Horns end season at home

District champion Abernathy comes calling Friday

Fighting Longhorns are in a prime position to fire an upset shot heard around the South Plains this Friday night.

They will host the powerful Abernathy Antelopes in a 7:30 p.m. contest.

The Antelopes, undefeated in district play in the past two seasons, have already clinched the championship and another state playoff berth.

This sets the Fighting Longhorns up in a prime position for an upset in their final game of the season. They will be giving up a decided size advantage to Abernathy, but they played a large Hale Center crew close.

The '87 Lockney Longhorns are small — in both stature and number — but they are a scrappy bunch who would like nothing better than to knock off kingpin Abernathy.

While Abernathy has sacked up first place in district, the number two spot goes to Olton.

Local fans are encouraged to fill the stands for the finale.

Lockneyites respond well to campaign for Jessica

"Approximately 500" signatures from the Lockney area are ready for mailing to Jessica McClure, the 18-month-old Midland miss who was recently rescued after 58 hours in an abandoned water well near her home.

This includes eight cards or separate letters made by Lockney elementary students.

These signatures, cards and letters will be enclosed with 267 Floydada signatures to total over 750 county residents wishing the youngster well.

Approximately $35 was donated by Lockneyites for the child to help defray expenses.

Hospital lobby to be redecorated

Two Lockney Study Clubs, Pi Piense-rosa and Athena are undertaking redecoration of the Lockney General Hospital lobby as their major project for this year. A committee consisting of members from both clubs has met and chosen new carpet and wallpaper, which will be ordered soon.

Much of the actual work of painting and papering will be done by club members. Plans are being made for a "children's corner" and new furniture. Cost of the new chairs will be approximately $90.00 each, around 35 chairs will be needed.

Any help from other organizations or individuals would be very much appreciated. Donations or memorial gifts may be made directly to a special account at First National Bank which has been set up for this purpose.

Cindy Means leads Cowboy ticket race by four points

Cindy Means remains in the lead for the tickets to the Dallas Cowboys game. Her lead is by just four points. She has a total of 99 after grading last weeks contest.

Following closely behind Cindy with 95 points each are Johnny Dorman, Retha Wofford, Jared Mosley, and Karla Josey.

Kenneth Wofford is the lone entrant with 94 points and Mike Means is the only entrant with 93 points.

Those with 92 point totals are Dickie

McCarty and W.L. Carthel and Roy Saucedo has 91 points. Having 90 points is Slick Stennett.

Those with point totals in the 80's are Boyd Lee with 89, Joe Copeland with 88, Dr. Gary Mangold and girls and Ronnie Hardin each have 86 and Clementine Carthel has 84 points.

In just two weeks the Beacon will be awarding the tickets to the Cowboy game to a lucky winner.

Band gets II rating at UIL contest

On Saturday, October 20, the Lockney Longhorn Band participated in the UIL marching contest at Jones Stadium on the Texas Tech University campus and came home with a II rating.

One comment heard at nearly every ball game this year has been, "The band sounds very good and they have showed great improvement this year."

Senior group membership 201

Another milestone was reached by Lockney Senior Citizens last week when the membership passed the 200 plateau.

Carolyn Jackson became the 200th member and her mother, Opal Jones, became number 201.

The organization has enjoyed phenomenal growth since it was founded early this year.

Nina Sanders of South Plains assumed her duties this Monday, Nov. 2, as cook.

Lunch serving begins Monday

Members of the Lockney Senior Citizens Center will be able to eat their noon meal at the center, beginning November 9. Meals will be priced at $2.00 each and this noon meal is open to members of the center only.

Beginning on November 9, a trial period will open and participation in the noon meal program will be tabulated. Anyone planning to have lunch at the center must have his/her name on the list by 9:00 a.m. on the day that the person is planning to eat. By signing up on lists, the cook will know how many to plan to feed at lunch.

The menu for the week of November 9-13 will be posted at the center by Thursday and after that week the menus will be printed in The Lockney Beacon and posted at the center.

Meals will be served five days a week from 11:45 to 1:00 each day. It is important that any member wishing to eat get his or her name on the list by 9:00 a.m. on the days that they are planning to eat at the center.

Colposcopy new technique at local hospital

Fifth in a series

New medical equipment at Cogdell Clinic-Lockney General Hospital is "decreasing unnecessary referrals" believes Dr. William E. Prater Jr.

He adds that the instruments also lend themselves to "preventive medicine." Already, physicians have been assisted in life threatening situations by the instruments.

The recently added colposcopy and related cryosurgery, along with a "freeze gun," are the subjects of the final segment in this series. Dr. Prater alludes to the colposcope as an "operating microscope."

Colposcopic evaluation of patients with abnormal Papanicolaou smears — commonly termed "Pap smears" — permits the physician to visualize cervical lesions and determine the extent of intraepithelial neoplasia. The explanation by specialists in the field — Drs. Roy L. Goode, John R. Degraw and William L. Hildebrand of the Indiana University School of Medicine — in a recent medical journal article continues that "through the use of colposcopy with cryotherapy, many patients with cervical intraepithelial neoplasia may avoid a more invasive form of treatment. Family physicians should become familiar with colposcopic technique so that they can select patients who are suitable for local treatment with cryotherapy."

During the past decade, the widespread use of routine Papanicolaou smear screening has dramatically reduced the number of deaths from cervical cancer.

STEP BEYOND

However, Dr. Prater points out that the Pap smear has "technical difficulties." He terms the smear as a "screening technique" and a biopsy, made possible through colposcopy is "a step beyond."

The colposcope allows the attending physician to "observe the cervix under magnification."

According to the abovementioned doctors from the Indiana University School of Medicine, "Cervical coniza-tion allows wide excision of tissue, which has compensated for the nonspecificity of the Pap smear. Until 1975, patients found to have CIN III lesions were treated with cold knife conization. "Although the cone biopsy should continue to be performed in a subset of patients with CIN, the postoperative morbidity associated with conization makes it a less than optimal procedure for routine use."

Dr. Prater concurs, explaining that before the colposcope was added at the local medical facility, patients with suspicious cells detected through Pap smears were either referred to physicians with such equipment or had "cone" surgery.

The surgery necessitated anesthesia and a brief hospital stay.

For diagnostic purposes, colposcopy provides the same information with no hospitalization, no referral and no anesthesia for most women. The colposcopy allows the physician to view the cervix cells with great magnification.

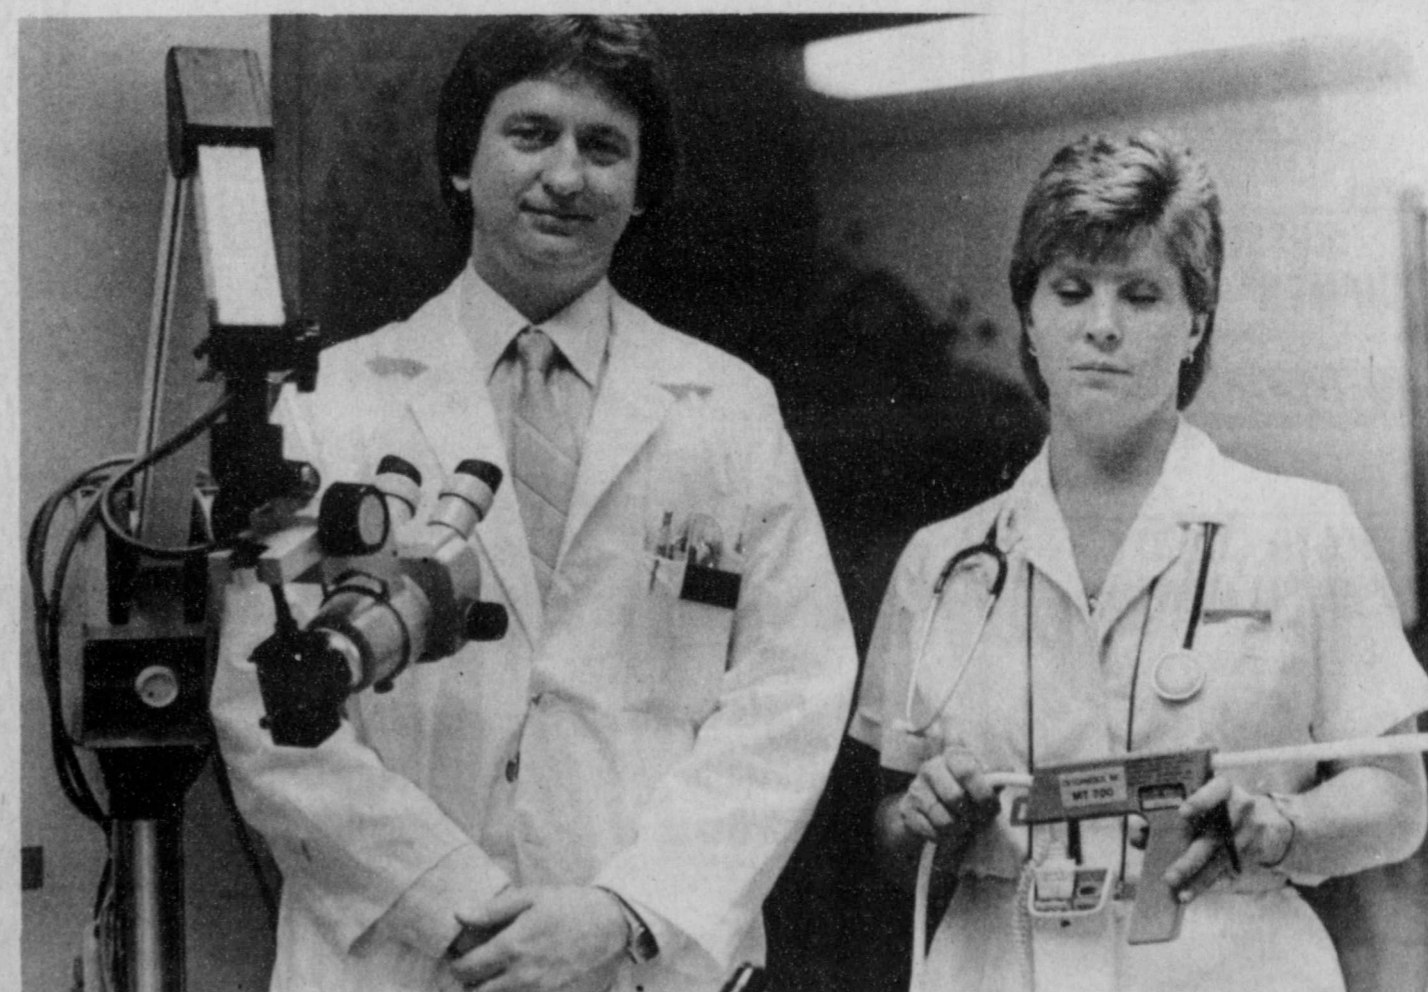

Cryotherapy, when needed, "basically freezes the cervix to destroy abnormal cells." The "freezing" causes the cervix to shed off layers of abnormal cells, which will be replaced with healthy cells.

"Colposcopy with cryosurgery has proved to be an effective, less invasive form of treatment for most cases of CIN," the Indiana team points out.

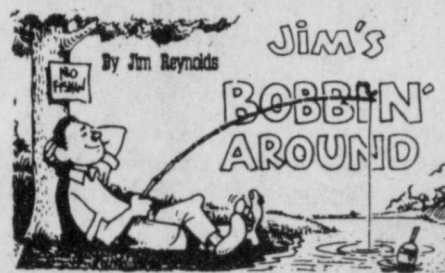

"Colposcopy has become essential for the selection of patients with CIN who are suitable candidates for local outpatient therapy," they point out. "Family physicians would be wise to become proficient in the use of colposcopy and to incorporate the procedure into their practices. Colposcopy with

'I KNOW I'M SOMEBODY'

Every time we're in the Cogdell Clinic-Lockney General Hospital lobby we are amused at the picture of the little fellow with this inscription: "I know I'm somebody 'cause God don't make no junk!"

Therein lies a message that many of us frequently overlook.

WHO HAS THE COMPUTERS?

Uncle Sam wants a census of farmers and farms.

And has sent two thick catalogs filled with (Greek, I think) forms.

He's made little boxes to be marked with small x's.

To numerate hogs, horses, cows and ibexes.

We must count oats and dogs, every inch of soil measure.

Which will take several weeks for His Majesty's pleasure.

But of 'hoppers and cutworms and wireworm and weevil

And other sad things for the farmer's upheaval

He makes nary mention, he's pertly blase.

He considers MY time unimportant, BUT SAY—

I must milk all those cows, daily, that is a must.

I must fork out their feed and break up the crust

Of the ice on the pond, the poor things should drink,

I cook feed for the hogs, keep their tails in a kink.

I must work that same soil, perhaps twenty-six times.

And resort of necessity, to these bill-paying rhymes.

I've seldom five minutes to look at the news,

If I do, some farm expert with white-collar views

Is extolling the merit of some expensive spray

For the dogs or the bushes, the wife or the hay!

And at night, too exhausted to ponder HIS schemes,

As I sleep, little x's chase □'s thru my dreams! —Irene Taylor Day, Luray, Kan.

IT'S WHAT YOU KNOW

Charlie Steinmetz was a dwarf, ugly and deformed, but he had one of the greatest minds in the field of electricity. Steinmetz built the great generators for Henry Ford at his first plant near Dearborn, Michigan.

One day those generators broke down and the entire plant came to a halt. No one could get the solution. The plant was losing money. Finally in desperation, Henry Ford called Steinmetz.

The electrical genius came and seemed to just putter around for a few hours and threw the switch. The plant was back in operation.

Several days later Ford received a bill from Steinmetz for $10,000. Even in today's economics that seems high, but it seemed extraordinarily high to Ford. After all, it only took him a few hours.

Ford returned the bill with a note, "Charlie, isn't this bill just a little high for a few hours tinkering?"

Steinmetz returned the bill to Ford. It had been corrected. This time it read: "For tinkering with the motors: $10; for knowing where to tinker: $9,990."

Henry Ford paid the bill.

IMPORTANT QUARTERBACK CLUB MEETING MONDAY

The Quarterback Club has scheduled an "important meeting" for 7 p.m. Monday in the ag building. Officers for the 1988-89 year are to be elected. All interested persons are encouraged to be present and to remember the site change.

COMMODITIES

Caprock Community Action will distribute commodities at the Lockney Care Center from 2:30 to 5:00 p.m. on Monday, November 16. Please bring your white commodity card and do not arrive before 2:30. No new applications will be accepted after 4:30. Volunteers to assist in the distribution would be appreciated.

AIKEN BAPTIST REVIVAL

Aiken Baptist Church will hold their revival Nov. 11-15. Services start at 7:00 p.m. Sunday services will be at 12 noon and 6:00 p.m.

ARTS ASSOCIATION DINNER

The Floyd County Arts Association will be holding a fund raising prime rib dinner and auction on November 7 at the M.A.C. in Floydada. Tickets for the event are on sale at the First National Bank, Schacht's Flowers and from any member of the association. Proceeds from the event will be used to bring plays to the elementary schools in Floyd County. Persons planning to attend are asked to purchase tickets on or before November 2 to allow for an accurate count on the number of people to be served.

GUN GIVE AWAY

The Lockney Quarterback Club is presently taking $1 donations for chances to win a Remington 870 pump express shotgun. The drawing for the gun will be held at halftime of the Lockney-Abernathy game on November 6. Members of the Quarterback Club are selling the chance to win tickets.

Texas cotton crop projections continue upward

Crop production projections from the U.S. Department of Agriculture released earlier in October have some important implications for Texans.

This is particularly true for projections in cotton, corn, sorghum and wheat, says Dr. Edward G. Smith, economist-marketing and policy with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"The biggest story from the crop production report comes in cotton, where 1987 production is currently forecast at 1.3 million bales, up 37 percent from 1986 and 4 percent from last month's projection," Smith says.

The increase over September's estimate reflects favorable weather in the Texas southern high plains and Oklahoma, where the October estimates increased 9 percent from a month earlier, he notes.

Smith says the grain complex was basically neutral as far as the October update crop report was concerned. Estimates for corn, sorghum and wheat production were dropped slightly to 7.1 billion bushels of corn, 747 million bushels of sorghum, and 2.1 billion bushels of wheat.

The economist notes that the earlier released grain stocks report also indicated heavier feed use than had previously been expected for feed grains and wheat.

"This will point to tighter free stocks as most of the stocks are eligible for some form of government program protection," he adds.

"Historically, it has been difficult to lock up stocks from the market, however. Therefore, given the attractiveness of using generic PIK certificates, it is unlikely that there will be significant price increases in the near future," Smith says.

West Texas farmers are willing to make a reasonable contribution to resource conservation, "but it is unreasonable to expect they will willingly commit themselves to oblivion."

That's what Myrl D. Mitchell of Lenora, president of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., told a conservation-minded audience in Kansas City, Mo. November 2. The occasion was a conference billed as "A Conservation Assessment of the 1985 Food Security Act," sponsored by the Soil and Water Conservation Society of America, the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the Joyce Foundation.

The conservation compliance section of the 1985 act requires farmers of highly erodible lands by 1990 to adopt and begin implementing an approved conservation plan or else lose eligibility to participate in government farm programs of any kind. Plan approval must come from USDA's Soil Conservation Service (SCS).

Mitchell was invited to give the conference a "private perspective." The quote above was prompted by one specific question: What is the farmer's reaction to the public's request for them to practice "land stewardship" in return for federal crop benefits? He expanded the answer by saying most producers are ready and willing to follow sound conservation plans "if we are allowed to do so on an economically sound basis."

In 1986 SCS ruled that the effectiveness of conservation measures would be judged by inflexible rules based on "T-value." Under the T-standard any land that lost soil at a rate exceeding a rigid formula number would not be eligible for farm program benefits.

PCG and others provided strong opposition to that ruling in written comment, at hearings and in private meetings with SCS officials.

Cited were the results of a Texas A&M study showing that adherence to the T-standard would cause significant financial losses in seven of PCG's 25 counties, reduce production from one-third to two-thirds in seven more, and bring to a halt all agricultural production in the other eleven. Subsequently, SCS in June, 1987 issued an amended interim rule replacing the T-standard with more adaptable field office technical guides.

But the June ruling, although repeated in a September Federal Register notice, remains temporary pending consideration of additional public comment. And SCS Director Wilson Scaling has acknowledged that there are "some very disappointed people within SCS itself" over the change.

But Mitchell made clear that for the Texas High Plains, the use of technical guides instead of T-values is "an absolute must" if productive agriculture is to continue.

Other speakers at the two-day conference included representatives of the American Farm Bureau, numerous federal, state and university conservationists, forestry and wildlife management groups and the Sierra Club, which was a prime mover in passage of the conservation section of the law.

First fall freeze nears

Cold fronts have brought several surges of cool air to Texas over the past few weeks, but most of the state is still awaiting the first fall freeze.

Just when this will occur at any given location is always cause for speculation, but a knowledge of past weather records can help narrow the possibilities, says Mickey Flynn, agricultural meteorologist with the National Weather Service's Southwest Agricultural Weather Service Center located at Texas A&M University.

Below are different probability levels for freeze occurrences and the dates these levels are generally reached based on past temperature records.

CHANCE FOR FREEZE ON OR BEFORE THE DATE SHOWN

AREA	Early [one in ten yrs.]	Average [five in ten yrs.]	Late [nine in ten yrs.]
Panhandle	10/11	10/25	11/5
South Plains	10/14	10/30	11/16
Rolling Plains	10/20	11/4	11/19
North Central	10/25	11/10	11/25
Northeast	10/25	11/10	11/24
Far West	10/26	11/8	11/23
West Central	10/26	11/10	11/23
Central	10/26	11/15	12/3
East	10/25	11/10	11/25
South Central	11/2	11/23	12/12
Upper Coast	11/6	11/30	12/25
South	11/25	11/25	1/2
Southwest	11/5	11/28	12/22
Coastal Bend	11/12	12/8	12/30

This information shows that in North Central Texas, for example, a freeze occurs by Nov. 10 in five out of 10 years. However, there is a 10 percent probability (one in 10 years) that a freeze will occur by Oct. 25. On the other hand, there is a 90 percent chance (nine in 10 years) that a freeze already will have been recorded by Nov. 25.

The National Weather Service outlook for mid-October to mid-November calls for temperatures to run near normal across Texas. So, the first fall freezes should occur close to the average dates over much of the western, northern and central areas, notes Flynn. Knowledge of the first freeze dates will give farmers and ranchers a good idea of when to prepare for winter.

A freeze will help defoliate cotton for clean picking. Peanut growers need to plan digging and curing so that the crop can be threshed by the time a freeze arrives.

Ranchers should prepare animals for wind, rain and colder temperatures. Trucks, irrigation and other equipment, and buildings need to be winterized.

Flynn says that home gardeners can use this table as a guide to when they will have to start bringing sensitive plants indoors at night to avoid freeze damage.

Farmers and other residents living in a river valley or other low-lying area may experience freezing temperatures a little sooner than surrounding areas because of cold air drainage at night, adds the meteorologist.

County men on Texas Farm Bureau Resolutions Committee

The Texas Farm Bureau Resolutions Committee, consisting of 41 farmers and ranchers from across the state, will meet Nov. 9-11 in Waco to compile state and national policy recommendations which voting delegates will consider Nov. 29 - Dec. 2 at the 54th TFB annual meeting in Lubbock.

Resolutions pertaining to state matters approved by voting farmers and ranchers in Lubbock will become state policy for the general farm organization during 1988.

Adopted resolutions pertaining to national policy will be forwarded to the American Farm Bureau Federation annual meeting Jan. 10-14 in New Orleans, La.

The Resolutions Committee is composed of three leaders from each of TFB's 13 districts, plus TFB Vice President John Baker of Temple, chairman; and David McMahan, Princeton, chairman of the TFB Young Farmer and Rancher Advisory Committee.

Leonard Schaffner, TFB state director from Henrietta is vice chairman

Dan Smith of Lockney and Kenny Jones of Floydada are among other committee members.

Tips on tax planning aired

The time to do something about your 1987 income tax situation is now—not after the end of the year.

Dr. Wayne Hayenga, a Texas Agricultural Extension Service economist, says there is a number of things an individual can do now to ease the 1987 income tax burden as well as to better deal with recent changes in tax laws.

—If you think your tax rate will fall next year, postpone 1987 income until after Jan. 1 and shift itemized deductions from 1988 to 1987.

—Be sure to get a Social Security number for any child over five because you will need it to claim the child as an exemption on next year's tax return.

—If you have a home-equity loan, keep home improvement receipts as such expenses increase the amount of interest you can write off on the loan.

—Set up separate bank accounts for money borrowed for different purposes, such as personal, business and investment, so you can prove to the IRS how the money was used.

—Buy bank certificates of deposit or Treasury bills maturing in 1988 if you expect your tax rate will fall next year.

—If you are self employed and don't qualify for an IRA deduction, open a Keogh account before Dec. 31.

—Short-term capital gains (from investments held six months or less) will be taxed only up to 33 percent in 1988, so postpone taking such gains.

—Take long-term capital gains in 1987 if you will be in the 33 percent bracket next year; no more than 28 percent of profits will be taxed this year.

—You can no longer defer taxes on a late-December transaction, so avoid selling stocks for a gain during the last five business days of December unless you plan to pay 1987 taxes on the profits.

—Offset gains with capital losses this year; you can use up to $3,000 of losses to reduce regular income and carry excess losses into 1988.

—Wait until after a mutual fund pays taxable capital-gains before investing; otherwise, some of your money is returned to you to be taxed.

—Since 65 percent of consumer interest is deductible this year, pay off credit cards and personal loans.

—If you plan to borrow investment capital, set up a margin account; interest on the loan is deductible up to your investment income plus $6,500.

—To pay off consumer debt that is not fully deductible, get a tax-deductible home-equity loan or second mortgage.

—If you're in the market for a house, buy one this year to deduct the mortgage points. If you're selling a house this year and owe tax on the gain, the capital-gains rate will be no more than 28 percent vs. 33 percent next year.

—To treat your vacation home as a residence or investment property, consult your tax adviser.

—Handle year-end deductible charitable contributions by credit card and write the check in 1988.

—Miscellaneous expenses must exceed 2 percent of adjusted gross income to be deductible if you itemize. Such expenses include tax and investment advice, union dues and safe-deposit boxes. Calculate these expenses to see if you are near the 2 percent mark.

—Nonreimbursed business expenses, such as meals and entertainment, are 80 percent deductible; business travel may be 100 percent deductible, as a miscellaneous expense. Keep all receipts.

—To be deductible, medical expenses must exceed 7.5 percent of adjusted gross income.

—Pay state or local income and property taxes before year-end unless you will owe the alternative minimum tax; in that case, the taxes will not be deductible.

—Consider buying work-related equipment; you can write off up to $10,000 or begin depreciating purchases in 1987 as long as deductions don't exceed business income.

—A bank or brokerage custodial account for your child will reduce taxes on earnings if the child is 14 or older. If a child is younger and gets less than $1,000 in taxable interest or dividends this year, earnings will be taxed at the youth's rate, if at all.

—EE savings bonds for a child between 4 and 14 can defer taxes on the interest until the bond matures. After age 14, taxation will be the child's rate.

—For any child who earned 1987 income, consider a tax-deductible IRA.

If you pay more than half of your parents' household expenses, you can claim a personal exemption of $1,900 a parent.

It makes sense to stay involved with your cotton after it leaves the farm. That's why taking your cotton to your co-op gin is a good idea—for a couple of reasons:

First, when you take your cotton to a co-op gin, that gin becomes a part of your business. You have a voice in how it's run and you share in the profits. The more cotton you bring, the more it pays.

But, even more importantly, when you bring your cotton to your co-op gin you become part of a system that takes your cotton all the way to the market. A system that joins your local co-op gin with other co-op gins to give you a voice in the market. Being a part of that system is important to you now and it's even more important to the future of cotton farming.

Take your cotton to your co-op gin. After all, it's just good business to do business with yourself.

The monthly birthday party, which was a costume event, was a "riot" with 82 people attending. There were witches, a devil, Groucho Marx, a mummy, a princess, football players, cheerleaders and many more. Everyone had "a great time" with music and games in addition to lots of food. Members would like to thank Missy Minick and Glenda Pinner for the popcorn balls and ghostly suckers which were used as favors from the party.

New hostesses for November are Nora Bybee and Cornelia Johnson. Activities for this month will include a game night on Nov. 5 at 6:30 p.m., a pot luck supper on Nov. 12 at 6:30 p.m. and the monthly birthday party on Nov. 19, also at 6:30 p.m.

Visiting with Bettie Counts last week were Ruby Rudine and her nephew Jerry Thaggard from California. They spent most of two days in the Floyd County Historical Museum looking up the history of Ruby's relatives.

Bertha Rolling and her son Billy Don spent most of last week visiting Bertha's sister in Anna, Texas, and her brother in Blue Ridge, Texas.

Maxine Hill and Gene Newton would like to thank everyone who helped with activities during the month of October. They served as the hostesses for last month.

Clara Reecer, Paul and Zora traveled to St. Louis, Missouri, to visit with Paul and Zora's daughter and then to Branson for sightseeing.

Birthdays include Annie Mae Mercer on Nov. 1, Grace Colson on Nov. 4, Rusty Baccus on Nov. 5 and Henry Rowell and Pauline Sams on Nov. 6.

Anniversaries are Mr. and Mrs. M.W. Hartman on Nov. 5.

DECEMBER WEDDING PLANNED — Mr. and Mrs. Joe Nance of Lockney, announce the engagement of their daughter, Amy Jill, to 2nd Lt. ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED — Mr. and Mrs. Jesus Sanchez of Plainview announce the engagement of their daughter, Anita J. Palz, to Lance Corporal Israel Gonzales, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Gonzales of Lockney. Miss Palz is a 1986 graduate of Plainview High School and is employed as an insurance clerk at the Mouser Agency. Gonzales is a 1983 graduate of Lockney High School and is a Lance Corporal in the United States Marine Corp. Gonzales is stationed in Camp Lejeune, North Carolina. The couple will exchange wedding vows December 19 at Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Plainview.

Lockney Care Center

By Lanita Cantwell

The entire community seemed to be abuzz with activities last week, and the nursing home was no exception. We put up the Halloween decorations a little each day until we were ready for our festivities on Friday. Daisy Burson helped make the jack-o-lanterns that hung in our windows. Thanks, Daisy! After a real effort at blowing up a few balloons, Jeff Isom came to my rescue and finished the task. Residents were helping place them around our home. We had a very good party on Friday, and had lovely decorated cookies made for us by 4-H members. The dietary staff provided orange punch and we also had chips and nuts. Nellie Stephens and Bessie Jackson tied in the game to pin a wart on the witch's nose. We had some strange looking visitors—a zebra, a very scary ghost, Minnie Pearl, a cute clown, a French chef and her staff of workers. We want to thank Jennifer Fortenberry, Lila Booker, Jessica Lemons, Carolyn Turner and Mandy Hunter for baking and decorating the lovely cookies.

We were so pleased at the response to our Trick or Treat invitation. We had a large number of children from the elementary school come after school on Friday. The residents had prepared little bags of treats to hand out. We hope all of you got some. We had to give some of the later ones fruit and marshmallows, but we were very happy that everyone came. The residents enjoyed seeing the children in their cute costumes.

We have a lot of people to thank for various donations and favors. We are enjoying the lovely geraniums brought by Mrs. Kellison to spend the winter with us. They really brighten up our living room. We also thank the Methodist women for sharing a bouquet with us, and also the Hunter family for sharing flowers. The children that come with the Main Street Church of Christ group gave residents some miniature pumpkins which they are proud of. This week we have a lovely large basket of dahlias and other fall flowers brought by Chuck Wilson. We are pretty sure at least some of them came from the Wilson yard. Thanks a lot! We also wish to thank the Matador 4-H Club for making new door decorations for us. These will be placed on the doors this week. Marie Linson, our R.N. Consultant, is the adult leader for this group.

There have been so many visitors the past two weeks. Among these were Larry Fielding from Lubbock, visiting his mother, Mary Jo. Also Bonnie Julian was so happy to have her long-time friends, Lee and Lois Brown, visiting her from Salt Lake City, Utah. Grace Glasscock's brother from Dallas and sisters from Collin County were visiting her several days last week. Naomi Heckman and family, of Ulysses, Kansas, recently visited her mother, Nellie Stephens. And Nellie had a birthday visit from a good friend, Mamie Robinson, of Memphis. We enjoy every visitor and want you to return often.

Shorthorns fall to Olton

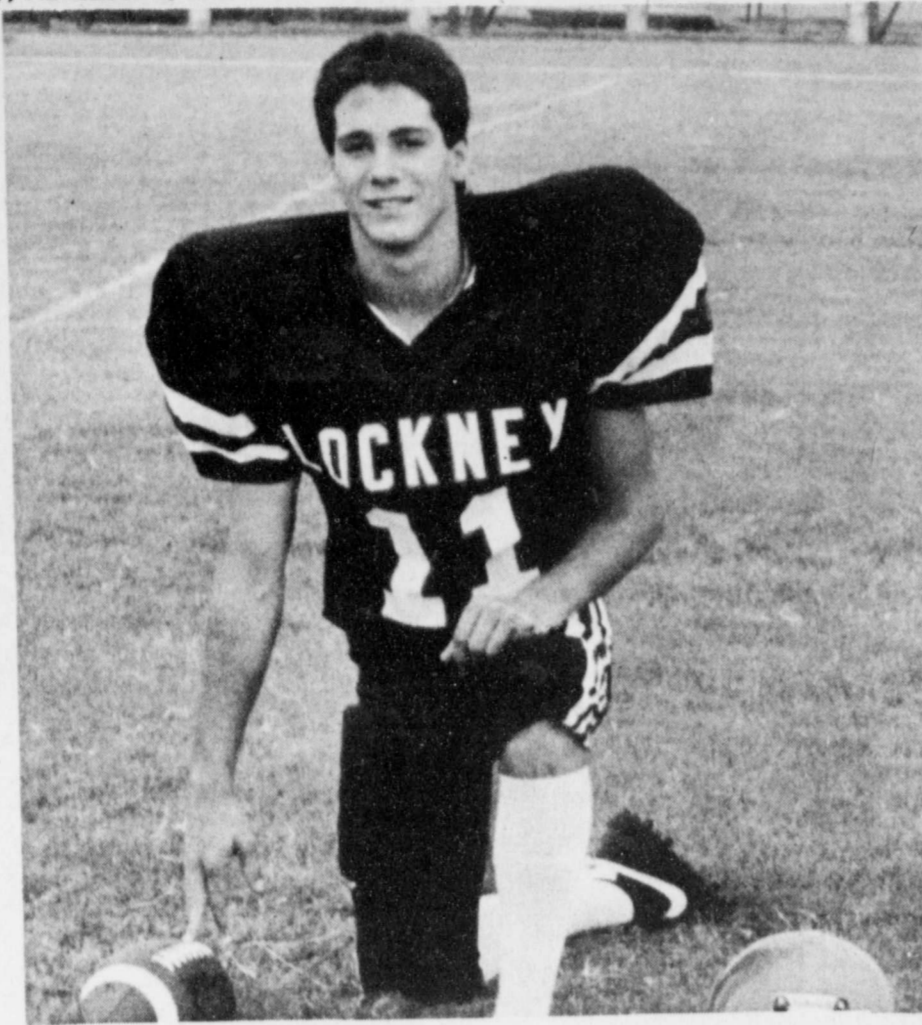

The eighth grade Shorthorns fell to Olton last Thursday by just two points in a tough game. Final score of the game was 14 to 12.

Lockney's first scoring drive came in the second quarter after they had driven down to the Olton one yard line and had to give the ball up. Olton took the ball, however they were held in place by the Horns and Lockney took the punt on their own 43 yard line and drove 57 yards and capped the drive with a pass from Juan Vargas to Ben Borjas with just one second left in the half.

Lockney had another scoring opportunity in the third quarter. They received the second half kickoff on their own 27 yard line and drove 69 yards to the Colt 4 only to see an attempted field goal come up short.

In the fourth quarter they drove 80 yards down field and Augustine Pena skirted around the right end for a TD with 1:04 left in the game.

The Colts scored in the first and fourth quarters of the game. The Shorthorns have a season record of 3-4 and a district record of 2-2 going into this week's game with Abernathy.

GLENN HARDIN is the son of Ronnie and Shirley Hardin. He has participated in basketball and football both his junior and senior year. He was vice president of his class last year and was voted Most Attractive. Come out and support Glenn as he gives all he can against the Abernathy Antelopes Friday night.

Have a good week!

Varsity boys CC to compete at district

On November 7 the Lockney varsity boys cross country team will travel to Mae Simmons Park in Lubbock to compete in the district CC meet, and will hope for a win and another trip to the state meet in Austin.

The boys team qualified for regionals by placing first in the district meet on October 24 in Lubbock.

Placing in the district meet were Mark Gatica, first with a time of 17:10, and Albert Martinez who placed second with a time of 17:29. Also running were Jorge Bernal who placed fifth, Henry Ruiz who placed eighth, Javier Bernal who placed ninth, and Louis Perales and Kip Holt, who ran but did not place in the top ten. All of these young men plus Joe Luis Guerrero, Roland Raissez, and Daniel Martinez, who are team alternates, are preparing for the regional meet. Also running cross country this year on the varsity girls team were Angie Moya, Rosellen Arjona, Veronica Blanco, Joann Castro, Linda Cruz, Soyla Luna, and Amy Turner. Moya was the only young lady to place at the district meet, however the girls team placed fourth overall.

Junior varsity runners on the boys team include Gilbert Ruiz and the three alternates for the varsity team.

JV girls runners included Kima Blanco, Tina Martinez, Neela Patel, and Melinda Basaldua.

This year the Lockney Junior High also had cross country runners and they were Augustine Pena, Chris Villa, Juan Vargas, Tony Ascencio, Michelle Delgado, Martha Harris, Yolanda Rodriguez and Daisy Blanco.

Olton downs varsity 24-0

The Longhorns varsity had two field goal opportunities which fell just to the side of the uprights Friday night as they faced Olton on the opponents' home field. Final score of the game was 24 to 0.

Michael DeLeon, Ron Cates and Phillip Glasson were outstanding on defense as they got in some excellent tackling at key times in the game.

Another player who was outstanding in the game was Glenn Hardin who lead the Lockney team in rushing yardage. Hardin also had some excellent plays in defense which included two passes which he tipped out of the opposing receiver's hands.

Also giving a great effort for the Horns were Todd Hallmark, Jimmy Ballejo, Javier Bernal and Clay Harrison.

This week the Horns will close the 1987 season at home as they face Abernathy.

Seventh grade bows to Olton by 20-0

Coach Tommy Kelly named as players of the week the entire offensive line which "did a great job blocking." Joey Adams both on offense and defense, and the offensive back Sammy Salas, Daniel Perez and Renae Salas after their game with Olton last week.

The Shorthorns fell to Olton by a score of 20-0.

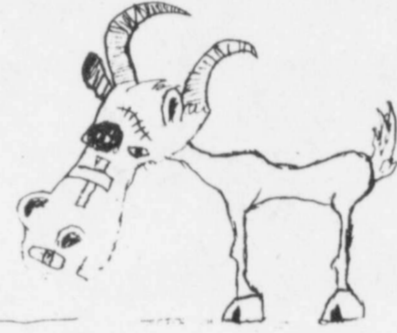

Girls basketballers open with Southland

The Lockney varsity and junior varsity girls basketball teams are preparing for their first scrimmage of the upcoming season. The two Lockney teams will play Southland, in Lockney, on November 10 beginning at 5:30 p.m.

BOYD JACKSON, #64, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D.K. Jackson. Jackson is a member of NHS and is now serving as president. He is also active in FFA. Jackson played football his freshman year and came out again this year to help the Horns as guard and linebacker. He was a member of the state computer team his junior year. Come out and support Boyd "Action" Jackson as we play our last game.

CONTEST RULES

Any Beacon subscriber or person purchasing a copy from a newsrack is eligible to enter, except for employees of Floyd County Newspapers. Three cash prizes are awarded weekly. Ties will split prize money. Staff members of this newspaper are sole judges of the contest and their decision is final.

It is not necessary to indicate scores on all the games, but total scores (combined total of both teams) of the tie-breaker must be indicated in football.

Circle the team you believe will win each of the footballs. Deadline for submitting entries is 5 p.m. Friday and winners will be announced in the following week's issue.

Enter one entry per person per week. Print name and address plainly on blank below and bring entire page to The Beacon office in Lockney before 5 p.m. Friday.

The tie breaker game will be considered only in case of ties.

Contestants receive one point for each correct game throughout the season. The person with the greatest number of points for the season wins two tickets to the Cowboys-Miami Dolphins game in Dallas on Nov. 22.

Parent Advisory Council meet scheduled for Thursday night

On Thursday, November 5, at 7 p.m. a (PAC) Parent Advisory Council meeting will be held for Lockney I.S.D. in the cafeteria at the elementary school. "Because your child receives services from Chapter I Remedial Reading or the migrant program, you are cordially invited to attend," school officials say.

Chapter I students are determined by test scores in reading; whereas, migrant students are based on occupations defined as agricultural. These students receive supplementary assistance paid for with special funds.

In order to provide for their needs, parent participation is encouraged in planning this program.

There will be an election of officers and a brief overview of the programs. "Thank you for your cooperation. We hope to see you there," officials state.

A prize will be given, and refreshments will be served.

CONCILIO CONSEJERO DE PADRES

El Concilio de Padres tendra una junta el jueves, noviembre dia 5, a las 7 p.m. en la escuela elemental. Invitamos muy cordialmente a los padres de estudiantes en los programas migrante, y titulo I en lectura. Les urgimos que asistan a esta junta tan importante, ya que tendremos elecciones para elegir nuevos miembros para el Concilio Consejero de Padres. Ustedes los padres elejiran los nuevos miembros. Este concilio ayuda en aconsejar al distrito escolar en la planificacion, funcionamiento, y evaluacion de los programas federales.

Les urgimos que asistan a esta junta, y porfavor envuelvanse en la educacion de sus hijos. El superintendente, y los principales, y varias maestras y sus ayudantas estaran presentes para visitar con los padres de familia y ayudarles en cualquier manera posible.

Tendremos un premio para la persona agraciada, y refrescos para todos. Favor de asistir!

Lockney PTA News Digest

Lockney P.T.A. organization is planning its second monthly meeting of the 1987-88 school year. This meeting will be held on Monday, November 9, beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the Lockney Elementary School Cafeterium.

Featured topic of this meeting will be Child Safety. McGruff the Crime Dog, from the Plainview Police Department, will be the featured speaker. Parents are encouraged to come to the meeting and bring children also. November is Child Safety Month and the Lockney P.T.A. is hoping to educate parents and children in ways to avoid accidents.

During the meeting door prizes will be awarded to a lucky parent and also to the class who has the most parents represented at the meeting. Plan to attend this important meeting.

In other P.T.A. news, the jackets, which were sold earlier this year, have arrived. If you ordered a jacket, please contact Kathy Allen about picking it up. The P.T.A. would like to thank all those who purchased jackets and those who helped to sell them. This is the first P.T.A. project in which all proceeds will go toward starting a scholarship program.

The Lockney P.T.A. now has 167 members and they are pleased with the number. Parents are encouraged to take an active interest in the organization whose purpose is to help children, parents and teachers become aware of the school policies, problems and programs. "We hope our contributions will make a difference to the betterment of Lockney and the citizens relationship with the schools," commented Kathy Allen, organization president.

SAVE YOUR LABELS

Again this year the Lockney Elementary School children and members of the community are being asked to save soup and other food product labels for the purchase of physical education equipment for the elementary school. In past years a great number of equipment purchases have been made through this program, which costs the school nothing. Without this program, money would have to be budgeted each year for the purchases. By using the program, students are able to assist in acquiring new equipment, at no cost, just a little time to remind parents and friends to save the labels.

At the end of the period in which labels are collected, both the individual and the class that turn in the most labels will be awarded prizes. Anyone wishing to help in saving these labels, may give them to any elementary school student or may turn them in to Joyce Marks at the elementary school.

Among the products which qualify for this program are all Campbell's soups — both canned and dry, all Franco-American products, Swanson canned and frozen food products, LeMenu frozen dinners, Mrs. Paul products, Prego, V-8 juice and Pepperidge Farms.

MERCHANTS SUPPORT HORNS — During the summer, two of the Lockney varsity cheerleaders, Shea Jackson and Cindy Cook, approached local merchants with the idea of sponsoring ads on athletic bags to be presented to the members of the Lockney Longhorn varsity football team. With the help of eleven merchants, these young ladies were able to accomplish their goal, and during an earlier pep rally this year, each member of the team received an athletic bag with the names of the sponsors included on it. Also included on the bags, which were purchased from Nasco, Inc., is the Longhorn emblem along with the wording "Lockney — Home of the Longhorns." Those merchants making it possible for these bags to be given to the team members were First National Bank of Lockney, Rusty Baccus Real Estate, Tye Company, Schacht Flowers, Gifts, and Jewelry, Attebury Grain Company, Kellison Fertilizer and Spraying, J&K Insurance, Moore-Rose Funeral Home, Farm Bureau Insurance and Clar Schacht, Lockney Meat Company, and Stapp Body Shop.

Lockney 4-H

By Kip Holt

The Lockney 4-H Club met on October 21 in the junior high cafeteria. The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Cynthia Martin and the 4-H pledge and motto was led by Allen Martin. The inspirational time was led by Lila Booker.

The program for the evening was a food auction with Allen Martin and Mark Terrell serving as co-chairmen. Members brought food items and then they were auctioned off to the member making the highest bid. The proceeds from the auction will be sent to the Jessica McClure medical expense fund.

Joel Mitchell, president, presided over the business meeting. It was decided to have an "Apple Bite" booth at the PTA Halloween Carnival. Members were also reminded of the pecan sales, which will begin November 7.

Refreshments were served by Chad Cook, Lila Booker, Almedena Basaldua and Jenny Anderson. Recreation was led by Jerod Glasson.

 cryosurgery should reduce the need for cervical conization, with its associated morbidity, and should help control the overall cost of care."

This is exactly what is happening at the local medical facility.

The Indiana doctors add that the colposcope is "essentially a magnifying glass with a light source."

EXAMINATION ALLOWED

Colposcopy permits precise definition of the site, size and quality of cervical lesions. Biopsy specimens should be obtained colposcopically if the lesions are not clearly seen with the naked eye.

Should findings secured via a colposcope examination suggest serious problems, such as a malignancy, the patient would be referred immediately by the local attending physician to a specialist. Dr. Prater points out that the advanced equipment does not eliminate the need for referrals, but it does reduce the need for "unnecessary referrals."

He recommends that a woman having cryosurgery "follow up" with quarterly Pap smears for one year and annually thereafter to ascertain that all suspicious cells have been destroyed and do not reoccur.

Another advantage of colposcopy — the colposcope model used locally was produced by Nikon, a Japanese firm known for camera production — is that the primary care physician has undertaken all preliminary work in the event referral becomes necessary. In cases where time is of the essence, this is highly advantageous.

WEEK NINE WINNERS

Last week's football contest had some close entrants and the prize moneys will be split between four entrants.

Slick Stennett is the clear cut first place winner. His entry had only three missed games and a tie breaker score of 21. He wins the $10 prize.

Tying for second place were three entrants who each missed three games

HALE CENTER BAZAAR

Hale Center Country Friends Extension Club, formerly Young Homemakers, will have its annual Christmas bazaar Nov. 7-8 at Akin Elementary Cafeteria in Hale Center.

STARLIGHT OF AMERICA WINNER

Mary Lindsey Poole recently participated in the Starlight of America area preliminary in Bowle and returned home with six trophies, two crowns and two banners. She won best model, best talent, best western wear, best party-wear, best portfolio and most photogenic. She was also named high point individual and received a diamond ring for this honor. Miss Poole has been asked to perform at the Oklahoma Starlight of America area preliminary which will be held in the McMann Auditorium on November 14. She will entertain and present awards to the Oklahoma winners.

"FREEZE-GUN"

Another use of the "cryo-gun" or "freeze-gun" is treatment of warts and various other skin lesions. Some may be benign and others are pre-cancerous.

In most instances, freezing is superior to cutting out or burning off skin lesions. Frequently, the latter methods require anesthesia.

The physician controls both the application and depth of the freeze. A patient normally feels a sensation but no severe pain.

Dr. Prater explains that a gel is applied to the skin before using the cryo-gun, which operates on nitrous oxide. The freeze "forms an ice ball."

The frozen cells form a small blister, which later "sluffs off" and new skin is then produced.

This instrument is produced by Crymedics, Inc.

Aiken Baptist Church hosts November revival

Aiken Baptist Church will hold their revival Nov. 11-15 with Evangelist Stan Frye bringing the messages.

Bro. Frye, of Taylorsville, N.C., is a graduate of Fruitland Baptist Institute in Hendersonville, N.C. He has earned both a bachelors and masters degree in divinity from Luther Rice Seminary in Jacksonville, Florida, and has pastored Baptist churches for 13 years.

Bro. Frye is presently in his eighth year of full term evangelism. He has preached over 200 crusades, revivals, and other special meetings in the U.S. He has also traveled in several foreign countries and has preached to thousands of people in Africa.

Bro. Frye has spent hundreds of hours in family counseling and believes there is a great need to preserve the Christian home. Bro. Frye believes that the only hope the world has is a spiritually awakening within the local church and within the family unit.

A family man, Bro. Frye has been married to Jo Anne Lail Frye since September 25, 1965. They have two children, Rebecca and Joel.

Bro. Frye will bring messages on such topics as: the origin of the home, communications in marriage, marriage roles, love in marriage, parental responsibilities, child responsibilities and sexual compatibility. The five day revival will begin Nov. 11 with services starting at 7:30 p.m. The revival ends Sunday, Nov. 15, with services at noon and 6:00 p.m. Music will be provided by Charles Lawson and Lisa Gentry. Everyone is welcome and if there are any questions about the revival, call the Rev. Ray Starnes at 652-3465.

STAN FRYE

In Times Like These...

by Mary Jo Fielding

There have been summits before, of course, but this one will be something special. After nearly six years of tense and frequently stormy on-and-off negotiations the superpowers that share the awesome ability to blow up the world will have an actual commitment for their leaders to solemnize. So the next summit will not be a mere smile-and-handshake affair like Geneva in 1985, or an inconclusive wrangle, like Reykjavik last year. Instead Ronald Reagan and Mikhail Gorbachev intend to sign a pact that will for the first time eliminate a whole class of modern nuclear weapons and just maybe begin to turn the U.S. and U.S.S.R. away from their arms race.

Where will they meet? In the U.S., it seems clear, undoubtedly beginning in Washington. Exactly when will Gorbachev come calling and how long will he stay? Details, details the superpowers appeared to be saying. Secretary of State George Shultz and Soviet Foreign Minister Edward Shevardnadze in their meeting refused to get bogged down in the fine points.

However, not withstanding all of this, Mikhail Gorbachev cannot get the United States to limit "Star Wars" development and refused last Friday to set a date for a summit with President Reagan to sign a ban on medium-range nuclear missiles.

Social Security News

By Terry J. Clements

Disabled people want to be regarded as normal persons capable of being productive and useful to their families and to society. Most would like to go back to work, but two main concerns hold some of them back. These are fear of failure and losing their disability checks, and fear of losing their Medicaid coverage.

Social Security has tried to meet these two concerns by creating incentives for disabled people who work.

One of the incentives that has proved to be very effective for people getting Social Security disability checks is the trail work period, which assures disabled persons that they can continue receiving disability checks for up to 9 months while testing their ability to work. Those 9 months need not be in a row, but can be separated by months or even years when the person doesn't work at all.

Generally, only months in which an employee earns over $75 gross wages count as trial work months. For self-employed people, net earnings over $75 a month or more than 15 hours with the business count.

After the trial work period, a decision is made as to whether the disabled person can perform substantial gainful work. If the person can, benefits will end after a 3 month adjustment period.

If you are an employee and your monthly gross wages average over $300, your work is generally considered substantial and gainful. "Substantial" means doing significant and productive physical or mental work. "Gainful" means work that is done for pay or profit.

If you are self-employed, not only your business income counts as substantial and gainful but also the kind and value of your work, including management of the business.

After the trial period ends, the workers have special protection for at least 15 months. During this period, they will receive benefits for each month of disability in which substantial gainful activity (SGA) is not performed. They must tell Social Security about these months, but do not have to apply for benefits. If they engage in SGA after the 15 month period and later must stop because of their condition, generally they must apply again. But, if within 5 years of being off the disability rolls they again become disabled, benefits can start right away.

The Supplemental Security Income (SSI) program works differently. Once a person is on the rolls, his or her level of earnings does not affect the status of being blind and disabled.

SSI payments are reduced in proportion to increases in income, including earnings. However, an individual's status stops when the person medically improves or has been ineligible for any SSI payment for 12 consecutive months.

There are special incentives for working disabled people whose SSI cash payments stop because their earnings have reached the limit.

Two of these incentives are provided under section 1619 of the Social Security Act, introduced as a demonstration project by the Social Security Amendments of 1980. Last October, President Reagan signed the Employment Opportunities for Disabled Americans Act which makes the provisions of section 1619 permanent.

Section 1619(a) allows special SSI payments for disabled SSI recipients who do substantial work and (b) continues Medicaid coverage for working disabled or blind people who are no longer eligible for SSI cash payments because their earnings and other income are too high.

Under the new law, trial work periods and SGA determinations no longer will be factors in determining 1619 eligibility for SSI.

When determining the amount of earnings that count, the cost of certain impairment-related services and items like wheelchairs, prostheses, pacemakers, drugs and medications, and other items or aids a disabled person needs in order to work is deducted from total income.

Additional information about this and other special work incentives for disabled people can be obtained from the Social Security office at 1401-B West 5th Street, or you may call us at 293-9623.
