Last Texas cannery closes with auction

By Juanita Stepp

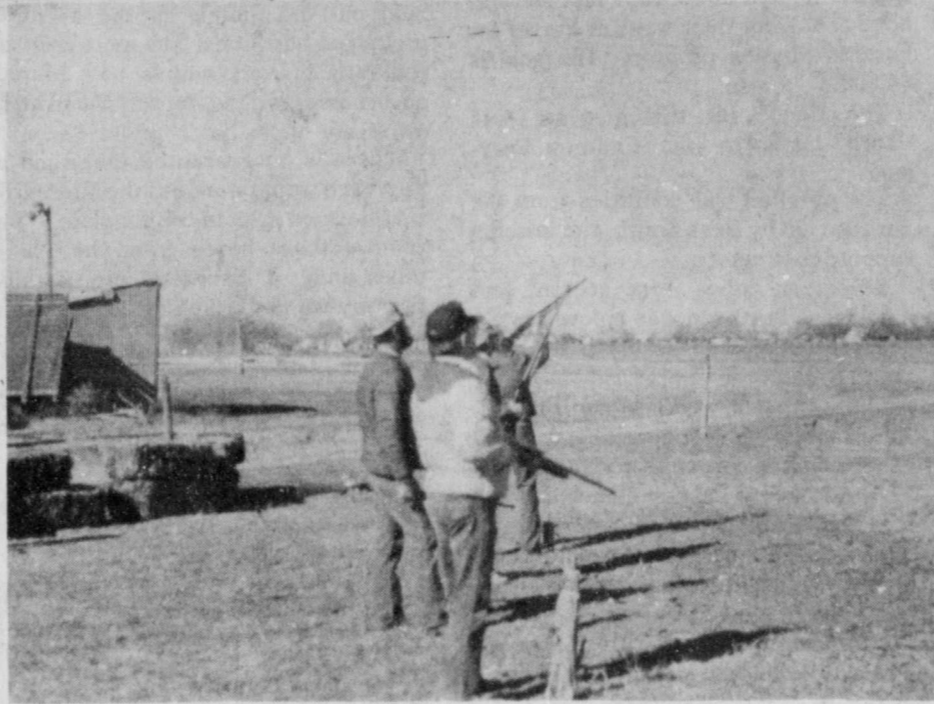

A largely sentimental crowd gathered in Lockney for the auction marking the final closure of the last operated, public used cannery in the state of Texas. Nearly 100 people vied for the remaining equipment and the cannery building during the sale, held Saturday, December 7. Gregg and Fortenberry Auction Services raised a total of $2,829.50 for the county auction.

Floyd County Judge Choise Smith stated, "Many of the bidders were women and a lot of older people were there. I guess it was kind of a sentimental thing for a lot of the people attending. They were sorry to see it go."

The building was purchased by Harley Workman of Lockney for $210.00. The legality of selling the lots was in question at the time of the sale, so the lots were not sold. A separate proceeding will be held to dispose of the lots. County Auditor Bobby Hamilton has been appointed special commissioner to handle the sale of the lots.

Precinct 2 Commissioner Bob Jarrett cited the unavailability of cans and the lack of goods to can, along with the high costs, as the primary reason for closing the cannery, which began operating more than 50 years ago. "It has cost the county taxpayers nearly 50 cents a can for every can processed this year," stated Jarrett. "This is in addition to the 25 cents per can the user paid. It is just not good common sense to spend that kind of money to subsidize the operation.

TURKEY SHOOT—These hunters were just a few that turned out Saturday for the Lockney FFA chapters turkey shoot. The local chapter gave away 11 turkeys, 11 hams and 13 boxes of shotgun shells. ## Five represent county at TFB convention Five Floyd County Farm Bureau members represented this county at the 52nd annual Texas Farm Bureau convention, held in Fort Worth December 1-4.

Floyd County voting delegates included Warren Mitchell, Albert Scheele, Ken Campbell, and Dan and Reeda Cay Smith.

Policies directing the state's largest farm organization were adopted by more than 1,300 delegates from 217 organized Farm Bureaus. Approved recommendations on national policies will advance to the American Farm Bureau Federation annual meeting to be held January 12-16 in Atlanta, Georgia.

Featured speakers at the convention included Navy Captain Gerald Coffee, a former Vietnam POW; S.M. True of Plainview, Texas Farm Bureau president; and Warren Newberry of Waco, Texas Farm Bureau executive director.

The business session covered the two final days of the meeting. The last order of business was the re-election of president S.M. True.

County leaders also attended several special conferences of the federal farm programs, agricultural financing, taxes and education, unemployment compensation and farm labor and toxic waste disposal. Commodity conferences were also held.

During the convention the "Outstanding Young Farmer/Rancher of 1985" was named. Mike Price of Plainview received that honor.

Chamber sets banquet price

Price of the annual banquet tickets was set Tuesday week during the breakfast meeting of Lockney Chamber of Commerce.

Tickets again will be $7.50 each. The Chamber presents the banquet as a public service, and makes no profit on the banquet.

For $1 donation, those present at the banquet will be eligible for a drawing for a painting donated by Elfie Sherman, a Lockney art instructor. Spike Dykes, Texas Tech University football defensive coordinator, will be the after-dinner speaker.

In other business, several members agreed to meet Saturday to hand the downtown Christmas decorations. The local visit of Santa Claus was set for this Saturday from 2 to 4 p.m. Santa will be in downtown Lockney, either in one of the stores or on the street.

Three make Dean's List

Three students from Lockney are among the 90,000 students included in the eighth annual edition of The National Dean's List just published by Educational Communications, Inc., Lake Forest, Illinois.

Local students and the colleges they attend include: Gary D. Bigham, West Texas State University; Christopher T. Cooper, Texas Tech University; Jerry G. Sutterfield, West Texas State University.

Students are selected for this honor by their college deans or registrars and must be in the upper 10% of their class, on their school's Dean's List, or have earned a comparable honor. More than 2,500 colleges and universities nationwide use the publication to recognize their academically qualified students.

Santa coming!

Santa Claus is coming to town! He will be in downtown Lockney from 2 to 4 p.m. Saturday afternoon to visit with his friends. Watch for him to be walking in front of the downtown businesses, or he might be inside one of the stores.

The Lockney Chamber of Commerce again is sponsoring Santa's visit to Lockney. Members of the chamber also take responsibility for the hanging of the downtown decorations. This was done last Saturday morning with the aid of a truck loaned by Kelton Shaw of Patterson Grain.

Pheasant breakfast set

The 1985 pheasant season will open this Saturday morning with the annual Pheasant Hunter's Breakfast at the Trinity Lutheran Church in the Providence Community.

The breakfast will begin at about 5:45 a.m. and will be held in the fellowship hall of the church. This year, as in past years, the church members will have a wide range of foods including eggs, biscuits, gravy, toast, coffee, ham, sausage, and milk. Cost of the breakfast is $4.00 which is the same as last year.

Pheasant season to open Saturday, December 14

Pheasant season for Floyd County opens Saturday, December 14 and will continue through December 29. The bag limit this year has changed and limits include two cocks per day and a total of four in the hunter's possession.

Other bird seasons opening at the present time include duck, goose, sandhill crane, and quail.

Duck season opened on November 9 and will continue through January 12, 1986. Bag limits on ducks are reached when a specific total of points on ducks shot has been reached.

Goose season opened in Floyd County on October 29 and will remain open until January 19, 1986. Bag limits on geese include five geese, not to include more than two Canada, black brant, or white fronted geese in the aggregate. Possession limit is twice the daily amount.

Sandhill crane season opened on November 30 and will continue through February 9, 1986. Daily limit on cranes is three and possession should not exceed six.

Quail season has been open since November 2 and will continue through February 23. Shooting times for all the above mentioned season is from one half hour before sunrise to sunset.

The opening of pheasant season brings many people to our country who may not be familiar with this area and there are several steps that can be taken to avoid hunting accidents.

First and foremost check with landowners and make sure it is alright if you hunt on their property. Also see if the owner has given permission of others to hunt on the same property. If there will be others hunting on the same land as you, find out where they intend to hunt and avoid this area. This will prevent you or someone else from accidentally shooting at a person and not a bird. It is also a good idea to wear brightly colored clothing when bird hunting especially if you are going to be in tall grass or weeds.

Make certain that any young or unexperienced hunters are well supervised when out hunting. Above all else make sure you know where each member of your hunting party is at all times. If there are other parties hunting in the same area let them also know where you are.

Two Lockneyites named to Who's Who in America

A total of two students from Lockney have been included in the 19th annual edition of Who's Who Among American High School Students 1984-85. Lockney students listed in this years volume are: Shandra Bybee and Heather Holt.

Who's Who, published by Educational Communications, Inc., Lake Forest, Illinois, is the largest high school recognition publication in the country. Students are nominated by high school principals and guidance counselors, national youth groups, churches or by the publishing company based upon students' performance in scholarship award contests or extracurricular activities.

Final selection is determined on the basis of criteria which include high achievement in academics and leadership in school activities, athletics or community service. Traditionally, 99% of Who's Who students have a grade point average of "B" or better and 97% are college bound.

The 19th edition of Who's Who, published in ten regional volumes, features over 424,000 students, or 6 percent of the nation's 6,500,000 high school juniors and seniors. They represent 18,000 of the 22,000 public, private and parochial high schools in the country.

Who's Who students also compete for over $50,000 in scholarship awards and participate in the publication's annual opinion poll of teen attitudes. The book is distributed on a complimentary basis to 15,000 high schools, colleges, universities, and public libraries throughout the country.

Exit test results received

The staff at Lockney High School has recently received the results of the junior class exit level testing which was done in October.

There were a total of 45 juniors that took the test and a total of eight students failed either one or both parts of the test.

In the math portion of the test, of the 45 students tested, only eight failed that part of the test. This means that 82% of the students tested passed the test.

In the language of English portion of the test five students failed to pass and that left 89% that passed the test.

Four students failed both portions of the test and four others failed just the math section. The students that failed the test will have three more opportunities to pass the test before they graduate. The test will be given again in May and October of 1986 and again in May of 1987.

Principal James Poole seemed very pleased with the test results commenting that the percentages Lockney showed are higher than many of the larger schools in our area.

In times like these... By Mary Jo Fielding

The growing political unrest in the Philippines threatens Subic Bay Naval Base and Clark Air Base. The presence of guerrillas belonging to the Maoist New People's Army is ominous to the bases' security.

One of Subic greatest assets is that it boasts thousands of highly skilled Filipino workers capable of repairing any ship the Navy sails, at labor rates a fraction of those in the United States. William Sullivan, the former U.S. ambassador to the Philippines is quoted

W.M.U. meet for Week of Prayer

The Senior W.M.U. of the First Baptist Church of Lockney met December 3 at 9:30 for their week of Prayer for Foreign Mission program. The goal is $4,500.

The theme for the program was "Lord, Listen to your Children Praying."

The program was countries from the Far East led by Neva Smith, the mission support chairperson.

Seventeen ladies were present and a delicious luncheon was enjoyed.

Prayer calendar was given by Neva Smith.

Everyone dismissed with prayer led by Faye Ferguson.

as saying, "We could probably patch together some system that would make it possible to operate without Clark. But for Subic there is no substitute. Guam and Tinian are an enormous distance away. Their harbors are not large enough and there is no work force. If we lost Subic, we'd have to bring ships back to the United States for over-haul and maintenance."

The United States wants to hold on to the Philippine bases at almost any cost. Some have argued in favor of a "Guantanamo solution" for Subic Bay, whose harbor and surrounding mountains lend themselves to a strong defense. However, cooler heads, like U.S. Ambassador Stephen Bosworth point out that unlike Cuba's Guantanamo Bay, Subic Bay is on a short term lease and in any case could probably not hold out indefinitely in the event of prolonged hostilities. The more realistic course is to work with a post Marcos government willing to see the Americans stay on.

There is no guarantee that such an approach would work but the alternative is almost too grim to contemplate. "You remove those bases from the Philippines under a disorderly process, like the way we got kicked out of Wheelers (Air Force Base) when Kaddafi took over in Libya, and it will have a destabilizing effect all the way from Australia to Korea," says one U.S. expert on the Philippines.

Scoring for Lockney in that game were Ron Cates with 13, Javier Bernal with 11, and Clay Adrain, David Lemons, Albert Martinez, Louis Luna, and Jorge Bernal each had two points, and Scott Armstrong had one point in the game. In the second game of the tournament the boys faced Hale Center and won the game by a score of 62 to 41.
