Tye hosts awards

The Tye Company recently hosted its annual awards presentation, honoring several employees for accomplishments during the year of 1982.

Named "Employee of the Year for 1982" was Tommy Davis, who was selected by a panel of former "employees of the year" from a group of several nominees submitted by supervisory personnel. Davis was awarded a plaque noting his distinction, received a gift certificate for dinner at K-Bob's in Plainview, and will have his name inscribed on a permanent plaque which is displayed in the front offices of The Tye Company.

Other awards presentations were made to employees who had completed ten years of employment and five years of employment at The Tye Company during the calendar year of 1982. Receiving plaques for ten years of service were Lucio Vasquez and Humberto Flores. Awards were also presented for five years of service to Jack Covington, Teresa Sutton, Ken Watson, Bill McCarter, Olen King, Jesus Duenas, Joe Tambunga Jr., and Ed Kloholm.

Auction successful

Approximately 80 county residents gathered at the Lockney American Legion Hall Tuesday starting at 11:30 a.m. for a free barbecue luncheon catered by families of 4-H members, under the direction and coordination of Charlotte Mitchell. The cost of the meal was underwritten by companies who also donated the item for an auction that got underway immediately following the meal.

Ted Roberts of Riverside Chemical at Muncy was in charge of the total project. Earl Broseh and Ed Marks auctioned farm chemicals and seed to the highest bidder.

Business firms donating auction items included: Ciba - Giegy, American Cyanamid, Riverside, Elanco, Monsanto, Shell Chemical Co., BASF Wyandotte, FMC, Terra Seed Co.

Funds from the initial auction will be used for promoting and defraying costs of projects and activities of the county 4-H'ers.

Burlington RR to sell right-of-way

Representatives of Burlington Northern Railroad will be in Floydada, Texas, on January 18-20 to sell right of way on which train operations have discontinued.

Larry Seyda, manager of real estate sales for the railroad, said, "The land for sale is the right of way from Paducah, Texas, to Floydada, a tract approximately 50 miles long. The land lies in Floyd, Motley and Cottle counties."

Seyda said he hopes the offer to sell will attract adjoining landowners and lessees who will be given first consideration. However, the offer is open to anyone interested in buying any portion.

Prospective purchasers may meet with BN's representatives at the Texas A&M Training Center on East Highway 70 at Floydada at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, January 18.

Seyda said, "We will make a brief presentation on Tuesday evening and answer questions posed by prospective buyers. We also will make appointments to negotiate sales at the training center on Wednesday and Thursday, January 19 and 20. The appointment schedule will be from 9 a.m. until 10 p.m. both days."

According to Seyda, adjoining property owners should have copies of their deeds or legal descriptions and also financial arrangements in hand when negotiating sales.

FFA students and 4-H members prepare for spring stock shows

FFA students and 4-H members have been working hard for several months, feeding and caring for their animals. Their goal is drawing near, with the approaching stock shows.

Mike Mowery, high school ag teacher, reported that of his 39 students, only two students, members of his ag mechanics class, do not have an animal project. An animal or crop project is required of his production classes. In addition, there will be 10 students who will be showing animals who were not able to work ag into their class schedule.

The Lockney Stock Show will be held Saturday, February 19, Sunday, February 20, participants in the Floyd County Stock Show will move into the barns at Floydada. The show will be held Monday and Tuesday with the sale following on Wednesday. The show will close with a supper that evening.

"Pigs were hard to buy this year," Mowery said. With the economy as bad as it was, there had been hopes that their pigs would not be as costly, "but they were still high. It was just hard to afford small pigs."

The ag teacher said that Lockney was centrally located for pig sales. Most of the sales they attended were within a 150 mile radius, traveling as far as Pampa and Snyder on occasion. "We try to take students, if possible, and parents whenever we can. They get to see what we are really up against. We just couldn't buy at some." Some of the animals were purchased locally.

The pigs must not weigh over 250 lbs. When first purchased, the animals may not gain more than 1/2 lb. a day. 3-4 lbs. of feed will cause a gain of a lb. a day, with some increase in feed during the cold weather to maintain body functions. Later, they may gain as much as 2 lbs. a day. Therefore, handfeeding is adopted as procedure about the middle of the 150-250 lb. range in order for the animal not to be too heavy and more strenuous means to be exerted toward the end.

Judging the swine has swung from one extreme trend to another. In the recent past they have been judged on the tall, long, lean look. This year it looks like the judging will be a lot more realistic with a sincere appreciation for depth and more thickness with no worry about height.

Mullin, Texas, near Brownwood, was the furthestest point they traveled to purchase lambs. Even though there is no weight limit at the stock show on lambs, they will be sifted (not eligible for show) if they have lost their baby teeth. The tooth rule is applicable in most major shows for steers also.

Lambs require regular exercise. The animal raisers have been instructed to elevate the feed with access made possible with a ramp. That way the animal works when he eats, forcing him to exercise several times daily. In the stock shows, they are judged from the last rib back for the choice cuts of meat.

The judge will examine the animal physically, and it is something that cannot be faked since they are sheered slick.

Paul Gross, District Agent for the Extension Service with headquarters in Amarillo, will be the judge for the county show. Between 50-60% of the Lockney students have two animals. Only three FFA students and one 4-H member have steers. The Houston Stock Show will be held the following weekend after the County Show. Scholarships are awarded at that show.

Mowery stated that he thought the raising of the animals taught the young people responsibility with supervision of parents and teacher. He further explained that 4-H members had the backing of their parents which contributed to a closer family relationship.

"It teaches them competitiveness and sportsmanship. It costs too much in one way of looking at it, but their projects are worth more than the money invested." The teacher also indicated that he hoped the ag classes would make school more enjoyable by offering a diversion from the classroom environment.

The newcomer in the Lockney system praised his predecessor, Elvin Lyon, for the upkeep of the facilities that Lockney has at the ag farm east of the fairgrounds. He said, "He did a good job. That is obvious." Improvements and additions have been made regularly to the already good basic facilities.

Bullock urges anyone with problems or questions concerning state taxes to contact Ms. Doggett at the courthouse in person or call the Lubbock Field Office at (806) 795-0691. A toll-free number (1-800-252-5555) is also available to Texas taxpayers.

Copy machine installed at Museum

A generous contribution by Mrs. Mary Lou Bollman of Lockney completed the copier fund which was started by Dr. Charles Baker several months ago and the copying machine was delivered the last of December to the museum. The plain-paper copier makes copying on both sides of a page possible and also is equipped with an increaser-decreaser feature. The copier is a valuable asset to the archives department and will insure more accurate records since the original can be reproduced rather than rewritten.

Researchers are welcome at the museum and are encouraged to place copies of their historical and genealogical records in the museum files so that they will be available to other researchers.

The old Floydada and Lockney newspapers are now housed in the museum and anyone who has older issues than those filed are urged to loan their copies for microfilming. Old documents, records, and other historical data can be put on microfilm and the originals returned to the owners. The 1900 Floyd County census can now be read on film at the museum. The census reveals many interesting facts about the county.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Friend:

I may not be bothering you too much longer with my crusade to save the wildflowers of Texas--and the attached story will tell you why.

But I would like to continue as long as possible. And if you run the story, maybe the results will help me do just that.

The enclosed calendars are just a small way of saying "thank you" for favors past and present. If you need more, let me know.

Much obliged for your help. A Happy New Year to you and yours.

Grow good!
Carroll

P.S. How are the Bluebonnets doing?

For the past decade, Carroll Abbott of Kerrville has depended on sales of his colorful wildflower poster calendar to tide him through the lean winter months so he could continue his mission of helping save the native flowers of Texas.

This year, the sales will be doing double-duty.

Abbott has discovered he has lung cancer. And the calendar proceeds this year will be necessary to pay for the high costs of his chemotherapy treatments.

Abbott is the state's only, fulltime wildflower seed and plant collector in the state. In 1981, he registered as a wildflower lobbyist and successfully guided legislation, which established an official Texas Wildflower Day--the fourth Saturday in April.

His calendar, which features 22 individual portraits of some of the most common and beautiful wildflowers, is $4 each or four for $10, which includes sales tax, mailing tube and postage costs. You can order from Abbott's mail-order firm: Green Horizons, 500 Thompson Dr. Kerrville, TX 78028.

The "Beautiful, Beautiful Texas" calendar is truly Texas-sized--nearly two by three feet. "We don't dare change the size of it," Abbott says, "because some folks have had a spot on their wall--or refrigerator--for years and nothing else will fit it except our calendar."

The calendar has a centerpiece of a pasture full of Texas wildflowers and is framed by individual pictures of Texas Bluebonnet, Indian Paintbrush, Pink Evening Primrose, Texas Bluebells, Firewheel, Goldenrod, Eryngo, Blue Sage, Wild Petunia, Cardinal Flower, Maximilian Daisy, Verbena, Winecup, Cut-leaved Daisy, Turk's Cap, Coreopsis, Gayfeather, Mexican Hat, Orange Milkweed, Lantana, Trompillo and Phlox.

Beneath each wildflower is a full description, including the correct botanical name and home landscape uses.

Abbott believes his unique calendar has a lot more uses than just helping you keep up with the months and weeks and days. It has a life longer than a year, he says.

"The wildflower portraits are wonderful framed--either as individual miniatures or in panels--and the centerpiece often has been laminated by folks who want a distinctive placemat," he says.

The calendar is widely used by school teachers as a wildflower identification chart.

But the best use of his calendars, Abbott thinks, is as gifts.

"There isn't another gift item in the world which gives a year-long remembrance in such a big way for such a small cost," Abbott declares.

He also admits that he might be biased.

The Rev. Michael O'Connor's

Perspectives

A walk through any bookstore will reveal that the biography is still alive. The problem is that we are seeing biographies almost exclusively on celebrity entertainers, most of whom are still alive. Of those who are not still living, the books seem to be taking the slant of showing us what miserable human beings the subjects were. Christina Crawford's hatchet job on her mother, Joan, being one of the best examples of the latter.

As I recall, most of the biographies in the library where I grew up were of people no longer alive and who had been judged by history to have made a significant contribution to society. There were exceptions to be sure. It was in those musty stacks that I learned the lives of Houdini, Conan Doyle, and the Shelleys to name a few. On the whole, however, it was difficult to find information about those yet alive, or not mentioned in the history books.

I suspect that current biographies are motivated by the desire to cash in on one's popularity while one is able to enjoy the rewards, or at least before one is forgotten and assigned to oblivion by the pages of history. Perhaps it is a desire to write history. If you get a book written about you, then you cannot be forgotten by history. And perhaps later generations will judge you to have been significant to your time period.

If the latter happens, then I shudder to think what those generations will think of ours. Imagine, instead of political giants like Jefferson, Washington, Lincoln, we will be judged by Watergate conspirators. Instead of creative geniuses like Edison, Burbank, Washington Carver, we will be offering Donahue, Griffin, Douglas.

And what of those superstars who have not yet attained Falness of maturity and life? What will history record about the end of their lives? Who cares what Debby Boone has accomplished, or Linda Lovelace? Will Miss Boone go on to greater heights of spirituality, and perhaps Miss Lovelace as well? I hope so, but let us let them live their lives and then judge their impact.

If these books are written for personal material gain, that will also tell something about us, and it will not be a positive story. I hope we see an end to these kinds of bio's; I expect we won't. Or maybe soon our heroes will become really significant people and not just entertainers. Until then, well, I was born in the middle of the night to an average middle class family.....

PROCLAMATION

A FARM CENSUS PROCLAMATION

Since the economy of Floyd County benefits in large measure from farming, the county's presiding officials bring to the attention of all county residents the 1982 Census of Agriculture.

Whereas, the periodic farm census is the primary source of accurate information on the number of farms and farm operators in our county;

Whereas, it also provides accurate data on sales of farm products as well as production costs in our county;

And whereas, many business decisions affecting the county's farmers in today's economy, depend upon accurate data from the Census of Agriculture;

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the county's presiding officials urge all farm and ranch operators to fill out and return promptly the farm census questionnaires they have received in the mail and thus help to make the 1982 census the most successful in a series of 22 farm census counts which began in 1840.

"CRAZY" FARMERS
By Joan Schwertner

I have finally decided, after living here three years, why Floydada townspeople are so incredibly apathetic. A look around would be sufficient evidence that our economy is hurting. The reasons are as obvious as the sun is in the sky, and I have concluded that local businesses and farmers can't see it.

With just a little bit of research, one can see that we are no longer in control of our destiny. We produce a crop, sink all of our assets into it including labor, water, fertilizer, machinery, etc., and are then forced to sell it at below cost. If that won't drain a rural town, and I mean businesses as well as farmers, then I can't imagine what will. While foreign countries can buy our commodities cheap and sell us their inflated products, we sure won't see any opposition from them! We might ask why our country would allow this to happen. Again, after minimal investigation, it appears the large multi-national corporations have more influence over our Government than the poor folks who live here and work the land.

Now the answer is obvious, we need a price in the marketplace for our products! The term parity means equality, which is why it was coined back in '38' when the Parity Law was written. It simply equates the cost of production with the purchasing power of the farmer. And now the familiar cry, "but prices are high enough without giving the farmers more!" Just a grain of knowledge shows this to be a popular misconception, perpetrated by the press. How come Congressman Stenholm recently reported that we have a 48 cent loaf of bread in Bonn, Germany with $8 wheat, and 59 cent loaf of bread in Washington, D.C. with $2.91 wheat?

So the next time you complain about the American Agriculture Movement making fools of themselves protesting over the current farm legislation, feel secure in the fact that you are not participating. Yes, you are out on the turn rows complaining to neighbors, in the cafes, gin offices and elevators shaking your heads and scratching your brow trying to stay in business. THAT does a lot of good. No, you aren't making fools of yourselves by supporting a lobbyist in Washington who is for a fair price for our commodities. You keep buying equipment, such as a $100,000 combine so you can cut $2.91 wheat. Wake up and support your community and rural life before it no longer exists.

You would all be proud to know that Tues., Dec. 28, Gerald McCathern's tractor left Lubbock, Tx. for the Smithsonian Inst. in Washington, D.C. to represent Rural America, and not one person in Floydada felt that worthy of their time. Major news media felt it important enough to cover, a historical event, but those in our rural community felt otherwise. I'm not sure we deserve any recognition when Congress reconvenes if we can't even support our own efforts. Believe me, a native of D.C., protests ARE heard and the AAM is the only voice in Washington that does represent Rural America.

Tax will be withheld from interest July 1

Federal tax withholding on all interest and dividend payments will start July 1, unless Congress is persuaded to repeal tax withholding, according to William H. Kennedy, president of the American Bankers Association.

In a letter to member banks concerning this new law, Kennedy urged the member banks, their customers and stockholders to persuade Congress to repeal this law. He said the law "is not only wrong, but it is also entirely unworkable in the form in which Congress prescribed it. Repealing it is an urgent matter."

"It is clear that to win repeal of a tax law which already is on the books will require mobilization of our stockholders and--most important--our customers nationwide."

Kennedy stressed the need for the bank customer to be aware what this law would mean to them personally and "...we must motivate them to set up a clamor for repeal."

In the next few weeks, the ABA and the state bankers association will be putting together a campaign for repeal of withholding into motion. If anyone would like to contact their congressman, list of congressmen and other elected officials appear on page three of this week's issue.

Partners map progress.

Lewis and Clark were men of destiny who challenged over 2,000 miles of trackless wilderness west of the Mississippi. Captain Meriweather Lewis, army officer and frontiersman, chose the artist and mapmaker Lieutenant William Clark for his partner. From 1803 to 1806 the two young men combined their skills and talents to search for a northwest passage to the Pacific Ocean.

As partners, Lewis and Clark provided detailed maps and valuable scientific journals which later encouraged rapid settlement and development of the West.

Today there is a new frontier to challenge -- an energy frontier. You and Southwestern Public Service Company are partners like Lewis and Clark. Partners working together making energy decisions to make a difference. For instance, when you install a High-Efficiency Add-On Heat Pump in your home, you and SPS work together to better manage electricity. And when electricity is efficiently managed, it makes the difference.

Together, Lewis and Clark charted the maps that made the difference which helped win the West. Together, you and SPS can work as partners, charting progress for a new frontier in electricity management.

You and SPS, partners managing electricity, make the difference.

Boy, hasn't the weather been unpredictable? Everyone here loved the snow. It looked so inviting that we rolled William Holt out in it and took his picture. We tried to talk him into having a snowball fight, but he didn't think it was such a good idea. I wonder why?

Mary Fielding's winning streak in Bingo was finally broken Friday when Mary McCracken won blackout. The tension grew and grew as DeLinda Glasson was calling the final numbers. Congratulations, Mary!

Some of our activities were cancelled this week because of the weather, but this didn't stop us. Our domino champs took advantage of the situation and sharpened up their domino skills. Our players are Lewis Roberts, William Holt, E.M. Pyle, Mary McCracken, Mamie Wofford, Richard Lanham and Ada Hopper.

Wednesday and Thursday we had 4 members of the survey team from the Health Department in Lubbock. They were here to follow up on our survey in July. We are surveyed approximately every 6 months. We have licensing renewal, contract renewal, and level of care review surveys. Since this was the first survey since the state standards were changed in July, we are pleased with the results.

We have Myrtle Burke, Donnie

Hester, Jewell Miller and Alzia Virden in the hospital. We hope they are well enough to come home soon.

A special thanks to the county workers for coming down and grading off our parking lot during the recent snow. This was a first for us and we appreciate them doing this.

Until next time, enjoy.

Scheele named to President's List

Southwestern Oklahoma State University in Weatherford, Oklahoma, has announced both the President's and Dean's Honor Rolls for the 1982 fall semester.

A grade of "A" in 15 semester hours of work taken during that time results in the student being named to the President's List. Robert Scheele of Lockney was among 116 students that have accomplished this.

Many others were named to the Dean's List after completing 15 semester hours with a grade point average of 3.0 ("B") or higher, with no grade lower than a "C".

Lane, Ford nuptials recited in Lockney

Kellye Kay Ford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Ford of Route M of Lockney, and Gilbert Glen Lane, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lane of Route F of Lockney, were wed in the First United Methodist Church in Lockney in a 3:00 p.m. ceremony Saturday. Frank Olgesby, minister of Forrest Heights United Methodist Church in Lubbock directed the recitation of vows.

The altar area was formed by a candle arch that held ivory tapers. Gladiolas, china mums, and purple statice accented with gypsophila tied with french lavender ribbon decorated the arch, flanked with candle trees and ivory tapers entwined with tropical foliage. Aisle decorations matching the arch.

A program of music was presented by Joyce Wilson, pianist, Ann Ford, the soloist, and Lucy Dean Record, organist.

Honor attendant was Kristie Tooley of Slaton, sister of the bride. Brides-

Home Happenings

BY DARTHA WESTBROOK

We have had a very busy week for the first week of 83. On Monday the 3rd we made snow ice cream for the Residents. This was a real treat for them, as many had not tasted this food since they have been in the Nursing Home.

On Tuesday we have our Bible Study. On Wednesday, we had a good turn out for Bingo. Emmitt Lawrence was our big winner with three games. Vera Duke and Walter Craft each won two, and Una Clark, Geneda Roberts, Bessie Griffin, Susie Thompson, and Lura Brashear each won one game.

We only had one group come out last week for devotion, due to the weather, and that was City Park on Wednesday. The Residents were really ready to hear someone besides me sing and preach.

On Friday, we saw two movies. One was about sharks, and was very interesting. The Residents really enjoy the movies and popcorn.

A big Thanks to all the visitors. We would like to thank the family of Alta Probasco for the large can of popcorn they gave the Staff, which arrived yesterday. Our visitors were: Helen Breed, Gene Baird, Dorothy Neff, Harvey L. Howard, Karl Bunjes, Mrs. Bill Smallwood, Thanie Smallwood, Claude and Wilene Lyles of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Joyce Williams, Mr. and Mrs. P.L. Hart, Edna Patton, Jewel Walters, Charle L. Berry, Sr., Hollis and Jo Payne, Merlene Breeding, Beady Owens, and Deeota Odam.

maids were Cheryl Gillispie of Claude and Melissa Johnson of Lockney. The female attendants wore long dresses in alderdene color styled with square neckline, accordin sleeves, and caught at the fitted waistlines with a sash. Each of them carried a crescent bouquet of silk enchantment lillies, poppies, gypsophila and leatherleaf foliage tied with french lavender streamers.

J.H. Lane served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Phil Clayton and Ronnie Cunyus, both of Lubbock.

Chancy Rhodes of Stratford, cousin of the groom, was flower girl. Kristopher Tooley of Slaton, nephew of the bride, served as ring bearer. Candlelighters were Kay Owen of Dell City, cousin of bride, and Gwen Lane, sister of the groom.

Brothers of the bride, Curtis Ford of Lubbock and Ronnie Ford, were ushers.

Refreshments were served at the reception that followed the ceremony in the fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table was covered with floor length ivory lace cloth and an over-skirt of illusion was caught by ivory sation bows. Focal point of the table was the three-tiered cake and gazebo decorated with miniature bridal figurines and nosegays of flowers and ribbons, flanked by two miniature and three heart-shaped tiers. A five-branched candelabra of sterlin held an arrangement of gladiolas, mums and sterling silver roses with ivory tapers. Sheila Hrbacek and Kathryn Moore served guests from silver and crystal appointments. The groom's table was covered with a floor-length silver grey cloth. Flowers encircling a picture of the bride and groom centered the table. Trays of fruit, cheese, miniature sandwiches, and sausage balls were served from silver appointments.

Bits of Humor, Trivia, and an occasional Word of Wisdom

Have you ever noticed that at fifty, one is called eccentric, whereas at thirty, the same actions were considered rude?

Since the holiday feasting we've been reminded that middle age is when dangerous curves become expanded detours.

We sure enjoyed having the family home for Christmas, but when ALL of our children are here for a visit, it looks like Old Settlers' Reunion.

There is really no trick to getting children to follow a straight and narrow path. Just try putting out grass seed on a corner lot.

One little boy to another: "What do you want to be, if the neighbors let you grow up?"

Little girl: "The more I play with him, the worse I like him."

Energas aides low-income people

Responding to a request by the chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission, Energas Company announced today that the company will expand its efforts to aid low-income people in paying their energy bills this winter.

Last month, TRC chairman Mack Wallace wrote to all natural gas utility companies in Texas, urging them to create winter energy assistance programs for the disadvantaged in Texas, similar to some pilot programs instigated by utility companies in other states. The Railroad Commission is the state agency that regulates the oil and gas industry in Texas.

Energas is establishing a program to supplement existing programs of financial aid to people in its service territory who would otherwise not be able to pay their heating bills this winter. Energas representatives have been involved on national industry committees studying the results of the pilot energy assistance programs.

"The new program is an extension of procedures Energas already has for helping our customers pay their gas bills," Charles K. Vaughan, Energas president, said. "For years, Energas has offered an individualized deferred payment plan to customers who need help. Now, on Commissioner Wallace's recommendation, we are adding a program of financial assistance for this heating season."

The program that Energas is devising will rely on seven charitable organizations throughout the company's service territory to receive and distribute money for heating assistance. Energas will contribute money itself to those organizations for use in the program and will encourage its employees, its customers and the general public to make contributions.

Energas officials are working with representatives of the seven regional charitable organizations to establish agreements for the operation of the program. When those agreements have been made, Energas will give a donation to each non-profit organization, based on the number of customers the company has in the region served by the organization. The company will then publicize the details of the program, so that those needing help will know how the program operates and others will know how to make contributions.

Energas provides natural gas service to a 30,000-square-mile area of West Texas, extending from the Panhandle to south of Odessa. The gas utility company is a division of Pioneer Corporation, an energy resources corporation headquartered in Amarillo.

MARRIED 25 YEARS- The children of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Gross request the pleasure of your company at a reception in honor of the Twenty-Fifth Wedding Anniversary of their parents, Sunday, the sixteenth of January, two until four in the afternoon at the First State Bank Community Room, 1523 Main Street, Petersburg.

Homemakers hear program on grief

The Harmony Extension Homemakers Club met in the community center with Imelda Murry as hostess. The meeting was called to order by the president, Imelda Murry. She read the scripture, II Samuel 12:23. Roll call was answered by "what I didn't get for Christmas."

Recreation was led by Arvie Schultz, a game of questions and answers.

The agent, Marilyn Tate, gave the program, Grief and Bereavement. "We tend to think grief and bereavement as being synonymous. Grief is defined as an intense emotional suffering caused by loss and acute sorrow. Bereavement is defined as a loss of someone through death. Grief is caused from different kinds of loss, loss of a loved one through death, divorce, or loss of a dear friendship. In our bereavement we should not keep our emotions to ourselves, but let go, and not be embarrassed to cry."

Imelda Murry was elected as T.E.H.A. delegate nominee and Bess Carr was elected alternate nominee for the January Council meeting.

The $4.00 for each member and the $7.00 was paid to the Aubrey W. Russell Scholarship to be presented in the January Council meeting.

The programs and hostesses were assigned in the yearbook.

The hostess served refreshments to Bess Carr, Anna Maude Hopper, Juanita Pool, Ruth Scott, Blanche Williams and Marilyn Tate, the agent.

Mr. and Mrs. Verlon Wright enjoyed having all their children home for Christmas. Their household included Mrs. Betty Lou Kinslow, Jeremy and Grant of Coppell; Mrs. Charlotte Wright and Kenneth of Waco; Joe Wright, Leon Wright and friend Brenda Berdine, Mr. and Mrs. Randy Burk; and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Burk, Jennifer and Justin, all of Lubbock; and Brent Duke of Floydada. All began to arrive Christmas Eve and shared the Christmas dinner and gift exchange around the tree. Mr. and Mrs. Randy Burk stayed overnight, and the others left later in the evening.

Christmas guests at the Don Harrison home included Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Bob Harrison and daughters, Marty and Amy of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Rex McPherson and son, Danny of San Angelo; Mr. and Mrs. Max Harrison and daughters, Debbie and Tracy, all of whom came out Christmas Day for dinner and their tree.

The Dean Watsons started celebrating Christmas the Sunday before, with a family dinner at the home of Dean's grandparents, the Henry Brewers. Mr. Brewer got home from the hospital on Friday before the dinner so his family was doubly thankful. Then the Watsons all gathered at the Millard Watsons on Dec. 23 and 25. Brenda and Dean and children were at the home of her parents, the Tom Moores, on Christmas Eve.

Faye and William Bertrand had all their children home for Christmas, but the host was absent, down with intestinal flu in the hospital. He went in Thursday and came home Monday. All went by to cheer him up. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Bertrand and Shelly, Vernon; Mr. and Mrs. Martin Warren, Lezlie and Will of Tahoka; Mr. and Mrs. Randy Bertrand, Angie and Misti, Floydada.

Frank Smith of Floydada, and daughter, Mrs. G.J. Hedrick and her husband of Amarillo all visited Frank's sister, Mrs. Viola Brown on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Brown was hostess to all her children for a family dinner on the 26th. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Billy Joe Hambright, Todd; daughter Kathy and baby daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Brown, Rex and Andy Brown and Miss Loretta Bennett of Lubbock.

Dr. and Mrs. Phillip McCurdy and children, Lillie and Sara of Marble Falls, arrived at the Rudolph McCurdy's on Dec. 18, as did Mr. and Mrs. Larry McCurdy, Rusty, Cindy and Cody of Lubbock. They had their family party and gift exchange a week early.

Mrs. Roy Fawver ate Christmas Eve lunch at the Carlton Fawvers. Then she went over to the Leslie Fawvers Christmas Eve night for supper, and helped take down their tree. They all came home to mama's for Christmas Day. Other visitors included Bruce and Eilleen Francis, and Lesley, Jr., of Carrollton. Flora received phone calls from her other children during the holiday, Robert and Gail Ferguson, Lubbock; also Becky and Larry Fawver and two children of Lubbock were at Leslies for Christmas.

Home for Christmas were Katherine and Warren McDougle and children, Dinah, Jason and Candice of Kerrville; Becky and Richard Sterling, Ginger, Janna and Andrea of El Dorado, Texas; Linda and Wayne Nixon and Keith of Seminole. On Tuesday night, Jean's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin McSwann of Albuquerque, New Mexico arrived and stayed two days. They met the storm that blew in New Year's Eve and had to spend the night at Santa Rosa before they could get back home.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pyle and children enjoyed Christmas dinner and family gift exchange on Tuesday at the Sterling Cummings'. Her brother, John, was home from the University of Texas.

Others included Kim and Monica Cummings and son, Zach III, from Louisiana, where Kim works in construction; also Zach and Sandra Cummings of Lockney, Courtney and Adam; and Dee and Mark Sanders, Shayla, Dane and Kylan of Floydada.

Mrs. Georgia Mae Erickson entertained Thursday at Casa del Sol for other ranch families up and down the length of Blanco Canyon. The Williams, Muncys, Browns, Beth Kropp, McCures, Adams, Taylors and many others gathered for a happy evening among friends. Mrs. Erickson, who is a patroness of the German ethnic art group at Texas Tech University, is looking forward to sending a group of students to Germany next summer. This group, the German Dancers, will exchange folk dance exhibitions. Mrs. Erickson's grandfather, Hank Smith, left Germany as a youth to seek his fortune in America and became the first white settler on the South Plains, at his ranch in Blanco Canyon, the Rock House. As the party guests drove away from Casa del Sol, the ground was powdered with snow, the forerunner of the 14 inch snow that fell New Year's Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Watson and family were snow bound and could not get out Saturday to attend the wedding in Littlefield of her brother, Mike Moore, to Miss Pam Parrott. Steve Moore flew home from Kilgore to attend the wedding but was also snow bound. The bridal couple made it to the Lubbock airport where planes were still arriving and departing and left for a honeymoon in Florida.

The children of Judge and Mrs. Choise Smith, Jody, Dean and Hunter, were in Lubbock Thursday night with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Flukie Smith, and heard the storm warnings on the news. They made it back home on Friday ahead of the worst of the storm.

Mr. and Mrs. Dee Adams waited out the snowstorm, around their warm stove.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Kendrick's got out Sunday to church in the four wheel drive pick-up. After church they and Bro. and Mrs. Floyd Bradley went on to Plainview for lunch. The State Highway crew had made a one car trail over the farm to market pavements and the major highways were cleared by Sunday.

The County Highway crew was out working and clearing roads for school teachers and school children all over our community. Floydada schools opened Monday morning. The sun came out Monday and snow started melting and dripping off houses, but nighttime temperatures stayed a repetitive one degree and the snow lasted.

Miss Cindy Burk, Brent Duke and Mr. and Mrs. Eric Cornelius went skiing in Ruidoso New Year's weekend. They were guests of Cindy's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. John Davis, who live in Ruidoso.

Max and Jeanette Harrison, Debbie and Tracy, and their guest, the American Field Service exchange student, Anna Marie Jouault, from France, all came out to Don and Ruth Harrison on Monday for a day of fun in the snow. Max pulled them on skis behind his tractor. All ate supper in the country before returning home.

Mrs. Nancy Goodwin and daughter, Hilary left Wednesday and stopped off at her grandad Jones' ranch near Truscott. She and a cousin, Miss Lon Lee, spent the rest of the week cleaning house for their grandfather, whose wife has been ill several weeks and was placed in a rest home in Vernon this week after suffering a stroke. The Goodwins arrived home Sunday, where no snow had fallen at Idabel, OK.

The snow is very wet, lots of moisture, good for the grass and wheat. Cattlemen are up early and out late getting feed to their cattle on the range and fields.

Well, neighbors, the holidays are over, the ribbons and wrappings put away and now everyone can begin to take stock and see what we have to start out 1983 with. Not nearly as much money from farm income as other years on the South Plains, but reading history books of those early settlers and the self denial they initiated in order that our generations might live in comfort and we know that cotton is not King, but rather goodwill and Christian kindness are the true makers of royalty.

Protect your herbicides this winter

If you are like most farmers you probably have some herbicides left over from this past growing season. If you do, or if you plan on purchasing some herbicides early for this coming year, then you should be aware that they may need to be protected from harsh winter temperatures.

Extremely cold temperatures can ruin many herbicides by changing their physical characteristics. When this happens it can lead to problems with sprayer plugups as well as resulting in improper rates of material in the field. Such improper storage can shorten shelf life and reduce the effectiveness of the material.

The type of storage required is dictated by the type of formulation, not the active ingredient. Wettable powders and dry flowable herbicides are not affected by cold temperatures, but liquid flowable and emulsifiable concentrates with water bases will freeze. When they do, there is a tendency for the active ingredients to settle out.

Depending on the particular formulation a herbicide has, the entire contents of the container may freeze solid; while the other cases, only a few crystals will form. These crystals will usually be the compound's active ingredient separating from the solvent, whether it's water or oil. Generally, this settling won't affect the assay of active ingredient, but this is true only if you can get the sediments resuspended.

While freezing weather won't bother dry formulations, some powdered active ingredients are water reactive, which means that if they get wet during storage, you could have chemical decomposition. Others, though, are inert to water. However, your best bet is to keep all powders as well as liquids in cool, dry storage.

Most dinitroaniline materials need to be stored above 40°F. If the temperature drops to 10°F, materials in these chemicals will start crystallizing with the emulsifier separating into solids. Usually you can get the active ingredient crystals back into suspension by allowing the chemical to warm up and then agitating the container. In extremely cold temperatures, it may not be possible to get the crystals back into suspension. To be sure whether you've still got crystals after rolling the container, pour some materials into a quart jar. If you see crystals floating in it, you'd better discard the entire container.

What can you do to protect your herbicides? The obvious answer would be to store them where the temperature never gets below 40°F, but around here that's much easier said than done. One possible solution would be to store them in some type of insulated container. An old chest-type deep freeze that doesn't work anymore would be good to store small containers. A freezer box from an old ice cream or milk truck would be good for storing larger containers. The best solution would be to try to plan your herbicide purchases where you wouldn't have any excess left at the end of the season, but this isn't always possible, especially in a year like we just had.

Following is a table that contains the recommended minimum storage temperature for many popular herbicides. I have information for many chemicals that are not on the list, so if you have one that is not listed and you would like to know how it should be stored, give me a call at the Floyd County Extension Office, and I'll be glad to look it up for you...

Irrigation Conference scheduled January 18th

The latest research and innovations in crop irrigation will be featured during the High Plains Irrigation Conference in Amarillo January 18. The annual educational program for producers and agribusiness firms opens at 9:30 a.m. at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center, 6500 Amarillo Blvd., West.

Five speakers and a panel of growers will present information designed to help producers make more efficient, cost-saving use of water, said Leon New, agricultural engineer and irrigation specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Dr. Arland Schneider, research agricultural engineer with the U.S. Department of Agriculture at Bushland, will report on surge flow irrigation. Use of center pivot sprinklers for pesticide application will be discussed by Dr. Carl Patrick, Extension entomologist.

Obtaining top energy efficiency will be the topic of Lyman Dellinger, technical service supervisor for Moline Engines, Russellville, Arkansas. Making irrigation profitable will be explored by Dr. Ray Sammons, Extension economist. New will discuss limited irrigation of crops.

The grower panel will relate experiences and practices in their irrigation operations.

The Extension Service recently moved New from its Lubbock center to the TAMU center in Amarillo and assigned an additional Extension irrigation engineer at Fort Stockton to provide better service to West Texas producers. New now serves the 20 counties of Panhandle District 10, counties in the South Plains District and counties in the Rolling Plains District.

Gro Agri expands seed research program

Dr. Bobby Phipps has joined GroAgri Seed Company of Lubbock, Texas, as Director of Research. He has overall responsibility for the company's seed research in cotton, sorghum, corn and sunflower.

DR. BOBBY PHIPPS

Dr. Phipps' responsibilities include supervising GroAgri's cotton research facilities at Lorenzo, Texas, and the company's winter grow-out locations in Mexico. In addition, research is conducted on corn and sorghum hybrids at Lorenzo (Lubbock), Texas, with sunflower research being conducted in the Texas Valley.

GroAgri is continuing to maintain its position as a leading southwestern seed company by expanding its total research efforts at a time when many firms have cut back on the investment in cottonseed research. Under Dr. Phipps' direction, GroAgri has stepped up its seed research commitment through the addition of both personnel and facilities.

Dr. Phipps will concentrate his cotton research efforts on developing hybrid cotton and varieties with superior fiber strength and quality that will hold up under the demands of today's high speed spinning. In addition, a great deal of research effort will be spent on developing storm proofness, verticillium wilt resistance and high micronaire, as well as the other characteristics affecting overall quality and yield.

Corn research will concentrate on developing high yields with improved heat tolerance and corn borer resistance. Continuous sorghum research is being conducted on high yielding, disease tolerant hybrids containing Bio-type E greenbug resistance. Today, GroAgri markets sunflower seed yielding the highest oil content in the industry, and research will continue to improve this characteristic.

Prior to joining GroAgri, Dr. Phipps directed the research efforts for a California firm specializing in the development of hybrid cotton and glandless cotton research. He earned his Ph.D. in plant breeding at Texas A&M after receiving his BS and MS at Texas Tech University.

Tower asked for prompt conclusion on eligibility for disaster loans

U.S. Senator John Tower (R-Texas) has asked for a prompt conclusion to the Farmers Home Administration's review of High Plains and West Texas counties' eligibility for disaster loans.

The low interest disaster loans would be made available from the Farmers Home Administration in counties which demonstrate a 30 percent total crop loss. In addition, the individual farmer must also show a 30 percent total crop loss to qualify for the low interest loan.

"I would appreciate any effort that could be made by USDA to expedite the review process so that farmers of the High Plains and Western Texas can proceed with their planning for the 1983 crop year," Tower said in a letter to Agriculture Secretary John Block.

Heavy rain and hail storms last June and July destroyed a significant percentage of farm crops in the area. Following the damage, Tower worked with federal and state officials to obtain a disaster declaration from the Department of Agriculture so that farmers could receive direct compensation for a portion of their crop loss. Additionally, in response to Senator Tower and other Texas officials, loans were made available from the Senator Tower and other Texas officials, loans were made available from the Small Business Administration for local businesses in communities which suffered severe economic losses as a result of the disaster.

"Farmers are now faced with the task of securing capital in order to make management decisions for the coming crop year," Tower noted. "I am confident that the Farmers Home Administration investigation will find many counties eligible for disaster assistance."

Average Cash Costs of Producing Cotton (%)

Source: USDA (1981 data)

HELPING TO BUILD MARKET—Building markets for U.S. cotton thru research and promotion, is a cost of doing business for today's U.S. cotton producer. The average U.S. producer spends about one-half of one percent of his production costs per acre for his Cotton Incorporated investment. Compared to other production expenses, he spends 62 times more on machinery, 30 times more on fertilizer and chemicals, and 6 times more on seed and irrigation, according to U.S.D.A. data.

16th National Young Farmer Education Institute held Dec. 12

The 16th National Young Farmer Education Institute was held in San Antonio December 12-16. Twenty-six states were represented at the opening ceremony during the Elanco Spokesperson for Agriculture banquet.

The tours and programs were both educational and entertaining. Some of the tours were to A.P. Breitschopf and Sons, Cannonade Ranch Inc., S.R. Lester Jr. and sons, Rickey and Bryon, Harrell Cattle Company, 74 Ranch, San Jose Cattle Company, and L.J. Bar Ranch. All of these were some of the leading poultry and beef cattle operations. Tours were also taken to Fredericksburg, Hondo and New Braunfels.

One of the most interesting tours taken by the Stephens' was to New Braunfels to Mission Valley West Point Pepperell, Apparel Division, which is a complete cotton process plant. This mill starts with the baled cotton then transforms those fibers into yards of beautiful cloth. It takes several days just from bale to thread. Then progresses on to dyeing, weaving and finishing; then the material is bolted (12 yards per bolt) for wholesale.

This mill produces and ships twenty million yards of cloth a year. Their customers vary from western wear manufacturers to fine shirting material.

Guest speakers for the three banquets were Joe Griffith, James "Doc" Blackely, Charles W. Jervis, D.D.S., and Grant Teaff spoke at one of the breakfast buffets.

On Thursday morning there was a ladies breakfast and western style show while the men's continental breakfast was held with a panel of "Your Image as a Young Farmer."

The theme for the institute was "Turning Point." Never before in the history of this country has there been such a need for a turning point in our methods, attitudes and ideas. Tomorrow's future depends on it!

Representing Area I Young Farmers were Dimmitt, Hale Center, Hereford, Silverton and the area advisor Jay Eudy, Plainview.

The next institute will be held in Virginia in November 1983 and Wyoming will host the 1984 institute.

Nation's 22nd census of agriculture begins this week

The 1982 Census of Agriculture got underway last week with the mailing of report forms to farmers and ranchers in the 50 states, the Commerce Department's Census Bureau announced.

Farmers and ranchers are being asked to report on their agricultural operations during 1982 and to return the form by February 15, 1983. The 1982 census is the nation's 22nd agriculture census in a series that started in 1840.

For the first time in a mail agriculture census report forms will reflect regional cropping patterns to make reporting easier.

Farm and ranch operators will be asked to report the acreage in their operations, form of ownership, type of organization, location of the place, use made of the land, and when their operations began. Other questions will cover livestock and poultry inventories and sales, amount of government crop loans, crop acreage, amount harvested, and value of crops and livestock sold.

About 20 percent of farmers and ranchers will receive a form with an additional page which has inquiries on: selected production expenses, market value of land and buildings, machinery and equipment inventory and value, interest expenses and expenditures for petroleum and other energy sources.

Assistance in completing census forms is available locally from offices of the Cooperative Extension Service, Soil Conservation Service, Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service, Vocational Agriculture Teacher, Production Credit Associations, and Farmers Home Administration.

A file copy of the report form is provided which operators can complete and keep for their own records.

A time extension can be granted farmers who request it. Census results will be published for each state, and the nation. The first preliminary data will be released beginning in the fall of 1983.

The law which requires farmers and ranchers to report in the census also protects the privacy of their reports. Census report forms are confidential by law and they may be seen only by sworn Census employees and may be used only for statistical purposes. Even other government agencies cannot obtain or use the individual reports, and copies retained by the farmers are immune from the legal process.

Each report form will have a census file number (CFN) printed on the address label. If a report is not received for each file number, the Census Bureau will send out follow-up letters to all who have not responded.

Farmers and ranchers who have not received a form should request one from the Bureau of the Census, 1201 East 10th Street, Jeffersonville, Indiana 47133.

Wells to be measured

Floyd County's ninety-seven (97) water level observation wells in the High Plains Water District's network will be measured and tagged with identification stickers during this month by Don Smith.

The wells are part of a large network of more than 950 observation water wells located throughout the District's 15 county service area. They are annually measured for their 'static' depth-to-water levels.

The District has kept records of the annual change in water levels and the rate of change of the water table in the aquifer since its creation more than 30 years ago. This data is used for making projections of water use rates, for determining the amount of water left in storage, and as a basis for the income tax depletion allowance claims on landowner's tax returns.

In 1982, the average change in depth to water in the portion of Floyd County within the District was a rise of +0.19 hundredths of a foot. Readings of the depth to the water table below surface ranged from a minimum of 62 feet to a maximum depth of 319 feet.

Preliminary results of this year's measurements will be published in February.

Center News

By Mrs. J.E. Green

Jan. 10, 1983:
Such a beautiful day; but that cold wind.

But at this rate even by night surely the snow will be all gone. This has been a cold spell.

Mrs. Leo Frizzell spent Christmas in Plainview with her daughter and grandchildren. Mrs. Jackson spent hers at home.

Mrs. Ethel Warren spent hers in Caprock Hospital, I think. Doing better now.

Most of the rest of us since the snow have stayed home by the fire much of the time.

Mrs. Joyce Owen and boys visited grandmother Warren Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Eula Battey came too.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brewer spent the weekend with a daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Fred McDougle of Crosbyton.

Mr. and Mrs. Mayfield are not so well. He is ill and she sustained a broken right arm shortly after Christmas. Let us see if we can help any way, with our prayers and otherwise.

I enjoyed a chat with Mrs. Clay Muncy. She and Bro. Muncy I know liked to be home most of the holidays, snow and all, I did.

We enjoyed church Sunday. Good crowd and glad the Paynes had reached home from Tennessee vacation.

Alpha Sigma Upsilon hold Christmas party

On December 11, 1982 at 7:00 p.m., Alpha Sigma Upsilon, Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, held their annual Christmas party for members and their families. This year the party was held in the Floydada County Agent building.

A buffet style dinner was served as each member brought a dish. The special guest for the evening was Santa Claus who dropped by to deliver gifts and take requests from the children.

Gifts were exchanged among members and the husbands received gag gifts from their wives Secret Sisters. The children also entertained all by singing Christmas Carols.

Those who attended were: Dale, Sheryl, and Shane Derryberry, Craig, Gail, Cole, Christy, and Cindy DuBois, Bud, Barbara, Rusty, and Tyson Edwards, Larry, Rhonda, Shonda and Chad Guthrie, Nancy, Bryan, Jay and Cory Jarnagin and their guest Gary Jarnagin.

Also attending were Jim, June, and Marlyse McLaugh, Jim, Jan, Cody and Brynn Nichols, Larry, Gail, Aaron and Jennifer Noland, Wayne, and Janice Poteet, David, Vicki, Regina and Shannon Ware, Max, Vikki, Charla and Mandi Yeary. A good time was had by all.

Lady Horns below par

Last week's games found the Lady Horns a little unprepared, and as the past has held, they played the Abernathy girls and came out with alot of hustle and not quite enough scoring to overcome the Lady Lopes. The game was a thriller as always, and went into a 3 minute overtime when the game ended in a 40 to 40 score.

The overtime proved fatal for the Lady Horns as the Lady Lopes came on to score in the last minute of the overtime. Lockney fought every second to get off one more shot. Before the shot was made and just as the buzzer sounded, Connie Coffman was fouled with a one and one chance. In spite of all her talents, she faced a roaring crowd and alot of pressure. As she stated after the game "I thought we were tied and my field shot was good, so I didn't even realize where we stood." Things were very hectic and the referees had a hard time making clear what did happen on the shot and foul, so as Connie was, we were all in a daze of wonder and concern!

The game was over with a 45-43 score bringing the total point loss in the past two years between Lockney and Abernathy to 11 points.

High point for the Lady Horns was Connie Coffman with 16 points, with Shawnda Brock following with 10.

The Sudan game the following Thursday was a hard game for the Lady Horns they certainly weren't playing their best and as a result the Sudan Hornettes ran the ball furiously for a win 51 to 35. However, in defense, we can honestly say with Lisa Wood playing, that Shawnda Brock did an outstanding job of holding the aggressive Senior to a minimum of 14 points which was a job well done.

Lady Horns high point girl for the Sudan game was Connie Coffman with 21 points. Karen Mathis was second with 7.

The season is just beginning for the Lady Horns as they went to their first district game last Tuesday with Childress. All district games will begin at 6:30 for the Lady Horns and a tough schedule's ahead of them. Each week a defensive and offensive player will be chosen for player of the week, so we urge each and everyone to come out and decide for yourselves who you would pick, and help support the Lady Horns through a tough district.
