are automatically eligible for loans, while more affluent students may borrow only if they pass a financial need test.

Boost from 5 to 10 percent the fee that students pay to banks when they take out guaranteed loans.

Require students to repay their loans at market rates - rather than at 9 percent interest - two years after they leave college.

Require the state agencies that administer the program and guarantee the loans to turn back to the government half the money they collect from students in the fees known as "insurance Premiums." To finance their operating expenses, those agencies are authorized to charge students up to 1 percent of the amount borrowed.

The administration wants the changes to take effect by April 1 - in time to affect loans made for next fall.

These proposed reductions will adversely impact on the number of students receiving aid and may prevent many students from returning to college because of financial problems.

The immediate effects of the proposals, say education leaders, will be that: —Equal access to education may be a thing of the past.

—Students may be forced to drop out of school.

—Prospective students may find that college is no longer an attainable goal.

—Institutions will be faced with declining enrollments and retention problems. A February 15, 1982 article in the Houston Post stated: "Mack Adams, assistant commissioner for student services at the Coordinating Board, analyzed the Reagan proposals and found Texas' $293 million in aid would be reduced by $122 million and would thereby eliminate almost 90,000 students who otherwise would qualify for grants or loans. Adams says all those factors paint a dismal picture: "I think many students who otherwise would have been in school will not be. Many others who will stay in school are going to have to pull in the belt very tight because there just won't be enough money."

It will mean a loss of enrollment on most campuses and, within all probability, some of the smaller institutions that have primarily catered to low-income students will probably face closing."

At both the national and state level, students and their parents, faculty members, administrators and college and university trustees are being asked to bring their collective powers of persuasion and enlightenment on their congressmen and senators. The communications efforts will include letter, phone calls, position papers and personal visits to elected officials in Washington urging no further cuts in the federal financial aid programs.

Individual students especially are urged to write to their elected federal officials, stressing the importance of aid to them in completing their education and asking for the support of their senators and congressmen.

The Texas Guaranteed Student Loan Corporation, which administrators guaranteed student loans in the state of Texas, continues to administer the program under the current law and will keep lenders, schools and students advised of any legislative changes. Since January, 1981 TGSIC has guaranteed $141,000,000 in loans to 55,000 students.

1982 Floyd County Jr. Livestock Show & Sale Souvenir Edition

Junior livestock shows- are they worth it?

4-H Meat Animal News Notes University of Wisconsin, January 1981

Before we discuss the merits of a junior livestock show, maybe we better define it. First of all, it's not a junior livestock show, it's a youngster show where livestock are used as props or visual aids. About 90% of the people who come to a livestock show come to see their youngster or someone else's youngster show themselves, and they have to have an animal in order to get into the ring.

Junior livestock projects should never be sold as a money-making project. It is a teaching project, and should be sold as such. What does it teach?

1. It teaches youngsters to get along with people. Showing animals, winning, getting beat, and so forth, helps youngsters to get along with others.

2. Livestock feeding teaches responsibility. It is the feeder's responsibility to hear the alarm clock and obey it. If they learn nothing more than that, feeding is worthwhile.

3. Junior projects teach youngsters to attend to details. In feeding, and especially through life, it is often the little things that count. The person who goes the extra mile gets the job done.

4. Decisionmaking is the most painful task that a teenager has. The good animals shown this year didn't just happen to be here. Somebody planned it that way.

5. Feeding teaches youngsters to plan. Without a good planning job, we are sunk.

6. Somewhere along the line, we hope our young feeders will learn a little about livestock production.

We don't expect every youngster who feeds a calf, lamb, or hog to become a beef cattleman, sheepman or hogman; neither do we expect all little league baseball players to play for the major leagues.

Feeding is a family project. I don't mean the whole family does the work. I mean the whole family must enjoy it. Half the value of the project is lost if the parents don't attend the show.

I think sometimes we are prone to look at investments through the wrong end of a telescope. For example, we don't buy a car, we buy transportation; we don't buy a TV set, we buy entertainment; we don't miss a day at school, we lose a day of education. By the same token, we don't invest toward a premium list or buy some youngster's calf or pig in a premium sale. Rather than that, we invest in the future of some boy or girl who in turn will help to keep America the greatest country on earth.

Soil compaction can reduce crop production

Soil compaction can act as an unseen enemy to farmers and reduce crop production. Commonly called a "hardpan," compacted soil can literally "choke off" plant roots so that they're unable to get water or nutrients.

"Probably the most evident plant symptom of compacted soil is a shallow root system," says Dr. Ed Colburn, agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "Plant roots may be unable to penetrate a severely compacted soil and may grow horizontally, resulting in what some farmers call 'crow foot' in such crops as cotton that have a tap root."

Along with stunting plant roots, soil compaction may affect seed germination, seedling emergence and other phases of crop growth and production, says Colburn.

Poor stands, poor plant growth, discolored plant leaves and premature wilting may signal problems due to compacted soil, notes the agronomist. However, many of these same symptoms can also be due to dry weather, nutrient deficiencies and other factors.

"Excessive soil compaction also reduces water penetration and increases run-off and soil erosion," adds Colburn. "Water standing in a field may signal a soil compaction problem since water infiltration is slow in a hardpan area."

"The best way to identify a hardpan is to dig a hole at least three feet deep and look for crop roots in the subsoil," explains Colburn. "If roots have penetrated the subsoil, then the next crop should also be able to move to that depth."

A farmer can also use a sharp rod or soil probe to check for hardpans, says the agronomist. You should be able to push the rod into the soil at a fairly constant rate until compacted soil is reached. The average person will have trouble pushing the rod through a hardpan.

What causes soil compaction? "Some soils are naturally compact, especially subsoil material," explains Colburn. "Excessive tillage, which reduces the size of soil granules, and tillage or other field operations when soil is wet are two major causes of soil compaction."

In fact, any machinery operation results in soil compaction, notes the agronomist, whether it's planting, cultivating, fertilizing or harvesting.

"Farmers should limit the use of heavy equipment and the number of tillage operations to those required to keep soil productive," recommends Colburn. "Avoid tillage if it does not improve soil physical conditions, promote water infiltration and aeration, help weed control, incorporate crop residues into the soil, prepare a seedbed, or help control wind and water erosion."

Steps needed to sell cotton crop discussed at NCC meetings

Steps needed to sell the largest cotton crop in 28 years, thus improving depressed cotton prices, were described by National Cotton Council staff members at High Plains area meetings this week.

Ed Breihan, Lubbock, Council president, chaired the meeting in Lubbock February 24, while Lloyd Cline, Council vice president and Lamesa grower, presided at the meeting in his home town later the same day.

Outlining ways to improve the depressed cotton economy, Macon T. Edwards, Council vice president/Washington operations, said the industry must lend its voice and insistence to efforts to get the nation's "economic house in order."

"Cotton and agriculture simply cannot prosper when the economy is in its current state," he said.

Edwards also stressed the need to "sell our way out of this situation bale-by-bale, garment-by-garment."

He said cotton industry leaders and the Council staff are working in Washington to provide direct credits to foreign customers to allow them to buy U.S. cotton.

"The best way to do this is through funding of the revolving credit fund created by the new farm law," Edwards stated.

Speaking of the 1981 farm act, Edwards said its target price provisions have provided short-term assistance to the depressed cotton economy.

Dr. Dean Ethridge, director of the Council's economic services, told the group the outlook is for world cotton supply and demand to shift into a better balance in the coming season, and restore some degree of prosperity to the industry.

Looking ahead to the 1982-83 season, the economist indicated world cotton production will be in the vicinity of 65.5 million bales or about 7 percent below this year. Lower acreage is anticipated in view of current prices, and yields are not expected to equal this season's record levels.

World cotton consumption is expected to post another gain of 1 million to 1.5 million bales or perhaps more if the global economy improves significantly.

"Most of the increase will occur in the net importing countries and, since the U.S. is again expected to have sufficient supplies, exports of 8 million bales or more are generally expected for 1982-83," Ethridge stated.

Domestic demand for cotton could be stimulated by lower interest rates which would remove some of the disincentive for inventory ownership and lead to some rebuilding of stocks, he pointed out. While stocks have been reduced to bare-bones levels all the way from mills' raw fiber warehouses to retailers' shelves, he said the practice of hand-to-mouth purchasing will probably continue until buyers are convinced that the upside price risk exceeds the carrying cost.

The economist sees prospects for a U.S. offtake of 14 million bales which would reduce domestic stocks to 4 million by August, 1983.

Pete Brown, field services director, described activities of Cotton Council International, the Council's overseas arm, and outlined efforts to build export markets for U.S. cotton.

He said overseas activities include: (1) industry contacts to bring international buyers and U.S. exporters together; (2) an information service to develop and distribute market data; and (3) an advertising and promotion program to expand industry awareness of U.S. cotton, increase retail sales of products made primarily from U.S. cotton, and improve cotton's image among consumers.

Brown also stressed Council efforts to expand export credit, especially the U.S. Department of Agriculture's credit guarantee program.

"It's a most valuable tool in maintaining and expanding foreign markets for U.S. cotton," he said, "because it locks your cotton into the markets that make use of the program."

Brown said the $335 million in guarantees for cotton exports last year was a record high and that $300 million has already been announced for this year.

"This is good, but the bottom line remains that there's still a lot of cotton that needs to be exported and we will continue to look for every possible opportunity to utilize more credit guarantees to help increase exports above current commitments of 5.3 million bales," he added.
