City considers Section 8 Housing

The Lockney City Council met in a regular meeting Thursday, September 9. The minutes from the previous meeting were read and approved and the monthly bills were approved to be paid.

Barbara Ellis, representative of Parkhill, Smith, & Cooper, Inc., met with the council to explain some housing funds that had become available August 18 through HUD. She explained that an application from Lockney Housing Authority for this rent-subsidy program had been sent the previous week for 20 units.

The 5-year program would not concentrate the low-renters in one area of the town as would a new construction project, but rather conserve available community housing. This would also be a good return for a landlord and give him an incentive to rent his property instead of letting it deteriorate without occupancy. Sometimes, it was cited, housing that would meet HUD standards was beyond affordability range of the lower income people or the elderly.

Under the Section 8 housing tenants would not be expected to pay more than 30% of their income toward rent. HUD would pay the additional rent to the landlord.

Housing qualifying as Section 8 housing could consist of single family unit, an apartment, or a mobile home meeting the specified standards. For the protection of the landlord the Housing Authority would become liable for damages caused by tenants.

Ina McDowell and Cindy Dudley with the Floydada Housing Authority also attended the council meeting. Floydada has completed their first 5-year program. They currently have 51 units under Section 8 and have applied for an additional 20 units with their application for an extension of the program.

Strict rules and regulations are stipulated for the upkeep of a unit. "But," Mrs. McDowell said, "we have had landlords to call us to place their property under the program." No landlord would be forced to place a unit in the program and contracts could vary from 1 to 3 years, with parties on either side being able to terminate contract with 30 days notice.

The Housing Authority would be responsible for searching out this housing. Amounts of funding per each application were not known at this time.

Mrs. McDowell said she felt like Lockney's application would get due consideration because of the HUD office as well as her office in Floydada having reported so many inquires for Lockney residents. "They know there is a definite need in Lockney." Mrs. McDowell cited two incidents that had happened since she had been working with the Section 8 housing

"These local craftsmen would like to show you what can be obtained locally for your selection," Cates said.

Phone orders are welcome or orders will be taken at the show. If weather doesn't warrant an outdoor show, an indoor place will be posted at the pavilion.

Thanks

On behalf of the Floyd County Fair Association, I want to take this opportunity to thank everyone who attended the Floyd County Fair. We had very good attendance this year and we hope everyone enjoyed the fun and fellowship with their neighbors. We tried to have many varied events so that we could have something for everyone.

Our first annual antique car show was a huge success with over 30 entries. Our parade on Saturday morning was one of the largest in several years and we appreciate the good turnout for it. We had 24 lovely young ladies vying for the Queen's contest and we congratulate our own Barbara Moore as our 1982 Fair Queen.

The local youth had a good time at the pet show and children's rodeo. And finally we offered a good clean carnival for the enjoyment of everyone. I urge everyone to continue to support the Fair in the future for without the support of the community our fair will become a thing of the past.

Finally I would like to thank all the people and businesses that supported the fair this year. My special thanks to those who had booths at the fair this year. The Fair Board members who put in so many hours of work in preparation for the fair, the ladies who volunteered their time to work in the different departments at the fair, and especially to those individuals who donated their time to maintaining the fairgrounds such as Ronnie Aston, Ricky Mosley, Johnny Quebe, Bernie Ford, Lonnie Hooten and Dan Smith. Also businesses that contributed were Workman Plumbing, Mize Pharmacy, Lockney Cable T.V., Robert Webb, Donnie Bybee, and Lockney Coop.

Who's Responsible?

AN ALABAMA man passed through Lockney last Wednesday hauling a load of seed. He met with the same fate that four others have in the last six weeks when he crossed the FW&D railroad tracks on Highway 70 to the west side of Lockney. One of those accidents involved a tractor-trailer loaded with 50 head of cattle. The frame and a spring broke, causing the rig to veer out of the traffic way and come to rest on its side.

Are we as interested citizens, going to wait until one of these accidents cause a big rig to plunge through Stickland's Restaurant during a busy hour or veer into the path of a school bus loaded with 40 or 50 young children before we do something? Who do we contact? The railroad, the highway department, the county commissioner, the city hall? Let's do something!

Strake Talk

SMALL BUSINESS— A RESOURCE WE MUST PROTECT

You can look around the square of any Texas town and see the backbone of the state economy—and of the national economy. It's small business and it provides half of all jobs. By the current state definition there are 260,000 in our state—that's 97% of all Texas businesses. The small businessman and woman not only provide jobs and pay taxes; their independent tradition also helps explain the enduring quality of our democratic form of government.

The state of Texas recognizes the importance of small business and has programs to help it. But we can do better.

For one thing, we can abolish the sales tax on utility bills which now falls basically on small business owners. Large manufacturing and processing firms don't have to pay the tax, but the grocer, retailer and florist do. It is not fair.

My opponent opposed doing away with this tax in the last session of the legislature. The tax will bring in an estimated $220 million in 1984-85. But when you compare that with the extra $5.1 billion the legislature will have to spend during that time, I feel we can do without the tax and the revenue it will bring. And, as Lt. Governor, I would support its repeal.

I would also support putting into effect recommendations of the small business task force initiated by the Governor. Two of these recommendations are especially appealing. One is to help small business borrow money at better rates. Most small businesses which fail do so because they are under-capitalized. To help that situation, franchise tax money would be deposited in participating banks, which would, in turn, make loans at lower rates to small businesses.

The other recommendation is that we form a group of small business development centers at colleges and universities statewide. Money for the centers would come from the U.S. Small Business Administration, the state and participating schools. The centers would provide training, counseling and other help to small business owners so that they could be more competitive in the marketplace.

If you have any thoughts on this, I'd like to hear them. Please write me at 1213 W. 34th Street, Austin 78705.

Proclamation

PROCLAMATION
BY THE
Governor of the State of Texas
41-1859

TO ALL TO WHOM THESE PRESENTS SHALL COME:

WHEREAS, the current population of the State of Texas totals approximately 14.2 million and is expected to reach 22 million by the year 2000; and WHEREAS, of the current population, approximately 9.9 million Texans are eligible to register and vote and only 6.6 million are in fact registered to vote; and WHEREAS, a low voter turnout in the May 1, 1982 primary was 24.0 percent and the June runoff primary was 9.3 percent and these figures are extremely low; and WHEREAS, the 1982 general election will be a high water mark for Texas politics with every House, Senate, and Congressional seat up for re-election along with nearly every statewide office; and WHEREAS, during the decade of the 1970's, the percentage of the State's population growth resulting from in-migration was 58.3 percent, or 1.7 million, and these new Texans represent a large potential source of new Texas voters; and WHEREAS, the 1982 fall enrollment of Seniors in Texas' public high schools eligible to register and vote will be approximately 188,000; and WHEREAS, increasing the voter registration of the State's eligible voters and encouraging this eligible electorate to vote in the upcoming 1982 General Election is clearly a public necessity; and WHEREAS, an extensive voter registration drive by the Texas Secretary of State on a statewide level will be conducted; and WHEREAS, active citizen participation in the electoral process is the foundation of our government; and

WHEREAS, October 3, 1982 is the date by which Texas voters must be registered to vote in the State's November 2, 1982 General Election.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, William P. Clements, Jr., Governor of Texas, under the authority vested in me, do hereby proclaim August 11, 1982 through October 3, 1982 as the official period for a statewide voter registration drive and urge all Texans, state and local interest groups, state and local officeholders, candidates for election, educators, and the news media to support this observance.

Given under my hand and seal the 11th day of August, 1982.

Brent Hallmark; Varsity, Tony Rodriguez, Victor Rodriguez, Robert Rendon and Michael Carthel.

The quarterback club is selling tickets for a 870 Remington shotgun. It will be on display at the First National Bank in Lockney.

These tickets and membership tickets will be on sale at the Friday night game.

Willis Reynolds wins Football Contest

Willis Reynolds, the winner of this week's Football Contest, missed only three games. Three other entries tied him on that score. They were: Retha Wofford, Louis Bybee and last week's winner Roy Saucedo. It was Reynolds' Tie-Breaker that won him the contest, missing by only 2 points.

The Beacon appreciates the sponsors that make this contest possible each week. Let them know you do too. Wilson Photography, Lockney Meat Co., Byrd Pharmacy, Schacht's Flowers, Jewelry & Gifts, Floyd County Farm Bureau, Las Maracas Cafe, and Davis Lumber Company would appreciate knowing that you enjoy this contest when you are in their place of business.

Rent Subsidy Program

program. She said one elderly lady cried in her office when she found that she was going to receive help with her rent. She related that the elderly woman said she was going right out and buy a pork chop, that she was tired of eating dog food.

Another incident she related was that of a woman whose husband had died and she was left with child and not much, if any, working experience. The woman was able to take some nurse's training and wrote them later to thank them for the assistance when she needed it. She said she had since been able to afford her own rent and raise her child too.

Paul Lyle, attorney, reported this program has been implemented in Plainview and is a first-class program there.

The Floydada office would be instrumental in helping to set up and administer the program.

The ordinance was passed by a motion made by Councilman Paul Reecer and seconded by Councilman Kenneth Wofford. All were in favor.

Heads of departments gave reports. Reecer reported there was a proposed new bill in legislature that might become effective after January that, if passed, would prohibit small towns from operating an ambulance. Further investigation will be made into the bill.

Modification of the contract with the city's renter was made to offset the difficulty in planting this year's crops.

Church of Christ to hold meeting

Ray Starnes of Monroe, North Carolina, will be preaching in a four-day gospel meeting at the Main Street Church of Christ in Lockney beginning Sunday, September 19, and continuing through Wednesday evening, September 22. Services will be each evening at 8:00 p.m., Sunday morning at 9:30 a.m. and Sunday evening at 6:00 p.m.

Mr. Starnes was the local minister at the Main Street Church of Christ in 1974-75. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone in the community to attend these services.

Go Longhorns!!

This week's game proved to be very costly in injuries for the team. Stephen Johnson is suffering with severe muscle spasms which will put him out for this week's game with Olton. Other players injured were: Mario Arellano with some bruised ribs and Victor Rodriguez with seperated ribs. Both boys may not see action in this week's game.

According to Coach Purser's summation of the Olton team, "We will have a real job ahead of us."

In analyzing the Olton team, he felt they were a lot like the Tulia Hornets, which Lockney played the first week of the season.

Last year was a rough year for the Olton team with a win-loss record of 0 to 10. However, their improvement was obvious in their win over Abernathy last week. Even so Coach Purser feels if the boys play with the intensity they played with last week they will win.

This week's honorable players for the Lockney Longhorns were: Michael Carthel, Robert Rendon, Tony Rodriguez, and Victor Rodriguez.

Lockney ties Petersburg Buffaloes

BY ANNA ANDERSON

Last week's battle between the Lockney Longhorns and the Petersburg Buffaloes allowed some of those good Longhorn abilities to come shining through.

Just to mention a few of those great defensive abilities for the week, the Horns held the mighty Buffaloes to a total of 137 yards while the great Horn offense racked up a total of 239 yards.

There were four turnovers for Lockney, three fumbles and one interception. One Petersburg pass was picked off by Tony Rodriguez and run back 25 yards for a touchdown in the second quarter. The Buffaloes made a total of seven first downs while the Horns doubled that total for fourteen.

Petersburg came back in the third quarter with a 27-yard pass for a touchdown, bringing the score to 7-6.

Petersburg made another interception in the fourth quarter and returned it to the 10-yard line. A defensive pass interference was called against Lockney, making it first and goal. The Buffaloes ran it in on the next play, and with a successful field goal attempt brought the score to 14-6.

The highlight of the game was when Lockney came from behind in the last two minutes of the ballgame to tie the score at 14 to 14. Davis made a 12-yard touchdown pass to Robert Rendon bringing the score to 14 to 12. The Horns had to go for the two-point conversion to tie and did, with Tony Rodriguez inching in for the extra points.

Both teams finished with a 0-1-1 win-loss record.

While talking to Joey Davis about the game from Friday he said, "I felt overall we played better ball both defensively and offensively compared to the last games, and that having everyone in full force made a big backing difference."

Coach Purser felt that the boys played hard this week. "We will need to work on the offensive mistakes as a whole."

Annual Rotary Auction

This annual auction is made possible by the club going on a share basis with the auction company to raise money for their various community projects. After expenses, the club and the auction company split the profits and the Rotary Club uses their share to promote their various community projects.

The projects are spread over a wide range of public life, one of the most important of which is the two or more (usually a boy and a girl) Lockney High School senior student scholarships which supplement their college expenses.

Some of the funds will go toward support of the scouts of the community, some to the teenage baseball teams, and some for 2 outstanding boys of the community to attend Camp Ryla. The two-week leadership camp is held in the mountains of New Mexico. Some 100 young men attend the camp from this district. Some of the best speakers are made available to address the group on leadership goals.

Another very important project the club is involved in is the Rotary Park at Lake Mackenzie. The 7-acre picnic area is located near restrooms and will provide a pavilion area. The Lockney, Tulia and Floydada Rotary Clubs share in the development of the area. Some 38 memorial trees and 50 additional trees have been planted. Another 50 trees will be planted in the future and playground equipment will also be added at a later date. Water has recently been secured for the watering of the trees.

Funds from the annual event was instrumental in the purchase of the Jaws of Life year before last, and some of the funds went for curtains at the fair last year.

Contributing a very important element to the farm auction, the Il Penseroso Study Club will provide a barbecue lunch and various snacks and refreshments throughout the day as they have for the past five years at the auction. They use the funds raised to meet community needs. Brenda Mangold is the club's president.

LADIES' DAY attracted a nice audience with babysitting being offered by homemaking students at the high school. The style show drew the largest crowd of the day when "Dressing on a Budget" was presented.

Wedding vows unite Jackson, Anders

Nesa Jackson became the bride of Larry Anders during a 7:00 p.m. wedding ceremony on Saturday, September 11th held at Highland Baptist Church in Lubbock, Texas. The Elders Jim Jackson, father of the bride, and George Johnson, uncle of the bride, read the vows that united the children of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Jackson of Floydada and Mr. and Mrs. John Anders of Lubbock.

The soft glow of candlelight and the fresh look of ferns created an ideal setting for the wedding ceremony. Five 15-branch fan candelabras dressed with green silk ferns decorated the altar. Bird cages with greenery and alabaster doves decorated the piano and organ.

Musical selections were provided throughout the ceremony by Penny Bertrand of Floydada, organist, Lynn Pyles of Graham, pianist, and Whitney Womack of Lubbock, harpist. Vocalists were Kathy Taylor, Bobbie Rector, both of Crosbyton, and Lynn Pyles. Selections presented were "Whither Thou Goest", "Purer in Heart", "Surround Me With Love", "Create In Me", "Teach Us Dear Lord", and "Variations on a Welsh Theme", a harp solo.

Escorted and presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a Victorian style wedding gown of white organza with accents of peau d'ange lace. The fitted bodice was designed with a bertah collarlet of scalloped lace ruffling, highlighted by tiny seed pearls. Long tapered sleeves repeated the scalloped lace ruffling with cuffs falling over the hands. The full circular skirt was sprinkled with beaded lace medallions and swept into a chapel train. The entire hemline was encircled in a circular flounce of self fabric attached with lace scallops. The wedding ensemble was originally worn by the bride's sister, Rhonda Richards. The bride carried an all silk cascade bouquet of spice and peach day lilies, white orchids, and stephanotis showered with silk gypsophila.

Serving as matron of honor and maid of honor were Rhonda Richards and Brenda Anders, both of Lubbock. Other attendants were Susan Cadenhead of Morton, Becky Favver of Lubbock, LaDelle Gowens of Muleshoe, Laura Hurley of Lubbock, and Wanda Whitsell of Colorado.

Their gowns of spice colored chiffon and qiana were fashioned with a spaghetti strapped bodice attached to a full line skirt. A matching chiffon capelet completed the design. A matching pill box hat, designed in honor of the special occasion, was worn by the matron of honor. An arrangement of spice and peak silk flowers adorned the hair of the other attendants. They carried brass chamber lights dressed with spice and peach silk flowers and ribbon.

MeLin Stanton of Idalou honored the bride by serving as flower girl. She carried a parasol covered with peach tulle and accented with spice silk flowers and ribbons. Jennifer Jones of Plainview and Shelley and Amy Johnson of Idalou served as candlelighters for the ceremony. They carried brass torches decorated with silk flowers and ribbon.

The groom was attired in a black tuxedo with tails, charcoal pin-striped pants, and a white pleated shirt. The entire ensemble was accented with black bow tie and cummerbund. Allen Hall of Dallas attended as best man. Serving as groomsmen were Steve Boyd of Lubbock, Jerry Cramer of Ft. Worth, Jimmy Jackson of Lubbock, Kenneth Kemp of Waco, Chip Phillips of Dallas, and Larry Richards of Lubbock. Formal black tuxedos with pleated white shirts, black bow ties, and cummerbunds adorned the groom's party. Acting as ushers were Jeff Olson of Lubbock, C.J. Shayne of Houston, and Steve Turner of Lubbock. Rex Johnson of Idalou attended as the ring bearer.

Presiding at the registration table were Julie Faulkenberry of Floydada and La Tonya Johnson of Idalou. A brass lantern accented the other arrangements gathered for the guest table.

A reception was held at the Highland Activity Center immediately following the ceremony. The setting was lots of gleaming brass and candlelight. The bride's center table featured a nine-tiered, fountain wedding cake with three tiers on top of the fountain and staircases leading down to the other six heart-shaped tiers. Champagne colored icing, spice silk sweetheart roses, and fresh greenery topped with porcelain doves accented the cake. The center table was covered with an ivory antique satin cloth draped with an ivory Queen Ann lace overlay. Clusters of brass candlesticks with crystal votive cups, peach candles, and greenery accessorized the table.

A matching table on each side featured floor length ivory cloth and white allusion drapes gathered up at intervals with English ivy and ivory bows. Spice fruit punch was served from a footed crystal and brass punch bowl. Other brass appointments adorned the two tables. Lattice work and greenery set the background for all tables. A color portrait of the bride, exhibited from a large brass easel, embraced the bride's table. Serving at the bride's table were Duffy Hinkle, Brenda Wells, Jana McAllister, and Chris Williams.

The groom's tables were covered with ivory and spice cloths with copper and brass appointments. A carrot cake frosted with ivory icing, and accented with spice roses and earthtones, was the focal point. The scripture "Whither Thou Goest", in gold letters, completed the decoration for the cake. Apple cider was served as the refreshment. A special scripture picture belonging to the bride's father, accented with flowers and candlelight, added the finishing touch to the grooms tables. Serving the tables were Belinda Coats, Ann Carthel, Jacquelyn Edmondson, and Sherry Bass.

Brass trays of pinwheel sandwiches, assorted fruit spears, snack mix, cheese balls, and crackers were also served. Members of the houseparty were Hortense Jackson, Sandra Noland, Cletus Clark, Naomi Matsler, Gaye McPherson, Joyce Crain, Kay Caddell, Leona Neff, Ona Ruth Neff, Geraldine Gentry, and Janette Johnson.

Kelby Sue of Floydada provided piano entertainment at the reception. Shanna Jackson and Jennifer Boone passed out rice bags in the form of spice silk rosebuds.

The rehearsal dinner was held Friday night at 8:00 at the Gridiron Restaurant, hosted by the groom's parents. The couple was honored with a collage of pictures from their childhood years up to the present. The caption on the collection of pictures read "The Way They Were."

After a wedding trip to Cancun, Mexico, the couple will reside in Lubbock, Texas.

"Laugh Lines"

BY DON AND SARA PROBASCO

Bits of Humor, Trivia, and an occasional Word of Wisdom

A tourist asked a merchant in a little West Texas town, "Does it ever rain around here?" "Oh yes," the native replied. "They got a half-inch a couple of weeks ago about thirty miles up the road, but I was busy, and couldn't go."

One beautiful morning a man in the country remarked to a native, "A day like this really makes a person feel like working." The native drawled, "Well, now, I wouldn't go so far as to say that, but I will say it makes a body feel like he OUGHT to."

Weather forecaster: someone who tells you what's going to happen tomorrow, then tells you why it didn't.

If you can manage to make mistakes when nobody is looking, you stand a fair chance of becoming successful.

Somehow or other, wrong cards were attached to two imposing floral wreaths at the florist shop. The one that went to a men's store moving to an expensive new building read "Deepest Sympathy", and one intended for the funeral of the town's leading banker read "Good Luck in your New Location."

South Plains News

BY MRS. MURRAY JULIAN

This Monday morning the thermometer has dropped to 60 degrees, and now we await the long awaited rain showers, which are so sadly needed.

We have the sad news of the death of Mrs. Jo Hailey of Caspar, Wyoming, sister of Mrs. Mamie Wood. She has been ill for some time, but only recently became worse. Mrs. Hailey passed away this Monday morning at five o'clock, after being in the hospital just since Saturday night. Her funeral services will be set for some time on Wednesday, in Caspar but as yet they are pending. Mrs. Wood had flown up there on August 7, to visit her sister, and spent a week with her. Mrs. Wood was in New Orleans, Louisiana, when she received the call, and she plans to fly to Caspar this Tuesday, arriving there Tuesday at 1:15 p.m. We offer our sympathy to Mrs. Wood and to Glen and Pat Wood here.

Ernest Smitherman entered Central Plains Hospital in Plainview Sunday evening and this Monday morning underwent major surgery. He is getting along well this Monday afternoon, and recovering nicely.

Sparky Parks is still in the Central Plains Hospital at Plainview, and we hope that he can soon be home. He had major surgery last week.

Dot and Kendall Cummings of South Plains. Ken won 1st place in the Stick Horse Barrel Race and won 9th place in the baseball throw at the Fair's Children's Rodeo.

She is spending several days there in Louisville, with Karen, and another daughter, the Rev. and Mrs. Ron Somers, Jennifer and Jamie, and her mother, Mrs. Corda Taylor, of Muleshoe. The Somers are getting settled in Louisville, where they have recently moved. Mrs. Osborne and Mrs. Taylor will be home this week.

Mrs. E.J. Kinslow (Navolia) was the hostess for the Wednesday, September 8th meeting for the South Plains Hobby Club which met at 2:00 p.m. in her home on the Silverton Highway. Roll Call was answered with, "A Trip in Texas That I Have Enjoyed." Texas is a state of contrasts, with the Gulf of Mexico, and the mountain areas, the plains, and the cities with every kind of entertainment a person could wish for. Mrs. Kinslow presided over the meeting lieu of Mrs. Jewel Fortenberry, who is recovering from a broken foot injury. The next meeting of the club will be at the home of Mrs. Sara Probasco, on Wednesday, October 13, at 2:00 p.m. She will be giving a Stained Glass Demonstration.

VA News

Certain disabled veterans holding National Service Life Insurance policies are entitled to a waiver of the premiums.

The statutory disabilities which permit such waivers are the permanent and total loss of use of both feet, both hands, both eyes, one foot and one hand, one foot and one eye, one hand and one eye, hearing in both ears, or the organic loss of speech, said the Director, Waco Veterans Administration regional Office.

However, the insurance waiver is not automatic, he stressed. The veteran, or someone acting on his or her behalf, must file a waiver claim with the VA. Further, the disability must begin before the veteran's 65th birthday after the application date for the insurance and while the insurance is in force.

For further information, telephone the Waco VA Regional Office toll-free number listed in your telephone directory.

GOD FORGIVES. Let Him.

Feeling Guilty? Many people do. Reasons range from broken homes to unbroken habits. Whatever the cause, it's an ugly feeling. Guilt is both the fact of having done wrong and the feeling of blame for doing it. It's worst when the way you live leaves you empty, frustrated, and filled with regret. But there is a solution. Face the fact and remember God forgives. Then let Him! Before this ad was placed we started praying for you because we care. Give us a chance to share.

This has been a very busy week. All week we made preparations for our float in the Floyd County Parade Saturday morning. This generated alot of excitement and anticipation. We truly enjoyed ourselves and it was the highlight of a great week.

Our domino champs are still at it. Every day in the late afternoon we have a game going. We invite everyone to come and play a game with our champs. They really know their dominos.

Hallie Roberts and Myrtle Payne were our bingo winners this week. Thanks to our wonderful volunteers DeLinda Glasson and Almeda Phillips for sharing their time and talent with us. We welcome Billie Self, Mary Shoemaker, and Rosella Trowbridge as new bingo players.

We send a big thanks to Myrtle Gibson and Ike Clay of Flomot for the delicious watermelons.

Clarence Gatlin and Esker Pyle were able to return home from the hospital. We were happy to welcome them back; they were truly missed.

Lakeview News

BY JOYCE WILLIAMS

Mr. Earl W. Edwards is a patient in the Crosbyton hospital since suffering a stroke about two weeks ago. He has followed the prescribed physical therapy each day and is already recovering the use of his limbs. His attitude is good and he is a very cooperative patient. His daughter, Mrs. Frank Fite, (Sue) of Abilene, is with Mrs. Edwards this week. His other daughter, Mrs. Maxey McKnight (Jean) and family of Kress also Mr. and Mrs. Earl Edwards, Jr. of Llano, have been here and returned home when Sue arrived to take a turn at helping.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Thurston returned home last week-end from a visit with their daughter, Linda, and family, at Wichita, Kansas. Linda's husband, Ken Wise, is being sent to New Jersey for flight training, and the family will move there. Linda took her parents around to see the places of interest at Wichita, including the Old Town restoration, similar to the Ranching Heritage Center, the zoo and other places. They also celebrated little Joanna's third birthday.

The Lakeview gin will not open this fall, due to the lack of cotton grown in the community. Hail, excessive rain, blight and other weather damage in late spring beyond cotton re-planting time caused most farmers to have to go to soybean and sunflower growing. The Lubbock paper estimated over half the gins on the South Plains will not open due to the same reasons.

Mrs. Dayne Golightly is working at the Floyd County tax collectors office now. Dayne Golightly has gone to work for Producers Coop in Floydada. Penny took her children, Rance and Lacy along with Mrs. Sherry Moses and son Jeremy, to the Floyd County Fair Saturday. In the youth events, Rance won ribbons for 4th place ball throwing and 7th in goat tying. Jeremy Moses won third place in ball throwing and a ribbon in goat tying. Lacy entered the stick horse race, goat tying and boot race.

Paul Atteberry and daughter, Dawn, went fishing north of town on Labor Day and caught a very good mess of catfish. They most kindly brought this down and shared with the Q.D. Williams on Thursday evening. Dawn is now in the eighth grade at Floydada Junior High. Paul works for the State Highway Department and Brenda is working at the Caprock theatre.

Miss Jody Smith, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Choise Smith, was recently elected president of the senior class at Floydada High School.

Hunter and Dean Smith go dove hunting each evening after school and bring home their supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bishop's ranch at Roaring Springs was the site of a fish fry Saturday evening. Bob Cooper's relatives from the Dallas area, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Freeman, brought ice chests full of fish they'd caught. Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Mike Bishop, Greg Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. Q.D. Williams, Mrs. Jetty Moss, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Muncy, and Mr. and Mrs. Dee Adams, along with numerous relatives of the Freemans.

Miss Jody Smith attended the FFA watermelon feast at Floydada Monday evening.

The Crosby County Museum Workshop was attended by several historians from Floydada including Mr. and Mrs. Norman Muncy, Mrs. Don Marble, Mrs. Reba Henry, Mrs. Dennis Taylor, Mrs. Q.D. Williams, and Jim Word. Mrs. Georgia Mae Erickson had the entire group as her luncheon guests at Casa del Sol on Friday. The Smith house in Crosbyton has been restored by members of the Bassett family and was open to house the out of town speakers from Austin. Lunch was served at the Smith house in Crosbyton on Saturday. Saturday afternoon the group toured historic sites in Crosby County. At the Hank Smith Rock House in Blanco Canyon they viewed the weathering of the first permanent structure on the South Plains, circa 1876. At the Bridwell Site, on further down Blanco Canyon, Wayne Parker, cousin of the late Comanche Chief, Quannah Parker, pointed out Indian campground sites dating back to the Apaches around 1500 A.D. Flint and obsidian from different parts of the country were discovered by tour members, traded by Indians traveling through the canyon on their way up from Mexico and on to the Pueblos, centuries ago. Also the site of McKenzie's Cavalry Battle of Blanco Canyon was explored. These are all on private property and protected by the National Historic Registry from pot hunters and vandals. The wind still blows and the grasses wave and hawks circle overhead, while Blanco Canyon just absorbs another layer of history along with the other laid down over the centuries.

Mr. and Mrs. James Williams were hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Q.D. Williams for Sunday dinner. Austin and Ashleigh went home with their grandparents for the afternoon.

Mrs. Claire Edwards and daughter, Jamie, have studied the art of working with stained glass. They, along with Cynthia, enjoy attending the arts and crafts shows in the Llano area and showing and selling their creations.

Safety week proclaimed

4-H and FFA youth will have the opportunity to become accident investigators starting the week of September 19-25. That's the week proclaimed by Governor Clements as Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Week.

During the week, youth will take part in the 1982 self-help accident report program being conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of the Texas A&M University System.

Dr. Gary Nelson, Extension safety engineer and coordinator of the study, said that 4-H and FFA youth will be given an accident report form through their 4-H leaders or school advisors. Their job will be to recall any serious accident that may have occurred to a family member or close friend in the past 12 months.

Nelson explained that if an accident has occurred, a full description of the incident will be prepared. Key questions also will lead the investigators to discover causes of the accident and how to prevent future occurrences.

Nelson said that results of the study will be used to develop accident prevention educational programs for Texas families and agricultural producers.

BETTY JO MARISCAL

Graveside services for Betty Jo Mariscal, 1-month, 22 day-old infant daughter of Maricela Mariscal of Lockney were at 10 a.m. Monday, September 13 in Lockney Cemetery under direction of Moore-Rose Funeral Home.

BY MRS. J.E. GREEN

September 13, 1982:

We are still dry. Gardens drying up in spite of irrigation. But these blue and white clouds are beautiful, and sometimes cooling.

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Brewer of Lubbock visited Sunday with his parents, the Henry Brewers.

Mrs. Bessie Butcher of Lubbock who spent last week visiting her sister, Mrs. Cora Hartline returned home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leatherman visited Mr. and Mrs. O.G. Mayfield Sunday afternoon.

Sue and Milton Mensch and son David of Lubbock spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Thomas. Sunday Bill Thomas and a friend of Lockney spent the day with the group.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Finkner of Lubbock visited Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Fulkerson.

Mrs. Mayfield reports they attended the tri county fair at Lockney all 3 days. There were good crowds especially on Saturday and Sunday night. I like fairs, but have not attended one since I have been alone. Away luck when we women had a Home Demonstration Club, about 30 of us, we enjoyed competing for prizes at the fair by communities.

It was fun. My Jim I remember got a prize on a stalk of cotton, and tomatoes. I got a red ribbon on a pound cake. A prize we got once was a ten pound bag of sugar, during the depression, when sugar was rationed. A welcome prize for a family of seven. But one prize I got my family wouldn't let me forget, "Mother got 4th prize on canned pumpkin." (None of us liked pumpkin.)

Mrs. Pierce and I visited one afternoon with friends in Caprock Hospital. These were among them; Mrs. Lucille Duncan, Miss Alma Ruth Nelson, Mrs. Jeffie Smith, Mrs. Birdie Appling has transferred to Crosbyton nearer home. Her sister Mrs. Floy Neece of California is recovering at home from a broken limb.

Bro. Clay Muncy is back home after several days in the Lockney Hospital. Mrs. Ashton in Lockney Rest Home is about the same. Let us remember all the sick in our prayers.

I've just heard my grandson Steve Green of Plainview (Vic and Sue's younger son) a scholarship student of Brown University, Providence, Rhode Island is now scheduled to teach Economics to 80 students there.

Our crops have burned with the lack of moisture. The showers have all missed our area. Some of the women are still canning.

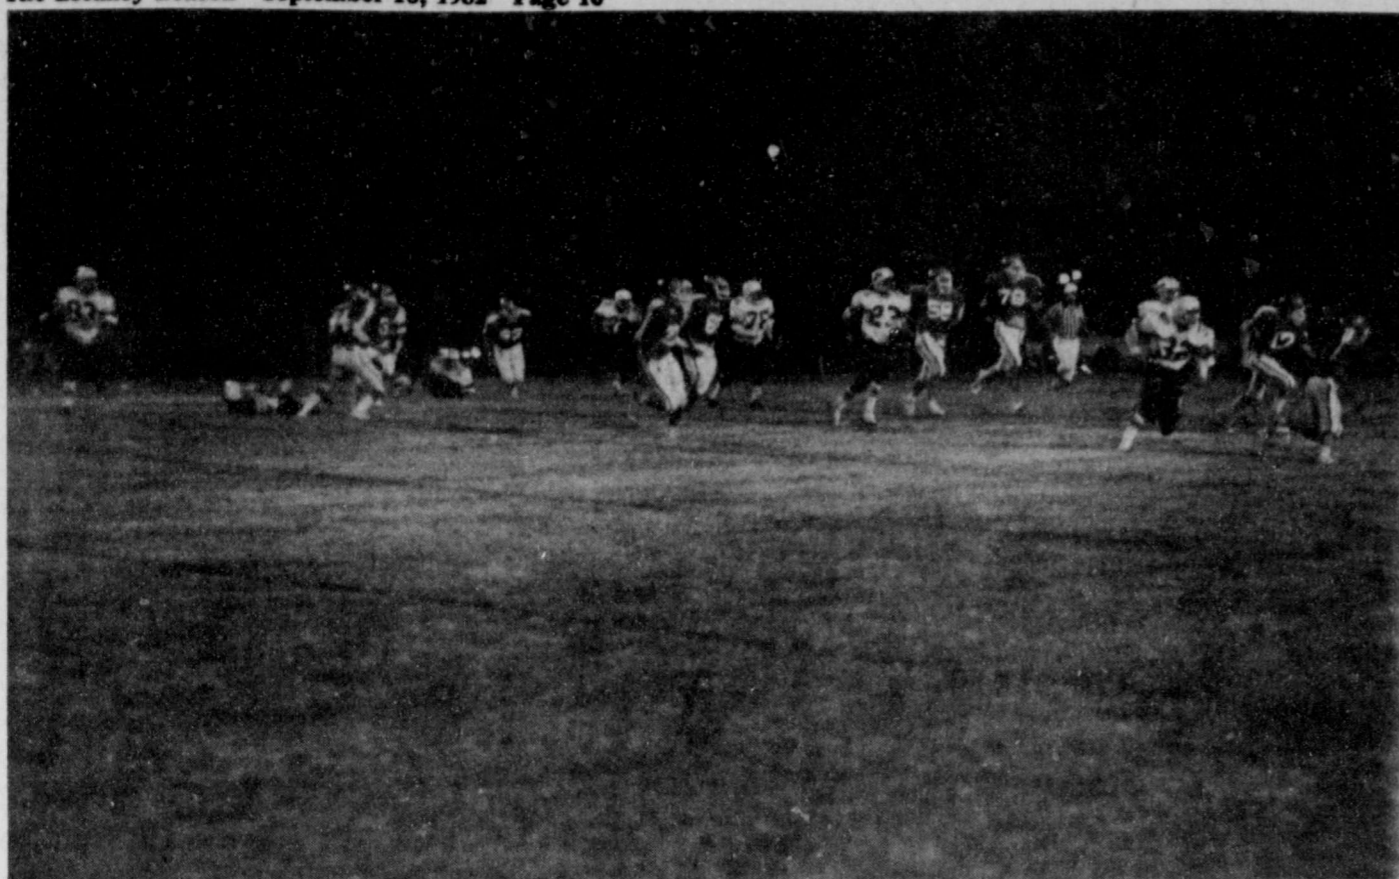

Many have attended the Floyd County and surrounding counties Fair this week and some had entries in the fair. The Lemons grandchildren, Jessica, David and Diana Lemons won ribbons with several of their entries.

Jean and Troy Smith, Wesley and Rodney of Dumas arrived at the home of Jean's parents, Cephus and Imogene Fortenberry Friday evening to spend the weekend. They attended church at the Assembly of God Church Sunday morning. Phyllis and Todd joined the group for dinner Sunday and the Smiths returned home Sunday afternoon.

There was a good attendance at the Youth Rally held at the Assembly of God Church Monday evening. The meeting consisted of all the C.A. groups of this section.

THE LOCKNEY JV team came out on the losing end of the stick when last Thursday's play against Petersburg was plagued with fumbles.

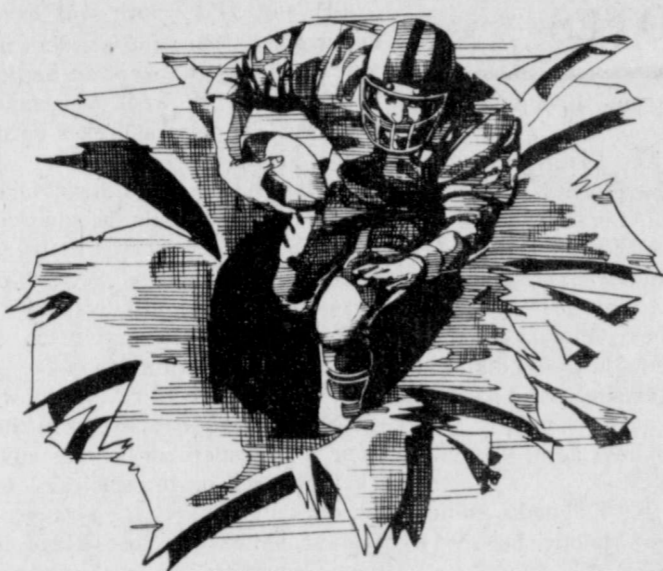

Fumbles plague Lockney JV

Fumbitis plagued the JV Thursday night as they lost to Petersburg 8-26. In the first quarter the Longhorns fumbled after the opening kickoff. On the first play after the fumble, Petersburg scored on a sprint-out pass. The extra point run was good and the score was 0-8.

Petersburg kicked off and on the second play, Lockney fumbled again. The Buffaloes scored on a sweep but the extra point was no good for a score of 0-14.

In the second quarter the Buffaloes drove the ball and scored on a two-yard run. The Longhorns finally started moving the ball, which included good runs by Vince Balderas and Ritchie Thornton. The drive was climaxed by a touchdown pass from Brent Hallmark to Gary Kent. The two-point conversion was made by Thornton. The score at halftime was 8-20.

Petersburg scored one more time on a long run with the final tab 8-26. The JV, seventh and eighth grades will travel to Olton September 16 to take on the Mustangs. The seventh-grade game starts at 5:00.

Local

Well folks and Yocal as I sit here my face red as a ripe tomato I am almost too embarrassed to write this column. The time is 5:30 p.m. Monday afternoon just waiting to see if the Cowboys will be my only salvation of last weeks predictions. I just don't understand what could have happened. I talked with the coaches personally and had their word that each of the teams I picked would come through.

The Longhorns came close but no roses. Seems the Petersburg Buffalos had more to say about the outcome.

The Raiders of double T probably has as red a face as I.

The Winds fought valiantly but were outmanned in the end.

The Oilers were Bengalized by those folks in the striped helmets. I missed this one bad but had the competitiveness spirit to at least predict it. Yocal seems to have been to chicken or unknowledgeable to have a say about the Oilers.

But alas, let us not bemoan the Well Local, I do believe I slipped my dripper this past week, in fact I'm running barefooted in the sticker patch. I know you think I'm a brick shy of a full load and rightly so. But how was I to know that New Mexico could shut out the Red Raiders of Tech land. Oh well, I had the point spread right anyway. Those boys at the domino hall must know more than how many spots are on those ivory rocks. Final score New Mexico 14 - Texas Tech zip. Air Force should lord it over Tech by 10 points in Saturday night's game at Jones Stadium.

We were both close when it came down to Lockney and Petersburg. That situation any further and get on with the business at hand and give you betting folks the inside track on this next weeks fearless football forecast from the fabulous famous foremost forecaster of Floyd County.

The Longhorns face the rejuvenating Mustangs of Olton. The Mustangs are stepping up in class but not up to the class of the Longhorns. Coach Purser has put PRIDE in HORNS. You fans come out and view Lockney's first victory of the year. Horns 27 Mustangs 14.

Texas Tech plays at home and will need all the support their fans can bolster. This will still not be enough. Air Force 34 Tech 17.

The Oilers face Mr. Zorn of Seattle this week. Although a Kenny Anderson he is not, enough passer and scrambler he is. Seahawks by 10.

The Irving Cowboys face the always hard hitting birds of St. Louis. The birds can't fly fast enough or high enough.

ought to show you the game isn't over until the gun sounds. Close of game Longhorns 14-Buffs 14. The Longhorns ought to stampepe over Olton by 14 points in Friday night's bout.

I hate to be an "I told you so" but I did - Frenship's Tiger's milk was too much for the Winds Friday night. Penalties and fumbles can sure turn a game around. Better for the problems to come at the beginning of the season, however. Frenship 14 - Winds 9. The Winds should be roaring next week though, when they taken on Muleshoe. I figure they should beat Muleshoe by 7 points.

Well, now, Dallas let us down

Cowboys by 17 points. High scoring game.

Now for the Winds, will they come back after a disappointing loss the those not so friendly boys from Frenship. This week the Winds face the also disappointed Muleshoe Mules. The Mules were tripped by Levelland. This test of the gridiron will be close. Both teams are highly rated but look for the Winds to be on top by 3.

Now Yocal see what you can do to get yourself out of the also rans. These predictions should more than bring me back to 500.

This week I do not have time
To sing you a rhyme
I have given you more clues
Than I ever would choose

This week I will say
And this is no hay
I farmed for a time
Before I started this rhyme.

Tuesday morning and the Cowboys let me all the way down.

Monday night in a high scoring clash against the Pittsburg Steelers—Steelers 36 - Cowboys 28. All the yelling in the world couldn't push them over the top. I predict the Cowboys will ricochet back against St. Louis on the 19th by 13 points.

I'm looking for a come-back by the Oilers when they meet the Seattle Seahawks in Sunday's game. Houston by 7 points.

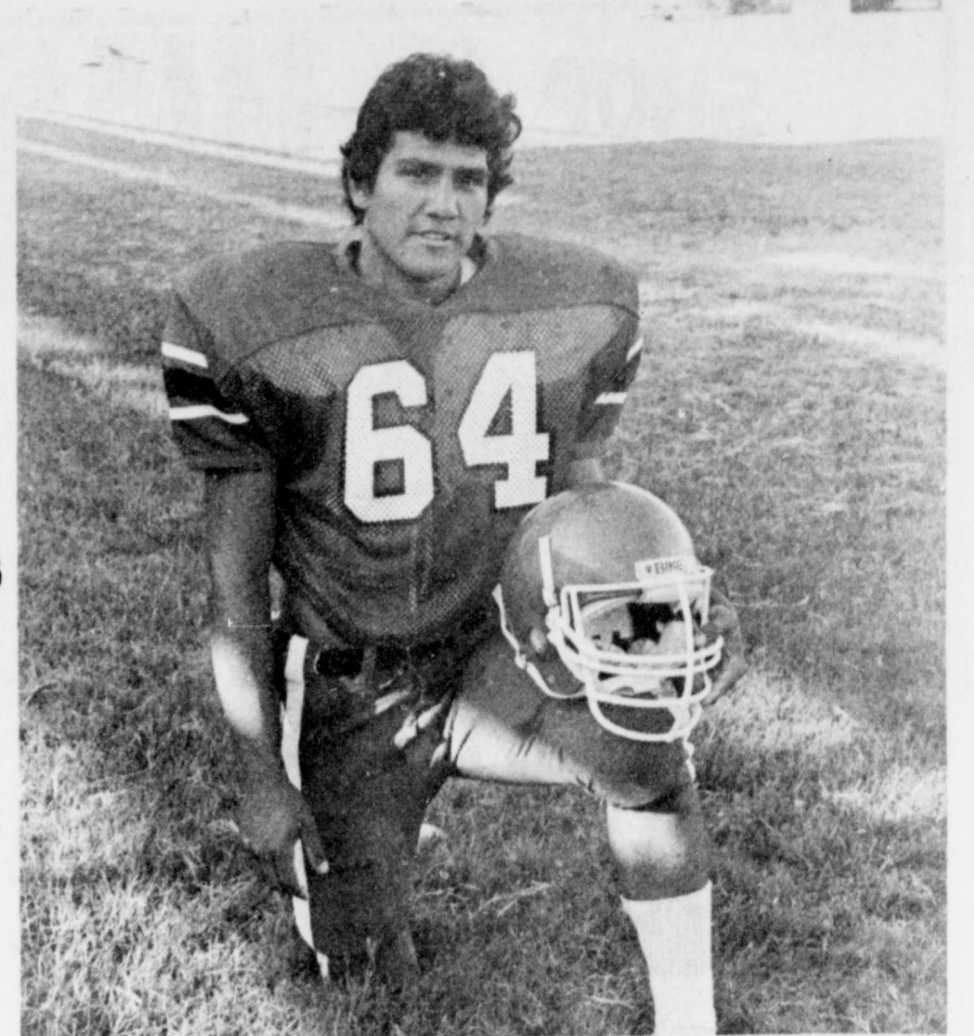

The President of my fan club came up with this week's rhyming clue. Yocal, yocal he's our man, he can predict, yes he can. He's got hair upon his face, he's good with tools and in a race.

Local, if we don't do better this week, we better go back to "Wheaties"!

VICTOR RODRIGUEZ

Society holds first meeting

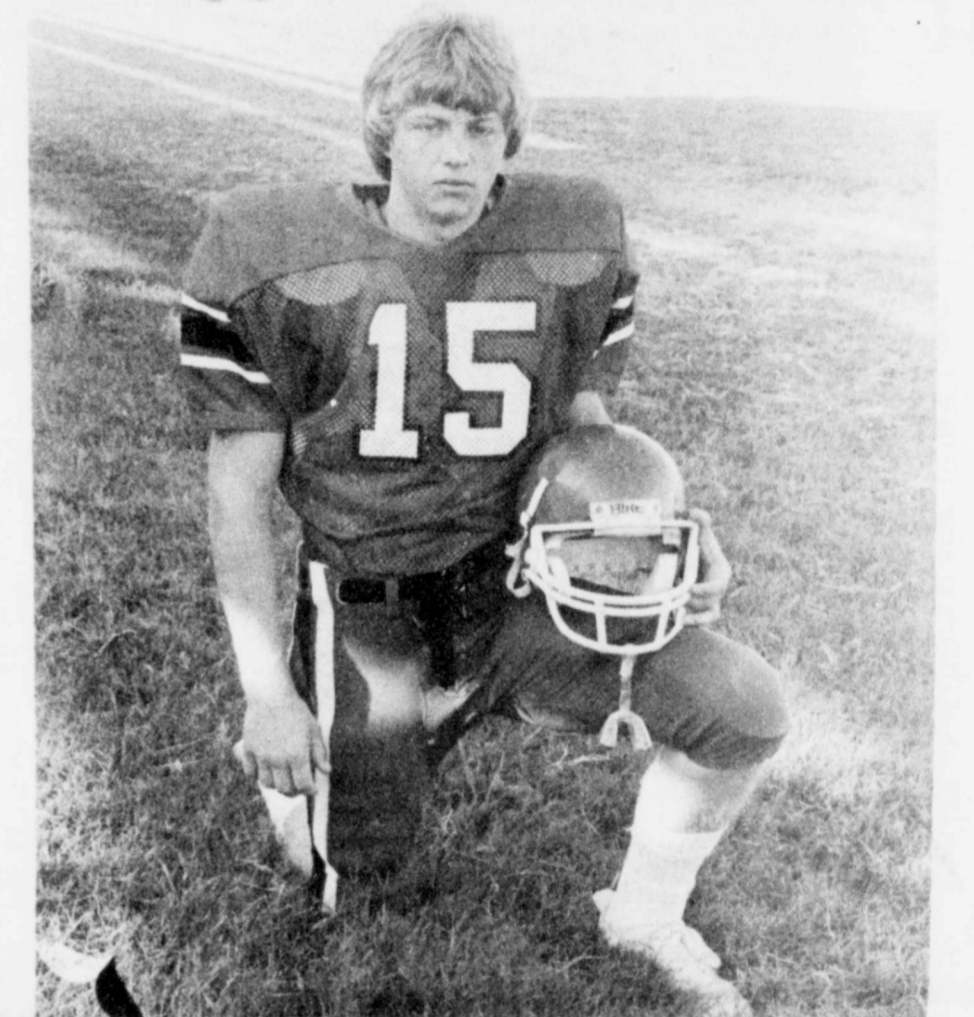

The National Honor Society members had their first meeting Wednesday, September 8. The election of officers was first on the agenda followed by the discussion on the year's projects.

Two of the projects that NHS hopes to get started are the refinishing of the trophy cases and setting up a memorial for Micheal Cawley.

Mrs. Kay Williams is the sponsor for the NHS chapter which consists of nine seniors: Marcus Schacht, Tony Rodriguez, Maribel Torres, Margie Araujo, Mary Huffman, Jesusa Saucedo, Robin Hardy, Karen Mathis, and Kay Reay. Later in the year, some junior students will be inducted into the chapter.

The results of the elections are as follows: President, Maribel Torres; Vice-Pres., Mary Huffman; Secretary, Margie Araujo; Treasurer, Kay Reay.

The picture of the N H S officers appear on page 8B of this paper erroneously labeled as Lockney Jr. High twirlers. Please excuse this error.

JOEY DAVIS

He plays right guard on the offensive squad and also plays outside linebacker on defense. He is an experienced player and was selected as one of the players of the week against Petersburg.

Victor has been in track the past couple of years as a shot putter and as a discus thrower.

Electricity is a product that must be manufactured. To help our customers understand the process of generating electricity, we offer tours of our power plants. Our guides conduct business and civic organizations, clubs, school classes and other groups through these plants, discussing equipment and the production process according to the ages and interests of tour participants. Contact your SPS manager to arrange for your tour of a power plant.

Susan McKissack, Plant Clerk, Harrington Station.
 SPS has a Speakers Bureau. Our specialists are available to present programs on such topics as using energy wisely or how electricity is made from coal. These programs, designed to inform our customers about electric energy and related subjects, are available at no charge for schools, clubs or other organizations. Many programs include special demonstrations, slide shows or films. Your local SPS manager can suggest a speaker for your next meeting.
 Randy Eminger, Consumer Services Representative, Lubbock.

You and SPS are partners in energy management. SPS does its part by operating its power plants as efficiently as possible and by planning now for future demands for electricity. You do your part when you use electricity wisely. Remembering to switch off lights and appliances when not in use can help keep down your electric bills. Insulating your home or using energy-efficient appliances, like the heat pump, can help too. Working together to manage electricity benefits us all.
 Ralph Sanchez, Engineering Estimator, Roswell.

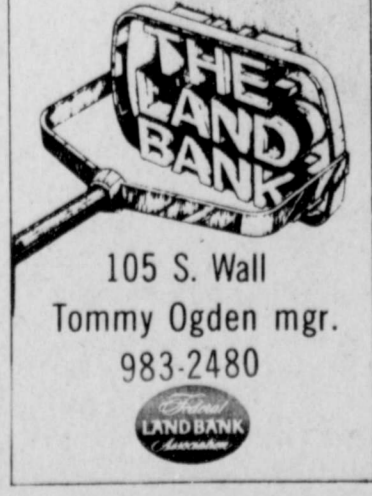

For answers to your questions, call or write your SPS manager.

You and SPS, partners managing electricity, make the difference.

COUNTY-WIDE TREE EPIDEMIC

Tree problems across the county are reaching epidemic proportions. Floyd County may be minus several hundred shade and fruit trees next year unless something is done now to save them. There is no one single culprit as to the reason for all these tree illnesses. Insects, disease, root damage, nutrient deficiency, and lack of water all contribute to the problem. Jett dealt with many of these problems in an article he wrote for his column on August 19, entitled "Shade Tree Decline From Root Damage". I will not try to deal with all these problems in this article, but will instead, zero in on one specific problem - iron deficiency.

SYMPTOMS

Maples and fruit trees are those hurt worst by iron deficiency. The most noticeable symptom is a chlorosis of the leaves (leaves turn a pale yellow and appear "bleached"). This chlorosis is due to the failure of chlorophyll (the green coloring matter in leaves) to develop normally and is most noticeable on new growth. You can drive around the county and see "yellow" maple trees everywhere.

Mildly affected trees and plants become unsightly and grow poorly. Severely affected trees fail to grow, flower, or fruit. Very severely affected trees may die from lack of iron.

CAUSES

Why does iron deficiency occur and why is it more noticeable this year than in past years? Perhaps it would be appropriate here to say that "deficiency" is probably a bad word to use. "Availability" would be much more accurate. Many of our soils have plenty of iron in them, but for one reason or another it isn't "available" for the trees and plants to use. This condition is usually due to high pH (greater than 8.0) which makes it possible for other elements to interfere with the absorption of iron, rather than to lack of iron in the soil. It occurs most often on soils such as ours that are high in lime (calcium carbonate).

Iron deficiency can also be caused by a true deficiency of iron, by over-irrigation, poor drainage, or bicarbonate in the soil or in irrigation water.

Our soils have both a high pH and a high lime content. This presents an ideal set of circumstances for iron deficiency to occur. These two factors, coupled with the unusually wet spring we had, really played havoc with the available iron in the soil. It is even more noticeable on trees in well-watered lawns because our water is very high in carbonates. This is not to say, however, that you shouldn't water your lawn. Trees die from lack of water before they die from iron deficiency.

CONTROL

All this appears to be somewhat of a dilemma doesn't it? If you keep your trees well-watered, they're likely to get iron deficiency, but if you don't water them, they'll die from drought. What can be done to alleviate this situation?

There is no one quick, sure-fire method to cure iron deficiency. Instead it takes a carefully thought out "game plan". There are two major objectives of this game plan: (1) lower the soil pH so as to make more natural iron available, (2) supply additional iron to the trees/plants through the soil, the foliage, or both.

pH - Let's consider lowering the pH first. This is probably the most important of the two factors because it deals with the cause of the problem not just the symptoms.

Just as correcting an iron deficiency can't be done in one easy step, neither can lowering the soil pH. This, too, requires a "game plan". One of the first considerations is to never add something to the soil that will worsen the problem such as lime, gypsum, and fertilizers leaving a basic residue in the soil. Our soils have plenty of lime in them already. Some people claim that adding gypsum (calcium sulfate) to the soil will lower the pH. This is true on soils that are very low in calcium, but ours have an overabundance of calcium and adding gypsum just makes the problem worse.

Ok you say, now we know how not to make the problem worse, but how do you correct it? There are two principal ways: (1) add a soil acidulant, and (2) fertilizer with an acid-forming nitrogen fertilizer.

A soil acidulant is merely a material that will acidify the soil. The four major acidulants are elemental sulfur, aluminum sulfate, iron sulfate, and ammonium polysulfide.

Pound for pound, elemental sulfur is the most effective of the soil acidulants, but each of the above compounds will work. The rate of these compounds must be based on a soil test, and should be calculated by someone qualified to make such a recommendation. 320 lbs. of elemental sulfur will neutralize 1000 lbs. of lime, but this in itself doesn't tell you how much sulfur to apply. You have to know how much lime is in your soil and what the pH is.

Probably the best and most economical way to lower soil pH is to fertilize with an acid-forming nitrogen fertilizer. A what you say? An acid-forming nitrogen fertilizer is any nitrogen fertilizer that leaves an acid residue in the soil. This includes most nitrogen fertilizers, but some are better at lowering pH than others.

Following is a table on the lime neutralizing power of several nitrogen fertilizers. Note that neutralizing values are in pounds of lime neutralized per pound of actual nitrogen, not per pound of product.

sulfate, but the amount of chelates required for control of chlorosis is much smaller than the required amount of ferrous sulfate, and the cost of treatment with chelates need not be greater.

Iron chelates are marketed under various trade names and in various formulations. Some are applied to soil, other to foliage. Some of those intended for application to soil are for high-lime soils, and some are for iron-deficient soils.

If you decide to use an iron chelate, get one that has been formulated for your particular conditions and purposes, and follow the directions on the package.

Ferrous Sulfate - Ferrous sulfate and similar compounds that contain inorganic iron furnish soluble iron to plants. However, when they are applied to the soil, much of the applied iron becomes unavailable to plants. Consequently, applications must be much in excess of amounts actually required by the plants. The iron is made unavailable by the same factors that cause iron chlorosis initially (high pH, interfering elements, etc.).

Adding ferrous sulfate to the soil actually does more good by lowering the soil pH than by supplying iron.

The sections that follow ("Treating Soil" and "Treating Foliage") refer to treatment with ferrous sulfate.

TREATING SOIL

For trees, shrubs, vines, flowers, and vegetables, the solution is prepared by dissolving ferrous sulfate in water at the rate of 1 pound of the chemical per gallon of water. Thus, if you find that you need 25 gallons of solution, you will know that you need 25 pounds of ferrous sulfate.

Trees - Before treating the soil in which a tree is growing, determine how much ferrous sulfate you will need. A convenient way to do this is to measure the diameter of the periphery of the tree at the drip line. If the treatment is to be made while the tree is dormant, you will need 1 gallon of ferrous sulfate solution for each foot of the diameter of the periphery. For example, if the diameter is 25 feet, you will need 25 gallons of solution. If the treatment is to be made during the growing season, you will need 1/2 gallon of ferrous sulfate solution for each foot of the diameter of the periphery.

After obtaining the necessary amount of ferrous sulfate and preparing the solution, proceed as follows:

- Dig holes around the periphery at intervals of about 3 feet.
- Dig each hole deep enough to hold a gallon of liquid.
- Pour 1 gallon of ferrous sulfate solution (1/2 gallon if treatment is made during the growing season) in each hole.

After obtaining the necessary amount of ferrous sulfate and preparing the solution, proceed as follows:

Percent Nitrogen	lb. lime neutralized per lb. Nitrogen
20.5	5.35
11.0	5.00
82.2	1.80
46.6	1.80

hole; let it soak away.

- Fill each hole with water once or twice; let it soak away.
- Refill the holes with soil.

The summer after treating the soil, watch for symptoms of chlorosis. If chlorosis persists, take these additional steps:

- Spray the foliage once or twice to gain temporary improvement.
- Repeat the soil treatment when the trees are again dormant.

Treating Slender and Small Trees - Treatment holes around tall, slender trees should be 2 instead of 3 feet apart. Apply 1 gallon solution per hole as for other trees.

To treat small trees, apply the solution in 6-inch-deep trenches around the peripheries of the trees, but dig the trenches no closer than 1 foot from the base of the tree.

The amount of solution required is determined as with larger trees except that the minimum dosage is 1 gallon per tree if treatment is made while the tree is dormant, and 1/2 gallon per tree if treatment is made during the growing season.

Treating Soil When Plants are Dormant - If you have decided on soil treatment as the means of controlling iron chlorosis in perennial plants, treat the soil in the winter or in early spring, while the plants are dormant. Treatment at this time is safer and more effective than treatment during the growing season.

When dormant, some plant species tolerate concentrations of iron that would be toxic to them during the growing season.

TREATING FOLIAGE - Quick but short-lived results are obtained by spraying ferrous sulfate solution on the foliage of plants affected with iron chlorosis. The amount required is much smaller than that required for application to the soil. However if chlorosis is severe, frequent applications to foliage are required to keep plants green and healthy.

Preparing Spray

To prepare 50 gallons of spray - Dissolve 2 pounds of ferrous sulfate in 50 gallons of water. (A stronger solution would burn some plant varieties).

- Add 2 cups of a mild household detergent. (The detergent acts as a wetting agent and increases the effectiveness of the spray).

To prepare 3 gallons of spray, dissolve 2 ounces of ferrous sulfate in 3 gallons of water and add 2 tablespoon of detergent.

Applying Spray

Spray treatments can begin any time during the growing season but are most effective when starting early in the season.

Thoroughly wet the foliage of the plants with spray. If you spray large trees, you will need a good power sprayer. A compressed-air sprayer is recommended for treating other plants.

Several treatments are necessary during a season. Spray at 2- to 4-week intervals until symptoms disappear; then spray whenever symptoms reappear.

If spray solution gets on flowers, it may stain and ruin them. To prevent this, direct the spray away from flowers, or spray when plants are not in bloom.

Early Spraying of Annual Plants

It is not necessary to wait until symptoms of iron chlorosis appear before spraying annual plants with ferrous sulfate solution.

If you know that annual plants of a particular species, planted in a particular area of plot, are likely to develop chlorosis, spray them within 10 days after they emerge from the soil. Repeat the treatment within 2 weeks. If chlorosis develops, spray chlorotic areas again; repeat in 2 weeks if necessary. This procedure prevents stunting of plants, and it prevents reductions in yield that would result from iron deficiency.

Should you go ahead and spray your trees this late in the year? I would say yes. Relieving the iron deficiency now will allow the tree to store more food for winter, and will give it a head start next spring.

SUMMARY

Now you have the complete game plan for controlling iron deficiency in your trees and other plants. There are

PODWORMS DAMAGE IN SOYBEANS HEAVY

Podworms in soybeans reached treatment levels in several fields in the county during the last two-week period. Up until that time, podworm damage had been evident, but damage was minor and worm populations were well below treatment levels. However, podworm infestations increased rapidly over a period of days and many fields have now had extensive pod feeding ranging as high as 65-70% pod damage. One podworm per foot of row is the treatment level for soybeans and several of the fields in the county that we have checked range between one and seven worms per foot of row with most fields averaging about 2-3 per row-foot. Worm activity has finally slowed down due to the cooler weather.

I have had several questions concerning how long it will take the pods that are now being set on soybeans to mature because some fields had had so much pod damage before they were sprayed that only blooms and 1/2 inch-long pods remained. Because of the large variation in characteristics of varieties in the different maturity groups grown in this area, that is not a very easy question to answer. However, we can take one variety that is commonly grown in Floyd County to use as an example and each grower can then estimate the maturation period of pods for his particular variety using the sample variety as a basis for comparison. Since Ring Around's Mitchell 450 was the State Soybean Yield Contest Winner from Floyd County last year, we will use it as an example.

Flowering in soybeans is initiated in this area, when the photoperiod or daylight period, drops to less than 14 hours. According to Agronomists at Ring Around Seed in Plainville, the bean filling period of a pod set by an early bloom lasts about three weeks. Stress (lack of moisture, light or fertility; too much heat; or physical damage) during this period increases the time required for bean filling and decreases yield by reducing the number of beans per pod and pod size. The bean filling period of a pod set toward the end of the flowering (bloom) period can be as short as two weeks because soybeans are called short-day plants and rate of maturation of beans increase as the photoperiod or day-length decreases. This means that although many Floyd County Soybean growers have lost the older pods damaged by worms, the pods that are now being set in varieties comparable to Ring Around's Mitchell 450 still have time to produce fully-developed beans even if an early October freeze occurred this fall (providing the soybeans were not stressed during this period of time). Leaf-drop is already occurring on many of the early-planted soybean fields and some of the late-planted varieties are cutting out, so the yield potential has already been determined.

Soybean growers in the county - particularly those who planted late - that have fields with greater than 60-70% pod damage have a difficult decision to make concerning the future of that crop. Each producer knows how much he already has in that crop and that alone may lock him into putting as much money as he has to into that crop in order to get it to harvest. Even with 70% pod damage, earlier planted soybeans with blooms and small pods being set should probably have been sprayed for podworms, possibly watered again since it hasn't rained in order to avoid moisture stress, and harvested if no more significant podworm damage occurred before maturity. Some late-planted fields should also have been treated the same way if plants were loaded with blooms and small pods. However, several of the fields we checked the last three weeks were planted so late (mid-July) that the only thing the worms had to feed on were blooms and small pods because there were no pods over 1/4 inch long on the plant yet. In this case, growers should think twice before spending money to spray, irrigate and combine a crop that has very few blooms and small pods left on the plant. What few late blooms there are on the plant will mature according to Extension and Ring Around Agronomists, but will there be enough beans cut to even pay the extra $35-$40 per acre that could be spent on that crop between the time the worm infestation was first discovered and the time the soybeans get to the elevator if they are sprayed, watered and custom cut - particularly when the soybean market is already depressed from the increase in planted acreage this year?

In this situation, some entomologists and agronomists in the area have been recommending that the severely damaged late soybeans that are practically all foliage and not beans either be baled for hay, grazed out or plowed under as a source of mulch and fertilizer (green manure).

Growers with fields in this category will have to decide whether to harvest their soybeans or fall back on one of these other three alternatives, but only the growers themselves can make that decision because they are the only ones who know how much they have in that crop, and how much they can afford to lose on the crop if it comes to that. For those growers that do decide to abort the crop and fall back on one of the three alternatives that I mentioned earlier, I have discussed the problem with an Agronomist and a Beef Cattle Specialist and they provided the following information that might be of benefit to you in the next few weeks:

- Soybeans to be baled for hay should be cut when most of the protein is still in the leaf, not in the pod; cut when pods are small before the beans are 1/2-1/2 filled; (most late-planted fields in Floyd County were ready to cut 1 1/2 to 2 weeks ago, so some of the protein may have moved to the pod; However, the soybeans can still be cut for hay because the protein will still be retained - it's just that the hay will be a little less palatable and more stemming.)
- Soybeans are difficult to cure because of the high amount of moisture in the stalks, so crimp the stalks as you swath them so they will dry quicker.
- Bale early in the morning when the leaves are a little damp so that leaf loss from bales can be prevented - most of the protein is in the leaf.
- Soybeans hay yields should average between one and three tons per acre. The average yield of soybean hay in the United States is 1.4 tons per acre.
- Value of hay is difficult to estimate because most soybeans in this area are two major objectives: lower the soil pH to make more natural iron available, and supply additional iron. Lowering the pH involves using acid-forming nitrogen fertilizers, applying soil acidulants, and being careful not to apply anything that will leave a basic residue in the soil. Supplemental iron can be applied through the soil or the foliage. Foliar applications give faster results, but are only temporary.

Remember: no one of these practices by itself will cure the problem. It takes a team effort to win the battle against iron deficiency.

Further information on iron deficiency can be found in the Extension Bulletin L-435, "Iron Chlorosis", and in the USDA Bulletin #102, "Iron Deficiency in Plants". Both are available free at the County Extension Office.

combined - not baled, but soybeans hay is second only in protein and feeding value to alfalfa hay and this should make the hay worth at least $55-$60 per ton.

- Alfalfa hay has about 18-20% protein while soybean hay has about 12-16% protein.

- Soybeans can be grazed out by cattle, but much of the value of the soybeans as a feed is lost due to the trampling of many of the plants by the cattle before they are actually grazed.

- Plowing soybeans under for green manure would be the cheapest alternative since no known market for soybean hay is available and the value of nutrients returned to the soil would be realized in the next crop to follow.

As you can see, ammonium sulfate fertilizers are the most effective fertilizers for lowering soil pH in terms of the amount of nitrogen they supply.

Fertilizers that leave a basic residue in the soil and that should be avoided on our soils include calcium nitrate [Ca (NO3) 2], sodium nitrate [Na (NO3) 2], and potassium nitrate [KNO3]. Always check the nitrogen source on a bag of fertilizer before you buy it.

Using acid-forming nitrogen fertilizers won't solve your pH problem overnight, but it is a prime consideration in the overall process. If you are going to fertilize anyway, you might as well use one that will lower the soil pH as well as supply nitrogen.

Supplemental Iron

That pretty well covers the first part of the game plan in correction iron deficiency: lowering soil pH. Now let's look at the second aspect of the game plan: supplying additional iron.

Before iron compounds are applied, you should be certain that the observed chlorosis is really iron deficiency. There are many factors that will cause leaves to stress and turn yellow. One of the most common injuries that is mistaken for iron deficiency is injury from one of the triazine herbicides (Pramitol, Atrazine, Milogard, Evik, etc...). Be sure you consider this before proclaiming iron deficiency as the culprit.

Two principal types of iron-containing compounds used to furnish iron to plants are: (1) iron chelates, and (2) inorganic compounds containing iron in soluble form. Ferrous sulfate (also called copperas) is such a compound.

You can buy iron chelates and ferrous sulfate at stores that sell garden supplies and fertilizer.

Iron Chelates - Iron chelates are organic compounds containing iron. The iron remains available to plants when the chelates are placed in the soil.

The iron in chelates costs much more per pound than the iron in ferrous

PHIL COTHAM

Phil Cotham joins coaching staff

Phil Cotham, 23, is a new face around the Lockney Junior High School. This is his first year to teach and coach. He is seventh and eighth grade football coach and works with the defensive tackles and tight ends on the varsity team.

Cotham graduated from West Texas State University with a major in physical education and a minor in health and math. He did his student teaching in Amarillo High School and worked almost full time as an assistant manager of Taylor and Sons Grocery Store. He was raised in Brownfield and graduated from high school there.

Cotham's parents still reside in that town. His father is district superintendent for Energas and his mother operated a bed and bath gift shop until last year.

He has a brother Jeff who is stationed in Korea with the U.S. Army. Both of his sisters, Lisa and Leah Ann, are married and have two children each. One lives in Fort Worth and the other in Corpus Christi.

Cotham's new wife of four months, Cindy, attends Wayland Baptist College. She will graduate in August and her plans are to teach. Cotham said he thought that would be a very rewarding and practical arrangement when she was teaching also.

Cotham decided to make coaching his profession because he had enjoyed sports all his life. He said working with the junior high boys was a matter of teaching and instructing from the beginning, whereas the coaching of the high school team is perfecting mistakes.

Cotham also teaches two classes of junior high math. The greatest difficulty he expects in his classes is teaching students of all learning capabilities in the same classroom. He said he usually gave enough time in the classroom for the average student to complete his homework. On an average he assigns homework about once a week that would have to be done at home to make the student realize "they must do something to earn their grades."

"There are no other teachers in my family and no other sports fans in my immediate family," Cotham said.

He commented on the fact that Lockney was even smaller than his hometown, but he said, "I find the smaller the school, the friendlier they are basically. I've been here about two and a half weeks and I know practically all the kids."

"I probably have one of the best situations as a first-year coach I could have found," Cotham said about the new coaching staff at Lockney. "I admire all of the coaches. They're all good ones. I think we can turn the situation around at Lockney, change some attitudes, and get Lockney out of a losing tradition."

Cotham enjoys softball, fishing, all sports, and watching sports on television. He and Cindy enjoy going to the movies and Country and Western music.

"I just hope to make it better than it was before I came here," Cotham concluded.

Coach's Comments

The 7th grade football team opened the season with a 0-0 tie against Petersburg.

Lockney drove the ball up and down the field, but turnovers prevented a score.

Outstanding players were Michael Gatica, Todd Hallmark, and Javier Bernal. Bernal received the honor of being "Horn of the Week" for the 7th grade.

The entire team put forth a great effort but could not manage to put points on the board. The 7th grade plays in Olton Thursday at 5:00 p.m.

The 8th grade football team opened the season with a 14-6 win over Petersburg.

Steven Cates opened the scoring with a quarterback sneak from the 1 yard line. Dickie Hernandez bulled his way into the end zone for the two point conversion.

Petersburg bounced back in the second quarter with a 30 yard touchdown run. Lockney then hit it big up the middle with a 65 yard touchdown run by Dickie Hernandez.

The 8th grade plays again Thursday in Olton at 6:30 p.m.

Lockney Horns avenge with 16-0 victory

The Lockney Longhorn freshmen opened the season at Abernathy last Thursday and came back with a well earned 16-0 victory. This avenged a 38-6 defeat suffered at Abernathy last year.

Lockney opened the scoring in the second quarter when Chris Rodriguez scampered off right tackle for 4 yards to cap an 11 play 47-yard drive.

Jerry Mathis ran across the two-point conversion. The score remained 8-0 until late in the third quarter when Jerry Mathis broke off left tackle for 6 yards. Mathis followed up his touchdown with the conversion run.

No individual was singled out for great hustle and desire because everyone of the team members contributed to this total team victory. Next action for the Freshmen is this Thursday, September 16, against Abernathy at Mitchell-Zimmerman field. Kickoff is set for 5:00 p.m.
