With a Red Raider from Lubbock and a "huge jar" of hot sauce from Muleshoe, the traditional Floyd County Fair and Surrounding Counties parade is destined to make spectators' temperatures rise.

Daniel Jenkins, chosen as the Texas Tech Red Raider mascot for the 1986-87 school year, has accepted an invitation to serve as grand marshal for the 10 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 23, fair parade. He is to lead the congregation.

Also up front will be the Reese Air Force Base color guard.

"It's humongus," says Cindy Cotham, a member of the parade committee, about the entry which is designed in the shape of a jar of Gallante brand hot sauce from Muleshoe.

JAM BANDS

A Lockney vs. Floydada contest is being arranged, if enough contestants are present, for parade "jam bands".

This novelty idea centers around youngsters with jam boxes marching to time via radio music. All participants will have their jam boxes tuned to the same radio station to provide the music.

"Any age is welcome, and the only requirement is that they have a jam box," Mrs. Cotham says. Prizes will go to the winning jam band.

Youngsters who choose to participate are asked to report to the north end of Lockney's Main Street, near the hospital, about 9:30 a.m. on parade day.

Expected to add color to the parade is the popular Khiva cart patrol from Amarillo.

"We hope to have a few more floats this year than what we've had," Mrs. Cotham says. Invitations have been extended to "a bunch" of out-of-town groups, although few responses have been received to date. In keeping with the Sesquicentennial theme, wagon teams would be especially welcome.

"We've not had many kids planning to ride decorated bicycles, and we would like to see more bicycles decorated," organizers say.

Gay Terrell is parade chairman. Her assistants are Cindy Cotham and Julie Dorman.

PRIZES OFFERED

Cash prizes will be awarded on community clubs, commercial floats, school and youth groups. Prizes include: first place, $35; second place, $25; and third place, $15.

High school bands are to receive $25 and junior high bands $15.

Cash prizes are offered to the individual or group which best portrays the spirit of the Sesquicentennial celebration.

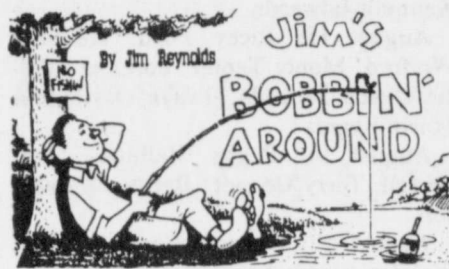

Ribbons are to be handed to first, second and third place winners in best decorated bicycle and best clown costume divisions.

Wednesday final day for one-half price tickets

Bargain hunters are reminded that next Wednesday, Aug. 20, is the final day for one-half price tickets to carnival rides during the Floyd County Fair and Surrounding Counties on Aug. 21-23.

These "2 for $1" tickets are available at most local businesses and from fair officials. They will be priced $1 each at the fair.

The carnival tickets are the fair association's only source of income besides booth rental and the fair catalogues.

THERE IS ANOTHER

An article, called "Terminology", which appeared in this space last week referred to phrases common to this area but sounding strange to residents of other parts of the country.

Mike Mooney says there is another term which belongs in this category. Several years ago, a telephone crew asked Mooney "Would it be all right if we move into your yard and bury a 'dead man'?"

Mike relayed the message to an employee who was residing at the site.

The employee was hesitant. "I don't know that I want a 'dead man' in my yard," he replied to his boss.

Anyone who doesn't know the meaning of 'dead man' can ask your favorite telephone service man.

Bargain hunters' paradise Saturday

End-of-Summer Sales

It's called the End-of-Summer Jubilee!

Lockney merchants are clearing out summer merchandise from their stores, and shoppers will be beneficiaries of "super bargains" all day Saturday.

The Outlet Store is planning a sidewalk sale, while most other participants will have "in-store" sales.

To add to festivities, organizations, church and civic groups and individuals are invited to set up downtown booths Saturday. "Get together with your neighbor and set up your own booth," one merchant suggests.

Items which normally sell well at booths are vegetables, baked goods, homemade ice cream and other such articles.

Please turn to Page Four for the bargains.

QUEEN'S CONTEST

Those planning to enter the queen or little miss contests for the 1986 Floyd County Fair should plan to attend the coke party and rehearsal on Saturday, August 16, in the entertainment building at the fairgrounds at 4:00 p.m. For further information, persons should contact Cheryl Teeter at 652-3158 after noon.

FOOTBALL PROGRAM

The Lockney Quarterback Club is selling the ads and is collecting signatures for the booster page in the football program. Fans interested in including their names on the page should contact the Eddie Teeters, the Warren Mitchells, or the George Schusters.

FAIR WORKDAY

The fair board is requesting the help of anyone with time to spare this Saturday. It is the last workday before the fair and "any time you can spare to put the finishing touches on the fair buildings would be greatly appreciated."

FOOTBALL NEWS

Saturday, Aug. 16 has been set as picture day for the Lockney Longhorn varsity squad. Also Aug. 19 is Mother's Day and Aug. 28 has been set aside as Father's Day. Persons who would like to visit with the coaches for any reason "this will be the time."

WHIRLERS TO DANCE

Whirlers will dance Saturday night, Aug. 16, at 8 o'clock at the MAC (Massie Activity Center in Floydada). Herrick Allen from Amarillo will call. Regular workshop is Thursday night.

WE DON'T SEE IT THAT WAY!

District 3-2A coaches have picked the Longhorns to finish fourth in the six-team football chase, but we can't agree.

Admittedly we also saw the Big Red squad in action twice last season and didn't see the present 3-2A squads play at all, but Lockney's young talent impressed us. Couple this with good coaching, and we just can't see the Longhorns finishing in the bottom half of district.

From this viewpoint, Lockney has a 2-1 chance of again qualifying for the playoffs. The kicker, as always with any team, is how badly the players want it.

EDUKACHUNAL

A recent survey of college students revealed the following vocational careers they hoped to pursue: Holsale salesman, technician, physicist, pilot, architect, agriculturist, teacher, writer, psychiatrist, librarian and administrator.

City passes ordinance to remove abandoned autos

An ordinance providing for removal of abandoned vehicles was adopted by Lockney City Council during its regular August meeting, held Thursday morning. This is Ordinance number 244.

It was approved by a 3-1 plurality as Councilmen Jerry Johnson, Kenneth Wofford and Ronnie Aston voted "yes" to Johnson's motion. A "no" vote was cast by Councilman Dan Smith.

Ordinance 244 states: "Providing for abatement and removal of junked vehicles or parts thereof, as public nuisances, from private property, public property or public rights-of-way; providing for the seizure thereof; providing for exemptions therefrom; providing procedures for the enforcement of such removal; and providing a penalty."

Manager of Mackenzie Municipal Water Authority met with the council to present the water authority's budget for the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1. City of Lockney's payment to the authority, beginning with the 1986-87 fiscal year, will increase to $13,382 per month.

The city's monthly assessment was placed at $13,852 when the present year began last Oct. 1. It was lowered to $13,035 in November and dropped to $12,885 in May.

PUMP FOR FARM

The city governing body unanimously adopted Aston's motion to purchase a pump for the city farm.

Tabled until Alderman Kim King is present was the consideration of carpet around the swimming pool.

Smith offered a motion, which was unanimously adopted, to place the old police car in the Rotary Club sale. This auction is planned for next month.

Mayor J.D. Copeland conducted the session. Others attending were: Councilmen Smith, Aston, Johnson and Wofford; Erma Lee Duckworth, city secretary; and Paul Lyle, city attorney. Payment of bills and minutes were approved.

WEST END OF WASHINGTON STREET CLOSED

During a called July 31 meeting, Smith offered a motion that Ordinance 243 — authorizing the closing of the west end of Washington Street — be adopted. Aston seconded and the motion was unanimously passed.

The ordinance refers to "closing the west end of Washington Street from Northwest 5th Street west to the city limits line running north and south, which street in the City of Lockney runs east and west between Block 2 and Block 13, Guest and Ramsey Addition. This repeals Ordinance 241."

Attending the called session were Copeland, Smith, Aston, Johnson and Mrs. Duckworth.

Longhorns: Lack depth but winning tradition remains

Although the Longhorn football squad will have "less depth" during the '86 campaign, the squad is not void of talent. Coach Bob Purser says athletes involved in the program during the spring indicate that 13 seniors, five juniors and four sophomores will be available for duty.

He expects "maybe a few more" candidates for varsity positions as practice gets underway.

Two-a-day drills opened Monday with an 8-10 a.m. and 6-8 p.m. schedule being followed the first week. Conditioning will be the primary goal until pads are issued Friday, the 15th.

"We'll have less depth than Lockney has had since I've been here," the personable coach says. He anticipates a minimum of "40 kids in this year's program," including freshmen. "This will be the first time we've had fewer than 50" gridders says Purser, who is entering his fifth year as head football mentor.

15 LETTERMEN

Fifteen lettermen return to the Longhorn fold. This group includes eight returning offensive starters and six defensive regulars.

Coach Purser says that, overall, the size on this year's squad will be comparable to the '85 Longhorns.

A poll among the district's coaches tab the Longhorns to place fourth in the league chase despite the fact that the Longhorns have advanced to the playoffs the past two campaigns.

The lads in red have compiled a 20-17-6 mark under Purser's guidance.

First scrimmage for the Longhorns comes Friday, Aug. 22, at Roosevelt, a AAA school. Action begins at 6 p.m. with junior varsity squads and continues with varsity competition.

New Deal comes here the following Thursday, Aug. 28, for a varsity and junior varsity scrimmages, also beginning at 6 o'clock.

Kickoff in the regular season is scheduled on the local field at 8 p.m.

Sept. 5 when Ralls comes to town.

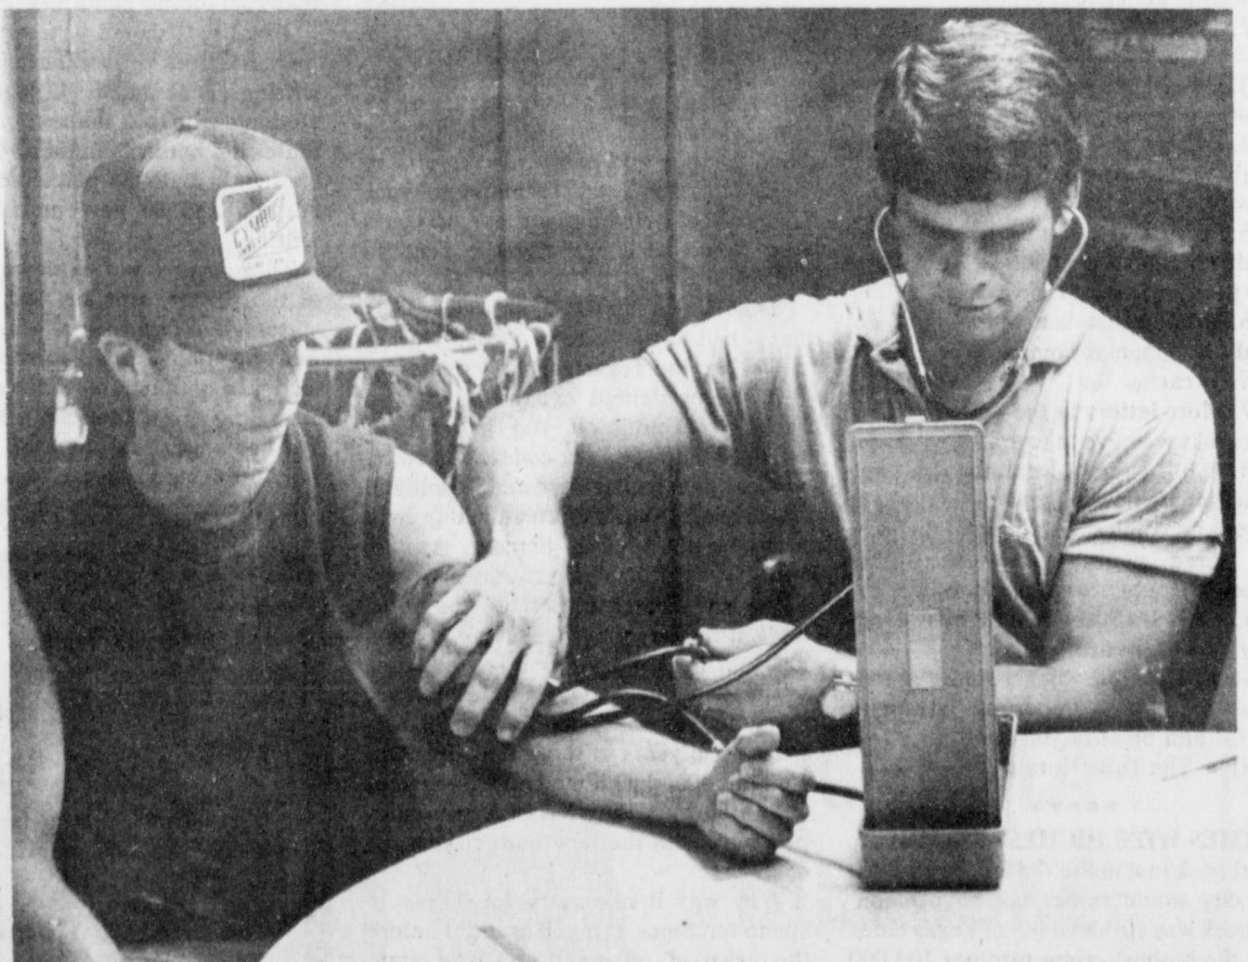

VARSITY SCHEDULE

Longhorn varsity schedule for this fall includes:

- Sept. 5 — Ralls here
 - Sept. 12 — at Petersburg
 - Sept. 19 — Seagraves here
 - Sept. 26 — at Floydada
 - Oct. 3 — Muleshoe here
 - *Oct. 10 — at Springlake-Earth
 - *Oct. 17 — Hart here
 - *Oct. 24 — at Hale Center
 - *Oct. 31 — Olton here
 - *Nov. 7 — at Abernathy
- (* denotes district games. Non-district games scheduled for 8 p.m., district contests start at 7:30.)

The LHS junior varsity is to be involved in a controlled scrimmage at Ralls on Thursday, Sept. 4.

Football coaching staff remains the same as last fall with Mickey Crowe, Malcolm Moerbe, Phil Cotham and Randy Josey assisting Purser.

YEARS ABSENCE

Although we've been working one day a week at The Beacon for several weeks, it's been almost 14 years since we've been this involved in a Beacon issue.

Pam is on vacation, which meant an abbreviated schedule had to be followed. Things will be back to normal next week.

It seems like old home week virtually every Thursday while we're in Lockney. We've enjoyed being here because you folks will always hold a special place in our hearts.

WHAT READERS WANT

What do newspaper readers like to see in their newspaper? Here's what one subscriber jotted down . . . some 20 ideas of what makes a good newspaper:

1. My name.
2. A front page article showing how crooked the city government is most of the time.
3. My wife's name.
4. A feature story showing 25 ways to cheat on income tax forms.
5. My kid's name.
6. A local news item about the affair my neighbor is having.
7. A classified offering a new home for sale for $4,000.
8. More news about lawbreakers.
9. Less news about lawbreakers. I was picked up last night and I should not have to pay a fine.
10. An editorial condemning high school teachers for being too liberal with "F's".
11. A wedding picture of the groom instead of the bride when he is more handsome than she is pretty.
12. A sports picture of me when I bowled 183.
13. More ads on things that merchants are giving away.
14. A page one picture of my neighbor being hauled out of the bar by his wife.
15. A front page spread about the deadbeat who lives across the street who just had his car repossessed.
16. Forget that last one. I just got word the finance company is coming after my car.
17. More letters to the editor naming the crooks we have in town.
18. A full page of local news, a page of national news, several pages of sports and comics, one page of divorces and three pages of all the other domestic troubles we have in town.
19. Less stuff about how cute every body else's kids are.
20. A complete biographical sketch about the "most important citizen in town," and be sure you spell my name right! — The Tulia Herald

CITIES WITH HIGHEST CRIME

Lubbock just made the top 10 on a list that city would rather not have made. Lubbock was 10th in a list of Texas cities with the highest crime rate per 100,000 persons, from 1985 statistics. Statistics from the Department of Public Safety which included all Texas cities of 10,000 or more population showed Lubbock to have 9,617 crimes per 100,000 people in 1985.

It was the only West Texas city on the list headed by Humble (a Houston suburb), which had 15,292 crimes per 100,000 last year.

A list of the lowest crime cities, the safest places to live free of crime in the state, is headed by Graham, with just 915 crimes per 100,000 (of course, Graham only has 10,500 people). Snyder is No. 3 on this good list, Canyon No. 5 and Andrews No. 6.

Fort Worth and Dallas, by the way, were 2 and 3 on the bad list, not a surprise to any of us small town folks who have visited these and other big cities like Houston, and who sometimes have been victimized while we were there. Actually, it's a crime just to have to live in some of those places. — Dalton Wood, The Lynn County News

TRADE TONY!

Talk is plentiful about Tony Dorsett and Hershel Walker — a pair of former Heisman Trophy winners — in the same backfield for the Dallas Cowboys.

After scoring zero touchdowns in their '85 season finale and their first two pre-season games this season, it's evident the Cowboys doggone need something. We're not quite ready to write off our Cowboys just yet, however, because ole Tom is still one crafty coach.

Being of the "it's what up front that counts" persuasion, however, we would suggest signing Walker, then trading either him or Talkative Tony for, maybe, a top notch offensive lineman and a first round draft choice with which to bring in a star young offensive lineman for the future.

Personally, we believe that Dorsett had rather talk than run and that Walker may not be too fond of NFL combat. Of the two, we'll take Walker and trade Dorsett. They may eventually appear in the same backfield and they would be explosive . . . but who's going to block?

UNENDING STREAM?

What if you owned a business that all of a sudden began to rake in the money at a rapid rate, providing profits that you never dreamed of and which came in an unending stream? You would be disposed to spend some of this money on perhaps a new house, new car, some trips, some clothes, perhaps some gifts to relatives and charities. And then what if business dropped off and you had to reduce your standard of living by cutting down on various expenditures such as trips and cars and comforts of life? You would try to maintain your standard of living as long as you could and would resist greatly the need to economize.

This, in a nutshell, is what has happened to the state of Texas. During the 1970s, the Texas economy experienced unprecedented expansion, due to the skyrocketing oil and gas prices. From 1972 to 1982 tax collections on oil and gas rose from just over $300 million to almost $2.4 billion, an annual growth rate of more than 20 percent. As this money rolled in, did our state government consider dropping the tax rates and cutting down on the income? This is an absurd question because we all know what happened. Our state budget expanded to meet its income. There were some years in there that the state couldn't spend it all, and ended the year with a surplus. This was taken care of promptly with the new budget year, of course.

Why was it necessary for Texas to spend ten times as much as it did before the price of oil went up? The state experienced some population growth, to be sure, but this can't account for the huge increase in spending. Let's face it. The state spent more money simply because it was there.

Move to a local level. Our county

A pair of youthful Lockneyites, winners of state honors in the Texas State Charisma Girl Pageant earlier this year, were successful in representing their home state in competition in Hollywood, Calif., recently.

Jennifer Fortenberry, 11-year-old daughter of Sam and Kelly Fortenberry, captured the Model of the Year and Beauty titles, July 23-27 at Universal City, Sheraton Hotel in Hollywood.

For her beauty title, the local miss received a crown, a trophy, a banner and a $500 scholarship. She was recipient of a crown, a trophy, a banner and a $250 scholarship for her Model of the Year victory.

Mary Lindsey Poole, 9, daughter of James and Shelia Poole, was first runner-up in Beauty Best Portfolio. She also excelled in Best Western Wear and Best Snapshot.

Miss Poole received a portfolio. The two contestants from Lockney teamed to win Best Duet.

Sam Fortenberry was named winner of the men's Mr. Legs contest.

First place on their skit during Family Fun Night was won by the local group: Sam, Kelly, Sandra, James, Shelia, Scott and Linda.

FRIENDSHIP MISSION

Jennifer Fortenberry was invited to Lubbock, July 29-31, to work with the Japanese Ambassador Friendship Mission. Participants included 20 children between the ages of 12-15 years and five adult sponsors.

The local miss toured sites in and near Lubbock with the group.

They were treated on Thursday night to "an old-fashion hoe-down and barbecue" at County Line, where Miss Fortenberry and Leah Murphrey clogged to music by Cecil Caldwell and the Duke Brothers Band as a portion of the entertainment.

Texas legal drinking age rises to 21 on Labor Day

A different kind of dry spell is coming soon for some Texans.

W.S. McBeath, administrator of the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission has issued a reminder that the legal drinking age will rise to 21 on Labor Day. The present legal age is 19.

At 12:01 a.m. on Monday, Sept. 1, possession or consumption of alcoholic beverages will be illegal for any person who has not reached his or her 21st birthday. The only exception is if the underage person is in the immediate physical presence of his own parents or spouse who is over 21. Possession of an alcoholic beverage by the underage person is a misdemeanor with a possible fine of $25 to $200.

It is also a crime for the underage person to present false identification or to misrepresent his age in an attempt to purchase alcoholic beverages, or to successfully make such a purchase even without misrepresenting his age. In either case, the first offense fine is the same as for possession. Giving alcohol to a minor carries a fine of $100 to $500. Sale of alcoholic beverages to an underage person is the most serious offense. A fine of $100 to $500 and/or a year in jail is the penalty for the first violation. A second violation can result to the same jail term and/or a fine of $500 to $1,000.

McBeath also cautioned that the age change will affect persons entering package stores. Liquor stores may not allow underage persons to even enter the store, and most such establishments have warning signs prominently posted.

"Many young people do not realize it is a criminal offense to ignore the warning signs and enter a liquor store," said McBeath. "It is criminal trespass under Section 30.05 of the Texas Penal Code, which is a Class B misdemeanor."

Another common misconception is that drinking age violations only apply to public places. "That's not true," said McBeath. "It will be just as illegal in a party barn, a fraternity house or a car parked on private property," he said.

McBeath urged voluntary compliance on the part of both licensees and underage former customers. Anyone who has a question about the upcoming change can obtain clarification from the nearest district office of the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission, or at the main office in Austin, telephone (512) 458-2500.

Variety lends spice to Ladies Day program at Fair

Ladies Day is traditionally one of the highlights of the Floyd County Fair and Surrounding Counties. With a full program arranged for Friday, Aug. 22, this year could be no exception.

After programs on "The Myths and Magic of Color Analysis" and a fall fashion show that morning, the afternoon agenda will include a sewing machine demonstration and a basket weaving demonstration.

"The Myths and Magic of Color Analysis" is theme for a 9:30 a.m. program given by Nelda Howard, certified color analyst with Beauticontrol Cosmetics.

"If you are interested in knowing more about the hows and whys of color harmony and color analysis, this program will include tips on wardrobe, skin care and cosmetics," according to Ladies' Day officials.

"Why not have color working for you, instead of against you?" Ms. Howard says. "Knowledge of your correct colors eliminates many fears, frustrations and failures in choosing makeup and clothing."

Ms. Howard, along with other certified consultants from this area, will demonstrate some myths and magic in the way of a right and wrong makeup and wardrobe, and also a color analysis and make-over in the color coded makeup.

A door prize will be given. According to Kathy Kellison, co-chairwoman along with Marilyn Biggs and Jami Kemp, "a fall fashion show will be presented featuring Leiter Fabrics, from 10:45 until 11:45 a.m.

Focal point will be on transitional styles for fall and accessories. Many accessories "individually created" are to be modeled. Directions for all the accessories are to be provided.

Along with the style show, Anne Carthel of Floydada will exhibit many new sewing notions to "demonstrate how rapidly the sewing industry is changing."

Lunch break is planned from 11:45 until 12:45.

Opening the afternoon session at 1 o'clock is to be Vickie Chance from Chance's Country Collections in Lubbock, who will be demonstrating the new Bernette Averlock sewing machine. Various uses of the sewing machine are to be demonstrated.

According to Ms. Chance, the Bernette features a roll-hemming foot, blind hemming foot, neatening, sewing together, seaming and strengthening. The machine operates at 1,500 stitches per minute.

This segment of the program is scheduled for one hour before Clara Harris of Floydada demonstrates "her fascinating talent of basket weaving" from 2:15 until 3:15 p.m.

Ms. Harris is to have on display different items she has made. She is to present different patterns used in weaving.

Archie Jones injures foot

Archie Jones, a city employee, suffered a painful but apparently not serious foot injury about noon Thursday while working with Dickie McCarty on a sewer line.

McCarty was commended for "keeping his cool" in freeing his co-worker and taking him to Lockney General Hospital. Jones, who received emergency treatment at the local hospital, was admitted for additional medical attention.

SESQUICENTENNIAL DAY—Lockney Mayor J.D. Copeland signs a proclamation designating Thursday, Aug. 21, as Floyd County Sesquicentennial Day. The event coincides with opening day of the county fair. Chairwoman Jinna Sue Turner says that a costume contest is planned from 4:30 until 5:30 p.m. on the fair grounds, with a covered wagon serving as judging headquarters. Chosen will be costume winners in women's, men's, girls' and boys' divisions. The Sesquicentennial theme is expected to be carried out in several fair booths, and "we would also like businesses to follow this theme" on Thursday, Aug. 21, Mrs. Turner says. Lockney Care Center Capers

Hello Everyone,

We had a big birthday party this past week! The ladies from the Main Street Church of Christ brought us all kinds of cakes and punch. The birthday people also received cards and everybody sang a "big Happy Birthday!" We sure did appreciate these ladies for coming.

We've welcomed another new resident this past week. He is Mr. V.H. "Buck" Kellison from Lockney. We sure are glad to have him with us.

Mr. Dennis Grabbe and Mrs. Fidela Nuncio have been admitted to the Lockney hospital. We want to wish both a very speedy recovery.

Another Point to Ponder: If you tell a man there are 300 billion stars in the universe, he will believe you. But if you tell him a bench has just been painted, he has to touch it to be sure!

out of the impasse it is in." Three days later Justice Minister Francois Latortue announced that an unnamed Swiss bank had agreed to freeze a $367 million account belonging to the Duvaliers.

Namphy has repeated his pledge to hold elections for a civilians government as soon as possible but said the time was not yet right. One recently returned opposition politician described the country as a "rudderless ship drifting from one crisis to the next."
