'Rosy' Bates's Temple death ruled homicide

Former Dimmitt teacher James W. "Rosy" Bates, 70, of Temple was strangled to death sometime May 26 or 27, according to a report in the Temple Daily Telegram.

Temple Judge G.W. Ivey ruled the death a homicide by strangulation last Thursday afternoon after reviewing autopsy reports from the Southwest Institute of Forensic Science in Dallas, according to the Telegram.

Bates's body was discovered early May 27 in Temple behind a building at the Olin E. Teague Veterans' Center, where Bates was a domiciliary resident. Temple police Capt. Ken Miller told the Telegram that the victim suffered a small cut in the center of his head and had blood around his right ear and right eye. Miller said the blood may have flowed from the ear and eye after blood vessels broke due to the strangulation.

Miller reported that last Thursday an anonymous informant gave police a name and description of the suspect, saying it was a middle-aged male who "has nothing to do with the VA."

Bates had left the Teague Center on an evening pass at 4 p.m. Tuesday, according to reports.

Residing in Temple the last 18 years, Bates had taught school in Dimmitt for 15 years and in Nazareth for one year. An Army veteran who served from 1942 to 1946, he earned his master's degree in speech and drama from West Texas State University in 1952.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon in Dimmitt, and burial was in Canyon.

WIND-WHIPPED WHEAT—No, a combine didn't run wild through this patch of wheat located between Nazareth and Hart, this field was damaged by high winds which swept through the area along with heavy rains during the past two weeks. Although some wheat suffered damage such as this, local elevator operators are expecting a good harvest—when the fields dry up.

'Rain, rain, go away'

Cotton is drowning

Can the county's cotton crop survive the past two weeks of cold, damp weather?

There's a 50 to 75% chance that it won't, according to Kerry Siders, county Extension entomologist.

Up to five inches of rain has fallen in the county within the last two weeks, and some areas have experienced hail damage.

Rains have soaked the area for all but one of the last 14 days and temperatures have remained unseasonably cool.

That has caused the cotton outlook to be "very bleak," according to Siders.

"We sure need some warmer, drier weather," Siders said, adding that "hail damage, driving rain and cool, wet weather cause aggravated seedling disease and/or ascochyta blight (wet weather blight)." There is also a good chance the crop will not recover from the stress it suffers from the cold, damp weather.

And if the crop is virtually destroyed, farmers may not have an option to replant because it's getting late in the season. There is always the possibility farmers could go back with an alternate crop such as soybeans, sunflowers or forage crops; but if they have used herbicides on the land, it could limit their choices of alternate crops.

But the rains have been a blessing for corn and sugar beet farmers, and wheat farmers aren't complaining yet.

The winds have caused more damage to the wheat crop than the recent rains, resulting in wheat on the ground in some fields.

However, wheat harvest looks very promising, if it ever gets started.

Nazareth Country Rodeo set Friday through Sunday

It's being billed as "The Wildest Rodeo in the Texas Panhandle," and it will be held in Castro County this weekend.

The 16th annual Nazareth Country Rodeo and Wild West Show will open Friday night, with a second performance planned Saturday night and a matinee show on Sunday afternoon.

Nightly performances are slated to begin at 7:30 p.m. while Sunday's event is scheduled to kick off at 3 p.m.

The rodeo, which will be held at Marvin Schulte's Arena, located five miles east of Nazareth on Highway 86 behind Elmer's Package Store, will feature traditional rodeo events including bareback riding, saddle bronc riding, bull riding, bull dogging, girls' break-away roping, calf roping, barrel racing, team roping and single steer roping. Wild west events will include the wild horse race, wild cow milking contest, kids' calf scramble and kids' steer riding.

Admission to the event is $5 for adults and high school student and $2 for students 12 years to high school age. Children under 12 will be admitted free. All proceeds will go to benefit the Nazareth Fire Dept.

Marvin Schulte, organizer of the event, said the "show will go on as scheduled, rain or shine."

The rodeo is sanctioned by the Texas Cowboys Rodeo Association.

Bucking stock will be furnished by Maverick Rodeo Co. of Tulsa, with timed event stock being furnished by Nazareth Country Rodeo.

Trophy buckles will be awarded in all events, and Ted Stubblefield has made and donated a set of hand-made spurs which will be awarded to the "All-Around Cowboy."

In addition to the rodeo, dances will be held in the Nazareth Community Hall following the Friday and Saturday night performances.

Music for the Friday night dance will be provided by Slo Motion of Amarillo while Straight Shooters, also of Amarillo, will play for Saturday's dance.

Thousands scratch Texas Lottery itch

Hopeful players with dollars in hand lined up at the doors of Town and Country Food Store in Dimmitt at 6 a.m. Friday, each hoping to win "big bucks" in Texas' first lottery.

Local retailers claimed that the first day was "hectic" due to the demand for "Lone Star Millions" tickets. Local retailers say the biggest amount they paid out on an individual ticket was $100, and it wasn't known if any ticket holders were lucky enough to scratch off three $1,000 or three $10,000 amounts. The chances of that happening were slim, but that didn't stop people from paying a dollar for the chance.

The majority of businesses selling tickets were pleased with how the first weekend's sales went.

Red X Travel Center, Town and Country Food Store, Fast Stop Gas and Food and Allsup's Convenience Store, all in Dimmitt, each reported selling between 1,400 and 2,000 tickets on the first day alone.

A spokesman at Red X Travel Center said that the lottery turnout was "tremendous" and that Red X had sold more than 2,200 tickets in two days.

"It was a little time consuming, but our in-store sales were up Friday and Saturday," the spokesperson said. People started buying tickets at 6 a.m. on Friday and that day Red X sold approximately 1,500 tickets. The first winning ticket there was a $5 one purchased by Edgar Dennis.

A spokesman for Video Magic reported that the lottery is going "real well" and has been "a lot of fun."

Harry's Package Store reported selling over 1,700 tickets and awarding $1000 in prize money, including two $100 tickets.

Several retailers said that selling lottery tickets has boosted in-store sales.

A spokesman for Oasis Package Store said that he "had no complaints" and that selling lottery tickets has also "helped business." The store sold a combined 1,900 tickets on Friday and Saturday and the largest winning ticket paid the buyer $50.

Garage sellers cross fingers for Saturday

Dimmitt's fifth annual City Wide Garage Sale set for all day Saturday has fewer families selling in more locations than last year, with hopes of topping last year's estimated sales mark of $34,000.

The 70 locations for this year's event will be shared among 104 families and organizations. Maps with listings of the locations will be given out starting at 8 a.m. Saturday at the courthouse square, Thriftway, IGA and the Dimmitt Chamber of Commerce office.

No booth spaces had been sold at the courthouse square by press time, but some had been sold at the former Wallace-Brown Ford building, with additional spaces available there. Those interested may call 647-2115.

Rains last year hampered early morning sales for the 118 families sharing 66 locations, and that scene may be repeated again this year. However, a clearing trend in the weather last year allowed the shoppers to get out after noon, bringing profits ranging from $60 to $1,400 for local vendors clearing out their unwanted items.

The annual City-Wide Garage Sale is sponsored by the Dimmitt Chamber of Commerce, and attracts many out-of-town visitors to the community, according to chamber Executive Director Delores Heller.

"We have publicized the event in 14 surrounding communities within a 50 to 60 mile radius, and have made phone calls to dealers and salvage companies in Amarillo and Lubbock," Heller said. "We notified radio stations in Amarillo, and we will have on-the-spot coverage throughout the day of the sale by President Bush has nailed down the Republican nomination, although two-thirds of American voters are saying in exit polls that they don't want another Bush term.

Bill Clinton has nailed down the Democratic nomination, although two-thirds of the voters say they don't want to vote for him in November, either.

The beneficiary of this, of course, is Ross Perot—for now, at least.

The way the presidential race is building so far, historians of the future are likely to refer forevermore to that wild and wacky election year of 1992, when Americans learned first-hand the civics lessons that were only hazy to them before—about the Electoral College and the final resolution in the House of Representatives of a presidential deadlock.

Anything can happen. But the way it looks now, unless Perot's support erodes badly between now and November—as it well may—Perot probably will make Clinton President.

(The Democrats hold the majority in the House, remember?)

That's why the Republican National Campaign Committee already is getting down and dirty against Perot, while Clinton is saying that he and Perot have a lot of beliefs in common.

City to lease land

The 320-acre tract of land the City of Dimmitt bought to try to attract a prison to this community will soon be leased out to the highest bidder.

The land may be used for agricultural purposes, but the city reserves the right to evict the tenant if the land is needed for economic development purposes. The evicted tenant would be reimbursed for "reasonable, out-of-pocket expenses incurred in the raising of crops to be harvested during the term of the agreement."

One irrigation well will be included with the lease, and the lessee shall be expected to use accepted conservation methods, weed control, and "good husbandry" practices.

The land is located south of Dimmitt on the east side of US 385. Part of the tract has been retained fully by the city for expanding the city water field.

In other business, the parking of trucks on streets within the city limits of Dimmitt is one step closer to being an illegal activity.

Monday night, the Dimmitt City Council approved the first reading of the ordinance forbidding trucks from parking on any city street.

Eddie Steffens, a local truck driver, appeared before the council to ask them to consider the effect the ordinance will have on truckers. He said his family only has one vehicle, and he dislikes having to get his family out of bed at 3 a.m. to take him to his truck. He said his boss also prefers the security of having the truck parked at night where Steffens can keep an eye on it to help prevent vandalism.

The council members told Steffens they did not want to cause anyone an undue hardship, but added that their main concern was the safety of all of the citizens driving the streets in Dimmitt.

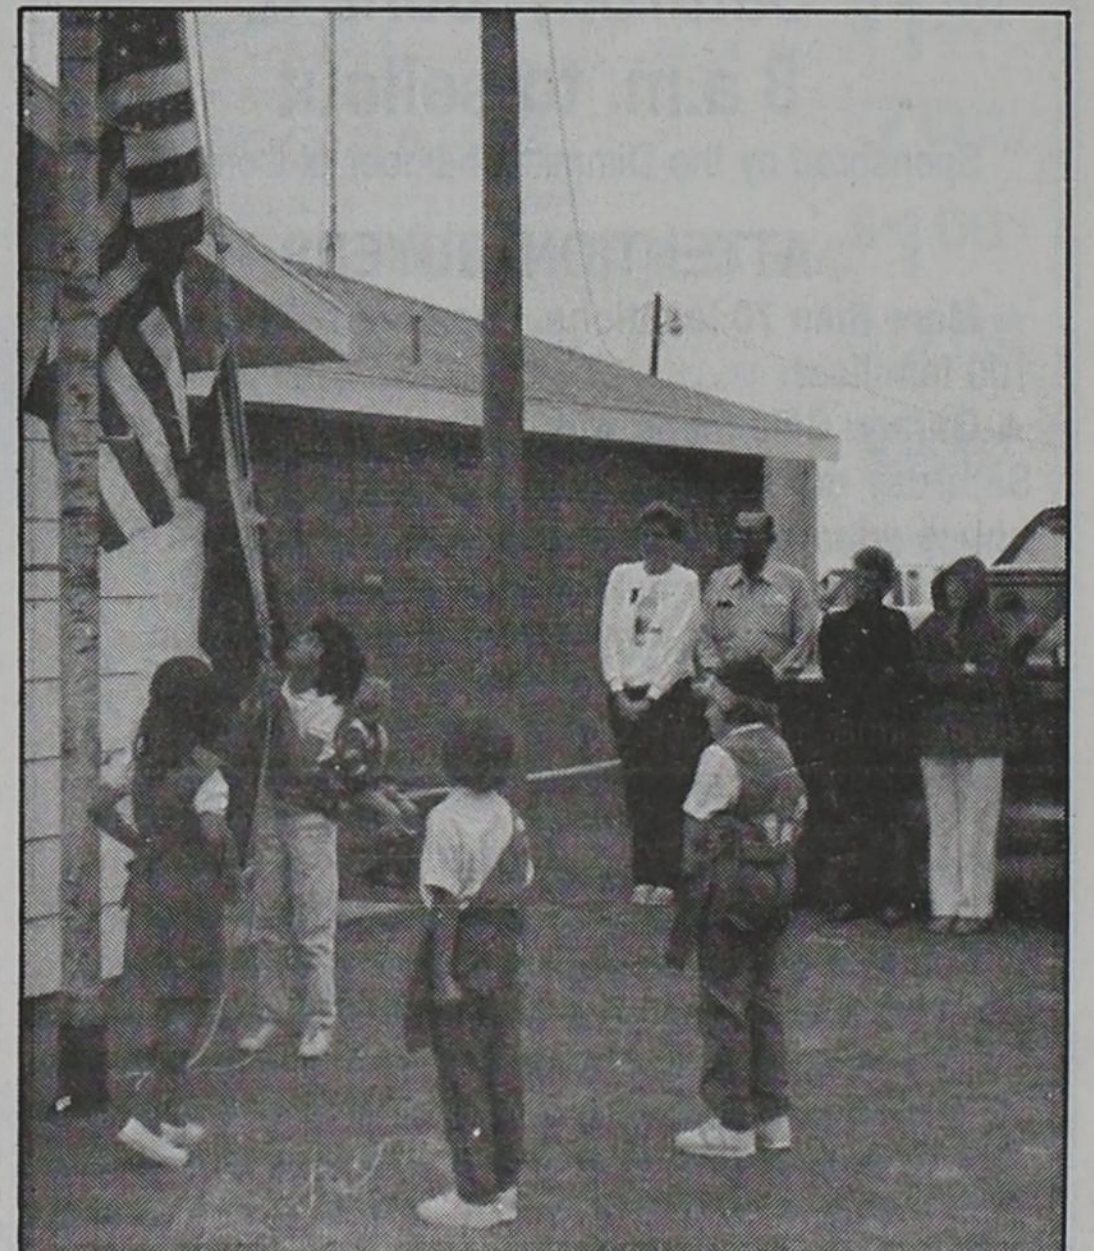

Mayor Wayne Collins told Steffens that any truck could be parked on private property within the city limits as long as no other ordinances are violated.

The ordinance applies to trucks or truck/tractors and truck/trailers having a gross vehicular weight in excess of 8,000 pounds.

Also, parking of trucks on city streets for the purpose of loading or unloading is allowed.

The second reading of the ordinance must be approved before it becomes effective.

TRUE MEMORIAL DAY—Members of Dimmitt Girl Scout Troops 278 and 193 perform the traditional sunrise flag-raising at the Castro Memorial VFW Post on the "true" Memorial Day Saturday morning. Attaching the state flag is Valerie Gonzales; other members of the color guard are Dana Gonzales, Jessica Dominguez and Amy Hubble. A big breakfast of sausage and eggs beforehand helped the Girl Scouts and members of the VFW Post and Auxiliary endure the chilly weather for the ceremony.

The First Baptist Church choir members honored Richard and Coletta Young and Alice with a fellowship after choir practice on Wednesday night. Sandwiches, pick-up foods, cakes and fruit were served. The choir presented Richard with a camera in honor of the wonderful work he has done with the choir. He had fun taking pictures the rest of the evening.

On Thursday morning, Richard Young gave a mini concert at Caterbury Villa. Paul Kenley joined him in one selection. Others there to enjoy the singing were Bobby Baldrige, Ysleta Ball, Irene Carpenter, Renise Blair, Mauzee Youts and Phyllis Mooney, pianist. Donuts, cinnamon rolls, and coffee were served.

A farewell reception for Richard Young, Colletta, Alice and Molly was held in the Fellowship Hall at First Baptist Church on Sunday afternoon. Friends from all over the county came to wish Richard the best in his new position as minister of music and education at the Driscoll Boulevard Baptist Church at Spokane, Wash. A money tree was presented to the Youngs. Ysleta Ball registered the guests and Bobby Baldrige and Rebecca May served cookies and punch, and Debra Ball served coffee. Both serving tables held colorful Spring flower arrangements.

I visited with Joe and Jerre Shultz at the Young reception, and Jerre told me she is enjoying reading the Castro County News and "On the Go" more now since she is staying at home more and has extra time.

On Sunday evening First Baptist Church presented Richard Young in a concert of gospel favorites. Some of the songs were My God is Real, Jesus (He is the Son of God), It is Well with my Soul, My Tribute, and Friends. Walter Maynard and Vickie Smithson accompanied Richard. The congregation made a circle all around the walls of the sanctuary while Richard sang the last song, and the tears were easy to see from many.

Eloise McMasters visited her brother, Leslie McGee and family, in Grand Junction. Her niece, Jana McGee, and son, Ben, came home with her. They are visiting with Tami and Randy Griffitt and family, Tanner, Jared and Kaden, as well.

Doug and Cheryl Pybus entertained relatives in their home over the weekend, including their daughter, Carla, and Cheryl's mother, Mrs. Greathouse of Clovis, N.M. Carla plans to attend college again this summer.

Hazel Taylor and her daughter, Earline Gee of Austin, visited with Ioma Stokes and other friends in Dimmitt recently. They are former Dimmitt residents.

Lee Stokes of Albuquerque, N.M., was a guest of his mother, Ioma Stokes, and also visited his sister, Sue Hawkins of Hart and family—Quincy and boys, Jeremy and Justin. They all went to Lubbock to eat at Red Lobster and they invited Holly Edwards to go with them.

Louise Kemp spent a few days including Mothers' Day with her son, Carl Lee Kemp, in the Dallas area.

Casey Summers and his parents, Charlie and Sue, entertained relatives who were in Dimmitt for the Commencement Exercises on Saturday evening. Those enjoying this special occasion were Kyle and Flo Touchstone, Tanner, Ty and Trey of Lubbock; Roy and Carla Schilling, Chana and Keila; Melvin and Juanita Summers; Rex and Cory Lust; Joe and Kathy Lust, Zachary and Tiffany Smith and Mitchell Barber, Houston and Doris Lust; Gerald and Patty Summers, Curt and Camille; Casey, Coby and Carol Summers, and Jimmy and Betty Bradley of Weatherford.

The museum board members held their monthly meeting on Thursday evening with Lon Woodburn presiding over the business meeting and Clara Vick reading the minutes. Clara brought some brochures advertising the play "Texas" in Palo Duro Canyon State Park. Rosetta Bellinghausen served hot chocolate to Lon and Mary Woodburn, William Bellinghausen, Ralph Lambricht, Dale Winders, and Clara Vick.

Oleda Schumacher was hostess to the Thursday Bridge Club that met at the Senior Citizens Center for a day of bridge. Each member took a brown bag lunch, and Oleda served chocolate cake for dessert. Dugan Butler won high score and Susie Reeves won second. Others playing were Lorann Hamilton, Louise Mears, Helen Braafadt, Alma Kenmore, Dude McLauren, Neva Hickey, Edith Graef, Ferne Dickey, Virginia Crider, Johnnie Vannoy, Elizabeth Huckabay, Ina Rae Cates, and Mary Small.

Little Alyson Smith was honored with a shower in the home of Katy Wright on Saturday morning. Alyson is the daughter of Doug and Debbie Smith of Amarillo, and the granddaughter of Bobby and Wanda Murdock of Dimmitt. The registry table held a pink Teddy bear, a pink "Tweetie Bird," and a pink carnation. The centerpiece on the serving table was a pretty candelabra with pink candles, a white Teddy bear, and yellow bird. Mattie Seale and Kate Beecher served fruit breads, strawberries with fruit dip, coffee and punch. Alyson received many pretty gifts.

Deanne Clark joined her mother, Mrs. Forrester of El Paso, for a visit to Houston with relatives, including a niece, Laura Duncan Callic, and her husband and baby.

Son, Erik, hosted the group on Saturday, and Deanne and Mrs. Forrester then went to Buffalo to be with Deanne's sister and her husband. They attended the Stewart Memorial Methodist Church on Sunday, and Deanne played the pinao for a group singing at the local nursing home in the afternoon. Shopping and movies and meeting people were the activities in the "smaller than Dimmitt" town.

Dickie Holcomb Ballard and husband, John, were in Dimmitt over the weekend to continue moving Edna Reinhardt's possessions to Lubbock, where she has settled into Lubbock Village. Dickie says Edna is very happy there, and her health is improving each week.

Tommie Sue Nisbett was honored with a birthday luncheon at K-Bob's Monday, hosted by Mauzee Youts. Other club members present were Geneva Dennis, Oleta Gollehon, Hazel Bagwell, Mary Edna Hendrix, Connie Ivey, and a guest, Connie's daughter, Zetha Blackburn.

Leroy and Linda Maxwell and family went to Crane over the weekend to see two of Linda's nephews graduate from high school—the first ones of the nieces and nephews to graduate on her side of the family. While they were there, they also had a family reunion, with all five of Linda's sisters and their families able to attend.

Everyone got to meet the newest member of the family, Michael Berry, who married second-oldest sister, Colleen. They live in Colorado and this was their first chance to both come out to Texas together. Michael is a musician, teacher and actor, having appeared as an "extra" in several Perry Mason television movies.

The family says they're all coming to Dimmitt next year to see David graduate.

Parents feel salutatory speech should not have been edited

Dear Editor:

This note is to attempt to get the salutatorian's speech given by Monica Villanueva, in its entirety, printed.

We left it at your office to be viewed. We did go over it and could not see that it was a problem with her having read it as is, but it seemed that Mr. Stockstill disagreed. He was addressed at the commencement exercise and was questioned about it, but he brushed off the question and just continued with what he felt was more important. I don't believe that it was due to the time schedule they were on, either.

Mr. Stockstill had spoken to Monica prior to the exercises, along with other persons who were to take part in the program. She was in tears when she came out of the office and there was not enough time to speak to them at that time.

The only comment she made to us was that she could read it, provided she read what they felt was fit to read.

We felt that the public should be able to read it since it had been deleted. We did not see that it would cause a problem. We would appreciate it if the public could judge for themselves.

Stephan R. Villanueva

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Here is the part of Villanueva's salutatory address which she was not allowed to read during commencement.)

"... I am proud to be sporting this lovely cap and gown before you, because I thought this day would never come. I am also aware that only yesterday some of you were sweating it during semester tests, wondering if you had wasted 17 bucks on these garments. But I am even more proud to be wearing this with the Class of '92. You have all taught me much about the finer things in life such as fully appreciating headbanging to Queen's "Bohemian Rhapsody" and teaching me how to properly use a funnel.

"When I reflect on all the fun we've had there is no doubt in my mind that some of you were justly grounded by your parents, but while you sat at home on Friday nights watching reruns of Full House, I'm sure there was no doubt in your mind that what you had done was worth it. You probably argued for hours with the folks trying to make them feel guilty for accusing you of doing something that you and the rest of DHS (including the faculty) knew you had done.

"Sometimes the guilt trip worked, and sometimes it didn't, but either way you look at it, you had created a fond memory.

"Believe me, it could have been a lot worse. We should all consider ourselves lucky that the chief of police's daughter is among our classmates, and that she was usually on our side.

"I think by now I may have said enough about your extracurricular activities to encourage some of your parents to ground you for tonight, and if that's the case, I'm truly sorry. That only increases my chances of winning fabulous prizes at the chemical-free party later on."

BARGAINS GALORE
ALL OVER DIMMITT!

Sunnyside

By Teeny Bowden, 647-5703

Heavy rains and dangerous lightning during storms last Wednesday resulted in a smaller than usual crowd at church services.

The storms started at 6 p.m. and were over by 6:40, but water was left standing in the ditches and almost reached the road. Rain gauges in the area recorded .40 of an inch, but it seemed like about an inch fell.

After that storm, the sun came out, but that didn't last. Around church time another storm system moved across the area and at 7:10 p.m. a tornado warning was issued for Castro County. About three minutes later, strong winds and three sizes of hail struck the area, causing a lot of damage in several spots. It rained and hailed at the same time and you couldn't see anything during the storm.

Hail covered the ground for about an hour. Water running west down a culvert sounded like a waterfall. I heard the gushing water and thought it was the roaring of a tornado. Water went over the road in spite of the cleaned out bar ditch and a new culvert. Water was running out of the E.R. Sadler field and the field looked like a lake.

At 9:35 p.m. another cloud came up in the southwest and it contained a lot of lightning, but little hail or rain.

On last Thursday morning, 1.60 of rain was recorded in the gauge.

Robert and Frances Duke, Betty Rose Louder, Willie Mae Sadler, Anna D. Gibbs, Rowena Cleavinger, of Springlake and Ruth Spencer of Lubbock met at Teeny Bowden's home in Sunnyside last Thursday to plan the menu and other details for the second annual Sunnyside School Reunion, which will be held July 18 and 19 at the church.

Mary Cluck will cater the noon meal on Sunday and those close by will furnish sandwiches and pick-up foods for supper on Saturday night.

We will meet at 2 p.m. and visit until supper; and then continue visiting as late as we want to after supper.

We got 42 letters in the mail, but we didn't finish. We need addresses of many more former students whose names we have. Let your families know.

Anna D. Gibbs came back Friday and worked along with Verba Sadler and Teeny Bowden.

Garner Ball will take a group picture of those present at the reunion on Sunday, right after dinner.

Verba and Ezell Sadler just got in from the lake last Thursday night.

LaWanda Wilson arrived home last Thursday night after helping Melinda move from College Station.

She arrived home in time to attend the eighth grade promotion and see Justin Damron receive his award as the class salutatorian. He is active in tennis and band and holds a 94.607 grade point average. He is in LaWanda's Sunday school class. There were several awards presented.

Melissa Jurado and Patricia Jurado have been inducted into the National Honor Society. Patricia also received a scholarship from the Methodist Church.

Holly Axtell received the John Gilbreath Memorial Scholarship.

In the fourth grade, Lacy Louder and Shane Furr were on the honor roll and Junior Student Senate. Louder received an award for competing in UIL Ready Writing. She and Shane both won awards in science.

Shaun Furr was on the "A" honor roll in the seventh grade, was recognized as a member of the one-act play cast and won awards for competing in the Regional Science Fair.

Seniors at Springlake-Earth received their diplomas during commencement exercises Friday night. Erin Bridges was the class salutatorian. The class left for a trip to Disneyland on Saturday morning.

Robin Bridges was recognized for participating in the regional track meet.

David Sadler was admitted to St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo Friday after undergoing tests in Dimmitt and at the Diagnostic Clinic in Amarillo revealed he had probably suffered a heart attack, and that he had a lot of stones in his gall bladder.

He had an angiogram Saturday morning and it revealed that one artery was completely blocked off and one was 70% blocked. He was moved from the intensive care unit to a private room later in the day Sunday.

Rev. John and Ginger Hazle Jr. went to see him Saturday afternoon. Several family members and friends went Sunday afternoon.

David was scheduled to have a stress test Monday morning.

Tracy Damron received an award in social studies.

Shot clinic set

Immunization clinic offering vaccinations against several childhood diseases will be held from 9 a.m. to 12 noon on Friday at the Nazareth City Hall.

Vaccinations which will be offered at the clinic include polio, diphtheria, lock jaw (tetanus), whooping cough (pertussis), measles, rubella and mumps.

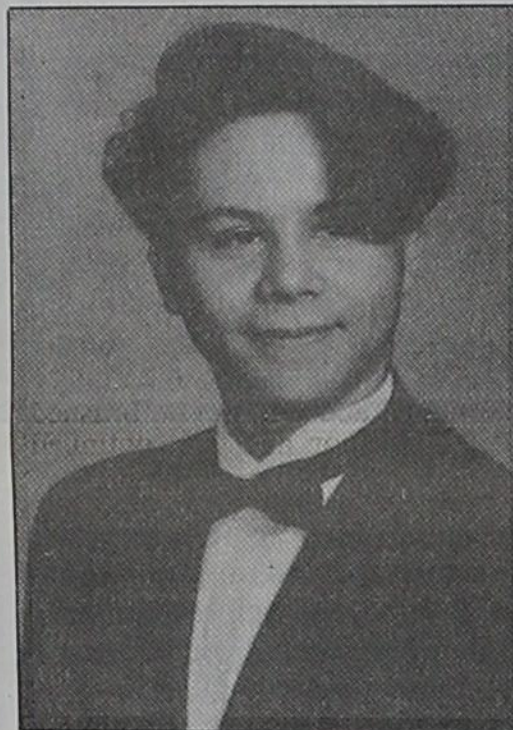

The Texas Department of Health is charging money to help with the cost of keeping the clinic open. The amount of money charged will be based on family income and size and the ability to pay.

Hart seniors enjoy Project Graduation '92

Project Graduation was once again successful at Hart ISD.

Forty-nine students attended Project Graduation, including 27 out of 31 seniors plus guests.

Activities were varied and creative. The graduates built human pyramids, had screaming and hairy leg contests, played aggie baseball, volleyball, and basketball, and ate 30 pizzas.

One of the highlights of the evening was the Newly Grad game where graduate couples were asked questions about school experiences.

"Community support for graduation was terrific," Toni Robertson, administrative assistant to Hart ISD said. "Throughout the night, five to seven adults were always present."

Each senior received a door prize donated by a local merchant and community contributions were used to purchase the 21 grand prizes.

TO BE RECOGNIZED, knights in full armor carried shields showing their coat of arms.

Our sympathy to Jo Beth Bates and her family in the death of her father, Rosie Bates, 70 of Temple. Funeral service was held at First United Methodist Church in Dimmitt with burial in Dreamland Cemetery in Canyon.

Jo Beth is one of our teachers in the Nazareth schools and her father also taught here thirty years ago.

Many friends and relatives attended the wedding celebration of Jo Beth Bates and Andy Mays of Dimmitt on Saturday at First United Methodist Church in Dimmitt. A reception and dance followed at the Dimmitt Country Club.

Hubert, Joan and Ricky Backus attended the graduation of Crystal Kitten at the Lubbock Civic Center on Saturday. She graduated magna cum laude with a Bachelor of Science degree in Physical Therapy. She will be employed at High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo.

Winifred Wagner is home after a very enjoyable trip. She visited with her daughter - in - law, Cathy Wagner in Fort Worth a few days before flying to Idaho Falls to visit her daughter Bonnie, husband Ken Wethington and their children, Heather, Amber and Marc. They drove to Yellowstone National Park, some areas in the park are still bare from the fires in 1988. They also saw the Snake River, the Falls, Swan Valley, Jackson Hole, Wyoming and the Grand Teton National Park with the beautifully clear Jenny Lake. On Memorial Day they drove out west to see the world's first Nuclear Power Plant which first generated electricity on Dec. 21, 1951. It was a very enjoyable trip, despite all the problems of getting back to Amarillo from Lubbock in the fog and rain on Wednesday.

Jim and Sandee Hoelting and family, Charley and Beverly Hill and family and Kyle and Ian Bradburn of Wichita Falls had a "not so enjoyable long weekend" at beautiful Possum Kingdom Lake. Most of their time was spent playing cards, visiting and eating due to the weather!

Virgie Gerber spent several days in Amarillo helping care for my new granddaughter Andrea Leigh

Anne Rose, one week old daughter of Jerry and Tricia Rose. On Saturday we enjoyed dinner at the home of Jerry's parents Ed and Ruth Rose in Amarillo. Jerry's sisters, Shirley of Albuquerque and Norma and children of Fort Worth also joined the family.

Bobbie Hafernik, Raelene Hoelting, Vera Ramaekers, Dawn and Terry accompanied Martha Schulte to Denver, Colo., last week for her annual checkup at Craig Hospital. Vera and her girls enjoyed sight-seeing in Denver.

Congratulations to Norbert Acker who graduated with a class of 86 students from Dimmitt High School. Attending were his parents Tony and Angela Acker, Julius and Kathy Birkenfeld, Carey and Leona Acker, Nancy and Ryan Buchanan, Kevin Acker and Rita Kern. Everyone enjoyed a family dinner on Sunday at the Tony Acker home.

Prayers are asked for Roy Wethington, brother of Rita Kern and Angela Acker, who is in the Clovis Hospital.

Members of the Adult Initiation Process enjoyed a cookout at the home of Bob and Theresa Birkenfeld Sunday evening. Those enjoying the get-together were Father Neal Dee, Deacon Jerome Brockman and Margaret, May Hochstein, Connie and Henry Wilhelm, Brenda and Benny Schacher, and Dan and Ethel Schmucker. After the meal, Becky Book and May Hochstein, representing the organizations of the Catholic Daughters and Christian Mothers, explained to Connie and Brenda, our two new parish members, what each organization does and gave them a manual.

The Knights of Columbus golf scramble held at the Country Club in Dimmitt was won by the team of Morris Wilcox, Doyle Kleman and Avery Thrasher after a playoff with the team of Trent Johnson, Fred Ball, Rodney Heiman and Todd Hill. All participants were treated to a barbeque following the playoff.

The first performance of the Nazareth Country Rodeo and Wild West Show will be Friday at 7:30 p.m. Proceeds will benefit the Nazareth Volunteer Fire Department. There will also be a performance on Saturday at 7:30 p.m. and the finals at 3 p.m. on Sunday. We hope the weather will cooperate!

The Philip Pohlmeier family held their 16th annual reunion over Memorial weekend, hosted this year by Rita Pohlmeier. Although the golf game was rained out on Saturday they did manage to get in a softball game, volleyball games, horse shoe tournament and a talent show on Sunday. When outdoor activities were slowed due to rain, the family played cards inside. All forty-seven family members were able to attend this year.

Congratulations to Gail Kleman who received her Dr. of Medicine Degree with honors from Baylor College of Medicine in Houston on May 26. Dr. Kleman will be doing her internship in Pediatrics at Baylor College of Medicine this coming year. Attending the graduation were George, Kerry and Nicole Kleman, Marion Lorber and Jocelyn Pohlmeier of Nazareth, Kelvin and Julie Kleman and family of Fort Smith, Arkansas and Alan and Noreen Carson and family of Sweetwater. While in Houston they spent some time sightseeing at Nasa, the San Jacinto Monument and the Galleria Shopping Center.

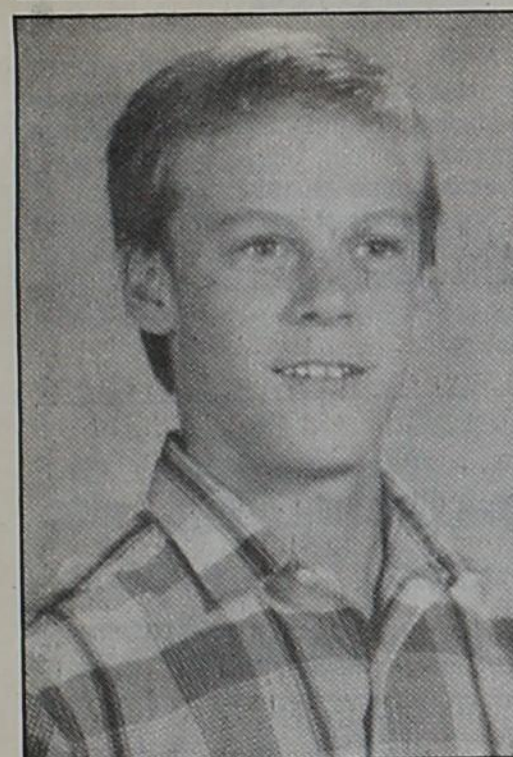

Reyna selected for vet program

Fred Reyna, a sophomore at Hart High School, was selected to participate in the Veterinary Enrichment Program June 2-5 at the College of Veterinary Medicine, Texas A&M University.

The Veterinary Enrichment Program provides high school students interested in becoming veterinarians an opportunity to work with veterinary students and professors in the College of Veterinary Medicine.

For four days, the participating high school students worked with animals, learned about the veterinary program and also learned a little about college life.

The participants will stay in the dorms with college students.

Pharmacist's discovery may end obesity

WASHINGTON—After solving the problem of his own obesity, a pharmacist, now director of National Dietary Research, may have discovered the solution for others with the same problem.

Dr. William Morris, pharmacist, inventor and author has discovered a natural food tablet, aptly named Food Source One, that replaces some of the calories normally obtained from food. Food Source One replaces high calorie fats with other natural food ingredients with little or no caloric value so you can lose weight without giving up all your favorite foods, as explained in NDR's Lifestyle Maintenance publication, available where Food Source One is sold. "The secret to meaningful weight loss is not in decreasing the amount of food you eat, but in controlling the fat," says Dr. Morris.

According to Dr. Morris, weight loss results while using Food Source One will depend on how many pounds a person needs to lose. However some overweight people are experiencing extraordinary results with Food Source One. A Metairie, Louisiana nurse lost 71 pounds. She stated, "I never had to sacrifice the foods I dearly crave!" "Food Source One is very easy and anyone could do it," says a Niagara Falls, New York woman who lost 26 pounds and 15 inches. "The results are great," she added.

Food Source One is available at pharmacies without a prescription.

Thank you for shopping
Dimmitt!

Next time you have a spare minute and could use a good laugh, put down the Reader's Digest and head for the pantry.

I was putting up the groceries the other day and started labeled reading. (Hey, it's good to have hobbies.) Every other can, bag or box had it's own 800 number.

Now, when I'm trying to set the clock on the VCR for the fifteenth time, I want an 800 number. When I'm reprogramming the personal computer or reassembling the bobbin case on a sewing machine, it's nice to know an expert is just a phone call away.

But call me overconfident, when I'm pouring the granola, I tend to just aim for the bowl and trust my instincts.

Maybe it's just me. Maybe other people don't spread the peanut butter on the bread without calling for backup. I don't think so.

And the labels all say the same thing. "Any questions? Call 1-800-FOOD FEAR."

Personally, I have a great many questions, but none of them concern instant rice or whipped topping.

They all have addresses, too. My all time favorite was the pretzel bag that read, "When writing please enclose the entire bag." What are they going to do - - dust it for prints? Perhaps some sort of snack food DNA testing to see if the fat-frees were harboring some lard.

These things trouble me, but not nearly as much as the instructions on the box backs. Take fruit rolls for instance. Are you aware that you have to unroll them and peel off the paper before you "enjoy".

Thank goodness they spelled it out. I was about to head for the phone.

John Michael Bezner and Myrna Camille Farris

The prospective groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jody Bezner of Texline.

Miss Farris attended Tarleton State University in Stephenville and graduated from Texas Tech University in August 1991 with a bachelor of science degree with an emphasis on home economics, family studies and human development.

Bezner graduated from Texas A&M University in May 1989 with a bachelor of science degree in animal science. He received his master of business administration degree with a concentration in ag economics from Texas Tech University in May.

Laurie Sides and Joseph M. Hill Jr.

Couple to wed

Mr. and Mrs. George Sides of Dimmitt announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Laurie, to Joseph M. Hill Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph (Mac) Hill of Cleburne.

The prospective groom graduated from Cleburne High School in 1981 and attended Southern Methodist University. He is employed as a Navy SEAL with the Naval Special Warfare Development Group, which is based in Damneck, Va.

Following the wedding, the couple plans to make their home in Virginia Beach.

DISD unveils new award

At its 1991-92 Dimmitt ISD Appreciation Dinner last week in the Expo Building, the Dimmitt School Board unveiled a new award to recognize outstanding educators in the district.

Named the "Educating for Excellence Award," the honor recognizes top teachers for their innovation, inspiration and effectiveness, and carries a substantial bonus and plaque.

Six educators—two from each school campus in the district—were named as first-year recipients of the Educating for Excellence Award. They were:

DEBBIE MATTHEWS, Richardson Elementary first grade.

JOANNE SNIDER, Dimmitt High food and nutrition, parenting, child development and Home Economics Cooperative Education.

KATIE IVEY, Dimmitt High world history.

CHARITA McWHORTER, Middle School sixth grade spelling arts and theatre arts.

DONNA UNDERWOOD, Richardson Elementary first grade bilingual.

GLENDIA SIMS, Middle School fifth grade science.

In introducing the new incentive award, School Board President David Schaeffer noted that the award was devised by Dr. James Sims and Cheryl Pybus.

Each winner received her award from a different school board member—John Nino, Rita McDaniel, Paul Garcia, Rick Wright, Cheryl Pybus or Schaeffer.

Also honored at the dinner were DISD employees who had completed 5, 10, 15, 20 or 25 years' service to the local schools. Presented with service award pins were:

25 YEARS: Pat Evan, Dwight Joiner and Carol Lantz.

20 YEARS: Polita Espinosa, Mary Helen Flores, Daisy Langford and Roxie Louder.

15 YEARS: Paralyn Moore and Ruby Teaschner.

10 YEARS: Sandra Bagwell, Maria Barron, Rachel Fuentes, Maria Garcia, Mary Hunter and Irene Sepeda.

5 YEARS: Andrea DeLaCruz, Debbie Harris, Cheryl Glidewell Kelly, Diann Leatherwood, Marlene Martinez, Rudy Martinez, Gene Penney, Steve Ramos, Gwen Sears, Lucrecia Shropshire and Julia Turner.

For the first time, the annual service award event was held as a dinner for employees and their spouses, instead of as a breakfast for employees only. School board members donated the steak dinners for more than 300 persons and also assisted in the cooking and serving, with help from school administrators.

Annen and Stewart each earned honorable mention all-state for their defensive efforts during the 1991-92 season—Stewart as a free safety and Annen as a linebacker.

Stewart, a 6-2, 180-pound senior, was named first-team all-district as a running back and safety; and earned all-South Plains and honorable mention all-state honors as a safety. He has signed a national letter of intent to play for Eastern New Mexico University this fall.

Annen, a 6-1, 215-lb. offensive tackle and linebacker, was named the "Most Valuable Defensive Player" in his district while earning first-team honors on both sides of the ball. He also earned honorable mention all-state honors as a linebacker. During his senior year, Annen recorded 115 tackles, seven sacks, an interception and two fumble recoveries from his linebacker position as the 9-2 Swifts finished their season with a bi-district loss to eventual state champion Memphis. Annen says he is unsure about his future plans, but adds that he may sign a letter of intent to play for McMurry University in Abilene.

Summers, a tight end and defensive end for the Bobcats, was named to the District 2-AAA first-team as a defensive end this year. He was selected for the Greenbelt Bowl as a tight end, according to Dimmitt Coach Bill Rogers.

The South team will be coached by Jimmy Keeling and his staff from Hardin-Simmons University; and Mike Calcote and his staff from Midwestern University.

Greenbelt Bowl Chairman Phillips Self estimates that about 180 young men have used this game to either "walk-on" and earn a scholarship at the school of their choice, or get a scholarship offer shortly after they play in the game.

DHS seniors' grad party 'big success'

With about 64 seniors and 20 to 25 guests attending, the senior party for the Dimmitt High School Class of 1992 was termed "a big success" by organizers of the event.

Class parents sponsored the party, the first of its type for DHS. The party had a chemical-free emphasis, and was intended to give students a safe alternative to drinking or drugs.

Prizes were solicited from local businesses and were given away to those attending the party, which started after the graduation ceremonies Saturday and lasted until 5:30 a.m. Sunday. Larger prizes included a set of tires, a small microwave oven, a small refrigerator, several pairs of boots, and a cellular "bag" phone.

Activities included "casino" games, an auction, and other games. Refreshments were served, and at breakfast, the students were served breakfast burritos.

"They seemed to have a real good time, and only two or three left early," a sponsor of the event said. "It must have gone over very well because very few students were out on the streets that night."

Heller reminded vendors to be sure to obtain a good supply of change before the day of the sale, so that local merchants won't run short of change by trying to supply all of the garage sale vendors.

A truck from the Salvation Army will be stationed at the courthouse square from about 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. to pickup any sale "leftovers" that vendors would like to get rid of. Heller said it is requested that such items be placed in bags or boxes to make loading easier.

Bargain hunters are asked to not try to buy from vendors before Saturday, Heller said.

"We hope everyone participating in this event will look at it as an opportunity to be ambassadors for Dimmitt, and to make a good impression on the many visitors attracted to our town by this event," Heller said.

In a final admonition to all the bargain hunters, Heller encourages, "Shop 'til you drop!"

Brown bag series set

The first concert of the summer's "Brown Bag" series was cancelled Friday due to the weather.

The scheduled performance by Richard Young has been re-set for June 19.

Other performances are being lined up for selected Fridays throughout the summer, with local citizens invited to bring their own lunch and enjoy the free music at the Centennial Plaza and Gazebo on the courthouse square in Dimmitt.

Performances will be announced as soon as they are confirmed. Each concert will begin at noon.

Local Boy Scouts will be selling soft drinks at the concerts.

Organizer of the series is Gwen Bryant, and the sponsor is the county.

Performers will use the gazebo's 400-watt sound system.

NAZARETH HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL Jim Peggram holds up a sign explaining how he hopes to spend part of his time after he retires Friday—going fishing. After 19 years with the Nazareth

Independent School District and 30 years in the education business, Peggram will work his last official day Friday. He plans to "travel, do a little fishing, and enjoy the finer things in life."

NHS principal to retire

By ANNE ACKER

If there was one word you could use to describe what Nazareth High School Principal Jim Peggram has been to hundreds of students through the years, it would be "Daddy."

That's how Nazareth Independent School District Superintendent N. Dean Johnson describes Peggram, who will retire effective Friday.

"I have 36 years on my service record and I'm 60 years old. There are some other things that I'd like to do with my life—travel, do a little fishing and just enjoy the finer things in life, I guess," said Peggram, who will live in Canyon after retiring.

"He loves these kids dearly," said Johnson, who compares his relationship with his father to Peggram's relationship with students at Nazareth. "I told a story at his retirement reception about how stupid I thought my father was when I was between the ages of 13 and 21. Then all of the sudden I was grown up and rearing my own children and discovered how smart my father really was.

"As these kids were going through school at Nazareth, they didn't realize the impact Mr. Peggram had made on their lives until they were out of school and older. He takes a lot of pride in how kids have turned out and the successes they have achieved. He can talk about individual students and what they did in school for hours. I regret to see him leave, but I understand why he wants to."

Peggram began his career as Nazareth's principal during the 1973-74 school year when Joe King was superintendent. In addition to working with King and Johnson, Peggram also served with former NISD Supt. Johnny Mason.

When the school board first hired Peggram for the 1973-74 school year, the group told him they wanted two things stopped—smoking on the school campus and boys with long hair.

He feels like he was successful in stopping the on-campus smoking, but the long hair. . . "well, we still have to stay after that," Peggram said.

Keeping high school students—especially seniors—in school all day was another challenge Peggram feels the school met during his tenure.

"When I first came here they were letting seniors out at about 1 p.m. if they had the required credits for graduation," Peggram said. "Keeping them in school all day was one of the hardest things to overcome; and we still have some seniors that can go home last period now. But the parents were looking for the kids to go home and work in the fields. We accomplished our goal with the help of the state, which raised the requirements for graduating seniors. And we started scheduling some of the required courses in the afternoon so the kids had to stay in school."

Although Peggram has many fond memories of his years at Nazareth, he said the most fun he's had has been going to state basketball tournaments.

"I don't guess I've missed a girls' state playoff game, and I've gone with two of the boys' teams

(that made it to state). That was really great. And our academic success has been unreal. I don't know of any other school our size that has had as many state champions in academics, not to mention athletics."

Peggram contributes the success of Nazareth students to their home life and their dedication to their church. He said the students are dedicated to the things they do, and that makes them strive to be successful in everything from academics to athletics.

The advantages of one-to-one contact between the teachers and students is another asset to the Nazareth school system, Peggram said.

"We're more laid back here than in other larger schools. Our faculty gets along great and I think that's another key to our success. Everyone knows everyone else and if they have a problem, they are not afraid to come and talk it over with me or Mr. Johnson. In a larger school, how many teachers even know who the superintendent is?"

"I really appreciate the parents and their support. I've never worked anywhere else where the staff was as behind you and supportive. I'm going to miss it here."

Through his 19 years, Peggram has witnessed and been a part of many changes within the Nazareth school system—changes in everything from athletic success to the addition of new buildings, including classrooms, a field house, weight room and concession stand; and the coming of the "computer age."

He said the addition of computers to the curriculum and business offices were among the biggest changes he's seen in the school.

"It wasn't very many years ago that a computer salesman spoke to the school board about purchasing computers and the board wasn't interested in it at all. I remember one board member saying his child had received one (computer) for Christmas and all 'he did with it was sit around and play games. We don't need more games in school,'" Peggram related.

"Now all grades go into computer and it averages them for us. I don't have to figure the grades for valedictorian and salutatorian anymore. Our attendance is all on computer. Things are so much simpler now."

Although computers have made some things easier, they have caused Peggram a few headaches, and he says the machines have played a factor in his decision to retire.

"I don't understand computers. That's another reason I'm retiring. We're getting more and more computerized in the school."

And he says students starting school today are a lot smarter than they were 20 years ago, and more is expected of them.

"It scares me," Peggram said.

In Peggram's office at NHS there are several "trophies" from his 19-year employment with the school. Among them are a t-shirt, plaque, and posters.

He said his favorite memento of his years in Nazareth is a hand-made poster sporting the words, "The Whooper is 60."

"There's an interesting story behind that poster," Peggram said. "We were in the cafeteria one day

NISD plans rec program

Nazareth ISD is sponsoring a recreational program for the community.

The program began June 1 with Rick Price as director.

Students and other Nazareth residents may use the gym and weight room from 6-10 p.m., Monday through Friday (except for holidays).

These facilities may be open at other times by making arrangements with one of the coaches or administrators.

Entrance to the gym is to be through the hallway connecting the school and the gym. Participants may park in the parking lot in front of the ag building.

Rules for the use of both facilities will be posted and are expected to be followed by all concerned.

Are you one of the 7 out of 8 who have not prepared a will?

When you die you must leave behind everything for which you have worked and saved. The question is, "TO WHOM?" If you have a will, you have already instructed the State, attorneys and judges to act according to YOUR wishes. But if you don't have a will, the State will simply distribute your estate according to law.

Without a Will you let the State determine the disposition of your assets, the welfare of your spouse and the guardianship of your children. Probate costs, taxes and fees increase. What's worse, you rob yourself of the privilege of continuing stewardship through designated gifts.

DON'T MAKE THE MISTAKE OF THINKING:

- only wealthy people need a will
- that drawing a will is too complicated
- or that it is too expensive.

June 15 is deadline to report prevented plantings for cotton

Producers who did not get their cotton planted by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service's (ASCS) cut-off date, which was Sunday, may file an application for prevented planting if the crop was not planted due to disaster conditions.

According to Scotty Abbott, ASCS county executive director, producers have until June 15 to file an application for prevented planting on cotton and an acreage report for the acreage they were prevented from planting.

Producers have two options under prevented planting for cotton.

The first option allows planted and considered planted credit for those acres that the producer was unable to plant. The producer would receive failed acreage credit for the cotton and any crop planted behind the cotton would be considered ghost acres. Under this option, the crop would not be eligible for deficiency payments.

Under the second option, the application for prevented planting credit can be used to determine whether the 50% planting requirement for cotton under the 50/92 program can be waived. Under this option, if the sum of the approved prevented planting acreage and the planted acreage (if any) is equal to or greater than 50% of the maximum payment acreage, the producer has the option to convert to a 0/92 type Conservation Use for Payment (CU for Pay) process which guarantees the producer the minimum guaranteed deficiency payment for cotton on the eligible CU for Pay acreage, up to 92% of the maximum payment acreage.

Under the cotton waiver option, other crops may not be planted on the CU for pay acreages except for conserving use crops. These crops may not be hayed or grazed before Nov. 1.

"Just because a producer has not planted his cotton crop by May 31, that does not mean that he cannot plant his crop," Abbott said. "Producers may plant the cotton crop after May 31 if they feel there is a realistic possibility of an economically feasible harvest."

Wales, Higgins to serve on corn producers' board

Lois Wales of Dimmitt and Doug Higgins of Hart were chosen to represent Voting Region One of the Texas Corn Producers Board during the recent statewide election.

Two seats were up for election in the region, which includes Castro County, and Wales and Carl King of Dimmitt were elected as representatives. But King serves as executive director of the board, and he elected to resign his seat so that the board would have broader representation.

The board then elected the third highest vote winner, Higgins, to fill the vacant seat.

Higgins and Wales each will serve until 1998.

Across the state, six board members were selected. Prior to the elections, the board had divided the state into eight separate voting regions so that board members would more closely represent the corn interests of a particular region of the state, and so that all Texas corn producers would have representation on the board.

There are 15 seats on the board, and the voting regions were split so each seat would represent 1/15 of the total corn production in Texas, as reported by the Texas Crop Reporting Service. The voting region plan was approved by the Texas Dept. of Agriculture.

Jerry Don Glover of Muleshoe won the single seat in Voting Re-

RC&D elects new officers

Randy Griffitt was named the new president of the High Plains Resource Conservation and Development committee at the group's meeting Saturday.

Other new officers included Rick Wilcox, vice-president; and Delores Heller, secretary.

Heller will be the county representative and Bob Phipps will serve as alternate representative.

Tom Davey announced a fire prevention workshop to be held on June 18, at 7 p.m. at the Dimmitt Fire Department. The workshop, which will be presented by the Texas Forest Service, is designed to assist in developing a fire prevention plan.

Areas of concern are establishing job opportunities, helping senior citizens programs, developing wildlife and recreational potential, improving rural fire departments, controlling roadside erosion, and improving rural roads.

Through discussion, additional objectives were noxious weed control, landfill and recycling concerns, and mosquito control.

Those attending the meeting were Gary Hunter, chairman of the committee; Tom Davey, acting RC&D coordinator; and Vincent Guggemos, Sal DiCuffa, Delores Heller, Polly Simpson, Harold Smith, Rick Wilcox, Phil Barefield, Ed Ramaekers, Jeff Robertson, Wayne Collins, George Sides, Ray Bain, Randy Smithson, Miguel Velasquez and Bob Phipps.

The next meeting will be Wednesday, June 24 at the Hungry Farmer Restaurant.

Lemons attends training seminar

Phil Lemons, district sales manager for Northrup King Co., recently graduated from the Sustaining Resource Training Program through a seminar sponsored by the farm supply services company.

The seminar was held in Olive Branch, Miss., and encompassed more than 80 hours of training. Twenty-one dealers from the Mid-South, along with district and regional managers from Texas and the Southeast, graduated from the program.

To develop the seminar, Northrup King surveyed 40 customers of each dealer attending, and reported the findings of that survey. In a follow-up assignment, each dealer personally interviewed another five customers and prospects. By using this information, these dealers aim to improve customer satisfaction and increase their business.

"Farm suppliers need to improve their customer focus," said Stan Droogsmma, the company's manager of dealer development and sales training, in summing up the purpose of the seminar. "This means they must first learn a grower's business. Only then can they make the right product recommendations."

ASCS News

Secretary of Agriculture Edward Madigan and Director of the Office of Management and Budget Richard Darman have announced the formation of a joint "SWAT Team" to review the Dept. of Agriculture's field structure.

The review will determine whether current USDA field structure is both effective and efficient in administering programs that serve the nation's agricultural communities and manage the nation's forests.

Secretary Madigan had initiated a review of the field structure in March. Given the complexity and diversity of the field organization and the systems serving that organization, the secretary asked the director of OMB to draw on OMB's management expertise to assist the department in the review.

The secretary's initial review concluded that:

♦ The field structure for major USDA agencies is fragmented and inefficient. USDA clients, who wish to receive a variety of services, are forced to visit and provide the same information to multiple USDA agencies and offices. (Four or five separate offices may exist in a single county.) Many USDA offices are too small, or have such a light workload that their continued existence requires investigation.

♦ USDA's efforts to collocate offices do not mean that services have been fully integrated or that there is full sharing of resources.

♦ Central information and control systems, essential to managing effectively a highly decentralized and functionally organized department, are inadequate. A strong USDA oversight system is lacking to monitor existing agency systems. Lack of systems compatibility impedes providing USDA clients with the full benefits of automated technology.

District court sentences three

In District Court action this week, three people were sentenced, a woman was released, and three indictments were issued.

James Lee Everett, 34, of the Flagg community, entered pleas of guilty Tuesday morning to pending indictments of aggravated sexual assault and injury to a child.

County/District Attorney Jimmy Davis indicated that a plea bargain had been reached with the defense, and the recommendation to District Judge Marvin Marshall was for a sentence of 45 years in prison on the sexual assault charges and five years for the injury to a child.

Marshall ordered a pre-sentence investigation report and said that sentence would be pronounced in about one week.

The felony charges stemmed from an investigation of alleged child abuse last October involving children in the home of the defendant. Davis indicated that litigation is still underway to determine final placement of the children. Foster care was court-ordered for the children last year, but the District Court will continue to review the placement of the children later this month.

Vickie Elaine Vise, 33, of Hart entered a plea of guilty Tuesday morning to the felony offense of forgery. A sentence of ten years in prison was probated for a period of six years, and a fine of $2,000 was set.

She was ordered to pay $10,000 restitution together with 10% interest over the next five years. She was also assessed probation reporting fees of $2,880 and ordered to pay a $50 contribution to the Castro County Crime Line.

The case involved a forged check written on the account of a neighbor of the defendant, according to court reports from 1991.

Pablo Padilla Rodriguez, 22, of Hereford was sentenced to 90 days in jail and assessed a $2,000 fine after pleading guilty to third offense driving while intoxicated. The offense occurred Sept. 23.

Parole Board officials indicated that the defendant may be transferred to the Texas Dept. of Corrections as the result of violation of parole terms. Rodriguez was transferred to the Deaf Smith County Jail immediately following the plea.

Tricia Lee Williams Weaver of San Angelo was discharged and released after a hearing Tuesday. Weaver had been arrested and incarcerated for approximately three weeks and charged with violation of felony probation.

Weaver, originally placed on probation for driving while intoxicated, had been ordered to serve her sentence in a restitution center near Abilene during 1988, and was charged with having left the facility without permission.

Indictments were returned against three men by the 64th District Court Grand Jury in connection with a stolen credit card.

Daniel Jesus Perez, 25, and Roy Tijerina, 27, were indicted for credit card abuse, and a 28-year-old man was indicted on a charge of misdemeanor theft.

The credit card had apparently been taken from the possession of a Dimmitt woman while her vehicle was being cleaned in early May. Fuel valued at $400 was charged to the credit card, and two men were viewed using the card and filling their own vehicle shortly before an arrest was made during May.

The indictments were returned last week following two meetings by the grand jury to review the evidence in the cases.

Police Calls

A 35-year-old Dimmitt woman complained to police around 2 p.m. Friday that her 18-year-old son had threatened to kill her. She told officers that the youth reportedly walked around the house with a knife in his hand during the night. She said she feared for her life and the lives of her children.

A 12-year-old Dimmitt girl and a 30-year-old Dimmitt woman told police that another 12-year-old girl wanted to start a fight with the victim and with the woman's children. The suspect told officers that the victim and the woman's children allegedly had been "cussing and picking on" the suspect and other juveniles. The suspect also said the woman was "going to hit her with a stick." Investigation is continuing.

Charges of public intoxication were brought against a 49-year-old Dimmitt woman after she was reportedly seen staggering around in the 100 block of Southwest Fourth Street around 8:45 p.m. Sunday. Then on Monday afternoon, the woman was involved in an accident which damaged an air conditioner and house at 608 West Bedford. She reportedly had been driving a car west on West Bedford and entered the driveway of the house. Damage was estimated at $800. The woman was ticketed for no driver's license.

A 21-year-old Dimmitt man is serving time in jail after being found guilty of DWI charges stemming from his arrest around 10:26 p.m. Saturday. Three others were charged with DWI in the past week, including an 18-year-old Dimmitt man and a 22-year-old Clovis, N.M. woman. A 53-year-old Olton man also was charged with failure to stop and render aid.

Around 10 p.m. Saturday, a 1989 Ford pickup driven by Maria Barre Punte, 43, of Dimmitt attempted to make a right turn and struck a 1991 Chevy pickup driven by Matt Geller, 19, of Dimmitt. Both vehicles had been heading west on East Bedford. Both received heavy damage, and Paul Herrera, 24, a passenger in Punte's pickup, was taken to Plains Memorial Hospital with possible injuries. Punte was ticketed for unsafe lane change.

Another incident of unsafe lane change resulted in a ticket for Arnoldo Andres Peralez, 53, of Dimmitt. Around 8:18 p.m. Sunday, Peralez was driving his 1990 Chevy pickup south on North Broadway and reportedly tried to make a lane change, causing his vehicle to strike a 1991 Ford pickup driven by Gomer Micheal Garrison, 44, of Silverton. Garrison's vehicle was pulling a horse trailer. The pickup was reported with heavy damage, and the trailer received moderate damage. Peralez's pickup had moderate damage.

More about City to lease . . .

One system would provide for electronic registration of meter information, but the meters that are compatible with the electronic readers would cost considerably more than meters currently in use.

Burrous said another device that could prove useful is hand-held computers for use by meter-readers. The readers would enter information on a keyboard on the device, then take it to the city's main computer, where the information would be translated into billing information.

Burrous asked the council members to consider the systems as they begin thinking about the budget for next year.

In other business, Burrous asked the council for permission to hire local youths as temporary workers on the trash trucks to help get caught up after all of the recent rains. Permission was given.

Works Dept. head James Kilough and Supervisor Ralph Salinas have manufactured another money-saving device for the city. At a construction cost estimated at $1,600 the two invented a tire-shredding machine for the city. New machines that perform the same task are priced from $15,000 to $20,000. Salinas said the city has had to pay for tires to be picked up and disposed of in the past, paying as much as $5 per small tire, $10 for truck tires and $25 for tractor tires.

The machine is able to easily cut tires into the quarters required by regulations and even into smaller pieces, which takes less space in the landfill.

Burrous encouraged the council and all interested persons to attend the June 25 hearing of the Texas Water Commission in Amarillo to protest proposed regulations for landfills that will pose an undue hardship for smaller communities. The hearing will start at 9 a.m. at the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission building.

More about Thousands scratch . . .

(Continued from Page 1) A spokesman for Corner Place Package Store claims that she is pleased with ticket sales and that the lottery will be "great for the state of Texas." She said "people were ready" for something like the lottery. Customers were lined up waiting to buy tickets when the business opened Friday at 10 a.m. and they sold 2,000 tickets by the close of business Saturday. They awarded a $50 prize and had sold three tickets which will be entered in the million-dollar drawings.

Joe's Beer and Wine in Nazareth sold one winning ticket worth $100, two winning tickets worth $50 each and had one individual scratch off three "Entry" boxes to qualify for the million-dollar drawing.

Employees at Allsup's had a hectic day Friday as 1,500 tickets were sold on the first day including a $100 winner.

IGA Foodliner sold out 1,000 tickets on the starting day, but owner Walt Hansen wasn't pleased with way the lottery was run. He added that it didn't help in-store business.

More about Cotton drowning . . .

According to Eddie Matthews, of Easter Grain, this year's crop is one of the best in 4-5 years.

Jarrel Sewell at Farmers Grain in Hart is optimistic about the quality of this year's crop and says, "yields are up where they need to be."

The recent rains have helped the crop by adding to test weights, according to Bill Clark of Dimmitt Agri Industries.

The wheat price dropped earlier in the season but has recently made a recovery and is $1 higher than it was last year at this time. Corn and sugar beets have survived hail storms and the rains have saved on irrigation expenses, according to Siders.

Areas south of Dimmitt suffered some hail damage, according to Siders, but it wasn't enough to cause extensive damage to the young corn crop.

"The corn is in pretty good shape," said Carl King, president of Texas Corn Growers Association. "The bigger the corn is, the more hail will hurt it."

King said he is worried about the price but he is "working on getting the prices up."
